COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE

Absentee Voting To Open Monday

Charles Jones, Lamb County Clerk announced Tuesday that absentee balloting for the forthcoming primary elections will start Monday, April 18.

Jones said that persons can either vote by absentee ballot by a personal appearance at the County Clerk's office in the Lamb County Courthouse or by mail.

Any eligible voter that is now living in Lamb County but expects to be out of the county on election day, Saturday, May 7 may vote by absentee ballot by going to the clerk's office, and filling out a ballot.

Jones stated that voting by mail will be more complicated. "Persons who are living out of the county but still considered residents of the county and persons who either through illness or physical disability are unable to go to the polling places on election day are eligible to vote by mail."

In the case of a person who is ill or disabled and cannot get to the polls and wants to vote by mail must apply for an absentee ballot then in addition to filling out the absentee ballot must have the signature of a physician stating that the person will be unable to appear at the polls on election day.

The deadline for persons to vote by absentee ballot by a personal appearance at the County Clerk's office is May 3 at 5 p.m.

To vote by mail the application for the absentee ballot must reach the county clerk four days prior to the election and the filled in ballot along with the necessary affidavits and poll tax receipt or voter registration certificate if applicable must be received in the County Clerk's office by 1 p.m. on election day and must be post-marked not later than midnight the day preceding the election.

Retail Council Meets Friday To Vote On Opening

Members of the Retail Council of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce will meet in a special meeting tomorrow morning at 10 a.m. to vote on the feasibility of remaining open late each Thursday night for the coming six months.

The Thursday evening opening has been discussed at the regular meeting the first of April and also at a called meeting of the council last week. At the called meeting a large group of merchants expressed their desire to give the night opening a try but voted to postpone a decision until tomorrow's meeting.

If the council votes to remain open on Thursday evenings it is expected that they will also decide on the date for the first opening which will depend somewhat on several merchants who have to receive authority from their home offices to change store hours of operation.

Ten Entered In Spelling Bee

Forrest Martin, Junior High School principal announced that Littlefield schools are in process of selecting their representatives to the County spelling bee which will be held in the District Courtroom starting at 1:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon.

With the addition of the Littlefield contestants, C. Roy Stephens stated there will be ten contestants from five Lamb County schools vying for the championship and a trip to Lubbock to participate in the regional championship with the winner there going to the national contest.

Sudan, Spade, Amherst and Springlake-Earth have previously named their contestants for the contest won in 1965 by Danny Glasscock representing the Springlake-Earth school.

District Judge Pat Boone Jr., will be the pronouncer for the contest with Mrs. Lenton Smith as alternate. Stephens stated that school principals or other representatives from the five schools will serve as judges for the spelling bee.

LAST MINUTE INSTRUCTIONS -- The Business Man's Drive portion of the Cancer Crusade which is expected to end today got off to a flying start Tuesday morning as more than 25 volunteer workers received their last minute instruction and donation cards from Mrs. T.L. Dunlap, campaign chairman and Mrs. J.R. Fain, County Chairman.

SOME UNREPORTED

Business Man's Cancer Drive Nets Over $1,000

Mrs. T.L. Dunlap, Chairman for the Business Man's portion of the Cancer drive reported that slightly over $1,000 had been turned in Wednesday morning with many workers not yet having reported.

"We had hoped to be able to complete the drive within an hour Tuesday morning but several of the workers were unable to participate Tuesday but we expect to have contacted all business firms within the city by the latter part of the week and have a final report on the business portion of the drive by the end of the week," stated Mrs. Dunlap.

"At the present time the results of the drive look encouraging as we have had several individuals give ten dollars or more and business firms donate at least twenty-five dollars and these individuals and firms will receive special gift list recognition for their donations," Mrs. Dunlap said.

The workers participating in the Business Man's drive included: C.A. Duval, Gene Pratt, Mrs. D.C. Lindley, J.E. Chisholm, Werner Birkelbach, Betty Hodges, Amos Ward, Pryor Hammons, Mrs. Walter Martin.

Charles Russell, E.J. Foust Jr., Delwin Jones, Charles Armes, B.D. Garland, Sue Fielden, Rachel Rogers, Nellie Whitson, Janice Aaron, H.A. Mitchell.

Mrs. J.R. Fain Lamb County chairman said that the house-to-house portion of the drive would be conducted Tuesday evening April 19 from 6 to 8 p.m. with Mrs. H.A. Mitchell as chairman of the house-to-house campaign.

Sheriff's Posse Parade Tonight

The Lamb County Sheriff's Posse will hold a parade at 7 p.m. tonight through the Littlefield downtown area.

Barton Spencer, president of the Posse stated that many other riders as well as the more than 50 members of the Sheriff's Posse will participate in the parade which will start at 7 p.m.

CONSTRUCTION PROGRESSING -- The construction on Highway 84 from just west of Littlefield to near Muleshoe is proceeding ahead of schedule due to the very dry weather and

Street Names Due Change

Acting on a recommendation of the planning commission, the City Council voted to change the names of 19 streets in the city. The move was made in preparation for the new street sign program which will go into effect as soon as the new sign material arrives, and the city crews can begin work.

The big change will take place in College Heights Addition, where 15 streets and avenues are slated to have their names changed to comply with the new program. A complete list of the approved changes appears on page 11 of today's Leader.

The action by the city sets forth that some streets in the city, running North and South, were improperly named streets, and some streets running East and West were improperly named Avenues. In order to establish uniformity in street identification, it was necessary to change all North-South Streets to Avenues and all East-West Streets to Streets. This action does not effect existing streets with such prefixes as Road, Boulevard, Lane or Drive.

City Manager Richard Bean said in the opinion of the city the new names will be less confusing to visitors and to many of the people of the city. In most areas the cities have gone to the East-West Streets and the North-South Avenues. Such a program for Littlefield will make it easier for visitors to find a certain location, and will be helpful to the city's new street sign program as it will reduce the expense of materials.

Tomorrow Is Deadline For Water Sign-Up

Friday, April 15 is the deadline for Littlefield residents to sign-up to participate in the summer irrigation rate program.

The form which is to be used for signing up for the program was mailed to each water user with the March water bill. The cards are to be signed and returned to the city water department.

Veneta Miller, city secretary warned residents that if they mail the form back to the city it must be enclosed in an envelope. "Many residents have just signed the card and mailed it back, but the name on the other side is the resident's name and the post office has therefore returned it back to the resident."

"If residents desire to mail the card back it must be placed in an envelope.

The irrigation rates will become effective on the April water meter readings and will extend through the September water meter readings.

The irrigation rates provide for a minimum fee of $7.50 for any amount of water used not exceeding 15,000 gallons per month, and above the 15,000 gallons per month at the rate of 40 cents per thousand gallons for the next 10,000 gallons and 35 cents per thousand gallons for the next 20,000 gallons and 30 cents per thousand gallons for all over 45,000 gallons used.

An example of the saving under the irrigation rate would be $1.40 per month for the first 15,000 gallons used.

Jury Votes For Plaintiff In County Court Case

A six man jury voted in favor of the plaintiff Granville Pellham in a civil case heard in Lamb County Court Monday with Judge J.B. Davis presiding.

The case was the result of an accident involving pickups driven by Pellham and by S.H. Chaney, the defendant in the trial.

The accident occurred when Pellham attempted to pass Chaney while both were traveling on a farm to market road north of Earth. Mickey Ratliff, Pellham's attorney charged that Chaney had started to make a left turn off the road without a signal and had been driving down the center of the road. The attorney for the defendant stated that Pellham had tried to pass without blowing his horn. The jury deliberated approximately one hour before awarding the plaintiff the money he was seeking.

Preliminary hearing were set for yesterday morning before Judge Davis in the cases of J.D. Walker against Commercial Travelers Ins. Co. and also the case of Carlis Bills against Goodpasture Grain and Elevator Co., Inc.

A preliminary hearing is set this morning at 9 a.m. in the case of George White against Commercial Travelers. Several of the cases were passed this session including J.E. Autry v. J.L. Murdock and Ted Zant v. Allen Purdy.

Commissioner's Court Passed Eight Orders Monday

The Lamb County Commissioner's Court passed eight orders at their meeting held Monday in the County Courthouse.

The first order passed was the approval of reports submitted by County Agent Buddy C. Longsdon, Assistant County Agent Ronny McNutt and County Home Demonstration Agent Lady Claire Phillips.

The commissioners then approved the payment of $15 to Birkelbach Machine Shop for work done in connection with Farm-To-Market Highway 1072. The third order passed was the approval to publish the quarterly report of the County Treasurer for the period ending March 31, 1966.

Approval of paying of the bills was the next order approved by the Commissioners Court.

The next four orders passed dealt with the recent school elections held throughout the county. Order five was the canvassing of votes for the Amherst School election where Winston Cummings and Don Carter were elected.

Order six passed by the Court was the canvassing of votes of the Spade School Board election won by Carl Thompson and J.G. Anderson. The Commissioners Court is required to canvass votes in all school board elections where there are less than 500 scholastics enrolled in the school.

The next two orders passed by the Court was canvassing of votes for County School Trustee, Precinct No. 1 where George C. Bohner was elected and in County School Trustee Precinct 4, which is the Sudan-Amherst area where Drew Watkins was elected to the County Board.

or at least as low as 65 degrees. Also, the standard tests now in use reveal only how many seed sprout. They shed no light on the vigor of the seedlings that result from germination. The question is not only how many seed will produce a seedling strong enough to survive the attack of soil borne

PCG Hosts Meeting On Seed Planting Improvements

It is an accepted fact that quality planting seed is the first limiting factor in the production of a high yield, good quality cotton crop. And a maximum effort to secure and plant the best possible seed is good advice to any cotton farmer.

But even the producer who hears and heeds this advice to the fullest may still end up planting inferior seed -- simply because he doesn't have access to enough information about seed quality.

This conclusion came through loud and clear recently when Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., hosted a meeting of top-notch plant scientists to discuss ways and means of providing farmers with more complete and more meaningful information on seed quality.

It was agreed at the meeting that there is much more to the quality of planting seed than is revealed by standard germination tests. For one thing, the tests are run under optimum conditions at soil temperatures from 68 to 86 degrees -- conditions seldom found on the Plains at planting time. If he is to plant early, get a good stand and take maximum advantage of a short growing season, the High Plains farmer needs to know what percentage of the seed will sprout from 58 to 60 degrees.

day of the great deadline is us and if we haven't our income tax return 24 hours remain.

only are we facing the Revenue deadline, but we are faced with our automobile title deadline as well. Saturday morning the law enforcement officers of the state are obliged to pass out tickets to all those who have failed the new inspection sticker test.

It would be a good day to take care of these two pressing matters tomorrow you can relax and watch your neighbors around and know you have to do the same.

we're right back at election time, with the absentee voting in the May 7 Primary open Monday. Since there is no Governor's race, the importance of voting remains. The people of our area and their interest in the school district turned out to vote in three school board elections which will result in a new community for the future. We hope it will be a good one. We are looking forward to the upcoming state elections. If you are to be out of the city on election day, make arrangements to vote absentee.

we were happy to see the inclusion of the recent Agricultural Development Act. The topics, important to the entire area, would be developed, but more was the apparent willingness of the growers to consider some agricultural measures other than cotton and grain. For one, are looking forward to the day when the Lamb County area can join the other areas on the Plains with a diversified agricultural program. We would also like to see the Chamber for interest in helping the grow, and feel with a little management we can move out areas of improvement.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Homemaker With Wide Range Of Hobbies Shares Favorite Recipes

MAKES ATTRACTIVE DECORATIONS FOR HOME -- Mrs. John Clayton III, who is always occupied with some type hobby, says it seems she "jumps from one hobby to another". Recently she has been making the plastic resin grapes, shown above, which are very attractive. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton have three children, Shawna, six; Jimmy, four; and Dana, nine and one-half months old.

cently she has been making the plastic resin grapes, shown above, which are very attractive. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton have three children, Shawna, six; Jimmy, four; and Dana, nine and one-half months old.

An attractive burnette homemaker who enjoys hobbies ranging almost from "A" to "Z" has agreed to share two of her favorite recipes with us. Linda Clayton, 1304 West 13th, enjoys doing nearly everything from antiquing furniture to raising zinnias.

Linda, who is the wife of John Clayton III, says "It seems I am always jumping from one hobby to another." In recent months she has been making beautiful and colorful clusters of grapes, which have been so popular lately. These are made from plastic resin. She has made any number of these for herself, relatives and for gifts, some small bunches, some large, in all colors.

Previous to this hobby, Linda made very attractive picture frames and will plaques from art plastic. She spent weeks refinishing a trunk, which is over 100 years old, taking off all the old finish, painting it in antique green, and lining it with red velvet. It is very eye-catching. Some day she is going to refinish a treadle sewing machine given to her by her grandmother. Linda is an amateur photographer and loves taking pictures. Most usually her subjects are three very attractive youngsters, Shawna, who became six years old Monday; Jimmy, nearly four; and Dana, nine and one-half months old.

Shawna is very feminine, loves dolls and dressing up. Her mother consented to let her have a dress-up party on her birthday Monday. Brother Jimmy is really all boy. He likes boats, trains, tractors and already enjoys playing football and baseball. Could be his father, who is an avid sports fan, has had some influence on Jimmy. It is a little early yet to tell much about Dana's personality, but Linda says it looks as if she might be a little tomboy.

John is a partner in the B and C Pump Company. He attended Texas Tech after graduating from Littlefield High School where he was a star fullback under Coach Gene Mayfield. He attends all the basketball and football games at Littlefield and Tech that he possibly can. He also likes to hunt and bowl.

Both he and Linda enjoy boating and water skiing in the summer time, and working in the yard. One back yard project in which Linda had no part was the huge steel fall-out shelter John built several years ago. He also has made a barbecue pit and picnic table.

Cooking and sewing are past-times Linda has enjoyed for quite a number of years. She learned these arts at the age of nine when she became a 4-H member at Cotton Center where she grew up. She feels that knowledge gained in the five years she was in 4-H has proven invaluable in being a wife and mother. She also says it is a good thing she likes to cook for with the hearty appetites of her husband and three children she spends much time in the kitchen.

Linda collects recipes. She is compiling a book of her favorite recipes and making notes on them for her daughters to use when they are older. The two recipes she is sharing with us are for Heavenly Chocolate Cake and Chili. Linda explains her family has always liked chili, but she could never quite get it to taste like she wanted it to, so she started experimenting, adding this and that and finally came up with the following recipe:

CHILI
1-1/2 pound hamburger meat
1 tablespoon bacon drippings
1 onion, small, and finely chopped
2 tablespoons Morton's Chili Blend
1 teaspoon chili powder
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1 package French's Chili-O-Mix
1 can tomato sauce
1 cup water
Also season with Lowreys Season Salt, salt, pepper and Accent, etc.

Brown meat and onion in fat and add remaining ingredients in order given. Cook until it is of desired consistency. Measurements may be varied according to individual taste.

Hightower Named to Committee on Agriculture

Speaker Ben Barnes today announced the appointment of Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon as a member of the Committee on Agriculture for the Southern Regional Conference of the Council of State Governments.

Barnes is a member of the Advisory Committee of the Southern Regional Conference in which capacity he makes appointments to the various committees for the State of Texas.

In making the appointment Speaker Barnes stated: "Senator Hightower is, without a doubt, one of the most qualified men in the State of Texas for this key position. Not only does Senator Hightower have an outstanding knowledge of agriculture, its problems and its future, but he is considered as one of the most capable legislators in State government today."

The Southern Conference is comprised of the states of: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, and West Virginia. Their purposes and objectives are to foster and encourage inter-governmental cooperation in the South through joint consideration of common problems, interchange of information, knowledge and experience, which results in the development of joint programs when necessary. This enables the member states to continue to be strong and effective part of our national government.

All elected and appointed officials of the member states are eligible to participate in meetings and may be invited to participate in other activities of the Conference.

The Advisory Committee met in New Orleans on Saturday, April 2, at the call of the Chair. Its annual meeting will be held in Houston during the week of July 18-22.

Hightower is serving his second term in the Legislature having been a Member of the House of Representatives during the 53rd Legislature. He was elected to the Senate in 1964 and is now serving on the following standing committees: Chairman of Labor and Management Relations; Agriculture and Livestock; Contingent Expense; Counties, Cities and Towns; Insurance; Legislative, Congressional and Judicial Districts; Military and Veterans Affairs; Oil and Gas; State Affairs; and Water Conservation.

Barnes commented: "Hightower is an able and respected Member of the Senate and I am confident he will fill this appointment with distinction."

De Gaulle's Declaration Of Independence

I used to wish we had an American as Churchill was British.

It would not be quite the same to have an American as de Gaulle is French -- but almost.

You have been reading and hearing much criticism of our "difficult ally" recently. You watched a network telecast anticipate the day "when de Gaulle goes away," heard his ideology lampooned.

From Paris, in 1958, I wrote, "There is much of MacArthur in de Gaulle." There sure was; there still is.

Then, as now, General de Gaulle considered himself the "man of the hour" for France. I believe it.

These paragraphs will not retrace his recent record of arbitrary independence. You are by now fully aware that de Gaulle has ordered United States troops and bases out of France.

The agreement whereby we maintain a dozen air bases and 26,000 troops in France was

The Empire State building is 102 stories (1,250 feet) high.

The Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock Dec. 21, 1629.

with a French government which predated his.

De Gaulle's declaration of independence may anger our NATO allies -- but it's refreshing.

De Gaulle has "ordered us out." For this, official Washington dislikes him -- but respects him.

With so many nations of the world parting us on the back while searching for a soft spot to bury a knife, de Gaulle's rude, forthright, out-in-the-open refusal of American aid is somehow reassuring.

Reflecting de Gaulle's contempt for "interfering outsiders," the French people are making life increasingly difficult for American tourists over there.

But in its way, this, too, is more "honest" than the nations of beggars who despise the alms-giver -- behind his back.

I am not defending de Gaulle's ultimate arrogance. But if I were a Frenchman, old enough to remember when France changed governments more frequently than Paris' women changed hats, I would welcome his stabilizing influence.

I have never thought that "being liked" should be the main-most mission of anyone or any nation. "Being respected" is infinitely more difficult and immeasurably more important.

France's Ambassador to Washington, Charles Lucet, tried recently to remind us that nations "can travel two separate paths -- parallel paths -- and be moving in the same direction."

He said, "When we agree with you on a policy, we do not whisper behind your back; we talk so frankly."

And he reminded us the centuries of alliance have fact, made the United States France the world's oldest ends.

If this time-proved friend does not want our watchman's house, that would rest his decision.

If he does not want his French army divisions and three tactical air force units commanded by an American general, can you really help him?

Come to think of it, it is the amazing man who has strategic retreat from Vietnam 11 years ago and -- instead of losing face -- ended up more "cheek" than ever.

THE FAMILY LAWYER
Metale Footprint
 ...investigating a murder, the bloody print of a bare foot on the victim's bathroom floor. The print eventually played a vital role in convicting the killer, by identifying him—unmistakably—at the scene of the crime.
 Similar use has been made, more and more, of palm prints. And most of course, of fingerprints. All three have in common is that they are individual sets of markings, made by the pressure ridges that form the skin.
 There is nothing new, at least in regard to fingerprints, in the fact that the markings are individual. Various peoples of the world probably knew this even before the time of Christ.

What is new is the development of classification systems that make fingerprints easy to compare. This development, along with improved techniques for obtaining prints, has made fingerprinting a preferred method of identification all over the world.

Is there any chance that two people will have the same fingerprints? One scholar calculated that duplication would occur once in 64 billion prints. But later studies call that far too low. Recently a fingerprint expert estimated that duplication is likely to occur in 10,000 years. To now, of course, not a single duplication has ever been found. Besides the virtue of individuality, fingerprints also have the virtue of permanence. A person's print pattern is formed three months before birth (Mark Twain called it a "natal autograph"), and remains unchanged until after his death. Though the print may vary in size, just as the person does, the pattern itself stays the same always. So sophisticated is fingerprinting that even a part of a print is sufficient to establish an identification. As a rule, experts figure it sufficient if the suspect's prints at the incriminating prints are the same at 12 points of the pattern. But if they should differ at even a single point, then the message is usually clear:

organisms long enough to emerge from the ground.

It was pointed out by C.B. Spencer, agricultural representative for the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association, that seed with 80 per cent germination often give only 40 per cent emergence under the adverse conditions found on the Plains. And this is true even of seed bearing certified, registered, or select tags.

Dr. Bob Berry pointed out that certified seed must be produced from plants that are typical of the variety and must be free of weed seeds. And, by law, an inspector must certify that the seed are not carrying disease organisms which he is capable of detecting. He said these guarantees put the certified seed far above the average farmer-grown seed. But he went on to say that the fact that a seed lot is certified does not guarantee that the seed will be high quality from the standpoint of deterioration.

It was suggested by the scientists, and plans are being made by Plains Cotton Growers to set up a system of grading seed in seedling vigor categories to show the percentage of excellent, good, fair, poor abnormal seedlings that result from germination. This could be done with plantings in plastic trays during winter months, and some such testing will be done prior to planting time in 1967. Also, germination tests at soil temperatures below the optimum range are planned.

Standards for seedling vigor and low temperature germination will take time to establish. But in the meantime there are things producers can look for which will help assure them of quality planting seed.

Of primary importance is varietal purity. This fact was clearly demonstrated in 1964 and 1965 by Dr. Levon Ray, agronomist at the South Plains Research and Extension Center. Dr. Ray compared yields and net returns from farmer-saved seed and certified seed.

In 1964 the certified seed produced an average of 116 pounds of lint cotton per acre more than farmer-grown seed. Results from the 1965 tests were not so spectacular, but there was still an average difference of 36 pounds lint per acre — far more than enough to justify the cost of pure seed.

There are not, of course, enough certified seed available to plant the entire High Plains crop. And Dr. Ray points out that since it is necessary for some farmers to save their own seed, extreme care should be taken to preserve seed quality and purity. First, he says, farmers planning to save their own seed should have a seed plot planted with the best and latest release of their preferred variety each year. Then, the necessary precautions should be taken to preserve varietal purity and quality throughout the growing season, harvesting, ginning and delinting.

Dr. Luther Bird of the Plant sciences department, Texas A&M, emphasizes the importance of producers knowing the history of the seed they plant as a guide to overall seed quality. The producer should know whether the seed he plants are from a fully mature and disease-free crop; whether they are kept dry in the field after maturity, during harvesting, in the trailer prior to ginning and in storage after ginning. If too much moisture is present at any time, deterioration of seed quality, loss of germination and seedling vigor will occur, Bird said.

He went on to say that good seed with at least 80 per cent germination and which have been properly handled can be planted when soil temperatures at seed depth are averaging from 58 to 60 degrees, while seed in which quality has been allowed to deteriorate may not produce a stand at less than 65 to 68 degrees soil temperature.

Taking part in the seed quality discussion, in addition to Spencer, Dr. Ray, Dr. Bird and Dr. Berry, were Dr. Earl Menton, plant pathologist at the

SPC Sets Jewelry Designing Course

The Jewelry Design course has been rescheduled at South Plains College. Classes will begin Wednesday night, April 20 in the Fine Arts Building. Mrs. Billie Sue Parks, member of the Monterey School faculty, Lubbock, will instruct the course. This is a part of the Adult Education Program of the college and the classes will meet in Room 1 of the Fine Arts Building for a period of eight weeks, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. each Wednesday.

Mrs. Parks will concentrate on centrifugal casting, the "lost wax" process. According to Mrs. Parks, this method was used by a number of the ancient civilizations and is popular with designers and hobbyists today. In the technique the ring or pin is first carved or molded in a special wax. The mold is poured around this model and extreme heat melts away the model, leaving a hollow mold to be filled with liquid silver or gold. The wax is actually "lost".

"This casting is a satisfying hobby as anyone can make his models at the kitchen table or at a workbench," said Mrs. Parks. "Tools are few and inexpensive."

According to the instructor, people interested in rock work like this jewelry work to supplement their hobby. Men enjoy jewelry making because so many of them like tools and have a real appreciation for the hand processes in metal and wood working. Women enjoy designing special pieces of jewelry to compliment specific outfits or for special occasions.

Mrs. Parks, who has previously taught courses in Interior Design at South Plains College, has been studying and teaching jewelry six years. She has studied at Texas Tech and in Mexico. She has attended the casting workshop sponsored by the Southwest Smelting in Dallas. She graduated from Texas Tech with a degree in Applied Art and will finish her MFA this summer in crafts at the Institute Allende in San Miguel, Mexico.

Students will receive individual attention and instruction. The cost of the course for the full eight weeks is $10. Enrollment may be made at the first session on Wednesday night.

Library Week Proclaimed By Gov. Connally

Governor John Connally has proclaimed April 17-23 Library Week in Texas and urged all Texans to become better acquainted with the services and needs of their libraries.

The observance which is marked annually throughout the United States has assumed a unique aspect in Texas this year. It has been closely related to activities surrounding the First Texas Governor's Conference on Libraries which was attended March 23 in Austin by more than 2,000 persons.

Governor Connally proclaimed the observance as part of the Conference program and called attention to the fact that 150 Post-Conference meetings to discuss local library problems were scheduled. In many communities, these meetings are being held during Library Week.

The statewide organization for local meetings follows the structure of the organization for Library Week which includes a professional librarian, Miss Elizabeth Karle, State Library field consultant stationed in Abilene, as executive director, and a layman, Attorney J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene, as state chairman. Each local meeting will be co-directed by a professional librarian and a community lay leader.

Participants who attended the Conference from 220 counties are being contacted to participate in the local programs to present the overall picture of library development in Texas received at the Conference and to examine the local situation in the light of new knowledge obtained at the Conference.

The full text of Governor Connally's proclamation is as follows:

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM
by
John Connally
Governor of Texas

Texas libraries today face

their greatest challenge in history. The demand for books, facilities and services in this dynamic age of change is growing faster than it can be met. "Library Excellence: Today's Necessity," the theme for the First Texas Governor's Conference on Libraries, epitomizes the goal and the immediate need.

The plans for 150 Post-Conference meetings to discuss local library problems, demonstrate the determination of Texans to study and meet the needs of their libraries. It is hoped that each Texan will visit his library and see for himself the partnership it has with the public—a partnership which provides cultural and economic growth for the community and intellectual and spiritual growth for the individual.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of April 17-23, 1966, as LIBRARY WEEK in Texas, and urge all Texans to become better acquainted with the services and the needs of their libraries.

Thrifty growing timber, according to the Texas Forestry Association, is like a bank account — it is increasing every day.
