METERS CLOSED—Christmas shopper Ike Wanda Richards of Spade will find sacks over parking meters during the Christmas Stock-In Festival here Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday. Parking will be free, courtesy of the Chamber of Commerce and the city commission, during the four-day festival. Littlefield merchants and employees have been asked to park away from Phelps Avenue, to make sure of as much free parking space as possible for shoppers. (STAFF PHOTO)

County Asks Highway 84 Programming By State

Court Also Interviews Appraiser At Meeting

County commissioners took a step forward in the U.S. Highway 84 widening project Monday, making a formal request to put the Lamb County project into the State Highway Commission's programming.

The court also interviewed an appraiser in an attempt to get the ball rolling on the project. The steps came in a special meeting of the Commissioners Court Monday morning.

On hand for the session were Howard Horne, president-elect of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, and Kenneth Reast, a member of the C-C board and president of the Board of City Development.

The court passed its first official order in the current move to get Highway 84 widened after completing an hour-long session with a Lubbock appraiser, Homer R. Robbins.

In the order, the court said it appears that "local public interest in such a project on the part of Lamb County citizens indicates that this Commissioners' Court is likely to receive a petition or petitions to call an election or elections for the issuance of bonds to finance Lamb County's cost in the acquisition of right-of-way."

County Judge Pat Boone Jr. explained that the order actually is a step to put Lamb County's project "in the mill" of State Highway Commission programming.

He said the court had been informed by O. L. Crain, State Highway Department district engineer, in a meeting last week that the request would speed up state participation in right-of-way costs when and if the widening project is approved by voters in a bond election or elections.

In the interview with Robbins, the appraiser, commissioners explained the background of the widening project, then asked how long it might take for the right-of-way costs to be appraised across the county.

Robbins told the court the job probably could be done in 10-15 days, once the appraiser started on it.

"In most cases, projects like this one are wanted 'yesterday,'" said Robbins. "How soon would you want it (the appraisal)?"

Boone answered: "Well... yesterday."

He explained that the court was seeking an accurate-as-possible appraisal as soon as possible.

Robbins told the court that his firm would be tied up for most of the rest of the year. However, he indicated that he probably could (Continued on Page 8)

SANTA TO SET UP HIS MAIL BOX IN FRONT OF NEWS & LEADER

Reminder for the kids: Santa Claus is coming to town Friday, and he'll want to talk with as many of you as possible about what you want for Christmas.

Whether you get to talk to him or not, he'll want to hear from all of you.

For this reason, he's going to set up a Santa Claus Mail Box in front of the News and Leader office, so that you can send your letters to him.

All of the letters will be printed in the News and Leader, then sent on to Santa.

Santa's Mail Box will go into operation Friday—giving you almost a month to get your letter off to the North Pole.

34th Birthday

Founders Day Set At Anton

ANTON—Anton will mark its 34th birthday Wednesday, Dec. 3, with a Founders Day Celebration sponsored by the Lions Club and the Business Men's Club.

Highlights of the event will include a free barbecue at noon, a community auction sale and a talk by John C. White, Texas commissioner of agriculture.

The Anton High School band will furnish music for the event. A four-piece combo will entertain during the barbecue.

Sponsors ask that anyone having anything they would like to sell at the auction contact any member of the Lions Club or Auctioneer Hank Matthews.

Anton was formed Dec. 3, 1924, as the first town on the Spade Ranch. The school was opened in 1924-25 with eight teachers and 131 students. First church was the First Christian Church, J. B. Reintree was the first depot agent and also published the first local paper.

Paul Whiffen was the first mayor. First grain elevator was built in 1928 and 600 tons of grain and 16 tons of corn were shipped from the community that year. About 2,400 bales of cotton were ginned in 1928.

The town now has a population of 1,200, with 54 businesses. Gins in the community expect 25,000 to 26,000 bales of cotton this year. About 900 cars of grain will be shipped from the town in 1958.

Anton now has seven churches, three gins, two grain elevators, a community scout hut and a school system with 580 students and 28 teachers.

LULL BEFORE THE STORM?

Need something at the store today?

Too bad. It's Thanksgiving and the whole town's closed up.

Few, if any, merchants will open their doors today. City, county, state and federal offices also are closed, along with banks. School children are off today and Friday.

For most people, today will be restful. Merchants especially will take advantage of the holiday. The Christmas shopping crush starts tomorrow.

Hevern Wins Leader's Last Grid Contest

One point on the tie-breaking game was the only difference as Don Hevern of Amherst and Ty Jones of Littlefield battled it out in the Leader's last grid contest of the season this week.

Hevern won the contest, and the $5 prize that goes with first place.

But it was a narrow victory as he and Jones both picked all 15 games right.

Hevern guessed Lovelland would beat Littlefield, 28-14, 26 points away from the final score of 10-0 Lovelland. Jones picked Lovelland 28-15, missing by 27 points.

Third place in the final contest went to Ed McCannies of Littlefield, who picked 14 games right. McCannies missed only the Littlefield-Lovelland game. He picked Littlefield to win, 15-14. Jones will receive $3 for second place and McCannies will get $2 for third.

Services Planned On Thanksgiving

"An Overflowing Tide of Thanksgiving" will be the theme of a sermon here today in a city-wide Thanksgiving service at the First Christian Church.

The service, sponsored by the Littlefield Ministerial Alliance, will highlight the local observance of the holiday.

Ministers from six different Littlefield churches will participate in the service, which starts at 10:30 a.m.

The Rev. Raymond Burns, pastor of the First Christian Church, will deliver the sermon. The Rev. C. Wendell Tolle, pastor of the First Christian Church, will be moderator.

At least two other churches — Emmanuel Lutheran and St. Martin Lutheran — will hold separate services, both at 10:30 a.m.

Here is the program for the city-wide service:

Prelude — Miss Carol Naylor, organist.

Introit—First Christian Church choir, directed by Mrs. Leo Teek. Call to worship—Rev. Tolle.

Invocation—The Rev. J. L. Bass, pastor, Parkview Baptist Church.

Choral response—choir.

Scripture reading — The Rev. Donald Lukemeyer, pastor, St. Martin's Lutheran Church.

Prayer — Dr. Lee Hemphill, pastor, First Baptist Church.

Response reading — Rev. Tolle.

Offering—Rev. Tolle.

Sermon—Dr. Burns.

Benediction—Lt. Kenneth Clark, Salvation Army.

THE WEATHER

Today's forecast - Colder Wednesday promising a chilly Thanksgiving holiday.

Temperatures - Sunday high 78, low 42; Monday high 63, low 36; Tuesday noon high 65, low 42.

Moisture content for the month of November is .19 inches, for the year it is 17.77 inches and for this time last year 22.54 inches.

Weed Control To Be Sought In County

Petitions asking the Lamb County Commissioners Court to establish a weed control district in the county will be circulated by the County Farm Bureau late this week.

The action is the result of a resolution passed by the Farm Bureau at its county convention recently.

The petitions will be placed in gins all over the county for farmers to sign if they wish.

If a weed control district were established, farmers would be responsible for weeds on their farms and the county would be responsible for weeds in bar ditches and other areas. A penalty of $25 to $250 would be provided for violations.

Lobos Battle Andrews Today in Levelland

Levelland, conqueror of Littlefield in District 1-AAA, will meet Andrews, champion of district 2-AAA, Thursday at 2:30 p.m. in a bi-district clash at Lobo Stadium, Levelland.

Christmas Stock-In' Event Opens Friday

Back up your Christmas list in the old shopping bag with a smile, smile, smile.

The Christmas shopping season is here.

And, in Littlefield, merchants are offering a "Buy for Christmas" campaign that can solve all your problems.

It's the first annual Christmas Stock-In' Festival—a four-day event which starts Friday and continues through Tuesday.

Shoppers will get more than gifts for their money at the festival. Here are some of the big attractions:

- Free parking.
- $1,200 in gift certificates of $25 each.
- A chat with Santa Claus.
- The Christmas spirit through carol hours and brightly lighted Yuletide decorations.

The free parking is being provided by the city commission and the Chamber of Commerce, as a convenience to shoppers.

Merchants plan to keep their cars and their employees' cars off Phelps Avenue to make sure the customer gets the space.

Almost 50 merchants are offering gift certificates, some more than one. The certificates total $1,200.

Drawings for the certificates will be held at 4:15 p.m. each day of the festival in front of the First National Bank.

Shoppers may register daily in all of the participating stores.

If the customer registers on Friday, his ticket will go into a big barrel for the drawing Friday afternoon. Then his ticket will be thrown away.

So the smart shopper will be in town all four days and register at as many stores as possible to make sure he has tickets in each day's drawing.

Santa Claus will roam up and down Phelps Avenue all four days of the event, giving candy to the youngsters. He'll be around from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day.

Many stores will remain open until 9 p.m. on Friday and Saturday nights.

While all of this is going on, Littlefield will have Christmas in the air.

Christmas carols will ring out over loudspeakers at noon, 3 p.m. and 5 p.m. each day.

And to top it off, the town's brand-new Christmas decorations will go on for the first time Friday at 7 p.m.

Swimwear Will Go To Bare Minimum

BIKINI COMEBACK—Current California previews of next summer's swimwear reverse the recent covered-up look in bathing suits, and star revealing two-piece suits, beguilingly brief. Typical is this outfit in red knit cotton, with sparse shirred shorts cinched in front with a knotted sash, modestly covered up with trapeze cape in natural tone.

BIB-SUIT—The California look for resort wear is this minimum two-piece suit in white elasticized silk knit with cut-out halter which folds down and tucks away for a strapless look. This is a daring departure from recent styles.

WESTERN EXPOSURE—Gay and dramatic is this new two-piece swimsuit in red-and-white coin-dotted cotton and luster knit with deep, scooped-neck bra and short, shaped shorts with cord sash tie. A matching tie. A matching cotton knit cardigan goes with it.

Why Parables?

for November 30, 1958

All good teachers, Jesus not tied to any one style of teaching. But his favorite style was the parable. To some people the parable is a puzzling, as if Jesus were forgetting his divine intelligence. You can imagine some intelligence officer, on the

Dr. Foreman
The only a traveling magician would find neither. Only in a fisherman's boat, his voice (for outdoor speakers) boomed out over the water. Very simple stories too, no speak of no dramatics. Just about farmers and wheat and fish... every-thing, harmless and (from man's viewpoint) meaning-

Why is their great Teacher? Why would he think to himself, "I may be all right for now. There's surely no harm in the Roman would not realize he was listening to the teacher of all time, and these simple stories, or small illustrations, which we call parables, were wrapped up which were destined to the world.

Did Jesus choose the story or his teaching? He could have chosen a parable, as for instance the parable of the sower. But according to Mark, he spoke without a parable in his talk. One reason for this was for simplicity's sake. The story reduces down a complex idea, high-lights the main point. People who have difficulty following or remembering a story will remember a story.

Why are still on record the sermons of some of the rabbis who taught about at the same time as Jesus. The are pretty good for their scholarship, and their ponderous correctness. But they would remember them. Jesus' little stories on the other hand, are memorable. They are passed into the language of many lands, they are inspired works of art, they are the grieving, rebuke the people a lift to weary hearts.

Why are things have happened to man race, and will still happen. And their way around our world, and lectures in classrooms would bewilder. If Jesus had spoken in the terms of his day, his teaching would have been laid away in libraries like the lectures of teachers of that time. But as he did, in story form, it endures to this very day. It will be understood in the days of the future, if the days are so long. Lectures die; stories survive.

Remember our imaginary official who went off thinking at a stupid affair this story was? That was part of the intention. The reader will think it was not the Roman official, but the chief priests, the disciples, who stayed after-meeting and asked Jesus meant by his parables. His own inner circle of followers. He wanted to stir their interest and curiosity, and at the same time let the careless, the in-attentive, go their way. The style which he made was just right for this purpose. The parables were like that would attract only those with true steel in them. The parables, the know-it-alls, and now, hearing or reading parables, think only "What a story!" But the people who are attracted by these tales and are something beneath the surface. And in them a wisdom be-comes world. They are as clear as the sky through which we see the glory of the stars.

robots from Mars to cart you away. These days they cry for their own rocking chair, and that one in particular. Big stuffed animals to sit on for video viewing are popular too, and there are interesting cooking utensils and handsome terrace furniture that matches Mom's.

For Dad there are ottomans, easy chairs, gun racks, electric clocks. Or how about his very own television set for watching those sports programs that conflict with the children's bedtime cartoons and Mom's favorite dramatic series? A handsome table is available that may be used indoors, can be anchored right to the ground outdoors by its candy cane holder, and is large enough to hold sandwich and drink.

Mom will take appliances big or small. She'll welcome one of the new thermostatically controlled toasters in which she can even toast frozen bread and be sure it will come out as she likes. And for the music room and all the family, consider the organ. Growing in popularity, it is fun for Christmas and the whole year round.

Although the Court and Robbins reached no definite agreement Monday, Robbins said he would contact Judge Boone in "two or three days" to discuss the project further.

Highway right-of-way is acquired through joint efforts of counties and the state through the 50-50 Right-Of-Way Purchase Program, in which the state pays about half the right-of-way costs.

The Court's order requested that the State Highway Commission "place the acquisition of right-of-way for the widening and improvement of U.S. 84 . . . upon its 50-50 Right-Of-Way Purchase Program."

The county also "agreed . . . subject only to the subsequent availability of funds for such purposes that Lamb County will enter into the usual contract provided under such program, when the same may be presented."

Santa Stars Space Age Toys

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

The space age may frighten grown-ups, but it's all in the day's play for children.

Proof of this fact is the pre-dominance of space toys in the Christmas toy pack this year. Children from toddlers to teenagers will be reconstructing Cape Canaveral equipment this year, shooting the moon and maneuvering satellites in orbit. Even electric trains have rocket launching attachments. Girls as well as boys get in the act with special kits beamed to the female atomic scientist.

The younger generation takes guided missiles and space ships in stride, says Melvin Freud, president of Toy Guidance Council. These are the things which will be commonplace when they grow up, and so they get conditioned to changing times with playroom counterparts.

But there are other Toyland reflections of modern living. There is, for instance, a record turnout of Wild West equipment, with the most authentic replicas of pioneer shooting irons ever presented to small desperadoes.

The fast-changing scene of suburbia, too, has exerted influence on the year's toys. New construction kits provide shortcuts in reproducing the latest trends in house developments, down to the last nail of the shopping center.

America's concern for dressing up the home is evidenced in modern styling of doll houses and playroom furniture. The pastelmatched kitchen equipment is a favorite of modern-minded little girls.

Toy designers also continue to dream up new approaches to career training. There is a new version of the hospital cart, for instance, with equipment for food transfusions and other emergencies, for the juvenile doctor-nurse team. Glider panel sets slip the future engineer produce super-highways. The astronomer, the entomologist, the food chemist and the geologist are provided with various kits to spark career interest.

A topical note in the wheel toy lineup is the horse van and the sportsman's miniature boat trailer.

The junior artist, too, has a wide range of activity. Water-color crayons permit a fast switch from plain crayon work to finger paint, just by using water.

Toyland hits a new high in musical instruments this year, too. New ideas include a roll harmonica and xylophones that achieve broader tone effects, as well as a table-model electronic organ.

For young hobbyists, new creative play activities range from a kit for making costume jewelry to a two-color printing press.

The man on whom Stevenson based his Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde dual personality was a neighbor of his, Deacon Brodie. He was a carpenter in the day time and a burglar after dark.

Shy Child Needs Help At Yuletide

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
AP Newsfeature

What is your teen-ager like? Do you by any chance have a shy, rather withdrawn youngster who seems unhappy that he or she is not popular with the gang? There are lots of half-grown youngsters who eat out their hearts because they feel they are not liked by their age-mates. Such young people say at home pretending to be more interested in reading or TV or some hobby than playing around with other youngsters. A lonely adolescent often uses his boat to put out a good front, but gives a lot of lip service to the silly nature of his substitutes leisure time occupation. He's just not interested, or so he says.

Maybe this is true, but more often than not he is deeply hurt by the fact that he's not included in parties, and even he does go along, he feels out of the swing. He can't make small talk, he can't do the things the gang is interested in doing. Next time, he decided right then and there, he's going to stay home, and he does. And the bitter truth is the gang doesn't miss him.

Bashtul Age

These shy adolescents need help. Sometimes the help they need is a bit more encouragement at home. Encouragement to be themselves — not nagging to make them better than they are. A boy or girl who can be accepted for what he is by his parents and loved and respected AS IS is a whole lot more likely to feel the self-confidence he needs to meet adequately the demands of the outside world than if he is constantly berated for whatever quality the parents would like to see improved.

Aside from parents' attitude toward a teen-ager who is having his problems a few specific things given with the spirit of the Christmas season might well help a lot.

How would a girl who is overly conscious of not being very good-looking like a course of beauty treatments? Most cities have beauty courses, where the students are taught how best to use cosmetics, what kind of hair styling will do the most for them. They will suggest clothes styles that bring out all the good features of a not-too-good figure. A girl can profit a lot from such knowledge, especially if mother takes an interest and asks her daughter to pass on to her for her own

Christmas Card Display Opportunity For Ingenuity

AP Newsfeature

If you are bored with the old routine way of displaying Christmas cards in your home, consider putting your ingenuity to work to make a Christmas card holder that may be stored away and used each year.

Take your choice of the long style, patterned after the lines of a butler's pull. Or create a Jolly Santa that will hold considerably more cards, and will live up entrance or living room.

To make the Noel card holder cut a piece of felt 55 inches long, 5 inches wide. Make a stylized angel, transferring it to the felt. Cut 5- five-inch squares of felt. Decorate each of 5 squares with scattered stars. These will form the pockets for the cards. Make stars with the decorator attachment set for the icicle stitch. Form one complete stitch pattern. At the last stitch, lift the presser bar, pivot the fabric slightly lower the presser bar and make another complete stitch pattern. Continue until a star is formed. Paste a colored stone in the center of each to add a touch of holiday sparkle.

Paste pockets one above the other on the cutting of the piece, starting at the bottom. Use under or top braider to stitch outline of the angel using gold soutache braid. This stitching should hold the pockets in place. Put a couple of button holders at the top of the felt after turning the top down about an inch. Run soutache gold through it and tie in bow. If the holder needs more body, put a strip of buckram, wire or a pencil at the top to hold in shape. JOLLY SANTA HOLDER

A free-form Santa doesn't need a pattern. A large circle cut from the body, a small circle placed on top forms the head. The arms are two "humps" placed either side of the circle. The feet on the top circle extend at angles to the bottom. Red felt goes for the cap, black is good for the belt, pink felt is for the odd scraps of colored felt used for eyes, nose and mouth. (Continued on Page 3)

HORSES ARE HERE TO STAY—Proof is juvenile interest in such toys as this new horse trailer, designed from models used to transport the best thoroughbreds from track to track.

Small Fry Have Fun Preparing For Santa

By VIVIAN BROWN

Christmas plans require organization in the household. The first thing to do is to figure out ways to keep the youngsters busy so that they aren't underfoot during this season of frayed nerves and dwindling cash reserves.

Put them to work making Christmas gifts or decorating gift wrappings or making Christmas ornaments. A bowl of soap suds, opaque paint, and old boxes and juice cans can keep a young crew of potential noise makers on the silent beam for a good spell.

Large cereal or soap boxes, for instance, may be pressed into service as Christmas card holders. When finished you'll have Santa Claus going down a cardboard chimney.

First there is the paper work. A crayon area of brass is made on paper and then passed over the cereal box that should be in a chimney shape. The top of the box should be removed of course. Santa's face may be drawn on another piece of paper and put on a piece of cardboard and pasted

EVERY NICKEL COUNTS

MIAMI BEACH Fla. (AP) — The parking meter business is booming in this resort city.

Sherwynn Finer reports parking meters took in $722,000 last year.

He expects even more money to come in this year, because 703 meters have been added.

at the top of the "chimney," Santa Claus Christmas seals are good for that. If Santa's head is placed properly it should look as if it is just peering out of the chimney.

The chimney may be edged with a wide border of suds-snow. And so the children love to get into that! Give them a handful of packaged soap or detergent and a little water. Let them whip it with a hand or electric beater until it gets to a thick consistency. It is applied with a wooden spoon or spatula, or fingered on. It will remain white and fresh for a good number of weeks, so the mail box may be made long before Junior or Sis' Christmas cards come rolling in.

A pencil holder may be made out of a frozen juice can. These are decorated with tempera-detergent paint, made by adding one teaspoon of soap or detergent to two or three teaspoons of paint.

This recipe is the answer to making the paint stick to shiny, waxed or metal surfaces. The little pencil holder may be painted in a green or sky blue background. Little fir trees may be daubed on with thick, pale green and white paint in the tempera-detergent mixture. Use a stiff brush.

KEEP 'EM BUSY—And you can accomplish more during the holidays. This little girl is making some useful items with soap, tempera paint, detergent.

MONEY FOR CHRISTMAS—You can make it with home-made candles, ideal for a Christmas sale.

There are now 240 pressure treating plants across the United States which force creosote into wood so that railroad cross-ties and bridge timber will endure for years beyond the normal span.

It's A White Yule

AP Newsfeature
Christmas is the time when girls come home from college for two weeks of holiday festivity before the grim grind of final exams.

These are Christmas dances, New Year's Eve balls, skating parties and matinee dates. It's the gayest time of the year, and to do it honor, girls need new clothes. This year white and pastel wools are the big news in informal wool dresses for daytime activities and machine wear. You will be seeing them wherever young people gather, in sleek, simple styles, effective under bright coats and with gay accessories.

Even crystal this winter introduces a new line of machine dresses in white and pastels, designed to shine under winter furs, appropriately sparked by gay costume jewelry and newly designed Swiss watches which insure a girl against being late for the opening curtain.

The new styles are named appropriately: "Leading Lady," "May of the Season," "Curtain Time," "Box Office" and "Billboard."

Rivets made of high strength stainless steel containing 24 per cent nickel are used to weld the wing surfaces on supersonic jet bombers.

Candy Sale Is Ideal Way To Raise Christmas Money

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeature

A candy sale is an ideal way to raise Christmas money. Many young people find that a gaily wrapped box or jar of Christmas candy, jelly, cookies, fruit cake seals are not cakes, putting money into the club treasury or their own bank account.

Before you start your candy or cookie-making, assemble some attractive, inexpensive containers. These may be found in variety stores, and make handsome gifts. If they serve a dual purpose so much the better. Small tins, foil pie and casserole pans all make attractive receptacles for your prize concoctions. The small apothecary jars, now reproduced inexpensively are especially interesting selling inducements. They may be used later for a number of things. A red ribbon bow completes that package to any purchaser's satisfaction. Here are some recipes: Maybe you can pry an extra-special one loose from grandma, and that selling point labeled "family secret" will have impact on the buyer.

Caramel Fudge Drops: Mix 2-3 cup (small can) of evaporated milk with 1 2-3 cups of sugar and 1/2 teaspoon of salt in a saucepan over low heat. When fudge boils, cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Now add marshmallows, caramel chips, vanilla and pecans. You'll need about 1 1/2 cups caramel chips, 1 teaspoon vanilla and 1/2 cup chopped pecans.

Fudge Rolls: Omit caramel chips and use semi-sweet chocolate chips instead. Omit pecans. Cool for 30 minutes. Divide into 4 portions. Shape into rolls. Chop 1/2 cup pecans very fine and coat fudge with it.

Almond Chiffon Squares: Sprinkle 3 tablespoons of gelatin on 1/2 cup of cold water in a large mixing bowl. Combine 2 cups of sugar, 2 tablespoons of light corn syrup, 1/4 cup of water in a 2-quart sauce pan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until syrup reaches 240 degrees. Boil for 5 minutes with ever grain and stir well. Add 1/2 teaspoon almond extract. Cool at room temperature. Beat into the gelatin. Blend until the mixture is smooth. Pour into 4 1/2 inch square pan. Cut into 49 pieces, making 1/2 inch squares. Roll in almond each side. Roll in almond

Dear Santa:

Please Bring Me A New Party Dress

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Every little girl wants a new party dress for Christmas. And this is a wish easily fulfilled, if you are handy with the sewing machine.

The classic party dress is a froth of white organdy ruffles, a frosting of lace and an embroidered ribbon sash—guaranteed to make the most confirmed tom-boy look like a glamor girl.

Economical and easy to make, such a dress may change moods with a change of sash. For Christmas parties, a red or green sash is prescribed—with holly-leaf embroidery done on the sewing machine in gold thread. You may vary the colors of the sashes and the embroidery motif to suit other occasions, such as Valentine, Easter or birthday parties.

The party dress may be made with a standard pattern. Local sewing center experts suggest you select one with a small Peter Pan collar and diminutive puffed sleeves, back-button closing and a skirt cut straight and gathered at the waist.

For size 5 you will need 2½ yards of 44-inch fabric, 15 yards of inexpensive lace, a spool of gold metallic thread, a small package of bright sequins or beads and two yards of taffet ribbon about 3½ inches wide.

If the pattern does not include ruffles, make these by cutting 3 crosswise strips four inches wide. Seam these into one continuous strip. Use the foot hemmer at tachment to finish one edge and finish the other by applying lace over hem, again using the foot hemmer. Now gather the ruffle on the plain edge to half the original length. Sew the ruffles 1 skirt, row after row, three inches apart.

To embroider the sash, draw five motifs of holly leaves or typewriter paper. Baste a motif on each end of the sash and thread around the waistline. Machine stitch through paper and tear of paper when complete. Sew sequins or beads at each motif.

CHRISTMAS BELLE—Her frothy organdy party dress is easy to make at home, does duty for gala dates all year.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Police obliged after 19-year-old Mrs. Patricia Parent of Detroit, arrested for speeding, told them: "Don't give me a break. I'm so cute police keep letting me go. I'm afraid I might have a serious accident."

Two patrolmen took her before a municipal judge who fined her $23.

his beard, cap and boot edging, and tassel are made of white outing flannel.

Cut a piece of red felt that is the size of half the body circle. Trim the top edge in a moon shape. Cut a 1-inch wide piece of black felt to fit this edge and paste into place to form belt. Now place a piece of tarlatan or other heavy backing in back of this pocket section. Set decorator attachment to arrowhead stitch, making a line of stitching down the center of the belt section, following the line of the belt. Make two lines of stitching on either side of this with the "blind stitch" pattern of the automatic decorator. Using this same combination of stitches, make 3 vertical design lines in the center of the large circle in same battern stitch. This pocket section may now be placed on Santa's body by basting it. Applique body, head, cap and boots on to a piece of heavy backing material. Zigzag eyes, nose, mouth and moustache or to head. Cut white outing flannel into 1½ inch strips. Hem both edges with narrow hemmer. Place strips between two blades of the ruffler so stitching will be in center of strip, and gather. Stitch finished ruffles in rows to fill in beard, at top of boots, and around cap. Form tassel from remaining ruffles. Bend a wire hanger to go across Santa's back and extend up into the head portion. Hand tack into place. This helps to keep Santa sturdy. Tie a ribbon to the top of the hanger.

Chautauqua which normally has a population of only 550, has a population of 10,000 or more when the summer concerts are given there. Chautauqua is on a lake in upstate New York.

SANTA AND THE ELF BOY: Nine Chapters Of Enjoyable Reading Written By Lucrece Hudgins Beale

CHAPTER ONE LAST CHANCE

It was a time in far away
there lived a frecklefaced Esteban.

So tiny he could have fit in your coat pocket and would have known he had wings and all
was small wings
beautiful and he could fly anywhere on earth.
The hammer and prybar in Fairyland. But what he did was
he was always, always

When he was helping the Queen he collected an enormous amount of teeth from children where the children were. But he found one nickel behind
the house he had seen under all the toys.

One morning there was a noise when children
found their pillows white with teeth. You can imagine the trouble this time Esteban was
in. Santa Claus is coming for Christmas. He is six months and he has made over a million. On Christmas

them together and took them out to put in Santa's sleigh.

Half way to the sleigh he stopped to throw a snowball. He put the balloons on the ground
so that he could get his gloves out of his pocket. But hardly had he put the balloons down when the wind swept them up and away into the sky.

There was not a single balloon
in a single Christmas stocking that year!

That's the way things always seemed to happen to Esteban and the Queen Fairy was very upset about it. She called Esteban to her and said, "What in the world can I do with you?"

Esteban said, "Give me a big job, a really important job, and you will see what I can do."

"Very well," answered the Queen. "I'll give you one more chance. But I warn you, if you fall down on this job it will be the end."

"Oh, I won't fail!" vowed Esteban.
"Just tell me what it is."

"The Sandman has the sniffles," said the Queen. "I will give you his job to do tonight. Now remember you must work quickly to complete your rounds, for any child you do not visit will not sleep tonight."

"Don't worry," said Esteban eagerly. "I am leaving this very moment."

Quickly he filled a bag with sand so fine and soft you could not feel it between your fingers.
Then he threw the bag over his shoulder and flew away with it to sprinkle the sand in the eyes of all the world's children and put them to sleep for the night.

But the very first child he visited did not want to go to sleep.
He was lying in bed reading a favorite book.

"Come now," said Esteban.
"Just a speck of sand and asteen
you will go."

"But this is such a good book!"
protested the child.

"Never mind that," said Esteban.
"It's time to go to sleep."

"Please let me read a teeny bit further," begged the child.

"It can wait until tomorrow,"
said Esteban firmly.

"Just one more line," implored the child.

"What is this book anyway?"
cried Esteban. He leaned over the child's shoulder to see. It was a big, big book with wonderful pictures of pirates and shipwrecks and one-eyed men.

"What a book!" exclaimed Esteban.
"What's it about?"

"Listen," said the child eagerly,
and he began to read. Esteban
snuggled down beside him and in two seconds he had forgotten all about the Sandman's job.

Page after page the boy read
while Esteban lay on the pillow and looked at the pictures and thrilled to the tale.

When the story was ended Esteban raised his head. "What a story!" he exclaimed. Then his eyes widened with alarm and he sprang to his feet.

"Look," he cried. "It's morning!"

Sure enough, while the boy had read the night had passed away.
And children all over the world were happy because they had not closed their eyes that night. But their mothers did not like it.

The Queen Fairy called Esteban to her and said, "Now this is the end, the very end. You are just too careless. I really do not see how we can keep you in Fairyland any longer."

Esteban hung his head. He felt very sad. He didn't know what he would do if he had to leave Fairyland.

But it happened that Santa Claus was visiting the Queen Fairy that week and when he saw how sad Esteban was Santa said to the Queen, "Why not give him
one more chance?"

The Queen said, "Well, the Sandman is still sick and therefore isn't anyone else I can do it right this time — you'll spare so maybe Esteban can . . ."

"Oh, yes!" cried Esteban. "I'll see it!"

And he ran away and began sprinkling his sand for the night.
He threw away all the sand he had not used the night before and filled the bag with sand twice as soft and fine as he had had before.

He filled the bag very full and carried it down and put it at the bottom of a hill so it would be ready for him that night.

After dinner he dressed in his very best clothes, and, as he stood in front of the mirror combing his hair, he promised himself that he would do nothing foolish this night.

He felt so good as he started out after the bag of sand that he started to run, and as he ran he sang.

Down the hill he went, pell-mell. Suddenly he tripped in the darkness and shot head first to the bottom of the hill, landing with his face buried in his own

bag of sand.

In two seconds the sand had put him sound asleep and there was no one making the Sand-man's rounds that night.

The next morning the Queen Fairy called Esteban before a meeting of all the elves and fairies and sprites of Fairyland.

"I am sorry, Esteban," said
the Queen sadly, "but I warned you and now you cannot stay in Fairyland any longer."

"Couldn't I have one more chance?" began Esteban.

The Queen shook her head. "No more chances, Esteban. But if you prove yourself brave and true and dependable in the world then come back and we shall see."

Then she leaned forward, but before she could touch Esteban

Just wait and see!"

Santa Claus said, "Wait!" He had been standing there with the other elves watching and now he came up and put something in Esteban's hands.

It was a little bird with pale blue wings.

"Take this bird for company," said Santa. "If you ever need me tell the bird. He will know where to find me."

"Thank you," said Esteban, taking the bird. "But I won't need any help and I'll be back."

Then the Queen Fairy leaned forward and gently took the wings from Esteban's shoulders and Esteban began to grow and grow and grow until presently he was just a freckle-faced boy and not an elf any more.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

A FARMER sits on the other side of my desk; he tells me that he bought 22 tractors in 1952 at a cost of $48,000. During the years, he has been permitted to depreciate them before taxes, and has now recovered his $48,000. Now he must buy 22
new tractors and they will cost him, not the $48,000.00 he has recovered but $100,000.00. In other words he has lost a little more than half of his capital. He now has the money to buy only half as many tractors as he bought six years ago.

High taxes, inflation and inadequate rates of depreciation are decapitalizing America.

Officers Arrest 15 Over Weekend

City and county officers had a comparatively light weekend, arresting only 15 persons.

County officers jailed a Littlefield man, William H. Wilkinson, on a charge of driving while intoxicated Sunday.

Wilkinson pled guilty to the charge in county court-at-law and was fined $150 and costs and given three days in jail.

Sheriff's officers also picked up a Soado Latin American Sunday
for Anson authorities. The man, Raymond Delgado, faces a charge of forgery at Anson.

Other county arrests included four Latin Americans for disturbance.

City officers arrested nine drunks, and issued several tickets.

Shoppers Hit Stitch-In-Time

A girl about 14 apparently lifted about $10 worth of merchandise at the Stitch-In-Time Shop here last Thursday while her mother and brother diverted the owner's attention.

Mrs. Dan Cocham, operator of the shop, reported the incident to city police Saturday. Police had not been able to locate the trio
this week.

Mrs. Cocham said the girl took a chachet set valued at $6.50, another valued at $1, two or three key chains and two figurines.

'The Outside' Brings New Beat To Houston Night Life

By IRWIN FRANK
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — "The Outside" — a strange name for a strange place — gives Texas Beatniks a home away from California, gives young Houston artists a place to exhibit, and gives the rest of the town a wonderful time.

The dimly lit rooms in the white frame house where you can pay 25 cents for coffee, cokes or hot chocolate are furnished with chairs and tables hauled from junk yards. Gordon Deats, one of the owners, says "every now and then a chair gives way under a guest and we have to spend 50 cents to buy another one."

But the old chairs, the paintings on the walls, the wooden boxes that serve as tables, the bottles covered with candle wax and the unusual clientele draw the curious.

Deats explained how the "Outside" grew.

"I was getting tired of being poor, I had just switched from painting to sculpturing and wasn't making any money. I talked to Bob Debow who had his own sculpturing studio and I mentioned to him that I had heard of one or two places in the country that made money as a combination coffee shop, art studio and art gallery. I had $200 I had just won by taking first place in the Houston Post's Easter art contest. I used it at some money. Bob had to open the place. We had to move the first time because the people who lived in the place complained the customers made too much noise. Then we moved a second time because we didn't have enough room."

Deats said the "outside" has two purposes.

"The first thing we're trying to do is develop a dependable source of income for ourselves so Bob and I can continue our work. Then, we thought we might develop a place where the artists in Houston could meet. We thought we could make the people in Houston aware of the fact that there are artists in Houston."

Six artists and two writers have studios in the huge white building. One-man arts shows are held whenever necessary and all of the 200 or more paintings hanging on the walls are for sale at prices ranging from $1 to $275.

The "Outside" is open until 3 a.m.—long after the night spots in Houston close. The late hours attract the after-show crowd, show people, newspapermen, radio announcers and people looking for excitement.

There is no formal entertainment at the "Outside" but every now and then some "Beats" will read poetry with a combo playing jazz in the background. Or someone will bring a guitar and play all evening. Most of the time people just sit in little groups and talk. The only waitress in the place now is a would-be actress who replaced a would-be dancer.

lated the bacilli in pure culture. He went on to produce a tetanus toxin in 1890 and the antitoxin a year later.

For the past five years the incidence of the disease has been holding its own in Texas, fluctuating only little. The disease is caused by the introduction of the tetanus bacilli into the body through a wound.

The bacilli in turn produce a toxin which reacts in much the same manner as a poison on certain bodily functions.

It is characterized by stiffness of the jaw and neck muscles. Before the development of antitoxin, about 80 per cent of all afflicted persons died.

The disease was more prevalent then because of few paved roads and sidewalks, besides the abundance of horses and other animals before the coming of automobiles. Today, soils, street dust and animal excreta are still the principal reservoirs.

Since 1941 the U.S. Armed Forces have protected their men with tetanus toxoid. During World War II there were only 12 cases of tetanus in the Army and Air Force. Six had not received the toxoid, but not an emergency booster. Out of 600,000 battle wounds, only one case developed tetanus.

Meanwhile in the Navy there were two deaths from four cases. Only one had not been fully immunized. Compared to high tetanus rates of other warring nations, low incidence among allied troops proves the benefits of tetanus toxoid.

In contrast to the antitoxoid does not contain horse serum, a decided advantage for allergic people.

Active protection can be obtained from inoculations of the tetanus toxoid with a booster shot at regular intervals as suggested by your physician. Anyone who is subject to incur an open injury such as construction workers and farmers should protect themselves. And certainly little children running around barefoot need the protection of tetanus toxoid. (A weekly feature of the Public Health Education Division of Texas State Department of Health).

THIS WEEK In Washington

with CLINTON DAVIDSON

The Congress which will convene in January will be among the most powerful ever to assemble in Washington. It will have more say-so over Government policies than any Congress since the Civil War.

That will be because no President in recent American history has ever had a Congress composed of the opposition party.

Both parties have had a larger majority in Congress, but never at a time when the other party was in control of the Administrative branch of government. We'll have a truly two-party government, at least until 1961.

heavy responsibility on the leadership of the overwhelming Democratic majorities in both the Senate and the House, and on the chairmen of the various committees which will have the responsibility of developing legislation.

Power in the South

Most of the chairmen of the important congressional committees will be from Southern states.

Nearly all of them have a long congressional record of Democratic conservatism on both domestic and foreign issues.

The fact that Southern Democrats will be considerably outnumbered by Northern, Midwestern and Western Democrats, mostly with a more "liberal" attitude toward government policies, poses a problem for the Southern leaders. How well can they control a majority that sometimes disagrees with them?

The most serious clash could be expected to come over labor legislation, taxes and spending. Many of the Northern and Eastern Democrats were elected with the financial support of organized labor. Few of the Southern Democrats had labor support. Southerners, too, are more conservative on taxes and spending.

Committee Chairmen

Most people who are unfamiliar with the inner workings of Washington assume that aside from the President, the most influential men in the Nation's Capital are the members of the President's Cabinet.

They credit the Secretary of Defense, for example, with having more influence than he actually has over military matters; or the Secretary of the Treasury with greater power than anyone else over spending and taxes.

Far more influential in the direction of military matters are Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, long-time chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, and Rep. Carl Vinson, also of Georgia, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

On matters involving taxes and spending two other Southern Democrats have more influence than the Secretary of the Treasury. They are Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, known for many years as "the watchdog of the Treasury," chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Rep. Brent Spence of Kentucky, veteran chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee.

We will report on chairmen of other important committees in subsequent articles on the incoming 86th Congress in the near future.

Bellmaking Big In West Germany

SINN, West Germany (AP) — Skilled German bellmakers, using the same techniques employed by their ancestors for centuries, currently are finding themselves busier than anyone can remember.

One of the oldest and largest bell foundries in West Germany is that of the Rincker brothers in the tiny village of Sinn, about 25 miles north of Frankfurt. Rinckers have been making bells at least 350 years.

Since the end of World War II, the Rinckers have produced about 5,000 church bells, roughly as many as the family turned out in the 70 years preceding the war.

Warime efforts to reclaim strategic copper and tin contained in big bronze bells accounts for a large part of the post-war bellmaking boom.

It is estimated that the Nazis melted down about 150,000 bells during the war. Since the war, the entire German bell industry has replaced only about 25,000.

Bells are traditional victims of war but despite all the wars of the past three centuries, there are still 49 bells in existence known to have been made by the Rincker family between 1550 and 1800.

The family assumes the bell, which still hangs in the church at nearby Netphen, was not the first to be made by a Rincker but there is no sure record of an earlier one.

The Rincker foundry is run by two brothers, Fritz and Curt Rincker. Fritz' son, Hans, is expected to carry on in the next generation.

The method of casting a bell at the Rincker foundry has changed little in the past 3 1/2 centuries, except that overhead cranes, a modern oil furnace and other devices make the job a little easier.

But the making of the crucial brick and clay model is done just as it was centuries ago. A wooden "profile" swung on a central pivot guides the mason in shaping up the mold.

First the inside form of the bell is shaped. This is coated with grease and a second layer of clay forms the shape of the bell itself. A third outer mold is next built up and when all three are dried, the second layer is chipped away to form the hollow part of the mold.

The clay mold is then buried in a deep pit in front of the furnace with earth packed tightly around to keep it from breaking when the molten metal is poured.

The bells are 78 per cent copper and 22 per cent tin. The price depends partly on the going costs of these metals. During the Korean war, bell metal shot up to around $1.40 a pound. Now, it is about 36 cents a pound.

Most Rincker bells go to German communities, as did the six-ton bell poured last January, which was registered as the town's 10,000th bell. Actually the Rinckers have poured many more than 10,000 bells but the family began counting them only in 1868.

There are a few Rincker bells in American churches—including one recently shipped to Colman, Neb. The U. S. market, where domestic or Belgian bells seemed to be preferred, is a hard one to crack, says Rincker business manager Hans Krueger.

"And this is a little hard to understand," he adds, "because our prices for delivery in the United States are more favorable than those of either American or Belgian producers.

"The bell business is unusual,

He wrote 100 letters to foreign countries, got replies in a number of languages quoting wage scales in a bewildering variety of currencies.

Why did he tackle the massive job?

"Teachers have been good to me all during my studies," he said. "All that I know I owe to them and their skills. I believe this report will be helpful to them and so I'd like to repay them and to show them that I have greatly appreciated their efforts."

The youngster hasn't let his report lie idle in his files. He sent copies to the White House, to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and to Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida.

"I received the most wonderful letters," he said.

Some of the information gathered:

The average U.S. teacher is paid $4,650 a year in salary with $12,000 earned by engineers, $5,000 by skilled craftsmen and factory workers.

German teachers can earn as much as $3,200 a year with $720 for unskilled labor. French teacher can earn comparison with $800 a year. In England, a school laborer's wage is $2.50 against a Russian professor's wage of eight times as much for work.

The cost of living in the countries mentioned is less than the United States.

In the 1880's about 100 were required to make of plate glass. Today less than nine hours.

hostile attitudes toward the stern and hardworking life prescribed for them by the Communist Party are a frequent subject in the Soviet humor magazine "Krokodil." Particularly condemned in cartoons in this journal are young people who do not want to migrate to Siberia or the Far North to work under primitive conditions where the government sends them after they finish universities and institutes.
Thus Krokodil pictures two girls sitting in Moscow on a park bench and the one says to the other:

"again I've had bad luck. This is my fifth husband who has been sent off to work in the provin-ces."
The cartoon was referring to the fact that many Soviet girls marry men working in Moscow in order to escape having to work in cold and distant areas.

Another constant Krokodil subject is parents who use personal pull to get their children into higher educational institutions. One such published a little while ago shows a mother addressing a father while a girl stands in the background.
The mother says to the father: "It's about time you discussed with daughter which institute you're going to get her admitted

Melodious Four Freshmen Teamed Up By Accident

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—They met at the Arthur Jordan Conservatory in Indianapolis.
The year was 1947.

They didn't have any spending money, so they sat around the dormitory singing just for fun.
But why not sing for money, they figured.

So they did for three years, touring various night spots in the Midwest.

One night in 1950 band leader Stan Kenton heard them in Dayton, Ohio. He got Capitol Records to sign them. A song called "Blus World" propelled them to fame and fortune.

And to this day, they'll admit they don't remember how they got the tune.

There are four of them and they do quite a bit of traveling, appearing mostly in night clubs during the summer months and on college campuses in the winter.

Two or three times a year they take a four weeks vacation. That still leaves them on the road a great deal of the time, but they don't mind—they're paid for the inconvenience.

The four who started together were Bob Flanigan of Van Nuys, Calif.; borthers Don Barbour, Burbank, Calif., and Ross Barbour, North Hollywood, Calif.; and Hal Kratsch, Warsaw, Ind. An agency gave them the name that stuck.

"You're fresh out of college," an agency man said.
"We'll call you the Four Freshmen."

to this fall."
The obvious point was that she had flunked out of several previously.

Spoiled children whose parents pamper their every wish and who take full advantage of the situation, young men and women imitating Western fashions and contemptuously indifferent to Communist ideas, youths whose only desire is to dance to Western rhythms hour after hour, boys and girls who run away from the construction projects to which they are sent in the Soviet east and north—all of these are the more or less permanent subject matter of a stream of editorials, cartoons and more active measures taken by the Soviet Communist Party.

Concert Family Finds Rolling Home On Road

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Harry Lee Neal lives by three R's — run, run and run.

He runs his family of five persons; he runs his fingers over the keyboard of his concert piano; and, occasionally, he runs the $25,000 land cruiser that is the family home seven months of the year.

Neal is half of the piano team of "Nelson and Neal." The other half is his wife, Australian-born Allison Nelson, 31.

Their self-designed land cruiser is as compact as the inside of a submarine. It has to be. For they take their three children and two concert grand pianos wherever they go.

The Neals met as students at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia. Since their marriage on New Year's Day in 1949, they have traveled more than a quarter of a million miles, giving concerts in the United States, Mexico and Canada.

"My children were very inconvenient children," Allison says. "They all were born during the concert season." The children are John, 4, Kathie, 2, and Allison, 10 months.

The Neals are on the road from October through April. During the summers they live in an antebellum home in Paris, Tenn.

"We play so many one-night stands that my friends in Paris get the idea we can't hold a job," Neal says.

When the family is on the road, Allison still finds time to cook about half of the meals in the land cruiser's tiny but efficient kitchen.

And Neal finds time to take over the wheel of the big bus from its regular driver. When the Neals are on stage, a local babysitter watches the children.

On a concert night, the Neals are on an exact schedule.

Supper is at 5:45 p.m. Then Allison washes the dishes and Harry prepares the children for bed. That's over about 6:30. The Neals take a 30-minute nap themselves and dress at 7:40. Concert time is usually 8:15.

The Neal children — for all their traveling and the non-permanency that goes with it — are bright, normal youngsters who have turned their land cruiser into a gigantic play pen.

Despite travel, Harry has just become the author of a book, "Wave As You Pass," describing his younger days in Tennessee, his marriage to Allison and the trials of family life on the road.

Besides playing, driving and writing, Neal has one other interest—listening to rock 'n' roll.

"I like it," he says, "and, besides, it's driving people back to the classics."

He's Literally Shooting His Way Through College

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A 19-year-old Oklahoma City University student is literally shooting his way through school.

Not that Ed Kelsay ever actually threatens his professors, although he rarely is seen without his 45 caliber Colt revolver strapped on his hip.

Income Tax Fax

Questions and answers about your individual income tax report for 1958, as presented by the Texas Press Association.

Now is the time to think about the tax bill you are going to pay next year because now is the time you can do something about it. You can take action now that will reduce the bill, or, if tax is withheld from your paychecks, increase the refund you will get.

There are no simple questions in taxes.

These columns are intended to help you in a general way to know the questions about your income and deductions and to give information of a general nature so you will be aware of the savings that may be open to you. Each taxpayer has individual problems.

Perhaps the simplest question you can ask is: "Do I have to file a tax return?"

You do have to file if:

You are under 65 years of age and your income is $600.00 or more or if you are over 65 years of age and your income is over $1,200.00.

The above applies to statutory income so before we can completely answer your question, "Do I have to file an income tax return?" we have to know the source of your income. Many kinds of income are not taxed, such as: Social Security payments; Unemployment Insurance payments; compensation for injuries; and some pensions. Many other types of income are as a fast-drawing "marshal" at Frontier City, an entertainment center built to resemble a town of the early West.

The OCU student says he's only been practicing his fast-draw — in fact he's only been interested in guns—for about three months. He went to work during the summer as an announcer on the Frontier City public address system.

"One day they needed an extra marshal," he explains, "and I was it."

Kelsay now claims he can draw and fire his single-action Colt in less than a fifth of a second. His fastest time, recorded by an electronic timer, is .17 second. That compares with the official fast-draw record of .12 second set by Dee Willham in competition last year in Las Vegas.

On his job, Kelsay is known as "Wynn Chester" — and he's done all right as a frontier "marshal." In mock battles staged for visitors, "Chester" has slain hundreds of bad men and has suffered only one personal injury. The blank cartridge in his gun went off prematurely as he was preparing to draw, giving him a powder burn on the leg.

"I was a little faster on the trigger than I was on the draw," Kelsay commented.

Kelsay and his fellow "sheriffs and bad men" don't use horses in their act, he says, because today's horses are all gun shy.

owe income tax. If you worked for wages and had income tax withheld from your paychecks you should file tax return even though your earnings were less than $600.00. This because Uncle Sam will, in that event, refund to you the tax withheld from your wages.

Utmost Urgency' Tag Put On Need For Cotton Study

LUBBOCK—The pilot spinning plant at Texas Tech College, recently reactivated by the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and Tech, is expected to be fully utilized in expanded quality evaluation research as announced by the National Cotton Council.

A tag of 'utmost urgency' has been placed on the need for evaluating the quality of raw cotton and relating it to manufacturing performance. It was announced recently after a meeting of the cotton industry's subcommittee on quality research.

Pilot spinning laboratories at both Tech and Clemson, S.C. will be used. Evidence strongly indicates that excessive amount of short fibers seriously affects cotton's spinability. As a result emphasis will be placed on effort to determine how to measure the percentage of short fibers in cotton as an aid to placing the proper spinning value on the immediate need of cotton gin. It called for an effort to develop a combined equipment and interrelated heat automatically in relation to the moisture content of the seed cotton.

The subcommittee educational efforts will be made by the National Council and other agencies in conjunction with studies to take establishment of cotton growing and over-maturing in time to get improvements for the 1959

The Pleasant Valley Home Demonstration Club met Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at the Community Center with Mrs. Seaborn Moore and Mrs. Allen Haley as hostesses.

The Christmas party was planned for December 10 with Mrs. Richard Barnett's side as hostesses. Plans were also made for attending the club council Christmas party Wednesday, Dec. 3 at 2:30 at Littlefield.

Mrs. Lado Clara Phillips, Lamb County Home Demonstration agent gave the program for the afternoon on sewing techniques to make home made clothes have the tailored look.

The hostess gift was won by Mrs. Kenneth Duncan. Refreshments of coffee and cake were served to about nine members. The next meeting will be the Christmas party.

Mrs. Allen Haley and Mrs. H. W. Kendrick attended the Home Demonstration Club Council meeting at Littlefield Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Allen Haley attended a 4-H committee meeting Monday afternoon at Springlake. Those attending were Mrs. Robert Akin of Springlake, Mrs. Melvin Dutton and Mrs. Leonard McNeese of Rocky Ford and Mrs. Lado Clara Phillips of Littlefield. The group drew up 4-H recommendations for 1959. Mrs. Haley is chairman for Lamb County.

The time for all good plan holiday parties for... even more important variations to small fry... can make an edible for a party table, it's a success. One bright use popcorn balls for a centerpiece. The children have fun popping the making the balls in addition after the party the guests can eat the decorations.

The snowman centerpiece has a body made of one huge white popcorn ball with a smaller one for a head. Use chocolates for his eyes, maraschino cherries for nose and mouth and a cherry-topped ice cream cone for his hat. For popcorn balls at each place setting, add to the festive look by using red and green food coloring to some of the balls, chopped red and green maraschino cherries to others.

PARTY DECOR—Colored popcorn balls on sticks and a snowman centerpiece insure a gala children's party.

More advanced gardeners are likely to develop special interests. And there are many specialist's garden books on the market. My library contains books on ferns, on cactuses, on orchids, on roses, on chrysanthemums, on bulbs, on perennials, on annuals, on herbs. There are any number of books on law-landscape, on laying out one's grounds, on using shrubs and trees to decorate it. There are books on house plants—and several volumes on African violet culture and a couple on window-box gardening.

Most of us have wandered into our hobby some time after we struggled through our high school courses in botany. There are many fine, interestingly written books on the subject. Gardening becomes a much more fascinating hobby when one is able to tell a stigma from a style and has enough information to identify a female holly from the male. There are books on soil and there are books in weeds.

And there are also color picture books of famous and lovely gardens, charming biographies of personal gardening adventures—like those written by Miss Sackville-West, and the Messrs. Nichols and Bromfield. There are gardening books for children and there are funny books about gardening, like those written by Reginald Arkell.

If a book doesn't seem just right, how about a subscription to a gardening magazine? There are some with national distribution, and others which are circulated regionally.

Is There Really A Santa?

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
AP Newsfeatures

Lolly climbed up on the sofa and cuddled next to Mommie. "Is there really a Santa Claus, Mommie?" she asked softly. Mommie was taken by surprise. Lolly was not quite six. She hadn't expected this doubt for some years to come. She hesitated a minute as she put her arms around her little girl and looked down into the expectant trusting little face.

"Santa Claus isn't a really truly man with white whiskers and a red suit," she began, feeling her way, "but he is real just the same. Santa Claus is a name we give to how we feel about people we love."

"Then he doesn't come down the chimney?" asked the child. "No, that's just part of a game we pretend."

"Well, that's all right," said Lolly matter-of-factly. "It never seemed sensible to me that he could ride around with reindeer." "But he does give us presents, doesn't he?" Lolly was quite willing to give up the fantastic about Santa Claus, but she was a little anxious about the thought of losing the material satisfactions that went along with it.

Joy of Giving
"Yes, Lolly dear, you will still have plenty of presents," said her mother with an inward frown at her daughter's worldly aims. "You will have presents because Daddy and I love you and want you to be happy. We give you presents and say they come from Santa Claus which means we feel we are a part of an old custom of giving to those we love. It's a nice feeling, Lolly dear, to know that we are part of an old spirit that made people want to make others happy."

"Do you like to give presents, Mommie?"

"Of course, don't you?" Lolly thought about this.

"Yes," she said. "I guess I do. I liked giving Daddy that doggie I made at school."

"Why did you like doing it?" "Because Daddy was surprised and hugged me."

"Maybe, dearie, it was because you love Daddy and you like to do things that please him."

"Maybe," slowly from the child. "Lolly, do you know why we celebrate Christmas?" asked her.

"Because it's Christ's birthday," she answered quickly.

"Yes, that's right. And at Christmas time we think about Christ and the kind of person he was. Christ wanted people to be good to each other. He wanted everyone to think about other people and do nice things for them."

"But you are always saying,"

"Do you like to give presents, Mommie?"

"Of course, don't you?" Lolly thought about this.

"Yes," she said. "I guess I do. I liked giving Daddy that doggie I made at school."

"Why did you like doing it?" "Because Daddy was surprised and hugged me."

"But you are always saying,"

replied Lolly, "that we should be nice to people all the time."

Who is Santa?
"Yes, dear, that's true, we certainly should, but Christ's birthday is a special time when we do extra good things. That's how the story of Santa Claus grew up. Isn't it a nice story? Think of that jolly old man going about making children everywhere happy. He is not really a man, of course, he is the good warm feeling that people have inside them that makes them want to see others pleased and happy."

"Is Santa Claus inside you, Mommie?"

"Yes, he surely is and I think he is inside you too."

Lolly looked down at her little self.

'Diary' Of Anne Frank Replaces 'Boy Friend'

Civic Lubbock, Inc., has announced that "The Boy Friend," which was scheduled for Feb. 4, 1959, at the Lubbock Auditorium, will be replaced by the popular and highly acclaimed "Diary of Anne Frank" to be presented in the auditorium on Tuesday, Dec. 2, at 8 p.m.

Persons holding tickets for "The Boy Friend" will be admitted on those tickets to "The Diary of Anne Frank" on December 2.

This dramatization from the famous diary kept by a teen-age Jewish girl during World War II tells of the adventures of the girl, her family and friends during their two years of hiding in an Amsterdam garret before capture by the Nazis.

Christmas Apron Makes Fine Gift

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

It's not too early to start checking over your Christmas list and getting a head start on the gifts you will turn out on your sewing machine.

A popular gift — and one easy to make — is a simple felt apron, done in a bright holiday color and decorated for the Christmas season. Local sewing center experts suggest a simple style in bright red felt, decorated with glittering sequins.

This apron can be adapted to a number of treatments, to take care of a variety of personalities on your list. For example the same apron can be cut in green felt and appliqued with a bright red poinsettia. In white felt it can serve as a background for a string of applique reindeer or a cherry Santa.

The apron may be made with a standard pattern, and nearly all such patterns include transfer designs for Christmas motifs, which may be cut from contrasting felt and applied in place. A Christmas apron is required equipment for the hostess presiding at holiday parties, for it can transform the simplest little black dress into a gala holiday costume. Carry out the Christmas theme in the rest of your outfit. For example, pin a sprig of holly in your hair or tape a tiny felt flower to the toe of your shoes.

If you are making a series of gifts aprons, make a miniature of the apron design to enclose with the gift package, to be used as a collar or shoe ornament.

TOP DRESSING—white wide-collared dress with slim skirt slightly gathered at the waist. Perfect for matinee time, designed by David Crystal. The young lady wears a wide Florentine Swiss watch bracelet set with rubies.

PARTY APRON—Easy to make in bright red felt, sparked with bright sequins.

NO SPARING THE ROD

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Deputies arrested a 6-1, 180-pound teenager for creating a disturbance at a drive-in restaurant and summoned his mother.

The mother came to the station, heard the report and borrowed a belt from a deputy. She then made her son lower his pants — as deputies watched — and then lowered the boom with the belt. Deputies marked the case closed.

JUST TESTING

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va. (AP)—University of Virginia students will walk the world's first continuously reinforced sidewalk.

The 303-foot long slab of reinforced concrete was laid as a joint operation by the University and the Virginia Council of Highway Investigation and Research. Concealed in the pavement are hundreds of feet of tiny wires. Every quiver or movement of the big slab will be recorded and results analyzed. It is a pilot study for an inter-state highway.

STRANGE INTERLUDE

VIENNA, Va. (AP)—Charles C. Robinson, director of the Northern Virginia Planning Commission, doesn't know who is knocking into his home but he knows a lot about him. The intruder is a man, smokes, likes sports, watches TV, enjoys comfort and afternoon naps, takes showers, is curious about religious objects and is extremely punctual. Robinson finds his alarm clock set for 5:45 p.m., which is just half an hour before he regularly returns from work.

Down-Up Clothes Help Sure Make-Believe

V.V. WHIPPLE M.D. time now. Did you have a nice nap?"
Tess pops up and says: "I'll be mommie now and you be baby and we will go for a walk in the park."
Little children love dramatic play and it's good for them. They need the opportunity to play out what they see going on around them. It helps them understand themselves and their relations with their grownups. To act like mommie makes mommie more real and more understandable.

Play-Acting

Sometimes mommies get quite an eye-opener to listen to what a small daughter may say and do as she is playing at being mommie. Beth tied a big apron around her waist, picked up a broom and began sweeping vigorously.

"Company's gonna come," she said to herself, "hurry up, hurry up, clean the house." She ran over to her doll and gave her a good round smack.

"No. No. You're a bad girl messing up my clean house. You can't come to the party. You're dirty and nasty, go away." And Beth threw the doll across the room.

Mother, listening to Beth, was shocked.

"Is that the way Beth thinks I am?" she thought to herself.

Maybe, maybe not. Children's play is sometimes just a mirror of the life they lead. Sometimes it reflects the way they wish it were. And again children through dramatic play can act out hostile aggressive feelings they dare not bring to the surface without hiding behind some role.

Only Make-Believe

Linda, dressed up like mother plastered her doll with band-aids. She was disturbed by the amount of attention her baby brother was receiving. She would have liked to "cut him up and throw him away" but of course was not allowed to hurt him. She felt easier about the whole situation after she had vented her feelings on the doll.

Give your children the opportunity to play out all sorts of roles.

A big box of dress up materials will be a most welcome and used Christmas present for any little pre-school age girl.

Put in the box an old skirt of yours, some scarfs, a hat or two, some jewelry, gloves, a pocket-book, maybe an old window curtain. Anything the children can drape around herself and feel like a grown-up. Shoes are often a great success.

Christmas Prize

Children like the feel of different kinds of material. If you happen to have a seraggly old fur you can no longer use, your youngster will adore it. Also a piece of velvet is soft and cozy to touch. It certainly doesn't have to be new.

There has recently come on the market a whole line of adult clothes made small enough for little children to wear for dress up play. If your budget is unlimited go buy some. However your child will get just as much joy out of discarded pieces of clothing and other accessories of adult life as she will from expensive new ones.

Give these things to your youngster then stand back and watch and listen. I'll bet you will be in for some surprises and maybe some eye openers.

There are 29 skilled gunmakers in Ferlach, Austria. They hand-make about 4,000 weapons a year, many of which are purchased by sportsmen in the United States.

Oliver - Goldsmith, Canada's first native-born poet, was a grandnephew of the Irish poet of the same name.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

- Whiskey Nose
- Odorous Shoes
- Bedwetting

Q: "Can doctors do anything for whiskey nose?" - D. J.
A: Yes, the condition is greatly improved by proper treatment. The term "Whiskey nose" is misleading because many sufferers are drunk swimmers from alcoholic drinks. Mild cases can sometimes be helped by re-planting of excess tissue is required if the nose is markedly enlarged or removed perspiration is not so really satisfactory method of deodorizing leather shoes. However, unpleasant odor can usually be prevented by daily foot care. The feet should be thoroughly washed and dried. Use of a foot deodorant also helps.

Thorough Preparation Simplifies Christmas Shopping

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures
Know how to survive the Christmas rush?
Take it in stride.
You'll be tempted to do all your shopping in one day or leave it until the last minute, but don't succumb. Here are some ideas to mull over for a more relaxed shopping spree:

1. Shop early. Avoid the crowds by leaving home early and returning home early.

2. Organize your shopping thoughts before leaving home, preferably the night before. Your gift list should include two possible gifts for each name. If you don't find one settle for the other, rather than walking 'til your feet hurt. You'll save money too, by having alternate gifts because your first impulse may be too expensive. Put the list in your handbag the night before so you will not forget it.

3. Send as many gift-wrapped packages from the stores as you can, particularly to those relatives away from home. It'll be easier for you if the store wraps and mails.

4. It's a good idea to prepare your feet for the shopping trek. Rub them with champhor ice in the morning. Mild ingredients, camphor and petroleum jelly combine to ward off aching feet. Rub your feet again when you arrive home.

5. You should have studied the ads before you set off on your shopping trip. Know the stores that carry the gifts you have in mind. This will save aimless wandering, and get you the best values.

6. Plan a simple evening meal for shopping day. Prepare part of the dinner beforehand, and set the table the night before. (A big beef stew may be made the night before, heated up to taste even better after a day of shopping.)

7. Dress for comfort. Stores are warm so wear lightweight clothes. Wear low-heeled shoes.

8. Eat a good breakfast in the morning so that you can eat a late lunch or tea and toast at home. Besides the expense, restaurants are crowded, and waiting in line will not improve your disposition.

9. Stop to sit down when you get a chance. This will ward off fatigue and lift your spirits, restoring energy.

10. "She who shops alone, shops fastest" might well be your clue to a happy shopping day. It's fun to shop with the girls the rest of the year, but when it comes to Christmas, you're better off alone. That goes for the youngsters too: it'll be cheaper in the long run to hire a baby sitter than pay for all the bribes you'll need to keep them quiet on this adventure.

11. Keep your sense of humor with sales people. They don't create the crowds, set the prices or manufacture the merchandise. They're tired too, so don't pick on them.

12. Stick to your budget. You don't want to pay for your Christmas fun for 364 other days. And if you charge your Christmas purchases, remember: bills catch up with you sooner or later. Don't buy more because you can charge it.

13. Relax at home after shopping. A good bath will help. Put some bath salts into the water and soak until your heart's content.

14. Get in bed with your check list. What didn't you manage to get? Make another list next shopping trip.

15. Just as soon as you bought, tag them and out of the way.

HEADACHE BOW—Velvet glamour with gold pins lends holiday elegance.

THE REGAL LOOK—A tiara for every Main Street princess this Christmas.

In Hairdos, Anything Goes For Yuletide Excitement

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor
Beauty goes to the head for Yuletide excitement. There are so many accessories for the head that one could easily use a special closet for the wardrobe of adornments—wigs to tiaras—come the holiday season.

The wig has been no flash in the pan. A good seller at $200, it is even bigger business at $75 for synthetic models. Beauty salons haven't lost business because even a wig needs to be shampooed and set.

Whether you dress up your very-own hair this season or choose a wig, you'll shine above the neck. Holiday predictions are that wigs in silver and gold tones as well as multicolor hues of 20 or more shades will dress up American dance floors. Or decorate your own hair with a spray in one or another scintillating shades. Or be a natural coiffure.

A lovely head of hair should be a prized feature, and the girl who comes by beautiful tresses naturally, should play up the fact, men being great lovers of a woman's crowning glory.

If you choose a tousled hairdo or another intricate coiffure, your hair will need body to avoid the skimpy, boyish look that is certainly not in vogue this season. Home permanent wave processes have been shortened, with speed bath permanents that cut down actual curling time to a minimum so that this is not the chore it used to be. The curl will give you the body you need to give a luxurious effect, no matter what hairdo you choose.

When it comes to embellishing the hair, take your choice of scintillating tiaras, headache bands, jeweled pins and combs and bows of every description, including those of real hair lacquered to match your own hair or favorite wig.

Wampanoag Hero Taught Pilgrims How To Plant

ANKIE SHARP
 Yesterday as the Indian Saint of Plymouth Governor Bradford's special instrument of their good beyond but few people his name today say that without had have been no Day 327 years Pilgrims would have to give thanks for who toward them today or before and a treaty if it had not been for the Indian man of the Pilgrims called Patuxet in 1602 by a party led by the man who was one of his trip to the Indian was taken for exhibition as was apparently although there is a tradition on these was sent back to Capt. John colony.

 Squanto's personal tragedy was life-saving good fortune for the Pilgrims.
 If the little band of Englishmen had landed in territory held by a strong tribe of Indians, they would probably have been killed or driven off immediately.
 But they happened upon the empty Patuxet lands. Then came Squanto, Governor Bradford's "special instrument sent by God" to show the Pilgrims how to plant the seed corn they had found hidden by a tribe on Cape Cod where they stopped before coming to Plymouth.
 The Patuxet Indians were old and not too fertile, but Squanto showed the Pilgrims how to plant the corn in properly spaced hills with three herrings in each to fertilize the plants.
 Squanto showed his new friends how to hunt and fish in the strange woods, what crops were good to eat and how they could be grown as he acted as a tireless interpreter between the Pilgrims and neighboring Indians.
 Squanto was the interpreter who negotiated the treaty with Massasoit — an important chief in the Massachusetts area. That treaty gave the Pilgrims peace and the opportunity to build their first little settlement into a thriving town. He died of an "Indian fever" about two years after the Pilgrims' arrival.
 Squanto's title of the Indian Saint of Plymouth was earned — not given. Those who could stick to the most stern regulations of the hard Pilgrim life were called Saints. Those families who did not quite measure up were known as Strangers.
 Squanto, the one-time slave and captive, lived up to the most rigid rules . . . and earned his title of Saint.
