62 Farmers Receive $145,424.40

30 Men Measuring Soil Bank Acreage

Lamar D. Aten, Jr., of the ASC office said today that measuring acreage for Soil Bank payments is in full swing in Lamb County with sixty-two farmers having received checks and 101 still to go.

Sixty-two farmers have been paid $145,424.40 to date with 101 yet to be paid. Total of $369,925.69 will be paid to farmers qualifying.

Thirty men are busy measuring cotton acreage in Lamb County that was placed in the Soil Bank.

Lamar Aten, Jr., ASC chairman in the county, said that men were encountering difficulty measuring this land because so many farmers have lost crops in recent disasters caused by the rains, hail and blowing out.

The ASC is making every effort to measure the land so Soil Bank payments can be made before July 1, but Aten said it looks like now that it might be better to stop measurement and start over when crops are up to a stand again.

Report is on error

Members of the Leader staff checked a report Tuesday which reportedly came from a news cast on television that farmers would be paid the same amount for land that has been washed, hailed or rained out under an emergency disaster measure. But the ASC office or the Extension Service had no notification of such a measure. Aten said that there would have been no point in setting the March 15 deadline if this was the case.

Many area farmers believe that the crops have a good chance to grow out of it. The hot days and wind are in their favor, where there is not too much sand blowing.

Insects are still at a minimum on cotton in the county at this time and the dry weather is helping the root rot.

Spade Has Hail Sunday

In the Spade community blowing sand followed by a heavy rain and light hail damaged some crops Sunday morning around 9 a.m.

One inch of rain fell in about twenty-five minutes in the Southwest part of the community. Rain was much lighter in the north-eastern part; some farmers reported .3 of an inch and less.

Littlefield received only .25 inch from Sunday's rain.

★ Lost, Strayed Or Stolen... Loco Calf

Five calves that were pastured on the grounds of the Union Compress got some kind of poison and four of them died. The fifth one, a Black Angus 4-H Club calf, belonging to Philip Sullins, survived, but had gone blind.

Euell Sullins, Phillip's father shot the calf through the head with a 22 caliber rifle and left him for dead. Next day, Houston Hoover, compress manager, and one of the compress workers, found the calf staggering around blind and with a bullet through his head. They brought him up to the pen, gave him water and left him there. Next morning the calf had disappeared. Hoover has searched high and low, but no trace of the calf has been found.

Smearers have been sent to Austin to determine the cause of death to the other four calves.

Sides reported on the recent disaster operation at Olton and said Ruth Flynn, director of the disaster operation, had finished the job and left for Fargo, North Dakota. She praised the Lamb County Chapter for the excellent disaster organization and the way the volunteers carried on the work in the emergency period after the tornado. According to Sides, she also complimented the people for their co-operation, saying her working relations there was one of the most pleasant she had ever experienced.

The executive announced that the national goal for the 1958 drive for this chapter is $3,871.00. A letter of appreciation will be written the area office for the excellent work carried on by the national workers in the tornado disaster.

$32,105 In Funds Spent At Olton

The American Red Cross has spent $32,105.00 in disaster relief at Olton.

This information came this week from Miss Ruth Flynn, ARC representative from St. Louis, Mo. "It is an outright gift and is not to be repaid," Miss Flynn said, referring to the money spent. ARC officials are now in the process of winding up their work in Olton and will be leaving soon.

Miss Flynn said 50 families, mostly Negroes made application for assistance.

She said the Red Cross spent $423.54 in caring for tornado victims in the 34-hour period immediately following the storm. This included the cost of lodging them and serving food.

The Red Cross was feeding storm victims in the school lunch room within about two hours after the twister hit south Olton.

Miss Flynn said 38 families received food, clothing and maintenance, costing $961.79. Building and repair ran up a bill of $19,280.57. She said 19 families were aided in this manner.

Household furnishings for 43 families came to $9,045.55. Medical care and nursing for 12 victims of the storm came to $1,678.57, and occupational supplies and equipment purchased came to $715.00.

Miss Flynn said one of the worst snarls encountered came about because some people in the storm area had neglected to record deeds to their property.

The deeds were blown away and the owners had trouble proving their claim to their lots. "We helped them straighten that out," said Miss Flynn.

She said about $3,800 was received by the Red Cross through spontaneous contributions. She said a surplus of clothing was donated and the portion not used was turned over to the County Welfare Department.

Negro Man Dies Of Rat Poisoning

James Lackey, 24, of Borger, Tuesday in the North Plains area as the result of cyanide poisoning, according to an autopsy report by an Amarillo doctor.

C. G. Green of the Borger Police said Lackey went to his door neighbor's apartment after 11 a.m. and there to phone for a doctor.

Neighbor phoned a doctor, who called an ambulance. Lackey was rushed to the North Plains Hospital at 11:20 a.m. and died 15 minutes later.

Green said some mouse poison spilled in the kitchen and a spoon and pint jar contained a liquid which he thought was the mouse poison.

Lackey, who reportedly separated from his wife about a week ago, was employed by the Bell Telephone Company in Borger.

He was born Dec. 25, 1932 in Man-gum, Okla. Lackey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Lackey, well known Negro residents of Littlefield. He was married and has two children.

This is third son that the Lackeys have lost in accidental deaths. Only two months ago the Lackeys' grandson, Otis Ashley, was killed instantly when he was struck by lightning near the intersection of Highways 84 and 51 in Littlefield as he was returning to his grandparents' home from a carnival.

Survivors include his wife, Frances Kay Lackey of Borger; two sons, Horace Dean, 2, and Joe Henry, 5-months-old; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Lackey of Littlefield; two sisters, Mrs. Juanita Ashley of Littlefield, and Mrs. Bernice Wesley of Fresno, Calif.

Services for Lackey are pending, but will be held in Littlefield.

Wheat Referendum Vote Carries 23-0 In County

Lamar D. Aten, Jr., ASC director in Lamb County said that the voting on the wheat referendum was very light. In all three boxes in Lamb County the vote was only 23 for and 0 against the issue.

Question which the farmers would be on was whether or not there would be a price support on the 1958 wheat crop. By approval of the 23 to 0, county wheat growers who comply with their allotments will be eligible for price support of $1.78 per bushel on their entire production. Otherwise the farmers would have been eligible for price support at approximately $1.18 per bushel. In this event non-complying farmers would have had no support whatever.

According to Aten, the recent proclamation for marketing quotas for the 1958 crop of wheat conforms with legislation. The Secretary of Agriculture must proclaim marketing quotas for the next wheat crop when the available supply is 20 percent above the normal supply. The estimated supply of 1,825 million bushels available for the 1957-58 marketing year is actually 56 percent above the normal supply of 1,170 million bushels. The normal supply is based on estimated domestic consumption and exports plus a 20 percent carry over.

The quotas became effective, Aten points out, by two thirds of the producers of the nation voting in the referendum in favor of marketing quotas for 1958. The vote decided the level of the available price support for the 1958 crop, as well as whether quotas and penalties on "excess" wheat are used for the crop.

Rebuild Hay Stock Says Specialists

College Station, June - Hay is an essential part of most successful and well-rounded forage programs, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist. Even when pasture is provided, hay will serve as a valuable supplement, for when cows are grazing plants that are 80 to 85 percent moisture they do not get enough dry matter to satisfy their body requirements.

Planning will pay off in hay ducer must first consider the kind and amount of hay that would best feed his livestock. Then he must consider his facilities. If he does not have the proper haying equipment, storage facilities and land for hay production, he may find that buying the hay would be cheaper than producing it.

Proper seedbed preparation is necessary when hay crops are to be planted. The fertility requirements depends on the condition of the soil and the kind of hay being produced.

Cutting the hay in the proper stage is also important for it has a direct effect on hay quality, says Trew. Sorghums should be cut in the hard dough stage or later.

For The Pause That Refreshes... Drink Milk

College Station, June - Do reach for something cold to drink on these hot summer afternoons. Frothy, cold milk is your choice, both flavor-wise and nutrition-wise, according to Max Cox, extension foods and nutrition specialist. Be sure it's cold, don't dilute it with ice cubes, cold glasses.

A glass of milk is refreshing anytime during the day. It is as a quick pickup for your tired.

Milk is not fattening. An 8-oz glass of whole milk has only 150 calories. This is just a small percentage of the 2,300 needed by the average woman. Skim milk has even fewer calories.

Soil Bank To Be Extended?

It would appear that the acreage reserve feature of the soil bank is to be given a year's extension after all. Whereas the House last month turned down the key soil bank authority by the close vote of 192 to 187 the Senate voted, 80 to 0, Tuesday night to restore this heart of the administration farm program. However, the amount of money the Senate voted to pay farmers to take basic crops out of production was reduced $250,000,000 below what the President asked, to $300,000,000.

As passed by the Senate, the Agriculture Department bill carries $3,668,972,157, a reduction of $23,917,600 below the House figure. Whereas the House sought to economize by leaving only the conservation reserve feature of the soil bank in effect, the Senate made cuts elsewhere to come up with substantially the same appropriation.

Proponents of the soil bank argue the plan has not been given an adequate test—not even a full year's test — and that it should have at least one more year in which to prove its merits or demerits. In view of the scant majority for killing the acreage reserve in the House, and the unanimous vote to restore it in the Senate, it looks as if the plan will be given another year of life.

It may be just as well if this is the outcome, despite the abuses that have come to light. The soil bank is not likely to cost more than the high parity supports it was designed to get away from. And it might well be given an adequate test.

'Tender Years' Policy of Handling

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover was talking common sense when he said, "We no longer can tolerate the 'tender years' policy in dealing with juveniles." The over-protecting of teenagers who commit serious crimes encourages them and others to commit other law violations.

The quotation from Hoover was given by George Burton, chief FBI agent in Houston, in a speech before members of the National Sheriffs' Assn. in Galveston. Burton quoted Hoover as saying also, with reference to juvenile delinquents, "We must stop protecting them, must print their names, fingerprint them and let their records be known."

The names of juvenile delinquents, except in first offenses or minor delinquencies.

The time has come when juvenile offenders should have their crimes publicized, the same as adults. If the youngster is old enough to commit a serious crime while knowing that he is doing wrong, then he should have his name printed. There is, of course, an age of severance in treating a juvenile as an adult. For example, if a child of 5 picks up a hatchet and kills another child or a parent, he cannot be held accountable legally. The child has not reached the age of reason.

Law can well follow the rule of many churches, making the dividing line of self-determined acts the age of reason, right and wrong. When a 14-year-old robs, assaults or murders, he knows he is doing wrong if he has half-way normal intelligence. The fact that he is only 14 does not mitigate the seriousness of the crime.

When law enforcement agencies drop the "tender years" policy of dealing with juveniles who commit serious crimes, a deterrent to juvenile delinquency will be created.

At time it is impossible to account for the behavior of people. Sometimes they will pay prices far above value received on the mistaken assumption that price always is an index of value, or they act on a whim. Often, they ignore bargains when they are preferred to them.

It's Free, You Know

A real bargain is being missed in Minneapolis these days. It is a free chest X-ray to discover unsuspected tuberculosis and heart disease.

All of us ought to welcome the opportunity to have our chest X-rayed for nothing, but actually we have shown an annoying disregard for the opportunity. Our carelessness is having the effect of lowering the morale of those who are contributing their time and effort to the campaign.

People are carelessly forgetting to keep their appointments to go to the mobile X-ray unit when it is near their homes. Block workers, going from door to door, signing up people for appointments, are doing a splendid job. Yet those who will benefit the most from the free X-rays aren't carrying out their part of the bargain—to keep their appointments.

This shows a lack of civic pride and spirit, for Minneapolis is the country's model for this kind of an X-ray campaign. If it works here, it will be used elsewhere to fight those insidious killers, tuberculosis and heart disease, before they can strike a telling blow. At stake is the health of the people of Minneapolis, and also the health of people in other metropolitan centers who may not get the opportunity to have free chest X-rays if the campaign isn't completely successful here.

It also shows a lack of appreciation of a real bargain!

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex. — Water legislation promises to be a lively topic at the special session of the legislature in October.

Gov. Price Daniel has announced he will urge creation of a state-wide water agency empowered to negotiate with federal authorities in financing reservoirs.

"That is likely to prove controversial in itself. Then there is likelihood of considerable discussion over the State Board of Water Engineers and its recent troubles. Funes got lit that way.

Former State Sen. Joe Carter resigned as the board's general counsel. Board dissection erupted into public view at a meeting called by Chairman R. M. Dixon to demand Carter's resignation. Member Otis Dent, in support of Carter, avoided attending the meeting and no action was taken.

Dixon accused Carter of being "treasonous" and working against his confirmation in the Senate. But Dent indicated Carter wasn't the main reason for Board dissection and his leaving doesn't mean Board harmony.

Carter remained non-committal.

INSURANCE BOARD CHANGES — New Insurance Board Chairman Penn Jackson took over duties earlier than planned last week after a snarl developed in the new reorganization law.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled that the board cannot legally function without employing a newly authorized commissioner. But there is no money to pay him until Sept. 1.

Gov. Daniel decided to accept resignations of the outgoing Board members immediately. Jackson took office. Hold-over appointee Joe Gibbs remained. Third member, Dave Irons, will join shortly. Together they will try to untangle the knot and launch a new era in insurance regulation.

ONE-THIRD COMING BACK — U.S. Trust victims can expect to get back a little more than 33 cents on the dollar.

State Liquidator J. D. Wheeler says there will be $2,449,221 for distribution to creditors — after gifts by claimants are settled. Approved claims total $7,292,380.

Litigation by a group of claimants seeking priority is still pending on appeal.

Meanwhile, Gov. Daniel has asked federal authorities to use diplomatic channels to return Ben Jack Cage to Texas for trial. Cage faces theft and embezzlement charges, involving a half million dollars, in connection with the collapsed ICT Insurance Co. He is reportedly in Brazil where he has extradition immunity.

OIL CUT-BACK LASHED — Texas' biggest slash ever in oil allowable ruffled up the dander of independent oil men.

July allowable was slashed 390,445 barrels a day by the Railroad Commission in an effort to cope with increased imports and excessive stocks.

Four associations of independents fired telegrams to Washington. They urged immediate steps in Congress to cut imports. They said the slash puts national security at the mercy of unreliable foreign oil supplies.

No blame was aimed at the Railroad Commissioners, independents said the officials were "compelled" to order the cut.

FARM PROSPECTS BRIGHTEN — Let-up in rains has sent farmers scurrying back to the fields in hope of making some late crops after all.

Agriculture Commissioner John White granted a third emergency extension of the cotton planting deadline in 44 Central and East Texas counties. July 1 is the new cut-off date.

Intensification of insect control programs was urged in view of the deadline extension.

Livestock and ranges are reported in good to excellent condition as far west as the Pecos. But fly and other pest problems were widespread and serious.

ANTI-BLOOPER PLAN URGED — So many legislative bloopers are turning up that lawmakers are beginning to look for some way to prevent recurrence.

One proposal is for the Legislative Council to screen all bills coming before committees, especially conference committees where final writing is done.

It took an attorney general's opinion to decide that a pension could be paid this summer to Texas' only surviving Confederate veteran, Walter Williams. Legislative action wasn't clear.

Insurance reorganization was snarled again when it was discovered that the new law required employment of a Commissioner but his salary doesn't start until

DOWN MEMORY LANE

(Taken from the files of the Lamb County Leader June 29, 1933)

Mrs. W. G. Street won high score card at bridge in the home of Mrs. W. H. Gardner.

The Littlefield Golf Club lost its match in the South Plains golf tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Davenport spent Sunday in Portales, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Pryor Hammons had as their guest Mr. Hammon's mother Mrs. J. Hammons, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Jones had guests over the week-end.

Sept. 1. Typographical errors resulted in incorrect appropriations in several instances.

Granddaddy of the bunch was a notch in the school fund diversion bill. Unclear is whether it transfers $8,000,000 or $12,000,000.

There were numerous smaller errors too.

DANIEL'S HOLDINGS — Even though he first said he did not need to file a code of ethics statement, Gov. Daniel has listed his outside investments under the new ethics law.

His holdings: two mutual life insurance policies, a fraternal life insurance policy, an accidental death insurance policy, and a one-third ownership in the Trinity Publishing Co., Inc., of Liberty.

POLITICS ASTIR AGAIN — Push is underway by two rival Democratic forces for control of Texas party machinery next year.

Employment of J. J. Jake Pickle to head up a grassroots drive for the State Democratic Executive Committee was announced last week. Pickle was a key worker in Gov. Daniel's campaign and is well known as a political organizer.

Liberal rivals, the Democrats of Texas, gave notice of combat weeks ago. They are busy with precinct-by-precinct organizing.

SHORT SNORTS — Charles K. Devall, Kilgore publisher, re-elected president of Texas Good Roads Assn., urged "intensive public attention and interest" in Texas' highway plans. He viewed it as necessary to a sound highway program "essential to the long-term growth of the Texas economy."

In a personal visit to the nation's capital, Governor Daniel asked curtailment of excessive oil imports. He decried a controversial section of a natural gas bill that would invoke restrictions against state and local price regulations. He plugged for more money for Texas river surveys. And he called on the State Department to push efforts to return Ben Jack Cage to Texas for trial.

State Sen. Otis Lock of Lufkin has announced plans to retire from the legislature at the end of his current term. He will become assistant to the president of Southland Paper Mills in Lufkin.

Sandhills PPhilosopher S Crops Grow, Prices Lo

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm must figure he's going to have something to sell this fall, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor: I was out here on my farm yesterday afternoon watching things grow by leaps and bounds, you know, one of the advantages of farming is that a crop will grow even while you're sleeping, which is the ideal way to make money, although you have to remember the price can drop while you're sleeping too, and it's nothing to wake up some morning and see your crop an inch taller and the price a dollar lower, but since things were growing pretty good I got to wondering what prices will be like this fall.

Consequently, it was with considerable pleasure when I read in a newspaper I'd been carrying in my pocket for a couple of days where the United States Chamber of Commerce had collected a bunch of experts to advise on business trends for the rest of the year.

And according to the experts, and they had em from all fields, wages and prices are going to continue to climb, retail business is going to increase, construction will climb, and things will keep booming, in fact, 1957 may be our best year.

But what interested me most was the estimate on the farming situation made by an economist for the outfit, after a survey of the whole nation. Well, it's a funny thing, I've been hoping farm prices would rise every year all my life, but I've never considered myself an economist or any other kind of expert. However if the best an economist can do after a careful analysis of the agricultural situation is come up with the hope in the summer that prices will be higher in the fall, then I could hang out my shingle along with the best of them, I'm a muck too.

In fact, come to think of it, suppose most farmers' muck is muck, as I've heard you say, who wasn't kidding, he'd be more for his stuff the price he will or past his time he won't.

Experience is a fine thing, if you haven't got it, you're forgetting some of it, but cut out to be a farmer.

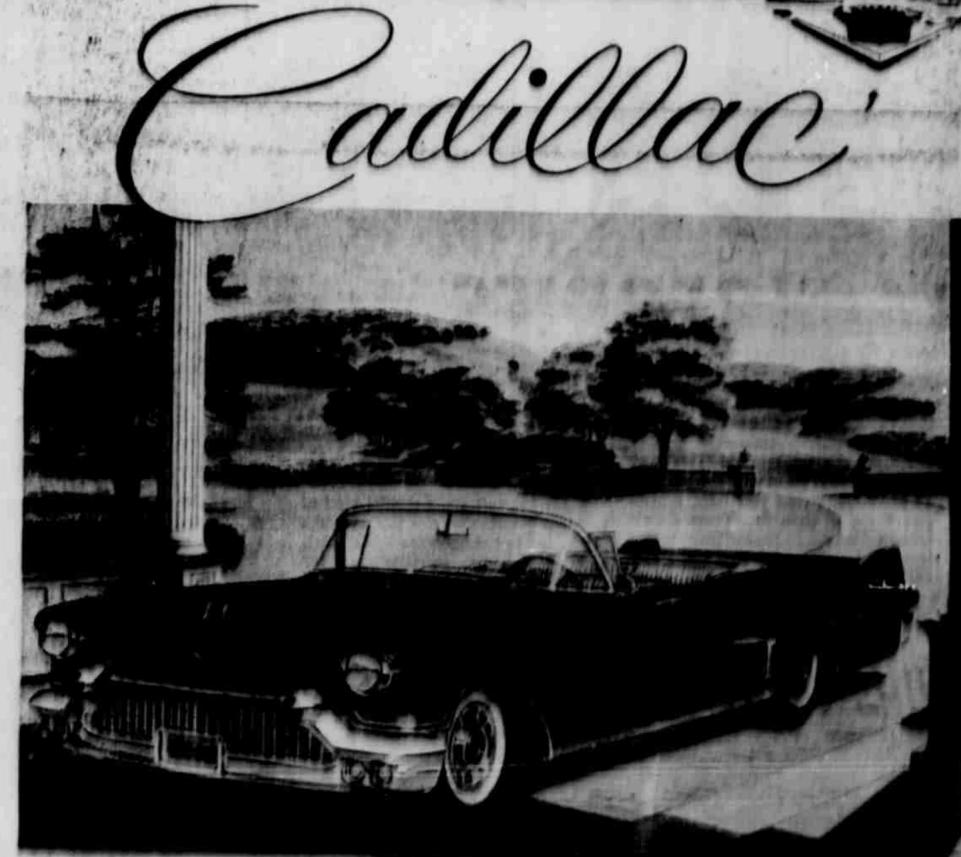

The price of nearly everything is going up, according to reports, but about all they can do is hope, and most farmers have plenty of that, so the next best thing is to hope for another.

Your faithfully,
J. A.

America At Its Bountiful Best!

You are looking, as you surely know, at a magnificent motor car—beautiful, luxurious, substantial and inspiring.

But you are also looking at tangible proof of the bountiful land that is America!

Certainly, for instance, no one could behold a Cadillac without gaining new respect for our freedom to create and to produce. For where but from America could there come a motor car so rare in beauty or so marvelous in quality and luxury?

Surely, no one could take the wheel of a Cadillac without appreciating our nation's industrial skill and progress. For where but from America could there come a motor car so fine in performance?

And most assuredly, no one could hear the practical facts about Cadillac without marveling at our nation's well-being. For where but in America could so prized a personal possession be brought within the economic range of so many?

We think it appropriate, therefore, to pay tribute to these precious American virtues—and to express our own gratitude at having been privileged to put them to such extraordinary use.

And we should also like to take this opportunity of personally inviting all America to see and inspect its "ambassador at large".

You will find that the 1957 Cadillac, with its luxurious Fleetwood coachcrafting, is the finest "Standard of the World" ever created. And you will also find that this is the perfect moment, from the standpoint of both delivery and economy, to make the move to Cadillac.

Station, June — A morning and after-the city worker as it is to the farmer. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, in fact, has a "break" in its work routine to emphasize the possibility of accidents and injuries as a result of rushing. The council says that a 15-minute break is required to recharge, walk around and have a snack or some-says that the highest percentage of work accidents occur in the late morning and Breaks can serve as breaktaking a morning and mid-

The council also provides an excellent opportunity for children to go to the field to

of the child.
The council follows the advice of Council and take time out for rest and mid-afternoon breaks to pay off in safety,

Texas Egg Law To Have Far Reaching Impact

Littlefield Producers Will Be Protected

The Texas Egg Law, which becomes effective in a few weeks, will have probably a more far-reaching impact on the citizens of Texas as a whole than any agricultural legislation of recent times.

Although regulations will extend only to certain areas of the egg industry itself, the effect of the law will be felt not only by producers and other businessmen, but by consumers as well. And the effect felt will be a good one.

What the law actually does is to stop misrepresentation of inferior eggs as quality merchandise and to place emphasis on accurate product labeling of quality eggs and a better product for consumers.

This is accomplished through a system of egg grading which requires all eggs offered for sale to consumers through retail outlets to be accurately labeled according to size, grade and condition of freshness.

Small Producers Are Protected

Heretofore, labelling of eggs as to grade and condition was a free and open affair with no recourse available even in the most flagrant violations. The new standards require that no egg below actual "A" quality be sold or advertised as fresh, selected, infertile, eggs, or any word of similar import.

Producers of eggs who sell only the production of their own flocks are exempt from provisions of the act unless they claim some kind of grade. If producers choose to claim a grade, their eggs must conform completely with provisions of the law.

The act becomes effective August 22. Deadline for obtaining licenses (by retailers, dealers, wholesalers and processors) is October 20. Actual enforcement of violations, which carry fines up to $1,000, will start after February 17, 1958.

Texas Egg Law Summary
Next month the Texas Egg Law goes into effect, regulating handling and sale of eggs and providing for licensing of certain egg dealers and handlers.

Following is a summary of the law, its requirements, exceptions and the means of its enforcement:

1. All eggs offered for sale must be handled properly and in a sanitary manner. Inedible eggs, or those unfit for human consumption, must not be sold.

2. All eggs sold to consumers must be graded; or, if not graded, the word "ungraded" must appear on the carton.

3. An egg below Grade A quality cannot be sold or advertised as fresh, yard, selected, cage, or words of similar import.

4. Egg containers must:
a. Be accurately labelled as to size, and grade, each bearing the name of the one for whom the eggs were graded.

b. Not advertise price without also designating size and grade of eggs contained therein.

c. Be labelled "cold storage eggs" if the eggs have been under refrigeration for 30 or more days.

g. Where eggs are uncartoned, a sign must be displayed showing size and grade.

6. The Commissioner of Agriculture, administrator of the law, and his agents, may take samples of eggs for inspection and may enforce a "stop sale" order on eggs

Get Your Child Ready for School is Advice of Experts

Although summer has hardly started in Texas, school days are practically around the corner and it is time that mothers should start thinking about getting the young ones ready for school again.

Special consideration should be given to the thousands of Texas youngsters who will be starting school for the first time.

Most school districts have certain requirements which must be met before a child may be entered in school. Foremost in nearly every school is proof of birth.

If you do not have a copy of your child's birth certificate, a certified copy may be obtained from the Texas State Department of Health for a one dollar fee.

Write to the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas. Be certain to include the child's name, birth date and birth place.

held in violation of the act.

7. Licensing: Retailers, dealers, wholesalers, processors and brokers must be licensed to buy and sell eggs. The retailer pays no fee. Dealers, wholesalers and processors pay fees according to their volume of business. A broker's fee is $5. Producers hatcheries, restaurants, hotels and food manufacturers are exempt from licensing.

8. Licenses must be kept on file for two years a record of all eggs purchased or sold, excluding retailers in purchases of less than case lots. Licenses also must deliver signed invoices with each transaction.

9. Violation constitutes a misdemeanor and carries penalties of from $50 to $1,000 in fines.

10. The act creates a nine-member Egg Marketing Advisory Board appointed by the Governor with the Commissioner of Agriculture as chairman.

Exemptions: Producers selling only the production of their flocks are exempt from the act unless they claim some kind of grade. If a grade is claimed, producers must conform fully with the act.

The Texas Egg Law becomes effective August 22. Deadline for obtaining licenses is Oct. 30. Actual enforcement of violation will begin after Feb. 17, 1958.

and the name of his parents. Also, enclose $1.00 cash (at your own risk) or money order. Do it now and avoid the rush.

Every child should have a pre-school health examination. Height, weight, posture, vision and hearing should be checked. Often school beginners' problems can be traced to faulty vision and hearing.

Have your dentist go over your child's teeth again. With the excitement and challenge of school, new physical and emotional demands are made on him and to get the most out of school, he needs to be physically ready for it.

With school come more chances for exposure to communicable diseases. This isn't the school's fault—it's because your child is becoming a part of a bigger world.

To help prevent illness, check up on immunizations, especially your school district's requirements. See that your child is still protected against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, smallpox, and by all means have his polio series started if you have not already done so.

Going to school will be all new to your child. It means new children, a new place, new adults, new things to do. It's the same child, but one who is changing physically, mentally, and emotionally.

If he is healthy and you keep him healthy, his adjustment into school life will be made much simpler, and he'll be happier.

Good Grasses Need Help to Stage Comeback

College Station, June — Most areas of the state have enjoyed good rains, but the resulting range vegetation may be undesirable weeds rather than good grasses, which are making a slow comeback on most rangeland.

To help nature along and give the grasses a chance to reestablish themselves, make leaves, build a strong root system and make a good seed crop, A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, suggests a program of resting or deferred grazing.

A grazing and management of lot 24, block 1, in Olton, Texas. City of Olton to George Thomas, Lot 16, block 6, in Olton, Texas. Cora D. Dunn to Raymond Helm lote, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9 block 49 in Amherst.

City of Olton to A. B. Young, all of 3 1-5 interest to the NW 1-4 of section 7, block "B" in Lamb County.

study conducted by the Sonora Experiment Station over a period of nine years, shows that pastures stocked 12 months and rested 4 months had more and better grass at the end of nine years than those that were completely rested the entire period.

The deferred Grazing Program Bill has been passed by Congress but so far no funds have been approved to sustain the program. But regardless of whether or not this bill is activated, the specialist recommends the practice to those ranchmen suffering from poor pasture, for this is the cheapest means of range recovery.

So, Walker advises ranchmen make a close observation of range vegetation. Examine the growth. Take an even closer look at the rootgrowth, for the growth does not necessarily indicate vigorous growth in the future. Roots are the food and suppliers.

Grass is your crop if you're the livestock business, says the specialist, and the manager you give it now will largely mine the kind of plants you'll have in the future.

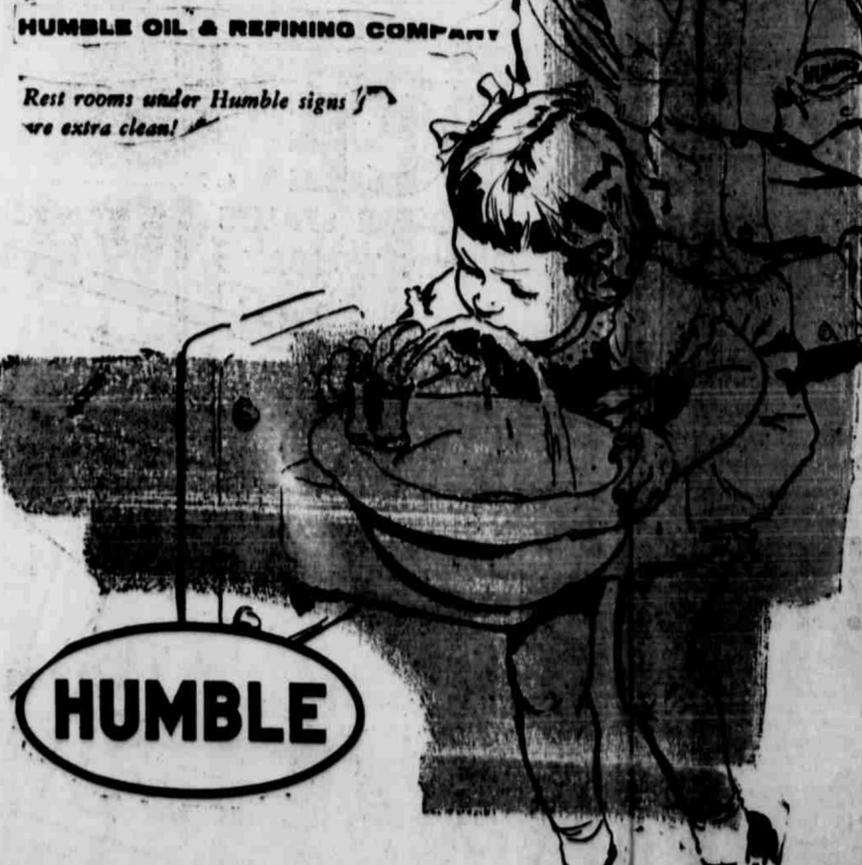

Ask your local county agent for a publication on Deferred Grazing.

Hall-Keeling Butane Has Purchased Another New Weed Burner

To aid the farmers of the area in their biggest-than-ever job of keeping weeds and insects under control this year, we have purchased a second weed burner . . . especially adapted for controlling insects in Alfalfa fields.

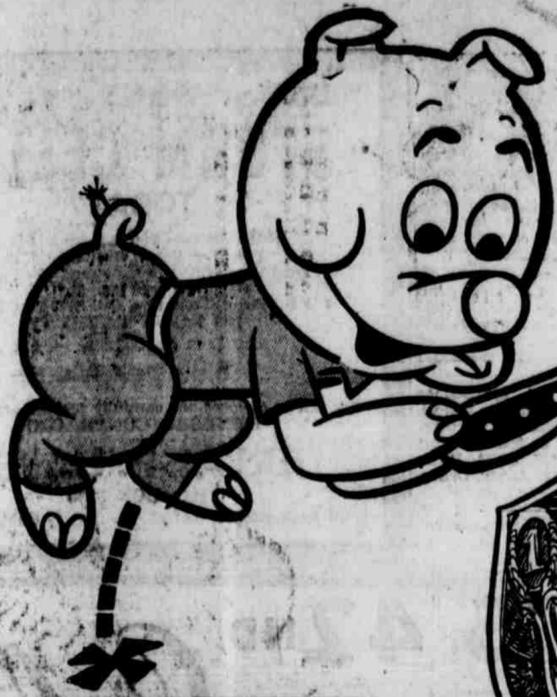

Your good reception to our first burner which we acquired last fall encouraged us to expand this type of service to the farmers of the area.

In a very effective manner, our weed burners destroy weeds, weed seed and the insects that breed in the area . . . all in one operation. The two burners inexpensively control weeds and insects in bar ditches, turn rows, elevated ditches and roads.

We have purchased the finest type of equipment . . . the same type used by the county, state and forestry department.

Don't let unsightly weeds sap the moisture and strength of your soil. Let us control them efficiently and inexpensively!

College Station, June — Cotton Improvement groups, other than those in counties where the deadline has passed, are urged to apply now for free cotton classification and market news services. The final date for submitting a group application is August 1, says Fred Elliott, extension cotton specialist.

Any group of producers which organizes to promote the improvement of cotton, adopts a single cotton variety, files application, arranges for sampling and meets certain other requirements is eligible for free Smith-Doxey services, according to Elliott.

He urges producers to submit their application well in advance of the closing season if they wish to obtain the classification of cotton ginned early in the season. Samples submitted must be cut from each side of the bale by a bonded sampler or by an employee of a public warehouse or compress which issues negotiable warehouse receipts. Representative samples must be obtained. The deadline for filing applications from Dimmit, LaSalle, McMullen, Live Oak, Karnes, DeWitt, Jackson, Matagorda and all counties lying to their south has passed. Applications from other eligible counties should be made as soon as possible after members have planted their cotton. The actual deadline is August 1.

Last year, more than 126,000 Texas farmers in 239 cotton improvement groups were eligible for Smith-Doxey services. Nearly 90 percent of the cotton produced in the state during 1956 was closed under the program.

Instructions and applications are available from county agricultural agents, local AMS cotton classing offices, or from the Cotton Division, AMS, USDA, Room 506, U. S. Terminal Annex, Dallas, 2, Texas.

The Big Job is under way

Santa Fe is now loading thousands of cars of grain and grain products on its lines

Santa Fe has been serving agriculture since 1874, when we sponsored the migration of the Mennonite farmers who established the Kansas wheat belt, and brought with them from Europe the ancestors of the better varieties of wheat grown in America today.

During harvest time, Santa Fe has a big job to do. At the country stations and terminal elevators along the line, as agriculture's "hired man," Santa Fe loads over 121,000 boxcars of grain a year—the total production of over 9,000,000 fertile acres. We also load over 34,000 cars of grain products on our line annually.

An important part of this job is done in advance by our own agriculture department, by collecting data on planted acreage, weather, crop damage and other factors that affect yield.

These statistics provide useful information for farmers, elevator operators and others interested in grain movements, and assist us in spotting grain-tight boxcars at strategic points at harvest time.

Our agriculture department works with the Federal and State agriculture departments, land grant colleges, and county agents in fighting destructive insects and plant diseases.

We are also privileged to award university scholarships annually to many farm youths in our territory.

We of the Santa Fe are proud of the part we have in serving the farmers of the West and Southwest in their essential task of feeding the Nation.
