NUMBER 33

KEYE PEAS FOR HEALTH, LONG LIFE AND LUCK -- Bellomy, resident of Littlefield for 37 years, is about to blackeye peas in preparation for the New Year's custom. Blackeye peas are supposed to bring health and happiness eaten on New Year's Day. Bellomy, who will be 86 on January 31, never fails to eat blackeyes on January First. He said he believed the reason he is in such good health is "because I work everyday", and he does either in his garden during the summer or doing repair work around his property.

Local Man Killed In Truck Accident

Patrol Busy With Accidents, Traffic

Local Highway Patrol officers were kept busy during the Christmas weekend as they investigated four accidents, arrested one for DWI and rode herd over the heavy holiday traffic.

The first accident investigated involved vehicles driven by Winston Earl Cummings and Mrs. Robert Sullivan, both of Route 1, Amherst. The accident occurred on a county dirt road ten miles north and one east of Littlefield.

Joaquin Jackson, patrolman who investigated the wreck, said Cummings was going south and Mrs. Sullivan west. The two vehicles came together in the middle of the intersection with the left front fender of the Cummings auto hitting the right front fender of the Sullivan car.

After impact the cars slapped together damaging the sides and rear of the vehicles. Jackson said the damage was estimated at $450 on each auto. Mrs. Sullivan was slightly injured, according to Jackson.

At 5:15 p.m. Saturday, a pickup driven by Ricardo H. Rodriguez of Edenburg was traveling northwest on Highway 84, five miles south of Littlefield when the right rear wheel of the vehicle came off. The pickup swerved off the right side of the road out of control, made a U-turn and turned over.

Rodriguez, his wife Anita, and their two children were trapped in the pickup and the glass on the windshield had to be broken to free them. Mrs. Rodriguez was brought to a local hospital where she was treated and released with only minor injuries. Damage was estimated at $100.

A wreck in Amherst Monday morning at 11:30 caused about $1000 damage to the vehicles driven by Walter Wain Bynum and James Franklin Hunter, both of Amherst.

Patrolman Jackson said Bynum was driving east on Farm Road 37 (Main Street in Amherst) and was in the right hand lane. Hunter was also going east trying to pass Bynum.

Bynum attempted to make a left turn at the intersection of Farm Road 1055 and struck the right side of the Hunter auto.

At 12:30 Tuesday afternoon a hearse owned by Hammons Funeral Home and driven by Donald Eugene Foltyn of Littlefield was in collision with a car driven by Sandra Lydia Sladek of Route 1, Anton.

Patrolman Jackson said the hearse was parked on the shoulder of the dirt road between the cemetery and the State Highway Department offices and was headed south. Foltyn pulled onto the road apparently without looking and was struck in the left side by the Sladek auto. Damage was estimated at $400 to the Sladek auto and $200 to the hearse.

William Murice Horton of Shallowater was arrested at 12:30 a.m. Saturday and charged with DWI. He was released on a $1000 bond.

Two Die In Headon Crash

Amos L. Smith, a local employee of General Telephone Company, was killed in a two-truck headon accident 14 miles west of Brownfield early Saturday morning.

Also killed in the accident was the driver of the other truck, Harry Patton Fletcher, 38, of Brownfield. The wreck demolished both the truck - tractor semi-trailer and a one-half ton panel truck.

Both drivers, alone in their vehicles, were killed instantly in the accident, according to highway patrolmen.

Fletcher was driver of the panel truck and was traveling east. Smith was driving the semi-trailer and was going west.

Patrolmen said the panel truck veered into the north lane and the vehicles met headon.

Fletcher was a independent routeman for a laundry in Brownfield and was returning to Brownfield after making a route which included Denver City, Plains, Broncho and Sundown, officers said.

Smith, a telephone company employee, was helping haul cotton for the Co-op Gin at Tokio, where his father, Amos B. Smith is manager. Smith had been helping on weekends.

Smith, a graduate of Plains High School, was employed as a cable splicer's helper for the telephone company for the past 2 1/2 years, and moved to Littlefield in September this year. He and his wife were killed at 1300 West 5th.

Smith was a Marine Corps veteran of the Korean conflict and a member of the Baptist Church and American Legion.

Funeral services for Smith were at 2 p.m. Sunday in the First Methodist Church in Plains. The Rev. R. H. Meizner, pastor, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Calvin Beach, pastor of the Tokio First Baptist Church. Burial was in the Plains Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Marcie Smith; a son, Robert Alton, of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos B. Smith of Tokio; grandparents, William B. Smith of Olney and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Snodgrass of Tokio; two brothers, Olan and Gary, both of Tokio; two sisters, Mrs. Loretta McDonnell and Miss Kay Smith, both of Plains.

1961 Report For Area Is Due Sunday

Sunday's News will carry a complete week-by-week review of 1960, pointing out the highlights of 1960 in Littlefield and Lamb County, it was announced Wednesday by publisher, Wendell Tooley.

The roundup will include every major event of the year just ending and in addition will present some of the outstanding pictures of last year again.

The staff of the Littlefield Press is engaged now in preparing the 1961 review which will show the outstanding events of the year.

Babson Report Will Be In Sunday Edition

Roger Babson's well-known business forecast will appear in the Sunday issue of the News, pointing out what may be expected during the new year businesswise.

With a record for accuracy that few business analysts have achieved, the Babson forecast for 1961 is presented as the nation's very best outlook for the new year.

The publishers of the News are glad to present this service to their readers.

American business has no more inspiring personality than Roger W. Babson, internationally-known business commentator and investment adviser. An outstanding feature of his philosophy has been his lifelong insistence on the importance of both religion and advertising in business.

Born and reared in an old-fashioned atmosphere of hard work and hustle on a farm in Gloucester, Babson went to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Upon graduation he turned instinctively to financial and business activities in which his father was engaged.

His exertions, however, undermined his health; he contracted tuberculosis and he was sent west, "as good as dead!" It was while he was convalescing from this dread malady that he worked out some of the possibilities and problems of business forecasting. His weekly releases are used by over 400 newspapers and his financial reports by 20,000 corporations and estates. His research work is carried on by a large staff of experts.

Babson founded Babson Institute for Men; and in co-operation with the late Mrs. Babson, developed Webber College for Women - both nationally-known educational institutions. Here young men and women may concentrate on the fundamentals of honest and efficient business administration. Later he founded a Midwest Institute of Business Administration, located in Eureka, Kans., the center of the United States. He has been active also in the establishment of other mediums of service to the public, such as the National Business School, located in New Boston, N. Hamp.

Babson has probably done more than any other man to create among his millions of newspaper readers an interest in simple business problems, and to instill a broader vision in businessmen, enabling them to meet the ups-and-downs of the business cycle.

Chamber Schedules Patriotic Studies

A new program, designed to develop greater public understanding of the conflict between Communism and a Free Society, has been announced by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, according to Gene Garrison, chamber manager.

"Freedom vs. Communism; the Economics of Survival is the title of the new program. Although major emphasis is on the difference between opposing ways of organizing economic activity, the program points up the fundamental nature of the Communist challenge and examines the internal and external forces operating against the United States.

"Principal features of the 'Freedom vs. Communism' program are a set of eight pamphlets and the same number of workshop sessions, to be attended by 16 to 20 persons. Workshops are held once a week, for one and a half to two hours, under the guidance of a discussion leader," Garrison said.

"The discussion leader - who need not be trained either in economics or ideologies - has the assistance of a Discussion Leader's Manual which was prepared in co-operation with qualified training specialists. It serves as a detailed pattern which the leader follows during each workshop session," he continued.

"In the workshops, participants are encouraged to discuss material in the outside reading pamphlets, and to work on specially prepared case problems and other exercises," (See Chamber on Page 4)

Three From Area Make 'Dream Team'

Buddy Price of Littlefield, Hal Hudson of Springlake, and Robert Duncan of Olton were named to the All-South Plains Football Dream Team first team selections which was released Sunday.

Hudson, 185 - pound senior, quarterbacked Springlake to a nine win, one loss record and second place in the District 3-A race. He completed 68 of 134 passes for 720 yards and 10 touchdowns. He ran 177 times for 1,341 yards, an average of 7.6 yards. In addition, he punted for 39.2 yard average. He scored 75 points. He was named to the offensive team.

Duncan, 195 - pound senior, started strong for the Mustangs this year, but was injured and missed several games. He was a fine offensive center and played well. He was all - district on both the offensive and defensive teams.

Dollar Day Slated For January 8

Dollar Day in Littlefield, usually held on the first Monday of every month, will be Monday, Jan. 8 instead of the first Monday which falls on a holiday, it was announced this week.

New Year's Day, January 1, is actually the first Monday, but since it is also a legal holiday and observed by the businesses in Littlefield, Dollar Day was postponed until the second Monday.

The special Dollar Day section of the County Wide News will go in the mails to all area persons on Saturday, Jan. 6.

C-C Board Meets Tonight

Board of Directors of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce will hear a final report on the total Christmas program from Mancil Hall, general chairman, and Dan Staggs, Retail Merchants chairman, at their meeting tonight at 7:30.

Also on the agenda for the meeting will be a discussion of the Industrial report which was recently submitted to the Board of City Development and discussion of a report from Market Statistics, Inc..

Some of the 1962 committee appointments will also be presented for the approval of the new board of directors by Kenneth Ware, 1962 president.

The meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce office in the City Hall.

TALKED with Rip Elms morning and he said it had more like 195,000 bales this time for the county the area report of 210,000. He said that it would still record crop and two weeks pretty well wind it up. Many farmers already have cotton and milo stalks added and have begun deep plowing, getting ready for another year.

Year in and year out, Lamb County is a pretty good "cotton" county.

MOST TEEN-AGERS think their family circle is composed of squares.

MAN'S chief pastime is fixing things and blaming the rest woman for hiding them.

WILL BELIEVE it pays to buy Littlefield first. I bought a central heating system in Littlefield and the fellow who installed it assured me he had all of the replacement parts and he'd be on hand if anything ever went wrong.

Are enough Christmas morning, we were all up early the heating system wouldn't work. The one day of the year had to work was Christmas. ... all my wife's kinfolk coming and we couldn't see, we'd have to call Bob to make good his guarantee.

Called to call old Bob on Christmas morning, especially at the phone rang and rang (See Town on Page 4)

Our Contemporaries Are Saying

Income tax - paying time approaches, and the time for making some returns on 1961 is not slipping up -- it's racing up. Why we are so dilatory, why we do not carry out each year the firm resolution we make at each harrassed tax accounting limit date is, of course, because we are simply human beings. One of the traits of the race is to be concerned more with the present day than the days to come.

Regardless of reasons why -- whammy! The time is near. The improved manner of checking income tax returns, the prospect that each taxpayer will be given a number and the almost human machines which run out your dividend checks faster than you can say "Jack Robinson" will review your income tax return, coordinate it with sundry records of payments of dividends, interest, government disbursements of all kinds, heighten the taxpayer's desire to have his tax returns circumspect in every way.

There is a pertinent comment in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram on this topic, which is of more interest to some taxpayers than others. It's interesting reading, regardless whether the shoe fits. Hope it doesn't pinch: "If you know you've been evading payment of income and Social Security taxes and worrying about what might happen when Uncle Sam catches you, columnist Sylvia Porter writes, there's an easy way out. All you have to do is confess up, pay up and don't do it any more."

"The columnist was passing along the word from Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin. If you are delinquent in your taxes, his advice is: Report what you owe on past income and earnings in your next return and pay what is due. Report and pay any Social Security tax you owe and any individual in your employ. If in this way you 'get honest this year,' the IRS chief says, the government will be inclined to forget and forgive."

"But the revenue commissioner also voices a grim warning to those who would procrastinate. Soon, he says, it will be virtually impossible to cheat on taxes, and those who miss this opportunity to clear their accounts may be severely punished when their errors are revealed. The warning, as Columnist Porter put it, 'reflects his hardheaded, realistic approach toward the collection of taxes.'"

Rufus Jeffery Rites Tuesday

Funeral services for Rufus Price Jeffery, 60, were held at the First Baptist Church in Amherst at 3 p.m. Tuesday with the pastor, Rev. John S. Rankin, officiating. Jeffery died in a Lubbock hospital at 2:20 a.m. Monday. He had undergone lung surgery on December 5.

Jeffery had been a resident of Amherst since 1929 and operated a custom combine operation for the past several years. Survivors include his wife, Irma; one daughter, Mrs. Don Mynard of Littlefield; one son, Basil of Fieldton; three brothers, Claud and Alvin of Amherst, and Lee of Sun Valley.

Presbyterians Plan Watch Night Worship

A night of fellowship and worship is planned by the youth of the First Presbyterian Church, for New Years Eve, beginning at 7 p.m. Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Armistead will prepare the meal, with the various families bringing pies and cakes. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rodgers are in charge of table arrangements and the fellowship hour will be under the direction of Mrs. John W. G. Hill, Misses Andi Penn and Carol Smith.

Mrs. Jones Is Buried Tuesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Edna Earl Jones, 53, were at 2 p.m. Tuesday in First Baptist Church here, with Dr. Lee Hemphill, Abilene, former pastor, and the Rev. Robert Longshore, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Littlefield Memorial Park under direction of Hammons Funeral Home. A longtime resident, Mrs. Jones died at 3:30 a.m. Sunday in Medical Arts Hospital here. She moved to Lamb County from Oklahoma in 1927.

Survivors include her husband, A. F. Jones; two sons, V. R. Jones and Dennis Jones, both of Littlefield; three brothers, John Reed, Floyd, N. M. J. O. Reed, Lubbock, and W. R. Reed, Clyde, three sisters, Mrs. Sally Payne, Lubbock; Mrs. Emma Cox, West Fort, Ark., and Mrs. Ella Bright, Petersburg; two grandsons and four great-grandchildren. Major Eloy Gutierrez Menoyo, who led the first of the victorious Castro revolutionaries into Havana after the flight of Batista in January 1959, is in command, less than three years later, of the new Escambray Front with guerrilla armies fighting Castro on three fronts. The new freedom fighters, recruited from defectors of all classes, have won most of their fights - with weapons taken from Castro - and are pinning down 25,000 Castro militiamen on one front alone, the Major has told newsmen in Miami.

The new rebellion, said to be financed by Cubans in the US, appears to be a do-it-yourself effort. As such, it seems to be bearing out the old-fashioned advice on how to do a job well.

Mrs. Bryant Is Buried At Whitharral

Funeral services for Mrs. Fannie Lenora Bryant, 82, were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. at the Whitharral Baptist Church. Rev. R. H. Montgomery, pastor of the Levelland Missionary Baptist Church, officiated, assisted by Rev. Wayne R. Williams, pastor of the local church.

Mrs. Bryant was born May 16, 1879 at Stephenville, Texas. She came to Whitharral in 1924 from Alex, Okla., moving to Littlefield in July. Breaking her hip some seven years ago, she had been in ill health since and had been bedfast since November 21 and passed away December 23.

Survivors include seven sons: J. C. Bryant, Alex, Okla.; R. H. Bryant, Whitharral; E. A. Bryant, Paradise, Calif.; W. M. Bryant, Morton; J. L. Bryant, Quanah; John Bryant, Littlefield; L. M. Bryant, Pampa; two daughters, Mrs. W. M. Whittington, Longville, La.; Mrs. E. R. Burch, Alex, Okla.; 23 grandchildren; and 47 great-grandchildren. Seven sisters also remain: Mrs. Arch Wilkerson, Mrs. Oscar Milligan, Mrs. Bob Watkins and Mrs. Betty Hess of Alex, Okla.; Mrs. Dorothy Arrington, Mrs. Tish Moore, Chickasha, Okla.; and Mrs. Silias Trammel, Blanchard, Okla.

Pall bearers were grandsons, Gilbert Bryant, Levelland; Calvin Bryant, Abilene; Ralph Bryant, Victoria; Duane Bryant, Morton; Frank Bryant, Quanah; Marvin Bryant, Plainview; Ronnie and Buc Bryant, Whitharral.

Burial was in the Whitharral Cemetery under the direction of Hammons Funeral Home.

Christmas has come and gone except for a little turkey and the trimmings left over from the big feast. This was an exceptionally wonderful Christmas for me as I was with just about all of my living kinfoks. There were a few who live too far away to see, but they were thought of as the rest of us visited.

I hope your Christmas was as nice as mine and I further hope that the spirit of Christmas will live with us all throughout the coming year.

For the first time in the history of the US Post Office it looks as if the Department will be compensated for the raft of non-postal jobs it has been doing for free for eight to 200 years. These tasks presently include keeping track of three million registered aliens, posting those notices and portraits of characters the FBI is looking for; distributing census forms every ten years, income tax forms every year; selling Government savings bonds, getting out weather reports and planting tips to farmers, conducting the wildlife and migratory bird census, Civil Service exams -- and now those for the Peace Corps. The post office also looks after the janitor work for other Federal departments. And everybody knows about the strictly postal Yuletide avalanche it is once more surviving!

The White House has now agreed that the Treasury should pay the Department about $250 million for its special services -- which will ease that mounting deficit but still leave the P. O. about $600 million in the red for the current fiscal year. This decision, however, is expected to break the deadlock between the House and Senate over the price of postage stamps and shift about $450 million of the remaining deficit onto the backs of the nation's pen-pals.

In all probability, we shall soon be paying five cents an ounce on letter mail and eight cents for airmail along with increases in the various other classes. These are the increases asked in a bill reported out by the House Committee on Post Office and Civil Service last session, but action has been stalled in the Senate Committee because Olin D. Johnston was unwilling to consider these increases until allowance had been made for the non-postal chores. Now that the Senator has made his point, the Committee will undoubtedly endorse the House Committee's recommendations and you'll be licking new-type stamps again before you know it.

Paying more for stamps isn't going to reduce the cost of running the post office. Whether the deficit is large or small, the money will come as always from the pants pockets of the taxpayers. But, for years, the cry of the Postmaster General has been that his Department should be run on a business basis. If the new rates accomplish this, they will be well worth the money.

For what it is worth... I am wondering why the Senators and Representatives don't vote to do away with their FREE use of the mails. No doubt this would make up for the deficit and kill two birds with one stone. The FREE use of the mails is just fine when it was originated, but I am wondering if it isn't being misused.

Something has got to give at the UN. It is broke, yet spreads its military wings (on credit) beyond the confines of its charter. Its forces - with the assistance of that one-time champion of freedom, the United States - marched against Katanga in violation of the UN commitment against intervention in any nation's domestic affairs and for the purpose of preventing the self-determination of its people for freedom. As of now, this shameful action appears to have delivered Tshombe, his people and his once orderly, industrious and prosperous land over to Gizenga and his Communist-oriented Central Congolese Government. And, at the same time, the UN took no action against India's armed invasion and seizure of the four-and-a-half-century-old Portuguese State of India (otherwise known as Goa).

Katanga, in the eyes of the UN, is guilty of seceding from a state it never joined; and Goa - whose elected representatives have sat in the Portuguese National Parliament since 1822 - is convicted of the status aggressor's charge of a colony!

Meanwhile talk that the UN will move out of the US - was any Americans feared vivacious - is being revisited with discussion of destiny. The most likely Hell, are Berlin and er, the id be the formation of de- fractured hope peace and dignity may - in New York City than the East -

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN, Tex., "Operation Deathwatch" which began Saturday midnight and ends at midnight New Years Day, is the most urgent business of the Governor's office today.

Gov. Price Daniel has written every Texas sheriff and chief of police, asking each law officer in Texas to help make the State's streets and highways the 10 day holiday season. Governor Daniel said the anticipated toll of 88 holiday traffic deaths is the lowest estimate ever made, and stated "it pinpoints the progress of recent years in reducing Texas traffic tragedies during the year-end holiday. However, even more lives can be saved this year if the people obey the laws and drive safely."

Newspaper publishers, the Texas Press Association, broadcasters and billboard owners are cooperating in the campaign, urging Texans to take individual responsibility for traffic safety, and asking drivers to keep headlights burning during daylight hours as a reminder that safe and legal driving is the best way to avoid holiday crashes.

BANKS STILL BALK - Most Texas banks balked at the Legislative committee's request that they make their dormant accounts public.

Five of the 38 banks subpoenaed to appear before the committee filled out questionnaires by deadline time. Twenty-two banks were represented at the hearing. Eleven failed to show up.

Houston's City National Bank attorney Raybourne Thompson, speaking on behalf of all 22 banks present, and two others, requested that the committee get an opinion from the Attorney General as to whether it has the power to force testimony "that would destroy banker-depositors confidences."

Thompson said if the committee refused the banks would testify "under protest."

Committee had sent questionnaires to 469 national banks in Texas. Only 66 gave some or all information about the number of dormant accounts they hold and the amounts in these accounts.

Out of the 536 state banks queried by the committee, only 100 furnished the information.

Prime reason for the specially called session by Gov. Price Daniel is the enactment of laws to force banks to locate the owners or heirs or unclaimed depositors.

Governor Daniel feels that little effort is being made by the banks to find the rightful owners. He says that more than $3,000,000 is being held unlawfully by the financial institutions. Some banks are even levying charges against the accounts even though the accounts are inactive, he reports.

Few, if any of the banks, have ever advertised to find the rightful owners.

Governor Daniel feels that the banks should exert every effort possible to locate the owners, including advertising, or turn the funds over to the state for the protection of the depositors. Such steps have been taken in a number of other states.

HOPEFUL SIGN -- Texas

Commission on Alcoholism reports good results in its six year old program of rehabilitation for alcoholics in state hospitals, and progress with prison system inmates. But it is still concerned about the estimated 250,000 drinkers in Texas who need treatment.

Commission said 2,334 patients were treated for alcoholism in six state hospitals during fiscal 1961.

Improvement after six months from date of discharge was reported by about 500 out of 1,600 patients released last year.

In less than 18 months, the number of alcoholics participating in prison rehabilitation programs has grown from 800 to 3,000.

Commission now lists councils on alcoholism in 29 Texas cities, working to educate the public to recognize alcoholism as a disease. Their attempts are aimed at the 250,000 ailing alcoholics and their families -- as well as the 4,000,000 Texans who use alcohol.

CHAIRMAN CHALLENGED -- Gubernatorial candidate

Will Wilson has charged State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman J. Ed Connally with reserving the committee's mailing list of 20,000 Democrats for incumbent governors, "to the exclusion of other Democrats outside the Executive Committee itself."

Wilson contended that the list is the property of all Texas Democrats. He asked the committee to adopt a resolution making the mailing list available to all Democratic candidates for use in party primaries.

Wilson has accepted an in-itation to face opponent John Connally in a debate.

Weslaco attorney Jon Dee Lawrence extended the invitation to both gubernatorial candidates on behalf of the Weslaco Jaycees, but Connally hasn't replied. Principal issue of the debate would be: "Is the Governor of Texas To Be a Number One Chief Executive - or somebody else's agent?"

THE BUSINESS AT HAND - The Attorney General's assistants have been busy writing opinions on everything from a major gas company dispute to a matter of land willed to the Baptist General Convention.

The Attorney General intervened in a case in the 43rd District Court at Parker County, making a motion to set aside a default judgment voiding conveyance of 1,000 acres of land to the Baptist General Convention.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stocks, Sr., willed the land in Parker and Hood Counties to the Baptists in 1955, but their son John Stocks alleges his parents were not legally competent at the time.

Wilson made his motion under a statute which said the Attorney General may be made a party to any suit to annul or impair any instrument creating or affecting a charitable trust.

As representative of the Texas Railroad Commission, the City of San Antonio, the City Public Service Board and Alamo Gas Supply Company, the Attorney General filed a motion with the Supreme Court asking it to compel 126th District Judge Jack Roberts of Austin to enter judgment in San Antonio's gas contract dispute.

Motion arises from a suit filed by United Gas, which is contracted to supply gas for San Antonio until April 1, when Alamo Gas is scheduled to take over.

Judge Roberts has said the case was out of his court's jurisdiction. Railroad Commission ruled that it has no jurisdiction in the dispute.

The Attorney General also has rules that:

1. Failure to possess a valid poll tax does not disqualify a juror in any criminal case.

2. It's unconstitutional for a court to authorize a sheriff to destroy property seized from arrested persons in county jail, even if property is unclaimed for 90 days.

3. State Education Commission has the right to audit state funds in county administration and school transportation funds.

SHORT SHORT SNORTS Speaker James A. Turman says the "staggering costs of government could be reduced if qualified voters would take an active interest."

He estimates spending in local, state and national government has risen 156 per cent since 1950, and points to the fact that recently two state representatives were elected by less than six per cent of the qualified voters in their areas.

Capitol hostess Mrs. J. W. Beck will resign on February 1. The senator's widow, who has talked to hundreds of thousands of tourists in her 14 years at the Capitol is staying through the special session at the Governor's request. State Securities Commission issued permits to sell more than $49,000,000 worth of securities during November.

Welfare Commissioner John H. Winters says the Aid to Dependent Children program is "charged with aiding immorality," but that only 20 per cent of the 59,800 Texas children receiving AD are illegitimate.

On the other hand, there are 131,133 illegitimate children in the eligible age bracket (under 14) in Texas today, he states.

U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough called on Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman immediately to request price support program for 10,000 tons of peanuts in a freeze in Texas.

Yarborough, in his office, also asked Freeman support the use of cotton-picking for cotton bales.

Coodies was a nickname applied to those members of the Federalist Party in New York who favored the War of 1812.

Calvin Coolidge took office as president a.m. on August 3, 1923, home of his father.

NUMBER 34

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN, Tex. -- "Escheat" is a word you'll hear often during the next 30 days.

With the fourth session of the 57th Legislature under way the most important item on the agenda is "escheat". Governor Price Daniel called this third special session because he believes the more than 1,500 banks and savings and loan associations should be subject to escheat.

But just what is "escheat"? It's a process as ancient as Roman history; written in Old England's feudal law; described by Webster as, "Reversion of land to the crown, or to the state in the United States, by failure of persons legally entitled to hold the same."

Escheat provisions were incorporated in the constitution of the Republic of Texas and enacted as a state statute in 1885. Texas law always has stated that when anybody died without heirs, or disappears and can't be found, his property shall be turned over to the state, after seven years. But the law has lacked a provision by which persons or institutions holding property of missing persons were required to report it.

Governor Daniel started pushing for a provision three years ago, and last summer the Legislature finally passed a reporting provision. But the bankers have fought it long and successfully. They are still exempt from the reporting law, although all other businesses and public agencies must comply.

During the interim between legislative sessions, a special house committee has been investigating enforcement of escheat laws applicable to banking institutions. Committee discovered that much of the $4,000,000 escheatable accounts lying dormant in Texas banks is being dissipated through service charges and recommended that:

1. The Legislature add banking institutions to the escheat enforcement law without delay and require banks to advertise or lost owners after seven years.

2. That this matter receive prompt attention in the January session, be the committee estimates a year's delay would mean the loss of $1,000,000 through the procedure of service charges on accounts that don't require service.

3. That the committee keep working to see if there are any other considerations which should be brought to the attention of the 58th Legislature. LOAN SHARK LEGISLATION - Although the Governor hasn't said he'll introduce legislation at the special session, it's considered a safe bet that the uproar over "loan shark" practices of sky-high interest rates will prompt him to place this issue on the January agenda.

The Legislature Council had a heated debate, and voted 9-2 to commend a loan bill backed by Representative Criss Cole of Houston.

Cole's bill sets a 10 per cent ceiling on interest to be charged on loans. A lender would be able to charge more than 10 per cent on loans under $1,500 only if he got a state license, paying $200 for investigation and $200 a year license fee. To get the license, he'd have to hold $15,000 in liquid assets for each loan office, and post a $20,000 surety bond, plus $5,000 for each branch, plus the $200 annual fee for each office.

Cole's bill calls for creation of a Consumer Finance Commission which would examine each lender's books annually, at the expense of the lender. Interest charges would be limited to 10 per cent per annum on the amount of cash advanced; plus a "service and availability charge" of 3/4th of one per cent per month for each $1 of the first $400 of the loan on loans over $100.

On loans under $100, the charge would be $1 for each $5 borrowed, with at least 15 days to be allowed to repay each $5 of the loan.

If excessive charges are made, the lender would have no right to collect principal or charges, and would be fined from $100 to $1,000, and confined to the county jail as long as six months.

The dissenting votes in the Legislative Council were from Senator Charles Herring of Austin, who calculates the minimum rate on loans of $1,500 to be 45 per cent, and Rep. Don Kennard of Fort Worth, who figures a $5 loan for 15 days would cost the borrower 464.4% interest under the Cole bill.

TOURIST BOOSTERS REACH 1,000 -- The 600 who decided to organize a Texas Tourist Council at the November "Texans for Tourists" conference here, have swollen to an estimated 1,000. They will gather in Austin on January 10 for the first council meeting.

After the group approves a constitution and elects officers for the "nonpartisan nonprofit" tourist promotion organization, it will host a "dutch lunch" for all representatives and senators.

Luncheon will feature a presentation urging that money be made available from the General Fund to the Texas Highway Department for tourist advertising purposes.

W. Price, Jr., chairman of the Tourist Council's executive committee, writes, "We have every reason to believe that the Governor will submit in his call appropriations for the tourist attraction program before our meeting on January 10."

Earlier, the committee estimated that $3,000,000 would be needed from General Revenue to get the advertising program underway. The Council hopes to augment this amount with $2,000,000 in private subscriptions.

PRESIDENTIAL TASK FORCE -- National interest in Texas' program of work with the mentally retarded resulted in the appointment of Charles S. Eskridge, director of the Division of Special Education of the Texas Education Agency, to the President's Task Force Committee on Education and Rehabilitation.

Eskridge will serve with physicians, scientists, educators and rehabilitation specialists selected from other sections of the country. Approximately 5,000,000 Americans are mentally retarded, of whom four per cent reside in institutions at an annual cost of almost $300,000,000.

The Texas Education Agency has been notably successful in a cooperative school-work program of local school education of mentally retarded children between the ages of six and 17.

HOUSING FOR THE AGED -- In an effort to stimulate housing for those men and women among Texas' 745,000 old folks who need either specially-built small homes, apartments priced within their limited incomes or institutions that offer nursing care, the Governor's Committee on Aged has prepared a guide to federal building programs.

Guidebook outlines procedures and requirements for obtaining building loans from seven federal agencies, some of which are virtually unknown to the average citizen of organization.

Response has been so great that the original order of 3,000 copies is just about depleted. Committee Chairman Senator Crawford C. Martin has ordered a second printing.

Land Commission Jerry Sadler has asked the Attorney General to take "all necessary steps" to stop dredging of a deep water channel in Calhoun County until that county's navigation district returns 20,639 acres of unused underwater land to the state.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White says he will run for re-election. He's been undefeated since he first won the post in 1950.

Senator Ralph W. Yarborough announces that preliminary design work has started on a special commemorative stamp honoring the late Sam Rayburn. Brigadier General Everett S. Simpson is encouraging Texas men to enlist in the Texas National Guard's 36th Infantry Division. The six-months active duty training program will be reinstated this month.

UT's Bureau of Business Research reports retail sales in the state for November rose 1.9 per cent above October, and six per cent over November, 1960. . . 7.7 per cent more building permits were issued during the first 11 months of 1961, than in the same period last year.

Texas Highway Department reports a total of 61,979 miles of roads in the state network - far more than any other state's.

Public Service Plans Large Expansions During New Year

Southwestern Public Service Company will invest approximately $20,000,000 in its service area in 1962. A. R. Watson, president of the electric light and power company, has announced.

1962 will be the second year of a five year expansion program, announced at the start of 1961 which anticipates the investment of $117,000,000 of new money in the region by the end of 1965. At that time the company's investment in plant and equipment will be nearly $400,000,000, or ten times greater than it was in 1942, when the company took its present form.

Two major generating station projects call for a large portion of the 1962 construction budget. The second unit at the company's Nichols Station, located northeast of Amarillo, will go into service in early Summer, while at Plant X, near Earth, Texas, construction will start this spring on the fourth unit at that station.

The number two unit at Nichols, a 112,500 kilowatt generator, will double the capability of that plant. Also, when it goes into service, the generating capability of the twelve plants in Southwestern's system, will pass the 1,000,000 kilowatt mark.

"There is no more accurate evidence of the growth of a region than the increase in the amount of generating capability necessary to meet its electric service needs. You can readily see the ten year growth in this area when you realize that our generating capability in 1951 was 354,000 kilowatts, or just a little more than one-third of what it will be when this second unit goes into service at Nichols," Watson pointed out in highlighting the significance of going over the 1,000,000 kilowatt capability figure.

The evidence is equally conclusive that the electric company does not anticipate a growth stoppage in the future. The generating unit for which ground will be broken at Plant X this Spring, will have a generating capability of 210,000 kilowatts, the largest single generator in Southwestern's system.

"Nothing is as perishable as electric service. It is needed - and used - the instant that it is created. But, we must plan from three to five years ahead to have the power available at that instant the customer requires it. This requires a faith in the future of our region - and we have it," Watson said.

Transmission lines construction and planning will call for a 1962 investment of nearly $7,500,000. The majority of the projects are designed to provide additional transmission circuits for the region, and to have the facilities available for anticipated increasing loads in industrial, agricultural and commercial fields.

A transmission line investment in 1962 with long-range view is the engineering and survey work and right of way purchase for additional lines capable of transmitting 230,000 volts. The company is in the process of increasing its major transmission voltage from 115,000 to 230,000 volts, doubling the voltage of a line increases the amount of power that the line can carry by four times. At the present time, construction has been completed on line segments capable of carrying 230,000 volts from the Riverview Plant, at Borger, to Plant X, and from Cunningham Station to Artesia, New Mexico. When the section from Plant X to Cunningham is completed and necessary substations are installed, the entire main transmission line extending from Borger, Texas, to Artesia, New Mexico, can be operated at the 230,000 volt capacity.

Clichés of Socialism

"Why, you'd take us back to the horse and buggy."

THE BASIC FALLACY of this all-too-common cliché is a confusion between technology and such other aspects of human life as morality and political principles. Over the centuries, technology tends to progress: from the first wheel to the horse and buggy to the railroad and the jet plane. Looking back on this dramatic and undeniable progress, it is easy for men to make the mistake of believing that all other aspects of society are somehow bound up with, and determined by, the state of technology in each historical era. Every advance in technology, then, seemingly requires some sort of change in all other values and institutions of man. The Constitution of the United States was, undoubtedly, framed during the horse and buggy era. Doesn't this mean that the railroad age required some radical change in that Constitution, and that the jet age requires something else? As we look back over our history, find that since 1776, our technology has been progressing, and that the role of government in the economy, and in all of society, has also grown rapidly. This cliché simply assumes that the growth of government must have been required by the advance of technology.

If we reflect upon this idea, the flaws and errors stand out. Why should an increase in technology require a change in the Constitution, or in our morality or values? What moral or political change does the entrance of a jet force us to adopt?

There is no necessity whatever for morality or political philosophy to change every time technology improves. The fundamental relations of men—their need to mix their labor with resources in order to produce consumer goods, their desire for sociability, their need for private property, to mention but a few—are always the same, whatever the era of history. Jesus' teachings were not applicable just to the ox-cart age of first-century Palestine; neither were the Ten Commandments somehow "outmoded" by the invention of the pulley.

Technology may progress over the centuries, but the morality of man's actions is not thereby assured; in fact, it may ease and rapidly regress. It does not take centuries for men to learn to plunder and kill one another, or to reach out for coercive power over their fellows. There are always men willing to do so. Technologically, history is indeed a record of progress; but morally, it is an up-and-down and eternal struggle between morality and immorality, between liberty and coercion.

While no specific technical tool can in any way determine moral principles, the truth is the other way round: in order for even technology to advance, man needs at least a modicum of freedom—freedom to experiment, to seek the truth, to discover and develop the creative ideas of the individual. And remember, every new idea must originate in some one individual. Freedom is needed for technological advance; and when freedom is lost, technology itself decays and society sinks back, as in the Dark Ages, into virtual barbarism.

The glib cliché tries to link liberty and limited government with the horse and buggy; socialism and the welfare state, it slyly implies, are tailored to the requirements of the jet and the TV set. But on the contrary, it is socialism and state planning that are many centuries old, from the savage Oriental despots of the ancient empires to the totalitarian régime of the Incas. Liberty and morality had to win their way slowly over many centuries, until finally expanding liberty made possible the great technological advance of the Industrial Revolution and the flowering of modern capitalism. The reversion in this century to ever-greater statism threatens to plunge us back to the barbarism of the ancient past.

Statists always refer to themselves as "progressives," and to libertarians as "reactionaries." These labels grow out of the very cliché we have been examining here. This "technological determinist" argument for statism began with Karl Marx and was continued by Thorstein Veblen and their numerous followers—the real reactionaries of our time.

Our Contemporaries Say

EDITORIAL VIEWS OF OTHER NEWSPAPERS REPRINTED FOR YOUR ENJOYMENT . . . NOT NECESSARILY THE EDITORIAL VIEWS OF THIS NEWSPAPER, BUT PRINTED FOR THEIR NEWS WORTHINESS.

Editor's Note: We note on the editorial page of THE DAILY POST - ATHENIAN of Athens, Tenn., acknowledgment of the following letter:

"Dear Editor,
"Some of my little friends say there really is no such man as Barry Goldwater."

"Papa says: 'If you see it in the Post-Athenian it's so.'
"Please tell me the truth - is there a Barry Goldwater?
Della Ware"

With suitable obeisance to the memories of Virginia O'Hanlon and Editor Charles Dana of the grand old N. Y. EVENING SUN, Editor Bill Casteel of THE POST-ATHENIAN makes emphatic reply. We quote in part:

"Della, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the liberalism of liberal age. . . They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. . . Their disbelief springs from the fact that they are being raised in an era in which a man like Barry Goldwater is not understood because of his individuality. Our society has come to be a group of conformists. And these conformists do not believe that those who will not conform can really be."

"Yes, Della, there is a Barry Goldwater. He exists as certainly as the Constitution of the US exists, and you know that it abounds and gives you freedom of speech and freedom of religion. Alas! How dreary would be these United States today if there were no Barry Goldwater. It would be as dreary as if there were no Dellas. There would be no hope for the future for those who know the ill effects of Federal control over our schools, our hospitals, our industries. We would have no one on whom to pin our hope of the future. There would be no chance to put the brakes on galloping socialism. We would have to accept the fact that Khrushchev knew what he was talking about when he said he would bury us."

"Not believe in Barry Goldwater? You might as well not believe that our forefathers carved this great nation out of a wilderness and made it the strongest in the world. You might as well not believe that you have a choice of attending whatever Sunday School class you choose. You might get your paps to hire men to watch in all the auditoriums in Tennessee to catch Barry Goldwater, but chances are they would never see him."

"Nobody can see conservatives today, just as you can not see any excessive amount of individuality today. But that is no sign that it does not exist."

"The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see justice, or charity, or brotherly love? . . . But you have felt all three in your heart and you have seen them shown by others. No body can conceive or imagine all the wonders that are unseen and unseeable in the world. . . ."

"No Barry Goldwater? Thank God he lives, and he and his kind will live forever!"

WHAT WILL ROGERS THOUGHT

This is what the beloved Will Rogers thought of the weekly newspaper:

"Take away my ham, take away my eggs, even my chili, but leave me my newspaper."

"Even if it has such purely local news as 'Jim Jones came home last night unexpectedly and bloodshed ensued', or 'Jes Bushyhead, our local M. D., is having one of the best years in his career, practically speaking -- but they just won't pay him when they get well,' and 'election ain't far off, and everybody is up for office that can sign an application blank.'"

"Now, all that don't seem much news to you. But it is news."

especially when you know the people and they are your own folks. So, no matter how punk you think your local newspaper is, let them take it away from you for a while and see how you feel. The old newspaper, I think is about our biggest blessing. "So let's read and be merry, for tomorrow the paper may not have enough ads to come out."

(Olton Enterprise)

RAY GREENE In The GilmerMirror: Sen. John Tower, speaking at a meeting in Denton last week, said of Republicans: "We are amateur politicians. All professional politicians, indeed, are Democrats."

Maybe that's why the Congress and the White House are controlled today by Democrats.

It's hard to understand why the junior Texas senator would brag about being an amateur in politics. We bet he doesn't entrust his health to an amateur doctor or dentist, or take his prescription to an amateur pharmacist. If he should happen to be involved in a court suit he would hardly look for an amateur lawyer.

Chances are that the books in his library are mostly the work of professional writers. If Sen. Tower should seek a break in his Senate duties by visiting the magnificent national art museum in Washington he would find the walls filled with the works of professional artists. If he decided to build a new house, would he look for amateur carpenters, plumbers and bricklayers? The list could go on and on.

Indeed, when John Tower was a government professor at Midwestern University he probably would be considered a professional. Workers in fields, like newspapering and teaching, which aren't accorded the dignity of being recognized as full-fledged professions, are always striving to set up standards that would gain them such status.

Why should politics be the exception? No field of endeavor today is more complex, demanding and important to all of that government. We don't care to be represented in Washington or in Austin by men whose only qualification is that they will always vote according to a certain political "line," whether it be liberal or conservative.

Sen. Tower has a well-known predecessor in his war against the "professional politicians." He is W. Lee O'Daniel. Does any luster cling to his name today?

Compare O'Daniel's political career with that of Sam Rayburn, a "professional politician" in the fullest sense of the word. He won unparalleled homage through a professionalism that also encompassed words like "duty" and "honor."

If the Republicans want to succeed in their aim to make Texas a real 2-party state, a goal nearly everyone favors, they should start looking for some pros to carry the ball.

HAROLD HUDSON In The Ochiltree County Herald (Perryton): Every year, one of the problems most high school teachers and administrators have to face is that of discouraging students from dropping out of school before they receive their diploma.

There are always those youngsters who think they would be happy if they were free from the discipline of school and were free to make their own money and do as they please.

The sad fact is that those who quit high school face a lifetime of subnormal employment unless they are truly remarkable persons.

The government has made a study of these high school students who quit school before graduation and the results are alarming.

Some 2.5 million of the 10.8 million students now enrolled in grades nine through twelve in the nation's public and private schools will depart before graduation, the government report reveals.

This brings on a situation that is becoming increasingly troublesome.

These people without even a high school education are finding it hard to get and keep a job.

Technology has cut out a lot of unskilled jobs. Elevator operators used to make a living but now most elevators are automatic and the elevator operator job is gone.

Manual labor is becoming less. The time-honored vocation of ditchdigging is rapidly passing out as machines have been developed that can dig a ditch faster and cheaper than men with shovels.

The railroads used to employ "gandy dancers" who maintained the roadbed with manual labor. Machinery has taken the place of this type worker.

Sylvania Electric Products put in a new system on a transistor testing line a year ago and cut the number of unskilled workers on this assembly line from 102 to 6.

Companies are having less and less place for uneducated workers with no particular skills.

The youngster who applies for a job and desperately says, "I can do anything!" actually can do very little.

And too many of these youngsters want to make the same money that an experienced, skilled worker makes, but of course they are not equipped to do so and probably never will be.

The Perryton schools have some drop-outs, but not many. Those who drop out of school fit into the usual pattern. They usually are not doing well in school or have found companions who have already dropped out of school.

Those who quit high school before graduation often join the army of unemployed youths on the streets who are inevitably short of cash and easily influenced into some petty crime.

There are a number of reasons for remaining in high school until a diploma is earned. Not the least of these reasons is purely selfish -- if a person expects to earn a living he had better start with a high school education.

Gen. Walker Will Speak in Amarillo

Major General Edwin A. Walker will speak in the Municipal Auditorium of Amarillo on Friday, Jan. 5, at 8 p.m.

Since General Walker was relieved by President Kennedy of his command of the 24th Infantry Division in Western Germany last April 1951, he has been one of the most-discussed men in America.

Following the announcement on June 12, 1961 by the Secretary of the Army that General Walker had been administered "for taking injudicious actions and for making derogatory public statements about prominent Americans," a wave of indignation arose across the country, resulting in the scheduling of a congressional investigation of this "muzzling of the military," led by Senator Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, a member of the Senate Committee on Armed Services.

On November 2, General Walker made a formal statement to the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee, announcing his intention to resign from the Army, in which he said, in part: "By God's grace, by action of the Congress, and by appointment to the US military Academy, it has been my privilege to be a commissioned officer in the United States Army for the past 30 years. My life, my service, my dedication to my troops, their purpose, their hopes, are a matter of record. I hope that the origin and depth of my motivation and intent are discernible and clear."

"I have been removed from command of the 24th Division. My career has been destroyed in its usefulness to my country. I cannot accept retirement with its emoluments and benefits. To do so would be a compromise with my principle."

"I take leave of military duty with a heavy heart. I must find other means of serving my country in the time of her great need, in order to pursue the dedication of a lifetime."

"To do this, I must be free from the power of little men who, in the name of my country, punish loyal service to it... We are at war. We are infiltrated. We are losing the war every day. Are our hands tied, yours and mine? We need a substitute for defeat. If it is not within the power of this Congress to provide it - then the people of these United States are not truly represented."

General Walker made his first speech as a civilian in Dallas on December 12, to a cheering crowd of 3600. Since that date he has spoken in Jackson, Mississippi, to a full auditorium of 3600. His address in Amarillo, for which there will be no admission charge, will be the first of others he will make over the country.

Texans Set Record In Broiler Use

Estimated broiler placements by Texas growers in 1961 were 13.9 per cent over 1960 totals, reports John McHaney, extension economist. These placements exceeded 1960 placements every week through October 1, and the state produced well over 100 million broilers in 1961.

From January until September 1961 broiler placements in the United States ran well ahead of 1960. Since September 1, however, they have pulled back more nearly in line with those of the same period in 1960. Present indications are that the 1961 broiler output in the U.S. is likely to be up about 12 per cent or more from last year, McHaney continues.

Through the first ten months of 1961, broiler prices averaged about 3 cents lower than the average for the same period of 1960, McHaney says that it does not seem probable that prices will improve greatly through the first half of 1962.

Despite the weakened financial position of the firms backing broiler production, the same forces which encouraged output in 1961 will be evident in 1962. Unless limited by effective industry-wide programs, the 1962 output will probably be close to 1961.

The demand for broiler meat will probably continue strong in 1962. Estimates of per capita consumption in 1961 indicated a new all time high of 25 pounds, an increase of 1.5 pounds over the 1960 figure. Broilers may face stronger competition from increased marketings of turkeys, hogs and cattle, however, demand will probably not be influenced much by this competition.

The trend toward fewer but larger production units will probably continue in Texas, and very strong competition between Texas and other production areas will continue. The demand for broiler meat should continue strong, and per capita consumption of broiler meat will probably rise, Texas growers must continually adopt more efficient practices in production and marketing in order to compete, McHaney concludes.

Deep Plowing Cotton Reduces Root Rot

College Station, Dec. - - Over 5,000 Texas cotton farmers are reducing cotton root rot by deep plowing. They deep plowed more than a quarter million acres during 1961 according to year-end reports by county agricultural agents.

Farmers in many counties have carried out result demonstrations which showed positively that deep plowing does reduce root rot, said Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist.

Best results were obtained, he explained, when deep plowed soil was allowed to dry for ten days to two weeks during summer or early fall when soil moisture was below normal. Shorter drying periods have given a degree of control but are somewhat unreliable, Smith said.

Affected areas should be plowed and large amounts of organic matter turned under during the hot, dry season. Plow depths of from 6 to 18 inches are recommended, pending upon the soil type, equipment available. Moldboard or disc breaking is satisfactory for doing the job, the specialist said. Deep soil for a reasonable depth kills the root rot fungus and drying and killing cotton roots and those of susceptible varieties, Smith explained.

The reports from the counties showed that losses ranging up to 75 per cent had been reduced to less than 5 per cent by deep plowing. Eradication is not usually complete, but the fungus may penetrate soil to a depth of 8 feet, he added.

Local county agents can apply additional information on root rot control practices, Smith suggests a visit.
