4-H Club Boys, 4-H Club Girls, And Sponsors Attend

Twenty-four 4-H Club boys, 96 Club girls and 14 sponsors attended the Lamb County 4-H Club Encampment held at the McKenzie Park last Friday and Saturday evening to Miss Vera Crippen and Garrison, Extension Agents of County.

The group left Amherst at 3 p. m. by truck, arriving at Lubbock around 5 o'clock. The Friday program consisted of two days of recreational games directed by the Lubbock Recreation Department, and an amateur program. The amateur program the group divided into 11 groups, each with a sponsor taking one group and working up a program. Three men sponsors judged the amateur. The group supervised by Joseph Fokyn won first place Mrs. Steffy's group won second.

One of the group caught a little after 1 a. m. to be awakened by rain at 4:30 a. m. The entire group was sleeping outside until the rain came up.

Friday's program included base-running and a picture show. The group was delayed two hours in Lubbock on account of rain, hail and an electrical storm that came up at 6 o'clock.

One of the success of the encampment is attributed to the fine cooperation of the Lubbock Recreation Department, and the local 4-H sponsors. These sponsors that included: Mrs. Ted Long, Amherst; Mrs. R. M. Stinson, Olton; Mrs. Lee Camp, Littlefield; Mrs. I. B. Oton; Mrs. Williams, Littlefield; Mrs. Brown, Olton; Mrs. Siefel, Littlefield; Mrs. Patterson, Sulphur Springs; Mrs. B. Hysinger, Olton; Mr. B. Hysinger, Olton; Mr. Glenn Peoples, Olton; and Mr. J. B. Davis, Amherst.

Allan D. Winston Prisoner Of War

Allan D. Winston, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Winston of Littlefield, previously reported to be missing in action since the 25th of August, is now reported to be a prisoner of war of Germany.

After receiving the telegram from the War Department advising that Winston was a prisoner, Mr. and Mrs. Winston received a letter Monday from the Headquarters Army Air Force, office of the Provost Marshal General, as follows:

"The Provost Marshal General directed me to supplement the information you received recently concerning the above named prisoner of war. Information has been received which indicates that he is interned as a prisoner of war in Germany. The report received did not give the place of his internment. Past experience indicates that one to three months is a normal time required for this information to be received. The exact place of his internment is not known, it is impossible to determine letters or parcels to him. Instructions and parcel labels will be forwarded, without expense on your part, when his present address is received."

About 50 representatives from various parts of the state were in attendance.

Sgt. Moore And Crew Have Narrow Escape

Eight AAF Bomber Station, Lubbock—When Sergeant James A. Moore, 20-year-old B-17 Flying Fortress waist gunner, of Littlefield, and his crew strolled into their headquarters eight hours after the wake of other crews, following a recent attack on Nazi industry at Munich, Germany, their commanding officer almost thought he was seeing ghosts.

A few hours before, the bomber had officially reported missing and his crew "missing in action" following receipt of their last message. "Losing altitude. Plane in bad shape. Gas low. Like the war's over for us. We're bailing out soon!" The last message was flashed

Temperature Reaches New High Of 112 Thursday Afternoon

The recent heat wave brought to Littlefield and area the highest temperature remembered for this section even by the pioneers of this city.

Thursday afternoon the West Texas Gas Company's thermometer recorded the new high of 112 degrees. The low for the day was 74.

Other temperature readings for the past week were: Friday, low 77, high 105; Saturday low 74, high 97; Sunday, low 65 and high 94; Monday low 66 and high 96; Tuesday low 68, high 93; Wednesday, low 67, and high 96.

The showers here Saturday somewhat lessened the heat wave.

Shift Hunt Cases To Plainview Court

All court action, developing out of the attempt on the life of Dr. Roy E. Hunt, Littlefield physician, and later the murder of the Littlefield doctor and his wife at their home in this city, has been transferred from Olton to Plainview on change of venue motions.

Venue was transferred on motion of Judge C. D. Russell in District Court at Olton Monday in the cases of Jim Thomas, charged with murder, and Dr. W. R. Newton, Cameron physician, charged with assault with intent to murder.

The case of Mrs. Newton, also charged with assault with intent to murder in connection with the first attack on Dr. Hunt, was transferred to Plainview several months ago.

Thomas, a convict who has been held in Lubbock county jail since almost immediately after the tragedy, is under indictment of 64th district court of Lamb county for the October 26 slaying of Dr. Hunt.

Dr. Newton was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary for assault to murder Dr. Hunt near Littlefield 18 months before the physician-hospital owner was murdered. The court of criminal appeals March 15 reversed and remanded the conviction. A state motion for a rehearing was denied two months ago.

Judge Russell set specific trial date for Thomas for August 28, indicated Newton would go on trial September 4.

Both men were in the crowded courtroom Monday morning, Thomas flanked by two husky Texas rangers, Raymond Waters and Norvell Redwine, both of the Lubbock district ranger headquarters, and Dr. Newton was surrounded by members of his counsel—E. A. Camp of Cameron, Dusty Miller of Amarillo, Frank Day of Plainview and T. Wade Potter of Littlefield.

Officials said Thomas had employed George McCarthy of Amarillo and Curtis Douglas of Pampa for his attorneys.

Dr. Newton's appearance bond was set at $20,000, returnable August 28 in Hale county. Thomas' bond of $25,000 was continued.

Thomas pleaded innocent of the murder of Dr. Hunt, when arraigned. Newton required no arraignment.

Canning Center Opens Recently At Spring Lake

A new government canning center opened recently at Spring Lake School house, with Mrs. R. L. Drake as supervisor.

Equipment in the new canning center includes two retorts with 100 pint capacity, pressure cookers and cooling vat, electric sealer and complete canning equipment for public use.

The program in force is that producers take their produce and containers to the canning center, and furnish their own labor; everything else being free, they get all the canned goods.

This project which is the result of efforts of J. L. Hicks, Vocational Agricultural teacher of Spring Lake, is proving a big asset to the community.

The canning center is open four days a week, during the hours 9 to 5, and is closed Saturday, Sunday and Mondays.

Red Cross Workers Urgently Needed

Mrs. L. M. Brandon, Executive Red Cross Secretary, announced Wednesday that the surgical dressing material for the July and August quotas arrived Friday last; and that workers were urgently needed to make these dressings.

Mrs. Brandon stated that only three workers visited the Red Cross room last week, and that they must have more workers if these dressings are going to be made.

Pvt. Maston Bolton Wounded In Action

Mrs. M. E. Bolton received a telegram last week from the War Department stating that her youngest son, Pvt. Maston O. C. Bolton, 23, with a Tank Destroyer Battalion in France, was reported wounded on July 13 in France.

Since that time Mrs. Bolton has received a letter from Pvt. Bolton from England dated July 24, stating he was back in England, in a hospital, and was getting along O.K., and about as good as new.

Pvt. Bolton lived here several years, and previous to entering the service was employed by Pete Edwards driving a truck.

He has been in the service two years and overseas six months.

Communication Cards To Be Available Soon

Mrs. A. H. McFarland, chairman of War Home Service Chairman, announced Tuesday that form cards for parents or next of kin to use in communicating with their sons or husbands held as prisoners in the Far East, will be available in the near future at the local Red Cross room.

These cards may not be used for messages to prisoners of Germany. In a letter from American Red Cross Headquarters, St. Louis, Mo., it is stated that in some instances these cards have been used for communications to prisoners of war of Germany. They urge, however, that these cards should not be used for this purpose.

Air Lines Topic Of Lubbock Meet

Ernest Cundiff, secretary of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, and W. D. Watkins represented this city at an area aviation conference sponsored by Lubbock Chamber of Commerce in Hilton Hotel, Lubbock, Monday.

Much information of potential value impossible of immediate estimate was disclosed during a program lasting from about 10 a. m. until nearly 4 p. m., including a noon luncheon at which the Lubbock chamber was host.

A prominent speaker at the conference was S. E. Travis, Jr., supervisor of airport service of the Fort Worth Regional Civil Aeronautics Authority. He gave a vast amount of information relative to the construction of airports, and discussed at some length a measure now pending in Congress under which Federal aid up to 50 per cent may be made available for establishing airports.

Charles E. Beard, Dallas, vice-president of Braniff Airways, Inc., flew from Dallas to appear on the program.

Beard reported that Braniff has been making a systematic study of the subject of feeder airlines since 1937. He expressed the conviction that federal authorities will cooperate in the effort to make aviation services available to smaller towns and cities through such subsidies as air mail contracts.

Word was brought back to Littlefield from the conference that Braniff will establish a trunk line within 60 days to serve Lubbock and territory.

A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, told in detail of the recent organization of Great Plains Airways, Inc., under the joint sponsorship of interest in Lubbock, Amarillo and Braniff Airways. He explained that applications have been filed for the corporation with the Civil Aeronautics Board seeking permits to establish feeder airlines out of Lubbock and Amarillo serving the respective territories of the two cities.

Littlefield is ready for the feeder line service in that this city has an adequate and municipally owned airport. This virtually removes any doubt that Littlefield will be included in the system of feeder lines.

Approximately 100 representatives of 26 towns and cities attended the conference.

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBER STATION, England.—German mines had just been cleared from the landing strip on the outskirts of Cherbourg when the Eighth Air Force B-17 Flying Fortress "Mickey II," piloted by Maj. Archie V. Benner, 26, of 3605 Montana Street, El Paso, Texas, crashed on one of the last Nazi positions to be surrendered when the French port fell a few days before.

With two engines dead and the propellers running wild, and without brakes since the hydraulic fluid had run out through flak holes, the Fort smashed into a concrete hangar at the end of the short runway. Knocked insensible by the impact, First Lieut. David E. Mason, 23, of North Billerica, Mass., the Bombardier, was not seen at his nose position as crewmen scurried out of the bomber.

Ignoring the danger of explosion from the gas tanks perilously near a fire in the nose, the radio-operator-gunner, Technical Sgt. Albert L. Beckner, 27, of Littlefield, Texas, rushed back into the flaming plane and dragged the unconscious bombardier to safety.

"Mickey II" was the lead plane of its group formation, with Maj. Benner as command pilot, and alongside him at the controls, as co-pilot, the Fort's regular commander, First Lieut. James E. Hughes, 24, of 124 1/2 North Second Street, Jeanette, Pa. Forced out of formation when severely ripped by German anti-aircraft fire that came so close that the major declared "we were almost blinded by the flame," the B-17 had to drop to low altitude because its oxygen system was shot out.

It was hoped to find a place to land as soon as possible in an attempt to save the life of the navigator, who had been struck in the back by flak and who later died.

Because the electrical system had also been disabled, it was impossible to release the bombs, and it would have been dangerous to attempt a landing in the crippled Fort with a full explosive load. They were dropped by the top turret gunner and engineer, T-Sgt. Kenneth H. Robinson, 22, of 1100 East Valley Road, Santa Barbara, Calif., who released each bomb individually with a screw driver. They were observed as they dropped by 2nd Lieut. Willis L. Carter, 24, of Lincoln, Del., flying in the tail as formation control officer, and he stated, "some of them, I believe, hit on or near a bridge, and some on roads."

Believing that anti-aircraft guns manned by Allied invasion ground troops might fire at any plane coming in from enemy territory at such low altitude, Maj. Benner, despite a shortage of fuel due to flak leaks in the gasoline tanks, took the fort out to sea to the west of the battle lines. He then approached the French coast from the direction of England and spotted the landing strip near Cherbourg.

In spite of the rough, brakeless landing, none of the nine surviving crewmen was injured, the unconscious bombardier reviving almost immediately after. After getting food and some French wine from German stores which the Liebrators of Cherbourg had seized, the crew was brought back to England in an American transport plane.

They were told that a few days before they would have found Nazis on the strip where they landed, and hours before might have struck a German mine there and blown up.

Other crewmen on "Mickey II" included:

Staff Sgt. Frederick A. Kelly, 25, of 116 East Weden Place, Titusville, Pa., left waist gunner.

MARINE CORPS VETERANS ATTACK SAIPAN

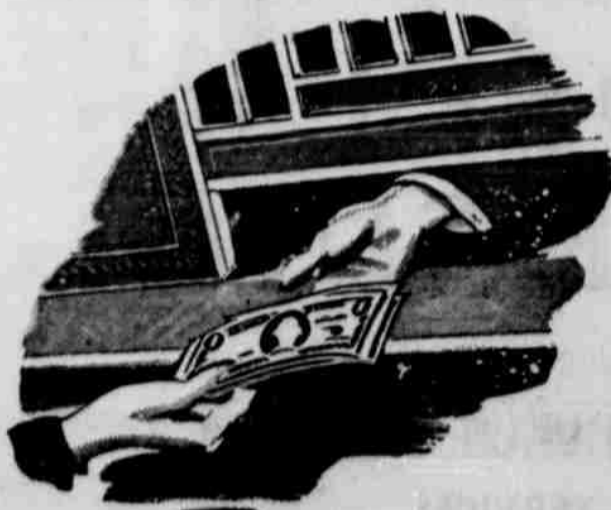

Marines spearheaded the attack on heavily fortified Saipan and suffered the major share of casualties. Typical scenes, recorded by Marine combat photographers during the first few days of landings, show the beachhead; Leathernecks washing at a captured swimming pool; a gutted American tank; digging in for stands on the beach; and farther inland a mortar crew in action—and last, a final blow well to fallen comrades. Saipan, like Tarawa, exacted a heavy toll on the Marine assault forces, who after the initial landing took a backward step.

The happy couple are now making their home in Sudan, where Mr. Robinson is operating the Robinson Motor Company.

Miss Mary Adkins And Pvt. Johnnie Horton Marry

Miss Mary Adkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Adkins, became the bride of Johnnie Horton of Cincinnati, Ohio, stationed at Clovis Army Airfield, as an aerial gunner, on Thursday, July 15, at Clovis, N. M.

The ceremony was performed at 2:30 p. m. by the justice of the peace at Clovis.

The bride has been a resident of Littlefield since 1935, almost her entire life, and is a former student of Littlefield High school.

She was becomingly attired in a two-piece red and white silk crepe, with white accessories.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Horton of Cincinnati, and has been in the service 30 months.

Mrs. Horton will make her home with her parents here in the absence of her husband in the service.

Son Born To Lieut. And Mrs. Dick Jones

A son was born to Lieut. and Mrs. Dick L. Jones at the Littlefield Hospital Thursday, August 3, weighing 7 1/2 pounds, and named "Richard Lindsay." Mrs. Jones is the former Miss Minnie Kate Grissom.

Mrs. Fly And Miss Grisham Return From Trip

Mrs. Dorothy M. Fly and her sister, Miss Florence Grisham, left July 5 for Maxton, N. C., and just recently returned or rather, Miss Florence Grisham did as they went in Mrs. Fly's car through to Maxton, N. C., and they report a very interesting trip and things of real interest as the scenery along the way was just beautiful so many pretty trees and mountains.

Miss Florence Grisham spent a week with her sister and brother-in-law and said she never saw such beautiful flowers and pretty colonial type homes, things there just grow wild they report such a good climate for it all. There were peaches and ripe melons and vegetables everywhere you looked and also fields of tobacco and lumber mills are plentiful and all kinds of factories. They also have a very large airport and glider school which they also saw as Mrs. Fly's husband is a staff sergeant and in the Mail Transport Command there.

While there they went to Pearl Beach and other beaches around and had a grand time. From North Carolina Miss Grisham went to New York City and spent a week there visiting Pfc. James E. Taylor and says she certainly did see wonders of interest there: the Statue of Liberty, Coney Island and that's a wonderful place to be on a hot day and Central Park and the zoo, China Town and the other towns there and Radio City and Empire State Building 102 stories high and lots of other things of interest.

It hasn't been very hot in New York, only around 85 degrees. The worst part is the city's buildings are so smutty from coal dust from manufacturing buildings.

She then came on home by train by way of Chicago and Kansas City and says she certainly enjoyed her trip and never forgot what she saw and how beautiful it all was but Lieut. Jones, who is with the Air Corps, and stationed at Santa Rosa, Calif., arrived home Saturday on a 15 day furlough.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jones of Colorado City, parents of Lieut. Jones, also spent the week end here. Mr. Jones left Sunday night for home, while Mrs. Jones will remain here this week.

With South Plains Men In The Armed Forces

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Pumphrey received a letter from their son, S-Sgt. H. C. Pumphrey, Jr., about a week ago from "somewhere in England" where he is stationed, stating he was alright.

S-Sgt. Pumphrey is with the 831st Engineers.

Pvt. L. O. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Thompson, with a railway battalion stationed at Camp Claiborne, La., arrived Tuesday for a week's furlough with his parents and other relatives here.

He has been in the service about eight months.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Roberts of West Littlefield received a letter from their son, Pfc. Maurice Roberts, from Italy recently telling them about a "four day furlough he enjoyed at Rome. He said there was nothing rationed except food, and that everything was there to buy if you had the money. He said he only saw four beggars in the four days he was there.

Pfc. Roberts has been three years in the service, and two years overseas. He is with the ground crew of the Air Corps, serving as a cook.

"Two Men and a Jeep," which was published by the Leader several months ago, was recently clipped from a newspaper in India, and sent by Lieut. John J. Debala, from India to his sister, Mrs. Marvin Chandler, here. The fact that it was published in India is a strange coincidence. The item follows:

"TWO MEN AND A JEEP"
By Reiman Morin

Associated Press Overseas Correspondent.

The path ended in a pile of rocks a quarter of a mile below the top-most peak of the mountain. Not even the jeep could go any farther.

The sergeant got out and squinted up toward the top. He drew his carbine from the holster on the side of the jeep and put a couple of extra clips of ammunition in his pocket. Then he said:

"If I'm not back by dark you go on down the hill."

We—the driver and I—watched him until he disappeared around a shoulder of rock covered with scrub pine.

"He's got guts," said the driver. "I'd hate to have to do what he's doing."

Four soldiers were missing somewhere up there. They went up to establish a lookout post. The sergeant, Richard Stansell of Littlefield, Texas, had come to find them.

"They probably got the snafoo from a German patrol," said the driver. "These hills are full of Germans. Especially snipers. A sniper could knock the sarge off so quick he'd never know what hit him. He's sure got guts."

The sun dropped and the plain far below was bloody red. The artillery was still hammering and slamming home down there beneath the haze.

"The thing is," the driver went on, "he wouldn't really have to stick his neck out like this. He could come up just this far and look around right from here and then say he couldn't find those guys. I'd sure be tempted to do that if it was me."

Now the hills were deathly still. A bird called mournfully in the fading light. An hour passed. Then the sergeant came back. His brown shirt was blotched with sweat and his face dripping. He was breathing hard.

"Not a sign of them," he said. He sat down and lit a cigarette.

"There's just one other thing, Jim," he said to the driver. "You see that point? They could have gone that way."

"Sure I see it," said the soldier.

"Well, how about you taking a look? You got maybe half an hour of light left and you ought to be able to make it. I'm plumb tired out or I'd go myself."

"Sure," said the driver. He took his rifle and made sure it was loaded. Then he began climbing.

"He's a good guy," said the sergeant. "He isn't scared to go anywhere."

Leslie King, who has sailed the seven seas in the United States Navy since he has been in the service, is at home for a brief visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. King, and other relatives at Anton.

With The 37th Infantry Division Somewhere in the Southwest Pacific Area—Undergoing training in jungle warfare tactics is Private Ola O. Estep, 19, of RFD 1, Littlefield, Texas, who has joined a regiment in the 37th Division.

Estep is assigned to a front-line infantry company as a rifleman and part of his training consists of going on reconnaissance patrols into Japanese-infested jungles.

Estep has been overseas more than seven months. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin H. Estep of near Littlefield.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Fite of Anton received a letter Tuesday from their son, Sgt. J. L. Fite, who informed them that he was in a hospital in England as a result of a wound which he received while in action on the Normandy front. He stated that he did not know when or how he came to be in the hospital, but he assured them that the worst was over.

LITTLE OCTANE NUMBERS

that will help end the war sooner!

TODAY'S SUPER-FUEL is 100-Octane, as compared with 90-Octane pre-war.

This difference of 10 octane numbers is definitely contributing toward hastening the day of victory, because these extra octane numbers represent extra fighting power . . . extra range and carrying capacity for our big bombers . . . extra speed for our fighter planes!

In thirty months, U. S. production of 100-Octane Aviation Gasoline has been multiplied ten times. Our facilities for producing this precious, fighting, super-fuel can now deliver 20,000,000 gallons daily. Think of it! This is a greater quantity of aviation gasoline alone than the combined total of all petroleum products available to Axis Europe.

Phillips Petroleum Company, among the first to take 100-Octane gasoline out of the laboratory and into mass production, is now one of the nation's five largest producers of 100-Octane, despite the fact that Phillips operates only in the Middle West.

This production achievement suggests how competently and completely Phillips is devoting itself to the war effort, with similar special emphasis on butadiene for synthetic rubber.

Until that great day comes, when you can say "Fill 'er up with Phillips" . . . and the service man cranks into your tank a new and improved Phillips gasoline . . . remember that Phillips refineries, in addition to producing gasoline, lubricants, and fuel oils, are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

Miss Doris Allen Is Selected As "Miss Midland"

Miss Doris Allen of Midland, niece of Mrs. T. S. Sales, who formerly made her home in Littlefield, attending and graduating with the 1939 class of the local high school, recognized as a talented singer, has been selected "Miss Midland" to represent Midland in the state-wide contest sponsored by the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce to choose a "Miss Texas." She is a civilian employee at Midland Army Air Field.

In the Sunday last edition of the Midland Reporter-Telegram, together with a large picture of Miss Allen that newspaper in part, said:

Miss Allen, 22, a native Texan, has been in Midland for the last year. Nine months of that time she has appeared as vocalist with the MAAF Jive Bombers. She was in the War Bond show staged at MAAF during the Fifth War Loan campaign.

"Miss Midland" was born at Waco, graduated from the Littlefield High school, and attended Pasadena Junior college in California. It was while in California that she became especially interested in singing. One day while singing nursery rhymes to a neighbor child, Imredek, the Hungarian singing master, heard her and called her in. "I think I detect some tone qualities in your voice, Miss," the old world teacher said. A time was arranged and lessons begun.

"The State contest will be held in Port Arthur Wednesday of next week.

"If Midland's entry is named 'Miss Texas' she will be provided with a complete new wardrobe and will be sent to the national contest at Atlantic City with all expenses paid. If she is selected as 'Miss America' at Atlantic City, she will spend the next year entertaining at Army camps and USO clubs over the country.

"Since talent is being stressed in the contest this year, we feel we are fortunate in having Miss Allen to represent Midland at the state contest as she is a talented singer and has proven popular as an entertainer." U. A. Hyde, chairman of the Jaycee committee making the selection, said. The large audience that crowded into the Post Service club last month to witness the Fifth War Loan show will echo Mr. Hyde's sentiments when they recall the smoothness with which Miss Allen handled the "St. Louis Blues."

"An excellent choice. With her singing ability, 'Miss Midland' has a good chance of being named 'Miss Texas,'" Clint Dunagin, president of the Texas Jaycees, said.

Pvt. Eugene Grisham, Jr., is a guard somewhere in France and says it isn't near so bad guarding as being on front lines, as he was, and he wants his folks to send a watch to him of some kind as he really needs it, he says. He also believes the war over there will be over pretty quick, and is sure anxious to be in good U. S. again, and go to farming when it's all over. He also requests any of his friends who read this to write to him as mail is really appreciated from folks back home.

METHODIST CHURCH
Amherst, Texas
R. H. Campbell, Pastor

We wish everyone to remember that we are putting forth a special revival effort during this week. Bro. York from Littlefield is bringing us some inspiring messages. We need for everyone of the church to be very much in earnest about their duty to the church. We need for those who have never made a profession of religion to realize that the church stands for and is the foundation of all that America is now contending for. Why not align ourselves with all that is truth and righteousness.

Everyone come to church each night.

Remember, we want everyone to put forth special effort and attention to make next Sunday's services the greatest that the church and Amherst has ever known.

He has been in service since last April, and overseas since January 1.

Quota Provides Only 20 Per Cent Eligible Drivers

Members of local War Price Fixing Boards have been turning in tire applications since announcement that all "B" and

"C" gasoline ration holders were eligible for new tires, Ely Fonville, District Rationing Executive for the OPA, reported today.

Though these ration holders are eligible for new tires, Fonville, emphasized the fact that there aren't enough tires allocated to the board's to meet the applications that are coming as a result of the increase in the number of eligibles. "The August quota is large enough to provide new tires for only 20 per cent of the eligible drivers," he said.

The tire panels are doing their best to supply the needs of the people, but it is simply not possible for them to do so. Since there aren't enough tires to fill all applications, their responsibility is to make the tires go as far as they will and put them to the most essential use.

Fonville pointed out that the local boards have been instructed to screen applications carefully and issue certificates only to the more essential drivers. That is why some persons who filed a request for a tire a long time ago have received no certificates, while another person who put in his application only recently may already have his new tire, for the most essential drivers will be granted certificates first, he said. When Grade III tires are available locally, it may be necessary to fill some less essential requests with certificates for these Grade III tires.

The only solution to the present tire problem lies in taking every precaution to prolong the life of tires now in use. "Even if you are eligible for a new tire, don't make application if you can possibly get any further mileage out of the tires you are now driving," Fonville urged.

COUPONS STILL VALID

Farmers and other non-highway users are now being issued E-2 and R-2 non-highway gasoline coupons, the District Office of Price Administration has announced.

E-1 and R-1 coupons now in circulation are still valid.

Both E-2's and R-2's bear the notation "non-highway" and are valid only for bulk purchases and neither may be exchanged for gasoline delivered into the fuel tank of a truck or automobile.

Last Rites For Father Of Olton Man Thursday Last

Funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at Abernathy for Elbert Robason, 85, father of Earl Robason of Olton. J. F. Nix, pastor of the Abernathy Baptist church, and C. H. Jackson of Lubbock were to officiate in the services.

Mr. Robason passed away at Big Springs, following a lengthy illness. He was a retired stock farmer and businessman. He had lived at Abernathy for 20 years.

Mr. Robason is survived by five sons, Earl of Olton; D. O. of Friona; J. O. of Lubbock; R. A. of Lubbock and George of Red Springs, and three daughters, Mrs. R. S. Bearden, Tokyo, Texas; Mrs. W. W. Whatler, San Diego, Calif., and Mrs. J. R. Hunter, Fort Worth. Also a number of grandchildren survive.

The five sons and grandson, Earl B. Robason, served as pallbearers. Burial was in the Abernathy cemetery under direction of the M. W. Lemons Funeral home of Plainview.

Only 416 Large Truck Tires Are Available In August

Only 416 large truck tires will be available for the entire 71 counties in the Lubbock OPA District during the month of August, Howard R. Gholson, District Director, has announced. The June quota was 1,473 and the July quota was 1,472 making the quota for August less than 30 per cent of the previous quotas.

The number of truck tires of size

8.25 and larger available for rationing in August is the smallest since rationing began. The national quota, certified to the OPA by the Office of the Rubber Director, will be only 60,000 tires.

Reasons given by the Office of Rubber Director for the drastic cut in heavy truck tire quota are demands of military services, diversion of military and manpower from production of truck tires for civilian use to production of large size airplane tires, and a shortage of manpower skilled in the manufacture of these large size heavy duty tires.

Three Years Later

Under the above caption the Evening Star of Washington, D. C., June 22, 1944, tells the story of Hitler's invasion of Russia three years ago, the overrunning of that country during the first year or so, the turning of the tide September 1942 and the subsequent gains of Stalin's forces. Some reference also is made to Allied war history of the other battlefields. Hitler's invasion of Russia began in June 1941.

The editorial follows:

At dawn on this day 3 years ago, heady with the wine of his immense victories in the west and dreaming a wildly vaulting dream of world conquest, Adolph Hitler turned suddenly to the east and let loose the lightning upon his whilom ally.

Though months earlier they had been warned by American officials that such an attack was coming, the stunned Russians were sent reeling back by its awful impact. On to Leningrad. On to Kiev. On to Kharkov. On to Taganrog. On to Smolensk. Violence and more violence. Death and more death. Victory and more victory. There seemed to be nothing that could stop the mighty, the precise, the all-powerful Wehrmacht.

By summer's end in that fateful year, one could count on the fingers of one hand the number of British and American military experts who did not believe that Russia would be forced into an ominous surrender within the next 60 or 90 days. Indeed, less than 2 months after he had opened his assault, Hitler himself exultantly proclaimed that "this enemy is already broken and will never rise again." Who does not remember how in December, after Japan had struck at Pearl Harbor, the potential prospect for America was one of being eventually encircled by enemies holding sway in both the great oceans washing our shores—enemies in a position to use all of the British Isles, all of the continent of Europe, all of the Eastern Hemisphere against us?

The prospect, however, never materialized, for with unforgettable heroism and sacrifice, pouring out rivers of their best blood in defense of the land they loved, the Russian people somehow manage to hold on. But that was not the end of it: When the first agonizing winter was over, the Nazis struck again, this time in a fashion more deadly than ever—down into the Crimea, deep into the Caucasus, clear to Stalingrad astride the Volga. Now came the Red Army's blackest hour.

But now, too, came the turning of the tide, starting in September 1942. The Russians hit back at Stalingrad; Montgomery smashed Rommel at El Alamein; British and American armies invaded North Africa; and all the while our allied air power in Britain was striking with ever-mounting violence at the heart of the Reich.

The rest of the story is too fresh to need re-viewing. A glance at the map is enough to remind us of all that has happened since Hitler reached the floodtide of his conquests at Stalingrad. Today, with a new front expanding ominously against him in France and with other fronts in the making, everything is in such swift ebb for this man—this man who planned never to fight anything but a one-front war—that no matter where he casts his eyes, whether up or down or around him, he can see nothing but catastrophe bearing relentlessly down on him.

As for the German people, on this third anniversary of the invasion of Russia, they must begin to realize that Hitler has led them at long last to the edge of a fearsome abyss and that millions of their youth have died for nothing better than his warped ambition which, in its wreckage, adds up to one of the most wicked and appalling futilities in the history of the world. This day, then, while a fit time for mutual Russian and Allied congratulations, is for the Reich a time for the deepest kind of contrition and remorse. Never, certainly, was it better or more grimly demonstrated that they shall perish by the sword who live by it.

Lamb County Tractor Move To M. L. Garrett Building Recently

The Lamb County Tractor Company moved last week from the Chester building to the M. L. Garrett building, former location of Rodgers Furniture Company, where they have considerably more room for the display of their merchandise, and also for the servicing of farm machinery, and making repairs. The Lamb County Tractor Company was established August 1, 1943, by W. B. Cox and C. E. Ross. Mr. Cox came here from Biv Springs, and was previously representative for Ford Tractors for State Distributor, Bull-Stewart Equipment Company. Mr. Cox is well pleased with his new location, which he states enables him to more conveniently and efficiently serve the public. Office Supplies of all kinds at Leader Office.

Report Increase In State Tax Rate

Texas' state tax rate was set August 2 by the state automatic tax board at 55 cents on $100 valuation.

The rate is made up of a 35 cent tax for general state purposes, 18 cents for payment of Confederate pensions.

Payment of the tax begins Oct. 1 and taxes become delinquent next Jan. 31. Discounts are allowed for payment before Jan. 1.

The rate compares with 47 cents last year. The increase is all in the school tax. The state board of education recently raised the state apportionment per scholastic from $25 to $29, accounting for the increase.

Each cent of the state tax rate is estimated to produce about $330,000 revenue.

The board follows a formula for computing the rate that is fixed by statute. Members of the board are the governor, the state comptroller and the state treasurer.

friends and relatives at Sudan before reporting back to the Army at the rest camp in California. Daryl who recently completed his 50 high-altitude missions as a gunner on a B-24 Liberator over occupied Europe, says he is really glad to be back in the States.

Daryl started his missions as a tail gunner and changed over to the belly turret after several missions. He has made such raids as the historic Ploesti Oil field where the flack, he said, was thick enough for a man to walk over. Also, he has been over the other Balkan countries and towns such as Yugoslavia, Budapest and Sofia.

Sergeant Hasley reports that he has official credit for two Nazi fighters and several more probables. He has received the Air Medal and six Oak Leaf Clusters for "meritorious achievement while participating in sustained operational activities against the enemy." Although he has the ribbons, he hasn't been able to find the clusters, as all the Army's PX's he has stopped at are out of them.

Of his group that went over, Daryl is part of the 25 per cent that returned home after completing the missions. The remainder are reported missing in action or wounded.

He reports to Santa Barbara, Calif., in the next few days for a few weeks at the rest camp there, and from there he will be reassigned to some Army Air Field in the States for a while.

Sudan Schools To Have Lunch Room

Sudan schools this year will have hot lunches served to all children when school opens this fall. (Starting something that has been talked of for some time, the school cafeteria is being constructed upstairs in the Grade school building. Work is being done by Messrs. Russell, Fowler and Kammerdiener. The school lunch room is expected to be completed by August 28, when school starts.

The lunch, which will consist of meat, two or more vegetables, butter, sweet milk and bread, will cost the children 15 cents. The government program will bear the remainder of the expense.

L. G. Kammerdiener, new school superintendent, in charge of the program, says, "We would like to have quite a lot of food canned at the Vocational Agriculture Canning Center, for this year's use at the lunch room. Anyone, parent or others, may can all the surplus they have and receive money or a cafeteria ticket for the same value in money for their children. If you desire," the superintendent said, "you can put up enough to furnish your children hot lunches all year."
