Trustees Order Integration

Dunbar Will Be Closed At End Of This Term

The Littlefield School Board voted Monday evening to close Dunbar Separate School after this school year and to integrate its 221 pupils with the white school, effective next fall. All board members were present at the meeting and the vote for the proposal was unanimous.

The action culminated a month of intensive effort on the part of the board to find out the wishes of the citizens of the district. Their conclusion was that most white citizens favor the integration and most colored citizens would prefer to keep their own schools, if they could get better facilities.

However, since it would take an expenditure of several hundred thousand dollars to build an acceptable plant in the Flats, and since that still would probably not satisfy the requirements laid down by the U. S. Supreme Court, the board decided that no attempt should be made to build a new plant for Dunbar.

Since the Texas Education Agency has made it plain that accreditation will be withdrawn from schools which do not give equal educational facilities to all children, the board decided that the wise thing to do would be to integrate promptly.

A committee of colored citizens was present when the decision was made. They offered no objection although they said their people would have preferred to keep their school if it had been practical to improve it. They expressed the hope that the board would make an effort to retain some of their teachers to help the colored pupils make the adjustment which integration will force upon them.

Board members who commented on this said that the board could not consider hiring any colored teachers.

Members of the colored committee were D. C. Stewart, Herbert McCarty and Walter Griffin. They said they would get the colored people together and explain the situation to them.

Superintendent Ralph Schilling said that integration would cause the loss of nine colored teachers and administrators now at Dunbar but would entitle the district to seven additional teachers in the integrated schools.

The high school student council met Thursday morning and adopted the following resolution:

"The Littlefield High School Student Council, as representatives of the student body, endorses the action taken by the Board of Education on integration of our public schools. We pledge our whole-hearted support to all we can do on this matter."

In other actions the board accepted the resignation of Mrs. John Richey because of ill health and employed Mrs. Lenton Smith to replace her. They also employed George Logan as assistant Junior High coach and Algion Jeffro as Dunbar coach.

Contracts for next year were offered to all 73 classroom teachers now in the system. Mrs. Forrest Martin, lunchroom supervisor, and Robert Trotter, bus mechanic, were also approved for continued employment.

Contracts with the school administrators were renewed last month.

The board approved Schilling's recommendations for making up the four days lost during the snow storm. Two days will be made up by four hour sessions (8:30 to 12:30) on the next two Saturdays. The other two days will be made up by cancelling two Friday holidays previously scheduled. One is March 9 when the teachers had planned to attend a teachers' meeting at Midland. The other is March 30, which was to have been the beginning of a four day Easter holiday. The Monday following Easter is still scheduled as a holiday.

The board authorized Schilling and Carl Keeling to attend the meeting of the American Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City this month. They will leave on the 16th, return on the 26th.

The board also approved Schilling's recommendation that concrete curbing be built for the driveway into the lunchroom. Cost will be $1.00 per foot for 600 feet.

Quilts, Blankets And Children's Clothes Are Needed

Lt. Roland Chambless reports this week that the stock of blankets and quilts which the Salvation Army received from a call made to local citizens during the recent snow storms is completely gone.

Chambless said that they still have need for bed clothes, and for children's clothes.

Some 3000 garments have been issued by the Army since the storm.

Chambless said that if anyone who has clothing will call him he will be glad to pick them up, or there is always someone on hand at the Army hall to take clothing.

Mrs. Ruth Oliver, school nurse, also made a plea for children's boots, overshoes, jackets and caps. Many children walk a long distance through the mud and snow and the boots and overshoes are badly needed.

Westex Group Picked As County's Best Conservationists In 1955

The Westex group has been selected as the best conservation group in the Lamb County Soil Conservation District for 1955.

The group consists of five farms totaling 940 acres that are operated by Albert Neuschwander, Frank Lehman, Donald Carr, V. J. Holbratschik, and A. H. Neuschwander. Progress of the group was slow for the first few years but as the group members became more aware of the advantages of the Soil Conservation District program and the technical assistance available from the Soil Conservation Service, progress has been continuous and the members have established a record of applied conservation that serves as an example for the rest of the community.

The groups interest in soil conservation started back in March of 1948 when Albert Neuschwander and Frank Lehman made application for assistance with problems in irrigation occasioned by the change over from dry land farming. From this beginning they progressed to a complete farm plan for all of their cropland and in the process Donald Carr, Lehman's son in law, A. H. Neuschwander, Albert's son, and V. J. Holbratschik Albert's son-in-law, also became conservation enthusiasts.

Background and some of the outstanding accomplishments of the group are as follows:

Albert Neuschwander came to Lamb county in 1917 from Bern, Indiana and has a family of six, two sons and two daughters. Albert is a director of the First National Bank of Littlefield, and a member of the building committee of the Lutheran church. He was formerly engaged in construction work in Littlefield and built the City Hall and several other buildings. He served as a member of the Littlefield school board for several years. He is now retired and lives on his farm which he works with a son and son-in-law. Mrs. Neuschwander is active in Lutheran church work and belongs to Lutheran Ladies Aid Society.

A. H. Neuschwander is more popularly known as Albert Neuschwander's son and operates part of his father's land. He has a family of four and is active in church work. He teaches a young people's Sunday school class at the First Baptist church of Littlefield. His wife is secretary of the beginners department. Both of them belong to Parent-Teachers Association.

Donald Carr is a member of the Farm Bureau, was a delegate to the State Farm Bureau convention at Fort Worth in 1955, was vice president, membership chairman and director in 1955 and 1956. He attended the winter interstate meeting in San Antonio, Texas. He is also a director of the Lamb County Co-op and a life member of the Disabled American Veterans. Jeep served sixteen months in the Air Corps during World War II. At present he is working on two community projects: trying to get a telephone line to his community and completed a natural gas line which is partially installed. Gas will be used for their homes and irrigation wells. Three of the homes and two irrigation wells are on natural gas and five more wells and two homes are planned for next year.

Jeep has a 2 1/2 cubic yard farm scraper he uses to do his own land leveling. He also has a dump truck and combine for custom work. In 1955 Jeep covered 15 acres of cropland with 15 tons of cultured composted burrs. No fertilizer was added. Jeep said the increased yields more than paid for the burrs the first year. Cultural treated composted cotton burrs have also been added to 25 acres of leveled land this year for condition. Test plots were established using 200 pounds of 15-15-0 on one, 100 pounds of 45 on another. Three plots of grain stubble and peas were mulched with 200 pounds of 16-20-0 in the fall of 1955. Eleven tons of burrs were added to the 3 plots.

"Oh, oh! I believe that's a message from my mother-in-law."

35 acres of cotton in 1956 will be planted on grain sorghum stubble and pea mulch that was shredded and disced in with 200 pounds of 16-20-0.

Jeep field leveled 15 acres last year and plans to do more this year. His plans also include a windbreak and brick veneer home to be constructed.

Other test crops include millet planted on sorghum stubble fertilized with 150 pounds of 45-0-0, six varieties of hybrid sorghums, if seed is available, and 15 acres of blue panic grass for seed and pasture.

V. J. Holbratschik is Albert Neuschwander's son-in-law and operates part of the Neuschwander farmland. He has a family of six and both he and his wife are active in the Lutheran church. Both are members of the Farm Bureau and serves as an assistant to the membership committee of the local chapter. He is a veteran of World War II with service in the European theater.

Beef cattle and hog breeding are his chief interest and he recently constructed a new 32 by 60 foot barn with a 16 foot hog shelter on the south side. He has bench leveled two acres of useless land and developed it into a highly productive legume and grass pasture, installed 1900 feet of underground pipe lines and carried out a soil building program featuring green manure crops, legumes and composted cotton burrs on most of his crop land. He has plans for more bench leveling and pasture improvement on land that is too sloping for row irrigation.

Frank Lehman is a first cousin of Albert Neuschwander and came to Lamb county in 1918. Both he and his wife are active in the Baptist church. He is a member of the local Farm Bureau and has served as a member of the Littlefield school board. He lives on the farm which is operated by his son-in-law, Donald Carr.

Carr has made great progress since he has been operating the place. He has established five acres of alfalfa, 18 acres of improved pasture grasses, 3100 feet of underground concrete pipe and a farmstead windbreak. He filled in a shallow lake to improve his irrigation system. Soil building and improving crops are regularly planted and silage from two upright silos is fed to 27 head of milch cows.

Group Works Together Members of this group exchange labor and equipment. For example, they have between them mowers, side delivery rakes, rotary hoes, manure spreader and loader, stalk shredder, tandem disc-harrow, and a land plane which they swap back and forth as the need arises. Two members of the group raise alfalfa seed which is used by the entire group. Of course the close family ties of this group help to make it function, but the main reason for the close co-operation of the group members is the fact that mutual assistance has paid off in dollars and cents as well as helping to accomplish difficult jobs in a hurry.

Dairy Price Support Purchases Show Decrease

U. S. dairy price-support purchases have dropped considerably during the past year. Purchases of butter, cheese and nonfat dry milk solids in 1955 were down 35 percent from purchases in 1954, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Butter purchases during 1955 were down 50 percent from 1954. Cheese purchases were down 39 percent and nonfat dry milk solids in 1955 were down about 15 percent. Quantities of dairy products purchased in 1955 were also considerably below 1953 purchases.

The stepped-up movement of dairy products out of Commodity

Credit Corporation stocks which began in 1954 has resulted in disposing of approximately 2.8 billion pounds of surplus.

Expanded consumption of dairy products in the U. S. has been encouraged through the movement of 530 million pounds of CCC stock for domestic school lunch and welfare use. One and four-tenths billion pounds have been used to relieve hunger abroad. U. S. Armed Forces and Veterans administration installations have received 78 million pounds and sales of 190 million pounds have been made into trade channels both for domestic use and for export.

Special programs have also moved CCC dairy products. 668 million pounds of nonfat dry milk have been sold to relieve shortages of high protein animal feed supplement, primarily in this country. Continued heavy disposals of dairy products throughout 1955 brought uncommitted CCC inventories at year-end to the lowest point for butter and cheeses since 1953 and for nonfat dry milk since 1951.

Farm Land Values Up Despite Drop In Farm Income

Factors other than farm income have been keeping farm land values high during the past two years.

In the past, according to John G. McHaney, extension economist, the value of farm land and buildings has risen when farm income rose and dropped when farm income declined, showing a definite relation between the two.

Since 1953, contrary to the usual pattern, farm land values have slowly and steadily risen to a new record-high peak, despite declining farm income. U. S. Department of Agriculture figures, based on regular reports from 16,000 farmers and 10,000 real estate reporters, show this to be a nationwide trend.

McHaney cites these important developments as probable causes for this unexpected strength in land values:

Farmers themselves are strong bidders for additional land to enlarge their farms. Caught in a cost-price squeeze, many farmers see increased use of machinery and more land as a means of increasing their production efficiency.

Too, credit to finance farm purchases has become more readily available. Several large lenders reduced interest rates and raised appraised values for loan purposes in 1954, and a booming nonfarm economy has encouraged investment in farm land by urban people.

Despite the influence of these three factors on land values during the past few years, the specialist believes that over the years farm land values will depend, as they have in the past, upon the general level of farm earnings. Some current investments in farm land may be inspired by the expectation that it will develop "scarcity" value as our population continues to increase. McHaney discounts this possibility on the basis that technical advances in prospect for agriculture over the next 20 years will make it possible for us to meet all foreseeable needs from present farm acreage.

Potatoes, pork, beef, grapefruit and cabbage top the plentiful food list for February.

A good fence, with posts and durable wire, lasts 25 to 30 years, and is a excellent investment.

Another Column

By MAXINE CLARIDA

Is there anything more fun than going back to your home town? Whether it is one thousand miles or thirty eight miles. Since we have been doing news hadn't been home since last October, so we just took off Monday and went home.

You can go to your home town and knowing the haunts of your friends and neighbors just go to that spot and invariably the people you want to see the most show up.

That was just the case with us Monday. We found the spot and if we could have chosen the people we would like to have seen most it would have been Mrs. Floyd Beall, our next door neighbor when we were growing up.

Mrs. Beall is a sister of Littlefield's first automobile dealer, John Arnett. She was telling us that her brother, Sam Arnett, had been in a hospital for the past eight months, helpless. Her sister, Mrs. Merritt and a brother, Dick Arnett, had both passed away the past year. These people were pioneers in West Texas and we felt bad. Never have been able to understand why our parents had to go so young, but last night just told Pa that at least we didn't have to watch them grow old and helpless.

And then there is always the fun to going home, the town has gotten so big that you see hundreds of people that you don't know and the entire thing is so overwhelming that it makes it peaceful to get back to Littlefield.

We have so much to be thankful for here. We don't have that influx of "Furriners." We don't have all that traffic. Our kids can walk to school, town or anywhere they want to go, everybody knows everybody.

It is so wonderful how the people in Littlefield take care of their sick, their unfortunates, and even the migrant workers who come into the country and can't get back to where they came from.

Bud Taylor, local highway patrolman, was telling us that last week when he was directing traffic at the blockade east of town the driver of a Baldridge truck, Woodrow Cates, thinking that he did not have gloves, stopped and offered him his gloves.

Mrs. Buster Molder was telling us that she was in Findley's Jewelry and dropped a $20 bill out of her purse and when she was getting into her car, Vera Nichols who works in Findley's, came out and handed her the bill.

During the blizzard the police and sheriff's officers worked endless hours doing more than actual duties. No arrests were made by either department, and only one accident, and it wasn't a bad one.

The moisture will bring these dry and crops back this year. Can you think of a better place to live???

Couple Exchange Vows In El Paso

In a formal ceremony, January 27th at 10 a. m., in the William Herschel Chapel in El Paso, Miss Mary Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Thompson became the bride of James Madison Speer Jr., of Olton.

Rev. W. L. Person, pastor of the First Baptist church in El Paso, read the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with baskets of pink snapdragons, carnations and jade palm.

Mrs. Wesley Vell, organist, played traditional selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length ice blue satin gown fashioned on classic princess lines which she designed herself. The fitted bodice was designed with a scooped neckline and sleeves that terminated at the wrist in points trimmed in French lace and embroidered in seed pearls. The bodice tapered to a point in the back. Tiny buttons accented the top from neckline to skirt. Her waist length veil of Belgian lace was attached to a "Mary, Queen of Scots" face bonnet. The lace for her veil was purchased by the bride when she toured Europe last fall.

She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid surrounded with stephanotis and streamers tied with lovers' knots. Her strand of pearls were a gift from the groom, presented at the rehearsal dinner.

Miss Sharon Speer, sister of the bridegroom was maid of honor and Mrs. Carrol S. Vance of Austin was bridesmaid. Their identical gowns of pink and blue satin fashioned with molded bodice and flared waltz length skirts, were designed with sweetheart necklines and short sleeves of crushed satin. The attendants' headbands were tiny satin bands with attached pearl dotted half veils. Their bouquets were of white roses.

The groom was attended by his father, J. M. Speer serving as best Guests were greeted by Mrs. Ralph Nelson and D. C. Lindley. Mrs. Lenton Smith served at the register. Punch and coffee were served by Mrs. Viggo Peterson. Mrs. Frank Rogers and Mrs. D. C. Lindley. The serving table was decorated using a valentine motif. A large red heart surrounded by red carnations with an open book placed in front of it with a red satin marker composed the centerpiece of the serving table. A large red taffeta heart trimmed with white lace adorned the piano and hand-made valentines were placed throughout the parlor.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Ferguson presented the library with an unabridged dictionary and revolving stand, in memory of their son Hal Gordon, and daughter, Mary Fields.

The church librarians are Miss Clara Jarmon and Mrs. Winnie Hogan. Miss Jarmon and Mrs. Winnie Hogan and Mrs. Winston Barton showed the library to the guests who called Sunday.

The library contains a set of encyclopedias given by Mr. and Mrs. Lindey, and a complete set of the Hebrew classics loaned by Rev. and Mrs. Lee Hemphill. Books concerning devotionals and games are available, also several biographies, children's books and fiction. All books are not concerning religion. The library contains books that are "good, clean literature" for all ages to enjoy.

The library will be open thirty minutes before each of the main church services on Wednesday night and on Sunday morning and Sunday evening.

One virtually certain way to avoid snoring is to stay awake.

Ushers were Tom Rankin of Dallas and Carroll S. Vance, Austin.

Mrs. Thompson, mother of the bride, chose a claret suit with accents of crystal beading and a small pink hat encrusted with pearl droplets and beads. The mother of the groom selected a navy suit and pink hat. Both of their corsages were of pink roses.

A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony in the Thompson home. The bride's table was laid with pink net over polished Luvlin and pink flowers decorated the table and receiving rooms. Miss Annie Hulsey presided at the guest register and Miss Ruby Cole and Miss Lena Cole poured the coffee.

Following the honeymoon trip to Cloudercroft, N. M., the couple will reside in Austin. The groom is a third year law student and she is doing graduate work at Texas University.

For traveling the bride chose a navy blue silk suit and a hat of winter white and white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Speer attended Texas Western and was graduated from Texas University in June of 1955. She was a member of the Chi Omega sorority and was named a member of the Phi Beta Kappa which is an honor sorority for graduates.

The groom attended Olton High school and was valedictorian of his class in 1951. He was in the top ten percent of his graduating class at Texas University in 1954.

Dr. Glenn S. Burk Attends Optometry Meet In Ft. Worth

Dr. Glenn S. Burk of Littlefield is among the more than 250 vision specialists who registered Monday morning for the Sixteenth Annual Southwestern Congress of Optometry being held today through February 15 at the Hotel Texas in Fort Worth.

At the opening session Dr. A. M. Shaffington, internationally famous lecturer, author and Director of Education for the Optometric Extension Program, made this statement:

"Recent attacks on the nation's school systems are, in a majority of cases, unfair. Many failures in school can be directly traced to visual problems that have gone unrecognized by parents and teachers."

"With 80% of all school tasks based on vision and school achievement based on seeing abilities at rear, it is inevitable that the child who has a visual problem will have difficulty in gaining meaning out of what he sees. Reading, for example, is a near-point task. A child with lowered visual abilities stands in danger of being 'retarded' or a low achiever."

The Congress, a graduate level meeting, is being attended by optometrists from Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

Mrs. Joe Fuller of Dimmitt were married February 14 at the First Baptist Church at Earth. Mrs. Fuller is the daughter of Mrs. Fern Rutherford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford of Earth. The groom is the son of Mrs. Rutherford of Dimmitt. The couple is residing at Dimmitt employed by the Castro Lumber Company.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

Whoever mobilized millions of India's school children in mass demonstration of welcome to Russia's Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin and Party Chief Nikita S. Khrushchev wittingly or unwittingly played the communist game. The children will remember this experience. It was the cleverest kind of indoctrination.

Teaching India's school children to cheer for Russia's communist bosses, to express warm friendship for them and to refer to them as "fighters for peace" are certainly sowing the dragon's teeth. There is no reason for these bloody tyrants to be exalted as friends and apostles of peace. One would think the fate of Tibet might be a warning to India.

The warm welcome given these communist leaders, plus India's steadfast refusal to carry out the promised plebiscite in Kashmir for the settlement of that tortured issue, are not in keeping with India's professed peace aims. Somewhere in the top circles of India shrewd pro-communists are at work, even as they are here and elsewhere.

Safety Conference To Be In Dallas

The 17th annual Texas Safety Conference will be held in the Baker Hotel at Dallas on March 26-27. The conference, sponsored by the Texas Safety Association, includes a section on farm and ranch safety.

E. C. Martin, administrative assistant for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and chairman for the farm and ranch section, says an outstanding program has been arranged for the sectional meeting scheduled for the English Room at 2 p.m., on March 26. He extends a special attendance invitation to rural persons who are interested in improving the safety record of the agricultural industry of Texas.

The afternoon program will feature youths and adults. J. Walter, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, Speakers include Miss Leah Patton, winner of top honors in the 1955 Texas 4-H Safety program from San Antonio; Miss Shirley Merrick, a member of the State winning 4-H safety demonstration team from Harlingen and John Parks, president of the Clifton FFA Chapter.

These youthful speakers have all done outstanding work in farm and home safety and will tell their story of how youth organizations can help cut the accident rate on Texas farms and ranches.

"Motivation and Attitudes" will be discussed by Melvin T. Munn, director of public relations, Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Texas. He is from Dallas. Munn is an authority on accidents and their causes and according to Martin is equally well known as a public speaker.

Presentation of awards to both individuals and groups who have made outstanding contributions to farm and home safety during the past year will be made by C. T. Johnson of Dallas. He is a member of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee and Southwestern public relations director for Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

A short business session will conclude the afternoon meeting.

Good Housekeeping Advised In Farm Shop, For Safety

If the farm shop is crowded and cluttered, it is probably a hazardous place to work. When the spring rush begins, the farm shop takes on added importance for there are always hurry-up jobs needed to keep machinery and equipment in operating condition. Haste here, says the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee, can mean an accident unless the shop facilities have been put in order.

Now while there is time, the committeemen suggest that the shop be given a good housecleaning. Clean the work benches and floors and provide a scrap box for metals and other materials. Put hand tools in neat order by assigning a place for every tool.

Clean and check machines and power tools for repair needs and safety precautions. Go over the entire shop for fire hazards. Check all wiring for wear and possible "shorts." If a fire extinguisher isn't available, better make a purchase. If an extinguisher is available, check to be sure it is filled with the proper solution and is in working order.

Good lighting and plenty of ventilation are musts in the farm shop say the committeemen.

Finally, after the housecleaning and checking jobs have been completed, the operator is advised to give himself a safety quiz on shop work habits. If the methods and habits now used aren't safe, change them for the hand that may be saved will be needed in performing other vital farm jobs during 1956 and thereafter.

Appreciate the motives of many fine organizations and communities which use every method they can find for the various good causes which they support. Good motives do not always justify improper methods. It is awfully hard for us to remain silent when our efforts are being solicited for funds to help these organizations. We know that half or more of those funds will be given to some out-of-town promoters.

Promoters out smart us. They know we will not buy if they try to sell it to us on its own merits. So we ride on the good name of some respected communication, and thus talk us out of thousands of dollars—dollars that are badly needed in our own com-unity. Do we let them do that to us over and over again? No. It is not directed at any particular organization. Some of us are guilty of this sin occasionally. We put it merely to remind ourselves that we need to examine positions closely before we let these fast talking "pros" use half of "their" proceeds. What it actually is that we are giving them half of OUR proceeds.

GUEST EDITORIAL from State Line Tribune

Show Initiative In Vegetable Project

The critics who have been saying that the traditional life of farmers is fast disappearing, and that within a few years all agriculture will be wholly regulated by government, suggest a look at the meeting of High Plains farm-ers last week.

They met there to consider the possibility of entering into a competitive vegetable producing business, and being told that the risks are high and a lot of money will be involved, they appear to be well on their way to organizing a vegetable producing group of wide scope. The farmer, is not, apparently, the pawn of the federal government that some have made him out to be.

Knowing nothing about the mechanics of producing and marketing vegetables, we do know enough to realize that vegetable producing crops need to be introduced into this area, where water and soil resources are at least as good as in any other area of comparable size in the United States.

The production of which we have learned to be proud and profitable, is bottled up by government-imposed controls, and the risks will be high, it will be heartening to see the farmer again dig in by their own initiative to see if they can find profitable markets.

Sandhills Philosopher Unsure About Governor On Cars But Says It'd Work On Tractors

Note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson farm discusses speed limits. Something he has practical knowledge of.

There is too much faith in the Johnson polls, mainly because of the fact that the men who make up the Johnson poll, haven't made up their minds yet, and also because of the fact that the Johnson poll is so often, except when it comes to something you can't see, like whether the women favor a new dress, or the men believe the present is as good as they get, but I read one of the other Johnson polls that got me interested.

It is interesting to find that 70 per cent of the public is in favor of government control on cars to hold them to 60 miles an hour.

I am not disputing the accuracy of the Johnson poll, but if 70 per cent of the drivers think they're going too fast, why don't they slow down? If anybody thinks keeping from going faster than 60 miles an hour will stop all accidents, I would advise to him is to stay off the streets the next time he goes to town, and in the meantime check up on his hospitalization insurance.

Of course, I know speed is the cause of lots of accidents, but speed is no fixed thing. If you're going 40 miles an hour and somebody meets you on top of the hill going the same speed, you've got an 80-mile-an-hour wreck and science hasn't invented the gadget that'll prevent it.

Personally, I don't have the answer to the wreck problem, and if anybody else has, he's hiding it. I don't think about it except when I get on the highway, and when I get on the highway I'm too busy avoiding cars to do any clear thinking.

But this idea of a governor interested in me. Not for cars, but for tractors. It's not that tractors go too fast going up one row and down another. It's just that they go too often. That's one thing that's causing the surplus.

What this country needs is a governor which will allow you to run a tractor only three days a week, although here again a gadget

Letter To The Editor . . .

Canyon, Texas

Dear Douglas:
I have read of your effusion about the integration problem. So you agree that we fought a war to give race equality to all races. The Declaration of Independence taught us that we were to be a single nation and leave other lands alone. But I guess you are a UNO-er which has some relationship to my interpretation of treason by association. I have never been brain-washed to believe in equality or races. Christ never intended it to be . . . although I learn that one race is trying to re-write the testament to convenience.

I never have yet seen an advocate of liberalism, race equality and do-gooding professionally that basely was not a hypocrite . . . and never once practiced what he preached. This tongue in cheek, phoney liberalism is basically what is wrecking our fair land. When I get home I want to talk this out with you.

Sincerely,
Helen C. . . .

Why is it that the worst in people seems to come out when they are talking about their competitors? Many times, we have been taken back by the abusive language some otherwise slow-to-anger businessmen use when speaking of their competitor across or down the street.

The traditional American philosophy of fair play seems to get thrown out the window when two business men eye each other jealously.

These same people will insist on strict enforcement of the rules at a basketball or football game. They're among the first to break up a neighborhood ruckus among the kids, and they always holler the loudest for fair elections and honest scorekeepers.

But when the guy in the store across town manages, through lower prices, better merchandise, and more courteous treatment, to draw away some of the first man's trade, then all heck breaks loose. — State Line Tribune.

One of the largest hogs to be butchered here in many years was one owned by J. J. Vineyard. It weighed 318 pounds after it had been stuck. No container was large enough to scald the carcass and it had to be skinned. That's about four times the weight of the average butchering hog, but Vineyard said the meat from the huge porker was not rank. "It's all in knowing how to feed and take care of them," he added. — Abernathy Review.

When a merchant gives trade stamps, does his customer then have to go to Amarillo or some other city to get the stamps redeemed in merchandise handled by the big city merchant? Then, when he goes to the city to get his stamps redeemed, does he then buy anything else while there?

We learn that Tullia abandoned the trade stamp plan a year or so ago, and that the merchants there have found an improvement in business. May we suggest to the chamber of commerce retailers committee that it might be well to study merchandising methods of other towns, then pass the findings on to local merchants. — Memphis Democrat.

WE LIKE DANIEL'S "OPEN DOOR" POLICY

Although the field of gubernatorial candidates is not fully developed, and we prefer to wait a while before deciding who we think will make the best governor of Texas next year, we have warmed up a bit toward Sen. Price Daniel.

One of the things we like about his attitude is what he calls the "open door" policy. As a newspaper man himself, Daniel has an appreciation for the people's right to know the facts, particularly in the field of government affairs, and he is a strong supporter for rolling back the tide of closed-door meetings, and "classified" public information. — State Line Tribune.

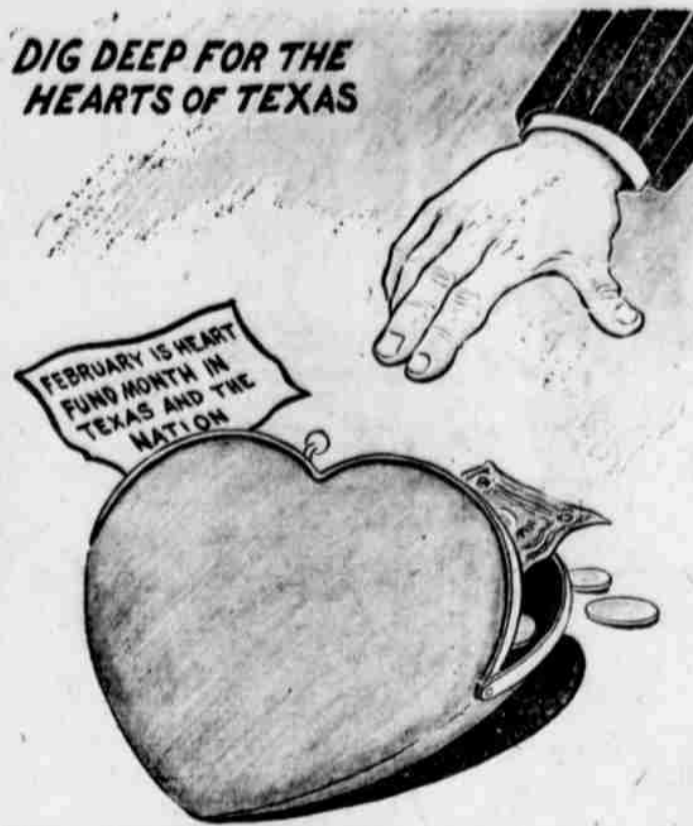

Yea, coaches are great guys when they win; but when they lose they are just a bunch of dumb clucks. The only solution to the problem is to figure out some way of changing the odds. In this day and time when so much stress is put on winning, it just is not fair to have a deal that makes it compulsory for some body to lose every time someone loses.

We ought to have a system where there would be about three winners for every one loser. That's the only hope we can see for the coaches in this set up we have of saying there is no substitute for thinking. I thought of slowing down on my tractor work long ago, and while it hasn't made me rich, can't any body pin any part of the surplus on me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

LOUISE C. ALLEN

We sat for a few minutes the other day and watched an alteration woman changing the under-pinnings for a new evening dress. First she pressed the hem into place with a quick-heating steam iron. Then with an excellent light on her electric machine, she worked swiftly at stitching the hem on the three-yard petticoat.

In the kitchen a pressure cooker on the electric stove whistled its promise that supper for two was under way.

A picture flashed through our memory of our mother, long ago, bent over a heavy-treadle machine, stitching together two widths of a rag carpet she was making for our family room. There were six of us, counting the grandmother who lived in our home.

The sewing came out of what was quaintly called Mother's spare time. Cold water was "drawn" from the cistern on the back porch and put in the kettle to heat. She cooked on a wood-and-coal range. She made bread, killed and dressed chickens, peeled potatoes, snapped beans, shucked and sheared corn, made the custard or cake. She "kept house" in rooms that were anything but weatherproof, churned, cleaned lamps, washed and ironed the clothes, tended our many ailments and made dresses for herself and "the girls."

On cloudy days she pushed the machine near the window. Often

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — US Trust and Guaranty creditors can expect first payments about mid-July. Liquidator J. D. Wheeler told the Senate investigating committee.

Liquidation process was set in motion when a Temple firm was appointed to collect notes owed US Automotive Service, a US Trust affiliate.

Insurance Com. Chmn. J. Byron Saunders would not say that Texas is "over the hill" yet with insurance problems. But he did say that companies which pass the solvency test and get licenses after May 31 will be entitled to public confidence.

If sound management had been instituted, US Trust might have been saved as late as last fall, according to a Dallas CPA who made a partial audit. Felix Elmsom said he found inadequately trained clerks handling million-dollar operations. He quit his work after refusing to prepare for A. B. Shoemaker, president, a "certified financial statement inconsistent with my evaluation of facts."

Continuing its "clean-up" drive, the Insurance Commission:

1. Granted leaves of absence to four examiners named in a suit alleging conspiracy to commit fraud, but indicated they would not be re-employed.

2. Ordered the following companies to "show cause" why their permits should not be revoked: Trans-Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Dallas; American Home Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Dallas; Texas Union County Mutual Insurance Co. of San Antonio; and Merchants National Life Insurance Co. of Denton.

3. Announced plans to cut rates for insuring crops against hail damage.

4. Reminded companies that all advertising of insurance securities must be approved by the commission before publication.

Hart Back With Governor
Return of Weidon Hart to his old job as Gov. Allan Shivers' first assistant is causing much speculation.

Hart has been serving as chairman of the Texas Employment Commission since 1953. Before that he was the governor's top political and public relations strategist.

His return to the Capitol is variously interpreted as: (1) jiriding for the battle to control the Democratic state convention, (2) printing for new political campaigns, or (3) an aid in clearing up criticisms resulting from insurance developments.

Democratic Leaders Exchange Fire

Early skirmishes by rival leaders in the Texas Democratic party indicate a real brawl for state convention control in May.

Executive Committee Chairman George Sandlin charged the Liberals are planning to bolt the convention if they don't win out. He proposed a "winner-take-all" agreement to avoid sending competing delegations to Chicago as in 1952.

Liberals Byron Skelton and Tom Moore Jr. countered with predictions that the "Shivers Executive Committee will control the party machinery, in particular the credentials committee . . . depriving legally elected delegations of their votes."

As each faction held schools and sent out literature to bolster its strength, the sniping continued.

Samplers: Conservatives said Liberals were bringing in out-of-state union organizers; Liberals said Conservatives would use machine tactics and tricks.

Amendments Listed

A drawing for positions on the November 6 ballot gives first place to the constitutional amendment providing for financial compensation to prisoners later found innocent of a crime.

Tom Reavley, Secretary of State, conducted the drawing, assisted by Sibly Dickinson of the same office.

Second on the ballot will be the amendment relating to re-allocation of county funds; third, an amendment broadening the University of Texas investments and the college building program; fourth, one expanding teacher retirement; fifth a $100,000,000 veterans' land bond issue; sixth, revising the constitutional oath of office; seventh, providing waiver of jury trial in larceny cases; and eighth, authorizing a judge to deny bail in a felony case to a person twice previously convicted of felony.

Because of a legislative error in the context of the ninth amendment, authorizing state aid to the totally disabled, it will have to be voted upon at a special election

"Right-to-Work" Decision Due

Texas Supreme Court reports it will make a decision soon on the validity of Texas "right-to-work" law. Previously the court had set the case aside pending U. S. Supreme Court action on a similar Nebraska case.

An early decision by Texas high court might permit the issues involved to be considered by the Federal tribunal before it rules on the Nebraska case.

Ralph Yarborough took another step toward official announcement of his third-time candidacy for governor; he appointed Roger I. Texas U. S. Senators and the organizations for attorneys general and chief justices, back the plan on the grounds it would save money, prevent appeals for "frivolous" reasons. . . . A state-wide drive to get the legislature to adopt an interposition resolution, to preserve segregation, has been launched by the Association of Texas Citizens Councils. Attorney General Ship-perd gave cautious encouragement to a delegation which sought his help. He termed interposition the state's "last line of defense" against federal encroachment. . . . J. D. Wheeler state insurance liquidator, reports "no" money collected, plus money previously on hand for insurance firms in liquidation, totaled $1,474,921 in 1955. Payments to creditors of these firms amounted to $844,320. Expenses of liquidation were $367,853. Cash on hand at the end of the year was $630,600. . . . An unlicensed driver is two and one-half times as likely to cause an accident as one with a license, says Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety. "Chances are strong that he is an irresponsible person if he is driving without a license," Garrison added. . . . Rep. Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, with pledges of a clear majority of present members of the House, has no opponent for Speaker of the 55th Legislature.

Educational programs conducted last year by Texas county agents on pasture improvement added an estimated $35.6 million to the value of the pastures involved in demonstrations. The 5,058 demonstrators carried out improved practices on approximately 800,000 acres. During the year county agents established another 2,586 new permanent pasture demonstrations on 111,687 acres.

YOUNG MEN WANTED

UNCLE SAM needs young men for his peacetime Army of Reservists. YOUNG MEN need what Uncle Sam has to offer.

Strong nations seldom are attacked. It is only when a nation becomes weak, when its military strength is at a low ebb . . . when its men are untrained for battle . . . that an enemy strikes. To keep peace — keep strong. For a nation to maintain military might it must have a large, well-trained Ready Reserve — well versed in the latest in military know how and equipment.

It is up to the young men of America to provide this manpower. Under the Reserve Forces Act of 1955 American youth may continue in school with a minimum of interruption, while serving in the U.S. Army Reserve.

Farmers Receive Benefits Of REA Telephone Loans

The Rural Electrification Administration made loans in 1955 that will provide new or improved telephone service to about 135 thousand farms and other rural establishments.

REA made 188 long-term, low-interest loans amounting to well over 66 million dollars. Ninety-nine of the loans were made to new borrowers which had not previously used REA financing. The purpose of the loans is to help the telephone companies improve and extend their services in rural areas. Two-thirds of the total loans were made in the last half of 1955, amounting to a little over 60 million dollars. Additional allocations promise a total level of approximately 100 million dollars for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1956. Since the beginning of the program in October, 1935, REA has provided new service for about 600 thousand subscribers.

Infrared brooders are proving popular on many farms for brooding chicks, pigs, lambs and even calves. They may also be used for thawing frozen pipes or as a heat lamp in the home.

Can anyone explain the strange fascination that a newly-paved street has for street diggers? "Let's you and I be more careful to observe the rules of grammar," suggests a columnist. Yes, indeed... let us do so.

Doubles ties For Testing

Tech is expanding its cotton testing facilities almost double, according to K. Lanse Turner, Texas Cotton Research Committee director.

The expansion is part of a consolidation of the fiber testing facilities at Tech and Texas A&M College, which participate in the Committee program with the University of Texas. The Legislature created the Committee to foster research for expanding markets and uses of Texas cotton.

Raymond K. Fluge, Tech textile engineering department head, said the consolidation of fiber testing facilities will permit economic in operation and will result in an increased testing and research effort.

The Rotary Club of Littlefield was organized in the dining room of the old Littlefield Hotel on November 19, 1936.

Tech's Spring Enrollment Is At All-Time High

Texas Tech's Spring Semester enrollment shot to a new all-time high of 6,391 at the end of regular registration, Registrar W. P. Clement has announced.

The figure not only surpasses last year's all-time spring record of 5,839, but for the first time in Tech's history, tops the fall enrollment of a previous academic year, that is fall, 1954, when 6,257 students registered.

"The latter comparison vividly points out the acceleration in Tech's growth and points strongly to the validity of predictions that Tech will have at least 15,000 students by 1970," Clement said.

Largest of Tech's academic divisions continues to be Arts and Sciences with 1,997. Next are Engineering with 1,721, Business Administration, 1,313; Agriculture, 703; Graduate School, 341, and Home Economics, 316.

Even fewer women are enrolled this semester than last, when there were 34 in each 100 students.

Now there are only 33.

Registration in Saturday-only classes at Tech is expected to push the new Spring Semester record even higher. However, it is not expected to top the all-time record of 7,254, set last fall.

Spring Semester figures traditionally are smaller than those for fall, Clement pointed out.

John Tyler was the first vice-president to obtain the office of the Chief Executive by the death of the president.

The eradication of one disease, Brucellosis, would save the livestock industry of Texas an estimated $10 million annually. In addition to the direct loss from the disease, Dr. C. M. Patterson, other costs are piling up which are difficult to estimate.

Ancient Egyptians, whose embalming secrets have been lost through the ages, used honey as a principal ingredient in their embalming fluids, some experts believe.

National 4-H Week Set For March 3-11

The 121,044 Texas 4-H club members will join their fellow members, approximately 2,100,000, from every state in the nation in the observance of National 4-H Club Week from March 3-11.

The 4-H club program is directed by the Agricultural Extension Services of the Land Grant Colleges of the United States in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Locally, 4-H programs and activities are directed by the county agricultural agents and home demonstration agents with valuable assistance from both adult and junior 4-H leaders.

According to Director G. G. Gibson of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the objectives of the week are to provide members an occasion for taking a look backward at past achievements and making plans for future activities on their farms, in their home and communities; to inform the public of the value of 4-H training; to recognize the contributions of local leaders and to enlist the support of public spirited, youth-minded citizens in leadership roles;

Claims Of Jesus Christ

While Jesus Christ lived and taught among men; he claimed to be the Son of God and that he was to reign as king over a spiritual kingdom.

When Peter Confessed His Sonship

Matthew 16:16-17: "And Simon Peter answered and said, 'Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God. And Jesus answered and said unto him, 'Blessed art thou, Simon Barjona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.'"

When John Sent to Inquire.

Matthew 11:4-5: "Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see: The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear: the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached unto them." (Read verses 2-6).

Jesus Before Pilate

John 18:36-37: "Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world. . . . Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth."

Efforts to strip the idea of divinity and kingship from Jesus and yet uphold his integrity as merely a good man and a great teacher cannot succeed, for these claims for him were made not only by his followers, but by Jesus himself. We must accept him for what he claimed to be, or reject him as a deceiver. We believe that all he claimed for himself and all the Bible claims for him is truth.
