School Board To Consider Year's Budget

Littlefield School Board will consider the 1960-61 school budget at its session Monday night, Superintendent Glenn Reeves said Wednesday, and anyone interested may attend.

The session, to be held at the School Tax office, 410 Littlefield Drive, will start at 7:30, and much of the session will be devoted to considering the budget, the superintendent said.

Except for changes that he termed "minor," the budget will be much the same as last year. The 1959-60 budget totaled $545,843, and was given quick approval when submitted last August.

Reeves said anyone interested should attend the session. The budget will cover the period from Sept. 1, 1960 to Aug. 31, 1961. The board also will have for

Little Leaguers Go To Sectional

Littlefield's rampaging All-Stars plunge into the battle for the Sectional championship Friday night in Wichita Falls as they attempt to get a foothold on another rung up the ladder toward the Little League World Championship.

After sitting out tournament action tonight by virtue of a bye in first round play, the local LLers will meet the winner of the Cisco Sweetwater game at 8 p.m. Friday.

The team will leave Littlefield at noon today from the local LL Park and travel by car to Wichita Falls. Friday morning, the boys will take a tour of Sheppard AFB and play their first game that night.

The LL Park in Wichita Falls is located at Sheppard AFB.

The Littlefield stars began their climb by running the gamut of Area 1 All-Star teams in the tournament played here in July finally shutting out Levelland 2-0 for the title.

A week later in Plainview the locals met Borger for the championship of District 1 and staged a breathtaking, last ditch comeback to win the title 9-8.

DEMONSTRATION PLANNED

To show the Little Leaguers that Littlefield is behind them 100 percent in their drive to the top in the playoffs, a demonstration has been planned at the LL Park at 11:45 a.m. today.

After a "Good Luck" speech to the All-Stars, a motorcade will leave the ballpark and be escorted down through the business district by the Littlefield police.

Everyone that can possibly come out to the ballpark is asked to be there so that the team will know that the hometown folks are backing them all the way.

County Pockets Savings, Buys Own '63 Bonds

Lamb County has bought its own bonds to save three years of interest charges and for a slight discount.

The County Commissioners this week approved purchase of $10,000 worth of outstanding bonds, due to mature in 1963, for a principal payment of $9,850 plus $74.31 in interest.

County Judge Pat Boone, Jr., said by buying the bonds off at this time, "the county is effecting a nice savings which will run to better than $1,500, counting interest that would be paid if the bonds ran to full maturity."

He said the County now has the money, "and we might as well pay the bonds off and save this additional cost."

The commissioners devoted all their meeting last week to the bond purchase.

THE WEATHER

FORECAST - Partly cloudy with scattered thunder showers and no major change in temperature.

TEMPERATURE - Sunday low 65, high 92; Monday low 66, high 92; Tuesday low 68, high 93; Wednesday low 68, high 90.

MOISTURE - For the month 0. For the year 18.32. This month last year 12.90.

Here's A Switch: Cotton Now Needing Moisture

Remember July when farmers were praying for dry weather? Well, that was last month. Now the picture has changed, and County Agent J. W. Kimbrough says that rain is needed — in some places it is needed badly.

"It seems almost incredible," he says, "that less than a month ago we were almost literally praying for it to stop raining. But that was last month, and now we need rain. Cotton, if it is to put on a full crop, must have rain within the next few days."

Of course farmers who irrigate are not so concerned about the lack of water, but the dryland farmers are badly in need of moisture. Almost every irrigation well in the county has gone back into action, the county agent says, and virtually all cotton already is under irrigation. Hot, dry weather for the last two weeks has caused the changed picture.

Cotton, he says, needs its heaviest moisture between 80 and 100 days after planting, and this is that period. From planting to harvest requires 160 days each year.

At this time of the year when cotton is at "peak bloom," cotton needs from .25 to .4 inch of water each day. First open boll is expected between the 110th and 120th days, and moisture needs drop considerably during that period with no moisture needed from that time until harvest.

After emergence from the ground, the plants require less than .1 inch per day for the first 45 days — or until the square forms. The need for water gradually increases between the 50th and 80th days to a quarter-inch as the bloom period develops with the peak need reached around the 90th day when plants are in full bloom.

Despite a need for water for cotton, which most farmers are meeting through irrigation, other crops are faring well. Grain sorghums already have passed their moisture need, with the peak need reached between 30 and 40 days after planting. This need is estimated at .3 inch, or during the time the boot is forming. However, since much of the sorghum crop is late, some farmers are finding a need for water now.

Whitharral Schools Set Opening, Teachers Needed

WHITHARRAL — Superintendent J. W. Bowman of the Whitharral School announced Aug. 29 for the beginning of school. Two teachers are needed to complete the faculty — the fifth and the second grades.

A general school employees' meeting is being called for 9 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 24. An in-service teacher training program will be a part of the pre-school activities Aug. 25 and 26.

Mrs. LaRue Lamar of Levelland has been hired as teacher of home economics to succeed Mrs. Allen Williams.

Other members of the faculty are Stilwell H. Russell, high school principal; O. L. Harris, vocational agriculture; Frank Prindle, math; Max Dickerson, boys' coach; Alton Warren, girls' coach; Mrs. Elva T. Crank, English; A. A. Mitchell, grade school principal; Mrs. Frank Prindle, 6th grade; Mrs. Bonnie Ward, 4th grade; Mrs. Neta Morgan, 3rd grade; Mrs. Laura Marcom, first grade.

Richard Horton is custodian; Elmer Ward is bus foreman; and Viola Goad, Carrie Eller, Viola Dalrymple, and Connie Davis are the lunchroom workers.

of reaches for the nd looks again at the city. Studying it a moment, he figures the word on the sheet of paper and then cracks it out over the intercom. "Hiroshima."

Today is a school day for Takano. At seven he was up and dressed. Now, at breakfast, he sits on the floor silently eating. No eggs on Wednesday, nor fish, nor meat—only rice.

He eats what little there is slowly. He has learned long ago that to fill his stomach he must eat without haste.

His father talks of the little papers that have been coming from the American planes for the past week—papers that tell the people of Hiroshima to leave the city and go into the hills.

"It is foolish to leave our homes. The Americans will not bomb the city. The barracks, perhaps, but they are too far out to do much harm. No, we will stay, and continue to live as we have."

Takano's father sighs.

"If the powers are weary of all this, perhaps soon we can return to the old life."

At seven forty-five, Takano slips into his wooden shoes at the door and clip-clops down the stone street. He has a long walk to his school, but there is no weariness in his steps. Only the week before, his instructor had given him the important job of collecting the abacus after class and returning it to the desk.

Quite an honor for an eleven-year old.

"Too, Takano likes the walk in the morning. There are many people in the streets now, rushing to the day's work.

As he crosses the bridge on the main street, a truck load of soldiers rumbles toward the big barracks north of the city.

He passes the boats tied to the piers of the fish market. The odor of fish—he closes his eyes for a moment and stops to remember the last good meal that he has eaten. A week . . . two . . . three, time is so elusive, but it was long ago.

Walking along the street, Takano passes the bank and the shops in the big buildings, long since void of the luxuries that he has only heard of.

The morning traffic is heavier now. People rush by; soldiers march to drill; vehicles chug past in clouds of smoke that come from the wood they now use for fuel. It will be good to get to school where he can sit and listen to his teacher. There is no talk of war there. There is only talk of knowledge.

The outline of the coast can be seen now. The gunners are ready. The navigator and co-pilot sit tensely in their seats. The pilot and bombardier exchange hurried instructions. The bomb hangs silently, ready to fall upon command. Ahead, past the coastline sits the target, looking steeply and unaware. The crew is silent, listening for the crucial words of the bombardier.

Takano looks to the east. He can hear a drone, the noise of a plane. There, to the southeast he sees it. A big one. A Yankee one. People are running for cover. Takano quickens his steps, then he breaks into a run. The school is only two blocks away. He will be safe.

A finger presses the button. "Bombs Away!"

As Takano reaches the edge of the schoolyard bridge, the sun explodes in a blast of hellish heat. He screams. He can feel the air turn to fire. His stomach fries as he breathes.

The Superfortress turns at a sharp ninety degree angle and heads for home. Mission Accomplished! Target — a direct hit!

The crew of the big bird watches as a billow of smoke gushes into the sky, circling, pushing, fighting the clouds for a place in the sun. The men stare silently in view of the phenomenon. They wonder what is this new weapon that they have unleashed. They have been successful, but they are, to a man, horrified—scared—afraid of their own Frankenstein.

The hurt is blinding. Takano hears a scream. The pain of his small body tells him that the scream is his.

Over the boy, a hurried doctor shakes his head. He knows that Takano will die. There is nothing to relieve the pain. The wizened medic watches the sight and feels helpless.

Blisters cover the boy; his dying screams hit like hammers on the doctor's ears. In writhing pain the lad pulls at the ends of his fingers. Cooled flesh and cracked nails slip like tiny gloves from his finger bones.

Takano dies.

The pain has ceased.

In detail, this story is fiction. But the feelings of the crew of the plane that dropped the bomb must have been of astonishment and wonder at what they had done with a single bomb.

As for the boy, his name is fictitious but his story is true.

As a memorial to those who died in the blast—and as a reminder to the world of what havoc an atomic war could bring—the people of Hiroshima have built a museum of memorabilia pertaining to the explosion.

Earth Rodeo Performed Before Capacity Crowds

EARTH — Large, enthusiastic crowds filled the stands at each of the performances of Earth's 15th Annual Amateur Rodeo which unfolded here Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Cliff Allen, Earth, was named all-around cowboy of the rodeo for the fifth consecutive year. He was named for the honor in 1946. He was the only qualifying rider in the all-around event, placed second in bull riding and third in bareback bronc riding to take the honor.

Other results of the show are as follows:

1st Barrel Race — Cathy Brakebill, Crosbyton, first, 15.2 seconds; Betty Mitchell, Lubbock, second, 15.5; Karen Knight, Muleshoe, 15.8.

2nd Barrel Race — Cathy Brakebill, Crosbyton, first, 15.5; La Voy Ament, Ropesville, 16.0; Karen Knight, Muleshoe, 16.1.

3rd Barrel Race — Betty Mitchell, Lubbock, 15.4; Cathy Brakebill, Crosbyton, 15.8; La Voy Ament, Ropesville, 16.2.

Trophy belt buckles were presented Brakebill, Ament and Jackie Cook, Shallowater, for the best averages. They were 46 for Brakebill, 49.3 for Ament and 41.9 for Cook.

1st Calf Roping — Bob Palvado, Morton, first, 12.8; J. D. Armstrong, Big Lake, second, 13.7; Mac McGuire, Cactus, third, 14.0.

2nd Calf Roping — J. D. Armstrong, first, Big Lake, 11.6; Doyle Zrebbhouse, Dumas, second, 12.0; Walter Arnold, Silverton, third, Earth pastures.

Tech Tickets To Grid Games Offered Here

Littlefield football fans will be given an opportunity to buy advance tickets to the Texas Tech Red Raider home games next week when Head Basketball Coach Folk Robinson comes to town to offer the duets for the 1960 season.

Robison is to be here all day Thursday, Aug. 11, to explain the ticket deals. He will have with him a stadium diagram, showing seats which will be available for the home series.

Raiders Ready For Conference Football Debut

LUBBOCK — If there's a home stadium advantage in football, Texas Tech's Red Raiders could spoil the Southwest Conference title chances of two teams prominently mentioned for 1960 laurels.

Baylor University, the dark horse choice of many, will be played in expanded Jones Stadium Oct. 15, and defending champion Arkansas will be met here Nov. 19. A third Southwest Conference member, Southern Methodist, is slated for the Red Raiders' homecoming Oct. 22.

Break-ins Net Minor Haul

Three minor burglaries were reported to City police this week, netting a haul of minor items.

Police Chief F. A. Fitzgerald said Wednesday.

South Plains Creamery, 514 Phelps, reported an attempted burglary but no loss after a rear window at the plant had been pried open.

Driver Cited After Crash

Two persons escaped injury Monday when an automobile and a truck were in collision on U.S. Highway 385 south of Littlefield, Highway Patrol Sergeant D. S. Lawson said Wednesday.

Lawson listed Jose Ramirez, 28, Sprinklake, as driver of the car, while Manuel Alvarez, Jr., 34, was the truck driver. Both vehicles were going south.

Baylor Coach Speaks To Bear Alumni Group

Baylor Football Coach John Bridges will speak at a special meeting of Baylor ex-students by a trio of outstanding field generals — Jerry Richardson, Canfield, and Mr. Norris Clark, 4608 W. 21st, Lubbock.

Bridges will discuss Baylor's athletic program for the coming year and will emphasize arrangements for the Bear's game with Texas Tech here Oct. 15.

Time To Enroll

The principal explained that there is "considerable routine" required under Texas laws before Junior can be enrolled for the first time.

Parents should bring the child's birth certificate. (He must be 5 years old on or before Sept. 11.) They must also have a doctor's statement showing that the child has had at least his first whooping cough shot, his diphtheria and tetanus shots. He also must have been vaccinated for small pox, but the scar will not be needed if he has had that inoculation, Jones said.

First Of Several

ing job: Earth cemetery road, and Sudan cemetery road, each totaling some 3,500 feet of paving, Boone said.

Earlier the commissioners had accepted the bid of Pioneer Pavers for reworking 12 miles of lawn to market roads at a cost of some $7,000 a mile or approximately $2,000 for the entire project. These are the projects now ready to start or underway.

Here's A Switch

From planting to maturity of grain sorghums runs from 100 to 120 days, while the over-all period from planting to harvest may extend to as much as 150 days.

Despite the need for rain, crops are "looking good," agricultural experts sum up, although a rain between now and August 10 "would materially aid the crops, especially cotton."

School Board

High school pupils are to enroll Thursday and Friday of that week. Senior class members will enroll on Thursday morning and junior class on Thursday afternoon. Sophomores are to enroll Friday morning and freshmen on Friday afternoon.

First of the pre-school activities will be football practice which starts August 15.

The body is new and strong, but the mind still carries the scar of that fateful morning. Hiroshima remembers, not in hate, but in dread of the fate that awaits the world should there be war again. She has adopted the official name of "City of Peace." She strives to keep vivid in the memory of man the horror of the Atomic Bomb.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

Don't we collect the darnedest stuff to take on vacations? By plane, excess charges help some. But the 60-pound limit (or is it 47?) gives us something to shoot at and we cram in an assortment of efficiency kits, to get our money's worth.

By train, it's easy to take along everything — unless we're pre-occupied about red caps. If so, how to stack two heavy bags and three light ones, a candy box, camera, several books and magazines on the spouse from station-to-taxi-to-hotel-lobby becomes a problem in administration that only a wife can handle.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

By bus, it's hard to be conspicuous whatever we take. Most of our traveling companions are of the do-it-yourself cult, hence anything from baby's stroller, bottle kit, and diaper bag to Pop's fishing and golf equipment may be overlooked for the usual luggage.

But when we travel by family car — that's when our collector's fancy gets full play! We carry the suitcases, but hang the suits and dresses. We take along a cooler, sandwich box, thermos, fruit, and maybe the typewriter. We throw fishing boots, the steam iron, a package of washing powder, and some old odds into the trunk.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

However we travel, wherever we go, we spend half our vacation keeping up with all the stuff we've accumulated.

Some day we want to take a vacation from "things." We'll pick up like a gypsy and take off — for Somewhere or Nowhere, leaving behind all these props of civilization. And most of all, we'll go into the mountains, where time is a peaceful eternity, not a 60-second, 60-minute, 24-hour fight to get places, do things, beat the record.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

That, my friends, will be a stuffless holiday!

Bulls - Faulkenberry Rites Read At Earth

EARTH — The First Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Beth Yvonne Bulls and Scott Faulkenberry, Saturday, July 30th. Rev. Hugh F. Blaylock, Dimmitt, read the double ring ceremony.

Miss Bulls is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crill Bulls, Earth. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. F.A. Faulkenberry, Floydada.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She chose a gown of Chantilly lace over tulle with a scooped neckline banded with white satin, a fitted bodice and bracelet length sleeves. A satin band around the bodice terminated at center back in a bow and flowing streamers. The waist length skirt featured unpressed pleats and scallops. Her shoulder length veil of French silk illusion fell from a scalloped lace cap outlined in seed pearls and sequins. The bridal bouquet was of white roses and stephanotis atop a white Bible.

Miss Frances Jones, Plainview, was maid of honor and Miss Billy Ann Burnett, Amarillo, served as bridesmaid. They wore dresses of mint green silk organza over mint green tulle. The identical dresses were fashioned with fitted bodices decorated with tiny covered buttons and three-quarter length sleeves. Their head pieces were mint green leaves with circular veils. They each carried a single, long stemmed white rosebud.

Wayland Faulkenberry, Floydada served his brother as best man. Groomsman and candlelighters were Ray Gene Ferguson, Lockney, Gary Bulls and Glenn Bulls, Earth, brothers of the bride.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Marie Winders, organist and Mrs. Eugene Lee, sister of the bride, soloist.

A reception in the home of the parents of the bride followed the ceremony. Assisting in the house party were Mrs. LaMoine Lee, Mrs. Leona Parish and Mrs. Donnie Glasscock, sisters of the bride and Feida Brooks, sister of the bridegroom.

The bride's traveling outfit was a green silk suit with black patent accessories. She wore a white rosebud corsage taken from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Faulkenberry is a graduate of Springlake High School and West Texas State College. She is a speech therapist in the Floydada Public Schools.

A graduate of Floydada High School, Faulkenberry is engaged in farming at Floydada where the couple will reside.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Faulkenberry, Maryon Wiley, Mrs. Arthur Wiley and Mrs. Edwin Wester and Mrs. W. L. Davis, all of Floydada; Mr. and Mrs. Billy J. Sears To Offer Do-It-Yourself Coat This Fall

An innovation in high fashion was unveiled today. It is a "trim-it-yourself" cashmere coat, offered in five color — beige, black, medium gray, light fawn brown and medium blue. For a custom-designed look, the choice of mink, blue fox and beaver collars in colors to monize with the coat.

"The result," says Bettye Smith, manager of the Sears, Roebuck and Co. store in Littlefield, "is a fur-trimmed coat distinctively designed in style and color to match the individual personality."

Untrimmed coats and collars also are offered separately, she added.

The new look fashion is featured in Sears' 19 Fall and Winter general catalog which now is being distributed in this area.

Mrs. Smith said bargain prices in the new catalog are nearly one per cent lower than those in the 1960 Spring and Summer general catalog. They are virtually unchanged from prices in the fall-winter book last year.

A price study of more than 2,100 items in all categories, Mrs. Smith said, "shows a new general merchandise price level held the line against inflation." The Sears price index now stands at 103 based on 1947-49 average prices equalling 100, she pointed out.

The index represents a composite of the prices of the company's broad merchandise lines, as weighted according to their importance.

JUDY TAPLEY

Judy Tapley Wins District Dress Revue

Judy Tapley was a district winner at the girls 4H dress revue held in Lubbock last Friday at the Student Union Building, Tech Campus. Judy will represent Lamb County and the district at the state dress revue held in Dallas during the State Fair of Texas.

Judy made and modeled a silver green cotton sheath dress with a cummerbund of green and brown Hawaiian print. Her accessories were brown.

The overall score was based on her clothing record, construction, poise and grooming and how the outfit looked on the girl.

Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Tapley, Rt. 1, Amherst.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Proverbs	18	10
Monday	Psalms	53	1-2
Tuesday	Proverbs	29	25-26
Wednesday	Luke	17	33
Thursday	John	14	1
Friday	John	15	7-8
Saturday	Ephesians	3	19-20

A desperate run . . . a frantic slide . . . the feel of the bag against your cleats . . . the belated tag of the shortstop's glove. Then a voice, clear, certain . . . final.

And though the cheers may be laced with hoots and screams of disapproval, you're safe. And nothing can change that fact!

Equally dramatic — and far more important — is the adventure that brings earnest men and women into the Church.

There is a point when we realize the inertia of half-believing. We plunge forward desperately, leaving behind yesterday's skepticism, seeking frantically the Truth that promises meaning and purpose for our life.

Then there's the thrilling moment — the dust of wordly confusion still all around us — when we know in our hearts we have found our faith. And always, above the strains of the organ, even above the clamor of a world unconvinced, there is a voice, clear, certain . . . final — confirming our Faith.

Sudan Schools Hire New Home Economics Teacher

Mrs. Robbie Nell Petty, Roscoe, has been employed as the new Home Economics teacher in Sudan schools. It was announced this week by Supt. W. E. Hancock.

Miss Petty received her B. S. Degree in Vocational Home Economics this summer at West Texas State College, Canyon.

At present reports Supt. Hancock, the high school faculty for the coming school year has been completed, and five vacancies exist in grade school. Still to be secured are two fourth grade teachers and two seventh and eighth grade teachers. Due to the recent resignation of Mrs. Lar gent, another vacancy was created in the first grade.

Other activities being conducted at school include roof repairs that are being made due to hail damage.

Mrs. Joe Kent assumed duties the first of the week as school secretary.

A schedule of registration and pre-school activities is being planned and will be released soon by Supt. Hancock. Registration is being planned during the week of August 22-27. The fall school term will officially get under Aug. 29.

Beth Price, who is spending the summer in the home of her brother, Joe Price and family in Lubbock, was home over the weekend to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Price.

Mrs. Harley Fields and daughter have returned to Waco after visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Price and with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rich.

Beautiful yards highlight summertime around Littlefield homes

By Staff Reporter

ON THE EAST SIDE of the D. W. Holladay home is this outdoor planter box full of plants centered by a Catalpa tree. Perched on the rim is Lin Lindy, granddaughter of Mrs. Holladay.

THE HOLLADAY HOME

Let's stroll a few moments through the yard of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Holladay of 900 Duncan Avenue. Their house and yard cover a three-lot area.

Upon entering the yard we are first met with the sight of several blooming Mimosa trees. There are outdoor planters arranged at intervals over the yard. One of the brick planter boxes contains Nasturtiums, Touch-me-nots, geraniums, peanuts, and other plants surrounding a Catalpa Tree, brought to the Holladays by their daughter's family, the Hollis Smiths. They brought it to them from Dallas last January.

As we stroll along the walk toward the back yard we pass under an arch covered with a beautiful Wisteria Vine, and we find there to our right a Magnolia Tree. It seems that we are now in some semi-tropical area for there is such a variety of plants that we cannot believe it, certainly not in our town.

There are Black Walnut, Apple, Pecan, Peach, Apricot, Plum and even Fig trees (bearing) in this yard. There is a grape arbor, and next to it a large vine of Climbing Okra. From this okra, Mrs. Holladay takes the huge pods, lets them dry, and sprays them with gold paint. They make lovely pieces for table arrangements.

To the left of the garden there are numerous varieties of roses:

Garden Party Roses (resembling the Gardenia), Queen Elizabeth, Peace, Sleigh Bell, Montezuma, Heat Wave, First Love, and others. There are Moroccan Watermelon vines, a Flowering Pomegranite and refrigerator watermelons about the size of cantalopes.

Looking upon the Holladay's front porch we can readily see that their interests are not limited to the outdoors, for there on the porch are many varieties of indoor plants, which have been moved outdoors for the summer weather. There are Elephant Ears, Geraniums, Coleous, Snake Tongue, Philodendrom, Poinsettias, Wandering Jew, Rubber Plants and others.

Yes, we almost feel as if we'd had a short vacation, for just a short while we left the wide-open spaces of West Texas and entered a breathtaking land of beauty! There we could close our eyes and believe that a bit of another world had penetrated our own.

There must be a lovely communion with nature that one enjoys in a hobby like that of Mr. and Mrs. Holladay. Mrs. Holladay cares primarily for the flowers and trees, watering and tending, while Mr. Holladay mows the lawn and cares for the garden.

Thank you, Mr. and Mrs. Holladay for letting us enjoy your magnificent haven.

SHERYL SMITH, another granddaughter of the Holladays displays one of the giant climbing okra pods which are growing in her grand parent's back yard.

MRS. J. R. WILLETT put the ruler to this nine inch dahlia. It is a vibrant color and they have many other colors in their dahlia garden.

THE WILLETT HOME

If you would make a visit two miles south and one mile east of Littlefield to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Willett you will see a sight quite unusual to West Texas.

To the east of their home you will see a magnificent garden of zinnias of various hues and colors. Upon entering the backyard there is a breathtaking view of plants of all varieties. The grass is a soft carpet of African bermuda.

In the mind of a small child I can imagine there are "forests of flowers", with little paths leading out in all directions among the beauty. There are waist-high dahlias covering a large area, and the numerous colors of the large dahlias are rich and beautiful.

There are geraniums, roses, cannas, rubber plants, banana plants, and a various assortment of other plants. With every look you would discover another plant.

Bordering the walk to the flower house to the rear of the garden are Baskets of Gold or summer zinnias. In the flower house you will see a vast array of potted indoor plants such as Jew, Angel Wing Begonia, Geraniums, Joseph's Coat, Donkey-tail Cactus and many others.

Flower gardening is the hobby of Mr. Willett, though Mrs. Willett shares a great interest and enthusiasm in his fervor for his hobby.

Mr. Willett has been told that he could farm quite a bit more land in the time he spends with his flowers and yard. But Mr. and Mrs. Willett have the rare philosophy for this day, that there are some things more important than "bales of cotton." And they are glowing in their delight in this unusual landscape.

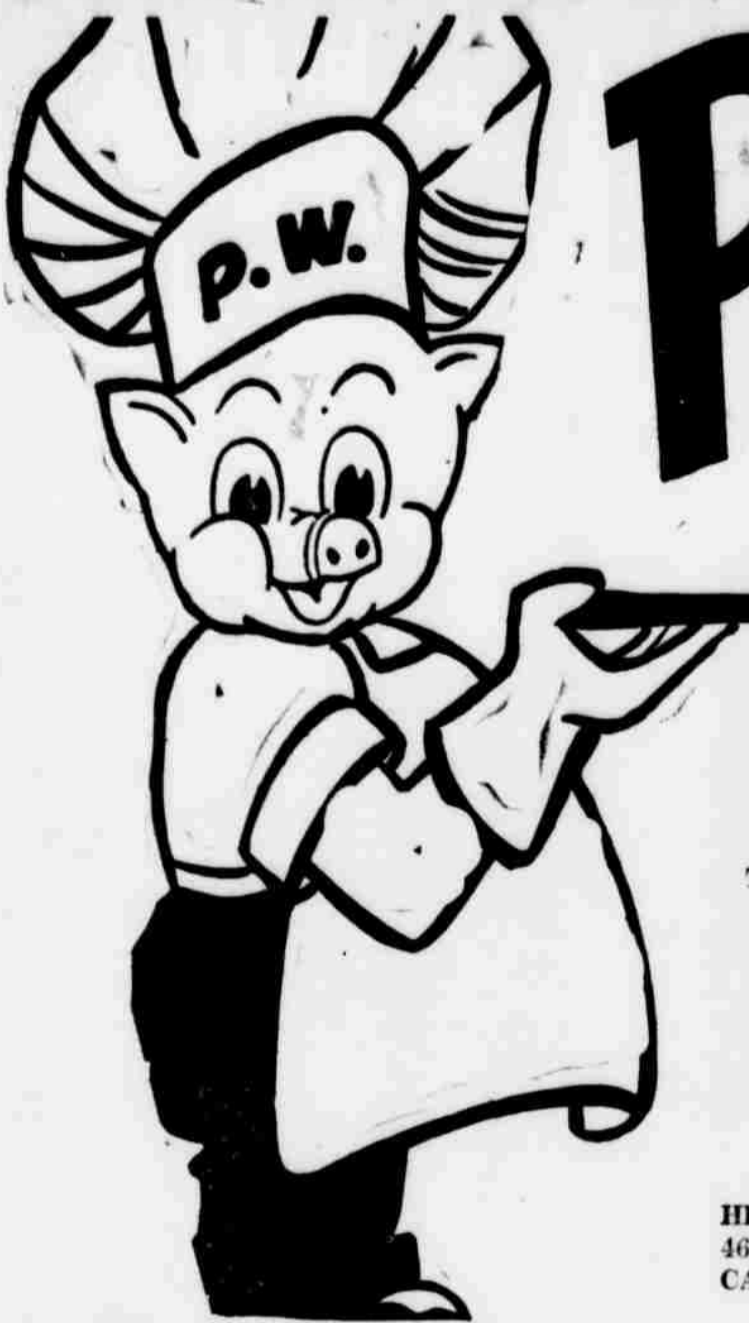

You will not only find beauty in the nearly one-half acre of flowers, but you will feel a genuine friendliness in the folks you encounter.

They are proud folks and they have certainly something of which to be proud!

MRS. D. W. HOLLADAY shows the Littlefield Press Reporter one of her fig trees, which is heavily loaded this year. Her yard also has many other fruit trees.

me there is nothing more dangerous today than the drunk driver. Check the sheriff's office, the police blotter and the highway patrol reports. There are many of these DWI reports every month. The police, the highway patrol and the sheriff's men do their best to catch these temporarily insane individuals who believe that liquor and gasoline will mix, but there is only so much that the officers can do. If it's a first offense, the violator can get by with a fine of $50 and costs and three days in jail. That's the law in Texas.

In fact, first offense DWI cases are so commonplace that few newspapers even report them. Perhaps that is a mistake. The news-papers should report on the DWI cases, even though it is a first offense, should appear in the paper, on TV and over the radio, it would tend to help the public subject which he operates an automobile.

Like some newspaper columns, newspaper advertising can be copyrighted.

In 1933 Justice Oliver W. Holmes declared that advertisements could be owned and copyrighted, even without having any special literary or artistic merit.

An author, business, or agency that puts work and skill into an ad can protect it as a rule with a "general notice of copyright."

One publisher made special road maps for an advertiser, and got them copyrighted; the court held that the advertiser couldn't set these maps to a rival publisher.

In another case a clever picture ran in one ad. The court told a competitor he couldn't use the same picture for his ad.

You cannot copyright some things such as a list of names publicly available or an ad so common it lacks uniqueness.

Most ads are "owned" by the advertiser, not the newspaper or magazine.

Ads which are run to get business may also create property right in a "trade name" of great value to a business even without a copyright.

Besides, a business or product name itself may often be copyrighted. Now and then, unfortunately, a company name may become so well known that without proper protection it can lapse into the common language and lose its character as property.

It can be a crime for anyone to violate a copyright on purpose, and he may have to pay money damages covering all his profits. And then some.

False or misleading advertising can cause loss or suspension of certain business licenses; the police office sometimes gets rough at someone else's mail to advertise fraudulently.

Of course ads aim to brag about one's product — a fact well known to the public. Therefore, within limits, some "putting" is allowed. But the Federal Trade Commission often steps in to advise if they are false or misleading, especially as to factual claims.

(This newsfeature prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

BUT MEANTIME driving becomes more hazardous, even for the most skilful driver, because he never knows when he's going to bump into one of these characters whose brain is so foggy at the moment that he couldn't safely operate a water-garrow, now there are not more drunk driving accidents, I don't know. Except for the grace of God there would be thousands killed every year on Texas highways by these brain-fogged individuals.

For several years this writer was field editor for a large publication, and 30,000 miles of travel a year was about average. One day I took him into many states and over all kinds of roads, and always there was this constant fear that a drunk driver would put an end to his traveling.

There was the time in Iowa, for instance, when a drunk driver forced me into a ditch; two miles down the road he collided with a truck. The result was one dead, three injured . . . and there was the time just out of Chicago when a very drunk driver crossed the center median of a four-lane highway and massed my front fender by inches . . . And there was the time six miles out of Denver when I came upon a wreck that had involved three automobiles, the driver of one of them dead drunk. Four were killed. The drunk driver in that incident got 10 years in the pen — only 10 years . . . And there was the time on a rain-drenched highway just across the Mississippi river from Greenville, Miss., near the little town of Lake Village, Ark., when I came across a truck that had smashed into another truck, the latter loaded with workers. I helped pull the injured and dying out from under the truck. The driver of one of the trucks had been drunk.

All of which may account for my "narrow-mindedness" on this matter of drunk driving. Or am I?

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — About a dozen state agencies thus far have presented their budget requests for the 1961-63 biennium.

As yet, none has failed to ask for more money than it's presently getting.

Many agencies cite Texas' growing population as justification for expansion. They say, in effect, that they are in the same position as the housewife who has to put another potato in the pot to set another place at the table.

Others seek to woo state funds with a "bread cast upon the waters" approach. They contend that money spent on developing the state's resources will come back multiplied in the form of increased state revenue.

Almost all emphasize the difficulties of luring and holding highly trained personnel at present state salaries. Some say, too, that they've been working with a too-short stick for years and need some "keep up with the times" improvements.

Budget proposals are presently being studied by the Legislative Budget Board and the Governor's budget staff. Each will make recommendations, and the final decision will be made next year by the Legislature.

With a money-short, tax-fighting session ahead, it won't be easy for anyone.

These budget requests have been added to those already under study.

STATE PARKS — An investment in state parks is an investment in the Texas tourist industry and a potentially rich source of additional funds for the state treasury.

AGRICULTURE — Complexities of increasingly scientific farming put greater demands on the State Department of Agriculture.

GENERAL LAND OFFICE — A bigger budget is asked by the General Land Office and Veterans Land Board to assure the state's realizing full value from the resources of state-owned land.

A two-year budget of $3,012,330 is asked.

Land Office noted the state now has clear title to 8,000 square miles of tidelands. It wants to employ three soil scouts and a geological director to explore the development of the tidelands' mineral resources. Altogether, 29 new land office employees are being asked.

Land Office claims that for every dollar it has spent in the past 22 years, $30.18 has been returned to the state treasury in revenue.

OSU Alumni Plan Reunion

High Plains Chapter of Alumni and Former Students of Oklahoma State University will regale each other with tales of former student days at their first annual picnic at McKenzie Park, in Lubbock, Sunday afternoon, Aug. 7.

Bob Stanford of Plainview, club president, stated in announcing the picnic "an invitation is extended to all Oklahoma Staters to come. Just bring a picnic basket and your family. The Aggie get-together will commence at 1 p.m. Aug. 7. Just follow the signs at the park entrance to the picnic site."

Officers of the High Plains "Aggies" association in addition to Bob Stanford are C. H. Janeway of Plainview, executive vice president; Emmett Pittman of Kress; Jim Stanford of Plainview; Chester Mitchell of Lockney; Delmar Hayler of Amarillo, district vice president; and Mary Jane Stanford of Plainview, secretary-treasurer.

GAME AND FISH — Game and Fish Commission is asking for what it calls a "status quo" budget, except for salary raises for some of its top technical personnel.

Commission is asking for $12,024,945 for the coming two-year period compared to $11,593,651 for the present biennium.

Executive Director Howard Dodgen declared the commission's top echelon employees are "grossly underpaid" for highly trained persons, some with master's degrees.

STATE COLLEGES — Three colleges, East Texas State, Stephen F. Austin State and Sam Houston State Teachers College, have told the Commission on Higher Education they need more money.

Expected enrollment increases, need for higher faculty salaries and need to lower the student-teacher ratio were cited as reasons for the requests.

East Texas is asking $2,446,553 for the first year, $2,517,125 for the second year of the 1961-63 period. This compares with a present annual budget of $1,678,424.

Steph. F. Austin asks $2,063,715 for the first year, $2,045,603 the second, compared to the present $1,244,570 a year.

Sam Houston wants $2,970,261 for the first year, $2,982,190 the second. Present annual spending is $2,040,677.

These requests, along with all those from state-supported colleges and universities, will be studied and screened by the Higher Education Commission before a recommendation is presented to legislative and executive budget officials.

WHERE TO GET IT — With new spending requests piling up, the search for new money-making plans is ranging far and wide.

Four broad-based tax plans are being considered by tax hunting sub-committee of the Governor's State Finance Advisory Commission.

They are: (1) a payroll tax, paid half by employers, half by employees, (2) a business activities tax adding a percentage to all utility bills, (3) a business activities tax which would combine some of the features of payroll, gross receipts and corporate income taxes and (4) a transfer, which would be similar to a sales tax.

Other ideas suggested to the panel include higher taxes on liquor and beer, sales tax on soft drinks and restaurant meals and a tax on sporting events.

Emory Krauthoefer has been president of the Nat. Bowling League in Milwaukee for 50 years.

HART CAMP NEWS by Sue Moore

Hart Camp Group Attend Floydada Baptist Camp

HART CAMP — The Royal Ambassadors of Hart Camp Baptist Church and their counselors, Larry Timmins and Billy Frank Johnson and their pastor, Rev. Jack Moore, left Monday at 12:30 p.m. for RA Camp at Plains Baptist Assembly Grounds near Floydada.
