Candidates For Shrine Ring

Seven Littlefield Masons, Dr. C. E. Payne, W. J. Chesher, L. C. Hewitt, T. Wade Potter, F. O. Boles, Dr. M. G. Wood, and W. D. T. Storey, will be initiated into the Shrine at the annual spring ceremonial of Khiva Temple, Amarillo, Saturday.

A number of Littlefield Shriners also will be in Amarillo for the ceremonial including Walter LeMond, J. O. Garlington, J. G. Singer, T. S. Sales, J. S. Hilliard, Ulyss Dalmont, and A. R. Hendricks.

Mr. Potter and Dr. Payne are candidates for the Shrine ring. Mr. Hendricks is campaign manager for Mr. Potter and Mr. Garlington is acting in a like capacity for Dr. Payne.

Mr. Hendricks appears to be very active in the interests of his candidate. In fact, Mr. Hendricks, according to Mr. Potter, is too active; T. Wade blushing, spontaneously and vehemently denies the contests of a certain red ink circular that his campaign manager is reported to have had some part in causing to be circulated. Friends have assured their friend, the said Potter, that said circular is a gross exaggeration in many respects and in view of the exceedingly stretched fabrication of the truth that there is without a shadow of a doubt no truth in some details so firingly flaunted to a receptive world.

Dr. Payne, it is reported, is very well satisfied with Mr. Garlington's passive campaign in view of the sizzling hot drive being conducted by Mr. Hendricks in behalf of T. Wade.

THE OUTLOOK FOR PEACE

The abandonment of Ethiopia to the Italians has not made the outlook for peace in Europe any brighter. Mussolini's complete conquest in spite of the protests of the League of Nations has come as a serious disappointment to the pacifists who have clung to the belief that peace can be maintained by persuasion. The hopes that were built upon the supposed power and influence of the League have been rudely shattered.

Italy is now in a position to form new alliances which will strengthen its control of the Mediterranean. Great Britain is unwilling to yield to Italy any control of the approaches to the Suez Canal or the headwaters to the Nile. As matters now stand, Italy could effectively blockade the Canal, and have full control of Lake Tana, from which the Nile derives most of its water. England's supremacy in Egypt is also seriously threatened by the death of King Faud, leaving the monarchy under a 16-year-old boy.

It is not surprising, then, that there is talk of an alliance between Britain and Italy, who were so lately shaking their fists in each other's faces. Italy is in serious financial distress. Britain could give Mussolini's government monetary assistance at a time when it is most needed. France might join in such an alliance for the sake of preventing an alliance between Italy and Germany. At the same time, there is talk of financial assistance from England to Germany, to keep Hitler from attempting the seizure of Czechoslovakia and Austria. Meantime, European powers are engaged in the greatest armament race in all history.

Perhaps all of this is of no concern to the people of the United States, but it seems almost impossible that a European war would not affect this country seriously. In times like these, the nation that wants to stay out of trouble needs to be prepared to meet trouble if it comes.

Are YOU HAPPY After Meals

Or Do Gas on Stomach and Sour Stomach make you Miserable?

Too much food, or the wrong kind of food, too much smoking, too much beer, make your body over-acid. Then you have distress after eating, gas on stomach, heartburn, sour stomach.

ALKA - SELTZER relieves these troubles promptly, effectively.

Use Alka-Seltzer for Headache, Colds, Fatigue, "Morning After Feeling," Muscular, Sciatic and Rheumatic Pains.

Alka-Seltzer makes a sparkling alkaline drink. As it contains an analgesic (Acetyl-Salicylate) it first relieves the pain of everyday ailments and then by restoring the alkaline balance corrects the cause when due to excess acid.

Alka-Seltzer tastes like carbonated mineral spring water—works like magic. Contains no dangerous drugs... does not depress the heart... is not laxative.

CHICKEN AND DUMPLINGS

Then put into kettle of boiling salted water. Cook until tender but be sure not too much. I think the reason so many people do not like this vegetable is because it is dished up to them as an indistinguishable mass instead of a bouquet. That is what it is a bouquet of flowerlets. Think of it that way and you won't disintegrate.

Arrange whole slices of pineapple in bottom. Let harden. Remove a little of the gelatin from the center of pineapple and fill cavity with cream cheese colored pale pink. Serve with Russian Dressing as follows.

1/4 cup Mayonnaise
1/4 cup Indian relish
1/4 cup chili sauce
1/2 tspn. sugar

The GOOSE WOMAN

REX BEACH

INSTALLMENT

Amos Ethridge is a country lane in a country lane. He is a scented sheet of note in his pocket. He was the rich state with power and enough to make candidate. With his death came an unsavory private life, of women and betrayed husbands who had reason to be dead. There was also a political organization called "The Goose Woman" by newspaper men on a small chicken farm that ekes out a poor living and tries to find in drink the forgetfulness of past glories when she was Maria di Nardi, world-renowned opera singer—Gerald Holmes, a talented young artist, is hated and loved by his mother who is embittered because his birth caused the loss of her voice and wrecked her operatic career. He has been befriended by the murdered Ethridge, and is engaged to another of Amos Ethridge's proteges—Hazel Woods, lovely and brilliant young actress, has been helped to success by Ethridge. She lives in a small cottage owned by Ethridge—Jacob Riggs, eccentric old-time actor, now a doorman at the theater where Hazel Woods plays, has appointed himself her guardian and lives in a room over her garage.

He held her tight in his arms.

mindful of the fact that he had been a second-rate singing and dancing comedian in his prime, irreverently referred to him as "the song-and-dance saint."

There were times however, when Jacob proved himself to be anything except saintly, for he had a frayed and ragged temper and he took enormous, if sometimes ill-founded, dislikes to people. On the other hand, his likes were equally decided and he had odd ways of showing them. He had taken a tremendous fancy to Hazel Woods, for instance, and as he put it, he had adopted himself as her "guardian." The first she had known about it was when he moved his belongings into the vacant room over her garage and without consulting her in the least announced his intention of establishing himself as a permanent addition to her household. Argument, protest, had failed to budge him. There he stayed. He dismissed the caretaker employed by the actual owner of the premises, and himself cut the grass.

"Jerry!" she cried. "I'm so glad! You've been gone for ages! Let me look at you." She faced him towards the light. "Why, you look—dreadful! What is it?"

"Nothing!—it has been a trying week." He tried to smile, but his face felt stiff. "I wasn't sure whether you'd want to see me—" He answered her startled, inquiring glance by saying: "It's all so new! I'm not used to it yet. And then, too, those newspaper stories about my mother—"

"Silly!" Miss Woods slipped a gloved hand into the crook of his arm and snuggled her shoulder intimately against his. "Is that all? Well, I'm glad you're back. I've a thousand things to talk about. Come along, we're going home and we'll have a bite to eat there. Where's the little blue oil stove?"

"It's outside at the curb."

"Want to ride home with us, Jacob?" Hazel inquired of the doorman. "Jerry's fireless cooker will carry four."

The old fellow grinned and shook his head. "I gotta lock up. I'll be along later."

"Think of you driving an actress home in your own car!" the girl ran on as she and Gerald left the theatre. "Don't you feel rich and wicked?"

"Not as rich as I did before! I paid my garage bill. I'm afraid I'll bust."

"Nonsense! You're going to make lots of money."

As Gerald helped the speaker into her seat he could not resist planting a hasty kiss upon her cheek. "Oh, careful!" Hazel cast an apprehensive look over her shoulder, but at the same time she clutched his arm in a way that thrilled him. After a while she said: "You didn't write me, once! I'd like to know how you are going to explain that?"

Gerald answered, seriously: "That's what I had in mind back yonder. Our engagement doesn't seem real. It's like a dream. I wondered if you really meant it; if you actually cared for me. Then, too, those wretched newspapers! I told myself you might change your mind—" He heard an incoherent but eloquent and thoroughly satisfying exclamation from the girl at his side. She drew closer and the sensation of her body actually against his rendered him dizzy. It was quite a task to drive; it required stern determination to keep both hands on the steering wheel.

Even during these few moments Gerald had become aware of some subtle change in his fiancée. She had never welcomed him, even before old Jacob, with such unconcealed affection as tonight. He had courted her at little parties, over restaurant tables, on the street or in public places when other people were close by, and he had never actually had her to himself for more than a moment or two; but tonight he was taking her home. For supper! He knew that the one maid she kept "Slept out," and hence for once he could anticipate a real lovers' tete-a-tete, free from interruption. The prospect was enough to render him careless of traffic rules.

It seemed to him that Hazel had never appeared so lovely as when she snapped on the lights in her hall, dropped her light wrap, and turned to him with shining eyes. Her lips were parted, her face was eager; she held out her bare arms. It was a joyous, impulsive gesture of surrender; her look, her attitude, was one of complete abandon. She melted into his embrace, warm, fragrant, throbbing; her lips clung to his and he could feel her tremble in response to his ardor.

After a while the girl withdrew herself, then, flushed and smiling dimly, she disappeared into the dining room. Gerald slowly filled his lungs. He came out of his ecstasy when he heard her in the pantry, and he followed, volunteering to lend her a helping hand. But she laughingly refused his aid.

"No. You must sit down and tell me all about your trip, and how the editors liked your drawings, and what they said, and what you thought about me, and that I'm an adorable actress and the most beautiful creature in the world and that you love me wildly, insanely."

This was an order easily filled to the very letter. While the girl came and went, Gerald talked, answered her breathless interruptions, interrupted her. He watched her with adoring eyes. When she passed his chair he detained her long enough for a caress, and when she finally succeeded, despite his interference, in setting the table, he drew two chairs up side by side.

Probably they ate something, but neither of them could have told what it was.

Hazel was indeed a different girl from what she had ever been before. During his absence her love, it appeared, had suddenly burst from the bud into full bloom. The miracle would have made Jerry completely happy except for that hideous thing in the back of his mind. He tried his best not to think of it, but it would not be ignored; the more openly in word and deed this girl confessed her love, the more his secret distressed him.

"What ails you, dear?" she asked him finally. "You're in trouble of some sort."

He hesitated, then he broke out: "Yes, I am—frightful trouble!" Instantly Hazel's hand closed over his, concern leaped into her eyes; her Suppose you look over our shoulder while we write out the menu for next Sabbath day. First on the list of spiritual foods will be the church school and people of all sizes will dine around tables, each in groups to fit ages—tastes.

Next on the menu is the morning worship. It will offer songs to taste and a sermon, if not exactly to taste, it will endeavor to major in nutritious vitamins. The subject of this course will be, "Every Day Substantials." An increasing number are acknowledging they enjoy these services by their attendance. In fact, we attempt to treat one of life's most amazing problems, "Why is the Righteous Suffer?" We shall endeavor to put life on a substantial basis. Are you worried at this exact spot in life, Try this out!

The evening worship will have as its theme, "Let Your Conscience Be Your Guide." That is a joking expression; but seriously, can our conscience be our guide? If not, what could guide us? It will be our effort to show just how conscience may mislead us. Conscience is not a sure guide! The young people will furnish the music. We'll have a big sing. You might enjoy it. Many do.

DOYLE DYER WINS VALEDICTORY IN SPADE HIGH

Emerging as victor in a close race for honors in the senior class of Spade high school Doyle Dyer, the only boy in a class of five, won the right to represent the class as valedictorian. Although few in number, and thereby handicapped in certain inter-class contests, the senior class was proved itself one of superior attainment in scholarship and one active in extra-curricula activities. Dyer represented the school in extemporaneous speech and won second place in the county; Sarah Smith played the leading role in the one-act play, "Dreams," which took first place in the county. In addition Sybil Keese, Eloise Petty, and Mary Ruth Long, as well as the two mentioned above, have carried a heavy part of the dramatic work in presentations throughout the year. Further, the class has been one of remarkable spirit of co-operation in all matters pertaining to the harmony of management in the school as a whole.

The senior rating for the year follows:

Doyle Dyer—95.26.
Sybil Keese—94.46.
Sarah Smith—92.86.
Eloise Petty—91.80.
Mary Ruth Long—78.57.

JUNIORS GIVE ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

The Assembly Program, Wednesday, May 6, was given by the Juniors. It consisted largely of "stunts" and brought a hearty response from the audience.

It began with a "Negro Sermon" by Delbert Mouser, a sermon in which the dark-visaged "pastor" warned his flock that "they must do better." Followed a characterization under the caption, "Girl of Yesterday and Girl of Today," which permitted Irene Byrne and Pearl Cook to show how girls can change.

After this a vaudeville number by Roy Estes, Walter Dyer, and J. E. Turner explained the cause of accidents. An auto stunt in which many of the class had a part, dramatized Coach Jackson's evening with a lady friend. But it was the last number that "brought the house down." The juniors felt called upon to bury the seniors, so they gave a mock funeral that was very "touching."

There were over forty visitors besides the student body. This number brought the total of registered visitors for the year up to 763. Each class invites parents and friends to attend the programs and sign a register for that particular class. The class securing the greatest number of registered visitors for the assembly programs throughout the year receives a picture as an award. The sophomore class in high school leads the classes with a total of 116 visitors now, with two more programs to go.

SECOND GRADE ENTERTAINS MOTHERS

On Friday, May 8, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon the second grade pupils of Spade Grammar school entertained their parents with a program dedicated to mothers. Those present to enjoy the event were: Mesdames W. T. Cook, A. J. George, A. B. Green, E. C. Ross and her mother, Mrs. Pickens, and Mesdames Ray Johnson, and C. L. Houck. At the close of the program each mother gave a few words of praise and encouragement to the pupils. Refreshments of cookies and candies were served. The program is given below:

Group singing—"Dixie," "Home on the Range," "Wee Duckie Daddies," "The Eyes of Texas," "Texas Pride of the South," "Old Black Joe," and "On the Way to School."

Readings—"When I Grow Up"—Reba Johnson, "What Shall I Give?"—Thelma Lee Cook.

Story—"A Lonely Mother"—Billie Charles Ross.

Reading—"My Mother"—Naomi Leonard.

Rhythm Band—"Beautiful Texas."

FISH AND SOPHS ENJOY PICNIC IN SANDHILLS

As an annual feature of the Spade high school the Freshman class and the Sophomores enjoyed a joint picnic, Friday evening, May 8. They took three cars and a truck to the Sandhills where they roasted wieners and ate their lunches. After an hour or so of various assortments of tumbling, with the ridges of sand for a carpet, the young people gathered around the fire for the toasting of marshmallows. Paul Hyde,

"Bugs" Yearger, and "Runt" Edwards visited and sang songs to the accompaniment of the guitar. The class sponsors gave the group a treat of cold drinks, and, after singing "Home on the Range," the boys and girls tramped back to their cars and home.

There were some thirty classmen there, as well as three teachers. Special guests were, besides the musicians, Mrs. Jack D. Wester and sons and Miss Ima Jewell Love. The class sponsors are Jack D. Wester and Miss Opal Montgomery.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL HAS ASSEMBLY PARTY

In keeping with a custom of two or three years' standing the coaches of the junior teams in Spade grammar school entertained the boys and girls at the school gymnasium, Friday evening, May 8. Mr. Otis Elder and Miss Lois Butler were the coaches and directed the affair this year. There were some 60 boys and girls present from the fifth, sixth and seventh grades. After games of running, contests, and stunt performances the guests were served pop and cookies. Several of the parents were present and had a part in the entertainment.

Among the games played were Newspaper Race, Pasteboard Box Relay, Baseball Mix-up, Apple-on-a-String, and Clothes Line Relay. The young people were full of pep and greatly enjoyed the entire evening. They are more determined to keep the traditional party on the list of things that happen at Spade.

the week-end, particularly Mother's Day, visiting with their parents or with friends. Miss Colene Holland visited with friends at Fieldton. Hart-Olton Road To Be Completed

Work of the road from Hart to Olton is to be resumed May 14, according to Herschel Richards who spent Wednesday of last week in the district WPA office at Lubbock going over the required forms and getting the set-up of the project.

The grade is to be finished and caliche base laid preparatory for the asphalt topping which will be applied when the base is finished, Richards stated. The project calls for employment of 59 men.

A concrete bridge 30 feet wide and 100 feet long will be constructed over the draw north of Olton as part of the road improvement.

The Goose Woman—

tone changed as she urged him to tell her what it was.

"I suppose I must tell you, but—it's like cutting my own throat."

"Why, Jerry?"

"I swore I wouldn't, couldn't—and all the time I knew I'd have to. Tonight, of all nights!" He shook his head and groaned.

The girl eyed him in growing alarm. She had become quite pale when she inquired: "Is it something about—us? You don't want to marry me?"

"Oh, nothing like that. I haven't done anything, either."

"Then it can't matter—"

"Wait! I drove out to see my mother this evening about the Ethridge case."

"Oh, please don't!" Hazel cried, sharply. "Please don't let's talk about that. I can't bear to—to hear it mentioned."

"I've got to talk about it. You see, I knew how she must feel about the way those reporters had treated her, and I was afraid it would set her to drinking again—afraid she might say something or do something to make matters worse. You've been awfully sweet about her, Hazel. Not one girl in a million would have been so charitable."

"She isn't the only woman in the theatrical profession who has fallen on hard times and—gone back. You shouldn't feel so ashamed—"

"You don't know her. I never knew her until tonight — I've had a pretty bitter, pretty unhappy experience for a young fellow. I was convinced that she had talked or would talk so much that they'd call her for a witness, put her on the stand—Well, that would mean the whole wretched story, understand? Publicity! Gossip! Scandal! Lord knows it's going to be hard enough for me to face what has already come out. If it weren't for you I think I'd run away from Westland."

"I found that she had been drinking. We always quarrel when she's like that. She misconstrues everything I say, resents everything I do; something devilish and cruel comes out in her. I suppose she must have some maternal affection for me, somewhere, but she succeeds in concealing it mighty well. It was the same as usual tonight. We had a terrible row. She broke out finally and told me how she hated me and why; told me why she had always stood in my way and tried to strangle whatever talent I had. Oh, it was—hideous . . . You're the only person to whom I shall ever reveal what she told me: I've got to tell you, no matter what the consequences."

Gerald repeated in a few short sentences the story he had heard from his mother's lips. It was not a pretty story; he made no effort to soften it. "Imagine hearing a thing like that from—your mother! I try to tell myself it's a nightmare; that she didn't say anything of the sort or that she was lying. But she wasn't lying. Worst of all, she confessed casually, without the slightest feeling, that she had been—bad!"

"Rose Marie" To Be Shown At Palace This Week End

To anyone like myself who had never been on one, a location is a real experience. It's like being plucked out of the familiar routine of your home town and set down suddenly in a strange country. It has all the pleasures and disadvantages of such an event.

Fortunately, my first location was to one of the world's beauty spots, Lake Tahoe, in the Sierra Nevada, about five hundred miles north of Hollywood.

Fortunately, too, I wasn't the only one in the troupe being christened. It was also Nelson Eddy's first experience with away-from-home scenes.

The picture, as you probably know, is Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Rose Marie," my first since "Naughty Marietta," which will be featured at the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday.

Unless you've seen Tahoe, you can't appreciate its beauty. It is more than a mile high, rimmed by mountains, blanketed in fir, pine and cedar. The water is Emerald blue in the deep parts (so deep they've never found bottom) and Nile green where it's shallow. We lived in identical, individual cabins, boasting a bed, chair, bath and a rather ineffectual electric heater. Meals were served in a big, plain dining room at the lodge.

Hazel turned, ran after him, drew him back to the couch upon which they had been sitting. "You poor boy!" she exclaimed. When she tenderly put her arms about him a wave of relief swept over him; he completely lost control of himself and gave way to his grief. He hid his face upon her shoulder. Like a mother she comforted him. "Nothing is going to make any difference with me, so long as you love me. She told you that no nice girl would have you and you believed her, did you? You foolish, sensitive Jerry! As if you were responsible for her sins! For that matter, I'm not a 'nice' girl; I'm a wicked actress." The speaker actually laughed, as if in relief.

"It's—it's more than a disgrace I haven't any name to offer you," Jerry's words were earnest.

"Sh-h! Is it your fault that you're a 'love child'? Why, my dear, that's where your genius come from and I adore your genius as much as I adore you. Nothing can shame that. You're going to be a great artist—oh, I know it!—and I can help you; I can make you become great. No man ever succeeded or failed very greatly, ever became very good or very bad, without a woman to help."

Jerry clutched the girl fiercely and she took delight in the pain of his embrace.

Announcing The Opening of The— Cotton Seed Delinting Plant In Littlefield

This week we are opening a modern cotton seed delinting plant in Littlefield and will operate the plant both day and night during the planting season. Seed will be delinted on a custom basis.

Delinted Seed Saves Money And Labor—

Actual experiments show that delinted seed save time and money. They may be planted with a corn planter and from 5 to 7 pounds is all that is required to plant an acre. Delinting seed hastens maturity from 10 to 15 days . . . less moisture is required . . . cotton chopping is eliminated . . . and the process kills all cotton diseases usually carried in the seed.

Farmers Who Know Recommend Delinted Seed—

Farmers throughout Texas and Oklahoma who have used delinted seed, send many letters of praise concerning this new economical discovery in the raising of cotton. They say that delinted seed makes many times as much cotton as fuzzy seed . . . they say there is less production cost . . . and they gladly recommend it to you. You will not be out one cent for delinting your seed. We will take part of the seed you save for our service.

Million Commercial Ford Cars Licensed As Of January 1

A total of 1,424,760 Ford truck and commercial car units were licensed for operation in the United States as of January 1, 1936, a report to the Ford Motor Company disclosed today. The total of all trucks and commercial cars licensed to operate at the outset of the year was 3,535,661, a gain of 7.9 per cent over 1934. More than 40 per cent of the total were Ford units. The total of Ford truck and commercial car units in service was more than 51 per cent greater than the units of any other manufacturer which were licensed to operate on that date and the only make to total more than a million units. This Ford fleet was increased by almost 90,000 units in 1935 as a result of the licensing of 172,544 new Ford V-8 units and the retirement of only 82,709 old Ford models during the year. Nearly 1,000,000 of the Ford truck and commercial car units in operation were V-8 and other models manufactured since 1928, the report disclosed. A total of 468,156 units, however, were of the Model T and TT type, a remarkable tribute to the endurance of this famous model.

Sanders, Eugene Latimer and Floyd Hemphill were in charge.

Next Tuesday night troops from Lamb and Bailey counties will gather here for district organization at the Methodist church at 7 p. m., following which, and at 8 o'clock will be the court of honor for the troops and their leaders.

new revenues to reduce the ad valorem tax load. Attention was called to "the burden of property taxes" and claimed it was unfair for property to pay three-fourths of all taxes while representing only one-third of the state's wealth.

Other resolutions recommended by the convention work committee and adopted by directors:

Approved government feed and seed loans.

Pledged support of the proposed Big Bend international park.

Asked a fair allocation to West Texas of soil conservation bill benefits.

Suggested development of underground water sources and the building of dams on West Texas streams.

Criticized federal land bank foreclosures of farm and ranch homes in the dry section of West Texas and asked an investigation of such foreclosures.

Besides the 10 district directors, the organization elected 192 directors representing 177 towns in the area served by the regional chamber.

Governor Jimmy Allred, who led a jazz band to his first West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Amarillo, received a rousing welcome at a banquet given in his honor.

Except to promise that the next legislature would make every effort to have an insane asylum built somewhere in West Texas, Allred didn't have much to say along the serious line. Most of his brief talk was devoted to telling how glad he was to be in West Texas again—particularly as it seemed a place where he wasn't criticized for his traveling.

their way, get in nobody's way. And here's their latest vow: They're going to the Dallas Centennial outburst in a covered wagon.

When we first heard about that covered wagon, we sort of pictured in our minds the motion picture covered wagon pulled by many horses and with Indians seeking the scalps of pioneers vending their way into the promised land—a land with rivers and a soil so rich—sort of like whipped cream with too much sugar in it.

But investigation revealed: That this covered wagon is a miniature affair, something about the size of one of Joe Wells' wheelbarrows, and that the said wheelbarrow-size wagon is to be pulled by a burro. We haven't seen the burro, but we presume that it is of suitable height, width and length to do a satisfactory job of pulling the conveyance. And speaking of conveyances, and knowing the dimensions of the covered wagon under discussion, we have come to the conclusion, Thomas and Elton, that thou wilt walk all thy way into Dallas, lest thou weary the burro with thy weight.

And, furthermore, dear young men about town, it is our devout opinion that thy burro will start thumping rides down about three quarters of a mile to the other side of Anton. Will 'hou do likewise, my dear young men?

YOU SHOULD SEE

"ROSE MARIE!" Now we don't want all the married men in town and hereabouts to start asking us for information. "Rose Marie" is a beautiful talking picture with supreme acting and singing that takes you back to those romantic days when you courted your wife.

We went to see Rose Marie—beg pardon, the picture "Rose Marie," when we were in Kerrville, and can recommend and commend the production.

Perhaps Bill Chesner will tell you that "Rose Marie" is a wow; the picture will be shown at one of his deluxe the-a-ters, my friends. SEE "ROSE MARIE!" SEE "ROSE MARIE!" NEXT WEEK END, FOLKS!

BUSINESS OFFICE TALK!

We should charge Bill so much per line for the foregoing. But why be unkind? Bill's wife has been out of town and the poor boy is just simply wasting away, grief stricken, heart fair-

HORRORS!

The Yo-Yo top has returned. Perhaps our spelling is very bad, very bad, but, anyhow, you all know what we mean.

Up and down the street, down and up the street, they Yo-Yo, Yo-Yo. Don't be the least bit surprised if you happen to see the editor of this great family journal Yo-Yo-ing into some store and saying: "Yo-Yo, Yo-Yo, we would like an ad to Yo-Yo on our way up to the office to help the Minister of Finance pay the bills."
