HILBUN A BANKER IS NEW PRESIDENT

Stock of A. R. Hendricks in First National Bank of Littlefield

Hilbun, of Roby, Texas has the stock of A. R. Hendricks in the First National Bank, and has been elected by the Directors to succeed Mr. Hendricks as president of the institution.

Hilbun is an old friend and associate of K. F. Allbright, the First National Bank, many years being mutually associated in the bank at Roby.

Hilbun brings with him to a successful banking experience of 12 years. A few years ago he was elected first vice-president of the First State Bank. The institution was in a critical condition, but under the management of Mr. Hilbun it was whipped into first class condition and ever since it has been a success. Dividends to stockholders amount to 12 per cent or better. Hilbun's association with a Leader Bank is a success. Hilbun stated he was keeping an eye on Littlefield some time past and had been waiting for the opportunity to enter the banking business. When Mr. Hendricks decided to sell his interests in the local bank, Hilbun did not take them very long to reach an agreement which Hilbun is now making with the Roby bank and Littlefield.

"You have a wonderful future here," said Mr. Hilbun. "I know of no section anywhere that has such a glow-out look as this particular section. I am glad to be one of your good officials as well as personally as well as good officials of the bank. I am connected, I want to be much aid to the town and as possible."

Hilbun understood that Mr. Hendricks, who with his father has taken on a large telephone system and will probably close in the near future. During Hilbun's residence here he has of Littlefield's leading and young business men. While Hilbun is undecided as to his business connections, it is still retains considerable interests here and will his relations here entirely.

MAN IS ROBBED WATCHES ALSO $300 DOLLARS

Hilbun, residing at the home of I. H. Singer, eight miles from Littlefield, was robbed last night of $300 in cash and a watch, valued at $75. His same time lost a watch, valued at $25, also a small amount of jewelry.

At three o'clock Sunday morning Hilbun was awakened by unknown noise and claims to be a man standing by the door which her husband's trousers gave the alarm, but before Hilbun could get to the door, he had escaped.

A reward of $50 has been offered for the man. Hilbun has been working in Littlefield for two months as being 26 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall, slim face and dark complexion.

WIFE SELLS BUSINESS

Wingfield of Levelland has sold the jewelry and watch business of C. C. Fletcher, the Stokes & Alexander business. Wingfield has had 19 years experience in his line.

Wingfield has built 1,005 miles of road which is far more than in any other state. Florida has the most.

BUYS BACK LFD. HOTEL

J. C. Whicker has purchased the Littlefield hotel, taking charge of it June 1st. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Simpson, former owner during the past year, have gone to Sweetwater, where they will spend some time visiting friends before establishing a new location.

Mr. and Mrs. Whicker were former owners of Littlefield's leading home for transients and will be again welcomed into business circles by the traveling public, as their fine service and courteous treatment has always been greatly appreciated by their patrons.

LITTLEFIELD IS VISITED BY GOOD RAIN MONDAY

Mud, mud, mud, dear old delicious mud! Just what the folks of this section have been hoping for, some of them praying for during the past 60 days that precipitation generally has been withheld over the South Plains of Texas. But it came Monday night—a copious shower, dampening everything except the appreciative enthusiasm of the citizens of this vicinity. Nor was it just a little refreshing drizzle, either. It began shortly after midnight, continuing on until the wee hours of morning, with a few little sprinkles about time for Old Sol to arise as Jupiter Pluvius was taking his departure for a pleasant visit to some other section.

Tuesday morning when the citizens of Littlefield and surrounding community arose from their nightly slumbers the roads were muddy, the lawns were soft, the yards and gardens were green and refreshed and an over-flow of the super-abundance of H₂O was quietly reposing in the ditches and bar pits along the roadsides, slowly but surely percolating into the soil to bring forth vegetation rich and luxuriant.

Just what caused the God of Rain to look westward beyond the Mississippi valley where, for the past three months, his visitations have been more than a blessing is unknown. Last Friday a prayer meeting of all the churches were apparently answered, when a regular cled-smasher, ground soaker and gully washer swooped down upon that territory, extending as far north as Whitharral and Lums chapel, and west to the Yellow House ranch headquarters. Eastward there was also good rains Sunday afternoon. Lubbock was visited by the liquid elements, the precipitation reaching northwest as far as three miles west of Anton where it gradually drizzled out. East of Lubbock, as far as Crosbyton there was also heavy showers.

Thousands of acres of farm land surrounding Littlefield have been in preparation for seeding for the past month, the farmers resting killy upon their plow handles awaiting the moisture necessary for seed germination. Now it is here, more than enough, and before the week is over the click and hum of planters will be heard in every direction running from early morn until late at night. Cotton may be planted in this section as late as June 10th to 15th so there is still plenty of time to raise another bumper crop of the fleecy staple, and with every indication that the price will be much better than that of last year.

BULL DAM PICNIC

A delightful picnic was enjoyed by five couples Friday evening. They met about seven o'clock and drove to Bull Dam, where supper was spread and various games of childhood days were indulged in. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Beeman Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Condra, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Richards, and Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Walden.

TO SUE FOR TAXES

Notices of delinquent taxes for the year 1925 are now being mailed out to property owners, according to City Clerk, E. C. Cundiff, and all cases of delinquency have been placed in the hands of the city attorney for suits to be filed if collections are not promptly made.

TEXAS UTILITIES REDUCE RATE ON SUMMER HEATING

No need of anyone getting cool during these summer months that are now rolling on. The Texas Utilities Co., through its local plenipotentiary, R. E. McCaskill, announces a reduction of one cent per kilowatt on the heating rate, which brings the cost down exactly one-fifth net. The reduction is effective on all June bills payable the first of next month and embodies the entire territory covered by this company.

LEVELLAND LINE TO COST $40,000 TO LITTLEFIELD

Work of construction will soon start on the line between Littlefield and Levelland, according to local Manager R. E. McCaskill, of the Texas Utilities Co., who states that all material is now in transit and invoices for same have arrived. As soon as the material is placed on the ground the actual work of construction will begin.

Employees of the company have been busy during the past two months signing up right-of-ways, and it is understood these have now been practically all secured, and everything is in readiness for the construction gang, which will be in charge of A. B. Chase, general construction foreman for the company, and under direction of R. E. McCaskill, the Littlefield manager. The total cost of this new line will be $40,000, according to material and labor estimates furnished a Leader representative.

The new line is to be of material used for such purposes, the wire being No. 2 aluminum, carrying 23,000 volts and strung on Weitz-Nord insulators, a new type said to furnish the most complete insulation yet known to the electrical world.

With the completion of this line to Levelland and the connections to Ropesville and Meadows Littlefield will then have three high line connections out of the central power plant at Lubbock, thus insuring three opportunities of current for local lighting and power, a practical 100 per cent guarantee of uninterrupted service. It will be the only town on the South Plains having such connections and possible three way service.

The value of public school libraries in Texas is approximately $1,855,500.

SHERIFF LEN IRVIN PROPOSES ORGANIZING A SOCIETY TO PROTECT RIGHTS OF TALL MEN

Len Irvin, high sheriff of Lamb county, and tallest sheriff of the west, has about reached the point of exasperation. Just a few days ago he stepped into the Leader office, knocking off his nine gallon Stetson hat as he hastily came through the doorway, forgetting to stoop in his eagerness to pass along an important news item. "Dog gone these ordinary doors!" exclaimed the super-elongated official, "I'll shore be glad when the style changes so they'll build 'em big enough for full grown folks. Living in a land of dwarfs has its terrible drawbacks." We agreed with him, largely because we didn't dare to do otherwise, seeing he wasn't in a tolerably agreeable frame of mind and had a 45 smoke pole buckled onto his starboard hip.

Encouraged by our favorable comment, the sheriff continued: "I've been thinking for some time that we full grown men ought to organize a society of our own and through it try to get some of our inherent rights as American citizens. This organization would include all male members of the genus homo who stand six feet and one inch or more in height. I'm going to take the matter up with Governor Dan Moody right away. I understand Dan stands six feet one inch in his socks, and he is in a position to put the thing over."

Evidently the sheriff had been doing considerably serious thinking about the matter. "There are more than a million and a half men in the United States today," he said, "who are built on the same linear principles as myself, and we are entitled to fair play." Here the tall gentleman drew from his pocket a piece of paper on which he had jotted down just a few reasons for his proposed organization.

"For instance," he said, "Fashion has refused men of my type the privilege of a comfortable night's rest in a bed of ample length.

"We have the alternative of walking or doubling up jack-knife fashion if we preambulate in a Lizzie car, and a Chev., which I drive, ain't much better.

"On a certain stated occasion we tall men are required by King Fashion to wear a plug hat, yet we are never reimbursed when those hats get wrecked by coming in contact with overhead signs and awnings that are out of reach from the ordinary rabble but too confounded close for a full grown man.

"Everytime we sit down to eat we have to hold the table on our knees to partake of our nourishment. "In a Pullman berth it is torture all night long, the injury being accentuated by the surcharge.

We have to go through life listening to such names as "Splinters," "Skinny," "Shorty," "Tiny," "Shad-ow," "Slim"—and sometimes even worse.

"It's shore time for us real he-men to demand our rights!" And with that exclamation the Honorable Sheriff of Lamb County, Texas bolted for the door scraping the top of his lid again as he ducked out—forgetting to tell us what he came in for. Such is the life of a tall man—and such are the hardships of a country newspaper editor to obtain interesting news. But we're strong for Len anyway, and are right back of that new society idea of his.

PLATEAU SINGING CONVENTION HELD AT PLAINVIEW, TEX.

The annual Plateau Singing Convention will be held in Plainview next Saturday and Sunday, June 11 and 12, and arrangements are being made to take care of 10,000 singers from all over this part of Texas and New Mexico. The organization covers more than 40 counties of this section.

In attendance at this meeting there will be some of the best individual singers and music organizations of the west. The well known Stamps, Vaughn and Trio Music Co., quartets, the Plateau quartet, of Clovis, led by President John F. Taylor, the Littlefield four led by Lloyd Robertson, the Redland, N. M. square led by Vice-president Fred Hodges, as well as many others.

The meeting will last two days, during which time it will be one continual songfest. Plainview is planning numerous entertainment features for the occasion.

Three years ago Littlefield had the honor of entertaining this convention, defraying all expenses incident thereto, as well as furnishing about $300 for bringing here some of the best musical organizations throughout the country. Several of Littlefield citizens are members of the organization and will attend the convention at Plainview.

Texas has approximately 11,697 public school buildings valued at $108,327,862.

FIREMEN'S EVENT ATTRACTS CROWD HERE SATURDAY

The contests staged on Main street last Saturday afternoon by the Littlefield Fire Department proved both interesting and entertaining, attracting a large crowd of enthusiastic spectators.

Incidentally the fire ladders were doing a little practise work in preparation for the annual meet of Texas firemen to be held at San Antonio, June 1-14th. Two teams participated in the event, the first of which was the hose connectio race, won by Harry Wiseman's team. A run of about 350 feet was made from the city hall to main street where connections were made and water flowing through the hose in 36 seconds. The second team, made the run and connection in 33 seconds, but owing to a cross-thread connection which didn't hold, were disqualified from the first honors. In as much as the world's record for this event is 24 seconds for a 300 foot run on a straight street, considering the local boys had to make one turn and then run more than the 300 feet, the record is considered very satisfactory.

The next event was a ladder drill, the opposing teams running two blocks, throwing a ladder up to the second story window with a man mounting it at its height in 12 seconds. Jack Hopping was in the lead with Carl Smith a close second.

An event which caused considerable amusement was a water fight between two negro teams. A collection, amounting to $5.00 was laid on the turning block in the center of the street and two teams of the blacks, consisting of three men each were given a fire hose with the water turned on full force. The east side team succeeded in fighting its way first to the turning block, securing the money after which the fight was continued, the west side team finally defeating the successful financiers.

The event was greatly appreciated by all who had the privilege of witnessing it, and many were heard to press their desire that more of such entertaining features might be held in Littlefield on Saturdays.

The teams participating in the event were as follows:

- Team No. 1
- H. W. Wiseman, driver
- L. Lowe, hose
- Doc Miller, plug
- A. Dunagin, nozzle
- Jim Harless, B. hose
- J. T. Street, break hose
- Team No. 2
- Slim Sellers, driver
- Carl Smith, hose
- R. E. McCaskill, plug
- Jake Hopping, nozzle
- A. A. Anderson, B. hose
- Pat Boone, break hose

OIL STRUCK IN WELL DRILLING NEAR FIELDTON

Much interest is being aroused in this section as a result of oil struck last week in a well being drilled on the Mullican ranch, 10 miles east of Fieldton and about 20 miles from Littlefield. During the past week hundreds of people from all over this section have visited the well to see for themselves the liquid black gold that is standing in the hole.

The oil was struck at a depth of 420 feet, according to available information, and is standing nearly 200 feet high in the hole. A test given it showed 46 gravity, unusually high. There is a cave-in of the hole amounting to about 100 feet, which the workmen are now clearing out.

Driller John Keagen stated that a thorough test of the present status will be made before further drilling is continued.

Several experienced oil men have visited the well, many of them declaring there are strong probabilities that this well may be the beginning of a wide shallow oil field to be opened in this section.

William Moir, now 80, has sung in the choir of St. Peter's church at Chertsey, Eng., since he was 10 years old.

ASSOCIATION FOR EX-STUDENTS TECH NOW ORGANIZED

Lubbock, Texas, June 9.—Pledging their unstinted support toward the betterment of the institution in future years, the members of the first graduating class of the Texas Technological College met at the banquet table of the Lubbock Hotel following their graduation exercises Monday and organized the first alumni and ex-students association of the organization to be known as the Texas Tech alumni and ex-students association. E. W. Camp, jr., of Lubbock, was elected president; Charles W. Ratliff, of Lubbock, vice-president; Dewey H. Roberts, of Elms, secretary-treasurer and Miss Mary Hope Westbrook, of Sipe Springs, corresponding secretary.

Laying their plans for the coming year, the students centered their activities around the construction of a memorial archway to the Tech campus in memory of Richard M. Chitwood, late business manager of the college and one of the founders of the institution. A telegram was read to the class from Amos G. Carter, of Ft. Worth, past chairman of the board of directors, who asked for a part in the building of the arch. Numerous friends in Lubbock and Sweetwater have asked for a part in the work also. The committee, headed by H. B. Carroll, of Lubbock, decided to give the state legislature a chance to donate to the fund also as Mr. Chitwood was a member of the house for several terms.

The association will publish a quarterly magazine which will give complete news of the work of the association, news of the school and the whereabouts of the graduates and ex-students. C. W. Ratliff, of Lubbock, who has been prominent in the publications during his time at Tech, will be editor of the magazine and the first edition will be out soon after the opening of school next fall.

A date was set for the first reunion of the class, but members expressed a desire that everyone be present for the Texas A. & M. and Tech football game here next fall.

SALUTATORY

By CHARLES T. FOUST
Class of 1927, Littlefield High School

The Garden of the World is a paradise of miracles and wonders. In every tiny seed is the eternal glory of creation. In every blossom, the promise of the greater possibilities of which the fruit is a perfect fulfillment.

Tonight, we, as a class are just pushing out from the tiny seed to grow upward into perfect expression of maturer life. All these years we have been sheltered in the tiny sphere of the seedling, protected from the rougher elements of the soil and air, and played upon by every nourishing force that was necessary for our unfolding. No effort of nature has been spared to awaken each spark of life in us to individual expression and to assist the vital thing within to come forth at this time and manifest to the world the wonderful reality of its being.

Friends, my school has conferred upon me the great honor of speaking the words that shall bid you welcome here this evening. I am grateful for this mark of favor, but still as I look upon your faces so much more clearly marked with the lines of wisdom and wider experiences than ours may be for many years yet to come. I cannot but feel that the words of welcome should come from you. To be sure you have demonstrated your interest in us by coming here this evening, yet it is we who are passing out into your midst, we who are joining in the larger school of progress. We are becoming one with you in the social and business centers that make up active life. Is it not we then who should ask for the glad hand of welcome?

Is it not we who are the outsiders seeking for admission to your association and favors? Is it not we who must step forth and demand our share in all that has been yours for so long.

We do truly thank you most humbly for your coming and trust that each of you may have every cause to long remember with a thrill of pleasure the association of this hour. We crave from each of you as we step forth into your midst the warm handshake and the cordial smile that will assure us of your joy at bidding us welcome.

SHERIFF GETS 300 BOTTLES OF BEER FROM YARD

Sheriff Len Irvin last Tuesday night made a raid on the Littlefield wagon yard, located on the state-highway, taking about 300 bottles of home-brew found in a building on the premises. He also found about 100 "dead soldiers" in the same room. No arrest were made. The yard was said to be in charge of Cliff Harden, according to Irvin.

Last week Irvin made a raid on a Sudan garage, capturing 1,000 bottles of beer and placing Woodward Lee under arrest in connection. Lee was afterward released on bond of $1,000, according to Irvin.

Irvin declares he is going to put a stop to the "slick top" business that is being carried on in various public and private places. He insists there are enough law-abiding citizens in Lamb county to back him up in his efforts to enforce the law and urge their co-operation in assisting him.

LOCAL TALENT PLAY WAS PRONOUNCED BIG SUCCESS

Rosetime, a three act musical comedy, directed by Miss Hazel Jane Kenley, of Atlanta, Ga., and sponsored by the Parent-Teacher's Association, staged Tuesday evening, was unanimously acclaimed one of the best entertainments ever given in Littlefield.

Each character, as played by local talent, was unique and entertaining. The first and second act was interspersed by a queen and 25 little fairies, followed by seven charleston dancers, which was a touching scene when all the little fairies fell asleep in the old rose garden.

The chorus girls were equal to any of Broadway, and the parade of the wooden soldiers would have equaled any evening's entertainment.

The proceeds of the play will be used for the high school library.

MISSIONARY MEETING

The Missionary society of the Methodist church, met Monday afternoon for a business session at the church, with a large number of members in attendance.

The opening song, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," was followed by a Scripture reading by the president, and a prayer by Mrs. W. P. Kirk.

Mrs. B. L. Cogdill, Mrs. Ed Sharp and Mrs. E. H. Williams were appointed as flower committee.

The auxiliary was asked to join the cemetery association, which has been recently organized.

The audience was dismissed in prayer by Mrs. Ed Sharp.

GOOD CROP MIXTURE

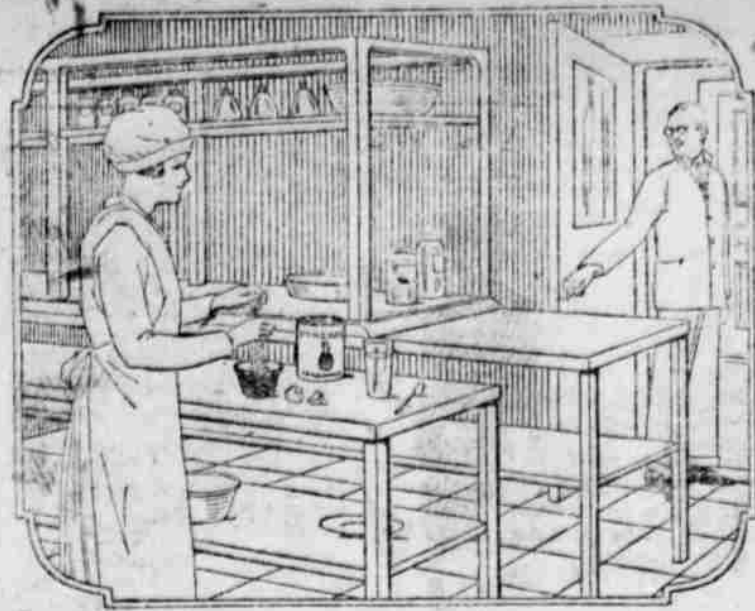

Soybeans and Sudan grass are excellent crops for growing in mixture. Not only a better yield, but a better balanced forage is obtained, as the Sudan grass is low and the soybean high in protein. The mixed hay is easily harvested and cured. It is cut for hay about the time the soybean seeds are half grown. The best results are obtained by broadcasting, using about 50 pounds of seed, either the Wilson or Virginia variety or soybeans, and 10 pounds of Sudan grass seed to the acre.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

At a meeting of the directors, Littlefield Cemetery Association, held last week, G. W. Hargrove was elected president, Mrs. Pat Boone, vice-president and Mrs. B. L. Cogdill, secretary-treasurer.

Arrangements were made for incorporation to secure charter for same and title to the ground plot, after which arrangements to finance the organization will be taken up.

The red color sometimes admired in devil's food cake is due to the use of more soda than is necessary to neutralize the acid in the sour milk and chocolate. This results in taking into the body more soda, or free alkali than is desirable, as one does when serving hot biscuits made yellow with an excess of soda. Too red a devil's food cake, therefore, is not good.

DIETETIC IMPORTANCE OF CANNED PINEAPPLE

WITH almost seven million cases of canned pineapple exported annually from Hawaii, an increased interest is being shown by scientists and physicians in the role which pineapple plays in dietetics.

Canned pineapple, rather than the fresh fruit, is the subject of a great deal of the scientific investigation, since the fresh pineapple which we get in this country has been picked green, and therefore contains less food value than the canned product which has been picked at maturity.

Experiments at the Hawaiian Agricultural Experiment Station have shown that during the growth of the fruit relatively small amounts of sugar are stored in it, but within the short period of normal ripening there is a rapid accumulation of sugar. Therefore pineapples gathered green do not develop a normal sugar content.

Vitamins A, B, and C, are found to a marked extent in pineapple, these investigations showed, and further experiments made at Columbia University, New York City, proved that all three of these vitamins were retained in the process of canning. Besides being a rich source of vitamins, canned pineapple contains thirty-six per cent of carbohydrate and several of the most important mineral salts. Its juice contains "bromelin," a highly digestive juice, which is especially beneficial in aiding the digestion of meats.

Physicians, realizing the value of these elements contained in pineapple, have found certain specific uses for it, notably in diphtheria cases where the juices have proved very soothing to the throat. Owing to the digestive properties in pineapple, it is also used in many hospitals for invalids and convalescents. It not only aids in the digestion of other foods, but is a spur to the appetite.

Certain grades of "crushed" pineapple and a small quantity of sliced are packed especially for diabetic patients without sugar. With the exception of these few cases packed for medicinal purposes, all other pineapple contains the rich syrup made from refined pineapple juice and pure cane sugar.

Housewives who are using the largest part of the seven million cases of pineapple exported every year from Hawaii, will find in this product not only the delicious tropical tang which lends itself to a variety of uses in the meal, but valuable nutritive and digestive qualities which should give it a regular place in the daily menu.

BULL ASSOCIATION

Membership in a good bull association enables a dairyman of moderate means to herd his herd with a high class animal, says the United States Department of Agriculture. A group of farmers organize and purchase dairy sires with good records. These sires are exchanged between communities every two years, so that each farmer in the association has the use of a good sire over a fairly long period. Information about organizing a bull association may be obtained from the United States Department of Agriculture.

It is a good idea to begin the education of the colt as early as possible. A good plan is to break the colt to lead before it is weaned, and to harness between the ages of 2 and 3 years. Never work a colt after he is tired, in order to prevent obstinacy and render him willing and obedient.

Roasts from the so-called tender cuts are better if cooked without water. Sear the outside at a high temperature to keep the meat juices within, then lower the temperature somewhat and roast for 15 to 20 minutes to the pound.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

The words of his mouth were smoother than butter, but war was in his heart; his words were softer than oil, yet were they drawn swords.—Ps. 55:21.

Words are grown so false I am loath to prove reason with them.—Shakespeare.

OUR NEWEST HERO

From present indications it is going to be a long time before the world quits talking about Charles Lindbergh and his flight across the Atlantic ocean. If there ever was a time when one name was on everybody's tongue it has been since this product of a middle-western town landed in Paris. He is a typical son of the soil, a real American boy; he carries no high-sounding college degrees; he never had but $2000 in his life and that sum, which he earned carrying the mail, he put into his airplane. He didn't have millionaires backing him, and he doesn't know what "pull" means. He is the same type of boy we can find right here in Littlefield and on the farms surrounding us. That is what makes people continue to praise him, and to be thankful for such examples of young Americanism. It will be a long time before we tire of praising Lindbergh—and if he gets his just deserts the world never will quit sounding his name.

Some powder goes off with a bang, but most of it goes on with a puff.

IN VACATION TIME

If you want to do something of real service, if you want to help the boy who has just finished a school term and who has the long days of summer ahead of him, find something for him to do from now until he has to go back to his books in the fall. The curse of the world is idleness and it is just as harmful to the growing boy as it is to the man who prefers loafing to laboring.

It needn't be a highly important job you give him, either. Anything to keep his mind occupied and his time employed is good for him. Any thing is better for him than running the streets or tearing about over the country in search of adventure. If he earns a few dollars, all the better. But that is secondary in importance—the big thing is that he is cultivating a love for work and learning something that will be worth money to him in later years when he needs it most.

Littlefield parents who encourage their boys to work during the vacation season can give you many reasons why it is the best thing for the boy. The teachers can tell you, too, that the boy who spends his vacation in idleness is not the most advanced in his classes. Of course they have to play. But a little work and a little play is the best mixture for them. An entire vacation spent in idleness is the worst thing a father or mother could wish upon their son. So help the boy out if he comes to you seeking employment, or even an odd job. You'll be doing not only the boy but the entire community a genuine favor.

Present day style hints ceased to be style hints—they are exposures.

SETTLING DOWN

Now that Henry Ford has announced his newest product the auto market is expected to settle down for the balance of the summer. Almost every car owner has been hearing for months that "Ford's got something up his sleeve," or gossip that "Ford's going to turn the auto industry upside down." Makers have been afraid they might produce too many cars, dealers have been afraid to order too far in advance and buyers have been afraid of price cuts after they put in their order for a car. So there haven't been as many autos sold the first five months of 1927 as during the same period last year.

But things are settling down now. The man with a car to trade in for a new one ought to come nearer getting a satisfactory allowance for it. The car he selects may be reduced in price before the year is over, but he would have to take that chance anyhow. Ford has announced his new model, so other companies will not have to make the radical changes they feared Ford was going to force them to make. Any model of any car bought now will not be very much different from models of the same car a year from now.

A few years ago gossip of the auto industry interested but a little handful here and there. Today every rumor, every report, is of interest to almost every citizen. Next to the weather, we believe automobiles furnish the favorite topic of conversation around Littlefield. It touches the life of every one in some way or another, so now that the industry is settling down after being "up in the air" for several months should be received with interest.

Any man has a remarkable memory who can think back now and recall whether or not the groundhog saw his shadow last February.

LITTLE LEADERS

There's much to be said for the Littlefield man who keeps steadily at work. He has the least chance of going to jail.

It has about reached the point in Littlefield where the female ankle gets about as much attention as the groom's father at a wedding.

We don't know of anything less popular than small pox unless it is a Littlefield grownup who has to be babied all the time.

Littlefield is safe just as long as there are more couples who don't regret their wedding day than couples who do.

Every man in Littlefield can remember a licking he got that he didn't deserve when he was a kid, but he forgets all about those that he didn't get that he did deserve.

We often wonder why a Littlefield man can be the soul of honor during the entire year and then have to do a little lying about the size of fish he caught just as soon as they start biting.

To the average Littlefield mother a door is something the baby musses up with its fingers, the older children always forget to close and father bangs to show he has lost an argument.

One reason some Littlefield married couples do not go out together oftener than they do is because she is ashamed of the old clothes he wears and he is ashamed of the few clothes she wears.

The ideal condition for raising chickens is on open range—without yards. Fences greatly increase the labor cost—as well as the cost of equipment and maintenance. When open range is not practical it's best to raise them in one large yard or field—a field fenced to keep the chickens in and the dogs and rodents out.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

You Can See Ideals of People

The other evening I ran across this human paragraph in a volume otherwise largely technical:

"A man, as he walks in the crowd, feels himself to be an ordinary individual. But in the back of his mind is a more than half-formed phantasy: 'I seem to be an ordinary man, but I am really a man of great importance, people take me for just one of themselves; dressed like anyone else, they don't realize what an extraordinary man they have in their midst. But let an emergency arise—a crisis, an accident to the King—I spring to the rescue and everyone exclaims, "Who is this? A prince incognito! A genius in rags!" At last I come into my own!'"

This is as true to human nature as scratching a mosquito bite. Everyone has enacted such beguiling little dramas of the mind in which he plays the hero and "comes into his own."

Every crowd of people is a stage whereon meek homeward bound clerks are enacting in their minds just what they would do if a burly rowdy should insult a beautiful girl, or an insane man run amuck with a razor.

They strike the villain down, "come into their own."

On all sides we catch glimpses and flashes of what people imagine "their own" to be like.

"I've played golf for thirty years and have never been on my game yet," a man is quoted as saying. His idea of what "his game" was like was something superlative and unattainable. The actual game he played was merely a failure to come up to "his own."

When a woman says, "I have had dozens of photographs taken and have never had a good picture yet," it indicates that her conception of "her own" includes an idea of personal pulchritude which her features, struggle as they will, can't live up to.

It is a truism that, in this world, sooner or later we get about what we deserve. We really 'come into our own.'

The reason we so rarely realize that what we get is "our own" is that our conception of what it is like is based on our desires instead of our deserts.

THAT HOME TOWN OF MINE

There's a town in the West
That for me is the best,
For lights on its streets as they shine
With a soft, mellow glow,
Somehow let me know
It's that little ol' home town of mine.

Not clean to the letter
Yet, no town is better
Than my little home town is today,
But folks, as I ponder
The future, I wonder
How long 'twill continue that way!

Sure at the present
It's friendly and pleasant
But the town, that tomorrow 'twill be—
Whether gaining or losing,
Gambling or boozing,
Depends in measure, on me.

So I'm goin' to quit knockin'
And progress quit blockin',
I'm goin' to try boostin' awhile;
I'm goin' to quit howlin'
And try to be pleasant and smile.

I'm goin' to play fairly,
With my neighbor deal squarley—
I know that I can if I will—
I'm goin' to quit fusin';
Bootleggin' and cusin'.
An make the best little town, better still.—Selected.

ODOR IN MILK

The best way to prevent bad flavors in fresh butter is to produce the milk, cream, and butter under sanitary conditions, never give the cows feeds that impart bad flavor to the milk, and churn the cream when it is sweet or just mildly sour. Also do not expose the cream to undesirable odors such as are sometimes found in cellars and pantries where other supplies are stored. A strong or bitter flavor is sometimes found in milk and butter from cows that are far advanced in their lactation period, or that have not been fresh for a year or more.

Codliver oil is not a medicine—it is a food, rich in vitamins. There are many children, and grown folks, too, who need codliver oil to build up their general health and help prevent colds and other infections.

A PICTURE I'VE LONGED FOR

By Dorothy Harrison
A high green hill arises
From a road so white and still;
The lonely pines are whispering,
And gave my heart a thrill.

The cool breeze fans my brow;
The stillness soothes my ears;
Ah, my heart aches for that spot,
That I've remembered all the years.

Just once more to see the road a winding
Over hills and over dales;
Just once more to see the clouds a rollin'
Clouds that blow like sails.

Ah, that was when my days were bright;
When joy lived in my heart,
And tho' I'm blind and feeble,
The memory will ne'er depart.
—From High School Wildcat.

DRYING OFF COWS

In drying off cows which are persistent milk producers it is often necessary to cut down the allowance of feed, especially grain. Any cow may be dried off more quickly by reducing her feed. Most cows can be dried off by lessening gradually the frequency of milking. First miss one milking, next miss two, then three, etc. When the daily production is only 6 or 8 pounds milking may be stopped entirely. After that nothing should be done to stimulate milk secretion. If signs of inflammation appear after several days draw out the milk that has accumulated.

Chopped nuts are good in almost any kind of sandwich. Combine them with raisins, dates, figs or prunes. They are good with olives, with cottage or cream cheese, and with maple or brown sugar.

Children who profess not to like milk or eggs will often eat custards, omelets, milk puddings, milk-vegetable soups, and egg-milk drinks if well flavored. The wise parent, however, will not call attention to the ingredients of such dishes, but simply offer them as a matter of course in their regular place in the meal.

PINEAPPLE PIE IS REALLY EXCELLENT

A FLAKY pie-crust, so light that it melts in the mouth, filled with fruits and topped with a fluffy meringue, is as good for children as for grown-ups. If these fruits are combined with pineapple, the pie affords not only the tart taste that is so well liked in pies, but also properties which act as a digestive. The enzyme bromelin, contained in pineapple, aids in the digestion of other foods.

Many new and delightful recipes have been devised for pineapple pies, both plain and in combination with other fruits. The following recipes have been tested and found as economical and simple to make as they are pleasing to taste:

Criss-Cross Apple and Pineapple Pie: Heat one cup crushed Hawaiian pineapple and add to one cup of tart apples, pared, cored, cut in eighths and cooked until tender, or one cup of canned applesauce may be used instead. Mix three-fourths cup sugar or slightly less if using the canned applesauce, one-eighth teaspoon salt and two tablespoons flour. Add the hot pineapple and bring to the boiling point, stirring constantly, and add one teaspoon butter. Cool slightly, add one beaten egg and two tablespoons lemon juice. Pour into pastry-lined pie pan and arrange strips of pastry across the top. Put into a hot oven and after ten minutes reduce heat and bake about thirty minutes longer.

Banana Pineapple Pie: Mix one-half cup each hot water and syrup drained from crushed Hawaiian pineapple and bring to the boiling point. Add one-half cup sugar, stirring constantly and remove from the fire. Add one teaspoon butter, three-fourths cup well-drained, crushed Hawaiian pineapple, two beaten egg yolks and two medium-sized bananas (sliced thin.) Pour into pastry-lined pie pan. Bake until pastry is well browned. Remove from oven, cool slightly and cover with a meringue made from two stiffly-beaten egg whites and two tablespoons powdered sugar. Return to oven and brown meringue slightly.

Pineapple Coconut Meringue Pie: Heat one and one-half cups milk. Mix four tablespoons flour, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one-half cup sugar, add the hot milk and cook in double boiler about twenty minutes or until mixture is thick and flour thoroughly cooked. Stir into two beaten egg yolks, return to double boiler and cook until mixture thickens. Cool, add one cup well-drained, crushed Hawaiian pineapple, one-half cup shredded coconut and one-half teaspoon vanilla and pour into laked pie crust. Add two tablespoons powdered sugar to two stiffly-beaten egg whites and spread on top. Sprinkle with coconut and brown quickly in hot oven.

OUR HOME TOWN

By Phebe K. Warner

Geographically speaking, the human family is divided into three sections. Those who live in the city. Those who live in the towns between the city and country. We do not know the exact ratio of these three sections but numerically they are so nearly equal that for the sake of convenience we will call each one a third of our nation. It is hard to draw the line between a town and a city, because most folks prefer to be classed with the city rather than the town. So strong is this sentiment for the city that most good sized towns work more for quantity than quality in their citizenship. We never have been able to understand the psychology of this. We never have understood why the idea universally prevails that it is more honorable to live in a big city than a small town or the country.

Now a lot of folks will admit that the very best place to live is right out in the country on your own farm but most people who pretend to think that do not do it. Half the people who own farms live in the city somewhere because more than half the people in the country do not live in their own homes. Do not know all the reasons but there seems to be a tendency for the country folks to move to town and the town folks to move to the city. And there migration stops. It seems that humanity thinks it has reached the top or hit the bottom when it reaches a great city and there is no place else to go. So year after year our cities get bigger and bigger, as this human tide sweeps on and on, into our great surging seas of human beings.

But of three places the one that is actually looked down on and almost ignored by the masses of the people is the small town. Now we wonder why this is. We wonder why it is any more of a disgrace to live in a small town than to live in the open country or in the crowded city. We wonder why so many people apologize for their habitation every time some one asks them why they live in a small town. If the small town is an essential part of the great plan of living and if it is a real convenience to millions of people and if it has as many inhabitants making their homes in it as the country or the city why is it not just as much entitled to recognition and respect as its big city sisters or its country cousins? But is it? No it is not.

There is a standard of human measurements in use today through our nation that has never been placed in any of our arithmetics. This standard has been universally adopted through custom. It is this: Most folks are measured by the size of the town in which they live. Big town, big man. Little town, little man. So accustomed is the world to this standard of human measurements that it seldom even looks for a big man in a little town. Why, if he were a big man he would get out of the little town. That is the science. Big city, big churches. Little town, a lot of little churches. Big town big preacher. Little town, little preacher. Country? No preacher at all except with the little town loan their preachers to the country in the afternoons while the little town folks go visiting, take a ride or rest a while. Big town, big school. Little town, little school. Big school, big teacher. Little school, little teacher. Big town, big politics. Little town, little politics.

Do you believe all this? We don't it is true so far as the measurements are concerned. This is the way it seems. And it is the way most folks think. But such standards of measurement are wrong. We believe there are just as strong men and women, just as capable men and women, just as fine preachers and teachers in the small towns as there are in our great cities. The trouble is the small town will not recognize its talent, organize its forces, concentrate its strength and utilize its own human values to build up itself. Our home towns could be made the most ideal places on earth to live if we would only work together to that end. There is just as much talent in the average small town as there is in the city compared to its size. Nor is the talent always so different in quality. Go to your cities and find out where all the city talent came from. Most of it came from the little towns where it was not recognized or utilized or encouraged. And it had to leave the home town in order to grow and be appreciated and find its way into some channel of useful service.

There is another crooked rule in our town and city standard of human values. Is it not true that whenever you think of a typical cityman you just naturally pick out one of some importance and value to his country and city? What is the ideal of the typical small town man? When you think of the character known as the small town man what kind of a picture do you have in mind? Is it not as a rule the picture of some trifling good for nothing fellow? Now answer this. Is everybody who lives in the city a fine, useful successful man such as most of us picture the cityman? And is every man in the small town the fellow you picture as being the small townman? No sir. When people think of the typical man they pick out one of the city's biggest and best as their pattern. But as a rule when they picture the typical small town man they pick out one of the least and worst. Yet, the city is full of characters that the small town folks would not allow in their town over night if they knew it.

Personally, we are FOR the home town as the best place on earth for a home. It is a cleaner place than the city. It is a more independent place than the city. It is a healthier more fresh water and fresh food and fresh air and pure sunshine. You can have more room and more birds and more nature and less human nature around you all the time. There are not so many unnecessary demands for your time and your strength and your money every day. You do not have to be always on a strain to keep up with your neighbors. And the children have more room to play and they are more welcome because they are not in the way of so many social demands. As citizens of our home towns let's stand by them. Let's be proud of them. Let's utilize all the good forces in them to raise their standards up to the best anywhere. It is possible to have just as good churches, just as good schools, just as good homes and just as fine children there as anywhere. If we will work together for them. What better do we need? But if you are ashamed of your home town then get busy and do something to make it better or get up and leave.

To cook turnips or rutabagas a quick way, pare them, cut in fairly thin slices, and cook for 15 or 20 minutes in lightly salted water. Drain, mash, and season with butter. Some people like the slices intact, with plenty of butter melted over them.

The House that Grew...

Sometimes the old house just naturally has to expand. You can make the extra rooms at low cost by partitioning with Sheetrock, the fireproof wall-board.

Sheetrock, which we sell and recommend most heartily, is made of pure gypsum rock, in great, broad sheets. Saws and nails like lumber. Decorates perfectly (all joints concealed). Let us show you a sample and estimate for you.

MANFIELD EXPERT GIVES DEMONSTRATION OF COOKING

Miss Ethel Stone, economist from Mansfield, Ohio, is here this week demonstrating the merits of the Westinghouse automatic electric range in behalf of the Texas Utilities Co., and for the benefit of Littlefield ladies.

Miss Stone was here last year on a similar mission, and both the company and the ladies who witnessed her demonstrations were greatly pleased with her work.

While here Miss Stone would like to meet every woman in Littlefield so she may have the opportunity of telling them how they may save 50 per cent of their time in the kitchen, thus having it for church, social or other duties and pleasures, and at the same time enjoy better cooking than from the old way. Whether they have an electric range or not the Texas Utilities Co. wants every woman in this vicinity to attend the cooking school held at their local office.

Milking Machines Increase

That well informed, careful dairymen who use milking machines can produce clean milk with low bacterial count is demonstrated by the production of certified milk on their farms, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

Where machines are cleaned and sterilized with sufficient frequency and thoroughness the milk will be as clean and free from bacteria as that milked by hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hicks, formerly of Littlefield, but now of Abilene, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Connell.

J. A. Connell of Lubbock is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Connell.

There are approximately 40,000 public school teachers employed in Texas.

Patronize Your HOME Merchant

MR. CUSTOMER, Farmer, Tradesman, Member of a Profession! The upgrading of your town or village, the business center around your home, is a matter of vital importance to you. If your town grows, YOU PROSPER. If it stagnates or goes backward, YOU LOSE.

Throughout the North and the Middle West there are vast areas in which real estate, both in the cities and the country, is sold at inflated values because the towns and villages have been in a state of stagnation for a quarter of a century. This is largely due to the fact that the people have spent their money with the Mail Order Houses instead of patronizing their home merchants.

One Illinois city has not increased its population in the last thirty-five years. During this same period the Chicago Mail Order House—Had that $100,000,000 been spent with the local merchants, this city would have more than quadrupled in size. Real estate, which has been at the lowest valuation in comparison with other cities of its size for the past twenty years, would have from ten to one hundred times its present value. Farms, which today can be bought at $150.00 an acre, would be in the city limits and put up in lots, would bring from $50.00 to $75.00 a front foot.

It is the profit dollar that builds your town. IF YOUR PROFIT DOLLAR GOES TO THE MAIL ORDER HOUSE, YOU ARE BUILDING CHICAGO, NEW YORK, OR SOME OTHER METROPOLIS. The dollar you spend with your Home Merchant stays in your community, helps build it up and eventually comes back to you. The dollar you send away NEVER RETURNS. Every dollar spent with the mail order houses reduces the valuation of your farm or city real estate just that much, plus compound interest.

If you will take the trouble to investigate, you will find that your local merchant saves you money. FOR THE SAME QUALITY, YOU PAY AS MUCH OR MORE TO THE MAIL ORDER HOUSE. If you want "cheap" merchandise, your home merchant will get it for you.

for he is in business to make a reputation for honest dealing. He stands behind your purchase. You are not satisfied, he is not right.

However, you are doing the greatest favor by patronizing your home merchant.

ROTATION BENEFITS

Crop rotation is beneficial in a number of ways. It kills weeds and certain crop diseases, and may render more chemical fertilizers more effective. It increases the soil supply of matter and nitrogen, improves and conserves the soil moisture and nutrients. Furthermore, the crops in the rotation may be selected to exert beneficial effects on which follow.

On extremely poor land, will make a better growth than cowpeas, are a richer food crop and yield decidedly more than cowpeas.

SCOUTING TROOPS ARE ORGANIZED IN COUNTY OF LAMB

Lubbock, June 2.—With two new troops just enrolled and six more applying for registration in the South Plains Area Scout Council, growth of the scout movement here exceeds that experienced at any time in the past. There are now 34 troops registered and about 750 boys enrolled, Scout Executive A. H. Watts reports.

Post is organizing another scout troop under the leadership of Scoutmaster Marshall Mason. The Post unit was the first to go over the top this Spring in the financial drive, and the citizenship has been ahead of other towns in supporting the camp fund.

Graham Chapel, a community near Post, reports a new troop under Charles Tinney, and Olton, in Lamb County, is organizing a troop to be headed by Rev. C. L. Yarbrough. Three troops are being organized Affairs of the council are in excellent shape now, and a trip is to be made to the camp at Post by the executive board in the near future to consider plans for the scout lake which is to be obtained by constructing a dam across the creek.

This lake will be about 30 acres in extent, will have a dam 35 feet high and approximately 80 feet long, finances for which have been provided by Plains business men.

Life saving, boating and water sports will be taught the scouts.

A shortage of scout adult leaders is the one need of the organization, and appeals have gone out in all South Plains towns for volunteers.—Lubbock Avalanche.

BODY NEEDS CALCIUM

The body must have mineral matter to build and repair bones, teeth, and other tissues, and keep it in good running order. Calcium is found in dried beans, cauliflower, Swiss chard, peas, turnips, carrots, parsnips, oranges, and certain other fruits and vegetables. Milk used in cooking any of these foods or served with them increases the amount of calcium taken. Iron is supplied by fruits in general and by the green-leaf vegetables, such as lettuce and dandelion greens, and particularly by spinach. As a source of iron, spinach is in a class by itself. Egg yolk is another good source of iron.

Every kiss has a crimson lining.

SPRING FEVER
By Marie Daniel

Spring fever is a queer disease very common in March, April, and May. Students who fail to bring up their school work blame the spring fever.

Spring fever affects different people in different ways. It makes some people lazy and sleepy, while it causes others to be wide awake and energetic. Still others it affects differently. Mr. and Mrs. Etter, for instance. Why couldn't they have waited until school was out to get "spiced"? Spring fever, of course. It just "got" Mr. Etter and Miss Wales was ready and waiting. It probably affected her a little, too and they just had to do something, so they just had to get married. Very simple.

Some say Miss Rives has had the spring fever for a long time, and she may have, but she also has hay fever. Mr. Perryman had better be careful.

All of the teachers seem to have spring fever. They think that because they have lots of papers to grade to work off their "steam." A pretty good plan and it seems to work successfully.
