STORES HERE WILL STAGE DOLLAR DAY MONDAY

Merchandise To Go On Display Saturday Night

Special Opportunity To Make Purchases at Minimum Cost

With large numbers of merchants co-operating, Dollar Day, Monday, August 3, promises to offer a very special opportunity for the making of purchases at minimum outlay.

Virtually all the merchants co-operating in next Monday's Dollar Day will re-decorate their windows day night, placing on display of the items they will offer at special prices next Monday. This will give the residents of Littlefield and try an excellent opportunity to purchase many of the items which are on sale.

Read The Leader this week's Lamb County Leader publishing a large number of advertisements which the merchants inserted in order to acquaint people of Littlefield and district with the special prices they will offer at special prices on Dollar Day. Every reader of the Lamb County Leader is urged to read these advertisements carefully as they offer a good opportunity to save money.

The first Dollar Day of this year was carried out on Monday, July 6. Great savings were made by those who took advantage of the special prices, and next Monday's Dollar Day promises to be an even better opportunity to save money by purchasing merchandise at times when it can be bought to best advantage.

Give Splendid Co-operation Dollar Day is sponsored by the Lamb County Leader, and this newspaper is deeply appreciative of the splendid co-operation which is being given by the merchants of this city. Such co-operation is but another step forward in making a popular shopping center more popular.

Concerns co-operating in the Dollar Day program include: R. E. Riley Tire Store, Cuenod's Dry Goods Co., Ellis & Ware Dry Goods Co., Shook Tire Co., Cobb's Department Store, Friendly Grocery & Market, Fair Store, Cameron Lumber Co., Polly Ann Beauty & Dress Shop, Lamb County Leader, Courtney & Myrick, and Fink's Dry Goods. Many other concerns which are not featuring Dollar Day also have extra good values advertised in this week's Lamb County Leader.

Signatures Are Being Obtained By C. of C. Committee

Cooperation of Realty Owners Will Be Big Aid In Obtaining Railway

Work is underway by the Littlefield chamber of commerce to obtain deeds through Lamb county to the right-of-way of the proposed T. P. & N. railway.

While the representative of the Interstate Commerce Commission did not recommend that the road be built through this section, it is anticipated that, if the necessary co-operation is forthcoming, that the approval of the commission can be obtained for the entire project.

It is pointed out by those who are in close touch with the situation that one of the most important steps forward will be the obtaining of signatures of property owners to deeds for the necessary land for the right-of-way.

Filing Exceptions The T. P. & N. is filing exceptions to the recommendation of the representative of the I. C. C., and hopes to obtain permission to build the entire proposed line, which would run from Big Spring to Vega.

The I. C. C. representative recommended that permission be granted to build only from Big Spring to a point south of Brownfield, and from there into Lubbock.

Names Railroad Committee Arthur P. Duggan, who has accepted the presidency of the Littlefield chamber of commerce, has appointed a railway committee which will act in all railway matters in behalf of the chamber. This committee is composed of R. E. McCaskill, E. S. Rowe, and J. E. Brannon. Special work on this committee also will be done by Mr. Duggan.

The railway committee, which was appointed at a meeting of the board of directors Wednesday, is already functioning. It is taking the necessary steps to obtain signatures to deeds for the land for the right-of-way of the proposed new railway. Any co-operation which is extended in this connection will be greatly appreciated.

ASK BUSINESS MEN TO CO-OPERATE IN PROVIDING MAXIMUM PARKING SPACE FOR VISITORS' CARS ON PHELPS AVENUE

ARTHUR P. DUGGAN IS NEW PRESIDENT OF LOCAL C. OF C.

HAS LONG BEEN ACTIVE IN ADVANCING INTERESTS OF CITY

Arthur P. Duggan, who has a long record of service in the interests of Littlefield, Lamb County, and West Texas, has accepted the presidency of the Littlefield chamber of commerce.

This is the second time that Mr. Duggan has served the local chamber as president. His first term of office was several years ago.

Mr. Duggan is a past president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and is prominently connected with a large number of organizations—some of them working in the interests of this immediate section, others advancing the general interest of West Texas.

The providing of all available parking space on Phelps avenue for visitors in Littlefield on Saturdays and special days, is a new movement in which the City of Littlefield and the Littlefield chamber of commerce are co-operating.

Mayor T. S. Sales took the matter up with the board of directors of the chamber Wednesday afternoon, and was pledged the co-operation of that organization.

J. W. Hale, secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce is making calls on the business men in behalf of the new movement.

Under the program, business men are asked to leave their automobiles at home on Saturdays and special days, or park them on less busy streets than Phelps avenue.

The working out of this program will virtually leave Phelps avenue clear for the parking of visitor's cars. It will also reduce the double parking making it much easier for visitors to shop.

At the time of the accident, Mr. Briscoe and a party of friends were driving to Colorado. The car, which turned over twice, was owned by a member of the party, but was being driven by Mr. Briscoe, according to information reaching Littlefield.

The accident occurred when the automobile struck a quantity of sand which was being used in road construction.

Mr. Briscoe, who was the only member of the party injured, was taken to an Amarillo hospital.

Hale, chairman of the community service committee of the club. Many others also are being called into service by Rev. Joe Grizzle.

J. S. Hilliard Gives Talk on Meeting of International Rotary

The program at last Thursday's luncheon of the Littlefield Rotary club was in charge of W. J. Chesher. An interesting talk, based on reports of the Rotary International convention at Vienna recently, was given by J. S. Hilliard.

Here were 53 counties represented at the Vienna meeting, which was the largest number of counties which have ever been represented at a Rotary International convention. Almost 4,500 Rotarians and their families attended the meeting, twenty-five per cent of the attendance being from North America.

Morley B. Drake, editor of the Lamb County Leader, gave a brief talk on his recent visit to Canada.

Guests at Thursday's luncheon were: Homer Hall, who was the guest of T. S. Sales, and George Broome, of Anton, who was the guest of R. T. Badger.

Mr. Broome is farming a section of land in the Spade district.

Yield More Per Acre Than Other Texas Counties

U. S. Government Figures Tell Story of County's Enviably Standing

Lamb county has no peer in Texas in the production of cotton.

This fact is brought prominently to the fore in United States government figures which have just been released.

These figures show the number of farms, the number of acres of cotton, and the number of bales produced in all cotton counties in Texas for the year 1929.

The selection of a number of counties showing best yields per acre, and the tabulating of the information concerning them, reveals the fact in cold figures that Lamb county in 1929 averaged a little better than one-half bale per acre and further, that outside of two counties with small acreage (El Paso and Hudspeth), where irrigation is used, Lamb county produced more cotton per acre than any other county in Texas.

The U. S. government figures show that Lamb county produced 50,495 bales of cotton from 100,727 acres.

Everyone knows that Lamb county is the greatest feed section to be found, and when the government figures show that this county is producing more cotton acre than the high priced lands of Central and Southwestern Texas, there is no room for argument. Further, two acres of Southland can be cultivated as much as one acre of high priced land.

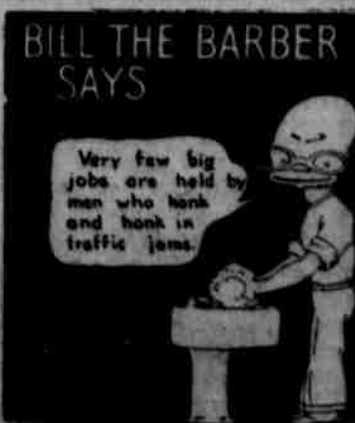

Even in the Rio Grande Valley where land is very high in price, where irrigation is largely used, the record shows that they failed to make as much cotton per acre as Lamb county.

Presented below are the U. S. Government figures for 27 counties

HOGS ON THE FARM

The Star-Telegram market editor, analyzing the farm census reports for this State, finds remarkable the fact that within a radius of 60 miles of Fort Worth, the Southwest's best hog market, the raising of hogs on the farms has declined more than 60 per cent in the past 10 years. In Tarrant County and the six counties adjoining it, the 1930 farm census showed but 42,540 hogs on farms, as compared with the 110,496 shown in 1920. The decrease in these seven counties is not a great deal greater than for the State as a whole, for which the corresponding figures were 1,048,561 in 1930 and 2,225,558 in 1920, but these seven counties constitute an area in which all farms are in easy trucking distance of a active hog market which constantly is bidding for supplies. Farmers in these counties, the market editor points out, can get their day's quotations on hogs on the radio, load their trucks, haul and sell their hogs and be back at home in time to do a half day's work on the farm.

It has been pointed out that the existing low prices for hogs do not encourage the expansion of the pork-growing industry. But while a man might not be able to see large profits in going into the business of raising hogs as a commercial enterprise, depending upon the sale of hogs to pay feeding costs and overhead and furnish a profit, the farmer who raises several hogs as a side line will find it possible to turn out a profit, or at any rate to make satisfactory disposal in this way of surplus feed. A few hogs on the farm will not add materially to the feed and labor costs of operating a farm, and the cash income accruing every month or so from sales, if not all "velvet," at least is partly so, and in addition helps very materially to bridge the gaps between harvests of "cash" crops.

The Fort Worth market is eager for hogs at all times. In order properly to balance their production and shipments, as well as to supply the demands of Texas consumers, the Fort Worth packing houses are compelled to buy great numbers of hogs in Middle Western markets and ship them to Fort Worth. Quality considered, the Fort Worth market pays every bit as good, if not better, prices in comparison with Chicago, Kansas City and St. Louis. An increase in the hog census during the next 10 years would be a favorable development. — Ft. Worth Star Telegram.

COURTEOUS DRIVERS

Probably the greatest aid to highway safety would be education in highway courtesy.

There are very few courteous drivers of automobiles and trucks. It is difficult to explain, but it is fact nevertheless. Psychologists should be making the problem for lack of common, ordinary courtesy is unquestionably the chief cause of all automobile accidents.

The gentleman, who, under ordinary circumstances would step aside to other fety elbow room, when he sits behind the wheel will crowd and even steady who drives another car. And two gentlemen behind steering wheel appear to be natural enemies; the gentilities are gone; there is Littlefield (ish to see who gets there first and the devil take the hindmost, trip to Creely does.)

Automobile associations, schools and newspapers should collaborate in the courtesies of the highway. Drivers' license laws would do much to cut down the appalling toll of life as might compulsory liability laws. But the chief factor in highway safety is, and always will be, common, every-day courtesy.

In a certain English town, hard hit by industrial depression, unemployed men are enjoying sports on a field provided for them by the Rotary club.

Men who play may have hard luck, but if they keep on playing, they are going to keep their moral fibre intact longer than the man who mopes and sighs and fidgets.

Littlefield Youth Suffers Injuries To His Right Hand

Floyd Porter, while using a cultivator on the farm of his grandfather, D. E. Fowler, near Shallowater, had the misfortune to break the bones in the palm of his right hand. According to his father, A. L. Potter, he struck his hand against the cultivator frame. He was attended by Dr. T. B. Duke, who put it in a cast.

"CHARLIE CHAN CARRIES ON," WILL BE SHOWN AT PALACE THEATRE; TITLE ROLE IS PORTRAYED BY WARNER OLAND

While there are many contestants for the title of the best ingenue, or the best leading man or the best comedienne on the screen, when it comes to selecting the best portrayer of Oriental roles, there is no choice. Warner Oland, who portrays the title role in "Charlie Chan Carries On," Fox mystery drama, which will be shown at the Palace theatre Friday and Saturday, wins that distinction without an argument.

Feeding Methods For Hogs As Important As Proper Feeds

College Station, Texas, July 28.— Feeding methods are just as important as proper feeds when it comes to profit from hogs, Fred Hale, chief of division of swine husbandry, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, told members of the livestock group at the Farmers Short Course here Tuesday.

When feeding hogs twice daily by hand, it will pay to grind kaffir and milo before feeding to fattening hogs, but when these grains are fed in self feeders, free choice, it is neither necessary nor profitable to grind them, Mr. Hale said. Gains are also as fast on whole kaffir and whole milo when fed in self-feeders, free choice, as are the gains where these feeds are ground before feeding, he added. "Our experiments to date, although incomplete," he said, "indicate that wheat and barley may just as well be fed whole and that grinding these grains may not be necessary when they are fed in self-feeders, free choice."

LOCAL BALL TEAM LOSES 11 INNING GAME BY ONE RUN

LUBBOCK DEFEATS LITTLEFIELD BY SCORE OF 8-7

The Littlefield baseball team lost an 11 inning battle last Friday night to the Lubbock Hubbers. The score was 8-7.

Extra inning games seem to be the style these days with the baseball team that is now wearing the Littlefield uniforms. The game with those Lubbock Hubbers last Friday night appeared to be anything like close for the first six innings.

To start with, M. Ratliff opened fire on Mr. Dickey (former John Tarleton Ace), with a neat double to right field. He moved to third on Art Mueller's sacrifice, and scored when McWilliams attempted sacrifice went for a hit.

In the sixth M. Ratliff started things off in good fashion when he connected with one of Dickey's fast ones that was good for three bases. With the count of three and two, Art Mueller rattled the boards with what should have been a double, but failure to step on the first base caused a retreat and hence only a single.

The seventh proved to be lucky for the Hubbers when Galey got a scratch single to right. Dickey hoisted one over Ballard's head that should have been handled. Breedlove also arrived safe at first when Moore and McWilliams allowed a pop up to go for a hit near first, one thinking the other would field the ball. Waller, Hubber manager, drove out a liner to left center for two bases that cleaned house, and later scored on Gregory's error, thus tying the count and the ball game was sewed up until the eleventh when a fast ball got by Gregory and allowed Red Gaither to score the winning run as the clock showed the hour to be 11:30 P. M.

The Littlefield nine threatened in the tenth, after Moore whiffed Ratliff walked, Art Mueller singled to down a perfect bunt to advance both runners. Ballard was purposely walked, to get Gregory, who failed to connect and took the count of three as the runners were left stranded.

The absence of Catcher Hanks was very evident. His timely bat would have been most welcome since thirteen men were left stranded when a single or a long fly would have meant a ball game at various stages of the game. A total of fifteen safe hits were collected off the pitcher Dickey with six earned runs for the locals' credit and three to Lubbock's best efforts.

These two teams will clash again some time in the near future, and when they do, it will be some ball game. In the three games played with the Hubbers this season, all have been lost by a one run margin. Mainly due to loose playing when things were tight.

Good Will Caravan From New Mexico Visits Littlefield

Large numbers of the residents of Littlefield and district were present last Friday afternoon to welcome the good will caravan, advertising the First American pageant and celebration, which will be held at Albuquerque, New Mexico, August 18, 19, 20 and 21.

The caravan was sponsored by the Albuquerque Chamber of Commerce. Outstanding features were the program presented by an Indian band on the vacant lot opposite the First State Bank, and a dance given by two little Indian boys. All the entertainers were in native costume.

The visitors were met at the city limits by Mayor T. S. Sales, J. W. Hale, secretary of the Littlefield chamber of commerce, Sheriff Crim and Deputy Sheriff Miller. The address of welcome was made by Arthur P. Duggan, president of the Littlefield chamber of commerce, and talks were made by Mr. Hale, Rev. Joe F. Grizzle, Wilbur C. Hawk, general manager of the Globe-News, Amarillo, and by former governor Dick Dillon of New Mexico.

An Amarillo party accompanying the caravan included in addition to Mr. Hawk, Henry Ansley of the Globe-News, Mason King of the Amarillo chamber of commerce, and J. W. Beechler.

CHURCHES

Methodist Zone Meeting is Held In Littlefield

The Methodists of the Western part of the Plainview district met in Littlefield Wednesday at 10 o'clock. There were about 100 present from over the field. Among the visitors were Rev. Hicks, pastor of Muleshoe, Rev. Matthews, pastor of Earth, and Rev. Hendrix, pastor of Sudan, and Rev. Smallwood, pastor of Amherst. Many strong laymen and women from all points over the district were in attendance. A splendid program was rendered, and many subjects ably discussed that had great meaning to the entire church life.

Rev. Beavers at eleven o'clock preached a splendid sermon. A large array of eats were spread at the noon hour in an old fashioned picnic way. Everyone present enjoyed the day, and much and lasting good was accomplished for all present.

Workers' Council Have All Day Meeting At First Baptist Church

The missionary society of the First Baptist church were the guests of the W. M. U. of Sudan, Monday, July 27. Mrs. G. G. Hazel, formerly of this city, is now their president. It was a great pleasure to greet this old friend again, and we were glad indeed, to meet the Baptist ladies of Sudan, and enjoy their "Royal Service" program. At the close of the lesson we were invited into the dining room where delicious refreshments were served to a large number of ladies and our pastor. We all voted the occasion a great success, and we hope in the near future we will have the pleasure of returning their hospitality. Monday, July 27, all citizens gathered in the auditorium to complete their plans for entertaining the numerous visitors expected from other churches on July 28. They, the guests, came, scores and scores of them, and, judging by smiling faces of the men after lunch had been served, our labor had not been in vain.

A triple report is a bit difficult to handle, and warm weather is not conducive to mental exertion, so we are going to obey the "first law of nature," by copying verbatim the program outlined by our pastor, adding just a word or two of our own. We had threatened to make the 28th a day of fasting for our postmaster, J. E. Brannen, but we were so pleased with his unique welcoming address, that we relented, and we hope that he was not too busy contributing to the comfort of our guests to do full justice to the tempting viands so generously provided by our ladies.

We desire to thank our young people for their gracious and efficient service. Their presence added greatly to the pleasure of every one present. Every speaker on the program more than fulfilled our expectations, but we wish to mention especially the splendid address on Christian Education, by Rev. Finas McBeth. The ladies program was very interesting and the talks made by the visiting delegation were an inspiration to every one present. We wish that we might mention each one separately, but time forbids so we will complete our report by adding only an outline of the general program.

10:00 Words of Welcome—J. E. Brannen. 9:45 Devotional—Rev. Savage. 10:40 What Did Paul Mean When He Wrote 1 Cor. 16:2—Rev. W. O. Wilson.

Citizens Complying With City Ordinances Passed Recently

According to W. G. Street, city secretary, the city is receiving splendid co-operation on the part of the residents of Littlefield in complying with the Milk and Privy ordinances passed recently by the commissioners, both of which were published in the Lamb County Leader, in its issue of July 16, and will be enforced after ninety days from the publication.

The milk ordinance outlines a system of classifying fluid milk into 4 grades, "A" "B" "C" and "D", and provides for its sale under a grade label. The sale of no grade of either raw or pasteurized milk is restricted so long as it is properly labeled. The grades of the milk are awarded by some official, usually of the health department, and the extent to which the dairyman has observed the protective and sanitary standards laid down in the ordinance for the production and handling of milk. The producer is given credit for his efforts through the grade label, and the consumer is also thus informed as to the quality of the milk and can make his choice.

The other ordinance passed by the commission makes compulsory the pit-type toilet in the city limits. All toilets can be easily changed to the pit-type, with only a few cents cost, according to State Sanitarian, who spent several days here in connection with his work. This latter ordinance is for the prevention of the spread of typhoid fever through flies.

DISTRICT COURT MEETS

The district court of Lamb county will meet at Olton, Monday, August 3. Judge Chas. Clements, district judge of Plainview, will be the presiding judge, while District Attorney Meade F. Griffin, also of Plainview will be prosecutor for the State.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

Written Especially for The Leader

By Ethel Louise Cooper

The bidding rules for Contract Bridge which we have been considering for the past few weeks are those advocated by Mr. Ely Culbertson.

We have only discussed some of the simplest of rules; to cover all of the possible bids and the play of the hand would extend our study for many weeks. If we carefully learn these primary bidding conventions we will find that the game holds much pleasure for us.

In conclusion let us mention a few of the un-written laws of bridge, be it Contract or Auction, which have much to do with one's standing as a player.

There is much legitimate information that is exchanged between partner's by the established conventions, but a player is no more excusable for giving illegal information by his method of bidding than he would be should he expose an ace to direct his partner's lead. Too long a pause before bidding; change of facial expression to show pleasure or displeasure at partner's bid; laying down the hand while the bidding is in progress, insufficient bids made and recalled; calling attention to one's bid or pass. These things are just not done in bridge circles.

In the dignified game of Contract all players arrange and hold their hands without fingering their cards. Bids are made in just one way by saying, "One spade," "Two Hearts" —"Double," or "Pass," as the case may be. A good player takes his losses cheerfully, he does not lead from the wrong hand, he pays for his revoke without question and he does not feel called upon to entertain the other players while he is "dummy" by telling an interesting story.
