gricultural College at Arlington, and served Uncle Sam in the Navy for 16 months in World War II. In his busy career, Everett found time to court and marry Mildred Harris of Hubbard, and daughter of Mrs. Vernon Harris Wilson of Dallas. Everett is 100% sold on Littlefield and territory, and is looking forward enthusiastically to taking over his new duties. "The people are so friendly here, it makes you feel that you have lived among them all your life," he said. The young man appears to be a strong believer in co-operative effort in getting a small or big job done well and quickly. "If everybody will pitch in just a little bit of their time, nobody will have too much work to do," he said. The new C. of C. manager was accompanied Monday and Tuesday on a number of get-acquainted calls by Albert Miller, president of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce.

Dub Gilder Flying High

Dub Gilder, Littlefield barber, and sports enthusiast, has received his private pilot license. And he's even more happy about the achievement than he is when the Cats win a ball game. Interpreted, a private pilot license means that the holder can fly with a passenger in the plane as his guest. It can be his sweetheart, his wife, some other man's... or just one or several of his men friends, depending on the size of the plane. So if you cast your eyes aloft (Continued on Back Page)

Bright Oil News Forecast

Littlefield's oil test well, located on the Union Compress property, was drilling ahead late Wednesday in sand, shale, and lime. The depth was 5,253 feet at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday. The prospector is 330 feet from southwest and 440 feet from west lines of Labor 12, League 664, State Capitol Land survey, within the townsite of Littlefield. This well is known as the Texas Company No. 1-98 Union Compress and Warehouse Company. All tests have been made in the San Andres formation, the first 3,940-4,020 feet; the second at 4,020-4,087 feet and third and last test 4,159-4,253 feet. The first test is reported to have been the most favorable. Another test is anticipated within the next few hundred feet. Some interesting developments are anticipated at the next test level.

LITTLEFIELD RECEIVES ABOUT 2 1/2 INCH RAIN

Moisture Reported Over Almost Entire State of Texas. Drenching rains over the South Plains early Friday morning, Saturday morning and night, and again early Monday broke the drought of several months, and brought the much needed moisture to Littlefield and the entire trade area. Rain started falling here Friday morning about 3 a. m. when 51/100ths of an inch fell; again moisture fell Saturday morning, starting about 5 a. m., and continuing until about 9:30 when Littlefield received an additional 1.15 inches; and again early Monday heavy rain fell bringing moisture measuring 71/100ths of an inch, making the total in Littlefield this past week of 2.37 inches. Moisture is reported from 2 inches in Levelland to 5 and 6 inches at Earth, Springlake and Olton. Other areas report the following: Fieldton and Hart Camp, 2 1/2 inches; northwest of Fickton, 3 inches; Spade 2 1/2 inches; Amherst, 3 1/2 inches; Sudan 4 inches; Enochs, 2 1/2 inches; 2 inches at Morton and Whitharral; Pleasant Valley, 2 inches; Levelland and Anton over 2 inches; Muleshoe, 3 inches; Pop, 2 1/2 inches; yellow house over 2 inches; and Plainview, 3 1/2 inches. Pioneers Get Set For Big Celebration

At a called meeting of the officers and directors of the Lamb Pioneers at the Littlefield National Farm Loan Offices Friday night, committees who will serve at the Old Settlers Reunion August 25 were appointed, and plans for the program were discussed. An out-of-town speaker is expected for the celebration, which will open at 2 p. m. at the Community Center. Barbecue and all the trimmings will be served at 5 p. m. on outside tables. Pat Boone has donated the beef, and it is hoped that Eldridge Foust, who is an expert at the art, will barbecue the meat. The ladies are to furnish the pies, cakes, salads, etc. Committees named Friday night were: Publicity—G. M. Shaw, chairman, and Mrs. Billie Marie Watson and R. M. Smith; Table Committee—Mrs. C. O. Griffin, chairman, Mesdames Lon Campbell, Dan Berg, E. J. Foust, Otha Dent, Stanley Doss and M. M. (Continued on Back Page)

Brother Of Olton Woman Killed In Auto Mishap

Funeral services for Jerry Evans, 15, killed in an automobile accident at Plainview Monday night, was conducted at 3 p. m. Wednesday at the First Baptist Church, Plainview, with burial in a Plainview cemetery. Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Evans of six miles west of Plainview, and a brother of Mrs. W. B. Dickerson of Olton, was one of three Plainview High School youths riding in a stripped down car that overturned, rammed through a masonry fence and came to a stop against a tree.

John Murchison City

John W. Murchison of San Antonio was met at the Lubbock airport Wednesday by C. J. Duggan, personal representative, and he is now in Littlefield watching the progress of the Texas Company-Murchison-Union Compress Warehouse No. 1 test well.

Every Cloud Has a Silver LiningOr Business Before Pleasure

Marshall Howard prominent feed and seed man hereabouts, had a very short vacation. Before leaving Littlefield for Tres Ritos, Howard left instructions at his place of business that he was to be summoned back immediately if it rained any appreciable amount. Before he had become decently settled down for a rest the telephone summoned him back to business. "I didn't even have time to wet a hook," he said. Monday he was very busy satisfying the demand for seed. "You had a short vacation," commented a friend. "That's alright," he replied, as he dived, scoop in hand, for a sack of seed.

500 Oil and Gas Leases Are Filed

C.J. Duggan, personal representative of John W. Murchison, filed for record Tuesday in the County Clerk's office 506 oil and gas leases and two assignments. These leases and assignments cover the drilling block in the townsite of Littlefield, and adjacent acreage. Certain leases have heretofore been recorded and there are others to be filed for record later. The recording fee covering all these leases filed Tuesday amounted to $2,535.20. This is the largest recording fee ever paid at one time at the Lamb County Court House, it is believed. The payment was received by County Clerk Joel Thomson, and was in the form of a draft drawn on the account of J. W. Murchison in the City National Bank, Plainview, by Mr. Duggan. The county clerk's staff of workers are busy and will be busy for some time on these papers; also the abstractors will be kept busy posting their books.

Hundreds Enjoy Booster Group Barbecue

Lamb County Community Center. Guests from Amarillo, Snyder, Lubbock, and Slaton added to the large crowds eating at outdoor tables, and were introduced by C. A. Miller, president of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Miller also introduced the new secretary-manager of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, Jesse L. Everett, Jr., who will assume his duties on August 1 when he moves here from Hillsboro. As tokens of appreciation for having served excellently as past city commissioners, plaques were presented by Mr. Miller to A. C. Chesher, L. C. Campbell, and Mayor L. C. Hewitt. These plaques were voted by the Chamber of Commerce in recognition of the leadership of these outstanding Littlefield residents. Nelson Naylor, past president of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, introduced Robert "Bob" Page, director of choirs and assistant professor of music at Eastern New Mexico College at Portales, whose fast-paced musical monologue and songs set a high note in entertainment. Continuing the musical theme, Raymond Elliott, assistant professor of music at Texas Tech in Lubbock, was introduced by Tróy Arms. Professor Elliott, noted Texas specialist in the history of music and folk songs, brought the background of music of other nations to a focal point with songs originating from the pioneers who settled the South Plains and the far west. Praise for the splendid service and meal was extended by president Miller to Charlie Duval, general chairman; "Hoot" Cannon and Travis Jones, who did the barbecuing; Dick Carl and Elmo Jones, for the trimmings; Paul Carmicle, seating; and Marshall Howard, who secured the entertainment; and Jim Mangum in charge of ticket sales. Invitations were also made to the fifth annual barbecue, to be held next July.

Sudan Business Men Met To Plan Sudan Fall Festival For 1953

Forty-seven representatives of Sudan business, civil, social and religious organizations met at the Joe T. Salem home Thursday night to formulate plans for the 1953 edition of the Sudan fall festival.

The committee voted on a number of proposed features for the festival.

Joe T. Salem, chairman, presided over the meeting, assisted by J. W. Miller, manager, and Mayor Harold Close.

The group voted for a pageant to again be staged under the direction of the 1935 Study Club of Sudan. Details of the pageant to make it different from last year's presentation will be worked out by representatives of the Study Club and the festival committee.

Mrs. L. E. Slate presented a unique idea for an additional feature for the show this year which was readily approved by the committee. She proposed that foreign representatives in the United Nations be asked to send a gift of some nature from their home country to the fall festival. The business house representing the respective country would display the gift, unopened, in their store window until the day of the festival at which time the gift would be opened and presented to some person attending the festival who had registered his name in the store displaying the gift.

Members of the United Nations will be contacted in the immediate future with the plan and a request for co-operation.

It was also voted to again sponsor a nationwide contest on a formula for world peace, with individuals as well as organizations eligible to enter.

F. O. Masten spoke to the group and described in detail his recent visit to the White House in Washington and his meeting with President Eisenhower. Masten told of watching the president sign a document setting in motion a year-long drive to be known as the "March of Freedom".

The group was shown a technical color film made of the 1952 Fall Festival in Sudan. The film will be edited and sound added in the immediate future.

Former Sudan Educator Named To New York University Position

According to a recent article in the New York Times, Dr. Ray F. Harvey, formerly of Sudan, has been appointed as director of New York University's new Office of the Budget. The appointment was announced by Dr. David D. Henry, executive vice chancellor.

Dr. Harvey, professor and chairman of the department of government at the Graduate school of Arts and Sciences, will also act as assistant to the executive vice chancellor.

A member of the NYU faculty since 1932, Professor Harvey has specialized in public administration.

tion. He has served with New York State governmental agencies, and is now director of the Southern New York section of the Citizenship Clearing House. He was assistant to the provost at NYU until that office was abolished last year.

Dr. Harvey and his family visited his parents and his brother, Chester at Sudan last year. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Harvey, Route 2, Sudan.

SUDAN MAN TREATED AFTER CAR MISHAP

A Sudan man, C. T. Daniels, was shaken up when his car overturned a mile east of Littlefield on the Lubbock Highway about 10 a. m. Friday.

The victim was taken to the Payne-Shotwell in a Hammons ambulance. He was released following emergency treatment.

Officers said Daniels apparently lost control of the car after hitting a soft shoulder.

CASTOR BEANS—H. E. Schuster is shown with a cluster of Muleshoe beans over a cluster of castor beans taken from his second crop, which covers 22 acres and shows promise now of a good harvest this year. Schuster is raising 600 acres of cotton, but feels that other cash crops should be developed for a balanced diversified program.

County Newest Cash Crop Showing of Castor Beans

SHOE—H. E. Schuster is a deeper, second plunge in Bailey County's newest crop—castor beans.

Schuster's present crop today is dark green and apparently on the way to a better than average yield. Besides the profits certain for this fall, it is Schuster's answer to expected acreage controls next year.

600 acres in cotton this year, Schuster still appreciates the benefits of diversified farming. He has a large potato, garden bean and tomato raiser.

Comparatively New Castor beans, which are still relatively new here, is Schuster's latest crop venture. Many Bailey County farmers have been raising this crop. Last year's acreage was 500 but now is 2,800 divided among 50 farmers.

County Agent J. K. Adams said Schuster's crop typified the county-wide acreage which has been good and winds well.

In no adverse turns in weather, Schuster should expect a yield of 1,000 to 1,100 bushels an acre. All the crop has been contracted for nine cents a bushel for an expected gross proceeds to $100 an acre. Yields of 1,600 pounds an acre have been reported here.

Its roots are not as great as cotton, but hoeing bills are definite. Adams said. In these crops the beans have proved themselves hearty to local diseases of wind, dust and drought. Similar To Cotton-Raising Schuster said that raising the castor beans is similar to that of cotton. Planting is about the same time. It was done in mid-April. And in the fall the fight against frost is the same.

A special harvester is used to gather the beans along with their prickly protecting covering. These then are run through a huller, a portable machine that is moved to the field to cut down hauling and expenses.

The de-husked bean that comes from the huller is then ready for delivery to the contract buyer.

Schuster treated his bean land to 65 pounds of anhydrous ammonium before planting. The ground had been soaked before the planting. Two additional irrigations were applied after the plants came up.

"They stood some pretty bad sand storms in fine shape," Schuster said.

Responsible For Compliments The castor bean crop has also been responsible for several unearned compliments to Schuster about his ability as a cotton farmer. The field is flanked on each side by plots of cotton, which actually are in better than average condition.

But several casual acquaintances driving hurriedly by on the highway, easily failed to identify the small plot, which does resemble profused cotton.

Schuster said he felt sorry he had to explain their error to them, but was glad to tell them that the castor beans too are in pretty good shape.

AUTHOR Of the Week

AP Newsfeatures By W. G. ROGERS

James A. Michener, author of "The Bridges at Toko-Ri," has been actor, editor, teacher, sailor as well as writer of such hits as his Pulitzer prize-winning "Tales of the South Pacific." Born in New York City of Quaker stock, he was brought up in Doylestown, Pa., where his mother boarded orphans from Philadelphia. It must be they liked it more than he did, for he ran away at 14 and bummed his way across the country, writing sports stories at 15, working in amusement parks, acting on the Chautauqua circuit. He studied at Swarthmore, and in Europe for two years, then taught in several places, turned up at Macmillan's, as textbook editor. World War II called him into the Navy, where he got the experiences which developed into "Tales" which became the Broadway success "South Pacific." The new work comes from both Life magazine and Random House; next spring there will be another novel, "Sayonara: A Japanese Romance."

August 31 Set For Opening of Sudan Schools

Following a regular meeting of the Sudan School Board recently, Robert Masten, president, announced August 31 has been set for the opening of the fall term of schools in Sudan.

Mr. Masten reported that work will soon get underway to repaint the walls in the high school building and the floors of the grade school will be refinished while preparing the buildings for the fall term.

During the meeting, plans were discussed for purchasing a new school bus.

The board also interviewed and considered several applications for janitor and bus foreman.

Mr. Masten said the teaching roster is still incomplete. Three teachers are yet to be hired; one for the fourth grade, one for Junior High and an assistant coach and teacher.

A former teacher in the Esteline school system, Mrs. Nigh, has been employed as Home Ec. teacher in Sudan High School, according to Masten.

Those attending the meeting were Masten, superintendent C. O. Gregory, Leroy Cole, Weldon Shaffer, Paul Chisholm and Dall Burnett. Absent members were Tom Wood and Charles Wiseman.

Helen Jones and Kenneth Middleton To Wed July 25

Miss Helen Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Jones, of Levelland, and Kenneth Middleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Middleton, also of Levelland, are to be united in marriage at 8 p. m. July 25th at the Austin Street Church of Christ, Levelland, Texas.

The Middletons are former Sudan residents.

Leroy Carver, Church of Christ minister of Whitharral will officiate and Littlefield Church of Christ chorus under direction of Alvis Jones will render the wedding music.

Kenneth is a graduate of Sudan High and has attended Freed Hardeman college at Henderson, Tennessee, and Abilene Christian College, Abilene, Texas.

The bride-to-be is finishing through the American School of Chicago.

After a wedding trip the couple will be at home in Lubbock where the groom-to-be is employed with the South Plains wholesale grocers.

Pin Money Pointers

Cash From Ceremics

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK—One day Suzanne Pushman got an idea for making ceramic pins—gay whimsies that would twinkle from a lapel and give zing to a tired old suit. She put her idea to work and today it finances her serious studies in art and ceramics.

She has her own workshop in a local garage in the suburban town where she lives. Here she keeps her two kilns and turns out the ceramic pins, which she sells to gift shops in towns around New York. One of her best-sellers at holiday time is her Santa Claus head.

This is the way she produces it: At a ceramics supply house, she buys flesh-toned pottery clay and red, white and colorless glaze. At a hardware she gets plaster of paris and at a dime store red and blue pinhead sequins and larger blue sequins about a quarter of an inch in diameter. To this she adds household cement and pins with flat backs which can be glued to the ceramics design.

Back in her workshop she takes the equivalent of a good table-spoonful of the clay and lays it on her plaster working slab. From it she molds the pin—a jolly Santa Claus head with a wide smile and one eye closed in a wink. She molds the bushy eyebrows, the bulbous nose, the beard and the cap with her fingers and small tools. The finished produce is about two and a quarter inches long and a quarter of an inch thick.

When it is finished, Miss Pushman sets it, face up (wet or dry) in a small box, big enough to hold it comfortably and covers it with plaster of Paris mixture. (She makes this by sifting plaster of Paris into a bowl of water until it floats and then, at this point, mixing it until it thickens slightly.) After the pin mold is well covered with the plaster of Paris mixture, she lets it harden for about an hour. Then she removes the plaster of paris cake and shakes out the model.

She uses it to produce other pins. She presses more of the clay into the pin mold and, without waiting for it to harden, she takes a little ball of clay and presses it to the newly molded pin. It sticks and she lifts out the mold and transfers it to another plaster slab. When the slab is covered with ceramic Santa Claus pins she transfers it to one of her electric kilns and fires all the pins.

When they have cooled, she takes a soft brush and applies colorless glaze to the face—white to the eyebrows, and red to the mouth, nose tip and top of the cap. Then she fires the pins again.

They are now ready for the final trim. Miss Pushman puts a light film of household cement on the cap top and dusts on the shimmering red pinhead sequins. She repeats the process on the nose tip and mouth. Finally she adds a thin line of blue pinhead sequins below the closed eyelid and a big bright blue sequin as the open eye. When the pins are thoroughly dry, Miss Pushman adds a streak of household cement to the back and fastens on the flat-backed pin. She makes a lot of other designs for holiday wear too, including spangled Christmas trees and angels with shimmering wings, but her Santa Claus heads are among her favorites.

For A Party Centerpiece

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Try a flower lake or one of the new inside-the-vase arrangements as a centerpiece for your next dinner party.

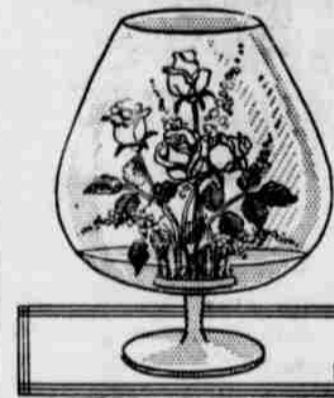

Both have an intriguing quality of mystery. Both are in line with a trend for centerpieces low enough to enable people to see one another across the table without strain. Both can be done inexpensively—and by you, if you have a little patience.

Here is the formula for the inside-the-vase arrangement suggested by Benny Hubbard, of Irene Hayes Inc., one of the country's leading experts in flower arrangements. It is one of four worked out for the dinner tables of busy women, who have to consider practically as well as effect.

Take a big crystal goblet about eight inches high. Set a pinpoint flower holder inside the glass and make a colorful flower and fol-lage arrangement about seven inches high. Gently set the arrangement inside the goblet and put in enough water to cover the base of the holder. Shimmering in candle light, this is both intriguing and smart. It is particularly practical if you are dining out of doors.

For a more important centerpiece, there is the mysterious lake. This one is best done with gladiolus—flame or shell pink. Strip the bloom off the stalk and cut off its short stem just below the point where the petals join. This leaves a hollow center in the bloom. Nest a bud in this hollow to produce a floral effect of exotic beauty. Spear all together with two ordinary pins, inserted horizontally. Prepare as many of these

John Steinberger
To Wed August 29

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. (Bob) Lewis of Midland are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sara Katherine, to John C. Steinberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark R. Steinberger also of Midland.

The ceremony is scheduled to take place at 10 a. m. August 29, in the First Presbyterian Church, Midland, with the pastor, Dr. R. Matthew Lynn, officiating.

The Lewis family are formerly of Littlefield where Mr. Lewis was manager of the West Texas Gas Company for a number of years. Miss Lewis attended school here, but graduated from the Midland High School and at present is a student at Texas Tech, Lubbock.

SLIGHT WIND DAMAGE

High winds, accompanied by a light shower, hit the Littlefield area early Tuesday. One REA pole was reported blown down about eight miles northeast of Littlefield, and minor trouble east and west from Bailey County to south of Roundup, according to J. H. Carl, manager of Lamb County Electric Co-operative.

as you need, but make it an uneven number.

Take a big shallow container, preferably glass, to make the lake. In it float tendrils of baby ivy or fancy caladium. Now stud the whole with floating gladiolus blooms for the effect of a dreamy flower lake.

For a simpler effect, you can build a flower mound, using a shallow wide container or bowl with a pinpoint holder set in the bottom. Stud the holder with blossoms—violets, freesias, geraniums or whatever pleases you. The stems should be cut so that the border flowers just clear the top of the container and the others rise gradually higher in a gentle mound effect. Add a touch of foliage here and there. Simple as this one sounds, it is a charmer if well done.

Here is another idea that will give your table a groomed look for every day and set a base for quick decorations trick when unexpected guests arrive. Set a pinpoint flower holder in a glass bowl. Get philodendron vines, wash the roots clean and arrange them gracefully in the bowl, so that some of the vines droop over the sides. That makes the piece for everyday use. When unexpected guests arrive, you can add a half-dozen daffodils, zinnias or geranium clusters in a few minutes to give a more festive effect.

COUNTY AGENT'S WEEKLY LETTER FARM NEWS

The rain that started on Friday of the past week were sufficient in all parts of Lamb County to plant.

This gives us 108 days until the average frost date of November 5th, in which to produce a crop on the acreage to be planted in Lamb County.

Blackeyed peas, millet, sudan and red top cane have a good chance to mature since this crop matures in 90 to 100 days.

Early hogari takes 109 days, Martins Milo take 113 days, Bonita takes 113 days, and Texas Milo takes 113 days to mature, so on any grain sorghum, except early hogari, the time would be very close to make a mature crop.

The crops that will give protection from wind erosion should be planted on most of the land, as the soils will be subject to severe wind erosion this next winter and spring.

Better quality silage is obtained by ensiling green material without adding water, than by ensiling dry material and adding water. R. E. Burleson, Texas Extension dairy husbandman, says that last year the college filled a silo with immature atlas sorghum before it headed. No preservatives were added and it was some of the best sorghum silage ever fed. He noticed the cows pushed aside excellent quality leafy alfalfa in the food troughs in order to get the silage.

Burleson points out that this is evidence that there is little to gain by allowing sorghum to make seed ensiling except to get increased tonnage and grain. When drought conditions cause the sorghum crop to burn before reaching the soft dough stage, it should be ensiled promptly. Water should not be added to silage unless the material is too dry to pack without it.

Fires take a high toll of farm property each year. Farm buildings and pastures are more susceptible to fire during these periods of high temperatures and dry conditions than other time of year.

Once a fire starts, dry lumber, hay, or grass burns rapidly and is extremely hard to control. Here are a few precautions and suggestions in keeping fire from invading your farm:

Plow fire breaks along property lines and on both sides of fences. Clear weeds, brush, and trash from farm buildings and it's good idea to plow fire breaks around all buildings too.

Isolate and watch carefully outdoor trash burners.

Don't leave fuel oils in glass containers.

Stop all engines while refueling; to avoid ignition of spilled fuel. Keep fire fighting tools handy and know where help can be obtained if it's started at a moment's notice.

United States agricultural exports are continuing to decline and are expected to total at least one-fourth smaller in 1952-53 than in the preceding year. This information comes from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Exports for April, the most recent month of tabulation, were 11 percent below those for March. The total exports in April 1953 were $223,535,000 compared to $296,785,000 for the same month in 1952, says Bates. Among the commodities showing the greatest decrease last April were cotton, wheat and rice, all mighty important crops in Texas. Butter, pork, lard, dried eggs, and apples were also listed. Bates points out that the continuing drop in agricultural exports presents an important problem to the economy of the country because this nation normally exports the products from about 5 million acres. Estimates now being made indicate that total exports during 1952-53 may fall short of $3 billion, compared with approximately $4.1 billion in 1951-52.

The export decline, has been attributed primarily to scarcity of dollars abroad, increased agricultural output in foreign countries and restrictive trade barriers. Plans for checking the crop in farm exports and bolstering foreign outlets for agricultural products are receiving major Department of Agriculture attention. The solution of this situation would be a big step forward in solving the surplus problem which is bringing back into the agricultural picture control programs.

SOUTH PLAINS GROWING GOOD CROPS—No one will deny the lack of moisture on the South Plains until the recent rains. But irrigation played an important part in producing good crops on countless acres. Now, with good rains, the greater portion of the South Plains is really going places in crop production. Crops that produce from late plantings will take part of the place of cotton that is normally planted on dry land.

Johnita Gallini of near Littlefield displays green, blooming cotton on her father's irrigated land. At top center, J. A. Sherrod of near Idalou and his son, Wayne, irrigate their cotton which, like many other fields, is "better than last year," while in the picture below them, C. W. Pierson of near Petersburg also stands in water up to his knees even though the sun is shining overhead. Next to Pierson Lolo Soto of New Deal with a few of the sacks of onions produced area. And, at right, still another of the crops grown in the belt, is Johnny Gallini, father, with two heads bage grown in his field.

Mrs. W. C. Sherry owns an irrigated farm near Lubbock.

She also accepted a resignation from one of its members.

Lydia, farmer and wife of Prichard was appointed to fill the term of Lydia, farmer.

Neither resignation has been controverted over a school building according to a spokesman.

Proposed new high school cost $225,000 was at first estimated 2-1, but later a petition by 182 persons was to the School Board asking the new high school not be constructed.

Cost is Cited

The board considered building a 50,000 new junior high school, this, too, met opposition.

Opposition to the building project listed as "graveness of economic situation and that would cost too much."

At the board at its meeting night sanctioned construction of a $10,000 vocational building. It will consist of classrooms and a shop. It will be constructed from local school funds, not from bond.

Board Decides Against Annexation Littlefield and Fieldton Schools

In a County School Board meeting held in the office of the County Superintendent J. Ernest Jones at 2 p. m. Monday, the matter of the petition that had been presented to the board asking the annexation of Fieldton schools with the Littlefield District, was discussed and considered.

A large delegation from Fieldton representing both sides of the matter, for and against it, including the principal, Sherman Taylor, members of the School Board and citizens of the community, were present.

Representatives were also present from Littlefield and Amherst School Boards, including School Superintendent V. P. Osborn and Amherst School Board President.

The petition was read before the group, and the interpretation of the laws by the Texas Education Agency was read before the group, and discussions were heard both for and against the proposed annexation.

After much discussion and deep consideration the County School Board decided against the annexation of the Littlefield and Fieldton School Districts.

Area Gets —

Prepare To Plant

Many farmers, with smiles on their faces Monday, were in town making plans to plant grain on their dryland farms, and according to David Eaton, County Agent, the entire County received sufficient moisture for planting, and he estimated that 150,000 acres of dryland would be planted this week.

Rains continued to fall over parts of the South Plains early Monday as the fourth consecutive day of showers and heavy rains blanketed much of the area, making it general over the 18 counties. The falls ranged from 6 and 7 inches in northwest Dickens County to slight showers around Andrews, during the past three days. But the average for the four through-out the 18 South Plains Counties was about 3 inches.

Hard showers drenched scattered sections of the state from West Texas down to the coastal city of Beaumont.

Saturday's downpours swept houses off their foundations at Albany, closed highways in West Texas, and flooded Beaumont streets.

A flash flood caused by the heaviest rain since 1941 rolled through Albany Saturday washing away a church and five or six houses. No one was injured. The six and a half inches of rain reported at Albany . . . which has had a total of eight and a half inches in three days . . . was the heaviest reported in Texas Saturday, though many other points got rain.

A rancher north of Albany, who was worried about feed for his cattle, reported 10 or 12 had been drowned.

A total of 3.67 inches of rain fell in Beaumont in one hour and 15 minutes.

A total of 4.26 inches of rain in Ranger closed busy U. S. Highway 80 between Eastland and Ranger as Colony Creek went out of its banks. Eastland had 2.75 inches. Stamford, 40 miles north of Abilene, was flooded by 4.95 inches.

The downpours Saturday followed Saturday multi-inch rains Friday and Friday night, which sent creeks flooding in historic Fort Davis, Abilene and Fort Worth. More than 200 persons in Abilene were evacuated Friday after rains totaling more than four inches. More rains in Abilene Saturday gave some parts of the city a total for the week of more than six inches. City officials said the week's water boosted the three lakes with a years supply, making a total water supply estimated at 2½ years.

The seven inches at Albany fell in about three hours. Old timers called it the heaviest rain in the city's history. Families were moved out of about 20 houses in the residential district in the north part of the city. Water stood two and three feet deep.

In Fort Worth, in the west part of the city, after a three inch rain, numerous people were evacuated by boat.

At Laredo the Rio Grande began flowing past the International Bridge for the first time in 37 days.

A wind storm struck Lamesa in Dawson County Sunday. No one was injured, but damage was estimated at between $50,000 and $75,000. The storm struck with sudden fury and among buildings damaged was the Lamesa High School building.

Flock of Geese Save Farmer $3000 In Cotton Chopping Costs Here

Leon Langford, who farms two miles northeast of Littlefield, gives a flock of geese credit for saving him nearly $3,000 in cotton chopping costs this season. Not only that, but Langford stands to profit $4 a head from each of the more than 250 geese on his place when cotton chopping season is ended.

Langford read of cotton farmers using geese to keep fields free of Johnson grass, so he ordered 400 day-old goslings from an Illinois hatchery. When the goslings arrived, Langford fed them grain until they were big enough to turn into the fields. Total cost for grain was $60.

Now there are about 250 of the Toulouse and white Chinese geese contentedly waddling down the cotton rows on the Langford farm plucking off every blade of Johnson grass showing above the earth.

Last year, Langford paid $3,500 for having his fields chopped. They were, he says, particularly overrun with Johnson grass, even to the extent of crowding out the field entirely.

This year, because the geese won't eat careless weeds, Langford will spend only $600 for cotton chopping, thus effecting a $2,900 savings, plus the sale price of the geese, which only cost $1.15 per head when he got them.

When he first got the geese to working in the fields, Langford hired a Mexican National to herd the flocks through the fields. Heavy mortality among the geese brought an investigation that showed the Mexican was working the geese too hard.

Now the flocks wander leisurely through the fields, pausing frequently near irrigation ditches and in the shade of high bushes. They "knock off" from work when the sun gets high, and do not return to their cotton chopping until the cool of the evening. But they are up early the next day to pursue their tasks.

Langford is sold on the idea of geese keeping his fields free of grass, and plans to install another flock of the big birds next year.

CITY WATER MAIN BREAKS TUESDAY

The city water main burst at the corner of South Twelfth and East Sixth Street about noon Tuesday, and before the water could be cut off the street was flooded.

The City Waterworks crew got the pipes repaired by late in the afternoon.

It may be Dub in his Beechcraft Bonanza, four-place, single engine, 185hp, cruising speed 160 miles per hour, etc, etc, and more etc.

Dub has more than 60 hours in the air. His log shows 14 hours under pilot instruction and the remainder of the time just me, my Bonanza, and terra firma way down there. Of course, he has made some trips since the first 14 hours when a pilot of experience occupied a portion of the seating accommodation.

Dub claims there's no foolishness about obtaining a private pilot license. Those examiners really put an applicant through his paces; they want to find out if he really knows how to fly . . . and, moreover, the questions they ask are simply stupendous . . . not 364 questions . . . they're double that plus . . . and then some.

Happy landings, Dub!

Last Rites Held For Harvey Reese

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday July 15, at Pierce Chapel, Los Angeles, California, for Harvey G. Reese, 34, son of Mrs. Dove Reese of Littlefield, with interment in Englewood Park Cemetery.

Reese passed away July 11 at Los Angeles, as a result of a heart ailment. He was a veteran of World War II, and after serving 3½ years with the Air Corps, he was discharged in 1944.

Surviving besides his mother, are three brothers, Harlan of Sudan, Sgt. Billy Reese in the service and stationed in Austria; and Bobby at home in Littlefield; and two sisters, Mrs. Jackie Martin of Compton, California, and Mrs. Jonell Black of Lubbock.

Glenn Miller Returns From Lions Club Camp

Glenn Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Miller, of 5 miles southeast of Littlefield, returned Saturday morning after spending two weeks at the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children. Glenn was met at Plainview by Lon Homer Garrison and his father, H. J. Miller.

While at camp Glenn took part in the activities which included leathercraft work, basket making, swimming and many games. He won first place in the basket-weaving contest and second place in schuffleboard. The boys hiked through the hills and studied nature.

One of the highlights of the camp was the appearance of John Regan, the Will Rogers from down under, who entertained the boys with trick roping.

Each morning the boys were given a physical examination before the activities of the day got underway.

On Sunday the boys were taken to the church of their choice to participate in the services.

Jaycees Change Meeting Time

The Littlefield Jaycees have changed the time of their regular meetings from Thursday night to every Tuesday at noon. The meetings will be held in the dining room at Fisher's Cafe at noon on Tuesday.

Hart Camp Farm Bureau Meets Monday Night

The Hart Camp Farm Bureau had its regular meeting Monday night with L. H. Neinast, president, in charge of the session.

There were 12 families present. The men spent some time discussing the cotton acreage reduction program for next year.

The social hour was spent in eating home made ice cream and cake and visiting. The next meeting will be on August 17. Everyone is invited to come.

Mrs. J. C. Miller is reporter for the Farm Bureau.

New Nursery Program At First Christian Church

Next Sunday will open a new nursery program at the First Christian Church, on the Levelland Highway near Ninth Street in Littlefield.

Mrs. Archie Gray, wife of the pastor, has announced that there will be a maid to take care of babies and small children where the parents attend church. All parents are urged to bring very small children to the nursery at 10 a. m. for Sunday School, and 11 a. m. for the morning worship.

Batting practice pitcher Al Zachary of the Yankees formerly held the same job with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Annual Methodist Church Picnic To Be Held Friday

The annual First Methodist Church picnic will be held at the City Park Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock. The Community Center building will be used the same evening to display the handwork done during the Vacation Bible School, which concludes with the picnic.

All members of the church, their families and friends are invited to attend. Each family is requested to bring its own food, drink, and dishes. There will be no program, other than the informal fellowship which is a part of a real picnic. Those attending may come when they desire, and leave as soon as they need to. The Vacation Bible School display will be open during the entire evening.

The Youth Fellowship has made arrangements for the use of the swimming pool for the evening, and all young people are urged to come prepared for swimming after the supper.

The Vacation Bible School had an enrollment of 130 through Tuesday of this week. Last year's record enrollment was 119. A special feature of the school this year has been the establishment by the children of a fund to support a missionary and his wife in Japan. Other groups of the church, inspired by the beginning made by the children, have asked an opportunity to help in this project. A surprise is expected to be unveiled at the picnic, expressing the gratitude of the church to its boys and girls for initiating this program.

Applications For Transfer Of Pupils Must Be Made Before End of July

J. Ernest Jones, County School Superintendent, reminds parents wishing to transfer their children from one school to another, that they must make application for transfer with him not later than July 31.

Mr. Jones is taking applications for transfer all this month at his office, 123 South Westside Avenue, Littlefield.

New Citizen Arrives In Dr. Shotwell Home

Littlefield has a new citizen . . . Ira Thomas Shotwell, III.

capable young men who will conduct this meeting.

Both of these young men are excellent preachers and song leaders. One of them will preach one night and the other one the next night, whoever is not preaching will lead the singing, and both will be singing solos throughout the meeting. Another feature of the service will be a young men's quartette.

The public is invited to be present for every service. The meeting ends Sunday evening August 9.

Each evening next week cottage prayer meetings will be held in the homes of the various members.

Mrs. Sproule Passes Away

Mrs. Jeanne Sproule, sister of Mrs. C. E. Cooper and Mrs. William G. Morris, passed away at the Payne-Shotwell Foundation Sunday at 12:30 o'clock midnight, after an illness of several weeks.

She suffered a broken hip some time ago, and had just nicely recovered from that injury, when she fell and broke an arm, and since that time had been confined to her bed and a patient at the hospital.

The remains were taken overland by Hammons Funeral Home to Sweetwater, Texas, from which place, the body, accompanied by Mrs. Cooper, and Mrs. and Mrs. Morris, left by train for Indianapolis, Indiana, where funeral services and burial are expected to take place this afternoon (Thursday).

Mrs. Sproule's husband, William K. Sproule, preceded her in death in 1938.

Her only survivors were her sisters, Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Morris, with whom Mrs. Sproule had made her home for the past four years.

Dr. Vanderpool, Uncle of Methodist Church Pastor To Hold Revival Here

Last Rites For Brother of Mrs. Campbell Sunday

Vernon (Si) Fraley, 63, of Morton, brother of Mrs. Lon Campbell of Littlefield, and also a former resident of this city, passed away suddenly at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday of last week as the result of a heart attack.

His wife was absent from the home when Mr. Fraley passed away. She had left the day before to visit a brother in Oklahoma and had only arrived a short time when she received the death message.

Mr. Fraley had followed the trade of painter and paper hanger, and had lived in Morton since 1931, previous to which he lived in Littlefield and assisted his brother-in-law, Lon Campbell in the operation of a cafe.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p. m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church, Morton, with burial in the Morton Cemetery.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Bea Fraley, deceased is survived by eight children, two sons and six daughters, and five brothers and two sisters.

The sisters are Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Beulah Parker of Blythe, California. The brothers are Walter Fraley of Ropesville; Bud, J. D. and Jake of Riverside, California, and C. A. of Bledsoe, Texas.

The services were delayed awaiting arrival of a son, Otis, in service in Japan, and relatives from California.

Dr. Homer Vanderpool, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, Dayton, Ohio, will be the preacher during the revival services at First Methodist Church in September. Dr. Vanderpool has been pastor of Tyler Street Methodist Church in Dallas, where for seven years he had the largest Sunday School attendance in Methodism. Later he was pastor of First Methodist Church, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

He went to the Dayton church about two years ago. It is the largest Methodist Church in Ohio, a state that has more Methodists than any state in America. On last Easter Sunday, he received 129 persons into church membership. Every Sunday morning he preaches twice to overflow crowds on a sanctuary that seats 2,000 people. Over 5,000 people hold membership in Grace Church.

Dr. Vanderpool, a native of Kentucky, is well known in the High Plains of Texas. An active Rotarian, he has spoken to numerous District Conventions of Rotary in this area.

Rev. Harold Taylor, pastor of First Methodist Church, White-wright, Texas, will lead the singing during the revival. He formerly was associate pastor at First Church, Paris, and also minister of music at Baton Rouge during Dr. Vanderpool's pastorate there.

Harry Vanderpool, pastor of the local Methodist Church, is a nephew of Dr. Vanderpool's. Together with 5 other members of the family, they constitute the largest preacher family in the Methodist today. Brothers of Dr. Vanderpool who are preachers are Walker, superintendent of the Denton District of the Methodist Church; La-Rue, pastor of Wichita Avenue Church, Fort Worth; and W. S., pastor of First Methodist Church, Poteau, Oklahoma. W. A., another brother, was a pastor in Oklahoma prior to his death.

Dr. Vanderpool's nephews who are ministers, are W. S., Jr., pastor of New Roads Methodist Church, Louisiana, and James, a Roman Catholic priest in Wisconsin.

The revival services will begin Sunday, September 6, and continue through Sunday, September 12. Services will be held twice daily, at times to be announced later. Dr. Vanderpool will also speak to the local Lions Club and Rotary Club during the week.

Earth Youth Sustains Broken Shoulder And Bruises In Freak Tractor Accident

Wayne Mullis, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Mullis of Earth, was released from the Payne-Shotwell Foundation Sunday after being a patient over a week suffering from injuries received when a tractor run over him.

Wayne and a companion, Davd

Cearley, were riding on a tractor with Wayne on the hood, near the Mullis farm when he fell off and the tractor ran over him. He sustained a broken right shoulder, bruised left arm, chest and face. The boy's shoulder is in a cast. He is getting along satisfactorily.

Overcoming A College Education

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Mrs. Mathilda Jones was left penniless, when her daughter, Jane, was only a year old. But Mrs. Jones was a determined woman and she decided then and there that she'd see to it that her daughter would have a fine education and never be faced, as she was, with the necessity of making a living without some skills.

Mrs. Jones, like many a widow before her, took in laundry, and by the time Jane was 17 last fall, Mrs. Jones was the owner of a fine string of laundrettes from Maine to California, the owner of a balanced portfolio of blue chip investments, held mortgages on several apartment houses and two department stores, had a 27-inch screen television set, a foreign sports car, had been written up 73 times as a successful woman, and was so well established that she wore a cloth coat instead of mink in the winter because everyone knew she could have mink if she wanted it. But she never forgot the difficult years, and Jane's college education and the most important thing in her life.

So Jane, with trunks full of party clothes and campus clothes, was packed off to one of the nation's best colleges, the admonitions of her mother to study hard ringing in her youthful years. Mrs. Jones couldn't wait until Thanksgiving vacation to hear about Jane's progress. She met her at the airport, and they were driving home together. Jane strangely silent and thoughtful.

"How am I doing?" Jane finally said. "All right, I guess, but I'm pretty worried about the toothpaste survey. I think I'm stuck in the group which is using the old-fashioned toothpaste without ammoniation and chlorophyll instead of the one which is giving a 30-day test to the new miracle cleaner."

She frowned. "I'm worried that I did something wrong in the cigarette survey. I can't imagine how I did, though. I had my throat, sinuses and nose inspected every single day for a month by a competent specialist, and I never coughed once the whole time. And they picked me as the college student to tear the wrapping off the cigarette for the commercial."

Mrs. Jones, who had read all the books on child-rearing, remained silent although she was confused.

"Perhaps it was breakfast survey that put me on the black list," Jane continued unhappily. "But I really was very careful. I managed to choke down orange juice, cereal, two eggs, bacon, toast and milk every morning for a month, and the testimonial I wrote about the breakfast food was very neatly worded, if I do say so myself. Maybe they were disappointed because I weighed in three pounds heavier at the end of the month."

Her expression lightened. "But I lost the pounds quickly as soon as I went on that diet of those new thinning foods—rum old-fashioned, spaghetti and cola drinks, and all the women's magazines were interested in the slimming two-week spaghetti and meat-sauce diet I set up for the Little Pizza company. Do you like my hair-do?"

Mrs. Jones nodded. "The survey shows that 98 percent of college girls use this new, easy combination tint and permanent wave," Jane said. "And I think there's a good chance, after the survey, that they may use me as the girl with hard-to-wave hair in the TV commercials."

"How am I doing in my classes? Goodness, mother, you're old-fashioned."

"... So Shall Ye Reap!"

If we would all try sowing a few more of the seeds of Kindness, Charity and Understanding we might, each, in our own small way help make the World a better place in which to live.

There is no better place to seek for guidance in this worthy undertaking, and the revival of faith in ourselves and in our fellow man, than by regular attendance at the Church of our choice.

Preventing Insect Damage Thru Research

Killing insects is not like a marriage proposal. A little thought beforehand may prevent a pack of grief afterwards.

A fellow rarely has the chance to repeat his premarital mistakes. But fortunately, we can profit from our previous errors in insect control. And Texas Department of Agriculture entomologists are under pressure now and for some quick answers to our pest problems.

Biological control is very promising. Milky disease has reduced the ravages of the Japanese beetle in the U. S. but we are always looking for ways to breed and distribute more natural enemies of destructive insects. Such research involves a world-wide search for insect predators, parasites and diseases of the pests we want to control.

The more we know about the causes of the rise and fall in numbers of an insect, the better we can forecast and prevent these epidemics and the resultant damage. It is essential that our techniques of survey and identifications be rapid, sure, and inexpensive.

Timber losses caused by insects surpass those due to fire in many parts of Texas. Some years, our national loss from the cotton boll weevil exceeds 500 million dollars. Other insects that have losses exceeding 100 million dollars in a single year include grasshoppers, cattle grubs, corn earworms, greenbugs, bollworms and European corn borers.

In the past 10 years, more than a score of new organic-type insecticides have been tested and marketed. There are hundreds more awaiting further study. Results, thus far, of entomological research have been a big factor in increasing crop yields, yet the above losses demonstrate the need to discover even better control procedures.

Results of research, when applied on farm, ranch, forest, and in the home, will prevent waste and suffering by controlling more than 600 destructive insects as well as the pests that transmit diseases of plants, livestock and man.

We need research—and plenty of it.

REMEMBER

The following was news in the Lamb County Leader of its issue of August 23, 1953.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Biggerstaff and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. McCain and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Campbell were called to Crosbyton August 5 to attend the funeral of their daughter and sister, Mrs. G. T. Wannix, who passed away at 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the Church of Christ conducted by Elder F. C. Vance. Interment was made in the Crosbyton Cemetery.

J. T. Roy, aged 62, of Enochs, passed away at his residence Thursday, August 16, at 9:15 p. m. following a lengthy illness from diabetes.

Funeral services were conducted at the residence Friday afternoon, August 18, with interment immediately thereafter in the Morton Cemetery, in charge of Hammons Funeral Home.

Mrs. Juanita Roper entertained at her home on East Sixth Street Tuesday afternoon honoring her little son, Bobby Glenn on his sixth birthday. Various games were played, following which the pink and white birthday cake bearing six candles was cut and served with ice cream featuring the same color, to Dorothy Jean Lowe, Henry Lee Shelton.

Zed Robinson was host Thursday evening at a picnic at the Jim Blessing farm, three miles east of Littlefield, when members of the men's class of the Methodist Sunday School, of which he is president, and J. O. Garlington, teacher, were guests for the occasion. Included in the program was a baseball game. Teams were chosen, with Dr. Payne as captain of one, and Dr. Wm. N. Orr of the other team, the former winning by the score of 20-5 largely due, it is reported, to the expert pitching.

Mrs. H. F. Moody entertained Sunday noon at a birthday dinner party honoring her son, J. C., on his ninth birthday.

A special table in Moody's Cafe was laid, which was centered with a large birthday cake, holding nine candles. Those attending the party were the honoree, J. C. Moody, Jean Clark, Blair Goodwin, Jimmie Bell Robinson, Charlie Pelcher, Jimmy Riddling, Willie Bradley, Clyde Wright, Barteo Halle, Billie Bob Halle, Henry Lee Shelton and Joseph Ashner, M. B. Welborn, Jackie, Charles and Grace Cernea Clark, Billie Anderson, Billie Meador, Lindeen and Curtis Morris, Billie Pruett, Charles and Junior Franz, George Mae Childress, Betty Ann Franz and Jimmie Womack.

One of the outstanding parties of the season took place Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Dahlia Hemphill and Mrs. Ray Wade entertained at a bridal tea and shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hemphill, 707 East 8th Street, complimenting Mrs. Roy Young who prior to her marriage on August 12, was Gladys Wales. Miss Dahlia Hemphill, Mrs. J. R. Wales, Mrs. Mallory Etter and Mrs. Roy Wade formed the receiving line, while Mrs. Bob Badger ushered the guests to the dining room, where Mrs. R. B. Whittenburg, Miss Naomi Freeman, and Miss Eva Gertrude Chisholm served sherbet and cake to those attending.

A deal was consummated last Thursday whereby Guy Yeates of Lamar, Oklahoma, purchased the grocery stock and equipment of Payne Wood, who has been operating a Red and White Store in this city. Possession was taken by the new owner Thursday evening.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon, August 16 at 2 o'clock at the County Line School house, for Mrs. Alice Kirk, wife of J. W. Kirk of Lubbock, but formerly of near Anton, who passed away at her home on Avenue F.

Wednesday afternoon about 4 o'clock, following a six weeks illness, Typhoid fever was given as the cause of her death.

Interment was made in the County Line Cemetery with Burleson's Funeral Home in charge of burial arrangements.

Eugene Latimer, who has been employed as postal clerk in the Littlefield postoffice since March 1, 1929, was recently appointed Civil Service Examiner from this office, and has charge of all civil service examinations held here.

Pete Bosen of Sudan, veteran newspaper man and large land owner of this district, is feeding out 500 head of cattle at Elm Dale, Kansas.

Miss Eunice Stanfield, bookkeeper at the local office of the Texas Utilities Company, was elected Secretary and Treasurer of the Unity Club, an organization of Texas Utilities Company, managers and employees, at a business and social meeting of the club at Lubbock Wednesday evening of last week.

One of the most enjoyable parties of the season was given Wednesday afternoon August 15, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Jones, 620 East 5th Street, when Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Mallory Etter, and Mrs. M. M. Brittain entertained

CHECK TITLE WHEN PURCHASING HOME

A real estate title is a claim of ownership, or your right to land you have purchased. Most of us have little or no idea of the possible pitfalls in acquiring a good title when we buy a home. Many prospective home buyers' title difficulties result from commonly held misconceptions of the significance of certain kinds of real estate papers.

If you can prove your title against all the world, it is a good title. If, in addition, the evidence of your claim of ownership is contained in proper public records, it is a good record title. Ordinarily only a good record title is salable.

How do you know if you are receiving a good title to property you plan to purchase? The safest method is to have a title examination made—that is, a careful study of the abstract and other title evidence.

Here are a few common sources of trouble in real estate transactions to show why the minor expense of a title examination is justified.

Many persons sign "earnest money contracts" believing that they are mere receipts with no serious implications. In reality they may specify, among other things, the kind of title you must accept.

A "warranty deed" from a responsible seller is comforting to have but it is a poor substitute for a careful title examination. A warranty deed does not guarantee a marketable title.

Moreover, serious title defects may not come to light until long after the seller on a warranty deed is dead, has moved to an unknown address, or is bankrupt.

HEALTH TALKS

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

Neurosurgery, the specialty having to do with operations on the brain, spinal column or backbone, and nerves, is a fairly new field compared to other branches of medicine. Nevertheless, rapid advances in diagnosis, as well as medical and surgical treatment of nerve and brain disorders, have meant a high degree of safety for patients who must have operations on various parts of the nervous system.

At one time, for instance, knowledge that someone had a brain tumor brought visions of death, blindness, or a lifetime of invalidism. However the majority of growths can be removed in ample time since the discovery of x-rays and development of three special techniques: (1) x-raying the blood

Even if he is available a good title is much better than a law suit.

The fact that the seller has possession of an "abstract" does not mean that he owns the property. An abstract is only a history of a title. Possession of an abstract no more indicates ownership of land than possession of the history of Texas means that you own the state.

Some purchasers of land feel safe because the title is being examined at the time of purchase by an attorney for the mortgage lenders. This seems logical but is a dangerous theory. Mortgage lenders are sometimes willing to accept less than good record title as security. This is sound business for them because, among other reasons, the chances are that the mortgage will be paid off so that no expense in perfecting the title would ever need be incurred. It is risky business for you when you are putting your life savings into the purchase.

These are a few of the reasons why a title examination is an important safeguard to you. When it is completed, the attorney gives you a written opinion stating his conclusions as to who owns the land, the defects in or charges against such ownership, and the requirements to be met if any, to make good record title.

Off-hand this may seem a simple operation. In fact it is not. It requires the interpretation of numerous deeds, mortgages, wills court decisions to the various situations disclosed in the abstract.

A free pamphlet containing useful information on legal and other problems involved in buying a home has been prepared by Texas lawyers. To obtain a copy, print your home address on a postcard and mail to State Bar of Texas, Austin 15, Texas.

IT NEVER FAILS

vessels of the brain (cerebral angiography), (2) x-raying the cavities within the brain (pneumo-encephalography), and (3) recording the brain's electric currents (electroencephalography).

The discovery that the two frontal lobes of the brain, the part just above the eyes, are the areas chiefly responsible for the personality has made possible a new kind of neurosurgery called "psychosurgery." In certain severe mental illnesses, such as a personality disorder known as "schizophrenia," the patient even after extensive psychiatric treatment may be so withdrawn from reality that he must be kept in an institution. Surgery on the frontal lobes in some of these cases has improved the patient's condition. Others who have benefited by this kind of operation are those who are a danger to themselves or others, also patients who suffer extreme pain unrelieved by ordinary treatment methods.

In some of the earlier operations large portions of the frontal lobes were removed. As neurosurgeons learned more about the brain, they were able to cut out the exact amount of brain tissue from the right location to give desired results. Several other operations were developed with decided advantages: the personality and intelligence of the patient was changed less and the death rate was reduced to practically zero.

After psychosurgery the patient's personality is basically the same but is much more flexible. Anxiety and tension may be relieved, but at first the patient may be confused and lack insight and initiative. This is why rehabilitation aimed at getting him back to normal life and surroundings is begun early and continued until it is evident that no more improvement can be expected. Patients for psychosurgery should be carefully selected and the method of operation, as well as the kind of rehabilitation which follows it, individualized.

In 1952 a new operation for the relief of a painful twitching of the face known as tic douloureux (tick-doo-loo-roo) was devised. The operation was named for the Danish neurosurgeon who first performed it, Taarnhoj (pronounced Tarnoy). Former methods of surgery for this condition, although they relieved pain, resulted in some degree of numbness of the face and eye. The newest method seems to be effective in making the patient comfortable without causing any undesirable loss of sensation.

Still another disease, sciatica or lumbago, may require relief by neurosurgery, although medical treatment is usually effective. This condition is characterized chiefly by aching or soreness of the lower part of the back and pain in the hip, buttock, thigh, leg, or foot. Often it is caused by pressure upon a nerve in the lower part of the back by a bulging or rupture of the "shock absorber" between units of the backbone which are called vertebrae; these shock absorbers are known as "intervertebral disks." Medical measures for the treat-

JACKIE TROTTER COMPLETES HIS BASIC TRAINING

Lackland Air Force Base—Jackie R. Trotter, 14, son of Mrs. D. D. Trotter, Route 1, Littlefield, Texas, completing his AF basic training course at Lackland Air Force Base, the "Gate to Air Force."

Lackland, situated near Antonio, is the world's largest air force base, site of Air Force training, for men at headquarters of the Resources Research Center of AF's Officer Candidate School.

His basic training includes technical training and a course in specialized aviation for following a profession and career.

ment of sciatica includes (perhaps with a board mattress), heat, massage, sleeping drugs, and a light support. If operation is the intervertebral disk in part or altogether, on the patient's condition be replaced by a bone graft (two vertebrae that it is separated may be fused together).

A LION OR TWO

The Tail Twister says that the noblest of all dogs is the hot dog. It feeds the hand that bites it.

Our congratulations to Lion Hubert Henry. He has been chosen Zone Chairman for the zone including the clubs of Ropesville, Sundown, Levelland, Morton, and Carlyle 680. We think this a special honor inasmuch as our club is not in that zone. Nice going, Hub.

The census taker was interviewing a mother of a large family and asked how many children she had. "Well," she said, with affection in her voice, "there's Bill and Jane and then Susie, and—"

"No," interrupted the interviewer, "not names. I don't want names. Just give me the numbers." The mother's pride was touched. "They ain't got numbers," she retorted. "Each has got a name."

The Littlefield Lions purchased some $500.00 worth of restaurant equipment from Dyer Cafeteria. This will be donated to the Community Center in order to help set up a kitchen capable of feeding a large group. The club also purchased a 10 burner 2 over Garland range from the school cafeteria to place in the center. He hope that various clubs will take the opportunity to use the better facilities there when this equipment is installed.

We'll bet a lot of people who attended our Pancake Supper last week in the Center were there for the first time. They were surprised to find what a nice place it already is and what it can become (if we combine our efforts toward that goal). We netted about $200 on the supper and had more fun than anybody doing it. The grill Mrs. Millie Cottrell donated to the Lions Club to put in the Center really helped. We plan the Pancake Supper as an annual affair and will probably put it on in the cool of the year. Next time we'll be ready for the big turnout and you'll be sure of getting all the flapjillies you can eat.

Lion Art Dean says he has all the wrinkles ironed out. You knew what a wrinkle is, don't you? A wrinkle is something that if a prune hasn't got some of, it's a plum.

It's reported that the major menace on the highway today are drunken driving, thumbers for rides, and one-armed driving. To put it briefly, "hic", "hike", and "hug".

Roses to Lion Melvin Best for winning the Littlefield Country Club Golf Tournament. There's a golfer for you, Lion Alvin Webb, two-timer before, was consolation winner this year. Nice goin' fellows.

The Lion Tamer says that nothing is really work unless you would rather be doing something else.

The U. S. Trotting Association registered a total of 2,474 Trotters and pacers through May 31 this year. The corresponding figure for 1952 was 1,864.

SQUIRE EDGEGATE—Those Dog Gone Days

NO MONTHLY CRAMPS... not even on the VERY FIRST DAY!

NO MONTHLY CRAMPS... not even on the VERY FIRST DAY!
Doctors' tests show amazing preventive relief of pain, headaches, nervous feelings

Women and girls who suffer from the functionally-caused cramps, backaches and headaches due to menstruation—who feel upset and irritable on certain "particular days" every month—may be suffering quite needlessly!

Such is the conclusion from tests by doctors in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stopped or gave amazing relief of such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases... even on the very first and worst day of the period! Yet! Medical evidence proves Lydia Pinkham's Compound in action. It exerts a remarkably calming effect on the uterus—without the use of pain-reducing drugs!

The effectiveness of Lydia Pinkham's needs no proof to the millions of women and girls whom it has benefited. But how about you? Do you know what it may do for you?

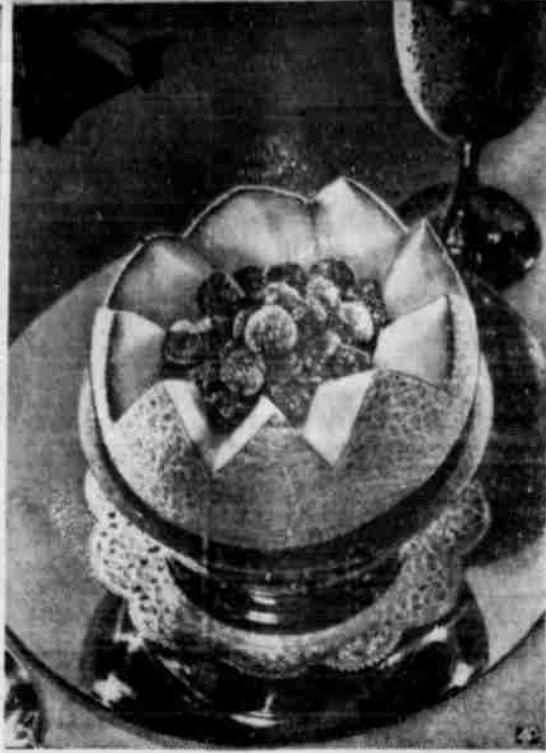

Take Lydia Pinkham's! See if you don't get the same relief from cramps and weakness... feel better both before and during your period!

Get either Lydia Pinkham's Compound, or new, improved Tablets, with added iron!

Lydia Pinkham's is wonderful for "hot flashes" and other functional distresses of the "change of life" too!

Lydia Pinkham's has a cramping effect on the uterine contractions (see chart) which may often cause menstrual pain.

Lonely? Try Banquet for One

SUMMER meal for one . . . on paper plates. GLAMOROUS dessert . . . for private feast.

By SECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

The baby's still in the bottle stage and the older children are at camp? You're a mother who eats an uninteresting bite-and-nibble lunch all by yourself?

Or maybe you're a career girl who lives alone and loves it—except for those nights you have a solo supper?

Then you've no idea what wonderful thing a banquet for one can be. So comfortable to lean back and luxuriate in a delectable meal, to let your thoughts wander where they will, to plan and dream. Or to prop up that novel you've been dying to read and enjoy it, while you eat, without a single interruption.

Preparing an attractive meal for yourself doesn't have to mean more work—there are lots of interesting dishes that can be made quickly and easily in small quantity. Get yourself a supply of paper plates in a couple of sizes; when you're through, throw them airily away.

We used to turn up our nose at paper plates—but that was before they went both functional and glamorous. Now they come in pretty shades, convenient sizes, and with plastic-coated surfaces that stand up well under any type of food—hot, cold, moist or dry. Nice to know too, that they're sold in economy-size lots, with anywhere from 20 to 100 plates in a cellophane-wrapped package. So ho-ho some of your housekeeping money—give him chopped beef instead of T-bone steak—and treat yourself to this convenience. Or set your hair yourself one week, and splurge on these handy aids.

Every good cook needs rehearsal. What better time for a preview than when you're alone? Experiment with seasonings and garnishes. With methods of preparation. When you cook the dish for a duet or quartette, you'll feel confident. Your reward? Rave notices.

Are there some foods you love that you never get enough of? Go on a binge—and widen your culinary knowledge. If you're crazy about cheese, for instance, have it as often as you like—but in different ways. Fold grated Cheddar cheese into your omelet; put a Roquefort spread on your hamburger; spoon a rarebit over a toasted English muffin. You've always wanted to try different kinds of cheese? Camembert? Scandinavian Gjetost? Italian Bel Paese? Dutch-type Gouda? Who's to stop you? Wake up and taste!

But one piece of stern advice: A six or seven inch skillet and a pint size sauce pan are indispensable for the sometime eat-alone. So quick to cook or heat food, so easy to clean.

Enjoy your possessions. You've had your main course on a paper plate—this intriguing tomato dish, whose recipe we're giving you, with a crunchy salad of escarole, green pepper rings and fluted cucumber. Now bring out one of the silver dessert dishes Aunt Minnie gave you for a wedding present, put such a pretty easy-fix dessert, as this one that follows, on it. Then sit back and enjoy your gustatory adventure!

BAKED EGG IN TOMATO NEST
Ingredients: 1 large tomato, salt and pepper, 1 tablespoon grated Cheddar cheese.
Method: Scoop center out of tomato, leaving a wall about 1/2 inch

Babe Maps a Campaign To Help Fight Cancer

AP Newsfeatures
NEWTON, TEXAS—Babe Diddrickson Zaharias wants to return to championship golf for one dominating reason: to become a symbol of hope to all cancer victims. The Babe, mightiest woman athlete of them all, is recuperating here from an operation. It cut short her golf career just as she was driving from an operation for hernia.

Cancer, and the surgery to halt its spread, make it uncertain whether Mrs. Zaharias ever will be able to play competitive golf again. "If it's God's will," she says, "I'll play again."

FRILLED MELON-RASPBERRY CUP

Draw a zigzag pencil line around the center of a chilled cantaloupe. Now cut in half, following zigzag line so melon will be "frilled". Fill half with raspberries.

But, she adds, she wants the headlines and stories of the future to repeat, again and again, that she is a champion who defeated a disease which holds the world in terror.

It was in the spring that the athletic world was shocked by the disclosure that the Babe was suffering from a malignancy that necessitated an operation. She had just won a golf tournament—the Babe Zaharias Open—played in her home town of Beaumont, Texas. But she had been feeling the effects of fatigue on the second nine of each round. It wasn't like Babe—the woman who dominated the Olympic games more than 20 years ago and has been named as the top all-around American athlete. She had a specialist who had had cancer.

The operation was in Beaumont. So far as the case can determine, it was all right.

Right now she wants the world-wide fight against cancer.

Regular physical checkups are a necessity, she says, not hard to do and it's "much time," she points out. Babe hopes that the formation of a Babe Zaharias cancer fund will help in

A big beach towel can perform costume tricks that will give any little summer belle an edge on her less dramatically garbed companions.

You can stitch up or arrange cover-ups such as stoles, sling-pouches, dry-off skirts, beach ponchos, beach capes, and hooded capes in a jiffy, suggests the Pacific Mills Consumer Council.

The stole can conceal figure faults, too, particularly for the hippy or flat-chested girl. All you wooden beads or cork bobs at the ends.

 Or you can add an inside pocket to one end of your beach towel to hold sun glasses, suntan lotion, etc. by simply turning one end of the towel about 10 inches and stitching it firmly at the sides. A few more stitches can partition the sling pouch into three snug 12-inch sections so you can drape the towel over your shoulder without spilling the contents.

A smart beach poncho can be made from your beach towel by folding the towel across the middle so that the two ends meet. You then have 36-inch squares for front and back of your poncho. Cut a neck slit at the center of the fold—just long enough so that you can pop your head through comfortably. Hem the slit to prevent raveling. You'll find the poncho will look smoother if you stitch "apron strings" even with your waistline on the two side-edges of the front. These will tie at your waist under the poncho in back. Then wrap the back section of the poncho about you and fasten each side to the front with a button at the waistline. The result will be smooth poncho-coat rather than a loose hanging piece of terry.

makes just too much towel for your figure when it is pulled together. In that case concentrate on the middle of the towel's length-wise edge and run the draw string so that the skirt is just full enough when adjusted to become you. For a draw string use sturdy clothes line or narrower colored string which can be knotted and fringed at the tip if you like.

A beach cape is an elegant eye-catcher for the lass who is a trifle overweight. All you do is drape the length of towel over your shoulders, bringing the edge close to your neck with center back, and towel ends even at center front. Use some buttons to fasten the edges together down front, and your cape is completed.

do is drape your 36 by 72 inch beach towel (a usual size) about your shoulders, and cinch it in with a belt. A compatible belt may be made by braiding natural twine and knotting it with big colored

AMERICA'S NEW RAILROAD

15 of these big icing machines are in operation at ice-servicing points along the Santa Fe.

Ever see so much fuss just to chill an orange?

It's the best way there is today to refrigerate a "reefer"—but Santa Fe is developing an even newer and better way to do the job

In 60 seconds flat, the giant ice-crushing machines Santa Fe recently installed can fill the bunkers of a refrigerator car with five tons of ice! They are the newest and fastest machines for icing cars yet devised. And Santa Fe "reefers" are the most efficient type of refrigerator cars now on the rails.

These refrigerator cars and icing machines have carried the technique of ice refrigeration to the ultimate of present day knowledge.

WHAT ABOUT TOMORROW?

We can't be sure, BUT—Santa Fe is now experimenting with a newer way to refrigerate cars automatically for hauling foods which may require temperatures as low as 25° below zero.

30 new experimental refrigerator cars designed by Santa Fe, built in its own shops and each with a capacity of 128,000 pounds of frozen foods, are now being utilized in the movement of frozen foods.

Each of these new cars has its own thermostatically-controlled diesel-driven compressor-type refrigerator unit. It carries 400 gallons of fuel (almost the exact amount Lindbergh used to fly the Atlantic). It can maintain sub-zero temperatures all the way from California to New York.

BENEFITS FELLT ALL ALONG THE LINE

All along the line, people and communities feel the benefits of this building new wherever it actually occurs on the Santa Fe—and day-after-day, something new is done to make "America's New Railroad" a little better.

The millions of dollars this newness costs Santa Fe doesn't cost you a single penny in the taxes you pay.

Olton News

NEW WATER RATES ARE IN FORCE

New water rates were adopted by the city commission in a special meeting Tuesday night.

The move was made because and in many instances it has been impossible to learn exactly how much water has been used by the consumer. Consumers were placed on a flat basis by the city commission move.

Residential and regular business house rates will be $3.75 a month; wash racks 12.50 a month; laundries $17.50 a month and cafes $5.00 a month.

Gins, schools, hospitals and tourist courts will all have different rates. All bills will be on a flat rate basis and no meters will be read.

Elderly customers on old age assistance will be charged a flat rate of $2.00 a month. These rates will be in effect until further notice.

Authorities said consumers permitting water to be wasted will be penalized. It was also stipulated that any customer permitting a non-payer to use water free will be charged a double rate.

The rates are retroactive to June 20 and the new amounts will be charged on next month's bills.

Meanwhile, city officials said water consumption here still ranges around the million gallons-a-day mark. However, there has been no indication of water rationing.

CONDITION OF YOUTH IS IMPROVED

The condition of J. F. Nafzger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nafzger, is showing marked improvement, according to relatives.

Reports are to the effect that specialists have confirmed that the youth's condition was caused by a fall.

The youth was injured three weeks ago in what apparently was a fall from a horse at the Nafzger home. He is under treatment at a Dallas hospital.

BUILDING SHOWS MARKED PROGRESS

Olton's building was progressing nicely this week.

Whittington Merchants' cool looking green front was complete with awnings.

Brick work is done at the new Higgsbotham - Bartlett building. All that remains to be done is roofing, flooring, glass work and fixtures.

The floor was to be poured some time this week on the new Boulder Variety Store building being erected by C. E. Bley.

Work appeared to be continuing on schedule at the Olton Co-Op's twin gas.

LIONS CLUB CARNIVAL IS DISCUSSED

Members of the Olton Lions Club Tuesday of last week discussed plans for the forthcoming Lions Club carnival.

Garrett Bley presided over the meeting, his first since becoming Lions Club president.

Tunes were played by Harold Carson and various members of the club were required to sing the choruses or pay fines up to $1.00. Coffers of Tall Twister (fine collector) Lynn Fite bulged as the money came in from club members not musically inclined.

Eldon Franks is program chairman.

OLTON SCHOOL PLAN TO ERECT NEW PLANT

The Olton School board has retained an architect to make preliminary plans and study of a new high school plant here.

Engaged for the preliminary study has been the architect firm of Atcheson and Atkinson of Lubbock.

At the July meeting of the Olton Chamber of Commerce that group voted to back a $250,000 school bond issue for a new school building.

Chamber members agreed that the community is badly in need of a new school plant. School officials pointed out at the meeting that over-crowded conditions probably will reach a critical point by the beginning of the 1954-55 school term.

At the meeting, school superintendent Carl Mason, said a $250,000 bond issue may be made without raising tax evaluations. He said that an evaluation raise last year enabled the school district to pay off an $18,000 deficit.

Since no such debt exists now, he said the extra money could be used in retiring the proposed bond issue.

The Chamber of Commerce has agreed to circulate the necessary petition calling for a bond election.

RELATIVES VISIT IN HOUK HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Max Houk entertained a number of relatives and friends Saturday and Sunday. Guests included Messrs. and Mesdames J. C. Houk of Littlefield, Andy Houk and children of Lubbock, O. D. Yeager, Jr., and children of Brownfield, Johnson Lee of Lockney and Jimmy Walker and daughter of Washington, D. C.

FIRE DESTROYS IRRIGATION HOUSE

Fire early Monday morning destroyed an irrigation well house on the G. F. Parker farm 2½ miles northeast of Olton.

The well house, motor and gear-head were described as a total loss. Cause of the blaze was undetermined.

Some 15 Olton volunteer fire men answered the fire alarm.

MRS. EUGENE R. MILLER OF GUYMON, OKLAHOMA

describes her home freezer

"Time & Money Saver"

Ladies, when you can save both time and money, you have the kind of economy that homemakers really love. Listen, then, to what Mrs. Miller says.

"Our home freezer has proven to be very economical, and has saved about 10 hours a week in grocery shopping and food preparation."

Think of saving money—and 10 hours a week—and you'll think it's time for a freezer in your home now.

LYMAN'S
RECIPE OF THE WEEK
By Mary Lee Taylor
Frozen Pineapple Dessert
Broadcast: July 23, 1953
 1/2 cup Pet Evaporated Milk
 1/2 cup powdered sugar
 3 Tablespoons soft butter
 2 Tablespoons lemon juice
 1/2 cup graham cracker crumbs
 9-oz. can crushed pineapple, undrained
 1/2 cup graham cracker crumbs
 Put milk into ice tray of refrigerator. Chill until ice crystals begin to form around edges. Mix until smooth the sugar, butter, lemon juice and salt. Break graham crackers into inch pieces. Put ice cold milk into a cold quart bowl. Whip with cold rotary beater or electric beater, at high speed until fluffy. Whip in powdered sugar mixture 1/4 at a time. Stir in pineapple. Fold in cracker pieces and put into ice cube tray holding 1 quart. Sprinkle crumbs over top. Freeze, without stirring, in automatic refrigerator at coldest temperature until firm. Keep frozen until served. Makes 1 quart.
