IS FOUND GUILTY!

LEMINGTON, N. J. . . Here is Bruno Richard Hauptmann conferring with Defense Counsel Edward J. Reilly as the case against Hauptmann kidnapping and slaying of the Lindbergh baby, for which he drew the electric chair late Wednesday night, neared its close. Picture clearly shows desperate strain under which Hauptmann labored in late stages of trial.

HAUPTMANN GETS ELECTRIC CHAIR

Death in the electric chair is the penalty which Bruno Richard Hauptmann will pay sometime during "the week beginning Monday, the 13th day of March, 1935." Hauptmann was found guilty of the kidnapping and slaying of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., shortly after 10:30 Wednesday night. The jury, eight men and four women, had been out 11 hours and 45 minutes in the little Hunterdon county court house.

The stolid German heard the verdict, tottered perceptibly when Justice James W. Trenchard sentenced him to die in the electric chair. Counsel Defense Edward J. Reilly, announced an appeal would be carried "to the highest court of the country, the United States Supreme court, if necessary."

Death sentence climaxed 32 days of dramatic testimony and evidence in both sides. Col. Lindbergh had left the courtroom early Wednesday afternoon, and did not hear sentence pronounced. The "flying colonel" was not at home when officers phoned for a statement.

CITY BOY GETS ALTERNATE BID TO WEST POINT

Tilden Wright, University Student, Will Take Examinations

Tilden Wright, 19-year-old Texas University student and son of Mrs. Vernie Wright of Littlefield, early this week received an appointment by Congressman George Mahon as an alternate to take examinations for entrance to West Point Military Academy, according to a letter received Tuesday from the 30th District School by School Supt. A. B. Sanders.

Young Wright, now in his second year at the University, stands a good chance of entering the Academy, Supt. Sanders said Tuesday. He was an outstanding student in Littlefield High School, graduating with the Class of 1933. He won the state extemporaneous speaking contest at Austin in the spring of that year.

"Appointment as an alternate should not discourage Wright, if he can pass entrance requirements, since nearly 50 per cent of those taking these tests fail to come up to standard," Congressman Mahon declared in his letter to Supt. Sanders.

"Tilden should be able to pass entrance tests, since he was well above the average as a student while here," the Littlefield school superintendent pointed out.

"I am highly pleased that Tilden has an opportunity to enter West Point," said Mrs. Wright, who is connected with the Yellow House Land Company in Littlefield.

COUNTY APPLIES FOR PUBLIC WORKS FUNDS

SURVEY MADE OF COUNTY AT MEETING HERE

Funds For Roads, Improvements of Schools Sought

Lamb County, its towns, and several school districts filed application for loans and grants for improvement and construction work under the impending Roosevelt four billion dollar public works program following a county-wide survey of needed work held at the Littlefield city hall Thursday night of last week.

H. O. Walker of Lubbock was on hand at the Littlefield meeting to explain how the application system works.

Completion of work on Highway 28 and the North-South road would leave some $250,000 to be expended on the East-West route and other main feeder roads. Of this amount, an estimated $103,000 would be required on the East-West job, and considering the work already completed on this project, the $103,000 would be just enough for one asphalt topping on the entire road, officials believe. Grading and drainage on Highway 28 from Center east 13 miles to the Hale County line has been completed.

Announcement of the contents of Littlefield's application was not made.

Littlefield school district filed for projects totaling $75,000. Application included a standard gymnasium at an estimated cost of $25,000; reconstruction of the present grammar school building, $15,000;

COMMISSIONERS ADVERTISE FOR BIDS; TEST MADE

Local Man May Place Bid; Contract To Be Let About Feb. 28

With water gushing out of the new city well at the rate of about 650 gallons a minute under test pumping, Mayor Crockett and city commissioners started advertising for bids this week on Littlefield's $48,000 water supply improvement project. Contract will be let about Feb. 28, Mayor Crockett said Tuesday.

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of City Secretary W. G. Street up to 11 a. m., Feb. 28. A representative of the Public Works Administration will then be sent to help supervise perusal of bids, and the contract will be awarded.

Final plans are approved. Monday's pump test has more than pleased Littlefield officers, and only the 15-day advertising period for bids stands in the way of actual work on the project.

Possibility that a local bidder might get the general contract loomed this week when more than one Littlefield man declared intentions of placing bids on the four-point working plan.

These four items include a well, supply line, internal combustion engine pumping station, and transmission line to the well and appurtenances. The bidder who gets the general contract may sublet any of the four divisions to a sub-contractor, said Secretary Street Tuesday.

Wives of the members of the association are invited to dinner at 7:30 at the hall.

NEW CCC CAMP

W. M. Curry, editor of the Crosbyton Review, in his issue last week, came forward with a suggestion that a Civilian Conservation Corps camp be established in Blanco Canyon, east of that city.

"With sites for practically any size dam available, with running water which never dries up, and with fertile land suited for growing of trees, shrubs and other plants plentiful, the Blanco canyon could furnish one of the few beauty spots that citizens and travelers have in this section," he added.

Hop to it, Mr. Curry. Get your chamber of commerce busy; get Ralls Chamber of Commerce busy; also, the groups at Lubbock, Floydada, Plainview, Slaton, Post, Spur, Littlefield, Brownfield, Seminole, Seagraves, Lamesa, Tahoka, Olton, Abernathy and other towns. Call on the Rotary clubs, the Lions clubs, the Kiwanis clubs and other clubs to assist.

Write Congressman George Mahon at Washington. Write both Senators and other members of congress from Texas.

Line up the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the Santa Fe railroad and anybody and everybody willing.

Blanco Canyon would be an ideal spot for such work.

The South Plains needs as many such recreation spots as it can muster. Lubbock has gone after a park for Yellowhouse Canyon. If Lubbock gets its park, it can afford to help Crosbyton work up its project—Lubbock Journal.

We heartily agree with the Crosbyton Review and the Lubbock Journal in their support of a CCC camp for Crosby county, and we feel that the chambers of commerce, service clubs, and other organizations throughout this section would be willing to co-operate. More co-operation on the part of the cities of the South Plains will go a long way in the development of this section of the state. We suggest that the Crosbyton business men place the matter of a CCC camp for Crosbyton county before the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and other organizations in this city and throughout Lamb county.

KEEPING STEP

This is an age of rapid change due to pressure from within and from without. Scientific findings playing upon every phase of our lives, tend to undermine untrenched social institutions, to upset traditional beliefs, and to destroy accepted dogmas. After reviewing the breath-taking changes in many fields, the President's Committee on Social Trends states that the solution of the social problems confronting America "is a job for cumulative thinking by many minds over many years to come . . . nothing short of the combined intelligence of the nation can cope with the predicaments here mentioned." Surely then, we must seek to develop such qualities as adaptability and open-mindedness. A school that holds to the old traditional curriculum—reading, writing, and arithmetic, is totally inadequate to prepare boys and girls to act vigorously and intelligently in meeting the perplexities of this changing scene. As the tempo of social change speeds ever faster, the scope and efficiency of the educational system must keep pace with it.—L. A. Woods in Texas Outlook.

NOW GO ON WITH THE . . . DRY

The minister's words swam around her in a mist of sound. Beautiful words—liquid, musical phrases—the marriage service.

"Deary beloved," said the minister, and then— "For better, for worse, for richer, for poorer—" (Was Tony glancing down at her—didn't he know, couldn't he guess, that the money didn't matter?) "In sickness and in health."

A mist of words. And the tall girl fussing with a hang nail on her thumb, and the man in overalls scratching his ear, and a fly buzzing just in back of the minister's head. And Tony's hands so damp, so slippery with moisture, that it was hard for him to place the little sapphire hoop on Ellen's finger.

The minister was speaking. "How do you do, Mrs. Brander!" he said; and Tony was handing him a bill that shone very yellow in the dim light.

And then Tony's arms around her right there in the church. And his lips asking questions against her lips . . . And her lips answering those questions . . .

"Mrs. Brander!" As she sat across the suavely white luncheon table from her new husband—nervously sipping a tomato juice cocktail and trying not to quake both inwardly and outwardly—Ellen endeavored to tell her that it was really her name, now. And then she realized that Tony's voice was speaking. A light voice—a gay voice.

"Oh," she said, summoning up what courage she could. "Oh, so you're still there!"

"And will be," answered Tony, "for the next fifty years, at least!" It wasn't such a gay luncheon, after all. Not exactly the sort of a luncheon that a boy and a girl might have together, after a chance meeting at a jazz party.

In a short while it was over. And Tony, rushing around the table so that he—and not the waiter—might pull back Ellen's chair, was saying—

"What now?" Ellen's winglike eyebrows were dark smudges in her white face.

"Why, now," she said, "now, you know, Tony! I'm going on to Dick. To pose for him."

She paused, but the thunderbolt didn't fall, not as she had expected it to—not as it had fallen before. Tony's voice was low, and rather carefully controlled, but he didn't say anything at all harsh.

"How long will you be?" he asked. "You'll let me drive you to his place, of course. This Dick Alven's I mean. And I'll stop for you, if I may, after the posing is done."

It was his compliance that hurt. Ellen again felt the rush of tenderness toward him, wifely tenderness, that she had felt in the little chapel. She was eager to release the thing that was disturbing Tony, to tell him that, as far as she was concerned, the posing was done, now! That she didn't care if she never saw a studio again. That she didn't even care if Dick—dear, honest, faithful Dick—were quite swept out of her life. She wanted to look into the blue eyes of her husband, to look so low that her whole soul would be lost in their blueness, but—

"It'll take about two hours," she said. "I'm due there at three. Yes, you can drive me to the place, Tony. And you may," she didn't want, somehow, to give the permission, but there wasn't any way out, "you may stop for me, at five."

In silence they entered the red car again. In silence they drove once more up the proud avenue. At Ellen's bidding Tony turned off, at last, into a side street—into a small alley. And then he stopped the car in front of the building that she indicated.

"I suppose," he said with a childish wistfulness, "that you'd not like to have me come up, and wait for you in the studio? I'd be very quiet."

But Ellen shook her head in swift terror, a terror that was inspired by a certain sense of embarrassment.

"Not now, Tony!" she said. "Not till five. I'll be down here, at the door, waiting then."

Only Ellen—wearily climbing the stairs to Dick's high attic studio—didn't know how long Tony sat in the red roadster, beside the front door of the studio house. With his hands clasped tight on the wheel, and his mouth not very firm, and his eyes staring straight ahead at nothing at all.

Just before she knocked on the door of Dick's studio, even as her hand was raised for the knocking, Ellen remembered her wedding ring. She couldn't have forgotten it—not really—it was such a gallant, glittering small ring. She drew it off so sharply that one of its blue stones scratched her littlest finger of all, and folded it into the corner of her handkerchief, and placed the handkerchief in her pocket. She transferred the other ring, the great solitary sapphire, to her right hand.

She felt like a feminine Judas as she did it. Dick was standing before a huge canvas, with his paint-marked shirt carelessly open at the throat, and his hair ruffled, and his eyes intent upon some detail of the picture.

She went behind the screen in Dick's studio. And got out of her blue crepe dress (her wedding dress) and put on the white buckskin suit and the coral and turquoise beads. And like a little girl—only one dressed up to play pretend—she emerged from behind the screen, and took her place in a kneeling attitude, with her two pink palms cupped together in front of her, and her face raised to the smoky blur of the studio ceiling. She was an Indian priestess, you see. A very young one—suitable to belong in any school.

Dick made no comment. He painted with bold, sure, brisk strokes. It was four-thirty. Ellen, counting the strokes of the clock that sounded from the Metropolitan Tower, not so far away, wondered if Dick were almost through with painting. Dick was painting absordedly. She knew that she couldn't break into his absorption, no matter what came of it! The years with her mother had taught her not to interrupt creation unless some desperation drove her to it. However, she asked herself, wasn't marriage a desperate matter? Wasn't it, in the final analysis? She began to count her heartbeats—each heartbeat was a second, wasn't it? She counted for a long while . . .

The clock chimed again in the Tower. It was four-forty-five. "Almost done?" she ventured nervously. But Dick didn't answer, which meant that he wasn't.

There was a shuffle of feet on the stairs. Ellen started, her nervousness growing, before she realized that the shuffle was too light to be made by Tony's feet. It must be a girl who was coming.

It was a girl. It was Claire, perfectly groomed from her slippers of suede to her soft straw beret.

"I didn't expect to see you here," she said, "after what I heard! I thought for once that I might get a break and find Dick by myself."

Ellen hadn't heard the last part of the other girl's speech. Her whole being stood forward, on tiptoe, to catch the first part of it.

"What have you heard" she asked, in a breathless little voice.

"From the tone of her," she said, "you'd think our ewe lamb had something on the old conscience, what? Never can tell, can you, Dick? However," perhaps she sensed the hysteria back of Ellen's blazing eyes, "however, it was this! I heard that Sandy was out gunning for you. That he was abandoned, absolutely abandoned by you, at the Six Arts last evening. That you blew, just before dawn, with a handsomer man. How's that for scandal, Dick? How's that—"

Dick was scraping the paint from his palette. He held his palette knife very much as though it were a dagger.

"Ellen told me all about it," he said briefly. The clock struck five—the clock in the Tower. And Ellen, who for a moment had forgotten, whirled around on one slender moccasined heel.

"Oh, I must run," she said. "I really must, Dick. I've a date for five. I must—"

Claire hitched her skirts the merest fraction of an inch lower. "I suppose," she said, "that the red Rolls, at the curb, is waiting for you?"

Ellen was staring toward the screen, but she stopped short at Claire's words. Stopped for a blank second as Cinderella must have stopped when all of her loveliness was turning back to rags.

"It's not down there already?" she asked. "Why, I said—"

Claire was laughing. Her laughter blew, like thistledown, against the sound of feet—the sound of feet, once more, climbing the stairs.

Again Ellen's heart stood still. For this time the tread was unmistakably masculine. Again she, herself, stood still, with her eyes on the door. Knowing even as she waited, that the anxious eyes of Dick, the scornful eyes of Claire, were upon her.

And then the door opened and Ellen, with relief bubbling up to her lips, found that she was laughing.

Only she shouldn't have laughed, really—not at Sandy! For Sandy's face was as lugubrious as it was angry.

"I thought maybe I'd find you here," he told her. "Say, you're a peach, you are! I hunted all over the whole hotel for you."

Ellen didn't say anything. She merely stood, in her white buckskin suit, and rocked back and forth with the storm of her mirth. Only it wasn't just good clean fun, that mirth—it was something of a mental upheaval.

"I'd like to know how you got like that, all of a sudden. Going so loose, I mean. After all, I've been pretty regular—" stormed Sandy. "No, Dick, I'm darned if I'll can it!—It hasn't always been the easiest thing in the world, letting you get away with murder, just because you're supposed to be a wide-eyed innocent. And then you treat me like a sap!"

Suddenly Dick had laid aside his palette with which he had been toying. In long strides, he had crossed the room to Sandy's side. As he stood there, he looked very formible, for all its gauntness.

"Bordertown" To Be Featured at Palace Saturday Midnight

Paul Muni is booked for the Palace Theatre Saturday midnight, Sunday afternoon, Sunday night and Monday, in "Bordertown," a Warner Bros. production that is said to be the most colorful and the most powerful drama in which he has yet appeared.

The picture, suggested by Carroll Graham's best selling novel, is set for the most part in a resort town on the United States border, a picturesque community, wild and lawless, the rendezvous of roustabouts, gamblers, outcasts, adventuresses, and also the trusting place of American millionaires and bored society women.

In "Bordertown," Muni has the role of a foreign youth fired with inordinate ambition, who drudges at hard labor all day and studies law at night, only to be disbarred for attacking an opposing lawyer.

Dauntless, he goes to a border town, where he rises to riches and power in the community as the proprietor of the most fashionable night club and gambling resort.

Two women play a vital part in his life, one a fiery adventuress, the wife of his partner. The role is played by Bette Davis, who is so much in love with the handsome youth she murders her husband in the hope of winning his affections.

C. OF C. DISCUSS RELIEF PLANS HERE TUESDAY

Prof. Sanders Outlines Projects Submitted By School Board

The Littlefield Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting Tuesday, over which Vice President J. S. Hilliard presided, was well attended.

The various projects for which relief funds have been applied for by the City, State and County, were discussed, and Prof. A. B. Sanders outlined the projects which the local School Board had voted to submit as follows:

First, a gymnasium to cost around $25,000.

Second, to reconstruct the grammar school building, to cost about $20,000 using old materials.

Third, to add classrooms to the school building at an expenditure of about $12,000.

Fourth, to build home economics department into present shop building.

Fifth, to construct an independent water system by the schools.

Mr. Sanders stated he believed that after investigation it would develop that the government on supplying 50 per cent of the funds necessary for such projects would expect the school board to raise the remaining 50 per cent to complete any certain project.

Mr. Hilliard spoke on the need for improvements to certain of the school buildings, especially the grammar school.

He also stated that the county commission had applied for funds to improve the north and south road; and also the east and west roads, but that he believed these funds would be furnished in the form of a grant.

Mr. Sanders also reported on the Basketball League program, stating Olton and Littlefield teams were in the finals, and would play their first game here Tuesday night and Olton Thursday night.

G. M. Shaw reported he had received another letter from Senator A. P. Duggan stating they were adding a supplement to the bill already drafted, asking for the regulation of peddlers, this suggestion coming through the Merchants Retail Association.

Mr. Shaw urged the cooperation of all merchants in the matter of pushing this measure, stating that Senator Duggan was working hard in the interest of the merchants at Austin, and expected cooperation at this end. Mr. Shaw stated he and his committee expected to go to Amarillo this week to interview the Board of Development in that city and get their assistance.

He stopped here enroute to Christoval where he intends to visit his 91-year-old mother, "who has been down with blood poison but it up and stepping around right lively now."

Norfleet, whose home is at Hale Center, compiled and packed into a book his adventures in Texas, which was published as "Norfleet," and has attracted considerable attention over the west.

"Your rancher, the late Phelps White, and myself were old friends," Norfleet declared. "He saved my life when I was down with ptomaine poison in Old Mexico and I rode 137 miles on horseback to save his life once back when he was getting his start as a cattle rancher."

Norfleet claims to have been one of the original 18 men who started work on the old Spade ranch. "When Snyder sold the ranch to the Ellwood interests, I was thrown in with the deal," he pointed out.

SAFETY OFFICERS APPLAUD TERRAPLANE BRAKING ABILITY.

Police measuring stopping distance recorded by a 1935 Terraplane which bettered requirements in this respect by nearly 50 per cent.

Detroit Police and Insurance officers conducting rigid brake test on 1935 Terraplane which broke all previous records for stopping distances.

Insurance and police officers of the City of Detroit recently conducted a brake test on a 1935 Terraplane Sedan. The purpose of the test was to compare the ability of this new 1935 model to stop with the standard figures approved by the Police Department at various speeds.

at speeds of 40 and 50 miles per hour the Terraplane stopped in about half the distance called for by the Police Department. This department uses figures compiled as the result of a large number of tests made by the Bendix Brake Company. For example, at 50 miles per hour the Detroit Police Department states that with brakes in excellent condition, the car should be able to stop in 111 feet. The Terraplane at 50 miles an hour stopped in 65 feet. While tabulations of the Police Department at 40 miles an hour call for 71 feet, the Terraplane stopped in 40 feet, 1 inch. At 20 miles an hour, as against the police requirements of 18 feet, the Terraplane stopped in 10 feet 8 inches.

ROCKY FORD

Our Sunday School and church services were well attended Saturday night and Sunday. Bro. Booth brought a very inspirational sermon each service. We were glad to have J. B. McCrory and family and O. E. Dixon and wife from Amherst with us. Also some new citizens started out right in their new location by presenting themselves at the place of worship, among whom are Mr. and Mrs. Grant who have moved among us from Young County.

Our former good citizens, the Goldston family were at church Sunday.

Joe Nixon had the misfortune of getting one knee thrown out of place last week when his team run-away and threw him off a two row lister.

Mrs. Farley entertained fourteen intermediate girls and boys Sunday for dinner. All went away declaring they had the time of their lives. Several of our people attended the workers conference at Enochs last week.

Bro. Booth and wife had a Sunday dinner and afternoon guests, Claude Rogers and wife, J. B. McCrory and family, L. L. Dunn and wife.

Truman Cotton and wife visited in the Nixon home Sunday.

Some other new comers, the Davis family from Vernon were making new acquaintances at church Sunday. Glad to have them.

HUDSON AND TERRAPLANE TRUNK DESIGN

An entirely new type of trunk is being offered this year for Hudsons and Terraplanes. The lines of the trunk not only blend with those of the body but the trunk itself opens directly into the generous tire and luggage space at the rear, giving a tremendous amount of room while actually enhancing the appearance of the car.

Just to illustrate the capacity of the new trunk designed for Hudson and Terraplane cars, here is one with the cover open showing four full-grown standard size milk cans in place and there is plenty of room behind them for the spare tire.

WILDCATS BOW TO OLTON IN FIRST COUNTY FINAL

SPORT WORLD

By BILL NORRIS

A reward awaits City League captain at the season's close. An All-League first and second team will be selected by a secret ballot of all League players, it was decided following a meeting of team managers and officials, early this week.

Selection of All-League players that would stand the test of politics by pleasing both team members and the public would naturally be a tough assignment. But League managers, through their plan to leave it up to the players themselves, have apparently hit upon a happy medium which should come as near to satisfying all concerned as anything possible.

Here's the plan: After the final League game, each player will be handed a list of squad membership of each of the six teams. Each player will mark in secret, his choice of four forwards, four guards and two centers.

Two forwards receiving largest number of first choices will be on the first team; the second two on the second team. Guards will be chosen in like manner. The most preferred center will be on the first team, the other on the second.

This plan, rapidly becoming popular all over the country, is beyond a doubt nearer to "politics proof" than any other system. And this selection will be the only official All-League choice. How does it sound, huh?

Coach Robinette's Kitties, although admittedly one of the three best teams in the district, are in dire financial straits. Only $5 paid admissions at 30 cents apiece were on hand for the Kitty-Morton game Saturday night. The girls have been financing themselves, largely, during the season, but apparently can't continue at this rate throughout the rest of the playing period.

It's rough going for these ladies. They have a winning team.

Kitty-Shallowater game ended in a heart-breaking 28-27 count.

Kitties have lost to Shallowater twice, Ropes once, Morton once and Muleshoe once, but have beaten each of the latter three teams, twice in Morton's case, three times, twice in Morton's case. Doesn't that sound like a just need of better support? It does to us.

POME

I've lost old friends, I've made new foes;
My hair is fastly turning grey;
Ants of ill fortune in my clothes
Have put me in an awful way.
What is this thing which makes my days
And nights a horror-ridden maze?
It's goll-uf!

I once was just a human guy,
With zest for living, just like you;
But now all zest is blown sky high.
Aha! Alak! What shall I do?
I bear the ignominious shame,
The brand of this gosh-awful game.
This goll-uf!

In my nocturnal dreams I spy
Bob Jones and Hagen passing by,
And Arnold, Cundiff, Hendricks, too
Walk past my bedposts on review.
Then I wake up, and grit my teeth,
I quake, and foam, and rave, and seethe;
For I'm a dub, a dub I'll be
From now down through eternity,
'Til death comes to deliver me
From goll-uf!

More Sports On Back Page

McGavock and Yantis, Wildcats, were outstanding players in preliminary games of the Lamb County tournament held at Sudan Friday and Saturday, according to Coach E. J. Moore, Olton, county athletic director.

Other outstanding players, according to coaches and officials, were Hair, lanky Olton center, Hunt, Spade forward, Vann, Spade tipoff, and Gray, diminutive Olton forward. Tourney competition brought out a wealth of other stellar playing, although these men were considered by authoritative sources as well above average tourney performers.

The opening game Friday brought Fieldton a 20-18 victory over Spring Lake. At 5:30, Olton easily defeated Sudan 41-21. Hart Camp forfeited to Littlefield when the 8 o'clock whistle blew, and Spade handed Amherst a 55-32 drubbing in Friday's final.

The second round Saturday opened with Olton easily downing Fieldton in a 59-21 contest. Hampered by loss of Center Stevens and Guard Fowler, Spade bowed to the Littlefield Wildcats 40-27 in the closer, although the Littlefield five clicked in a style which indicated a probable victory even though Stevens and Fowler had been in the Spade lineup.

The Olton quintet, with every regular a potential scoring machine, will have the added advantage of playing on their floor in the second finals game Thursday night. The tipoff is slated for 8 o'clock.

Ten Teams To Play In Hockley Tourney

(Special to the Leader)

Five Class A and five Class B teams will compete in the Hockley county tourney on the Levelland floor Friday and Saturday, Feb. 15 and 16, says Levelland Coach Bill Stevens.

Ropesville, Anton, Whitharral, Pettit and Levelland are Class A entrants. Claune, Smyer, Cobleland, Center and Sundown are in the Class B division.

In Hockley girls tourney, played Feb. 8 and 9, Ropes lassies were winners. Anton, Pettit and Whitharral will play off a tie for second place on the new Whitharral boards Feb. 20.

Results in the girls tourney were Anton 29, Ropes 53, Sundown 3, Cobleland 28; Smyer 26, Sundown 8; Ropes 57, Pettit 28; Whitharral 35, Pettit 41; Claune 29, Smyer 23; Levelland 16, Whitharral 28; Ropes 63, Levelland 16; Anton 49, Pettit 29; Ropes 47, Whitharral 18; Smyer 30, Cobleland 20. Levelland 26, Anton 58; Pettit 53, Levelland 16. Claune 31, Sundown 7.

DISTRICT GIRLS TO ENGAGE MARCH 1-2 ON WILSON COURT

Nine coaches of District 2 girls basketball, which comprises 17 counties, met at the Hilton Hotel Saturday to announce Wilson high school as the site of the girls' district tournament and to set March 1 and 2 as the tourney date. Miss Naomi Robnette, Littlefield Kitty coach, is new secretary of the executive group.

W. A. Smith of Southland was named district executive committee chairman. Sixty prizes will be distributed at the tourney's close. A second meeting is scheduled at the Hilton Hotel at 1 p. m. Friday, Feb. 22 to select referees and close plans for the games.

While Lamb county has not yet a definite representative in the tourney, Spade or Littlefield would be most likely entrants should a tourney be played. Twelve players are allowed to a team in the district games.

The committee named at Lubbock to select tournament referees includes R. L. Hooten, Shallowater; Jesse B. Leverett, Ropesville; and L. A. Faubion, Wilson. Any coach of a county championship team may write any of these three men and suggest one or more referees for selection.

DISTRICT BOYS WILL PLAY ON TECH BOARDS

Olton Wednesday apparently had the stronger grip on the right to represent Lamb county in the District 2 interscholastic cage tourney which will be held Friday and Saturday, Feb. 22-23 on the Tech Matador boards, Lubbock. Play will start at 9 a. m., Feb. 22, according to announcement made Saturday by Versil Ballard, Tech cage coach and district athletic director.

Play includes championship teams from 14 counties as well as Lubbock and Plainview High schools, only Class A representatives in the district. The latter two teams will not have to pass county tourney examinations.

Tough competition in the lower bracket looms. Either Littlefield or Olton, Lamb finalists, would be a strong contender. Ropes or Levelland will represent Hockley county and Shallowater will probably be the Lubbock county entrant, although finals of this tourney had not been played late Saturday.

Schedule as announced by Ballard calls for Terry and Crosby counties to start the fireworks Friday, Feb. 22 at 9 a. m., and Plainview High vs. Garza county champions at 10 a. m. Following at one-hour intervals thereafter will be champions of Dawson county vs. Hale county, Dickens vs. Lamb, Lynn vs. Cochran, Lubbock High vs. Floyd county, Lubbock county vs. Gaines county, and Hockley vs. Yoakum.

Too Much Fisher Is Cause of Ex-Studes' Grief in 36-34 Fray

Too much Jack Fisher brought grief to the ranks of Ex-Students cagers here Monday night when the Sunnydale five whipped from behind to nose out the Ex crew, 36 to 34, in one of the fastest games to date.

Brothers Jack and Joe, center and guard, flipped the sphere about with blithe abandon and between them amassed 30 of the 36 points. Jack slipped 11 goals through the hoop and Joe four. N. Pepper and D. Pepper, forwards, each shot a floor tally, as did Jordan, little Dale regular. L. Fisher, Claunch and Cape played headsup ball.

Tremain's five baskets and nine points by Duffey, fast little forward, headed Ex efforts. Most of Tremain's long shots dropped. Stevens, usually death on crisp tries, faltered slightly in final stages. He scored five points. Edwards garnered seven points, B. Howton managed one basket and Kendrick dropped a penalty throw. Other players on the two-team Exroster were B. Yeager, G. Yeager, Dorman, McCurry and Jones.

KITTIES TO MORTON

The Kitties will journey to Morton Wednesday evening to give the Cochran county ladies a chance to avenge their 47-40 loss to Littlefield here last Saturday.

Ten players will probably make the trip for the return engagement. The sisters Carpenter, Mason, Edwards, Kimmell, McCurry, Hays, Willis, Wharton and Gillette are probable trippers.

The skirt is mounted onto the pointed yoke which fits the hips snugly. Panels in front and back of the skirt flare slightly at the lower edge, and retain the slender line. Buckle and buttons constitute the sole trimming of this neat and popular frock.

The material could be plain woolen for the body of the dress combined with plaid silk—or printed and plain crepe.

MOTORISTS WARNED THEY MUST STOP WHEN PASSING SCHOOL BUSES

Attention has been called to the fact that people operating motor vehicles fail to obey the law in connection with stopping their car when a school bus is loading or unloading children. This makes the transportation system of the Littlefield school district very hazardous. The trustees of the district have announced that the law be fully enforced on that point. In this request to the people to cooperate in this important matter it is called to mind that there is a penalty for failure to abide by the law. The law is: "When any such "school bus" vehicle stops, every operator of a motor vehicle or motorcycle approaching the same from any direction shall bring such motor vehicle or motorcycle to a full stop before proceeding in any direction; and in event such "School Bus" vehicle is receiving or discharging passengers, the said operator of such motor vehicle or motorcycle shall not start up or attempt to pass in any direction until the said school bus vehicle has finished receiving or discharging its passengers.

Any party who violates any of the provisions of section 1 of this act shall, upon conviction thereof, be guilty of misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than five hundred ($500.00) or confined in the County Jail not to exceed 90 days, or both such fine and imprisonment.

The school board of the Littlefield Independent school District takes this method of asking your friendly cooperation in this matter of safety and at the same time warns that any bus may be at any time carrying a person authorized to take the number of any vehicle violating this provision.

Fire Quintet Forges Possible Tie in 31-29 Win Over Wildcats

The Firemen pulled themselves up into position for a possible first-half tie with the Wildcats by handing Coach Barksdale's charges a close-fought 31-29 drubbing in the first game of Wednesday night's series of last week.

Headed by Woody and Aldridge and using their original five all evening, Bob Cox's outfit picked up 17 points in the first half and 14 in the second. Yantis, Hall and McKnight led a second-half Cat spree at the basket which netted eight points, five and four in the order named, but failed to measure up.

Woody's 15 points, Yantis' 12, and Aldridge's 11 headed the evening's scoring. Wildcats Hall and McKnight scored eight and six points while McGavock fired a goal and free toss. Other Firemen who countered were T. Howton and Scott with two points each, and Swanner with a free throw.

Dunlap, big Cat leap artist, was a consistent passer. Pierce and Taylor were smooth guards. J. Walker subbed at forward for the Cats.

Morton Indians Are Winners of Cochran County Tournament

Coach Cotman's powerful Morton Indians marched through Cobleland 27-21, Whiteface, 70-10, and Cobleland, 30-28 in the finals, to win the Cochran County tournament Saturday night. Cobleland took second honors.

Big Jack Burke, Indian forward, was responsible for a large part of Morton's counters throughout the tourney. His mate, Joe Bennet, shone with 15 goals in the Whiteface game. Sam Beebe, strapping center, got more than his share of tipoffs while Jeff Hooper and Hershel Mobley, guards, were defensively brilliant all weekend.

Cobleland's scoring machine, Davis and Hillman, gave the Indians trouble in the final game. L. McDonald, center, and the Davis brothers, guards, were heady and consistent.

Anton Five Advances To Semi-Final Tilt in Cochran County Play

Anton B cagers defeated Morton B, 19-21, and Bledsoe, 24-17, before losing out Saturday evening to Cobleland in the 29-18 semi-final game of the Cochran County tourney.

The Purple and Gold was powerful throughout with Tucker a stand-out against the Bledsoe five, and Richards high against Cobleland in the semi-finals. Other Anton stars were Erwin, Stephenson, Walker, Belcher, Denson, Winson, and Beach.

Flyers Out of First Half Race as Dalers Win 29-25 Contest

The hard-working Flyers were definitely out of the first-half race Wednesday of last week as result of a heart-breaking 29-25 defeat at the hands of the Sunnydale five.

Score at the half was 12-10 for Sunnydale. Herman Walker, classy Flyer jumpman, after scoring three points in the first half, raced in for four goals and a free throw in leading a last-period Flyer spurt. Seventeen well-scattered Sunnydale points spoiled the intended Flyer coup in the final minutes.

Walker's 12 points was tops for the evening. Jodie and Jack Fisher, Dale leapers, picked up eight and five points respectively. D. and N. Pepper accounted for six and five units. Cape scored a goal and three free shots. Jordan and L. Fisher were consistent for the Dalers at forward and guard.

Flyers Put Teachers Out of Half Race In 29-23 Cage Furore

Two field shots by little Walker and a goal by big Walker gave the Flyers a last minute 29-23 victory over the Faculty, and definitely eliminated the teachers from first-half flag competition in the opening game of the fifth League week Monday night.

Shattering a 23-23 tie in the last two minutes, the diminutive Walker, sub Flyer forward, smacked a crisp shot through the hoop. Harman Walker, followed with a clever one-handed shot a few seconds later and young Walker clinched the deal with another crisp try about 15 seconds before the last whistle.

Twelve points by Flyer R. Gill topped off the evening. Herman Walker's eight units and the younger Walker's seven bolstered Flyer pointage. Kimmel sank a floor shot and O. Porterfield a free toss. Other Flyers were L. Gill, Graham, G. Porterfield and Dunn.

Thaxton, Faculty jumper, slipped seven points through the netting. Little Bill Jeffries picked up five points in the first half. Leon Stansell fired two set-up goals, Bryant one, Hobbs a goal and a free throw and Layfield nursing a lame back, two free throws.

Kitties Will Try To Upset Cage Paradox In Southland Battle

The Kitty cagers hope to disprove one of the paradoxes of district basketball when they take the floor against the salty Southland sextet here Friday night. Southland is one of the very few teams which has beaten the Shallowater lassies, conceded to be one of the fastest crews in this section of the district.

Southland has beaten Shallowater. Shallowater has beaten the Littlefield girls twice. All of which gives Mentor Robinette a goodly portion of the jitters. But the Littlefield guide gleams a meagre ray of hope from the fact that Southland has lost to Meadow and the Kitties downed Meadow in winning second at the Meadow tourney.

Starting for the Kitties will probably be Opal and Oma Carpenter and Genave Mason at forwards, and Kimmell, Edwards and McCurry at guards. On the bench and ready to play will be Hays and Willis, forwards, and Wharton and Gillett, guards.

Fire Five Edged Out By Sunnydale, 23-22

Woody's distance throwing eye and the combined efforts of Aldridge and Smith failed to stop the "one plus one minus one" setup affected by Fisher Brothers Jack, Joe and Leroy in Tuesday evening's 23-22 Dale victory which marked a blackout for the Firemen insofar as the first half flag race is concerned.

Had Woody been hot on his long tries, the Fire saga would not have been nearly so heart-wrenching. Aldridge was consistently steady on defense, dropping two baskets, and even Gussie Smith performed stellarly, but the four goals which rolled off Brother Jack's supple fingertips plus the efforts of little Claunch the Pepper Boys and Brother Joe and Leroy, counted up to the tell-tale one point edge.

"If only Brother Jack weren't here," the Fireboys gritted as Leroy Howton and Scott tried vainly to stem the Sunnydale offensive. Alguire and Swanner helped at intervals. Smith's six points, Woody's nine, Roberts' goal and Howton's free toss completed Fire scoring.

Kitties Hand Morton 47-40 Loss Saturday On Littlefield Boards

Coach Naomi Robnette's all-powerful Kitties continued their win streak by hanging the Indian sign on the ladies from Morton on the Littlefield High School Saturday night. Final count was 47-40.

Leading all the way, the Kitties were crowded only once. A Morton thrust late in the third brought the count up to 33-31, with the Littlefield girls having the edge. Score at the end of the first quarter was 14-13, Littlefield, and at the half, 30-21, Littlefield.

Mason and the sisters Carpenter were standouts for the Kitties. Kimmell, McCurry and Edwards passed smoothly. Gillette, sub guard, saw a few minutes of action.

THUMBERS—

We thought until a couple of weeks ago that most of the thumbers had either purchased their own automobiles or had found a job some place. We were sadly in error. A trip of a few hundred miles reveals that there are hundreds and thousands of thumbers on the highways. A few are well dressed; the majority reasonably well dressed, and there are others who look like they had just crawled out from under a culvert.

Thumbers on the highways are a nuisance, and they are a hazard to safe automobile travel. In fact, there should be state and national laws against the practice. It wouldn't be so bad to have some person ask for a ride when a car is parked, or being serviced at a filling station, but this business of having some person thumbing for a ride every half mile gets old.

Many thumbers get almost in front of a car in the hope of pressing their request for a ride. And we have known thumbers to thumb when two cars are meeting or one car is passing another. These practices are a hazard to safety, especially on narrow roads.

We are of the opinion that thousands of people have ceased to figure that when they travel they should provide themselves with some kind of transportation. They seem to have forgotten that there are railroads and bus lines which depend on carrying passengers for all or part of their revenue. Of course there are cases in which men and women are without funds on which to make a trip, but there are thousands of others with money in their pockets or purses who will seek to thumb a ride rather than purchase transportation. Exchange of money for goods or services is what makes commerce and increased commerce gives employment. Certainly the transportation companies are not being assisted when thumbers are permitted to thumb, thumb, thumb up and down the highways.

Some people may say that a law against thumbers would be unconstitutional. Perhaps it might be; we don't know. But we do know this that once the fact was established that thumbers are a hazard to safe automobile transportation, then such a law would most certainly not be unconstitutional. Many people are willing to assist others by giving them a ride, but the entire matter of thumbing could be much more satisfactorily handled if law provided that such transportation must be arranged in some other manner than by waving down cars on the highways of the country.

And here's another angle to the practice of giving people rides. If a passenger is injured in an automobile accident, he or she can enter suit for damages against the owner of the car. It certainly would not be pleasant to give some person a ride, then be sued for damages.

Probably the practice of thumbing could be almost eliminated if automobile owners would refuse to be thumbed down.

No, we are not hard hearted; we are interested in safety in automobile transportation.

THAT LITTLEFIELD-OLTON ROAD—

We made a trip to Olton a few days ago and were very much pleased that work is underway in the improvement of the Littlefield-Olton road. That's one road in the county that requires plenty of work. We cannot urge too strongly the carrying out of as much work on the Littlefield-Olton road as funds will permit. Commissioners Foust and Gattis are directing a very much worth while project in the improvement of this road.

AND HERE'S SOMETHING ELSE— Have you observed the greatly improved appearance of the county house lawn. Most every time we go to Olton we observe some new improvement. When we were in the county seat Friday County Judge Simon D. Hay purchased 62 trees for planting on the court house lawn. We congratulate the county officials and the citizenship of Olton on the good appearance of the court house grounds.

addition of four new high school classrooms, $20,000; a school water-works system, $10,000, and an agricultural-home economics addition to the present school shop, $5,000, according to Supt. A. B. Sanders.

Olton's application called for financing of grammar school construction. Horace Walker and James A. Dowdy filed the application.

Amherst sought projects totaling $200,000. This included improvement of the Amherst water works, construction of a city hall, a recreation center and a sewerage system. Spade people asked improvement on their school buildings.

County folk who attended a preliminary Lubbock meeting Thursday afternoon were Littlefield Mayor L. R. Crockett, E. S. Rowe, local contractor, City Secretary W. G. Street, School Board Secretary Carl Arnold, County Commissioner Ellis Foust and Roy Gattis, and County Judge Simon D. Hay. From Spade came Roy McQuatters and Mr. Allen.
