Paving Petitions Are Filed With The City Commission

Two petitions asking for paving, signed by 65 percent of the property owners on the proposed blocks have been presented to the City Commission and favorably received.

One petition calls for paving on North street from the east property line of X I T drive to the east property line of Farwell avenue. The other calls for paving from the property line of Fourth street to the property line of Fifth street on X I T drive. The city's engineer has been instructed to prepare the necessary specifications for this work. At the last meeting of the Commission the city's financial budget for the coming year was considered and it was found that a small increase in tax would be necessary to take care of the increased expenses during the coming twelve months.

Littlefield Shows A Large Increase In City Values

Following a three day session the Littlefield Equalization board has set a valuation of property in this city at $1,388,548, which represents an increase over the valuation of $1,146,348.00. The valuation last year was $1,242,000.

The tax rate was placed at $1.50 on the $100, which is a 10 cent increase over the rate of last year. This increase in rate is largely due to the issuance of $40,000 bonds for street improvement and $10,000 for water works extension and improvements.

Union Meeting Ends Many Are Added To The Church

The two weeks union revival meeting of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches, conducted by Rev. J. W. D. D., president, McMurray, of Abilene, came to a conclusion Tuesday night.

Throughout the entire meeting the services were marked by large crowd attendance, and at all the services there was intense interest, inspiration and conviction. Dr. Hunt proved himself to be a master preacher, logical in his utterances, forceful in his denunciation of sin, fearless in his convictions and winning in his appeal for the higher life. The services generally were benefitted by the presence of numerous members returning pronounced spiritual uplifts due to better citizenship generally and increased religious activity. The crowds attending the services throughout were perhaps among the largest of any similar meeting ever held in Littlefield, and the excellent earnest work of the visiting minister is greatly appreciated by all.

ANOTHER BRICK GOING UP FOR STORE BY WALTERS

Oscar Walters this week began erection of a brick business structure on lot 1, block 40, being on the west side of Main street which, when completed will be occupied by a drug store. Albert Neuschwander has the contract and expects to turn it over to the owners with 60 days.

Mr. Walters and his son, Lester Walters, of Stinnett, will be proprietors of the new establishment.

Mr. Walters is a retired rancher, who a few months ago moved to Littlefield erecting a nice home in the east part of the city. He predicts a bright future for this little city.

A Citizen Upholds Littlefield As A Good Town

In the Lamb County Leader of July 28 appeared an article contributed by a subscriber regarding buying from mail order houses, and the business men going out of town to get contractors to build their homes and business houses. After reading this article, I realize there is more truth than poetry in what this subscriber has to say.

I will admit that any man or men living in a town or community helps to pay the expenses of keeping it up and is entitled to the same consideration as any one else, and if he is the right kind of citizen, regardless of whether he be a merchant, farmer, contractor or what ever his business may be, he will at all times try to make his town or community a better place in which to live.

Now, personally, I do not blame anyone for sending away for their goods, providing they can buy better merchandise for less money than they can get in their home town. Neither do I blame anyone for giving their work to out of town contractors providing they can get better service for less money.

But right here is where we all make the mistake. We may think that we are getting better service or better merchandise for less money on a particular item of merchandise, or on a job of work, but in the long run haven't we cut our own throat, for if the business men give their work to the home men, and the home men of all trades give their business to the home merchants, each one will be in a better position to help each other, and carry his end in the expense of keeping up the community in which they both live.

In my opinion you can buy better merchandise for less money in Littlefield than you can in any other place. I also believe that Littlefield can truthfully boast of having the best newspaper, the best doctors, dentists, lawyers, contractors and business men in general than any other town of its size. And you can readily see the cause for this. In all my 33 years experience in business in several different places, I have never known people who patronized their home institutions to the extent that they do here, nor have I ever lived in a place where the people as a whole would get in the collar and work for any good public cause as they do in Littlefield.

We certainly would not care to live in a place where it would be necessary for us to mail order for each and every item of merchandise we needed, neither would we care to live in a town without a dentist, doctor, lawyer, contractor, churches, schools, banks, bakeries or stores of any kind, or a newspaper. We cannot prosper without the support of all of these others anymore than any one of them can prosper without the support of the rest of us.

The town needs the farmers and the farmers need a good town. So let us all work together to make Littlefield a better place to live in, and if possible, the best trading center on the South Plains.

BAZE-NESBITT

Miss Carmelita Baze and Mr. C. Hubert Nesbitt, of Oklahoma City, Okla., were married July 21st at the parsonage home in Watonga, Okla., by Rev. Robert L. Grant, Methodist pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. C. Tuttle, formerly Mrs. Beasie Baze, of this city, and until going to Oklahoma City about one year ago, spent the most of her girlhood in this city. Entering the Littlefield schools in the fifth grade, she continued her studies until she graduated with highest honors of her class in 1927, after which she went to Oklahoma City. Always a popular young woman with her many friends in Littlefield, she immediately won to herself a large circle of friendly acquaintances in the Oklahoma capital city.

The groom is a graduate of Oklahoma City University, and has for some time been manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co., in that city.

The young couple are living at 1104 East 19th Street, Oklahoma City.

Celebration Will Be Held At Amherst On August 17-18

Amherst's Fifth Annual Celebration will be held Friday and Saturday, August 17th and 18th, with complete attractions far surpassing anything ever held in the town's history.

Horse racing, dancing, rodeo, airplane stunts and parachute leaps, fast ball games, cowboy clowns, carnival, and many other side-line attractions to amuse the thousands of people who will be in attendance on these days.

The rodeo is being promoted by "Hackberry Slim," the only one-legged cowboy in the world. He is known throughout the States as one of the best promoters and all-round cowboys in the world, regardless of his one leg. He will have a string of buffalo calves for the boys to try their skill in roping.

Parachute leaps twice daily, together with stunt flying, and passenger carrying planes.

The opening will be held Thursday night, August 16, with a big dance and other features of entertainment. Dances will be held each night in an open air dome platform. The American Legion post of Amherst will have charge of the dance, and they promise good music.

The celebration this year will by far excel any ever staged, and the business men of the town will leave nothing undone to make it one of the best, and to entertain the many thousands of people who will be here on these days.

500 Farmers Coming Here Friday For Bureau Meet

More than 500 farmers and business men are expected to attend the Lamb County Cotton bureau meeting to be held here Friday of this week, according to J. W. Hammog, county representative of the Bureau.

The principal business of the meeting will be to explain the new marketing agreement which provides for a daily pool of cotton for the members also a cancellation clause, effective each alternate year. These new features are said to be quite favorable to many farmers who desire some authority in the final disposition of the staple, and to others who are not in position to hold their cotton on long future sales. According to the new plan, a member shipping his cotton may draw on it as soon as bill of lading reaches the Dallas office of the Bureau, or he may ship to the seasonal pool as heretofore, thus furnishing a more liberal plan of marketing.

M. S. Hudson, of Hale Center, director of the 19th district, will be the principal speaker at the Friday meeting, which will be held in the Palace theatre, beginning at 2:00 p. m. o'clock.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear.—1 John 4:18.

Love is a thing full of anxious fears.—Ovid.

PENNY WISE

Littlefield people who look down on the humble cent and who ignore it because it takes up room in their pocket and "won't buy anything," now have an excuse for changing their minds.

A big eastern concern that does a nation-wide business in chewing gum and candy and through penny vending machines has recently issued its yearly report to stockholders. This shows that more than three and one-half billion pennies passed through its machines in a single year. And that is almost three-fourths of the total number of pennies in circulation in the entire United States.

Here is a proof that the cent is among this country's greatest circulating mediums, and that the individual or company that makes a special drive for it can get rich.

When we reflect how many newspapers the pennies buy every day, and how many postage stamps it puts on the nation's letters, its value takes on new significance. But it takes a special report of a big concern dealing wholly in penny merchandise, to make us see the tremendous buying power back of it. By itself, in these days of high prices, it really does seem insignificant. But it has enough companions to make its net worth $47,000,000—or enough to make 47 new millionaires in this country every year.

"Save the pennies and the dollars will save themselves" is a saying as truthful as if it had appeared in Holy Writ. And the happiest and wisest people are those who recognize it, instead of tossing the penny away as something that "won't buy anything."

The man who kicks about the extravagance of his wife is the one who passed up the girl who wore cotton stockings and made her own clothes and married one who only knows how to dance.

THEY WILL HAPPEN

Accidents will happen. We read that Robert Arnone, aged nine years, of Philadelphia, was playing "cow-boy" and lassoed a passing automobile. He was jerked off his feet and the end of the rope, which was tied about his neck, tightened and strangled him to death. He was dragged a mile before his body was discovered dangling at the end of the rope by a motorist who came from the rear.

Littlefield parents would do well to bear in mind that freak accidents like this can occur here the same as they occur elsewhere and they should never cease to impress upon the children the dangers that surround an automobile.

Only by constant warning, and threats of punishment if those warnings are disregarded, can we hope to make children realize the dangers all about them while they are at play.

The parent who fails to deliver these warnings often and sternly is neglecting the welfare of the child.

TOO MUCH CARELESSNESS

Postmasters throughout the country are receiving a request from the postal department to impress upon all patrons the necessity for placing their name and address in the upper left-hand corner of all letters they mail, and that unless they do so the same cannot be returned to them when undelivered.

It is said the Dead Letter office is now receiving more unclaimed mail matter than ever before; that greater carelessness in addressing letters now exists than at any time in the history of our mail service. If it keeps up it will be necessary for the postal department to eventually refuse to handle any letter that does not bear a return card.

The cost of having these return cards neatly and clearly printed on envelopes is very small. But if you simply won't see the economy of it, as millions of others do, then for goodness sake write your name in the upper left-hand corner of every letter you mail. It's the only way you will ever have of getting it back if it cannot be delivered to the party for whom you intend it.

The way to tell good liquor from bad is to take a few drinks and lay down. If you wake up it wasn't bad.

LITTLE LEADERS

If a Littlefield girl's skirts don't creep up when she is sitting down—that's news.

Littlefield gardeners regret that Burbank didn't live long enough to develop a slow-growing weed.

Another thing, a lot of people around Littlefield wouldn't be in debt if their friends didn't buy such expensive things.

A Littlefield boy's idea of a silver lining to the clouds is the fact that when he is sick he doesn't have to go to school.

Any Littlefield boy can tell you that the reason his sister doesn't get much petting around home is because there isn't any fun petting a wildcat.

One way any Littlefield married man can find out who is boss at his house is to start out to prove that he is.

The more a Littlefield man boasts out in public about what a perfect cook and housewife his wife is the safer the bet that he is always finding fault with her around home.

The careful and conservative Littlefield man who saved his horse by letting it walk part of the way now has a son who never drives under 45 miles an hour.

SOME SNAP SHOTS

A reformer is usually a man who uses your money to put over his own ideas.

As a usual thing the court of last resort is when a fellow courts an old maid for her money.

About the only thing that can equal the warmth of a woman's love is the heat of her temper.

Still another thing that doesn't have to be as large as it used to be is the family rag-bag.

It's a funny world. Some men get their pleasure sitting at a radio and others get theirs swearing at it.

This was a better country when so many people didn't make a living organizing drives to get money out of other people.

An eastern paper is conducting a column called "What Society Women Are Wearing." And it isn't a very long column, either.

The way a modern girl ships at a broom and a cook stove is the way the horse used to shy at the automobile.

MULCH PAPER AND MILCH COWS

THERE were two Irishmen, one a farmer and one a postmaster, both of whom had a brogue you could cut with a spade. One day the farmer came into the postoffice and inquired:

"Have you a letter for Mike Howe?"

"No," said the postmaster indignantly, "of course I've no letter for your cow."

But What About Mulch?

All of this may seem far removed from mulch paper, but it really isn't. You see, not so far in the future Mike Howe's cow may be eating a new food made possible only by this durable tar paper which the pineapple growers in Hawaii use to help the crop grow.

For miles and miles in Hawaii during the planting season, machines will be seen laying strips of black paper along the dark red ground. Workers follow the machine, punching holes in the paper and inserting the pineapple slips. During the growing season the paper repels the efforts of weeds and conserves the precious soil moisture.

Pineapple Versus Sunflower

What has this, again, to do with cows? Well, when the pineapples are sliced for canning there is a by-product called pineapple pulp or bran. It consists of the cores and outer coats.

For a long time no one knew what to do with these until someone got busy and made a chemical analysis of them. "I believe this would be good food for cattle," he said. So the bran was prepared, and tests have recently been made of it by the Washington State College Agricultural Experiment Station.

For twenty days sweet-breathed Jerseys and Holsteins were given their regular feed consisting of alfalfa hay, grain mixture, and sunflower silage. Then the pineapple bran was substituted for the sunflower silage.

From Wonder to Enthusiasm

At first the cows showed a tendency to sniff dubiously at the exotic pineapple bran, but after a few days they got decidedly enthusiastic, and in a short time they would almost moo their delight when the new food was put in their mangers.

It all goes to show that cows have their feelings just as people do. Who will forget the first time he ate an olive? Then contrast it with one's present attitude towards that delicacy. More people all the time are eating pineapple, and perhaps the time will come when milch cows will be broken hearted if the daily ration fails to contain a few pounds of the food that has been made possible by mulch paper.

Miss Rachel Corwen, of Duluth, Minn., was arrested for stealing from her employer to buy flowers for a friend's funeral.

City Gets Pumps And Equipment For Extension

Material for completion of the waterworks extension has arrived, and work of installation was begun this week by Contractor Albert Neunschwander who had previously built the 100,000 gallon ground reservoir for the city.

Among the equipment arrived and to be installed, are two 500 gallon per minute centrifugal pumps to be used as booster pumps for putting water from the reservoir into the 75,000 capacity tower tank, one 3-stage turbine pump, to be installed in the well recently dug for the city, together with all necessary motors, pipe, fittings, etc.

According to the engineer's figures this new equipment, when it has been installed, will give more than three times the present water supply to citizens and the same ratio of increased efficiency in the case of fire. It will also mean a reduction of seven and one-half per cent in the city's insurance key rate.

It will take about two weeks to complete the new installation.

LFD. AND AMHERST IN CLOSE GAME: SUDAN HERE NEXT

The ball game between Amherst and Littlefield, played here Sunday afternoon, resulted in a score of 15-14 in favor of the visitors. It was a hit and run game.

Amherst began the scoring in the third inning when five tallies were rolled in. In the fifth, the Littlefield swatters brought in 11 scores, the visitors tying the count in the following inning.

Black was then replaced by A. Mueller in the box, yet the visitors ran in four more scores. In the ninth Art Mueller got a base on balls, stole to third and finally scored on a two-bagger of Alvin Mueller. Herb Mueller shot a Texas leaguer over third, scoring A. Mueller and Baze.

The batteries for Littlefield were Black, Mueller and Baze; for Amherst, Preacher and Blessing. Sudan will play Littlefield here next Sunday afternoon.

Judge Elmer Kahl of Sidney, Neb., sentenced two men to jail for 60 days on bread and water for violating the prohibition law.

The revival is not over. One of the essential features of the meeting is to be held Sunday. Men, women and children who did not come forward under the tabernacle are to come into church fellowship on that day, together with those who came forward for baptism and membership in the Methodist church during the tabernacle meeting. "The Rise and Genius of Methodism" will be the topic for the sermon address to converts. Can God and the pastor count on you to be at your post of duty to welcome these new members Sunday morning and evening? God expects every man to do his duty and surely we have had inspiration enough, if there is a spark of Divine fire within each of us.

New Model Truck On Display By Chev. Motor Co. Here

The Chevrolet Motor Company, announces the addition to its line of a new utility truck.

The new truck, which embodies several improvements, chief of them a four speeds forward transmission, four wheel brakes and channel steel bumper, is on view this week in dealer's showrooms throughout the country.

The four speeds forward transmission will insure a more efficient application of engine power. The extra low speed gear provides maximum pulling power on heavy roads and steep grades while normal driving requirements are met as usual with second, third and fourth speeds. A power take-off part, to which various power devices can be applied, is a further feature of the transmission.

The four wheel brakes are non-locking and supply a total of 317 square inches of braking, aside from an entirely separate and independently operated set of emergency brakes on the rear wheels. The front wheel brakes are of the internal expanding type, the rear wheel service brake of the external contracting type insuring quick and positive stops regardless of grade or speed.

A new low loading height, 41 inch-

Plains Gets More Rain Last Week Shower Wed'y

There was more rain in and around Littlefield and on the South Plains generally Thursday and Friday of last week. Not that the section needed it; it didn't. Only a few weeks ago there was an abundance of rainfall, practically enough to insure the cotton crop and nearly enough to put the feed and grain crop up to harvest time. But evidently old Jupiter Pluvius has quite a little extra moisture on hand this year, and liking the South Plains country pretty well, he just rolled a few of the rain clouds over this section, split them open with a few streaks of lightning, letting their watery contents fall on terra firma for the special benefit of the folks living here. Pretty nice of the chap, eh?

Farmers say corn and feed crops will now go on to maturity without any more rain. They say the cotton is "humping itself" in great style; that there will probably be larger growth of the bush this year than ever before; but the fruit is likewise setting on with increased determination and ambition of making much larger bolls. Pastures are all in excellent condition, hogs getting fat, biddies shelling out the cackle berries in earnest and bossie giving a stream of lacteal fluid that tickles the tummy of every owner.

Pretty good place to live, eh?

HERE'S A LITTLE SUGGESTION FOR THE MAN WHO DOESN'T NEED TO BUILD

It is remarkable how a little lumber, a little paint and a good workman or two can make over a plain old fashioned out-of-style house into a neat, attractive home. One man spent a few hundred dollars and the very day the simple improvements were completed he was offered $1,400 more for the property than he had ever been offered before.

The improvements he had made were better than a 100 per cent investment.

But it isn't altogether the money investment that ought to be considered. Maybe mother and the girls are dissatisfied with the plain old house. The neighborhood has been beautifying and your folks, too may long for those attractive little features that make the passerby pause and say: "Now, there's a neat little home."

Come in and see us. We have some interesting suggestions for economical remodeling. And we can supply the materials.
