Cancer Crusade To Begin Here May 9

The Cancer Crusade in Lamb County will officially begin May 9, according to county chairman L. V. Lester-Hammons, who presided at a meeting Monday night in county court room to instruct volunteer workers for each county town. The crusade has as a goal the education of each family in the county as to how to prevent the seven danger signs of cancer, and to receive a team of $1 per family to aid in the fight against the nation's number one killer, cancer.

The crusade will be carried out by a neighbor to neighbor plan, with each community dividing into precincts for the purpose of contacting each family. Precinct workers will contact homes in each block. An envelope with contribution envelope and leaflets explaining the danger signs will be left in the home. The head of the household will take a leaflet, put his contribution in an envelope and return it to his next door neighbor who will repeat the process, until each home in the block has been contacted. The crusade can be completed in three days.

Following the meeting Monday night were L. V. Pierce, Doug Howell, Marion Williams, Paul Carmickle, James Hall, Hilburn, Thompson and Covington and Lester Hammons of Earth.

May Is Cancer Control Month In County By Proclamation

A proclamation designating May as Cancer Control Month and urging generous public support for the American Cancer Society's 1955 educational and fund-raising crusade, was issued today by Mayor Ray Keeling. The campaign, opened in Lamb County next week under the auspices of the local ACS Unit, which has headquarters at Littlefield.

Citing cancer's death toll last year, Mayor Keeling declared the fact that an estimated one out of every three cancer deaths in this country might have been avoided by proper treatment in an early stage of the disease. He commended the Cancer Society for its efforts to increase the number of cancer cures by a program of professional and public education, of humanitarian services to cancer patients, and of scientific research.

The text of the Mayor's proclamation follows: "It has been brought to my attention that cancer killed more than 230,000 persons last year. And it is estimated that one out of every three of those victims died unnecessarily because proper treatment was not undertaken in time.

"The American Cancer Society is the only voluntary agency that is conducting a year-round, nationwide program to inform physicians and the general public of the known scientific facts about cancer so that lives may not be lost through ignorance or avoidable delay.

City Issues

The present airport site would be perfectly satisfactory were it not so very close to the city. It has very little possibility for expansion and would cost in the neighborhood of $75,000.00 to improve. It is with these thoughts in mind that the present proposals for moving it have been advanced.

We may have a first class airport with facilities for commercial operations and approved by the Civil Aeronautics Board for both day and night flying, without the expenditure of any city or county funds by merely moving the location. The proposed new airport would be on a major highway. It would include three paved runways with one over 3/4 mile in length and 75 feet in width, taxi and service strips for the runways, the moving of the present tanger to the new site with a concrete apron and floor, a seven room modern house for the airport operator, an administration building with rest rooms, a well, pump and water system, runway lights and underground gas facilities. The cost of improving the old site to this extent would be in the neighborhood of $75,000.00. If moved the cost of building a new airport and buying land would be over $100,000.00. When considered the airport would rank 3rd or 4th in the entire Plains area as to facilities and would be comparable to that at Plainview. All of this can be had without the expenditure of a single penny of city or county money.

No definite action has been made concerning these proposals. The airport committee has drawn plans and specifications for a proposed site and if approved by both city and county commission it will be acted upon. Tentative plans are that bids will be taken for the building of a new airport with a minimum of the above specifications. Those presenting bids will offer that plus any other improvements that could be used. No money would be involved except that which the bidder would be out, including the clearing the title of the Duggan property, buying new land for airport site and necessary construction thereto.

The group voted to accept the invitation of Brownfield Guild for the fall meeting.

Today 85 per cent of all skin cancers are cured, but 95 per cent could be cured. Regular physical examinations can prevent cancer deaths, the American Cancer Society says.

Mother Of The Year Nominations Close Today

Mother of the Year Nominations close with this issue of the Lamb County Leader. A secret committee for judging the winner will be discussed in an article in the Mother of the Year edition of the Lamb County Leader, published, Texas.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Maude Street

Dear Editor:
I wish to nominate Mrs. Sid Pace as Mother of the Year. By the death of her husband, Mrs. Pace had the full responsibility of rearing ten children, 7 girls and 3 boys. The children speak for themselves, in a job well done by a wonderful mother.

Aside from her duties as a mother, she is a loyal Christian and is never too busy to visit the sick, and is very active in benevolent work.

(Signed)
Mrs. J. C. Smith, Sr.

I have known her for 19 years and don't think I have ever seen her without her children.

Just her presence in a sick room would comfort any person. She is so unassuming she would be the last person in the world to think she needs any praise.

As the most deserving Mother of the Year, I wish to nominate Mrs. Sid Pace.

Dear Editor:
I would like to nominate Mrs. Sid Pace for Mother of the Year. At the death of her husband 12 years ago she was left with ten children to make a living for, the youngest only 2 years old. She has raised those children to be wonderful Christian citizens of our city. She has put 3 daughters through college and still has 2 girls in school.

But with all the responsibility of her own family she is never too busy to do something for others that need to be done. One can hear almost daily of some kind deed she has done, such as carrying food and waiting on the sick. She always knows just what to say to comfort those who are in sorrow, by her cheerful smile and sweet words, she can always make one see the brighter side of life and the heavy seems brighter.

She is an active member of the LFD Drive Church of Christ and is affectionately called Murr (for mother) by her grandchildren son-in-laws and the young people of the church. Her home is always open to the young people and Jim made better by my association with her. In fact she whatever project in which they might be interested. Her patience and understanding radiates through her children, any neighbor who has ever lived by this family will bear me out in saying they are the best trained, best behaved children in the neighborhood.

The attention and love of such a wise Christian mother does not stop within her immediate family. SHE MOTHERS US ALL. When sickness, or trouble comes to any relative, neighbor or friend, she's always there lending a helping hand when needed.

When I read portions of Our Lord's great teachings on love and service, I am reminded of her for she neither seeks nor expects praise or reward but her deeds are motivated by love. If we had more mothers like Beula in our great country, we would have less juvenile problems.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Clifford Jaquess

If I could not have my own mother, then I would choose Mrs. Maude Street.

She has done so many nice things for me, and others that I know.

Honoring her with the title "Mother of the Year" would be a small token of our love to her.

Dear Editor:
Let us congratulate you on your thoughtfulness of having a contest for Mother of the Year. We know all of those who have been nominated and numerous others not yet mentioned are worthy of the title, to say the least.

There is one that deserves the lovely title and that is Maude Street. We would never, never be half so nice to her as she has been to all of us.

She seems to never tire of doing things for people, regardless of race, creed or color.

"Dear Editor:
Hard work, sacrifice and responsibility of bringing up a large family was left to Mrs. Sid Pace, a widow of twelve years.

All her children are fine examples of clean living and faith in God, a pattern set by Mrs. Pace.

She is never without a smile, a word of cheer is in store for everyone she meets. She is a devoted church worker and non-members and visitors to the church are always made welcome by her friendliness and kindness.

A long-time friend of the family who truly knows that success of this widow came through love and devotion to her children and others. I would like to nominate Mrs. Sid Pace as the Mother of the Year.

Dear Editor:
I wish to endorse the letters previously written nominating Mrs. Maude Street for the Mother of the Year.

No one outside of her family can really appreciate the sacrifices and hardships under which Maude worked and all of us have known through the years since she lost her husband the courage, love and faith that sustained her.

Never for one minute did she falter in her devotion to her son nor to her God and His Church and I know her prayers were the source of her strength.

Now in the fulfillment of her courage, faith and prayers, in seeing John on the threshold of a life of service to her Christ, she is most happy and, of course, her family think she is real-

Gentlemen:
There are thirteen reasons why I would like to nominate my mother-in-law, Mrs. Sid Pace for "Mother of the Year." Mrs. Pace, a widow, has reared a wonderful family, and is my nominee for the following reasons:

1. Roy, eldest son, now a radio and TV service man in Lubbock.
2. Ruth, Mrs. James Zachary of Littlefield.
3. Becky, former teacher in the Littlefield schools and now the Howard County Home Demonstration agent in Big Spring.
4. Joan, Mrs. Foy Bell, of Littlefield.

summer halt to provide physical life for her children and was never too busy to bring her children to church and not only her own family but generally went by for someone else who had no transportation. In fact, she still hunts people to bring to church.

Most of her children have finished high school and the three who will finish college this year. Two are still in high school.

She keeps open house all the time, and most weeks will find a bunch of the young people from the church, or school. No one could name the sick, and every one she has visited and cheered up.

She is a devoted and working member of the LFD Drive Church of Christ.

I have known her for 19 years and don't think I have ever seen her without her children.

Just her presence in a sick room would comfort any person. She is so unassuming she would be the last person in the world to think she needs any praise.

DORY FUNK

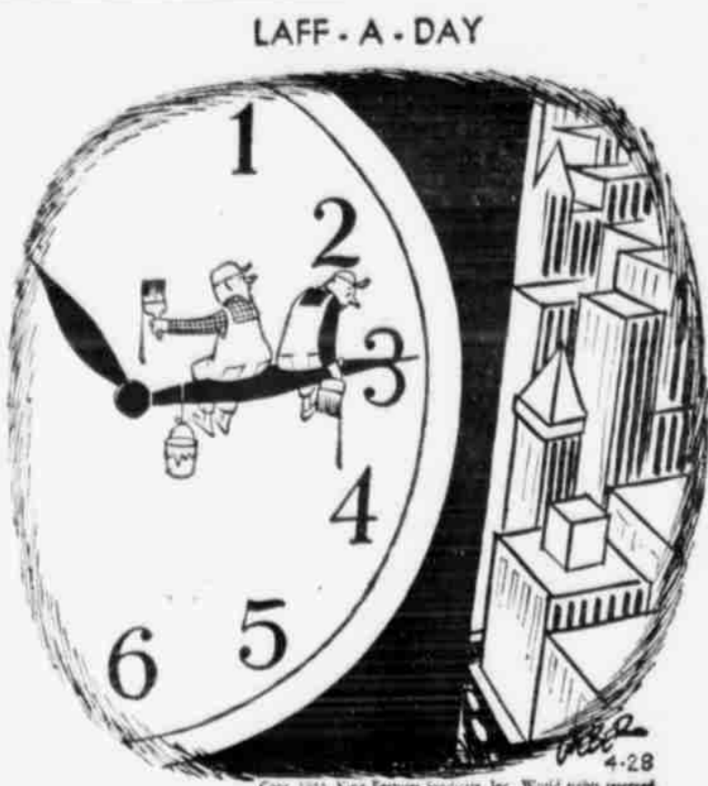

Rough One At Sports Arena Saturday Nite

Two prominent tag teams of professional wrestling dominated the card at Littlefield's Sports Arena Saturday night, but this time the partners split up to engage in individual matches.

Dory Funk and Cowboy Carlson, the current tag team champions of the Southwest States territory, move against their old rivals, Professor Roy Shire and Bobby Wallace in separate portions of a double main event.

Carlson meets Wallace in the first contest, with Funk and Shire committing mayhem on each other in the final bout.

Each match is slated for two best falls of three or one hour. The two rough riders from the wide open spaces—Funk of Flying Mare Ranch near Umbarger and Carlson of cowboy fame from Ekalaka, Montana—have successfully defended their doubles championship against the "city boys" from the Chicago district, but individual rivalry continues and the two matches Saturday night should settle the issue.

"You think THIS is nerve racking! Wait till half past!"

Win or lose, Bobby Wallace will have to do some quick change work between bouts if he stands in, as usual, as manager-second when strutting Roy Shire goes against Funk.

Wallace and Shire exercise a most infuriating spell over opponents by taking their time in preliminary exercises. Wallace, dressed in tuxedo and Homburg, slows things up by poking his case at the opponent, making it difficult for contender to catch the referee's instructions. Shire, after that, devotes lengthy ceremonial time to removing his black cap and gown along with the neckpiece that indicates he has earned a master's degree at Northwestern University.

In recent weeks Shire has almost perfected what he calls the "claw" hold. After weakening his opponent with fist blows to the tummy or flying knees, he grasps the lower ribs, bores into the solar plexus with knuckles and brings about a submission in short order. Funk can testify to that.

A Cake of Company Elegance

Apple Sauce Filled Spice Cake

YOU'LL HAVE FUN making this cake. It turns out high and prideful, rich and handsome—a cake of company elegance. Even if you never baked a cake before in your life, you can make this one and have it a delight to serve . . . to guests any time . . . to the family whenever the mood strikes you.

Item one—the spice cake itself is a packaged cake-mix. No problem there. Item two—that deep and luscious filling is canned apple sauce which you can buy in any grocery store. The apple sauce lends a delicate moistness and keeping quality to the cake as well as that good apple flavor. Item three—the frosting is a simple brown sugar froth knifed on in thick swirls. Result—a real stand-up beauty of a cake that's downright delectable eating.

|------------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1 pkg. spice cake mix | 1 tablespoon lemon juice |
| 1 cup canned apple sauce | 2 tablespoons cornstarch |
| 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind | • Brown Sugar Frosting |

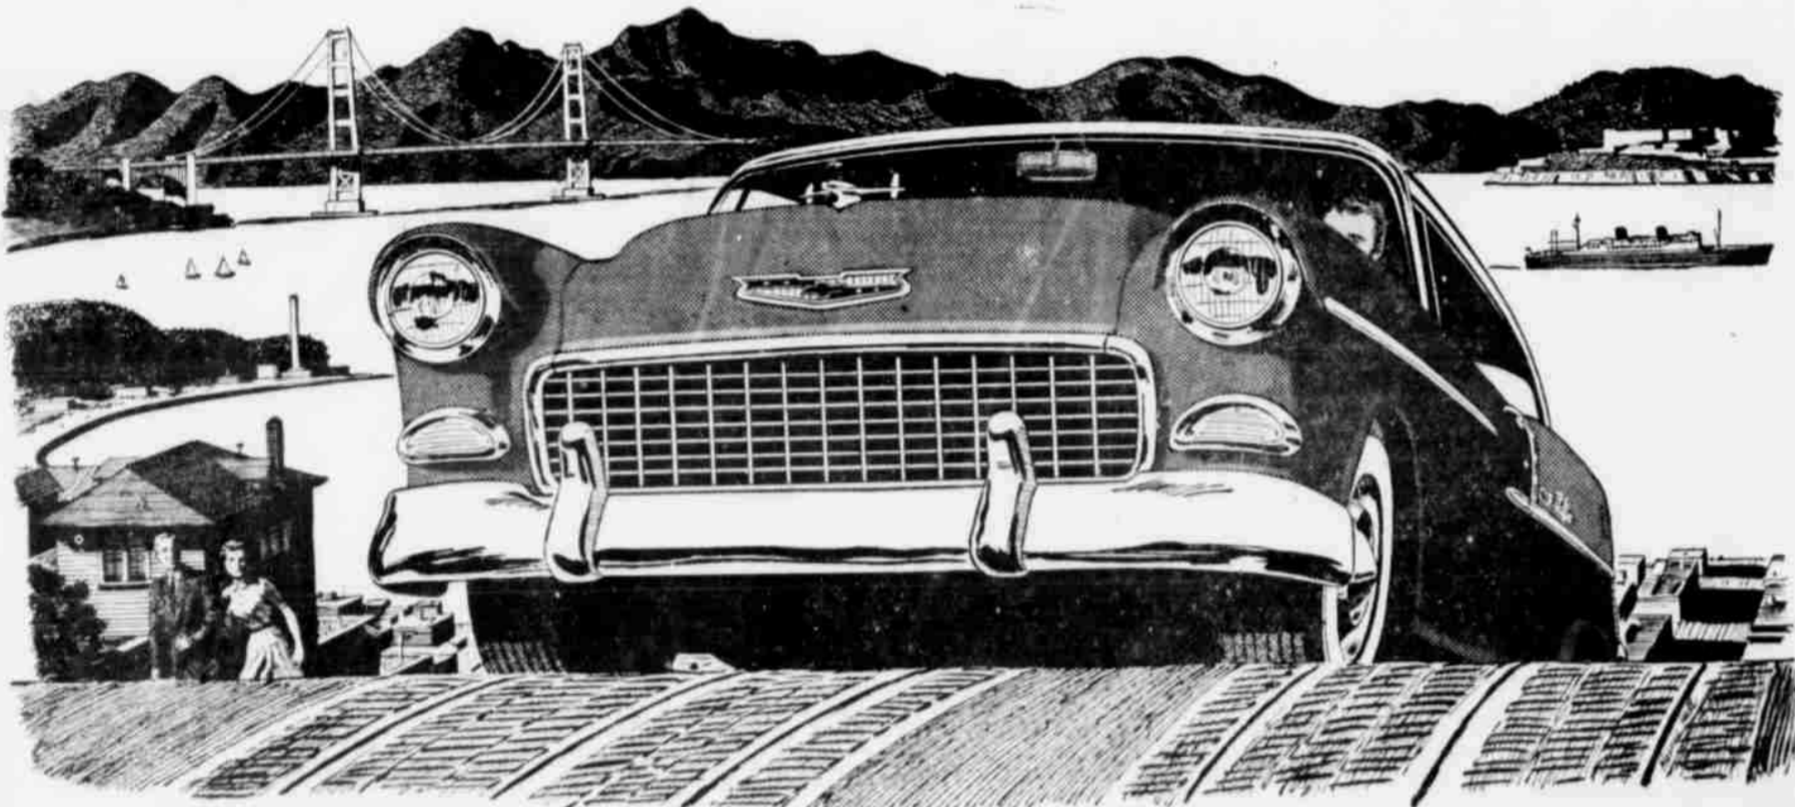

Bake spice cake according to directions on package. Cool layers. Combine apple sauce, lemon rind and juice. Soften cornstarch in little cold water; add to apple sauce. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Cool; spread between layers. Frost top and sides of cake with frosting.

BROWN SUGAR FROSTING

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|----------------------------|
| 1½ cups firmly packed brown sugar | 2 egg whites |
| ½ cup water | Few grains salt |
| | 1 teaspoon vanilla extract |

Boil together sugar and water to 240° F. (or when small quantity dropped in cold water forms semi-firm ball). Beat egg whites stiff; gradually add syrup, beating constantly, until frosting holds shape. Add salt and vanilla extract.

Punch-line to the year's hottest power story—

Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8"!

This is the engine that's writing a whole new chapter in the book of automobile performance records. This is the engine that has stock car timers doing a "double take" at their stop-watches wherever experts gather to compare the abilities of the 1955 cars.

For example, in the recent NASCAR® stock car competition at Daytona Beach, Florida, Chevrolet literally ran away from every other car in its class—and a raft of others besides. In the one-mile straightaway run for low-priced cars, the first two places—and six of the first ten—went to Chevrolet. And in acceleration runs from a standing start against all comers, Chevrolet beat all other low-priced cars—and every high-priced car except one!

What's behind this blazing performance? A compact honey of a V8 that only the world's leading producer of valve-in-head engines can build. Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" has the shortest piston stroke in the industry (that means less piston travel...longer engine life!) And it delivers the highest power per pound of any V8 in the low-priced field. It's so efficient that it requires only four quarts of oil instead of the usual five...needs less radiator coolant, too. It's the most modern V8 under anybody's hood!

It puts a new kind of fun in your driving life. You're in charge of 162 high-spirited horsepower—or if you're looking for even more excitement, the new "Super Turbo-Fire V8" (optional at extra cost) puts 180 h.p. under your toe!

Pick the one you'd rather have fun with, then come in and get behind the wheel. You'll see why the Motoramic Chevrolet is showing its heels to everyone else on the road!

No other low-priced car has any—no high-priced car has all—of these great Chevrolet features!

Body by Fisher—Nine engine-drive choices in any model—12-volt electrical system—Anti-Dive braking—Outrigger rear springs—Ball-Race steering—High-Level ventilation—Double-Arch cool construction.

New Ways To Serve Grapefruit

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

THERE'S NOTHING like travel to spur a cook's imagination. We were sure we had read or thought of everything that can be done with grapefruit until we made our first visit to Florida. Eating our way from East to West coast, Pale Beach to Tampa, we were struck by a new-fashon gourmet served at a quaint little inn in Lake Wales.

Grapefruit baked with butter, with apple and sweetener and confectioner's sugar, with nut brown chicken livers and first house's of poultry and piecrust. The unexpected combination of flavors was in fitting and of course, it served alone. Here they are along with our version of the inspiration. Try these grapefruit appetizers. A pleasant start when you are having a "ladies" hour.

GRAPEFRUIT for broiled appetizers

To prepare the grapefruit for all these appetizers, cut "in half" Remove any seeds with small sharp knife. Wash all and pat dry. Cut around each section loosening fruit from dividing membranes. For many recipes do not cut through membranes at outer edge of fruit. In heating the grapefruit do not pierce the rind unless special directions for your recipe call for preheating.

all with sections loosened from dividing membranes. 6 tablespoons butter, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 cup or thawed frozen chicken livers, 2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup catsup, 1/2 cup horseradish, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup catsup, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup catsup.

Method: Sprinkle 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon over each grapefruit half. Broil chicken livers on aluminum pan, dot livers with butter. Place on broiler rack so top of grapefruit halves are 3 or 4 inches below high heat. Broil 5 minutes. Broil grapefruit is heated around and tinged with brown. Watch closely and adjust rack height if necessary. Turn once and leave in broiler longer than grapefruit if necessary to cook through. To serve, place one liver in center of each grapefruit half; garnish livers with parsley, purloins. Serve once as a first course. Make 6 servings.

BROILED GRAPEFRUIT WITH SAUSAGE

Ingredients: 3 grapefruit cut in half with sections loosened from dividing membranes, 6 tablespoons dark brown sugar, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 pound brown and serve sausage links.

Method: Sprinkle 1/2 teaspoon brown sugar and 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg over each grapefruit half. Place on broiler rack so top of grapefruit halves are 3 or 4 inches below high heat. Broil 5 minutes or until grapefruit is heated through and tinged with brown. Watch closely and adjust rack or heat if necessary. While grapefruit is heating, cut each sausage link in half crosswise and then in half lengthwise. Place 6 slices of sausage on each grapefruit half. Broil 5 minutes or until sausage is browned and crisp. Serve as once as a first course. Makes 6 servings.

BROILED GRAPEFRUIT WITH SHRIMP

Ingredients: 3 grapefruit cut in half with sections loosened from dividing membranes, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons catsup, 1/2 cup tomato catsup, 1/2 cup bottled horseradish, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup catsup, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup catsup, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup catsup.

Method: Cream the 2 tablespoons butter and honey. Spread over grapefruit halves. Place on broiler rack so top of grapefruit halves are 3 to 4 inches below high heat. Broil 5 minutes or until grapefruit is heated through and tinged with brown. Watch closely and adjust rack or heat if necessary. Meanwhile stir catsup, horseradish, Tabasco and lime juice together. Top each hot grapefruit half with 3 or 4 shrimp and spoon catsup mixture over shrimp. Return to broiler for a few minutes or until shrimp is heated. Watch carefully. Serve as once as a first course. Makes 6 servings.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

A family founded without God has little hope of success. Marriages not made in heaven are likely to make hell. With notable exceptions, marriages not made in heaven are not made at all, and soon break up or prove unsatisfactory. The best guarantee of a happy marriage is to have Christian parents, to be raised in a Christian home, for the whole family to be active in the church and well acquainted with the Bible. One needs also the confidence of his minister as he seeks to follow God's guidance in selection of a life partner.

The human family at its best is the masterpiece of God's creation. Founded upon respect, honor and love between a man and a woman, it becomes the matrix for perpetuating and improving the human race. It nurtures the noblest qualities of tenderness, sharing, loving helpfulness and cooperation. It provides security, a sense of significance and a place for service for all its members. Mistakes and failures are not considered as sins or violations of law, bringing punishment, but one can be sure of kind, forgiveness—sure of his place in the circle. He contributes gladly and shares fully in available goods, pleasures and satisfactions. He strives to achieve these, not for himself alone, but for the family. Here in microcosm sustained by powerful ties of blood are the building blocks of which God's world eventually will be made.

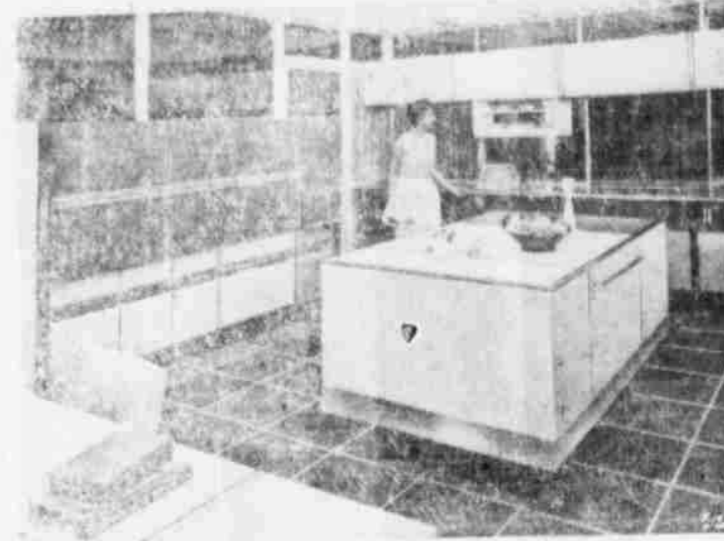

The little world of the child in a Christian home provides peace, comfort, safety and security. Hunger is satisfied; sorrow assuaged. Bumps, bruises and disappointments are quickly cured by those whom the little one loves and trusts. Their every need and longing is promptly met. Well adjusted personalities emerge from this matrix as citizens who can carry life's responsibilities with integrity and poise.

The family web is strong, firmly knit together as an ongoing eternal institution. Gathered in the circle of common worship, the family reaches its highest perfection and exudes the very perfume of God. It is God's crowning achievement and cradles the hope that men may finally learn to love one another and live peacefully and prosperously together in a world where poverty, strife, evil and war have been finally conquered by goodness, kindness, generosity and love.

Kitchen of Tomorrow

UTOPIA FOR GALLEY SLAVES . . . This kitchen has cooking and mixing center that may be used from the patio as well as the kitchen. It has six refrigeration units, a planning desk with intercommunication system, a TV screen that shows what is happening elsewhere in the house, base cabinets with rotisserie oven, a projector-type recipe viewer. The only thing wrong with it is that you can't buy it now.

At a buffet lunch near Lindemere we had an utterly delightful menu that other hostesses would like to emulate. Crisply broiled chicken, basted with a mixture of honey and soy sauce, was served on a huge platter. On another platter were avocadoes, cut into thirds and topped with a mixture of fresh strips of beef and butter. You might have to do without the hearts of palm unless you see them canned. A choice of dressings—French or Praline—accompanied the avocadoes. Hot biscuits—small and soft—were laid out on a tray with both the chicken and the salad. For dessert, luscious ripe red strawberries were arranged on individual plates around a mound of powdered sugar. And to top it all off came tiny brown sugar tarts and coffee. If you want to treat your family and friends to something scrumptious, try this menu.

One third of all cancer deaths could be avoided if proper treatment were begun before the cancers spread. The American Cancer Society's annual Crusade can save many of these lives if adequate funds are contributed.

Low Modern Homes Need Fine Lawns as Frame

Lawns have become more important than ever in the home landscape.

Modern home design has increased the importance of the lawn to the home landscape. The house with low spreading lines finds a harmonious frame and foreground in the flawless green carpet upon which it rests. Without care a fine lawn is impossible, wherever it is attempted. With care, there are several fine lawn grasses available to Americans, the most widely used being blue grass. Since the earliest days, Kentucky blue grass has been the chief reliance for lawns in the northern states.

Its rugged persistence in overcoming obstacles to its growth may sometimes encourage neglect. Its beauty, hardiness and quick response to favorable treatment have kept it in first place against many rivals for more than a century. Good treatment is much the same for all lawn grasses. In soil requirements they are similar to other plants. The soil should be porous, to provide good drainage, and should contain organic matter to hold in storage water and plant food for the plants to use. These qualities should be checked, and if necessary improved, before any seed is sown. Though late summer or early fall is the best time, most new lawns are made in the spring. As soon as the ground has thawed out and is dry enough for working, seed for a new lawn may be sown. The first step is to apply plant food. Three or four pounds of balanced commercial plant food per 100 square feet is sufficient. Half of this should be spread evenly over the lawn and spaded under. The other half should be spread and leveled before seed is sown. The remaining half of plant food may then be applied with the seed and both together, preferably with a fertilizer spreader, which will apply it evenly at the rate recommended by the manufacturer and plant food should be raised into the top soil. Use a lawn roller or similar compact the soil. This will assist germination and the growth of seedlings. The soil should not be allowed to dry out until the seed has germinated, even though frequent watering is required. Seeding is delayed until weather, it may be necessary to cover the surface with a similar material to shade surface and check drying. After the grass gets started, start sprinkling more frequently, with more water applied at a time. Establish lawns should be watered if they need it, with a hose soaking. Careful tests have shown an adequate supply of water throughout the summer is necessary, to keep blue grass growing vigorously. This may be supplied by using a plant which releases its moisture slowly, such as is now available to amateurs. Occasional applications of water in other forms should be band are about all Mrs. Young can manage just now. She plans to teach a Sunday School class when the children are older.

Ruby Peiman was born into the family of a Lutheran minister in a small town southwest of Topeka, Kansas but claims Texas as her native state. She attended school at Cisco and completed her high school work at Vernon where her father was pastor for seventeen years.

The next two years were spent at St. John's College at Winfield, Kansas. It is a Lutheran college and here she majored in Education and minored in Business. She also attended Concordia Teachers College at Eward, Nebraska and then taught in parochial schools at Pontiac, Michigan and Houston.

The Youngs were married in Berger in June, 1930 and the knot is well tied since both fathers were ministers and both officiated at the ceremony. Rev. Young was pastor at Burk Burnett, Lutheran church at the time of their marriage where they lived two and a half years. Rev. Young lost his father two years ago and his mother now lives at Monticello, Iowa. The Youngs plan a visit to see her this summer and will possibly go to Michigan, too.

Although Mrs. Young was very modest about her musical talents, she does play the piano and organ and is looking forward to the time when their new church is completed and an organ installed. A member of the congregation who knew her at Vernon remembers that the five Peiman sisters had their own orchestra and that she thought they were "very good."

The most striking thing about the Youngs living room is a group of excellent pastels hung over a dish the work of Mrs. Young. They are all of churches where Mrs. Young has been pastor, or organist pastor, or of a church where Mrs. Young has taught. She said she has "drawn just for fun all her life" and when she was in college her family gave her a set of paints, which she has used to good advantage. When the children are a little older, Mrs. Young hopes to be able to take some courses from Tech.

The Youngs are very proud of Financing Religion

 Lesson for May 8, 1955

SOME people don't like to hear money mentioned in church. Money and religion, they say, are two different things. Religion is spiritual and money is material and one ought not to be mixed up with the other.

This kind of reasoning is partly right, but only partly. It is quite true that faith, hope and love, which are the heart of religion, cannot be paid for. No church can sell you a dollar's worth of faith. The grace of God is not on sale, at any price. It is also true that finances in a church, even when well and handsomely done, won't by itself keep religion from dying. The water knew a church that had been endowed. They never mentioned money in that church, they never took up an offering. No one gave anything, no one had to. There was enough money in the endowment to pay the minister's salary, keep up the building and grounds, and hire a small choir.

Why Giving Is Good for People

But what happened? That church ran down. The preacher preached, the choir sang, the janitor dusted. But nobody came. There were meetings when literally not one soul was there outside parson and choir, and one suspected they would not have been there if it had not been for the pay check. (How would you like to preach or sing to an empty church?) People are quite mistaken when they think it would be better if money were never mentioned in church, if people were never asked to give. A church where that happens just runs down. Giving is good for people—not just any kind of giving, not throwing your money to the nearest beggar, but the kind of giving the church invites and challenges. You never give to the church, not to a good church;

you give through the church, in Christ's name and for purposes which he surely approves. Giving is good for people because money is life—concentrated, portable life-energy. The money you have earned represents work you have done, thoughts you have had, energy you have spent. Now the money is in your hand, or in the bank. The thought, the work, the energy is gone, the time is gone; but the money has come back, it is your life. Now a church that does not challenge us to put our lives into it will in the long run interest no one. Where treasure goes, the heart follows, as Jesus pointed out. Giving is good for people because not giving makes them sluggish and selfish.

Where Does the Money Go?

Nobody particularly likes to give in the dark. It doesn't do a lot of good to stand at people. Be generous—for what? is a fair question. So the wise church will see to it that all its people know where the money goes after it disappears up front somewhere on Sunday mornings. Our Scripture reading tells of a successful financial campaign carried on by King Josiah. There were points in his scheme that were then and are now sound principles for giving through the church. One is that the people could see exactly why their money was needed. There had been an unsuccessful attempt to collect money for the same purpose, namely repairing the Temple; but the collectors had been told to go out and get the money in other cities. That method did not work; the reason was that the collectors were in no rush, and the other was that people living at a distance had no idea of the need for repairs on the Temple. When they came up to Jerusalem, they could see very well that the shrine was about to fall down.

Giving Is a Form of Worship

Another noteworthy feature of King Josiah's success in money-raising was that he got the money from the people who came to worship at the Temple. The first attempt was to approach the citizens at large. This failed. The second was to give the worshippers a chance to give; and they gave, literally till the money-chest ran over. The church can make a strong appeal to those who are dedicated to the Kingdom of Love, —God-conscious folk; but to outsiders, still living by the law of Greed and Grab, nothing the church does or tries to do will seem worth a dime.

Cadillac

Class of 1985!

It would take a long time to determine who won the bet—but we'd be willing to wager that the lad in the picture winds up owning a Cadillac!

We feel so confident because he is starting out like a typical Cadillac owner.

Preponderately, Cadillac owners are self-made men. They just emerge—from everywhere.

But they are usually marked, quite early in life, by industry and thrust and the will to succeed.

That's why we say that this wonderful lad—out earning money to make himself self-sufficient—is very likely to wind up owning a Cadillac. Looking at him, as he labors, we estimate the class of 1985!

We hope we are around to deliver his car when the great day arrives—for it's a great thrill to hand out the keys when an owner comes in for his first Cadillac.

It's worth a lot to see the smile on his face and the gleam in his eye as he settles himself behind the wheel —studies the instrument panel to make sure of the controls—and floats away in the direction of home and a family celebration.

Of course, for the lad in the picture, the thrill of that first Cadillac is still a great many years away.

But how about you? Is the time coming close for your dream of a Cadillac to come to a happy ending? If so, we'd be happy—indeed—to see you.

This is a wonderful year for owning a new Cadillac—whether it's your first or your fifth or your tenth. Never before has Cadillac performance been so marvelous—its beauty so arresting—its comfort and handling ease so delightful. It is more decisively than ever—the Standard of the World!

Why not come in today—and check this for yourself? We'll give you the keys and a car—for the most revealing hour you ever spent in a motor car.

THE STITCH A STOLE...

SPRING ACCESSORY... Diamond-appliqued stole, easy to make at home, fun to wear with many costumes.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Every girl needs a stole, to wear over suits in spring or with cotton dresses in summer. The rank amateur can make a stole, which in its simplest form consists of a piece of fabric about two yards long folded in half lengthwise and stitched around the edges. This is the basic stole, but local sewing center experts would offer a few tips on how to give it fashion significance with decorative detail.

A handsome stole may be made from brown silk and worsted suit fabric trimmed in diamonds, were shaped appliques in contrasting colors, which may be stitched on with the automatic zigzagger attachment of your sewing machine.

To make the stole, using brown paper for a pattern, draw and cut out eight diamonds, each about six inches wide, leaving a half inch seam allowance all around. Press down the seam allowance and baste in position on the ends of your two-yard length of fabric (which is folded lengthwise). If you have one of the new automatic zigzagger attachments for your sewing machine, or if you have an automatic machine, use the bind stitch disc, set for 25 stitches to the inch at a 4/8 light, stitch around the edges of the diamonds. If you don't have an automatic attachment or machine, you can of course stitch the appliques by hand, using a buttonhole or leather stitch, as you prefer. Lay fabric flat for stitching, so that stitches are on only one thickness.

Now fold the stole fabric lengthwise and with raw edges firmly pinned together trim the ends to parallel the diamond edges. Leave a half inch for seam allowance. Each end will now have four points.

Turn stole so right sides are together and stitch along points and halfway up the open side. Do the same on the other end, leaving a foot pen on the long seam so that you can turn the stole right side out. Press seams open. Turn stole, poking out points with scissors, points. Slipstitch opening and press.

For yarn fringe, cut yarn in 8-inch lengths. Use a crochet hook to pull the yarn through, securing by pulling the two loose ends through the loop.

And Another Thing

Among the things our town needs is some planning for the handling of traffic. We have only begun to grow. Ten years ago we will probably be faced with traffic as heavy as a traffic load as we have. But we have only two streets that go all the way through town from east to west, none from north and south.
 We are plagued with dead ends, T-ends and cul-de-sacs. This has happened because real estate developers were permitted to sub-divide according to each developer's own self-interest, without much consideration for the good of the town.

In this manner bulkheads are built across what should be our traffic arteries. Usually they happen at the edge of town where traffic is not heavy at the time the bulkheads are built. For instance, Cundiff Avenue has been developed with several houses sitting in the middle of what should be the main streets. That's no great problem now, but a decade from now it will block the efforts to get traffic moved and the city department's efforts to reach some residential sections quickly.

This sort of haphazard development can be avoided. Cities can and should incorporate into their limits areas which can be expected to be sub-divided soon. Then city commissions can require that streets and lots of the proper width be dedicated at the proper places to match up with existing streets. And they owe it to their constituents to do so. They can also require the dedication of reasonable amounts of space for other public purposes such as schools and parks. Every developer owes it to the community which made his property valuable to contribute to that community's future growth. And most of them would cheerfully make such deductions if they thought they would also be required to do so.
 We have seen what lack of planning can do. Let's see what planning can do.

IT'S THE LAW

... in Texas

CONTRACTS MAY BE FORMAL OR INFORMAL

The word "contract" ordinarily brings to mind a formal, written document signed with pomp and ceremony. The use of that word to describe our daily transactions with the grocer, the plumber, the newspaperboy or the baby sitter would seldom occur to any of us.
 Yet most contracts arise out of such daily transactions and only a small percentage of the contracts made are ever written.

What then is a contract? It is merely an agreement in which two or more persons (or companies or organizations) bind themselves to do or not to do certain acts. Each acquires a right to have the other person keep his promises.

For example, the boy next door asks if he may cut your grass for a dollar. You say,
 "All right, go ahead." The two of you have entered into a contract whereby he promises to cut your grass and in return you promise to pay him a dollar.

The signing of a sales slip, ordering goods
 on a charge account in a downtown store, is the formation of a contract, though we seldom refer to it as such.

A few contracts, however, by state law, must be in writing to bind the parties. For instance, contracts for the transfer of real estate.

It would be impractical for you to require that every contract you enter into be drawn up in written form. However, whenever you are engaged in business transactions of any importance you should insist that all the terms of the agreement be put in writing and signed, because it is often most difficult to prove unwritten agreements.
 You will often be requested to sign written contracts, all or parts of which have been

Through A Glass Darkly

By CARROLL POUNCEY

We turn our beady little eyes this week on doctors, and some could stand a bit of scanning, too. We wonder, for instance, whatever happened to the good old fashioned horse and buggy doctor. He didn't know much about medicine, you understand, but boy he sure could handle a horse and buggy. I recollect one time we had a sick buggy
 . . . but that's another story.

But speaking of doctors, there is some TV advertising that seems a bit unethical, to use a favorite term of doctors. It is this business of having a registered nurse come on the screen and explain how sanitary used cars can save your life.

We have reported this case to Dr. Rex
 Morgan, M.D., in the Sunday comics.

Walter Davenport in "48 States of Mind"
 in Colliers this week speaks of Earth, Texas. Says they started to name it Universe, Texas, but Texas modesty made them reduce the name to just Earth.

If you remember when waffles were round
 you needn't worry about the draft.

It was one of those committee meetings where when all is said and nothing done,
 the meeting was over.

Well, they done it again. When the oil warehouse caught fire and things were flaming and exploding, everybody in town tried to park in front of the nearest fireplug, or failing to do that, immediately got in their cars and tried to race death and a five-ton firetruck to the scene of the fire. Dog bone it, somebody's gonna get killed one of these fires, and we have a pretty good idea it will be some person who has no more business going to the fire than to satisfy their own morbid curiosity.

Our town is the place where everybody rates the fire truck and the volunteer firemen to the fire.

Remember Mister Ace and Jane? Used to be a comedy team on radio. You remember radio don't you. And they were FUNNY.
 They didn't have to depend on funny (?) faces to get laughs, and they didn't have to tell jokes (?) about gophers and California smog to get laughs.

They were so funny in a real comical way that they are no longer in radio or the entertainment profession. We mourn their passing from the comedy scene, which goodness knows is bleak enough with Milton Berle and his ilk. Fred Allen, The Aces, and a few like them contributed a great deal to American comedy. And don't forget Henry Morgan before the sponsors tore him to bits.

Oh, well, that's the way the ball bounces.

The House of Liberty

"The history of liberty is the history of limitations of governmental power, not the increase of it," said the late President Woodrow Wilson. Ever since civilization began, men have had to fight for freedom against all-powerful, oppressive states. And, since the Wilson era, such states have reached new zeniths of dictatorships and tyranny.
 Many say that cannot happen here, in our own country. But the lesson of history is that it can happen anywhere and will happen—unless the people and their representatives are forever on guard against any avoidable extension of the power of government.

prepared by the other party. There are two cardinal rules to apply in such cases

First, do not sign a contract until you have read and completely understand all of its terms and provisions. Of course, you should never sign a contract on a form which is not completely filled out. Be careful of the person who tries to convince you that these precautions are unnecessary or that there isn't enough time.

Second, before you sign be sure that every important promise or provision to which you have agreed is included. Do not be misled into leaving something out by a wave of the hand and a statement that "Oh, we needn't put that in, it is understood."

Failure to insert some important provision may make the entire contract unenforceable because of vagueness. It may mean that you may not be permitted to prove or enforce that particular important provision not inserted. Or it may mean that the law will imply an agreement on this point contrary to the one actually agreed upon but left out of the contract.

SHOWING HIM HOW IT'S DONE

TREATMENTS TESTED tools for treating specific types of Hormones, secretions of ductless glands such as the adrenals, pitui- tary and sex glands, are useful cancer, says the American Cancer Society, now conducting its annual campaign for funds.

Cancer and Toothache

Only a fool would contend that cancer is less serious than an aching tooth. Yet many Americans who have dental check-ups every six months never consult a doctor about possible cancer symptoms.

True, cancer is rarer than tooth decay. But it is not a remote possibility when we consider that one out of every four Americans is attacked by that disease at some time in life.

Some cancer signals—seven in all—can be readily observed and should mean an immediate visit to a physician. Delay is dangerous. Only when cancer is treated in an early, localized stage is there a good chance of it being cured.

Other forms of this malady which are taking a major toll of lives in the United States, are revealed early by signs that have meaning only for a doctor. That is why the American Cancer Society, in a nation-wide educational program, is stressing the necessity for periodic medical examinations for all adults. Men over 45 are urged to have chest X-rays twice yearly to detect possible lung cancer, and women over 35 to have breast and pelvic examinations semi-annually.

The over-all ACS program of research to find new cures, service to patients, and far-flung education designed to save lives, is financed by public contributions made during the Cancer Society's annual fundraising drive which opens here soon. We do not hesitate to commend this vital cause to your generous consideration. Many can help additionally by serving as campaign volunteers.

And when next you visit your dentist for a che k-up, let it remind you to see your doctor for a general physical examination as well. Let's give cancer at least as much concern as an aching molar.

Great Quotes:

"Abandon the most famous and debilitating slogan that ever misguided a generation.
 Give up security as an ideal . . . If you insist on being cheated, buy gold bricks or perpetual motion machines. They are a lot sounder than security." —Henry Wriston, President of Brown University.

AROUND the COUNTY...

By MICKY STEPHENS

Jarvie Angeley, Earth, Gerald Allison, Pleasant Valley, and Jack Waffenburg, Littlefield, went to Friona Tuesday to attend a five county Farm Bureau meeting.

J. Walter Hammond, and Harold West, Texas Farm Bureau president and secretary-treasurer, respectively were the speakers.

Purpose of this meeting was to explain the policies of the Texas Farm Bureau on Grain Sorghums and was followed by a question and answer program.

Jack Yarbrough, president of the Lamb County Farm Bureau announced today that the Board of Directors will meet this coming Thursday night, in the Littlefield office.

Joe Ferrell, Littlefield, was the main speaker at the Spade Farm Bureau meeting Monday night.

Ferrell answered questions about the National Cotton Council which they play in the research and marketing of the local farmers cotton.

Spade Home Demonstration served refreshments to the group.

The Water bill now in committee but soon to be reported back to the respective Houses, will more than likely include the 3rd value-added tax to which the Lamb County Farm Bureau and the Texas Farm Bureau are very much opposed.

In letters to Senator Andy Rogers and Representative Jess M. Osborn, Jack Yarbrough asked that they voice their opposition and vote against increasing ad valorem taxes.

THE INAUGURATION today (May 5) of Southern Methodist University's fifth president, Willis M. Tate (upper right inset in the aerial view of SMU's 150-acre, $30,000,000 campus), will climax one of the most elaborate academic festivals ever held in the Southwest. Called "University Open House," the SMU program of academic events and exhibits began April 18, and since then scores of nationally and internationally prominent persons have visited the Dallas school to help commemorate President Tate's formal installation as head of the university he graduated from in 1932. Giving the inaugural address will be Stanford University's president, J. E. Wallace Steyng, lower left inset. A few of the other noted personages who will have participated in the 18-day inaugural festivities include: Herbert Brownell, Jr., attorney general of the United States; Texas Governor Allan Shivers; Gordon Dean, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission; Loyd Wright, president of the American Bar Association; John Ben Shepperd, attorney general of Texas; and General William J. Donovan, chairman of the ABA's committee on the administration of criminal justice.

National HD Club Week to be Held During May 1 Period

Is there a former 4-H Club member in your community who would receive some form of public recognition for his or her achievements and community service? If so, you can do something about it.

In the National 4-H Alumni Recognition program, former 4-H members are honored for their citizenship and leadership activities in community and business affairs. Awards in the program are sponsored by the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation.

The search for these people is going on in 48 states. Persons who have advanced in this field and principles of 4-H in their adult careers will be cited for their outstanding records.

Two certificates are offered for county winners in all participating states. Copper plaques, mounted on walnut, will be presented to four state winners selected from county nominees.

Eight national winners, chosen from the state winners, receive gold plaques and trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 25-28, 1955.

"Not only agricultural leaders but other leading citizens in all walks of life come up from the ranks of 4-H Club work," says G. L. Noble, Director of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Week. "This program encourages these leaders to continue their interest in 4-H, and at the same time provides today's youth living examples of dependable, purposeful citizenship." The National Committee coordinates the national 4-H award programs.

Former national winners in the Alumni award program: governors, bankers, farmers, homemakers, a commissioner of agriculture, a university president, a college dean and a newspaper farm editor.

S. L. Nevins, vice president of the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, said every community, city or urban, should look around for neighbors who deser-

Enjoy "White Glove" Cooking

That's electric cooking, of course — the modern cooking method, the white glove cooking way. That's because electric cooking is so clean that you can actually take a clean, white glove and run it across the top of the electric element. Unlike the old-fashioned flame-type burners, electric elements collect no soot.

Then, too, electric cooking is electrically controlled for accuracy and dependability. Ever notice how engineers build things with electric controls when they're after modern, automatic control? So, it's obvious that for modern cooking it makes good sense to go all-electric. Get the range that cooks with and is controlled by electricity.

An electric range is clean and it always looks modern. That's because electric cooking is as clean as an electric light bulb. And, it looks modern because if it's electric it IS modern. See the beautiful, modern electric ranges on display at your Reddy Kilowatt Electric Appliance dealer's store. Ask for a free demonstration. Go modern... and that's to go electric!

...of course, it's Electric!

The Need Of Grace

By TOMMY WILLIAMS, Minister

Two men desired to enter a theater for a worthwhile entertainment. The admission price was one dollar.

Said one, "I would like to go but I have no money."

The other man replied, "I am sorry you are without means and cannot go, but you see, I have fifty cents."

Thus they might compare means, and one might consider himself better off than the other, but neither could pay the price of admission. The man with fifty cents was just as far outside as the man with nothing.

This story illustrates man's needs of grace for salvation. One person (as the Pharisee did) may take pride in his personal righteousness. Another (like the Publican) may only say, "God, be merciful to me, a sinner." Neither can pay the price of his salvation. Each must depend on God's extension of grace.

God offers salvation upon certain conditions set forth in his word. By complying with the conditions, no man earns his salvation. He simply meets the terms upon which God has promised grace.

It would be foolish for any man to say, "I am good enough without giving attention to any such matters." God wants us to live as righteously as we can, but our goodness without his grace is not enough. We should seek to meet the conditions upon which grace is promised.

"Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost" (Titus 3:5).

Insect Control Measures Are Best If Begun At Early Date

Texas farmers are urged to get the jump on costly cotton insects by starting insect control measures early.

"Cotton starts off faster, fruits earlier and yields higher when early season insect control practices are followed," Dr. F. M. Fuller, extension entomologist, says.

Initial dust or spray treatments should be made when cotton reaches the two to four leaf stage of earlier if necessary. Two to four applications of insecticides usually will control the season's first offenders—thrips, red spiders, aphids, fleahoppers and overwintered boll weevils. Unless fleahopper and boll weevil infestations remain injurious, the early season phase of insect control should be curtailed about 30 days before the bollworm normally appears. This allows time for a build up of beneficial insects which also help control bollworms.

Sprays are more effective and economical than dusts on young cotton, Fuller says.

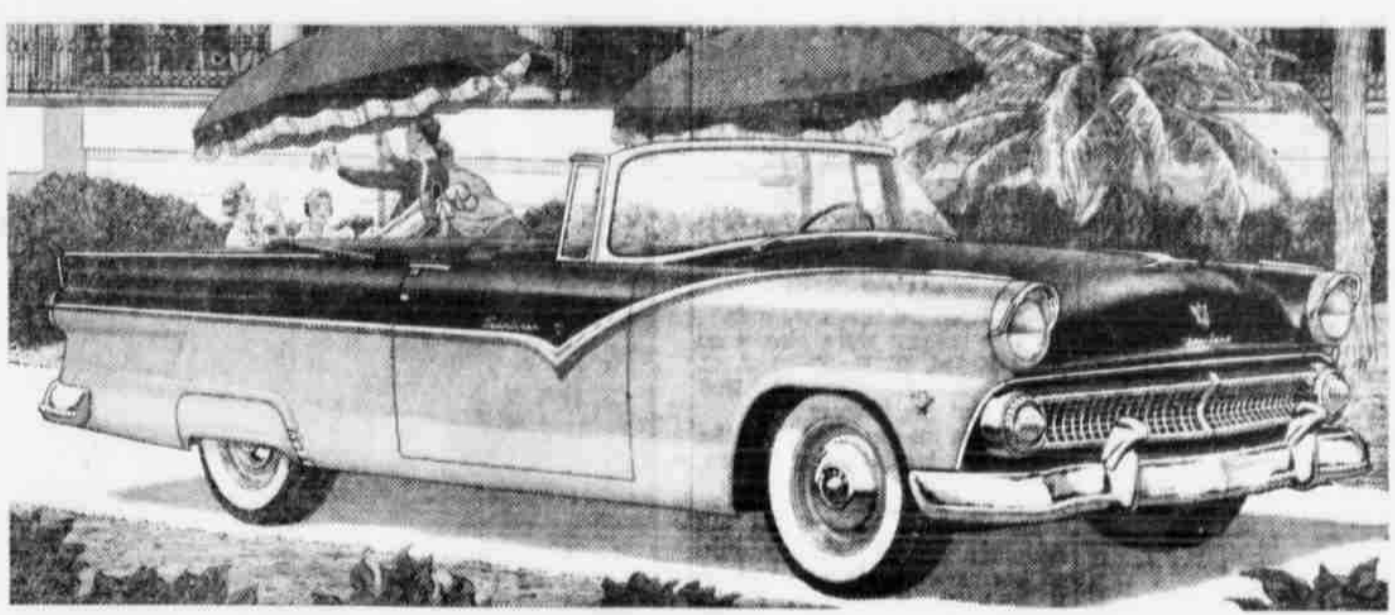

More information on early season control is given in the 1955 Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects in Texas. This guide lists each recommended insecticide an its rate of application. The bulletin, L-218, also contains a detailed program for late season control of cotton insects. Available from local county agents, this bulletin is free for the asking.

WD-45 and WD Rear - Mounted Planters

Rugged, Hydraulic Controlled Implements for Planting in Furrows, on Beds and Flat Land

-2 and 4 Row Models-

These sturdily built planters are equipped with the versatile cotton and corn hoppers used also on Allis-Chalmers front-mounted planters. Each holds 30 lbs. of cotton seed, or 60 lbs. of corn, for long runs without refilling.

Four-row models are fitted with transparent seed tubes made of a tough, resilient plastic material. The operator can see all four tubes from the tractor, and tell at a glance whether seed is flowing to the ground as it should.

Hydraulic depth control of No. 1 planters (combined with gauge-wheel control on 4-row models) assures uniform planting depth from one end of the field to the other, regardless of soil variations. Weight transfer for extra traction, as needed, is obtained automatically through the Traction Booster.

Nationwide Search for Former 4-H Clubber Extends to Lamb

More than 40,000 Texas Home Demonstration Club members are among the five million homemakers in the nation who are observing the 10th annual National Home Demonstration Week, according to Maurine Hearri, state home demonstration leader of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

During this week of May 1-7, members of the 1,985 home demonstration clubs in the State are highlighting their work in various ways. Special educational exhibits and programs, feature stories, radio and television programs, and tours of result demonstration are aimed at interpreting the objectives of home demonstration work and showing some of its contributions to family and community life. Local leaders and demonstrators are being especially recognized.

The newest research information in all phases of homemaking is brought to homemakers through specialists, home demonstration agents and local leaders in home demonstration work. Programs and demonstrations in foods and nutrition, housing and home improvement, home management, health and safety, family life, clothing, consumer buying and public affairs are developed to fit local needs and interests.

Observance of National Home Demonstration Week is designed to acquaint more families—especially young families—with this educational program. In keeping with the national theme of the week, "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World," special activities during the week will also stress the role of the home and family in developing and maintaining those qualities valued in a democracy.

New Dodge Custom Royal Lancer... glamorous "hardtop."

What's all this talk about "Price Class!"

It gets to be a little confusing—this talk about what "price class" a car is in. This new Dodge is making a clean sweep in every price field!

Owners who are used to paying a thousand dollars more for a car find that money can't buy more luxury, more exciting features and beauty than in the dashing Custom Royal Lancer shown above. It's up to 9 inches longer than competitive models costing more!

And owners of so-called "low-priced cars" are finding that a new Dodge, with all its dashing length and flashing style, can be theirs for only a few dollars a month more than any of the small cars—up to 19 inches shorter and far less exciting!

Check Your Car—Check Accidents!

In fact, the Dodge Coronet 4-door shown below actually costs less than some models in the lowest price class. So let yourself go. Travel first class in the car that's knocking "price class" into a cocked hat.

It's Training That Counts!

The pole vault is one of the most popular events of a field meet from the spectator's point of view. There is a thrill in watching the contestant soar up and up, clearing the bar by only a fraction of an inch, then dropping back to earth again.

Behind that graceful and apparently effortless act, however, there had to be hours and hours of gruelling training. The graceful movement of body, the perfect coordination of mind and body did not just happen. It took skilled coaching by one who had learned through many hours of training on his own.

So it is with a useful and graceful life! This does not come, however, without preparation and training. A useful aid—a coach if you please—is the Church. Youth, trained in regular church attendance produces, in most cases, a valuable citizen of the world as strict athletic training produces the good pole vaulter.

Social Security Representative Here May 11

A Social Security representative will be in Littlefield at the employment office at 1:30 p.m. May 11 and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to social security.

The new amendments to the social security law create a bigger and more generous system. Retirement payments are increased, as are family payments when a worker dies, and retired people are permitted to earn more without losing their monthly benefit payments. In addition to these changes, millions more are coming under the system for the first time beginning with January, 1955. Those who are covered under the law for the first time can find answers to most of their questions in leaflets and booklets which may be obtained at any social security district office.

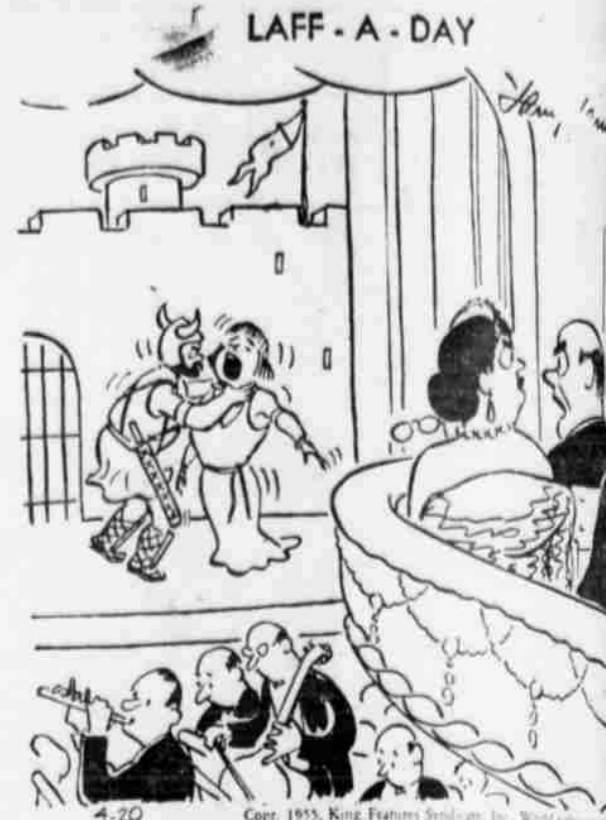

Farm operators, beginning with January, 1, 1955, are compulsorily covered under social security just as is any other self-employed business man, and they will, therefore pay their social security tax along with their income tax return for 1955 by April 15, 1956. If the farmer does not have a social security account number, he should secure one from the nearest social security district office before his tax return is due. If he needs tax information he should contact the nearest District office of the Internal Revenue Service.

Many more farm workers are also covered under social security for the first time beginning with 1955. Farm workers who meet strict regularity-of-employment tests have been covered since January 1, 1951. Now the new law brings into the system any farm worker who receives at least $100 cash wages from a farm employer in one year. No specific number of days will have to be worked.

Farm hands who do not have a social security account number should secure one right away. Any farm employer or employee should check with his nearest social security office to learn just what his rights and responsibilities are under the new social security law.
