$10 Million Readied For Farmers

WORK CUT OUT—Lamar Aten, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office in Littlefield is deep in the checking, signing and preparing for the mails over $10 million worth of allotment checks shown on his desk here. The 2,400 represent the number of farms participating in the federal support program in Lamb County and amount to an over-all average of $5,600 each. Total allotment payments for 1968 for all crops comes to well over $14 million. An earlier payment of $4 million was made to the farmers when they signed up for the program in February and March.

Allotment Checks Go Out Sept. 3

Over $10 million in federal cotton and grain sorghum allotment payments are nearing for Lamb County farmers. Mailing of the checks is scheduled for Sept. 3, according to L. D. Aten, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office here. "This constitutes the final payment for 1968 of the cotton and feed grain support program," Aten said, and added "a little over $4 million in advanced payments was made to the farmers in the county back in February and March when they first signed up for the program. The total number of farms in the county participating in the program reached 2,400 and the county-wide average check being paid is $5,600, Aten said. "If this doesn't put us first in payments in the Plains counties, then we certainly can't be lower than second," he added. Thirty percent of the cotton allotment acreage was diverted and 45 percent of the grain sorghum acreage was diverted. Average per-acre payments being made include $65.60 an acre for the planted cotton and $57.68 per acre on the first five percent of the diverted cotton. On the remaining 25 percent of the diverted cotton, a payment of $32.16 per acre is being made. A payment of $21.43 an acre is being made on planted grain sorghum and $38.99 per acre on grain sorghums that are diverted. Total support payments for the year for cotton will be $9,400,000 and for grain sorghums $4,867,011. In addition to these, $66,000 was paid in wheat support earlier in the year and $135,000 will have been paid for agricultural conservation practices by the end of the year. This brings the grand total for all types of support payments to $14,468,011 for farmers in Lamb county. Only one of the farmers signed up in the allotment program failed to certify his crops before the Aug. 15 deadline, Aten said. He will automatically be dropped from the program, and since this is the first time it has ever happened in its history, it will be interesting to find out what happens in the case. He automatically forfeits any payments coming to him when he fails to certify," he added. Aten went on to explain that anyone failing to make the certification deadline can appeal and have a hearing before the

OLD BALLOT, BOOK

Past Comes To Life

BY BILL SAYERS
 The Babe Banner of 200 E. 17th Littlefield, has everything needed to vote Republican--the election of 1888, that is. Babe recently received in the mail a bonified ballot with a full list of candidates for the nation-wide election that year. Babe came by his ballot as a story and it unwraps a good deal of West Texas history in the telling. The way Babe tells it, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ross Oliver of Rt. 1, Knox City, Tex., became rather bored during the Republican convention held in Miami. About all there was to hear or see on radio or TV was the drone of oratory or the bored performance of the delegates. So, being a staunch Democrat herself, she decided to better utilize her time by sorting out a large variety of helms that had accumulated to her family over several generations. Leafing through a book whose tattered cover clearly attests to

'Wildcat' Party Slated Friday

Delivery of the LHS annual, 1968 "Wildcat", will be made Friday night at 7:30 in the school lunchroom. The 204 page yearbook will be the center of attention as students conduct a "signing party" from 7:30 to 10 p.m. The student council will serve Cokes for the event. Staff members for the 1968 annual were Cheryl Reast, editor; Debbie Watson, business manager; Bill Nelson, senior; JoAnne Grissom, junior; Donarex Bowen, sophomore; Sandy Penn, senior; Mlynda Morris, junior and James Stewart, senior. Mrs. Edward Betts was yearbook sponsor.

Thefts Keep Police Busy

Littlefield police were kept busy the early part of the week with a variety of thefts and one case of vandalism. J. D. Hagler, reported that a ring valued at $800-1,000 was stolen or lost at his residence at 300 E. 11th St. some time between Sunday and Wednesday. The ring, a black onyx with three inlaid diamonds, was last worn Sunday and when he went to put it on Wednesday, it was missing. The house, which has been thoroughly searched, for the ring was reported to have been left unlocked several times during that period. Theft of two bicycles were reported to police. One valued at $30 was reported stolen from behind Hart Thaxton Hardware some time Saturday night. It is a radiant red Schwinn with a dent in the rear fender, Stacy Hart reported. Another bicycle was reported to have been stolen from the residence of Virgil Clark at 500 W. 4th St. on Tuesday. The red and white girls' bicycle was valued at $15. Vandals smashed the windshield and rear glass of a car owned by Amelio Coronado on Swope St. at near 9 p.m. Monday. Coronado reported that the motor had also been tampered with.

Enochs Community Aids Roberts Family

Disaster struck the Burley Lee Roberts family at Enochs recently when their home burned to the ground while they were away. Their luck was not all bad, though, because they have discovered the pleasant fact that they have the kindest and most thoughtful of neighbors. These neighbors went right to work immediately after the family lost everything they possessed except what they had in the car with them at the time of the fire. More than $650 in cash has been contributed to a grabstake fund to help them get back on their feet. The community has been very generous with clothing and other useful articles also. As soon as their home is rebuilt, their friends and neighbors plan a shower for them of all the various items that go to make up a household. For the time being, however, they have no place to store such items. The last information available to the Leader - News indicated that the Roberts were staying with Mrs. Roberts' father, R. G. McCall, in Enochs until arrangements can be made to rebuild their home.

Plains Cotton Growers Call Election Meeting

Two Littlefield and Amherst cotton organization officials will have the leading rolls in a county-wide meeting to be held here this week. John D. Smith of Littlefield and Paul Bennett of Amherst have announced that the Lamb County producer director to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. will be elected at a meeting on Friday, at 8 p.m. in the county courthouse here. Bennett, who is the businessman director to the 23-county cotton producer organization, and Smith, the current producer director, have invited all cotton interests in the county to be on hand for what they term as "interesting, educational and very worthwhile program." An up-to-date report on the present government cotton program and prospects for its extension, plus a review of PGC activities on behalf of cotton producers for the past year will be presented. Also, arrangements have been made for a commodity broker to explain use of the futures market in hedging cotton prices. PGC's Board is made up of See COTTON Page 6

Red Carpet Welcome Planned For Lamb County Pioneers

Red carpets will be rolled out for Lamb County Pioneers when they convene in Littlefield's Community Center Tuesday, Aug. 27, for the 19th Annual Lamb County Pioneers' Reunion. Registration will begin at 10:30 a.m. and an "old-time" basket luncheon will be served at noon. Each family is to bring enough food for themselves, but drinks and dessert will be provided by the Association. Following the luncheon, a program, memorial service and business meeting will be conducted, with Ray Smith of Spade, vice-president, presiding. During the course of the program, gold ribbons will be presented to persons living in the county 50 years or more. Gifts will be given to the person traveling farthest to attend, oldest woman present, oldest man present, and person residing in Lamb County the longest. Mrs. J. L. Hinson of Springlake, program and memorial chairman for the organization, has announced that different communities in the county have been invited to present a portion of the entertainment. A vocal solo will be presented by Jean Branscum of Pleasant Valley; a humorous reading by Mrs. James Holland of Amherst and the John Clayton Quartet of Littlefield, are only a few of the numbers which have been scheduled. Mrs. Weldon Findley of Littlefield will sing a hymn "In Memoriam" to all members of Lamb County Pioneers who died during the past year. Persons who have resided in Lamb County since 1938 will be eligible this year for membership in Lamb County Pioneers. When the pioneers met July 17, 1949 for their organizational meeting, its president, the late Judge R. C. Hoping, an old-time rancher, recommended that "dues be set at $1 per head". So consequently, when pioneers pay yearly dues, the fee is still only a dollar. Final plans for the reunion were completed when officers

'Bike' Program Extended

The Leader-News "Earn A Bike" subscription drive has been extended through Aug. 30, due to the fact that many vacationers are returning and teachers will be back on the job. It was decided to offer them the opportunity to take advantage of our "13-month" year subscription price. Youth in our area are "hard at it" and have proven themselves good salesmen and saleswomen during the drive, which was originally scheduled to come to a close Saturday. Youths participating in the drive are asked to report to the Leader-News office the next two Fridays, so that subscription deliveries may be kept current. Eleven boys and girls have earned 10 bicycles to date. They are: Kevin Pickrell, Randy Lucas, Danny and Jackie Chronister, Terry Chester, Debra Bromlow. Sixty-three boys and girls are still working for bicycles. Cindy Moss, Michelle Sawyer, Randall Parker, Michael Cox, Gaylene Rogers.

SPECIAL--BUT OUT OF DATE--The paper that Babe Banner Littlefield holds up for inspection here is the official Republican ballot for the national election of 1888. It was the winning ticket too, as GOP candidate Benjamin Harrison was the winner Texas though, as GOP candidate for governor A. J. Houston snowed under by Democrat L. S. Ross. How Babe came by the ballot is told in the accompanying story.

APPROXIMATELY 160 riders in nine units participated in Sunday afternoon's District I American Association of Sheriff's Poses and Riding Clubs Parade in downtown Littlefield. The annual event was the third consecutive parade to be held in Littlefield, hosted by Lamb County Sheriff's Posse. Leading the parade was Alton White, shown in foreground, Lamb County Sheriff's Posse vice-president, followed closely by flag-bearers from Floydada, Plains and Paducah riding clubs, left to right respectively. Shown in center of the picture is Cindy Garvin of Abernathy, who is National Queen of American Association of Sheriff's Poses and Riding Clubs. Approximately 300 riders and families attended the fellowship, trophy presentation and refreshment period which followed the parade at the Community Center, Floydada was over-all winner.

HI-FY's Return From California Tour

The HI-FY's (Higher Involvement for Youth) returned to Littlefield Thursday, Aug. 8, after a five-week mission tour of California with the California Crusade.

In September, 1967, Mrs. Ralph Nelson received an invitation from the Southern Baptist Convention of California and Nevada. She chose Jerry Neuenschwander, senior music major at Texas Tech to direct all music on the Crusade. Other members of the team were chosen through application and interview.

After many months of intensive preparation, the California Crusade team left Littlefield July 3.

Enroute to Carson City, Nev. the first stop, the HI-FY's visited Gallup, N.M. and Zion National Park.

The Crusade Team arrived in Carson City Friday, July 5, where they were guests of First Baptist Church and Rev. Alfred Englemann, pastor. Team members were entertained in individual homes and each day they were luncheon guests of a different family.

Sunday, July 7, they presented "The Greatest Story Yet Untold", a missionary yeta, and "Good News", a Christian folk-musical, at the two worship services.

They presented "Good News" at the State Prison for Women. During the following week, two Vacation Bible Schools were conducted—at Virginia City and at Washoe Valley, and Teen Time was held at the Carson City Church in the evening.

"Good News" was presented before the Carson City Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs. The governor, the three supreme justices, and the heads of all state departments were present at the performances.

While in Carson City, the Littlefield group visited the "Bonanza" set on the Ponderosa, rode the Heavenly Valley Tramway on Lake Tahoe, and were luncheon guests on Lake Tahoe.

Leaving Carson City July 13, the HI-FY's continued to the Hoopa Indian Reservation in far northern California, where they were guests of the Hoopa Baptist Church where Rev. Allen Morris is pastor. They presented "The Greatest Story" and "Good News" at the Hoopa Baptist Church and the Willow Creek Baptist Church. They conducted Vacation Bible Schools at the Hoopa Church and at Pecwan, a tiny Indian settlement located high in the mountains near the Oregon line. They conducted Teen Time each evening at the Hoopa Church.

July 25, the Crusaders drove to San Francisco, down the Pacific coast, through the Grizzly Creek, Humboldt, and Richardson Redwood Groves.

In South San Francisco, they were guests of the Immanuel Baptist Church where Rev. Thomas Kilpatrick is pastor. Friday they visited Muir Woods, a primeval rain forest, situated in a redwood grove. That evening they conducted Teen Time at the Immanuel Church, and later were entertained with an authentic Chinese dinner at the Sai Yon Cafe in Chinatown, arranged by Peter Chinn, Chinese missionary.

Saturday they presented "Good News" for guests from the entire Bay Area at the Immanuel Church. Afterward they had dinner at the Tonga Room in the Fairmont Hotel.

Sunday they were guests of individual members of the church and that evening presented "The Greatest Story."

Monday, July 29, was the first free day on the Crusade. That day the team took a scenic tour of San Francisco, including Bay Cruise and a visit to the Palace of Fine Arts. Dinner was at Joe Dimaggio's restaurant on the Embarcadero. Pastor Englemann of the Carson City Church.

July 30 the young people to Fresno, via Yosemite. Wednesday, July 31, they presented "Good News" at the Southern Baptist Convention Building for the state of California, at the State Hospital, at the State Fair Hall, and at a Spanish mission.

That evening they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Combs, Combs, language director of the California Crusade from the beginning.

August 1, the team drove to Los Angeles via Sequoia National Park, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 2 and 3, were days for the group. They visited Hollywood, Beverly Hills, Beach, and Disneyland.

Sunday, Aug. 4 they presented "Good News" at the Baptist Indian Mission in Garden at the morning after which they drove to Vegas, Nev.

Monday, Aug. 5, was the free day for the group. That evening they attended the Ames show at the Riviera Hotel, with an after-theater show at Don the Beachcomber. The route home, they visited the Dam and Grand Canyon.

Mrs. Nelson has been conducting mission Bible classes since 1960 and 50 or more young people have been baptized in this work through her. Although the name HI-FY is not given to the group, 67, all of these young people have been a part of this involvement for Christ.

ester defines HI-FY as "presenting with the least effort." The HI-FY's present the story of Christ in the most easy way possible.

In 1967, while conducting Mission Action Workshops at Southern Baptist Summer assembly grounds in Glendon, M., on Mission Vacation Schools, Mrs. Nelson met language Director Combs. He came interested in the abilities of the California Crusade.

The HI-FY's return to Littlefield with a new perception of "people", and a new realization of the possibilities of mission where you are.

Viva Grassroots!

BY LIBBY MUDGETT

I HAVE JUST completed a grassroots poll that proves conclusively that:

- 1. This part of the world is the best place to live in
2. This part of the nation is the best place to live in
3. Nobody out here in the boondocks is without an opinion and if George Gallup would just poll us he wouldn't have so much percentage in his No Opinion column.

DR. GALLUP, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion, has been dashing all over America and eleven foreign countries just finding out that people think everything and everyone is going to pot.

I didn't think things were all that bad out here, but I decided to ask the same questions phrased in the same way as the doctor just to make sure. The three questions are: Do you believe that life today is getting better or worse in terms of morals? Do you believe that life today is getting better or worse in terms of honesty? Do you believe that life today is getting better or worse in terms of religion?

THE DIFFERENT answers follow. "Well, lessee now, I'd say morals aren't any worse. Not really. Communications are just better and people know about immorality quicker, but bad morals have always been around."

"I think religion is much better. People forget how little there was to do a generation ago. People went to church simply because there was nothing else to do. Now when they go to church, it is in spite of a thousand other choices they could have made."

"Well, judging by (woman's name) people are getting more honest all the time. This year she canned thirty quarts of corn and said she'd canned fifty. Twenty years ago she was puttin' up thirty quarts but tellin' she'd canned seventy."

"You realize none of those questions make any sense, don't you? There's more to life than religion, morals and honesty. I will say, though, that life itself is much better in general and if people would just keep busy they wouldn't have time to think up senseless questions such as those."

"I THINK there's more immorality but that people are more moral. By that I mean that there's so much more temptation and opportunity to be immoral than ever before that the very fact there's still so many moral people around is a tribute to humanity itself."

"My answer to all three questions is no better, no worse. People have always been people and always will be. You can quote me on that."

"If by religion you mean interest in the things that really count, I'd say it's better. People are beginning to realize that life without the right goals is empty. If you mean church attendance, I'd say it's worse."

"I THINK PEOPLE are more honest, mainly because the consequences for telling the truth aren't as punishing as they used to be. What used to be kept a deep dark secret is now accepted by a more liberal society. But that means that our morals are probably worse, doesn't it? Well, maybe it just means we're not as self-righteous as we used to be."

"Well, we have people that are mainstays of our church that would have been turned out of the congregation a generation ago. I think this is better. What good could the church do 'em if they were forbidden to attend?"

"NATIONALLY, worse on all three counts. Locally, about the same for adults. For young people, I'd say better, considering the adults they have to put up with."

"Oh, I think the news media just reports the very worst things that happen. I don't believe that our morals are any worse, just more publicized."

Not being able to figure out percentages, I'll just say that we came out a lot better than the rest of the U. S. They believed morals were worse by 10 to 1, honesty was worse by 10 to 6, and religion was worse by 2 to 1.

LONG LIVE THE GRASSROOTS!

Generous Gratitude

BY BOB WEAR

WE HAVE HEARD ingratitude described as the greatest of all sins. It may be, we don't know. We do know, however, that ingratitude is a great evil.

It seems much too easy for most of us to forget our blessings. Even when we don't forget them, we are not always grateful for them. If we are grateful, we do not always express our gratitude. This failure is one of our most harmful of all failures.

THERE IS GREAT NEED for generous gratitude. This means that we must be consciously grateful, and diligent in the proper expressions of our gratitude.

There are two sides to the need for and value of generous gratitude, expressed generously. Those bestowing the help or kindness are encouraged, and those who feel and express the gratitude are strengthened and doubly blessed.

SENECA SAID, "There is as much greatness in acknowledging a good turn, as in doing it." When a good turn is generously acknowledged, both the doer and the recipient are enriched.

Of course, we understand that God is the giver of "every good and perfect gift". We must never fail to be grateful or express our gratitude. With this preparation for meaningful living, we are also aware of the fact that many of these blessings come through our loved ones, our friends, and other fellow beings.

THE UNDERSTANDING NECESSARY to realize that we do receive much that is good from others is very necessary to our well-being. This understanding must include a feeling of generous gratitude that is immediately and effectively expressed.

If we are not aware of our blessings, we suffer a great loss; but no greater loss than being aware of blessings, and not having a feeling of gratitude.

IN ORDER TO BE MOST HELPFUL to others and ourselves, we must be generous in both the feeling and expression of gratitude.

In a very real sense, the unnoticed blessing is not a blessing; so far as the recipient is concerned. The consciousness of blessings for which there is no feeling of gratitude is of very little value.

THERE IS ANOTHER EVIL. The unexpressed gratitude almost completely nullifies the real value of the blessing. In fact, unexpressed gratitude is very closely akin to ingratitude.

Timothy Dexter said, "An ungrateful man is like a hog under a tree eating acorns, but never looking up to see where they come from."

Ungrateful people are unhappy and undesirable in all human relationships. They devote most of their time and energy to murmuring, complaining and finding fault.

GENEROUS GRATITUDE, GENEROUSLY EXPRESSED, is one of the great indispensable elements in every consideration of the elements essential to satisfactory living.

The spirit of generous gratitude will do much to overcome the misery, depression, weariness, despair and such like which seem so prevalent in the human experience.

GENEROUS GRATITUDE helps from a very good climate for daily living.

To whatever extent we fail to recognize and express gratitude for the good we receive, we will be inclined to many undesirable and unwanted feelings and happenings.

Howdy Neighbor

BY BOYD PIERCE OF BURLINGTON

It's amazing how much good a fifty dollar bill can do when people are not afraid to spend it. Let's look at it from a different angle in the following story.

A salesman stopped in a motel for a weekend. He had a fifty dollar bill and asked the room clerk to put it in the safe and keep it for him until he was ready to leave town.

This Is Littlefield

Thanks to the foresight of past and current city administrations, Littlefield is not now, and is not expected to be for the next 100-plus years, a community in need of an adequate water supply.

The city has 13 underground water wells at the present time. Nine are from what is called "the old well field".

The other four, and those which will be mainly counted on in the future, are situated north of Littlefield in the sand hills. There, the city has purchased the exclusive water rights on 7,714 acres.

An exhaustive study by a team of experts on the sand hill water supply indicates an adequate supply of water for the next 140 years. This takes into consideration the city's projected growth and uses what are considered conservative supply figures.

Serving Littlefield's 54 miles of water distribution mains are three elevated storage tanks of a combined 725,000 gallons. In addition, three "ground" steel tanks and a concrete tank have another 1,196,000 gallons giving the city's storage capacity a total of 1,921,000 gallons.

Not all the nine underground wells are pumped throughout the year. The old well field is rested during the slack periods during the fall, winter and spring.

From the wells in the sandhills, the water is pumped into a central pump system which has a 600,000 storage capacity, and then there on into the city's system.

Revenue from the sale of water in Littlefield for the 1966-67 fiscal year was $185,561. For this year, which will end Sept. 30, conservative estimation of $181,500 will be derived by the city through water sales. This year's income from water is estimated at $185,000.

But this is not all profit for the city. Cost of operation in 1966-67 was $127,134, with a portion of the balance going toward retiring bonds and $15,000 being transferred to the general fund.

Littlefield's water system is considered "very definitely adequate, according to City Manager Jim Shearer. And he says it will last for the next several years.

A community without the water problem of cities in much of the nation, as well as many of its neighbors... This is Littlefield.

PAUL HARVEY

Switch, Not Fight

BILLY GRAHAM, invited to deliver the benediction at this year's conventions of both Republicans and Democrats, says, "I sat there during the GOP floor fight over the candidate for Vice President, stunned, unbelieving."

"If I were ever to conduct an evangelistic crusade which incited such an 'unconventional' binge among the audience, the next day's headlines would shout: 'Graham Meeting--Emotional Orgy.'"

IF BASEBALL excites you, you're a fan; if religion excites you, you're a fanatic. And if it's in the political arena, a bitter, vitriolic tirade is merely a "partisan speech."

Why don't the politicians realize themselves, thus to avoid such ugly infighting as characterized part of the recent nomination?

Historically, the positions of the major parties have shifted ideologically on vital issues.

A JEFFERSONIAN Democrat's conservatism was closer to today's Republican position on most things.

Yet many Democrats are now more isolationist than most Republicans.

The tumult and the shouting in Miami Beach reflected a Rockefeller-Lindsay-Scranton faction, all of whom would probably be more comfortable at a convention of Democrats.

Indeed, a cartoonist recently imagined Nelson Rockefeller predicting victory for himself "on the fifth ballot--in Chicago."

ESSENTIALLY, despite shifting positions and distorted semantics, Americans are divided between those who believe in Big

Government and those who believe in Big People.

You hear some party liners insist that each party, Republicans and Democrats, should have within its own ranks a wide spectrum of political persuasion. Perhaps--except on the fundamental difference which is the only justification for two parties: the fact that some Americans believe in Big Government should gravitate toward a more compatible party affiliation.

I AM AWARE of the impracticality of a Rockefeller, for instance, suddenly divorcing himself from the GOP state machine which he has tediously courted. Yet many politicians who have considered realignment more honest than remaining unequally yoked--many who would rather switch than fight--have done so successfully.

Wayne Morse, Republican, became a Democrat, Strom Thurmond, Democrat, became a Republican. I've not kept score on the many such shifts, but we are hearing of more this year than ever before.

A Minnesota student group which backed Rockefeller has switched to Hubert Humphrey. Jackie Robinson has left the Rockefeller camp to support the Democrats' nominee, whomever.

GEORGE McGOVERN'S was a family of Republicans; he became a Democrat--elected by a traditionally Republican state.

We are seeing more and more voters consider the "man" and the "issues" more than the "party." As the voters switch to a more compatible political alignment, you can expect more politicians to do likewise. Then each party's platform may one day be made of hard planks--instead of soft soap.

Jeannette Kassabaum Takes Tour Of Europe

Jeannette Kassabaum of Fort Worth, daughter of Mrs. Olan Williams of Littlefield, returned yesterday, Aug. 21, from a three-week tour of European countries.

Members of the Porter Randall Continental Highlights Economy Tour departed from Dallas at noon July 30 and arrived in New York that afternoon, to begin the series of excursions.

The tour left New York's Kennedy Airport that night and arrived in London the next morning, July 31, at 8:40 a.m. They made a tour of Windsor Castle and Hampton Court, prior to transfer to Mount Royal Hotel at noon.

state ASC commission at the College Station.

"If prices on feed grain remain as low as they are at present time and the crop is out as good as it looks, federal loans to farmers in this county could reach $10 million for 1969," Aten stated.

These loans, processed through his office, are made with the warehouse receipts for their stored grain standing collateral.

"It's a pretty sure bet the farmer is not going to accept prices as they are and will hold their grain off market hoping for the price rise in the spring.

"With the best crop program we have had in several years you know there will be a lot of it stored through the winter," he concluded.

memorabilia to gain a feeling for the West Texas near era of her grandfather's day.

Among the interesting items that turned up was a certificate signed by the Governor G. A. Culberson appointing her grandfather county clerk for Stanton County. Though the certificate was dated in 1896, Mrs. Oliver feels sure that her father worked in some capacity in the courthouse in 1896, that is how the ballot case is in his possession.

The courthouse was located at Rayner, which was county seat at that time. County seat was later moved to its present location at Anton and the old courthouse was converted to a ranch. It furnished the ranch setting for the motion picture "Giant" a few years ago.

Inspection of the ballot reveals that there were candidates for a large number of offices to be filled. It is reasonably assumed there were few Republicans in Texas at that time of reconstruction.

Republican Benjamin Harrison, who heads the ticket, voted into office that year one of the very few presidents in America's history, the encyclopedia states that the Democratic party was so split into factions that he defeated Grover Cleveland for his second year while receiving less popular votes than the incumbent.

With all the talk about possibility of the current election going to the House as a third party, the question arises, in the minds of Baby Mrs. Oliver, could history be repeating itself?

A. J. Houston, the Republican candidate for Governor on the ballot, received few votes that he is not elected in the results of that election published in the Almanac. He first showed up in 1892 where he captured 190,486 for J. S. Bell, Democrat who won his term.

By the time Mrs. Oliver generated a little interest in the "Grand Old Party" result of her findings, a public convention was held. "Oh well, it wasn't likely to change her mind come November anyway."

two directors from each of 23 counties. Producer directors are elected on even numbered years and business directors odd years, each for a two year term.

"These directors govern work of our organization," Smith said, "and that is of vital importance to all of us every producer, grower or other businessman should have a voice in the selection of a PCG Board member from Lamb County."

Smith is a long-time member of the association, having been elected in every officer position since. Beginning in 1960 he has served as secretary, treasurer, vice-president, and terms as president, which is the maximum allowed in the charter, and in his present position as chairman of the board of directors.

Bennett is completing the year of a two year term as business director and will be up for election at this time.

Swimming Season Almost At End

The swimming season is almost over in Littlefield. Manager Tommy Bennett says he will close the Country Club Park pool at 6 p.m. Sunday for the season, but Littlefield Country Club reportedly will continue to hold open through Sept. 30, Labor Day.

IN THE LONE STAR STATE

The Leader-News staff worked very hard in 1967 to bring its readers the best possible newspaper, And that's just what we did, according to the judgement of newspaper people who have compared the paper with those from other areas in Texas, and the nation.

In the judges' opinion, the Leader-News is the best Semi-Weekly Newspaper in Texas.

The Leader-News was recently presented the Texas Press Association's General Excellence Award plaque, highest recognition possible on the state-wide level, as the best semi-weekly newspaper in Texas. This award was accompanied during presentation by first place plaques in Appearance, Column Writing and News Features, and a second place certificate for News Writing.

More recently, the Leader-News received two plaques at the annual convention of the West Texas Press Association. Against semi-weekly newspapers from West Texas, an area bounded north and south by Oklahoma and Mexico, the Leader-News again received the General Excellence Award, as well as first place in Advertising Composition.

And, against semi-weekly General Excellence competition in the nation, the Leader-News was judged fourth best. This recognition came in judging by the National Editorial Association.

Blowing our own horn? You bet! The Leader-News is proud. And, because of this pride, the staff has every intention to work even harder, that we might continue living up to the standards established in 1967.

SIXTEEN SENIORS and athletes who are completing their final years of high school eligibility at Littlefield High pose for the Leader-News camera. The older leaders of the '68 Wildcats, considerable responsibility rests on their shoulders when considering the season's fortunes.

BIG BUT INEXPERIENCED

Wildcat Fortunes Rest On Linemen Shoulders

"It's what's up front that counts" isn't a slogan reserved solely for a cigarette commercial.

It also is the determining factor in the Littlefield Wildcat win-loss outcome this fall.

Wildcat Head Coach Raymond Birchfield faces his second season in Littlefield with virtually no experience among his big linemen.

But he's happy to have them, anyway. Time was, last spring, when Birchfield faced the possibility of entering 10-game District 3-AAA schedule without a 200-pounder anywhere but in the band.

The two big bucks came back out after a year layout, and two returners had rocketed on the scales to the preferred level of a thundering tackle.

Jerry Fudge, 210-pound Senior tackle who lettered as a Sophomore, returned to padsville once more, joined by Gerald Haberer, a 202-pound Junior Guard.

Junior tackle Kim Klobber, who was feared to be moving last Spring, reported in with a 203-pound weight that fills out his 1967 letter jacket.

And Dennis Cawthon, the linemen who 170 was to be the largest reporting back when things looked their darkest last spring, broadened to a 202-pound package. He, also, has a year's lettering of credit.

Due to their lack of experience and youth, Coach Birchfield says the fortunes of the Wildcats depends on their attitude toward working to improve and paying the price to learn.

But, considering the big four come along as well as Birchfield says, how does he think the ball club as a whole will fair?

"Barring injuries (Littlefield was never well in 1967), this club could be better than last year if the boys decide they want to work hard enough to improve," he says.

"Cat fans can look for a wide-open aerial-type ball club this year. Birchfield says he expects to put the ball into the air at least 40 percent of the time. Why? Because he has a two-year - experienced quarterback in Roy Burk who can put the ball where he wants it, and a quick, sure-fingered split end in Steve Webb to use as a target.

Also, the mentor confides, his backs just aren't large enough to make a hole on their own against beefy linemen.

As far as progress through the first couple of two - a - day sessions, Birchfield reported his offense was considerably sharper and further progressed than the defense. This, according to most coaches, is unusual in that the defense almost always looks better early due to lack of offensive timing.

Practice achieved by individual instruction last spring both in throwing and receiving was credited with the improvement by Birchfield.

Because of such successful workout with individuals prior to the summer vacation, Birchfield considers his passing game today on the same par as it was when the 'Cats finished their season last fall.

And that was responsible that the majority of their downs came on aerials.

Fourty - six young men showed up for practice the opening day. But the dwindles to 45 by year's end.

Two - year letterman Ross, senior flankerback, not get clearance from the doctor to play because of a

But Wendell Ashley, who red as defensive guard and awarded Honorable Mention District for his efforts, allowed to play after first told he was physically fit. Ashley has an optic sinusitis which could be extremely serious if hit a certain way. He insisted and was allowed to play.

Were Coach Birchfield to name his varsity team, would probably select the following athletes:

Matthew Hodge, 135, guard, junior varsity; Howard Wright, 163, Senior back, 1 letter;

Vernell Kemp, 160, Senior back, junior varsity; Kenneth Twitty, 140, Senior wingback, junior varsity;

Travis Danford, 143, Senior tailback, 1 letter; Harold Lowery, 172, Senior center, 1 letter;

Roy Burk, 156, Senior back, 2 letters; Roy Bolton, 153, Senior back, 1 letter;

Jim McCary, 183, Junior back, junior varsity;

Monte Trotter, 156, Junior tackle, junior varsity;

Bruce Timman, 145, Junior quarterback, no experience; Eddid Hickman, 160, Junior wingback, junior varsity;

Kim Klobber, 203, Junior back, 1 letter;

Gerald Haberer, 202, Junior guard, junior varsity;

Jerry Fudge, 210, Senior tackle, 1 letter; Steve Webb, 149, Senior end, 1 letter;

Dennis Cawthon, 201, Senior guard, 1 letter;

Randy Walker, 154, Senior end, 1 letter;

Dennis Chambers, 157, Senior tight end, junior varsity;

David Perkins, 164, Senior end, 1 letter;

Charley Holt, 153, Junior tackle, junior varsity;

Steve Owens, 140, Junior end, junior varsity;

T. J. Morgan, 162, Junior back, 1 letter;

Wendell Ashley, 158, Senior guard, 1 letter;

Birchfield noted the best athletes who played in High last year. Either by winning or loss of desire, players whose weights were justice to any college coach no longer in uniform.

Possibly the open-date during the first weekend blessing for the Wildcats could be just the week field and his crew of fifteen want to get ready for Sept. 20 opener against Bock Estacado.

Joining returning ones Wilson Elliott, James Dan Jimmy Bartlett and Jerry is Jack Christian, who has past several years has been Texaco Distributor here in Littlefield.

Sudan Hornets Aim For State Title

They got the taste of championship in 1967 over at Sudan, and they've got their eyes on the whole pie this season.

A dedicated group of young athletes from a school which had never housed district football trophy not only made shambles out of pre-season predictions, but went on winning as far as the state quarterfinal playoffs.

And they're just almost all back to go the rest of the distance this fall.

The proud Hornets make no bones about their goals, either. They think "state". They talk "state". And they're working for "state".

Head Coach Jim Cain was heard telling his speedy charges during workout "Let's go! We're going to have to work a lot harder and look a lot sharper than this if we're going to be state champions!"

All over the Lamb County town, fans are talking in terms of state, not district.

Returning to camp Monday, first day of workouts, were all but four starters from last year's prideful group. But that quartet left some pretty large shoes behind to be filled.

Gone through graduation are guard Robin David, defensive end Van Seymore, quarterback Ronnie Hill and halfback Gary Gatewood. All were All-District, with Davis and Hill receiving All-State laurels.

But the 1967 edition of hustlin' Hornets was composed largely of 14 sophomores. And Coach Cain has 16 returning lettermen as a foundation on which to build another title-earner.

The list of leading Hornets who will see starting action on Sudan's fine new football field Sept. 13 against Sundown includes:

Tim Nix, 186, Senior center, All-District;
Dex Baker, 190, senior left tackle, All-District;
Steve Martin, 160, Senior quarterback, All-District, All-South Plains;

Jerry Bellar, 160, Junior right halfback, All-District;
Larry Hanna, 168, Junior fullback, All-District;

Billy Ford, 170, Senior right guard, All-District;
Mickey Gilbert, 138, Senior left guard;

Added to this list of probable starters and players who will see considerable action, will be:

Monte Roberts, 187, Senior defensive guard, All-District;

Harvey Willeby, 200, Junior tackle, letterman;

Rex Boyles, 132, Junior quarterback and defensive secondary starter;

David Weaver, 166, Sophomore halfback and linebacker;

Randy Pierce, 138, Junior back;

Bobby Drake, 132, Junior back;

Steve Edwards, 140, Sophomore guard;

Bryan Hulsey, 165, Junior guard and tackle;

Pat Minyard, 190, Junior tackle.

These are but a part of the 42 athletes who showed up for the first day's workouts. More are expected before the week is out.

Coach Cain will have a good chance to see his charges under fire Tuesday, when the Hornets travel to Hereford to scrimmage at 7:30 p.m. with the Whiteface B team. Then Sept. 3, they will host Olton for another scrimmage, starting at the same hour.

"The boys have been running and lifting weights on their own all summer," commented the successful Hornet mentor. "They all reported in real good condition."

Cain's face brightened when he reflected how the younger boys, those who were sophomores and junior varsity squadmen, had grown since last season. "They'll be pushing somebody for a position this fall," he stated.

The Hornets compiled a 10-3 record in 1967. Two losses were to Seagraves, one in early season and the other in the quarter finals. And the third was to Plains.

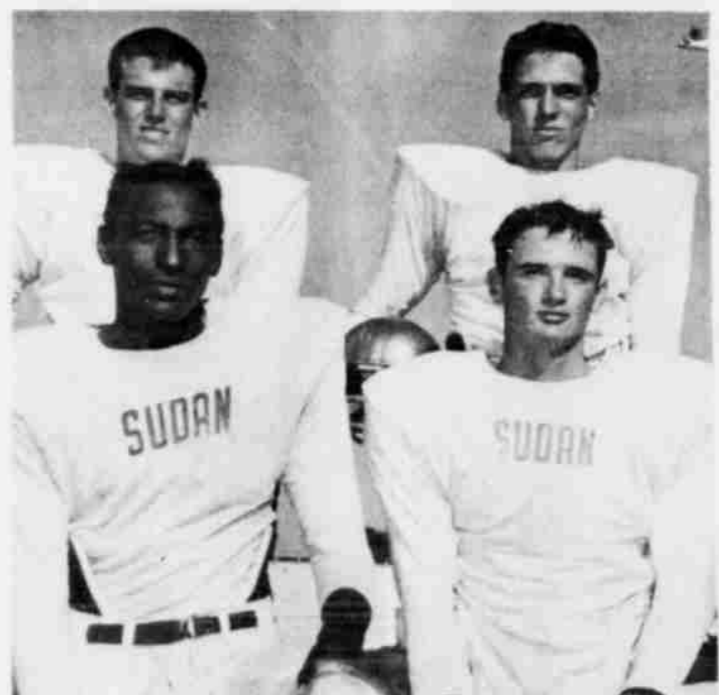

Cain's Junior Varsity had a 4-5 season.

Assisting Cain on the coaching staff are Bill Adams, with the backs, Tommy Laceywell, B team and newcomer Dwayne Gray.

Gray, who replaces Troy Chitty, who has quit the education field, is in his freshman year as a coach. The Texas Tech graduate hails from Eunice, N. M., and will coach the junior high and assist with the varsity.

Few teams ever start out the season with a state championship in mind. But, with the manpower, experience and dedication of the Sudan Hornets, their goal is not out of reach.

1968 SUDAN SCHEDULE
Sept. 13--Sundown, H, 8 p.m.
Sept. 19--Amherst, T, 8 p.m.
Sept. 27--Morton, H, 8 p.m.

BIG GUNS in the Hornet offensive army are these explosive youngsters. Though all underclassmen, each back has considerable experience. They are: kneeling left, 166-pound sophomore David Weaver, and 167-pound junior Billy Gore; standing left, 160-pound junior Jerry Bellar and 168-pound junior Larry Hanna. Bellar and Hanna were the leading scorers and offensive gainers last season.

AGILITY DRILLS are a major part in the Littlefield Wildcat workouts this week. Here, assistant coach Willson Elliott puts a trio through a side-stepping exercise.

QB Club To See Workout

Wildcat Quarterback Club President James Lee is urging all members to attend next Tuesday's meeting, which will be held at the football field.

To begin at 7:15 p.m., Lee says Coach Raymond Birchfield will put his players through their paces, walking slowly, that the fans can see and understand the play's development.

The 'Cats will also hold more of their workout that evening for the Club members' benefit.

Lee is looking for volunteers to film games with the Club's 16 mm movie cameras. The films are used by the coaching staff to aid the athletes in following contests, as well as for the entertainment of the Club at their regular Tuesday meetings.

Finals This Weekend

All matches in the sixth annual Littlefield Optimist Club Tennis Tournament will be completed by Saturday night, according to co-chairmen Orville Bassett and Floyce Pierce.

Scheduling of the championship matches is listed as tentative by the chairmen because the contestants are playing them off as they can find time to take the courts.

However, Bassett and Billy Gage were slated to play in the Veteran Singles consolation finals last night, with Ralph Gage and Henry Cunningham set to go Saturday for the championship.

Men's Doubles consolation finals are for 9:30 Friday evening between Pierce and Hyatt vs. Bromlow and Smith.

The Championship of the Men's Doubles is also slated for that evening, to be played between Thrash and Webb and Bassett and Goldston.

Another game slated for last evening was the Vet Doubles consolation finals between Gage and Cunningham vs. Smith and Grant.

Mixed Doubles pitting Pierce

ENERGETIC TOMMY THRASH tries unsuccessfully to return a short, low volley during his match against Steve Webb, which he won 6-0, 6-0. Thrash is seeded to win the Men's Doubles title with Webb, the Mixed Doubles title with Pat Maner and has already copped the Men's Singles crown.
