RAILROAD COMMISSION OF TEXAS ORDERS SAVING TO MANY FARMERS AND BUYERS LOWER GRAIN RATES EFFECTIVE ON FEB. 15

Lubbock, Texas, Feb. 20.—The Chamber of Commerce has advised by the Railroad Commission that rates on less than carload shipments of grain and hay produced in the Plains-Panhandle section, cancelled as of November 8th, 1929 were re-established, effective February 15th, 1929.

The increased rates would have made a big cut into the profits of farmers growing grain for seed purposes.

The saving in freight rates will be enormous. For instance, one Lubbock seed dealer shipped over 1,000,000 pounds of seed in less than carload shipments last year. The re-establishing of the old rate will save from $5,000 to $8,000 in freight rates to the dealer alone. Other dealers and farmers will be benefited accordingly.

Plains for the reason that they want to be sure that they are getting Plains planting seed and not seed grown elsewhere. This necessitates small, less than car load shipments of the grain.

TERRACING SCHOOL HELD IN LAMB CO. SET FOR MARCH 19

"Dad" Short, of the Federal Land Bank, and M. R. Bentley, will be in Lamb county, March 19, for the purpose of conducting an all day terracing school at the farm of Albert Parks, located south of Amherst.

These two men have been holding similar schools of instruction in several other counties of this section of the state with profitable results, according to County Agent D. A. Adam. A large attendance is expected at the Lamb county demonstration. There will be a program of entertainment as well as of instruction. Dinner will be served on the grounds, and all persons interested in terracing are urged to attend.

INTEREST IN T. P. A. GROWS NEW MEMBERS BEING ADDED

Friday evening of this week, the T. P. A., will give a program in the high school building.

On this program there will be a community singing, two numbers by Miss Jimmie White's room, and after the program games will be played. It is probable there will be a speaker from Lubbock in the interest of girl's campfire work.

All parents are urged to attend.

Meeting Last Week
The meeting held Wednesday of last week was unusually good, an interesting program of the following numbers being rendered:

Playlet, by Mrs. J. T. Tuttle's pupils; "The Rosary," a cornet solo by Conrad Lam; talk on school taxes by J. S. Hilliard.

Much interest is manifest in the contest each meeting. The room having the most parents present each meeting may receive a picture to keep for two weeks. Mrs. Tuttle's room won the picture in the primary school, and J. E. Chisholm, in the grammar school.

The P. T. A. is growing, and all parents are invited to come and join.

FARMERS MAY GET PRAIRIE DOG POISON FROM CO. AGENT

A few weeks ago the County Agent with the assistance of the U. S. Biological Survey representative, mixed a few hundred pounds of poison grain for the use of the farmers in this county for the control of prairie dogs and ground squirrels, as well as other rodent control, says Mr. Adam, and should be put out by all means to get maximum results.

This poison grain is available at the county agent's office, the exact cost of the grain being about 60 cents per pound. Not much is needed, for each grain is covered with sufficient amount of strychnine that it takes only two or three grains to produce a kill.

Miss Rosemary Lytton, daughter of a millionaire Chicago merchant, tried society life for a while but it bored her. She got her father's consent to work in his men's clothing store. She likes that better and hopes to make good.

Rose Fraser, 10, of Inverness, Scotland, saved her three younger sisters at the risk of her life when the family home was destroyed by fire.

SHORT COURSE FOR DAIRYMEN IS TO BE HELD HERE MAR. 1

It has been announced by County Agent D. A. Adam that an all day Dairy short course will be held in Littlefield under the direction of the Extension Service of A. & M. college, Friday, March 1. Specialists in dairying will be on hand to give information that will be of value to the dairymen of Lamb county.

The following subjects will be discussed by various authorities: Feeding, Housing, Breeding Bull Circles and the Value of Different Breeds in the Plains Country.

Every man in Lamb county who is interested in dairying is especially invited to attend and help make this meeting a success.

The meeting will probably be held in the theatre building.

All farmers interested in the importation of pure bred cows and bulls of the Guernsey and Jersey breeds are especially invited by the county agent so that he may take up with them the matter of importing immediately car lot shipments of high grade and pure bred cattle for farm use.

COUNTY AGENT REPORTS ON HIS MONTHLY WORK

That County Agent D. A. Adam has been putting in much time during the past month in direct assistance to farmers throughout the county in working out their various problems, is evidenced by his last report submitted to the County Commissioners.

According to this report, 182 hours were spent in the fields, 54 hours in office work, there were 42 office calls, 38 letters written, 65 visits to farm homes, 17 demonstrations held with an attendance of 190 people, and the agent's car was driven 1,260 miles.

COUNTY MEET MARCH 21-22

The Lamb county interschool contest will be held March 21-22 at Olton. All literary events will be held Thursday and field events on Friday.

Work has been started on both the boys and girls debate and declamation, spelling, extempo., speaking and essay writing, also, tennis, volley ball and some other new games. Principal F. O. Boles says about 50 boys are practicing for the field events, and that Littlefield expects to win its share of the honors.

Last week the Lamb county basketball tournament was held at Littlefield and Olton, six towns, viz., Sudan, Amherst, Fieldton, Spring Lake, Littlefield and Olton, taking part, Olton winning first place from Littlefield on a score of 9-8.

1300 WANT INFORMATION OF SOUTH PLAINS COUNTRY

More than 1,300 inquiries have been received at the office of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce as a result of the publicity being carried on by the South Plains Inc. These inquiries are coming from every state of the Union and some foreign countries.

They are all answered with definite information relative to this section. Littlefield is represented in the booklet mailed inquirers.

CO. AGENT ADAM DOES TERRACING FOR OLTON FARMER

A terracing demonstration and school was held on the C. E. Bley farm six miles west of Olton last week by County Agent D. A. Adam, and well attended by adult farmers throughout that section, also, by the agricultural class of the Spring Lake High school.

The object of this demonstration was to acquaint the farmers with the use of the farm level and in the construction of terraces for moisture and soil conservation. Other demonstrations have been held by Mr. Adam on the farms of Jim Lawson, V. H. Bewley, A. Clark and S. D. Pennington.

One would be surprised to know the amount of fall the farms have in this county, and according to experiments that have been conducted a one per cent grade is sufficient to run off many tons of land per acre, with the type of rains we get here, said Mr. Adam.

A tour will be conducted by the County Agent in the near future to the Spur experiment station where experiments have been conducted to see actual results of water fall, and soil losses where and is not terraced. Anyone interested should get his name into the county agent at once, so he can be notified when this tour is to be taken.

It is expected that 2,000 acres will be terraced this year under the direction of County Agent Adam.

H. L. SNOW DIED SUNDAY

H. L. Snow, age 63, died Sunday night. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the Baptist church, Rev. Roy Kemp officiating.

Mr. Snow is survived by his wife and four children, besides other relatives, the wife and children being at his bedside when he expired.

Burleson-Mason Co., had charge of funeral arrangements and burial was made in the local cemetery.

SING SONG AT FIELDTON

There were about 250 people, including a number from Littlefield, who attended the sing song held at Fieldton last Sunday afternoon.

There were nearly a dozen song leaders there to direct the melodies, also, two male and one female quartets from the Littlefield college, taking part in the program.

Fieldton is developing into quite a community center, occasions of this kind being patronized and enjoyed by a large number of people for many miles around.

Miss Cecile Callans, of Paris jilted a banker worth $10,000,000 and eloped with a chauffeur.

A NEW DISTRICT TO RELIEVE DOCKET OF LAMB COUNTY

Approval last week by Governor Moody of a bill creating the 110th Judicial district composed of Floyd, Briscoe, Motley and Dickens counties, will mean much relief to the 64th Judicial district in which Lamb county is located.

Kenneth Bain and A. J. Folley, both of Floydada, were appointed judge and district attorney, respectively, by the Governor.

The new district takes from the 64th district the counties of Briscoe and Floyd, thus permitting in this district three terms of three weeks each of district court.

The first term has been called for February 25th, and, according to County Attorney T. Wade Potter, there will be a heavy docket confronting Judge Charles Clements at that time.

The second term of this year has been set for August 5th, and the third term will be called about the middle of December.

The new district became advisable because of the rapidly increasing legal matters needing adjudication in this growing section of West Texas.

JUDGING CONTEST OF AGGI PUPILS TO BE HELD AT TECH.

Lubbock, Texas, Feb. 20.—Plans are being made for the fourth annual judging contest for vocational agricultural students in Texas high schools to be held some time this Spring at the Texas Technological College.

Dean A. H. Leidigh of the School of Agriculture has placed Ray C. Mowery in charge of all arrangements for the contest again this year. The date of the contest has not been set, pending the announcement of events with which the contest will not conflict.

A greater interest has been manifested in the event this year than ever before. Additional schools have indicated their desire to compete and additional work will likely be added.

In the past contests, live stock, poultry, and grain judging have been covered in the contest and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce has awarded loving cups to the winning teams. Last year teams from Floydada, Roby, Silverton, and Tulia were winners.

This year farm management, farm shop and other vocational agriculture work will likely be added to the contest.

AGED MATRON EXPIRES

Mrs. Dollie Wiseman, born September 11, 1850, died February 15, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Burns, four and one-half miles southwest of Littlefield. She was past 78 years at death, and was a native Texan, having been born in Collin county.

Funeral services were held the following day, Rev. Roy Kemp, of the Baptist church, officiating. Smith Hammons undertaking company was in charge of arrangements and interment was made in the Littlefield cemetery.

Charles Parkhill, of Glasgow, who annoyed Miss Ruth Evans by telephone for three years, was finally caught and adjudged insane.

The best way of feeding the mash ration to laying hens in the farm flock, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is to keep a dry mash in self-feeding hoppers all the time and to feed limited quantities of moist mash in V-shaped troughs every day.

Doctors Disagree

When children are irritable and peevish, grind their teeth and sleep restlessly, have digestive pains and disturbances, lack of appetite, and have itching eyes, nose and fingers, doctors will not always agree that they are suffering from worms. Many mothers, too, will not believe that their carefully brought up children can have worms. The fact remains that these symptoms will yield, in a great majority of cases, to a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the sure expellant of round and pin worms. If your child has any of these symptoms, try this harmless, old-fashioned remedy, which you can get at 35c per bottle from Stokes & Alexander Drug Company.

County Agent Tells Chix Raisers How To Control Parasites and Their Various Dreaded Diseases

At the last monthly meeting of the Home Demonstration club, which met with Mrs. Geo. Bonner, poultry, parasite and disease control demonstration was given by the county agent.

Carbolneum, as a spray and paint, for mite control was recommended, and demonstration given. This is more effective when painted instead of a spray, and gives a control for about one year, where ordinary sanitation principles are employed.

Sodium flouride was demonstrated as a louse control. In the winter and colder months of the year it is or must be dusted on, and the pinch method employed in administering it for louse control. However, the dipping method is probably more effective, but can only be used for the summer months.

For worm control of chickens, the tobacco dust method was used for flock treatment, and the tetrachlorethylene capsules used for individual treatment. For roup, proper housing, proper feeding, and worm control is absolutely necessary to get best results. Vaccination is a preventative and a fair cure when properly given by the subcutaneous injection method.

For baby chicks drinking water should be provided that contains disinfectants, such as potassium permanganate, or other similar disinfectants, and when about six weeks old should be wormed.

Proper feeding and sanitation ought never to be neglected in any form of poultry work, for this will cut down parasite and disease infestation to the minimum.

Many such demonstrations are to be held in the future by the county agent.

FRESHEN COWS IN FALL

There are several advantages in having cows freshen in the fall. Butterfat usually brings a higher price during the fall and winter months. Labor is easier to obtain then, and there is more time to care for the calves and a large supply of milk. The fall-freshening cow, if properly fed and handled, will, as a rule, produce well during the winter months, falling off as spring opens. At this time taken to prevent them from In spring, summer and fall, skins should be salted properly.

CONGRESSMAN MARVIN JONES BEFORE THE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE GIVES IMPORTANT DATA REGARDING COTTON

Congressman Marvin Jones, at his appearance before the Ways and Means committee, Washington, gave some very important information relative to the cotton industry which it may be improved. A part of the statement before that committee follows:

At 900,000,000 pounds of jute used in the United States and it is gradually increasing. Imported principally from India.

At 150,000,000 pounds of jute for cotton bagging, but a half of this covering is about 80,000,000 pounds of which is used each year for cotton.

In other words, about ten million pounds of jute is shipped into this country every year as is necessary to cover the entire cotton crop of the United States. The other 90 million pounds is used for other purposes, such as, wrapping material, body of carpets and linoleum for other purposes.

Cotton were substituted for all that is now being used for all purposes in the United States, it would occasion the use of more than a million additional bales of cotton, according to the estimates of the Department of Agriculture, would very greatly increase the average price of cotton, and thus increase the returns to the cotton growers many millions of dollars.

"Just now a decided effort is being made to find new outlets for our surplus cotton. In a great many of these attempted new uses cotton runs into competition with jute, which is manufactured largely by the cheap labor of India. But for this competition cotton would now be channelling into a great many of such additional outlets. The tariff would be of great advantage to the grower in the disposal of surplus cotton.

"The question of the tariff may be a debatable one, but for the time being, at least, it is the adopted policy of this country. Any tariff that is levied should be upon every article coming through the custom house from which a revenue may be derived—on the raw products as well as the finished articles. Any tariff bill should be a fair and uniform one covering all such commodities.

"The cotton grower must pay tariff upon the very ties with which he binds his cotton; he must pay a tariff upon his supplies and the utensils with which he produces his cotton. So long as this is the settled policy of the country, it is unfair to force him into competition with the cheap labor of India.

"Don't let the mail order houses deceive you.

WOULD PHOTOGRAPH RECORDS

The California Taxpayers' Association, in a recent article, advocates strongly the legalization of the photographic method of recording deeds and public documents, which is now being considered in that state.

This method has been tried in a number of states with uniform success. The common system of recording documents, by manual means, is of necessity slow, expensive, and, because of the human ability to err, not entirely accurate.

The photographic method on the other hand, is swift, absolutely accurate (as it gives an exact reproduction of the original), permanent.

fraud-proof and—perhaps most important—remarkably economical.

The recording of documents takes thousands of dollars yearly of public funds. It is by such improvements as this, consistent with science and progress, that much may be done to lessen the tax problem.

In proportion to population Texas has some of the best hotel facilities of any state in the union.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.—Romans 12:21.

An evil intention perverts the best actions and makes them sins.—Addison.

HE WAS FIRST

¶ We are to observe a national holiday dedicated to a man who was always "first."

It was said of him that he was "first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

Washington's Birthday! The day on which we pay tribute to one of the noblest spirits that ever breathed the air of America.

His achievements and nobility are too well known to even be mentioned. What American has not thrilled to the story of his life! Important however, is the necessity of learning from the example of Washington—let us each try in our own way to be "first" in whatever service we render or occupation we practice.

And Washington's career proves to us that to be "first" does not require questionable acts, indelicate aggressiveness, or disregard for the "other fellow."

Washington teaches us that to be "first" we must have high qualities of heart and mind; must strive to be honest and kind at all times; must apply ourselves thoroughly to whatever we wish to do well.

Washington rose to great esteem because of qualities that are worthy of emulation. He did not become "first" by pushing others to the rear. He became a leader both in war and peace through his intrinsic ability and intelligence.

As we understand it, the rumble is the seat back of the car and the grumble is the seat back of the driver.

THAT HUMAN TOUCH

¶ Big city papers have apparently long since ceased to "kid" the small town because of its naturalness and easy-going mode of existence, and we can explain it only through the fact that a vast number of the men who are now editing our big city dailies came originally from the smaller towns, and know conditions. They feel, the moment they reach the city, that lack of human touch to be found in smaller towns.

Maybe we do know all about our neighbor's finances and our children's love affairs. But if anybody gets sick the whole neighborhood is on hand to help; no one is allowed to suffer, either from pain, hunger or loneliness.

That's the human touch the big city never has and never will possess. We believe it is the absence of this that present-day editors of city newspapers notice most. That's why there isn't as much "kidding" of the smaller towns in their columns now as there used to be.

When you see heel-prints on the dining table and tobacco spilled all over the floor you can know that a man is boss of that house.

JUST A SUGGESTION

¶ Back in the days of nursery stock, liniment and lightning-rod salesmen, when the average man's possessions consisted of salt pork, a feather bed, six pounds of horseshoe plug and one change of underwear, marketing what he produced wasn't a very big problem because he didn't produce much. But it's different now, and every year sees it growing more so.

We're living in an age when intensive farming is both stylish and sensible. Today we're getting everything out of the farm, dairy, garden or fruit orchard that can possibly be taken out. The U. S. mails have opened up a market as wide as the nation is wide, and selling farm truck b ymail is not only simple but profitable. There are quite a few people around Littlefield who raise commodities they could easily market by mail if they were only willing to take a chance and spend a few dollars in printer's ink to get a business started. Thousands of rural residents in this country are doing it, and yet the field is not over-crowded.

Sit down and think it over. Or talk to the postmaster and see if he can offer a few suggestions that will enable you to market your products by mail. Anything that brings you a few extra dollars is going to help the balance of us in this community. That's why we are anxious to see more of our people pitch in and get the money we feel sure they could get by a little planning and maybe a little extra work.

The truest thing we know about a woman is that she'll make a fool of herself over a man she could easily make a fool of.

GOING UP

¶ Last year was the largest one in the history of the auto industry, according to figures not complete for the 12 months ending December 31. Factory sales of autos in the U. S. mounted to the highest total on record—4,357,384 cars.

This represents an increase over 1927 of 29.9 percent in passenger cars and 16.7 percent in trucks.

Of the machines sold last year, 3,826,618 were passenger cars. These are impressive figures.

They also serve to show that the Littlefield motorist who has been contending that the country was pretty well sold up on autos is a long way from being correct. In spite of the so-called "saturation point," increased traffic congestion and a mounting death rate from auto accidents we made and bought more machines in 1928 than any year in our history. And right on top of that comes the announcement of auto makers that they are going to turn out a still greater number in 1929.

¶ No city ordinance that cannot be legally enforced has a right to exist, and the striking at one man over the shoulders of another to enforce any given ordinance is illy advised. Citizens conducting reasonably legitimate businesses do not appreciate persecution because of the failure of lawmakers to draw equitable laws. It is our opinion that Ordinance No. 15 should be repealed and another one drawn that will be attorney proof in the courts.

¶ Gray matter and alcohol have no affinity. We have seen it tried several times in Littlefield, but they fail to mix any more than dose oil and water. Alcohol generally becomes matter, unless the brain is strong enough to get in the ascendancy before it's too late.

¶ Where comeliness abounds, the disfigurement is the more noticeable, and a dirty street pavement is more obnoxious than a messy dirt street. It appears now that a street sweeper is needed about as much as a new fire engine.

¶ It's an old saying, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." This should apply to a hotel in Littlefield. If one plan fails, try another. The need of better hotel facilities here is unquestioned.

as now extending the invitation. Trades Day was held in Littlefield. ¶ It has been many months since. Why not renew these events? They were always successful occasions and well worthy sponsoring by the Chamber of Commerce.

¶ Littlefield has an excellent opportunity to secure a cheese factory here. But the opportunity will not remain long unless immediate steps are taken to grasp it. There are other places.

¶ Strange things will happen. The County Judge of Parmer county voluntarily reduced his own salary $25 per month.

LITTLE LEADERS

Every man in Littlefield knows some good use to which he could put the other fellow's money if he had it.

¶ Never laugh at a snag-toothed, freckle-faced boy. Some Littlefield mother may think that he is beautiful.

¶ Ever notice that when a former Littlefield resident comes back to town the people are never as glad to see him as he thinks they ought to be?

¶ Any Littlefield married man who has tried to dictate to one wife can tell you that Solomon didn't have any more wisdom than a bedbug.

¶ What's the use in a Littlefield father paying out money for piano lessons for his daughter when he can buy a radio and hear music that's just about as bad.

¶ The greatest ambition of some Littlefield girls appears to be to wear as little as possible and do exactly the same.

¶ No matter how poor a Littlefield boy may be, there always comes a time in his life when he wants to share his poverty with some woman.

¶ Humane education is compulsory in Kentucky schools and many animal pets are used to demonstrate the effects of kindness upon dumb brutes. Which shows that Mary and her little lamb were merely ahead of their day and generation.

¶ Robert Thomas, 15, of Kenosha, Wis., is the champion junior bicyclist rider of the United States, holding two national records.

DOCTOR FRANK CRANE SAYS

THE PASSING OF THE HORSE

It seems as if the day of the horse is about over, at least in the city. For centuries the horse has been the symbol of speed and power. He was transportation. The oldest sculptures represented rampant battle steeds and heroes have generally been sculptured riding on horses.

But this age, of motor cars is finding him too slow. We may love horses and delight in them, but apparently they are bound to go.

Agitation is now taking place in London to ban the slow-moving horse drawn vehicle from the crowded streets.

One daily paper says: Officialdom stands by idle while every day lumbering horse-drawn vans and carts cause long traffic blocks in congested thoroughfares. The loss and inconvenience caused by the traffic delays are incalculable, and yet nothing is done to ameliorate the nuisance.

In some congested regions of Paris, such as the Place de l'Opera and the Place Vendome, horse traffic is banished within certain prescribed hours.

The indictment against the horse seems to be that he is slow and that he is dirty.

There is strong support for the suggestion that London should follow the example of Paris.

Others would banish the horse if only for the sake of the animals. One cannot watch without pity horses struggling on the slippery streets.

They are often stationary in the traffic blocks with their noses just above the exhausts of motors giving out foul fumes which have been known to kill human beings.

Altogether it looks as if this age of rapid transit is going to do away with the horse, which has been called "the greatest friend of man."

Henry Elsen of Chicago asked the police to arrest his wife because she had driven him to attempt suicide twice.

Debs Hatch, 86, of Fond Du Lac, Wis., tends a garden day and embroiders by night. He has done more than 400 pieces in colors.

A Great Discovery
When Pasteur discovered, in 1852, that the infection of wounds was caused by malignant bacteria, he performed a service of inestimable value to mankind. Since then medical science has been producing better and better antiseptics, to kill these germs that may enter the smallest cut and give us diseases such as typhoid, tuberculosis and lockjaw. Now, all you have to do to be sure that these dreadful germs will not infect a wound, is to wash that wound, however small, thoroughly with Liquid Borozone, the modern antiseptic. You can get Liquid Borozone, in a size to fit your needs and purse, from Stokes & Alexander Drug Company.

INDISCRIMINATE ADVICE TO BOYS OR GIRLS TO NOT SAVE MONEY IS QUITE HARMFUL ONE

By S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift
The proper practices of thrift are to quite an extent matters of individual judgment and circumstances. There are times when it is more thrifty to spend than to save. There are times when it is more thrifty to save than to spend. There are times when the question of thrift has no direct financial bearing but is entirely a question involving economy of time, preservation of health or the conservation of some material possession.
Indiscriminate advice to boys and girls never to save money but to spend it as fast as they get it for their own self improvement will undoubtedly lead to unsound practices on the part of many just as would be the case should one counsel the young to hoard every penny that comes into their possession.
Neither the spendthrift nor the miser is a desirable citizen, and habits which might bring the child into either of these classes would indeed be unfortunate.
Sound common sense should prevail in these matters. Children should always be encouraged to save money but they should not be encouraged to become miserly. They should be encouraged to think and plan for themselves and develop their own judgment, subject, of course, to paternal or mature guidance on the question of proper spending for their own self-improvement.
The question of individual thrift is a question of individual judgment, and one of the reasons why thrift should be taught in all schools is that it develops the judgment of the child in practical matters.
If definite choice were to be made between advise to children to spend freely or save carefully, the weight of opinion would doubtless be on the side of saving because frugality and economy are indispensable virtues in the formation of any character and the development of any successful plan of life.

LOCAL HARNESS MAKER, J. A. LILLY WARNS AGAINST USING ANY ILL FITTING HARNESS

"Spring work time will soon be here," said J. A. Lilly, local harness-maker, and lots of work horses are going to suffer inconvenience because their masters either don't know how or else are indifferent to their welfare.

"There are lots of people who work teams that ought to be driving tractors instead. Some of these don't realize that a horse has feelings, while others are too inexperienced to know how to care for the animals during the work season.

"Take for instance, the matter of harness, there are a half dozen places in a set of harness that can make a horse uncomfortable throughout the day while it is pulling. No wonder some of them get fidgety and nervous and hard to manage. If their drivers were being constantly galled and chafed as their animals are they would object more strenuously.

"No part of a harness contributes more to the horse's comfort and working efficiency than a well-fitting collar particularly when the shoulders are 'soft' after an idle winter, yet there are lots of teamsters who do not know how to properly fit a collar to an animal's shoulders. There have been lots of farm sales around here during this winter, and lots of horses changed hands. In a few weeks these animals are going to work for new masters and will have to be equipped with other harness than they have day while it is pulling. No wonder some of them get fidgety and nervous well done.

"For a good fit, there should be barely room for the flat hand to pass between the collar and the windpipe, and, similarly, for the finger tops at the side of the neck just above the shoulder points. A short collar chokes the horse when pulling, while a collar which is too long bruises the shoulder points and chafes the neck at the withers. The narrow collar will pinch the neck and a wide collar brings pressure and irritation on the sides of the shoulders. Sweat pads are merely makeshifts to get by with or overcome a temporary bad condition. They may make a collar fit, but if not properly cared for will make sore shoulders. It is best for each horse to have and always wear its own collar, and if a new collar is fitted in the spring, make allowance for surplus flesh and excess hair."

Pep Paragraphs

The children of the primary and intermediate grades enjoyed parties on the afternoon of Feb., 14th. Both the rooms had previously been appropriately decorated by the children for the February Red Letter Days.

In the primary room, after appropriate games were played, and prizes bestowed on the winners, refreshments of lemonade, cakes, pies and other good things were served. The Valentine box was opened and each child was made happy by the valentines which, as the teacher explained, were given by the friends to one another on the day kept in memory of the good Saint who always did the "little things."

In the intermediate room after valentine games were played and the winners awarded prizes, Estelle Gerik, Edna Greener, Mary Ellen Hughes and Gladys and Lorene Jungman, assisted by Mrs. Lupton, serving hot chocolate, sandwiches, pickles, cake, pie and fruit to everyone present. Then seven boys acting as mail carriers distributed the heavy mail which the valentine box contained. This happy occasion will be remembered by the children who took part in it as one of the Red Letter days in their school life.

R. H. Moses and family recently moved to the farm vacated by L. O. Bray. Two children of the family, Coy and R. H. jr., entered school at Pep Monday.

Henry Yokel, of Morton, visited at J. A. Silhan's, Sunday.

Mrs. W. E. Angley and Prof. Louis Owen, of Lehman, visited Miss Elizabeth Lupton at Pep Friday evening. Miss Lupton spent the week end at Lehman visiting Mrs. Angley.

Two small boys, Walter Gerik and Gerald Jungman, have been on the sick list the past few days.

Theo. Hertel visited the family of A. G. and W. T. Jungman Sunday. Miss Velma Dempsey entertained a number of her young friends at home Sunday night.

W. T. Jungman and T. J. were in Littlefield, Monday.

Just Like An Ostrich
A medical authority says that a person who tries to cover up skin blemishes and pimples with toilet creams and powders is just as foolish as an ostrich that buries its head in the sand to avoid danger. Skin eruptions are nature's warning that constipation is throwing poisons into your blood stream and weakening your whole constitution. Remove the constipated condition and you will strengthen your system against disease and clear up your disfigured skin. The best way to do this is with a course of Herbine, the vegetable medicine that acts naturally and easily, which you can get at Stokes & Alexander Drug Company.

CEYLON AUTOISTS URGE LIGHTS FOR ELEPHANTS

"Head and tail lights on every elephant," is the most recent slogan coined by motorists and automobile interests of Kandy, principal city of the island of Ceylon, India, reports the Texas Public Service Information Bureau.

Inadequate lighting of the many roads leading from the outlands to the picturesque capital has resulted in numerous collisions between automobiles and elephant trains. From time immemorial, elephants have been used in India for transporting merchandise.

A petition to the Kandy council demands that every elephant carry head and tail lights.

ROTARY AND P-T A. TO PLANT TREES ON SCHOOL PLOTS

The Littlefield Rotary club met last Thursday with 23 members present, R. E. McCaskill presiding.

Following the usual preliminaries, Sup't. B. M. Harrison gave a short talk on boys work and problems of the high school. After other talks by various club members, the president appointed a committee to meet with the city officials at the next regular meeting to take up the matter of boys work.

Superintendent Harrison also reported that the P. T. A. had a proposition of planting trees around the primary school building, but as they were using all their funds in addition to the school library, asked him to present the matter to the Rotary club which club authorized the secretary to place an order for 30 shade trees to be planted around the primary building.

The annual meeting of the club will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock, to which all members and their wives are urged attendance.

Mrs. Gainous Proves The Value of Poultry as Side Line on South Plains

If anyone in or around Littlefield thinks chicken raising isn't a profitable business, if they will kindly refer their doubts to Mrs. Farry Gainous, residing six miles east of Littlefield, they will quickly vanish.

Last summer Mrs. Gainous hatched out 500 baby chicks of the White Leghorn variety, raising 398 of them. Of this number 175 turned out to be roosters which, in due time she sold for $64.80. From the 178 pullets remaining she sold $411.23 worth of eggs they produced from October until February. The feed bill for these energetic young biddies cost $130; leaving a profit of $281.23, and she still has the pullets left, now grown into hens to give a higher production during the coming year, and valued at $2.50 each, since they are of the English Tom Barnes strain.

Aside from the few "table leavin's" Mrs. Gainous feeds her flock principally on Purina feeds which, plus her good management, netted her a handsome profit as a side line while keeping house for the family and being wife to friend hubby.

Mrs. Gainous has positive evidence that chickens properly fed and managed are very profitable in this country.
