THIS CURIOUS WORLD

The ROCKY MOUNTAIN GOAT

...THE ONLY BIG-GAME ANIMAL OF AMERICA THAT HAS BEEN ABLE TO HOLD ITS OWN AGAINST THE RELENTLESS HUNTING OF THE WHITE MAN! CURIOUSLY, THE ANIMAL IS NOT A GOAT AT ALL, BUT AN ANTELOPE! IT IS FOUND MOST ABUNDANTLY IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

by
WILLIAM KERGUSO

NEXT TO MAN, THE MOST DANGEROUS ENEMY OF THE MOUNTAIN GOAT IS THE GOLDEN EAGLE, WHICH CARRIES OFF THE YOUNG KIDS! COUGARS AND BEARS TAKE A LIGHT TOLL OF GROWN GOATS, BUT THEY PREFER TO HUNT AT LOWER LEVELS THAN THE GOATS INHABIT.

THE ANIMALS LIVE COMFORTABLY ON THE CRAGS IN ZERO WEATHER, BECAUSE OF THE HEAVY COAT OF WOOL BENEATH THEIR SHAGGY OUTER HAIR! THIS WOOL, FINER THAN THE BEST CASHMERE, WAS WOVEN INTO BLANKETS BY OLD-TIME INDIANS.

BEHIND

EACH HORN, THE MOUNTAIN GOAT HAS A BLACK, RUBBERY PAD, WHICH EMITS A MUSKY ODOR THAT IS CARRIED ON THE WIND, FROM ANIMAL TO ANIMAL, AS A MEANS OF COMMUNICATION.

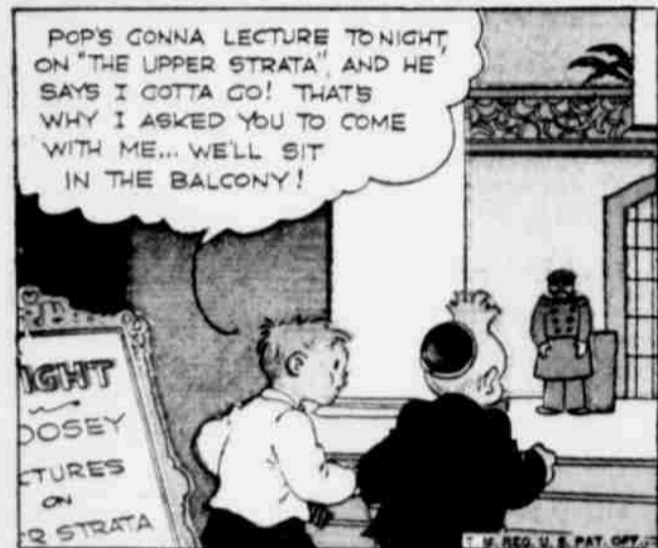

ALTHOUGH THE MOST AWKWARD-LOOKING OF ALL AMERICAN ANIMALS, THE GOAT LIVES AMONG THE DANGEROUS CRAGS OF THE ROCKIES, FAR ABOVE THE TIMBERLINE! IT CLIMBS TO POINTS WHERE NO OTHER ANIMAL DARES FOLLOW.

DROUTH MAY CHANGE TERMS OF CONTRACTS

Reduction Acreage is Discussed at Farmers' Meeting

At a meeting held at the City Hall Saturday and attended by about 150 farmers, the basic points of contract acreage and contract cotton were explained and discussed.

W. A. Cunningham, member of the Littlefield local cotton committee, was in charge and led the discussion.

Concerning reduction acreage, Mr. Cunningham pointed out that the revised contract permitted the planting of anything except basic commodities — cotton, corn, wheat, and grain sorghum — and can be used for any home purposes, even to feeding out of cattle for the market.

Though only semi-official, it has been reported that the terms of the contract as to grain sorghums will likely be revoked because of severe and widespread drouth conditions. The report suggests that in all probability, this area will be called on to furnish the feed for some of the drouth stricken areas. Therefore, this area will need to plant every acre available that is in condition to plant.

If this report becomes official, it will mean that many acres of late feed can be planted in this section in case of sufficient rain, acres which heretofore had been restricted to certain feeds only for home consumption.

In speaking of the contract cotton, it was explained by Mr. Cunningham and others that the number of tax exempt bales would be determined by the local committee on the basis of past production as stated in the individual contracts. For each of these bales, an exemption tag will be issued by the committee.

For each bale produced above the legal limit, a tax of 50 per cent will be paid at the time of the ginning unless the producer signs an affidavit that the cotton is to be taken home for storage. In that case, the ginner will issue a lien tag and the government will hold a lien on that bale until sold and then will collect the 50 per cent.

Thus there are three possibilities at the time of ginning to put an exemption tag on it and sell at regular market price; to sell and pay 50 per cent tax; or to get a lien tag and take the bale home for personal storage.

Saturday was the last day on which exemption tags for old cotton could be obtained.

At the meeting farm record books were issued to all present who had not previously obtained one. Books can be secured from the county agent.

Many Littlefield Citizens Enjoy Independence Day Away From Home

With the largest crowd in her history, Sudan celebrated the 158th birthday of American independence July 3 and 4 with barbecue, ball games, candidate speaking and rodeo, under the auspices of the Fire Department and the Business Men's club.

Approximately 10,000 people were present for the first day's program and practically as many for the second, those in charge of the activities estimated. Towns as far away as 100 miles were represented and practically all within a smaller radius.

Circle Back Defeats Portales

A ball game between Circle Back and Portales started the first morning's program and ended in a win for Circle Back with a score of 2-1. Free barbecue was served to all the visitors. Between times, candidates for all the local and county offices and some of the state and national places spoke to their constituents.

The crowd reached its peak Tuesday afternoon with the awarding of $500 in prizes.

The first day's activities ended with a dance at Sudan's outdoor hall. The music was furnished by the Littlefield Hi-Hatters.

In the late afternoon, the crowd was entertained by a rodeo, the most typical of all West Texas sports, featuring bucking horses, bucking steers, calf roping and relay races.

Second Day Program

The second day began as the first with a ball game between Circle Back and Bula and again Circle Back won by 6-1. Candidate speaking at the skating rink followed at 10 o'clock. Barbecue was again served at noon.

In the afternoon, Circle Back assisted by Amherst, defeated the Lubbock negro ball team 8-3. The second day's rodeo followed closely the program of the first. Cash prizes were awarded the winners of the various rodeo events.

The two-day celebration ended Wednesday night with a dance at the skating rink, the Hi-Hatters again furnishing the music.

Littlefield Well Represented

Many of Littlefield's citizens were present both days, especially the second. Some of the Littlefield people went to Palo Duro to witness the formal opening of the State Park. Since most of the business houses in Littlefield were closed, the majority of the people attended some kind of Fourth celebration.

Though the crowd at Sudan was great, it was noticeably quiet and orderly. Traffic was congested, but no serious mishaps occurred. Cold drink establishments and cafes did a flourishing business.

Heat Registers
105 Degrees Here
Wednesday at 3:15

According to the official thermometer at the West Texas Gas Company's office, Littlefield experienced the high temperature of 105 degrees at 3:15 Wednesday afternoon, which is the hottest weather for this section since June 21 and 22, when the thermometer registered 107, the highest for this summer.

Sunday the temperature was 98 degrees at 3 o'clock p. m.; Monday 97 at 12:30 p. m.; and Tuesday 100.

BONDS WILL BE NECESSARY TO GET PWA LOAN

City Tax Rate Not To Be Raised, However, Commission Says

No further information concerning the PWA appropriation of $48,000 for Littlefield's new water system has been received this week, W. G. Street, city secretary, stated.

Since Federal appropriations of this nature are made on the basis of 30 per cent grant and 70 per cent loan, Mr. Street says that it will be necessary that the City of Littlefield hold an election and vote bonds for the 70 per cent.

These bonds are based on a long time period, falling due in about 30 years. But since Littlefield already has a full legal rate of taxation, no additional tax will be placed on the property owners, the city commission states.

The bonds are to be met out of the revenue from the sale of water. Plans for an increased water consumption due to a more plentiful supply will meet the bonds as they mature with no increase in water rate and possibly at a reduced rate, Mr. Street suggests.

No definite plans have been made for the calling of such an election as yet, but members of the commission suggest that action will be taken within the next week or two. The outcome of the election will determine definitely whether or not Littlefield gets the new water plant.

GROCERY STORE ROBBED

The Rucker grocery store at the north end of the city was broken into Sunday night and merchandise worth approximately $10 was taken by unknown marauders, Sheriff Len Irvin stated. No arrests have been made in the case, he states.

LITTLEFIELD HIGH SCHOOL BAND TO RENDER CONCERT FRIDAY EVENING

The Littlefield High School Band, under the direction of A. B. Taylor, will render a concert on the bandstand at the Speckled H'Inn on Highway No. 7 just east of Phelps Avenue Friday evening at eight o'clock.

According to Mr. Taylor, many

We Do Our Part

ONE YEAR OF PWA

The nation's greatest effort to create employment through a giant program of public works is now just one year old.

A report on what has been accomplished has just been written by Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, as public works administrator. It is an admirable report in its candor.

Ickes says frankly that the PWA "has won in many sectors, and lost in others. It has made errors, corrected its mistakes, and doubtless will make more errors, to be corrected in their turn. . . . But it is a wheel-horse in the recovery team. . . . and is pulling its weight."

Much criticism has come to the PWA, centered on two points: First, that it was slow in getting under way, and that increased employment was not quickly felt; second, that many cities which needed PWA money most were denied it. So it is good that Ickes now sums up what has been accomplished.

The whole $3,300,000 was allotted by Jan. 1, 1934. More than a billion dollars of the fund has actually been paid in cash. Some 16,000 construction projects have been provided for, most of them now under way.

How many men have been given work? Ickes is careful not to say, because he feels that any estimate on this basis would be misleading. You might be misled. You might say, for instance, that two million men had received employment. But if they all worked one week and then were laid off, that wouldn't be much work after all.

So Ickes makes his estimate of work provided. There were "1,418,000,000 hours of honest work at honest wages on direct construction site employment only to men who otherwise would have passed those hours in the ranks of the idle."

That means 177,250,000 eight-hour days, or 29,541,666 weeks' work. Or it means 20 weeks' work for nearly a million and a half men. Almost as much again is assured in coming months from allotments already made, and it is further estimated that two hours of indirect work is provided in producing the materials for these jobs for every hour actually put in them directly.

So the PWA administration has provided a vast amount of work, and in the heavy and construction industries chiefly, where it was most needed. In the main, the huge fund seems to have been spent for projects of value to the public, and without administrative scandal.

Secretary Ickes is to be congratulated on making a frank straightforward report on his handling of the huge sum of public money to which he refers as "a public trust."

President Cleveland became famous for his principle that "public office is a public trust." Harold Ickes will gain immortal fame if he can establish a like regard for public money.—Memphis (Texas) Democrat.

Ben Davis Wants News of Home Town

An indication of the popularity of the Leader as a news medium is conveyed in the fact that the management is swamped daily with letters from residents of this section, who are either on a vacation or have moved to some section of the country, asking that their "Leader" be sent on to them.

The following letter was received Saturday from Ben Davis, formerly local wholesale for the Conoco gas and oils, but now holding that position at Rotan, Texas.

"I have not received a copy of your paper yet. You must have forgotten to send it to me at Rotan. Please see that it is sent me each week, as I am anxious to find what is going on in Littlefield."

Huge Minstrel Given in Canyon

CANYON, Texas, July 3. — A huge minstrel given by real dummies who needed no aid of cork or grease paint was given in Canyon June 29.

The performers are all members of the CCC Camp located at Palo Duro Canyon. Although unassociated with local interests, they gave their entertainment to help the public library at Canyon and the library club of the West Texas State Teachers College.

Arrangements for the negro minstrel were made by Walter D. Hardin, educational director of the Camp, and Miss Tennessee Allison, librarian of the local college.

A large crowd was present.

Organization of Large Land Owners Seek Further Development

Land owners of this part of the plains and their representatives organized an organization at a meeting in Lubbock recently. The purpose of this section of West Texas is to develop a concerted effort to obtain an equalization and fair ap-approximately 1,700,000 acres of land represented by those present at the meeting. Hurrily the meeting was not attended by those invited.
 The Land Owners Protective Association was the name chosen for the organization. Judge R. C. Hopping, of Littlefield, pointed out that many of those present represented properties that had been in the hands of the same family for half a century or more and that the younger generation were following in the footsteps of their elders in that work. "These men are not speculators, but represent properties that have been in the same family for 30 to 50 years or more," he added.

Directors were named as follows: J. D. Hamlin, Farwell, representing the Capitol Frehold Land and Investment Co., Francis E. Miller, Miller Brothers, Sudan; Fred B. Warren, Three Oaks, Mich. representing E. K. Warren and son; W. H. Badger, Littlefield, representing Yellow House Land Company; R. C. Hopping, Lubbock, representing W. L. and I. L. Emergency Crop Loans Available In Near Future

Charley W. Sherill, regional manager of the southwestern emergency crop and feed loan office, announced today that loans would be available immediately to farmers and ranchers in 24 Texas counties from the new $100,000,000 drought relief fund.

The new loans applications for which will be received at once, will be for the purpose of feeding farm and range livestock and for planting forage crops in primary drought areas. Texas counties in that classification are Dallam, Deaf Smith, Dimmit, Ector, Edwards, Frio, Hartley, Loving, Maverick, Medina, Midland Moore, Oldham, Potter, Randall, Real Reeves Sherman, Uvalde, Val Verde, Ward, Winkler and Zavala.

"Funds for the production of forage crops are available at a rate not in excess of $1 per acre," Sherill said. "To purchase feed for livestock, the maximum allowance per head per month is limited to $4 for horses and mules, $3 for cattle, 75 cents for sheep and goats, $1 for hogs and five cents per head for poultry. The maximum for range livestock is $2, $1.50 and 50 cents per head, respectively."

The loans will be advanced in monthly installments. Applications must be submitted to the emergency crop and feed loan committee for the county in which the applicants livestock is located and in which forage crops will be planted.

Woman Has Finger Bitten by Pig

Mrs. J. C. Clancy of four miles west of Littlefield was unfortunate enough to have the end of the first finger on her right hand bitten off by a pig Saturday morning.

She was treated at the office of Dr. J. R. Coen here, and the finger is getting along nicely. Fortunately no infection resulted.

"THIS LITTLE PIG DIDN'T GO TO MARKET" It Just Lost It's Hide Like Lots Of Us

If you can imagine a cold, cold winter day, in fact it was so cold that the feet started freezing off the cattle. You can believe that or not. Well anyway to get on with the story about the pig, I did not get the pig's name but for convenience we'll call him Oscar. It seems that Oscar and all his brothers and sisters started pilling up in one corner of the pen to keep warm. Poor little Oscar was on the top. The wind howled and it got colder and Oscar froze the skin on his body, that is all except one strip on his stomach side about a foot and a half wide. Now enters the villain. Oscar had gone into the barn to get a bite to eat. Charlie the bull resented the intrusion. Tossing his horns in the way so common to bulls he ripped Oscar's frozen skin and off it came, layer of fat and all. Well so the story goes Oscar ran for protection and kept himself hidden, finding what he could to eat and sleeping in the hay stack. Spring came, summer passed and when winter arrived Oscar took care of himself for he had learned a lesson from the winter previous and he intended not to let a recurrence of the winter before happen. All went well and soon new skin started to appear growing from the section that had been frozen. By next fall Oscar was again a normal pig only minus the tough bristly hair on his hide. When Oscar lost his first suit of clothing it was weighed and found to tip about eighty pounds. This story is written to warn all little pigs to profit by Oscar's most terrifying experience and to watch out when winter comes so they will not have the same mortifying lesson. They tell me it gets quite cold out on the plains. Moral: Buy all your good warm winter clothes from Littlefield merchants.

Don't You Know Maddox Does The Best Dry Cleaning?

Why Not Give Them a Trial

It's pretty hard to believe that you people do not appreciate good careful, exacting work when you send your clothes to be cleaned. One of the boys I know bought a pair of light summer trousers and allowed for shrinkage, but to his dismay when it had gotten back from the Maddox Cleaners it was exactly the same size as when it was sent. Just goes to prove that the service is the best obtainable. Numerous rumors have reached my ears that lots of people are finding this fine service is just what they have been looking for quite some time. When you ring central say 201 and after you have had that good dry cleaning you'll be able to "take it" and want to come back for more. The folks down at Maddox's appreciate your business and want to hold it. When a merchant has that in mind you can depend on the best in that particular line. Send it to Maddox.

"COMBING THE YARN"

"By the old TRUG"

It has been remarked by some folks that Littlefield is not much of a market, but gentle folk let's put you right at once. The cotton buyers here took the largest single order ever bought in Lamb County during the last cotton buying season. The rumor is stirring that Littlefield is to have a broom corn warehouse, it already has plenty of cream and poultry buyers. These facts alone prove that the rumor about no markets is all damp. The facts have shown that farmers in all cases have gotten better prices in the Littlefield market. TRADE IN YOUR HOME COUNTY, LITTLEFIELD IS THE MARKET. Some people are believing in this market. The approval of the funds for the new City Water works was manna dropped down from somewhere. However, some comments have been made about the fact that the city did not need this addition to its present system, and that it would throw the city into unnecessary debt. This is an erroneous impression as the city water plant is paying and the addition will give work to a number of men temporarily. Please note also that the water rate in Littlefield is much less than in Lubbock.

LITTLEFIELD GIRLS TRIM AMHERST 18-17 TUESDAY

In their first out of town game of the season, the Littlefield girls softball team defeated the Amherst girls Tuesday evening to the tune of 18 to 17.

The Amherst diamond was much smaller than the one the Littlefield girls had been practicing on and they were unable to draw their swing. And consequently they made home runs until they were no novelty at all.

The systematic practice of the home team showed up when they met a visiting team. They handled the ball like a veteran club. Almost every player accounted for at least one run.

The line-up was: Mrs. D. D. Lippard, catcher; Eula Moore, pitcher; Fanny Bell Graham, first base; Georgia May Jones, second base; Onita Lowe, third base.

Mrs. Nanny right short; Edith Ratliff, left short; Ruth Wells right field; Mrs. Ross Renfro, center field; Mrs. Charles Heardston, left field.

The Amherst team promised a return game soon, but mentioned no definite date.

Abernathy Trims Locals 16 to 7 In Game Monday

A team of Littlefield softballers, composed of players picked from various teams of the league, went to Abernathy Monday afternoon to be defeated 16-7.

In the first inning, Abernathy got only one hit, yet they made six runs. Errors from the Littlefield team accounted for the others. A game in errors would aptly characterize the playing, though a few men did come through with a creditable performance, such as Thornton, Heard, Davenport, Thomas, and others.

Aldridge, playing right short, accounted for three of the seven runs. Tremain, Lowe, Heard, and Pass each got a single run.

Abernathy will return the game Monday following Davenport states.

The fact that Abernathy played on a smaller diamond and with an out-seam ball was probably responsible for a great many of the errors made by the Littlefield team.

Anton Softballers Lose to Locals in Game Monday 19-4

Monday evening the Anton softball team invaded the home grounds for a seven inning game with a picked club captained by C. O. Stone and when the fourth inning was over things were settled so far that the winners of the contest was decided.

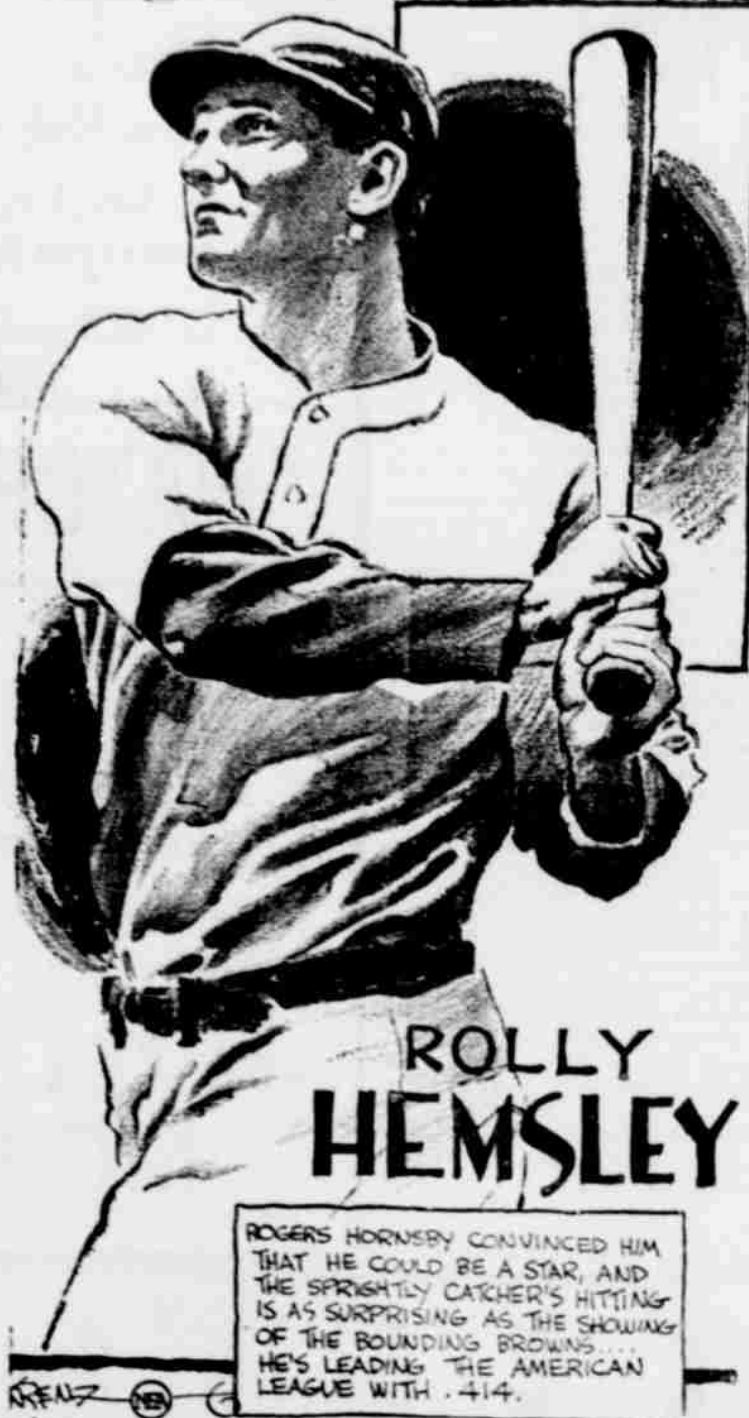

The game started off in high class fashion when neither club found their range to put over any counters. But in the fourth frame all doubt was erased as to the better team and a total of 8 tallies were garnered for the home club. While the visitors had just one inning of scoring that being the same fourth when they made four and all for the day for the Hockley County boys.

Art Mueller, tossed the first four innings with C. O. Stone receiving. The remaining innings were in charge of the Firemen battery of Scott and Cox. They held the visitors in check while the Littlefield troupe pounded out many sound base knocks to lift the score total to nineteen.

FIREMEN OVERTAKE BUSINESS MEN IN CLOSE GAME — 5 TO 3 — FRIDAY EVENING

Due to some classy fielding by both clubs and the pitching being on about the same basis the game between the Firemen and the business men last Friday evening was one that you read about. One tally was propelled across by the Businessmen in the first inning when two singles by J. R. Eagan and Payne Woods respectively coupled with three put outs accounted for the score.

Captain Stone had Jim Brittain in the box for the losers to oppose Scott who is the one man pitching staff for the firemen thus far. Things were favoring the business men up until the fatal 6th when a misplayed long enough to settle the contest into victory for the business men. Injury of Payne Woods was a setback for the business men at the critical stage of when both teams were clicking and the change in lineup ed up the efficiency of the firemen enough to give the firemen a chance. The firemen went sixth inning down for the count but put on enough over come this lead with a spurt.

Local Ball Club Goes To Amherst For Game Sunday

The Littlefield ball club Sunday will meet the powerful Amherst lineup at Amherst.

Although the local team has been performing in a creditable manner in the last few games, and though they will have the same players on hand Sunday, they are running into some real competition. The Amherst bunch are usually hard to beat.

The members of the club invite all the Littlefield fans to go to Amherst and see the match. With the team clicking as it has in the last two games, the local boys will at least have a fair chance for victory.

Juniors Organize Soft Ball

Tuesday afternoon thirty boys from the age of eight to fourteen organized a junior league consisting of three teams.

Each team selected its captain and team or club name. The teams named "Pirates"; the one named "Littlefield Cubs," while the "Littlefield Aces" team chose the name.

The first game of the league was played at 5:30 Monday at the Littlefield Drive and street corner. The Cubs will be lead off teams for the winner of this game the 4 Aces later in the week.

HELP THE FARMERS AND RANCHERS TO PROTECT THEIR PROPERTY FROM

All residents of Lamb County and visitors should take special care to protect farms and ranches from the ravages of fire.

The extreme dry weather has developed fire hazards that ordinarily do not exist to as great a degree as under present conditions. Care should be taken to extinguish all cigarettes and cigars when they are discarded; burning matches should not be carelessly tossed away, and all camp fires should be completely extinguished.

Special precaution is being taken by ranchers and farmers to protect their property from fire hazards.

One example of this is the action taken by George L. White, owner of the Yellow House Ranch, who has withdrawn all swimming and picnic privileges. Under ordinary conditions Mr. White extends permission to picnic and swimming parties to use his property.

Farmers and ranchers will be very grateful to all who will co-operate in protecting their property from fire.

Oilers Take Game From Legion Boys

The Oilers, after giving battle with the Legion ball tossers to a draw for the first seven innings made good their half of the extra inning necessary to decide the days winner. The count stood at five all at the end of the seventh stanza. Then in the 8th things went wrong for the Legion and the Oilers reaped the benefit and added to their cause a total of four runs, sufficient to exceed any run produce that the Legion could produce.

The runs and hits were well scattered throughout the entire game which had all the earmarks of a pitchers' duel backed by some snappy fielding on the part of both clubs. Baize and Luke formed the battery for the winners while Art Mueller and Chamber did their stuff for the veterans.

Deposits Insured Up To $5,000 by First National Bank

Deposits in the First National Bank Littlefield, up to and including $5,000, are now fully covered by Federal Insurance. In other words, a depositor of an amount up to and including $5,000, cannot possibly lose his or her funds, because, in addition to the general resources of the bank, the deposit is protected by the United States government through the Federal Insurance Corporation.

This additional protection is just another step in the service of safety which the First National strives to give all its depositors.

Previously deposits in the First National Bank up to and including $2,500 have been covered by insurance.

The First National Bank of Littlefield offers many advantages to depositors. In addition to the special protection offered through the Federal insurance, the bank pays three per cent on time deposits which is 33 1-3 per cent more than paid by the Post Office. A bank, in order to accomplish all that it desires for the city and territory which it serves, must have plenty of available cash for the making of loans for the carrying out of a great variety of projects.

And when your money is in your home town bank, it is yours to command when you need it. It is much more convenient to do business at home than from a distance.

The First National Bank is a 100 per cent sound institution, and is doing everything possible in the interest of Littlefield and section.

If you have not already opened an account with the First National Bank, the management invites you to do so immediately and to avail yourself of the services offered you by a progressive bank. (Adv.)

Local Club Wins From Fieldton 11-6

Littlefield's ball club Sunday added another victory to their credit when they defeated Fieldton here with a 11-6 score.

Though Fieldton had previously swamped the locals, they were no match for Littlefield's new lineup. With the same bunch that played against Olton clicking again Sunday, the Littlefield club had an easy time of it.

After the sixth inning, several substitutes were put on the lineup.

INSTRUCTION IN SWIMMING TO BE GIVEN

Dr. Ira E. Woods, chairman of local Red Cross Chapter, announces that the Littlefield Chapter is to sponsor a "Learn to Swim Campaign." Through an agreement between the local Chapter and the Camdiffe and Rainbow pool authorities, admission to the pool has been lowered for this purpose to 5c per person.

Classes will begin at the Rainbow pool Monday morning at 9:00 a. m. July 9 and continue one hour per day for eight days. There will be three types of instruction, provided the demand is sufficient. A class will be organized to teach beginners to swim. No restrictions will be placed on this class. Any person over ten years of age who cannot swim will be eligible for instruction. Another class will be organized to instruct in standard swimming strokes. A person to be eligible for this class must be able to swim across the pool and back without stopping. Another class will be organized to instruct in "Life Saving Technique". Persons must be strong swimmers to take this course. It deals with the Red Cross methods of rescuing drowning persons and administering artificial respiration. A. B. Sanders, who has just returned from the regional Red Cross Institute will be in full charge of this instruction.

The age limit is ten years. Any person ten years old or over is eligible but those under that age must not report. These ages will be checked carefully. Water safety practice will not permit persons in large groups under the age of ten.

No charge is made for instruction. The only charge will be admission to the pool. The instruction will be given part time at both pools due to the fact that neither will be full all the time.

Trails in Canyon Are Given Names

CANYON, Texas, July 3. — Palo Duro State Park is no longer a region of unnamed interesting points. The State Park Board, headed by D. E. Colp of San Antonio, has accepted and approved a series of names suggested by a naming committee of which Mrs. J. A. Hill of Canyon is chairman.

Trails in the canyon have been named Kiowa, Quannah, Parker, Coronado, McKenzie, and Harrell trails. The first four commemorate the Indians, Spanish, and American Military periods of the Canyon's History.

The Harrell trail is to reach from the bottom of the canyon to the rim and finally to the Harrell Ranch Headquarters. It is named for E. D. Harrell, prominent ranchman of Randall County who was much interested in the establishment of the park. Mr. Harrell died about 18 months ago. Other names officially approved include Goodnight Lookout, Fortress Cliffs, The Capitol, the Cathedral, Devil's Tombstone, and Chief Satanta.

Chief Satanta was an Indian known as the orator of the Plains. He fought the battles of his fellowmen in the councils and legislative halls of the whites.

NOTICE

Is hereby given that the Yellow House Ranch is absolutely posted against hunting, picnics and swimming. Ordinarily permission is granted, for picnics and swimming, but on account of the extreme dry weather it has been necessary to discontinue these privileges temporarily. Your kind co-operation in protecting my property from fire, which could easily develop on account of dry weather, will be very much appreciated.

PRESIDENT JAMES MONROE ANNOUNCED MONROE DOCTRINE DEC. 2, 1823.

FIRST SHOT FIRED BY U.S. NAVY IN WORLD WAR, APRIL 18, 1917.

FIRST VOCATIONAL SCHOOL WAS BALTIMORE POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE, FOUNDED OCT. 20, 1885.

Answers to Previous Questions
THE famous Monroe Doctrine was part of the presidential message to Congress. The U. S. Navy's first World War shot was fired from the S. S. Mongolia at an enemy submarine. As the submarine submerged, the result of the shot is unknown. The Baltimore vocational school was established by municipal ordinance. It covered mostly wood-working trades, soldering, brazing, and the use of machine shop tools.

Crops in Iowa Disheartening

In a communication from James J. Lynch, School Superintendent of Pep, who is at present visiting his parents in Iowa City, Ia., after requesting that the Leader be transferred to his new address, Mr. Lynch said: "Crops in this section of the country look somewhat disheartening, especially the hay and small grains. Corn will come through O. K., but later than usual. Recent rains cause some amount of optimism among the farmers."

MOBILLOIL

Mobiloil is sold all over the world. In China, or in Sweden or Norway, you can get your favorite. And always the testimony is the same, "Mobiloil Stands Up." Mobiloil is dewaxed, and double. The Magnolia Petroleum Company has removed from its oil substances which gum up a motor and have left only the oiliest. By removing the wax, the Magnolia company has produced an oil which adheres to the metal surfaces of the motor and guarantees positive lubrication at all times. It is an oil which prevents excessive heating.

In a recent test, a stock was driven from coast to coast across the United States without radiator or cooling system of any kind. Mobiloil was its only protection. And again Mobiloil "Stood Up."

For hot weather driving, Mobiloil is supreme. Heat does not break down. And for cold weather, Mobiloil is again an absolute protection, for it has no wax to become stiff and sluggish.

The Magnolia Petroleum Company also makes Lubrite, a high grade, competitive motor oil.

Whatever your need, Magnolia has an oil for your purpose.

The Magnolia Petroleum Company in its years of continuous service, has brought gasoline and motor oil standards up to a new plane. It has shown the motoring world what a difference lies between an ordinary and a superior motor fuel.

In every village in the United States you can buy Mobilgas and Mobiloil. In its distribution it is complete; in its quality it is supreme.

The Magnolia Company's refinery at Beaumont, Texas, is the largest and best equipped in the Southwest. Always Magnolia strives to make a product that is better than any other. Neither expense nor effort is spared in the search for better methods of treatment for natural oils to produce better Magnolia products.

The uniform quality of Magnolia can be depended upon. Laboratory controlled methods of Manufacture protect your motor at all times.

In government supervised tests, both laboratory and road, in competition with other fuel tests and oils, Magnolia products have always shown their excellence.

Whatever your motor needs may be, remember that Magnolia makes the product for your exact want. See your Magnolia dealer today.

MOBILGAS

You can buy Mobilgas at any town or village in the United States. And always the quality is the same. A high grade motor fuel for exacting motorists.

Mobilgas is a balanced gasoline. Scientific experiments and actual road use has determined the correct proportion of those elements which give the maximum of quick starting, quick acceleration, power and mileage.

Known to science as tetra-ethyl Mobilgas is known to motorists as a supreme motor fuel. Throughout its years of constant use by millions of users, Mobilgas has always upheld the prestige of the Magnolia company as the maker of superior motor products.

Metro is Magnolia's competitive gasoline, a good grade, low priced fuel.

L. R. CROCKETT

L. R. Crockett, Littlefield manager of the Magnolia Petroleum Company's wholesale station, is a man who has proved his business ability and civic worth. He has identified himself in the developing of Littlefield as a town. And his associates are also his friends.

Mr. Crockett operated the first service station in Lamb County, The Littlefield Service Station. Of his 26 years on the Plains, 10 have been spent in this city. Though he has been connected with Magnolia only about four years The Magnolia station is the oldest wholesale station in Littlefield and one of the oldest in the county.

During his residence in Littlefield, Mr. Crockett has served two terms as mayor and is at present serving his third term. He was one of the first city commissioners and has always given his efforts to the building of a better community.

Fair dealings and pleasant relations with his customers have made of them friends and satisfied users of Magnolia products.

MOBILGREASE

For every part of the motor, Magnolia makes a grease. Go by your Magnolia station and have the attendant explain to you their seven-point grease system.

With a special grease for each particular need of your automobile you may be assured of maximum performance.

Mobilgreases constitute 78 per cent of the country's industrial greases.

Be sure to specify Mobilgrease when you take it in for a grease job.

"Oh, Nancy!" her mother blushed like a girl.
 But Nancy did not blush, she turned suddenly white to the lips and caught at Mrs. Gordon's hand convulsively.
 "There's Page Roemer coming in the gate—oh Mama, what shall I do? What shall I do?" she cried.
 Amanda's dusky face appeared at the door.
 "Mist' Page Roemer, Miss Nancy," she said softly, showing the whites of her eyes, "I said mebbe yo' was in an' again mebbe yo' warn't but he's waitin', says he's gwinter wait till he sees yo' anyways, yes, m'm."

"That's all right, Mandy. I'll see Mr. Roemer."
 Mrs. Gordon gave a little gasp and let the girl's hand slip. She was as eager to escape as Amanda.
 Left alone to face the inevitable, Nancy dreaded it. Now, fresh from the thought of Richard's repudiation, of Richard's rage at her fear of him she must face Page.
 "Come in here please, Page," she said faintly. But he heard it, and came into the library. As the sunlight struck his face, Nancy saw the wreck of it. Page had been suffering, too, and the sight of his haggard eyes wrung her with a pang sharper than her own self pity. They stood looking at each other dumbly for a moment. He was the first to recover himself enough to speak.
 "I got your note," he said harshly. "I didn't understand."
 A deeper wave of crimson went up over Nancy's tremulous face and her eyes sank. She averted her face from Page's eyes, clasping her hand behind her back.
 "I don't understand," Page repeated hoarsely. "What did you mean, Nancy?"
 "What I said; my—my marriage is to be a secret."
 "A secret?" there was a new note in his astonished voice. "Why?"
 She recognized the note in it and she winced.
 "I don't want it known—yet."
 He caught his breath. She didn't love Morgan, she wanted to hide her marriage—please God, he'd get her yet!

"Nancy you don't love him! You're sorry you did it—you want to keep it secret because you can't bear it! You—he came nearer, suddenly he flung himself down beside her. "Nancy, you're not living with him—you're here—you're not actually his wife!" he gasped.
 "No!" she cried passionately, "no, no!"
 Exultation leaped into Roemer's face. He had offered agonies of shame because Richard had taken her away from him that night.
 "Nancy!" his feverish eyes searched her face, "answer me—have you ever been his wife—except in name?"
 She drew a deep breath.
 "No," she whispered it, her head drooping, "never—never—I came home!"
 Page gave a great gasp of joy. "God," he cried, "God, I'll take her away from him yet!"
 The fury of his passion transformed him; his handsome smooth face was furrowed—not with love but with hate, his hatred and his jealousy of Richard. Nancy saw it; something in his very passion was selfish and cruel, it reached her; suddenly, shaken as she was, she thought of Richard. Would Page have spared her as Richard had?

"You mustn't say such things, Page she said weakly, "and I—I mustn't hear them, I—she could not finish her sentence.
 He caught her hands almost roughly, "tell me the truth—you don't love him—did you have to marry him Nancy?"

 "Yes," she answered faintly, not understanding, "I had to marry him, Page." She was too clean-souled to understand.
 Richard would have known it, but Page dropped her hands and rose to his feet, tramping up and down the room like a madman. He had loved her, loved her deeply, and Richard had robbed him. Richard must have done what he would never have dared to do. She—God, was she worthless? He could not believe it, yet she said so. Yet—he drew an agonized breath, he couldn't give her up, he'd get her away from Richard yet, damn him!

He—Page clenched his fist, he would like to shoot him, but, if he did, if it came out—poor Nancy! She—? He stopped short in his walk and stood thinking; was she worth the struggle? The world would say "no." His own selfish ego cried, no, not now! Then he looked at the girl.
 She looked like a broken lily. All the blood in his body surged up into his head; he turned hot with rage. Damn him, he should not keep her!
 "Nancy!" he flung himself down beside the girl, hot with his rage and passion. "Nancy, I love you," he cried "I adore you!" he seized her poor shaking little hands and covered them with kisses.

The girl quivered at his touch. His hot lips on her hands sent the blood back to her heart. Love—dumb, agonized, denied—struggled in her breast.
 "Oh, Page!" she gasped. "I—thought no one cared anymore." back to her heart
 Nancy felt the fierce intake of his breath, she seemed to feel his love enfolding her, crushing her. A wild relief shot through her, a wild thrill of happiness, of love.
 "Page you mustn't! I—oh, I've behaved like a bad woman!" she wailed, "you've got a right now to despise me, to think I'd—I'd do anything when I behave like this—why Page I—I'm married!"
 "Married?" he snapped his fingers "that for such a marriage! I'll break it—listen to me, Nancy, I'm a lawyer I'll break it—I'll—"
 "You'll leave this house sir. That's what you'll do!"
 They both recoiled. Mr. Gordon was standing in the door, looking at them, his face on fire, his eyes blood-shot, his iron gray hair standing up in a frill on top of his head.
 "Do you hear me, sir, you'll leave the house."
 Roemer swung around facing the older man, for a moment shamed.
 "Mr. Gordon, I can't bear this! I know the truth. Nancy told me—she's been dragged into a secret marriage. If it were right, if she loved him, I—I could stand it. As it is I'm here. I'll always be here, ready to serve her, to get a divorce for her, to set her free."

Mr. Gordon made a furious gesture with one hand. "That's enough! I understand. Now—go!"
 He was shaking with rage and Nancy saw it, she looked at Roemer imploringly.
 "Please go now Page!" she pleaded
 He hesitated and then he turned took her hand, kissed it and went out passing Mr. Gordon with the air of a conquering hero.
 "God day, sir. I'm sorry you misunderstood."
 "I don't misunderstand, Mr. Gordon thundered, "good day, sir, and good riddance!"
 The front door closed sharply. Nancy drew a long breath. Mr. Gordon came slowly into the center of the room and stood staring at her.
 "Is that your idea?" he demanded hoarsely, "to marry one man—fer man for money—and let another make love to you?"
 The girl lifted her head and looked straight into his eyes.
 "You're my father," she said simply, "look at me—do you believe I'm like that? That I'd be so—so base? If you do," she cried passionately, "I—I might as well kill myself!"
 Her father's face worked, there was something like tears in his eyes.

 "Nancy, my girl!" he held out his arms.
 She flung herself into them with a low cry of anguish, pressing her face against his shoulder.
 "I—I loved Page!" she gasped, "I'm wicked—I love him still!"
 It was only two or three days later that Nancy—unable to endure the wretchedness of her plight at home—determined to go to Angie Fuller. She could not tell Angie anything. She must keep her own secrets, but there was a soft, pliant sympathy about the girl that was like balm to a sore heart.
 Angie met Nancy in the kitchen; she had gone there for some hot water for her uncle.
 "He's got one of his awful attacks of gout, Nancy," she explained, flushing a little at the sight of her visitor. "He's as cross as two sticks, but I'm sure he'd like to see you."
 The old man was huddled up in a big Morris-chair.
 "My soul!" he let his eyes rest on the pair with a twinge of approval as sharp as his twinge of gout. "Where d'you drop from, Nancy Virginia?" Nancy smiled more naturally than she had for days.
 "I've come to help Angie take care of you," she said.
 The major chuckled. I'll soon scare you off!"
 Nancy sat down on a low stool beside the old man's chair.
 "I've come to thank you, major" she said faintly, blushing and paling by turns, "with—all my heart!"
 "Eh?" he gave her an angry look, his brows down, "what for?"
 "For buying our house—"
 He snorted. "Glad to get rid of it then?"
 She shook her head. Speech was going to be very difficult. "You've—let us stay in it!"
 The major settled back in his chair, staring hard at her quivering face.
 "Your father's paying rent," he remarked dryly, "I'd call him a pretty good tenant—says he'll make his own repairs."
 "Someone else might have turned us out and—" Nancy's voice broke so that Angie dropped down on the floor beside her holding her hand. "We all love it!" she faltered.
 The major stirred his tea.
 "Where's Roddy?" he asked, abruptly, "still doing well?"
 Angie felt Nancy's quick intake of breath; the girl full of her own thoughts of Roddy divined that there was something wrong.
 "I had a letter from him yesterday," she said hurriedly, forcing lightness, trying to be unconcerned, "he's he's all right major."
 Angie felt Nancy trembling now, and she jumped up suddenly.
 "Why there's Dr. Morgan, uncle," she said, "he must have just got back—he's been out all night."
 "Go let him in," the major set his cup down. "Here, Nancy, stay! I won't be left alone with a doctor. Dick's enough to kill me anyhow."
 But Nancy was on her feet in a panic.
 "I've got to go," she panted, "I only came in to thank you—to ask how you were major."
 But he had hold of her hand and he kept her struggling until the door opened for Richard.

 "I want you to tell this doctor of ours to treat an old man decently," he said chuckling. "He's starving me to death!"
 It was the first meeting since that night when Nancy had refused the offer of his name and his home.

"Spitfire" Featuring Katherine Hepburn to be Shown at Palace

She Will Appear as Trigger Hicks Saturday Midnight, Sunday Afternoon in Most Difficult Role of Career.

Dressed in gingham, her hair flying in the wind, hurling epithets, loving like a man, and hating like a devil, Katherine Hepburn, as Trigger Hicks, in the RKO-Radio picture, "Spitfire", will be featured at the Palace Theatre, Saturday Midnight and Sunday afternoon, in what is said to be the most difficult role of her brilliant career. In this picturization of the Broadway stage hit, "Trigger," Miss Hepburn battles men, mobs, the Devil, and love itself, and makes you believe in her.

As Trigger, she lives with her drunken father in a small cabin in the Carolina mountains. George Fleetwood and John Stafford, two engineers working on a nearby construction job, fall in love with her. Fleetwood loves her because he can see beneath the surface of her turbulent nature and into the very depths of her soul, which despite all outer indications to the contrary, is that of an angel. He knows that she secretly spends much of her time in praying for her ailing neighbors, and accomplishing miracles of healing by means of her childlike faith. But Stafford is attracted solely by her beauty, and it is to him that she gives her kisses.

The climax is reached when Trigger abducts a dying baby, planning to heal it by faith and prayer. Angry mountaineers storm her little cabin, intending to run her out of the community. Stafford shows his yellow streak by deserting her in this, the hour of her greatest need. His flight shatters her love and fills her heart with dismay, and she finds herself unable to pray effectively for the baby. The angry mob closes in on her, and it is then that Fleetwood comes to her defense. And then Miss Hepburn, at bay, gives a performance that has been acclaimed as transcending in dramatic power anything seen on the screen in years.

Knigh Bellamy plays Fleetwood, and Robert Young is Stafford. The supporting cast includes many well-known names, and the production is directed by John Cromwell.
