Employment On WPA Projects For June Is Reduced

SAN ANTONIO, June 5.—Employment on WPA projects in Texas for June will be limited to 71,050 persons, a reduction of 11,450 workers from the total authorized employment during May, it was announced today by State Work Projects Administrator H. P. Drought. The reduction is this state's share of the nationwide cut in WPA employment, Drought explained. The June employment figure reflects the third consecutive monthly reduction in WPA employment and brings the Texas employment quota to 37,050 workers less than the 108,100 jobs authorized for the agency in this state during March.

"Build-Up" Relief
 Explained to Women

A simple method has saved many women a lot of suffering! It is based on the fact that headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain are often symptoms of functional dysmenorrhoea due to malnutrition. Help for this condition so often follows the use of CARDUI, because it usually increases the appetite and the flow of gastric juice; thus aids digestion and helps build physical resistance. Usual result is less periodic distress. Many who take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time" have found this helps ease periodic discomfort. Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years!

Popular Amherst Couple Wed In Amarillo Thursday

The marriage of Miss Anna Lee Nicholson and Bill Sterr was solemnized Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at the First Methodist Church in Amarillo by Rev. M. Addison, pastor.

Mrs. Della Ballard, sister of the bride, was the only attendant. The bride was attractive in a pink dress with white accessories. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Nicholson of northeast Amherst. She graduated from the Amherst high school with the 1940 class.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Sterr of Amherst, and was graduated from the Amherst high school in 1939.

The happy couple will be at home at the groom's parents for a few days, before moving to their farm west of Amherst.

Son Born To Mr. And Mrs. Porcher

Ben Porcher, operator of Porcher Produce company, is wearing a broad smile this week, and no wonder—he is the proud papa of a new son born Sunday night at the West Texas Hospital, Lubbock.

On inquiring as to the name selected for the junior partner in the Porcher business, Mr. Porcher said that since Mrs. Porcher had wanted a girl, and selected names suitable for a girl, they didn't have an idea in the world for a name for the boy.

The infant is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Porcher. Ben, Jr., is four years of age, and about as old fashioned as they make them. On being asked how he would like a little brother he made the clever remark, "I would be thrilled to death."

The many friends of Mrs. Porcher will be pleased to learn that she and her young son are getting along nicely.

Mrs. Pat Boone Is Hostess Members Of Thursday Bridge Club

Complimenting members of the Thursday Bridge Club, Mrs. Pat Boone entertained the group Thursday at the Boone residence on West-side Avenue.

Vases of beautiful Snapdragons and Gallardias added much to the color scheme of the occasion.

Three tables of bridge were enjoyed during the afternoon. Scoring high in the games were Mrs. W. H. Gardner high for members; Mrs. J. D. Dodgen, for guests; with the bingo prize going to Mrs. Lena Howard.

Attending this social affair were: Mesdames J. D. Dodgen, J. H. Barnett, W. D. T. Storey and J. M. Stokes, guests; and the following club members; Mesdames C. E. Cooper, Arthur P. Duggan, S. J. Farquhar, W. H. Gardner, Lena Howard, T. Wade Potter, W. G. Street, H. W. Wiseman and Clyde Hilburn.

Return From Trip To Hugerton, Kans.

Jim Douglass of Littlefield, and Chas. W. Greever of west of town returned Monday from Hugerton, Kans., where they spent several days on business. Mr. Douglass is representative of a pump company, and was in charge of the installation of an irrigation pump.

Mr. Douglass stated that there were three irrigation wells put down in Hugerton this past week.

Mrs. Doyle Sewell, formerly employed by the I. C. Enoths Land company, is now connected with the Retail Merchants association, and will assist Mrs. Douglass in the carrying on of this work, with the supervision of Mr. Douglass, who with his son, Joe, plan on spending some time in Kansas.

TWINS ARE BORN

Twin boys were born to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Huggins Sunday, June 2, at the Payne-Shotwell Hospital. They have been named James Eldon and Jimmie Weldon.

Mr. and Mrs. Huggins are residents of Olton.

J. W. Jones, who has been seriously ill at the Littlefield Hospital was dismissed Sunday, and is convalescing at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cook, on East Fifth street.

The SNOOPER SAYS . . .

"The ornaments of a house are the friends that frequent it." — Ralph Waldo Emerson.

"All the world's a stage," said Shakespeare, and right now the comedy has become a tragedy without a change of character.

Determined that no invaders will ever drop parachute troops on Hereford and get away with it, two men turned loose 1,000 gas-filled balloons near that town Sunday, and the general public was invited to take their .22s and use the balloons for target practice. Women, as well as men, joined in the fun, but we didn't learn who was the best shot with a rifle!

Read this somewhere—A southern farmer sitting ragged and barefoot on the steps of his tumble-down shack was accosted by a stranger who stopped for a drink of water. Wishing to be agreeable the stranger said: "How is your cotton coming on?"

"Ain't got none," replied the farmer.

"Didn't plant any?" asked the stranger.

"Nope," said the farmer, "fraid of boll weevils."

"Well," said the stranger, "how is your corn?"

"Didn't plant none," said the farmer. "fraid there wasn't going to be no rain."

The visitor was abashed but persevering. "Well, how are your potatoes?"

"Ain't got none. 'Scart o' potatoe bugs."

"Really, what did you plant?" asked the stranger.

"nothin'," said the farmer. "I jest played safe."

This is such a small world.—

Three friends from Morton met by surprise recently in Honolulu, Hawaii, each having no knowledge of the others whereabouts until they met. They had been close friends in the Cochran county town.

All of my life I have wanted to go to Alaska, America's last frontier! And, as I sit and dream of being in the land of the Yukon, I can't help but wonder whom I would meet there. Right now, however, there are one or two people I know that I had rather would go toward the torrid zones, or do you see what I mean!

But, about Alaska, the name is derived from the Aleut word Aliakshak, meaning "A Great Country," used by the natives of the Aleutian Islands when asked by early Russian explorers what country they had found. The Russian name was Alaska.

Commander Vitus Bering, sailing the orders of Peter the Great of Russia on the first Kamchatka expedition, discovered and named St. Lawrence Island, Bering Seas, on August 10, 1728. Muller (voyages 1761) says, "to this they gave the name of St. Lawrence on account of it being the 10th day of August, that Saint's day." Passing through Bering Strait on this voyage, Bering proved that America and Asia were not united.

The population of Alaska according to the 1930 census, was 59,278 of which number 28,640 are whites; of this white population, 10,180 are foreign born.

More about Alaska will follow next week.

No Charge For AAA Assistance

Reports have reached the state headquarters of the AAA that persons in some areas have set themselves up as "AAA experts" and are charging farmers fees for assistance in getting applications filled out and certified. These so-called experts are "setting up offices and handling all AA business for groups of farmers for a share of their payments," the reports stated.

All information and assistance necessary for participation in the AAA program can be obtained free of charge at the county AAA office.

"No farmer should pay any kind of fee for information or assistance in doing the 'paper work' connected with the AAA program," George Slaughter, chairman of the state committee, declared. "All such services are furnished without cost by the county AAA office, and farmers are invited to take advantage of it."

Persons who are charging fees for such services have no official status and cannot be depended upon to furnish accurate and complete information, the chairman continued, pointing out that any farmer using such assistance will have only himself to blame if errors in forms and applications result in loss of payments. When farmers pay a fee in order to receive AAA payments, their payments are necessarily reduced to that extent, while farmers who handle all such business through their local AAA office can be assured of receiving full payments earned for participation in the program, Slaughter said.

Farmers Benefit From Methods Of Soil Conservation

Hundreds of Texas Panhandle farmers have learned through experience within recent years that soil erosion can be checked and that crop yields often can be increased at the same time through the use of a complete soil and water conservation program.

This has been true in the case of W. O. Moore, who has been operating a farm three miles northeast of Lamesa for the last 17 years.

"I was able to produce fair crops in most years, but I observed that I was losing considerable soil and moisture each year through run-off," Moore stated. "When terracing first was introduced in this area I held to the opinion that the run-off was too great on the long slopes of my farm to be controlled by such structures."

After observing the effectiveness of terraces in holding water on other farms in the Soil Conservation Service CCC camp area within recent years, Moore decided to apply the program on his own farm.

With the aid of the camp technicians a soil and water conservation program designed to meet the particular needs of Moore's farm was worked out. He obtained the use of county road equipment in building terraces on most of his land in the spring of 1939, and the work has been completed with camp equipment this spring.

Last year all completed terraces were planted to Sudan grass and the stubble was left to protect the structure against erosion. All tillage operations were on the contour or

Will Discuss How To Improve AAA Range Program June 24

Recommendations of ranchmen from the 17 range states as to how to improve the AAA's range program will be heard—and heeded—at the national range conference to be held in West Texas June 24-28.

The conference will open at Midland, June 24, from which point the delegates will make a tour of West Texas ranches to inspect conservation work done in 16 counties. The itinerary includes visits to ranches in the vicinity of Midland, Pecos, Fort Davis, Marfa, Alpine, Del Rio, Sonora, and San Angelo. The final sessions of the conference will be held in San Angelo.

Scheduled to speak at the conference are R. M. Evans, national AAA administrator, and Grover B. Hill, Panhandle ranchmen recently appointed assistant secretary of agriculture.

parallel with the terraces. Cotton and sorghums were planted in alternate terrace intervals and the strips will be rotated this year to maintain crop residues in the soil as additional protection against erosion.

"These methods, practically eliminated the loss of water through run-off on my farm last year," Moore said. "And with the protective crop stubble and residues on my fields, there has been no soil lost during the period of high winds this spring. Not only has erosion been checked, but my crop yields were increased considerably last year," he concluded.

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory use. And favorable public opinion supports that of the able physicians who test the value of Doan's under exacting laboratory conditions.

These physicians, too, approve every word of advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a good diuretic treatment for disorder of the kidney function and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys lag, and diuretic medication would be more often employed.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warn of disturbed kidney function. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won worldwide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

CHAPTER XI

SYNOPSIS

Since her husband's death, Anne Phillips has worked to support her children. Jim, Anne's son, is a student with the rich Helen Delancey. Anne suspects that Helen's widowed little dancer, is in love with Jim. Janet, Anne's daughter, is unhappy because her well-to-do friends neglect her. She is commissioned by Ryan to help him restore the old Radcliffe mansion, part of the Phillips estate, which he bought. She believes Tony is getting it ready for Priscilla and himself. Janet's older brother, Ben, is miserable because her young husband, Bill, has left her. She keeps over the note Bill left behind when he saw Guy Shelton.

from my trick knee before he makes any plans for the day. Reckon he knows I get tolerable lonesome with no one to yarn to. Reckon he's got a heart as big as all outdoors, that Tony."

At that moment a new and very glittering closed car drove up to the gate. Deke in a resplendent chauffeur's uniform was at the wheel. He got out and with a flourish ushered Janet and Mr. Jacoby into the car.

It was a crisp blue and gold August afternoon. The lawn at the old house flashed like emeralds as they drove in.

Tony Ryan in immaculate white flannels was standing in the doorway with Stephen Hill. "Hi, Mr.

awful spectacle of the old Irishwoman's hat. "Sorry," murmured Priscilla's mother loftily. "I'm not having tea till later."

Kate Delancey's Celtic temper rose to the bait. "Faith," quoth she, "I can remember, Jennie, when you'd have fainted all over your father's butcher shop if some one had offered ye tea in the middle of the afternoon."

Mrs. Leigh turned purple and Janet, suppressing a grin, took Mrs. Delancey in to tea herself. Tony joined them in the dining room.

Like a majestic ship Mrs. Henry Leigh approached the tea table under the convoy of her friends. Apparently she did not see anyone outside her immediate group.

Kate Delancey, smiling broadly, departed with Mr. Jacoby in the

She yearned to tear it up and fling the pieces in his face.

Jacoby, how's the boy?" cried Tony. He came forward and wrung Mr. Jacoby's hand.

Shortly after more guests began to dribble in. Janet stood between Tony and Steve Hill just inside the front parlor. Priscilla and her crowd were late in arriving.

It was then Janet began to realize that the guests presented a curious assortment. Deke had driven up not once, but twice, with the closed car. He brought first a little, dried-up old lady with a bright inquisitive face.

"How are you, Mrs. Delancey?" cried Tony Ryan. "Sure it's swell to see you!"

Mrs. Delancey patted his arm. "One of my oldest and best friends, Mrs. Kate Delancey," said Tony to Janet.

"Pleased to meetcha, love," murmured the old Irishwoman. Janet could not see the guest whom Horace was admitting, but she recognized Priscilla's triumphant voice.

"Tony," she was saying, "the house is gorgeous! Darling, I can't think of a lovelier time to announce our engagement."

Something inside Janet seemed to be tearing itself loose from the roots. It was no news that Priscilla and Tony were going to be married. Janet had understood as much from the first. Yet to hear their engagement put into words in a formal announcement was something she felt incapable of facing.

Janet and Stephen Hill without conspicuous success attempted to unite the various cliques. Janet went over and chatted with the Earl of Jersey for whom she was achieving an affection. Tony was talking to Rufe when Janet with Mrs. Delancey clinging to her arm approached Mrs. Henry Leigh.

"This is one of Tony's oldest friends," said Janet. "I thought you'd like the privilege of taking her in to tea."

Mrs. Leigh coldly surveyed the closed car.

"She had a lovely time," said Janet. "And isn't she precious?"

"Sure," said Tony Ryan. Mrs. Leigh sniffed.

Others were leaving and Janet began to realize what a strain it had been. She drew a sigh of relief and then she heard a shrill, furious voice in the back parlor.

"He is too a lunatic! I don't care what you say, Tony Ryan. The man's a punch-dunk lunatic," Priscilla was saying. "And that Englishman's as phony as his glass eye. The nerve of you, having people like that at a party to which you invited me and my friends!"

"They happen to be my friends," remarked Tony.

"I thought I could marry you!" blazed Priscilla. "I thought I could overlook that you came from Shanty Town. I didn't know you intended to drag Shanty Town around after you. Maybe you'd expect your wife to have Mrs. Delancey to dinner along with her paper sack."

"My wife will never snub my friends," observed Tony Ryan.

"I'm through with you!" cried Priscilla.

"Yes?" murmured Tony.

"Come on," said Priscilla crossly to her mother. "Don't stand there gaping like a nitwit."

They departed and Tony smiled at Janet across the empty room with a quizzical light in his blue eyes. "That's that," he said. "Now we've both been jilted."

"In spite of what you may have heard," she said in a choked voice, "I am not wearing my heart away for Gordon Key or any other man."

Tony grinned. He had drawn something out of his pocket. He kept idly juggling it back and forth in his hand.

"Love isn't that important," continued Janet compressing her lips. "You sound disillusioned."

"I am!" cried Janet with a little sob. He tossed up the shining object in one hand and caught it in the other. "You think life's matter of dollars and cents?" he inquired.

"Yes," said Janet. "All that glitters may not be gold, but it's the only glitter that doesn't rub off."

"In that case," murmured Tony Ryan, "maybe you'd like to marry me for my money."

She could not speak. She could not even get her breath.

He smiled at her. "Catch," he said.

He tossed the glittering object at her. Her hand closed on it involuntarily. It was a superb diamond magnificently set in a platinum band with emeralds.

"I've got a house," said Tony. "It's a nice house, but it needs a mistress. In a way, it's more your house than anyone's."

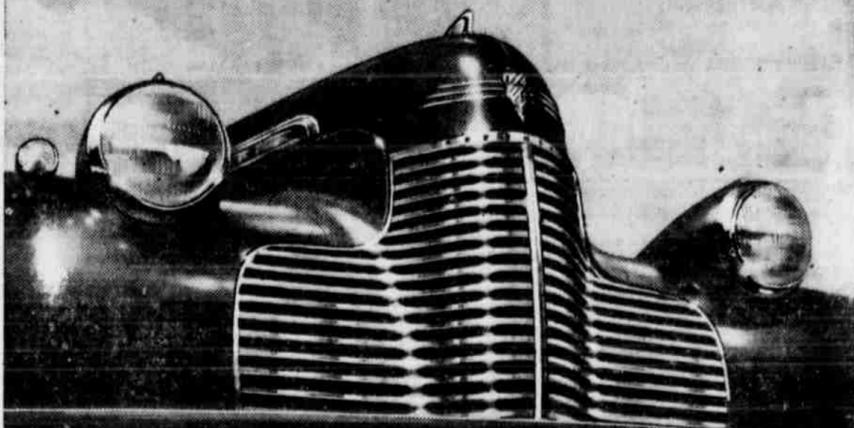

She was staring at the ring, the ring which he had bought for Priscilla before she walked out on him, or so Janet told herself.

"I've heard of trial marriages," said Tony Ryan. "Shall we have a try at being engaged?" He grinned. "It might come out even."

"Why not?" she demanded, and slipped the diamond onto her finger.

Miss Helen Sanders and her father arrived the next morning at 11:40. Jim met the train. Helen, lovelier than ever in a sheer black traveling dress with peach-colored accessories, flung herself into his arms while her father stood about on one foot and then the other waiting for her raptures to subside. "I've got the old flivver here," said Jim.

She squeezed his arm. "We brought one of the cars and a chauffeur." A trim chauffeur in lemon colored livery bobbed up apparently from nowhere and touched his cap to Mr. Sanders.

"The limousine's waiting, sir," he said.

Jim gulped again and followed meekly to where a huge pale yellow machine, having just been rolled out of the baggage car, stood glittering with chromium at the side of the station. By it were several trunks, a pyramid of traveling bags, a wooden-faced Frenchwoman in a maid's uniform and the solemn bespectacled young man who was Clive Sanders' private secretary.

Jim was beginning to perspire. He felt more than ever all arms and legs as they rode up to Bay City's most expensive hotel. Mr. Sanders, so far as Jim could tell, had engaged practically the entire fourth floor for himself and his party. Helen and her father each had a sitting room, bedroom and bath. Their sitting rooms opened into each other and it was there they had lunch. Jim had planned to take his fiancée and her father out to lunch. He had painstakingly audited his bank account and decided he could afford for once to tackle the Bel Air Restaurant at a dollar a plate, but Helen vetoed the suggestion.

"We'll be so much more private up here," she said, "and anyway, darling, father's footing the bills." It was five minutes to two when they rose from the table. "Got to get back to the office," said Jim and smiled.

Helen wound her arms about him and cuddled her cheek deliciously against his. "You can't go," she said.

rible human experiences those words convey. Think of Europe's burning homes and broken families. Think of the homeless and miserable refugees, fleeing in fright to unknown terror in alien lands. Think of the mothers trying to comfort cold and hungry children who whimper and are afraid of the bursting shells and whining planes. That is the stuff modern war is made of. Battles no longer involve only military machines of the belligerent nations. Modern war places masses of civilians—especially the women and children and the old people—right in the front lines. They bear every bit as much of the burden as the soldiers. And they have no way to protect themselves or their loved ones.

This is what makes the American Red Cross responsibility in this war — tremendously greater than ever before. It will need more hospital equipment, more ambulances, more surgical dressings, and more warm garments. And in this war-mad world, the Red Cross must be ready at a moment's notice to send instant relief. For no one can foretell the full effect of the curse of invasion or where it may fall next. The American Red Cross had hoped to meet the situation abroad without going before the public with a special appeal. It has never known to issue an unjustified plea. Its work in Europe since last September is no exception to that rule.

Red Cross relief to the Polish people followed quickly upon the invaders' heels. Then the Red Cross moved into Finland, when her stalwart people cried for help in picking up the strands of their national life. Norway's hour was next, and she, too, asked the American Red Cross for aid.

In those three countries and in France, England and those nations harboring Polish refugees, the American Red Cross spent one and a half million dollars from September until May 10th when this special appeal was launched. The American people had contributed eight hundred thousand dollars of this total, and the Red Cross drew on its reserves for the remainder.

On top of that, more than two hundred and fifty thousand women

—Red Cross volunteers, had sewn half a million garments and more than two million surgical dressings. These products of mercy have found their way into the hands of thousands of refugees, giving cheer and new courage to dazed and duntrodden people.

All that was before the fateful day of May 10th when the forces of destruction widened the theatre of war. Belgium Invaded! Holland invaded! Luxembourg invaded! The swiftness of the attack made it unreal to headline readers. But the Red Cross knew then and there that the hour for which it needed help had arrived. Foreseeing Western Europe engulfed in a bath of blood, it immediately turned to the American people for funds with which to act.

president, succeeding J. H. Ware, and J. W. Keithley, treasurer.

J. S. Hilliard, E. A. Bills, and Otto Jones were named new directors.

Election was held last week by secret ballot.

Dr. Woods presided at the meeting Wednesday night.

A male quartet, composed of E. O. McIver, B. L. Cogdill, Arthur Mueller, and Jack Norman, rendered several selections. They were accompanied at the piano by Miss Maxine Cash.

Miss Marguerite Brannen, who was recently crowned queen at the cotton carnival at Texas Tech, Lubbock, was introduced by B. L. Cogdill. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brannen, and has completed her first year at Tech.

"We stand, stunned about what is happening in Europe," Col. Thompson, who is an ex-service man, and a member of the 36th division of the National Guard, told the group here. "And, after 20 years of retrospection, we realize that the last World War was not finished, when the Armistice was signed November 11, 1918. We should have gone on to Berlin at that time, and the curse of Nazism might not prevail today."

A special welcome was extended Col. Thompson by members of the local American Legion, who attended the banquet in a body. Several local ex-service men were in the same company with Col. Thompson during the last World War, and fought in France under his leadership.

"My company saw the German troops retreating after the Armistice was signed, and the troops returned to their homeland like a triumphant army, and they had the feelings that they had been "traded out" by the Kaiser, and not defeated. The sons of the German soldiers, in the last war are fighting the present war. The boys we saw marching to school while we were in Germany 20 years ago are now the men at the front in the bloody battles in Europe.

"Since the treaty of Versailles, the German people have been making bullets instead of bread, and bayonets instead of butter. Since the beginning of Hitler's regime, he has kept them marching, and has given them something to do.

"Contrast the American youth with the German youth! We have been interested in education, ideals, moral standards and recreation, while the German youths have been trained for war. America, through the period of 20 years has done nothing pertaining to military operations, and yet, General Pershing, after he landed in America after the last great war, called attention to our government for the need of a military staff.

"Now is the time for all ex-service men, fathers, mothers, boys and girls to investigate the affairs of the fifth columnists, those people who are attempting to undermine the liberties of the American people — termites — boring into our country. We should talk to our neighbors and learn if they are true Americans. The other "isms" must be stopped, for only Americanism shall stand!"

"Hitler is a madman, trying to conquer the world, therefore, we must find out who are the "goats and who are the sheep" in our own country, and stand by Uncle Sam in his preparation for protection. We MUST LOOK AFTER OUR LIBERTY!"

Visitors from Sudan, Olton, Amherst, Earth and Lubbock attended the banquet. L. G. Matthews attorney of Floydada, who is a captain in the 36th division of National Guards, was also present.

greatest contributing factor modernization of the American kitchen has been electric appliances. strides in the direction of economy and labor efficiency have both achieved by engineers and designers responsible for modern-day appliances. dreams of a few years ago are a reality today. Costs formerly prohibitive for the average home have been brought down to meet the most meager budgets. Yes, things have hap-

Large Number Will Attend Short Course

Although the annual Farmers' Short Course on the campus of A. and M. College is still a month distant, indications are that previous attendance records will be broken this summer. Dates for the 4-H club Short Course are July 8 and 9, while the adult Short Course is scheduled for July 11 and 12.

Expected to be especially outstanding this year is the attendance of an unusually large number of men. This was assured when B. F. Vance, assistant administrative officer in charge of the state AAA office, announced that approximately 750 AAA secretaries and county agricultural conservation committee members would be present for the Short Course as well as to attend group meetings of their own.

In addition, county land use planning committees are being asked to send two men and one woman from their number, according to Director H. H. Williamson of the A. and M. Extension Service.

Apparently there is no question about the presence of women, for in recent years heavy attendance of home demonstration club women 19 years have been astounding, and all the housewife has to do to appreciate this home revolution is to remember back when she whipped eggs by hand and when many other kitchen operations were undertaken by manual labor. Electricity and appliances have changed all this.

In keeping with the times, today's kitchen has been stream-lined, and the housewife and family like it.

"I was born and reared on a sandy land farm in East Texas, where I was compelled to learn and practice economy. I finished High school at the age of 20 years. We only got to attend school about four months of the year then, I attended East Texas Normal College for two terms. I then entered Draughan's Business College, and completed a course in bookkeeping. Upon finishing the course, I taught bookkeeping and business mathematics in the College for one year. Quitting teaching, I kept those books for a lumber concern for a number of years, later traveling for a paint manufacturer for several years. I came to the North Plains in 1926 and went back in the lumber business at Borger. I came to Littlefield in 1928 and opened a lumber yard and operated it until 1931. In 1935 Roy Gilbert appointed me a deputy tax collector for handling automobile registrations in the Littlefield territory, which place I have held since under Roy and Dock Holt. In 1936 I was elected to the office of Justice of the Peace in Precinct No. 4, and am now serving my second term as same.

my experience and qualifications to fill the office of County Judge.

"I am 52 years of age, married at the age of 25 and have raised three children. Two of them are grown and filling positions at this time. My youngest girl is still in High school. My experience in raising my children and duties as Justice of the Peace have given me a fairly good insight in the ways of handling Juveniles, which is a very important duty of your County Judge.

"If I am elected your County Judge, it will be one of my duties to sit as chairman of your County Commissioners Court, through whom all of your funds must pass. It will be my aim to watch over the expenditures of the county, and with the aid of the Commissioners, eliminate all excess expenses. We all know that the less we spend, the less will be our taxes.

"Due to attending to the duties of my office, it is going to be impossible for me to make a house to house canvass of the entire county. I am therefore asking all the voters of my Justice precinct to please consider this as my personal appeal to you for your votes and influence and to permit me to spend all my time in the rest of the county, meeting the ones who do not know me personally, as you do. To the other voters of the county I will try to meet you personally and present my candidacy. If I should not see you, won't you please see someone who knows me about my character and ability.

"My only pledge to any section of the county is to be a fair and impartial official to every person or group of persons in the county, to be as economical as possible and to give the county the very best there is in me at all times.

"I ask that you investigate and satisfy yourselves as to my ability and worthiness and if you find me worthy, then I earnestly solicit your vote and influence in the July primary. Thanks.

Democracies can well be imagined unless immediate aid and support to the Allies is given by this Government, and any and all statutes prohibiting the granting of credits repealed so that all military and economic aid can and will be given now before it is too late.

We in the agricultural section of the South will be just as much affected by a Nazi victory as will be the manufacturer of the East or elsewhere. We therefore urge, if you agree with us, that you send to your Representatives and Senators in Washington telegrams urging immediate aid to the Allies, by furnishing them ample loans for the purchase of airplanes, munitions, and other necessities of war, food and supplies. Won't you please canvass your community and your friends of yours in other communities to do likewise.

For your guidance, we enclose copy of a telegram signed by a number of Galveston citizens. Similar telegrams have been sent by distinguished Houstonians.

OLTON LIONS CLUB BUYS REGISTERED GILTS FOR MEMBERS OF FUTURE FARMERS

The Olton Lions Club bought and delivered six registered Chester White gilts for the Olton F. F. A. boys. The boys received the gilts Friday May 24. The gilts were purchased from the Miller Bros. Hog Farms, near Floydada, Texas. They are out of one of the best herds of Chester White Hogs in Texas. The F. F. A. boys are to take the gilts and feed them and raise pigs from them. From the first litter the boys are to deliver a weaning gilt back to the Lion's Club to be given to another boy. It is hoped that the boys may be successful with their pigs and have some improved pigs to sell to the farmers in the community market.

The boys who received the gilts were Courtney Brooks, Billie Bohner, Edwin Huckbee, Jr., Earl Patterson, Don Spain, and Lewis Willis. The boys are feeding the pigs as a project in vocational Agriculture under the direction of Truitt Sides teacher.

Offices have not reported any definite evidence of un-American activities in Lamb County.

Sheriff Sam Hutson said that there was nothing for Lamb County residents to be concerned about at this time.

The local Post of the American Legion will discuss fifth column activities in general at their meeting Monday night, Otto Jones, Commander, announced.

AAA Participation Largest Since Program Started

Estimate Cropland Acreage Under AAA At Forty Million

414,000 Texas Farms Will Operate Under Conservation Program

With an estimated 40,000,000 acres of cropland and 85,000,000 acres of rangeland signed up under the AAA for 1940, officials here believe participation in the program will be the largest of any year since the program began.

Latest reports indicate that more than 414,000 Texas farms will operate under the Agricultural Conservation program in 1940, an increase over the 1939 participation of nearly 4,000 while approximately 1,200 additional ranches will practice range-improvement measures under the Range Conservation program, bringing the number of ranches cooperating to 26,100.

To these farmers and ranchmen will go the greater portion of the $98,000,000 available to Texas for full participation in the AAA program, George Slaughter, chairman of the state committee, pointed out. Full cooperation requires planting within soil-depleting acreage allotments and earning the maximum available for soil-building and range improvement work by adopting specific conservation practices.

In the range program the entire payment is made for conservation work done, while in the farm program part of the payment is made for soil-building work and part for taking a portion of the cropland out of soil-depleting crops.

"Dark Command" To Be Featured At Ritz This Week End

Transforming a book into screen material invariably throws obstacles in the path of even accomplished screen scribes.

The greatest difficulty usually concerns censorship angles, because the screen is more limited in its frank portrayal of stark emotions and philosophy that the material between book covers.

Recently, however, studios have crossed daringly into the realm across the censorship bridge. "Of Mice and Men" which many declared emphatically could not never be made into a film, is now showing on the silver screen in all its original force. "The Grapes of Wrath," uncompromisingly pictured has also recently been released. Now studios, with precedent already set, are bidding eagerly for the rights to "Tobacco Road," spade-calling drama of the poor whites down South.

Unique Problem

Republic Studios, however, in producing "Dark Command," which comes to the Ritz Theatre Saturday midnight, continuing through Sunday and Monday coped with a unique problem. For "Dark Command," is the story of William Cantrell, famous guerrilla chieftain, whose band of cut-throats ravaged the border country of Kansas and Missouri in a savage preliminary to the war between the States.

Here Republic is dealing with both a fictionalized book and the unequivocal facts of history. Starring Claire Trevor, John Wayne and Walter Pidgeon, "Dark Command's" romantic angle shows Miss Trevor torn between love for Wayne and the irresistible physical appeal of Pidgeon, who plays Cantrell.

R. A. Leonard of Spade purchased a new four door Plymouth sedan last week, and Cecil Jones of Hula took delivery of a Dodge automobile, both from the Batson Motor company.

Bobbie Ray Edwards underwent tonsilectomy at the Littlefield Hospital Tuesday morning, May 28. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Edwards.

NOW YOU CAN ENJOY DELICIOUS FROZEN FOODS At Small Cost

A NEW IDEA

Within two or three weeks the most up-to-date method of food preservation will be available to you in one of the most modern plants in the Southwest. Whether you reside in the city or on the farm, this new and unique refrigeration service is something you have desired for years.

FREEZING METHOD OF PRESERVING IS NO WORK

The freezing method of preserving meat, vegetables and fruits for table use has brought a new and delightful service to every city and country home. You can now have the best FOWL, VEAL, BEEF, PORK, FISH OR WILD GAME, ALSO FRESH SWEET CORN, GREEN PEAS, STRING BEANS, and other VEGETABLES and FRUITS all seasons of the year at no extra cost when you have a locker.

THE LOCKER SYSTEM AND HOW EASILY IT WORKS

You can have these foods preserved by this new, modern and sanitary method at less cost than that of the old canning way, and you need not cook, steam, smoke or boil them preparatory to freezing. You need not jeopardize your health or the well-being of your family by eating and serving foods that have lost their flavor and food value by extensive heating, pickling or salting methods of preservation. The freezing method and locker system gives the customer an even greater profit because there is no chance of spoilage or severe shrinkage, and the advantage of fresh wholesome meats, fruits and vegetables, in or out of season. This method is the best, simplest, easiest and cheapest yet discovered by modern science.

LOCKERS

Fresh killed meats will be placed in the Chill Room where a constant temperature of 33 degrees is maintained. After the meat has been properly chilled it will be placed in the ageing room where it will be properly aged under ideal conditions. This is an all important procedure, as it puts the meats in proper condition before processing. From the ageing room the meat will go to the cutting room where it will be cut, boned, and wrapped in a special paper for freezing. Then the meats will be placed in the Sharp Freezer, where the temperature is 10 degrees below zero. ALL THE FLAVOR AND FOOD VALUE ARE FROZEN IN DUE TO THE RAPIDITY WITH WHICH IT IS FROZEN. THE fast-frozen packages are now ready to be placed in your individual locker, to which only you and the plant manager will have a key. The temperature of the Locker Room is held at 0 degrees. Thus with the advantage of fast freezing below zero, we are able to preserve your food from six months to one year (depending upon the kind of food) without any loss of flavor or food value. It is proven by the United States Government through their own Research Bureau that the fast frozen meats are 20 per cent more tender than those that are not frozen.

All meats will be handled by an experienced butcher who will cut, trim, and wrap into desired weights, ready for the lockers. Each package will be marked as to its contents, weight, and date of packing. Hamburger and sausage will be ground and mixed as desired. Lard stock will be prepared for rendering. All meat is cut and wrapped according to instructions given by patron. A small fee will be charged for all work done by the butcher.

A sportsman's service will also be maintained. He may have his wild game and fish picked, cleaned, and butchered and wrapped at a very small cost, then placed in the individual locker for present or later use.

Lockers will be of the most sanitary and serviceable type of modern construction. Each with a separate lock and a virtual safe-box. Prices for locker rentals will be from $10.00 to $15.00 per year. Lockers will hold from 250 pounds to 400 pounds of packaged meat.

ADVANTAGES

Compared To Farm Butchering And Processing

1. Frozen meats and poultry are likely to be more palatable than canned or cured meats.
2. Freezing eliminates the drudgery and trouble of home canning, fruits and vegetables.
3. Locker Storage permits butchering at any time of year instead of having to wait for cool weather.
4. Meat cutting by an experienced meat cutter is likely to result in a better utilization of the carcass than would be the case with most home cutting.
5. No chance for contamination or spoilage.

For The Town Family

1. A substantial saving can be made, even for only two in a family.
2. A supply of high quality meats can be bought at wholesale prices from us, or from some of our patrons to be withdrawn when needed.
3. Quick freezing service is offered each locker renter who wishes to put up his own fruits and vegetables.
4. Storage for game and fish. Vacation fishermen can ship fish back and hold them as long as they wish.
5. In driving through the country, bargains often present themselves where a saving could be made by the use of a locker.
6. Poultry and butter can be bought when it is cheap and stored for future use.
7. Higher quality meals can be served at less expense.
8. Food unusual and out of season, is always a pleasant surprise to friends and guests.

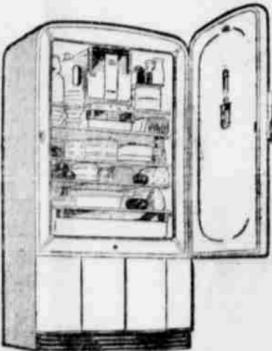

YOU ARE INVITED TO PAY US A VISIT, WE WILL SHOW YOU THROUGH OUR PLANT, AND EXPLAIN THE SERVICE TO YOU IN DETAIL, AND WHEN THE OPPORTUNITY ARISES, WE WILL APPRECIATE THE PRIVILEGE OF SERVING YOU. OUR PLANT IS LOCATED ON THE GIN PROPERTY WHICH LIES TO THE RIGHT OF HIGHWAY 51, JUST ACROSS THE RAILROAD.

Revised Film Exposes Nazi Work In U. S.

The sensational film "Confessions of a Nazi Spy," has been made over and the new version will be shown at the Palace Theatre on Friday and Saturday nights.

When the picture was first produced, Will Hays, the czar of the motion picture business had much of the film cut because much of the subject matter was of a very controversial nature. Now all of the cut celluloid has been replaced and a new ending has been produced, bringing the picture into the present World War. This picture is very timely because of the current Fifth Column activities in America today.

Campaign For Red Cross War Relief Funds Continue

Guest Speaker At Banquet Last Night

Col. E. O. Thompson, State Railroad Commissioner, and Candidate for the Governorship of Texas, delivered a very instructive address on the war situation in Europe, at the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce annual banquet Wednesday evening. A Lieut. Colonel in the World War Col. Thompson is a member of the 36th Division of the National Guard.

As announced by Rev. Donald Harris, Chairman, a total of $183.55 has been received in Red Cross War Relief funds in response to the drive staged last week.

Since this falls considerably short of the quota for Littlefield, the drive will be continued Saturday, when a group of college students, home for their vacation, dressed in Red Cross uniforms, will make a canvass of the business and residential districts for funds.

Included in this group, according to Rev. Harris, will be: Misses Mary Louise Seale, Minnie Kate Grissom, Virginia Walker Mary Neal Weatherly, Ruth Griffin, Margaret Coffman, and Alice Lynn Street.

It is understood that Sudan has secured its quota of $150.00 while Amherst is still working towards its goal of $100.00. Olton's quota is $150.00, and they are reported to be making progress towards attaining their quota.

All citizens of Littlefield and Lamb County are urged to assist in this very worthy cause, so that the quota for this county may be reached, and forwarded to aid the starving and destitute in Europe.

From Red Cross Headquarters, St. Louis, Mo., comes the following appeal:

When the Red Cross asks you and other Americans for ten millions dollars to help the sick and wounded, the starving and destitute, think of the sum total of horror.

A movement got underway here this past week, and a petition was taken around to the business men of this city, for signatures urging Congress to assist the Allies, (France and England) by the supplying to them of the necessities of war, food and supplies, on other than a cash basis, pointing out that the cash and carry system now in operation was a serious handicap in the carrying out of military operations to a successful conclusion.

Reports indicate that a large number signed the petition, which is being sent to Washington, and that also a number of personal messages had been sent to the representatives and Senators in connection with same.
