

Sales Tax Goes Into Effect Friday

TOWN and COUNTRY

by Wendell Tooley

WELL, I could sit here and cry for days over the slide of taxes that continue to befall us... how, I won't have the problem of bookkeeping that our merchants will experience. It'll be pretentious to take care of a tax on a $5.00 subscrip-

Our area farmers have a license fee of $5.00 coming up on their trailers... they too, have more tax troubles. We'll have the complete information on the new license law in today's paper. I visited county tax assessor - Director Herbert Dunn yesterday and he's given me most of the "poop" or new trailer law.

On the other hand, there are many people in various parts all over the world who would just love to live in a country where they could afford to pay taxes... enjoy a better way of life along with them.

Chick Conway just talked by my office door and I heard him tell editor that cat food isn't taxable, but bird food is taxable under the new state sales tax plan.

The Reckless Fool

By Phil Braniff

Have you ever heard the rattle of a dying man's last breath? Or seen the look of horror in the stare that faces death? Have you ever heard a person scream and writhe in sudden pain? And look down at a mangled arm that will not move again? Or have you heard the moaning and smelled the stench of gin? And seen the gory, bloody gap where once an eye had been?

When your car is doing fifty, have you ever felt the yeh? To let 'er have another notch 'n do another ten? When a pokey guy's ahead of you have you ever had the thrill? Of swingin' out 'n passin' him upon a dangerous hill? Or have you ever felt the old car scream 'n lurch 'n swerve? As you let 'er have the limit while you took a sudden curve?

Have you ever seen the wreckage of an automobile crash, With flesh and steel made into a morbid, gruesome hash? Have you ever seen the entrails 'n the ears, 'n arms 'n hand? 'N hat 'n shoes 'n fingers or what once had been a man? Have you ever seen the jagged bone stick through a mangled leg? And heard the blood-smeared victim pray 'n cry 'n beg?

Have you ever had the keen sensation of a fast car at your bid? 'N run up to a stop sign 'n slap 'em on 'n skid? Did you ever pass a school yard 'n give the horn a slam? 'N drive close to a gang o' kids 'n see 'em jump 'n scam? Did you ever take a quart o' rye 'n swallow four or five? 'N take the old bus down the road 'n show 'em how to drive?

Have you ever seen a little child all crumpled up 'n still? Who tried to run across the street while a car came down a hill? Have you seen men's brains on fenders? Have you seen blood in the street? Have you seen them stare at the bloody stumps of things that once were feet? Have you ever heard the crash 'n scream 'n seen the ghastly stare? On the face of what had been the driver 'n the rest of the man not there?

Morbid 'n gruesome 'n gory this, I'm sorry, but don't you see? This was not meant to be read by folks as tender as you 'n me. It was meant for the thoughtless 'n careless, who kill 'n maim 'n mar -- The reckless fool who is to blame -- THE MAN IN THE OTHER CAR! Editor's Note: Regardless of where you drive, Please drive to stay alive. For if you don't, this Labor Day An accident or death is the price you pay.

with the game beginning at 8 p.m. Olton finished the regular season last year with a ten win - no loss record. The Mustangs defeated Petersburg last season 44 to 20 to open the year.

FIXING STREET CHAINS -- Patrolman Jim Cooper is tightening the chain on the new post at First Street and Lake Avenue as assistant Police Chief James Cox fixes the street closed sign on the chain. The two policemen were checking the equipment in preparation for the opening of school next Tuesday.

Several local merchants representing a variety of businesses were contacted to find out how the bill would effect them and what problems they were going to encounter.

From all indications farmers will be exempt from taxes on items that are used to produce or market products but they will be kept busy signing forms claiming the exemption.

Along this line one exception looms on the horizon and was explained by Jim Crump, local lumber dealer. If a farmer buys a trailer already completed there is no tax, but if he buys the lumber to construct his own trailer, the lumber is taxable. Crump said this may change, but that is the way it stands now.

By the same token if a farmer buys a shovel for use on his farm in producing goods there is no tax but he must sign an exemption slip. The shovel is taxable if purchased by anyone other than a farmer.

In the grocery store you can expect to pay tax on all paper products, bottled and canned soft drinks, housewares, light bulbs, drink mixes, candy, gum, cough drops, mints, snuff, frozen punches, ades, drinks (not juices) canned ades, drinks (not juices) household cleaners, candles, charcoal, lighter fluid, garden supplies, matches, toothpicks, car wax, shoe polish, water softener, fly swatters, insecticides, school supplies and bottle water.

Bottle water presents a conflict in the law which states specifically that water is not taxable. Chick Conway, local grocery store manager, said his biggest problem would be in sorting out the taxable items from those exempt. Each item that is taxable will be marked as taxable he said.

Fifteen-year-old Judy McCorkle, an honor student and expert horse-woman, died about 5:40 p.m. Sunday in Methodist Hospital without regaining consciousness after being injured Saturday in a riding accident.

The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. G. McCorkle, 4910 21st St., was injured about noon Saturday on a ranch near Littlefield when her horse hit another horse and the horse fell on her.

Judy, who would have been a sophomore at Tom S. Lubbock High School, was on a campout when the mishap occurred. Officials said she was participating in a pony express type race, boys against girls, and Judy was the first rider on the girls' team.

Attorney General's department has collected $301,008 in inheritance taxes from Blakley - Braniff Foundation; former U. S. Senator William A. Blakley agreed to pay in full without contest.

Officials said Judy was about to hand off her baton to the next rider when her horse crashed into another and one of the horses fell on her.

The young Lubbock girl was injured on the J. A. Fortenberry farm about nine miles west of Littlefield. She was brought to a Littlefield hospital after the accident and was then taken to the Lubbock Hospital by Hammons Funeral Home.

Beginning tomorrow (Friday) Texans will begin paying a selective two percent sales tax. Not too many months ago we came out for a sales tax as the answer to the money problems facing our state government. We suggested a broad based sales tax covering all retail sales, but like so many other things we have suggested, it wasn't adopted. Instead, a confusing selective sales tax was passed. Today, I doubt if there is any person in the state who knows just exactly what and what ain't taxable. Billings are pouring out of the office of the state comptroller, each listing another specific item either taxable or exempt. I think the statement made by the comptroller that if a merchant is in doubt about an item he should collect a tax to be safe, leaves the impression that the comptroller is confused as the rest of us. At present there are too many loopholes in the new measure. . . loopholes that can and will be used until firmer rulings are made. Meanwhile, the clothing, drug and grocery merchants are getting set to

From Your Chamber Office

Tomorrow, Friday, Sept. 1, we will hold our monthly Membership Meeting at Thornton's Cafeteria.

The program for the meeting will be a discussion of the Retail Sales Tax law as passed by the recent special session of the State Legislature.

We will have a short presentation on the bill and then attempt to answer specific questions in regard to taxable items, methods of computing taxes, etc.,

Anyone interested is certainly invited to attend this meeting. None of us are tax experts or for that matter are we authorities on the bill. As a matter of fact, I am told that the State Comptroller is in a bit of a "muddle" as we are in attempting to interpret the legislation.

For the most part, we will be relating information that was involved in the discussions of the bill in Lubbock last Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Naturally, what we say will be unofficial and the State Comptroller may reverse any opinions that we express at anytime but since the tax bill goes into effect Friday, it is our opinion that we should have something to go on.

Let's face it. At the best this is a bad bill. It is not the type bill that anyone in the State wanted. Some folks wanted a State Payroll Tax, others a graduated Income Tax, still others including the Governmental Affairs Committee wanted a Straight-Across-the-Board Sales Tax. This bill is here and we will have to live with it until some changes can be made seven of our area schools as they open the football season. School began in most of these towns Monday and the remainder will begin either Monday or Tuesday of next week. If the weather continues to be as cool as it has the past week or so, the sports fans should take along a coat. Our best wishes to each team and we hope each has a winning season.

The Berlin situation isn't getting any better. The East Berlin police are getting more strict on the flow from their section of the city. They are shooting persons trying to swim canals to freedom. The "Bald One" has ordered an extension for all military men who were going to get out of the Russian Army until a peace treaty is signed with Germany. They may have a long extension. Castro is trying to get the Brazilian Communists to revolt and go into the hills as he did. Brazil is at present torn by civil strife after their president resigned. And there will be wars and rumors of wars.

Fall is in the air, at least it is this Friday for through amendments by the legislature.

We should be operating on the safe side as a result of the information conveyed at the meetings in Lubbock. We are told that the State Comptroller of office is watching the results obtained from this and other similar meetings throughout the State seeking information to base further official interpretation of the bill.

We believe the discussion Friday, should be helpful. Especially to business people who were unable to attend the meetings in Lubbock this week.

President Reast will preside over the meeting. Also, F. F. A. awards of the month for both Junior and Senior High will be presented.

As usual, those who attend the meeting will go through the cafeteria line and take their food to the dining room in the rear where the meeting will be held.

Big Demand For Poultry Manure For Fertilizer

Poultry manure has been used as a fertilizer for many years, but only recently on a limited commercial basis. Due to the increasing size of poultry operations, thus an increased supply of poultry manure, interest in its use as a commercial product has been on the increase.

Research indicates poultry manure is worth approximately $6 to $8 per ton for inorganic fertilizer materials. This represents almost 5 million dollars worth of poultry manure annually as a by-product of the Texas poultry industry. Commonly used litters such as wood shavings, cane pulp and other organic materials add considerably to the value of poultry manure because they improve the friability, structure and organic content of the soil. Poultry manure may be applied to the soil in either a processed or an unprocessed form. Processing usually consists of drying the material to a moisture content of approximately 10 to 12 percent for satisfactory packaging and storing. This dried material is usually ground or shredded. Some work has been done in other states to develop a way to process poultry manure into pellets. This form makes it easier to market and apply to the soil in known quantities.

Before applying poultry manure to soils, the needs of the soil should be determined, as should the chemical composition of the manure.

All of the problems found in processing, marketing and use of poultry manure are discussed in a recent Extension Service publication, MP-516, "Poultry Manure." A copy of this publication may be obtained from the local county agent or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Sales Tax

is not taxable. There are several exceptions to this rule, gloves being one of them.

Amos Ward, clothing store manager, said he had received a bulletin from his company setting up some rules to follow in collecting the tax. The bulletin states basically the same thing as the tax bill, and tells the local manager to watch for further rulings from the state comptroller.

Ward said he didn't foresee any big problems in collecting or reporting the tax. Kenneth Ware, another clothier, said he felt he didn't know enough about the tax and his biggest problem will be the bookkeeping. He commented that for a while he was sure it was going to be a trial and error method.

Jim Joyner and Milburn Fuller, both clothiers, said their biggest problem was getting their clerks and the public used to paying the tax. Both had several items still in question.

Further statements from the comptroller said that in clothing if a single item was priced under $10 (outer wearing garment) there would be no tax regardless of how many were purchased at any one time.

The drug stores as a whole will have just two departments that are exempt from the tax. Prescriptions and tobaccos are not taxable under the new law.

Bob Roden and Dan Stagg were contacted as to how they were going to handle the situation and the problems. Both said they were using the cash register to separate the taxable from the non-taxable items they hope to solve their collection problems. Prescriptions and tobacco will be kept separate from the other items sold in their stores.

In the automotive retail business, the cars are exempt from the new tax because they are already taxed. Leasing of auto will be taxable, as will all parts and oils sold to the ultimate consumer. Parts sold for resale will not be taxed. Horace Mitchell, auto dealer, said his company will have a stamp to put on sales slips sold for resale. He emphasized that any part sold to the final consumer would be taxable. The furniture business will have to collect two percent on every item sold, according to E. C. Rodgers local furniture dealer.

There will be many rulings coming from the office of the comptroller in order to clarify questionable items, but Mr. and Mrs. Consumer you might just as well have your pennies ready, Texas has a confused, selective SALES TAX.

Town

erica are ripping up miles of expensive carpeting, punching ruinous dents in acres of oak, maple and pine, and stamping holes in concrete, steel, ceramic tile and every kind of floor surface known to man.

Liston goes on to say that those needle-spikes make a half dozen women walking across a floor just like a herd of elephants invading a house!

"If a 110-pound woman takes a step in the shaft-type heel, she exerts a force of three quarters of a ton per square inch." . . . this might be compared to a forceful blow with the edge of a hammer. On a luxury floor of vinyl, asphalt tile or similar material, the shaft steel leaves a series of half-moon indentations.

"If a 10-pound woman glides along on a pair of nail head spikes, she's magnifying her weight to between 12,000 and 60,000 pounds. She's equal to an elephant and the floor is peppered with tiny indentations."

Along with lacerating lawns and dimpling hot asphalt at crosswalks, American women have created a notable expense for aircraft manufacturers. The Boeing Co., among other makers of commercial airliners, have come under their heels. The Boeing 707 jet had to be sent back to structural engineers for reinforced floors. The spikes gouged through the aisle rugs and the aluminum panels underneath!

I've always wondered how women could even stand up and walk on the narrow spikes and according to a report from the National Safety Council, their report shows that on a study of 560 women who sprawled on the corridors of the Pentagon during 1957 maneuvers, 200 were injured . . . that's only one office building in one year.

There's probably no answer to the spike problem in the near future because women continue to "be fashionable" by wearing them. . . very few are going to go barefooted. . . guess the women will have to just suffer it out (if they'll admit they're suffering.)

My business neighbor Velma Smith just came in and she admitted that she's pock-marked her new vinyl floors with spikes.

We got off into talk about taxes and she discovered that she'll have to collect taxes on the hot dogs that she'll be selling along with other band parents this Fall at the football games!

GENE GARRISON and the governmental affairs committees did everything in their power to interest or make the State Legislature see that the best sales tax (if there is such a thing) would be a broad based one of 1 or 2% on everything. Their main objective in getting this type of tax is quite evident now as the so-called sales tax we have on our hands turns out to be the most "selective type" of tax I've ever seen.

We all like to say, "I told you so" . . . and like I said in one other paragraph in this column, we may not like taxes, but in America we can express our opinions about them without fear of firing squad or imprisonment.

WHEN the theatre business comes up with a particular good show, I think they should be complimented and the local theatre has come up with two very fine movies this week. "The Parent Trap" is a family-type show with a good plot and plenty of humorous entertainment. "Ben Hur" is a fine type of presentation I know and I look forward to seeing it. The wife got to see them both this week. I've only been able to see "Parent Trap."

Violators Face Enlarged Force

Captain E. L. Posey, Highway Patrol Commander in this area, today announced that traffic law violators will be severely dealt with during the Labor Day weekend.

lators that contribute to accidents."

Operation Motorcade, from 12:01 a.m. Saturday, September 2, through 11:59 p.m. Monday, September 4, 1961, will be in effect. "During this 72 hour period an all out effort will be made by our enforcement personnel to hold the official traffic death prediction of 30 persons to a minimum. All available radar units will be in operation, with instructions being given to our Patrolmen to be particularly watchful for the speeder and the drinking driver," Posey stated.

Captain Posey advised all motorists to take plenty of time, rest, and use defensive driving practices, regardless of the length of your trip. Do not forget that fatigue is a resulting factor from long trips without proper rest and contributes to accidents. A tired driver may wake up "dead tired," Posey cautioned.

Farm fires in 1959 resulted in an estimated property loss of $174 million, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. -- Gov. Price Daniel, pointing to the record of most other states that have a general sales tax, warns Texans that without concerted efforts to shave state spending the Texas tax could grow to three or four percent in the future.

More than that, he said, unless there is "prudent economy and reorganization of state funds and services," a state income tax might become law.

To make his point, Governor Daniel reported that two-thirds of the 34 states that have general sales taxes have increased the rate to three per cent or more and there are now four states charging a four per cent sales tax.

He again made clear his dislike for the two per cent Texas tax, but added: "So much for the good and bad which will result from the new tax bill. On September 1 it will be the law of our state, and as long as the law is in effect it behooves all of us, whether we like it or not, to cooperate in its enforcement. This I shall do, and I believe every good citizen will do likewise."

Meanwhile State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert is being swamped with questions about the new tax. After checking with other states which have pioneered in this field, he has become reconciled to the likelihood that confusion will reign for some time to come. A spokesman for his office pointed out that "California and Illinois got a sales tax in 1933, and they're still issuing rulings."

The Texas Research League has noted that the tax bill exempts sales of animals ordinarily eaten by humans. Also feed for such animals. Exempt too are seeds and plants edible by humans and raised for sale fungicides and insecticides for such plants, and fertilizer used on lands where such food is grown.

But the researchers say this exemption would not apply to tropical fish, grass seed and fertilizer for lawns and rose bushes.

MORE WORK FOR NEXT SESSION -- Governor Daniel has found several more items to be submitted to the next special session of the Legislature. He plans to call the lawmakers back to Austin again before the end of the year.

Daniel's expanding package now includes maintenance funds for farm roads, loan shark control, municipal annexation, tourist attraction, lobbyist controls, adding banks to the abandoned property seizure law, improved law enforcement measures, and action on juvenile crime.

"As long as Texas continues to grow," he said, "there will be more problems to solve, but there are some which should not be delayed. It will be my aim to meet the most urgent of these later this year or in January of next year."

Governor Daniel vetoed the second year appropriation of $15,000,000 for construction of new farm-to-market roads, in an effort to free these funds for maintenance. The $15,000,000 for this purpose for the first year of the new biennium was not affected.

A law passed in 1949 provides for the use of this yearly amount for new construction. But the Governor insists, "It is just as important to maintain our vast and important 33,000 mile farm road system as it is to build new roads. Maintenance costs, now amounting to $18,000,000 annually, are taken from the basic intrastate highway fund which is the poorest of all department programs."

BLUE LAW CONFUSION -- Under the new Texas "Blue Law," shopping for certain items on Saturday or Sunday may prove a chore.

The law started out as a device to hit the discount houses operating on Sunday and was changed to include Saturday as an alternate because the lawmakers felt a straight Sunday closing law might appear discriminatory to some religious groups who observe the Sabbath on other days.

Included in the list of items merchants are not allowed to sell on one of the two weekend days are lawn mowers, toys, motor vehicles, clothing, furniture, kitchen utensils, air conditioners, home appliances, jewelry, cameras, radios and television sets.

The law has teeth -- a fine of $100 is provided for the first conviction, going up to $500 and six months in jail for subsequent convictions.

SELLING TEXAS IS BIG JOB -- The State Industrial Commission, given $100,000 by the Legislature and charged with the duty of selling Texas as the place for industries to locate, faces a challenge.

Chairman E. B. Germany told the commission, "It is a challenge to make that $100,000 do what it is supposed to do even though it is not enough to do what we want to do."

Executive Director Walter Dickerson reported 3,000 copies of a brochure entitled "Texas: A Strategic Location" have been printed. Brochure will be distributed to a "very carefully selected group of people who have responsibility for making decisions," says Dickerson.

He appealed to Texas cities to contribute information for the commission's industrial surveys. Such information would be kept on file for the use of industrialists considering Texas sites. This would make it possible for industrialists to choose an area without it being known in advance.

ATHLETICS NOT SELF-SUPPORTING -- State college and university athletic programs, with few exceptions, are not self-supporting, says State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

He made the statement in connection with a report on the operations of Sul Ross State College at Alpine where the athletic program showed a $26,357 loss for the year. Income was $56,245, while expenditures amounted to $80,136.

Cavness noted that athletic scholarships and coaching salaries have been paid from educational and general funds.

...some kids are fightin' to do the dishes-electrically

They've found it's as much fun to "load" the dishwasher as it is to load their guns for cowboys and Indians. Much easier on mother's nerves, too. Handwashing dishes takes an average of 728 hours a year -- that's a monthful of 24 hours a day. It's hard on the hands, too.

A portable dishwasher -- that requires nothing special in plumbing or wiring -- or a built-in model will cut your dishwashing time down to minutes. Gets the kids in the act, too -- willingly and safely.

Don't be a dishwasher -- buy one.

COVER CROP - Rye planted with a broadcast seeder in dryland cotton with last cultivation provides an excellent cover crop.

COTTON BURS - Applied at about 14 tons per acre, cotton burs worked in with a tandem disk save soil, add fertility.

Cover Crops Save Soil, Add To Fertility

Protecting the top soil is one of the mottoes of the Lamb County board of supervisors.

Since the feed grain program went into effect this spring there are several hundred acres in the County that will be bare of any vegetation, plus the land that was planted to cotton. Some of this land was planted to peas or some warm season crop.

The cotton and the lay-out land both present a blowing hazard even though we have a mild spring. With a dry winter and high spring winds there will be very little that can be done to prevent or control wind erosion.

Wiley Mudgett, chairman of the SCD Board of supervisors, urges the use of winter small grains, vetch or a mixture of the two to be drilled where it is possible and broadcast in the cotton with the last cultivation. By using a cover crop very little moisture will be lost. More than likely there will be an increase in the saving of moisture due to the mulching effect and holding the drifting snows or by slowing down the runoff water from rains. "To save several trips over the field with a lister or chisel to control the blowing land, plant a cover crop," says Mudgett.

Some of the recommended rates for rye, barley or wheat on dryland drilled are:

30 to 60 pounds per acre depending on the soil, the sandier soils require the heavier seeding rates.

Irrigated land required 45 to 75 pounds per acre drilled where it is interplanted.

20 to 30 pounds for dryland and 30 to 45 pounds for irrigated with planting dates from August 15 to November 1.

Where winter oats are used the seeding rates are 32 to 48 pounds for dryland or 48 to 64 pounds for irrigated with planting dates from January 15 to March 15.

Vetch is 15 to 25 pounds for irrigated or 7 to 10 pounds mixed with small grain for dryland.

Planting a cover crop to hold the soil where it belongs is one way, applying cotton burs as a mulch is another as both will do two things, hold the organic matter and fertility that is there plus adding more when they decay.

Philosopher Comes With Fool-Proof Method To Finally Unite Mankind

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a fanciful flight this week, but lands back on the ground.

Dear editor:

A bunch of us was sitting around talking about the terrible world situation -- it's a funny thing, I never have been able to understand why the leaders in this country can't solve these big problems when there are plenty of people practically everywhere who can tell them exactly how to do it, although I'll admit some of them have a little trouble handling their own problems at home especially the financial ones -- and one man said he didn't believe there is any solution to the international situation.

"If it's not Cuba, it's Berlin, and tomorrow or the day after there'll be something else. I can't see anything but turmoil and crisis ahead for this world for a long time to come," he said. "In fact," he added, "I don't think there is a solution, and there probably never will be."

I came home and got to thinking about this and after thinking through four naps and three or four working days I have finally hit on a solution. I have figured out a way for man to live with man and stop all this turmoil and nation - against - nation warfare.

The thing to do is to keep exploring space, don't just stop with the moon, keep going, to Venus, Mars etc., and still keep going until one day amid the billions of planets I understand are out in space, somebody from the earth may run into a planet that is inhabited by people.

Now when he does, if he's smart, he'll make these people mad. Scorch them with the tail from his rocket's jet - blast, turn some mosquitoes and flies loose on them, spread the common cold among them, drop them some television sets, give them the recipe for instant mashed potatoes, anything to make them boiling mad, then high-tail it for home.

Naturally, these people on this strange planet will declare war on the earth, and not having ever heard of the United States or Cuba or Russia or Scandinavia or East Berlin or Democrats, Republicans, Socialists or Communists, will start fighting everybody, helter - skelter, and the only thing for us to do will be to unite and start fighting back. This positively will unite the world, and while it won't eliminate fighting, it'll eliminate fighting among ourselves.

If you think this plan has any merit, you think more of it than I do.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Beef Cattle Need Minerals

Today's beef cattle are hardy individuals and they take care of themselves in most situations. The one big exception is the matter of getting enough of the right kind of food. If they are not in the pasture, the cattle must simply do without. This is where the cattleman comes in -- it is his job to see that his cattle receive all of the nutrients they need to realize their potential as money makers.

As U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman, points out, however, the cattleman cannot solve all of his problems by simply running out and buying all of the minerals and vitamins available. Before he buys any, he must make a decision as to which minerals are needed. This choice is complicated by the many different types and forms available. Single minerals, mixtures, minerals fortified with vitamins and minerals high in protein are available in any feed store. What should the cattleman buy?

Here are the current findings from Texas A & M. First of all, cattle should have access to common salt year round. Salt contains sodium and chlorine and aids in digestion, points out Thompson. The form or color makes little difference to the cow, but both forms should be protected from the rain to prevent waste. Salt is usually cheaper when purchased by itself rather than mixed.

The major mineral problem in Texas is the lack of phosphorus. Phosphorus deficiency reduces the calf crop, and those that are born weigh less at weaning time. When green grazing is available, so is phosphorus, but when the grass browns up the phosphorus is gone. The same is true of protein and vitamin A. Thompson says the most practical way to supply phosphorus is to keep bone-meal out the year round in a weather protected trough. The animals will eat as much as they need.

No trace mineral deficiencies are known to exist at this time in Texas. Only small amounts of sulphur, copper and cobalt are recognized as essential, and it is felt these are in the feeds which cattle consume.

If you think you may be having mineral problems, drop in to see your county agent. He has a bulletin, B-174, "Minerals For Beef Cattle," which contains the latest information on beef cattle mineral needs. Ask him for a copy.

Small Grains Should Be Treated

Treat small grain seed for higher yields and greater profits. That's the advice of R. J. Hodges, extension agronomist, who reminds farmers that the time for treating is now -- even though small grain seeding time is still a few weeks away.

By treating now, the farmer can avoid the seasonal rush and be sure the crop is protected against disease, Hodges points out.

When treating wheat, oats, barley or rye, be sure to use a mercury treatment. By applying a mercury treatment early, the farmer gains the additional benefit of "vapor action." Vapor action assures that all disease organisms on the seed surface and inside cracks and crevices are killed.

For further information on seed treatment, contact your local county agent.

As the seed is treated, small amounts of the chemical are deposited on each seed. Within a few hours, organic mercury on the seed vaporizes, and the vapors surround the kernels and penetrate into the cracks. The vapors later condense and become permanently and uniformly attached to the seed. They will not dust off or deteriorate while the seed is in storage or in the drill.

Even after the treated seeds are planted, the treatment continues to protect the seed from disease organisms in the soil says Hodges.

Vegetable Acreage Marketing Guides Released By USDA

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has released acreage - marketing guides for the 1962 crop winter vegetables for fresh use and winter potatoes. They call for an 8 per cent cut in vegetables and 3 per cent for potatoes.

The guides, according to Clyde Singletary, extension horticulturist, are designed to assist growers in planning production, that is, balancing production with market requirements. Singletary points out that the performance of every vegetable grower has a bearing upon the ultimate market for a given vegetable. Therefore, he adds, to improve the prospects for a successful season, each grower should adjust his acreage in accordance with the individual commodity guide. For example, if a reduction of 10 per cent in the acreage of winter tomatoes from the previous season is recommended, every grower should then reduce his plantings by 10 percent.

Experience has shown, says the specialist, when growers keep their plantings in line with the levels suggested by the USDA guides, fewer marketing difficulties are encountered.

The guides call for no change in acreages of snap beans, carrots, cauliflower kale and shallots. A 5 per cent increase in spinach acreage is suggested for Texas with no change for other states. Other suggested increases are 10 per cent for beets, 15 per cent for cucumbers and 40 per cent for sweet corn.

Reductions in acreage are suggested for broccoli, 10 percent; cabbage, 20 percent in Florida and Texas; escarole, 5 percent; lettuce, 15 per cent in Texas, Arizona and California; tomatoes, 10 per cent and potatoes, 5 per cent in California but no change in other states.

The 1962 guides call for a total of 232,000 acres to be planted to the 16 winter vegetables included, compared with 251,500 acres planted in 1961.

Tech To Have Tough Time Replacing Holub

Texas Tech celebrated "E. J. Holub Night" last winter, but the most significant tribute to the All-American center came during spring training. That's when J. T. King and his fellow coaches tried different Red Raiders for the No. 1 center spot. Not satisfied with early results, the staff finally moved a fullback and two ends to center.

So, Sept. 1, when the Raiders hit the practice field, fullback Charlie Harrison of Abilene will be running with the first unit, ahead of Dennis Grimes, a quarterback at Seagraves High School and defensive end for the Raiders as a 190 soph, and Tommy Turner of Garland, an end before subbing behind Holub and Temple's Dick Stafford last season.

Two other possibilities are sophomore Weldon Brown of Denver City, a junior Bob Witucki of Tulsa, Okla., Harrison actually never snapped the ball in spring training, but his linebacking as starting defensive fullback last year came to mind as the Raider staff began shuffling the roster early this summer. Despite his mere 185 pounds Harrison is a powerful hitter in baseball, too. He is a junior.

Grimes, 6-2, was an outstanding basketballer and track man as well as football quarterback for Seagraves. Last year, as a sophomore, he played sturdy defensive football and until suffering a knee injury.

Turner played end for the Raiders his sophomore season, and didn't see a lot of action last year as a center, since Holub spent little time on the bench. A second team all-stater when Garland won the state championship, Turner stands 6-1, weighs 186.

Brown, 6-3, was an all-regional performer at Denver City, lettering three years each in football and track.

Witucki played center, fullback, and end for the Raiders in 1959 before entering the service. He weighed 210 pounds upon discharge from the Army.

Costs least* when you buy... saves more when you drive

Here's the Classic Ford Look at the lowest Ford price. Ford Fairlane equipped the way most people like is the lowest-priced,* full-sized 6-passenger car of all... though you'd never guess it by looking. But more important still, is the engineering inside. Here are new achievement, new precision, new standards of quality. Here's a car that is built to be more service-free, and the savings mount up at you drive (the box at right shows you how). Altogether, the '61 Ford is so good that its dealers tripled the duration of the regular warranty.† Other cars followed. But Ford began the trend with the car built to back up its longer-term warranty! See why we say, this is the Ford in your future!

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD SAVES BECAUSE IT'S BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO BE MORE SERVICE-FREE!

- Saves on Lubrication—You'll normally go 30,000 miles between lubrications of major chassis components, which saves you time and money, because Ford has replaced conventional grease fittings with a sealed-in lubrication system.
- Saves on Oil Changes—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes because Ford's Full-Flow oil filter gives you filtration through fibers, and filters all the oil all the time.
- Saves on Brake Adjustments—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically.
- Saves with Extended Muffler Life—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminum to last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.
- Saves with Protective Body Coating—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath the doors.
- Saves with Special Body Finish—Ford's new Diamond Lustré enamel never needs waxing.
- Saves with Extended Warranty—Each part of '61 Ford, except tires, is dealer warranted against defects in materials or workmanship for 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. Owners remain responsible for normal maintenance service and routine replacement of maintenance items such as filters and ignition parts.

Beautifully built to be more service-free

Witnesses' Plan Texas Assembly

Jehovah's Witnesses of Texas Circuit No. 9 will have their next assembly in Wichita Falls, September 8 through the 10. Loyd Lowery, presiding minister of the Littlefield congregation, said, "The purpose of the 17 congregation assembly is to encourage one another in keeping integrity with Jehovah, the Sovereign of the universe."

Lowery said, "have agreed to carry out the commission that is found at Matthew 24:14, 'And this good news of the kingdom will be preached in all the inhabited earth for a witness to all the nations; and then the end will come.' There will be talks, discussions and demonstrations to help us to become more efficient in this world-wide witness work."

Farm Facts

The 1959 Census of Agriculture reported that there were 2,761,150 farms in the United States. This is the smallest number for the 48 states of any census since 1870.

There were 1,079,000 fewer farms in 1959 than in 1954. About 232,000 were no longer counted as farms because of a change in census definitions.

To be considered a farm, a place must have a minimum of 10 acres of productive land as compared with a minimum of 3 acres under the old definition. If it has less than 10 acres, sales of agricultural products must add up to at least $250 annually.

Even without a change in the definition of a farm, changes in farm size and number were great between 1954 and 1959.

Total farm acreage dropped from 1,158 million in 1954 to 1,120 million in 1959. The average size of farms increased from 242 to 302 acres.

Results of the 1959 census are evidence of a further concentration and specialization of agriculture in the United States.

There was a 30% drop in the number of farms selling more than $2,500 worth of products and a 36% rise in the number selling $10,000 worth or more.

In 1959 there were 280 farms of 1,000 acres or more. This compares with 420 in 1925.

U.S. farms are fewer but larger
