Lamb County Voters to Go to Polls Saturday

BIG ISSUES LAW HEAVIEST INTEREST HERE

Straw Vote Saturday To Select Constable

Who do you want as constable of Justice Precinct No. 4? All qualified voters of Precinct No. 4 will have an opportunity to express their choice in a straw vote which is to be taken Saturday, August 24.

This vote will not be taken as a part of the state election, but the balloting for constable will be carried out in the same buildings.

There are two voting boxes in Justice Precinct No. 4—One in Littlefield, the other in Pep. The Littlefield box will be at City Hall.

The straw vote will be conducted with two election judges at each box. There will be no printed ballot—all the voter need do is write his or her choice on a blank piece of paper and the vote will be deposited in a proper receptacle.

The appointment is to fill a vacancy created when Sem Hutson was made a deputy sheriff.

There has been considerable discussion as to who should receive the appointment as constable, and while such an appointment must be made by the Commissioners court, and will be made following the election, the Commissioners felt that the voters would welcome the opportunity to express their opinion.

FIRST GROUP OF CCC MEN COMES TO CITY MONDAY

Fourteen Enrollees Are Now Here; Two Officers Also Arrive

Twelve members of the cadre, or key men, recruited for the local CCC camp arrived here from Brownwood Monday, according to Lieut. Darwin S. Holden, camp commander.

A truck driver arrived on the same train from Clovis and another came from the New Mexico town Tuesday.

Thirty-eight more enrollees are due Friday, 70 Saturday, 41 Monday and the remaining 40 will come in Tuesday.

Second Lieut. Howard H. Davenport, of the engineers' reserve, and his wife arrived at the camp early in the week. An educational advisor is scheduled to appear before the end of the week, the commander said. Dr. Eugene Wolff, camp medical officer, is also here.

With all bedding, clothing, and accessories on hand, enrollees are awaiting arrival of the rest of the camp recruits before swinging into SCS work.

Ten of the 16 local experienced men to be selected have filed applications, according to Camp Supt. J. T. Reese. Pay for these men will range from $36 to $45 a month, Reese said. Applications will be approved by Reese, certified by the relief office and enrolled by the army staff at the camp.

Oil Test To Be Made In Cochran

Morton, August 21.—(Special)—Another location at which an oil test is to be spudded in by September 1 has been designated in Cochran county, five miles west and four miles south of Lehman, is the report of B. A. Warren, local Conoco wholesale agent, who was in that section during the early part of the week.

Excavation was in progress for a slush pit, and the construction of a derrick is supposed to begin within the next few days. Mr. Warren was told that drilling would begin not later than September 1 to comply with the existing contract.

The name of the company to make the test has not been made public, although it is supposed to be one of the two drilling concerns announced as signing contracts something over a year ago. The location is on the Slaughter lands in what is known as the "Scrapeout Pasture." This well will be near one of the tests made by the Continental Oil Company five or six years ago.

County Farmers Plan To Silage Their Feed

A large number of farmers of Lamb County are making plans to store part of their feed crop in the form of silage, states Donald Turner, assistant county agent.

Silage is considered a good substitute for green pasture. It has about the same value in a ration for a dairy cow or beef animal, as green pasture, and a greater value if the feed stuff made into silage contains some grain.

A silo makes it possible to have green feed when it is too dry or too cold for green pasture, and serves as a container in which to store feed to use when feed shortages come.

A trench furnishes the cheapest form of silo from the standpoint of each expenditure. With the use of a turning plow and a fresa, a trench silo can be made with practically no expense. Other advantages of trench silos are: they may be constructed in a short time; they are less expensive to fill than an ordinary above the ground silo; they are wind and fire proof; and silage may be removed easily.

Further information regarding trench silos may be received at the county agent's office.

BOY STEPS OFF GRAND CANYON RIM AT NIGHT

Body Of L. C. Hanley, 23, Is Found On Ledge; Drops 500 Feet

L. C. Hanley, 23-year-old CCC camp enrollee and son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hanley of a mile west of Pep, fell off the rim of the Grand Canyon directly below Angel Lodge, Ariz., late Saturday and plunged to his death on a ledge 500 feet below, it was learned here Wednesday.

Authorities believed the youth, who had not been seen since Saturday midnight became confused in the darkness and walked off the almost perpendicular edge of the canyon. When he failed to appear the next day, a searching party was formed, led by forest rangers. The body was found Tuesday.

Graveside funeral services were to be held today for the popular and well-liked Pep youth, who was serving his enrollment period as a civilian conservation corps member. Body was to arrive here at 10:51 a. m., today and rites were to be read at the Littlefield cemetery at 2 p. m.

A uniformed escort of six local CCC camp boys led by Lieut. Darwin S. Holden, commander and Dr. Eugene Wolff, camp medical officer was to escort the body to the cemetery.

Young Hanley was a favorite of Pep people. He worked in a cotton gin during the season there. He attended Pep school up to 1932.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hanley, and a younger brother, Gains. Other relatives to be here for the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hammond and son, Frank of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Rex Kemper of Charlie, Texas, and Mrs. J. O. Welch of Randlett, Oklahoma.

WILL ROGERS AND WILEY POST DEAD

FAMOUS HUMORIST

Will Rogers will be buried at 2 p. m. today at the Wee Kirk o' the Heather in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Los Angeles.

Will Rogers, beloved American humorist, and Wiley Post, globe-trotting aviator, were killed late Thursday when Post's new plane slipped and fell 50 feet head-on into a river bank 15 miles south of Point Barrow, Alaska.

Bodies of both men were being brought back to the United States early this week in a plane piloted by Joe Crosson, veteran Alaskan flyer and friend of Post. Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was directing the "mercy" flight.

Rogers, former Oklahoma cowboy, was to be laid to rest in California, according to Mrs. Helen Eaton, his Chelsea, Oklahoma niece. Post, also an Oklahoman, was to be buried in Oklahoma City.

Rogers and Post were in Alaska to hunt and to visit the Mantanuska farm settlement. Post had planned a leisurely flight to Siberia before the crash occurred.

A graphic description of how the accident happened was wirelessly to the War Department Saturday. The story, obtained from an awe-struck Eskimo who saw the plane fall, said that Rogers and Post had landed on a river ice floe near a sealing camp, and had asked the Eskimo camp owner the direction of Point Barrow, their destination on a 500-mile flight from Fairbanks.

The Eskimo pointed out the way, and the two famous men taxied to the other side of the river for a take-off into the wind. After the plane

AMHERST, MASHED O HANDS MOURN PASSING OF ROGERS

Gets Two Years On Seed Theft Charge

News of the death crash of Will Rogers and Wiley Post was received in Amherst Friday in much the same manner as a town views the untimely death of its leading citizen, for though Will Rogers had no home ties in that community, he had endeared himself to cow waddies and business men alike on his frequent visits to the Mashed O Ranch, home of Ewing Halsell.

Rogers last visited there in November, at which time he accompanied Halsell on a business trip to Vernon. "The Sage of Claremore" spent some time at the ranch during the summer of 1932 and 1933 when he assisted in branding and caring for the cattle and, foregoing the comforts of Halsell's palatial home when there was work to be done, Will ate with the cowboys at the chuck wagon and slept on the ground a night. He had been a cowboy in his youth, so preferred to stick with the boys in the work, and swap yarns with them in the evening.

Jimmie Rogers and Jimmie Blake, son and nephew of the famous comedian, latest members of the Rogers family to visit in this section, left

District grand jury wound up a heavy session at Olton Thursday of last week and adjourned to reconvene August 29.

V. L. Early and Clint Dyer were indicted on a charge of stealing and selling sudan seed from the farm of C. W. Campbell about three months ago. Dyer, already indicted on a burglary charge, is at liberty under bond.

L. E. Chaney was indicted on two counts, one of which is connected with a recent shooting scrape at Earth. The other is alleged violation of the prohibition law.

Cecil Jones was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary on a charge of stealing 800 pounds of sudan seed from the home of A. H. Bell, south of Olton, and alleged sale of the seed at Plainview.

Warren Aycock, Ed Hudson and Keith Jones were each indicted on charges of alleged chicken theft.

About six true bills were returned against operators of pool halls and domino parlors.

ALLEGED TO HAVE FORGED CHECKS

A woman giving her name as Lillian Lilly and her home as Lazbuddy was lodged in jail here Saturday under a charge of forging and cashing checks at Sudan stores. She was released under a $500 bond and will face grand jury proceedings during the week of August 29 at Olton.

PWA CONFERENCE

G. S. Glenn, Littlefield architect, is representing the Fieldton school district at a PWA conference, which is being held in Lubbock today. Julian Montgomery, acting state director of PWA, will be in attendance. Fieldton will erect a new school structure under the PWA financing plan.

L. B. Stone and his brother, Max Stone, of Portales, will return Friday from a business trip to Dallas. Mrs. Max Stone is visiting Mrs. L. B. Stone.

The Divorce Court MURDER

by Milton Propper

The trouble started in Mr. Dawson's private law office. Six people were discussing the case of Rowland vs. Rowland and four of those people were angry.

Mrs. Rowland and her lawyer objected to the introduction of new evidence and a new witness.

The battle raged until Mr. Dawson, Divorce Court Master, ordered the new witness to be brought in.

She was in the next room, but they could not bring her in.

She was dead.

Then started a sensational investigation which involved one of Philadelphia's most respected families.

It led to scandal, intrigue, a sordid affair in a road house... and, finally, to a startling solution.

The Divorce Court Murder is a thrilling mystery story by a prolific young American author, Milton Propper. It is a story packed full of action from beginning to end with startling surprises for the reader at every turn.

Milton Propper is one of America's foremost writers of mystery thrillers. Other popular stories he has written are: The Student Fraternity Murder, The Strange Disappearance of Mary Young, The Boudoir Murder, The Family Burial Murders, The Ticker Tape Murder, etc., etc.

The Divorce Court Murder will start in this newspaper next week. It is one of Milton Propper's best stories. We urge our readers not to miss a single installment.

LET'S HELP!

CCC Camp enrollees are beginning to pour in from counties on all sides of our own, and it's time for farmers interested in getting soil conservation and erosion prevention work done on their land to get in touch with the camp chiefs and the county agent.

This camp is placed here for one purpose, to serve. Millions of dollars are being spent by the federal government for soil and forestry conservation all over the country. Without the close cooperation of landowners, this splendid service would not be possible.

Experienced agricultural engineers, agronomists, technicians and soil experts are working to preserve the fertility and prevent the erosion of valuable crop lands. But only your willingness to fall in with these people, Mr. Landowner, will assure aid for you and your neighbor.

When you receive a cooperative agreement from the county agent's office, sign it and mail it back. Whether you need erosion prevention work done on your property, or whether you are even interested in having it inspected for improvements, you can still help your neighbor by signing this agreement.

The first school district which shows the quickest and highest spirit of cooperation with the work will be the first to benefit. And just how long the camp remains here to help depends on how willing you, Mr. Landowner, are to cooperate.

So let's keep the camp here, and benefit from this splendid service. Sign your cooperative agreement and mail it back, and you'll live to see the day when you can pat yourself on the back for doing it.

Valley View Gin Undergoing Complete Reconditioning

The Valley View Gin is undergoing a complete overhauling in preparation of the fall season, according to R. E. McCaskill, owner.

The entire machinery is being reconditioned by the Murray Plant of Dallas, and considerable new equipment installed.

Mr. McCaskill made a trip to Dallas last week, and left again Wednesday of this week in connection with the improvements.

Mr. McCaskill is very enthusiastic over the cotton situation, and stated to a Leader representative that the farmers in the vicinity of his gin have the best crops they have had in several years. He also said that they had a wonderful feed crop.

He also operates a farm of 400 acres in Valley View, which he has planted to cotton, maize, hegari, broomcorn, etc.

And Now Comes Ray Ridling With Good Fish Story

Ray Ridling, who has been connected with a cleaning and pressing establishment at Cortez, Colorado, for several months, has returned to Littlefield, and has resumed his former connection with the Maddox Tailor Shop.

Mr. Ridling is being welcomed back home by a very large number of friends.

Coming home from Colorado, it is natural that Ray would comment on the fishing.

He contends that when the fish want to bite they bite, and that when they haven't got that notion, well, they just don't bite and there is nothing that anybody can do about it.

GEORGE W. ROSS PURCHASES INTEREST OF ROSS MAYHEW IN FARMERS GIN

A deal was consummated Thursday, whereby George W. Ross purchased the interest of Ross Mayhew in the Farmers Gin of this city.

Mr. Ross, who is a farmer living about 3 miles east of Littlefield has been a resident of this section for the past seven years.

Mr. Mayhew will continue with the gin, in the capacity of bookkeeper; Robert Bigham will continue as manager; and Mr. Ross will also occupy a position with the concern.

Messrs. Bigham and Mayhew have asked the Leader to express on their behalf appreciation to their friends and customers for their past business and to earnestly solicit the patronage of both old and new friends of the firm.

CHURCHES

METHODIST CHURCH
John W. Hendrix, Pastor

Here and there over the country we have been shifting about from one pulpit to another. This is the period of the year when so many churches have their revivals. Pastors have calls and go to meetings, thereby asking some neighbor pastor to fill his pulpit for a service. Two Sunday nights ago the above pastor asked one of our own town boys, Rev. D. B. Cobb, to have charge of the local church for the evening hour, and the pastor went to First Church, Lubbock.

This coming Sunday at the morning hour, inasmuch as Bro. Haynes of Sudan is holding a meeting near Comanche, this pastor will occupy his pulpit. In his absence, Superintendent A. B. Sanders will have charge of a lay service at the morning hour in the Methodist church. Mr. Sanders will use as his subject, "What is Christianity?" The pastor is happy over securing his services for this hour. The people of the church will hear him gladly.

There will be no evening service inasmuch as the Baptists are in a revival. It is our hope that the people will attend these services not only Sunday evening but during the week. Be sure to hear Mr. Sanders at the Sunday morning worship.

Sunday school will meet at 9:45 a. m. There is a class for every age.

At the evening hour, 7:45, the Young People will meet in their worship in the league room. Everything will be done to add every comfort to their gathering, and to make the meeting profitable to all. The leader is Frances Aven. The young people are having very interesting programs.

We fear many of our people are losing a great treat by not hearing Bro. Cole in the revival. The attendance is good but many of our people, of the citizens of Littlefield, whom we have every right to expect are not present. His sermons are interesting and freighted with a vital gospel message.

Nazarene Church At Earth To Hold Revival Sept. 5-15

Evangelist V. B. Atterberry will conduct the revival. He is superintendent of the Abilene district of Nazarene churches.

Bro. Dunn Returns

After an absence of more than six weeks in evangelistic work G. A. Dunn, Jr. is spending the week in town. During this time Rev. Dunn was in meetings at Blanton, Rising Star, Celeste and Farwell. He was at each of these places last year and reports larger crowds and more additions this year. He is to return to the last three places again next year.

Littlefield Church of Christ attended the Farwell meeting in a body. All were served refreshments on the lawn of the City Park there, and an enjoyable time was reported.

Rev. Dunn states that he is scheduled to begin a meeting Sunday at Lockney, but that he is trying to arrange for their local preacher to begin it Sunday so that he may speak at regular services here Sunday and then begin Monday at Lockney.

TABERNACLE BAPTIST CHURCH Premillennial Missionary Evangelical Jno. R. Denning, Pastor

Because of the pastor being in a revival meeting in Hill County, his "Gospel Half Hour" Radio Program each Sunday morning over KFYO will be discontinued until his return. At that time it is expected to increase the broadcasting period to one hour each Sunday morning, and continue throughout the Fall and Winter.

The Superintendent, R. C. Evans, urges that everyone be in their classes promptly next Sunday morning at 9:45, and that we strive for a peak attendance at each service while the pastor is away.

Preaching services will be held regularly at 11:00 a. m., and 8:30 p. m.

We are still old-fashioned enough to continue the regular Wednesday evening Prayer and Praise service, feeling this to be the most important of all services. Come and pray with us.

CHURCH OF CHRIST REVIVAL AT FAIRVIEW

The Church of Christ revival at Fairview began Saturday night, with Rev. C. R. Warsham of Nocona, Texas, doing the preaching. The meeting will continue for two weeks.

The Purpose Of Deposit Insurance

When Congress created the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation its primary objective was to protect depositors in the country's banks. The Corporation began insuring deposits January 1, 1934. It is now a permanent organization.

Because the corporation insures deposits in most of the banks of the country, including this one, millions of depositors enjoy a degree of financial security heretofore unknown.

When you have money on deposit here you know for a certainty that your deposits up to $5,000 are safeguarded against loss. Deposit Insurance is your protection.

All games will begin promptly at 8:15 p. m.

Entry lists will close Saturday night, Manager Cundiff said.

A number of special prizes will go to individuals for outstanding work. To be eliminated, a team must lose two games.

A CADDY'S LAMENT

OR: Big Dunes Tonight at the Sand Traps

A tinted sky
Casts shadows queer
Across both green

The dusk is rich
With cloudspots dark

The faithful caddy
Wends his path
Toward home, 'neath lowering
Skyway

He chants, while autos
Past him whizz,
"Are you a-goin'
My way?"

By the way, have you noticed the smooth greens and fairways of Littlefield's renovated course these days. Pay your dues, grab your clubs, and come out for a round 'neath smiling skies. It'll whittle down that wandering waistline, and leave you feeling as high and mighty as the price of the 1934 feed crop. . . . The healthy results are more than worth the trouble.

Wildcat football will take the field within a very few days, now. And prospects for a salty 1935 squad look much rozier than they did during Spring practice.

E. C. Cundiff will play host and Coach Bill Sanders, new Wildcat mentor, will be guest of honor when 1935 Wildcat gridsters gather on Cundiff's spacious lawn tonight for a "Meet-the-Coach" jamboree.

Every high school youngster that has ever seen a football game is urged to be on hand at E. C.'s place for the ice-breaker tonight. It's not only an opportunity to meet splendid coaches. It's a chance for youngsters footballishly inclined to start the season right with a clear picture of what Coach Sanders has up his sleeve. And from stories that drift in to us, he has a whole shirt-tail full of fast grid tricks. Don't forget the place, Cundiff's, and the time, about dark.

"Don't Forget the Tourney"

It Starts Monday Night!

Just a gentle reminder, fans, that at 8:15 p. m. Monday at the lot you may have, for once-see a thin dime, the pleasure of seeing the first pitched ball of Littlefield's first annual softball tourney. . . . That is, it WILL be an annual affair if YOU turn out THIS TIME. Come out and root for your fav-o-rite team, whether they come from neighboring New Mexico or faraway Joisey. . . . Bring the little shavers, and the teams will put on quite a scrape for you. (a crack.)

Sanders To Be Honoree At Cundiff Party

With Coach Bill Sanders as the guest of honor, Wildcat grid material for 1935 season will gather on the lawn of Sportsman E. C. Cundiff's home west of town in a "Meet-the-Coach" party tonight.

School heads, athletic boosters and, it is hoped, Grammar Coach Earl Hobbs and Sanders' newly elected assistant, Mr. Jones of Slaton, will be able to attend. Jones, however, has not signified acceptance of the post.

Cards are being mailed to all of last year's squad members, as well as likely material for the fall season. Every possible football candidate is urged to be on hand.

Unusual Melon On Display Here

Mrs. L. D. Sanderson of Goodland, Texas, brought to the Leader office Saturday an unusual species of melon called a "Quae". This melon is curled up and resembles a squash, and is 19 inches in length. Mrs. Sanderson stated she had them as long as 25 inches. Mrs. E. R. Hale, whose husband was a member of the Goodland School Faculty last year, gave her the seed. She states the quae makes splendid sweet pickles, as good as cucumbers, but that she has not tried making sour pickles out of them. Mrs. Sanderson's quae is on display at the Leader office.

First Grid Workouts Slated For Monday

Coach Bill Sanders issued a call yesterday for candidates to turn out for the first Wildcat grid workouts at Wildcat Field Monday afternoon.

The husky ex-Simmons College star, whose toe showed the way to Southwest Conference kickers for four years, hopes to greet 35 or more candidates at the initial rehearsal.

"Should we get 35 men out, competition will make for a better team," the dark-haired Wildcat guide declared.

Sanders, no relation to Supt. A. B. Sanders, will meet his charges formally at a "Meet-the-Coach" affair at E. C. Cundiff's home tonight.

Black Widow Spider Creates Interest

C. C. Weigle and G. E. Orr, who are employed by the Bureau of Entomology Plant Quarantine here for the U. S. Government have been given one of the Black Widow Spiders, which has been on display at the Leader office, for the purpose of preserving and sending it to the headquarters at San Antonio.

Another spider, however, was brought to the Leader office Saturday by Ida Joe Brewer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Brewer. It was found by her and Billie Collins in an out building.

Large numbers have called at the Leader office to view the Black Widows, nearly all of whom have seen these spiders before, but did not know their bite was so serious. One woman said she had seen one in her cellar, and had tried to kill it, but it had gotten away and she is still looking for it. Another party said she had killed two recently under feed stacks. One girl remarked that "she used to play by poking sticks at that same kind of spiders back in Bell county."

LOCAL HARDBALL TALENT DEFEATS CIRCLE 17 TO

While Tremain held the Circle back boys to about 7 hits Sunday, Littlefield's powerful hardball broke a 7-7 tie in the first of the seventh when 12 men batted or walked the Circleback diamond and scored to goose in 9 runs. Final score 17-9.

Although Wilson, Littlefield catcher, smacked the first Circle offering for four bags, the Bailey boys tightened and managed to nab abreast of smooth Littlefield hustling until the fateful seventh.

Dyer, Littlefield first sacker, Scott, playing second, got four for six times up. Kimmel, on the corner, hit twice to tie the count crucial early stages.

Others on the Littlefield roster were D. Swanner, as; McKnight, J. Jordan, cf; Johnny Hanks, rf. Head up fielding boosted the Littlefield count more than somewhat.

The home talent will play host to the fast Pep nine here Sunday.

SLUMBERING GOLD

by Aubrey Boyd

FINAL INSTALLMENT
Speed Malone, hardened gambler, Ed Maitland, son of a seafaring New England family, were part of the Yukon gold rush of '97. They met on the trip north in a place that included Frenchy, the German, Lucky Rose, the beautiful girl who took a fancy to Maitland, Fallon, leader of the miners, respected Rose's interest in gold; Brent, old-time prospector; and the outfit when he quit the trail, and Pete and his drunken partner, Owens, who was drowned after a brawl. Pete turned out to be a girl in disguise. Speed killed a man at Skagway—a cheat manager of a shell game—and months later was arrested and put in jail for his murder. He got out, but while he waited for Lefty, who offered to help him, to get back the mail he had been carrying for the Mounties at Bennett—where Drew and Cathcart were stationed—he was recaptured by his enemy Fallon. But Maitland and Pete rescued him as Fallon was about to lynch him. They made for their camp at Bennett—Pete and Maitland with the horses, by one route, Speed by another. Led by the lead dog, Rusty, they found Dalton's deserted cabin. The second morning, Dalton staggered in mortally wounded—and died before he could tell Pete where the claim was—Two Mounties arrest Speed and Maitland for the murder (of which they are innocent) of a Siwash on Lake Lebarge. Garnet defended them at their trial. Cathcart said he had long thought the mysterious Siwash was a blind for a white prospector who wanted to keep his gold discoveries to himself, and the finding of the dead Siwash and the dying Dalton proved the point. He thought Maitland and Speed had known of a letter Dalton had sent to Owens mentioning his gold find. Rose Valery, the singing girl, started her story, and told how she decided to sing in the gold camps when a man who heard her voice told her he was going to Nevada and would take her and give her a steer. Rose Valery, the singing girl, and a surprise witness, is now telling her story from the stand. NOW GO ON WITH THE

"There was a light-fingered person on the ship," Rose said, "who had come North to dip for gold in miners' pockets. I suggested that he try Owens', and so I obtained Dalton's own letter."

"Where is the letter now?" the Judge asked, when the hum caused by this strange admission subsided. "I still have it."

Judge Dugas tugged meditatively at the white linen neckpiece under his chin.

Rose continued carefully. She had resolved to outplay Fallon for the gold. If Owens had been dependable, she might have told him the truth about Fallon and planned the counter-move with him. As it was, she laid her own plans.

She knew—as Owens did not—that while Fallon could threaten the rancher with exposure of the Nevada crime, he couldn't carry the bluff through without exposing himself as Reeves.

When Speed and his partner arrived at Skagway, she chose them on sight as the kind of men she needed, and made them a blind proposition to do a trailing job for her—persisting in the intention after they refused.

Her account of what followed explained several questions that had puzzled them. She ascribed Owens' death to fear. The drunken rancher had crumpled under Fallon's threat, told everything he knew, and then between fear of judgment and more drink to drown his fear, had drowned himself.

With Owens gone, Fallon had tried to hold Pete, believing she might know more than he had learned from Owens, and realizing that she herself was a very desirable, unclaimed prize. These points Rose conveyed by suggestion rather than direct statement, but they were none the less clear. She described the peculiar turn that had thrown Speed and Maitland into a clash of their own with Fallon on the trail, allowing Pete to win free over the pass. The first idea she drew from this was that Pete had taken them into her confidence, but—as she now reminded Wade and the court—if they had been interested in the gold at that time, they could have killed Fallon without incurring blame, and with a big saving of trouble to themselves.

On their return to Skagway for their horses and outfit, she had been all the more determined to use them because of their feud with Fallon, and had tried to interest them in the gold. Her warning about the shell-dealer was due to a tip she received from Lefty, who had shadowed the man for her. Remembering how the stranger had been killed in Carson, she suspected Fallon of having prompted this ambush.

"It was only two weeks ago," she explained, "that I heard of their being held here for the murder of a Siwash on Lake Lebarge last November. I knew they were innocent; knew it, among other reasons, because I had Dalton's letter to Owens, and a readable proof of who was guilty. There was a joker in the game."

Wade stirred in his chair. The crowd murmured, fearing another objection.

"Part of Dalton's letter read," Rose quoted evenly, "You wouldn't recognize me on sight. I've been living native style, to keep the prospect and so on covered. Wait at the head of Lake Lebarge till the trail's clear after the freeze-up. If we miss connections on the lakes, camp there till spring, and if you don't hear from me before then, float the outfit down to the creek the drawing shows."

"That's how I know the accused men are innocent. My motive in explaining this is to turn the Law's vengeance where it belongs, on a man who has taken human life, the man who shot the U. S. Marshall in the train hold-up. I mean Fallon. My motive is to see him ride into his own downfall and laugh in his face!"

Her eyes flashed at Fallon's clenched hand. "If it takes proof to open—" the low, vibrant tone of the words seemed to fill the room—"it's in his hand. The lucky, clover-leaf nugget. He was afraid of Malone's interest in that piece of gold. It disappeared from the marshal's safe when he left Skagway. A tell-tale bit of evidence he couldn't leave at large. But a fascinating keepsake he wouldn't destroy. He's trying to shift it now! The luck piece—the proof that outplays and hangs him! Do I win?" Her voice lifted with an indescribable taunting challenge.

Fallon was on his feet—savage, hate maddened, yet somehow still commanding himself and the mute attention of the Court. "You'll hear my answer now!" he said, in a hoarse, rasping shout. "If I hang, I don't swing alone. That man—" he pointed at Speed in the dock—"was the pardner of the stranger who rode the bay. I've figured his trail. He's thought to be drowned, off the George E. Starr. He calls himself 'Speed Malone.' Since we're talkin' of right names, that man is Buck Tracy, sometimes known as Buck Solo the most notorious desperado and gunman that ever come out of the Northwest!"

While his hearers stiffened under the shock of the announcement he flung at them, wheeled on Rose with a movement as swift as light.

"As for you, you b——!" he yelled—

Only one pair of eyes caught the lightning gleam of the drawn gun. There was a stunning double report.

First Baptist Revival To Close Sunday Night

The revival being conducted by Rev. E. F. Cole of Lamesa with Rev. John Evans of Amherst as singer, is now in its last week at the First Baptist church. We have had some of the largest day congregations of any meeting for the past six years, and the night crowds have been good, Rev. Cole is one of the greatest pastor evangelists on the South Plains and has but few equals in the state.

His messages are plain, easily understood, every statement backed with Thou Sayest the Lord. No one can hear him and doubt in the least his love for lost men and women. Rev. Evans, though a pastor, is one of the best in the rank of gospel singers. The revival will close Sunday evening. We are anxious for every one to hear Rev. Cole while here, said Rev. Joe F. Grizzle, pastor of the First Baptist church. The Sunday services will be as follows:

Sunday school promptly at nine forty five. The General Assembly period will be taken for a special service. "We invite you to attend all the services of the church, but especially do we urge you to attend the remaining services of the revival," said Rev. Mr. Grizzle.

Announce 10 Cents A Pound On Cotton

A 10-cent a pound cash advance to cotton farmers on this year's crop was authorized Friday by the American Cotton Cooperative association.

"Pending final decision of Secretary Wallace in regard to the loan policy on this year's cotton crop, our member associations will, as usual, make advances on cotton to members who desire such a service," said a statement signed by E. F. Creekmore, general manager of the association.

"Advances as nearly as possible will be made, based on quality, location and market value," it continued. "Based on the present market price and the demand for spot cotton an advance of 10 cents per pound on deliveries of this year's crop has been authorized.

"If and when the market has a material change from its present price level the amount of the advance will be changed correspondingly."

The action was taken by the cooperatives to aid farmers in holding their cotton until the government makes its future loan policy public.

The advance by cooperatives differs from a government price peg in that it is not granted "without recourse" as was the 12-cent loan to the growers. The government guaranteed the farmer 12 cents and if the market broke below this figure they would continue to hold the cotton for the grower.

Mr. Creekmore pointed out that the cooperative loan would be based on market values, and if after granting a 10-cent loan to the grower the market broke below this figure, the farmer would have to margin his holdings or be sold out.

Three Hundred Attend Ginners Meeting Saturday

Nearly 300 South Plains ginners, buyers, machinery and equipment men and others attended a meeting Saturday at the Hilton hotel of the Plains Ginners association.

John G. Thompson, state secretary, explained a suit to force payment to ginners for enforcing Bankhead tax collections; two federal revenue officers clarified collection requirements; directors for the coming year were named and resolutions were passed on the deaths of four members.

Sessions began at 10 a. m., presided over by R. E. Patterson of Lockney, president, and were concluded at 4 p. m. Dutch luncheon, attended by 339, was the only punctuation of a busy day.

Directors Are Chosen

R. E. Holmes and C. E. Dean, Lubbock ginners; G. A. Simmons, Lubbock cotton oil mill executive; Ray Grisham, Plainview cotton oil mill executive; R. E. Patterson, president, Lockney, and Lon M. Davis, Floydada, were re-elected directors. J. W. McDonald, O'Donnell, also was named. They were selected from a list of 34 men from 20 cities and towns.

A resume of legislation adopted by the Texas legislature at its regular session was given. One law, known as the cotton marking law, providing that each bale sent from a gin must bear the same number as shown on the books, was explained. A $25 fine for failure to do this, is imposed. Bales must bear ink marks, metal tags or cardboard tags.

Trucks handling cotton seed even though both are owned by the ginners, must have carrier permits. Rules are recent, he said, and have not been tested by the courts.

Three factors enter into the expected price of cotton seed, Mr. Thompson said. First, the feed crop, which is large, will reduce the demand for cotton seed products; second, importation of cotton oil, which jumped from nothing to 111,000,000 pounds for the year up to May 27; and third, importation of corn and grains from Argentina and other nations.

A lengthy report on events leading to filing of a suit to force payment to ginners for handling of collection of Bankhead certificate taxes, was given by the secretary. He told of discussing the question with congressmen, Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace, Cotton Administrator Cully A. Cobb and others; of trips to Washington, of conferences and other meetings.

Suit to restrain collectors of internal revenue in Texas from forcing ginners to act as collectors without pay was filed, and heard June 24, with a decision July 17. He told of issuance of tags by collectors being stopped, of an attempt to force withdrawal of suits before tags would be issued; and of a decision in Houston August 8 by Judge T. M. Kennerly. Case is to be decided September 11.

In South Texas, he said, present ginning rates were 35 cents per hundred pounds and $1.50 for bagging and ties, or 40 cents for ginning and $1.40 for bagging and ties. After the meeting Mr. Thompson talked with many personal friends here among the ginners. He managed a gin in Jones county several years before becoming an officer of the association.

OMA BOY KNEW WILEY POST; TELLS HOW FLYER GOT HIS START

Geo. Norris with one eye, that's how Wiley knew him back in 1910 having known Wiley Post in the attainment of international fame. It is only natural that he should feel a certain pride in the accomplishments of the pilot, accomplishments which he did not only to Oklahoma but to the whole world. It was his first step on the way when he moved to Oklahoma about eight years ago for F. C. Hall and his partners in the oil business. He had already learned the art of flying in an aerial school and had lost vision of his eyes in a shop where he was employed to finance the plane.

Briscoe, aviation enthusiast, suffered a financial loss putting money into the flight which failed. He bought an open-cockpit plane and placed the controls. Naturally, he was a local hero when he transported one or the other to distant oil fields.

Traveler was replaced by famous "Winnie Mae." Briscoe's interest in the plane was for his daughter, the late Mrs. F. C. Hall.

Wiley Post and Harold "Gatty" Gatty were the first to fly from Oklahoma City in order to do their business. It was Wiley Post's first flight. Harold Gatty was the pilot.

Wiley Post's long since history. He is still recall his first appearance in the air after the epoch-making flight of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty.

Wiley Post was so busy with his flights and putting up the City airplane factory that he seldom had time to make more than an occasional trip to Chickasha. But he was the greatest flyer of his time and the name of Wiley Post is still the name of the last man.

TRI-STATE FAIR AT AMARILLO PROMISES PLENTY IN THE WAY OF ENTERTAINMENT TO VISITORS

Amarillo, Aug. 22.—Entertainment, of course, is a prominent feature of any exposition.

Men, women and children go to fairs to learn more about the country's greatest industry—the source, production and marketing of foods, agricultural and livestock, and to see the fine arts and other educational material.

But they also go to have a good time.

And so the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo, September 14-21, the largest exposition in Texas this year, will be a well-balanced combination of both education and entertainment.

Among the major attractions will be Harley Sadler's three-ring circus, which will give daily performances.

Harley Sadler, long known in West Texas as the "emperor of entertainment," especially in the repertoire field, has purchased the entire equipment of Bailey Brothers' circus.

Under the new management—Sadler is the sole owner and manager—the circus will open August 29 at Tulsa, Okla., and will play 10 days in Oklahoma before coming in to Texas and the Tri-State Fair engagement.

Every other day during the fair the circus will stage a mile long street parade.

On the midway will be the Beckmann and Gerety Shows, which will come direct from Detroit. This attraction has the latest riding devices, seen for the first time at the Century of Progress in Chicago and the Pacific exposition in San Diego.

Daily horse racing on one of the fastest tracks in the United States also will be featured.

There will be other attractions, too, so the Tri-State Fair will appeal to every amusement taste.

Prize exhibits and record crowds are assured.

RETAIL SALES GAIN

Retail dollar sales in Texas during July declined less than the normal seasonal amount from the previous month and were substantially larger than during the similar month last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Littlefield School Orders Additional Library Books

The purchasing committee of the Littlefield Independent School District have forwarded orders for a considerable amount of library books for the grammar school.
Each teacher was asked to submit a list of state approved books needed in her room for the coming year. These books will be placed in the rooms for the coming school year. Books for every grade are to be had in sufficient numbers to allow each and every pupil to have a reading experience adjusted to his or her own particular educational level.

In addition to the reading library there has been added a complete set of reference books for each grade room above the third grade. These additional references are expected to make it possible for the teachers to apply the newer teaching methods recommended by the Curriculum revision committee of the State Department of Education.

The references mentioned above apply outlines of Units of work organized on the basis of the activity movement that is dominating the viewpoint of the purposes of the new curriculum. These references will serve a source for the solving of problems met with in working out the units of work that are drawn from life experiences of the child. This type of teaching requires a great deal more reference materials than the traditional type of teaching.

There has also been one set of the American purchased for the high school library. This with some additional reading material to be added later will bring the High School Library to par with requirements of the state department of education.

Slumbering Gold—

Fallon's gun went out of his hand as if he had thrown it away. With a blank staring look he sagged in a crumpling fall, dropped by a bullet in the brain from a gun which Speed had jerked from the holster of the belated police guard.

It seemed that his body was still falling when Speed jumped the courtroom floor and leaped for the open window.
The fractional margin of another instant or of one wild shot might have carried him through. Then, with the river before him and a long shore-line of wharves and docked barges, there is no telling what the Mounted Police might have had to write on their flawless man-getting record.

But the odds were too steep. A gun crashed as his boot touched the sill, and Speed fell backward into the courtroom.
For an instant the court stood dazed in the swirling smoke.
The bar of the prisoner's dock broke in splinters; Maitland was struggling in the hold of two police guards, to reach his partner.

Yet even in that frozen moment the wheel of Justice turned. Judge Dugas looked down on the fallen outlaw with a curious stillness, and then at Wade, whose response, though no one heard it, was translated to the police guards.
"Release the prisoner."
Half-lifting Speed out of a widening pool of blood, Maitland had a blurred awareness of Pete on his other side. The outlaw leaned against their supporting arms, deeply breathing the cool breeze from snowy peaks that came through the open window.

"A doctor—" Maitland tried to say, but his heart strangled the words in his throat, and tears rained on his partner's reddened shirt.
Speed looked up at him mistily and shook his head. "I don't ask for no better—run of luck than this, Bud. Always figured I'd—fall in some mountain pass alone—and here—" He paused at something beyond his power to say. "We both got what we looked for—and more—on 'n' not where we was lookin'." His eyes rested on the sun-burnished gold of Pete's hair, and strayed back to his partner with a ghost of his old-time ruminating smile, "gold is where you find it, like—Steiner said."

The strength seemed to ebb from him; he looked dimly at the wavering pools of light and shadow on the wall, and then in wonder at a bright glory of cloud floating across the far azure glimpse that showed through the window opening. It was as if a mirage had crossed his eyes in their last gleam of life.
But something of that same tenacity of will which had held Dalton against the cliff brought him back for a moment and Maitland heard him say, as he drifted out on that last trail, "Give Rose a hand, Bud—she run a great bluff for ye. Tell her—I was plumb wrong—about women. Tell her—how much—I liked the singin'."

THE END
Utility Company Builds A Rural Electric Line
Announcement has been made by Hubert Allen, district manager for the Texas Utilities Company of Lubbock, and A. J. Whiting, Clovis, N. M. manager of the Muleshoe section, that Muleshoe is soon to have its first line of rural electrification constructed by the electric company.
It is now being decided to run a line up state highway No. 7, northwest from Muleshoe, supplying all residents in that direction as far as the D. L. Butts place, three miles northwest of town, where the line will cross the Santa Fe railroad track giving service to among others, Jess Mitchell, who has a farm in that section.

It has also been agreed by the company to extend the line running to the D. E. Cox farm, just north of town, where power is being generated for a group of small irrigated farms known as "Paradise Gardens" on to the Sam Lawrence place one mile north of town.

Work, which is expected to start as soon as materials are on the ground, is being done under the administrative authority, wherein $500,000.00 was authorized for such expenditure by the Utility companies.

All Baptists of this association are urged to attend and visitors are cordially invited to come.

Joe. F. Grizzle, Corresponding Secretary.
John E. Evans, Moderator.

W. E. Heathman
To Be Manager Of Hardberger Gin

W. E. Heathman, former Littlefield resident, will be manager of the Hardberger Gin, according to an announcement Wednesday by Mrs. Pearl Hardberger, owner.

Mr. Heathman was formerly manager of the Yellow House gin, about five miles east of Littlefield, and has been a resident of Tahoka for the past two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Heathman and daughter, Helen, and son, Charles, have arrived in Littlefield. They are being welcomed back to this city by their large number of friends.

TWO ARRESTED

Charley Wolford and his son, L. W. Wolford, were arrested here Sunday and held for arrival Monday of Chickasha, Oklahoma, officers. They will face charges of alleged arson at Chickasha, according to Constable Sam Hutson who made the arrests. The men were taken to Chickasha Monday.

had risen to a height of about 50 feet, the new motor apparently stalled and the falling craft slipped off onto right wing and nosed into the water, turning completely over. A dull explosion occurred, according to the native, who told Army radio station employees he approached the plane, and called to the two men.

When he received no answer, he ran the 15 miles to Point Barrow to tell radio station men of the crash. Officers, accompanied by 14 Eskimos in a whaling boat powered with a small motor, took three hours to reach the crash scene.

Bodies of Post and Rogers, were extricated from the wreckage with difficulty, carefully laid and wrapped with eiderdown sleeping bags into the boat for transfer to Point Barrow, where bodies of the two famous aerial cronies were dressed for burial.

Flown from Point Barrow to Fairbanks by Pilot Crasson, the funeral plane reached Seattle Monday and proceeded to Los Angeles.

Mrs. Rogers and her daughter, Mary, grief stricken, arrived in New York Saturday on a hurried trip from Maine where Rogers' daughter had been working in a theatre stock company. They were joined by Will Rogers, Jr., and proceeded to the Rogers' Santa Monica ranch home for the last rites. Another son, Jimmy, was to have joined them in the East.

Mrs. Wiley Post, abandoning plans to fly to Seattle to meet the plane bearing the body of her famous husband, rested in silent grief at Ponca City, Oklahoma, Saturday and journeyed to the farm home of Post's parents near Maysville, Oklahoma, Sunday to await the remains of the man whom she married after an aerial elopement.

The whole world sorrowed this week for the "Sage of Claremore," Oklahoma, famous for his crisp news comments and movies, and for the man who had twice flown around the world, once alone.

Rogers was jokingly known as the nation's ambassador at large to the whole world. He had endeared himself to millions both in this country and abroad with his Oklahoma drawl and pithy yet unstirring comments on celebrities of the day.

His motion pictures were shown in practically every civilized country of the globe, and his numerous charities, always directed with quiet modesty, brought happiness to thousands.

Post, with Harold Gatty as navigator, in 1931 flew around the world in less than 10 days. In 1932, he set out alone from Flood Bennett Field, New York, and circled the globe in 186 hours and 49 and 1-2 minutes, less than nine days.

Mourn Rogers Death—

Arrived August 5 after working for a month helping with summer branding of cattle for Will's former chum. The boys left here enroute to Claremore, Oklahoma, Rogers' early home, for a week's stay and then were to continue east to Maine to join Mary Rogers who has been playing in a stock company during the summer months.

According to Frank Rogers, Halsell Farm Land company manager, Will and Ewing Halsell attended school at Willie Halsell College in Neosho, Mo. Their friendship has lasted over the years. It is interesting to note that the homestead ranch of Ewing Halsell's father takes in the town of Oologah, Oklahoma, Will's birthplace. Halsell's father founded the college which the two attended in their youth.

Mr. Halsell and his wife are vacationing in California, as is his foreman, L. D. Gaither. They will remain there for funeral arrangements.

Ford V-8 Movie To Be Shown At Ford
Agency August 28

"The newest Ford motion picture film, 'The Honeymoon V-8', will be shown in Littlefield, the evening of August 28 at 8 p. m.," announced Mancil Hall, local Ford dealer.

The film will be shown at the agency here.

"This film depicts the trip of a honeymooning couple driving from Massachusetts to the San Diego Exposition. Some of the most beautiful scenery in the country has been photographed and incorporated in this picture, such as Niagara Falls in a very unusual scene, the lofty summit of Pikes Peak, and the Grand expanse of Death Valley. Other scenes are of intermediate points, and of course, scenes of the California Pacific International Exposition at San Diego."

Comments on the trip will be given by the V-8 'Imp'.

"The Honeymoon V-8," which is being exhibited through the Dallas Branch territory by a representative of Ford Motor Company at Dallas, is not the usual commercial film, but a very interesting educational-entertaining record of cross country trip.
