ANTON ON SPADE RANCH LANDS TO OPEN NEXT WEEK

Work on the site of Anton, newest town, has begun earnest despite the fact that it will not be opened for sale another week. Anton is located on the main line of the Fe Railway in the center of a famous north pasture of the Spade Ranch, in the east corner of Hockley county, twentyfour miles north of Lubbock, near the Dan- witch. The townsite has been surveyed and platted by Sanders, local engineer, and 250 acres are contained.

Ellwood, local financier of the West Texas land building is in the hands of the Anton Townsite Company which is backed extensively by Dallas capital.

F. Duggan, who has recently moved to Lubbock from Dallas, is supervising the selling of the town lots and the building of the city, and he has rounded himself with a couple of assistants who will aid in the putting over of the project.

Stanley Watson, manager of Ellwood Farms Company, the man who became famous almost over night as the elder of Amherst, in Lamb county, is general agent, while O. Duggan, formerly of Long Beach, California, is manager of the townsite proper and will remain on the grounds as long as the town is opened for settlement. A. O. and R. F. Duggan are brothers of T. B. Duggan, well known Lubbock man and Arthur and C. J. Duggan, prominent West Texas men. Although he will take an active part in the entire work of building the town, Ellwood will act in an advisory capacity.

The townsite Company with Ellwood, has already made arrangements to take care of the building of Anton and three other companies have been taken care of. The townsite block of ground of the other two blocks.

CICERO SMITH HERE

Well Known Chain Lumber Co., Put In Yard Here.

Work is this week beginning on new lumber yard in Littlefield, which is being put in by the Cicero Smith Lumber Co.

Nearly a year ago this concern purchased eight lots on the street just west of Main and located diagonal across from the Littlefield Motor Co. establishment, in anticipation of establishing a yard here when the proper time arrived.

This week Contractor R. A. Parke began work on a 300 foot lumber shed, a warehouse and office.

BRAINEY BOOSTERS OF LITTLEFIELD IN MASS MEET FRIDAY

The largest and most interesting meeting of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce was held last Monday night in the dining room of the Gold Star Cafe.

The program, previously arranged by Secretary Harvey, was replete with vital and interesting addresses. W. C. Hubbell, of Amarillo, representing the International Harvester corporation, was present, and in a timely address explained to the members a plan for receiving fire protection for the city and how such equipment would immediately reduce the key rate of insurance, as well.

Prof. Lewis, presented the high school athletics to the body, asking their cooperation in that direction, and it was voted unanimously that a football team, from members of the Chamber of Commerce would play the local high school squad on Thanksgiving Day, the receipts to go to the high school for the purpose of buying sweaters for the boys.

Messrs. Arthur P. Duggan and E. S. Rowe stressed strongly the value of good roads to the future development of Littlefield. Mr. Duggan pointed out the cardinal highways that needed immediate development, while Mr. Rowe presented an array of facts and figures that opened the eyes of some of the business men here as to the magnitude of trade being lost because of inadequate highway facilities. He also explained the assessment plan of raising money among the citizens for local expenditures, and, upon motion of T. Wade Potter, seconded by T. A. Christian the plan was adopted by the body in session.

City Manager, Max L. McClure was present and spoke fervently of the city's finances, emphasizing the fact that since the city was newly incorporated it was without funds for many measures it would like to create and adopt, and asking the patience as well as the cooperation of all citizens in assisting the commissioners to carry out the needs of the new municipality.

County Commissioner, Simon D. Hay, of Sudan, being present as a guest was called upon to explain the proposed 15 cent road tax for his district, which met with the approval of those present. Mr. Hay also stated that he felt, since his district contained a preponderance of the taxable property of the county, he was entitled to a larger portion than had been received by his district before, and was in hopes he would be able to make the rest of the court see it as he did.

John Blalock, who has recently begun the colonization of a large tract of land west of Littlefield, gave some good advice on "How a Wide Awake Business Center Can Aid in Community Colonization."

T. Wade Potter, one of Littlefield's new lawyer citizens, in telling "How I like the New West," said some very complimentary things about this new section of the country.

E. A. Bills, speaking upon the subject, "Legal Lights and Shadows of Littlefield," reflected the full fulgore of his optimistic countenance in such a luminous glow, superinduced by the magnetic charm of his voluble oratory, that the shadows entirely disappeared and only the high lights of prominence and prosperity were visible to even the most lugubrious dyspeptic present. (He also told a story or two.)

TO CUT OR NOT TO CUT?

NEW $80,000 HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING IS FINISHED-ACCEPTED

Last Friday the new $80,000 high school building in Littlefield, was completed and formally accepted by the board of trustees. It is a magnificent structure, worthy to adorn the campus of a city 100,000 population.

The new building is equipped with steam heat, electricity, inside toilets hot and cold water, shower baths, and with special rooms adapted for the teaching of domestic science, vocational agriculture, manual training, chemistry, music and commercial courses. There are sixteen rooms in the building, also large auditorium and gymnasium.

The building will be occupied by the pupils next week, and it is planned to have a formal dedicatory service sometime about the middle of the coming month, the exact date having not yet been fixed.

Educational facilities is one subject that Littlefield has always stressed, and with her consolidated system of schooling she has one of which the entire community may well be proud. Occasionally one hears a derogatory remark, but in the main the excellence of local educational advantages are generally highly appreciated.

In fact, the general application of the American free-public school is something of which our nation has always been proud. It is one of our greatest democratic institutions wherein pupils of all degrees, grades and classes come in contact with one another and learn the elementary lessons of fundamental democracy.

Many of the foreign countries have two systems of schooling, one for those who are to rule and another for those who are to be ruled, the educational opportunity of a child being determined by birth and social position, but in America what the best and wisest parent wants for his or her own child, must be the community want for all its children.

Yet we sometimes forget that this ideal is of recent origin. In the early history of our country where there were but few who could obtain a first rate education, because they were unable to pay the tuition, while in many places attendance at a free school stigmatized a child as a pauper. But that time has passed long ago, and today the community is the exception, that does not maintain free schools to which all parents are proud to send their children. Last year there were more than 24,000,000 children enrolled in public schools.

Littlefield has always recognized the public school as one of its greatest productive institutions, and has spared no means of labor nor money toward making it the very best possible. It has freely paid out its money for buildings, equipment and the very best teachers possible, and the new building now completed, stands as a monument of praise and credit to the high ideals of the citizenry who have made it possible.

Trained intelligence is one of the basic factors in the development of any community, and is largely responsible for the wealth and social standing of that community. Logically then, it is perfectly proper that a portion of the wealth of any community, which has largely been created by its trained intelligence, should be set aside for further maintenance of such, and yet this idea, which is commonly spoken of as "taxes" is one of comparative recent acceptance.

There are perhaps some readers of this article who will recall in their studies of the history of education that it is scarcely a century ago that Henry Barnard was threatened with personal violence for advocating such here as the taxation of a man's property to educate the children of his neighbor. Today such an attitude would seem ridiculous, and the local school tax is levied everywhere as a matter of course. Practically all states support their schools through a state-wide tax and the nation contributes to the support of the same through a national tax. In fact, as our line of civilization has advanced we have come very far to learn the principle that the education of the future generation should constitute a first lien against all wealth. Hence it has proven true that any community that recognizes this fact become one of the leading communities of its state.

Littlefield, largely as a result of its excellent schools, is growing rapidly into one of the finest towns of the South Plains country.

The old principle of "like attracts like" is proving true here, and people of excellent characteristics, high ideals and lofty aspirations are being attracted hither. In fact, the pre-excellence of her citizenry is the large factor that is attracting other folks of similar type and character, and working toward the populating and developing here of one of the choicest abiding places to be found anywhere throughout the great south west.

BIRD MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Blue and Red Birds next Sunday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the Methodist church.

LITTLEFIELD CATS HONORED WITH GLORY IN DEFEAT

The Littlefield Wild Cats, fighting every inch of the way, covered themselves with glory, even in defeat, when they battled the Plainview Bull Dogs to a 27-10 score last Thursday. The teams contended on almost even terms throughout four grilling quarters, and except for the fact that the breaks went against them, the Wild Cats might have chalked up a victory.

Captain Mueller and his squad were an aggressive unit as never before, but the excellent passing machine of the Bull Dogs was too much for them. Payne Wood proved himself another "Red" Grange in his scintillating broken field running and line plunging, the Plainview line, being powerless in their efforts to stop him.

The tackling of Smith and Stripe featured. Porter played better than usual, at full back. Mueller and Smith alternated at quarterback. Farmer Clevinger and Wayland played the stellar roles for the Bull Dogs.

The line-up was as follows:
 LITTLEFIELD PLAINVIEW
 Lacy Walker
 Long Left End Doffern
 Cruse Left Tackle McKinney
 Hay Left Guard Young
 Courtney Center Ratliff
 Mason Right Guard Carter
 Stripe Right Tackle Wayland
 Wood Right End Farmer
 Smith Right Halfback Clevinger
 Porter Left Halfback Craig
 Mueller Fullback Visor
 Quarterback
 Officials:—Referee, Luna; Umpire, Matlock; Headlinesman, Boswell.

METHODIST SERVICES

Rev. Silas Dixon, pastor of the Methodist church, announces that he will preach next Sunday morning on the subject of "Faith." His evening sermon will be entitled, "The Right Frontage of Life."

Everyone is cordially invited to both services, and the young people especially to the night service.

Truth is stranger, to some people, than fiction.

NATION IS TAKING FARM CENSUS OF ENTIRE COUNTRY

Del Floyd, a representative of the national Commerce and Census Department at Washington, D. C., is making headquarters in Lubbock and organizing his forces for the purpose of taking the farm census of Lubbock, Lamb, Bailey, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Cochran, Hockley, Crosby, Dickens, King Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry and Fisher counties.

In the taking of this farm census no city people will be counted except in the case where a city man owns a farm and hires a man to run it for him. The owners who live in the cities, will not be counted if they have the farm rented or leased on a partnership basis.

The farm census is scheduled to be made in each of the 3,062 counties in the United States, and to show what a gigantic task it will be, the State of Texas alone is made up of fourteen districts, and in more densely populated sections of the country there are fewer counties to the district.

More than 6,000 persons will be engaged in this work throughout the nation.

PROSPERITY ABOUNDS

Farmers on the South Plains have been indeed fortunate in having the very best kind of weather this year in which to gather their crops. Most of the cotton farmers are well supplied with pickers and the gins are now running full blast.

Business has now reached its apex, the merchants are all smiles, they have laid in a big stock of goods of every description, in anticipation of their patron's needs, and are doing everything in their power to render special service to their customers.

Nothing is more to be valued in any new country than a citizenry of satisfied people, and there is no section of the South Plains that has a more contented lot of folks than is to be found in Lamb county. No one has any particular complaint to make this year. Of course, there are always some things that might be a little different, and there are some people who are never satisfied, but taking it as a whole conditions are excellent, and there is scarcely a farmer of this vicinity but has made good on his land.

No one is wanting to move, no one is asking for credit, at the stores, no one is begging the banks to renew their paper, while on the other hand, the deposits are climbing up by leaps and bounds and every day witnesses farmers from other sections of the state coming here to either buy or rent for next year.

Really they are showing the very best of judgment. Land here is now cheap, but it will not always be so. There are many farmers here this year who will pay all or nearly all on the indebtedness on the purchase of their farm lands. They have had a fine year of living and next year will commence to put money in the bank.

Any farmer who can now buy land with a small payment down, getting the balance at six or eight per cent on long time, with the land increasing in value from ten to twenty per cent per annum is always making a good investment. There is no better way to get a good home that will pay big dividends in the future.

PLANT TREES

Someone has said, "Trees are the arms of Mother Earth lifted on high in worship of her Maker." Indeed, they lend to the beauty and variety where otherwise plainness and monotony might abound. They furnish protection for man and beast in winter and summer, affording a refuge from the sun of summer and bleak winds of winter.

Now that autumn has come, and the trees gone to sleep for the winter, is an excellent time for transplanting. It might even be a surprise for the trees themselves to awaken in the spring time and find they have been transplanted from some crowded nursery rows to a spot with plenty of room about where they may grow luxuriantly to adorn some one's home.

Every new citizen in this country, as soon as he has built his new home and started his business operations, should immediately set out a few trees about his place. Nothing attracts the eye of the traveler so much on this prairie country as a well shaded home, with a nice flower garden and shrubbery growing about.

This time last year there were hundreds of trees planted in this vicinity, and during the summer they began to show their value. There should be many more planted this year. They not only enhance the beauty of a home place, but add value as well.

There ought to also be set aside a spot for the planting of small fruits, such as blackberries, gooseberries, currants, etc., they will mean much to the table menu.

THE PARENTS BUSINESS

There comes a period in the life of every boy and girl when the flaming up of the natural bodily passions leaves its stamp and lasting sear of character indelibly stamped upon them, and the parent who fails to recognize the danger of the period and use every means of proper guidance and protection is as guilty of gross negligence as would be the engineer who disregarded the signal lights of the track set against him.

The old time preachers used to "harp" considerably about the dangers of night buggy riding, and more of the modern ministers should urge the dangers of night joy riding in automobiles. The auto is far worse than the buggy ever was. Every community has it, and no parent's child is exempt from its baleful influences.

Night riding, as a general thing is bad business for a boy or girl in the formative period of their life, and it is the parents business to know where and with whom they keep company when they leave the home after the sun has set. Many a girl has had her entire future life blighted because father and mother were not careful, and many a parent has bemoaned the sad lot of their daughter's future because of their own carelessness.

The customer who will accept the hospitality of credit from his home merchant when he is short of funds, and then send away to a mail order house for goods when he gets flush with money, is not a good sport, to say the least, but we have even a stronger opinion of him than that.

Jack Walton has traded his home in Oklahoma for a farm in the Texas Rio Grande Valley. Jack may think Texas is better than Oklahoma is to impeached governors, and if "Ma" Ferguson proves successful as a governess, she may have "Ma" Walton as an opponent two years hence.

Little did the Democratic gum chewing people of Texas realize they were helping to elect Coolidge president, but the reports are that Wm. Wrigley was the heaviest contributor to the Republican campaign.

About the only difference between courtship and marriage with some women is they used to sit up half the night waiting for their sweetheart to go home, while they now sit up half the night waiting for their husband to come home.

A "petticoat cabinet" to assist "Ma" Ferguson, in managing the affairs of state when she becomes governor, is the latest suggestion. Now we'll see what Jim thinks about it.

Former Governor McCray, of Indiana, has taken his "pen" in hand and settled down as editor of the prison newspaper. Perhaps his writings will soon be listed as among the best cell-ers.

Kissing may not be healthy, but it's a cinch more are dying to be kissed than from being kissed.

Contains Appropriate Images Indicative of Purpose

The seal for the West Texas Technological College, at Lubbock has been selected, on the face of which appears a quartered shield, with a key, a lamp, a book and a star in the four divisions, the center of which is entwined with a cotton plant and boll.

Surmounting the shield is an eagle with outspread wings, and surrounding the lower portion is a laurel wreath.

The seal was designed by Sanguinett, Staats & Hendrick, Fort Worth architects, who are planning the Tech grounds and buildings.

BAND CONCERT

Will L. Ellwood, owner of the famous SPADE Ranch, has sold more than 200 farms surrounding the townsite of ANTON to real DIRT farmers, 150 of whom will be building homes on these lands by February 1st, 1925.

Mr. Ellwood has contracted with the ANTON TOWNSITE COMPANY to supervise the building of the town of ANTON. This Company is composed of men of large business affairs. A. O. Maurer of Tampeque, Mexico.

We are not inviting you to buy lots—but we do want you to help us celebrate the OPENING DAY of our little city, which will be built along conservative and modern lines. We expect to be your neighbor and want to show you that we are full of the true Western spirit of hospitality.

We especially invite you to break bread with us at noon, when the church ladies of LITTLEFIELD, our nearest neighbors, will serve FREE LUNCH on the FOUR SEPARATE CHURCH SITES to be opened to the first four organized churches ready to build in ANTON.

ENTERTAINMENT

SEAMY AND PLAIN SIDES OF LIFE SHOWN IN PICTURE

Warner Brothers seem bent upon interpreting every side, seamy and stitched, of the United States. First they did "Main Street." Their latest is "Broadway After Dark," where instead of the foibles of our small towns, we get all the swirling, hectic life of the White Light District. Adolphe Menjou and Anna Q. Nilson head the stellar cast in this Warner Brothers' Classic of the Screen, adapted from the Owen Davis play. Next Friday at the Lee Theatre. See it.

TEACHER ENTERTAINED

Miss Christine Holland Honor Guest of Pupils.

Last Tuesday evening the sixth grade spent a social hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Yantis in honor of their teacher, Miss Christine Holland, who is this week taking up work in the High School department. After refreshments were served the merry bunch went to the theatre where they enjoyed the last episode of "Ruth of the Range."

MUSICAL COMEDY FEATURE
IN "GREAT WHITE WAY"

One of the most realistic reproductions of a musical comedy that has ever been photographed as part of a motion picture, is one that is filmed during the making of "The Great White Way," Cosmopolitan's "surprise picture" of New York life, which is being shown at the Lee Theatre on Monday night.

One episode in the picture depicts a musical comedy in which the heroine, Mabel Vandergift, impersonated by Anita Stewart, plays the leading role. In order to give this scene the last touch of realism and to have it period to the minutest detail, the Cosmopolitan Corporation engaged Ned Burn to rehearse the Ziegfeld girls' chorus. The "Follies" girls' background for Miss Stewart, give what is described as almost a complete production in itself.

The novel photoplay musical comedy was filmed in the new Frolic Theatre atop the New Amsterdam Theatre, formerly the home of the Midnight Frolic.

Featured with Miss Stewart in the "Great White Way," are T. Roy Barnes, Oscar Shaw and Tom Lewis. Other well known players who appear in the picture are Harry Watson, Dore Davidson, Hal Forde, Olin Howland, Billy Gould and Stanley Forde. E. Mason Hopper directed.

try than where Anton is being built. The placing of a city at the location will practically split the distance between Lubbock and Littlefield in a spot where there is little community development. Railroad facilities are already there with the Santa Fe California cut-off running thru it, while hundreds of farmers settling the virgin farm tracts recently placed on the market will supply a large and prosperous contributive population.

THE HISTORY OF LITTLEFIELD

By Margurite Carpenter
As I look in the distance the vast area of land that stretches before me brings back a picture of how this wonderful place looked before it was divided into small towns.

I can imagine when the first people crossed the large ranch where the small town of Littlefield is now progressing. This large ranch was all owned by Major Littlefield and Mr White thirteen years ago. The buffaloes made this strip of land their winter quarters and the "L. F. D.s" or Yellow House ranch was the headquarters of the first buffalo hunters that came to this country. It is about twelve miles west of Littlefield and a beautiful place. If you ever have the opportunity to visit this lovely place you will readily see why young couples came to the "Golden West" to make their home. Indeed, it may seem bleak and bare to people who come from the east, as there are no trees here, but it makes your heart glad when you turn your gaze upward at night and there is not a tree to hide one of God's beautiful stars from the vision the mind is grasping—Oh, it is the land of "Golden Dreams."
So it was, I imagine, when the first people came to build Littlefield. How happy they must have been! How happy they must be now! They who started Littlefield, as they are nearing the end of life's way and now see Littlefield. Progress is so rapid their dearest hope is now being realized.
Thirteen years ago, the peo-than renting.

Better make your selections early as this choice body of land will not last long. We are ready to show this excellent farming section to you at any time.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

THE SENIORS

The high school, sponsored by the Seniors, gave a box supper last Friday night to raise money for the high school annual. There were about twenty boxes sold.

On account of not having any lights in the new building the supper was given in the old building. C. D. Smith, who has been the popular auctioneer ever since there has been any "Littlefield High School," sold the boxes. In spite of his constant urging the boxes did not sell for a very high price. Twenty five dollars and five cents were realized.

IS TO KISS OLD BIBLE AT CAPITOL

A woman's kiss bestowed in reverent obeisance on the sacred pages of the State's old Bible—a book that has done more since the days of Sam Houston—will be one of the ceremonial features of Mrs. William A. Ferguson's inauguration.

From a time so remote that the minds of living man runs to the contrary, this same Bible has been used in the inauguration of Texas governors. Prominent men of the state, to whom has fallen the inheritance of sovereignty bequeathed them by the great Houston, have kissed this Bible as their official act in homage to a still greater Sovereignty.

The book, brown, worn and old, lies in a safe in the Supreme Court, its abiding place for over eighty years. On its fly leaf is the following written inscription, pinned in unfading ink.

"Supreme Court of the Republic of Texas, 1841.

It is believed this book was used at his inauguration in 1841. The hand writing on the leaf greatly resembles Houston's, according to those who have compared it with known writings of the first executive head of Texas.

Certain it is that the bible has been used in inaugurations for the last 60 years, Fred Connerly, clerk of the court said.

The ceremony of kissing the Bible has been retained in the Texas inaugural ritual from the earliest days of the state. And now a woman's lips will place the osculatory token on the pages that have been touched by a long line of masculine leaders before her.

When Governor Pat M. Neff was inaugurated, he used both this Bible and his mother's Bible. He desired to follow the long established custom of using the Supreme Court Bible used by Houston, but also wished to use the Bible his mother gave him when he was a child. As he stepped up to the platform to receive the oath of office, Gov. Neff stopped to kiss his aged mother, who sat on the platform. He then kissed the Bibles, acknowledging by these kisses, he said, the two most powerful influences of his life, his mother and religion.

This Bible is a small book, about five by four inches. It is covered in brown leather, which is much worn and easily rubs off. When placed in the hand, it opens near the middle at a page which has one corner turned, as though it were in the habit of being opened at this same place. On this dog's ear page are the Ten Commandments and the one which catches the reader's eye first is this:

"Honor Thy Father and Thy Mother as the Lord Thy God Hath Commanded Thee; That it May go Well With Thee in the Land Which the Lord Thy God Giveth Thee."

Mr. Connerly is the official custodian of this Supreme Court Bible, which is kept in the court safe and taken out only once every two years for the inauguration. The oath of office is administered by the chief justice of the court, and Chief Justice C. M. Cureton will perform this function for Mrs. Ferguson's induction into office. The form of oath usually used by the Supreme Court for swearing in state officials will be employed at the January inauguration. It will be drawn up for the occasion by Mr. Connerly.

THANKSGIVING AT HAND

—and we feel deep down in our hearts that we have fell short of what what we as merchants should have done. We tried about six months since to atone in part for some of our short comings, and decided to give our customers a nice Ford touring car. This we are doing and on December the 24 at or about the hour of 4 p. m., we are going to do this.

—Now we are selling Groceries, Dry Goods, Shoes Mens' and Boys Ready-to-wear lower than they can be bought at many other places, and giving this car in addition to this. Remember we are not selling this, we are giving it away.

—Come right on and get your tickets we are just tickled to death to hand them to you and we will be just tickled to death to give someone the car on X-mas eve.

—We cannot enumerate our prices, but remember we are selling as cheap as you can buy dependable merchandise anywhere in Littlefield.

—We sold a tractor today and we will give him tickets on the Ford. Whether you buy a dollars worth or five hundred you get a ticket for every dollar purchase or paid on account.

—We are sure that some of our old customers do not know we are giving tickets on their accounts when paid, if they did they would pay up in place of us having to wear Mr. Wade and the United States mail out sending them statements; but we are going to continue to romp on Mr. Wade and the United States mail until you pay or turn your accounts over to an attorney and we are not going to fool about it much longer, so better come in now, boys and settle up, and get them tickets on the Ford, for it's a beauty.

BRAINY BOOSTERS

T. W. Barnes gave some wholesome advice regarding the relation that should exist between the business man and the country customer, at the same time paying high tribute to the tillers of the soil as constituting the very brawn and sinew of any community.

Rev. Silas Dixon spoke on the part that the church can play in community development, and emphasized the need of symmetrical development of any given locality—a development that was not only commercial, but moral and social as well.

J. A. Mayfield, secretary of the Sudan Chamber of Commerce, was present and brought greeting from the sister city on the northwest, and spoke kindly of the fine spirit of neighborliness that had always existed between these two towns. Mr.
Mayfield was a welcome guest, and the Chamber expressed its appreciation at his coming.

It was announced by the president that the regular time of meeting for the Chamber of Commerce, as a body, has been set for the second Friday evening of each month.

The spirit of harmony manifest by the meeting Friday night was all that the most sanguine could hope.
The secretary announced that the membership now numbers nearly seventy, with others getting on the dotted line every day, and it is hoped that by the first of the year the membership will reach the 100 mark.

It was also announced that Littlefield now has twenty-six memberships in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

T. W. Barnes was in Amarillo the first of the week on business.

Mrs. Porter Earnest of Sudan was shopping here Monday.

Miss Helen Elrod of Muleshoe spent the week-end here the guest of Misses Vivian and Ruth Courtney.

W. H. Grammer, of Chillicothe, is here this week prospecting for a location.

W. C. Murphy, of Hubbard is here
this week making property purchases preparatory to locating here.

Mrs. J. C. Whicker left Saturday for a month's visit with friends in Spokane, Washington.

Commissioner R. S. Hall of Spring
Lake, was in Littlefield Tuesday meeting old friends.

A Thanksgiving service will be held at the Presbyterian church this morning, (Thursday.)

Mrs. Vernon Lane has accepted a position as sales lady with the Shaw-Earnest Co.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Lee Havens, residing ten miles north of town, a boy last Friday night.

Gus DeBur, who has been on the sick list for the past week, is reported improving.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Fox, residing just west of town are the happy parents of a baby girl, born Sunday night.

The Womens Auxilliary of the Baptist church is planning a bazaar to be given Saturday before Christmas.

The Christian Endeavor, of the Presbyterian church gave an appropriate Thanksgiving program at their meeting Sunday night.

Miss Patsey Lively, home economics teacher in Littlefield schools, is spending the week in San Antonio in the interest of her work.

Monte Bowron, director of the Lorenzo band was here Saturday. He had some very complimentary things to say about the new band in Littlefield.

Miss Nannie Thelma Wardlow and Miss Mona Horton, Gus Shaw and W.
V. Tolbert were in Lubbock Sunday, Mr. Tolbert going on to Amarillo to attend the meeting of the Furniture Dealers Convention.

Herbert Mueller, W. G. Street, Geo.
A. Stagers and F. V. Barber were all in Olton the first of the week, having been summoned to serve on the petit jury of District Court which is now in session.

R. E. Cole, recently of Killeen, having purchased several lots and some farm property here recently, has returned home to bring his family to Littlefield and make this their future home. He has already built one house and let contracts for the family residence. Mr. Cole will be connected with the Thompson Land Co., which concern will occupy the new building
he is now having erected.

Chas. C. Davis, who has been here looking after his farm west of town returned to his home at Lafayette, Indiana. While here he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur O.
Stockton and Mr. and Mrs. J. C.
Whicker, being an old friend of both families.

While holding district court Tuesday at Olton, some one swiped the gasoline from Judge Joyner's car, the Judge not being aware of his depleted supply until his car stopped three miles out of town. What reward his honor has offered for the miscreant is not known, but if caught he will doubtless enter motion to disqualify the presiding Judge from acting in his case, and in view of the probable decision, the point would be well taken.

Leader Grovels in Dust

Getting out an extra large paper,
such as the Leader's Thanksgiving number was last week, is no sinecure by any means, especially when the office force is short and the linotype has gone on the blink, demanding all the patience the editor's stock of religion will endure to keep from mixing his metaphors, splitting his infinitives and getting his theological nonomenclature confused.

It was a fine edition, as many of our subscribers have assured us, and the finest part of it all was the spirit of genuine appreciation that poured forth from the Thanksgiving ads that were contributed by the business men of Littlefield and Sudan.

It was their one opportunity of the entire year in which to express their genuine gratitude for the patronage of their customers during the year.

But—
Somehow or other, no one knows how, not even the scribe of the sacred tripod, a cog slipped, and, bleakly blank, blank, blank, (that is as far as our credentials will allow us to go) we inadvertently left out the appreciations of the Gold Star Cafe, Green Line Land Co., York Bros., Bill's
Place, and the Sudan Mercantile Co.,
—and yet, some folks say an editor hasn't anything to worry about,
Selah!

Maybe not, but we herewith do humbly clothe ourselves in sackcloth and ashes in sincere repentance for our gross negligence and crass mentality, and in the presence of the almighty public, attended by all the angels of praise and devils of criticism, tender our sincere apologies to Mrs. Foster, Houke & Yelverton, Shorty & Jess, Bill, Slate, et al, if there happen to be any others, and promise the thing shall never happen again, so help me Jehosaphat!

ASKING AND RECEIVING

In response to the world's insistent call for better methods the bicycle replaced the walker; steam instead of sails for ships;
the motor car for the horse; and steam rails to remove wilderne-
se. Morse made the telegraph, and Field, despite discouragem-ments, hooked up continents. Bell invented the telephone—and human voice was projected thousands of miles.

Now, and at low cost, the telephone has become one of the necessities of life. Millions of hours, untold energy and expense are conserved daily through the telephone. Business is speeded and accomplishments impossible in other ages are now possible in the humblest homes. A phone in your home is not a luxury.
Order installation today. Be in step with your town's progress.
We will install you a telephone for the next three months Rental
