Citizens Will Vote Whether Or Not Bonds To Be Issued For Project

After a petition, representing approximately 250 tax-paying voters was presented to the City Commission Tuesday, another election was called for October 14, for the purpose of voting on revenue bonds for the construction of a municipal electric light and power generating plant for Littlefield.

An election was defeated by a small margin in August, after the City Commission had called an election for the voting of $225,000 in bonds.

Boy Scouts Attend Camporal

The Littlefield Scout troops No. 25 and 26 were well represented in the South Plains Boy Scout council camporal on Texas Technological College campus Friday and Saturday.

The troops were taken to Lubbock Friday afternoon by Mrs. I. D. Onstead, Jim Douglass, and Paul Pharris under the supervision of Rel Stephens.

September 1, 1941

Dear Folks: I finally got settled down and back to work. I was assigned to this organization, which is a motor repair company, but I went right back into the office. I think that I will get along alright but the office work over here is so different that it is nearly just like learning a new type of work altogether. Everyone here though who works in the office are drawing good pay and when I get on to the particulars, but it may not be such a good one at first.

I went out with a bunch of fellows to a nice beach and a good swimming place, this afternoon. I haven't a swimming suit yet but am going to get one before next Sunday. We went by the much publicized Waikiki Beach and that was really a disgusting sight. It is very narrow and just about as long as it is from your house to Claude's. I really expected to see something there but was very muchly disappointed. I saw a lot of beautiful (Continued on back Page)

Chuck Wagon Feed Helps Band And Pep Squad Make Plenty Of Noise At Hereford Grid Game

One of the finest gestures yet to be made in behalf of the band and pep squad of the Littlefield school was shown last Friday night when the group landed at the stadium at Hereford to boost the Wildcats in their game with the Hereford Whitefaces.

As fast as they alighted from the big school bus they found Rev. Jim Sharp, Earnest Cundiff and Earl Hobbs dispensing sandwiches, fruit and soda pop from a truck labeled "Chuck Wagon, Lions Club" on the side, and later between games they were served candy bars. This had proven a lift to these boys and girls as some had hurried off without taking time to eat a full supper as well as affording them a gala time.

"The Lions Club wishes to take this opportunity to thank everyone who contributed to the Chuck Wagon, making it possible to bring this feeling of good will and support to the boys and girls who furnish the color and noise so necessary to a winning football team," one member (Continued on back Page)

Funeral Services For Morton J. Smith Held Friday P. M.

Founder Of City Of Morton Succumbs In Lubbock Thursday

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the First Christian Church, Ave. J. at 16th street, Lubbock, for Morton J. Smith, 76, well known pioneer and ranchman of the South West Plains.

He was found dead shortly before ten o'clock Thursday morning in his room at Hilton Hotel in Lubbock. He was best known in Littlefield by the early day citizens of the town. Having had ranching interests in what is known as Cochran county now, he made frequent visits to Littlefield where he purchased ranching supplies.

Mr. Smith saw the potentialities of that area as a great farming country and it was he who staked out the townsite of Morton, in the heart of the 20,000 acre tract he had purchased from the Slaughter interests and with others who had purchased tracts cut from that huge block of land, brought about the organization of Cochran county in 1923.

Interment was made at Waco, Texas. Survivors are the wife, a foster son, Morton J. Smith, Jr., of Dallas, nephew of Mrs. Smith who was reared by the couple. Another survivor is Miss Minnie Sneed of Waco, a half-sister.

Final Rites For Jerry Bob Brazzil Held This Morning

Funeral services for Jerry Bob Brazzil, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Brazzil, will be held at 10 o'clock this morning, Thursday, at their home on west fifth street. Rev. J. H. Sharp, Methodist pastor, and Bro. Alvin Mitchell, Church of Christ minister, will be in charge of the service.

Interment will be in the Littlefield cemetery, under the direction of Hart-Thaxton Funeral Home. The child was born at a local hospital Friday, September 19. He passed away Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Brazzil's mother, Mrs. J. H. Malone of Gatesville, and Mr. Brazzil's mother, Mrs. J. E. Brazzil of Gatesville arrived in Littlefield last week end, and will attend the final rites this morning.

Lamb Farmers Receive Checks

Since September 15, Lamb County farmers have received $3,894.40 covered by 35 checks. This brings the total amount received in 1941 Cotton Parity payments to $57,070.44 covered by 497 checks.

When measurements are completed in the A. C. A. office a list of these measurements is mailed to the producer. If the producer is not over on cotton and he believes that all other measurements are correct, he will sign this letter and mail (Continued on back page)

Billy Heinen To Go To Camp Barkley As 2nd Lieutenant

Billy Heinen, 21, second lieutenant of the United States Army, last Friday received an appointment, and will report to Camp Barkley in Abilene November 1.

He attended the St. Joseph's Military College at Hayes, Kansas, five years, and received his commission in July. He graduated from the college two years ago, but completed some special training after graduation.

The only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Heinen, he has been at home here since last June.

H. C., Jr., had been stationed at Fort Bliss several weeks, and Tuesday night of this week, he was transferred to Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, where he will enter the engineering corps.

Wildcats To Play Floydada Fri. Night

Tugging two victories behind them Friday night, the Littlefield Wildcats will tangle with the Floydada Whirlwinds at Seely Field for a non-conference tilt, that will attract all of the fans in this vicinity who have faith in those Wildcats' paws.

The band and pep squad, under the direction of Miss Lois Wren and M. T. Camp, are making preparations "to help our boys win another game," and previous to the starting gun, the group will appear on the field for a fan-shaped formation, and will present a spectacular exhibit with flash lights.

The Whirlwinds will appear on the gridiron for the first time this season, since their game with Slaton was postponed from last Friday night, due to the rain. Coached by Floyd Murray, former coach at Canyon, and former star of the Buffalo squad of West Texas State College—and former quarterback on the Whirlwind team about 10 years ago, those boys from the east (Continued on Back Page)

West Texas Boys Can Take It--Says Mahon

George Mahon, Congressman from this District, was back in his Washington office this week after having spent three weeks visiting in various portions of his District.

Early last week while en route to Washington, he visited Army maneuvers in Louisiana where a half million soldiers are engaged in mock warfare for the purpose of increasing the efficiency of our armed forces. Mahon reported that he saw a few of the enlisted men from the 19th Texas District.

In commenting on the maneuvers, Mahon said that the West Texas boys were measuring up to their full responsibility. "It is not a pleasant task for the boys to face the severe hardships occasioned by the maneuvers," he said, "but I can testify from observation that the boys can really take it. The thing that impressed me most was the physical toughness and the high moral quality of the men. The modern youth does not lack the physical stamina and the hardihood of his predecessors.

"The soldiers are the ones, and about the only ones, who are making real sacrifices for national defense. They deserve 100 percent cooperation from labor and capital and from the people generally."

Mahon is a member of the War Department's Appropriations Committee, and he visited the maneuvers in company with Army officials and other Committee members.

Bale Is Ginned By Lamb Co. Farmer Cooperative Assn.

The first bale of 1941 cotton to be ginned in Littlefield, about 30 days later than the first bale last year, arrived Monday afternoon through the rain, brought by Alvin E. Teinert, who resides three and one-half miles southwest of Anton, in Hockley County.

The cotton was ginned by the Lamb County Farmers Co-operative Association, of which V. S. Cassel is manager. This is the third consecutive year that this gin received the first bale ginned in the county.

Mr. Cassel bought the cotton, paying 16c per pound, and the seed brought $22.00. The 2,000 pounds made a bale weighing 580 pounds.

Mr. Teinert stated that the cotton was damp when it was ginned, due to the rain Monday afternoon. He has several bales open in his fields, but the weather does not permit the gathering of them. This cotton was planted May 2 and 3. He has 72 acres planted to cotton, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Teinert and children believe in diversified farming, and, besides the 240 acres in cultivation, where they raise good feed and cotton, they have about 20 head of hogs, eight milk cows, and several hundred chickens. They have lived in this vicinity the past 11 years.

The Littlefield Chamber of Commerce paid Mr. Teinert a premium for the first bale to be ginned here, and they are offering a premium for the second bale.

THE SILK STOCKING AREA

As prominent women begin setting an example for the conservation of silk by wearing cotton stockings, it is interesting to review the rise and fall of the silk stocking area.

In 1899, at the turn of the century, silk stockings first made their appearance in American stores. That year, 12,572 pairs of silk stockings were sold, which constituted one pair for every 2,500 pairs of cotton stockings.

It was not until after the last war that silk stockings approached the popularity which they have had recently. Even in 1919, over half of the stockings sold to women were made of cotton, but during the next ten years cotton stockings became a drug on the market. In 1929 about 86 per cent of women were wearing silk stockings and last year over 90 per cent of the stockings sold were made of silk or rayon.

Girls who have grown up during the period since the last war may find it hard to get used to the cotton stocking idea, but their mothers should have less difficulty dropping a fashion which has actually had such a comparatively short life.

As for men, most of them have never cared much whether their socks were made of silk, cotton or wool. All have preferences, but last year only about five per cent of men's socks were made of silk.

Under THE DOME At Austin

By GORDON K. SHEARER United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN, TEX.—The Texas state capital witnessed this week something that in recent years has been missing. The governor of Texas and the newspaper correspondents who represent wire services and individual papers banqueted together.

In informal remarks to the special session of the Texas legislature last week, Governor Stevenson had taken occasion to tell the legislators what a fine bunch of fellows he had found the news staff at Austin to be.

Newsmen, especially appreciative of any kind remarks since recent cold shoudering in the executive department, reciprocated at the dinner and told how much they like the present governor of Texas and the way he treats newspapermen.

Governor Stephenson is unusually informative to newsmen. He tells them things and if he requests secrecy, tells them why it would not be seemly to announce them immediately. Twice this has resulted in embarrassment to the newspaper correspondents and to the governor.

One was a premature announcement from San Antonio that Sept. 9 had been selected for the opening date of the special session of the legislature. The other was a premature announcement of the selection of State Bank Examiner John Q. McAdams.

The first slip-up was caused by a newsman who either did not hear or heed the governor's statement that the information was not "ripe"; the second was ascribed to a talkative senator.

It is significant of the new cordiality between newspaper workers and Governor Stephenson that neither "leak" resulted in ill-feeling.

Both tentative decisions had been withheld from public announcement because the governor had courteously promised to hear from members of the legislature about them before reaching a decision.

Material for a story of the Henry type might be found in the discovery of a coin by State Rep. Choice Moore of Bonham.

The coin, dated 1828, is a five-franc French silver piece about the size of an American dollar. Moore found it in the closet of the room he rented when he moved to Austin last January. Nobody knew where the coin came from, how it got into the closet of an Austin rooming house, and its travels through more than a century might make a colorful episode.

When the coin was minted, Texas was a part of Mexico; the United States was a struggling young nation, and the present site of Austin was a cedar-covered wilderness on the banks of the Colorado.

Senators chuckled when they received simultaneous notice from the House of Representatives that the House had passed a resolution for observance of Constitution Day, Sept. 17, and had passed a group of bills in defiance of the state constitution.

The bills were unconstitutional because the topics had not been submitted by Gov. Coke R. Stevenson. Senate President Pro Tem E. Harold Beck announced that the Senate caucus had voted to consider no bill that is not submitted by the governor.

The capitol lost one of its most eligible bachelors this month when Ted Read married the former Miss Mary Jo Laird of Kilgore. Read, former Kilgore and Austin newspaperman, is secretary to the Texas railroad commission.

Another very eligible bachelor occupies the state's second highest office. He is E. Harold Beck, senator from Texarkana who is president pro tem of the Texas Senate during the present special session. As president pro tem, Beck is acting lieutenant-governor, second in command only to Governor Stephenson.

Beck's election brought about an unusual coincidence. It is that the president pro tem of the senates of both Texas and Arkansas are from the same city. Willis B. Smith, the Arkansas presiding officer, lives on the Arkansas side of Texarkana and Beck resides on the Texas side. Beck is a native of DeQueen, Ark.

Sen. Joe Hill of Henderson in the vehemence of his speeches frequently forgets where fellow senators come from and has to pause to refresh his memory.

This week he sought to refer to Sen. Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo, ranching-senator. Twice, he tried to mention Senator Metcalfe in the approved Senate style of "the gentleman from Tom Green county," but could not think of the county. Finally, he solved the dilemma. He mentioned "the Senator from Broad Acres."

Texas Governor To Be Guest At Fair At Amarillo Sept. 29

Flood Protection Project Underway Near Friona

Work on the flood protection project of the Santa Fe Railway at Friona, Texas, started Monday. J. A. Gillies general manager of the Santa Fe Western Lines Amarillo, announced this week.

The project will entail dyking and bridging including approximately 200,000 yards of grading. Necessity for the protective measure developed during last season's heavy rains which rushed through Frio draw, flooding railway property and the town of Friona and causing considerable damage, Gillies said.

Upon the basis of surveys recently completed by railway engineers bids were invited by T. A. Blair, chief engineer, Western Lines, and the contract awarded this week to Cook and Ransom, Ottawa, Kan., who were the lowest bidders.

The construction centering around Frio Draw is to be under the immediate supervision of J. G. West, assistant engineer on Blair's staff. Under the proposed plan the dyking and bridging will serve as protection of the railroad property against flood threats which seriously hampered operations last season. It will also tend to serve as a protective measure for private and public properties in the vicinity.

The project is scheduled for completion in about 40 working days and in ample time before the rainy season this year, according to the engineering office.

In his honor between 4 and 6 o'clock at the old Jack Hall ranch.

Other distinguished visitors to be at the fair in Amarillo during the week will be Capt. Charles Rosendahl, noted naval officer, who will be there Thursday and Governor John E. Miles of New Mexico, who will attend the exposition on the closing day, October 4.

New Drivers Licenses To Be Issued After Oct. 1

AUSTIN—Nearly half the people in Texas will start a stamped for new drivers licenses October 1.

There's really no need to get in a hurry about it, State Police Director Homer Garrison explained this week. From Oct. 1 until Dec. 31, old licenses numbered from 1 to 450,000 will be renewed.

From January 1, 1942, until March 31, those numbered from 450,001 to 900,000 will be renewed. Those numbered from 900,001 to 1,350,000 will be renewed between April 1 and June 30.

Any license numbered from 1,350,001 upward will be renewed between July 1 and November 1.

Here's the procedure for getting your new license: Obtain an application form from any Highway Patrolman or Drivers License Examiner, or by writing directly to the Department of Public Safety in Austin. The forms also will be available from police and sheriff departments, banks, and other public places.

Either print in ink or use a typewriter to fill out the application, enclose a 50-cent money order or cashier's check with it, and mail it directly to the Department of Public Safety, Austin. The new license, good for two years, will be mailed to you from Austin.

Persons renewing licenses will not have to take an examination unless they have a bad record of traffic violations or collisions. But if you fail to renew your license in the stipulated time, you will be liable both to arrest for driving without a license and an examination.

Farmers Urged Not To Limit Fall Gardens To Turnips And Greens

Don't limit your fall garden to turnips and greens alone, cautions J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist of the A. and M. College Extension Service. Carrots, beets, English peas, radishes, beans, collards, cabbage, mustard and lettuce will grow as well in fall gardens.

Now is the time, Rosborough says, to rid the garden of weeds and plow it three or four inches deep. Chop up clods until the earth is thoroughly pulverized. If this is done now the soil will be ready for planting as soon as moisture permits.

If there is adequate moisture, vegetables which can stand the heat of September and October may be planted now. But don't make the mistake of planting those which will not withstand heat. In addition to mustard greens and turnips, he suggests onions, white potatoes and radishes. In areas where frost is not likely to occur until late November, the potatoes should be planted now. Bliss Triumph is a quick maturing variety.

When this planting is done, fill an old tub or box about two thirds full of dirt, mixing equal parts of rotted manure and loam. Then plant about one quarter ounce of cabbage seed, covering not more than a quarter inch deep. When the weather is cool the plants will be large enough for transplanting. Copenhagen market is a good variety.

Cool season vegetables should not be planted until October because heat burns the plants. A hundred feet of carrots, using Nantes or Denver's Half Long varieties, will provide a supply throughout late winter and early spring. Beets, using the Detroit Dark Red variety, should be grown as a fall winter and spring vegetable. When the plants attain three inches, spinach thrives best in limy, well-drained soil, and under cool climatic conditions.

In areas where hard freezes are apt to occur, a frame garden 6x20 feet made of planks with a cloth or glass sash cover will produce mus-

Dental Health Program Urged

"Nothing in recent years has more graphically called attention to the seriousness of the American dental health problem than the present defense crisis," said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"The figures of the National Draft Board show that dental defects rank first as cause for rejection of draftees. Nineteen and one-half per cent of young men examined at army induction centers are rejected because of dental defects. "These figures reveal the inadequacy of our dental health programs during the past generation and the public's inertia toward this vital phase of health. If this problem of dental health is to be solved, it must be done at its source, which is the child.

"From surveys made by the United States Public Health Service, of two million school children throughout the United States, it is estimated that approximately ninety per cent of our elementary school population are in need of dental care. To solve this problem the public must be aroused to the gravity of the status of dental health and its effect on general health. This should be accompanied by an intelligent, effective dental health program in our schools, impressing both child and parent with the importance of dental health.

"Since the health of a community is a community problem, the aid of all civic and welfare organizations in the community should be enlisted to carry out the program of dental health. It is only in this way that we can bring our children tard, lettuce, onions, radishes, beets and carrots until Christmas.

Be prepared for bugs by following suggestions given in the Extension Circular L-19, "Guide for Controlling Vegetable Insects."

Food Processing Centers To Be Set Up

Many Texas communities served by REA lines are eligible to benefit from a new governmental program designed to fortify the health of rural families.

The plan will be a cooperative one with REA, the Extension Service, Farm Security Administration and other agencies of the Department of Agriculture participating, according to Mildred Horton, vice director of the Extension Service and chairman of the Texas State Nutrition Committee.

Electrically equipped food processing centers will be set up in rural schools or other public buildings on REA lines within the state. The responsibility of the county home demonstration agents and other rural educators will be to teach adult groups better nutritional practices.

Miss Horton explains that these food centers may be equipped with small mills for grinding whole wheat flour and other whole grain cereals or with electrical cooking, refrigeration, and dehydration equipment. It is possible that food processed in the centers may be used in community school lunch programs during the year.

The equipment may also be used by low-income families in the community who cannot afford their own equipment for processing grains, fruits, vegetables, and cereals for home use. Purchase of the equipment will be financed through REA

Two Littlefield Wildcats Make Honor Roll; Olton Mustangs And Brownfield Cubs 5-A Standouts

Roy Hutson and Jimmy Yarbrough of the Littlefield Wildcat squad, were chosen members of the honor roll of class A grid stars last week end by Joe Pierce, Avalanche-Journal Sports Writer.

Pierce drew some early conclusions from last Friday's games in district 4 and 5, predicting that the Olton Mustangs and the Brownfield Cubs would again be 5-A standouts.

Here's his predictions, and the honor roll for other squads in this area:

1. Brownfield, four times winner of the south zone 5-A title in four years, must be regarded as the favorite to repeat, because of smashing victories over Kermit and Levelland. Seagraves and Denver City, two newcomers to the district, look like best bets to upset the Cubs. Seagraves has defeated Pains, 42-0, and Cooper 44-6, while Denver City, playing strong opposition, has registered two wins over 4-A elevens, 19-13 over Ralls and 27-0 over Crosbyton.

2. Olton North Zone Favorite
Olton, shooting for its fourth consecutive north zone 5-A crown, is a top-heavy favorite to move through to the district playoffs in late November without a defeat. Impressive indeed was the Mustangs 52-18 triumph over Matador, rated one of the powers in 4-A. Littlefield, which took a 33-6 win from Hereford for its second victory, and perhaps Slaton will be the toughest opposition. Levelland, Muleshoe and Sudan are counted out on the strength of disappointing showings this week and last.

3. The only thing certain about District 4-A is that it is much weaker than usual. Of the teams that have played thus far, Ralls and Lockney have made the best showing, but their opposition has not been of exceptionally high quality. Floydada, yet to show for the first time, could be called the favorite purely on the demonstrated weakness of the other teams in the loop.

Eleven Games Slated
Next week's games will do a lot to clarify the situations in each of the various loops. Eleven games are scheduled in the two districts, including three conference contests in 5-A.

District tests between Slaton and Muleshoe in the north zone of 5-A and Seagraves and Post in the south half highlight the card. The other conference game sends O'Donnell to Seminole.

Other games: Silverton at Crosbyton, Floydada at Littlefield, Lockney at Tahoka, Memphis at Paducah, Ralls at Kermit, Spur at Olton, Levelland at Denver City, Sudan at Hereford. Brownfield, Morton and Matador are not scheduled.

Below is this week's Avalanche-Journal honor roll of Class A stars, consisting of boys who have been outstanding in Friday's games. It'll be a feature of each Sunday's Avalanche-Journal throughout the football season:

MARVIN "CYCLONE" JONES and BILL REYNOLDS, Denver City. Jones, wee 120-pound quarterback, pitched two touchdown passes and, kicking barefooted, punted marvelously as the Mustangs continued to show surprising strength with a 27-0 victory over Crosbyton. Reynolds caught the two touchdown heaves and added a third score on a 26-yard run. He also kicked three extra points from placement.

J. L. ATTERBURY and CHARLES TITTSWORTH, Ralls, Atterbury, who did all the scoring against Denver City a week ago, scored the first two touchdowns as the Jackrabbits defeated Post, 18 to 12. Tittsworth added the third.

GENE BROCK, Seagraves. This 170-pound sophomore fullback scored four touchdowns as the Eagles won their second straight scoring spree by downing Cooper, 44 to 6. The first score was on a 35-yard dash with an intercepted pass.

CECIL AND JIM CURRY, Tahoka. Cecil, 175-pound fullback, scored two touchdowns as Tahoka ran up a 24-12 score on Andrews. Brother Jim, 160-pound end playing his first year, played fine defensive ball.

JIGGS TANKERSLEY, Brownfield. With a fine exhibition of running finesse, Tankersley established himself as one of 5-A's leading candidates for all-district honors as the Cubs smothered Levelland, 31 to 0.

WILLARD and WILLIS HEDGES and GEODGE RICHARDS, Olton. With these three veterans showing the way, the Mustangs demonstrated that they're going to be hard to beat in 5-A with a smashing 52 to 18 victory over Matador, rated close to top in 4-A. Each of the three scored two touchdowns.

PHIL GREEN, Matador. On the honorable mention list last year, Green showed he's one of the best ends in District 4-A this season by scoring all three touchdowns as Matador lost to Olton, 18-52. Two of the tallies were on passes, the other on a 65-yard end-around play.

CLINTON MITCHELL, Lockney. Mitchell's 35-yard touchdown run in the third period was all the scoring there was as the Longhorns tripped Canyon, 7 to 6.

WALKER DEARING, Seminole. Dearing pitched one touchdown and ran for another as Seminole took Sandown, 26 to 6.

BUD THOMAS, Muleshoe. His 30-yard pass to Tuffy Kennedy and a 10-yard run through the line furnished the scores as Prince Scott's Muleshoe eleven defeated Spring Lake, 13 to 0.

WILBUR BALL, Spur. His 45-yard run was the only scoring gesture as Spur bowed to Haskell, 18 to 0.

ROY HUTSON and JIMMY YARBROUGH, Littlefield. Hutson and Yarbrough handled most of the scoring duties as Littlefield whipped Hereford decisively, 33 to 6.

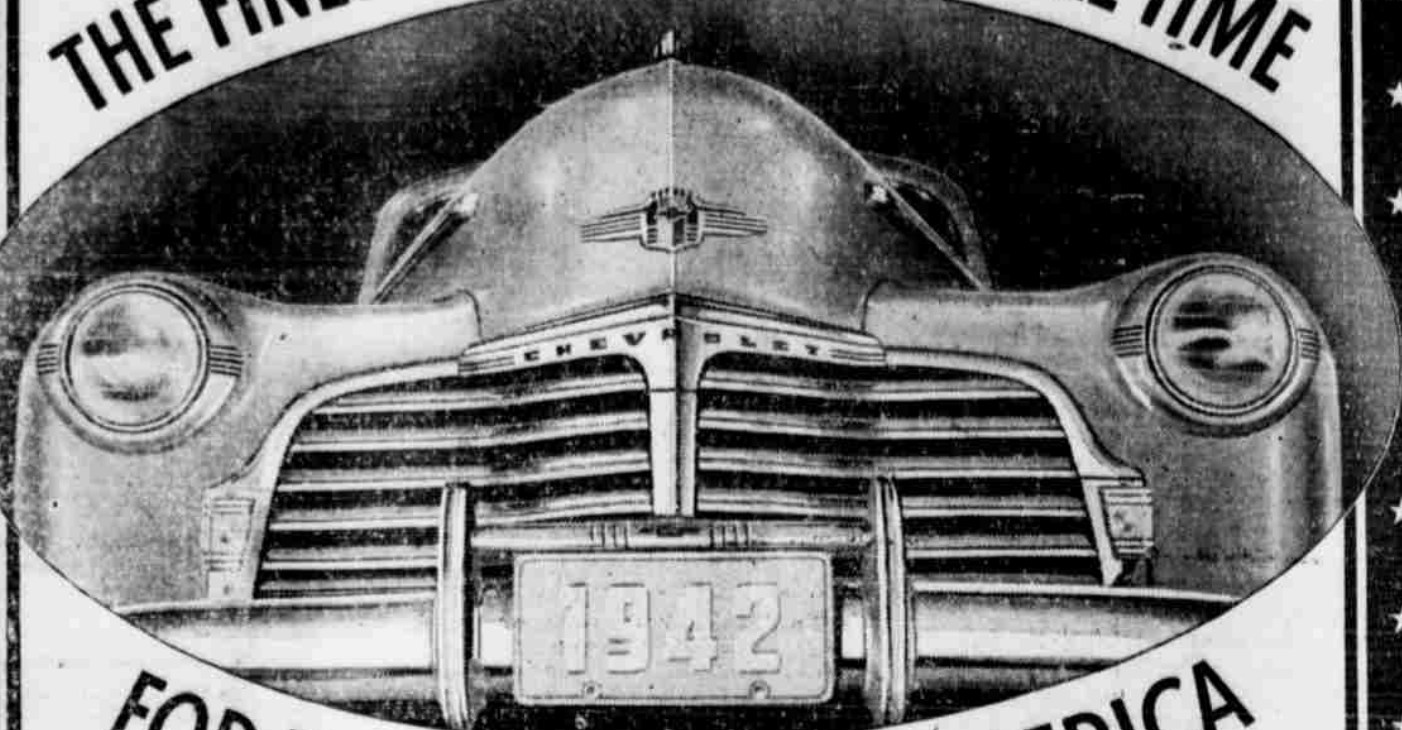

Whiteface Wins From Pettit, 20 To 13

Whiteface and Pettit high schools inaugurated their first year in football competition Friday, Whiteface taking a 20-13 conference game from the Bulldogs.

Price of Pettit and Troy Overman of Whiteface were outstanding. Price scored both touchdowns for Pettit, one on an 85-yard runback of a pass interception, Harold Woodley scored on a pass, Overman on a pass and Alonzo Peters on a run for Whiteface.

Olton Mustangs Romp Over Matador High

Olton High school's "first team" played less than two periods Friday night, but quit the field in favor of reserves Olton had scored 52 points—and the final score of the game was Olton 52, Matador 18.

The game was played at Olton. The Hedges twins, Willard and Willis, scored two touchdowns apiece, and so did Quarterback Richards, a new "find" Olton led in first downs, 9 to 3.

Green, an end, scored all of Matador's points, catching two passes and scampering 65-yards for another on an end-around play.

"Ringside Maisie" To Be Featured At Ritz This Week End

Heralded as the most interesting Maisie film to date, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Ringside Maisie," starring Ann Sothern, is scheduled to open Saturday Midnite at the Ritz Theater for an engagement of 2 days, Sunday and Monday.

Since the inception of this character, the blond, Brooklyn chorus girl as portrayed by Miss Sothern, has rapidly become one of the screen's most popular characters.

She promises to add to her fan following in this newest series of adventures.

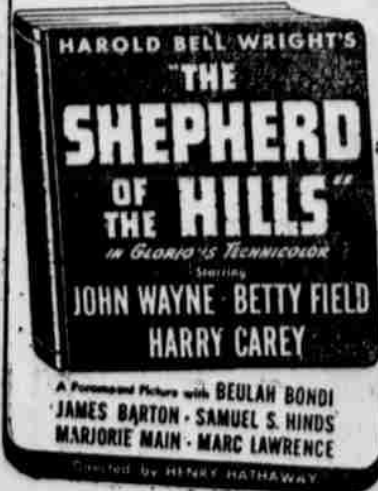

The story concerns Maisie again on the trail of a job and again finding adventure. This time her path crosses those of a young prizefighter, his invalid mother and his hard-boiled manager. When Maisie is hired as a companion for the mother she learns that the boy hates his career as a fighter. How she battles it out with the manager, and winds up by falling in love with him, makes for one of the fast-moving, wise-cracking film of the entire series.

An excellent cast has been gathered in support of the star. As the manager is George Murphy, who forsakes his singing and dancing roles long enough to be a convincing, if heartless, fight manager. Murphy last appeared for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in the film, "Little Nellie Kelly."

SYNOPSIS
PEGGY Horton meets Harry Wilson by chance. She has been strictly brought up by her grandmother at Rosewood and has never met any boys. Her older sister, Maxine Trueheart, is a successful screen star. And Peggy, ashamed of her sheltered life, has pretended to her school roommate Nancy that she is engaged. Now Nancy is coming to visit her. Harry insists that Peggy borrow the ring his fiancée has just returned to him and wear it as an engagement ring. She accidentally bends it and when getting it mended she meets a stranger who has spoken to her that morning from a car with a California license. Nancy and her sister Maxine arrive.

"Do you mind if I run downstairs and telephone? I—I forgot to phone home that I arrived all right."

"Do you mind if I run downstairs and telephone, Peggy?" Nancy interrupted her. "I—I forgot to phone home that I arrived all right. You needn't come with me," she added slipping into a negligee. "I noticed tonight where the phone was."

"Go right on down then," Peggy urged. "I'll run in and say good night to Maxine while you phone."

She hurried across the hall to her sister's room when Nancy started down the stairs.

"Oh, here you are," Maxine cried as Peggy entered. "I was hoping you'd get in for a good night chat. There are a million things I want to tell you and ask you."

"That's the way I feel," Peggy declared, curling herself up on the foot of her sister's bed, and watching Maxine unpack her things and put them out into the room.

"First of all," Maxine continued, "I want to know about this young man you are going to marry. Of course I realize that it is hard to make Gran, darling that she is, understand things as we see them. Nevertheless, I would never want either of us to marry anyone of whom she disapproved. I honestly feel that Gran can judge people's characters better than anyone I've ever known. So I do hope he isn't someone she doesn't like. Have you told her anything about him? You see, darling," she added sitting on the bed near Peggy, and taking both of the younger girl's hands in her own, "I'm frightfully anxious about it all, because what I really came home for was to see about you. I have the most wonderful opportunity right now. They want me to make a new picture—in England! I'm dying to do it, but I just couldn't say yes until I came here and saw how things were with you. I made up my mind that if you were unhappy I'd give up my work for a while and stay here and look after you. Then to find that you are engaged—well, it just seems that everything is working out all right for me to go to England. Or is it, little Peggy? You see, I must know."

Peggy gulped. "Oh, yes, of course, Maxine. I am perfectly happy. I don't really need you here, although you know how heavenly it is having you. You needn't worry about Gran and the man I'm going to marry. Everything here is splendid, only we—well we just wanted to keep it to ourselves right at first. So don't mind if I don't tell even you his name right now."

Maxine eyed her sister searchingly, then leaning forward kissed her gently. "All right, Baby, whatever you say. You know I trust your judgment and I know you wouldn't do anything ever that would cause either Gran or me any unhappiness."

Peggy felt that if she stayed there another minute she would be crying her heart out in her sister's arms.

"I must run back to Nancy now," she said jumping to her feet. "Good night. It's grand to have you here even for a short time. I know the English picture will be swell."

She got out of the room somehow. Under the door of her grandmother's room she could see the faint flicker of a light. She wanted awfully to knock on the door and slip in there and tell Mrs. Horton what she had done. This was the first time she had ever deceived her grandmother and her sister and gave her a feeling of panic. It had seemed rather fun this morning when in the road, planning with Maxine to put something over on Nancy. But actually carrying out the plan she found was no fun at all. She had counted all afternoon on telling Maxine and letting her decide what to do. And now her engagement was just the thing Maxine was delighting in. Peggy threw back her head and marched to her own room. All right, she would see it through!

"Are you there, Nancy?" she called.

"Yes, I'm in bed," Nancy replied. "Come on in." She sounded all right now. Evidently her telephone talk home had helped her.

"Just a minute," Peggy called. She must put Harry's ring away in some safe place. She couldn't carry it around in her bag for a week. She would be sure to pull it out with a handkerchief or a powder puff. She looked about for a place to hide it, but her room seemed very open. The drawers of her bureau would be opened by Mary Lou when she put away the laundry. The cubby holes of her desk had letters and note paper stuffed into them. It wasn't that she doubted the honesty of any of the servants. She knew that they would never take anything, no matter what she left lying about, but she did not want anyone to see this ring. She remembered a pair of satin evening slippers she had had at school. There seemed to be no chance of wearing those now. She would stuff the ring into the toe of one of them and it would be safe out of sight.

Getting her bag from a drawer she reached in for the ring. Impatient at her inability to find it, she emptied the contents of the bag onto the bed. But no glittering diamond and sapphire ring rolled out with the coin purse, compact and handkerchief. Hastily she picked up the handkerchief and felt it, then shook it, at first gently, then roughly, but nothing fell from it as she waved it by two corners. Frowning, she opened the coin purse and emptied that. It contained only a little silver and a few pennies. Nothing that could conceal a ring. Frightened now, she picked up the bag again, this time turning it inside out. Perhaps there was a hole in the lining. But there was not. The ring was just not there. On hands and knees she crawled under the bed staring stupidly about the dusky space. She backed out from there and moved the bureau. But it was useless. She looked in her gloves. She emptied the two top drawers. The ring was gone.

In real alarm Peggy hurried into Nancy's room. She found her guest propped up among her pillows reading a motion picture magazine she had brought with her.

"I thought you were never coming," Nancy said looking up from her magazine.

"Do you remember what I did with my ring this afternoon when I took it off at the station?" Peggy demanded.

"Put it in your bag. Why?"

"Are you sure? Sure I put it in? I didn't drop it, did I?"

"No, of course you didn't. I remember seeing you drop it in and then close the bag. Why? Can't you find it?"

"No," Peggy cried in dismay. "It isn't in there, and I've looked everywhere."

"You probably haven't half looked," said Nancy. Throwing back the sheet, she jumped out of bed and stopping only long enough to slip her bare feet into high-heeled mules she hurried into the next room. But after a few minutes' search she had to admit the ring seemed to be nowhere in sight.

"I'll call Maxine," Peggy said, slipping across the hall to her sister's room.

Maxine, too, was sure that she had seen her sister drop the ring into her bag. Carefully she went through the things on the bed.

"Now, there's no use in getting excited," she said looking about her. "Get out the dress you had on today."

Just then the telephone in the lower hall rang. All three of the girls stopped and stared at each other in astonishment. They had not realized how quiet everything about the house had been, until they heard that shrill sound. Telephones did not ring often late at night at Rosewood. It rang again.

"I'll go," Peggy ran out of the room and swiftly down the stairs. The other two followed her into the upstairs hall.

"Hello," she called. "Yes. Who? Miss Trueheart? Yes—just a minute. I'll call her."

Maxine was already coming down the steps. Peggy handed her the receiver and started up the stairs.

"Hello," Maxine answered. "Well, for heaven's sake. Where did you come from? What a detective you are to have found me here!"

"Listen!" Nancy cried grabbing Peggy's arm. "Did you hear that? It's a detective." Peggy had gone back to her room, her mind still occupied with the loss of Harry's ring. She was only half-conscious of what either Maxine or Nancy had said. But Nancy persisted.

"Did you hear? It's a detective she's talking to. Do you suppose she'll tell him about the ring being gone? And maybe get him out here?"

Peggy stared at her a moment in silence. "I wonder if she could," she cried. She rushed back to the hall and hurriedly tiptoed down the stairs again. "Maxine!" she was calling in a loud whisper. "Don't hang up. Ask him if he can't come out here and help us find the ring!"

"What?" Maxine asked looking up at her sister in astonishment.

"What are you talking about? No, not you," she added into the phone. "My sister. Wait just a minute. What is it, Peggy?"

"You called him a detective," Peggy explained. "And I wondered if you couldn't get him to come out here and help us find the ring. I don't know who he is, but there aren't any detectives in Marshville and I certainly need someone. Ask him anyway, won't you?"

Maxine stood staring at her a second, then nodded her head. "Run on back upstairs and keep looking and I'll ask him."

Peggy's teeth were chattering now from excitement, even though the night was warm. She rushed back up the steps. Nancy was still leaning over the railing, listening.

"I think maybe he'll come," Peggy told her. "Come on—I'm cold."

"Well, I think it's a perfectly dumb idea to get a detective out here to look for your ring," Nancy said in disgust. "He'll ask a lot of questions. Then what will you say? Your grandmother will have to know all about everything."

"Oh, dear," Peggy was almost in tears. "I didn't think about that. But you suggested it," she said, turning to look at Nancy in surprise.

"I did not," Nancy cried. "I was just trying to warn you in case Maxine suggested it. I'll go tell her not to let him come." But as she started towards the door they heard Maxine on the stairs, and a moment later she came in the room.

"Well, he's coming in the morning," she announced.

"How are you going to explain Peggy's ring to Mrs. Horton?" demanded Nancy.

Maxine stared stupidly at both girls, then collecting herself she crossed the room to Peggy.

"You will have to tell Gran all about it, honey," she said, putting her arm around her sister's shoulders.

"Oh, but I can't, Maxine!" Peggy's hands were twisting in her lap, and she was on the verge of tears. What should she do? "I know," she sat up suddenly. "We'll tell Gran it's Nancy's ring!"

"Mine?" Nancy exclaimed. "Why mine?"

"I had told Gran before you came that you were engaged and she doesn't know you have broken the engagement. So she will think you have lost your engagement ring here, and won't question it. Oh, Nancy, please!"

New 1942 Chevrolets To Be Displayed Here Tomorrow

New models of the 1942 Chevrolet will be on display, tomorrow, Friday, at the Hewitt Chevrolet Company here, it was announced this week.

New massiveness, contributing to the smartest styling ever designed for the nation's No. 1 sales volume motor car, characterizes the Chevrolet offering for 1942, according to company engineers. The new car is presented in three lines ranging from an economy model that incorporates unusual refinements to a luxury line surpassing all previous presentations in the lowest-price field.

As in past years, the new car is presented in the Master Deluxe and Special Deluxe series. The Fleetline series, introduced mid-season last year in sedan only, is represented again by sedan, known as the Sportmaster, and the new Fleetline six-passenger Aerosedan, said to be one of the most attractively styled models in the entire showing.

The same attention to finished detail that is apparent in the exterior of the new models is noted at once inside the car. Smart styling, fine materials, and excellent design have produced the most beautiful and comfortable interiors that Chevrolet ever has offered.

Though wheelbase on all models is unchanged from 1941, remaining at 116", stylists have set the overall length at 195 7-8", creating a long, low, sleek car that combines sweeping lines with a generally rugged appearance. Complete new front-end treatment, handled harmoniously, does much to convey an impression of greater size and increased sturdiness throughout.

A new, lower, wider, more massive grille with its heavier bars gives an instant impression of bigness, while the blunter, deeper hood, front splash shield, and more widely spaced Sealed Beam headlights contribute to that effect. Greater length is indicated at once by the new elongated front fenders, which flow back into the front doors, swinging with the doors as they are opened. The new fender design permits desirable clean, smooth surfaces. An ingenious touch is the new foot scraper at the front running board step pad, created by a triangular extension of the new fenders.

Because the unusually successful Chevrolet engine developed for 1941 is retained with only minor refinements for the new year, power output remains virtually the same, assuring the same high performance characteristics so generally acclaimed last year. Axle ratios and tire sizes likewise are unchanged, insuring hill-climbing ability, acceleration, and general over-all performance at the 1941 level. Fuel and oil economy, long a Chevrolet trait, is also thus assured.

Much broader and deeper than before, the new hood extends back to the front edge of the front door, displacing the former cowl side panel and making a cleaner line. Hood side panels are integral with the hood top and are raised with it, facilitating greater access to the engine compartment. The same "driver-control" method of unlatching the hood is retained from last year. Smart simplicity keynotes the hood louvers, which appear to be extensions of the body belt molding, tapering out from that molding to a projection of about 1 1/2" at the hood front.

To harmonize with other appearance units, the re-designed front end emblem is a massive shield of gleaming finish inlaid with red and blue enamel. Augmenting this striking ornament, on Fleetline and Special Deluxe model hood side panels, shining block letters announce the model name.

Headlamps now are 7 1/8" farther apart, with a total of 54" between them. Flush-type parking lamps have been relocated into the grille proper.

er. Greater sturdiness is apparent in the new bumpers and guards, for increased depth makes the bumpers appear more massive and increased crown depth assures greater resistance to impact. Guards are re-designed toward a more massive appearance, and an added feature is the relocation of the front license plate guard bar spanning the tops of the bumper guards and serving as a grille guard.

On the trunk, license light and trunk handle have been revised in accord with the theme massiveness throughout. The trunk handle and its base form a shield with the lamp on top. Projecting from each side of this shield on the Special Deluxe and Fleetline models is a widespread pair of wings. Just above this unit the license plate is mounted and above that appears the name Chevrolet in script. Fleetline is the inscription on the models in that series.

On all body styles except the Station Wagon appears a new body pelt molding of about the same width as in 1941. Running full length along the lower half are three sharp-peaked raised ribs.

Eye-appealing color schemes have been evolved for the interiors of the new 1942 Chevrolets throughout the entire line. Upholstery in the Master Deluxe and Special Deluxe series is a pleasing light gray, while a rich brown "Fleetweave" broadcloth is employed in the Fleetline models. New color treatment of the instrument panels does much to highlight the smartness of the new design, with plastics and bright-work trim judiciously used. The effect of luxurious styling so readily apparent in the new car's exterior thus is carried out in the handsome interior treatment.

Mechanically, only minor improvements and refinements are apparent, with the chassis for all three lines remaining the same. The stabilized front end mounting that has contributed so largely to the car's easy ride and smooth handling is retained, with refinements to allow for the new front-end design.

Chevrolet's time-proved hydraulic brakes now carry a mechanically operated stop-light switch, replacing the former hydraulic-operated device. The new switch eliminates all possibility of fluid leakage resulting from failure of the stop-light switch.

The unique vacuum-powered gear shift originated by Chevrolet and a Chevrolet feature through the past three years, is retained for 1942. A new two-tone color finish on the steering wheel in the Special Deluxe and Fleetline series has been worked out, with a new steering post button design.

Of particular interest in the broad range of accessories developed specifically for 1942 models, is a new wheel disc, painted white, which creates an effect said to be strikingly similar to that given by white sidewall tires.

Following are the 1942 lines and models:

Fleetline Series—Sportmaster Sedan and Aerosedan.

Special Deluxe Series—Sport Sedan, Town Sedan, Five-Passenger Coupe, Business Coupe, Cabriolet, and Station Wagon.

Master Deluxe Series—Sport Sedan, Town Sedan, Five-Passenger Coupe, Business Coupe, Coupe Pickup, and Sedan Delivery.

"Shepherd Of The Hills" Due At Palace This Week End For Two Day Showing

When a great cast, great story and great director are assembled for a motion picture, it's inevitable that moviegoers are in for a treat. That treat ought to be forthcoming in Paramount's Technicolor film version of the famous novel by Harold Bell Wright, "The Shepherd of the Hills," which will be shown Saturday Midnight, Sunday and Monday at the Palace Theatre, starring John Wayne, Betty Field and Harry Carey, Henry Hathaway, the masterful director who gave us "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" handled the megaphone on this romantic drama of the Ozarks which is soon to tenant the Palace Theatre.

As most people know, even if they haven't read the book, the story of "The Shepherd of the Hills" has been read by millions of people, and has become what can fairly be called a classic in American fiction. Literally millions of Harold Bell Wright fans must have been wondering when this great story would be transferred to the screen. Who will be Young Matt, who Sammy Lane, who Old Matt, they must have wondered. Who will be The Shepherd?

Don't crowd now, and we'll give you the answers in short order. John Wayne is Young Matt, and a splendid portrayal of the hot-blooded, reckless character this handsome, young over-six footer ought to give; Betty Field is seen as Sammy Lane, the half-wild, lovable little mountain girl who could fight and love with the ferocity of a wildcat; Harry Carey, that veteran of a hundred perfect screen characterizations, is The Shepherd himself, and Old Matt will be seen enacted by James Barton, famous as the Jeeter Lester of the Broadway stage play, "Tobacco Road." Other major characters in the story are acted out by a brilliant featured cast including Beulah Bondi, Marjorie Main, Samuel S. Hinds and Marc Lawrence.

When Paramount first announced it was going to film Harold Bell Wright's flaming story of the Ozark's, there was a general rush among Hollywood actors to get parts, for the characters offer rich acting opportunities. The cast chosen, representing some of the screen's best players, is tops in ability.

In brief, the story concerns the love of a young mountain girl for a reckless rifle-toting young Ozark

Roy Shahan, Pastor

Sunday is Promotion Day in our Church. Some will go from Nursery to Cradle Roll; from Cradle Roll to Beginner; Beginner to Primary and on through each Department. A Certificate of promotion will be presented to each one who is promoted. Let every officer and teacher be present. It is urged that all pupils be present and on time.

Beginning Monday evening, Sept. 29th at 8 P. M. Miss Nella Casement will lead us in a Training Union Study Course. Classes will be held for each department. Bring the entire family, a class for every member. Rev. and Mrs. Harold Russ from the Earth Church will also assist. Do not miss this opportunity for a week of real study and better preparation for Christian service. Classes meet each evening through Friday evening.

Anton Baptist Church Host To Annual West Plains Baptist Association

The Annual West Plains Baptist Association met with the Anton Baptist Church Thursday and Friday. The association is made up of 22 churches in the district and 18 were represented with messengers.

During the business session Thursday, Rev. J. W. Pitman, pastor of the Spade church was elected moderator and Mrs. Harold Russ of Earth was elected clerk.

Robert Cook Buckner, grandson of the founder of Buckner's Orphan's Home Dallas made a talk on the home and reported 700 children living in the home at this time.

The annual sermon was preached by Rev. Roy Shahan, pastor of the Littlefield Baptist church, using for his theme "The Church without the stalwart, who is hesitant about giving her heart to him completely for fear that it might be stained with the blood of a man folks said he was sure to kill some day.

As a novel, "The Shepherd of the Hills" thrilled many millions, and as a motion picture now, what with a brilliant cast and director bringing it to the screen, it should find favor among many new millions.

METHODIST CHURCH
Jim H. Sharp

It seems to us that every one ought to understand that it is not only our religious duty to support the churches by our attendance but that it is our social and civil duty. It is the civil duty of every real American to attend some Church with at least a degree of regularity. The Churches of America are the greatest supporters of pure democracy.

We want every one that is not in Sunday School and Church some where to attend our church if they can. We welcome every one to our services.

EMMANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Sunday School and Junior Bible class meet next Sunday at 10:30 a. m.

Next Sunday the pastor will preach at the annual Mission Sunday services in Plainview. In his absence there will be a reading service at 11:00 a. m. This will be the only service next Sunday.

Sunday School teachers meet on Tuesday, Sept. 30, at 8:00 p. m.

AMHERST METHODIST CHURCH

The revival is moving along in good condition with the many hindrances that prevail. Rev. Gus Klein is doing some searching, preaching and provoking much thought with many people of the town and church. The meeting will continue through next Sunday night. We have had some additions and professions and some of the church members say they see and understand the Bible better and have been helped by the meeting. Morning services at 10, the children meet at 4:15 and then the group meetings at 7:45, and preaching again at 8:15.

We remind our people of the Fourth quarterly conference on September 28th. There will be the election of officials for another year, the election of a lay delegate to the annual conference, and the setting of a minimum salary for another year, for the pastor.

The two weeks singing school at Fieldton culminated Friday night with a box supper. The proceeds of which went to pay the teacher.

Wildcats Down Hereford 32-6

With Jimmy Yarbrough making two spin plays through the middle of the line for two touchdowns, and Floyd Holberg plunging, Buford Bradshaw taking off tackle and Roy Hutson on reserve, the Littlefield high school Wildcats brought a victory of 32 to 6 back from Hereford Friday night in the second game of the season, and the second lead.

Holberg scored in the first street of the game, when he plunged for 10-yards through the Whiteface line. Yarbrough scored in the second quarter with a spin play through the middle that was good for 35-yards.

In the third quarter, Buford Bradshaw went five yards for a score from an off tackle play; and Hutson and Yarbrough added to the score in the fourth.

Hereford's only score resulted from a punt, fumbled by Gene Clark, safety man for the Wildcats.

The Whitefaces recovered on the locals own five yard line, when Russell plunged for the touchdown.

Those Whitefaces completed most all of their short passes, but they were not so hot on foot, for they kept bogging down.

Outstanding players in last week's game were Calvin Lippard, center, who did a good job of backing up the line; Raymond Redell, who not only took care of the guard's position, but booted down and intercepted several passes; quarterback, Babe Hammons, who knows how the blocking is done, and can boot those punts; and Jimmy Yarbrough with his ball carrying-ability.

Miss Ruth Griffin Selected Upperclassman Counsellor At College

Miss Ruth Griffin, who was selected as one of the 70 upperclassman student counsellors at Mary Hardin-Baylor College, Belton, Texas, attended a training conference at the college last week. She also took part in Alma Reeves Chapel program which was given for freshmen and new students.

Miss Griffin, who will be a senior this year, will continue to serve throughout the year as counsellor. Student counsellors are chosen each year from among the outstanding students on the campus. Counsellors assist in orientating new students and to act as friendly advisors throughout the school year.

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Griffin of Littlefield.

Mrs. Roy Lyle Honored With Bridal Shower Thursday Night

One of the loveliest parties of the fall season was held Thursday evening in the Community House of Valley View, when Mesdames F. C. Bishop, R. R. Dyer and N. C. Gilley were joint hostesses to a bridal shower honoring Mrs. Roy Lyle. Due to the charming personality of the bride, coupled with the fact that the groom came from one of Valley View's oldest families, the shower was of primary interest and unusually well attended.

Contests of nuptial origin were played, the jestures proving quite amusing and fitting for the occasion.

At a late hour refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Vernon Cox and Lanelle, B. E. Ivey, G. H. Gilley, Harris Stephens, Lee Thornton, E. G. Oliver, T. A. (grandma) Oliver, Alice Johnson, Nannie Sullivan, J. E. Cunningham, Ed Green, Roy Lyle, W. S. Anderson, Clyde Polk, C. D. Gilley, Stanley Parker, J. H. Attaway, H. H. Hale, C. H. Spring Lake Matrons Entertain County PTA Council Friday

One of the most outstanding social features of the county this season was the luncheon Friday in the beautiful new brick home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Henson one mile east of Spring Lake Schools, with Mrs. Herman Haberer and Henson joint hostesses to the executive Board of the County Council of Parent Teacher Association and representatives of the units of the organization of the county.

The entertaining rooms were decorated with beautiful multi-colored asters.

Mrs. Henson is president of the County Council while Mrs. Harberer is secretary, and it was in this manner they brought members of the local units together with the executive council of the county to discuss and outline a working program of the county council, that would be interesting and at the same time useful to the students of the county schools.

Following the luncheon the meeting was called to order by the president and the song, "God Bless America" was sung followed by prayer. A letter was read from the State president, stating that Mrs. A. L. Morgan, Beaumont, Texas, who is one of the state vice-presidents would meet with the Lamb County Council the week following October 12th. and due to the fact that a two session meeting was necessary to the work at that time, an all day Council meeting would be held at Olton the week following that date with a covered dish luncheon—the definite date to be announced later.

A motion made by Mrs. F. C. Broyles of Sudan, that the County Council meetings be assigned to meet with local units which run alphabetically to be effective after the meeting at Olton in October, was carried.

The following projects were suggested by Mesdames Haberer of Spring Lake, Roy Blessing, Fieldton, and T. J. Jones, of Littlefield, and adopted by the board as follows: that articles be used from the National Parent Teacher magazine during the programs of the council meetings; that the local units be asked to solicit cooperation from schools to the extent that children from the last grade of grammar grades write these on the cause, effect and prevention of Tuberculosis, for which prizes will be given for first and second best themes; that lectures be made to high school boys and girls at separate periods, through out the county, on Social diseases by authorities on the subject.

Those present: Mesdames R. C.

Fieldton H. D. Club Meets At Stanfield Home September 17

The Fieldton Home Demonstration club met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Stanfield Wednesday of last week, at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. Dave Vannoy, president presiding.

A short business session was held in which the possibilities of a lunch room for the school was discussed. Miss Beatrice McCurdy, demonstration agent was present and made a talk on "Sweets to the Meats" and in demonstration prepared and cooked a liver loaf, fried heart, fried bananas, and fried pineapple which were served to the guests followed by desert of home made ice cream and home baked cookies served by the hostess.

Those present were: Mesdames W. E. Owens, Dave Vannoy, Vernon Qualls, Vera Buck, Carrie Tomlinson, Earl Lamb, Thompson, Otto Scivilly and Miss McCurdy.

Roberts, Spade; M. E. Kelley, Earth; George Harmon, Amherst; F. C. Broyles, Sudan; Ray Blessing, Fieldton; T. J. Jones and W. H. Rutledge, Littlefield, Herman Haberer and J. L. Henson, Spring Lake.

Soil Conservation Programs Continue In Texas Panhandle

AMARILLO—Approximately 650 enrollees in Civilian Conservation Corps camps in the Texas Panhandle now are assisting farmers in establishing complete soil conservation programs on their land, according to W. E. Doner, CCC administrator for the Soil Conservation Service in the Southern Great Plains region.

The four CCC camps engaged in soil conservation work in the Texas Panhandle now are located at Memphis, Perryton, Floydada and Morton, the latter two recently having been moved from Littlefield and Lamesa. The average enrollment now is around 160 to the camp, while the maximum limit is 200, so this means that additional enrollments may increase the number to be engaged in soil conservation work, Doner explains.

The enrollees, working within a 25-mile radius and under supervision of Soil Conservation Service technicians, assist farmers in carrying out technical phases of soil conservation work which they cannot readily do themselves, the administrator explains. Because of the heavy demand for such assistance, preference is given to farmers co-operating with soil conservation districts.

"While enrollees in CCC camps are making a lasting contribution to the program of conserving the soil of the nation, they, likewise, are receiving benefits which should prove of great value to them in the future," Doner points out.

"Today," the administrator continues, "both the military and production phases of the national defense program are calling for young men with specialized training. Millions of workers must be trained to meet the needs of industry, particularly in the aviation, shipbuilding, munitions, ordinance and automotive fields. Similarly there is great need for young men trained in the technical phases of soil conservation, which is vital to the 'food for defense' program.

"Yet at this time there are many thousands of youths who have no training that fits them for specialized work in either the production or military programs, although such training is available to them in the CCC camps located throughout the country," Doner points out.

Specific objectives of the CCC training program today are the building of strong, healthy bodies; the training of men to live, work and play together; the teaching of good work habits; the training of men in specific national defense skills which open the way to employment; and the inculcation in all enrollees of an understanding and appreciation of our form of government, the administrator explains.

By following the routine of camp life and a regular schedule of eating, working, sleeping and playing, enrollees acquire regular habits which make for better health. It is pointed out that at present, 32 per cent of the men examined by local draft board physicians are rejected as unfit for military service, while an additional 13 per cent are turned down at army induction stations.

Army officials state that men with CCC experience are from three to six months ahead of other civilians in their adjustment to army life.

Within a single year the corps provides work experience and training for approximately 60,000 drivers of trucks, tractors, and other automotive equipment. Some 15,000 receive training in auto mechanics; 60,000 in road construction and maintenance; 7,500 in bridge building; 8,000 in the use of explosives; 5,000 as cooks and bakers. All of this work readily fits into the military and production programs for defense.

In addition, the corps each year teaches more than 10,000 illiterate enrollees to read and write; about 5,000 complete grade school; about 1,000 earn high school diplomas, and 100 graduate from colleges while enrolled in the corps, it is pointed out.

The Rev. Tommie Alden of Abilene brother-in-law of the bride performed the ceremony.

The altar was laid on a sun-porch under an archway leading to the living room. Large wicker baskets of crepe myrtle and fox glove were placed in a semi-circle with ferns and cut flowers forming the background. From a large ribbon bow on the center basket, wide white satin streamers were tied to the floral baskets. Vases of garden flowers were placed in the entertaining room.

The bride wore a white wool suit with a hand-hemstitched white crepe blouse. Her corsage was of sweetheart and white tuberose. For something old, the bride carried her mother's white point lace handkerchief.

The brides only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Tommie Allen. She wore moss green crepe and a corsage of rose gladiolus. Porter Osborne of Childress served Mr. Jackson as best man.

Miss Muriel Fagan, violinist, and Miss Dorothy Nell Swinson, pianist played the pre-nuptial music, "At Dawning," "Because," and Mendelssohn's Wedding March. During the ceremony Miss Swinson softly played "Clare de Lune."

The couple will be at home in Abilene after a weeks trip to New Mexico and Arizona. For her going away costume the bride chose a blue wool suit with white accessories.

Mrs. Jackson is a graduate of Floydada high school, finishing with high honors in 1938. She finished Wayland College in 1940 and for the past year has been employed with the City of Lubbock.

Mr. Jackson finished high school at Spade with the class of '38. He finished Wayland in 1940 and has been attending Mardin-Simmons University the past year.

Out of town guests who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Jackson of Anton; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Jackson and daughter, Judy Carolyn of Amherst; Mrs. John C. Dunnagan and daughter, Virginia Ann of Midland; Urban J. Hicks and daughter, Francis, of Seagraves; Mrs. Lewis Kerr and daughter, Eva Ann, of Lubbock; Miss Esther Hicks of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Duane Smith and Miss Vera Nell Marshall all of Amarillo.

Reception Held
Following the ceremony a reception was held. The dining table was laid with a lace cloth over blue satin, a bowl of pink Astera on a reflector banked with sweet peas and fern centered th table.

The bride cut the first slice of the three tiered wedding cake decorated with a miniature bridal pair. Miss Lella Faye Hicks, sister of the bride, served the cake. Mrs. Lewis Kerr presided at the silver coffee service.

Farmers Urged To Increase Incomes By Storing Crops Through Storage and Feeding

The best feed crop in sev-now maturing in Lamb
 the Farm Security Adminiencouraging its borrow-to stabilize their business their incomes by producing and utilizing their crop resources.

 Fred L. Nix, County FSA Supervisor, believes that although farmers may expect increased incomes during the present period of national defense, they also face higher production costs.

"Farm families cooperating with this agency," Mr. Nix said, "are being assisted in increasing the net returns from each acre of land by using their feed crops so that the maximum pounds of butterfat, beef, pork, wool and so forth are produced."

"The farmers who utilize their acreage to best advantage, who conserve their feed supplies by proper storage and feeding practices, and who manage their farm plants on a sound business basis are the farmers who will prosper most now and in the future."

"For example," Mr. Nix continued, "an acre of sorghums fed as silage will go approximately twice as far as when fed in the form of dry bundles. This is especially true with dairy cows. This fact, coupled with the comparatively low cost of trench silos, is expected to result in an additional number of these storage facilities here this year."

"The best substitute for pasture is silage, and silage can be had by every dairyman even though he has only two cows," Mr. Nix said.

Citing the savings of feeding silage, the FSA Supervisor said dairy farmers especially appreciate the value of this ration. He told of an experiment made at the Ohio State Station, where dairy cows received a dry roughage ration of hay and stover with 13.5 pounds of grain

Smart Styling Keynotes New Chevrolet

Distinguished styling, characterized by a new massive-ness, marks the new 1942 Chevrolet, introduced to the motoring public today. Shown above is the Special De Luxe Sport Sedan, a roomy, luxurious, six-passenger model. A new grille treatment, with integral parking lights, and the smart new elongated front fender, which sweeps back into and opens with the front door, are design highlights.
 Interior appointments are in the modern mode.

were compared with cows being fed 58 pounds of silage, a little mixed hay and four pounds of grain. The silage-fed cows gave 15 percent more milk at 41 percent less cost.

Sounding a warning that crops next year may not be as abundant as they are this year, Mr. Nix stated that since a good crop is on hand at the present time every effort should be made to see that it is properly conserved, and in most cases, placed in trench silos.

"Fact is," he concluded, "this is a mighty good time for farmers to lay in a supply of feed that will last them at least two years."

Information about constructing trench silos, their location, size cost, harvesting and filling operations may be obtained without charge from the FSA office or the

DEFENSE FIRST

Make defense against heat and friction your first thought when you buy motor oil. Buy Sinclair Opaline. Opaline contains no "5th Columnist" wax and petroleum jelly—non-lubricating substances that thin out in heat and cut down on oil's lubricating ability. Wax and petroleum jelly are removed from Opaline by an extra refining process. Play safe. Use Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil. It lasts so long it saves you money.

Quarterback Club Outline New Plays

Several new plays were outlined by head coach J. H. Sharp at the regular meeting of the Downtown Quarterback Club Monday night at the First Methodist Church. About 28 members were present.

Rev. Sharp first assigned a new play to Earl Wilson, Pryor Hammons, W. H. Madden, and Earl Hobbs, who were appointed to go around right end and start toward the business district, to see if they could acquire storm jackets for the football players.

Another new play was outlined for the Rotarian players to catch the "Chuck Wagon Ball" and carry it to Slaton on October 3.

It was reported that the new benches for the players were ready to be taken to Seely Field. The new benches were purchased by the Quarterback Club.

Lon Smith, Dr. Wm. N. Orr, and Roy Hutson, school board members, met with the group and assured the club that any uniformed band that wanted to attend the home football games, and to play at these games here, would be admitted free. They reported that four or five bands were especially invited to attend the game between the Wildcats and the Sudan Hornets here October 10, and that night has been designated as Band Night.

Abe Murphy and C. L. Storrs, who scout all the Littlefield games for the Quarterback club, gave a report on the Hereford Game and outlined several of the plays used in that game.

PERSONALS

Rev. and Mrs. Wayne Perry and small son, Charles, moved into the Baptist Parsonage at Fieldton last week. He preached his first sermon in the Church there following his call to the field.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond King Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Marion Roberson and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Browning of Quitaque.

Adolphus Jungman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Jungman of Pep, underwent an appendectomy at the Littlefield Hospital Saturday.

David Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Montgomery of Fieldton, who is in the Radio service in the U. S. Navy, arrived home Sunday for a weeks visit with homefolks.

J. M. Carruth, of Sudan was admitted to the Littlefield Hospital Tuesday for treatment.

Mrs. Dan Bergleofsky and little daughter, Marcia Jean, who have been visiting in Wichita Falls and Dallas will arrive home Saturday.

George Neely and W. H. Rutledge were in Amarillo Friday where they represented the local Presbyterian church at fall Presbytery. They were accompanied by Mrs. Neely who visited a sister and Mrs. E. A. Bills and Miss Lula Hubbard were guests for the time with Mrs. Paul Timmons, daughter of Mrs. Bills.

Wildcats Play—

will come to Littlefield prepared to trample the locals.

Coach Murray will be remembered by local fans as the husky quarterback who called the winning team on Seely Field in 1932, when Floydada and Littlefield grappled for the bi-district title. It was Murray who caused the locals to be defeated 14 to 13 in one of the most "hustling" game ever played here.

The Floydadans will come decked in their green and white suits, and will look mighty good on the field with those maroon and gray Wildcats.

Odell Roberson end, will be captain of the Wildcats Friday night, and Coach Abe Murphy and assistant C. L. Storrs have been pushing those aerial attacks though scrimmage. They've been insisting on lots of improvement in the running game, too.

Tentative starting lineup will be: L.E. Odell Roberson; Lt. J. B. Sharp; L.G. Raymond Redell; C. Calvin Lippard; R.G. Floyd Holberg; R.T. Roy Grisham; R.E. Hugo Byer; Q.B. Babe Hammons; L.H. Jimmy Yarbrough; R.H. Roy Hutson; and P.B. Buford Bradshaw.

Mechanics Course Offered At School

Out-of-school youths between the ages of 17 and 24 are urged to be at the vocational agriculture building at the high school tonight, Thursday, when a course of study in mechanics will be outlined, as a part of the National defense program.

The meeting has been called for 7:45 o'clock, and Supt. F. A. Hemphill and Raymond King, vocational agriculture teacher, will meet with the group.

The school on mechanics will be under the direction of Garland Jennings, mechanic from the Hewitt Chevrolet garage.

Boys residing in the rural districts as well as those in town are invited to attend.

scenery but I imagine that before two years are gone that it will begin to get monotonous. The big palm trees inspired me most of all.

I thought that I was pretty lucky getting over here so soon. Some of the fellows stay in Fort McDowell as long as three months waiting for a boat. I enjoyed the boat ride for a while but after a few days of seeing nothing but water it got kinda tiresome. We are having some weather that I have never seen any like before, off and on all day it comes a real heavy mist and it is just as warm and comfortable. They say that this is the rainy season but that it never rains very much down here. We can see it raining up in the mountains nearly all day.

It sure seemed funny when I got here to find every one real dark, but the reason is that they stay in the water all the time that they aren't working. The medical doctors here recommend swimming above all other sport. They say that a person cannot get too much swimming here. There are a lot of beaches here and every one that we passed today was full of people.

There are so many foreigners here that a person gets to where he welcomes the sight of an American. Over two-thirds of the army here are of foreign nationality but most of them are from nations which have been taken by Hitler. Of course they are naturalized citizens of America but the fact still stands that they aren't Americans by blood.

Have to close now. Answer soon.
Love, Huel.

it to the A. C. A. office immediately in order that the cotton Parity application may be completed and the notice mailed to the producer that the application is ready for his signature. At the time you receive notice of your measurements and you are not overplanted on cotton and are satisfied with all measurements, you may bring the notice to this office and sign your Parity application. That would help speed up the submitting of cotton Parity applications.

Please plow up your excess cotton immediately upon receipt of your notice. Reporters will begin checking plow-ups and remeasurements within the next few days if rains do not continue to slow the reporters who are in the field.

Completion of performance in some communities Fieldton, Hart Camp, Olton, Earth, and Spring Lake has become a serious problem. We need more reporters in these communities in order to complete the field work immediately. Farmers in these communities are urged to arrange that three or four groups of two persons each from each of these communities call at the A. C. A. office immediately to help complete the field measurements. We would prefer farmers if it is possible to leave your crop for a few days. The two in each group will consist of a reporter, who furnishes the car and will receive $5.00 for a 10 hour day. He will be assisted by a chairman who will receive $2.00 per day.

Those who measure will help themselves as well as their neighbors to get payments at an earlier date. This is a real emergency due to the fact that reporters have been difficult to find and because of continued rains. Farmers who assist with the measuring will be doing a great favor to all farmers in the county. We would like to get enough help to complete all work in the field not later than October 5. See Aubrey W. Bingham if you will help measure.

It is important too that we finish the field work in order that cotton marketing cards may be issued before cotton is harvested.

No producer should sell cotton and no buyer should buy cotton that is not identified by a marketing card. We will start issuing marketing cards in the next few days. Each producer will be notified to call for the card at the Lamb County A. C. A. office. If you are ready to sell cotton and do not have a card, please advise this office and we will put out a special effort to measure that particular farm. The producer will be responsible for the proper use of this card and it is required by law. It must be used to identify your cotton at the time of sale.

ATTENTION ALL FARMERS: a few days ago some left a pair of reading glasses in the A. C. A. office. These glasses will be given to the owner as soon as they are identified.

Home Demonstration Club women and the Home Demonstration Agent Monday. You will come home and look at your yard and say, "I could have flowers on that side of the house, or a hedge over there, or maybe it's a screen I need of salt cedar of lilac to hide unsightly buildings or a cellar.

We promise you that after you have visited farms all day and hear how these farm people have improved their yards, cellars, and houses you will come home full of inspiration to have a more beautiful and convenient home which makes for richer and fuller living in any man's land.

First on our list was the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Grigsby. Our interest here was held by the well arranged floor plan of this house. The ventilated pantry, and in the living room built in book shelves and window draperies of monks cloth which could be pulled together or apart by a cord.

Next we visited the remodeled home of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Irvin. Part of the improvements were a complete bathroom, large closet, broom closet, more cabinet space, two bedrooms and a very cheerful color scheme of orange, white, and black, in her kitchen in the north.

Then we went to see Mr. and Mrs. Boots Tipp's cellar. Let me assure you it was a lovely place to see. They have over a thousand containers of fruit, vegetables, jellies, relishes, and meat, all very colorful and so nice to have, don't you think? Mr. and Mrs. Tipps also have a new bathroom.

The J. A. Parrish home in Earth wasn't on our list but we accepted a very cordial invitation to see this new home. Here we found especially well arranged lighting fixtures and a good floor plan. The hot water heater in the kitchen adjoining and flush with the table top butane range and cabinet tops made plenty of working space and easily kept clean. A very lovely home we that of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. which has been remodeled have hardwood floors, a mental fireplace, bookshelves the interior all very well. Mr. and Mrs. Herman have a beautiful and modern just built this year. Just the things of interest here large living room, one almost all windows and place for her jotted plans room with a bed built in the roll away bed. Built in a large clothes closet with plenty of floor space and good idea, or we have believe so.

If your small fry come in a dither about doing over, give them some over and see what happens. The probably have joined the yard we went to see. You idea what you can do to of a farm home without pense. Bitsy with the help father has a large lawn, garden to the side, foundation around the house and of rock. Is that not some repays us over and over for labor spent?

We then went to the Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Barre have a model farm home its entirety, cellar, yard, and ly house with that "lived"

The remodeled home of Mrs. W. O. Roebuck was white with green shutters. idea for us was white drap the living room with white blinds. She had new "blue the kitchen, all white which has that spic and span look.

You have all had your come and go with us on Monday, September 22, at day, September 30. Get some new "ideas" free for

WE HAVE FAITH

In The Good Judgment Of The Citizens Of Littlefield

We are advised that the City Commission has called another election for the issuance of revenue bonds to build a municipal electric light plant.

Only on last August 5th this same matter was submitted to the qualified tax paying voters of our city and we opposed it on the ground that the building of a municipal light plant would neither reduce rates materially, nor enable the city to pay off its indebtedness.

At that election a majority of the tax paying voters of Littlefield voted against the issuance of the bonds.

As publicly stated in the other election there was no justification for the building of a municipal light plant. There is even less justification now. The rate reductions made by us after the election were greater than those promised you by the advocates of the municipal light plant and give to Littlefield rates that will compare favorably with any town of similar size in this state.

We opposed the building of a municipal light plant in the other election and we will oppose it in this election, because we know it will not result in any material reduction of rates and will not enable the city to reduce its indebtedness. Since it will not do either of these things, the installation of a municipal light plant is a USELESS WASTE OF THE PEOPLE'S MONEY.

From time to time we shall bring before you further facts that will again demonstrate to the voters of this city that the building of a municipal light plant will not materially benefit the city or its citizens.

We have faith in your good judgment and know that you will not be influenced by either prejudice or propaganda. We believe when the true facts are put before you that you will vote against the building of the municipal light plant.
