"Stork Club" Is Overrun By Juniors and Seniors

Junior of Littlefield High school were hosts to the Seniors Monday evening at the "Stork Club," which only faintly resembled the school cafeteria.

The entrance was covered with an awning of crepe paper streamers in pastel colors, and the room was covered with a ceiling of the same pastel streamers.

Individual tables were lighted with candles, against which leaned large top hats and "reserved" signs. Centerpieces were ceramic ballerinas with fluffy yellow skirts. Plate favors were ballerinas for the girls and glass top hats for the boys.

Roxene Hingham served as hat check girl for the "Club." Cigarette girls were Joy Windwehen, Carol Squires, Linda Lattimer and Carol Ann Caldwell who gave out dance band instruments as favors. Oversized menus were also given as souvenirs.

Standing alongside the microphone was a large ceramic stork and balloons were used to form a stage. Potplants decorated the rooms and an atmosphere of gaiety prevailed.

Glen Richards served as Master of Ceremonies, with everyone on program bearing the name of some famous radio, stage or television star. Earl Don Piece, the Senior President, took the name of Jack Benny and expressed the thanks to the Seniors.

Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire, in the persons of Sue Carpenter and Kay Woodson, danced for their entertainment. Bill Kenner portrayed Walter Winchell in "KEYhole snooping," with the assistance of Peggy Gray, Leta Merle Roberts and Cammie Hulse Patsy McCain imitated Gene Kelly with a discomfit on celebrated guests of the evening.

Tommy Evans and Junita Galini, as king and queen of the juke box, sang "Kerry King" served as Dr. I. Q., with the assistance of Janis Durham, Linda Hoover, Bob Orr and Phyllis Jeffries.

Judy Christian, acting as Betty Hutton, read the Senior Class Will.

Mrs. K. Houk and Ernest Jones, Junior class sponsors, were in charge of arrangements for the occasion.

Is Your Entry For 'Mother of The Year' In?

Nominations for "Mother of the Year" are very slow coming into the paper. We feel that many women of this area deserve the honor of such a nomination and that it is just a matter of taking the time to write the letter in many cases that has caused the dearth of nominations.

If your own mother, or the mother of someone else whom you know very well has been an especially good mother to her own children or to all children, we hope you will give her the honor of being nominated.

To give you "the feel of the thing," we are publishing some letters received by the Editor.

"County Wide News": After some deliberation on my part, I decided to enter my mother, Mrs. Pearl Harmon, in your contest, "Mother of the Year."

When one tries to find words to describe a good mother, one fails to do so, but I believe in the old saying "flowers to the living," so here goes:

"My mother is seventy-eight years old, has been a resident of Lamb County since 1925. She is the mother of four children and has eight grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

A life-long member of the Methodist Church and at present an active member of Littlefield First Methodist and the Friendship Class, she is, of course a wonderful woman to me, but that is not my reason for asking for the "Mother of the Year" honor for her, but rather because in her advanced age she has given her time and "widow's mite," with the help of some friends, been able to send Christian literature and recently a large reference Bible to a missionary in South India. Also some school supplies, through her help, went to a small mission school, thereby helping spread Christianity to a country overrun with communist doctrine.

For pastime she loves to crochet and piece quilts. She reads a great deal, especially the Bible and keeps up with world news. She likes good music, especially that of the violin, which she played quite well when she was younger.

"So as a devout Christian mother, unselfish, kind, alert to the needs of others, I want to nominate my mother as "Mother of the Year."

(Signed) Mrs. Charles Calvert

Brownies Of Troop 26 Meet April 22

Brownies of Troop 26 met at the Girl Scout House on April 22 with their leader, Mrs. Bob Taylor and co-leader, Mrs. Forbes Tutum. Mrs. Iris Blackwell, committee member, was also present.

Roll was called by the president, Jo Nell Tatum and dues were collected by Fay Ivey. Secretary All fifteen members were present.

Work was continued on the scarves already started. A game of fruit-basket upset was played, after which the girls practiced table manners.

Refreshments of cookies and pop were served by Cynthia Blackwell and Fay Ivey.

THE MOTHER OF THE YEAR, the most wonderful mother in the world to us. She is our Mother, Mrs. Ann Blythe of Olton. Throughout our eleven years of school in Olton, our Mother was affectionately known as "Ma" to our classmates and friends.

She served year after year as roommother for our classes. Our home was the home for all those who wanted fun, advice and affection under our mother's loving gaze. As time marches on—the trails of many led over the world, but notes of love and memories found their way from college dorms, battle fronts, foreign lands and homes newly made, to the mail box of Ann Blythe. And sometimes the road has led home for perhaps only a short visit, but back to the one we have all learned to love and appreciate more as the years have gone by.

But as time has so swiftly danced by, we find a new generation in digital and crew cuts, huddling around Mommy's door step or her store in Olton. "Mammy" is the name affectionately given her first by her grandchildren and then spreading to all those who know and love her for her hearty laugh and joy of life. Even the salesmen and saleswomen who call on her at her place of business refer to her as Mammy.

Through years of patient love and devotion, serving us as mother, father and companion, listening to our ups and downs and being Mothers to friends, Mammy to our children and to us—not just the Mother of the Year, but the best Mother ever—we nominate Mrs. Ann Blythe, and the movie stars but one whose life glitters brighter than the stars to those who love and appreciate her.

Ruth McKenzie and Joe Blythe

"Dear Editor: My nomination for the Mother of the Year is Mrs. Ina Merle Barlow.

I nominated Mrs. Marlow for the Mother of the Year because I feel that she is very deserving of the honor. She has helped so many of the teenagers. We girls look to Mrs. Barlow as our second mother. She is never too busy to help into our troubles.

Besides being a housewife, she is employed at the Curley Top Drive-In. She is also a member of the Eastern Star and a very active member. She is a member of the Springdale Church of Christ.

She is a grandmother at 33. Her daughter, son-in-law and little grandson live at Amberst.

If a person is deserving, Mrs. Barlow is.

Thank you, Mrs. Wanda McLain, 106 Morse Avenue, Littlefield, Texas

"Littlefield News": I would like to nominate Mrs. Maude Street as the "Mother of the Year" for Littlefield.

At the death of her husband, Mr. John T. Street, Sr., she was left alone with one son to raise. She has done an excellent job—he has finished college, Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, is now in Southwestern Seminary at Fort Worth. He is an ordained Baptist minister.

Nothing was ever too much work or trouble for him or other children of the neighborhood. The flowers an grass in her yard were for their pleasure. If they ruined them, that was all right, she could always grow some more grass." She works with the Junior children in the First Baptist Church and was for years the Royal Ambassador Boys' leader. She is always ready to help anyone that she can help in anyway.

Besides all this, I just like her. Sincerely, Mrs. D. C. Lindley."

THE PHOTOGRAPHER catches the thrilling moment when Principal D. C. Lindley slips the crown on Queen of the May Sandra Hunt at the PTA Spring Festival in the high school gymnasium on Tuesday evening. An overflow crowd, with no standing room witnessed the pageant presented by pupils of Central School.

Scouts And Families At Boy's Ranch, Amarillo

Cub Scouts of Pack 41 America's first Boy's Sunday. Church services in the Chapel. The quiet reverence of the boys and especially during Mr. Mardock, a chaplain of the non-denominational services and spoke of the life of the boys and how they would make a good citizen for their life and they themselves for their life.

Teachers read the Bible and sang several hymns and it sounded beautiful from the hearts of the boys at the ranch. There were ceiling overhead, and the rafters the boys have their light making it. The benches were rushing was on the right of the Texas flag on adult supervision and in the boys handle the of the ranch, from waxing the floors, cooking and serving food and butchering to constructing dormitories. It is quite a revelation to youngsters handling so many jobs, and in addition, find for school work, sports, and recreation and religious menu Sunday consisted of dressing, corn, salad, peas, gravy, bread, lemon-meringue with coffee for the dessert. It was delicious and plentiful, but no desert. While the Scouts wanted to be first to get a glass of lemonade, the boys sat very quietly in their chairs, not touching any of the table until the blessing was said. The guests scattered in the dining room tables, sitting at different tables with the boys, and talking to the boys at their table. There was no loud talking or yelling at the table, and if you want something that wasn't on the menu, you raised your hand and you could turn around a corner as at your elbow.

Cub Scouts Mothers not only clean everything seem to be from the freshly scrubbed floors of the boys before they go to rest, to the milking that was painted white, and the boys never spoke to him without using "ma-am"

Afternoon was spent in the around over the ranch, pictures, and just watching the boys ride horses and playing talking with them.

At a 1/2 mile up the road the river on a wind-swept as a barbed-wire enclosure in as Boot Hill Cemetery, and 3 federal marines killed in gunfights during Texas's hey-day were buried with boots on. To be a member of the Boot Hill Club you've got to sleep alone all night in the cemetery, while the coyotes howl and rattlers buzz. Jack Dempsey is a member.

Every boy has a pet from donkeys to goats and sometimes more than one. There are nearly as many dogs as there is boys and they get royal treatment.

On a stony hill overlooking the ranch lake, the boys have set out a pet cemetery. When one of the ponies passes, on to dog heaven he gets a better burial than the outlaws over on Boot Hill. In the center of the cemetery, the kids have planted a real fire plug, so the dogs won't get lonesome, they'll tell you.

The original building of Boys Ranch once was the Courthouse and jail for the bustling town of Tascosa. Shaded by huge cottonwood trees, the building is now being used for dormitories for the small fry at the ranch. The youngest being 4 years of age. Buildings resembling army barracks house the boys up to 16 years and a beautiful new rock dormitory is what the older boys call home. With 4 boys assigned to one room in nice bunk beds and sharing the bath.

In the gym the boys conduct all sorts of games and sometimes see movies. They fish, swim, ride horses and just last week won a volley ball trophy competing against other schools in their district. Ronnie Mullins was on crutches, because of a broken foot in practicing the broad jump.

Plans are in progress for a acquire a registered nurse within the near future.

At school, the guy who gets behind in his Algebra is apt to find himself sitting in the dormitory alone with his books on Saturday afternoon when the rest of the ranchers have taken off for town in their school buses.

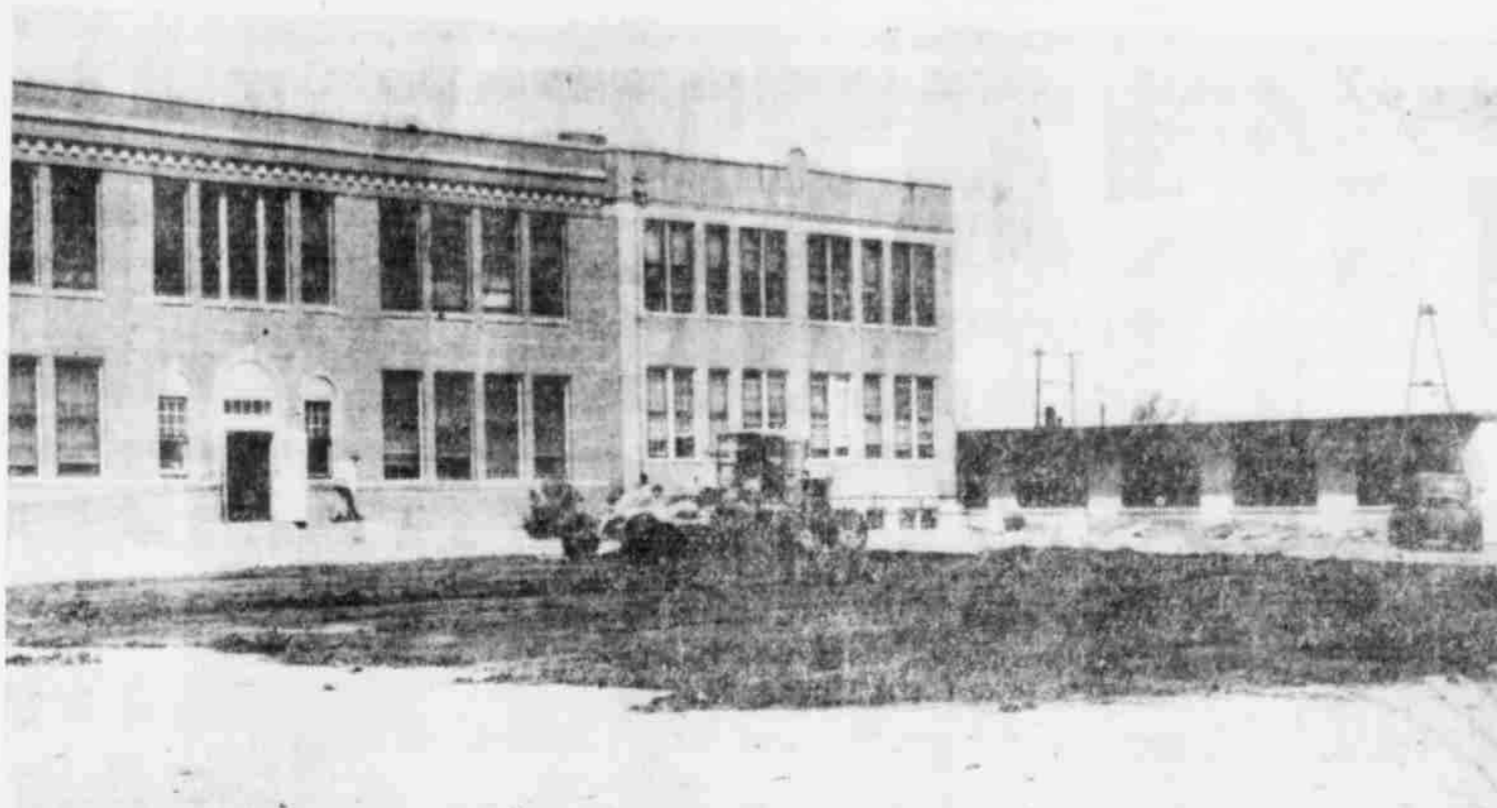

Amarillo doctors and dentists look after the boy's health free. A Pathhandle laundry does the washing and a Bakery supplies all the bread.

There is no charge for guests who wish to eat with the boys but reservations must be made ahead to Mr. Rodney Nichols, Boys Ranch, Texas and all donations are appreciated.

The following made the trip Sunday and made a $37.00 donation.

Ken Wilemon, Den Chief; Mrs. Olene Gibson and Pat; Mr. and Mrs. Ned Fairbairn, Paul and Ned, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Felix Hatton, Tucky and Billy; Mrs. Sheppard and Joe Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Robinson, CCharlotte, Charles and Brent; Mr. Raymond Melton, Jimmy and Ronnie; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cape and Lonnie; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Howard, Freda Mae, Butch and Larry.

It is the wish of every Cub that they can visit the boys again.

Present plans are to obtain heavy equipment to dig up and level all the campus, to put in fertilizer and grass and to employ a grounds maintenance man to keep the campus in good condition. The dirt being leveled in this shot is taken from the excavation for the new Country Club swimming pool. (Staff Photo)

GREEN BEANS WITH APPLE

Vegetables too often are treated as "stepchildren" of the food family. They do get credit for being "good for you," but too often the taste appeal of vegetable dishes does not get its due. Dress up your vegetable dishes so they have their share of eye and taste appeal, as well as bounteous nutrition values. This recipe for green beans with apple is a good way to start.

(Six Servings)
 1 pound snap beans, OR
 2 packages frozen cut green beans
 3 tablespoons margarine
 2 apples, cored and sliced
 1 cup light cream or top milk
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 Dash of pepper
 Dash of mace.
 Cut fresh beans into 1-inch lengths and cook in 3/4 cup boiling water with 1 teaspoon salt until just tender, about 15 minutes. If frozen beans are used, follow cooking directions on box. Be careful not to overcook. While beans cook, melt margarine in skillet. Add sliced apples and fry gently about 5 minutes, until just tender but not soft. If apples have tender skins, do not pare. Add cream or top milk, salt, pepper, and mace. Drain beans, fold into apple mixture and heat thoroughly. This is good with chicken or ham.

For other tasty and nutritious kitchen-tested recipes, write the National Cotton Council, P. O. Box 76, Memphis, Tenn., for your free copy of "Make It With Margarine," an attractive new booklet in two

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

The cinemascopic picture, "A Man Called Peter," is the gripping story of two great lives — Peter and Catherine Marshall — and the tender romance of their great love, mingled with deep religious devotion and dedicated living in parish ministry. We hear excerpts from several of Peter Marshall's sermons and from his prayers, as Chairman of the United States Senate. Here is humor, real entertainment, inspiration and high Christian living, beautifully portrayed in Color by De Luxe. Any minister can safely recommend this picture to the families of his parish who will be the better for seeing it. It's interesting. They'll like it.

Among so much that is despicable and deplorable on the screen, it is a pleasure to find a picture which, although not perfect, is the best we have seen in a very long time. We hope all our readers will see it.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Lodge 907, after a three-year trial of a union shop agreement passed a resolution declaring that "allegations that our organization would gain strength under said agreement are without fact."

"We feel that this strength can only come about through organic unity of railroaders by other than forceful measure, and the union shop has caused a suppressive atmosphere among our fellow workers and a hatred toward our organization."

"It is our consensus . . . that the union shop agreement is a form of involuntary servitude which is prohibited in the 13th Amendment of the U. S. Constitution."

That labor is beginning to recognize the coercive nature of some of its practices is distinctively hopeful. Columbia Pictures Foundation, Inc. New York 17, N. Y.

Improving the home inside and outside, decreasing agricultural and improving living conditions by adding to the conveniences of the farm and home are objectives of the National Home Improvement, Beautification of Home Grounds, Entomology and Electric program.

There are 49,000 awards offered to those who do outstanding work in these areas, valued at $66,000. These include 20 college scholarships of $300 each, all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress, 19-level wrist watches and gold-filled medals.

The Home Improvement program gives 4-H'ers an opportunity to make their homes more attractive and comfortable at a minimum cost. In the past year, members made 100 articles and decorated 100 rooms. Awards, provided by the Sears Roebuck Foundation, include four medals for each county, a trip to the state winner to the 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 1, and eight $300 scholarships for national winners.

Improving the appearance of the home is one of the 4-H programs. About 100 4-H'ers take part in the beautification of Home Grounds each year. Paint-up, fix-up and landscaping are all a part of the activities. In addition to making the home more attractive, property value is increased as a result of the 4-H'ers' accomplishments. Medals for four county winners, a 19-level wrist watch for the state winner, and trips to the National 4-H Club Congress for eight national winners are made available by Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen of Chicago.

The Electric program gives 4-H'ers an opportunity to add to the convenience around the farm and home. More than 100,000 members participated last year, learning to take care of use, repair and build electrical equipment, perform demonstrations, and plan new or improved uses of electricity. Four medals are offered to county winners by the Westinghouse Educational Foundation, donor of awards. State winners will receive a trip to the Club Congress, where six national winners will be presented $300 scholarships.

Insects, age-old friends and foes of man, provide the subject for the 4-H Entomology program. By participating, members learn about insect life and its relation to man, learn to recognize major pests and beneficial insects, and learn about the use of chemicals and other control measures. 4-H'ers also collect insects, conduct life history studies, and make surveys.

Losses in agriculture due to insects, estimated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture at over $2,000,000,000 annually, make entomology potentially one of the most financially important 4-H programs. Awards for outstanding accomplishment are provided by the Hercules Powder Co. Medals are offered to four county winners and the state winner receive a 19-level wrist watch. Twelve sectional winners receive trips to the Club Congress, and six of the sectional winners will be presented $300 scholarships as national winners.

All of the programs are conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, and the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work arranges the award programs. Full information is available at county Extension offices.

Should We Tax Stamps?

The promoters of trading stamps are putting up a terrific fight to keep from paying taxes on their products. They have got millions signed to oppose the tax and as letters written as possible to legislators in the past they have beaten down all attempts to tax them, but with a big increase from somewhere required to cover the stamp industry already made this year, it is hard for legislators to explain to the people why they increased the already high tax on gasoline, cigarettes, etc. and left trading stamps untouched.

The power to tax is the power to destroy, and the stamp promoters are aware of that. But we do think that businesses doing many millions of dollars per year should be paying more state and local taxes than the stamp industry is.

The stamp companies have no real estate to plant. They hire their printing plants and have very little in the way of physical assets to be taxed by school districts or other units of local government. Yet they are big business, doing many millions of dollars worth of business per year in Texas.

We think it appropriate that they be required to help pay school costs through the state treasury, since they are doing very little of it at the local level.

We Made It Respectable

The continued imprisonment of some American airmen captured during the Korean war is harder for us to protest effectively than it would have been had we not imprisoned so-called "war criminals" after World War II. Of course, the charges of germ warfare on which most of our airmen are being held are false. But at least we contributed to their troubles by putting the cloak of respectability on post war atrocity trials.

HIGHLIGHTS and SIDELIGHTS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—Natural gas, trading stamps, cigars, cigarettes, snuff, gasoline, and beer license fees would be taxable under the bill to provide $100 million additional state revenue for the next two years.

Revealing sharp differences of opinion over the bill was the fact that it passed House by a close vote of 74 to 69.

Without surprise, the Legislature found it easier to spend money than to raise it. A few examples:

Liberalizing of the teachers retirement system by constitutional amendment was voted by the House.

Governor Allan Shivers asked for emergency consideration by the Legislature of a bill to pay indemnity to owners of sheep and goats destroyed in an effort to halt a scabies epidemic.

Extension of the veterans land program was approved by a Senate committee. (Theoretically, this program is self-financing. The state issues bonds to buy the land, and the bonds are retired as the veterans make payments on their property.)

Requested by the governor was an appropriation to give underprivileged children the Salk polio vaccine.

Proposals were made by the Travis county delegation, that the state sponsor a supplement to state employee retirement benefits in the amount of $600,000.

Car Dealers Licenses
seventeen amendments were added in the House before the car dealers licensing bill gained initial approval.

Principal provision of the bill would: Make new car dealers pay $50 for a seller's license, and used car dealers $25; prohibit offering for sale as a new car any vehicle that had been driven or towed more than 50 miles; and require dealers to post $10,000 bond.

Original purpose of the bill, before the amendments were added, was to prevent used car dealers from offering latest model cars for sale as "new" cars.

Trinity Bill Fades

A big segment of the Texas population lives in the Trinity River valley.

Hopes of those people for an organization to administer flood control, water conservation, and irrigation were dimmed when the Senate Water Committee rejected a Trinity River Authority Bill and sent it to a subcommittee.

Representative Barefoot Sanders of Dallas, who pushed the bill through the House, blamed the railroad lobby for its failure in Senate committee. Said Sanders:

"The railroads, in the final analysis, are responsible for this setback because of the propaganda they put out on the effects of this bill."

Water Bill Falters

Trouble was ahead for a proposed constitutional amendment rated high on the list of administration-recommended water legislation.

Purpose of the measure would be to let the people vote on whether to authorize $100 million in bonds to finance water projects in the state.

Passed by the House, the resolution was patched with amendments. The Senate refused to concur and asked for a conference committee.

Veterans Land Probe

Far from abating, the veterans land investigation was expanding and reaching as far afield as Minnesota.

Cecil E. Burney, special assistant attorney general, told the Senate Investigating Committee that two years ago, when Attorney General John E. Sheppard was vacationing in Minnesota, he happened to see former land commissioner Bascom Giles.

Giles invited Sheppard to visit his Minnesota farm of 8,600 acres.

When the veterans land investigations began, Sheppard sent an investigator to Minnesota.

As a result of that investigation, Burney predicted, the people will hear that money from the veterans land program went to Minnesota to buy land for Texas.

"It is amazing," said Burney, "that some of the same people who were anxious to buy cheap Minnesota land at high prices were the same persons who were so anxious to sell cheap land in Texas to veterans for equally high prices."

$30,000 in Fees

Another witness before the Senate Investigating Committee was Alvis Vandygriff, a former officer of the veterans land board.

Vandygriff testified that during a four-year period after he left the board, he received more than $30,000 to expedite block land deals.

County Advertising

A bill by Rep. W. W. Allen of Laredo was approved in House committee, permitting counties of 50,000 population and over to use funds for local advertising.

Under the bill, county commissioners could appropriate 5c per $100 assessed property evaluation for the purpose. Under existing laws, counties of 100,000 population and over already are permitted to advertise.

SHORT SNORTS: On foot is a drive for strict enforcement of narcotic laws and passage of new state legislation to help control the dope traffic. Three narcotics bills have passed the House and are in the Senate. . . .

Passed by the Senate is a bill establishing a Texas commission on higher education to govern the state's nine senior colleges and universities. Sen. A. M. Aiken told the Senate the commission is necessary to take care of expanded enrollment and corollary problems of the institutions. . . . Gas companies would be permitted to sue the state for taxes paid under the unconstitutional gas gathering tax, according to a resolution passed by the House and by the Senate with amendments. . . . Texas oil production for May will be reduced, according to an order of the Texas Railroad Commission. Allowables will be 3,072,150 barrels daily, lowest of the year. Texas has enjoyed a near-record oil flow for the past four months.

Through A Glass Darkly

By CARROLL POUNCEY

Anybody who wakes up with a groggy weary morning ought to make her fix her own coffee.

We hear an awful lot of people talking longly about going east or some place where the property stays on the ground. During the (you should pardon the expression) sand storms, folks get to wishing they were somewhere else. They get depressed, and predict the water supply is going to run out, and we will all turn back into Okies again.

But if the sand ever does stop blowing and we get some real pretty days or some (you should live so long) real wet weather, they will all be glad they didn't have enough to get out of town on when the sand is blowing.

Young Bob Haney, Dave Eaton's right hand man, came out here during the winter, and simply refused to believe all they told him about the sand storms. We are reasonably sure Bob is a true member of the faith about now.

They started the air conditioners around our offices last week when the temperature got up past 90. Clean filters were carefully applied and motors and water connections carefully tested. They turned the things on and the office looked like Snyder in the Spring, with sand blowing through here with (as the weather man says) gusts up to 45 miles per hour. All kinds of things came out of the grille: tumbleweeds, cotton stalks, a wheel off a house trailer and a whole slew of bird's nests. It's cleaned out now, but it sure was interesting to lean into the breeze there for a while and wait for some new surprise to whizz by.

And speaking of cats, there was the cat who ate some cheese and then waited by the mouse hole with baited breath.

It is truly written in letters of gold upon tablets of jade the man with narrowest mind often has widest mouth.

FIFTH AND XIT DRIVE

New "Tricycle" Tractor Is Introduced By Ford

In announcing the completion of the new Ford Tricycle Tractors, Irving A. "Red" Duffy, Ford Motor Co. executive, said that Ford is second only to one other company in farm tractor production.

The new Tricycle Tractors are the first of its type ever produced by Ford Motor Co., who prior to this year have been strictly a "one model" tractor manufacturer.

Duffy revealed that Ford's percentage of industry production in the first month of 1955 rose to a record 25 per cent of all tractors produced.

Duffy said that one of the questions most often asked during the past year was why Ford decided in 1954 to enter the farm machinery business full tilt.

"Surpluses were mounting in several major crops. Key farming areas were suffering from drought for the third and fourth year. National farm policies were pretty much up in the air, which contributed to the feeling of instability among farmers. Prices of farm products were softening. On the surface, it was not a particularly attractive picture for an investor.

"If we were just thinking of the farm machinery business on a temporary five-year basis, we probably would have invested our money in something else."

"I say this because it is entirely probable that the problems caused by farm surpluses will substantially disappear as research finds new uses for agricultural products, and the nation's population increases."

"Take the need for farm products, 7,000 more mouths report in for dinner EVERY day in this country. And by 1975, our population is expected to reach 200 million.

"We may even wonder, 'Mr. Duffy said. 'If farmers can meet the higher production goals of not too many years away. As a matter of fact increases are not only possible—they're the most practical and profitable goal most farmers aim for."

Citing shorter hours and easier work for our farmers "as another field of opportunity," he said: "I don't think we can emphasize the back break element too strongly. How many farmers can truthfully say they work only a 40-hour week? May-

Texans In Washington

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service.
WASHINGTON, (AP)—Big Bend National Park now has two ardent boosters in the official Washington lineup. And both of them can be counted upon to keep plugging from their positions here, for further development of the vast southwestern area.

One is Lemuel (Lon) A. Garrison, superintendent of Big Bend from 1952 until last January, now chief of the conservation and protection branch of the National Park Service.

The other is Rep. J. T. Rutherford of Odessa, whose district includes the 1,100 square mile park.

Both are dedicated to the cause of making Big Bend an international park. This proposal calls for Mexico to set aside approximately the same area of land, 700,000 acres, directly across the Rio Grande from Big Bend, for extending the park south of the border.

Garrison, 51, is an old time rancher, a 6-footer with an out-of-door look, who appears out of place seated at a big desk in the huge Interior Department building, which is headquarters of the park service. Most of his 23 years in the service has been in the field helping run such parks as Yosemite, Glacier and Grand Canyon.

His two years plus at Big Bend made an enthusiastic Texas out of Garrison, a native of Pella, Ia. His father was a Baptist preacher, who moved his family to Ogden, Utah when Lon was a child.

"I just like the way everything is done down in Texas," said Garrison with an expansive smile. "In fact, I am a registered voter of Brewster County and I expect to continue my legal residence in Alpine."

His job of operating Big Bend is the push button farm isn't just around the corner, but improved tools and techniques are making it possible, and will continue to make it possible—for the farmer to emancipate himself from long hours of exhausting physical labor."

he said. "I don't think we can emphasize the back break element too strongly. How many farmers can truthfully say they work only a 40-hour week? May-

Outstanding FFA Boy . . .

DON TINDAL is in the third year of FFA work at Littlefield High school and has 20 acres of cotton and a calf as projects. He won a trip to Houston with his calf at the junior livestock show, and plans to show two barrows at the Littlefield show next year. In his first year he had 20 acres of cotton and a Hereford calf which won him a trip to Corpus Christi at the stock show. In his second year, Don had five acres of cotton and five acres of feed. He again showed a calf in the junior livestock show and won a trip to Denver. (Staff Photo) as its second superintendent, delighted him because of the opportunities it offered in building a new park.

"I didn't have to go in there and try to sell local citizens on the park, as you do in some areas," he continued.

"They were eager and taking the lead, I am glad to have had a hand in bringing electric power, telephone service, paved roads and adequate water supply to the park."

He named a dozen or so men who, he said, deserve great credit for bringing about creation of Big Bend National Park in 1944. Among those he mentioned were the late Everett E. Townsend, early-day Texas ranger, who for decades went about the state selling his dream of a park; Frank Quinn, of the Texas State Park Board; Federal Judge Ewing Thompson, El Paso; and Anson G. Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Garrison occasionally goes to the Capitol and calls on Rutherford. They always discuss Big Bend and their dreams for its future.

"I never ever look an opportunity to inform people here, including my own Texas colleagues, of the wonders of the Big Bend country," said Rutherford.

"I hope some day to get up a special trip of some kind to get a lot of folks out there and see for themselves."

Rutherford and Garrison also promote the international park idea whenever they get a chance with Mexican diplomatic personnel here.

Garrison recently received three letters from Mexicans whom he had known well as Big Bend superintendent. They wrote primarily to congratulate him on his promotion to his new job here, but each mentioned the idea of an international park.

SAUL AND PAUL

By TOMMY WILLIAMS, Minister

"Saul of Tarsus;" "Paul, an apostle"—Both of the foregoing titles are used in the New Testament to refer to the same man. Yet, we can hardly think of the two titles without thinking of two different characters.

Saul of Tarsus was a merciless persecutor of Christians. On an errand of terror from Jerusalem to Damascus, the Lord convicted him of the evil of his way. He went on into Damascus where his conversion was completed. After that, he was a leading champion of the cause of Christianity which he once fought. We know him as Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ.

The former friends and associates of Saul could still recognize him after the Damascus experience. The disciples still knew who he was and at first, feared him. His features were the same, but he was a different person on the inside.

Saul was a persecutor. Paul was a fearless advocate of Christianity. With but few exceptions, he is no longer called Saul after his conversion. The two words, Saul and Paul, flash two different characters to our mind.

The lesson is simply this: The Lord, Jesus Christ has the power to touch the life of the hardened sinner, to change that life completely. There is not a need of the soul which Jesus cannot supply—if we will let him do it.

What Happened To Spring?

Pretty Wanda Peterson, 18, scans the skies for a sign of Spring in Houston recently after the temperature dropped from a high of 87 to a low of 30 degrees. Wanda planned to pose in her bathing suit as a contestant in the Houston Press Photographic "Miss Photo Flash" contest but the record breaking northerly caused her to change her plans—partly that is. She wore a parka over her swim suit. (AP Wirephoto)

"I like my water heater because it's ELECTRIC. And since it's ELECTRIC it's completely SAFE!" ...says Mrs. R. L. Crider of East Grand Plains, New Mexico

"Even with two electric water heaters in our home, we never worry about the children playing around them. We have even considered building a linen closet over our table top model. To me, the table tops are the best to have because they are so easy to place. Electric water heaters are so quiet, and they have never given us a bit of trouble."

"Of course, we have an electric dishwasher, and we always have instant hot water. With our two electric water heaters, I think we are really a true electric family."

Yes, and a true modern family, for in water heaters, as well as all appliances, if it's modern, it's electric.

"Running a farm is not what you would call the cleanest occupation, and, therefore, we must have plenty of hot water. Besides the three baths, we have an electric laundry, and we just never seem to run out of hot water. Electric water heating is safe, dependable, and more-economical than you might think. Ask about Reddy's special water heating rate, a big bargain in convenience, safety, and dependability."

Sudangrass Best Grazing For Summer

Sudangrass is an old standby but still the livestockman's best bet for temporary summer grazing. Seeded now, Sudan will provide green grazing in six to eight weeks says Ben R. Spears, extension agronomist. And by staggering your plantings at three to four week intervals the season of temporary grazing can be greatly extended. Different plantings should be fenced separately and grazed in rotation.

Moisture conditions are generally favorable for planting in the eastern part of the state, Spears points out. In addition to providing lush summer grazing for livestock, temporary pastures give permanent type pastures a much needed rest.

Spears suggests planting one acre of Sudan for each animal unit

Dennis G. Zahn Is Promoted To 1st Lieutenant

Dennis G. Zahn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Zahn, Star Route 1, Littlefield, Texas, has been promoted to the rank of 1st Lt. Zahn is presently serving as Operation Officer of the 11th Division Airborne School at Ft. Campbell, Kentucky. Preceding the promotion Lt. Zahn has been serving as Executive Officer of Battery "C" of the 88th Airborne Anti-Aircraft Battalion.

A 1949 graduate of Littlefield High school, he entered college the same year and was graduated from A&M College of Texas in 1953 with a BS and commission in the Army. Texas A&M is the largest military college in the United States.

Lt. Zahn was assigned to the 11th Airborne Division in November, 1953 upon his completion of the course.

Research shows that row plantings of Sudan—36 to 42 inch rows—produce the best grazing. Use seven to 10 pounds to an acre. The same studies show that broadcast or close drilled Sudan, seeded at rates of 20 to 25 pounds per acre, yields the most hay if harvested only once. No advantage was gained by planting cowpeas with Sudan.

Common and sweet are the popular varieties of Sudan for Texas. In tests at the Beeville Experiment Station, steers gained an average of 1.54 pounds each daily on common and 1.56 pounds daily when fed sweet. Steers fed Tit, another variety sometimes used, registered 1.45 pounds of daily gain.

The sorghums, mainly hegarl, also are used for temporary pasture. The quality of sorghum grazing, however, often is inferior to Sudan, and there is danger of prussic acid poisoning under certain conditions.

1st Lt. Dennis G. Zahn

son of the Airborne School at Ft. Benning, Ga. Since that date he has made 29 jumps from an aircraft in flight.

ILLUSION OF HEALTH

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—You don't have to feel sick to be sick. That was the finding of the University of Michigan medical school in examinations of 509 business executives who got company-paid checkups at University Hospital.

Forty-one per cent of the 509 were sick and didn't know it, and 25 per cent of these needed treatment immediately. About 45 per cent of the sick men were found to have stomach disorders, while another 24 per cent were found to have cardiovascular (heart or blood vessel) trouble.

Four of the executives who thought they were perfectly healthy were found to have cancer.

Texas Today

By Bruce Henderson

BY BRUCE HENDERSON The Associated Press

The Dutch family Van Nood sailed from Port Arthur the other day, a rare example of domestic unity.

This family officers the motorship Activante. The vessel, not much larger than the average tug, left with a cargo of oil products for Cuba after a brief stay at Port Arthur.

It is skippered by the owner, and one was found to have tuberculosis. Three were diabetic, 12 had gallstones, and 16 people ulcers.

And a medical school report said: "Significant new disease appeared each year in 13 to 20 per cent of the subjects."

Capt. H. Van Nood of Willemstad, Holland.

Van Nood's wife serves as chief stewardess. His daughter is purser. The first son is chief officer, his second son second mate.

His daughter-in-law, married to the chief officer, was aboard as chief cook.

Two other sons plan to join the crew in not too many years, says the Port Arthur News. While the rest of the family sails the bounding main, they are in school at Willemstad.

Lightning hit Mrs. B. F. Johnson out of her home near Athens. The bolt, which struck the day ranch's tin Franklin and later in East Texas, raged against Mrs. Johnson's yard, garage and into her house.

She said it first flashed down the telephone, burning clothes on it. It jumped to the corner of the garage, splitting a 2x4 board and knocking the tin roof loose. Then it entered the house, almost causing fire when it grounded out on a gas pipe and ignited the gutter pipe to the heater.

Mrs. Johnson told the Athens Daily Review:

"The lightning rattled pots and pans in the shelf and stopped my clock at 11 a. m.," she ran 400 yards to a neighbor's home.

April, the month of Easter, found Texans pushing in to help their fellows.

A family in Big Lake needed a hand, and that West Texas town obliged.

Dayvenport was left alone with five children when her husband died. He owned a truck for a grocery store.

Employees of the store began themselves. Money poured in from other sources. The store worked and Omer A. L. Evans started considering the woodshed project.

It appeared Mrs. Dayvenport could make ends meet on her small income if she didn't have to pay rent. They decided to build her a home.

Help came from all over Big Lake. Contractors loaned her material and time. Staves of other stores loaned her tools. Baptist church members helped. The Methodist church gave money, and labor groups also helped.

Evans and his committee bought two lots, and construction began on a three-bedroom home.

"We got two lots instead of one because sometime Mrs. Dayvenport might have to have some money," Evans said.

Mrs. Dayvenport insisted on herself pay for the house and the San Angelo Standard. She is paying off the last $1,500 on the $3,500 home. She got in a five million have helped in.

And at Wichita Falls, they collected more than $1,200 in a drive to save Joseph Williams from a New York hospital. The goal is $2,000.

Instead a young man was paralyzed when he was hit by a stray bullet while Baptist church launched the drive to send him to Bellevue Medical Center. The event aims to collect funds for possible physical education.

Money is coming in from all over North Central Texas and Southern Oklahoma as well as Wichita Falls.

SIGNAL LIGHTS

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—State Highway Department report some motorists have found a way to beat the electronic speed clocks—popularly called whinnies hereabouts.

Motocyclists crowding the machines' about 60 feet apart, blink their lights to fool oncoming drivers to look out their speed is being electrically fixed.

The hammock was invented by the Ariveak Indians who once lived in the West Indies.

COME ON IN— the price is fine!

Less than some models of the well-known smaller cars!

HOTTEST-SELLING BUICK IN HISTORY
No wonder you see so many '55 Buicks on the highways—they're selling up bigger sales than ever before in history—topping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three" of America's best sellers.

UNLESS we miss our guess, a lot of surprised people are going to do some new back-of-an-envelope arithmetic when they see the low delivered price of the Buick shown here...

Because we know that many folks still don't realize how little a Buick really costs—that the dollar difference between this big Buick SPECIAL and the leading smaller cars has virtually disappeared.

Buick Sales Are Soaring As Never Before
But more and more of them are finding it out. And that's a major reason why Buick production and Buick sales are soaring to all-time highs today—and why Buick again is outselling all other cars, regardless of price range, except two of the well-known smaller cars.

Big reason, too, for this soaring popularity is Buick's full line of automobiles, giving you a choice in any price class—the rock-bottom-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the supremely spacious SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER.

But above all, more and more people are discovering that the price you pay for a Buick buys more sheer automobile than the same money buys elsewhere.

More advanced styling, more deep-down comfort, more pure power thrill, more ride steadiness and handling ease and solidity of structure.

More spectacular performance, too, from the modest extra cost of Buick's automatic transmission.

For here you get Variable Pitch Dynaflo[†]—the new wonder drive born of modern aeronautics to give you instant full-power getaway and acceleration when needed—and far better gas mileage when cruising.

Why not come see us this week, for sure? We'll be happy to have you test-pilot a new Buick, just for the sheer thrill of it—and show you quite clearly that if you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick.

[†]Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

STRIPES STARS FOR TODDLERS

TOPPER SETS . . . These are the newest fashions for the youngest set—gay little dress or shirt toppers and plastic lined pants, to keep baby socially acceptable. At left is an outfit in crisp striped chambray with white-trimmed striped top, solid color pants with striped trim. At right, striped pants and white top with striped collar and tie for the miniature Beau Brummel, in easy-to-laundry dacron. For ages 6 to 18 months, both designed by Thomas.

This season's well-dressed baby steps out in stripes.

Even the tiniest members of the younger set are fashion-conscious nowadays, and on their approval of the gay, comfortable clothes top designers are turning out for them.

Gone are the days when babies were dressed in cumbersome frilly swaddling clothes. The modern baby has his streamlined sports, sun and play wardrobe just as Mom and Pop do, and gets dressed up in those lacy batistes only for an extra special occasion, such as christening. Fabrics for baby clothes have gone modern, too, to provide easy laundering for Mom, as well as soft and wrinkle-resistance to keep baby looking sane and sane longer. You'll find nylon and dacron blend in the new toddler clothes, that wash as easily as a pair of stockings, dry in no time and need little or no ironing.

Colors in these new small-fry fashions are bright and permanent, don't fade or run when washed or exposed to the sun.

It's a great age for babies and also for mothers, when science
