Rotary To Honor Teachers At Banquet

The Littlefield Rotarians, along with their Rotary Anns will pay tribute to the teachers of the Littlefield School System at the annual Teacher Appreciation Banquet, tonight at 7:30 in the Community Center.

The annual affair is staged by the Rotary Club to honor the teachers and to recognize the outstanding teacher of the year with the presentation of a plaque.

Recipient of the award last year was Mrs. Edward Betts, a teacher in the Littlefield school system for 22 years. The selection is made by secret ballot cast by members of the school faculty.

Allen (Pop) Hodges, president of the Rotary Club said, "We are happy to have the opportunity to recognize our teachers for the outstanding job they are doing with the youth of our community in helping to build strong minds, bodies, and morals. We are sorry that it is not possible to award each teacher a plaque of recognition, we think they are each doing an outstanding job."

Registrations At $320,000 For Year

Lamb County residents have purchased more than $320,000 worth of vehicle license tags this year, County Tax Assessor-Collector Herbert Dunn revealed this week.

Records at the tax office show that 15,252 vehicles had been registered through Sept. 25, which is a decrease of slightly more than 500 from the same period in 1964, when 15,795 vehicles had been registered through Sept. 26.

The money that is presently being collected is going to the state, as under the present system the county receives the first $50,000 collected for tags, and then the county and the state split the fees up to $175,000 for the county.

The total receipts are also slightly off from a year ago when $327,468 had been collected compared to $322,578 this year.

There are still six months to go on the 1965 tags, however, with a large number of trailer tags still expected to be issued.

Paul Harvey's Column Starts In News Sunday

Paul Harvey, one of America's great columnists, will join the roster of County Wide News columnists Sunday, October 3.

Harvey holds a position of preeminence in the world of U.S. letters. He is the author of three best-selling books, has been honored by many important national organizations, and holds honorary doctorates from seven leading educational institutions.

Harvey is, first and foremost, a news analyst with a passion for honesty and straight thinking.

But the scope of his thought and writing embraces the full range of human interests, including politics, philosophy, history, economics, literature and art.

"Remember These Things," Harvey's first book, was widely acclaimed for its fearless and informed comments on the American scene. Captain Eddie Rickenbacker says of it:

"It is my firm belief that a copy should be placed in every public school, every high school and every college in this great land of ours. It should become 'must' reading for all boys and girls over ten years of age."

"Autumn of Liberty," which followed, was hailed as a triumphant statement of basic Americanism. Freeman Magazine called it "a timely, personal, important book".

Paul Harvey's third book, "The Rest of the Story," is a collection of extraordinary, true stories told in his inimitable style. They show "his feeling for the drama and adventure of life, always so clearly evident, in his syndicated column."

He has received Awards of Merit from the Veterans of Foreign Wars and from the American Legion, for his "militant Americanism."

Harvey was awarded the Freedom Foundation Gold Medal three consecutive years, "for outstanding defense and extension of the American Way of Life." He also holds the bronze Christopher Award.

He is equally proud of an award from the Disabled American Veterans, which says: "Paul Harvey is to the veteran returned what Ernie Pyle was to the soldier in the field."

Paul Harvey's column will deal with subjects of vital interest to every reader. His down-to-earth, common sense approach is as reassuring as it is stimulating in these times of embroidered doubletalk and muddled thinking.

Follow this column regularly in the pages of the County Wide News and keep abreast of the important developments in American thought.

Parents of senior high students will meet at the senior high cafeteria at 7 p.m. Tuesday for hospitality time and a short meeting. Rev. John Hill will lead in prayer. General introductions will be made by Beryl Harris, high school principal. Parents will then visit the classrooms, following their child's schedule.

Hostesses for the junior high "Back-to-School" night will be Mmes. Harry Woody, A.C. Bridwell, Jack Christian, Lloyd Lust, Charles Nace and Bob Roden. Tuesday night's hostesses will be Mmes. Paul Bennett, Melvyn Dutton, Arthur Duggan, W.W. Birkelbach, C.C. McBride and Stacy Hart.

Our hats are off to the Littlefield Rotary, who will tonight (Thursday) honor those unsung heroes in our community, the teachers of the Littlefield school system, at their annual Teacher Appreciation Banquet in the Community Center. While the Rotary Club recognizes one teacher as the outstanding instructor of the year, the event is staged to honor all teachers in the system. We think this is one of the finest events of the year, and congratulate the Rotarians and their Rotary Anns for their thoughtfulness and interest.

We would like to go on record now as expressing our appreciation to our teachers for the outstanding job they are doing. Although it may appear that you are taken for granted, we know you are due more than can be repaid, your interest, in our children is the thing that will help keep America strong... So, to you teacher, we salute you and hope you will understand when we forget your importance to us. You are doing an outstanding job.

MUSTANGS UNBEATEN

Wildcats Sharpen Claws For Home Debut

David and Goliath?... Well maybe, if desire, spirit, and a will to win ever had any effect on a Friday night score, history could well repeat itself Friday when the steadily improving Littlefield Wildcats take on the plagues of the Plains, the Denver City Mustangs, in the 1965 home opener.

The spirit around the Wildcat practice field has been a thing to behold this week as the charges of Coach John Howle made plans to ambush the powerful Mustangs from the Southwest, who will bring with them a fierce pride, an impressive record, and a sound ballclub. Ranked second in the State's AA polls the Mustangs, led by all-state candidate, quarterback David Mitchell will be out to keep their record in tact, and their domination of Littlefield teams complete. Along with Mitchell will come a crew of hard running backs and charging linemen who have had little trouble downing all foes for the last several seasons.

On the other hand, the victory hungry Wildcats, spurred by those who remember the DC encounter last year, could not think of a better time than Friday to get on the winning trail, and a victory over the Mustangs would be a glowing feather in the caps of the scrappy Wildcats.

The offense, unveiled by the 'Cats against Hereford last week, has begun to come around this week, and with still another day of work, the 'Cats are expected to field a revitalized squad Friday, one that promises to dish out problems for the visiting Mustangs, and pleasure for the home town folks who will have their first opportunity to see the maroon and white perform on the local turf.

Coach Howle has announced he plans to go with about the same crew as started against Hereford, with little exception. The only questionable one is Senior Steve Lewis, who has spent most of the week's practice sessions in sweat clothes trying to overcome an injured knee. Elsewhere the Wildcats are in top physical shape with injuries being few and far between.

Tuesday afternoon the 'Cats ran through a fast and furious scrimmage session with the Junior Varsity, as they pressed to get their attack in shape, and go on to other things. Against the JV, the bit boys showed well with the 'Cats backs finding plenty of roaming room in the JV secondary, and the Varsity line having a minimum of trouble with the DC styled attack.

Scouting reports and previous experience shows the Mustangs to take a hint from their mascot as they rely mainly on a ground game, going to the air only when they have too.

The feeling of the Wildcats is they want this one and want it badly, they feel they have the guns to knock the Mustangs off, and have demonstrated their ability all week. The fact they will be making their first home appearance is still another factor in the Wildcat attack. Coach Howle feels the home town team has the advantage, and as an example cites the DC victory record at home. The Mustangs have not lost a home contest since 1957.

Howle said, "The boys want this one more than any we have played to date, and the attitude they have displayed this week has told us they plan to do all in their power to upset the Mustangs. We have been pleased with the things we have seen in the practice sessions and feel with a little more work we can bring our offense up to the point where the defense is. We know also they can be beat, when our offense comes around we will be in the game all the way, the boys are higher now than they have been, and we expect they will stay there until the final gun Friday night."

Sid Hopping, Littlefield School Assessor who is in charge of ticket sales for the Littlefield Wildcat football games announced that there are still good seats left for Friday nights home opener against Denver City.

Hopping stated that slightly over 300 season tickets have been sold so far this year and there are still good locations left for season ticket buyers.

In addition adult single game tickets for the Denver City clash are on sale at the school tax office for $1.50. Student tickets are on sale at the school.

4 WRONG

Butler Is Contest Winner In A Week Of Upsets

Steve Butler, Route 1, Amherst, won the third week's football contest as he missed four games and missed the tie breaker by seven points as he edged out Arthur Duggan, 520 E. 9th, the only other contestant to miss four games, but was 13 points off on the Littlefield-Hereford game. Butler won $7.50 for his efforts while Duggan will receive $5.00.

Four entrants missed on five contests with Rhoda Price, 111 South Westside, beating out her neighbor, Leslie Bevel, 123 S. Westside, for the $2.50 third place prize by the matter of one point. Rhoda missed the tie breaker by five points while Leslie missed it by six with a pick of Hereford by a 19 to 7 score.

James Collins, who won last week's contest and Lee Roy Nuttall, Route 1, Amherst, were the other two contestants to miss only five games as several upsets sent the mistakes soaring.

None of the top six correctly picked the Brownfield upset win over Andrews and Butler was the only one to pick the Texas A and M victory over Georgia

Dreith Named DE Teacher

Littlefield School Superintendent Paul Manning announced Tuesday that Ronnie Dreith, presently teaching history at the high school has been named Distributive Education teacher replacing Bill Lyman who has resigned.

This is the first year of teaching in the Littlefield school system for Dreith a graduate of Oklahoma City University.

A native of Chattanooga, Oklahoma, Dreith majored in management with a minor in history.

Manning also announced that Mrs. Joycelyn Henry has been named to replace Dreith as a history teacher.

A graduate of Texas Tech, and a Littlefield resident for over ten years, Mrs. Henry has been employed by the Medical Arts Hospital.

Mrs. Henry will begin teaching the history classes starting Monday, October 4.

Band Wins Parade Award

The Littlefield High School Band won second place honors Monday in the Parade of Bands held in conjunction with the opening of the South Plains Fair in Lubbock.

With the promise of an improved crop over a year ago and a present market price of $1.70 Lamb County grain farmers are bringing in the harvest that may run near the $15-million mark for Lamb growers.

The combines went back into the fields in full swing this week, following the rains and Tuesday almost five million pounds were brought into Littlefield grain elevators by farmers.

The Littlefield Farmers' Co-op reported the largest amount as 162 trucks brought in 2,500,000 pounds within 100,000 pounds of the best single day during the 1964 harvest.

The market for the feed grain, 15 percent moisture, was stable at $1.70 for most elevators Tuesday.

The prospects of higher harvest yields is bright with dryland maize generally yielding 1,750 to 2,100 pounds per acre. "This is considerably better than last year's yield," reported elevator men.

Much of the early grain has been dryland but the last two days the irrigated grain has been moving actively to market with yields reported averaging between 5,500 and 6,500 an acre.

With the heavy dew the past few nights the combines are getting underway shortly before noon and running until well into the evening, or as long as the grain stays dry enough to thrash well.

Combining is expected to go ahead at a maximum rate as long as the skies stay clear and dry and the hope over the county is high that they will stay this way for weeks.

Some of the heavy yield irrigated acreage is not quite ready for harvest, but most is expected to be ready within a week to ten days.

"It's coming along well and if the weather will cooperate the outlook for the grower is good," a buyer said.

Lamb County farmers have around 185,000 acres in grain sorghum according to recent estimates.

Of this approximately 140,000 acres are in the federal feed grain program. Farmers in the program will receive an additional 29 cents per hundred for their grain, in an amount based on yield average.

Also, program growers will get payments for 60,000 acres diverted from production under the program, which also is rated on yield average. Payments on program and diverted acres are expected to total about $4 million in Lamb County according to Lamar Aten, Lamb County manager for the office of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation.

Sunset Avenue GA's Give Program

The newly organized Girl's Missionary Auxiliary of Sunset Avenue Baptist Church presented a program Wednesday night at the church. The purpose of the program was to explain the work of the GA's. Mrs. Jeff Smith and Mrs. Doyle Swift, co-sponsors directed the program.

Karen Kirby and Linda Sanderson sang a special number. Darla Sanderson led in prayer. Sharon Kirby gave the GA Watchword and explained it. Cindy Kirby gave the GA Aims and an explanation. Linda Sanderson gave the GA Allegiance.

A candlelight ceremony was presented to explain the five GA Star Ideals. Five white candles and one red candle with an arrangement of greenery were placed on a white table. The star ideals and girls explaining them were:

to dwell in a realm of prayer, Cindy Kirby; to dwell in a realm of Bible study, Karen Kirby; to dwell in a realm of faith, Sharon Kirby; to dwell in a realm of love, Debbie Tinker; and to dwell in a realm of service, Diane Bell.

1966 Imperials Have Exclusive Seating

The 1966 Imperials have new interiors with seating arrangements exclusive among domestic production cars, exterior styling changes, front and rear, a new 440-cubic inch engine and engineering refinements contributing to unmatched riding quietness and comfort. A new feature in four-door models is a front seat that looks like a conventional bench-type seat but actually is made up of two completely independent units, each with its own center arm rest, seat track and seat adjusting mechanism. There are four Imperial models in two series, the Le Baron four-door hardtop, the Crown convertible, the Crown four-door hardtop shown above, and the Crown Coupe two-door hardtop. Top quality claro walnut inlays are used liberally across the upper half of the instrument panel, in the steering wheel center section and door trim panels of all 1966 Imperial models.

1966 Imperials On Display At Garland Motors Show

Imperial for 1966, tenth in the modern series of luxury cars bearing the Imperial name, has new interiors with seating arrangements exclusive among domestic production cars.

Imperial also has exterior styling changes, front and rear; a new 440 cubic inch displacement engine and engineering refinements contributing to unmatched riding quietness and comfort. The luxury car makes its initial showroom appearance today at Garland Motors.

A new feature in four-door models is a front seat that looks like a conventional bench-type seat but actually is made up of two completely independent units, each equipped with its own center arm rest, seat track and seat adjusting mechanism. The passenger's seat has a reclining back, with an optional head rest.

This represents a major interior design advance in comfort as well as attractiveness, said P.N. Buckminster, general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division. It is standard in our four-door models. Up to now, this type of arrangement has been available only in custom-built imported luxury cars.

INTERIOR CHANGES--The Imperial two-door models, the Crown Coupe and Crown Convertible, also have new interiors. They have aircraft-type individually adjustable front seats which differ from those used in 1965 models. They have a slimmer silhouette and have more highly contoured seat backs. A built-in adjustable head rest is incorporated in the front passenger's seat, along with an adjustable reclining mechanism.

In the 1966 Imperial, six-way power seat adjustment is available separately for both sides of the divided front seats. This feature is standard in Le-Baron cars.

Chrysler 300 Series On Display At Garland Motors 1966 Show

Chrysler passenger cars, new from front to rear for 1966 make their debut in the Garland Motors showroom today, September 30.

They have more powerful engine options, new interior seating arrangements, new equipment options and a stronger separate styling identity for the four series which make up the 1966 line -- the luxury New Yorkers, the sporty 300s, the economical Newport and the new Town and Country series of wagons.

The most changed in appearance of 1966 Chrysler is the distinctive 300 series. The 300 two-door hardtop has a new roof with a restyled rear window. A new hood, new front bumper, wrap-around taillights and bumper-installed front park and turn lights visible from the side are exclusive features of the 300 series. Chrysler's entry in the sports-type car market. New equipment options include power front wheel disc brakes, an adjustable tilting and telescoping steering wheel and a rear seat air and heat system.

Bucket seats of a completely new design with pull-down center arm rests are standard in some models and optional in others. They are wider, have higher seat backs and provide easier rear seat entry and exit room for two-door models than the bucket seats in 1965 cars. Integral head rests of a new more attractive design are optional.

ENGINE POWER INCREASED -- A 440-cubic inch V-8 engine with a four-barrel carburetor is standard in the New Yorker, replacing the 413-cubic inch engine of 1965. It has the same compression, 10.1 to 1, and valve timing as the 413. With its larger displacement it provides improved stop-and-go performance resulting from greater torque at low engine speeds.

A high performance version of the 440 engine with twin exhausts and a silenced twin snorkel low restriction air cleaner is optional on all models. The standard engine for Newport and Town and Country cars is a 383-cubic inch V-8 using regular grade fuel. A high performance version of the 383 engine is standard in the 300 and optional in Newport and Town and Country models.

13 MODELS AVAILABLE -- The model line-up for 1966 is the same as for 1965 except that two-seat and three-seat wagons, formerly available in both the New Yorker and Newport series, are now set apart in a separate Town and Country series. Each of the two-door hardtops, Newport, 300 and New Yorker, has a separate and distinctive roof style, and all series have their own distinctive grilles, taillight arrangements and side trims.

New Yorker and Newport models also have new, more attractive hoods and all hardtops, sedans and convertibles have new rear quarter panels which contribute to a lower, sleeker look as the cars are seen from the side.

New bumpers are massive and deep and are designed to give superior protection to surrounding sheet metal and license plates.

The Town and Country wagons have their own type of body ornamentation and taillight treatment. Wood grain appliques with in body side moldings and on the instrument panel are standard styling features on both the three-seat and two-seat wagons.

NEW FEATURES OFFERED -- New features include six-way electric seat adjusters for bucket seats, safety-type inside door handles, modifications in shock absorbers to provide a smoother boulevard ride, a one-third increase in the thickness of secondary brake shoe linings to improve braking performance, improved luggage loading in hardtops, sedans, and convertibles, and a new full front compartment console optional in hardtops and convertibles with bucket seats.

512 PHELPS AVE.

Could be we're getting too emotional. But it isn't very often you get a chance to follow an all-time sales record year with a new Chrysler like this one.

Sure, our '65 was great. But the '66 is even better.

It looks better. Moves quicker. It's got a beautiful new front end and a very dramatic new rear.

It's got a bigger and more zesty group of V-8 engines. From a 383 cubic inch to a 440 TNT with twin exhausts and twin snorkels. (A "snorkel" is an air intake horn for the carburetor -- does great things for performance.)

The interiors, all up and down the line, are more luxurious and comforting. Take our new shell bucket seats, for example. It's almost as if they've been custom-fitted for you.

One thing we didn't even think about changing. It has to do with money. Five of our Newport models (real Chryslers -- not junior editions) are priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars with the same equipment. It includes features like power steering, power brakes, a 383 cubic inch V-8, automatic transmission, and many standard items like safety door handles and seat belts.

Move up to Chrysler... it's getting easier by the minute.

New VIP Is Top Of 1966 Plymouth Line

A new luxury type four-door hardtop called the VIP is introduced by Plymouth in its line of cars for 1966. Designed for those who ask the finest in equipment and interior appointments in a standard size automobile with distinctive exterior trim and identification, the VIP has the same 119-inch wheelbase and length of 209.8 inches as other standard size Plymouth cars. Exterior appearance features, exclusive to the VIP, are body side moldings with wood-grain inserts, a new charcoal metallic paint, and chromed VIP nameplates on the grille, lower deck panels and C-pillars. The new model is also available with standard Plymouth exterior colors. Interior features include recessed pull-down center arm rests for both front and rear seats, special door closing pull handles, and reading lamps in the rear. Interior trim colors of the VIP are black, red or blue. Fender skirts, wheel covers and hood-mounted turn indicators are standard. A vinyl covered roof is optional.

Belvedere Is Completely New For 1966

The intermediate size Plymouth Belvedere for 1966 has a wholly new appearance, major chassis improvements and a wide range of optional equipment. A production version of the famous 426-cubic inch hemispherical head V-8 engine will be offered in 1966. There are six Belvedere body types and 18 models. Shown here is the Satellite two-door hardtop. Sedans, hardtops and convertibles will have a 116-inch wheelbase, and station wagons a 117-inch wheelbase. Fully unitized bodies with curved glass windows and fresh body lines make the new Belvedere look longer and lower than its 1965 counterpart. The standard V-8 engine in the Belvedere series has 273 cubic inch displacement with a two-barrel carburetor. Other engine options besides the 426 "hemi" are the 318 and 361-cubic inch V-8s using regular fuel, and a high performance version of the 383-cubic inch V-8. Safety features include a new type of inside door handle, and new power brake boosters.

New Series Of Plymouth Belvederes Featured At Garland Motors Show

Plymouth has a completely new series of Belvedere intermediate size cars in six body types and 18 models for 1966.

They have a wholly new appearance, major chassis improvements and a wide range of new optional equipment. A new engine will be offered in 1966. It is a production version of the famous 426-cubic inch hemispherical head V-8 engine which has powered Plymouth competition automobiles.

The Belvedere group of cars, with a 116-inch wheelbase for sedans, hardtops and convertibles and a 117-inch wheelbase for station wagons, is one of four series of Plymouth cars for 1966, providing complete coverage of the low price field. The others are the standard size Fury series cars, the economy Valiant compacts and the sporty fastback Barracudas. There is also the top-of-the-line Plymouth VIP, a luxury type four door hardtop.

The entire Plymouth line goes on sale Thursday, September 30.

'In 1965, we made Plymouth fully competitive, model for model, with other volume producers in the low price field,' said P.N. Buckminster, general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division. 'In 1966, we are making major changes in the intermediate Belvedere series. Their new styling, new safety features and the new optional hemi engine are among the attractions that will widen Plymouth's appeal in the volume segment of the market.'

LONGER AND LOWER LOOK--Belvedere cars have fully unitized bodies with curved glass windows and new body lines which make them look longer and lower than 1965 Belvedere cars.

One of the 1966 safety features is a new type of inside door handle shaped like the familiar buckle of a seat safety belt. It is integrated with the arm rest and lies flat on the door panel. The handle is exceptionally easy to operate and at the same time reduces the possibility of accidental door opening caused by the involuntary tendency of passengers to grasp for the nearest object when reacting under sudden stress.

Other safety features include new, more efficient parallel windshield wipers, new windshields with less curvature at the outer extremities, new power brake boosters providing an improved pedal 'feel', and new, thicker secondary brake shoe linings.

INTERIOR FEATURES--Outstanding interior features include new instrument panels for all models and new shell-type design bucket seats for Plymouth Satellite two-door hardtops and convertibles, the luxury cars in the Belvedere series. The new seats have wider seat cushions and higher seat backs than in 1965. Their new shape and hinging improves their appearance and provides increased rear seat entry room.

A new floor console for Satellite cars accommodates selector levers for either the automatic or four-speed manual transmission. There is astorage compartment with a side opening as an integral part of the console.

NEW HEMI ENGINE AVAILABLE--A new 426 cubic inch hemispherical combustion chamber V-8 engine will be available in Plymouth Belvedere series cars with manual four-speed transmissions in mid-November, and in automatic transmission cars in January.

The new hemi engine is a modification of the competition 426 cubic inch hemi V-8 used with outstanding success in racing, starting with Plymouth's 1-2-3 victory in the 1964 Daytona 500-mile race.

Unlike the racing version, the 1966 production hemi performs well in traffic, operates quietly and uses readily available premium gasoline.

Plymouths powered by the new production hemi will carry a distinctive HP2 medallion on the front fenders.

The production hemi engine has a 10.25:1 compression ratio, two tandem mounted four-barrel carburetors, provision for carburetor heat in the warm-up period, dual exhausts with mufflers and valve timing suitable for normal driving. Cars with hemi engines have heavy duty torsion and sway bars in front and heavy duty rear springs.

The standard V-8 engine in Plymouth Belvedere series cars has 273-cubic inches displacement with a two-barrel carburetor. Other options are 318 and 361-cubic inch V-8s using regular fuel and a high performance version of the 383-cubic inch V-8 with a four-barrel carburetor and dual exhausts, using premium fuel.

18 MODELS IN SIX BODY STYLES--The six body types in the Belvedere series are a two-door sedan, two-door hardtop, convertible, four-door sedan, two-seat station wagon and three-seat station wagon. All body types are available with six-cylinder or V-8 engines. The Satellite two-door hardtop and convertible, deluxe cars of the series, are available only with V-8 engines. Equipment changes in the Belvedere series include a new improved heating and ventilating system that takes advantage of the car's forward motion to force air into the car body, a new air conditioning system with a higher level of performance, and new power window lift systems with exceptionally quiet operation.

PAYLOAD -- Dodge half-ton and three-quarter-ton pickup trucks feature a 128-inch wheelbase model for improved weight distribution, as well as a choice of Upline or Upline bodies. Sweptline models, such as the D-100 half-ton above, feature a new full-width tailgate that can be opened or closed with one hand. Dodge's new A-100 compact vans, such as the sewer service unit pictured here, offer payload capacity of over one ton, wider cargo doors, the only compact truck with full-foam, bucket-style seat as standard equipment, and the only compact with optional V8 power.

New Dodge Monaco Models At Garland Motors Today

revealed six new elegant models, the most deluxe line of cars, today. The top of the line is the Monaco 500, a 2-door sports offering comfort, console and style that is unique in a medium-priced Monaco series includes 4-door sedan, 2- and 4-door station wagons. The Monaco 500 features the popular rain side applique. The Monaco 500 is available with the Dart, Coronet and Polara. The Monaco goes on at Dodge dealerships the country Sept. 30. Monaco models are for the motorist who wants the excitement and pride that comes with ownership of a car of the finest of design, performance and performance. B.D. Garland, of Garland Motors. Monaco models are easily disassembled from the rear by all-ank-wide taillights. Behind them, in the center of the trunk lid, is the 'Monaco' plate. A deep-dish wheel with die-cast spinner is standard on the Monaco 500. Monaco features front bucket seats and console. The seats are unusually pleated and deep. The rear seats are designed to resemble the bucket seats, but provide room for Monaco 500 seat backs are made of a durable and un-tycker material, which is used in the door panels. Available in the Monaco 500 are distinctive colors of vinyl upholstery. A cloth-upholstery is also offered in black. All-vinyl interior trim is used in all other Monaco models except the four-door sedan.

The Monaco 500 may be purchased with either automatic or four-speed manual transmissions, and both have the gear-selector levers mounted in the console. Lockout devices on both transmissions prevent error shifts. An optional tachometer is mounted on a swivel base in the front section of the console.

A 383-cubic-inch V-8 with four-barrel carburetion is standard in the Monaco 500 and optional in other Monaco models. The standard Monaco engine is a two-barrel version of the 383 which uses regular grades of gasoline.

An extra-performance option for all Monacos is a new 440-cubic-inch V-8 with four-barrel carburetion. The engine is rated at 350 horsepower.

Luxury-comfort options for Monaco models include a tilt-and-telescoping steering wheel that allows the driver to select the position of greatest comfort and convenience to him, or vary it during a long trip. It may also be put in 'high' to facilitate entry and exit.

Six-way power seats, buckets and bench, with a newly designed adjuster that provides increased stability and quietness, offer tailored comfort to drivers of all sizes.

A new inside door handle, easy and convenient to operate but substantially safer than conventional designs, is standard. The handle is shaped like the buckle of a seat belt and is pulled inward to unlatch the door.

Other standard safety items include front and rear seat belts, padded instrument panel, windshield washer, variable speed windshield wipers, back-up lights and left outside rear-view mirror.

Auto-Pilot, a dial-a-speed safety device that allows the driver to cruise at a pre-selected speed with his foot off the accelerator pedal, is also available.

A master electric lock system, which can be operated from either front door, permits all doors to be locked by pushing one button.

Engineering improvements for 1966 include more efficient and quieter automatic and four-speed manual transmissions; more accurate speedometer and odometer; new engine mounts that more effectively dampen road noise and vibrations; and modified power brakes that are most responsive to changes in pedal effort.

The Monaco and Monaco 500 have a 121-inch wheelbase. 'The Monaco models are well-engineered cars with the highest level of elegance, comfort and performance,' Garland said.

It's 1966. Rise up with Dodge. Get with the swinging cars of the year!

Garland, Motors Showing Old New Dodge Dart

Dodge Dart for 1966 holds new styling on the exterior and new elegance on the interior.

Engineering refinements are made to provide longer life, more motoring and ease of operation. Five accessories, formerly optional, have been made standard.

Dart again features a choice of 20 V-8 and six-cylinder models. They will make their public debut in Dodge dealerships on September 30. Dart has been a consistent success since its introduction as a compact in 1963. It offers the agile performance of a small car and the size spaciousness of a big car. B.D. Garland, of Garland Motors.

For the years, the Dart has a reputation among car buyers for being a fine value, and an even better value.

Seats and door panels are fresh, more luxurious than for 1966. Fabric and vinyl are new. The instrument panel is highly stylized, infinitely driver-oriented. The Dart, long the favorite family car, has traditionally had vinyl upholstery. But optional cloth upholstery is offered on the Dart 270 four-door sedan. Dodge designers point out that vinyl is easier to clean and more practical for family use.

Vinyl upholstery is standard on the Dart 270 and GT models and 2-door hardtops. The Dart 270 station wagon offers the top-of-the-line GT feature new front seats and an optional center console which provides the gear selector for the driver and look far more expensive than one would expect in a compact.

Option on the Dart GT is black or white vinyl-upholstery for the forward part of the roof, set off by bright trim. This gives the roof a dramatic effect.

Standard safety equipment in the Dart includes front and rear seat belts, padded instrument panel, windshield washer, variable speed windshield wipers, back-up lights and left outside rear-view mirror. Standard engines in the Dart

Stamp out cramped compacts; Get with man-sized Dart.

Dullsville falls, Coronet rises in '66.

An all-new sporty Ranchero (above) paces Ford Division's 1966 parade of light trucks. Longer, wider and lower, the Ranchero also has additional brawn with a pickup box that has been enlarged to a full 39.1 cubic feet. A new Custom model blends luxury car features with pickup truck utility. Ford's N-600 medium-duty truck (below) with stake body has a bigger, roomier cab for 1966, with an inch of new headroom and more than two inches of additional legroom. A flatter and larger steering wheel and new molded fiberglass headlining are other new features.

The third series of changes since it was introduced as a 1965 model 17 months ago mark the debut of the Mustang as a 1966. New styling touches — shown on the hardtop model above — include a new grille, simulated magnesium wheel covers and side ornamentation. A five-dial instrument cluster and new safety features also are standard for all 1966 Mustangs. New Mustang options include a Stereonic tape player — shown below — that provides up to 30 minutes of true stereo music or the equivalent of two long-playing records. The tape player is incorporated into the car radio which may be used at any time for news or information simply by removing the cartridge. With three Mustang options introduced in April, the 1966 Mustang represents the second enhancement of the Mustang in five months.

Checks Increase To Veterans Widows

The October dependency and indemnity compensation checks for widows of veterans whose death was attributable to service will reflect the increases in military pay recently set by Congress, the Veterans Administration announced today.

Jack Coker, Manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco, said that these increases, the third to be granted within the past two years, are based upon the grade and years of service of the deceased veteran.

The increases in compensation are comparatively small when the lower enlisted grades or a few years of service are the determining factors, but they grow larger as they reflect higher rank and total years of service of career servicemen.

The checks are expected to reach widows on or about October 1, the VA Manager said. Adjustment is automatic and there is no need to write VA, Coker added.

Entirely new styling of the 1966 Fairlane is dramatically displayed in the photo of the Fairlane 500XL 2-door hardtop, above, and the Fairlane GT convertible, below. Indicative of the broadened family and sports appeal of the 1966 Fairlane is the new model selection — four series instead of two and 13 models instead of eight. The two new Fairlane series — the Fairlane 500XL and the Fairlane GT — are available in convertible and 2-door hardtop models designed for sports- and luxury-oriented customers. Simulated hood louvers and the famed Ford GT racing stripes above the rocker panel are among distinguishing features of the Fairlane GT. All 1966 Fairlanes will be in Ford dealer showrooms beginning October 1.

Gray Home Scene Of Meet

SPADE--Pack 674 met for the September pack meeting Monday night in the Duane Gray home.

The opening ceremony was the presentation of colors by David Gray and Chris Wallace, carrying the United States and Pack flags. Color guards were Randal Gray and Jimmy McCurry. Gaylon Reed gave the Pledge of Allegiance.

During the presentation of awards Gaylon Reed received a wolf badge, pin and one gold arrowpoint; Chris Wallace, a bear badge, pin and one gold arrowpoint; David Gray, a lion badge, pin and gold arrowpoint. An assistant denner stripe was given to Randal Gray and denner stripes to Marvin Matthews.

Mrs. Gray, the den mother, showed a Summertime award and ribbon received at Roundtable.

The meeting closed with the retiring of colors.

Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Robert Wallace served refreshments of doughnuts, coffee and hot chocolate to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reed and Gaylon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCurry and Jimmy, Ralph Matthews and Marvin, Mrs. Leroy Wallace and children, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Gray and family.

Tax Man Sam Sez

Each year Internal Revenue furnishes material for our Nation's schools to teach several million high school and college students how to prepare their income tax returns. The order blanks for this material will be going to the Nation's school principals within the next few weeks. If you have had as much trouble with your tax return as most of us claim we have, it might pay to encourage your principal to make sure that Junior learns how to prepare his tax return. There's not any use in the whole family being ignorant about this tax business.

Mitchell-Ford, Inc To Introduce The New 66 Fords Friday

Ford pioneering in station-wagon design also continues in 1966. To the dual center-facing rear seats and built-in rear window air deflector introduced last year has been added a new standard equipment dual-action tailgate. The dual-action tailgate may be opened either as a conventional tailgate for carrying long loads, or as a door to permit easy access to the cargo area or the dual-facing rear seat.

Introduction of the all-new Ford Galaxie 500 7 Litre series with convertible and 2-door hardtop models expands the 1966 Ford line-up to 19 models in nine series from 17 models in eight series.

New safety features standard on all 1966 Fords include outside rear-view mirror, backup lights, padded dash and visors, rear seat belts, windshield lights, padded dash and visors, rear seat belts, windshield washers and emergency flashers. New Fords also feature a thicker laminate windshield which has been shown to provide added protection in the event of a collision.

All 1966 Fords will be in Ford dealer showrooms on October 1.

STYLING-- The skillful blending of crisp and soft surfaces gives the 1966 Ford a look that is new but still clearly Ford.

The new silhouette includes a subtle, graceful hop-up in the rear-quarter area -- complemented by a divergent sculptured line in the lower rear quarter, reminding of 1964-65 Thunderbirds. A sculptured windsplit runs from the front fender to the rear quarter. Wheelcovers with deep sections lend emphasis to the lower portion of the car. Upper-series Fords draw even more attention to this area through use of wheel lip moldings and ribbed moldings on the rocker panels and lower quarter panels.

A unique die cast grille for the XL, LTD, 7 Litre and Country Squire models brings a new look of quality to the popular-priced car market.

The grille consists of dual horizontal banks of deep-sectioned blades, well recessed behind the bright frames that separately encase the upper and lower grille sections. The outboard ends of each grille section incorporate parking, turn indicator lamps, stacked to coordinate with the vertical headlamp treatment.

The 7 Litre model is further distinguished by special paint stripes, performance-oriented steel wheelcovers and 7 Litre ornamentation on the grille, deck lid and front fenders. The paint stripes follow the sculpturing of the bodylines, enhancing the look of movement.

Massive rectangular tail-lamps create a strong rear-end identification. The car has a broader-looking stance, with the fender tops pulled down slightly to match the top of the broad deck lid. Series differentiation is accomplished with deck lid appliques and model insignia.

Door and seat trim designs are new for all series. Among other significant interior changes is the embossed strap application in the all-vinyl Galaxie 500 trim option. Dramatic fresh styling -- including a new 2-door hardtop roof line -- a new '7 Litre' series with 428-cubic-inch V8 engine and front-wheel power disc brakes, and even higher standards of quietness, luxury and performance stand out among 1966 Ford features.

'The Ford was all-new just a year ago,' said M.S. McLaughlin, Ford Division assistant general manager. 'It represented the greatest tooling investment in Division history and was superior in ride and quietness to some of the world's finest cars.'

'In every sense, we had a sound competitive base for 1966 but we chose not to stand still. On that solid foundation we have built still more safety, convenience, quietness and performance into all 1966 Fords.'

Important revisions have been made in the revolutionary Ford suspension design introduced in 1965 to provide an even quieter ride and better handling in 1966. Front spring and shock absorber rates have been modified, and the rear suspension track bar has been lowered to achieve a better 'balanced' ride. This fine tuning of the 1966 Ford suspension provides a better handling feel with reduced pitch and improved straight-line stability.

The number of engines available to Ford buyers has been increased to nine in 1966 from six in 1965. Heading the list of new engine choices is a 428-cubic-inch V8 with hydraulic valve lifters. This engine is standard on the new 7 Litre series.

ies, and is optional on all Ford models. It is offered in offering the best of worlds -- outstanding performance combined with quietness, quietness and tractability. Another advantage is new 428 can be ordered with automatic transmission, steering, power brakes, conditioning and power windows -- all optional with the 427 engine. A special handling similar to that of the 427 engine -- heavy-duty shock absorbers and stabilizer is optional for 428 cars.

Front-wheel power brakes are another standard feature of the 1966 Fords. They may be ordered on all other Fords for 1966. Thunderbird and Mustang 1965.

Advantages include fade resistance, quietness, easier service, self-adjustment, and equal to or better than other brakes.

A Stereonic tape player provides up to 30 minutes of selected stereo music. Other option new for 1966 is the Thunderbird and Mustang mounts underneath.

New Stretch Treatment For Lace

Stretch cotton lace can be made by a simple, inexpensive treatment that makes it especially suitable for fitted slips, foundation garments and lounging or sleeping apparel, says Mrs. Lynn Parks Stiles, Texas A & M University Extension Service consumer education specialist.

The appearance of most treated laces is greatly improved. Richness and depth are added to inexpensive laces for dresses, wraps and other garments.

The treatment, called slack mercerization, consists of soaking woven lace in a solution of sodium hydroxide. This causes the fibers to swell and crimp, which in turn give the fabric stretchability.

Helen M. Robinson and A.S. Cooper, Jr., of the Southern Utilization Research Laboratory, New Orleans, have used the treatment with good results

NIECE OF LITTLEFIELD RESIDENT -- Miss Karen Cannon, right, niece of Miss Gladys Price, is shown playing the ukelele as Mrs. Glen Lindsey, looks on. Both are from Honolulu and are among the five students from Hawaii attending South Plains College. Miss Cannon has attended school in Formosa and Japan and several states in the United States.

Young Ladies From Hawaii Attend South Plains

LEVELLAND -- An eighteen-year-old South Plains College student, the daughter of a Navy officer in Honolulu, has attended school in several states in the United States, Formosa and Japan. She graduated with 475 students this spring from Radford High School in Honolulu.

She is Karen Cannon, a typical American college co-ed, she chose South Plains College mainly because it was located near Littlefield, the home of her aunt, Miss Gladys Price.

Her father, who is nearing retirement after almost thirty years in the Navy, will be stationed in Florida after December of this year.

Karen hopes to receive an Associate of Arts Degree from South Plains College and then enter a university for a higher degree.

Born in Portsmouth, Va., Miss Cannon has moved with her family many times when her father received transfers to various Naval bases. She plans to do a lot of traveling in the future as it has become a part of her life.

The family, which also includes a brother, who is a senior in high school, lived in the beautiful mountainous area of Japan, Sasebo, for over a year. While there Karen attended school and made friends with the Japanese girls. She enjoyed visiting in their homes and spending leisure time exchanging languages. Through the use of a tape recorder, the girls began to speak each others' languages more fluently. Karen pointed out that during the time she lived in Formosa, she learned some of the Mandarin Language, which is the most popular of the Chinese languages. In Taiwan, Formosa, where the family was stationed for several years, Karen attended school during her freshman sophomore and a part of her junior year. "There were not quite 100 students in the entire school, and only three graduates," said the young student. She prefers small schools to large ones but not quite as small as the one in Formosa.

"The boys in the foreign countries try very hard to excel in their studies and are good students. They seem to be constantly competing against one another for better grades," said Karen. "The girls also work hard. There are no television sets and very little to detract one from studying."

Miss Cannon said that most of the graduates in her class in Honolulu who will attend college, will go either to the University of Hawaii or the Church College of Hawaii, a Mormon College.

Karen became an excellent swimmer and did a lot of body surfing. This type of surfing without the use of a board is much more dangerous than board surfing and requires more proficiency. She plays the accordion and ukelele as her hobby. Miss Cannon is one of five students from Hawaii attending South Plains College this fall.

Restitution Helps Curb Texas Automobile Arson

Auto arson in Texas has fallen to the all time low set during W.W. II years, according to C.C. Benson, manager, Texas Division, National Automobile Theft Bureau.

In making the announcement, Mr. Benson noted that requests for the NATE to investigate suspected cases of auto arson in the state had decreased 24 per cent during the past year.

Although several factors have combined to influence the decline, Mr. Benson said, of major concern is the effect of a continued trend toward requiring financial restitution of convicted arsonists.

Mr. Benson noted that when evidence of arson was uncovered by NATB in a recent Texas Gulf coast auto burning case, the suspected car owner withdrew his insurance claim and paid both the insurance adjuster's expenses and the cost of determining the car's mechanical condition.

A similar East Texas arson case investigated by NATB resulted in a probated sentence for the auto owner with the condition he would continue payment to the car's mortgagee and withdraw his claim to the insurance company.

Mr. Benson said that the NATB has continued to urge that judicial punishment take financial restitution into consideration. "The deterrent factor for many potential con-men and criminals," he said, "could well be the threat of having to pay back ill-gotten gains."

4-H Has Something For Your Children

ing to change is one of the greatest demands modern makes on every man, woman and child in the United States. Schools, churches, business, government and civic organizations are all involved because they influence the thoughts and actions of our children. Today's children are more vulnerable. They can be led on the board path of hate understanding or along the narrow byways of peace.

More than half a century ago the 4-H Clubs have endeavored to bring the youth of our country to the fourfold program of Head, Heart, Hands and Feet to better living. So far we have touched 23 million boys and girls of the ages of 9 and 19 members of the 94,800 every county through the National 4-H Club Sept. 26-Oct. 2, the name tribute to 4-H, to the leaders, parents of 4-Hers

Common Plants Be Dangerous

did puts almost everyone gets his hands on in the South. One survey in a certain area indicated that every ten children poisoned in a given year were killed by eating or chewing plants. Many very common, harmless, and beautiful garden and yard plants are extremely dangerous.

Common plants which are usually fatal are the oleander, poinsettia leaf, rhubarb, mistletoe berries, holly berries, and castor beans. Other plants which have severe effects and may be deadly are cherry and peach pits, Jimsonweeds, potato and plant leaves, hyacinth, foxglove, and daffodil bulbs; ear, foxglove, and wisdom.

and county and state extension service workers. We add our good wishes to all who encourage, train and guide 4-H boys and girls EVERYWHERE. And we do mean everywhere, for 4-H is no longer confined to farmer's sons and daughters.

During the past decade 4-H has quietly adjusted to change: Families leaving the farm for towns and cities; city folks moving to the country; the mushrooming of suburbs; the unprecedented advance of technology and science; and the expanding interests and needs of youth.

According to a breakdown of 4-H enrollment supplied by the Federal Extension Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, 46 per cent of the total membership come from farm homes, 32 per cent from rural non-farms; and 22 per cent from urban homes. All races and creeds, and families of all economic backgrounds are represented.

Among the broad goals of 4-H are to gain knowledge and skills. Strong emphasis is placed on leadership, citizenship and upgrading of personal standards. Projects are many and varied. Members learn to sew, cook, tend a garden, care for livestock and household pets, use safe practices at all times in the home, school, recreation, on the highway and farm.

There also are projects in photography, entomology, economics, public speaking and nutrition. The learn-by-doing method helps to give the youngsters a pretty good start toward a future career. Many go on to college as the result of project experience, and some are aided through 4-H scholarships.

The 4-H Clubs do not take the place of formal education or parental guidance and responsibility. But they do help. The fact that in 4-H there is literally "something for every boy and girl" makes 4-H unique, and commands the respect, support and cooperation of residents of the communities it serves, and business as well.

If your sons or daughters are of 4-H age, why not contact your county extension office and get them enrolled in a club. You'll be glad you did.

Salvation Army Mobilized Time Of Emergency

Tornadoes and floods threaten terror, injury to thousands in the last April. The Salvation Army immediately went to the clock service, emergency feeding, locating missing persons, comforting the bereaved.

Army's personnel and were mobilized. Social Service Center normally used to pick up articles, evacuated and transported supplies mobile canteens and food and coffee re-supplemented by touring wagons. A central set up to distribute clothing and furniture to teams. Teams of Salvation officers visited the hospitals, and messaging missing persons transmitted through officers and service personnel and volunteers together with smooth of the Salvation Army primarily a disaster recovery, it attempts to help who are most needed. "they may be," said at Harwell, commander of the The Salvation Army Littlefield com-

"Certainly, this applies to men, women and children hit by flood, fire, earthquake or other disaster." Salvation Army's magnificence in times of emergency isn't just happen. It is the result of careful planning and preparation. The Army has hundreds mobile canteens strategically located across the country. Each of its institutions keeps on hand such supplies as vacuum-insulated beverage containers, paper cups, paper or wooden spoons, cellophane bags for sandwiches, canned or packaged foods, all ready for instant use. Stretchers, folding cots and blankets are available also.

To prevent loss of precious minutes, all members of Salvation Army emergency disaster teams are given assignments in advance and trained to perform them. In large-scale disasters, the Army calls upon volunteers and enlists privately owned cars and trucks.

In many areas, the Salvation Army has semi-official status. Though operating independently, it cooperates with all other agencies engaged in emergency service.

A disaster need not make newspaper headlines across the country to merit the Army's attention. One family burned out of its dwelling will call forth the same intelligent and compassionate action. Salvationists see not just victims, but fellow human beings, with emotional and spiritual needs, as well as physical ones.

In addition to food, clothing and furniture, Salvationists bring warm sympathy and understanding.

Ever since it was founded by William Booth in 1865, The Salvation Army has been prompt to render assistance and comfort in emergencies—whether the outer emergencies of fire and flood or the inner ones of loneliness and despair. Completing a century of service to God and man, it renews its dedication,

Junior Varsity Downs Plainview Freshmen, 8th Grade Play Today

The Littlefield Junior Varsity downed the Plainview JV's 16 to 0 last Saturday morning for their first win of the year. Neville Manning scored both touchdowns for the winners as he gathered in passes of 40 and 30 yards from Lindy Stan-cell. The winners got their first score in the opening period as they drove for the score on the first time they got the pigskin with the pass covering the last 40 yards. The same combination clicked for the second tally midway through the final quarter. Both times the run for the two point conversion was successful.

The entire squad played outstanding defensive ball as the losers were held to only one first down and only crossed midfield on one occasion.

The Freshmen and eighth grade teams play tonight as they meet Levelland. The Freshmen team with one win and one loss will host the Levelland Freshmen at 6 p.m.

Both the eighth grade 'A' and 'B' teams will travel to Levelland today with the 'B' team to play at 5 p.m. and the 'A' team game to follow.

The 'A' team has a perfect record with two wins over Morton while this will be the first outing of the year for the 'B' team.

Slots Readied For Free Hunts

The annual Texas sportsmen's grab bag--free hunts on management areas--will accommodate 2,680 big game hunters, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept.

P. B. Uzzell, wildlife coordinator for the Department, said gunners have practically one month to apply since the deadline is 5 p.m. Monday, October 25.

After receiving requests from hunters with legible names and addresses, the Department responds with a formal application. Then a public drawing will be held to determine those who will participate.

Health & Safety Tips

Have you kept up your immunity against polio?

Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, cautions: Do not be lulled into a false sense of security in controlling this paralyzing disease because of the overwhelming success of Salk and Sabin vaccine. These vaccines have not eradicated the viruses which cause polio. Rather, like all vaccines, they trigger the body's defenses to build up antibodies which can combat the viruses if they should gain entry into the body.

All persons who have not been properly immunized against polio are still vulnerable to attack. This includes two-thirds of pre-school age youngsters, who have not received full protection.

Three viruses which cause polio have been identified, Both Salk and Sabin vaccines protect against all three.

The Salk vaccine is administered in a series of injections, three about six weeks apart and a fourth six months or more after the third. The Sabin vaccine, taken by mouth, is given in three doses, six weeks apart. Either vaccine may be given to infants at a very early age. All expectant mothers should be vaccinated, as they are particularly susceptible to polio.

Although polio is primarily a childhood disease, it also can strike adults.

Even persons who have had polio from one type of virus remain susceptible to additional attacks from the other two viruses.

There are very few polio cases recorded in the United States in the past year or two, so few that many individuals have become negligent in obtaining proper immunization.

Don't let the small number of cases lull you into a false sense of security. If polio should strike your family, it would be a tragedy no matter how few others were stricken. Don't take a chance, even a slim one. Check with your doctor regarding immunization against polio for you and your family.

Atherosclerosis is a form of arteriosclerosis, or hardening of the arteries.

Most heart attacks can be traced to atherosclerosis of the coronary arteries, through which travels the blood which nourishes the heart muscle, says Today's Health Guide, the manual of health information and guidance of the American Medical Association. Most strokes result from atherosclerosis in the arteries that deliver blood to the brain.

Most people have atherosclerosis to some degree without troublesome symptoms and live a normal life span.

In atherosclerosis, the inner walls of the arteries are gradually thickened and roughened by deposits of fatty material. As more layers of deposits are formed, they narrow the channel through the artery, hindering the flow of blood. When the artery wall is considerably roughened, blood clots may form on the roughened areas and block circulation at that point.

Research scientists are seeking the causes of atherosclerosis and ways to prevent and cure it. Changing the fat content of our diet may be one approach, and long-range studies are underway to discover whether a modified fat diet will help prevent heart attacks and strokes. Other factors being investigated include the roll of exercise or its lack, emotional stress, heredity, excessive smoking and sex hormones.

made sense to the judge, red the motorist to pay for liability in addition to paying injury.

motorist did have a point weighing is it the wrong if you, as the victim, make a reasonable effort to in all fairness, the law has a dividing line between harm truly caused by the wrongdoer and harm truly caused by your own neglect.

For example: A woman's foot was injured in a railroad accident, and her doctor ordered her to use crutches during the healing process. Nevertheless, because she found the crutches awkward, she often hobbled around without them. As a result, a court ruled later that she could not collect damages for being left with a permanent limp.

In another case, a man's failure to consult a doctor for almost three months--despite a serious back injury--barred him from collecting damages for the complications that developed.

Even submitting to surgery might be included in your duty to take care of yourself. If the operation is both simple and safe, a court may find you at fault for refusing to have it.

After all, the law is not forcing you to get well. It merely says that, if you foolishly fail to try, you should not expect somebody else to pay for the consequences.
