Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Whicker, pioneers of this city since 1911, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary Tuesday. They were married at Waupeton, N. D., on Nov. 23, 1887, when that section was Dakota territory, prior to the division into North and South Dakota. After living in Lafayette, Ind., Chicago, Ill., and other points in the north, they moved to Texas in 1911.

Mr. Whicker is 72 years of age, and Mrs. Whicker will be that old on Dec. 11, but look much younger, probably due to the fact that they both enjoy good health.

Good Wishes Extended

Handle 31,102 Bales in Littlefield and Trade Territory

According to a check made Wednesday, gins in Littlefield and trade territory handled 31,102 bales up to Wednesday noon.

Up to Wednesday of last week a total of 25,846 bales had been ginned, making 5256 bales handled the past week by the gins in Littlefield and territory.

These figures do not include Sudan or Amherst gins.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Whicker, pioneers of this city since 1911, celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary Tuesday.

The day was spent by the couple in receiving greetings and congratulations from friends, who called during the day, followed by a theatre party in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Whicker were married at Waupeton, N. D., on November 23, 1887—fifty years ago—when it was Dakota territory, and when it was the division of North and South Dakota. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Whicker was Miss Nina H. Thompson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thompson.

After living in Lafayette, Ind.,

for several years, the couple moved to Chicago, Ill., where Mr. Whicker represented Darling & Company for many years. Mr. Whicker later launched out in the land business, running excursions from Chicago and Kansas on buying trips to Texas.

Mr. Whicker was 72 years of age on May 14, 1937, while Mrs. Whicker who is only a few months younger, will be 72 on the eleventh of next month (December). They both enjoy good health, and look many years younger.

Locating in Littlefield in 1911 he was connected with the real estate and land business for a number of years, until about 1922 when he and Mrs. Whicker acquired the Littlefield Hotel, which they operated almost continuously for about 14 years, and until November 1936, when this building was converted into the Payne-Shotwell Hospital.

After spending a short period in Clovis, they returned to Littlefield and established a new Littlefield Hotel in the Higginbotham Building on Phelps Avenue, which they are now operating.

Mr. and Mrs. Whicker are numbered among the most highly regarded citizens in this section. In their hotel work they have won the admiration, love and respect of all those who sojourn under their roof for their hospitality and friendliness in making their guests feel that homelike atmosphere very seldom found in a hotel establishment.

Besides their son, Everett of Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. Whicker have a daughter, Mrs. R. S. Thomas of Philadelphia, Pa., who remembered

SANTA COMING FOR SHOPPING SEASON EVENT

Parade, Other Features For Opening of Shopping Season

Santa Claus will not only be in the parade on December 4 in Littlefield, but he will be pictured in the giant fireworks display that night. Santa will be represented in beautiful scintillating fires eight feet wide and twelve feet high.

After the picture of Santa Claus comes glittering fountains and an eight foot revolving number known as Whistling Rufus. The latter revolves and throws out golden fires. Fireworks that whistle and make weird noises accompany this display.

After two sets of candle batteries come the Christmas bells, a most unique number. Four Christmas bells, two red and two green first displayed and then suddenly begin to revolve, each set opposite to the other. The size of this set is 8'x8'.

The end of the rainbow and an electric curtain 12 feet by sixteen feet are followed by the feature number of a 20 foot Christmas tree. In the first firing, the rich green outline of the tree appears. Little red and white star lights twinkle among the branches, then, just as the lights begin to fade, there is a sudden burst of golden showers that makes the piece appear very large indeed.

Next come screen effects and a beautiful Niagara Falls twenty feet high and equally as wide. Then the Star of the East six feet from point

MISS LOUISE CULP HAS UNPLEASANT EXPERIENCE MONDAY; LOSES CANDY

Miss Louise Culp, formerly of this city, but now of Lubbock, who operates a wholesale candy business and covers this section with her candy truck regularly, had a very unpleasant experience Monday about noon, when she lost between fifty and one hundred dollars worth of candy from her truck.

Miss Culp was going from Amherst to Fieldton, and when a short distance from Fieldton she discovered that the back of her candy truck which had been locked securely, had in some manner become opened, and that a large amount of her candy had fallen out.

Miss Culp then turned her car and went back about two miles towards Amherst when she saw three cars into which were being gathered boxes of candy from the road, and which apparently had been from her stock. She said the automobiles did not pass her, but all turned and went in the opposite direction, and towards Amherst.

Miss Culp is at a loss to know just how the door of her truck came open, but is of the opinion that it was pried open by someone riding on the back, as there is a place at the back for standing for the purpose of loading and unloading merchandise. She is inclined to think chandise. She is inclined to think she is the victim of hijackers who pried open the door and threw the merchandise from her truck.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Oldest of all American holidays, Thanksgiving Day is the annual occasion for the renewal of our faith as a people in the beneficence of a Divine Providence upon whose watchful care over us our lives and liberties depend. The spirit in which the Pilgrim Fathers celebrated a day of prayer and thanksgiving in 1621, after the garnering of their first harvest, is, we believe, still the spirit of America.

Regardless of race or creed, it is impossible that any American who is not an utter atheist should fail to recognize and to offer thankful prayers to the Divine Spirit which has so marvelously and triumphantly brought us through the pitfalls and crises of the past three hundred years and lifted us as a people to the highest state of spiritual and physical liberty and the greatest and most widely distributed material prosperity ever enjoyed by any people, anywhere, at any time in the long, long history of mankind's struggle upward toward the goal of the millennium.

Whether we believe in a personal Deity, or hold, in the language of the Westminster Catechism, that "God is a Spirit, infinite, eternal and unchangeable, in His being, wisdom, power, holiness, justice, goodness and truth," abiding in the hearts of men, it is surely meet and fitting that on this Thanksgiving Day, when the other people of the world are torn between economic suffering and the horrors of war, we should give grateful and heartfelt thanks for our deliverance and protection from the fate of the peoples who have been seduced into surrendering their physical liberties for false promises of security, only to find themselves bereft of the most precious of all human possession, the liberty of the human spirit.

were left, but they began to prosper during the summer months. A corn crop was gathered in the fall of 1621, thus reviving their health and spirits.

Governor Bradford decreed a certain day to be given to God and thanks. There were great preparations of baking, roasting, and boiling by the women and children. The guests were more than four-score friendly Indians who brought their share of the venison and turkey.

The feasting took place out of doors. There were prayers, sermons, and songs of praise for their safe landing and life in the new world. Three days were spent before the Indians returned to their home in the forest.

We have much to be thankful for and we should be thankful every day we live.

Let us remember to give thanks for every blessing that has been bestowed on us. Let us remember to be thankful the day our forefathers set aside for us and every day in the year also.

COMMENTS ON OTHER HIGH SCHOOL COLUMNS

According to the "Cubs Den" of Brownfield, the Levelland-Brownfield game will be a big affair. It is to be played at Levelland today.

Their school will be dismissed on Wednesday afternoon, the vacation continuing through two days for Thanksgiving. Here in Littlefield we are just turning out one day which is Thursday. The state board of education allows us two days vacation if we desire it, but since school has been turned out for nine days, the board of trustees have decided that it would be best and to try to make up some of the lost time. Therefore, only one day turnout for Thanksgiving, and four days for Christmas. Announcements concerning the Christmas holidays will be given later.

In the "Stampede," by the Junior English class of Hart high school, basketball is already in full swing. The Longhorns of Hart defeated Valley View, 20 to 15 in the girl's game. In the boy's contest, the score was 31 to 8 in favor of Hart.

The Littlefield high school haven't begun their boy's teams but will do so as soon as football season is over.

I see in the "Broncho's Corral" where Meadow did not fare so well with the Plains football team. Plains won 24 to 0. These teams are in the class C division.

The Post Antelopes were defeated by the Littlefield Wildcats last Friday night on Seely Field with the score of 39 to 7.

JUNIORS TO HAVE THEIR FIRST ENTERTAINMENT OF THE YEAR

The Juniors met with Miss Robette Wednesday of last week for a business session. Several things were accomplished, although the time was limited.

The class selected the sweet pea for the class flower, with blue and silver for class colors. For a motto, "Life is What We Make It" was chosen. Dues were fixed at 10c per month, to be paid in either one lump sum of 90c, or 50c for the first semester, and 40c, the last.

A good time was scheduled for Friday night, November 26, when they will gather at the high school gym for a "Kid" party. Everyone must come dressed as much like a child as possible. Children's games will be played.

That day, November 26, has been designated as Junior day. In this occasion all juniors are urged to wear either ribbons or ties of the class colors, or color, blue and silver to show that they are Juniors.

BASKETBALL REVIEW

Girls of the basketball team are working to get a squad that will be hard to beat. The coach is trying to work out a schedule and if things come out as expected, the first game will be Friday, December 3, played in the gym.

Let's get behind the team and carry them on to complete victory. Remember that we helped the football players.

"SMILING SAM"
 Speaking of Thanksgiving reminds me of the time my cousin upset all of Grandpa's plans for a family reunion Thanksgiving day. Everything was going smoothly until Zeck slipped into the kitchen and drank all the liquor. He got so drunk that he couldn't find the gutter to fall into it. We found him in the bath tub three years later still as drunk as a dog.

One Thanksgiving day grandpa had the only liquor that was left in the cellar. He noticed that we were all trying to slip some so he said, kind of gentle-like, "I'd ask you all to have a drink, but I've only got a barrel and a half left."

Grandpa was a very enthusiastic sportsman, but he wasn't hard hearted like most sportsmen. He never killed a thing in his life. He went out to get a turkey for Thanksgiving dinner one day. He saw something moving in the brush, and shot four shots at it. My Aunt Zowie stuck her head out of the bush and said, "did you get him grandpa?"

WELL that's all this week. "SAM". P. S. Remember one day of turkey will make six of hash.

STATE TO TAKE OVER HIGHWAY NUMBER 51

Now Checking Rights of Way and Preparing Deeds

The resident engineer for the State Highway Department, with headquarters at Muleshoe, has asked County Judge Crockett for a map of the City of Littlefield, in connection with the improvement of highway No. 51 south from Littlefield.

According to Mr. Crockett the State Highway Department is checking the right of way and preparing the necessary deeds in connection with the taking over of the road by the State. The initial work in connection with the improvement of Highway 51 was done as a county and WPA project.

This work included the widening of the road and in this connection easements were taken.

Before a road can be taken over by the State Highway Department deeds must replace any easements, which may have been obtained.

"ALI BABA GOES TO TOWN" TO BE FEATURED AT PALACE

An urchin was grabbed by the seat of his trousers and hoisted out of a door. He was kicked and mauled around by bruisers twice his size. But because these events happened—events that were stark, heartbreaking tragedy to the pop-eyed urchin of New York's East Side—Eddie Cantor is today hilariously funny to millions.

His boyhood has become his fortune in trade. It taught him that a real-life gag is better than all the good lines the best gagster can concoct.

The star of "Ali Baba Goes to Town," Twentieth Century-Fox extravaganza-glorious mirth-musical will be featured at the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday with Tony Martin, Roland Young, June Lang and Louise Hovick heading a tremendous supporting cast, believes that whatever success he has had is due largely to the environment in which he, with a penchant for mischief, saw enough serio-comedy in those years to keep him supplied with an inexhaustible collection of gags.

His first venture before his meagre finances were completely gone. A friend told him about amateur night at Miner's Bowery theatre, where one received five dollars if he was judged the winner, and the hook if he wasn't. Acclaimed the winner, Eddie began thinking seriously about making a career.

Later, he became a singer at Carey Walsh's cabaret. When he discovered that waiters earned more, he insisted on merging the two jobs. It was then his duty to wait table and sing before a critical audience which wouldn't hesitate to toss a lamp-post at him if the members didn't like the song.

During these years, Eddie's grandmother was always in the background taking care of him and encouraging him as best she could. Grown to manhood, the greatest sorrow of his life came when she passed away a few days before he was to open in his first Ziegfeld's "Follies."

In "Ali Baba Goes to Town" which is enriched by a revolution ary new three-tone tinted process Eddie is an inoffensive little man who is pushed around until he accidentally becomes a power in Bagdad of the ninth century. Surrounded by beautiful girls amid lavish settings in a colorful extra-vaganza of music and side-splitting comedy, the roving-eyed comedian stars in his greatest picture.

the extra point making the score
14-0.

Opening the second period the Wildcats lost the ball on the Ante-lopes 6 yard line. Here the Ante-lopes turned on the power and drove the ball to the middle of the field but the Wildcats intercepted a pass.
Elms passed to Etter who finding himself in a tight spot lateraled to Lee. Lee fumbled the ball and Post recovered it. Again the Antelopes turned on the steam but were stopped on their 42 yard line. Lee carried the ball to Post's 19 yard line and on the next play Elms took the ball over for their third score. Lee passed to Henson for the extra point, making the tally 21-0.

The Post Antelopes made their only tally of the game when Mason intercepted a pass on the Cats 28 yard line. Turning on the power the Antelopes were able to push the ball over for the touchdown. Jenkins took the ball over for the extra point to make the score 21-7.

Just before the end of the third period the Wildcats passed their way to another touchdown. Lee passed to Elms who ran the ball to Post's 32 yard line, and on the next play Phillips passed over the goal line to Mc-Knight. Try for extra point failed.
In the last period Elms took a lateral on 36 yard line and dashed down the field for the last tally of the game.

thing I might be ashamed of? Just because we're both in love with Mont Wallace is no reason why we can't be decent to each other. I like you and, when you aren't thinking of me as the she-devil who is taking your man from you, you like me."

The girl closed her eyes stubbornly.

"I like you," she said, "when you don't consider it necessary to go on overnight trips into the desert with him."

Natalie's head went up then and she turned to the business of freshening herself after the dishevelment of the journey. For a long moment she did not speak. When she did it was with cold fury.

"When I stoop to the sort of tactics you mean, I will have lost not only my principles but any vestiges of good sense that may be left to me. I don't propose to be anybody's pet cat and if I find I have to degrade myself to make Mont Wallace love me, I'll choose rather to be worthy of his love than to have it."

Sunny laughed unpleasantly.

"That," she sneered, "is a good line for one of your stories. But you know and I know that you'd take him on any terms."

"Don't be silly," Natalie rejoined. "What you know and I know is that either of us could have had him on his own terms long before this."

Sunny broke then. The tears came and she held out her arms to Natalie.

"I'm sorry," she sobbed, "but I am so jealous of you sometimes I don't know what I'm doing. Even then I don't know why I have to try to hurt you for I can't help being crazy about you."

Natalie comforted the girl as best she could. "And do you think I'm not jealous of you? I'd give my eyes sometimes if you weren't so good-looking."

"Oh, Nat, I never thought of that. You hang onto yourself so. I didn't think you were ever silly. It's because you're such a swell person that I can't imagine anybody not loving you."

"Well, now that we've got all that out of our systems, I suppose we ought to go down to dinner. I wish I could send home for something I haven't slept in." She considered her rumpled costume ruefully.

"I'll probably die if you look well in it, but won't you wear something of mine?" Sunny offered and presently Natalie surveyed herself in a long glass wearing one of Sunny's stunning gowns.

"I knew I oughtn't to have done that," Sunny laughed. "Now I'll never get Mont to look at me again."

"It's just too bad about you," Natalie bantered.

And together the two went down the broad stairway in search of the man they loved.

But when they reached the library door, they found that he and Jabe Marion were too deep in conversation to pay any attention to feminine company.

When dinner was announced a few minutes later, both sprang up with apologies for having failed to notice that the two girls waited for them.

The four moved into the spacious dining room without pairing and there Jabe Marion stood in his place to propose a toast.

"Let us drink," he said, "to the success of the greatest flight ever proposed. To the plane Sunny Marion, to her non-stop refueling flight around the world, and to her pilot, Mont Wallace."

Natalie gasped. Sunny squealed with delight. Mont lifted his glass.

"Success to the flight and to the man who conceived the plan," he amended.

"Success," cried Natalie, and the glasses drained.

"Breaks, kid," exclaimed Jimmy Hale. "You sure get 'em. And may you never miss."

Natalie's story of the proposed flight was rolling on the great presses of the Express. The first inky copies lay before the two as they stood in Jimmy's cluttered office.

Coming on the heels of her rescue story out of Lower California, it was world news, and Mont Wallace was again a hero, not only for what he had done but for what he was about to attempt.

In a dozen world capitals, betting odds were to be posted that same night on the chances of success.

The plan was simplicity itself, with Mont Wallace's flying accuracy as the key.

Ten refueling stations were to be established. Ten pilots were to stand ready, linked by short wave radio with the control station at Mineola, Long Island, where the start was to be made.

Wallace was to fly with the newest automatic control equipment.

Everything depended on the plane and on Wallace's ability to keep to the course. Proven methods of refueling in the air would be used and the plane would be altered at once to make refueling easy for the lone flier.

Natalie was already assigned to cover preparations at the home port.

Plans were under way for the christening of the ship by Sunny Marion and Jimmy had sold pictures of the girl to half a dozen national picture agencies.

Sunny's glee was not hard to fathom, for the christening of the plane would link her name with that of Mont Wallace. The world would see romance there. There was at least a chance that Mont had suggested the naming of the ship though Natalie held to the hope that her father had been responsible for the suggestion.

Inspired by the magnitude of the project, Natalie was nevertheless not without her misgivings. She knew that a thousand dangers lurked along the path of the plane and that Mont would crowd his luck for the last chance of success.

More than this, she found that Mont had suddenly become almost a stranger to her. So engrossed was he in the preparations for the flight that he would not leave the field except for sleep and, though her assignment threw the girl with him constantly, there were few moments when they regained any of the easy intimacy they had known.

Natalie's only consolation was that Sunny suffered from the same neglect and yet there were occasional conferences at the Marion home when Sunny must be present while Natalie was busy with her copy or otherwise left out.

As time for the flight drew near, the girl reporter found she had fewer and fewer moments to think of the dangers of the plan or to try for the favor of the man she loved.

She knew at last that she was jealous of the flight as well as of Sunny Marion and when Jimmy Miss Lorraine Pool, Orville Mitchell, Wed at Hobart, Okla.

Miss Lorraine Pool of Hobart, Okla., and Orville Mitchell of Littlefield exchanged wedding vows in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Pool at that city Thursday evening, November 11, at 6:30 o'clock.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. Cal Harvey of this city, and Mr. Mitchell is employed by the Harvey Radio & Electric of this city. He has been a resident of this city for the past three months.

Baskets of white chrysanthemums formed the background for the nuptial ceremony, with M. Rolla Grimm, pastor of the Christian church officiating in the presence of relatives and intimate friends.

For her wedding the bride wore a wine apaca crepe frock with gold trim. Full sleeves gathered on to tight bands were fastened with small covered buttons and small buttons at the neck broke the smoothness across the back. She chose brown for her accessories and a shoulder corsage of sweetheart roses completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Mitchell, attractive brunette, was graduated with the class of 1934 from Hobart high school. She was a member of the Pep Pirates, secretary-treasurer of the senior class, high school band queen, member of the Home Economic club, Dramatic club, and took an active part in glee club and dramatic activities. For the past year she has been associated with the Gosselin Variety Store of Hobart.

Mr. Mitchell graduated with the 1936 class from Hobart high school, where he took an active part in extra curricular activities. He was an active member of the glee club, having had the leading roles in several operettas and was a member of the boys' quartette.

Immediately following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Pool entertained with a buffet dinner. The bride cut the first piece of the three tiered wedding cake decked with tiny roses. The cake with pink tapers in crystal holders flanking either side formed the centerpiece on the long table.

Those attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Q. O. Mitchell and Wanda Jo of Carnegie; Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Doty and children of Colony; Mrs. W. O. Pitcher, Miss Juleta and Miss Lillian of Frederick; Mrs. O. J. Pitcher of Frederick; Mrs. George Greer of Mountain Park; Mrs. Dora Still, Mr. and Mrs. Albert McBride and Alberta, Mr. and Mrs. Irl B. Ream and Maxine, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Andrews, Miss Maxine McDaniel, Miss Lura Dell Hunter, Miss Retha Glover, Miss Margaret Remmert, Miss Alice LaRue, Bert Hinds, Marvin Parten, Jack Bodard, and Glen Pool.

Immediately following the wedding luncheon the happy couple left for Littlefield, where they are making their home.

A Thankful Thanksgiving

Let us, in the midst of our Thanksgiving feasting and merry-making, not forget that we of the South Plains have been bountifully blessed this year. Our crops have been good and we are in better condition than for several years. For such material blessings it is well to give Thanks to the Providence which has guided us, yet let us not be unmindful that there are greater treasures than money and the wealth of which money is the measure.

We are thankful today for the generous patronage you have accorded us; for the warm friendships we enjoy and the prosperity of our people. We sincerely trust you have ample reason for thanksgiving.

Monty succeeds in securing a trial job as a newspaper reporter in exchange for the paper in which he becomes attached to though she discovers Monty's true identity she is not sincere, Natalie that she loves him. She is induced by her paper to report Monty's activities for publication. Natalie, the newspaper's photographer, becomes Natalie's co-work-

Natalie interviews Jabe Marion, a famous airplane builder, who decides to build a record-breaking airplane for Monty. Monty's daughter, Sunny, exquisitely beautiful, is attracted to Natalie. She invites Natalie to dine with her, when they meet the aviator unexpectedly.

Natalie discovers that Sunny is in love with her friend Monty. She tries to prevent them from being alone. After driving to a mountain resort with Sunny and Jimmy, Monty again declares his love for Natalie.

Natalie thrilled at the sight. Her notion had brought success. Missing fliers were beneath apparently unhurt. Monty tested the ground-currents cautiously and then put the ship into a dive.

Cherished sandwiches and tepid chocolate and candy bars helped sustain their morale and their sense of humor.

They chattered of their adventures and the clogged oil line that caused them to try a landing of the treacherous air current had whipped the plane into the air and crippled it beyond immediate repair.

Natalie drank in the details. Monty studied his maps and pointed upon them the nearest town that might have a telephone line. Arrangements were made for the two youths to remain in the town until help had been sent and then Monty and Natalie took to the coast in high triumph.

In the small Mexican town, Monty and the lost fliers' home airport arranged a writing sheet for their story. Getting a prodigious task, Natalie, black-haired, black-lipped, little understood, was forced to post letter by letter.

Monty had been contacted, radio had sent two planes to the beach beside Monty's shop on the beach near the town. Monty led the rescue party and then came back for the

"We'll have the biggest dinner ever is on the Pacific coast," Monty declared and they planned for the coming together.

Yard Improvement In Lamb County

By Mrs. C. A. Thomas

My yard and around the house looked more like a wrecking shop than it did a home when I began my work as demonstrator of yard improvement for the Westbrook Home Demonstration Club in Lamb County. It looked useless for me to try and I did not know where or how to begin.

After the home demonstration agent came and helped me plan, I went to work according to her improvement program. Before summer was gone I had a 90x90 foot of well sodded front lawn and seventeen foundation plantings. I moved seven trees and shrubs to more suitable locations. They all lived and are growing nicely. At the end of 1936 I could see a great difference in my yard and I felt well paid for my work.

This year when I began my second year of work, I felt more discouraged than at first as I had 200 white leghorn chickens and a new home demonstration agent to work with. Both of these worries were soon off my mind as the Home Demonstration Agent suggested a confinement method of raising poultry. My husband and myself fell for the idea.

After that I had the garage which faced the road turned with the side to the front and set three blooming shrubs to give a more attractive background for the home. The fence which enclosed the front yard was moved to the back. Most of my work this year was to be on the back yard. I put out 15 foundation plantings and shrubs in the back yard and about the garage. These were all large well rooted plants.

I have found the most success with Armur River Privet, Spirea, Abelia, arbor vitae, pyracantha, and salvia graggi. I made my back yard and spent only 50c for seed. The rose garden was started west of the house and I set out 14 roses. All lived but two. These twelve furnished flowers all summer and fall.

Two stepping stone walks were made in the back. These were placed far enough apart to be comfortable to walk on. Arborvitae and privet are used as screening at the well and milk house. Next year I plan to use privet and salt cedar to protect my roses on the west.

We put out a hundred Chinese elms for windbreak across the west of the house. These have all lived and have grown two to three feet this year. These were furnished by the C. C. Camp.

In my two years of yard work I have put out 35 nursery shrubs, made two stepping stone walks, and one wide stepping stone walk, purchased 100 feet of hose at a total cost of $16.90. This work has meant more to me than it could ever have meant without the help of our home demonstration agent. Her carefully arranged working plan and visits to my yard kept me informed as to every step to make. Thorough help of the home demonstration clubs and county agents work the farm home can be as beautiful and convenient as any modern home.

grass is a big help to keep the sand out of the house.

"I give credit for my yard improvement to the home demonstration club work for I am sure that I wouldn't have improved my yard as much if I hadn't belonged to the Rocky Ford Home Demonstration club. I expect to improve my yard for another year under the direction of the home demonstration agent."

MY 1937 YARD WORK

Mrs. L. M. Day

We started our home demonstration club in Pleasant Valley the 17th of May, 1937 and I became yard improvement demonstrator with the promise that I would do my best with as little money as possible.

The home demonstration agent, Mrs. Perry, called on me the 21st of May to begin the work of planning the yard. She advised me to visit other yards to become familiar with shrubs. I visited Mrs. Barton's yard at Spring Lake and Mrs. Whitfield's yard in Amherst. I decided what shrubs I liked and wanted in my yard after seeing these two demonstrations.

We started our yard plan in June and completed it in July as I wanted my husband to see some yards and to be present while we worked on the yard plan. We decided to make the yard smaller because it was too large to care for and to water properly. We will move our yard fence as soon as time permits which will be sometime late fall. Three of the trees in the front will be moved this winter so an open space will in front of the house. The trees across the north of the yard which is the front will be left to serve as a windbreak to protect the shrubs. The flowers will be moved to the back of the house as I have had them in the front yard.

I have sodded about two thirds of the yard with bermuda grass. The only expense that I have had so far has been 25c that I spent for bermuda seed for the yard. I have had the best success with setting out the grass. The yard was filled in before we could start grass.

My shrub beds are ready now for shrubs. They were dug down to the depth of two feet or more and then filled with a mixture of top soil and well rotted fertilizer. The width of the beds averages about four feet. I have set out this fall lilacs, spirea, and coral berries, ten shrubs in all. These have all been given to me. I have made cuttings of roses and of butterfly bush.

I plan to complete this work next year. I like the home demonstration work because it helps me to learn more about plants. It beautifies our home and it provides a better place for the children to play. It increases the value of our property.

This summer the other members of the club have made 12 foundation plantings, 3 walks, set out 24 rose bushes. This makes a total of 22 shrubs, 3 walks, 24 roses, besides cuttings for our club. In the spring we set out 100 trees as a wind break and for shade. These trees cost $2.00 and that makes a total of $2.25 for my yard.

CONTOUR FARMING PLAYING A BIG PART IN STABILIZING THIS SECTION

Strip cropping and contour farming not only are playing a big part in stabilizing this section of the Texas Panhandle against wind erosion, but also are helping to give farmers their best yields in many years. The soil conservation office here reports.

The case of H. C. Miller, farming 11 miles northeast of Littlefield is one of many that might be cited where yields have been increased through the use of soil and moisture conservation practices.

Miller, who is 37 years old, moved to Lamb county from near Cordell, Okla., in 1929. He rented until 1934, when he bought a farm of sandy soil having a slope of from two to four per cent. Miller's farm, like many others in this area, was suffering from wind erosion. Having been a farmer all his life, Miller soon realized that the poor yields following year after year were leading him to ruin. He was discouraged and about ready to leave the country when he observed the soil and moisture conservation work being demonstrated on the Soil Conservation Service camp area near Littlefield. Miller decided to become a co-operator and make a last stand to save his farm. Last spring, he started planting strip crops on the contour, alternating twelve rows of grain sorghum with thirty-six rows of cotton.

This fall, Miller is harvesting the first bumper crops he has been able to grow on the farm he has owned since 1934. W. T. Cook, a neighbor who has lived in the community for many years, declares Miller's crops are the best since the land was broken out for cultivation. Miller now is one of the most enthusiastic cooperators of the Soil Conservation Service.

Similar soil and moisture conservation efforts on the part of many other farmers have served practically to eliminate wind erosion in this area.

A. B. Chapman, superintendent of the Littlefield demonstration camp, reports that 54,629 acres within the area are believed stabilized against blowing, and that only 4,500 acres may be expected to blow under normal conditions.

The stabilized land includes 6,000 acres of good sorghum cover, 1,742 acres that have a protective cover of wheat stubble or growing wheat, 25,000 acres in native grass, 887 acres in annual grasses or weeds that will hold during the blowing season, and 21,000 acres protected by strip crops.

CHURCHES

METHODIST CHURCH
 Rev. Marvin B. Norwood, Pastor
 I am greatly rejoiced that the conference has returned me for another year of service in Littlefield. The past year was a good year, and very profitable in many ways. The church has made progress along all lines, both spiritually and materially. A splendid report was made to the annual conference, with every item of the church's responsibility "paid in full." That is a record that this church should strive to maintain each year from now on, and I believe it will be done.

 As we face the beginning of a new year, we are looking forward to an even greater advance. During this year the Methodist Church around the world will be celebrating the two hundredth anniversary of the "heart warming" experience of John Wesley. We are praying for such an experience in the lives of our people that we can go again out into the highways and hedges and bring men and women and boys and girls into the fellowship of Christ.

That shall be our main objective this year.
 To do this it will mean that all our people will have to take the services and work of the church and "Put first the Kingdom of God." I am expecting an increasing attendance upon both the morning and evening preaching services. Especially will the officials and leaders be expected to be in their places on Sunday, for we cannot do anything without our leaders.
 May I say again, that I am here to be of service to the church and community, and if I can help any one at any time, I am at your call. I will appreciate being notified of any one who is sick or in need, or of any one who is interested in finding a larger fellowship with Christ or membership in the church. May God give us the greatest year possible.

CHURCH OF CHRIST
 Last Sunday was a good day for the church in interest and attendance. Much interest is being manifested in our series of lessons on the "New Testament Church." . . .ext Sunday we will discuss the apostasy and Dark Ages. Then we will discuss the Reformation and Restoration Movements. You are invited to study these lessons with us. Morning service begins at 10:45; evening service at 7:30. Bible classes will meet at 9:45 a. m.
 We wish to announce that a car of feed will be loaded from Littlefield on Friday, Dec. 3 for Tipton Orphan Home. Anyone wishing to contribute feed (headed) may bring it in on that day.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
 A nursery has been provided at the right rear of the main auditorium and will be ready for use Sunday. The room will be warm and ready for the convenience of mothers at all of our church services. Mothers can stay for church and enjoy the sermon while the baby enjoys the comforts of the nursery.
 The nursery has been christened the "Diane Kay Nursery" in memory of Diane Kay Atkinson, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Strauss Atkinson. Mrs. Atkinson has volunteered to be superintendent of the nursery and will have three helpers. The nursery has been needed for months and we will expect more young mothers in church services now because of this addition to our church services.
 The room up stairs to the right front entrance is being heated and prepared this week for the organization of a younger married folk class. This class will be for the husband and wife who wishes to be together in the Sunday School class.
 Attendance continues to be off due to overwork on the part of the membership but the pastor is hopeful that 300 will be in services next Sunday.
 The pastor will preach at both services Sunday, the eleven o'clock message being, "Glorifying God." The evening message will be "Fragrance and Flowers from the Garden." The B. T. U. meets each Sunday evening at 6:30 and there is room for more in attendance.
 The Associational B. T. U. will meet at Amherst, Sunday afternoon at 2:45 and a large delegation from our church is being urged by Mrs. Earl Hobbs, B. T. U. Director.
 Everyone in attendance at the union Thanksgiving service at the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening enjoyed the music and message. Rev. Harris delivered a very interesting and informing message.
 If you are not attending church elsewhere you should be ashamed of yourself if you don't come to the Baptist church and worship with us. The church with a welcome.

Joint Union Service Conducted At Local Church Sunday Night

A joint union Thanksgiving Prayer and Praise service was conducted Sunday evening at the Presbyterian Church at 7:30 o'clock, sponsored by the Littlefield Music Club.
 A chorus composed of members of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist church choirs, directed by Dr. Hazel Nelms rendered five beautiful anthems.
 Rev. Willis J. Ray was in charge of the service, and read the twenty-third Psalm, and gave the benediction.
 Rev. Donald Harris delivered a very fitting Thanksgiving message.
 The contribution taken during the service will go towards buying Thanksgiving baskets for the needy.

CROSS CHILDREN MAY HAVE WORMS
 Watch for upset little stomachs, bad breath, fretfulness, loss of weight, itching around nose and ears. They may have pin or round worms. White's Cream Vermifuge has safely and for years, reliably expelled the worms and toned the delicate tract. White's Cream Vermifuge recommended by druggists.

Greetings

Three hundred sixteen years ago our forefathers sat down to the first Thanksgiving dinner. Down through the years, after the reaping of the harvest, we have offered thanks that we have been guided safely through another year.

We in the South Plains have been blessed with bountiful crops this year and we of Replin's rejoice to see the vast improvement in conditions and the prosperity of our friends and neighbors throughout this section. May each of you be filled with happiness, good health and good fortune this Thanksgiving Day.
