BUSINESS MANAGER OF LITTLEFIELD COLLEGE TELLS OF RECENT SUCCESS AND OUTLINES PLANS FOR FUTURE

R. O. Connor, business manager of the Littlefield college, in a recent issue of the Apostolic Way, a religious paper published by members of the Church of Christ, tells of recent successes in their building campaign and of future plans. The article is as follows:

"Greater Work Ahead"
The Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Company of Dallas, Texas, a line concern, one of which is located at Littlefield, Texas, has agreed to furnish $125,000 worth of building material to erect 90 houses on 10-acre tracts, just as soon as we can begin operations. We purpose to start surveying out the tracts and opening the streets not later than November 15th.

"I doubt if we are in a position to fully appreciate what this means to our school, and to the Cause of Christ. When firms like this, who have millions of dollars that they could invest in unquestionable security, show such faith and confidence in us as to come to our rescue with such a sum as this, and they assured me they had plenty more where this came from, to also finance homes on our city lots, for those who want to build. Surely, when the clouds hung so low, and things looked so blue to us, then all at once assistance like this comes to us, we can see the providence and handwork of God. In fact, it is hard for us to tell what it is all about.

"First, we have been indicted, and that indictment has been broadcast over the country, that we are opposed to education, and that we are an ignorant bunch that don't know how to do anything, and wouldn't do anything if we knew how.

"Then the citizens of the town of Littlefield, Texas, show their confidence in us as educators by giving us $75,000 worth of land, the largest gift ever made, unconditionally, to any junior college at one time.

"Then, this lumber company comes with such assistance as this, showing such confidence as this, certainly lifts us up and gives us 'a place in the sun,' for which we are thankful and prayerful.

"This necessitated a meeting of the Board of Directors, which was held in Dallas, Texas, October 15, 1928. It was necessary to make some changes in the trust agreement relative to the sale of certificates. All certificates heretofore sold will be called in and new ones issued in lieu thereof. The change was made to expedite matters, is only technical in its nature, and does not adversely affect the security in any way, but really strengthens the security.

"Brother Alva Johnson and I purpose to make a canvass of the Brotherhood in the near future. We believe, that with this $200,000 help by disinterested parties in behalf of our school, will act as stimulant and will interest everyone so that a short and quick campaign will close the matter up and get it out of the way that we may turn our attention to greater and weightier matters that will advance the Cause of Christ. I am persuaded that the church worked more abundantly the last twelve months and has accomplished more than it has in any five year period in the past.

"It seems that we are learning to work and labor together and that we are manifesting a greater confidence in ourselves and each other, and that our bark can be driven up stream by applying both oars—work and pray.

"It seems that we have at last awakened to the truth, that very citizen of the Kingdom is, either an asset or a liability to the cause of Christ. We are, either, positive or negative. The positive man decides upon his course of action and bends his energies to its accomplishment. He has a goal in view and determines to reach it. He has the courage to begin and the determination to achieve. The negative man is without objective and therefore without plans. He is without purpose and therefore without cause for action, so takes no action. With such a one effort is necessary, he has no port, he needs neither compass nor anchor, he is just drifting, and has to be carried along by the active, positive member. He is a liability; consumes but does not produce.

"The church in the past has been burdened with too many negatives and blessed with too few positives. But now this order is being reversed to a great extent. We have much to rejoice over. We just simply had to be educated along these lines. We are beginning to get hold of the principles taught by the Lord when he said, the Kingdom was a vineyard in which to labor and that the laborer was worth of his hire and that wages is eternal life. Let's do as the apostle Peter suggests, have it more abundantly.—R. O. CONNER."

AMHERST BONDS DEFEATED

The election for voting $20,000 school bonds for the Amherst school district was defeated by a small majority.

It is probable another vote will be called for within the next 30 days, and unless it carries, it is rumored that school may not be able to continue its full nine months.

NEW GROCERY OPENS

The Porter Grocery, John Porter, manager, is this week placing a stock of groceries in the building formerly occupied by the M System store.

They expect to be ready for business the latter part of this week.

THE PHILOSOPHER

The trouble with some men's heads is that the part they talk with works too fast for the part they think with.

A successful preacher knows how to run a church; an unsuccessful one thinks he knows how to run the choir, too, and tries.

Strange, but the people who know all about how to run a newspaper are doing something else.

Newspapers will never be popular wit ha lot of folks until they are all front page.

Half the world doesn't know how the other half lives, and furthermore doesn't care a dang.

No matter what's in store for you, you'll get to the end of the road some day—and the rest will be all the sweeter because the road was long.

A charming widow is one who makes every male think she needs him to lean on.

If everybody could see as well as a jealous woman oculists would have to go out of business.

KNOWN AND UNKNOWN SOLDIERS

EDITORIAL

Again we are to celebrate Armistice Day. Already the war is almost forgotten; America is back to peace-time conditions of prosperity; the wounds of conflict have healed swiftly, and former foes are friends.

Many are the persons the world over, however, who are still grieved because of the loss of their nearest and dearest, a loss that no circumstance can make less tragic. It is those who live, whose loved ones laid down their lives for their countries, who are the sufferers. Their sorrow shall last the length of their lives, and on Armistice Day it is only fitting to give thought to them and their noble sacrifices.

The symbol of the Unknown Soldier is beautiful, his grave a fit shrine for all who love America. Armistice Day should be marked with the utmost respects to those who perished in the conflict, identified and unidentified. But our respects must also be paid to these known "soldiers" who are our neighbors—the mother whose son gave all, the father who mourns the loss of his boy, the widowed wives and fatherless children of American soldiers.

On Armistice Day, in addition to expressing our boundless joy at the present state of peace and amity between nations, we must give a thought to these known "soldiers," and do what we can to alleviate their pain and soften the sting of their memories. They deserve not alone our sympathy, but also our whole-hearted respect and love.

CARELESSNESS THE PRINCIPAL CAUSE OF AUTO ACCIDENTS SAYS A DEALER DISCOURTESY ALSO CAUSE OF OTHERS

Commenting upon a recent serious automobile accident which happened near Littlefield, Otto Jones, local auto dealer says: "I am reminded that this terrible catastrophe is only one of 2,360 which happens somewhere in the United States every 24 hours."

"I have recently read some very vital and truthful statistics concerning auto accidents," said Mr. Jones, "and it seems to me that the magnitude of such loss and suffering caused by careless driving should make anyone careful who has a steering wheel in their hands."

"Authentic reports show that during the first six months of this year the economic loss from auto accidents in this country amounted to $350,000,000, exclusive of small property damage and insurance premiums. During this same period 13,750 persons were killed and 412,500 seriously injured in highway accidents. At the present rate there will probably be pretty close to 28,000 people killed by auto accidents before this year closes."

A representative of the Leader asked Mr. Jones if, in his opinion the cause of so many accidents was due to automobiles being inefficient or operated too fast. "I don't think so," replied Mr. Jones. "Most automobiles nowadays are quite safe, mechanically speaking. In fact, statistics show that less than five percent of the total reported accidents are due to the auto, the other 95 being due to the drivers. I would say that discourtesy and carelessness are the chief contributors to auto accidents."

"Inattention, speeding, traffic law violation and intoxication come in for a big share of the accidents. Children playing on the streets, jaywalking, confusion of pedestrians or drivers are responsible for another large number of accidents. Adverse physical conditions, such as wet street poor lights, defective roads and narrow streets cause a small percentage of accidents.

"But after all, discourtesy of one driver toward another or carelessness on the part of drivers is responsible for the major part of all accidents. Property may be replaced, but life cannot, and auto drivers can never be too careful at the steering wheel."

COUNTY COURT THIS WEEK

County court began Monday morning, County Judge E. N. Burrus, presiding. The docket is said to be very light, and no important cases set for adjudication.

Members of the grand jury have been summoned by the sheriff and it will meet November 26, the opening day of District court. The district court docket is reported to be quite heavy and several important cases to be decided.

Donnie Lois Sisson, 14 months babe of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Sisson, residing three miles north of Littlefield, died last Monday.

The funeral was in charge of the Smith-Hammons Undertaking Co. and interment in the local cemetery.

ESTIMATED GRAIN CROP IN VICINITY OF LITTLEFIELD TO BRING FARMERS MILLION THREE-QUARTER DOLLARS

One hundred and seventy four car load shipments of grain have gone out of Littlefield since January 1, this year, according to the records at the local Santa Fe station.

These cars have averaged around 75,000 pounds each, and the average price paid was $12.50 per ton, which means a total of $822,812 received by the farmers of this immediate section for their grain shipments.

Since the grain buying season opened this fall there have been 65 carloads shipped, weighing 4,875,000 pounds. This sold at an average of $12.50 per ton has brought the farmers of this vicinity the total sum of $30,469.

And the crop has hardly been touched.

It has been estimated that the grain crop in the vicinity of Littlefield alone will market this year in the neighborhood of $1,750,000.00. While sorghum grains always produce well here, and corn generally does, without a doubt the grain crop of this section this year is the best in the history of the South Plains country. Very little of it that failed to mature before frost came, and the most of it has been harvested and is well protected. Much of the grain will be threshed before shipment.

GETS BROKEN SHOULDER

Burke Lambert is suffering from a broken shoulder received in a football game last Friday, when he fell while kicking a football.

An x-ray picture was made of the injured member, and it was found to be broken in three places. The injury, while not serious, is very painful.

INFANT DIED FRIDAY

The infant babe of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Owens, which died last Friday was buried in the local cemetery.

The funeral was in charge of the Smith-Hammons Undertaking Co., Rev. Roy Kemp, of the Baptist church officiating.

DEFINITION OF COTTON

Cotton is the overcoat of a seed that is planted and grown in the Southern States to keep the producer broke and the buyer crapy. The fiber varies in color and weight and the man who can guess nearest the length of the fibre is called a cotton man by the public, a thief by the grower and a poor business man by his creditors.

The price of cotton is fixed in New York, and goes up when you have sold, and down when you have bought. A buyer working for a group of mills in the South was sent to New York to watch the cotton market, and after a few days deliberation wired his firm as follows:

"Some think it will go up; some think it will go down; I do too. Whatever you do will be wrong. Act at once."

Cotton is planted in the spring, cottaged in the Summer, and left in the field in Winter.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PARTY

Mrs. Pat Boone and Miss Louise Thaxton, sponsors of the Junior and Senior classes of the High school, entertained the class members with a Halloween party at the high school auditorium Wednesday night of last week.

Various games were played, including some "match-games," such as "bobbing for apples," for which prizes were given.

Many odd and frightful looking objects could be seen floating around throughout the evening, but when unmasking time came, they were found to be only pupils who showed evidence of strong imaginations.

Refreshments of ginger snaps and apples were served at a late hour, and the guests left feeling that they had a wonderful time.

NEW FILLING STATION

Jim and Charlie Harless are having the old Owl cafe building torn down this week.

It will be remodeled into a filling station.

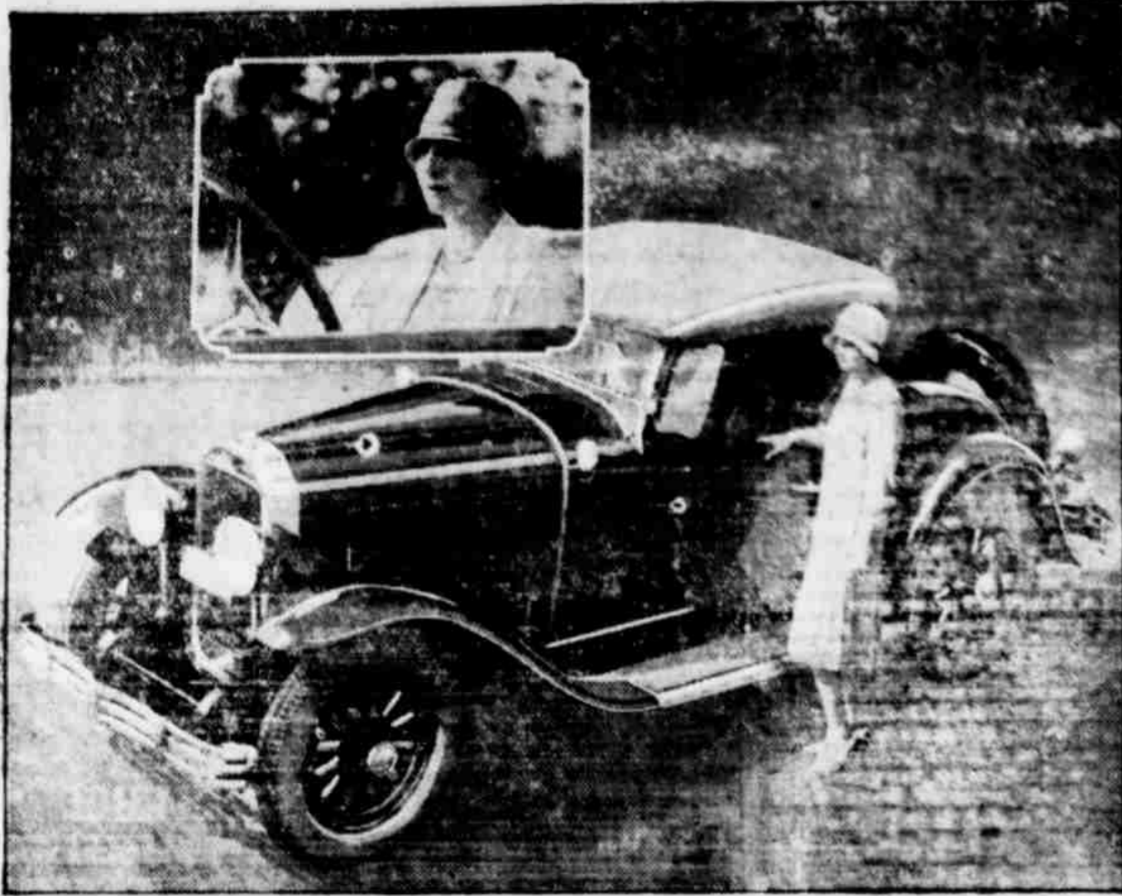

Oldest Railroad Man

Colonel George H. Footte, now residing in San Francisco, has sold railroad tickets for sixty-six years and is still going strong as the world's oldest active railroad man.

King of Cars for Court Queen

Helen Wills, monarch of all she surveys in the realm of tennis, has purchased a new Silver Anniversary Buick for her personal use. Known on the Pacific coast for her ability as an artist almost as well as for her tennis, she believes the new Buick is the new vogue in motordom. In the photograph, Miss Wills is shown with her new roadster.

Scoreless Game Is Played By L-field And Levelland Lads

The Littlefield Wild Cats played the Levelland squad on the latter's grid-iron last Friday. The opponents were a tough bunch, but if the Wild Cats had played football they would have captured the victory. The score was 0-0.

The Wild Cat's last two touchdowns on fumbles was caused by the cold weather, probably. At one time the local squad had only six inches to go and four downs to make it in. They fumbled the first down and Levelland carried the ball 45 yards down the field.

Again, the Wild Cats lacked only three yards and fumbled. Halfback Fox ran for one touchdown on a lateral pass, but the referee brought it back.

There was quite a bit of roughing on both sides, and both sides suffered penalties on account of it.

The Wild Cats meet Olton on their local field Friday, Nov. 9, and it is looked forward to being one of the best games of the season. Olton has a clean hard-hitting bunch, and it is going to take some "rooting" and plenty of hard skilled work to win the game. It will be called at three o'clock, sharp, and everyone is urged to attend. It is understood that most of the business houses here will be close of the game.

HAS INTERESTING COLLECTION

An interesting display of mounted fish has been opened to the public in Littlefield for the past week. James M. Herbert, of Syracuse N. Y., is the owner and manager of the collection.

He tells an interesting story of how when his wife died, and his health failed, five years ago, he began to travel. His interests had always run along the line of collecting seafaring animals, so he began buying, and accepting as gifts, all of the fish of this kind that he could get. Now he has a museum that is very interesting and educational.

Of most interest is a baby octopus, caught on the coast of the Atlantic ocean, and is one of the most dangerous animals found in the sea. Another specimen that is very rare is a sea horse, four inches long. Among the collection that especially attracts attention are: an armadillo, an Inguana lizard, a hermit crab, a bat-fish, a porcupine fish, and a very large butterfly fish, of a specie that is said to be almost extinct.

Mr. Herbert has also made a small collection of old sabers and swords, among which are some weapons used in the battle of Gettysburg.

HAVE ARMISTICE PROGRAM

The last service before the yearly conference, will be held at the Methodist church Sunday. Rev. G. E. Turentine will preach on "The Victory" as the Armistice day program.

He announces that the Ladies Missionary society will have charge of the program Sunday night, and will present a pageant. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

MOST WEALTH ACQUIRED THROUGH THRIFT SPECTACULAR METHODS GENERALLY FAIL

BY S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift.

Reference frequently is made in newspapers and magazines to instances of spectacular success in acquiring wealth. Men are frequently credited with having amassed fortunes over night in the stock market, in the oil fields, in grain speculation, in real estate, as well as in other lines of activity.

It is not to be denied that these instances exist. The number of persons, however, who have been fortunate in the manner referred to is very small compared with the number who are steadily getting ahead in the world by slower and more dependable means. The vast majority of those who are prosperous today are enjoying the results of patient thrift. Only a negligible percentage of the total are acquiring wealth in any other manner.

It is well to have these facts emphasized in order that persons may not be swept away by occasional stories of meteoric success. Because some man now and then gets a fabulous lucky break and acquires a fabulous sum of money in a short time, is not sufficient reason to believe that others can do the same thing. The slower methods of saving systematically and investing safely are sure to bring results, while the chances of acquiring wealth by some magical process are so remote as to justify the removal of these ideas from any well ordered plan of personal advancement.

The majority of men who have built fortunes, though they may have risen rapidly, owe their success fundamentally to practices of thrift and it is a dangerous experiment to try to get ahead otherwise. So-called cleverness and pure daring will sometimes achieve temporary results, but only through the more matter-of-fact methods of building little by little, day by day, may one be assured of arriving at the goal of his ambition.

Do not, under any circumstances allow yourself to be swept away from practices of thrift for they comprise the only dependable plan of placing yourself in a position of financial independence and wealth.

WATCH THE BASKET

When you buy your fruits and vegetables by the hamper or basket, are you sure that it contains full measure.

Two baskets of apples may be the same height and appear to be the casual glance to be of the same capacity, but one may contain 14 quarts of apples and the other 16 quarts. By reducing the diameter of the bottom of a standard size basket one-half inch and making no change in the height, the capacity is reduced by two quarts. The average weight of the properly filled seven-eighths hamper is 27 pounds; if the hamper is a little short, or if there is a slack fill of beans, it may mean a shortage of 3 or 4 pounds.

FARM DRUGGERY

A farmer's wife has calculated that she had walked 112 miles a year carrying water or a total of 3,898 miles since she began housekeeping. It is this kind of drudgery that makes many farm women old before their time.

Electricity on the farm makes possible hot and cold water in the kitchen, bath room and laundry, and running water in the barn, the garage, the dairy house and on the feed lots.

Ask the farmer whose farm is equipped with a water system operated by electricity why he wanted such a system and he will probably reply: "I can best answer that by asking you why you want to eat when you are hungry."

March of Progress

The idea of a will being used as a means to disinherit or totally alter the line of succession without the consent of the heirs, as can be done in many states of this country, except for dowry interest of wife, is comparatively modern—a product of the philosophy of individual liberty of action.

LONG-TIME SHEEP OUTLOOK IS GOOD

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Although sheep raising heretofore has perhaps been subjected to greater vicissitudes than any other branch of animal husbandry, the long-time prospect for the sheep man appears favorable. This is the view of the United States Department of Agriculture, which says the tendency in sheep raising should be toward greater permanence and profits.

Unquestionably, says the department, there will again be periods of overproduction and underproduction in sheep raising. It declares, however, that various factors are coming into operation which will tend to lessen the violence of these ups and downs. One of the most important is the fact that the sheep industry has emerged from the pioneer stage, and can no longer be shunted off to the poorest lands, but must have a definite place in the agricultural scheme. In many places sheep have already come down off the rocks and are occupying valuable land and consuming high-priced feed.

Another favorable influence on the sheep industry is the growth of population in the United States. This is taking place at the rate of 1 1/2 per cent per annum. A substantial increase in lamb and mutton production will be required to meet the resulting increased demand, even if there is no increase in per capita consumption. Moreover, urban population is increasing more rapidly than the country's population as a whole, and it is in the urban centers that sheep men find their chief markets for lamb and mutton.

It seems inevitable, says the department, that lamb and mutton consumption in the United States will increase materially. Our per capita consumption at the present time is only 5.5 pounds. This is insignificant compared with England's 25 to 27 pounds, and is low even when compared with Canada's 9 pounds. A moderate increase in our per capita consumption of lamb and mutton would mean a vastly increased market for the leading product of the sheep industry. There is every prospect, says the department, that lamb and mutton will work out of the specialty or luxury class, in which they now stand, and will take their place in the list of meat necessities.

Find Oats Satisfactory in Fattening Lamb Crop

Purdue university and the federal bureau of animal industry, in casting about to find new uses for the oats crop, conducted an experiment at Lafayette to determine the value of oats in fattening Western lambs during the past winter. Previous lamb-feeding results had indicated that oats was not equal to corn for the fattening process, but in this case, with cottonseed meal added to the ration, very satisfactory results were obtained.

The lambs fed on oats and cottonseed meal gained 1.2 pounds more in 84 days than did the lambs fed on corn and cottonseed meal. Corn stlage and clover hay were fed in addition to the other feeds named. It has been definitely demonstrated that a legume hay is essential in feeding lambs on the dry lot, although the amount fed may be small. Two feeds of clover hay every five days are enough to keep the lambs in good condition, according to the results of this experiment. Compared with the lot fed clover hay daily, the lot receiving a limited amount of this feed made cheaper gains and finished just as well. The oats lot required less hay than the corn lot.

Pigs Need Special Care Immediately After Born

In discussing the care of pigs newly born, Professor Morton of the Colorado Agricultural college says: "Pigs should be taken out into the sun just as soon as the weather will permit, and the sow should be compelled to come some distance for her feed, so that she will keep up her exercise. If she starts eating pigs at birth or shortly after, it is probably due to extreme constipation, and feverish condition as a result of improper feeding or lack of exercise. A dose of salts will do much more good than feeding raw pork or meat of any kind." "Where a sow has too many pigs some of them may be transferred to another sow, as many as she can handle, provided this is done within a few days after the sow with the smaller number has farrowed, so that the extra pigs put upon her can develop teats for themselves."

Prevent Hog Cholera

Primary reliance on the preventive serum treatment is advised by veterinary officials of the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture, to prevent a recurrence of the serious hog-cholera losses encountered late in 1928. Though sanitation, local precautions, prompt quarantining and other aids in preventing the disease are helpful, the most dependable safeguard is immunity obtained by the preventive serum treatment.

GET RID OF MITES

Splendid results in controlling the chicken mite and fowl tick have been secured through the application of some of the heavy coal-tar distillates, such as anthracene oil, together with the construction of simple demountable roosts and nests. The fowl tick not only continues to be a menace to poultry raising in the South, but it is constantly invading new territory, adapted to conditions in the arid and

Although this pest is particularly well adapted to the more humid sections of the country.

Small Courtesies Count

In all the affairs of human life, social as well as political, I have remarked that courtesies of a small and trivial character are the ones that strike deepest to the grateful and appreciating heart.—Henry Clay.

QUALITY AT LOW COST

CONSTANT EXPANSION

—to serve Chevrolet owners better

SINCE January 1st more than a million new Chevrolets have been delivered to owners—making the Chevrolet Motor Company, for the second consecutive year, the world's largest builder of automobiles!

This outstanding achievement has been attained not only because of the quality and value of Chevrolet cars—but also because there has been a constant expansion of Chevrolet service facilities.

In order to bring these mammoth facilities of the Chevrolet factories to Chevrolet dealers and owners everywhere, there have been erected 26 huge parts warehouses in the principal centers of distribution. This expansion program is continually going on—for four great additional warehouses will be in operation by January first and seven more by the summer of 1929.

Into the service departments of all Chevrolet dealers, Chevrolet has brought special tools and shop equipment—designed under the supervision of Chevrolet engineers. This equipment definitely assures maximum speed and precision and the lowest possible cost in the performance of every Chevrolet service and repair operation—which are charged for on a flat rate basis.

Furthermore, all of these tremendous facilities have been made available to 15,000 authorized service stations manned by skilled mechanics, over 25,000 of whom have been factory trained to efficiently handle every repair operation on a Chevrolet car. In addition, there are over 4,000 other points where genuine Chevrolet parts may be obtained.

Uniformly efficient, uniformly reliable and within easy reach of everybody everywhere—this great service organization is maintaining at peak efficiency the fine performance for which Chevrolet cars have always been renowned.

We cordially invite you to come in and see how our service facilities reflect the influence of this great national service program.

TERRACING VALUABLE TO PLAINS

BY D. F. ADAMS, County Agent

It has been said by many that terracing was not profitable on the plains, or rather that we did not need it, but this theory has been disproven many times by the State Experiment Station, and by the many farmers in the adjoining counties who have been doing this work for many years.

The biggest reason that every man should terrace is because it is the moral obligation of every land-owner to conserve the soil for the use of future generations. The benefits to the present generation are many; it increases farm revenue by adding three dollars or more to the annual income per acre for all time to come. It gives higher valuation to the land; it prevents gullies from washing in the field; it prevents sheet washing from taking soil and plant food; it insures a better stand of crops; it prevents washing away organic matter, commercial fertilizer and manure; it prevents the hillsides from washing down and covering of bottom lands and filling waterways; it allows greater absorption of rainfall which is desirable, especially to the plains region of Texas; it prevents questionable security; it builds better communities; and finally it promotes better business and creates prosperity.

The cost of terracing is very cheap in comparison to the results obtained. The average cost per acre for the entire state of Texas is $2.00 to $2.50 per acre, but on the plains region it is somewhat cheaper for there are fewer terraces to be built, and they stay on the ground with a little less care. Where gullies are frequent, and the labor to build these has to be hired this original cost comes higher, but where a community goes to gether to build the terraces, or several farmers cooperate for that work the cost is cut considerably.

The best time to terrace is as soon as the crops are off the land so that the lines can be laid off and the terraces built. In order to do this work every farmer that is interested should get in touch with the county agent as soon as possible to get in line for many farmers are already preparing to do this valuable piece of work this fall.

A few facts to be remembered are that narrow terraces do not allow cultivation, even though they prevent washing, should be discounted because so much of the best land is removed from cultivation, and are a source of weed contamination for the whole farm. Rows should run parallel with the terraces and should continue over them, but where rows are run at right angles or in any way across the terrace it is only a question of time until terraces will be destroyed. Terraces require some work each year to keep them up, yet when the year properly constructed the outlay to keep them up is small. For the plains, it prevents washing, and the biggest thing is to conserve the moisture when we need it.

HANDLE SPUDS CAREFULLY

Careful handling of potatoes, particularly where they are to be held for storage, will largely prevent loss from Prussian rot. This disease is responsible for the loss of from five to 10 per cent of the annual crop, and in some cases individual growers have lost 50 per cent of their crop. Mechanical injuries, such as cuts, bruises and skin abrasions, caused by improper handling, are the chief source of Fusarian rot. Even minute skin abrasions may become the seat of fungus in ffection. Moving a liberal quantity of soil with the tubers and protecting them from sharp edges of the forks, shakers, etc., of the diggers by rubber or burlap will reduce mechanical injury.

In the South High Plains region of Texas cotton growing has expanded from 74,195 bales in 1919 to 322,062 bales in 1926.

MILK

Milk is perhaps the most ideal food for a human being. It is our only food in infancy and a food too little used by adults. It has been called "the perfect food."

It is a food, however, that is hard to keep, for it readily spoils at too great a temperature.

We have preserved all other kinds of foods, we have salted fish, canned vegetables and fruit, canned meat and smoked ham.

In 1851 a man went to England with a meat biscuit he had invented. On the ship on which he traveled there were cows to give fresh milk. At that time most vessels resembled floating barnyards, that is, most vessels that pretended to give human comfort. The inventor observed on his return trip home in the summer that the cows were sea sick, the milk bad and many babies died.

Coming home he devised a process of drying milk and canning it. After much difficulty the enterprise was successful.

It grew to great proportions during the Civil War, when the government bought the entire output of his factories.

Since then preserved milk has been a boon to all explorers whether in the frozen regions of the north or in darkest Africa.

Herbert Hoover preserved the lives and health of some 1,200,000 Belgian children by condensed milk.

Our own Mr. Strauss has proved himself a public benefactor by supplying pure milk for babies.

Any traveler in Europe is familiar with the dirty milk that is supplied everywhere from milkmen's cans. These have been replaced almost entirely in America by the bottle.

Still about 6,000,000 children in the United States between the ages of two and fourteen are undernourished. They are stunted for lack of proper food, usually for lack of milk. The various companies handling milk have done much good by disseminating knowledge as to the value of pure milk. Pure milk has as much to do with preventing infant mortality as any other one thing. In China, years ago, when they had plenty of cows, they created a great civilization, now that they have cut down their forests and eaten their cows they kill as many babies as they raise. You cannot bring up a child, with success, on tea.

Those health departments in the various cities which are insisting on pure milk and the companies which owe their success to the distribution of pure milk, deserve all encouragement. Nothing could be of more importance to the public health than the maintenance of a supply of pure milk.

The train had finally emerged from the blackness of a long tunnel. The conductor noticed a young couple both of whom were apparently quite flustered, and the young woman was nervously rearranging her disheveled hair.

Thinking to put them at ease, the conductor remarked pleasantly: "Did you know that the tunnel we just came through cost $12,000,000?"

"Did it?" inquired the girl. Then she added after a pause, "well it was worth it."

FOOLS BUSY BEES

Borlase Matthews, an electrical engineer, who is a leader in application of electricity to farm problems in England, reports an experiment in putting bees to work under the stimulus of artificial illumination. Considerably earlier in spring than the normal time for bees to leave their hives he trained beams of light from electric lamps on the entrance to the hives. The bees were soon stirred to action, evidently believing that the first warm sunny day of the season was at hand. They began to issue from the hives in search of food. When dishes of syrup, artificial pollen and water, and a big vase of flowers were placed in their vicinity, with the lights still burning, they began to feed as hens do when the henhouses are artificially illuminated before dawn.

Roses grown in East Texas are now shipped to many parts of the United States. Smith County is one of the greatest rose growing sections in the country.

THE DEMAND OF This Modern Age!

Those things which were considered luxuries just a few years ago, have been turned into necessities by those who live in this modern age.

And one of the most important of these commodities is electricity, both for home use and industrial use. Neither can do without it today, because modern manufacturing machinery and labor-saving devices used in the home are electrically driven.

It is economical and clean, and its greatest factor is that due to ample facilities for its production, it is placed within the reach of all.

Serving as many South Plains communities as we do, our facilities must be kept ahead of the demand of this fast growing territory—and will be at all times.

FALL DANGERS

The arrival of fall brings two common dangers to every community—the dangers that arise from carelessly handled firearms and the danger of death from monoxide gas. The average Littlefield citizen doesn't need to be told that scores of deaths will occur from these two causes between now and the return of spring. But he does need to be reminded that the only way he can escape is by heeding this timely warning.

Climbing a fence and pulling the gun through after you is one of the most frequent causes of hunting fatalities. Carelessness in its handling in weeds or underbrush is another, while every year the gravediggers put in extra hours preparing places for victims of hunters who fired without knowing exactly where their companions were located. Care, and care alone, will prevent such fatalities.

But the man who starts his auto in a closed garage on a cold morning is perhaps the most careless of all. No matter how much he may know about the car, he doesn't know enough to escape death once he has breathed in to his lungs the escaping gasoline fumes. It is all over so suddenly that few, indeed, have lived to tell how it affects the human body. Keep that in mind and be sure the garage doors are wide open before starting the car. Then see that it is backed out into the open air the moment you get it started. Don't leave it running inside the garage.

The real honest-to-goodness, Christian doesn't crave a mansion in the sky. He'd be satisfied with a bungalow.

DON'T BE DUPED

Following the recent successful crossing of the Atlantic by a giant Zeppelin carrying 60 people comes an announcement that a company capitalized at $14,000,000 is to be formed for operating a regular schedule between the U. S. and Europe.

There are also indications, if we read newspapers dispatches right, that ere long clever salesmen will be offering stock in such enterprises. And the funny part of it is that a lot of people will buy it without even investigating.

The day may arrive when Zeppelins will be practical as a means of transportation, but they are a long way from that point now.

There is something of tangible value in the stock of an airplane line, and that kind of stock is due to advance. But if anyone around Littlefield has any money he wants to bid good bye he can easily do so by investing it in any Zeppelin stock that may be offered him.

Sermons can now be sent to a man's home by radio but no one has devised a way to pass the contribution box by wireless.

THE BEST PAYING CAR

The motorist who gets 100 percent dividends out of his car is the one who uses it to carry him to meetings held to further the improvement and development of the community, and also to make him a progressive citizen. He gets most out of it when it takes him to social gatherings, where he enters into closer and happier reunion with his neighbors. He reaps dividends by giving pleasure to those who do not have a car of their own.

He gets a return on his investment when he uses his car to take vacation jaunts into other communities, where he sees how others work and play and live; where he gets a broader vision of the nation he lives in and a better understanding of those who live in it and who help to make it what it is.

The motorist who uses his car for these things gets his money out of the car, and anyone around Littlefield who doubts it should try and see for himself.

Everything evens up in the end. The poor man pays a little each month for six months and the rich man takes six months to pay.

OUR GASOLINE SUPPLY

When he hasn't anything more serious to think about the average auto owner drives along wondering how long this country's gasoline supply will hold out. Usually he winds up by concluding that before many years have rolled around some other kind of fuel will have to be found for propelling automobiles.

But geologists and scientists disagree with him, for here comes a statement from one of them, Dr. Gus Egloff, to the effect that there is enough gasoline in sight to operate the 30,000,000 autos now in use for 2500 years. At present crude oil is being taken from beneath 2,500,000 acres of land in America. Geologists agree that there is a plentiful supply beneath a remaining 1,100,000,000 acres not yet drilled upon. So worry over a gasoline shortage seems to be out of order for the next few hundred years to come.

Adam was one of those fellows who wanted to do the things he knew should not be done—and Adam has a lot of followers.

Will Rogers Says—

The future of the Anti-Bunk Party is uncertain, according to Will Rogers its candidate for President.

"Both the other parties are paying off with nothing but thanks," says Rogers, "so I am not going to send any more thanks to my supporters. There is enough people now trying to live on thanks. In fact, that's about all the farmers will have to live on for the next four years.

"It was the silent vote that elected me and the loud vote that kept our opponents out. But I promised faithfully when this campaign got going that if elected I would resign and that's the only campaign promise I am going to stick to.

"They talk about a man not being a good citizen if he don't vote. If everybody didn't vote then none of the candidates could be elected and that would be the end of politics and we could just go out and hire some good man to run the country.

"I am not saying yet what I will do in 1932, but I may jump to the Congressional Record. They have made me some very attractive offers to handle my next campaign. They claim they can give me plenty of space. As the election is over the members won't have to start electioneering in the Senate and House for a couple of years.

"We went into this campaign to drive the bunk out of politics but our experiment, while noble in motive, was a failure. Anyway, here is good luck from the only cheerful loser in the race."

The old-time gum-shoe politician has a modern rival in the hot-water bottle politician—dry outside and wet within.

LITTLE LEADERS

About the surest way for anyone in Littlefield to get laughed at is to go around handing out free advice.

The reason Littlefield men have to have pockets is because they can't stick things down their necks the way the women do.

Maybe you've noticed that some Littlefield men are not careful in their language as long as they are talking to some one they can lick.

Experience is a good teacher, but at that it never seems able to teach some people around Littlefield to mind their own business.

Why is it some Littlefield people seem to get so much pleasure in trying to keep everybody else from having any?

It takes a lot of people to make a world, including those motorists around Littlefield who paste the pictures of bathing girls on their windshields.

Some Littlefield people have been stung so often that the minute you act friendly with them they wonder how much you are going to touch them for.

Beautiful Actress ... Countless Admirers

—The secret of her blasted life told for the first time

"MAGDA, the sainty," her friends called her. For though this beautiful actress had countless admirers, she steadfastly refused to let the slightest suspicion of love or romance enter her life.

Then something happened. The treacherous tongue of scandal linked her name in an ugly way with that of a man of great social prominence.

For some strange reason Magda neither denied nor confirmed these rumors. The poison spread. One by one her friends deserted her. Even her youthful protegee, a young man in the cast whom she had encouraged and helped with all her strength, publicly denounced her as unfit for decent people to associate with. Had he known the truth he would have cut out his tongue rather than breathe a word against her character.

Then Magda's play suddenly closed. Crushed and in despair, she sought out the man responsible for her wrecked reputation and threatened to expose him—to tell the world the truth.

"I dare you to!" he snarled through evil lips. And Magda knew her fight had just begun.

Until now, the sensational truth about the venomous scandal which blasted her life has remained securely locked in Magda's aching, grief-stricken heart. But now her story can be told. It is entitled "Beyond the Pale," and appears complete in December True Story Magazine.

ONLY PONTIAC

Body by Fisher! The very phrase suggests the newest style, the greatest luxury, the finest construction. Yet only Pontiac among all sixes of its price offers Bodies by Fisher. And their long, low, smart lines, their deep-seated comfort and durable hardwood and steel construction explain much of the tremendous popularity which Pontiac continues to enjoy.

But bodies by Fisher represent only one of the many advantages offered by today's Pontiac Six. A 186-cubic inch engine equipped with a new, more highly perfected carburetor—the cross-flow radiator with thermostatic control—the G-M-R cylinder head . . . all these vital engineering advancements are provided by Pontiac and by no other six selling for as little as $745.

2-Door Sedan, $745; Coupe, $745; Sport Roadster, $745; Phaeton, $775; Cabriolet, $795; 4-Door Sedan, $825; Sport Limited Sedan, $875. All prices at factory. PEANUTS ARE AN EXCELLENT CROP FOR WEST TEXAS

Peanuts had not been an important commercial crop in Texas until the war-time demand for vegetable oils brought the crop into prominence, and in 1918 a peak of 7,117,000 bushels was reported, which declined in 1926 to 1,644,833 bushels. The principal demand at present is for shelled peanuts which are used in the production of peanut butter, confections, and for roasting.

Approved methods of planting, cultivating, harvesting and curing peanuts are discussed in Bulletin No. 381 of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Experiments at Beville and Lubbock indicate that close planting from three to six inches in the row, will produce larger yields of both forage and nuts than when a greater distance is given between plants in the row.

The culture of peanuts is adapted to the sandy soils of the State, and fits well into a crop rotation. Peanuts produce forage comparable with top clovers as a feed for dairy cattle. Peanuts also make good feed for hogs, but when the nuts are not properly fed, either whole or as meal, they frequently produce a condition known as soft pork which is penalized by the packing trade.

There is practically no difference in the yields of peanuts, when planted in the hull, or where the hull is broken or cracked. Peanuts produce higher yields of forage when planted in 36-inch rows, but higher yields of nuts are obtained when planted in 18-inch rows.

The Maespan peanut, a selection by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station from the Little Spanish variety, matures earlier, is more productive and uniform, and the kernels probably contain a higher percentage of oil than the common Spanish peanut.

For a copy of this Bulletin address A. & M. College Experiment Station, College Station, Texas.

The Pecos High Plains region covers almost 18,000 square miles and the number of farms in the region has increased more than fivefold since 1900.

Hoover Is Elected President Of U.S. By A Big Majority

Herbert Hoover has been elected president of the United States by an overwhelming majority, reports show as the Lander goes to press. It is now thought his majority will exceed 800 electoral votes.

While the returns are still incomplete to make an accurate forecast, they are sufficient to show that Hoover is leading in practically all the eastern and central states. All the New England states were for Hoover, Maryland along the eastern border voting for Smith. Reports indicate that Oklahoma, Missouri and Kentucky cast their ballots Republican. Texas is slated in the Republican list by more than 7,000 majority votes. Slow in their returns, Nebraska, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and the Dakotas are showing good Hoover majorities.

While full Texas returns are not now in, yet it seems apparent the Plains country went quite solid for Hoover. Lamb and Lubbock counties it is said will both show big majorities for the Secretary.

BAND TO PLAY HERE

The Littlefield band will play on the streets here Saturday afternoon, at six o'clock, according to announcement made by Director Conrad Lam.

Texas is drained by 11 principal river systems, only three of which, the Canadian, Pecos and Rio Grande, originate outside the state.

The largest incandescent lamp—large as three cauliflowers—will burn the clothes off any person standing within three feet of it. The smallest lamp in the world is as large as a grain of wheat and will not scratch the tender membrane of a baby's stomach when the light is poked down the infant's gullet to search for a missing pin or button.

Buy it in Littlefield.

A Great Discovery

When Pasteur discovered, in 1822, that the infection of wounds was caused by malignant bacteria, he performed a service of inestimable value to mankind. Since then medical science has been producing better and better antiseptics, to kill these germs that may enter the smallest cut and give us diseases such as typhoid, tuberculosis and lockjaw. Now, all you have to do to be sure that these dreadful germs will not infect a wound, is to wash that wound, however small, thoroughly with Liquid Borozone, the modern antiseptic. You can get Liquid Borozone, in a size to fit your needs and purse, from Stokes & Alexander Drug Company.
