

Second Christmas Stockin' Festival Slated

The Christmas shopping season is here.

And, in Littlefield, merchants are offering a "Buy for Christmas" campaign that can solve all your problems.

The Second Annual Christmas Stock-In' Festival is a four-day event which starts Friday and continues on Tuesday.

Shoppers will get more than gifts for their money at the festival. Here are some of the big attractions: Over $750 in Gift Certificates.

A chat with Santa Claus.

3. The Christmas spirit through carol hours and brilliantly lighted Yuletide decorations.
 4. Santa has candy for the kiddies.
- Thirty-six merchants are giving Gift Certificates, some more than one. The certificates total over $750.
- Drawing for the certificates will be held at 4:00 p.m. each day of the festival in front of the First National Bank.
- Shoppers may register daily in all of the participating stores.
- If the customer registers on Friday, his ticket will go into a big barrel for the drawing Friday afternoon. Then his ticket will be thrown away.

So the smart shopper will be in town all four days and register at as many stores as possible to make sure he has tickets in each day's drawing.

Santa Claus will roam up and down Phelps Avenue all four days of the event, giving candy to the youngsters. He'll be around from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day.

Many stores will remain open until 9 p.m. on Saturday night.

While all of this is going on, Littlefield will have Christmas in the air.

Christmas carols will ring out over loudspeakers at noon, 3 p.m. and 5 p.m. each day.

And to top it off, the town's brand-new Christmas decorations will go on for the first time Friday at 7 p.m.

Gambling Debt Argument Ends In Knife Slaying

Murder charges have been filed against a San Angelo Negro man and woman in the knife-slaying of a Littlefield Negro man here Saturday after an argument over a $1 gambling debt.

New Pastor Is Called By Baptists

The Rev. Robert D. Longshore is new pastor of the Littlefield First Baptist Church.

Members of the church extended a call to the preacher from College Station in a vote Sunday morning and received word of his acceptance Sunday night.

He also notified the church that he would be in Littlefield Dec. 6 for his first service as pastor of the church.

His acceptance of the pastorate ended a seven-month quest by the church for a pastor. The office was vacated by Dr. Lee Hemp-hill May 1. Two interim pastors, Tom Parrish and Marlin Landers, have served the church during the seven month period.

Rev. Longshore has been pastor of the First Baptist Church of College Station since 1952. He is a native of Commerce, where he was reared and attended high school. He is a graduate of Baylor University, and has B.D. and Th.M. degrees from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Serving on the pulpit committee for the church were Carl Pillion, Dr. Albert Perkins, Ray Hulse, W. E. Heathman and their wives.

Letter From Santa Tells Of Plans For Visit Here

EDITOR'S NOTE - Old St. Nicholas has decided he'd save you and himself some trouble this year, so he's figured out a way to see and talk to just about everybody. He asked the newspaper to print this letter:

Dear Kids:

I want to see everybody this year, so I've worked out a system with the merchants there in Littlefield to get it done.

They've fixed it up so that I can stay in Littlefield four days and they seem to be rolling out the red carpet for me - and for you, too!

I'll be arriving here at 10 o'clock Friday morning. Chief Fitzgerald says he's gonna escort me to town. We'll ride up main street to the courthouse and then back downtown again.

I hope they won't make that ride too long, because I'll be anxious to get out and start talking with you. You're going to love my candy this year, and I'll have plenty of it.

Right in the middle of my visit, I'm going to rest one day. I'll be at the North Pole Sunday, but the telephone company is going to fix up a straight line for us so that we'll be in contact.

I'll get through taking my nap about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon and I'll be sitting by my phone waiting to hear from every youngster in Littlefield.

Just pick up the phone and ask to speak to me. The operator will connect us right-away. I'm going to head back to Littlefield about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, so you'd better call between 2-5 o'clock.

Even if I get to talk to you, I'd still like you to write to me again this year. You know, there's less chance for slip-ups if you get it down in black-and-white.

So if you'll just address your letters to me, care of the newspaper, the folks down there will put your letter in the paper and then send it on to me.

See you Friday!

Love,
Santa Claus.

Olton Vs. Denver City In Turkey Day Battle

Two Mustang Teams Vie Here For Regional Title

By JIMMIE HINE

A Football Thanksgiving Day game will be observed in Littlefield beginning at 2:30 p.m. as Wildcat Mustangs is the scene of the regional playoff game between Olton and Denver City.

The two Mustang teams survived the first playoff rounds by upsetting their opponents by identical scores, 14 to 8. Denver City will enter the contest as a heavy favorite.

Olton carried the crown of District 2-AA triumphantly with a victory over the winners in District 1-AA, the Canyon Eagles, last Friday.

The Red and White Mustangs of Denver City racked up their 11th straight win of the year in derailing the potent Floydada Whirlwinds of District 3-AA. Floydada defeated Olton in an early season game.

In winning the District 4-AA title, Denver City ran roughshod over 10 opponents and scored an average of 46 points per game during the regular season.

The Blue and White Mustangs from Olton sport a record of seven wins and four losses, which includes their bi-district win. Coach Joe Turner's charges have scored but 29 points more than their opponents' 158. Olton has but 15 players on its varsity squad as they carry Lamb County's lone entry in the football playoffs.

Denver City has a great passer in Quarterback Bert Gravitt, and an exceptionally fine receiver in End Clifford Goodwin. The two were responsible for Denver City's first touchdown against Floydada. Goodwin grabbed a 45-yard pass from Gravitt for a second period score. Denver City's fleet-footed halfback, Fred Kidwell, scored his team's other TD on a 26-yard run. Denver City operates from the basic "T" with many variations, especially the flanker types.

Dr. Schilling's Protest Draws Writers' Fire

Dumas and Berger newsmen hurled a barrage of criticism at Dr. Ralph Schilling last week after the Littlefield superintendent of schools angrily protested the operation of the scoreboard clock during the first half of the Littlefield-Dumas game at Dumas Nov. 13.

Both newspapers editorially spanked the superintendent for comments they said he made in the press box at halftime.

Referring to Dr. Schilling, the Moore County News said editorially: "One of the more avid cranks, yelling his protests to anyone with ears to hear, in a manner that would have justified any policeman with throwing him out of the stadium, carried his noise into the pressbox at halftime."

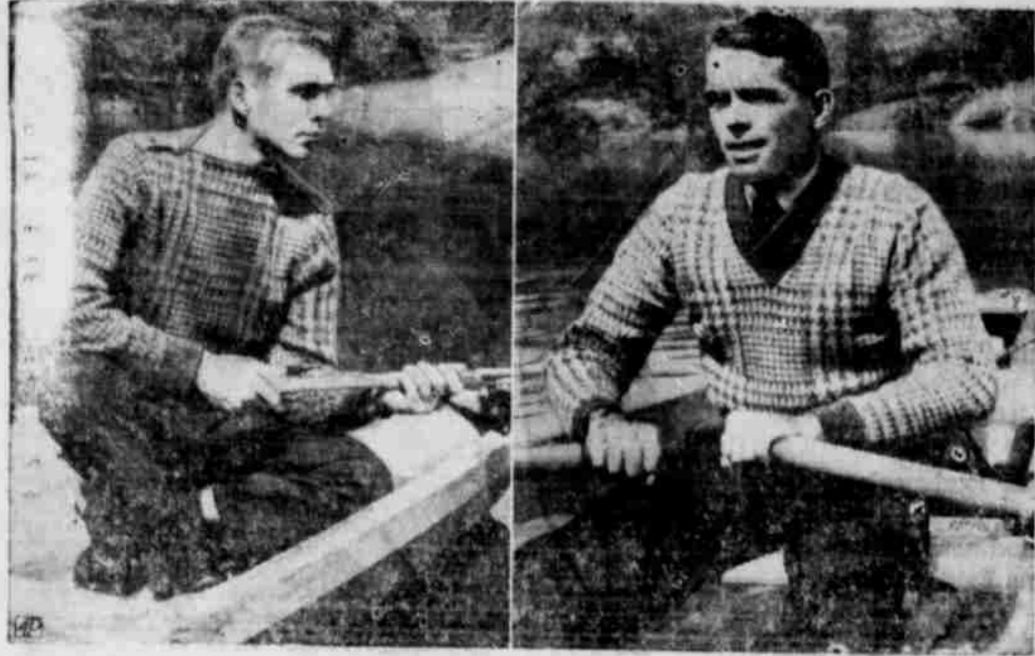

"The 'crank,' we were shocked to learn, was superintendent of schools at Littlefield. He was a (Continued on Page Two)

THANKSGIVING

Santa Likes Sweaters

SPORTING LIFE—New husky sweaters, patterned or plain solve the gift problem this year for every man on your list. Above are two versions of the new brushed-knit blanket plaids, best next at left, lapped V-neck at right. Below is the popular Windjammer in bulky rib knit with lapped boat neck, available in seven colors. All designed by Himalaya.

Husky sweaters for men are at the top of old St. Nick's suggestion list this year. There's a rash of rugged, colorful sweaters in men's shops this winter, in the kind of bulky knits and easy styles that outdoor men prefer. Blanket plaids in brushed yarns are particularly in demand, available in both coat and pullover styles, with shawl collars, boat or V-necks. The new sweaters go in for rich colors, suddenly in demand by even conservative males. Among the most popular are: dubonnet blue, olive green, cognac, charcoal, heather, antique gold and of course black and white. Cable knits in solid colors are the right for men of all ages, and a golfer and the country weekender.

are available in a variety of styles. If you're buying a sweater for the man in your life this Christmas, be sure to get it big enough. To be safe, buy a size larger than his suit size, as it's important for these new husky sweaters to be roomy. Don't be afraid of color. Even if he always has stuck to black or beige, this year he'll probably go for a cognac and black combination, olive green or dubonnet. These colors look new and thoroughly masculine. Although bulky, the new sweaters are light in weight, thanks to new developments in yarns. They provide warmth without weight for active men, and are ideal for the hunter, the fisherman, the

Salvation Army In Need Of Children's Clothing

The local Salvation Army is in desperate need of children's clothing and shoes, according to a report this week from Lt. Dale Kirkpatrick. In fact Lt. Kirkpatrick reports that he has turned away some families this past week who were in dire need of clothing. Any person interested in giving clothing or shoes should call 286 day or night and Lt. Kirkpatrick will be glad to pick up the contributions. Although children's clothing is especially needed now, Lt. Kirkpatrick says that he will also be glad to get any kind of clothing for any member of the family.

Take Soil Tests Now For More Profit In '60

Higher farm income in 1960 can result from soil tests made this fall or winter. Properly taken soil samples, says Extension Soil Chemist W. F. Bennett, can provide information about the plant food nutrients needed for high income, low-cost yields in 1960. Fall is an ideal time for soil testing because the soil laboratories are usually not rushed and recommended grades of fertilizer are readily available. Too, soils are usually in good condition for sampling at this time of the year. By getting soil test results early, Bennett says the winter months can be used for planning next year's fertilizer and cropping programs. The advanced clumping, he adds, can mean the difference between a successful fertilizer program or none at all. Bennett suggests a visit with the local county agent if additional information is needed on soil sampling. Local agents can supply detailed printed information on how to take soil samples and boxes for mailing the samples. The soil chemist points out that the laboratory results can be no better than the sample from which they were obtained. Therefore, he adds, samples must be properly taken to be representative of the area and the information sheet which accompanies the soil sample must be correctly and completely filled out. This information is used by the chemist along with the results of laboratory tests to make the fertilizer use recommendations for the farm. It is Bennett's belief that information gained from soil testing can make farming more profitable by taking the guess out of fertilizer use.

grabbed a case of empty bottles. The Smith woman admitted in a statement to County Attorney Curtis Wilkinson and officers that she also got a knife when the fight started, and later tried to help McGraw. Bryce was stabbed once in the abdomen, once under an arm and also was cut superficially in several places, according to a physician who examined him shortly after the incident. The fight was stopped when Hawkins, the cafe proprietor, fired a warning shot into the ceiling, officers said. McGraw and the woman left the cafe and were arrested later by Sheriff Dyer and deputies.

Dr. Schilling (Continued from Page One) stopped, and then Dumas ran one play with the clock still not running. I went up and hit on the press box window, motioned at the clock and the timekeeper started it," Dr. Schilling said. Shortly after that, at halftime, the superintendent said he went into the press box and told the timekeeper he'd help him, "if you can't run the scoreboard clock right."

Dr. Schilling said he first noticed something was wrong with the scoreboard clock when, after Littlefield's touchdown in the first quarter, the clock "didn't run for awhile." Later, Dr. Schilling said, it appeared to him as though an official on the field was handed a stop-watch. "It came as a surprise to me later when they continued to use the scoreboard clock. It left me and other fans thinking that plays were being run without the time being recorded." With the scoreboard clock back in use later, the clock was stopped again, later in the second period, Dr. Schilling said. "I saw no signal from the officials that the clock should be

Get Head Start On The Holiday.... Start Now

Why not start "Operation Santa Claus" now, and enjoy the festivities that Yuletide brings to the home?
It's the last minute cramming that wears out the housewife, and the million little jobs that could have been done long before that leave her ragged.
It's not too early to put your house in order right now, taking it in easy strides, and getting everything ready so you can enjoy the shopping, gift wrapping, tagging and all the parties that go with the holidays.
Who's for cleaning curtains, draperies? Do the job now. If you're a stickler for freshness, hang the washed or drycleaned window hangings on a hanger in the closet until time to use them. Wash the windows and sill while you are about it. These can always get last minute touch-ups, but the main cleaning job will be done.
Prepare Now
Are you planning to use all the silver you own during the holiday festivities? If so, get every last silver ash tray or vegetable dish polished. Wrap each piece in polyethelyn film tightly, put away until the big day. Awkward pieces could be sealed by tape.
How about that good china that is used only for those special events? Wash it all in soapy water. If you don't do this job now, you may try to get by without using that very special turquoise that will put the finishing touch on the holiday table. If the closet where these dishes are stored is used often, wrap all the washed china in dish towels and put back in place.
What about that cut glass that is getting increasingly popular for table setting? It's just as glamorous as it was in grandma's day, on a forgery case.

and many pieces are almost indispensable to a festive dining table. The old celery, pickle, and olive dishes are just right for today's service, and there are few modern pieces that can equal them in design and usefulness. Compote, footed pie dishes and cake plates are other useful pieces that are easy to blend with today's china. And don't forget about your stemware for the table. Shine it up, protect it from dust, and have it ready.
Odds and Ends, Too
This is a good time to stock up on candles, to locate the tree stand, to take an inventory of the Christmas ornaments. It's a fine time also to locate a spot for those gifts you purchased early so that the family will not be tempted to peek.
Where will the Christmas tree stand?
Why not bend some heavy wire coat hangers into large circles and prepare them for wreaths? You can decorate your own wreaths for doors and windows and individualize them with a variety of unusual ornaments, a feat that isn't easy when Christmas is closing in on you. A Wreath of olive boughs with a della robbia effect supplies with tiny crab apples, kumquats, lemons, holly and coconuts that are available in variety stores is a charming departure from the usual wreath.

The Earliest Thanksgiving?

There are many things for which we, all of us, should bow our heads in reverent thanks this Thanksgiving week. There is both peace throughout nearly all parts of the world, and bright hopes of universal good will among all men. Our boys are at home instead of on some far away battlefield. We have an abundance of the good things of life. We are thankful that we can share this abundance with the less fortunate people in many parts of the world. Christ said that as "you do it unto the least of these you do it unto me." Some 300 years ago the Pilgrims assembled in their meeting places to bow in thanks for a meager harvest that would, nevertheless, assure them food until the next harvest. Our cup of plenty overflows. The observance of a specified day for Thanksgiving is comparatively new, but the Bible (16th Chapter, Book of Acts) tells of a day two thousand years ago when the Apostle Paul and Silas were arrested, though they had done no wrong. They were flogged unmercifully and thrown into a dungeon. From that dungeon came a song of praise and thankfulness to God. They sang His praise because they were thankful for the strength His spiritual guidance gave them. Thankfulness, like happiness, is a state of mind. It comes from the peace that is within our hearts as we pause to consider our many blessings. Most people are not thankful unless they are more prosperous than they were a year earlier. They measure their happiness by material gains and forget the many blessings for which they should be thankful. Goats and Happiness I like to illustrate this by a story told me many years ago about a Russian peasant in the time of the Czars. He went to his priest with a story about his unhappiness. He was thinking about killing himself because his mother-in-law had come to live with his family in their one-room home. She had, he said, made life unbearable. The priest advised him to get a goat and take it to live in the home. The peasant, though puzzled by that advice, followed it. A year later he came back to the priest. "Life is worse than ever and I must kill myself," he told the

Toyland Is Ready For Dizzy Decade Of 60's

FUTURE SCIENTISTS—Learning becomes fun this year with new equipment such as this gyromatic globe with flash cards which have answers on the back, for young scholars.

Modern-minded Santa is all boys, and little girls are taking after the 1960's, with toys that mirror every facet of contemporary living, from shooting the moon to raising babies.

No matter how breath-taking the advances of modern science, children take them in stride, says Mel Freud, president of Toy Guidance Council. Small fry accept as routine the conquering of outer space, peaceful uses of the atom and all the other wonders of our jet age. As a matter of fact, nostalgic toys inspired by our historic past are just as popular as those of the space age this year. Antique automobiles a nd Wild West paraphernalia are top of the 1959 top pack. Model sports ping car kits are favorites with small Housekeeping in toyland is strictly up-to-the minute, with models of the last word in all kitchen appliances, washing machines and dryers that really work.

Playroom highways this year will have trucks designed to carry half-a-dozen motor boats and a special vehicle for transporting horses, in addition to the more familiar wheel toys.

Career-keyed toys include a drive-in movie theater and a printing press that prints in color. The junior builder gets the benefit of a short-cut panel building to construct an apartment house or shopping center.

New in electric trains are replicas of frontier styles of the Old West, as well as models of the latest streamliners.

Plastic mosaic pieces provide the base for a new hobby kit. Another provides the materials for making bead flowers.

As to dolls — they are present in force and infinite variety, from almost-human baby dolls to fashionable teen-age types complete with high-style wardrobes.

MODERN MOTHER—Her lifelike baby doll is safe and happy in the last word in playpen design—a nylon mesh pen in a red enamel frame, just like latest pens for real babies.

SPORTS CAR FAN—This new scale model kit enables Junior to build a famous German racer which runs on an electric motor. Has gears, rubber tires and start-stop lever.

Dolls Mirror Family Life

GO-TO-BED DOLL—She has fashionable robe and pajamas and carries toothbrush, washcloth and even an electric candle.

LIFE-SIZE DOLLS—Baby and toddler sister are scaled to exact child sizes according to latest government figures.

FAMILY TREND — Little mother takes her doll family marketing.

Today's little girls will be expert homemakers and babysitters before they are ten, if the current trend in dolls and toys continues.

The family motif is strong in dolls destined for the 1959 toy pack—and the national trend toward big families is reflected in the doll population. Nowadays it is not enough for a small girl to get just one new doll for Christmas—she wants a whole family, beginning with a baby doll and continuing through all age groups to the teen-ager.

The new crop of dolls is meticulously dressed in the right clothes for each age-nursery, kindergarten, junior high and debutante. Baby dolls are equipped with the last word in scientific infant wear; school-age dolls have their plaid skirts, Bermuda shorts and sweaters. The glamor girls have extensive wardrobes for specialized occasions, from the backyard barbecue to the Senior prom and from the ski slope to the cocktail dance. Today's dolls may have dude ranch outfits, gardening clothes and loungewear.

Life-size dolls also are important on the current scene. One group has dolls modeled exactly according to government statistics as to children's average height from babyhood to six years. Thus a four-year-old child now may have a playmate doll exactly her own size, the six-year-old has a size six doll, and so on.

Some dolls encourage good grooming, with kits for hair, skin and dental care. Others have specialized aims, such as the "get-well" doll, which has measurable spots that come and go, crutches, bandages and even a cast. Toy Guidance Council reports.

Another new high in realism is the "go-to-bed" doll, which not only has smart pajamas, bathrobe and toothbrush, but also an electric candle.

Looks like every day we get a little more organized in church and community work. . . it takes more committees to keep things going and then the committees keep you going. . . up to a point that is. It's getting where I not only have some sort of committee meeting every night. . . but then half of the mornings it's a 7 o'clock breakfast!

Old Jack Wattenbarger brings me this clipping written by Hal Boyle in which he tells about this fellow who just couldn't seem to say "no" to being put on a committee.

Haunting indeed are the sordid stories of those who tried to raise their social status by joining a committee, then found their lives ruined as one committee led to another, until finally there was no stopping.

"I moved to the suburbs and bought a new house. I joined the P-TA, and they put me on a committee to add a gymnasium to the school.

"The neighborhood association asked me if I'd serve on a committee to improve the beach, and I said yes. Then I joined a lodge and a church, and they both soon put me on committees.

"We were invited to a lot of parties, and it seemed like at each party they organized a new committee, and I was always asked to join, and I did. I joined a committee to get rid of covered bridges.

List Increased
"I joined a committee to send books to the Hottentots, a committee to save the barn owl, and a committee to improve the railroad's commuter service.

"I joined the mayor's committee to bring new industry into town, and I joined another committee to keep the town zoned only for private homes.

"At first I was deliciously excited by all this committee duty, because I never had made friends so fast in my life. I worked hard on each committee, and that, of course, led the other committees to want me to serve with them.

"At the end of the first year I guess I must have been about the best known man in town and they were even talking about running me for mayor. I was serving on 68 committees, and being invited to join new ones at the rate of one a week.

Nervous Wreck
"I was getting three hours sleep a night, making an average of 37 phone calls a day from my office on committee work, and living on pep pills that turned me into a nervous wreck. I was completely neglecting my own family and my own job.

"Well, the whole thing collapsed last week. My boss fired me, my wife ran off with a man down the street, and my two children were sent to reform school as juvenile delinquents.

"Naturally, I thought my friends on all those committees would stand by me in my hour of need. But do you know what I found out? I found out that for every fair-weather friend you make by serving on committees, you make at least two all-weather enemies.

"My neighbors now are organizing a committee to ask me to sell the house and move away as an undesirable member of the community. It's a funny thing. That's the only committee in town I haven't been asked to join."

The moral is obvious. If committee work goes to your head leave the stuff alone. Let the other fellow get the hangover that always comes from group efforts to rescue the barn owl or amend the world.

Well, we tried some red ink in this issue. . . Santa Claus red. . . all in the interest of the Second Annual Christmas Stockin' Festival which begins Friday. Santa comes into town with a police escort promptly at 10 a.m. Friday. . . and he'll be around all four days of the festival, trying to see

Legally Blind Since 21

Stewart 'Oversees' Cemetery

Final resting place of more than a thousand former residents of Littlefield and the surrounding area is "watched over" by a Stewart. He has been legally blind since he was 21. But he still sees after a fashion, well enough to drive a tractor around town and clean weeds and grass away from graves in the cemetery.

CARETAKER OF LITTLEFIELD CEMETERY—Leonard Stewart points out the neglected state of most of the Littlefield Cemetery. He is standing beside a grave that has caved in, leaving a sunken hole.

Stewart has been concerned about the cemetery for some time, and points out that it is in a bad state of repair. He just can't afford to spend enough time at the cemetery to keep all of it clean. He does work all that he can when donations from relatives are sufficient to pay the expenses. He points out that more could be taken care of if people could be made aware that a small donation would provide care for a year. But at the present a large part of the cemetery is unkept.

"Did you ever drive by it on Highway 84?" Stewart asks. "Why, it's a shame. That is sure a fine way to give Littlefield a bad name, with people from all over the country passing by," he says.

"I surely wouldn't want to offend anyone, but you can see it for yourself," the blind man says.

Stewart makes his living by working at the cemetery about half of the time. He hires a helper and they take care of the graves of persons on a donation basis. When relatives leave a donation to the cemetery fund at one of the Littlefield banks, Stewart is notified and as soon as possible starts caring for the designated grave. A donation of $6 pays for caring for a particular grave for one year. Stewart pointed out that some of the graves are caving in, some are not identified properly and a host of the graves are covered with weeds.

"Some people ask me 'what is it to you,'" Stewart says. "I tell them that it is the way that I make part of my living. But the cemetery would look a lot more respectable if more people took an interest," he says.

Stewart digs graves at the cemetery, and has all of the necessary tools needed to work the burial grounds.

Stewart's blindness, to the extent that he is given aid by the Texas Agency for the Rehabilitation of the Blind, has no known cure. He has been to experts all over the state and says that doctors, if they have a name for the condition, haven't told him.

He sees objects but cannot see detail, he says. About his driving the tractor around town, he says that he knows the town so well that he recognizes where he is from "instinct."

"I was hard to get accustomed to the idea of being blind, and it took me about five years before I accepted the fact and decided to live with it."

"But when a person decides he wants to do something, and wants to do it badly enough, he can do it," Stewart says about his learning to find his way around and do many things even though he is handicapped to such an extent.

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
 AND Sidelights
 by Vern Sanford
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — First of the vacancies in the Legislature was 1960 political headquarters signs set up by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson will be up before the Christmas lights.

An executive committee, formed to steer the Johnson-for-President drive, is opening a state headquarters in downtown Austin. Goal of the state office is to add to the 60 or more county clubs for Johnson and eventually expand into a national operation.

With two exceptions, the state's top Democratic brass is on the committee. Gov. Price Daniel and Speaker Sam Rayburn are honorary co-chairmen. Plans were announced by Ed Connally, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee and Byron Saelton, national committeeman.

Not on the committee are the state's junior senator, Ralph Yarborough, and national committeewoman, Mrs. R. D. Randolph. Both, long identified with the party's liberal wing, have hedged calling a special session in January to raise money for teacher salary increases.

INSURANCE PLAN DEBATED — A possible time table for filling the three vacancies in the attorney general's office should be streamlined down to one main job — that of serving as the state's top legal officer. Atty. Gen. Will Wilson made this recommendation as he and his staff gained new, streamlined office space. Department moved from the west wing of the Capitol into the top five floors of the just completed Supreme Court Building.

insurance rates, due to take effect Jan. 1, is a prime discussion topic among insurance circles as well as the motoring public.

Under the merit plan, drivers with no record of accidents or moving traffic violations for three years get a reduced rate. Others pay on a sliding scale up to double the usual rate, depending on the number and seriousness of their accidents and violations.

Opinions on the plan vary widely. Among them:

- (1) It will make drivers more careful.
- (2) It will make clear to the driving public the direct relationship between accidents and cost of insurance.
- (3) It will cause "bad" drivers to drop their insurance.
- (4) It will result in more hassles over who was to blame for an accident. (Only the driver held responsible gets his insurance hiked.)
- (5) It will flood the courthouses with contests over traffic tickets.
- (6) It will be declared illegal because of the "double jeopardy" principle. Some lawyers reason that the driver is punished for his violation once when he pays a fine and cannot be punished again with higher insurance rates.

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas recently predicted that merit rating would result in such an overflow of traffic cases that new courts would have to be created and new buildings to house them.

Others have complained that traffic laws and their enforcement are not uniform and that some drivers — victims of speed traps, for example — will be penalized. Answer to this, says Insurance Board Chairman Penn J. Jackson, is to work out the wrinkles in law enforcement.

Insurance agents, in meetings and conferences over the state, are boning up on the new procedures, planning how to explain them to their customers.

Although the rules apply after Jan. 1, present policyholders will not be affected until their contracts run out sometime next year.

boards and has to spend nearly half his time at their meetings. Moreover, he said, it makes the attorney general responsible for the activities of agencies over which he has no direct staff control. He cited the Veterans Land Board troubles of several years ago as an example of the problems caused by such a situation.

Wilson advocated strengthening the executive branch of state government by gradually placing more responsibility with the governor. As a starter he suggested having the governor make appointments to replace the attorney general on state boards.

PENNY SAVED, PENNY EARNED — A House Economy in Government committee says it has turned up some cost-cutting ideas.

Use of more prison-made products by state agencies was recommended to the committee by O. V. Ellis, director of the prison system. For example, Ellis said prison-made bricks would cost the state much less than those it now buys. Also, he said prisoners could do the re-binding of school textbooks at a saving of about $300,000 a year.

Possibility of cutting back the farm-to-market road program was explored by the committee. State Highway Engineer DeWitt Greer made no recommendation, but said the state is now spending $78,000,000 a year on building and upkeep of rural roads.

Under the Colson - Briscoe Act of 1949, $15,000,000 a year is automatically appropriated to build rural roads. None of this can be used for repair which must be paid out of other highway department funds.

Board of Control could cut costs by combining its Austin warehousing operations, the board's executive director told the committee.

SAFETY AWARD — Department of Public Safety announced that its annual fleet safety contest was won by DPS Region 3, headquartered in Corpus Christi. All DPS vehicles are involved in the contest. To win it, the 188 drivers in the Corpus Christi region drove 157,000 miles with only 18 accidents — less than one-third of the accidents during emergency driving at speeds of 40 miles an hour. There were no fatalities.

City Jails 12, Issues 25 Tickets — City officers jailed 12 persons and issued 25 tickets last Sunday.

Fourteen of the tickets were for excessive noise with one vehicle. Another five were for driving without a license.

Littlefield Man's Hunt In Africa Gets Under Way; Big Five Sought

EDITOR'S NOTE: Bill Womack, a former Littlefield resident, is midway through his 30-day hunting safari in Kenya, British East Africa, making a buyhood dream come true. In today's News, he writes the first of a series of four stories on his hunting trip. Bill, 23, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Womack of Anton and a 1953 graduate of Littlefield High School. While at LHS, Bill was president of the local FFA chapter, headed the district FFA chapter and was a member of the state champion dairy products judging team in 1952. He received a bachelor's degree at Texas Tech this year. He left Oct. 30 and plans to return here about Dec. 15. Pictures of his "kills" will be published upon his return.

By BILL WOMACK
SOMEWHERE IN AFRICA —

After a 10-hour overnight flight from New York we landed at the La Bourget in Paris. After a 45 minute taxi ride through Parisian traffic, during which time I died spoken by the captain of the 4-a thousand deaths, we arrived at engine airliner at New York's the 'Orly' air terminal. Following Idlewild International airport. And a 3-hour stop-over we departed those were the words which for Cairo. A 9-hour flight over brought an end my months of waiting and anticipation and quickly sent us soaring 17,000 feet into the sky and high above the blue waters of the Atlantic Ocean.

This was the beginning of my African safari, currently transpiring in the southern part of Kenya in British East Africa about 100 miles below the equator.

After a 10-hour overnight flight from New York we landed at the La Bourget in Paris. Corsica, and the Mediterranean, naturally the key figure in the success of any safari. Harold is American-born, coming from New Orleans, and is one of three American White Hunters in East Africa. There are only about 25 full-time White Hunters in all and with the most of them, naturally, being made up of Englishmen. Harold is a college graduate and has a master's degree from Harvard University's School of Business Administration. With that kind of a background, there is a story all its own in how he became a professional hunter.

The organization of a hunting safari is a complicated and tedious business. There are seemingly a thousand and one things to remember and the full burden has been left up to Harold. For example when our hand rover (hunting our) and five-ton truck of animals, scouting, and etc. mountains or rolling hills of the elephant, Rhino, Cape Buffalo and Leopard. The lion will be the lion. Only hunter in four is taken all year. The about 150 hunters who out. In addition to the or "Dangerous Five" hunt as many of the as time permits. The Eland which the ber of the antelope is only about two feet also is of the antelope. Next time we will be of "Simba" the lion that strikes fear into the hearts of all the nearby men, who each year number of their kind of animals.

None of the African "boys" live in Nairobi. For the most part they come from small towns and villages as far away as Mombasa, which is 300 miles distant. The safari organizer must send the African a train ticket to enable him to reach Nairobi in time for the departure of the safari.

As I am sure many are interested in the type of country and the climate, I would like to say that East Africa is a beautiful country as many of the rolling hills and grassy plains. There are some mountains, but except for Kilimanjaro to the south, which is over 19,000 feet, and Mt. Kenya to the north, which is over 17,000 feet, they are mostly small mountains or rolling hills of the elephant, Rhino, Cape Buffalo and Leopard. The lion will be the lion. Only hunter in four is taken all year. The about 150 hunters who out. SWC Up To Old Tricks: Nobody Goes Unbeaten

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AP Sports Editor

Another football season slides by without the Southwest Conference being able to produce an undefeated, untied team. It has been 20 years since the league did it and it may be another 20 years before it might do it again. The trouble doesn't usually come from outside competition. These teams beat each other.

Texas appeared in shape for the first unbeaten season since 1939 when it ran into Texas Christian last week. Logic said Texas should win the game but logic has nothing to do with Southwest Conference football when the season is nearing its close. Southwest Conference teams have the knack of winning the one game they want more than any other regardless of ability or the season record. It has happened many times over the years and the best way to take a licking is to be up in the ratings.

In 1950 Southern Methodist was No. 1 in the nation, had won five straight games. Texas beat Southern Methodist 23-20 and knocked it out of the rankings and championship.

In 1957 Bear Bryant had an undefeated, untied team at Texas A&M that had just been named No. 1 in the country. It had taken eight straight games. Then came Rice and a 7-6 loss.

There have been undefeated teams in the conference since 1939 but none ever got by without being tied. Southern Methodist was undefeated in 1947 but was tied by Texas Christian in the last game of the season. Texas A&M was unbeaten in 1956 but it actually was outplayed in that game.

There just isn't anything like the Southwest Conference anywhere. The reason is obvious. The schools are so close together and their material from the same source—Texas high school football—and they recruit about equally. All these guys know each other and it's a well known fact that a fellow had rather beat his friend on the field of conquest than his enemy.

It's going to take a super team to go through the Southwest Conference without a defeat. Even the 1939 Texas A&M team, the last undefeated, untied outfit, had its troubles. Southern Methodist came mighty close to beating the Aggies of that vintage.

That team arose from a humiliating defeat to the national championship. In 1938 Texas Christian whipped the Aggies 34-6. Back on Oct. 17 when TCU beat A&M 30-6 the boys in the press box were searching the records to see if the Frogs ever had licked the Aggies by a more one-sided margin. They found that 1938 result and reminded Homer Norton, who was the Aggie champion, "Yes," said Norton that team became the champion.

The court overruled a district court decision that will be executed by Charles L. Stringer of Gillette in 1952 and 1954 were invalid because they were carbon copies, although duly signed and witnessed.

To Rate With Girls, Give Christmas Pearls

PEARL PARADE. . . All sizes of pearls, star in this year's lineup, from the delicate seed pearl necklace to the jumbo size.

JADE CONTRAST. . Pearls are used in combination with other jewels this year, as in this pearl-and-jade choker and bracelet.

Any kind of jewelry is all right for Christmas — just so it's pearls.

That's the word from the jewelry industry, whose members say they've never seen a season when pearls of all kinds, shapes and sizes, big and little, real and fake, have been in such demand.

Perhaps it's because this is a season when femininity and elegance have reached an all-time high — and pearls always have been favorites with great ladies, starting with Cleopatra, who not only wore them but is said to have swallowed them.

For Christmas giving and wearing, pearls are appearing in new sizes, shapes, finishes and colors, in new combinations and dramatic designs. Colored pearls are important in the holiday picture, ranging from fabulous cultured or oriental black pearls to costume pearls in tones of sable, smoke, jade, sapphire, burgundy, amber and gold. Often two or more shades of a color are blended for an effect of color gradation that is subtle and effective.

There are new finishes for costume pearls that would astonish an oyster. They range from a simulated cultured pearl finish to a dazzling white. Some pearls have a dull metallic gleam, and others a silky sheen.

As to sizes, you may choose anything from tiny seed pearls

BLACK PEARLS. . These are rare and priceless oriental black pearls, used in a necklace that looks modest but costs more than mink.

HIGH-RISE NECKLACE. . . A new version of the pearl dog-collar is popular this season. These are combined with gay aurora crystals.

in multiple strands to jumbo pearls the size of marbles. There are many shapes, also — round, oval or flat.

Necklaces run the full gamut, from choker collars to long ropes. Sometimes pearls are paired with other gems or with gold or silver for a new look. Sparkling cut crystals combines with pearls with dramatic effect, as to jade, turquoise, emeralds or rubies, real or simulated.

Johnny Hucks of Littlefield captured the Littlefield Press' final football contest of the year last week by guessing 14 of the 15 games on the card.

Hucks missed only the SMU - Baylor game. He picked Levelland to beat Littlefield, 20-16, a game which most contestants missed. The final score was Levelland 30, Littlefield 15.

Second place in the last contest went to Buddy Duggan, of Littlefield, who missed Kentucky's defeat of Tennessee and the Wildcat-Lobo game. He picked a 14-14 tie on Littlefield - Levelland.

Third spot went to Bennett Hutchinson of Sudan, who missed the Kansas - Missouri tilt, the Ken-

Plains Cotton Ginning Over Million-Bale Mark

The Texas High Plains' gigantic cotton harvest surged past the one million bale-mark during the third week of November and is moving toward the predicted estimated total production of 1,228,000 bales, which would be the second largest crop in history for high plains farmers.

W. K. Palmer, head of the USDA's cotton classing office in Lubbock, reported Nov. 21 that classings were approximately 1,150,000 bales at the three High Plains offices, Lubbock, Lamesa and Brownfield.

Stripping operations are in full swing throughout the Plains area and farmers in the southern portion are finishing with harvest operations.

G. W. Pfeifferberger, executive vice president of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., released quality statistics on the Plains crop in the PCG's fourth cotton quality report, Nov. 21, which showed a slight improvement in staple length and fiber strength over the third report, issued earlier.

Pfeifferberger pointed out white cotton accounted for about 68 per cent of the crop, representing 911,000 bales as of this report, with 46 per cent being middling white and above. Light spotted cotton totaled only 30 per cent and 27 1/2 percent of that was middling light spot and above. Full spots averaged less than 0.1 per cent. Average staple length is 31.1-32

Porter Quit Farming to Become Mr. Fix-it

ELAND BOYD

Years ago doctors told Porter to quit doing any farming at all. He didn't have any idea for a livelihood after that.

A good patient, he quit plowing and began to do something to get balanced.

After a couple of years he didn't know what he was looking for. He was looking for something that involved his mind.

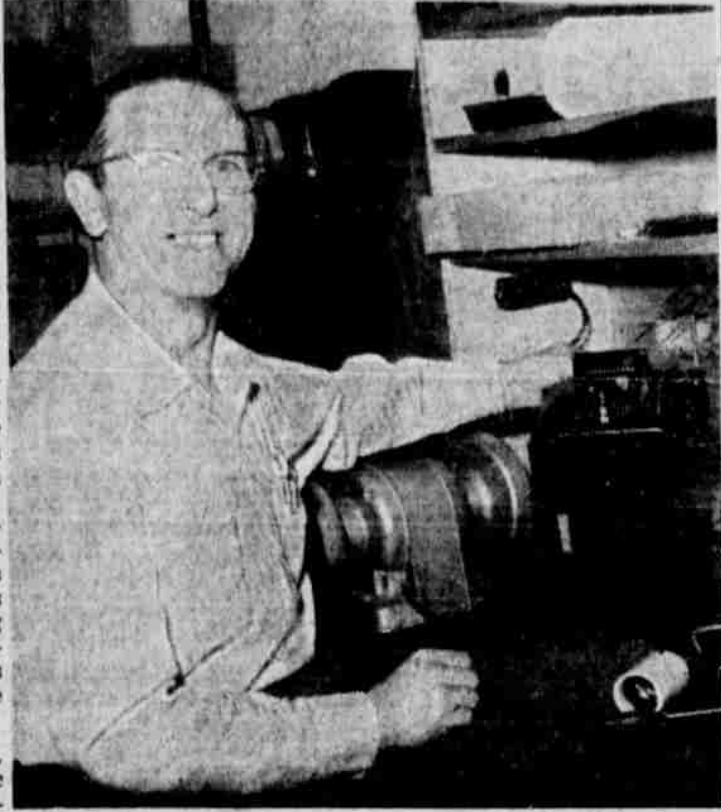

He found it, and is today the only exclusive repairman in Littlefield. He has now for four years been "Mr. Fix-it" at Pat's Record Center.

When he was out in a shop in Conover, he repaired radios and TV sets. His shop is at Pat's Record Center. Gradually he has made the working of small appliances and repairs all sorts of items around the town.

When he was out in a shop, he repaired toasters, electric irons, small motors, coffee makers, electric fence cleaners, motors, lamps, clippers, and other items.

He does the repair work on a pleasant, clean workbench. He started in the business those four years ago. He admits that he hadn't been working like that for a long time.

He says about his job, "There's not a lot of money in it, but a fellow can kinda get by." Porter isn't the only man in Littlefield who repairs small appliances, but he is the only one who

of the working parts, he says. Repairing small appliances would be a lot easier if manufacturers would standardize a little bit, Porter says. There are countless variations of every small appliance on the market, each built differently, and each time an appliance is brought in - likely I've never worked on that particular one before.

Porter's most unusual job was to repair an electric chime clock. The motor of the clock wouldn't run, and the chimes wouldn't chime correctly.

"It took quite a while to fix it, but I think I could do it again if I got similar one," Porter says. Porter was raised in Illinois on a farm and moved to Texas 36 years ago. He has lived in Lamb County for the past 23 years. He and his wife live near Bainer and have three children, all of whom are grown and living elsewhere.

He says about his job, "There's not a lot of money in it, but a fellow can kinda get by." Porter isn't the only man in Littlefield who repairs small appliances, but he is the only one who devotes his business entirely to that. His work is in great demand because of the large number of small appliances that people have nowadays.

And the appliance can usually be repaired whenever they won't work, Porter says.

Rubottom Helps Guide U.S. Relations with Countries in Latin America

TEX EASLEY Special Service (AP) — This special relations with are shaped and by a Texan who diplomatic service a in Spring Valley, an attractive wooded residential area in Northwest Washington.

Both he and his wife are leaders in the Sunday School of Metropolitan Memorial Methodist Church.

Two of the children, Eleanor Ann, 16, and Frank Richard (Rick), 14, are leaders in the Methodist youth fellowship. The third child is John William, 9.

A State Department associate of Rubottom, alluding to this aspect of his life said: "He is a real Christian gentleman. He carries this same approach to life into policy decisions."

Elaborating, he referred to the pending troubled relations with Cuba. Pressure has been exerted from various quarters to retaliate against Castro by hitting Cuba's vital sugar industry. The U.S. - Cuban sugar agreement expires at the end of the year.

Some propose that the present price advantage given Cuba on exports to this country be eliminated. Rubottom reportedly has resisted these suggestions on grounds such action would impair a real economic hardship on the Cuban people that they should

Sandhills Philosopher

He Wants Local Merchants To Treat Him Like TV Star

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm won't get anywhere with his idea this week, but we don't guess you can blame him for trying.

Dear editor: The more I learn about behind-the-scenes activities of television the more I'm convinced the industry is being run by human beings.

For example, one of the latest wrinkles uncovered by a Congressional investigating committee involves side-payoffs for small favors.

Like this: if a comedian can work in the mention of some product, the manufacturer will send him a free sample. Say he's being sponsored by a car manufacturer, well, of course he gets paid his regular salary for mentioning that, but if he mentions perfume, the perfume makers will send him a generous sample. If he mentions soda water, the same thing happens. Or refrigerators or hair dressing or stoves or tooth paste or shoes or razor blades or what not.

Well, a lot of people are outraged at this and I am too, but not for the same reason. The reason I'm outraged is that I mention articles all the time in these letters to you, and does any store ever send me any free samples?

I figure there must be a possible reading audience in The Lamb County Leader of at least 15,000 people, and if Littlefield merchants were on their toes like the big-shot manufacturers they'd be flooding me with gifts. But what happens? Nothing. Why I've been mentioning the name of your paper off and on nearly every week, and you haven't even been alert enough to send me a free subscription. Why don't you and the rest of the business people in this area get up on the national level and fight this television scandal by smothering me with gifts: It's getting monotonous, having Congress spend all its investigating energies on New York and Hollywood and completely ignoring us folks in Lamb County.

In this letter alone I've mentioned a good many items I could use and will be glad to mention more in the future. What are you hung on?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

WEED MENACES OYSTERS NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP) — A weed that grows from the bottom of waters and mats at the surface is becoming a menace to oysters in Chesapeake Bay.

The plant, a foreign species of water milfoil, was first noticed in the Potomac River near Washington. Scientists say they don't know how it got into regional waters.

Group Seeks Abolition Of Poll Tax

Five top leaders of the Democratic Party in Texas have buried their differences in an effort to seek abolition of the poll tax as a requirement for voting in Texas. They are Senators Lyndon Johnson, Ralph Yarborough, and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, Democratic National Committee Members Mrs. R. D. Randolph and Byron Skelton, all serving as co-sponsors of the drive.

The poll tax, a requirement for voting since 1902, is thus under the heaviest attack in its history. The Democratic wheelhorses, frequently at odds on other issues, constitute a formidable coalition against the poll tax. Texas is one of only five states still clinging to what is regarded by many as an infringement on voters' rights.

Walter G. Hall, Dickinson banker, Democrats of Texas Clubs member and longtime supporter of both Senators Yarborough and Johnson, heads up the drive as state organizer. The two US Senators and Rayburn, plus Mrs. Randolph and Skelton, are state co-sponsors. Hall's working committee is composed of Mrs. Jean Lee and Fagan Dickson of Austin, and Richard Seinfeld of Houston.

The method the committee and its sponsors are using to achieve abolition is the time-honored petition method. Texas law states that if 10 per cent of the voters in the last preceding party primary sign petitions in favor of specific legislation, the issue must then be placed on that party's next primary ballot for a referendum.

The world would keep right on turning without the thousands of ceramic ashtrays and miniature ships in bottles that hobbyists create. But unless they steal time or money that is needed elsewhere, hobbies provide an outlet that relieves monotony and gives a sense of accomplishment.

The woman who spends a tidy sum each Christmas season decorating artificial fruit with sequins must seem ridiculous to any man. She pays a lot for the dummy fruit, then covers it with another expensive material - to look like something it isn't! Luckily her husband takes pride in the novelty of her idea and encourages it. Crouching for hours in pre-dawn chilliness to kill a duck can look silly to a woman, too, if she doesn't hunt.

Not long ago we met, for the first time, two husbands whose wives have "gone far" in duplicate bridge. If you've never been indoctrinated with the importance (to the players) of duplicate, you may not know it's almost a dedication. These nice guys, one a banker who likes to fish and the other a cotton man who wouldn't know a dummy. Their wives' names and hitting the women received under the crowd's acclaim. For a truly happy hobby is silly!

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

At this time of year, many landlords and tenants are thinking about farm rental arrangements for 1960. While some operate from year to year on the basis of verbal agreements regulated largely by local customs, written leases are better and may save disagreement and hard feelings between the parties.

Farming is a business and should be conducted in a businesslike manner for best success. Rental contracts involve a full year's work by the tenant and possibly thousands of dollars for both parties. A few dollars spent on a properly drawn lease is good business economy.

A farm lease is not a simple paper. Printed lease forms often turn out to be traps if not understood, or if not properly executed. A farmer-tenant contract is intricate and of such importance to both parties concerned that amateur draftsmanship is risky. Fixing of cash rent or designating the length of term are relatively simple. Yet, even in these matters, ambiguity or incompleteness can cause bitter disputes and expensive lawsuits.

A loosely drawn property description may have consequences entirely unintended by either landlord or tenant. Where rent is to be based on acreage, an accurate description is doubly important. In addition, there are legal rules to substitute for some omissions in written leases. For example, a holdover by the tenant may automatically renew the contract if the lease is silent on the subject. It is as important to know the results of omissions as to know the courts' interpretation of the language used.

There are many matters which should be covered by a properly drawn lease. For instance, if a tenant is to farm on a share basis, care should be taken to define what expenses are to be paid by the parties as well as what shares are to be taken out. A lease should cover such things as who is to make repairs, what land is to be cropped, whether the tenant can cut timber, whether loss of a building by fire or other cause frees the tenant, or whether the landlord must accept a sub-tenant.

One great cause of difficulty with leases is blind faith on the part of the persons involved that all differences of opinion can be worked out. Poor memories as to verbal agreements can cause disputes between persons even though they are both honest and generous.

Many of the possibilities that should be covered by a properly drawn lease will not occur to inexperienced persons. The renting of land deserves a written contract and it is a contract too important to be entrusted to anyone other than an expert.

About Your Health

A San Antonio firm exposes automobile piston rings to a radioactive isotope. Later, ring wear is calculated by measuring radioactivity in the engine oil.

In Houston a commercial art firm does original sketches with radioactive inks. Then, by pressing the drawing against photographic paper, they get a finely detailed copy truer than a photographic print, cheaper and more precise than lithography.

Texas industries are using isotopes to measure life expectancy of cutting tools. Botanists are checking amounts of phosphate absorbed by growing plants. Physicians use isotopes to destroy tumors and to locate other body abnormalities.

All of which indicates that radioactivity has grown right out of the pages of science fiction into everyday life, putting the State Department of Health up to its figurative ears in the business of keeping tabs on radioactivity's phenomenal growth as an industrial and medical tool.

The Department, as part of the tedious task of registering all radiation-producing devices used in Texas, has files on more than 4,000 users, from mammoth industrial concerns to private individuals. Files have accumulated since 1956 when regulations were adopted to cope with the snowballing use of radiation equipment.

Most names in the file are physicians and dentists who use x-ray and fluoroscopic devices. Any Texas doctor can request an equipment survey for radiation hazards. Departmental engineers will check it out from anode to x-ray.

Four nuclear reactors are operating in Texas now, and two more are under construction. Convain in Fort Worth operates two, and A and M College and Rice Institute operate one each. A and M is constructing another one, and one is being set up on Texas Tech campus in Lubbock. All are subject to Board of Health regulations.

It takes more than whim to get an isotope license. First the Atomic Energy Commission must be convinced the risk is good. Some 400 AEC licenses for isotopes alone have been issued in Texas to date. Then the operation must be registered with State Health Department occupational health engineers and periodically inspected by them. If isotopes are lost, spilled or otherwise mishandled, details of the incident must immediately be reported.

The Atomic Age has brought boom business for health department engineers. And it will get busier as things progress. (A weekly feature of the Health Education Division, State Health Department.)

Amherst Student Participating In Ag Judging

LUBBOCK — Four Texas Tech agronomy students — loaded with information about plants and crop diseases — are competing in national and international collegiate crop judging contests this week.

Representing Tech at the National Intercollegiate Crop Judging Contest in Kansas City, Mo., Tuesday was Mike D. McDonald, agronomy senior from Lubbock; Eugene Coleman, agronomy senior from Amherst; Dean Edwards, agronomy senior from Lubbock; and Glenn Robison, agronomy senior from Hereford. Cecil Ayres, Tech associate professor of agronomy, is the team coach.

Saturday, the team will participate in the International Intercollegiate Crop Judging Contest in Chicago.

Winners of these contests must be able to compile the greatest number of points in identifying more than 300 crops or plant diseases, said Dr. A. W. Young, professor and head of the Tech agronomy department. He is also a judge in the Kansas City meet.

"In addition to knowing the crops, they must be able to give the scientific name of seed or plant material that may be shown to them," he pointed out.

The second stage of the contest also includes commercial grading of grain, hay and cotton that moves on the Federal market. They must be able to give the correct grade of grain, just as Federal inspectors do. When judging cotton, they must know the staple, length, and grade on sight, Young said.

Grains to be judged include wheat, corn, soybeans, oats, barley.

The third phase of the competition includes classification of seed on a commercial basis, with participants giving reasons why they graded certain samples above others.

Spade FFA-FHA Hold Meeting

The Spade FFA and FHA Chapters held a joint program last Friday. The eighth grade students were special guests.

The program, "A Tenderfoot in Europe," was a part of the study of world agriculture in FFA and to promote good will through getting to know neighbors at home and abroad — a goal of FFA.

The film showed agriculture and life in Europe as seen by "Cotton John" Smith and his tour group made up mostly of West Texas farm and ranch men and women.

Jim Mouser is president of the Spade FFA and Sandy Gray is president of the Spade FHA Chapter.

Neighbors Help Spruill Family

SUDAN — Friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Spruill of four miles southwest of here gathered at the Spruill farm Monday and harvested the Spruill cotton crop.

Twenty machines were used on about 150 acres. The cotton was hauled to the Beck Gin.

The neighborly act was prompted by the prolonged illness of Mrs. Spruill. Members of Mrs. Spruill's Sunday School Class, the T.E.L. class of the First Baptist Church of Sudan, served the meals.

Flax, once a staple crop, is no longer grown commercially in Northern Ireland.

American firms have about 800 million dollars invested in Mexico.
