The Secret Heart' With Claudette Colbert Coming To Palace Theatre Sunday

One of the most powerful and un-dramatic triangles to reach the screen in some time is to be presented at the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday, May 4 and 5. "The Secret Heart," with Claudette Colbert, Walter Pidgeon and June Allyson the stars in a conflict that holds the spectator arrested from opening reel to final fadeout.

The memory of a girl's father is the strange "rival" in the engrossing narrative of "The Secret Heart."
Miss Allyson, playing Claudette Colbert's neurotic step-daughter, is estranged from her family because she has been spared the truth of the fact that her father killed himself because of dishonor. Instead, she believes his death to have been caused by her step-mother, a distortion which dis-colors her life to the point where she eventually attempts suicide. It is Walter Pidgeon, the man whom Miss Colbert has turfed down in order to devote her life to the upbringing of her step-children, who precipitates the final climax in Miss Allyson's emotional mixup and who is able finally to clear up the girl's distorted viewpoint.

Both Claudette Colbert and Miss Allyson give performances in this gripping picture that will merit the attention of the next Academy Award judges. Miss Colbert's portrayal of the misunderstood stepmother has tenderness, a glowing warmth and complete credibility, while Miss Allyson reveals a new depth as the tragic young heroine.
Pidgeon is excellent as the man whom both mother and daughter come to love, and other forthright portrayals are offered by Lionel Barrymore as the understanding psychiatrist; Robert Sterlin, Marshall Thompson, Elizabeth Patterson, Richard Derr and Patricia Medina.

Robert Z. Leonard has given the best of his directorial talent to the unfolding of "The Secret Heart." A thoughtful, mature and compelling drama, it will stand out as one of the year's more rewarding screen experiences.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Aldridge of Fieldton were in Littlefield Saturday on business and visiting friends.

Rodeo Boosters Return to City

Littlefield's rodeo boosters returned to Littlefield Sunday from a two weeks' tour of several states, with Florida as their destination point, advertising Lamb County's second annual rodeo for August 1, 2 and 3.

Those making this trip were: G. M.
Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Van Clark, and Mrs. Nelle Wayne Becker.

Mr. Shaw reported that the weather was very nice, both going and coming, adding that it would rain some for a short distance, and then would be fair, and that the trip was enjoyed very much by all the party.

He reported that the recent freeze hurt the fruit some.

Among the places of interest visited by the local party in Florida was Bock's Tower, which is 205 feet high and has chimes which are played each day at noon. They also visited places of interest in New Orleans.

They were accompanied to Littlefield by Mrs. Shaw and Miss Myrtle Shaw. Mrs. Shaw had been visiting her daughter at Jacksonville, Fla., where she is employed in a secretarial capacity, and where she recently underwent an appendicitis operation. Miss Shaw is now on a six weeks' sick leave, and will spend the greater part of this time in Littlefield.

The local group, dressed in Western attire, visited Rotary clubs in various cities, and advertised the local rodeo in a big way.

(Continued from Page 1, First Sec.) 350-acre tract of land owned by Mr. Reed, by Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Palmer, who reside on the farm. The farm is leased by Martin Palmer Jr., who lives three miles north of Littlefield. The Palmers are employed by Palmer.

Tech wants to fit the bones together and place the skeleton in West Texas Museum, on Tech campus—especially since the state of preservation is so remarkably evident that Tech officials described it as "possibly the finest preserved of its type ever found in Texas."

Tech Saturday afternoon filed suit for title and possession of the skeleton, and Judge Dan Blair of the 72nd judicial district issued a temporary restraining order enjoining those who found the bones and took custody of them from removing their find from the jurisdiction of the court. He appointed a receiver and instructed him under bond to lodge the skeleton for safety until further orders of the court.

A hearing has been ordered for May 6 at Levelland, when defendants Stanley Palmer, 21; his father, F. M. Palmer; and J. L. Miller are ordered to come into court and show cause why a temporary injunction should not be issued to enjoin them from further disputing the alleged right of Texas Tech to recover the remarkably preserved skeleton for placing in the museum, which is on Tech campus. Judge Blair signed the order Saturday afternoon, set injunction bond of $1,500 and, appointing Bob Hester, Levelland banker, as receiver, set receiver's bond at $1,000. All bonds were quickly posted, and Harper Brown, Hockley county district clerk, was ordered to issue a citation, which was served Sunday by Hockley County Sheriff Guy Swain.

The Lubbock law firm of Crenshaw, Dupree, Milam and Crenshaw was employed to represent the college. C. C. Crenshaw Sr., who filed the application for the injunction with the court, said all available immediate study had failed to disclose a similar suit, either in the English common law, the law of France and Spain, or the statutes of the various states of this country.

'The Teachers' Crisis' to Be Featured At Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday

The latest March of Time, "The Teachers' Crisis," will be featured at the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday, both matinee and night.

Fully one hundred thousand U. S. school children today are without teachers. The March of Time has uncovered some shocking facts which help to explain why some good teachers must eke out their earnings tending bar or following some other profession outside teaching.

This dynamic film, "The Teachers' Crisis," has deliberately selected for presentation some of the most dramatic facts about the teacher shortage. Almost half of all the U. S. teachers have left their jobs in the last seven years. Not enough new teachers are being graduated to fill even a third of today's teaching needs.

The teachers' crisis highlighted by a nation-wide wave of strikes, hits directly at the foundation of our form of government, for democracy can function only when its citizens are prepared by education from childhood for the responsibilities of citizenship.

With U. S. education today facing its gravest crisis in history, organizations like the National Education Association and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce are striving valiantly to awaken the nation to the need for more teachers. Famed stars of the radio, like Henry Morgan, are aiding the teachers' cause.

A high point in the film is the appeal of Harvid University President James B. Conant for better schools.

"The Teachers' Crisis" has ably dramatized one of the most critical emergencies which our nation faces today. Don't fail to see this vital film at your local theatre.

Strawberries—Good Source Of Vitamin C

If Vitamin C is lacking in your diet, now's the time to get a fresh supply, for with strawberry season almost upon us USDA plant scientists say that a generous serving of fresh strawberries will, on the average, supply the daily quota. Of course, the amount of Vitamin C in berries depends upon the variety and the weather conditions under which they are grown. The same bright sunlight, moderately warm days and cool nights which produce the best flavor in any variety of strawberries also produce the highest scorbic acid or Vitamin C content.

Miss Gwendolyne Jones, Extension food preservation specialist, points out that some varieties have more Vitamin C content than others. But the average for all varieties have more than 60 milligrams for each ordinary serving, and the recommended daily intake of ascorbic acid is 75 milligrams.

There is no marked difference in ascorbic acid content of berries picked early in the season and those picked near the season's end, says Miss Jones. However, she states that it pays in Vitamin C to let picked half-red berries ripen before serving. Better still, allow the berries to ripen on the plant before picking.

Use Cream In Your Coffee

If you want to do yourself a favor, put cream in your coffee.

Because the cream will give you a 40 per cent better chance of avoiding coffee-induced ulcers.

"Research has shown," declares the National Dairy Council, "that cream is good for you. But the value of putting cream in coffee is one of those mighty important little things that many men and women ignore, or forget, or don't know about.

"Yet thousands and thousands of adults are worried about ulcers or are trying to get rid of them.

"So here's a simple little thing that you can do, if you are a coffee drinker, that might add greatly to your health and happiness: use cream in your coffee.

"It works this way: The caffeine provokes an unusually heavy and prolonged flow of digestive juices. That heavy flow may contribute to the tendency to ulcers, or may aggravate an existing ulcer. But add cream to the coffee and the cream reduces by 40 per cent the flow of digestive juices that is caused by caffeine.

"So, to safeguard your health, use cream in your coffee."

Poems By Fourth Grade Pupils

IF I WERE A FAIRY
If I were a fairy,
I'd like to dwell
In the yellowest
Buttercup in the dell.

I'd awaken the bluebells
In the early morn;
Their chimes would ring forth
Like a silvery horn.

I'd dance with the daisies
Till night time was near,
Then dine upon nectar
So sweet and so clear.

When night time was here
I'd climb aboard a fairy dream boat
And away to Dreamland I'd float.

LITTLE WILLIE
Willie fell down the elevator—
Wasn't found till six days later;
Then all the neighbors cried: "Gee whizz!"
What a spoiled child Willie is!

Willie fell on the railroad track—
Burst his seat with a carpet tack.
They took him to the hospital;
Poor Willie couldn't play his fiddle.

Willie fell down into a well—
Was found two days later by a snail,
Poor Willie had lots of troubles,
Because all of his gum was bubbles.

VACUUM SWEEPER
A sniff, a sort,
As he goes about;
He just breathes in—
He can't breathe out.

With hidden teeth he jerks and tugs
Like a growling pup at the fringe on rugs—
A whirr, a buzz,
Then a steady stop.

Our vacuum hums
In a monotone.
He's all puffed up—not a bit like us,
Because he's just a bag of wind.

Government surplus coal helped fill in the gap in mine holiday production in North Texas. Ten thousand tons of bituminous coal were sold to a large distributor through the Grand Prairie regional office of War Assets Administration. The coal had been stored at Camp Maxey, Paris, Texas, and the sale closes out the last supply of this fuel at that camp.

Miss Ethel Shattuck and Elmo Campbell Are Wed at Olton

Candlelight and soft music formed an impressive setting for the marriage of Miss Ethel Shattuck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Shattuck, of Olton, to Elmo Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Campbell, of Littlefield. Rev. Joe Woods, pastor at Anton, read the double-ring service Friday, April 18, in the home of the bride's parents.

During the ceremony music selections were played by Miss Pauline Fisher, niece of the bride. Arrangements of baskets of flowers, flanked by candelabra bearing lighted tapers, decorated the room. Miss Opal Nixon, roommate of the bride, was maid of honor, and Morris Bush was best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a powder blue dress. For something old she wore her grandmother's wedding band.

Members of the immediate families and intimate friends were guests. Mrs. Campbell was graduated from Olton High school and Draughon's Business College at Lubbock. She is now employed by the Lubbock Lions Club.

Mr. Campbell spent five years in the Army, and is now employed by Wood Printing Company in Lubbock.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home.

Mrs. Earl Shattuck presided at the punch bowl and Miss Ethel Norris cut the four-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature wedding and groom. Miss Sue Campbell and Miss Floy May Nixon served.

The couple will be at home in Lubbock.

Jean Watson To Appear With Lubbock Symphony Orchestra

Jean Watson, who appeared as star with the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra on April 29, came to the United States after many engagements in Canada with leading orchestras, on national radio broadcasts and in concert. Her four New York recitals have won the critics' rave reviews quite commensurate with her great talent. Concert tours, coast-to-coast in America and Canada, have made famous the artistry of this young woman's radiant personality and her vocal talent.

JEAN WATSON

Although she comes from a family in which almost all the members are musically inclined, Miss Watson is the one to make a career of the music. Her mother has absolute musical ability. Her brothers and sisters are also musicians. Her father has been the leader of the local male quartet group for many years. It was he who taught Miss Watson to read music before she could read the alphabet. Little did he know then that his daughter's voice would range over two octaves with a rarely equaled soprano contralto splendor. Never, after several years of study at the Toronto Conservatory of Music, did Jean Watson's glorious singing compare with Canada's outstanding sopranos. She has been engaged and re-engaged as soloist with orchestras under the baton of the world's great conductors—Serge Koussevitzky, Eugene Ormandy, Bruno Walter, Eusebio Dusek. Demanded again and wherever she sings, for three successive years she has appeared with the New York Philharmonic Symphony under the baton of Bruno Walter for a total of ten performances. She has been soloist four times for music festivals in Cleveland, three times in Chattanooga and Cincinnati, and twice in Worcester and Ann Arbor.

During World War II, Jean gave most of her free time to war work. Her favorite ornament is a jewel of brilliant set in the shape of a maple leaf. This pin, a replica of the diamond leaf presented to Queen Elizabeth by Canada, was given to Miss Watson by the New York chapter of the Maple Leaf Club after she sang a sold-out benefit for them at Town Hall. And she has the added pleasure of knowing that the funds raised by this benefit alone enabled the organization to open a new recreation room at the Maple Leaf Canteen for service men.

In short, Jean Watson is that rare phenomenon—a warm, human person, a beautiful young woman with a slim figure and sultry glamor, and a great contralto voice.

C. R. MONTGOMERY CIRCUS, COMING HERE, FEATURES GIANT MENAGERIE

ROYAL BENGAL TIGERS . . . These two are but a fraction of the dozens of rare wild beasts which are to be seen in the mammoth menagerie of the C. R. Montgomery Wild Animal Circus.

More can be learned from actual inspection of animals in an up-to-date zoo in one hour than can be gleaned from weeks, or perhaps months of study in books.

The largest menageries carried by any show in America is to be seen with C. R. Montgomery Wild Animal Circus, which comes to Littlefield, Tuesday, May 6.

The circus menageries, which is opened a full hour before the regular performance, gives youngsters a chance to observe a variety of wild animals at close range. Especially appealing is the nursery department, where a number of animal babies may be seen along with their elders.

Babylon, said to be the largest elephant on exhibition in America, is always a delighted source of amazement to the kiddies, while in the clever tricks of pert little ponies, dogs and monkeys, and even mules, they can picture their own animal pets.

The acrobatic and aerial performers with the C. R. Montgomery wild animal circus are clean cut, fine appearing athletic champions whose excellent physiques and demonstrations of skill and courage are an inspiration to any boy or girl who wants to grow up strong and healthy.

Nor let the clowns be overlooked. Children are as fond of these chalk-faced, red-nosed, big-footed merry makers as they are of their favorite comic strip characters.

Parents find the C. R. Montgomery Circus particularly worth while for children because of the complete absence from its premises of any gambling games or undesirable exhibitions sometimes associated with itinerant amusement enterprises. Two complete performances will be given here, at 2 and 8 p.m.

World War II veterans will get a chance to buy 534 government surplus trailers and trucks at the Red River Arsenal, Texarkana, May 8. Veterans will determine their own order of purchasing by a drawing following registration at the sales site. No advantage will be gained by arriving in advance of the sales date. WAA officials pointed out. All of the vehicles will be sold individually to both veteran and other buyers on a fixed price basis.

Newton Loses Appeals Plea

A two-year conviction given Dr. W. R. Newton of Cameron on a charge of assault to murder Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield on May 21, 1942, was affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals Wednesday of last week.

The conviction was the second after three trials for Dr. Newton. The first trial gave him a seven-year sentence, but the Court of Criminal Appeals remanded the case for a new trial. The jury failed to reach a verdict on the second trial.

The shooting occurred on a road near Littlefield about midnight as Dr. Hunt was approaching a car in which Mrs. Ruth Newton, wife of Dr. Newton was seated, court records showed.

The appeal court noted that testimony conflicted as to the whereabouts of Dr. Newton on the night of the shooting.

The appeal court's opinion held that it had been the responsibility of the trial court to decide the true facts. "Under the law we are bound thereby," the opinion stated.

Seventeen months after the shooting, the bodies of Dr. Hunt and his wife were found slashed and trussed in bed at their Littlefield home.

Jim Thomas, 51, ex-convict, was given a life sentence on conviction of murder in Dr. Hunt's death. His appeal has been set for submission May 28 in the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The first conviction of Dr. Newton, at Olton, was reversed on the ground that improper testimony had been admitted. A jury failed to reach a verdict in a retrial at Plainview. The conviction that was affirmed April 23 was trial at Tulia last October.

CORRECTION

In last week's Leader it was inadvertently reported that last rites for Timothy Warren Mauk, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Mauk, were conducted by Rev. C. A. Schulte, pastor of the St. Martin's Lutheran church. This should have read that funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. H. Riese, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church. The Leader is glad to make this correction.
