LITTLEFIELD, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1928

No. 42

CITY WOULD VOTE $40,000 PAVING BONDS AND $10,000 FOR WATERWORKS EXTENSION ELECTION BEING CALLED FOR MARCH SIXTH

In this issue of the Leader appears the official call for a bond election to be held in the City of Littlefield, March 6th, for the purpose of issuing bonds for paving the city's part of the expense in the paving of Main street. The sum amounts to $40,000. The election also calls for a vote in the issuance of $10,000 in bonds to be used in extending the city waterworks system.

In the first issue of $40,000 paving bonds, according to city officials, it is estimated that the taxpayers of the city will save from $2,500 to $3,000 over the warrant route of payment.

At the election held about two months ago it was voted to adopt the state improvement plan which gave city commissioners the authority to issue bonds for the city's part of any bonded project. It has been estimated by the city's engineer that the city's part of this proposed paving will amount to about $40,000. Warrants in this amount would sell from '96 to '98 of par value, while the bonds issued for this amount would sell for 102 of par value. It is stated that any contractor bidding on such a job of work, and knowing that he would have to take warrants in payment for his work would place his bid at from one to two thousand dollars higher than if cash is paid for the job through the sale of bonds. Thus in taking the bond route to meet the municipalities part of the expenditure the city would save about $1,600 which would otherwise be lost in the sale of warrants, plus $1,500 on the contractor's bid, besides about $800 premium for the sale of bonds, or total saving of approximately $3,900 by issuing bonds to cover the expenditure.

Commissioners after carefully considering the matter and consulting with competent engineers believe the issuance of bonds for this purpose would be the logical and more desirable way to handle the paving of the paving of $10,000 in bonds for the extension of the city waterworks. Commissioners have realized for some time that such extension was desirable because of the rapid increasing demand for water. It is thought that the same reason for issuing bonds rather than warrants will hold good in this case as in the paving of Main street. In either case the bonds will mean a saving to the taxpayer.

Officials state that more water flowing through the mains is an absolute necessity to meet the demands of the citizens, to give better fire protection, and will also mean the lowering of insurance rates. It is stated that the waterworks bonds will pay for themselves in a period of years through the operation of the department.

Plans for both projects have been carefully prepared by Julian Montgomery, civil engineer of Wichita Falls, who has also drawn the specifications and made estimates of costs. It is stated that these two bond issues will not materially effect the local tax rate, while on the other hand will in many instances mean an enhanced value to property.

ADVERTISING IN LEADER PAYS, SAYS MRS. WHITE

"Advertising in the Leader has certainly brought us good results," said Mrs. J. H. White, of the Happy Hill farm, four miles northeast of Littlefield.

For several weeks past Mr. and Mrs. White have been carrying a classified ad in the columns of this newspaper, during which time they have sold more than $400 worth of turkeys. They state they have had numerous inquiries from people stating they saw their ad in the Leader.

PENALTY PAYING ON AUTO LICENSE DRAWS CRITICISM

Considerable discussion is rife in Lamb county during the past two weeks relative to enforcement of the law regarding the payment of license on automobiles and trucks.

The law states that such shall be paid on the first day of January. However, considerable leeway has heretofore been granted by the State Highway department. In some counties the tax collector has permitted the payment of these license before January 1st, with the understanding that the plates, if placed on cars or trucks before that date, the owner would be subject to a fine the same as if he had no license plate on at all. Other collectors refused to issue any plates until January 1st. This year a ruling was made by the Department that grace would be allowed until January 20th, after which time a 25 per cent penalty would be added on all license issued after that date.

It is reported that in some counties the collectors have added and collected this penalty, while in others the tax collectors have refused to do so, claiming such ruling was unwarranted by the Department.

Citizens of Lamb county have indulged in much discussion as to the right of the Department to make any arbitrary ruling at all. It is claimed by some that the law requiring payment of auto and truck license on the first day of January is unconstitutional in the fact that it demands an impossibility for everyone to perform such an act.

It was stated by one citizen in Littlefield last week that if every auto and truck owner in Lamb county should appear before the tax collector at Olton on the first day of January, as required by law, the collector would be unable to issue the entire number of license without the employment of an exorbitant number of assistants, which would be unreasonable to expect. Granting such wholesale action on the part of the auto owning taxpayers and their failure to receive their current license and plates it is claimed they should not be subject to extra penalty.

On the other hand, it is claimed by others that the State highway department has no power to grant any extra days of grace in which to pay these auto and truck license, and where such is granted, even though the taxpayer fails to pay within the prescribed time allotted, he should still not be subject to the 25 per cent penalty.

One lawyer in Littlefield has expressed his opinion of the law as being faulty, and states he believes if a test case was carried through the courts the law in its present definite state would be found so at fault as to necessitate the amending of same in such a reasonable manner as to make it easier in its application and more equitable in its enforcement.

PARRISH EXPRESSES APPRECIATION FOR ENDORSEMENT GIVEN

Hon. Pink L. Parrish, candidate for State Senator, to succeed Hon. W. H. Bledsoe, in a letter this week directed to the Leader, expresses his appreciation of the endorsement given him for this important office last week.

This endorsement was given when 65 representative business men of this city heartily and unanimously expressed their favor in behalf of Mr. Parrish as the next senator from this district, and it was the further action of these citizens that he be so notified of their choice. In reply, Mr. Parrish' letter, directed to the editor of this newspaper, is as follows:

Lubbock, Texas, Jan. 27th, 1928, Mr. Jess Mitchell, Littlefield, Texas. Dear Sir and Friend:

I am in receipt of your nice letter in which you mention the endorsement of me for Senator. I can not find words to express my appreciation for this. Please thank each person for me, and especially remember me to the owner of the theatre who so generously offered the use of his house for speaking purposes.

Should I be elected to that position, I shall be at your service any time day or night. With kindest regards, I remain,

Yours very truly,
PINK L. PARRISH.

NEGRO ARRESTED FOR "PEEPING" CAME NEAR BEING VICTIM OF JUDGE LYNCH

Peeping in Littlefield is not a paying proposition. At least one negro would testify.

Saturday night a long slim Senegambian was detected peeping into the windows of at least two homes in Littlefield. The law was immediately notified, and, reaching out its strong and mighty arm, nabbed the said inquisitive black, placing him in the city bastille over night, where he had plenty of refreshing breezes to keep him cool while his mental reflector did full duty in recompense for his quizzical nature.

However, when the night watchman went to feed his dusky prisoner Monday morning he found him gone. Sometime during the night the padlock on the calaboose had been broken off with a crowbar and the peeper had been allowed to escape. But just when or how is still a mooted question. Judge Lynch is probably the only one in Littlefield who would give and relevant testimony, tho it is strongly intimated that there are several other citizens who have private information as to the modes operandi of his exit; but are not making it public.

At any rate, parties returning from Lubbock early Monday morning state they saw the "peeper" on the highway not far from Yellow House switch. He was without any shirt and his back was well covered with large bloody whelps where the knout had done full duty in repaying him for his inquisitive nature. The negro told the passers he was going back to East Texas and "shore nebber comin' out dis way any moce."

Sunday night the officers of Littlefield made a thorough round of all the negro quarters of the town giving them dire warning of what would happen should any more of their tribe be caught trespassing upon the private affairs of the white folks. No arrests were reported, and it is probable that the punishment administered to the "peeper" will be a lesson that other negroes of this section will heed for some time to come.

FARM BUREAU MEET HERE SATURDAY FOR ELECTION

A meeting of the members of the Farm Bureau, in Lamb county will be held in Littlefield Saturday, February 11th, according to J. T. Elms, president of the county board.

Mr. Elms states that the meeting is for the purpose of electing officers for the coming fiscal year, and to discuss any other problems that may come before the membership.

The meeting will be held in the basement of the Presbyterian church, beginning at 3:30 p. m., and all members in this county are urged to attend.

HOCKLEY COUNTY GETS TWO CARS FINE JERSEYS

As a result of the efforts of Alva E. Debnam, county farm demonstration agent, two carloads of registered Jersey dairy cattle were shipped into Hockley county last week, one being unloaded at Levelland and the other at Ropesville.

With the farmers now engaged in milk production, it is the plan to soon establish milk routes so that sweet cream may be sold, which brings from five to eight cents more per pound than the sour cream.

TEXAS GRAIN ASS'N BUILD ELEVATOR AT LEVELLAND

A company, comprising 80 stockholders, has been formed in Levelland, under direction of the Texas Grain Association, and will erect an elevator at that point.

It is stated that the new structure will be in readiness for use when the next wheat crop comes onto the market during the summer.

CITY PLANS TWO MORE WELLS AND A BIG RESERVOIR

With the recent increase of Littlefield's population it became some time ago a conclusion of the city officials that a larger water supply was eminent. During the past few weeks it has been about all the local plant could do to keep the town supplied, and many times the pressure in the tower has been much below normal.

This condition has also come about by the breaking down of one of the pumps at the city wells, throwing the burden of supply almost entirely upon one well. It is stated by City Secretary E. C. Cundiff that in making a change of gears on one of the city pumps, so as to reduce the speed and thereby obtain more power for pumping the water into the stand tank one of the gears was broken. Another well promptly ordered by telegraph, but owing to the fact that it had to be especially cut to fit the pump being used, had been delayed.

Mr. Cundiff also states that contract is being entered into by the City for the digging of two more water wells, and the erection of a reservoir of 150,000 gallon storage capacity. Connected to this reservoir will be two 500 gallon capacity pumps to be used for booster purposes in lifting the water into the elevated tank.

LUBBOCK, Jan. 31.—Officers of the Board of Regents, Texas Technological college, were elected at a recent meeting in Fort Worth.

Clifford B. Jones was re-elected president; R. E. Underwood, of Plainview, was re-elected vice-president; E. W. Province, business manager of the college, was re-elected secretary; and H. T. Kimbro, of Lubbock, treasurer. F. E. Clarity, recently appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of C. W. Meadows, of Waco, was formerly elected to the board.

Other members of the board are: J. W. Carpenter, of Dalhart; G. C. Comegys, of McKinney; Mrs. F. N. Drane, of Corsicana; E. O. Thompson, of Amarillo; and Houston Harte, of San Angelo.

G. M. Hines, of Demmit county, who purchased 177 acres of Yellow House land. He is now breaking out 100 acres to be planted to cotton next spring.

A. K. Ramsey, of Willbarger county, recently purchased 177 acres, and is now having 100 acres broken out for spring crop.

H. W. Ritter, from Oklahoma, bought 177 acres seven miles south of Littlefield. He bought the land for a home and will shortly start his improvements.

Henry T. Merrill, from Oklahoma, bought 177 acres about seven miles southwest of Littlefield. He is now putting up his buildings and will move his family onto the land within the next week or so.

C. T. Johnson, of Childress county, is another Yellow House land buyer, having bought 177 acres. His place is an improved tract located about four miles south of Littlefield. He stated in closing the deal that he was buying it for a home and would move onto it just as soon as he could.

John R. Killison, from Oklahoma, is another home investor in 177 acres of this choice farm land. His place lies a few miles south of Littlefield.

H. R. Trimble, from Collingsworth county is a recent investor in a 177 acre farmstead purchased from this company.

Still other buyers are M. W. Strother, L. L. Barton, A. J. Huit, J. W. Waters and J. W. Armstrong, all of whom are now making preparations to improve their farms as rapidly as possible.

In addition to the farm sales, Mr. Badger states that the demands for farms to rent is unprecedented in the history of this section of country. He declared that during the past 60 days he could have rented at least 100 more farms than he did rent could he have had them at his disposal.

From all sections of the middle and southeastern states Mr. Badger says there are hundreds of people who have their eyes on the South Plains country. Now that it has passed the experimental stage; now that its virtues of soil, climate, water, rainfall and production are fully established facts, folks are anxious to come here to live. During the past week Mr. Badger stated he had enquiries from Georgia, Mississippi, and several other southern and central-states from folks wanting to know in detail just how to obtain land in this fertile section of Texas.

Mr. Badger states his company still has a large number of first class farms which they are showing the prospectors every week, many of whom are either closing promptly or having reservations made for future purchases.

California wants to annex Nevada, but that would simply ruin Reno's leading industry.

NEWS FROM ANTON

Anton Wins in Tourney
Friday, Jan. 27, the Basketball squad of Anton High School boarded a school truck and set out for Slaton with a spirit which could have been exceeded only by that which Lindberg manifested when setting out upon his trans-atlantic voyage.

The cage tourney, which was an unofficial tournament, was scheduled to start at 2:30 on Friday, and at 2:15 the Anton squad came to a halt before the doors of the Slaton high school building. Many other teams were on the ground and everything seemed ripe for a successful tournament.

At 2:30 the coaches of the Group 1 schools drew for places on the play schedule. As fate would have it, the Anton boys drew the Shallowater squad. These two teams have been intense rivals since the beginning of the Anton school, and this gave them an opportunity to settle any grudge which one might perchance hold against the other.

They were to meet on a neutral court and the game was to be called by a neutral referee. At 3:00 p. m. the beginning whistle was heard and the two teams clashed with vim and vigor. The final whistle found the score 24-3 with the Anton warriors on the big end. The opponents afforded a heated and spirited combat but were not able to defend themselves against the onslaught of the purple and gold gang from Anton.

The winning of this game carried the boys from "the town with a purpose" into the semi-finals which were scheduled for Friday night. Saturday morning was set apart for the finals. Acuff and Monroe emerged as victors from the Friday night fray and these two teams and Anton were to meet in the finals on Saturday morning.

The beginning whistle Saturday morning found the Anton team defending themselves against the Red and Black squad from Monroe, a team with a class A reputation. The game was a flashy one from start to finish.

but the close came with the Monroe team resting on the big end of a 20-3 score. The purple and gold basketballers were unable to pierce the firm defense of their opponents.

Saturday night the Monroe squad defeated the Acuff team in the final game of Group 1. They were awarded a beautiful loving cup by the Slaton officials.

Friday night, at 8:00 o'clock, the Anton team attended a most interesting musical program presented by the Santa Fe Railway Co., in the High school auditorium. Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock, the gang left for the return trip happy that they had had the opportunity to make the trip.

Those who made the trip were: Lushel Mapp, Carter Belew, Wesley and Ralph Davis, Robert Askew, Edgar Roach, Clarence Matthews, Doyle Gilbert, E. J. Posey, Jack Grace and Coach C. S. Denham.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bryan attended a basketball game at Clovis, New Mexico, Friday night, between the Slaton & Clovis Santa Fe employees. The score was 35 to 29 in Slaton's favor.

Among the succulent roughages pasture and silage are of most importance. Dairy cows always do better in early summer when the grass is plentiful and green. Because of the nutriment and succulence that it provides, silage is the most economical winter substitute for pasture grass. Good cows will produce more and therefore cheaper milk if given silage or some other succulent feed during the winter.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Unstable as water, thou shalt not excel.—Gen. 49:4.
The greatest man is he who chooses right with the most invincible resolution.—Seneca.

IN FEBRUARY

Historians, lovers and those Littlefield citizens who like to tinker at weather forecasting are soon to have their inning. February, a day longer this year by reason of leap year, brings them their favorite days—Lincoln and Washington's birthdays for the historian; St. Valentine's day for the lovers and Groundhog Day for the weather sharks.

But the trouble with the latter element is they don't confine their tinkering to February 2—they just keep on making predictions through the year. And that's unfair to the groundhog, for he is on the job but one day in the year. Already we've bumped into one or two amateur forecasters who assure us that since we have escaped an old-fashioned winter we may look for a backward spring and unusually cool weather when we ought to be having summer. That seems to be a popular prediction, since for three years past weather sharks have been predicting "a year without a summer." Just how near they came to it, we'll leave you to decide.

Where the weather is concerned one man's guess is as good as another's. And Uncle Sam says that anyone who predicts further than 48 hours ahead is guessing at it. We take no stock ourselves in either the groundhog or the amateur forecasters. We prefer to believe that Old Mother Nature is still going to look after this thing herself, and we still feel sure that as long as she is on the job, and not leaving it to anybody or anything else we're going to come out all right.

There might not be so many triangular love affairs if there were more square meals.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

Several sensational murder cases and a few executions in this country have recently brought up the old argument as to whether or not capital punishment is right. We've heard it discussed by several Littlefield citizens, and we feel sure that, just as they differ in opinion so must the people of other sections disagree.

Newspaper dispatches state that an agitation has been started in both California and New York state for the abolition of capital punishment laws. That this agitation will spread to other states is certain. But what those leading the agitation would offer as a substitute is not announced. They are using as their strongest argument the statement of the warden of Sing Sing prison. He says he has examined 200 men before they went to the electric chair, and has seen 135 electrocutions, but that he has never found any indication that capital punishment has acted as a brake to check crime.

No one wants a murderer to escape unpunished, but there does seem to be a growing belief in this country that capital punishment is a relic of the past, and an act of barbarism.

Abolishing the pardoning power, so that nothing on earth could get a prisoner out once he had started serving a life sentence ought to prove an excellent substitute. And with the agitation against executions spreading like wildfire we wouldn't be surprised to see some state trying this method before this year comes to a close.

Maybe the unusual noises we hear around town now are caused by New Year's resolutions being broken.

JUST LOOSE TALK

Farmers are often accused of being grumblers and of everlastingly demanding special favors. We suppose such talk does no real harm. People who talk that way are mostly unfortunates who have never been able to get the upper hand of a habit of expressing views on subjects they know nothing about.

Still, it disgusts you, when you limp in from a hard day's work to read something like that, stuck into a daily paper between tidings of a slump in hog prices and cheaper wheat or cotton. You yearn to immerse the author if such remarks in a tar barrel and the contents of a featherbed.

We're all given to complaining too much. But those of us around Littlefield who know the farmer best know that he doesn't do any more of it than those in other lines of work who have to slay to make both ends meet. Let's lay the farmer grumbling joke and the mother-in-law joke away together and give them both a good long rest.

Our explanation of a large number of divorces is that the only reason a lot of girls get married is "because."

CATCHING COLDS

Enjoy the cold and keep healthy, advises Dr. Leonard Hill, noted English physician.

Most people believe colds come from drafts, wet shoes or from cutting their hair in winter. But the doctor noted that patients in an open air sanitarium, exposed to cold all the time, didn't catch cold. Other patients got their feet wet and do not change their hosiery all day, yet suffer no ill effects. Soldiers exposed in the trenches during the World War and sailors exposed on the North Sea to the most severe weather conditions were remarkably free from catarrhal complaints and pneumonia.

Hot, dry houses, lack of exercise and over-eating are what give people colds, says the doctor.

Littlefield residents are now approaching the most dangerous part of the year, as far as colds are concerned. Why not ask your family physician if the English doctor is right.

If he says that he is, then try warding off colds by getting more ventilation in the house.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

WORRIES

If we will carefully take stock of our worriments we will find that most of them are about things that do not matter. For a caption that would be suitable at the head of the list of rules I would suggest, "What Of It?" I suppose I had the best mother in the world. She is entitled to all of my respect and esteem because she patiently put up with me all through my childhood and cared for me until the day of her death. I can remember, however, that when I went away from home in my younger days she was always solicitous that I should wear clean underwear and stockings because she said that if there was to be a train wreck and my body was found, what would people think if they found out I had on dirty underwear, as though I should care about the state of my underwear when I was a corpse.

Much of the care and worry that mothers take is of the Martha kind, for Martha was "careful and troubled about many things."

Suppose the children do litter up the floor and pick the flowers in the garden and tramp into the house with muddy feet. Anybody who knows children expects that and if they don't know children they are out of luck.

It might be all right to see that your boys are washed clean behind the ears and that their finger nails are clean, but you should remember that while these things should not be left undone there are some more important things. It is important, for instance, that your children should always think of you pleasantly and gratefully. Your affection for your son counts more with him than your solicitude for his appearance.

It is well that the dandruff is brushed off your husband's coat collar and that his tie is right and his boots are polished, but if you do nothing else for him but call attention to these peccadillos by and by the idea will seep into his head that you are nagging. What he wants most of all is to keep his love and esteem for you and you ought to work at making yourself worthy of that much more than to work at how he will look to other people.

I do not mean to underrate the little attentions that should be bestowed upon those we love, but I emphasize the fact that these little things are of small importance compared with the greater matters of life.

On one occasion it was said by a wise man that the Pharisees paid tithes of mint, anise and cumin, but neglected the greater matters of the law. So we sometimes make mistakes of looking for flecks of dust when we should be admiring the landscape.

It is all a matter of proportion. The principal thing to learn in living is how to value things, how to be particular about the essentials and give small heed to the non-essentials.

A boy recently turned up at Catalina Island after having been lost for several days. His mother broke down and wept. He's safe," some one remarked. "I know," sobbed the mother, "but he has a dirty shirt on right here in front of all of these people."

A GOOD BAROMETER

It has gotten so in this country that prosperity depends very largely on the automobile. More than 20 big industries are dependent on the success of its activity. If auto production is down, so are these other industries. That means idleness and a scarcity of money.

This being true, we believe everyone around Littlefield will rejoice to learn that at a recent New York auto show the crowds were greater and more cars were sold than at any similar exhibition. The same rule is holding good in every city where auto shows have been held. This means that with the slash in prices by nearly all makers, 1928 is going to be one of the best industrial years in history, with a production of autos running above 4,000,000.

And when that many are made and sold one can safely wager it is going to be a good year in almost every line of business.

LITTLE LEADERS

Many of the old-time clinging vine type of women around Littlefield now have daughters who are ramblers.

Two of the worst pests in cold weather—a nose that runs all the time and a car that runs only part of the time.

One difference between the present and past generation in Littlefield is the past one believed in hiding both its sins and its shins.

We know some Littlefield folks who suffer from car distress, that is, it makes 'em sick to think a neighbor has a better car than they've got.

An Eastern doctor says that every human being should live to be at least 140 years old. Just think of some Littlefield folks feeling young at 100.

The reason they didn't have rear-view mirrors in the good old horse-and-buggy days around Littlefield is because there were no speed cops.

When we see immature Littlefield boys and girls driving a car without accident our faith in the wonders of providence is strengthened.

Littlefield boys have already counted the days until school is out and their daddies have figured how long it will be until they can dig a few fishing worms.

Most Littlefield folks could enjoy classical music over the radio if so many of the singers didn't sound as though they were hitting on one tonal.

A question in etiquette that hasn't yet been answered in Littlefield is whether the man or woman should go through the windshield first when they are in a head-on collision.

WHOLL WORK WITH HIS HANDS

The schools are turning out an unlimited number of bosses, managers, directors, superintendents, foremen, go-getters, also salesmen, bookkeepers, clerks, etc. Meanwhile there is a shortage of people who will take hold with their hands and do work calling for muscle.

This disparity will probably increase, judging by figures given out by the National Industrial Conference Board, which finds that the number of unskilled workers who returned to Europe since 1924, is three times as many as those who came thence to the United States. Perhaps many of these people were disappointed when they found they could not pick up gold in our streets.

The man with the hoe and the pick is needed. There is an equal demand for the one who can swing a carpenter's hammer, a bricklayer's trowel, or a house painter's brush. Many who practise these trades are driving shiny automobiles, while clerks and bookkeepers are walking.

Anyone should be glad to shake hands cordially with the man in overalls, and be glad to walk down town with him. The fellow who can mix paint so it will stick or who can fix the chimney so it won't smoke, has practical views of life. We can all learn from him.

We should pay high respect to the farmer. As an owner of land, he has a position of substantial dignity. When we give due social honors to

CULLING POULTRY

Mr. Farmer, are you making money out of your chickens? If you are not, why not?

If handled correctly, poultry makes a very profitable side-line for the average farmer. Of course, you realize that to make profit of any kind of live stock you must give it a reasonable amount of care and attention.

Ask yourself these questions, if your hens are not making you money:

Am I feeding my chickens the right kind of feed to give them the proper foods so that the hen can produce eggs?

Do I keep hens that have been bred up to lay eggs?

Have I taken those hens out of my flock that are only "boarders" and never lay an egg or think about laying an egg?

These are questions that the successful poultry man always asks himself. If you answer these honestly, you will probably know why you are not keeping chickens profitably. But, you say, "Well, I don't know if I am feeding my hens correctly, or I don't know how to cull the poor layers from my flock of hens."

Well, if you don't know how to do these things, here is where the Vocational Agriculture department of the high school can help you out. We will gladly come to your farm and cull your chickens for you and show you just how to cull those hens that do not lay. We'll just bet that you can take a bunch of hens out of your flock and you will get just as many eggs as you did before. Then what can you do with the hens that don't lay? We will help you on that, too. We will fix you out a ration for fattening hens, and if you keep them in a pen and feed them properly you soon will have a nice lot of fat hens to take to town and get a good cash price for.

Come on, Mr. Farmer, be like the man from California. Try anything once. If you will give us a trial, we believe we can convince you that we can help you, and if you will give "Old Biddie" a chance she will help put a few dollars in your pocketbook. Come up to the school and see us, or if you are too busy, give us a ring and we will come out and cull your flocks as soon as we can.

SHALL WE KNOW ONE ANOTHER IN HEAVEN? BAPTIST PASTOR SAYS "YES" IN RECENT SERMON HE DELIVERED IN LITTLEFIELD

Will we know one another? This question demand a yes or no, and I answer "yes." We will not be strangers in a strange land. Heaven will not be a place of ignorance. Paul declared: "For now we see through a glass darkly, but then face to face; now I know in part, but then I shall know even as I am fully known." Paul says we now see through a smoked glass. Did you ever smoke a glass and view the sun in eclipse? Then you can understand what Paul means. In this life which we now live he says we see all things through a dark glass—only in part—"but then" face to face, knowing as we are known. If we know our loved ones here with all the limitations about us, why shouldn't we know them in heaven?

In I Cor. 15:35 Paul says: But some will say how are the dead raised up and with what body do they come? Then he answers: "That which thou sowest is not quickened (made alive) except it die. And that which thou sowest thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may be of wheat or some other grain, but God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body."

The point he is touching is this: Wheat, when sown, can not come up unless the grain of wheat sown in the ground first decay and die. All of us can readily grasp that. Now, he says, neither can our bodies have life—new life—unless the old body die. Then from the grave, at the resurrection, comes new life.

Then he says: "That which thou sowest is not that body that shall be." Certainly not. You farmers shell red corn, plant it and gather red corn, but no one would dare say that the corn gathered is the same corn that was planted—it could not be, for that corn died in the ground. But the laws of nature, "kind of its kind," give the corn another body, or ear, so much like the one you planted until there is scarcely any visible difference.

So it is when we so these bodies of ours to the dust. Whenever we die, plant the body, praise God, we are through with it as far as the corruptible element is concerned, but in the resurrection hour God will give us

"another body as it pleaseth him. So much like this present body as to personality that no difference will be noticeable. That is what he meant when he said, "And every seed its own body." A new body that never tires, never gets sick, has no pain, sorrow nor knows not the pangs of death. "As it pleaseth him," and, beloved, if it pleases our Heavenly Father, it will most assuredly please us.

Then we will be enabled to sing that beautiful old hymn with its full meaning:

Out of my poverty into His wealth:
Out of my sickness into pure health:
Out of the false and into the true
Out of the old man, into the new

Again, Paul says in the same chapter, verse 41: "There is one glory of the sun, another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for one star differeth from another star in glory"—now notice that little word "so"—also, is the resurrection of the dead."

He says the sun has one glory, the moon another glory and the stars still another glory. Paul was not a scientist, but he declared that one star "differeth from another star in glory. No two are alike. Then, he adds: "So" also the resurrection." Therefore, in the resurrection all of us will differ as the stars of the heavens, each will have his own glory and his own personality.

In the ninth chapter of Mark's gospel is the record of Christ's transfiguration on Mount Hermit. You remember Peter, James and John accompanied him. "And there appeared unto them Elias with Moses; and they were talking with Jesus. 'Master, it is good for us to be here; and let us make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.'"

Now, here are the facts: Moses had been dead and in heaven over one thousand years before Peter was born. If he knew anything at all about him it was purely historical from the Old Testament study. But, in spite of that fact Peter knew Moses and Elias at sight and Jesus told who they were. You may take it for what it is worth, but I don't believe we will need any introduction to God's redeemed millions when we stand on the celestial shores of eternity.

POLICE!

Miss Helen Baker, who keeps the books ordinarily, becomes the whole police department of North Arlington, N. J., when the police force is called away at times. When she has police powers thrust upon her in emergencies, she does everything required of a cop, even to hauling in the town drunks, if any.

Pep Paragraphs

(By Red Pepper)

Mr. and Mrs. Chamption, of the Ellwood hospital, Lubbock, visited at the Allison home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Fortenberry are to be congratulated on the arrival to them last week of a baby boy born in Lubbock.

Joe Kloiber, of Rhineland, visited his father in Pep last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Jungman transacted business in Lubbock, Monday.

Walter Lupton Jr., injured his foot while playing basketball last week. Dr. Richardson, of Levelland, found on examining the injured member, that one of the bones was broken. Walter's suffering was more of a mental than a physical nature. He was unable to play on the school team in the game with Petit, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Murphy visited in Levelland, Saturday.

A lively and exciting ball game was played between the Pep and Petit teams at Pep last Friday afternoon. The score was six to seven in favor of Petit. The same teams will play a basketball game at Petit next Friday afternoon.

Four new pupils, children of W. F. Dempsey, were enrolled in the Pep school this week.

The Pep men played a practice game with the boys Sunday afternoon. The game was a tie.

If a complete water-supply system for the farm home is not within reach it is possible to lighten the housewife's burden to a very material degree by installing an elevated barrel system at small expense. If this barrel is placed on a shelf or platform somewhat above the level of the kitchen sink. The water is supplied to the barrel by a pipe from the force pump at the well. The water from the barrel flows into the kitchen by gravity. If a complete water supply system can not be installed at once, rural engineers recommend the "step-by-step" or one-unit-at-a-time plan of installation in which one unit is purchased one year and added to the next.

ance in manifestations. No one et found anything that can rad-nature in Littlefield appears to unning true to type and just e, remarked a rather sophisticat-tizen a few days ago. And so sted became a representative of ble, some of the similarities and rences between the last three rations of the feminine of the n that the said soph. cit., was ct. The world runs along just the same as it did a few thou-years ago with a change of meth-charming young lady was accostone of the main streets in wide daylight and asked to express views from the feminine stand-t, which she did without any hes-on or reservation.

hat do you think of this modern ng idea? was the first interrogapropounded. "Why," she re-
"I guess it's alright. Mother ned and grandmother flirted, and of us youngsters know just how hey want, so why not?"
you think it the proper thing young lady to paint her cheeks?
the next query. "I guess so," answered. "I can remember mother used to dip crepe paper perfume and rub it on her cheeks, I have heard her say that grand-sept a piece of red calico for the s purpose."
"I see," continued the young
"a woman has always been quite minded in her notions. Whenever he starts out after anything, she ing to accomplish it, if at all ble. That's exactly why grandmothers, why mother padded, and the girls of today don't wear any-they don't have to. Grandmothers used to wear a hoop skirt, her grandmothers wore a bustle, while the modern style of today is to wear as slim as possible. Grandmothers only loved one man, mother loves one at a time while daughters love one man after another. It's a difference in manifestations.
I have heard that grandma was engaged while riding home in a farm wagon from a camp meeting, mother was engaged one Sunday night while riding home in a narrow gauged buggy, the daughter finds her engaged in a sport cabriolet automobile.
When grandma was engaged, I suppose she just dropped her eyes and hung onto her affiance's coat collar, probably mother hung on to his arm and trembled, but the girls of today grab him around the neck and give him a resounding smack right on the kisser.

"And, after they get married," said the young lady, "they all live just about the same only a little different. Grandmother was a good cook, mother knew how to make a dollar go a long ways, daughter specializes in a can opener, but knows how to make her own living if she has to.
Grandmother used a broom, mother a carpet sweeper, while daughter pins her faith to a vacuum cleaner."

Yes, the reporter agreed they were all traveling over the same road of adventure, in pursuit of the same ideal but following the prevailing style of the day in which they lived—and all got results.

AFTER 30 YEARS
SUMMER NORMALS ARE DISCONTINUED

LUBBOCK, Jan., 31.—Announcement has just been received by college authorities from the State Board of Examiners, at Austin, that summer normal institutes have been discontinued throughout the state, after a continuous service of over 30 years.

In lieu thereof, the summer sessions of all colleges, including teachers colleges, will be given the privilege of taking care of the teachers who desire to extend their certificates either by examination or by the completion of nine term hours of college work done in residence during the summer.

Extensions for two or three years may be made by examination as heretofore, but extensions for one year may be made by passing in the term hours of college work during the summer. Any kind of valid legal state certificate may be extended, regardless of how obtained. The communication states that this extension law should increase the summer enrollment of every college in the state during the coming summer, and asks that full publicity be given in the interest of general education.

Volcanoes, earthquakes, tidal waves and tornados have a small effect in comparison to soil erosion. There are 125 billion pounds of plant food washed off farm lands and pastures in the United States every year. That means at least 200 million dollars washed out of the pockets of the farmers.

OH, YE DOUBTERS!

Ye Jonahs from Mizzi, ye Thomases from ze wholly land, hearken unto the champings of the Monster Masticator that whets its appetite on gravel and oyster shell while it devours the farming impedimenta of the soldiers of the soil!

Last week S. A. Ramsey brought a load of hay to be ground on the giant Masticator. In his wagon he also had a plow point to be ground by the blacksmith. Accidently the plow point was fed to the Masticator along with a bale of hay. Did it balk on the job? Not so one could notice it. It did do a little fussing, but it never hesitated an instant. Clamping its mighty tushes on that triangular piece of hardened steel it proceeded to break and mangle its adamant form until Mr. P. & O. himself would never have recognized it as one of his products. The plow point was actually broken into bits—and the Masticator hasn't yet shown any signs of dyspepsia or appendicitis. It is still grinding feed for the farmers, sweetly humming its lullaby of labor in joy for the rations being constantly poured into its cavernous throat.

Got any feed to grind? Just bring it along, we guarantee the job to be correctly done. Our giant Masticator meets all comers whether for meal, chops, chick or cow feed, and it don't cost much either.
