Highway Project Gets Under Way

Police Report Crashes Over Weekend

Auto wrecks took place in Littlefield over the weekend, resulting in heavy property damage but no injuries, police report shows.

A 1962 Buick, driven by MaBurns, 15, of Littlefield, was involved in a collision with a 1968 Buick driven by Fagan Jolley, 28, of Alabama late Saturday on Hall Ave.

Burns car was reported traveling south on Hall and attempting a right turn onto Kelton, when the accident occurred. Jolley's vehicle was also traveling south on Hall and attempting to pass the car.

Burns automobile struck Jolley's car on the left side of the road, causing an estimated $350 damage to the Buick and $250 damage to the right side, the report says.

Another accident was an unusual coincidence in that both vehicles gave out-of-town addresses.

A Chevrolet sedan, driven by Ekel Frausto, 24, of Rt. 1, was in collision with a Ford pickup driven by Kelton, 18, also of Rt. 1, late Sunday.

The pickup was proceeding south on Kelton east on Kelton when they collided, the report says.

Kelton car struck Frausto's vehicle in the right front end, causing an estimated $160 damage.

Was Draft All Light

September draft call for 1968, the smallest in the history of the quota since June 1967, was announced by Morris S. Schwartz, Selective Service director, Monday.

Because of budgetary limitations there will be no pre-induction physical-mental examination in August. It was announced there would be none in September, but later a total of 100,000 was authorized for that month.

Monthly draft quotas for 1968 are: January 1659, February 1165, March 2048, April 2276, May 2223, June 961, July 895, August 895, September 895.

Monthly calls ranged from a low of 674 to a high of 1659.

STUDYING HIGHWAY REPAIR MAP--Representatives of the various agencies involved in the huge highway repair and reconstruction project that began Wednesday on county roads received a project schedule briefing Tuesday. Left to right they include, City Councilman Paul Carmickle; Joe Cope, construction supervisor; Leonard Trotter, Littlefield water department foreman; James C. Kerr, president of Kerr Construction Co., contractor for the work; Rhea Bradley, THD engineer in charge of the project and Police Chief F. E. Fitzgerald of Littlefield.

Repairs Scheduled Through April 1969

The huge highway repair and reconstruction project in Lamb County for which the contract was awarded last week got underway Wednesday.

Kerr Construction Co. of Lubbock, winner of the $953,681.82 contract, wasted no time in getting started on the project which is expected to take an estimated 210 days.

Units of the construction company yesterday began crushing rock near Littlefield and set up their barriers for the beginning of work in the Olton area.

At a Tuesday meeting of all city, county, and state agencies directly involved with the construction, James C. Kerr, president of the company, outlined the project schedule and promised an early start and steady and vigorous effort on it.

All known factors in the program were discussed at the meeting and construction schedules were mapped out so as to cause as little disruption to normal city and rural activities as possible.

Avoiding conflict with the flow of cotton and grain to elevator and gin was one of the main points in question. Assurances were given that two-way traffic will be maintained at all times on the roads under construction.

The first phase of the project began Wednesday at a point .04 miles west of Olton and will continue to the east city limits. The second phase, tentatively scheduled to begin Sept. 1, will be that portion of W. 10th St. (Highway 54) beginning at Sunset Ave. and going eastward to Monticello.

Also scheduled for an early start this fall is Highway 84 southeast from the Loop to the intersection of Highway 54.

"It is hoped that we can start on Highway 54 from Spade to Littlefield as soon as we finish the Olton phase," Kerr explained, and added that due to bad drainage conditions, they would hold off on the W. Delano section until a dry weather period was reached.

"Another reason we want to hold off on the W. Delano stretch is to avoid interrupting the delivery of grain to elevators located there during harvest season," he added.

Grain elevator managers indicate that they will begin receiving deliveries from the harvest 1-10 Sept. and the last delivery recorded in 1967 on 11 Nov.

Bradley stated that construction will be carried on in one lane of traffic at a time and two-way traffic will be maintained by use of improved shoulders of the road. There will be ample construction signs, proper barriers and speed limits set wherever necessary, he added.

Speed limits will be set at 45 mph and there will be no detours, he assures the motorists.

Construction areas will be thoroughly patrolled for purposes of safety and Police Chief Fitzgerald promised full cooperation in holding down pranks, thefts, speeding incidents and other misdemeanors.

All the repaired highway within the city limits will be four lane and most will have parallel parking. The only areas without parallel parking will be on the concrete section of Delano and at the intersection of H84 and H54 where parking is restricted.

Completion date for the entire project is expected to be May 1, 1969.

SIDEWALK DAY

The Sky's The Limit!

The bargains are so hot they must be aired. The savings are so high they must be un-celined. Friday is Sidewalk Sale Day in Littlefield.

Most merchants in the downtown area will do business in front of their stores, offering the usual buys which have made Sidewalk Days the shoppers' favorite sale for many years.

Ads on inside pages describe many of the open air bargains.

SOMEONE SNITCHED HIM!

Pete Not Convinced That His Duck 'Flew The Coop'

Just as it's "nice to have a man around the house"--It's also "good to have a drake around the lake."

This appears to be the thoughts of two lonesome duck hens who make their home at the Deep Rock service station on Marshall Howard Blvd.

There is good reason for their sad demeanor as their lord and master, "Donald Duck", has disappeared.

House Damaged In City Breakin

A breakin at 1012 W. 10th St. was reported to police Monday by Mrs. R. E. Pugh of 1000 W. 10th.

The intruders apparently gained entrance through a window and damaged the house and garage to a considerable extent. Household belongings stored in boxes in the basement were broken into and their contents scattered over the floor.

A hole was kicked in the wall after entry was gained into the garage. Evidence was left that an attempt to pry the lock off the house door failed and a hole was cut in a screen on the west side of the house.

Two windows were broken by the intruders, the report states. Exact time and date of the breakin is not known.

Yep, stolen away in the dark of the night by person or persons unknown, leaving them to pine away in silence.

Donald was the last male in a family of four Canadian ducks bought by Pete Shipley, operator of the station, to dress up his premises and make a more inviting stop for tourists and other customers. He purchased two drakes and two hens from a Canadian breeder early in 1967, when they were tiny ducklings.

He built an elaborate duck pond and surrounding flower garden and his ducks seemed very happy with their lot. So happy, in fact, that their beautiful red-headed, brown bodied appearance and their surrounding habitat helped to win a $1,000 prize for Pete.

His service station, and the beautification that went with the duck pond, won for him the title of best appearing company station in a 17 state area with the accompanying cash award.

Then disaster struck three times in quick succession. In June of this year the two hens produced 32 eggs between them and were well on the way to enlarging their family. What happened?--a heavy hail storm smashed every egg. Being of a wild variety, the hens only produce eggs one time per year, so no more family for this year.

In July tragedy struck again, this time in a form of a car which ran over and killed one of the drakes.

That left things pretty well up to Donald, and he seemed to be running a tight ship until he was, alas, filched from his home and hearth.

Shipley was pretty well attached to that duck, and gets a steely glint in his eye when he talks about who might have taken him. He is so attached, in fact, that he is offering a $25 reward to anyone with information on who took him, or leading to his recovery.

"I have a fairly good lead on where he went, but it's going to take some time to get all the details," he said, "and even if I don't get him back I think I will be finding out what happened to him," he added.

And, judging from the glint that was still in his eye, it would behoove anyone invited over for roast duck to check into its background to make sure he is not biting into Pete's buddy.

ST X-RAYS were received by 704 Littlefield and area residents Monday when the Christmas Seal X-ray Unit of West Texas Tuberculosis Association was in Littlefield. The project was sponsored by Rotary Club and members of "We, The Women" provided volunteer help throughout the day. A token payment of $1.00 was charged and according to Frank Anzeline, Rotary president,

"we came out even on collections." A steady stream of persons kept workers busy all day. Many other conditions, beside tuberculosis, such as emphysema, chronic bronchitis, etc., may be detected by the X-ray film, and will be reported by the Association to the victim.

LHS Yearbook Staff At Tech

Four members of the Littlefield High School yearbook staff are attending Texas Tech this week, according to Mrs. Edward Betts, sponsor of the annual.

Melinda Morris, a senior and editor of the "Wildcat", and three of her staff are attending the Southwestern Council of Student Publication summer workshop being held on the campus.

Other staff members from LHS attending the course, which began Sunday and ends Friday, include Donnarox Bowen, Junior; Beverly Chisholm, Senior; and Jan Christian, Junior.

After registration Sunday and Monday, the group was divided into three sections--yearbook editors, newspaper editors and photographers for a full schedule of lectures and demonstrations during the day and joint entertainment in the evenings.

Workshop Coordinator W. E. Garets of Tech's Journalism Department said several states were represented by the students and visiting supervisors.

Tech Journalism Prof. Ralph Sellmeyer is supervisor for the photography students. Journalism Prof. Bob Rooker directs the newspaper group and Jerry Dixon of Dallas, is supervisor for the yearbook section.

IT'S AN ALL-HEN POND NOW--Pete Shipley, whose much-prized per Canadian drake "Donald" was abducted in the night on the weekend, seeks to console the two remaining hens that seem to be as sad about the affair as he does. They are all that is left of the small flock of four ducks--two drakes and two hens--that he bought last year to dress up his service station. A series of mishaps have depleted and held down the flock he hoped to build up.

MRS. GARLAND FRED KOONTZ

Koontz-Smith Vows Exchanged August 2

Miss Dana Sue Smith and Garland Fred Koontz exchanged wedding vows in a ceremony Friday morning, Aug. 2, in South West Church of Christ in Andrews.

The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos P. Smith of Andrews and the new groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Koontz of Littlefield.

H. L. Matheny, minister of the church, officiated for the reading of the vows which were read before an altar background of branched candelabra, holding cathedral tapers and flanked by spiral candelabra with votive candles. Pews were marked with ribbons and greenery.

Amos Smith escorted his daughter down the white laid aisle and gave her hand in marriage.

She wore a traditional gown of white Chantilly lace and de-lustered satin. Seed pearls and crystal beads enhanced the sculptured, semi-empire lace bodice, which featured a scalloped neckline and long sleeves tapered to petal points over the wrists. Her formal lace train, bordered in delustered satin, flowed chapel-length from the gown silhouette.

The bride wore her "new" gown and carried a 40-year-old handkerchief, which had belonged to her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. B. Bailey of San Antonio, and borrowed from her mother.

Her bridal bouquet was formed of a cascade of white, feathered carnations, centered with a catleya orchid.

Miss Carol Henry of Roswell, N. M., was maid of honor, Miss Donna Price of Stinnett was bridesmaid and Miss Donna Martin was junior bridesmaid. Paula Ann Carruth was flower girl.

Tim Tapley of Abilene was best man, and Richard Wright of Littlefield was groomsman. Serving as ushers for the guests were James McFadden and Gary Schubert, both of Abilene.

Following the ceremony, parents of the bride entertained with a wedding reception in the community building clubroom. The traditional three-tiered cake, topped with fresh lavender roses, was served with punch and mints from the bride's table. White satin, gathered at the skirt with three cabbage roses, covered the table. White napkins were engraved in silver with "Dana and Fred".

Chocolate cake was served with coffee from a silver service at the groom's table.

Mrs. Smith chose a suit of oyster linen, complimented with black patent accessories, for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Koontz was attired in a beige costume with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

For their wedding trip to Dallas and "Six Flags", the new bride donned a black sheath dress and white coat and matching accessories and her bridal corsage.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Andrews High School and has attended Abilene Christian College two years.

Koontz graduated from Littlefield High School in 1967 and attended Abilene Christian College one year.

The couple is now at home in Abilene where they will continue studies at ACC.

Attending the wedding from Littlefield, other than those in the wedding party, were Mrs. Leo, P. Teck and Mrs. L. J. Walker and Denny.

Peace Corps Placement Test Slated Aug. 17

Lamb County area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps Placement Test at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, August 17 at Room 16A, Post Office Building in Lubbock. The Peace Corps used the Placement Test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. The test requires no preparation and is non-competitive; an applicant can neither pass nor fail. Persons interested in serving with the Peace Corps must fill out an Application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before the test. Application forms are available from post offices or from the Peace Corps in Washington, D. C. 20525. Twelve thousand Volunteers are currently serving in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Pacific Islands, working with the people of those nations in self-help projects ranging from food production to health to education. More volunteers are needed for programs which will begin this fall and winter.

Cline - Hammons Reunion Conducted

The Community Center at Amherst was the setting for the first annual Cline-Hammons family reunion Sunday, July 21. More than 200 relatives and friends gathered for the occasion.

Some of the Hammons and Cline ancestors were early settlers of Amherst and until the past 20 years, many families were still there. Although there are no Cline-Hammons families there now, Amherst was chosen a natural reunion place. After a day of reminiscing, seeing old friends, and eating lunch, a business meeting was held. By popular vote, the fam-

Canyon Of Yellow Houses

From THE DALLAS MORNING NEWS

BY FRANK X. TOLBERT

ON A MORNING this week of yellow, 70-degree sunshine after a night during which more than 2 inches of rain had fallen I was driving through the garden-like fields of milo maize, cotton, and other crops in western Hockley County, west of Lubbock and near the New Mexico border.

Along ranch road 597, between the Cities of Pep and Anton, a sky of incredible blue was reflected in the pools of water by the roadside and in the water in rows of the cultivated fields. There were mirages of water often up ahead in the roadway. And mirages on the flat horizons sometimes didn't let you know whether houses and trees far away were real or illusions of this 3,600-foot-high country.

THEN I DROVE off the irrigated plain into a tawny canyon of high-grassed pastures. This was Yellow House Canyon. The Spanish pluralized it: Canon de las Casas Amarillas. I turned off to the north on a sandy road leading to the headquarters of the Yellow House Ranch, owned by a boyhood acquaintance of mine, Phelps White. (My dad, H. G. Tolbert, had several of the original business enterprises in the nearby town of Littlefield.)

The Yellow House headquarters is under a high bluff or caprock of yellow limestone, with many caves, and some seep springs. To the Spanish conquistadors these bluffs looked like a row of yellow houses, especially when seen through a mirage. And the big alkaline lake off to the east was originally La Laguna de las Casas Amarillas, now just Yellow House Lake.

ALL THE ranch buildings and corrals, except for the stone main house, are painted canary yellow. And in the yellow sunshine there was a kind of golden haze about the place.

The Comanches often camped by the springs

A $10 Haircut!

THE NATIONAL OBSERVER starts off a feature article on inflation with "Haircuts for $10, minus tip. Food bill for a family of four; $115 a week. Cost of a 'medium-priced' car; $9,900. An average-quality man's suit; $250."

The Observer points out that such prices appear fantastic, but they are what we may expect to pay within a very few years of the present course of inflation and the depreciation of the dollar continues unabated.

Even more alarming than the steady advance of inflation is the apparent indifference of the people—or at least many of them—to what is going on. The Observer accounts for this indifference by drawing attention to the fact that during the past 10 years, on the average, personal income for most people in terms of purchasing power has kept ahead of inflation.

Until very recently, most individuals have enjoyed a complacent ride on the inflation bandwagon, but the day of reckoning is near.

As The Chase Manhattan Bank of New York observes:

"For many Americans the apparent economic gains of the past two years have been only an illusion created by inflation."

"The price of unlimited government deficit spending is cheaper dollars and lower living standards. The remedy lies in bringing government spending into line with taxpayers' ability to pay."

THE FARMER'S WIFE

All A Dream!

BY LIBBY MUDGE

I DREAMED I went to the Republican Convention in my Maidenform Bra as an uncommitted delegate.

No sooner had I unpacked my solid colored dresses (on account of because the Delegate's Handbook said that prints showed up as too messy looking on colored television) than the phone rang.

IT WAS Nixon's headquarters wanting to know if there was anything, just anything at all, that they could do for me. I told them that I would certainly appreciate a larger room with a view of the ocean, I would be able to think much straighter that way.

As soon as I was settled into my larger room with the ocean view (at their expense), they wanted to know was I still uncommitted, but I told them I didn't care to talk about that with anyone but Dick himself.

They said he wouldn't be in Miami until sometime Monday. I yawned and told them to tell him to see me then, I MIGHT still be uncommitted that late.

RIGHT AFTER my delegation's first caucus, at which I let it be known very definitely that I was uncommitted and not even leaning yet, I was approached by Reagan's managers inviting me to dine at their expense, I allowed as how I didn't believe I cared to unless Ronnie Baby himself dined with me.

Ronnie Baby showed up to dine with me and I immediately started complaining about the high cost of meals in Miami. Before the main course was served, he had arranged with the hotel for all of my food and liquor to be put on his account.

I told him I really hated to be so finicky, but since I didn't drink liquor, would it be all right if I substituted my transportation expenses in place of liquor bills. He said sure, just as long as I didn't vote for Nixon on the first ballot.

I HEMMED and hawed that that was certainly asking a lot just for meals and transportation. He asked what more did I want, I wondered aloud if he could arrange to let me produce a few good, clean movies, I was sick and tired of the dirty, nasty tripe that Hollywood was turning out these days and certain that I could do better. He promised to see what he could do, so I only promised to see what I could do about the first ballot.

I was just preparing to enter the elevator to go back up to my room when one of Rockefeller's managers invited me to a "little party" on a pleasure yacht.

I told him I never attended parties unless I was directly invited by the host.

NO SOONER had I gotten back to my room than Nelson rang himself up and begged me to please come to his party where everyone would be allowed to kiss Happy.

I told him that while I didn't long to kiss Happy, I would like to come to his party but I simply didn't have the right clothes to attend social functions of his set.

He said that could be taken care of, what size did I wear and what type clothes did I prefer. I told him my size and said that the type of clothes I preferred were expensive ones.

AS SOON AS my new clothes arrived, I dressed and went to the "little party" on the yacht. Rocky wanted to know if I was still uncommitted and I told him yes, but I was beginning to lean. He asked which way was I beginning to lean and I replied that just all depended upon who would pay off the most of my debts back home.

He asked how much did I owe and when I told him, he said that was mere peanuts and if I could see my way clear to lean towards the big swing to Rockefeller, by the time I arrived home I would find all of my debts paid up. I told him I was beginning to really swing.

AS SOON AS Nixon got into Miami on Monday, he immediately looked me up and asked me I was still uncommitted. I told him I was leaning and swinging, but not committed yet. He wanted to know what he could do for me besides pick up the tab for my hotel room.

I confessed to a not-so-secret longing of many years to be Secretary of Agriculture. He said the job was mine if I voted for him on the first ballot.

Then I had to go and wake up.

THERE ARE the usual cliché yarns about buried Spanish treasure in the caves of Yellow House bluff. One of my cousins, Roger Gist of Happy, Texas, was a cowboy in his youth for Major Littlefield.

Mr. Gist told me that in the early 1900's an old man and a boy in a mule-drawn wagon came to the Yellow House headquarters and asked to camp. They spent the night to the north of the ranch house near a cave. They left before daylight. During the night they dug a big hole in the floor of the cave. And they left behind a broken-open ancient iron chest which they'd apparently dug up.

ON THAT morning of cool, yellow sunshine this week there was no one at home at the Yellow House headquarters. So I drove back down the sandy road, meeting two dogs, a young German shepherd and a mature looking Dachshund, along the way. And I saw two coyotes off in the deep grass toward the alkaline lake which the Spaniards called La Laguna de las Casas Amarillas.

DESPITE ITS title, the XIT Ranch only encompassed nine western Texas counties and more than 3,000,000 acres. The Yellow House was the headquarters for the XIT's southernmost division.

In 1901, Maj. George Washington Littlefield bought what was believed to be the 235,858 acres of the Yellow House division of the XIT for $2 an acre. (Later Major Littlefield found that through surveyors' mistakes he had 12,000 more acres than he'd paid for—the whole deal adding up an incredible bargain for some of the irrigated farms in this empire are now valued at $1,000 an acre.)

Phelps White Sr., father of my childhood friend, was Major Littlefield's favorite nephew. And he inherited the Yellow House Ranch. (According to a new book, "Littlefield Lands" by David Gracy II, Phelps White Sr. demanded a quiet atmosphere on his cattle spread. He said he "didn't want anything louder than a rooster on my ranch." He was a tall 250-pounder, and a real cowman.)

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Faces Of Freedom

BY BOB WEAR

WE PROBABLY ARE hearing and reading more about human freedom than any people of any previous time in the history of mankind. We also are seeing the many distorted, ugly faces of freedom.

THE FACES OF FREEDOM are distorted because the feelings about freedom are twisted, badly twisted.

Sometimes the face we see is the hypocritical face of civil disobedience; or it may be the cruel face of a riot, with burning, looting, killing and general destruction. Of course, all of these features of human misconduct are horrible distortions of the freedom concept.

Another face that often appears in the perverted freedom from responsibilities and obligations; but this is not the true face of freedom. The only freedom that contains any good for anybody is that which includes the full acceptance of responsibility and obligation.

THE FREQUENT disregard of the urgent need for self-rule is one of the ugliest faces of freedom. The license that so many folk demand, the license that includes all forms of immorality, neglect of family, disregard of fiscal obligation, and every other form of misuse and abuse of life.

Epictetus said, "No man is free who is not master of himself."

Then, there is the ugly face of cynicism, doubt, profaneness -- the dishonoring of all that is sacred and holy. All of these may continue, and may increase. They are the features of the hideous face of mankind's degenerated concept of freedom.

IF THE MANY ugly faces of freedom presently being displayed were all we could know about freedom, there would be nothing to recommend it.

There is another face of freedom. It reflects the viewpoint that the freedom to do right is the true freedom. This is the only freedom worthy of our love and devotion, and the only freedom that can bless mankind. No other concept of freedom and faithfully serve the best interests of all people.

There are too many people who think that freedom gives them the privilege to do as they please without any regard for the rights or well-being of others.

They seem to think that liberty is license, never realizing that when they infringe upon the freedom of others, they endanger their own. We must grant to our fellowmen the same rights and privileges we wish for ourselves.

HISTORY TEACHES US that as people depart from time-tested standards of truth and right, they undermine the foundations of freedom.

The true face of freedom reveals respect for and devotion to truth. It is a well-established fact that without such respect and devotion, there will be no freedom for us or our posterity.

Christ, in His matchless teaching, coupled truth and freedom when he said, "You shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

HERE IS ANOTHER fact that is very important to the preservation and effective working of freedom.

We must respect the laws and regulations of all rightful authority in all areas of human behavior.

If we think the laws and rules undesirable, and wish to change them; we must use the legally established method of change.

Obedience to our laws and regulations provides the greatest possible freedom for us. Obedience is the happy face of true freedom. The lawless are never free.

ANY EXCUSE FOR a holiday!

There are now so many "special days" set aside for celebration that they are being written into union contracts and Congress is moving to bunch them around weekends thus to minimize the increasing disruption of production.

Patriotic holidays, once meant for honoring and parading our Flag, are most often merely an excuse to goof off.

Even Christmas is frequently profaned with overindulgence.

NOW ALONG COMES another one, Freedom Foundation and Kiwanis International are co-sponsoring Family Reunion Day, Aug. 11.

I think this one makes sense. Nationally and locally, our politicians have used proclamations of "special days" as an easy payoff for commercial, ethnic and social groups.

Even hobbyists, if they represent enough votes, are honored with special "days" for stamp collecting and boating.

FOOD FADDISTS have sought and won a national "Eat Yogurt Day", thus making ludicrous what should be an official honor. Yet, for all the cross commercialization which surrounds them, perhaps the half-dozen days which honor our God, our country, our veterans and mothers and fathers are worthy reminders of what they are supposed to remind us of.

FAMILY REUNION DAY will become one of the worthy ones.

DEAR EDITOR

Dear Ed:
In case you hadn't been informed, the cattle industry is being revived on the south plains. We have now, more cars raising and feeding going on than I can remember for many years past. I say "more" to these Cattlemen, as I know that we need any boost to our economy that we can get.

But--there's also a traffic hazard being revived that we'd forgotten about; That's cattle on the highways, and especially at night. With our present hi-speed highways and automobiles, this becomes especially hazardous; To this, I now have first hand testimony.

Within the last thirty days I've picked up three cars off the highways that were disabled by hitting cattle. The last one I picked up was mine! Each of these three cars had hit a black angus calf. (Believe me, they're hard to see at night.) All three vehicles received extensive damage, not to mention the wasted beef.

In my case the hiway Patrol couldn't investigate my accident, because he was investigating a similar case up east of Plano view. (Mine was east of Petersburg.) I understood that this unfortunate fellow had only hit the bovine but turned his car over as the result.

I'm writing this for two reasons; To warn our citizens of this hazard, and to make a suggestion. To wit:

Could our hiway department be prevented upon the post warning signs near these lots and ranches? Sure, I know that the cattle are supposed to be kept in pens behind fences, but no one can predict when one will get out and stray onto the highway. Of course you, the driver, have the right-of-way--you could be "DEAD RIGHT."

Dear Turnrow Tunkel:

O. C. McBRIDE.

WHAT IS the basis of the trouble between Russia and Czechoslovakia?
As I understand it, the Czechs want a little freedom with their Communists but Moscow warned them that freedom is like Johnson grass--once it gets started it could spread all over Eastern Europe.

JUDGING FROM the present mood of voters, don't you think there will be many new faces in Congress next year?
Yes. We not only need newer faces, but fewer of them. I can think of about 100 members of Congress whose defeat would eliminate 200 faces.

POLITICAL OBSERVERS think the fact that Ronald Reagan and Nelson Rockefeller are divorced would cost them support among women voters. Are women more opposed to divorce than men?

Not according to statistics. The latest figures show that just as many women are divorced each year in the U. S.

WHAT DID YOU think of Senator Yaborough's statement that he will support Preston Smith in the Governor's race?
That Ralph really knows how to hurt a fellow. Preston is considered a cinch to win in November, but with a few more endorsements like this, the race could be close.

DID YOU READ that the FDA has ruled that any product identified as peanut butter must contain at least 90 per cent peanuts?
If the Government is determined to protect us consumers, something should be done about Pork and Beans. I realize that at the price, we can't expect much pork, but I think we're entitled to a little more than just the squeal of the hog.

WHAT PIECE of farm equipment is most widely used in Texas?
The air-conditioned pickup, equipped with a hitch for pulling a boat trailer.

PAUL HARVEY

Reunion Day

There are but two regrets in my own half-century of living. As a boy scout, I should have gone on from first class in Eagle. The perseverance required would have been an earlier experience in self-discipline.

The other regret is that I did not visit my own mother more often while she lived. I think the umbilical cord between a mother and son is never really severed until the death of one or the other, yet too frequently we take mother's presence for granted. She's somebody who is "always there" and we somehow imagine she always will be. Yet we don't write often enough and we don't visit nearly often enough. Mother's Day always meant at least a phone call.

HISTORY SAYS the decay of civilization starts at the hearthside. When family disciplines, when the young lose sight of the light in the window--they get lost.

Looking about us; strong, stable governments derive from a strong family life. Conversely, weak governments and societies are characterized by loose family ties.

Before the Oriental began to become Westernized, family ties were so tenacious that among many generations of Chinese-Americans there was not one conviction for adultery, desertion, rape, robbery--or even what we casually call "juvenile mischief."

In those days, the Chinese children were "always home for dinner."

Let's get the family together Aug. 11. We've been searching too far from home for the people who really need us.

THE STORY goes like this: A neighbor of Mrs. Rex Clay- ton had green beans gathered and ready to can but found she had no time to pressure them. She called Mrs. Clayton and asked if she would like to pressure them for half the beans. Mrs. Clayton was thrilled to get a deal like that, the work all done! It all ended in a freak accident, the cooker blew up. The Clay- tons kitchen was damaged con- siderably plus the stove being ruined and Mrs. Clayton land- ing in the hospital. She wasn't burn- ed so bad, but suffered from shock. bles, and ladies singles and doubles. Youths 18 years of age and younger are eligible for the boys and girls events. The chairmen urged stronger participation in the girls and ladies divisions. Neither had enough contestants last year to compete. Entry fee will be $2 per person per event for adults and $1.50 per person per event in the boys and girls divisions.

Weeds Cause Big Grain Crop Loss

Texas Tech farm researchers have figured that the loss caused by weeds among grain crops on the High Plains runs as high as $84 million a year.

Here's the way they figure it: A weed-free grain sorghum field at the Tech research farm produced 4,900 pounds an acre.

Adjoining fields had weeds in various amounts, and these were counted by rows.

It was found that one weed every 32 feet of row reduced the yield 150 pounds an acre.

TERRY CHESTER, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Chester of Sudan, chose this "Miss Buzz Bike Eliminator" Saturday afternoon at Western Auto, as her prize for selling subscriptions to "The Leader-News" in the "Earn A Bike" drive. She earned 15 points for the bicycle, which was the fifth given away in the drive. The drive will close Aug. 24.
