Protection of the local control law, coupled with protection of the water supply by conservation practices, will be sought.

Formation of one or more water districts, it was pointed out, would serve to organize water users to carry on the fight over legislation and would also provide a water conservation program need to convince advocates of state control that conservation can be left in the hands of individual owners.

An extensive educational program, including weekly news releases to the press and radio, was suggested.

W. O. (Bill) Fortenberry of Monroe presided at the meeting, which lasted from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

From Argentina, the group went to Chile, where they found excellent stock, which is composed of four types of Indian cattle, the most popular of which is the Indu-Brazil. It is a wonderful breed of cattle that has a resistance against insects and parasites that can walk long distances. This is a major factor in that they have to drive long distances to market. ### To Be Candidate For Governor

Olin Culberson, a member of the Railroad Commission, has announced his candidacy for Governor of Texas in the following statement: "Firmly believing that a change in attitude is necessary toward the wasteful operation and run-away of our state government, I am formally announcing my candidacy for Governor of Texas. My filing fee has been mailed to John C. Calhoun, chairman of the State Democratic Commission.

"A great deal has been said about the soaring cost of the federal government. In the fifteenth year period between 1935 and 1950, and exclusive of the cost of wars and affairs incidental to them, the annual cost of the federal government has increased 280%. Immediate and long-range plans for protection of laws guaranteeing individual control of underground water were formulated at a meeting of the High Plains Water Conservation and Users Association in Littlefield Thursday.

Twenty persons attended the meeting, which included a luncheon at Hays Coffee Shop. Represented were water associations from Lubbock, Lamb, Bailey, Crosby, Randall and Deaf Smith counties, and from the Petersburg Association, which includes parts of Hale, Lubbock, Crosby and Floyd counties.

Present Strong Case Immediate plans call for a strong presentation of the case for local control when the Texas Water Code Committee holds a hearing in Amarillo next Monday, March 20.

Speakers for the High Plains group will include Nick Rose, Houston, the only consulting ground water geologist in Texas; L. A. Howard, Lubbock lawyer; W. O. Fortenberry, Monroe, president of the High Plains association; and Arthur P. Duggan, Littlefield, attorney.

A talk by Bill Broadhurst of Austin, representative of the United States Geological Survey, will open the hearing, set for 9 a. m. in the Herring Hotel, Amarillo. The High Plains group hopes testimony of witnesses at the Amarillo hearing will offset attacks made against the water law at a hearing held recently in Ft. Worth in which a dozen witnesses suggested government control of underground water.

Tractor Stalls On Train Crossing, Driver Jumps

Jumping 20 feet from the top of a tractor stalled on the Santa Fe Railroad tracks just seconds before the machine was shattered and scattered for 200 yards by the morning passenger train was the experience of L. B. McClain of 2 1/2 miles east of Littlefield Saturday.

Injured Knee and Hand Mr. McClain doesn't know whether he landed on his feet or fell on the ground, but he does know he is lucky to be alive, and it is his guess that he fell on the ground as he suffered from a swollen left knee and sore wrist and elbow. He was checked and treated at the Payne-Shotwell Foundation following the accident.

Stalled On Track According to Mr. McClain he was taking his tractor, to which was attached a Hoeme Plow, to the Reed farm west of town to do some plowing for Mr. Reed. Crossing the railway tracks on the Spade highway in front of Peyton's the tractor stalled. He tried to back it off the track, but couldn't get it in gear as the morning Santa Fe Passenger train No. 94 due here about 11:10 o'clock came rushing on. Mr. McClain jumped just in the nick of time. Parts of the tractor were scattered for about 200 yards with one of the wheels deposited near the West Texas Cotton Mill. The Hoeme plow which was attached to the tractor apparently stood the accident without any damage. Needless to state no insurance was carried to cover the loss.

Frightened by a wasp in their car, two Sudan girls escaped injury last Monday when they lost control of the vehicle and it overturned, throwing them into the back seat.

The girls were Joyce and Betty Sherrill, daughters of Rev. and Mrs. U. S. Sherrill of Sudan. Joyce, a teacher in the Sudan grade school, was driving when Betty noticed a wasp in the back of the car and turned around to open the window. Joyce looked in the rear view mirror, saw the wasp heading for her and ducked. When she looked up, the car was headed for a mailbox and she swerved the car sharply. The wheels apparently hit loose gravel, the car turned over and then righted itself, with both girls in the back seat. Joyce was hospitalized overnight, and both she and her sister suffered minor bruises. The 1948 DeSoto was badly damaged.

Mr. Lewis, who is a farmer, had taken a bale of cotton to the gin to be ginned, and was reported helping the gin employees when the accident happened.

Trial of Zerold Been, 33-year-old Spade farmer, on charges of murder in the death of Harvey Buchanan, 24, at the Buchanan farm near Spade last July 17, opened in the 64th Judicial District Court here Monday.

Judge G. V. Pardue of the 94th Judicial District, Lubbock, presided in place of Judge E. A. Bills of Littlefield, who was disqualified because of an association with the case as an attorney prior to his elevation to the bench.

Herbert Martin and Bill Street, both of Littlefield, are defense attorneys. Assisting District Attorney Joe Sharpe of Plainview and County Attorney Bob Kirk of Littlefield in the prosecution is George Dupree of Lubbock, appointed to serve as special prosecutor.

Call Witnesses It was indicated that large numbers of witnesses will be used by both the defense and prosecution.

Witnesses for both sides were called early Monday and the court invoked a rule requiring the witnesses to remain out of hearing of the court and not discuss testimony among themselves.

Denies Motion Early Monday, Judge Pardue overruled a defense motion to quash the first count of the indictment on the grounds that it contains "inconsistent allegations" in describing the death weapon.

Two stipulations were noted, one bearing on testimony of Dr. L. T. Shotwell and the other qualifying Judge Pardue to hear the case.

Jury Empaneled Judge Pardue empaneled the jury about 10 a. m. Monday after the names of 108 veniremen were called and about ten were excused. Jurors were examined one by one, starting shortly before 11 a. m. It was expected that getting a jury would take about two days; then the trial will get underway with testimony from the witnesses.

Father Of Six Been, the father of six children, lives on a farm five miles southwest of Spade. Buchanan was found dead a few feet from his farm home, five miles southwest of Spade, late on Sunday afternoon, July 17, 1949. Investigating officers reportedly found a wrench, thought to be the death weapon, on the blood-stained kitchen floor of the Buchanan home.

Been surrendered to officers in a cotton field a few hundred yards from the Buchanan farm, and was charged with murder.

BILL LAKE, PHILOSOPHER WILLING TO PIT HIS CHARACTER AGAINST THE PROPOSED 24-HOUR WORK WEEK.

Editor's Note: The Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bull Lake has another odd proposition this week, the following letter from him will reveal.

Dear Editor:

I picked up a copy of the Amarillo News Globe which my wife had put on the back porch for me to wipe my shoes on when I come in during wet weather, personally I'd rather have a tracked-up house than an empty mind, and took it inside and after supper read where a scientist in New York has predicted that by the end of this century the average work-week will be 24 hrs. Work 4 hours a day for 6 days and call it a week, or maybe run it together in three 8-hour days and take the other four days off.

I mentioned this the next day to some of my neighbors and they got into an argument over whether a man could stand to work that little and stay out of trouble.

"What would a person do with all that spare time?" one of my harder-working neighbors wanted to know. "Ruin most people not to have enough work."

Now I never was one to go stumblin into a new situation, I don't feel right about this nation bein on the verge of a unknown experience, and while it hadn't occurred to me before as somethin to get alarmed about, if people are afraid of the prospect of workin only 24 hours a week, I will blaze the trail myself and submit to the experiment and find out if it is safe.

If the government will go ahead and start the $12,000 a year income which the experts predict everybody will be makin by the year 2000, I will embark on the experiment of workin only 24 hours a week. There are some folks who might shudder at the prospect, see in their characters facin ruin and their minds demoralized by so much loafin time, but I come from pioneerin stock, the kind that made this country, and if I can be of service to humanity by plugin into the unknown life of the year 2000 right now, I'm willin.

All I ask is that the first installment on my $12,000 a year salary be sent out here, and I'll launch the experiment. There may be some characters that ain't got the moral fibre to stand up to this 24-hour week, but I got confidence in myself.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

His election was announced following a meeting of the Amherst school board. The board did not select any other faculty members at the meeting, it was reported.
