COMMISSIONERS OF CITY PLACE ORDER FOR A FIRE ENGINE

At a meeting of the City Commissioners, held last week, an order was issued with the Southern Fire Apparatus Co., of Dallas, for a standard pump engine, costing $5,950.00. It will be delivered shortly after the first of January.

Payment for the engine will be made over a series of several years, beginning with $500 February 10, 1929, and that amount each year until 1933, inclusive, and $1,000 in 1934, which completes the payments. The commission also ordered the purchase of 500 feet of new fire hose. Ordinance No. 26 was amended requiring plumber's license at $10.00 per year, requiring a bond of $2,500 on each plumber doing work within city limits, and also requiring that they shall pass an examination for others as prescribed by the state.

Ordinance No. 24 which provides for chickens within the city limits shall be kept up between November 1 and March 1, was amended to read 12 months of the year. Some of the new traffic signals have been placed, and as soon as the others are they will all be placed in their designated positions.

POST OFFICE SHOWS INCREASE OVER THE YEAR '27

The postal receipts of Littlefield post office show a big increase over the past year is proven by figures compiled by officials of the post office. Total receipts from January 1, 1927 to December 1, 1927 were $8,107.45, while for the same period of 1928 they totaled $9,227.45, showing an increase of $1,123.33. Statistics for the money order business during the past year were available, yet it is stated that in this department there has also been a large increase.

Information has been received to effect that an extension of rural mail No. 1 has been granted, effective January 1, which will accommodate more families with service. Due to the addition of new mail boxes, the Department at Washington granted the installation of two new route mail cases in the local office.

It is the opinion of the local postmaster that the month of December will, in all probabilities be the largest business month in the history of the Littlefield post office.

Christmas mailing has already begun, it is said, and with the cooperation of the public it will be the endeavor of the postmaster and his assistants to render the best possible service during the latter part of this year.

C. OF C. LUNCHEON

The Littlefield Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday at the College Hotel with 15 members present. A number of matters were discussed, especially that of a hotel for the city, also, the better roads leading into Littlefield from the north. Committees were appointed and are to report at the next meeting. The taking of the city and trade territory was also discussed.

Santa Working Hard

Santa Claus has drifted into Littlefield, Wash., and opened a workshop here where he is busy manufacturing toys for his young friends. He came in to watch him.

13 MONTHS CALENDAR URGED BY PORTER

Washington, D. C., Dec. 10.—(Autocaster). — Representative Stephen G. Porter of Pennsylvania has announced that he will propose that President Coolidge call an international conference for the simplification of the calendar early in the short session. The resolution would have Mr. Coolidge authorize the conference to discuss the adoption of the simplified calendar of thirteen months of four weeks each.

Mr. Porter said the movement had been sponsored by leading figures of the country. The new calendar would make every month equal in the number of workdays, eliminate fractions of weeks at the end of the months, coordinate periods of earning and spending, and would have many other advantages. It would simplify holidays by providing that all be celebrated on the same weekday, Monday. It would create a faster turnover of money and simplify the budgets of business.

ROOSEVELT COUNTY TO GET 4,500 FT. OIL WELL TESTING

(Roosevelt County Herald, Portales) Rumor has had it for several weeks that a deep test for oil was soon to be started near Portales and from the best information the Herald has been able to dig up, it is only a few weeks until the big bit will begin digging its way toward the liquid gold.

Steinger Bros., Stone and Smith are the contractors who will dig the test which is being backed by some of the major companies. Work has already begun on the digging of the slush pit and the machinery will be moved to the location which is in the southeast part of section 4, township 3 south, range 35 east, within a short time and everything will be rushed to begin the drilling of the test at the earliest date possible.

Leasing has been on a rampant through the south and southeast part of Roosevelt county for the past six months and the portion of land in this part of the county is already under lease by several of the major companies with a small acreage being held by individuals and lease speculators.

Considerable royalties have changed hands during the past three weeks at what is considered a high price from the standpoint that the closest production is around 100 miles south in Lea county, but prices have been advancing rapidly for royalties as well as leases and several hundred thousand dollars have been turned loose to land holders of this county during the past few months and it now seems that within a short time there will be even a greater activity in leasing and royalty buying and with the advance in price it would be hard to make a guess just what the results will be within a short time. It has only been a few years when it was several hundred miles to the nearest production to this area, but with the opening of the Crain county, Texas filed about three or four years ago it has gradually crept up this way and it now seems that dreams of land owners here will come true and Portales and Roosevelt county are in for a real play within a short time.

It seems from reliable information to be gathered that several noted geologists are placing their confidence that there lies a great pool of oil under thousands of acres of land in Roosevelt county, but there seems to be more interest shown through the south and southeast part of the county and it now seems that with the coming of spring several deep tests are sure to be made in different districts of the county. Lea county, which joins Roosevelt on the south, has already several thousand acres of proven territory and as the drilling comes on north from the Crain and Winkler county, Texas, fields, the proven territory is expanding and several of the major companies have placed considerable confidence in their scouts and geologists by spending thousands of dollars for leases during the past year or more through Lea and Roosevelt counties.

He May Have A Hard Time Laughing That Off — By Albert T. Reid

"It's the funniest thing you know I could have sworn we would be able to take up your relief matter this session, but the appropriation bill, the cruiser bill, Boulder Dam and the tariff are going to take up all my time and I'll be dog-gone if I can see now how I can get around to you before next September."

AN OCTOGENARIAN NOW

Being an octogenarian is rather a novel experience now days, something very few citizens have the pleasure of enjoying, and which was the experience of Wm. J. Wade, this city, who passed his eightieth milestone last Monday.

Mr. Wade is one of the pioneer citizens of Littlefield, efficiently serving the community for ten years as its postmaster. He still takes an active interest in all the affairs of the town and surrounding section, reading his newspapers with as much avidity as though he were in the midst of life's business affairs. "And how do I know that I am not," he said to a Leader representative. "I enjoy living as much as any of the youngsters. Thirty years ago they told me I wouldn't live two years longer; but I am still able to milk my cows twice a day, take care of all my home chores, and do nearly as much work as lots of men not half my age."

As a matter of fact, Mr. Wade has retained all his faculties in an almost perfect manner up to his present age. He lives more than a mile from the business center and thinks little of walking that distance when necessary.

On the occasion of his eightieth birthday anniversary, he was the recipient of many nice gifts from relatives and friends, together with numerous wishes that he may round out the century mark. Pleasantly responding with a wink of one eye and a naughty little twinkle in the other, he said, "I may fool all of you and do that very thing."

HOLD EXAMINATION HERE FOR CARRIER OF NEW ROUTE

Examination of applicants as carrier for route two, the new mail route out of Littlefield, which started December 3rd, was conducted last Saturday afternoon by Chief Clerk Roy Wade, of the local post office.

There were 24 applicants who took the civil service examination. This route started off with service to 100 patrons, A. A. Timian temporary carrier, and it is understood several more patrons will be added after the first of the year.

APPROPRIATION FOR LUBBOCK

A bill has been introduced in Congress asking for an appropriation of $200,000 for the building of a post office at Lubbock. The proposed building will be 85 by 130 feet, three stories high.

When constructed, it will be in such a manner that additional rooms may be built for accommodation of the new federal court recently located there.

PREDICT LONG SESSION OF COMING STATE LEGISLATURE

Officials are freely predicting that the coming session of the forty-first legislature will, in all probability, be the longest in the history of the state, and it is also indicated by some of the legislators that there will probably be an extra session called before the work is all cared for.

The main items for consideration will include highways, penitentiary relocation, court reform, civil service and school matters. There will also probably be considerable struggle over the matter of appropriations for state schools as all have asked for large amounts.

SCHOOL BONDS ARE VOTED DOWN BY AMHERST FOLKS

For the second time within two months the citizens of Amherst voted against the issuance of additional school bonds, when a preponderance of negative votes was counted Saturday, December 1.

In the first balloting the measure lost by 18 votes, while in the second it was defeated by the small margin of four votes.

The school trustees still have hopes of continuing their school regardless of the proposed bond defeat.

THREE FINES COLLECTED IN THE MUNICIPAL COURT

The City of Littlefield scored three fines last week, all on charges of too freely embibing of joy juice as follows:

Last Friday, W. E. Bromley, pleaded guilty twice to charges of drunkenness, paying fines of $11.50 each, and in addition is reported to have spent some time as a guest in the city bastille.

Last Saturday, J. T. Stroud pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk, paying a fine of $11.45.

FARWELL KEEPS COUNTY SEAT

Complete returns of the balloting last week to move the county seat of Parmer county from Farwell to Friona, showed a majority of only two votes for removal, whereas a two-thirds majority of all votes cast was necessary for the measure to carry. There were 625 votes cast against the removal of the county seat and 627 for removal.

COTTON DROPPED $3 BALE ON GOVERNMENT REPORT SA TURDAY

Cotton prices broke nearly $3.00 per bale and recovered only slightly on the New York Cotton Exchange last Saturday when the government's final cotton estimate placed the yield at 14,373,000 bales, or about 300,000 bales more than the trade had expected.

Prices had advanced in early trading on short covering and commission house buying, but when trading was resumed after the 15-minute suspension to receive the report, a rush to unload sent them down precipitately.

Prices Have Changes

January which had advanced to 20.39 cents a pound, fell to 19.73. December had sold at 20.47 but was pushed down to 19.85, while May slumped from the morning's high price of 20.35 to 19.74.

Closing prices were around the low levels of the day and about a cent a pound under the prices reached during last month's advance. January at 19.75, December at 19.85 and May at 19.75.

Average of trade estimates had placed the yield at 14,100,000 bales, while in some quarters a report of 14,200,000 was expected, with indications of heavy liquidation if the actual figures approximated that total.

The government report, last to be received this year, compares with the November 8 estimate of 14,133,000 bales and last year's actual crop of 12,955,000.

Weather Has Influence

The department, in announcing the estimate, said "The final total ginnings for the season will depend on whether the various influences affecting the harvesting of the portion of the crop still in the field will be more or less favorable than usual."

The acreage for harvest was reported as 45,326,000 acres and the percent of abandonment since July 1 was given as 3.4 percent and the indicated yield per acre of lint cotton was placed at 151.8 pounds. The department said that on July 1 the acreage in cultivation was 46,943,000 acres.

An estimated abandonment of 3.4 percent of the estimated acreage in cultivation on July 1 compared with 4.2 percent for 1927 and with 3.6 percent for 1927 and with 3.6 percent for the ten-year average abandonment after June 25 or July 1 for the years 1918-1927.

45 Million Acres In

The revised estimate of 45,326,000 acres for harvest compared with 40,138,000 acres in 1927 and 40,932,000 for the five year average for 1922-1926.

The total yield of lint cotton per acre on the area for harvest of 151.8 pounds compared with 154.5 pounds in 1927 and 155.8 for the five average 1922-1926, and with 156.3 pounds for the ten year average.

The estimated world's production of commercial cotton exclusive of linters, grown in 1927, as compiled by the department from various sources was 23,370,000 bales, counting American in running bales and foreign bales of 478 pounds lint, while the consumption of cotton for the year ending July 31, 1928, was approximately 25,285,000 bales. The total number of spinning cotton spindles, both active and idle, was reported as about 165,000,000.

The coast line of Texas has a tidal shore line of 624 miles and a straight way mileage of 370 miles.

Vocational Agriculture

By PROF. G. H. HELWEG

In this day of specialization everybody talks "shop." In vocational agriculture we talk of "projects," and people wonder what we mean. In reality there isn't anything difficult about it. In speaking of "projects," in vocational agriculture we simply mean an undertaking, a plan, or a scheme.

A project in vocational agriculture as defined by some involves three elements of something to be done: (1) On a farm; (b) under specified conditions and for a specified result; (c) Requiring a thorough going education.

A project has also been defined as "A productive farm enterprise, related to the school work and supervised by the instructor, carried to completion on a strictly farm business basis, and requiring careful study, planning execution, and recording, and summarized and reported upon at its close."

The 21 boys enrolled in vocational agriculture will with the advice and help of their fathers an dteacher of agriculture, supervise, manage, and have complete control of the following projects; eight will grow five acres of cotton each; five will grow five acres of grain sorghum each; two will grow five acres of corn each;

three will work with dairy cows; and three with hogs.

The class will, therefore, handle approximately 40 acres of cotton, 25 acres of grain sorghum, ten acres of corn, and a number of dairy cows and hogs.

Did you know that one pound of alfalfa contained as much lime as 100 pounds of corn?

Did you know that pigs fed white corn and skim milk will die while those fed yellow corn and skim milk will grow and be thrifty.

Did you know that it required approximately 402 pounds of ground kafir grain, 25 pounds of tankage, and 50 pounds of wheat shorts or alfalfa hay to produce 100 pounds gain in pigs? It will take approximately 370 pounds of corn, 24 pounds tankage and 44 pounds of shorts or alfalfa to produce the same amount of pork.

BRIDGE CLUB MEET

The Thursday Bridge Club gave an "au revoir" party last week at the home of Mrs. W. G. Street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cooper who are leaving Littlefield soon.

Mrs. Cooper was given a toilet set, as a parting gift and Mr. Cooper a shaving set.

Date nut pie was served to the members and their husbands.

By Farmer South

"Mommer, how do you spell 'fulfill'?" asked Billie Bunnie of his mother one night.

"I do wish you would not call me 'mommer,'" replied Mrs. Rabbit.

"Sweetest Mother of mine, how do you spell 'fulfill'?"

"That's better. You spell it f-u-l-l-i-l-l."

"Thank you, mother, dear." Then there was a scratching and everything was still. Br'er Rabbit was seated before the fire dozing. Every little while his head would go down and Billie Bunnie, or Bobbie Bunnie, would sneeze and wake him up again.

"Mother dear, if I had two apples and Daddy one, how many—"

"You are too stingy to give Daddy any," broke in Bobbie Bunnie.

"Never mind, children, you go on with your work. If I do your work, you'll never learn anything," said Mrs. Rabbit soothingly.

Down, down, down went on Br'er Rabbit's head until it was against the paper.

"Cher-CHOO!" went Billie Bunnie.

"Mercy me!" exclaimed Br'er Rabbit. "What was that terrible noise?"

"It was Billie—I think she must be taking cold. I'll have to give her some aloe and castor oil if she doesn't stop sneezing," answered Mrs. Rabbit, as her husband settled himself in his chair.

All was quiet for a long time—Billie stopped sneezing, but both of the children were watching their father and waiting to wake him up.

All was very still and the two children went over and kissed their mother good night. Then they stole softly up stairs.

By and by there was a BUMP!

"My goodness!" exclaimed Br'er Rabbit. "Is the house falling down?"

"I guess one of the children dropped a book," said Mrs. Rabbit, as she went on with her sewing.

Br'er Rabbit settled himself once more and was soon fast asleep.

"Mother, I want Daddy to kiss me good night," came a voice from up stairs.

"I'll come up there with a paddle if you don't let me sleep," laughed Br'er Rabbit, as he took off his coat and started up stairs.

STRONG CHARACTER AND STURDY WILLS ARE REWARDS THAT COME FROM THRIFT

By S. W. STRAUS, President
American Society for Thrift
 "The first and best victory is to conquer self," said Plato. "To be conquered by self is of all things, the most shameful and vile."
 The first step in thrift is "to conquer self." Until this self-conquest has been made we will never change our habits for the better.
 We may realize the folly of wastefulness and extravagance. We may wish that we might get out of the way of always being behind financially. We may realize in the honesty of our own hearts that we are doing ourselves a grave injustice by the neglect of our physical well being. We may know that we are allowing golden opportunities for self-improvement and advancement to be neglected.
 We may have a clear viewpoint of all of these attitudes. But until we apply the Platonian test to our rules of conduct, we are "conquered by self" which is "of all things, the most shameful and vile."

 Perhaps we have not thought all the way through these personal problems. In neglecting to save money or practice other phases of thrift, we have not realized, possibly, the great harm being done to ourselves mentally and spiritually. We have thought only of the material phases.
 It is well for us in this fast and fascinating era to listen across the ages to the voice of Plato, reminding us of the glory of victory over self and the shame of a conquest won by our own follies.
 Those who practice thrift may rest assured that not all the values accru-ing to them can be measured in terms of dollars. They may find inspiration in the concept that they are gaining what is more priceless than gold—a strong character, a sturdy will.

Eating From the Hard Boiled Egg Tree

Teabel Broden, left, eating her first mouthful of egg from a tree at Olton, Fla., while H. W. Johnson, tropical plant expert, holds the "hen" steady. The tree is the Camistel from Latin America. The fruit is soft and when cut has almost the identical appearance of a hard-boiled egg. It has no juice and when put into a sandwich tastes just like a delicious egg sandwich.

Fearless Female Farmers Fly in Face of Fate

They care for hives and harvest honey for the market without the least trepidation—often without protection for their faces and hands. Bee farming is one of the largest industries in the Western part of Washington. From one farm near Elma which has 300 hives nearly forty tons of honey are expected. Many of the farms employ girls, only—as the female of the species seems to be braver than the male, in handling bees.

COLLEGE NEWS

This week is the twelfth week of the school session and the end of the first college term. The second term of three months will begin next Monday. Those who desire to begin work for college credit should enroll on that date.

R. O. Conner and Alva Johnson are now doing some successful work in the raising of funds for the resumption of construction on the college grounds. We are joyously looking forward to the sound of saw and hammer within the very near future.

The students are eagerly awaiting the time for a visit home. Our holidays will begin at noon, Friday the 21st, and school will reopen Tuesday, January 1st.

Lois Freeman is using her spare hours in painting some scenery for the snow windows of the Texas Utilities company, also some smaller pictures which she is placing there for sale. We shall be glad for you to see her work as an index of the character of work done by the students in our art department.

Earl Allen, who lives near Wingate, in Runnels county, was here last week prospecting. Should he move to Littlefield, his sister and family, and likely his mother, will come with him. This would mean several more children for school because both Mr. Allen and his sister have children they want to put in school.

Mrs. E. J. Stone sr., has been visiting her children, Mrs. Jno. R. Freeman, Mrs. O. A. Burk, Mrs. Z. C. Thompson and Mrs. John Stone, for several days. Mr. Thompson's work called him as far east as Fannin county, so while in that section, Mrs.

Stone, who lives near Celina in Collin county, made arrangements to come back to Littlefield with him. Another one of Mrs. Stone's sons, E. J. jr., is also here. They are thinking of making Littlefield their home. Mr. Stone has some children he will wish to put in school.

Miss B. Angie Boyle, Miss Ruth Botts and Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Hazelton were in Lubbock, Saturday.

Earl Cantrill and family, of Silverton, were here during the week end visiting his sister, Mrs. H. C. Welch.

G. M. McKinney and son, Arthur, left for the Rio Grande valley in New Mexico last Monday. He is taking a truck load of stock down that way and is contemplating bringing back a load of vegetables.

President Freeman attended the association of Texas Colleges and the association of Colleges of the Southern states in Fort Worth last week. He reported good programs and brought back information interesting and profitable for our work in Littlefield college.

ROTARY CLUB MEETING

The Rotary club met Thursday noon of last week with 16 members present.

Dr. T. W. Grice was a visitor, and the meeting was presided over by President R. E. McCaskill.

A communication was read by the secretary from the Fort Worth club inviting the Littlefield members to attend a banquet given December 7th by them in honor of Tom Sutton, president of Rotary International. J. H. Arnett, of the local club, stated he would be in Fort Worth at that time and would attend. He was appointed a delegate from the Littlefield club.

The chairman also had a communication from the overseas delegation of Dallas for the International Rotary convention to be held in Dallas, in May, requesting the name of any member of the club who spoke more than one language. The name of Sam Rumback was sent in.

A number of the members were absent due to having to attend court in Olton, so the regular program was omitted.

JESS' JOSH

"I'm going to buy myself a harem" remarked a Littlefield boy as he passed a certain filling station.

"What do you mean," replied his companion. "You can't buy any harem in this town."

"Sure," see that sign on that gas station: "Eight Gals for a Dollar."

A woman parked in front of a Littlefield fire plug the other day. "You can't stop here," said the officer who was watching her. "Is that so?" she responded. "Evidently you don't know this car."

The Littlefield man who never thought of putting a blanket on his horse when he parked it outside for four hours on a cold day, now has a son who always forgets to throw a blanket over the radiator.

A wealth of imagination is a fine thing on the first of the month; but it won't pay your bills.

MILLIONS IN CHRISTMAS MAIL NEVER GETS THERE

Every January the Dead Letter office at Washington, D. C. receives between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 letters and post cards that are undeliverable largely because of insufficient or incorrect addresses, according to Postmaster J. E. Brannen, of this city.

This means not only disappointment to thousands of people, but an added expense of $325,000 to the government in trying to locate the proper ones to whom these messages were intended. Many of the letters it is said contain money and gifts of value, much of which can never be forwarded to the parties intended.

If patrons could be persuaded to write their return addresses on the corners of these letters and cards it would save much disappointment, as well as annoyance and expense, said Mr. Brannen.

Building permits from Snyder have already exceeded the $300,000.00 mark up to November 15. The City Council is planning the installation of a new $18,000 sewage disposal plant to be erected within the next 30 days.

Finishing work is being done on the basement of the new Methodist church at Woodson. The basement is divided into seven rooms, including kitchen, assembly room, and class rooms. Gas connections are in every room.

A delegation of Ballinger people including the chief of the fire department, secretary of the chamber of commerce, city secretary, and others are visiting nearby towns to inspect new city halls, and modern fire stations with the view of making the ones which they will have in the near future the very best.

Idalou has carried a $2,000,000.00 road bond issue by an almost unanimous vote. With the new Fort Worth & Denver extension, this road when completed will make the markets very accessible to the Idalou section of the country.

An athletic stadium is soon to be built for the Abilene public schools. The school athletic council already has $13,000 out on interest to be used in building the plant and this sum will be increased.

Unintentional Suicide

Many people are slowly poisoning themselves just as surely as if they drank iodine every morning for breakfast. They are daily absorbing the toxins, or poisons, created by accumulated waste matter in their constipated digestive systems. Sooner or later disease will conquer their weakened bodies.

If you have dizzy spells, headaches, coated tongue, bad breath, insomnia, no appetite, bilious attacks or pains in the back and limbs, you are probably suffering from self poisoning caused by constipation. The surest and pleasantest relief for this condition is Herbine, the vegetable cathartic which acts in the natural way. Get a bottle today from Stokes & Alexander Drug Company.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

On When Women Come Into Money.

AN Aunt Emmy sipped her tea she heard the conversation drift to the Slade sisters. The fact that they had inherited a large fortune and would have to administer it themselves created considerable comment.

"My husband says old man Slade made a big mistake not putting it in trust for them," said Mrs. Burt. "He says women never should handle large sums of money because they are financially uneducated"—he really meant 'dumb.'

"All women aren't dumb about money matters, are they, Aunt Emmy?" exclaimed Miss Pringle.

"Of course not," Aunt Emmy agreed. "There are all sorts and kinds of women all the way from very prudent to very foolish."

"Well, anyway, an awful lot of women have been victimized in financial things—just look at all the widows that have been robbed," insisted Mrs. Burt.

"There won't be so much of that in the future as in the past," Aunt Emmy said. "Women have been easy to victimize because they knew so lit

OUTSIDE DECORATIONS

Nothing contributes so much to the outside appearance of a house as appropriate plantings about it.

The best locations for plant groups are the most prominent points, usually the front corners of the house and porch, or a large bare wall unbroken by windows, where the larger or more conspicuous plants should be used. At the entrance steps or angles in the house the smaller plants look well. Under the windows of a long wall use plants that will grow only to the height of the window sills. In large spaces between windows plant those that will grow to the top of the window or above.

Variety can be secured by using plants of different form of growth and varying color and shape of the leaves. Shrubs can be bought with different types of branching, colors of stems and habits of holding leaves.

Furthermore, we've noticed that the street that leads to Easy Street often needs paving.

Largest Dog

This giant Alaskan wolf hound, owned by William Strother of Nome, Alaska, is 6 feet 2 3/4 inches high and weighs 190 pounds. Miss Josephine Harrison of Cincinnati, O., is shown comparing her size with the big boy. The dog answers to the name "Hak," meaning "I Like You" in Alaskan.

Garage Important

An automobile and a house are more closely related today than ever before. Statistics from all over the country indicate that wherever there is a settlement of homes, particularly in the outlying sections beyond our cities, a correspondingly large number of automobile owners will be found. When a man builds a home in a location that is not in line with transportation facilities, he turns to an automobile for his transportation.

An actual survey reveals that nearly every house now erected boasts of a garage. In many cases the garage is an essential that determines the purchase of a house. Were it not for automobiles the various outlying communities would be drawn more closely to the boundary lines of our cities, and they would follow only the main arteries of transportation. The automobile, therefore, is responsible for the many beautiful developments that may be found miles beyond the centers of population.

Get the Best in Home

Few persons build a home more than once in a lifetime. When they build they ought to secure the very best that they can afford in design, materials and workmanship.

In this way they get a home that will be admired by everyone and one that can be sold if necessary.

Begin right now on building a home of your own. Consult the builder and building material man. They will help you realize that American ideal—owning a home of your own.

Preserving Trees

Trees need not be destroyed or seriously damaged by the erection of houses, electric light or power lines. Many power companies give their crews instruction in careful tree trimming and now Syracuse University, co-operating with the power and light companies of New York state, is offering a week's special training in the subject for linemen.

Here's the Right Spirit

Spiral Garage

Attempting to solve the problem of where to keep all the cars, R. G. F. Livingstone of London has invented a spiral garage, a model of which is shown in the photo above. GROW MORE LEGUME HAY

Legume hay should be more widely grown for feeding dairy cows, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

Only 41 per cent of the hay grown in the United States at present is legume hay. In the North Central and North Atlantic states, which contains 66 per cent of all the dairy cattle, legume hay constitutes but one-third of the total hay crop.

The legume hays, alfalfa and clover, produce more hay per acre than does timothy, and are higher in digestible protein, one of the most expensive nutrients in the dairy cow's ration.

An average acre of alfalfa in 1927 produced almost seven times as much digestible protein as an acre of timothy, and 15 times as much lime.

Texas has about 20,000 miles of improved highways.

One acre of clover has produced three times as much digestible protein as an acre of timothy and as much as 7.8 acres of timothy. The annual legumes, cowpeas, and soy beans are almost equal to the clovers in the quantity of nutrients and lime produced.

CANNED APRICOTS, PEACHES AND PEARS

Useful for Many Tempting Desserts and Salads.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

There are so many uses for home-canned peaches, pears, and, if you happen to have them, for apricots, that it is well worth while to can a generous supply of these good fruits, especially if you have a home-grown surplus. In some markets it may even pay to buy peaches and pears for canning. In addition to their use as breakfast fruits, there are many tempting desserts and salads that can be evolved with canned peaches or pears as a basis—fruit mixtures, gelatin desserts, combinations with ice cream or whipped cream, pastry, and plain canned fruit with cake or cookies.

These fruits may all be canned in a water-bath. There are slight differences in the preparation of each fruit for canning, and in the time of processing, but the general method is about the same.

Before preparing the fruit make a thin or medium sirup to pour over it in the jars. For a thin sirup put one part of sugar into three parts of water and bring to the boiling point; for a medium sirup use one part of sugar to two parts of water. The choice of sirup depends on personal taste and the sweetness of the fruit you are using. In making the sirup for peaches, an unusually fine flavor is obtained by boiling a few cracked peach pits in the sirup for five minutes.

Use only clean sound fruit, and can it as soon after picking as possible. To remove the skin from peaches and apricots, scald them and then dip them into cold water. If you are canning a very large quantity of peaches, the lye method of removing the skins may be used. Directions for doing this are given in Farmers' Bulletin 1471-F, "Canning Fruits and Vegetables at Home." Send to the United States Department of Agriculture for it. After it has been peeled, cut the fruit into halves or smaller pieces and remove the pits. Pack at once, placing the halves in overlapping layers, the concave surface of each half downward. Fill up the containers with boiling sirup. Process quart and pint glass jars for 25 minutes in boiling water if the fruit is fairly hard and firm, or for 20 minutes if it is ripe and tender. Process No. 2 and No. 3 tin cans for 15 minutes.

Select firm sound pears that are not overripe. Pare, quarter or halve them and cook in boiling sirup for four to eight minutes, according to the size and ripeness of the fruit. This precooking makes the hard varieties of pears pack better. Pack the pears hot into containers and fill them up with boiling sirup. Process containers of all sizes for 20 minutes in boiling water.

Chicken Paralysis Is

Causing Heavy Losses

According to Dr. L. P. Doyle of Purdue University, chicken paralysis is now recognized as a distinct disease which is widely distributed and is causing heavy losses. He maintains that worms do not cause paralysis in chickens.

Birds affected with this disease continue to have good appetites and die in an emaciated condition because they cannot reach a food supply. When this disease is present in a flock, there are nearly always mature fowls showing a peculiar type of blindness in which the colored part of the eye turns almost white. No cure has been found. Avoid hatching eggs from flocks so afflicted.

Comb of Laying Hens

It is comparatively easy to tell which hens in the flock are laying. Probably the first point to observe would be the comb, which in a laying hen is usually of good size and bright red, while in a hen not laying the comb will be pale, small, dry and covered with a white scurf.

The next point to observe would be the vent, which in a laying hen is moist, soft and expanded, while in a non-laying hen the vent is dry, lead, and puckered.

Why Hens Roost Out

Sometimes people complain that the hens do not like to roost in a poultry house, but when one examines the house it is easy to see why they prefer to stay out of doors. Too often the house is dark, dirty, poorly ventilated and infested with mites which suck the very life from any fowl that dares to seek shelter in the place. Oil drained from the crank case of an engine or automobile will kill mites. Save it for the poultry house.

Now that speaking auto horns are a reality they should be so perfected that they will automatically tell the back seat driver to shut up.

ASTRONOMY AND THEOLOGY

Astronomical studies and conclusions will be found to have had much to do with our theological theories. The different view of the universe and its regulation taken by Copernicus and Galileo. When David wrote, "When I consider thy heavens, the sun, moon and stars, that thou hast made, what is that thou art mindful of him?" a much smaller a conception of the universe and man he had from what we have now! It must have a humbling effect upon every thinker to reflect upon the vastness of the universe and the smallness of the speck upon which we live. All of these discoveries may but increase our awe and reverence for Him who made the universe, but they alter our notion as to how He did this. Victor Hugo, in his "Intellectual Autobiography," wrote: "The locomotive travels fifteen leagues an hour. The hurricane travels sixty leagues an hour. The cannon ball travels seven hundred leagues an hour. The locomotive drags, the hurricane limps, the cannon ball is a tortoise. "Let us bestride a ray of light. This is to mount 4,000 times faster than the cannon ball, 4,200,000 times swifter than the hurricane, and 17,000,000 times swifter than the locomotive. It makes as you know, 70,000 leagues a second. "Start. Light launches you from the Earth to the Sun in eight minutes, from the Sun to Oceanus in four hours, from Oceanus to Centarus in three years and eight months, from Centarus to the pole star in twenty-eight years, and from the pole star to the Milky Way in 168,000 years, and from the Milky Way to the nebula of Canes Venatici in 5,000,000 years. You have not taken a step. The apparitions of the universe will continue to loom. Beyond the visible the invisible, beyond the invisible, the unknown." E. T. STRONG

President and General Manager
BUICK MOTOR CO.

DETROIT, Nov. 10, Praising Detroit newspapers and officials of the city for the safety campaign which recently has been waged against speeders and reckless drivers here, E. T. Strong, president of the Buick Motor Co., has expressed the hope that a similar program might be carried out in every city, town and hamlet in the nation. Messages are being sent to the more than 4,000 Buick dealers throughout the country, each of whom will be urged to get behind such a movement in his district. "The fact that some communities have accomplished so much in the humanitarian work of avoiding traffic casualties is conclusive proof that the campaign can be carried to a successful conclusion everywhere," Strong declared, "and the Buick Motor Co. pledges the fullest cooperation of its giant resources in working to this end. "The automobile no longer is a luxury—it is a necessity, and much of its immense value to the world is being periled by those who use the streets as speedways and those who drive without due care in the crowded traffic of the present era." That the problem is a big one, Strong is certain, but he is equally certain that with the proper cooperation of all concerned the streets and highways can be made safe and the value of the automobile for business and pleasure consequently increased.

Community Building

Consider the Future in Making Home Plans

Many a man, says Building Economy, makes the mistake of building his home to meet his immediate needs. He does not take into consideration the fact that conditions may change with him as they are constantly changing with other things. A home builder should have imagination.

Houses built 10 or 15 years ago generally are lacking in many things that today are deemed positively essential. Little conveniences that were in practice in the building of that day, but which these particular builders possibly deemed luxuries.

They were nothing of the kind. They simply were the potential necessities of 10 years to come.

Ideas change in houses and in the requirements of every-day convenience and comfort. And it is the housewives, rather than the architects, nine times out of ten, who are responsible. They must be suited.

Before you engage your architect take a run out to some neighborhood where building is brisk. Look through the houses. Note what is new, even novel, in the way of conveniences. Arrange to have them.

You will find they were a mighty good investment when you come to sell your house some time in the future. For the more conveniences, along with substantial construction, the easier the sale.

And, above all, build your house fire safe.

School Grounds Show Spirit of Community

Beautification of school grounds is important from several standpoints. Primarily, to the average citizen the neighborhood schoolhouse represents organized government. It is the outstanding example to him that his tax dollar is being spent in part at least for his benefit. A beautiful building, well equipped and placed in artistic surroundings, makes him feel that his taxes have been expended wisely. If the building or grounds are not up to par, however, he cannot help but begrudge the tax assessment. Furthermore, aside from the health standpoint, it is important that the child, attending school during the years in which character is being formed, be surrounded to as great a degree as possible with beauty. Squalor of any sort invariably leaves an evil effect. Beautiful school grounds on the other hand not only influence the development of an esthetic sense, but also reap their own reward in increased interest in the school.

The cotton trade of Texas with Atlantic seaboard ports is between 15,000,000 and 20,000,000 tons a year, valued at about $600,000,000.

A BRIGHT OUTLOOK

There is more than a mere item of news in a dispatch recently sent out from Birmingham, Ala., to the effect that 100,000 cotton spindles have been located in that state during the present year. Back of it is positive proof that the smaller towns of the country are coming into their own industrially. These 100,000 spindles are operated by one big manufacturing concern, but instead of placing them all in one big factory, located in one big city, they have been put into ten smaller plants, each located in a separate town. Thus labor is scattered over ten communities instead of one—ten small towns are profiting through ten weekly payrolls.

This is only one of many similar movements of the kind, and the Littlefield citizen who is capable of looking ahead can easily see in it a step that may, sooner or later, benefit our own community. Operators of our larger industries have learned that they must get closer to the base of the raw materials they use. The old idea that a factory, to be successful, had to be in a big city, no longer prevails. Today the small town, offering better living conditions and more pleasant surroundings for the factory worker and his family, is not only making a bid for its share of industrial activity, but it is getting it. We will do well here to keep our eyes open, to work together, and to be ready to seize upon any industrial opportunity that may come up.

What's the use of arguing early Christmas shopping unless we know where to get the money to do it with?

WELCOME SANTA

Do you remember, in those days "Way back when—" how you used to pencil your little notes to Santa Claus, asking him for this, that and the other thing and assuring him that you were a "real good boy" and loved your father and mother?

Santa Claus is fast approaching now. And just as you welcomed him as a kid, you should welcome him now. Remember that Santa Claus is a symbol of generosity, loving kindness and virtue. At this time, with his advent so near, check up on yourself. Have all your actions been worthy? Kind? Intelligent? Have you progressed or fallen behind in your work and in your spiritual growth?

Correct your faults, resolve to live to the highest in you, and when Santa Claus comes you will be able to welcome him properly, knowing that you have lived in such a manner as to merit the benefits that he showers upon you.

In this way you will receive, in addition to the love and respect of your friends and neighbors, a feeling of self-respect that, once acquired, will dignify and ennoble your entire life, putting it on a higher plane and bringing it nearer to the Divine. Welcome Santa Claus!

Now we know the world is getting better. Not a single soul wrote in this fall to ask us to reprint "When the Frost Is On the Pumpkinkin."

ROAD FIGURES

It may startle the average Littlefield citizen to learn that since 1918 the U. S. government has spent $613,993,977 on federal-aid roads. But he will be still more startled to realize that even that vast sum represents an expenditure of but fifty cents a year for each man, woman and child in the country.

Those of us who know how thoroughly the nation is now cob-webbed with fine highways can hardly believe that they have come at such a small cost to the federal taxpayer. Of course we have paid a state and county tax. But none of us have been hurt, when we consider what we have received for our money and how great has been the benefits arising from our present wonderful highway system.

There was a time when arguing road improvements was common in every community. Today the argument is all one-sided—today we argue if we don't get more of them.

Federal-aid in road building has proven one of the wisest steps Uncle Sam has ever taken. Let us hope he doesn't slow up on the job.

Now that sauer kraut is said to have originated in Asia we would not be surprised to be told that "hot dogs" were first discovered in South Africa.

"THE BAD COUNTIES"

Whether the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce has made any protest over the good, bad and indifferent map published some days ago in a Dallas newspaper by one of its concerns is not known, but such protest over the discrimination has been freely and rightly made by numerous towns in West Texas.

Citizens of Lamb county should resent that fact that this county was given an adverse rating by that East Texas concern. Right now hundreds of carloads of corn are being shipped from Littlefield alone to Dallas and other East Texas points, to say nothing of the cotton and other agricultural products going out to benefit the buyers of that section. Wheat is also a considerable contribution from this section.

The Leader is not strong for boycotting nor ostracism; but we have about decided that so far as we are concerned, in our wholesale buying what we cannot get from Fort Worth Amarillo, and Wichita Falls, we will probably order from Oklahoma City, Kansas City and Wichita, Kansas.

CITY FIRE MARSHAL ASKS CITIZENS TO BE CAREFUL

I would like to ask the citizens of our town to practice fire prevention religiously during the Christmas holidays.

Particular stress should be laid upon the fire hazards surrounding the Christmas tree, such as lighted candles, electric lights and wires, dried holly or mistletoe on gas lights, paper, tinsel and celluloid decorations.

Christmas is a time of thanksgiving and happiness, but this happy season can be changed without warning into one of sorrow, misery and despair if fire is permitted to creep in.—FRED HOOVER, City Fire Marshal.

ELECTRIC LAMPS ARE TO BE MADE WITHOUT FILAMENT

Experiments in gas filled lamps using the rare neon and argon gases indicate that the incandescent electric lamp of today will soon be replaced by a luminous lamp containing gas of some kind, but without the tungsten or carbon filaments at present used.

The advantages expected to be obtained are longer and less consumption of current for a given amount of light, meaning less cost to consumers for the same amount of light for the same money.

Lamps of this type have been used extensively in electrical signs and in fog beacons in aviation work.

Adults Contract Children's Diseases

Adults can, and do, contract many children's diseases. And, usually, they suffer from them much more than children do. For instance, many adults contract worms, an ailment usually associated with children. Sometimes they suffer intensely and take expensive medical treatments, without realizing that worms are the cause of their troubles. Yet, the symptoms are the same as in children, loss of appetite and weight, grinding the teeth and restless sleep, itching of the nose and anus, and abdominal pains. And, the same medicine that surely and harmlessly expels round and pin worms from children will do the same for adults — White's Cream Vermifuge, which you can get at Stokes & Alexander Drug Company.

It will be noted that ample feed is provided in the feed room. The feed room is the harness room, and contains a large number of hooks up the harness. Each of the two stalls is 3 inches wide and 12 feet long.

This barn is arranged with from the mow to the mangers along side walls of the structure. To so provided for each of the boxes a chute for each two stalls and a watering trough is provided in the mow. Easy access to the mow is provided by a flight of steps leading from the stalls.
