POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT

Service Curtailment Slated

United States Post Department has made a decision that may have a far-reaching effect on service in the Littlefield area within a near-horizon time. The department announced it is planning to eliminate all Saturday mail deliveries in city residential areas. No date was set for this move, but the department said that starting July 27 all Saturday and Sunday window service at first- and second-class post offices and classified units will be discontinued.

One window may be opened for not more than two hours to hand out general delivery and business mail to regular users of these services.

The service curtailments were attributed by the department to manpower reductions imposed by the new tax bill. The department also announced it will close down 250 fourth class post offices Aug. 2, and an additional 97 fourth class offices Aug. 30.

Tool Theft Rash Hits

Tool theft seems to be in vogue this week, according to police reports which indicate three such burglaries on the same night in Littlefield. T. H. Henderson of 312 E. 19th St., reported to police that Friday night or Saturday morning someone had taken a large box full of tools valued at $100 from his residence. The large, yellow tool box was said to contain two complete sets of socket wrenches and other assorted tools.

Ralph Carter of 521 E. 15th St. also reported that during the same night a tool box valued at $50 was taken from his residence. The tool box was green and contained a large pipe wrench and assorted other wrenches.

Also on the same night, and in the same area of town, another small tool box, valued at $12 dollars was reported stolen. This one was reported by Mr. Hollinsworth of 509 E. 17th St.

County Sheriff Having Usually Busy Week

Lamb County sheriff's office reflects a variety of activity over the past several days in the county jail traffic a brisk pace.

Johnson, Sr. was admitted to the county jail late Friday on a charge of causing a fine assessed for him was not paid and he was still in custody late Tuesday.

Charles Patterson, of Littlefield was admitted to the county jail at 10 a.m. Monday and charged with liquor law violation. Bond set at $1,000 was posted and he was released later in the day to await trial.

Lauro Gonzalez, 34, of Lubbock, was lodged in the county jail by the highway patrol at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday on a traffic charge. The $40 fine assessed for the violation, which was not reported, remained unpaid and he was still in custody Wednesday.

At 9 a.m. Wednesday, sheriff's deputies picked up Andre alazar of Sudan at the request of the United States marshal's office. He is being held Wednesday for release to a marshal upon request.

Damage High In Car Crash Here Monday

The two vehicles involved sustained major damage but no injuries resulted in a collision at the intersection of Harrel Ave. and E. 13th St. Monday, police reports indicate. The accident reportedly occurred when a 1967 Chrysler sedan, driven by Anna Louise Bryce, 75, of Littlefield and 1965 Chevrolet pickup, driven by Robert Corvin, 34, also of Littlefield, collided at the intersection. Corvin was traveling north on Harrel and the Bryce car east on E. 13th when the incident occurred, the report said. The Chrysler reportedly struck the pickup causing an estimated $175 damage to the front end while receiving an estimated $500 dollars damage to itself.

deep end of the pool at near 9 p.m. Friday night. Then the long battle for his life began which in its course involved the aid of many persons throughout the community, ranging from coaches and parents at pool-side to the Littlefield volunteer fire department personnel and the staff of Littlefield Hospital. Where there was no sign at first, a fairly strong heart beat was restored through emergency treatment, but it grew constantly weaker until finally beating its last Saturday night. So deep was the community feeling for David's fight for life that many dozens of persons crowded the corridors or kept vigil outside the hospital for several hours following the accident. They felt a great loss when the struggle ended in failure. Details of the funeral can be found inside.

Enough Guts

BY LIBBY MUDGITT

IF I WERE going to take a trip this summer, there's two places I'd like to visit. I'd never heard of either place until they were in the news, but now my curiosity is whetted no end and how I would love to meet the inhabitants of both villages and compare them with one another.

The first place I'd like to visit is a northern Colorado mountain hamlet by the name of Jamestown, population of about 200.

It seems that the Post Office Department is determined to force upon them a new post office that they don't want. They've already got one in the corner of the general store that suits them fine and dandy.

THE PROPOSED new post office building is to cost $14,000, which the Jamestownians claim is a ridiculous waste of federal money. They have repeatedly petitioned the Post Office Dept. in Washington, but have never gotten a reply.

So the complaining citizens have formed a group entitled Voters Opposing Indiscriminate Civic Expenditures (VOICE), hired a lawyer, and are preparing to fight to the bitter end against obtaining free from the federal government a facility they don't want or need.

THEY DID OBTAIN a hearing in Denver with a regional director of the Post Office Department and told him exactly how they felt about the whole situation. His answer?

"Unless I see a better reason than what you've given me, we're going to go ahead and build it."

Well, that makes sense coming from the Big Brother type of government that we now have. You know—Big Brother knows best and you just really don't know what's good for you and you just THINK you don't need a new $14,000 post office.

BUT WOULDN'T you like to go into that little general store and meet some people that still have enough individuality and guts to resist a government handout?

How refreshing that would be in these days and times! Alas and alack, such people are beginning to be few and far between.

From the little Colorado mountain town, I would journey to Illinois to a village named Gardner. Its population is more than five times that of Jamestown's and I wonder if there's a message in that little fact somewhere.

Could it be that the larger a community gets, the more it whines for help? Or is it simply the makeup of the people? Or maybe even circumstances?

ANYWAY, Gardner's three water wells have dried up and it is nearing the end of its water supply. Oh they're drilling a new well, all right, but it won't be completed for five months yet. And right there, they claim, is where the trouble is.

The town's water funds have been allocated for the new well and they have no money left for transportation for the emergency pumping equipment from Terra Haute.

So instead of setting about getting the money themselves, one way or another as all communities have to do sooner or later, they got on the phone and started beggin.

FIRST THEY called officials at Great Lakes Naval Training Station and asked for aid in transporting that pumping equipment.

The officials said that they did not have the necessary vehicles available to haul the equipment (probably a big lie, but that's beside the point).

Next they called Chanute Air Force Base in another attempt to secure military transport to haul their emergency pumping equipment.

Again they were told that there were no vehicles available (probably another whopper but still beside the point).

AT LAST REPORT they were sitting around wringing their hands wondering what they were going to do next.

For all I know, they may be organizing a march on Washington or maybe they've already gotten a federal handout.

I'd still like to meet those Gardnerites, though.

They must have changed a lot since I lived in Illinois many years ago, but I'd like to see for myself.

Back then, every able bodied person in town would have hauled that equipment piece by piece on their backs from Terra Haute to Gardner before they'd have asked for free aid from anyone.

OH BIG BROTHER! What have you done to us?

Paid?

SOME PROFESSIONAL troublemakers collecting money with both hands. They are paid by followers TO STAGE demonstrations and paid off by politicians NOT TO.

IN CHICAGO some infamous youth gangsters, believed responsible for 28 killings far this year, have been collecting payoffs to $6,500 each to prevent trouble.

This bribe comes from $1 million in general funds distributed by the Office of Economic Opportunity -- Your dollars.

These gangsters, ostensibly employed "instructors," are thus picking your pocket in exchange for keeping the city "safe" through the Democratic National Convention this summer.

AT THE SAME TIME there is evidence they are collecting big money from local side merchants as "protection" for a property in case of further rioting.

Similarly, in the racist organization of the Black Muslims, big money is raised by the misleadership. Elijah Muhammad, head man of this hate outfit, has boasted he takes in $120,000 a month.

A LETTER to the membership meeting Muslim farms and a supermarket restaurant, all profitable to the movement. The restaurant reportedly takes in $2,000 a day.

The movement, "advertised and recommended" by Cassius Clay, has grown to nationwide membership of 70,000 or more.

THE MUSLIMS, while buying up other properties, are demanding that the U.S. government should give them five states for a "black nation." They prefer Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana and North Carolina. They want all of the drums and none of the necks!

Meanwhile, back in Washington-- TV, radio and press coverage of public demonstrations by the "poor people" constituted a nationwide promotion for "money."

ONE CHURCH GROUP kicked in $50,000. Organized labor contributed heavily. Members of Congress made specific contributions.

But incalculable cash contributions flow to the Washington post office come from sympathetic Negroes and whites all over America, most conscientiously seeking to perpetuate what they consider a worthy constructive "campaign against poverty."

The instances herein cited are admitted unrelated except that in each case demonstrators are collecting money to stage demonstrations or to prevent demonstrations -- or both at the same time.

AND IN EACH instance it's the taxpayer who pays. Unwillingly, he subsidizes these gangsters.

Or, when compassionate persons willingly contribute to a gigantic, unaided and tempting kitty, such contributions are "deductible" -- our Treasury is further depleted to the extent of those deductions. So the taxpayer pays all ways.

This Is Littlefield

Littlefield, like any other community, is not without its problems. And one of the major thorns in the community's side is adequate and proper water drainage of its streets.

After any shower of larger proportions than a sprinkle, many Littlefield streets become shallow lakes. Drainage takes the major portions of the water, but there remains a standing puddle that is unsightly, unsafe and costly over much of the town.

Standing water in the streets becomes unsightly soon after the freshness fades. Mud, debris and discoloration mars the appearance of any home or business before which it stands.

A safety factor enters into the standing water problem, also. Besides cars possibly dodging into the path of another vehicle to stay out of the water, the brakes can be soaked when cars drive through. Wet brakes are little better than no brakes at all. And driving through wet water can also make steering difficult.

Finally, almost all streets in the community are paved with asphalt. This material, when soaked with standing water and pounded continuously with vehicles, disintegrates. Patching of the holes caused by crumbling asphalt requires replacement materials of some expense and costly manhours.

Some cities have eventually replaced poor draining intersections with concrete to provide better drainage, as well as keeping down most future repairs.

We are happy to report that Littlefield's city fathers are deeply concerned with the problem, and are taking steps to eliminate it. The story is on the front page of this edition.

A community not without its problems... This is Littlefield.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Share The Work

BY BOB WEAR

IT SEEMS that most of us know about what needs to be done to maintain the basic principles of a vigorous and substantial social structure.

Our behavior, however, often gives the impression that most of us are waiting for others to make the first move.

Consequently, only a small percentage of the people are trying to do the majority of the work necessary to meet the challenges which are thundering in our ears.

THERE IS TOO MUCH of the spirit of, "I will, if YOU will." Too many of us are asking, "Why don't they do something?"

We hear individuals accusing other individuals of neglect and indifference; however, the accuser is oftentimes as much at fault as the accused.

He knows what needs to be done, too; but he is not doing it.

THIS SAME SPIRIT is found in organizations and institutions. They blame and criticize each other, when they, with one accord, should be facing up to the job that needs to be done. The energy they waste in fault-finding should be put to work.

Homer said, "Light the task where many share the toll." This is the spirit we need in our communities, in our nation and in the church of the living God.

WE MUST ACCEPT the responsibility, to the best of our ability, that rightfully belongs to us. You and I are equally obligated to be upright and honorable persons, whether we are rich or poor.

There seems to be more desire to share the wealth than there is to share the work. In keeping with our respective abilities, we are equally responsible for supplying our needs, serving our communities, being good citizens and maintaining effective government.

NO ONE has the right to say to his neighbor, "These obligations are your's and none of mine."

We must share them. We seem to be losing much of the willingness to accept the obligations which go with the blessing that we expect and usually demand.

IF WE WANT government services, we must be willing to help pay the bill. If we want high quality education for our children, we must put for the maximum efforts to maintain maximum educational opportunities.

In most directions we look, it seems that we can clearly see the lack of balance between expectations and acceptance of responsibilities.

Much is written and said about the action needed to solve our problems, and improve our situations.

This is easy to do, and we seem to have some sound ideas about what should be done. We must remember, however, that "ideas are such funny things; they never work unless we do."

TOO MANY of us seem to feel that some how, we do not know how; and in some way, we do not know the way; everything will come out alright. There is, however, no basis for this Pollyanna attitude.

So far as we know, nothing just happens to turn out alright. "Things do not happen until somebody makes them happen." Wishful thinking is not effective, but diligent working is effective.

WORTHWHILE accomplishment demands intelligent planning and energetic working. Whatever is done, must be done by somebody; and we should share the work.

Witnesses Back From Assembly

Littlefield and area Jehovah's Witnesses returned home this week after a four-day stay in San Angelo, where they attended the "Good News For All Nations" District Assembly sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society.

Lloyd Lowery of Littlefield, presiding minister, reports that "5,011 persons packed the coliseum Sunday to hear L.M. Dugan, of New York, deliver the stirring discourse "Man's Rule About to Give Way to God's Rule."

Dugan told the crowd Sunday: "Viewed from the standpoint of the world situation today, it is becoming undeniably plain that man is unable to rule himself."

Dugan brought out, "In spite of human rulers and their political supporters who feel that man's rule absolutely has to be carried forward in order to avoid world disaster, God, as precise timekeeper, will follow His own time clock and at the exact time He will restore theocracy, God's rule, to this planet, over all the earth. His time is near, which is why man's rule is about to give way to God's rule."

"Refreshed by the scriptural information received during the four-day program, local Witnesses are better equipped to meet the needs of interested ones locally," Lowery said. All regular meetings at Kingdom Hall will resume this week.

4-H CLUB MEMBERS from District 2 of the Texas Extension Service, and their adult leaders, spent the week of July 8-12 at Camp Scott Able, in the Sacramento Mountains of New Mexico. Hosting the group at an electric camp was Southwestern Public Service Company. Pictured with Clyde Lipscomb of Plainview,

DPS To Train 120 Additional Patrolmen

A training school for 120 new patrolmen with the Texas Department of Public Safety will start July 30, Major Luther Moore, Regional Commander, announced today.

"We have several new benefits to offer qualified young men," Moore said. "For instance, the pay during training is $500 per month and upon graduation this is increased to $571."

"Also, our selection methods are more liberal in that an applicant is not required to live in Texas for one year prior to employment, and the entrance examination is given every day at our larger offices."

To qualify for employment in the uniformed services of the DPS, a man must be between the ages of 20 and 35, not less than 5 feet 8 inches tall, have a high school education or its equivalent, be in sound physical condition with good vision and must be a citizen of the United States.

"Among the many benefits that patrolmen enjoy," Moore pointed out, "are two weeks annual vacation, all holidays provided for by the Legislature, modern liberal retirement systems and group hospitalization and life insurance plans, traveling expenses and longevity pay, and uniforms and all the necessary equipment to perform their duties."

For complete information concerning the position of patrolman, training and benefits, Moore asked that those who are interested contact the nearest DPS patrolman or DPS office. "In return," he said, "they will receive complete information in regard to the application and examination."

allowed on city property (parkway) and in no case closer than 6 ft. back of curb; this will eliminate roots cracking curb and sidewalks.

Rebuild edges which have lowered so much that water stands on paving and cannot get into flowline of curb.

Fire hydrants in flowline of curb should be removed and curb and gutter replaced.

City should check water spots after rains to determine cause of water retention. If dirt or trash in flowline is the cause, then flowline should be cleaned out.

Seal gutter in low or high, make note on paving map for replacement.

Water should not be allowed to stand on asphalt paving. The slurry seal should be discontinued. (The slurry seal is a method of patching holes and cracks in the pavement presently in use by the city.

Repairs and reconstruction considered urgent and recommended being accomplished as soon as economically feasible are:

Seal coat, 171,551 square yards $25,733.
Double seal coat, 83,402 square yards $33,361.
1-1/2" hot-mix overlay 35,032 square yards $31,529.

Reconstruct Phelps - 10th to 15th widen 10' $28,965.
Reconstruct 40 intersection valleys $12,000.
Improvements needed First year $131,585.
Recommendations for the four following years were:
Second year, seal $175,355 square yards of paving $26,303.
Third year, seal 88,428 square yards of paving, $13,264.
Fourth year, seal 56,169 square yards of paving, $8,425.

Final year, seal 8,485 square yards of paving, $1,273.
Total expenditure for the last four years, $49,265.
The outside expenditure for the entire five-year project is estimated at $180,853.

In addition to the above it was recommended in the report that approximately $6,000 to $8,000 be budgeted each year for city maintenance personnel to continue replacing 30 asphalt drainage valleys per year with concrete.

Journey To The Past

BY EVALYN PARROTT SCOTT

The family and I made a weekend trip to Ruidoso recently to see the running of the "hags" and later to sit quietly by a mountain stream and meditate.

On the way to Ruidoso we drove over a hill onto the scene of a one-vehicle accident; a station wagon had flipped on its top in the middle of the highway. Wearing apparel and groceries were strewn about and the top was smashed in.

There was the usual crowd of morbid curiosity seekers; while other good gentlemen were lending a hand in prying up the top of the station wagon on one side to allow room for someone to crawl through the window and remove someone evidently pinned in the vehicle.

Read in the paper next morning only three were injured of the 12 passengers in the station wagon when the blow-out accident occurred.

This served as a dampener, somewhat to our holiday spirits and evidently did to some others, as all who passed the accident scene seemed more inclined to hold their speed down. That is, all except one lady who still seemed in a hurry. She passed us on a hillside with very little space to spare when meeting an oncoming vehicle which proved to be a lawman going to the scene of the accident.

Saw the same lady pass another vehicle on another hillside under the same circumstances. While continuing on to Ruidoso, I was reminded frequently of the accident by meeting two ambulances, a state trooper and a wrecker. (Was convinced by then, all were dead.)

But being one who never overlooks anything of a historical nature, I noted a roadside marker stating we were on Coronado Trail (the one he made in the 10th century).

Also saw another version as to the origin of the names, Staked Plains; this one being that Coronado named the Plains, Llano Estacado, which is incidentally the name of our new area genealogical society because of the many yucca stems jutting toward the sky.

Some other versions: Because of the polissade-like escarpment seen by those coming up on the Plains; another cowboy tying their horses to stakes driven into the ground; (this because of lack of trees no doubt?) another version of the name because of the stockades built by the armed forces at the old Forts.

Arrived at the race-track a little past the noon hour and found the barn gate. (Really a small station where a gent stops you, and if he thinks you have legitimate business in the barn area, he lets you through the barn gate.)

As a brother-in-law, W. A. Nuttall, had a horse or two in the stables, we wanted to visit with him and have a looksee at behind the scenes action.

Barn after barn were filled with stable horses who couldn't have acted more bored—but, they do come alive at the starting gate. Saw the stable boys working around; trainers waiting to get the thoroughbred horses ready for the race their horse was to run in, I also heard of the "mink and manure set" but didn't see ONE mink flying around when puffs of wind came—but saw plenty of the other.

Left the races in search of a cool mountain stream. Parted with one dollar to drive along a mountain stream on the Mescalero reservation. (And did Uncle Sam hand them a mint, when he dished out that reservation.) However, being American Aborigines, the Mescaleros figured the land was theirs anyhow, and now they are sitting back and raking in the dollars, and possibly having the last laugh at the pale-faces whose ancestors had pushed theirs further further back. Doubt seriously if these Mescaleros need to participate in poverty marches.

Next came the scenic drive up Sierra Blanca (12 or 16 miles of hair pin curves climbing from 3000 feet to 10,000 feet).

Anyway, I guess it was a scenic drive, I never having been too fond of winding mountain roads, kept my eyes closed and pressed an imaginary brake through the floor board.

Had a feeling something was going to happen, even if it was only a flat tire. After making the drive back (thankful am I) we didn't have the flat tire on that scenic drive, as husband, Jack, was driving the old Chevy I drive, and I know full well those emergency brakes do not hold. However, they did one curious time as said husband decided not to make the last so and turned around on you might say, once again right at the edge of the precipice. All I know is if the brakes held that time we'd still be living.

Came next morning on the southern route home stopped at the old Lincoln County Court House, the territorial government of Mexico and Lincoln range war; and, of course Billy the Kid, made his jailbreak, killing two deputies the process.

Stood at the very place where he stood when he fell down on the court filled deputy Olinger fell from Olinger's own gun; a bullet scarred wall at the top of the stairs where Sherriff Bell was shot by who was standing at the stairs.

Of special interest were several original letters were the Kid to the Territorial government asking for leniency and he did return to Lincoln and testify concerning the killings during the famous Coln County War; in which Kid was very much hurt. Seems he changed from the middle of the street winding up using his gun both sides Poor Billy never seemed to realize he was over, and just kept going one all of his own going.

Late Rally Falls Short

Olton's little Freddie Longoria provided the pitching that made a repeat of the 1967 Area Little League baseball tournament and knocked Littlefield's All-Stars out of the event the first day.

The tricky and effective Longoria held Littlefield to six hits and gave Olton a 3-2 decision in the opening round, played at Muleshoe's fine new Roger Miller Ball Park.

Yesterday evening's finals were set up as an all Lamb County feature, with Sudan-Amherst playing Springlake-Earth for the crown.

Sudan-Amherst topped Plainview American 3-1, Springlake-Earth shut out Spade-Anton 11-0 and Plainview National edged host Muleshoe 2-0 in the other games Monday.

Then Tuesday, finalists Sudan-Amherst knocked out Olton 9-5 and Springlake-Earth slipped past Plainview National 8-6.

Littlefield's Pat Henderson went all the way on the mound, limiting Olton to only three hits.

But one of those hits, a double by Vic Allcorn in the third inning, proved to be the difference in the ball game.

Carl Sudduth was walked to lead off the third, and Alan Carson followed him with a single. They advanced on a hit by Monte Chirwood, who was thrown out at first.

Then Allcorn slammed Henderson's second pitch for a double, driving the two runners in to score.

Carson scored Olton's other run in the opening inning. Len Richey, who missed being named to the All-Star team but was pulled up when another player couldn't make pre-tournament practice, collected two hits for Littlefield.

He was joined in the hitting circle by Terry Bryson, Gary Brown, Pat Henderson and Connie Bowman.

Littlefield made its most serious threats of taking the contest in the fifth and sixth innings.

In the fifth, two runners were on base when the side retired. And in the bottom of the final frame, the bases were loaded, but two runs were all that could be brought in.

Coach Jerry Williams, who has been selected by his fellow Little League coaches to lead the team this year and last, expressed deep disappointment over the loss. However, he praised his players for their hard efforts, work, and attitude before, during and after the game.

BIG JIMMY McCURRY romps over home plate after lacing a grand slam home run over the left field fence for Springlake-Earth. His big knock aided in his team's 11-0 victory over Spade-Anton.

The final two games of the 1968 Little League season were played Saturday evening.

The Optimists came through in their final match to defeat Batson 3-2.

The winning pitcher was Steve Carr. The losing Danny Cushion.

Neither Batson's nor the Optimists' final standings would have been affected by a loss in the game. However, both teams put their foot forward to gain another win.

The final game in the Minor League brought a win on the part of P.C.A., and a Union Compress, 18-9. The game was a close for P.C.A. and put the second place position in final standings, one-half in front of Security State. Union Compress was affected by the loss, and retain their fifth-place ing.

Area Teams Ranked In State Magazine

In pre-season speculation published in Texas Football magazine, which hit the local stands yesterday, Littlefield was given no better chance than 10th place finish in District 3-AAA, but Sudan was chosen to repeat as 3-A kingpin with Springlake-Earth running third.

The popular publication which covers high school teams for rankings and personnel, as well as colleges in the state, is seldom correct in predictions of finalists, but football fans like to read the reasons given for the speculations, anyway.

Sweetwater got the nod in revamped, 11-team 3-AA, followed in order by Lamesa, Brownfield, Colorado City, Snyder, Lubbock Estacado, Slaton, defending champion Lubbock Dunbar, Levelland, Littlefield and San Angelo Lake View.

States the mag about the Wildcats:

"Littlefield looks approvingly at its backfield but surveys its line with suspicion in seeking improvement one 3-7 season. Among 4 offensive and 6 defensive veterans are two quality backs--QB Roy Burk and halfback Joe Ross. Others of promise are Howard Wright and T. J. Morgan. Best of the line-men appear to be center Roy Bolton, guard Windell Ashley and end Randy Walker, with Harold Lowery, David Perkins, Dennis Cawthon and Matthew Hodge also due to help."

Sweetwater's quarterback Aubrey McCain and all-star A. G. Perryman, Dunbar guard, were the only two conference individuals named on the AAA Honor Roll by the magazine.

None of the 11 teams in the District were picked among the pre-season top 10 state's teams in AAA. Brownwood was the top favorite, and Perryton of 1-AAA was placed third while Dumas was given no higher rating than 10th.

Sudan has the weapons to repeat as district champion but Farwell could disrupt the Hornets' best-laid plans. Sudan has impressive experience--8 offensive and 6 defensive regulars returning from a 10-3 season.

"Foremost on the Hornet talent list is senior guard Bill Ford (6-1, 180) who likes to hit people. Center Tim Nix (6-2, 180), tackle Doc Baker (6-0, 185), guard Micky Gilbert and end Shawn Potter add heat and talent to the line."

"FB Larry Hanna and HB Jerry Bellar, both juniors, should make opposing defense jittery. Steve Martin, moving from end to QB, will play a key role," stated the article.

About the Wolverines of Springlake-Earth, the publication said:

"Springlake (they still haven't heard of the school's three-year-old name change) will also count heavily on experience (7 offensive and 8 defensive veterans). Tackles David Templeton and Wayne Henderson guard Gary Baberer and center Ricky Byers are all seniors and a 11 turn in big plays in the line both ways. FB Terry Bridge (6-0, 180) and HBs Jerry Barden and Neal Armstrong spearhead the backfield."

Last year Texas Football had Littlefield finishing in fifth place and Sudan in second. But the 'Cats finished in a tie for the cellar and Sudan won the first conference title of its history. You just can't tell until it's all over.

BOWLING NEWS

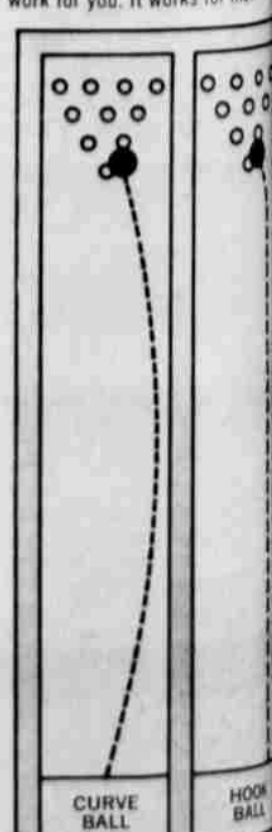

Curve Ball and Hook Ball

Professional bowlers always recommend that the average bowler use the hook ball. In like manner, they suggest strongly that the curve ball is at best, inconsistent, will deprive the bowler of high scores and should be avoided. Whenever I see a bowler using the curve ball, I always advise him to cut down on the arc of the curve as much as possible. This is the first step in getting him to realize that the less arc he has in the ball path, the better his chances are for consistent delivery and good scoring. In a very short time, this bowler will notice that he has better control, is bowling easier and more consistently. In all probability, he will soon start to roll the hook ball.

Let's consider these facts about the curve ball. When you roll a curve ball, it travels across the lane and then back to the pins. It really travels in two different directions. This increases the distance the ball has to roll and it increases the margin for error.

The wrist action required for the curve ball delivery is extremely difficult to repeat exactly time after time, on every delivery. The result, as one tries to increase or decrease the arc of the curve, is an inconsistent delivery and inconsistent scoring.

I recommend the hook ball for the bowler who has attained some degree of proficiency with the straight ball delivery. The hook ball travels down the lane on a relatively straight line until it approaches the pins. Then, it breaks sharply into the strike zone.
