Seven Inches Of Rain Falls On Fieldton Farm

Rain fell again Monday night, making the fourth consecutive day that this section was target for a heavy shower, bringing the total precipitation to 3 16-100 inches for Littlefield and immediate territory, according to report by L. C. Cawthorn, official weather man.

Saturday an inch and one quarter fell; Sunday

$150,000 Lake For $219.00 Seems Assured For County

The opportunity for Lamb county to secure $150,000 in federal funds for the construction of a large lake, soared to new heights Wednesday afternoon when over 1,000 representatives met in Amarillo to discuss the benefits of the recent bill passed by Congress, and signed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, to preserve water in what has been termed the "Dust Bowl Area."

A little matter of $219 may stand in the way of the project but this money is expected to be paid by the Lamb county commissioners court and then smooth sailing for the project will no doubt be forthcoming.

For some time it has been known that Lamb county might enjoy large benefits from "Dust Bowl Money." To assure passage of the bill, Mr. Carl Hinton, secretary of the Amarillo chamber of commerce was sent to Washington, D. C. where he stayed several weeks lobbying for the project. His expenses were to be paid by the counties who would receive benefits and Lamb county was assessed a quota of $219, a very small amount considering what the county will receive back from his labors and the labors of Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo.

Glen Burgess, secretary of the Littlefield chamber of commerce in Amarillo Wednesday, and when advised of the lake construction project for this county, phoned back to Littlefield and called a meeting of the county planning board Wednesday night.

Frank Rogers of Amherst, L. A. Purcell of Sudan and Clint Griffin of Littlefield, all members of the board of five members met at the Littlefield city hall, and voted to recommend to the Lamb county commissioners that the $219 be paid as quickly as possible, and that a site for the construction of the lake be selected, and forwarded to the WPA officials at the Lubbock district office, so army engineers could make a survey shortly and OK the matter, so construction co-

Lubbock, Sept. 9.—With only two weeks left before the gala opening of the 24th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair September 27 to October 2, work crews are swarming over the fairgrounds whipping things into ship-shape order.

With the issuing of the official fair program last week much interest is being manifested throughout the county and a great number of exhibits are expected. In fact a great number have already been entered with the respective department heads.

On Monday of this week Glen Burgess, manager of the fair and secretary of the chamber of commerce, took with him Miss Benny Frances Dunn and Miss Margaret Wiseman, two charming young ladies dressed in typical cow girl fashion, and visited numerous newspaper offices all the way from Littlefield to Amarillo, to Clovis, to Lubbock and south to Brownfield. 1,269 Students Enrolled In Littlefield Schools

"I feel that this year's school program will give more attention to the individual needs of the students in the Littlefield public schools than ever before."

"In the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades special drill periods have been provided for students needing extra assistance with their studies."

"Special courses are being offered to junior high school students that have never been offered before. Educational and vocational guidance is one of the courses being offered, and a combination of high school and grammar school mathematics, as well as the same combination in English is also offered."

"The teachers have shown every indication they are most congenial and are showing a great amount of enthusiasm in their work. I feel that we are having great fortune in having the excellent staff of instructor we have. They are a great asset to the city."

With these four statements, Supt. of schools, Floyd Hemphill summed up his opinion of the opening of the Littlefield schools this past Monday.

Enrollment the first three days of school this year shows a total of 1,269 students in the Littlefield school system. At the end of September last year the enrollment was 1,256. This shows an increase of 13 students in three days over the first thirty days of last year. A great number of students are expected to enroll this month bringing the increase to a sizeable figure over last year.

Hemphill said Wednesday that they already noticed the great need for additional buildings here due

S. W. Cowan's First Bale Of Cotton Sells For 10c Pound; Local Merchants Donate $53.00 As Bonus

The first bale of cotton produced in Lamb county was auctioned off Saturday afternoon for 10 cents per pound, bringing a cent and a half over the closing price of cotton that day. It was purchased by Renfro's Grocery & Market of Littlefield.

The cotton was grown by S. W. Cowan, who lives three miles west of Fieldton and a mile south. The farm is about twelve miles from Littlefield. Over 500 people gathered around while the first bale was auctioned off right on the main street of Littlefield Saturday afternoon in front of Renfro's Grocery. It was at exactly 3:11 p. m.

Cowan's cotton arrived in Littlefield about 9:30 p. m. Friday night, and was taken to the Mayhew-Renfro gin. At 6:30 a. m. Saturday it was ginned. When brought in, the cotton, before ginning weighed 2,020 pounds, and the finished bale weighed 518 pounds. Eight hundred and ten pounds of seed was secured from the gross load and this was also sold to Renfro's Grocery & Market at the rate of 95 cents per hundred pounds. The 810 pounds brought $7.70 and the bale brought $51.80, making a total of $59.50 realized from having the first bale.

Last year the first bale brought in sold for twelve cents a pound, but it only weighed 430 pounds, bringing a total of $50.60 to its owner.

Littlefield merchants, always ready to award the owner of the first bale of cotton, raised the sum of $48.00 in cash. This brought Cowan's total cash income for having the first bale to $107.50. Bill Chesher, manager of the Palace theatre, gave a $5 booklet of movie tickets, which made Cowan's gross "take" on the bale worth $112.50 or a "bonus" of $53.00.

Mr. Cowan has been residing in this community since 1927, and farms a seventy-five acre tract. He was born in Grayson county, Texas, is married and has two children, one little girl seven years old and a three months old boy. Cowan seemed mighty pleased Saturday afternoon with his income from the first bale, and was receiving the congratulations of his many friends.

Names of the local firms and individuals, who made up the "bonus" for Cowan's first bale of cotton were:

Hamburger King, Higginbotham-Bartlett Co., Piggly Wiggly, Stokes Drug, County Wide News, W. H. Madden, Walkers Pharmacy, Littlefield Hospital, Jesse Scavo, Lon's Cafe, Jim Etter, Palace Theatre, Thaxton Bros. Hardware, Bryan Drug, Cobb's Dept. Store, First National Bank, Hewitt Chevrolet, Yellow House Land Co., Texas-New Mexico Utilities Co., Ware's Dept. Store, Replin's, Aldridge Grocery, Eddins Food Store, Keithley & Hibben Insurance, Walters Drug, Brittain Pharmacy, Brannen Hardware, Bill Covert, Jones Hardware, Houk's Grocery, Palace Drug, Hall's Grocery, Garland-White Auto Supply, Jefferies Grocery, West Texas Cotton Oil Co., Lamb County Leader, and Lee Tinsley, the man who made the first bid of nine cents when the cotton was auctioned.

STATE EXPECTED TO TAKE OVER HIGHWAY WHEN COMPLETED; MAY MAINTAIN ROAD; PAY THE BONDS

Other Counties Have Voted Bond Issues And State Took Them Over Without Cost To Taxpayers; Investigation To Be Made

Lamb county voters may have the opportunity to vote on a bond issue totaling $144,000 this fall for the construction of a hard surface highway to run between Littlefield and the Castro county line on the north if definite steps are taken on the matter.

Homer Hall, president of the Littlefield chamber of commerce advanced the idea at a highway committee meeting some time ago but the matter was never presented publicly for discussion until Tuesday when it was brought up at the regular monthly meeting of the Littlefield chamber of commerce held Tuesday noon in the basement of the Presbyterian church.

It is felt by many citizens of the county that even if the $144,000 in bonds were voted and the road constructed that the taxpayers would not have to pay them. It has been brought out that in the past that several counties in this section, notably Lubbock county, have voted bond issues for county road improvements and when the road was completed, the Texas State highway department took over the payment of the bonds along with

EIGHTH INCTALLMENT

Synopsis: A card game is in session in Elmer Henderson's penthouse atop a New York skyscraper. The players are Henderson, Police Inspector, Flaherty, Martin Frazier, Archie Doane, Max Michaelis, and his friend Williams, a stockbroker.

They are waiting for Stephen Fitzgerald. When he fails to appear, a telephone call brings the information that he is out with a girl. Fitzgerald and Henderson are both romantically interested in Lydia Lane, the famous actress, but Archie Doane reveals that she is engaged to marry him.

Doane leaves the party early when Fitzgerald fails to appear. A short time later he telephones Inspector he has found Fitzgerald and Miss Lane dead in Lydia Lane's penthouse apartment.

When Flaherty and the medical examiner reach the apartment, they find that Miss Lane is still alive. She is rushed to a hospital where blood transfusions and care promise to restore her.

All circumstantial evidence points to Archie Doane as the murderer, especially when the murder gun is found carefully planted in the chimney clean-out in the basement.

"Tony," he went on, addressing Detective Martinelli, "go down and bring the janitor up here. He can tell whether anyone went to the basement to-night unless he's in this himself. He might have a set of keys to every apartment in the house."

"But hardly either a motive for this shooting or the opportunity to purloin this pistol from the Highart Studios," remarked Michaelis. "And that suggests to me that we have been overlooking a possibility. Where is Miss Lane's maid? Who is she? Does she usually stay out all night on Saturday night? When did she go out, if anybody knows? Where does she go when she goes out?"

"Worth looking into, Dan?" "You bet that's worth looking into," replied the Inspector. "Archie, you must know something about her. What do you say?"

"She's a French girl named Adele—I don't remember her last name, Flaherty with the frantic news that if I ever heard it. She had been with Miss Lane for three or four years, I believe. She acts as her personal maid as well as looking after the apartment here."

"Accompanies her to the Highart Studios, does she?" asked Michaelis.

"Yes, nearly always. She serves as Miss Lane's dresser."

"She could have got possession of this revolver, would you say?"

"Yes, there is no doubt that she could. She is on friendly terms with everybody at the studio and has the run of the place."

"Has she been at the studio since you last saw this revolver—last Thursday, you said it was?"

"Yes, Miss Lane plays opposite me in the film we are now making, and we were working until Friday night. Adele was with her on Friday, I am sure."

"Was there any suggestions, at any time, of any animosity between Miss Lane and Adele?"

"No more than between Miss Lane and myself, so far as I know. The maid seemed devoted to her mistress."

"Is she temperamental—Adele, I mean? Quick tempered? Easily offended? The type that might do violent things under the stress of sudden rage?"

"You are asking for an opinion, Max," Inspector Flaherty interrupted. "Let him tell any facts that might have a bearing on your question."

"I yield to the police on a point of law," replied Michaelis, smiling. "What about it, Archie?"

"She threatened to shoot Fitz, once, if he didn't stop pestering her," replied Doane. "You know how he was—with women. He laughed it off, but he kept out of Adele's way after that."

"Did you see or hear that incident yourself?" asked the lawyer.

"No; but it was generally gossiped around the studio."

"I suggest again, Dan, that you ought to find this girl Adele," said Michaelis. "You can conceive, as well as I, a situation something like this:

"Miss Lane comes home—never mind the time when she comes in, now. Her maid is out for the evening, as usual on Saturdays. Fitzgerald calls. Miss Lane, in negligee—her outer garments on the chair where we found them, because she is not accustomed to hanging up her own things—admits him, thinking perhaps that it is Archie, or her maid coming back. He has learned of her promise to marry Doane and is furious.

"They quarrel violently. Adele who perhaps is really afraid of Fitz and may have taken the pistol from the property room at the studio for self-defense, comes in and misinterprets their altercations—or perhaps interprets correctly Fitz's intentions toward her mistress. She obtains the pistol from the place where she had concealed it, fires at Fitz and, missing him, wounds Miss Lane. Fitz rushes to take the gun from her—he was no coward—and she shoots him through the heart as he overtakes her in the hall by the telephone stand.

"What would a servant naturally do then, in a panic? She would call for help, hide the pistol and vanish. Where would a servant naturally think of hiding a revolver? In the cellar. She had both keys to the apartment. She could slip down the cellar without being noticed.

"Archie," he went on, suddenly turning to Doane, "are you sure it was Miss Lane's voice you heard over the telephone? It could not have been that of Adele, by any chance?"

"I was sure at the time," replied Doane slowly. "I hadn't thought of any other possibility. Now, on reflection, I am still sure. Adele's voice and Miss Lane's are in the same register, but there are overtones which make them distinctly different to one who knows them both. It was Lydia's voice."

"Sure of that?" persisted Michaelis. "Voices are distorted over the telephone unless they are strongly marked, you know. How did the woman who called you address you? As 'Archie' or as 'Mr. Doane'?"

"Neither," said Doane. "When I answer the phone I always say: 'Archie Doane speaking,' so there was no need for anyone to ask who I was. It was Miss Lane's voice, I feel sure of that. Besides, Adele would not have used the same phraseology."

"She might have mimicked her mistress' voice, though. Had you thought of that? Do you know whether she had any talent in that direction?"

"She had been on the stage, I believe," said Doane. "I hadn't thought of that."

"What were the words she—whoever called you—used? Tell us again, won't you? You remember the exact language?"

"Yes, I remember it exactly. In my profession, you know, one has to cultivate a verbatim memory. The words were:

"Come quickly! thing terrible has happened there was a loud screaming more."

"Why do you say would not have used 'logy'?" asked Inspector

"Because the word act quotation from Ma in the talking picture ing," was Doane's might have heard the words to spring to her

Littlefield May Be Protected By New Police Radio Network; Clovis System Headquarters

Prospects for the establishment of an inter-zone Police Radio Station at Clovis, New Mexico to aid in capturing criminals that operate within 100 miles of that city is a step nearer than they have been for some time.

Littlefield being only sixty miles from Clovis, has been asked to join with other cities in the 100 mile area of Clovis so as to make this area a bad spot for criminals.

Mayor Pat Boone of Littlefield was in Clovis last Thursday night at a meeting which was attended by representatives from many towns in the area and the matter was discussed fully.

Clovis is expected to bear the cost of constructing the radio telegraph station which will be used in conjunction with the present radio telephone transmitter they now have there.

They are asking though that the cities in the area share and share alike in the expense of maintenance. Just what this expense would be has not been stated but it is known that the construction costs, which Clovis is willing to pay is between $8,000 and $11,000.

Under the present proposal, the radio telegraph station would be used to contact larger cities in the United States to connect Clovis with a coast-to-coast hookup while the radio telephone would be used to contact sheriffs, police officers and other peace officials in the immediate area.

It was declared that the set-up would give peace officers coverage over a 100-mile radius in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico at a cost of possibly one-half the present outlay by counties for telephone and telegraph messages at present.

Each sheriff's office, police office, and all squad cars would be equipped with radio receivers to pick up messages from Clovis. The station, it was pointed out, would operate on a 24-hour basis with three operators on duty during the period.

Pat Boone, mayor of Littlefield, said establishment of the station here would be a "big step forward for law enforcement." He added that he would contact Lamb county commissioners as well as his city council on the proposal.

Roy H. Smith, secretary of the chamber of commerce at Tucumcari, stated that he was "quite sure" that Quay county would "come in" and Tucumcari would do its part in establishment of the station.

Judge M. G. Miller of Bailey county said he was "sure my commissioners court would cooperate" on the proposal. He added that Bailey county was enthused over the proposition and that he was certain Sheriff Jim Cook would cooperate.

Roy Keeter, Clovis city commissioner, declared that the station

Washington that would be the favored of the $70,000 post office that had been promised one year ago.

In a letter received in the secretary of Congress George H. Mahon, Brown will be the favored city due to the fact that the postal receipts for that city during the past fiscal year totaled $16,064.

Littlefield was second with postal receipts of $15,524, just $540 less than Brownfield. In other words, Littlefield receipts had been $11 more than they were, the reason for the new postal building located in this city would be most excellent.

At a meeting of the Littlefield chamber of commerce, Tuesday night it was voted to send a delegation to Colorado, Texas, home of Congressman George H. Mahon and to discuss the matter with him with a view to having the selection changed to this city, or endeavor to construct another new post office building in this city where postal receipts are rapidly rising, and a new post office building is needed.

It is thought by many in this city that the total postal receipts for the past ten years should have been used in place of figures for the past year. If this had been done Littlefield would have received the new post office building here for the past ten years are said, by those who know, to be greater than the other cities in the "race" for the building.

Some think that the government might take into consideration the fact that they are now paying $120 per month for the rent of a building to house the Littlefield post office, and that with the city ready to deed the city lot at the head of Phelps avenue to the government, they might save much money by constructing a new post office in this city. They would save the rent of $120 a month, and also save the cost of having to purchase a site for a new building.

A wire was dispatched to Mahon this past week and a "date" for the chamber of commerce federal building committee to see him was requested. The members of this committee are: W. D. T. Storey, chairman, W. H. Madden and R. T. Badger. Homer Hall, president of the Littlefield chamber of commerce appointed all members of the chamber of commerce as part of the committee to go to see Congressman Mahon and a large delegation is expected to drive their soon and discuss the matter of securing a new post office in this city.

to the increased number of students, and instead of the situation getting better, it would, no doubt, be somewhat worse due to more students enrolling within the next thirty days.

The enrollment of 1,269 students up to the close of school Wednesday night was divided as follows: 410 in the high school, 482 in the grammar school and 377 in the primary department.

This year their are only 39 instructors. Last year the staff consisted of 41 teachers.

Hemphill stated Wednesday that great interest had been shown by the students in the commercial courses and in the agricultural classes.

BOND ISSUE

taking over the maintenance of the road.

These of course were road improvements made on highways designated as state and federal highways. The road leading north from Littlefield, to Spring Lake, then to the Castro county line has been officially designated as state highway 51 and is on the states program to hard surface in the next two or three years, but exactly when this highway, which is most vital to the welfare of the county, will be constructed is an unknown quantity.

The sum of $35,000 has been approved for hard surfacing highway 51 six miles south of the city. Work is scheduled to start on this project in the spring of 1938. Some discussion has taken place as to whether this six miles of improvements should go north or south. It is felt by a number of citizens that if the county would vote the bond issue of $144,000, estimated cost of hard surfacing the twenty-four miles from Littlefield to the Castro county line on the north, and with the states $35,000 project on the south, that the entire mileage of highway 51 through the county would be paved shortly and a new and greater united Lamb county would be the result.

The Littlefield chamber of commerce has not acted officially on the matter of the bond issue but many individual members of the group are of the firm opinion that if they can be assured of the state taking over the payment of the bonds after they are voted they would be glad to work for the passage, this fall, of such an issue.

City and county leaders interested in the matter are planning to investigate the matter fully before asking for such a bond issue and their action is expected to be announced in the next two weeks.

The same procedure has taken place in several nearby counties without extra cost to the county taxpayers and if such can be done in this county it may be that the bond issue will come up for a vote this fall.

ELEVEN INCHES

much rain sometimes means the difference between crop failure and bumper production. Farmers cite experiences where they suffered heavily.

In September of 1925 the crop outlook was eminently favorable. There had been opportune rain throughout the summer. Just as at the beginning of this month, farmers were looking forward to heavy production.

Then rain started falling and, old-timers say, continued every day of the month from Sept. 3 onward. Strength of the sap went into growth of the plant, rather than into production of cotton; then the first hard freeze struck October 27, several days ahead of the average for date—and a squishy substance, not marketable cotton, resulted.

It generally is conceded that every day of additional precipitation will take just that much from the cotton outlook and that too many days of rain would mean disaster to the entire crop.

Reports indicate the following rainfall the past few days: Sudan, 2 1-2 inches; Amherst, 3 1-2 inches; Anton, 2 inches; Levelland, 2 1-2 inches; Pep about 4 inches; Spade, 4 inches; Bula and vicinity, 10 inches.

$150,000 LAKE

Some time ago the county was asked to submit a project to the Panhandle Water Conservation Authority, which maintains headquarters in Amarillo, Texas so when the bill was passed by Congress, the army engineers could start checking the matter for official sanction. No project was submitted no doubt, as it was not sure the money would be appropriated. Now that the money is available the submission of the project in the next few days has become one of vital interest to the whole county, and it is expected the county commissioners and the planning board will take immediate steps to select the site of the lake. The government will purchase the land which will go under water and bear all expense of the project which will total at least $150,000.

It, of course, might be possible for the county to secure the project without paying its just share of the "lobbying" expense to secure the large appropriation, but as the county is now assured of the expenditure without any strings attached, it is "honor bound" to pay $210 which seems to be a small sum to pay for securing one fine lake that will cost $150,000.

County Judge L. R. Crockett and Commissioners Bell and Van were at the Amarillo meeting and were expected to return to Littlefield and Amherst, their respective homes, late Wednesday night.

LUBBOCK FAIR

of requests have been pouring in for the new premium catalogue, which is already in the mails, several being sent to county agents and home demonstration agents throughout the Panhandle and South Plains country.

One of the big features of this year's fair is the six-day race meet. Following the posting of over $3,000 in purses, entries from race horse men throughout the state have been received at the Association's office. C. H. McMillan, well known race starter, will be at the barrier this season. Mason King, of Amarillo, will officiate as presiding steward. Every indication points to the most successful race meet ever to be held in this section of the state, a number of outstanding racing thoroughbreds participating.

A million dollar midway, featuring the T. J. Tidwell shows, one of the largest carnivals to invade West Texas, will greet the visitors. Plenty of free attractions in addition to the racing program have been added this year. Fireworks, band concerts, vaudeville acts and other spectacular displays, will make this year's exposition one of the best.

SUDAN WINS BASEBALL TOURNEY BUT AFTER HARD FIGHT BY THE LITTLEFIELD PANTHERS; CROWDS

Second Money Of $196.15 Brought Home; First Game Won By Littlefield 12 to 5; Locals Drop Final Game By Score Of 12 To 0

Although given a bad scare by Littlefield, Sudan's veteran baseball team came through in the last half of a double-header to win first money in the Clovis tournament as a big Labor Day crowd looked on. Littlefield won $196.15 for taking second place in the tournament. Sudan won $326.94 in taking first place.

Needing both games, Littlefield upset the dope bucket by thumping the Sluggers 12 to 5 in the first contest, but Sudan administered a 12-0 lacing in the six-inning night-cap.

First Ball Out of Park

Both games were one-sided from the start, but they were by no means devoid of thrills. For instance, Jack Thompson, left fielder who played some with Clovis a couple of years ago, became the first man to knock a ball out of the new park when he homered with two mates aboard in the seventh inning of the first game. The ball went over the left field palings, which are 335 feet from the plate.

Sudan was badly rattled in the first game, making six errors, including two by Grover Seitz, burly third baseman imported from Pampa. They out-hit Littlefield 10 to 7 in the first game but failed to bunt their bingles effectively until they staged a four-run outburst in the eighth. They teed off, however, against two Littlefield pitchers in the second game, which had to be called on account of darkness.

"Wise Money" Wrong

So-called "wise" money went down the river in the first game. The boys were betting two to one on Sudan, and Littlefield collected.

PLAN FOR COUNCIL SUMMER CAMPS FOR NEXT YEAR

Plans were made for Council Camps for next year at the Council Camp Monday evening, Sept. 6, at the Council Camp.

Stamp Saving Plan is hereby a Scout may save his money for the entertainment.

Schedule drawn up by Executive Board at their meeting on September 1 and 2, Lubbock. Approximately 30 units are expected to participate.

COCHRAN COUNTY TO STAGE FAIR SEPT. 24

Cochran county is to have a fair this year on September 24th and 25th at Morton. It was decided at a meeting of farmers and business men recently to increase the number of livestock entries and the premium money this year.

The amusement committee is working out some good amusement features this year, consisting of an Old Fiddlers Contest, Fat and Lean Baseball games, Football games, and a good carnival has been contracted for the week of the fair.

Watches Once Small Clocks
Watches originally were small clocks and were worn hung from the girdle because they were too large for the pocket.

PUSH BUTTONS NOW TO GET STATIONS ON NEW RADIOS

"The push-button electric tuning is only one of a number of truly amazing developments which the famous RCA laboratories have incorporated in a new series of no less than thirty-nine radio and phonograph instruments just announced," said Mr. B. D. Gerland of the Garland-White Co., who are dealers for RCA radios here. "Every conceivable type of table and console model, in a wide assortment of distinctively designed 'beauty-tone' cabinets which have been skillfully fashioned not only to please the eye, but to get the most out of the acoustic capabilities of the instruments they house. The new instruments include the standard AC operated radios, the popular small AC-DC operated models, Magic Voice auto radios that give a new conception of tone quality and performance for this type of instrument, combination phonograph-radio with ingenious record-changing mechanism, electric and portable phonographs designed particularly for record reproduction and new battery-operated radios which for the first time provide listeners in un-electrified areas with a standard of performance comparable to the more publicized AC instruments of the city."

As an added luxury, RCA Victor has provided "arm-chair control." The push-button arrangement has been duplicated in an attractive but unobtrusive little box. This control box may be inconspicuously placed on the arm of a chair or an end-table and connected to the radio set by a thin cable that lies flat under a rug or along the wall molding.

On some of the new RCA Victor electric tuning radios there is a marvelously simplified "oversens" dial which spreads out the popular foreign and short-wave tuning bands so that they occupy almost fifty times as much space as ordinarily. As a result, tuning foreign stations is now actually as simple as tuning in your own favorite domestic stations. Each band is clearly set out with the station names plainly marked. Only that portion of the dial which is in use is lighted.

COUNTY FAIR—

each city and secured much favorable publicity for the Lamb county fair. The Fort Worth Star-Telegram also carried quite a bit of publicity this past week concerning the fair and papers throughout the whole South Plains are showing their cooperation by telling their readers about the enterprise.

Governor Invited

Governor James V. Allred has been extended an invitation to open the fair, Thursday afternoon, September 23, and advises from Austin report that he may attend in person if he can possibly make arrangements to do so. Congressman George H. Mahon, who is back in the district from his labors in Washington, D. C., has also been invited and is expected to be here when the curtain goes up on the 1937 edition of the fair.

School Day

Fair officials expect to contact all the schools in the county shortly and request that all schools be dismissed on the 23rd, so that the students over the county will have the opportunity to enjoy the fair at least one day during its three day run. It is expected that the opening day of the fair will bring to Littlefield the largest crowd the city has ever entertained.

Tour Planned

On Friday, September 17, fair officials have asked that as many citizens as possible bring their cars and meet at the city hall at 7 a. m. where one or more tours will start. One is expected to go south as far as Levelland, then back through Muleshoe, Sudan and other cities and perhaps another tour will proceed north to Olton, Spring Lake and other cities to the north and east. Music will be taken along, placards and other material to acquaint the people of the great fair which will be held here September 23, 24 and 25.

Rodeo Heads Named

Rev. Donald Harris has been selected as chairman of the Daugherty Rodeo that will be held during the fair and to assist Harris, George White and Mayor Pat Boone have been named. It is felt with these experienced men directing the rodeo that it will be a great success and bring thousands of people to the city. The rodeo is costing a great amount of money to bring to the city and to handle the crowd it has been arranged to have the rodeo each day in the Littlefield baseball park.

Ticket Takers Needed

The Silver State shows have been signed to appear here during the fair. They will pay the fair management a certain percentage of their receipts and have asked that ticket takers be provided from among local people.

Considering the fact they have eight rides, eight other shows and a main entrance it will be a real problem to secure the seventeen ticket takers that will be needed.

Money Problem

The problem of handling the money for the fair officials will be turned over to those who are experienced in handling money in banks and in the post office. With great throngs of people passing into the grounds it was felt that those experienced in handling money would be best fitted for the job.

Save Exhibits

Those who exhibit agricultural products have been requested by the county agent's office to save their exhibits and not take them home as soon as the Littlefield fair is over. They will be taken right after the fair here to Lubbock, where Lamb county will have a large exhibit, which is expected to win honors and money prizes that are offered.

Farm Products

W. H. Cunningham, superintendent of the fair was present Tuesday night and reported much interest in the fair. Many communities over the county have planned to have excellent exhibits and others are expected to indicate their entrance in the fair in the next few days. Each community in the county is urged to have a display besides farmers and others having individual exhibits.

John I. Bowling, well known Lamb county seed grower, is in charge of community exhibits and reports much interest being shown. He was present at the meeting Tuesday night.

Poultry Exhibit

Frank Lehman, director of poultry exhibits was also present Tuesday night and says he expects over 200 prize birds to be on display. In the next few days he will announce the judges for this department of the fair. Coops will be provided on the grounds for the fowls and a neat display will be made of all entrants.

Large Tents

Fair officials have ordered two large tents which are 50 by 120 feet. One will house the farm and agricultural exhibits and the other will house the commercial exhibits. They are expected to arrive in a few days and will be erected on the fair site which is on Highway No. 7 near the ball park.

Space Sold

During the past week J. E. Brannen and Homer Hall proved themselves salesmen of first rank when they called on Littlefield merchants and signed up almost thirty of them to take large exhibit space at the fair. A few spaces are still available but are expected to be taken in the next week as the date for the fair draws near.

Yes sir, Lamb county's 1937 fair should be a grand affair with plenty of entertainment planned as well as a great number of worthwhile exhibits.

Miss Louise Thaxton left Tuesday for Marland, Texas, where she will resume her duties as member of the school faculty on Monday next. Enroute to that city she will visit relatives and friends at Abilene, Clyde and Baird.
