W. J. Chesher and associates reported this week that they have obtained a patent on a new unloading machine. They have been working on the project for three years. The patent application has been on file for two years.

The new machine is for use in lowering heavy freight which can be rolled, such as newsprint, oil drums, etc. The device consists of a regular lift fork, controlled by a hydraulic mechanism which allows the weight of the freight to force the fork slowly down to the lower level. When the freight is then rolled off the fork, a spring returns the fork to the upper level ready to take on another load. The device greatly reduces danger of damage to freight and injury to personnel, in addition to speeding up the unloading process.

It has no power source, therefore is not usable for raising freight to a higher level.

By DOUGLAS POE

We hear a lot of opposition to forcing farmers to come under Social Security coverage, and can't say that we blame them, even though they are buying it at only three-fourths the charge to people who work for wages.

The Social Security program was sold the American people as an insurance plan. But, of course, politicians will never operate any business on a sound basis so it is completely unreliable for that purpose. One reason is that they have voted to give higher and higher benefits while at the same time voting to hold down the rates below what it will take to pay those benefits when we become old enough to draw them.

To partially offset this piece of bad business, they have cancelled the policy as far as the benefits to thirty people go, although they are still required to pay the premiums. If a man raises himself very far out of the pauper class, he is ineligible for Social Security benefits.

So instead of being an insurance policy, it is actually just another tax imposed on all to pay for pensions for those who for good reason or bad do not provide for their own old age.

While we are sorry that farmers now have to pay this tax, we would have greater sympathy for them if they had protested when the rest of us were getting soaked and farmers and professional men were being exempt. "Divide and Rule" is being used by the socialists on all fronts and this one is a prime example.

First, only employees of business firms were to be covered, and they were told that the government would make their employers pay half of the cost for them. To the employees this sounded like getting something for almost nothing so they grabbed the bait. Their votes far outnumbered those of the employers, and the self-employed looked the other way because they were all exempt, so the act was passed. Later professional people were forced under it, but the rest of us didn't care. It was their funeral. It didn't effect us.

Now it is the farmers' turn. If they want to oppose the whole system, we'll go with them. If they simply want to exempt themselves from this tax, we're not looking.

See where Troy Martin is plugging for a cannery for Olton. Hope it does some good. Our future is a lot safer if we base it on selling people something they will buy willingly than it is based on the hope that we can continue to make them buy something they don't want.

Thurlo Branscum told the Toastmasters Club some important things about soil conservation the other night, but we thought one of the most interesting things he told us was that there are 13,000 acres devoted to roads and towns in Lamb county.

A lot of small employers went under the unemployment compensation law for the first time this year. They must pay three percent of their payroll to the government now if they employ as many as four persons for as much as one day per week for twenty weeks this year. They must pay for this year, so if you know you're going to come in this class, it's easier to start paying now than it is to go back and dig it up at the end of the year. Three percent of a year's payroll on half a dozen people is hard to dig up.

City Warehouse Is Burglarized

A thief broke into the city warehouse Saturday night and took 75 brass water meters. City officials set the value of the meters at more than $100.

Earlier in the day a man who posed as a junk dealer had made a bid on some junk piled against the warehouse, and was supposed to pick the junk up later in the day.

City Manager, Guy McCraw said that city employees saw the man taking the meters, but assumed that since he had bought junk before that he was getting the junk he was supposed to have bought. He did not bring McCraw the money for the junk that he had bargained for. Eighteen of the meters had been repaired, and actual value could not be set.

According to the police, the real junk was not picked up, and such a junk dealer has not been located. The police are looking for the so-called junk dealer to question him.

Joe Walden Is Drafted By The Detroit Lions

Joe Walden, West Texas State College's star left halfback, has been drafted by the Detroit Lions of the National Professional Football League.

Walden was an All-Border Conference first team selection last season. The 175 pound halfback also played with the Border Conference All-Stars in the Sand Bowl at Pecos, Ariz.

As leading scorer for West Texas, Walden made 11 touchdowns for 84 points. He carried the ball 106 times and was only stopped for one loss one time and that was for only one yard. His net yards gained were 569 and an average of 5.3 yards per carry.

Whether or not Walden will accept the offer is unknown. He will probably enter the military service after graduation. If he should accept the offer, he will be the second West Texas State player to be a member of the Detroit Lions. Choyce Box, an end, has signed for the Lions several years ago. He was the first from West Texas State.

Walden is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Walden and Mrs. Joe Walden is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson, all of Littlefield.

Dates for Texas Tech's spring training haven't been set yet, but a wide open scramble for positions is expected.

These include tackles Jerry Walker of Pampa, Minor Nelson of Winters, Bill Hirschman of Vernon, centers Dwayne West of Fr. Worth, and Hilton Hayes of San Angelo and Brady, halfback Don Schmidt of Olney, guard ARLEN WESLEY of Littlefield, quarterback Jack Kirkpatrick of Post, and fullbacks Jim Sides of Lubbock and Lonnie (Lone Ranger) Graham of Broken Arrow, Okla. Other capable seniors lost are guard Tommie Elliott of Lubbock, halfback Charles Blanton of Newcastle, and tackle Karl Kautz of Jacksonville, Fla.

Another Column

By MAXINE CLARIDA

We have tried real hard this week to live by the Golden Rule.

Been helping the Earth News crew get out their Progress Edition. Some edition it is, too. Pa is especially impressed since he called on those merchants in Earth some twenty years ago, and those people have been tops on his list ever since.

Another thing that we especially enjoyed was the items from the Springlake Siren, the publication of the school in 1929-30. The superintendent and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wilkins, C. A. is now deceased, very friends of ours. A sister-in-law, Mrs. George Y. Wilkins, who now teaches in Arlington, Virginia, was Miss Martha Tannery who taught in the school in 1929-30. Her husband is a Navy officer stationed at the Pentagon in Washington. They have one daughter, Martha, who is thirteen years old this month. She is in the ninth grade. We know they are going to enjoy the paper.

To us the progress is amazing, but knowing the rugged determination of the people who have built an empire on this prairie we are not surprised. We certainly wish to salute those pioneers who made it possible.

We take off our hats to the publishers, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Middleton, for their effort in recognizing the citizens and builders of Earth.

The paper commemorates the tenth anniversary of the incorporation of the town. Hope you enjoy your edition.

Sincerely,
Hallye

Cotton Letter

By SMITH B. COLEMAN
Of V. R. Jones & Co.

Indications are growing that the administration is about ready to bow to the will of Secretary of State Dulles and his State Department in the matter of cotton exports. Many in the cotton trade have surmised for some time that this administration actually is little concerned over the American farmer's share of the cotton export market and as things are shaping up in Washington, they appear to have had well-founded feelings.

The cotton farmers of this country have a vital stake in the question of whether we are to regain any portion of our cotton export markets that have been lost both to cotton produced in other countries and to synthetic fibers. Everyone knows that the price evaluation has been the final deciding factor, but it has remained for the State Department to block any and all proposals that might have gone a long way toward recovering some of the export markets for cotton.

As the situation stands today there is pretty much a "do nothing" attitude on the part of the executive branch of the government, and a vast pound of confusion in the legislative branch. Clear thinking appears to be lacking in the first place, and a disposition not to face the real facts is all too apparent.

It is only a matter of price, and if the price has to go down to where the farmer cannot make a profit on his operation by growing more cotton and selling it at a lower price, then it is up to the government to pay him a compensatory payment to bring his price up to where his operation will be a profitable one.

About all that the members Congress can see is some scheme that looks as if it would cost the taxpayers nothing, but there just isn't any such animal. The taxpayers are paying out vast sums now in storage charges on the cotton held and owned by the government and that amount is growing daily as the amount of cotton going to the government increases.

Subsequently we must come down to world prices, that is unless the government is resigned to giving the American cotton farmer a fair share of cotton exports over to producers in other lands.

Lamb county has an estimated 260,000 acres of irrigated land in cultivation.

February 15 Set For Farm Bureau Drive

Herman Neuenschwander, chairman of the coming Lamb County Farm Bureau membership drive, said today that plans are nearly complete for the drive starting February 15th.

A map of Lamb county is being completed to show where every farmer in the county live. This map will be used so that no one will be overlooked during the membership drive. "We want to extend an invitation to all farmers and ranchers in the county to become members of our farm organization and this map system seems to be the best means of contacting all of them," says Neuenschwander.

"While attending the Texas Farm Bureau Institute in San Antonio this week, I'm hoping to come back ready to make this drive the most successful move this organization has ever made," said Neuenschwander.

Lamb County Farm Bureau made a big showing two years ago in the Texas Farm Bureau increasing their membership from 325 to 1,000, where it has been from that time to this.

PERFORMANCE
made it the Largest Selling "8" in the World...

the FORD V-8

Just look at these official registration figures for the first 11 months—January through November, 1955

Here's why!

People just naturally go for 8 cylinders in the FORD package!
And to a world record extent!
Just think, in the first 11 months of 1955 alone, 344,496 more people bought Ford V-8's than the two other low-priced competitive eights combined!
Of course, the reason the Ford V-8 is the largest-selling eight-cylinder car in the world is that more people like its brand of performance—the kind that comes with the car!

These people aren't amateurs in judging engines. Nearly 24 years of building Ford V-8's to supply their demand is convincing proof of that.
And the Ford V-8 of today is the best yet... by a country mile!
Smoother and quieter—you can scarcely hear it, even with the hood up!

Car Sales	Ford Sales Leadership
FORD V-8	1,241,742
Car C—V-8	634,376
Car P—V-8	262,870
Car C—Six	845,153
Car P—Six	334,540

Sassier—just ask the highway patrol officer who drives one. He knows it takes a Ford to catch a Ford!
And, for the very practical question of durability—ask a Ford cab driver. He knows how Fords take it days on end.
So, if it's performance that you want—and wrapped like a gift—the '56 Ford V-8 is your baby.
Come in... try it today!

By MRS. R. A. REED

MRS. ROBISON IS HONORED

Mrs. Beulah Robison was honor guest at a birthday dinner given Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ted Royal, near Hereford. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robison accompanied his mother from Fieldton. All of the children and grandchildren were present for the occasion except two grandchildren and one great grandson.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Jones from Hart Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Jerrold Smith and two children from Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Robison and daughter from New Home, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Bedwell Jr. and two daughters from near Lamesa, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Royal, Ann and Gary, at whose home the dinner was given. Also Mrs. Robison's brother, Mr. B. C. Cooner and Mrs. Cooner, from near Hart.

Vanean Onstott of Lubbock visited the first part of the week, with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Reed, and other relatives at Littlefield.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles spent last Friday night at Lubbock with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Casetty and son were visitors at Abernathy, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Stewart are moving to the Rochelle farm west of Fieldton, which they recently purchased.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hukill have bought a new home and had it moved to their farm north of Hart Camp.

S. RUSHING VISITS IN PADUCAH

Sherman Rushing and his granddaughter, Sharon Cook, went to Paducah last Wednesday to visit relatives. Among them a brother, Charlie Rushing, from Niles, Calif. who was visiting there. The two brothers had not seen each other for 14 years. Charlie and their father, R. L. Rushing, visited here two days with Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Rushing, Lavilla and Mr. and Mrs. James Cook and daughter, Sharon.

Mr. and Mrs. Grace Robison were host and hostess at a birthday supper, given Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. J. E. Elliott. Mr. Elliott was also present.

Get Your Brooder House Ready Early

Texas poultrymen will start 8 to 10 per cent of the 1956 replacement of chicks during this month, and careful attention should be given to the cleaning and repairing of the brooder house in preparation for growing the chicks, says Ben Wormell, Extension Poultry Husbandman of Texas A&M College.

The brooder houses should be cleaned and put into good repair by making sure that all windows, doors and ventilator sections are well fitted and working smoothly. The roof should be checked for leaks.

Thermostat apparatus on brooder stoves should be carefully checked and stoves cleaned to assure a dependable source of heat when it is needed, says Wormell.

Adequate feeder and watering space is recognized by poultrymen as important to uniform growth of all birds. Up to three weeks of age, birds should be provided with one inch of feeder space per bird. It should be increased to two inches, from three to four weeks of age, and during six to seven weeks it should be increased to three inches per bird.

These needs can be met by one four foot trough for each 100 chicks at the start. At six to seven weeks of age they will need three troughs four feet long by four inches deep per 100 birds.

Wormell recommends five one gallon waterers by each brooder having a capacity of 500 chicks. From two to three weeks of age, two waterers with a three gallon capacity should be provided for each 100 birds. If a water system is available, a four foot automatic water trough should be provided for each 250-chicks.

When chicks have access to range, Wormell recommends one square foot of floor space for every two birds. Since green feed is often not available on the range, there is a trend towards growing pullet replacement chicks in confinement, he adds. Under these conditions each bird should be provided with one square foot of floor space, until they are eight or nine weeks of age.

On this basis a 30 foot by 40 foot house would be required to raise replacements for a thousand hen laying flock. Wormell adds that it will probably be to the Poultryman's advantage to double this space, 30 by 80 feet, and keep the pullets confined to the house until maturity.

One sound method that is now being employed by some poultrymen is to leave the chicks in one house for the six months growing period and for the first year of egg production.

Making sure the brooder house and equipment is adequate and in good repair will pay dividends in the production of a high percentage of good quality uniform pullets for next year's laying flock, says Wormell.

Cadillac

He's Looking for a Mountain!

You see, he knows what he has down under that beautiful hood—a great, powerful V-8 engine that's pulsing with life—and he's simply itching to give it the word!

But he is a sane and sensible driver, who stays within the regulations and observes the laws of common sense—and he knows he can't unleash that engine on a normal stretch of highway.

So he's looking for a big, long, steep hill. Maybe he can get the throttle down there for a short thrust—just to see what it's like!

Well, maybe so—but even on a mountain, he won't use full throttle for long. For this car is powered far beyond all normal requirements.

Why, you might ask, is this so?

Well, in the judgment of Cadillac engineers, it's done for a number of vital and important reasons.

First of these is safety. A great reserve of power for the quick escape from an emergency is of the essence of highway safety.

Then there's economy. A big, powerful engine that loafs at normal speeds permits the use of an axle ratio that makes for gasoline economy.

There is long life, too—for the absence of strain adds years and years to the life of any mechanism.

And finally, there is the great riding and driving luxury that comes with extra power . . . the whisper-silent engine, the instant response to the throttle, the sense of safety and security.

Why not come in soon and see for yourself? We will be most happy to supervise a personal demonstration on the highway.

The car is waiting for you—and any time you find the time would be a good time for a date!
