PAVING OF MAIN STREET MEASURE WAS CARRIED BY A LARGE MAJORITY IN THE CITY ELECTION HELD LAST TUESDAY

The property holders of Littlefield last Tuesday voted by a large majority to pave Main street. However, nearly everyone conceding the measure would be carried, only a small portion of voters exercised their franchise. There were 89 ballots cast, 80 for and nine against.

Just how extensive the paving will be has not yet been decided by the Commissioners, but it is probable that Main street will be paved from the State highway to the park, also all cross street intersections.

It is understood that the sidewalks on this street are to be widened to 15 feet, which will leave a 70 foot highway for the paving. It is probable that a concrete base with brick top will be used, though that has not yet been fully decided.

Just when the work will begin is still another matter of discussion. On account of the heavy traffic at this time of the year, some of the Commissioners favor delaying the beginning of the work until spring.

FOUR BUILDINGS FOR TECH NOW BEING ERECTED

Lubbock, Texas, Nov. 16.—With new buildings under construction, the Tech campus presents a busy aspect. The favorable weather has been responsible for rapid progress of the construction work.

The first unit of the agricultural building is practically finished, and Dean A. H. Leidigh and his faculty expect to move at once into their new quarters. Both offices and class rooms are provided for in the new structure. The home economics building, which has been housing the agricultural school, will now be used entirely for home economics.

The home economics practice house will be ready for occupancy about January 1. This building will be one of the show places of the Tech campus being run for the foundation. With excavations complete for the new engineering building and concrete walls will begin to rise real soon. The building will have a frontage of 15 feet and will be an imposing structure. A greenhouse for the agricultural school makes the fourth building now under construction.

W. M. U. MEETING

The Baptist W. M. U. met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Ryan.

There were 19 present, each member answering roll call with a verse of scripture beginning with the initial of her name.

Mrs. Lena Howard had charge of the meeting and conducted the devotional. The lesson was conducted by Mrs. J. M. Stokes. It was entitled, "The Supreme Challenge of America."

Refreshments of hot chocolate and Mrs. Howard's food cake were served.

It was decided a food sale would be held the first Saturday of each month at the Star Market.

To Head Steel

James A. Farrel, now 60, who it is predicted will step to the place of Roy L. Gray, as Chairman of the U. S. Steel Corporation, Mr. Farrel for many years has been operating head of the organization.

ELLWOOD NO. 1 A. MYSTERY WELL IS NOW ON THE SWAB

What is in Ellwood No. 1 still remains a mystery.

At the 702 foot level the casing has been set and cemented, the hole duly bailed of the 300 feet of water it contained, and this week the well is being "swabbed," according to available information.

Drilling into the sand last week failed to produce the coveted "liquid gold," but the drillers are not yet disappointed. On the other hand, they seem well satisfied there is oil there.

It is explained that the immense pressure of the column of water over the oil frequently has the effect of driving the oil back into the sand and many otherwise good wells are lost in that manner. Swabbing, which is the act of arranging a kind of suction plunger onto the drilling tools, often results in drawing the water from the sand and sucking the oil back into its former channel until the flow has been started.

In the meantime other locations have been made in that same territory two more derricks are now being erected and leasing continues active.

It has been rumored that an oil company is soon to be organized in Littlefield, which company already has large lease holdings, and that within another week or so a new well will be spudded in. However, parties interested in the concern refuse to give out any definite information at this time.

FIX FIREMAN'S ROOM

With "Slim" Sellers becoming a benedict, Tom Mercer, his mechanical partner and also a member of the local Fire Department, is entering with high hopes upon the same route of future activities.

Tom has taken Slim's place as fireman, sleeping in the city hall, ready to answer any night calls with the engine.

This week the City Dads, realizing the continued tendency of the thermometer in its downward course, have built a bedroom on one side of the official building for his accommodation. Tom is also a good looking bachelor, and, encouraged by Slim's recent successes, is taking over his nightly task in high hopes and fond ambitions, wondering frequently how long it will be before he can graduate into a better home with a good looking coterie to darn his socks and prepare him three squares per day.

All the fire boys, with their hands stacked on the city tax book have solemnly vowed and pledged their best assistance to Tom.

TO ORGANIZE PIG CLUB

This is an invitation to all boys in and around Littlefield who are interested in becoming members of a Pig Club, to meet in the Vocational Agriculture class room of the High school at 12:30 p. m., Friday, Nov. 18, 1927.

The purpose of the club is to assist the members in purchasing pure-bred pigs or brood-sows, and to enable the members to get instructions the club and all assistance will be given and care of hogs.

Regular meetings will be held by the club and all assistance will be given the boys to make a real profit out of the pigs they purchase.

The Harvest Moon

By Albert T. Reid

REV. KEMP, NEW BAPTIST PASTOR TO BE HERE SUN.

At a congregational meeting of the Littlefield Baptist church, held last Sunday evening, Rev. Roy Kemp, of Rome, Texas, was unanimously elected to the pastorate of the local church succeeding W. B. Phipps, who tendered his resignation about three months ago. The newly elected minister was notified by telegram of his choice and has responded stating his acceptance.

Rev. Kemp, who was formerly pastor of Rhome, is a young man of 28 years, a graduate of Baylor University and of the Baptist Seminary, Fort Worth. He is married and has one child. He has had a very successful pastorate at Rhome, and will enter upon his work in Littlefield under the most favorable auspices, having a large and interested congregation for his ministry and to assist in his official duties.

He will be here and hold services next Sunday, both morning and evening.

AN ATTEMPTED HOLDUP

Monday night, about nine o'clock, while returning home from the cafe, L. W. Wynn became the would-be victim of a hold-up.

Fortunately the keen eye of the ex-officer, spotted the hi-jackers as they were crouched around the corner of a fence, and as they raised up to perpetrate their intended crime they confronted a 38 Smith & Wesson, held by a steady hand and a pair of steel cold blue eyes glancing along the top of the barrel which was pointed in their direction.

The stick-ups promptly had business in other sections and began attending to it as rapidly as their pedal extremities would carry them away from the presence of their intended victim.

Wynn got a pretty good description of them, and declares he would recognize either if he should again run across them, but notwithstanding his more than six feet of upstandingness he was unable to keep pace with the fleetness of the would-be assailants.

EDUCATION WEEK

Last week was education week at the public schools. Wednesday morning Judge Bills gave a talk on "The Public School System in the United States."

Thursday morning, Superintendent F. M. Harrison gave an interesting talk on "opportunity."

Friday, A. P. Duggan talked about "Armistice Day, and its Meaning."

OPEN R. R. CROSSING

Tuesday the work of placing culverts and other timbers for another crossing over the Santa Fe railroad was begun at a point opposite the local ice plant which, when completed will give three crossings over the Santa Fe tracks within the city limits.

The new crossing will be of great convenience to the cotton interests and to farmers in reaching the cotton compress and some of the gins with their cotton.

GOVERNMENT CROP REPORT SHOWS AN INCREASE, COTTON

The Government estimate of the size of the 1927 cotton crop, released last week, increased the amount over the estimate of a month ago by 164,000 bales, resulting in the price of cotton taking a tumble of about $7.50 per bale. However, 24 hours later part of the loss had been recovered, and this week the prices paid are practically normal again.

The estimate as issued by the Government was 12,842,000 bales as against an estimate of 12,678,000 bales a month ago.

The ginner's report showed that 9,925,000 bales had been ginned, against 8,118,000 up to the corresponding date of last year. On account of very favorable weather, picking had advanced much more rapidly this fall than last fall.

Nine hundred and thirty-seven bales of cotton, including 186 round bales had been ginned in Lamb county at the time of compilation of the report.

PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY

The Women's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church met Tuesday afternoon at Mrs. A. C. Chesher's, with Mrs. J. M. West, co-hostess.

Eighteen members answered to roll call.

One new member was added to the roll, Mrs. F. G. Sadler, which makes 40 members for the auxiliary.

Mrs. J. S. Hilliard led the devotional.

Sewing for the bazaar which will be Dec. 3, was the main feature of the afternoon.

The following ladies were served lovely refreshments of pumpkin pie, whipped cream and coffee: Mesdames Street, Porcher, Bills, Base, Barber, Logan, Steen, Allbright, Wiseman, Mitchell, Garrett, Rutledge, Hilliard, Cook, Sadler, Miss Hubbard, and hostesses.

The score was 21 to 29 in favor of Olton.

The "Average" Man

Roy L. Gray, Ft. Madison Ia., has been termed America's "average" citizen. The American Magazine, after careful survey, gives the title to Gray because he earns an average income; conducts a one-man tailor shop and clothing store in the average small sized town; belongs to church—but doesn't attend regularly; has an average education; and his principal interests are in his family of wife and two children—and his business.

ROWE ABSTRACT CO. OPEN FOR BUSINESS IN BANK BUILDING

The E. S. Rowe Abstract Co., is this week opening its books for service to the public.

The concern is composed of Jake Hopping and E. S. Rowe, both being among the older citizens of Littlefield.

Mr. Rowe, who is also an attorney, has had about 25 years experience in the abstracting business, beginning the work in an abstract office in Lubbock, and later operating similar concerns in Yoakum, Stephens and Pecos counties. Both men are well acquainted with land conditions and transfers throughout Lamb and adjoining counties, and the new concern will be in position to promptly and accurately handle all instruments of this nature.

It is stated they will keep a representative at the court house in Olton where a daily check will be made of all records and transfers, so that efficient service will be assured their patrons.

The concern will be located in the second story of the First National Bank building.

WILLIAMS LIKES LITTLEFIELD

Peefer Williams, of Amarillo, land appraiser for the Amicable Life Insurance Co., of Waco, was in Littlefield last week passing on some lands placed by their local agents, Hemphill & Barnes, and stated to a Leader representative that he "was carried away with this country."

"You have some wonderful soil out here and climatic conditions are all that could be wished for, said Williams. "Why, if I had this land located down about Waco, I could sell every acre of it for $150 per acre—and it isn't going to be many years before it will bring that price right here."

OFFICIALS DISCUSS PAVING

At a meeting of the City Commissioners held last week the financial side of paving Main street was discussed at length by the officials. There were several engineers and contractors present, and much data as to costs and character of paving was submitted, but it was thought not advisable until after the election to take any definite steps regarding the matter.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Is there no balm in Gilead? Is there no physician there?—Jere, 8:23.
It is only kindred griefs that draw forth our tears, and each weeps really for himself.—Heine.

COMMUNITY DUTIES

Every town has its advantages and disadvantages. Frequently one of the disadvantages of living in a small town is the lack of co-operation among its citizens toward making it a wholesome place of residence.

Every citizen of any given town is one of its stockholders, and upon him devolves a duty and responsibility of contributing his part toward the general welfare and betterment of that town. Some do and some don't. Some don't care a rap about the town only as they are personally concerned.

Personal liberty is a fine thing if it is not abused—and sometimes it is abused too flagrantly. Not many nights ago Main street was the scene of a drunken party that was no credit to Littlefield. Why the officers failed to make arrests is not known; but a reputation of such should not be permitted in this little city.

However, the peace and dignity does not depend entirely upon the elected officers. They must have the backing and co-operation of those citizens who appreciate the best moral and social conditions possible. Peace officers are sworn to do their duty in making the proper arrests when disturbances are created either within their sight or upon reasonable information. Likewise, it is the duty of all good citizens to furnish evidence, file complaints, and assist in obtaining the necessary proof for convictions.

There are enough good citizens in this town to keep it wholesome and decent, and it should be done.

In other days the women wore their dresses down to their insteps and now they wear them up to their step-ins.

OUR MEAT AND BREAD

The average Littlefield resident may not think that harvest time on the farm helps him much, and he may be inclined to think that it aids those who live in our large cities still less. But the fact is that when we leave the farms of this country out of our calculations, we fail to look out for the hand that feeds us.

The industries of the country rise and fall like the waves of the sea, and the power of farm production is the force that sets those waves going. If farm production falls off then the farmer ceases to buy and all industry lags behind. But a good, fat crop means a new breath of life in the industrial world; new hope for those who work in offices and factories.

If we would look at it in the right way we ought to smile when the farmer has a big crop. It is a wonderful day for him when he gets it safely harvested, and still better if he can sell it for a good price. He carries a burden of worry and anxiety that few of us in town know anything about, since all the forces of nature attack his crops and the elements often turn against him and make a whole season's labor a total loss to him. Don't underestimate the farmer's importance. If you do you are underestimating the importance of your own meat and bread.

It sometimes happens that a politician only buries his hatchet when he has an axe to grind.

The man who never speaks ill of a woman and of religion may not wear a dress suit, but he's a gentleman just the same.

GOOD ROAD EVIDENCE

A North Carolina highway engineer has found that in one year, since the state came into possession of perfectly paved roads, a saving of $16.76 in gasoline has been made by every car owner. And that doesn't include the saving in time, in tires and upkeep of the auto.

An auto dealer in an Illinois town checked the cost of operating a truck over dirt roads and over paved roads, and found that the truck running on paved roads saved two and one-half cents a mile over a period of one year. We don't know that this will set residents of this community studying, though we hope it will, for we are never going to get more roads or better roads than we need.

But we are offering it here as additional argument to be used by those Littlefield citizens who are loyally and tirelessly fighting the good roads battle. They can use it nicely in their campaign for improved highways, a campaign that slowly but surely is promoting the interests of every resident of this community.

Very few men like to have their wife hanging around their places of business. They are too apt to give someone the impression that they have more authority than he has.

A TIMELY WARNING

We want just as few deaths around Littlefield as it is possible for us to have, and all of us prefer to have them from natural causes, instead of through carelessness. With the arrival of cool mornings has come another great danger to those who operate automobiles, and it is in the hope of preventing any deaths from this new danger that we are sounding a warning.

Every owner of an auto should learn among the very first things that gasoline doesn't generate as quickly in cold weather as during the summer months. He has to "pull out the choke" in order to get enough gas to flowing to start an explosion in the cylinders. A lot of it doesn't vaporize, but passes out through the exhaust pipe in the form of gas. This is known as "monoxide gas," the deadliest gas in the world. So dangerous is it that it will kill in from one to three minutes if permitted to enter the lungs.

There is no danger from monoxide gas so long as the doors of the garage are open when you are starting the car. If you attempt to start the car on a cold morning with the garage closed up there can be but one result and that is death. You can't see this gas, nor can you smell it, but once it is breathed into your throat and lungs there is no antidote. Hundreds of deaths occur throughout the country every fall and winter from this cause and in almost every instance the victim was overcome before he could call for help. Let's not add to the list. Save your own life by seeing that the doors of your garage are wide open before you start the car, and warn other members of he family to do the same thing.

A man's idea of heaven is a place where there is nothing around the house that is too good to use.

WHAT IS BOOSTING?

We often wonder how many Littlefield people ever stop to consider what real home-town boosting means. And yet it is merely "thinking" and "saying" good things about the community in which we live.

To be real boosters for our home town we must assume our share of civic responsibilities; and lend our support toward any movement for the betterment of our homes, schools, churches and social and fraternal organizations.

We should not only feel it our duty but we should take pride in keeping our streets clean and in good repair, and in beautifying our yards and homes. We should make them as attractive as possible. A clean healthy atmosphere does more than anything else to attract new citizens to a community and to give a town a steady, healthy growth.

These are the things that constitute real boosting—things that we not only can do but that we should do constantly, 365 days in the year.

After they have graduated from college a lot of young fellows are in need of a post-graduate course in a reform school.

DEFRAUDING THE MOTORIST

Auto owners who patronize filling stations around Littlefield for their necessary supply of oil appear to be reasonably safe from deception. But if they are wise they will be on the alert when procuring oil at stations in our larger cities or in strange territory, since the attention of federal officials has been called to motor oil frauds now growing at an alarming rate in all parts of the country.

Experts have completed a tour of New York, Indiana, Illinois and Oklahoma, and in these states alone they found scores of instances of motor oil substitution frauds. Evidence of dishonest dealings was collected and placed in the hands of prosecuting officials. It was found that many filling stations are substituting inferior products for those the customer believes he is purchasing. Every motorist knows that in the case of oil it may mean serious damage to cars because exact and proper lubrication is demanded in practically all of the new models. That is because they are of higher speed, and have high-compression engines.

Fifty-five arrests have been made in Indianapolis alone, and in some of the smaller towns substitution was found. As a result each state may be urged to pass new laws covering this offense, since it promises to become nation-wide. Modern autos cost enough money in the first place without having them ruined and their life of service shortened by unscrupulous oil dealers who deliberately and knowingly sell an inferior brand for a tried and tested brand.

LITTLE LEADERS

It is still difficult to tell when some Littlefield girls are playing the piano and when they are only dusting it.

Our sympathy goes out to those Littlefield men who love potatoes, but who have wives so fat that they are dieting.

Why is it that a Littlefield woman can see a million ways in which her husband could be improved yet she thinks her children are perfect?

The average Littlefield boy is for celebrating any kind of week just so long as it is not a "Wash Your Neck Week."

BOLL COUNT TO BE BASIS OF ACCURATE ESTIMATE

The American Cotton Growers Exchange, of Memphis, Tenn., which is the National organization of the farm Bureau Cotton Association, or the central confederation of the fifteen cotton growing states, has begun a series of experiments to be able to foretell a more accurate estimate of cotton production.

In every cotton producing county in the South, the agents of the exchange are counting the bolls on a certain number of feet in the row. Also a number of bolls required to weigh one-half pound; the width of the rows are also noted. It is hoped from these tests to be able to count the bolls expected to mature in a given length in the row, and taking the width between the rows, form an accurate estimate of the production.

It has been stated that 250 bolls on ten yards of cotton, where the rows are three feet apart can be expected to make one-half bale to the acre.

VALUE OF SILAGE

In most parts of the United States more food material can be obtained from an acre of corn as silage than from an acre of any other crop that can be grown. From four to 20 tons of silage can be made from an acre of corn. A 50-bushel crop of corn yields from 8 to 12 tons of silage per acre, depending upon the amount of leaves and stalks that accompany the ears and upon the stage of maturity at which it is siloed. The quantity of silage that may be expected per acre is often roughly estimated at one ton for each five or five and a half bushels of shelled corn. Southern varieties of corn as a rule have a larger proportion of stalks and leaves than northern-grown varieties.

Corn silage is well suited for feeding of all livestock. Dairy cows need it perhaps more than other classes of animals, because the succulence it supplies is very necessary for large milk production. It is a cheap and economical food for beef cattle, from breeding cow to fattening steer. Sheep like it and it is as well suited to their needs. Even horses and mules may be fed limited quantities of good silage with good results.

CAN'T RAISE CHICKENS ON HORSEBACK SAYS POULTRY FANCIER WHO TELLS THE PROPER SHAPE FOR A PERFECT HEN EGG

By F. W. Kazmeier, Bryan, Texas. At the Washington International Egg Show, the following description of a perfect shaped egg was considered in the show:

"The perfect shaped egg is 1 1/2 times as long as it is thick and weighs from 2 to 2 1/8 ounces. The eggs should be curved evenly, and not varying from the dimensions given."

Weight for dozen 24 to 26 ounces. If white, the shell must be chalk white free from creamy color. There should be no tinted eggs. If brown, they may be any shade so long as all are same color and appear fresh. The shell should be free from such blemishes, as roughness, lime spots, wrinkles or ridges. The shell should be strong. Eggs must be clean and unwashed. The texture of shell is important, it should be of uniform thickness (not mottled) smooth and no cracks or blind checks. The air space should be no larger than a dime, and must be stationery and located in large end of egg. The white should appear free from spots, blood rings or dark color. It should be thick causing yolk to move slowly when egg is turned before candler. The yolk should be visible, but not too pronounced, it should not be fastened to side of egg, it also should move slowly when egg is turned before candler, and be free from blood clots, or anything of similar nature.

How many eggs do you sell like the above? Do you really give the question of grading eggs any consideration? Do you consider 12 eggs, as 12 things with shells that look like eggs? Remember in order to get a good price for eggs you should sell 12 good eggs for a dozen.

You Can't Raise Chickens on Horseback

The other day, the question was asked a court house group, why do not more farmers raise chickens, the answer promptly came back from another member of the same group, because you cannot raise chickens from horseback. I am wondering just how true that is. The ideal place for chickens is on the farm. Four or five hundred bred-to-lay hens on a farm, properly managed, can represent a profitable side-line. There is no better place for a flock of hens than on a farm. Probably not every farmer, has the proper state of mind that is necessary to make a success with poultry. For that reason we are not placing ourselves on record, as recommending that every farmer keep a flock of chickens. For fear that we may be misunderstood, in regard to the local use of the phrase "proper state of mind" we are going to explain it a little more in detail. At a meeting, somewhere, sometime, a complaint was made that there was no money in chickens, because feed was too high and eggs too cheap. A man got up in the audience and told that the feed question did not worry him any. He stated that he had 900 acres of cut over-land and 1,000 hens. For each hen he provided two roosters to scratch for her, and at any time when two roosters could not scratch fast enough to feed one hen he would kill off the roosters and provide her with two new ones.

The above no doubt explains why on some Texas and Oklahoma farms, there appears to be an out of proportionate amount of roosters with the farm flocks. No wonder our campaigns to put over an "infertile egg" project, in the Spring and Summer after hatching season, comes to sure failure.

With this explanation made, as to what we meant by state of mind, maybe we can go on with our story.

Feed Well

Filling up the crops of chickens with maize, milo or corn once a day may keep them from starvation, but surely won't make many eggs. It may be unfortunate, but it is true, that an egg is made from other food constituents, than which I found in grains or even mixture of several grains. In that case where can the hen get the other constituents that are necessary. The answer is, that unless you are feeding a balanced ration, she does not get them, and her answer to you is no eggs. The problem of feeding poultry profitable is not an easy one, it is not a simple one. Unless you are willing to mix brains with the feed, and that feed, a balanced ration, the results will be unsatisfactory. The saying "the eyes of the feeder fattened the calf" means a great deal.

Take for instance the question of succulent green food. In Texas in most parts of Oklahoma, any one and every body can have a green pasture for their farm flocks, if they just use a little of the energy both brain and physical with which all are endowed. What do we find? Barren yards, probably covered with weeds going to seed. Two weeks ago the barren yard could have been plowed, harrowed and sown to oats, barley, rye or wheat or a mixture of both, and today the chickens would be enjoying a green pasture furnishing much succulent green feed. Yes, two weeks ago we had plenty of moisture to sprout the seed. Also it would not have taken more than three or four hours to do the job.

More About Mash

Grain alone just simply won't do the trick. A good dry mash, with proper animal food, vitamins and minerals, will make eggs. The more of a good mash mixture you can get them to consume the more eggs they will lay. Better look into this question and give it some real thought on your part. Eggs are going up in price, in another month they will again be a nickel apiece. At that price, a well bred hen can easily produce $1.00 worth of eggs in a month. She cannot possibly eat more than 25 cents worth of feed. Five hundred hens, on this basis would clear $375.00 per month. Coming at this time of the year, this would come in handy to pay taxes, interest on money borrowed to make cotton crop, buy Christmas presents etc.

A WORD FOR OWLS

According to the San Antonio Express a farmer near Thrall has found that owls destroy rats in his corn patch. Hats off to the owls. All the rodent tribe should be eliminated. They are destroyers of wealth; they are bearers of disease. An owl isn't He is a blind but thinking member of the feathered tribe.

Liver and bacon make a good dinner meal, especially prepared, with the merit of being very valuable in the diet. Any kind of liver supplies vitamins, iron, and furnishes the body with protein and calories.

Unwrap meat as soon as it is brought from the market, and place it in a clean, dry, covered dish in the refrigerator or other cold place until wanted. Don't wash meat until just before cooking. Washing draws the juices out and hastens spoilage.

Only after a public favorite has become a "has-been" does he begin to realize the emptiness of applause.

If a man feels it in his bones it is apt to be rheumatism.

CHIROPRACTIC

Adds Nothing Takes Nothing Away
A revelation in the healing art!

For thousands of years it has been customary when a person was sick, to either "give him something" or "cut out something." Unless this was done his chances to survive were rather slim. At least this was the general opinion held. A radical change has come about with the advent of Chiropractic.

The Chiropractor adds nothing and takes nothing away. He gives the Almighty Creator credit for having done a perfect job when the human being was created—that nothing was to be added and that nothing should be taken away. A little fixing now and then on any machine becomes necessary. This has been learned by the mechanic in the past, and thus reasons the Chiropractor—the body is a machine, it also is liable to get out of adjustment in the daily grind for existence. Correct this and every organ should function properly—and it will. There is no question about this any more. This has been demonstrated to any practitioner of this new health science time and again.
