Judge Dent Cites Civilian Defense Role In Chicago

LITTLEFIELD, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JANUARY 11, 1951

NO. 92

Lamb County Farm Bureau Drive Is Set For Tuesday

Lamb county and the High Plains area of West Texas were pictured by Judge Otha Dent at the annual convention in Chicago last week of the National Association of County Officers as a haven for refugees from the populous coastal centers of the United States in event of an all-out atomic war.

Judge Dent, president of the Texas Association of County Commissioners and Judges and official representative of the Texas association at the national meeting, spoke on the role of West Texas in the over-all national plan of defense for civilian populations in case of a third world war.

Civil defense formed one of the principal topics of discussion at the national meeting and was particularly in the forefront of the minds of officials from the Pacific Coast states, which expect to be the first objective of an atomic bombardment in case of an attack upon the United States.

The West Texas area, because of its relatively sparse populations and comparative inaccessibility to aerial bombardment, does not face the same problems of defense against attack as does the more populous area, and especially the big cities and big manufacturing centers of the East and West coasts, Judge Dent said.

"Our part in the over-all civil defense plan for the nation should be to provide a refuge for those persons forced to flee the danger areas in case of an attack," Judge Dent told the conference and repeated on his return to his office in the Lamb county courthouse here Monday.

Judge Dent left Littlefield last Wednesday night and arrived in Chicago for the convention's opening last Thursday. The meetings continued through Saturday, dealing with problems common with county officials of all states. Thirty-eight officials were represented at the meetings.

Two of the chief desiderata brought before the convention were for uniform trucking laws and load limits for the entire country and for uniform payments to the aged under the old age assistance laws. Payments now vary from a low of about $35 to as much as $80 a month in various states, Judge Dent said.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at the First Baptist Church of Lamesa for Mrs. G. W. Hyatt, mother of Paul Hyatt of Littlefield. Burial took place in the Lamesa Cemetery.

Mrs. Hyatt was stricken with a stroke of paralysis Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt of Littlefield were notified and left immediately for Lamesa. She passed away at 4:15 a.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Hyatt is survived by her husband, and besides her son, Paul Hyatt, three other sons and a daughter. The other sons are Guy, Jack and Wayne. A son, Mullin, was killed in World War II.

She is also survived by a grandson, Seth Hyatt, who has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hyatt.

Two Youths Injured In Auto-Bicycle Accident

Bobby Gene Tucker, 16, and Victor Wayne Tucker, 13, sustained injury Saturday night about 8:30 when an automobile and the bicycle they were both riding collided near the Hodge Grocery on Highway 84. Two colored men were reported to be occupants of the automobile.

Both boys were admitted to the South Plains Cooperative Hospital, Amherst, where X-Rays were taken, and it developed that Bobby Gene had sustained a broken left leg near the ankle, and a knee injury. The limb was put in a cast. He was released from the hospital Tuesday. It is expected that he

If you detect a wan and harried look on the face of Lamb county tax assessor Clarence Davis, there's a reason: The special auto tag seekers are after him!

Although the tags won't be in for nearly a month from now, that doesn't deter those who want the same numbers they had last year or one that corresponds with a post office box number, street address, telephone listing or the size of their hats.

To the innocent question, "When do you expect the new auto tags?" Davis paled visibly, glanced furtively about the corridor of the temporary Lamb county courthouse at the corner of Sixth street and Phelps avenue and lowered his voice to barely a whisper.

"Please don't even mention auto tags in the paper," he pleaded. "They're after me now to a point where I have to slip in and out of the office by the side door."

"Actually, though, I don't expect them until after the first of February and there's no use for anybody to seek them before that time."

"Maybe if we'd print a story there's no use to apply now people might wait until February," his questioner suggested. "Well, maybe," Davis agreed, "but I doubt it. Seems like everybody always is in a hurry for the new tags until the plates arrive—and then the motorists take their own sweet time applying for them."

County Commissioners Continue Sessions on New Budget for '51

Hearing of the 1951 budget for Lamb county began Monday before members of the commissioners court headed by County Judge Otha Dent.

The hearings must be completed and the budget set by Saturday, Judge Dent said. Figures on the budget for 1951 probably would not be available until the last day, he said.

The court was in session on the budget requests of the various county department heads all day Monday and resumed the sessions Wednesday.

Thursday members of the court will go to Plainview to advise with county officials of Hale county, who invited the Lamb officials to aid them in their financial difficulties.

The budget meetings were to be resumed Friday.

Canadian Dam Faces Delay

An important condition to securing congressional authorization of the $85,000,000 Canadian River project recently was a pledge by Sen. Tom Connally, in which Sen. Lyndon Johnson joined, that they will not seek an appropriation for the work during the "pendency of the national emergency."

Without this agreement, the project would not have been approved. Several members of the Senate Minority said that they would have refused the unanimous consent necessary to consideration, action and passage without the assurance by the Texas senators that they would not seek funds for the project until the present emergency is eased.

The agreement, therefore, was an act of legislative expediency. The Canadian river measure would have been deadlier than the proverbial doornail without it. But we know Senators Connally and Johnson too well to suspect that the expediency consideration weighed heavily with them. With or without an agreement, they would seek funds for any purpose which might be put to better use for defense and security. They unquestionably intend to observe the spirit and the letter of their pledge. That is exactly as they should do.

The result will mean postponement for an unpredictable time—perhaps a long time—the start of work on the project which holds the promise of solving the long-range water problems of a dozen or more South Plains and Panhandle cities. Definitely, no work can be done until an appropriation is made for it. As matters now stand, the project merely has been authorized with no money provided to get work under way. The appropriation, if any, must come later.

It definitely is possible, however, that the delay may not be as long as some of those most interested in the undertaking now expect. Certainly no appropriation will be sought, or would be approved, while the emergency continues unless it can be justified by security needs. If it could be justified on that basis, it might be obtained much sooner than anybody now imagines.

There appears more than a possibility that the Canadian river development could be justified by its defense and security values. Several military facilities have been built, or are projected, in the Panhandle-South Plains areas, which look to the Canadian as a future source of abundant water supply. More of these facilities—probably a great many more—are likely to be established in this great territory if the emergency continues or grows worse.

The South Plains and Panhandle also possess more industries which serve vital defense needs right now than most people realize. These existing industries could, almost without exception, be expanded swiftly and enormously. And there is practically no limit to the number and variety of new industries which might be located advantageously in this region to convert our oil, cotton, cottonseed and other raw materials into finished products of vital defense, security and war value.

Developments of these types would require an abundance of water. The needed abundance could be stored, unless all engineering opinion is wrong, in a Canadian river reservoir. And the Canadian project is of a kind which could be built rather quickly if speed were desirable.

But, as matters now stand, there is no basis for expecting that the work might be started until the emergency ends. No one can pretend to know when that might be. However, if the potential emergency values of the completed Canadian river development can be shown convincingly, it might be started and finished much sooner than most of us now hope, or expect.

To our way of thinking, those potential values unquestionably abound—such values, for example, as the enormous quantities of oil readily available for processing into precious gasoline, other fuels and lubricants.

It is entirely possible that a diligent effort to draw these potentials to the attention of the proper authorities in Washington might hasten construction of the project and, at the same time and of far greater importance, contribute to the effort to prepare this nation for whatever challenge it must face.—Lubbock Avalanche.

East Meets the West In Suburb of Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—It's a bit difficult for Staakeners to find their way through the east-west cold war. Staken is a small western suburb, about ten miles from the heart of Berlin. Its eastern half is British, its western half Russian.

When Communists attack "western imperialists," East Staakeners look at the Russian sentries on guard in the western part of their town. For West Staakeners, the "West" is still the Russian zone, to which their part of the suburb was ceded by four-power agreement in 1945.

But the "East" is British East Staaken, and, still farther to the East, lies West Berlin.

Reds Force Hungarians To Sell Vienna Homes

VIENNA (AP)—House-hungry Vienna is gaining something from Communism. The real estate market in the Austrian capital has suddenly taken a turn for the better. Scores of houses and offices whose owners live in nearby Communist Hungary are being offered for sale.

Vienna newspapers report that Hungarian owners have been forced to turn over their rights to the Communist government. And the government now is selling all the property—and keeping the cash.

MALAYAN COSTS RISE

KUALA LUMPUR (AP)—The cost of living is steadily rising in the Federation of Malaya. Most of the ordinary necessities to sustain life are now described as becoming "luxuries." Pork meat is the latest item to undergo a big boost. The emergency—meaning the British war against Communist terrorists, is partly responsible for the price rise.

No Use Having High Prices and Wrecked Conscience Says Bull Lake Philosopher

Editor's note: The Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bull Lake seems to be conscious of the letters, which sometimes we don't.

Bear editor:

I was out here walkin' around in my pasture the other afternoon to get my mind off the fact I ought to have been workin' on my income tax. It ain't that I owe anything but gettin' hold of enough figures to prove it is my problem, what's yours, when I saw a newspaper blowin' along the ground and I was in need of something to read so bad I speeded up enough to intercept it just as it blew across the path in front of me. I've missed a few by not quite gettin' there in time but never by coin past one too fast, and picked it up and got to the nearest tree and set down and after readin', a man's mind ought to be fresh when he reads, opened it up and read where a man named Valentine, who is in charge of controlling prices for the country, says for the time being his policy will be a voluntary one. "Let your conscience be your guide in fixing prices," he advised.

What I would like to say is ain't there some other way to arrive at a fair price?

What put the burden on your conscience? That is, why ruin what little conscience we got left?

It's one thing for the price czar to say you can't get but 22 cents a pound for a Jersey steer, but it's another to persuade your conscience to charge the same thing when some bird is willin' to pay 25 cents. The way I see it, the new policy not only ain't gonna control many prices but is gonna wreck a lot of consciences to boot.

Take any item, cotton, corn, shoes, bread, milk, eggs, etc., all our life we've been trained to get all we can for it, and to turn around now and ask our conscience to do an about-face and see how little we can get for it is askin' too much of a conscience, at least too much of mine, and I got a pretty good idea a lot of other consciences will be affected the same way.

We ought to keep prices down if we can, but there ought to be some other way. No use havin' high prices and wrecked consciences both.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Towel Thieves Cost Big Hotels Big Sums

NEW YORK (AP)—Taking towels from hotels may be a joke to the taker but not to the hotelier owner. No matter what you pay for the room, if you take a towel, the hotel loses money on the transaction, report owners. Most hotels pay $2.50 per towel.

The Hotel Edison here recently took an informal survey to discover if towel-taking was predominant among residents of any one section of the U. S. Owner Irwin Kramer reports that it can't be traced to any one part, but that "people from all over do it mostly for a rag. These same people wouldn't ever dream of sticking their hand in my pocket when I wasn't looking and taking out $2.50," he moans.

First singing of the Marine Corps hymn was during the Mexican War. The lyrics were composed by an unknown poet of the Corps who used the music of an old French opera tune, in 1847.

Lamb County SCD Supervisors Report on Activities of Year

The Lamb County SCD Board of Supervisors held their first regular meeting of the new year Monday, January 1, 1951. It was decided to give the public a summary of the work accomplished for the past year and a resume of the program for 1951.

During 1950 the district has purchased five land leveling machines and one grass drill and has placed them throughout Lamb County for use by cooperators of the district. Other items purchased include camera equipment and a projector and screen for educational work in connection with soil and water conservation.

To maintain the field equipment in its present good condition, it was decided by the board to set a rental charge of $10 per day for the use of a land leveler with a deposit of $25 to be put up which will be refunded to the cooperator when the leveler is returned in good condition. The grass drill can be secured by contacting a district representative. Rental for the grass drill is $1.25 per acre.

The district is seeking bids for the purchase of a motor grader to be made available to cooperators of the district.

Inventory of work accomplished by the district assisted by the Soil Conservation Service shows the following:

1. Acres contoured, 2,154.
2. Acres of cover crops planted, 1,268.
3. Acres of effective crop residue management to prevent wind and water erosion, 8,052.
4. Acres of range improvement, 397.
5. Acres of irrigated pasture improvement, 177.
6. Acres of pasture seeded, 841.
7. Miles of terraces constructed, 26.
8. Linear feet of diversion constructed, 30,824.
9. Acres of land leveled for conservation irrigation, 852.
10. Acres of land improvement for application of irrigation water, 6,291.
11. Number and acres of applications filed with and approved by the district for conservation assistance, 125 applications covering 24,838 acres.
12. Number of complete farm plans approved by the Board of Supervisors, 61 farm plans covering 15,198 acres.
13. Applications for conservation assistance to date totals 110,393 acres.

According to Mr. C. H. Messer, chairman of the local Board of Supervisors, the district is operating under the handicap of limited personnel available to the technical work with cooperators. Under these conditions it was the decision of the board to make limitations on the amount and kind of work to be received through the district program. In speaking for the board, Mr. Messer states that more support is needed from farmers of the district, that farmers should take more active part in furnishing help to get work done on their farms. He further stated that in the case of bench leveling during the coming year district engineers will "lay out the pattern for bench leveling and it will be up to the applicant or farmer and the contractor to finish it."

The supervisors are making an appeal to farmers, who face the task of producing a record cotton crop, not to plant cotton on land unsuitable for cotton which might wash or blow out and damage crops surrounding it. The goal is to put each acre to its best adapted use. One recommended conservation practice approved by the district is the over-seeding of legumes in cotton prior to the last cultivation to provide a winter cover to hold and build the soil. Farmers over the district reporting good results from winter legumes such as hairy vetch, madrid clover, and Austrian winter peas include L. F. Hoelscher and A. F. Wedel of Spade, E. W. Mitchell and E. R. Spain of Olton, C. H. Messer, Walter Gray and H. E. Gohlke of Littlefield.

About 250 Persons Attended Olton High School Annual Homecoming

Some 250 persons attended the third annual homecoming banquet of Olton High School ex-students and teachers in the school cafeteria as the Christmas holidays drew to a close Dec. 29.

The homecoming brought representatives from each year since the first graduating class in 1923, as well as persons who had attended school many years prior to this time.

Also present were ex-superintendents J. Ernest Jones and R. L. Davidson, as well as a former high school principal, Elmer J. Moore. H. P. Webb, superintendent here during early years, was unable to attend although he and Mrs. Webb had made reservations for the occasion. Ex-students, fully cognizant of his absence, however, gave a rousing ovation showing their appreciation for the educator whom many had learned to admire and respect.

Curtis Wilkinson, now county attorney of Lamb county, served as master of ceremonies during the banquet following a visiting hour in the school gymnasium.

Entertainment during the banquet hour was furnished by Naydene Johnson Hendrix at the piano. Jack Fuller and R. L. Richards. Group singing was led by Jim Spain, who also sang Irish ballads for the homecomers after the banquet session.

Varied entertainment included recognition of classes and outstanding students through the years as well as a hilarious, orange passing contest in which teams were headed by former coaches F. L. Moore and J. Ernest Jones.

Olton C. of C. Plan Membership Campaign and Banquet January 15

Plans for an intensive Chamber of Commerce membership campaign by Olton in conjunction with the annual membership banquet slated for Jan. 15 were announced Wednesday by H. G. Wilson, chamber president.

Tom Murphy, president of the Lubbock Toastmasters club, has been secured as guest speaker for the banquet. Postmaster I. B. Holt is expected to serve as master of ceremonies for the event and installation of officers is also scheduled at the banquet.

Wilson stressed the need for continued support of the Chamber of Commerce during the coming year.

"The chamber should have 100 per cent membership in Olton and will strive to reach this goal in the membership drive," Wilson said.

The retiring president, who will serve as a member of the board of directors during 1951, expressed gratitude for cooperation received during the past year but voiced the hope that the chamber would receive greater support this year.

Tickets for the membership banquet are expected to go on sale toward the end of the week. Area farmers, as well as local businessmen were urged to attend.

Five LHS Players Get All-State Band Rating

Five members of the Littlefield high school band have been selected as members of the 90-piece Texas high school all-star band which will play at the annual Texas State Musical Education Convention in Galveston Feb. 7-10.

Announcement of the honors to the Littlefield students was made here by Don Hayes, instrumental music director at the high school.

The selection of the five to become members of the All-state group is the same in high school musical circles as would be the selection of a football player on the state all-star team.

Great Honor To All
The honor to Littlefield, to the high school, to the band and its director is exceptionally noteworthy as nominations for membership in the all-star band come from all high schools in the state regardless of size, and embraces the largest city high school bands as well as cities the size of Littlefield. It is also highly exceptional for any school, regardless of size, to place as many as five members in the all-star musical group.

The five selected by the judges on the basis of individual past performances in solo and ensemble contests in the spring music contests and on the rating of the band in state circles are Wayena Johnson, oboe; Charlotte Doss and Norma Moss, clarinets; Joyce Sharp, french horn, and Ronald Harlan, trombone.

In addition to these five all-stars ten other members of the Littlefield band will attend the state convention to take part in the band clinics to be held in conjunction with the conclave.

These ten also were selected on the basis of their individual performances in the spring contests. They are James Renfro, Fredy Briggs and Larry Rice, cornets;

Nancy Morrow and Lehman Pace, clarinets; Don Lynskey, bass clarinet, and Erna Jones, Jack Minix, Ronald Bates and Orlan Akin, saxophones.

Leave Here Feb. 6
The group of players with Mr. Hayes will leave here Feb. 6 in private cars for Galveston, accompanied by several band parents. One adult will ride in each car, Mr. Hayes said.

An overnight stop will be made at Waco en route. At Galveston the Littlefield band members will stay at the Coronado Courts on the beach.

Mr. Hayes is a member of the state board of the association but had no part in the selection of the players for the all-star band. He is in charge of organization of the clinic classes at the convention.

Headquarters for the convention in Galveston will be at the Galvez and Buccaneer Hotels.

Southwestern Public Service Company To Sponsor 'Productive Power Show'

The Southwestern Public Service Company has arranged with Westinghouse Electric Corporation for a Lubbock presentation of their widely acclaimed "Productive Power Show," which will be given Monday, February 5, beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Lubbock Senior High School Auditorium.

Westinghouse is putting on a practical and effective demonstration of advanced electric techniques that enable a manufacturer to produce faster, better and more economically. It will be given on a stage with skilled operators, and the subjects include plant wiring and planned lighting, infrared drying, preciptron air cleaning, induction and dielectric heating, electric furnace brazing and resistance welding. While this show was primarily designed for presentation to manufacturing groups, it is felt that it will be equally interesting to those engaged in commercial, agricultural, educational or other productive fields of endeavor. In addition to the actual demonstrations there will be two short films in color showing factory applications of furnace brazing and induction heating.

The "Productive Power Show" has attracted wide attention in many cities throughout the east and middle west. The thousands who attended—heads of industrial concerns, plant superintendents, and key operating personnel—have expressed keen satisfaction in seeing it. The Southwestern Public Service Co. feel gratified in being able to secure it for the Plains area at this time and believe much information will be derived from the presentation of same that will of value in the operation of varied business concerns here.

The National Geographic Society says Japan is probably the world's worst earthquake risk.

Womble assumes administrative responsibilities immediately, and brings to the Paymaster Feed organization a wide knowledge of the Southwest and its livestock and agricultural activities. Seeing is Believing

. . . and this lady sees a smile in the mirror-like bottom of her pots and pans because she cooks the modern way—the clean way—electrically. Electric cooking is clean because electricity is clean. No flame . . . No fumes . . . No soot . . . just the clean, radiant heat of electricity . . . pan-hugging heat that goes right into the shiny pots and pans and gets the cooking job done quickly. Seeing IS believing . . . so see the electric ranges on display at your local electric appliance dealer. See the modern method of cookery . . . the clean way of cookery. Of course, it's electric.

CLEAN ELECTRIC COOKING IS ECONOMICAL TOO. YOU CAN COOK THIS MODERN WAY FOR ABOUT 7 CENTS A DAY—FROM $1.75 TO $2.25 A MONTH FOR THE FAMILY OF FOUR. BE MODERN. GO ELECTRIC.

Friendship—Four Thousand Miles Apart

Never quite got the hang of how to play chess myself, but I'll say this for the game—it started one of the strongest friendships I know of; between Dad Wilson in our town and a fellow in Sudbury, England.

The two of them have never met or seen each other—but for eight or nine years they've been playing chess by mail together. Dad puzzles over the Englishman's latest letter, takes a couple of days to think it over, and then airmails a chart of his next move.

Dad always thinks best with a mellow glass of beer beside his chessboard. And the fellow in England writes that he does the same. "Almost as if we were in the same room," says Dad contentedly.

From where I sit, you can talk about diplomacy and foreign policy, but it's often little friendly things—like a game of chess or a glass of beer—that can make for tolerance and understanding . . . between people of different nations, between folks here at home!

Over-head Basketball Officiating Makes Hit With Texas College Coach

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Basketball officiating from overhead?

Coach Ed Norris of St. Edward's University says it is highly satisfactory.

He located two umpires on above-court platforms suspended at opposite ends of the playing area, and left coverage of the floor to the referee.

Officials, players and spectators were generally pleased with the results. Norris says the overhead view of the floor action makes it possible for officials to call fouls more readily and more accurately.

"The reason for the criticism of officials is that the mechanics of officiating has been static for the past 25 or 30 years while the game itself has been streamlined and speeded up," Norris explains.

Basketball has developed into a fast-moving game, and the use of the above-court rule has concentrated more than 90 per cent of the action in the "keyhole" area directly in front of each basket.

As a result of this concentration, officials on the floor can often be "screened out" of important plays where fouls are apt to occur. Norris thinks the platform system of officiating will eliminate this difficulty.

He also anticipates better coverage of the end and side lines, with elimination of many "out" balls which are called "out" because officials are unable to determine which side crosses the ball out of bounds.

Sudan Girl Leads Wayland on Trip

The Wayland Harvest Queens, led by Capt. Velma Probert of Sudan and coached by Sam Allen, left Plainview this week aboard four Beechcraft Bonanzas for games in Houston, Mexico City and Dallas.

Leaving Houston January 7, the Wayland party arrived in Mexico City the same afternoon. Coach Tony Delgado of the "Tintoreras" had planned a huge reception at the airport and plenty of sightseeing during the visit to Old Mexico.

The Tintoreras rank high in the Mexican National Women's Basketball. They have defeated the last year's National champs, the Polaris twice this year.

The Harvest Queens and Tintoreras met three times on Jan. 8, 9 and 10. From Mexico City, the girls will go to Dallas. Here they will enter a four-team tournament with the Dallas Hornets, Hanes Hooper Mills of Winston-Salem, N. C., winners of third place in the National Tournament at St. Joseph, Mo., last March, and a high-powered team from Fort Worth that has already beaten the Hornets this year.

Returning home for a day of rest on Sunday, the Queens play home games in the Hanes Hooper gym on Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 15 and 16.

Twine Probert from Sudan is captain of the Wayland team. Others on the team include Marie White from New York, Janette Cooper, Midway, Mo., and June McEachern, Midway, Mo. Her coaches: Myrtle Brown, Anton, Tex.; Phillips, Abernathy; Blaine Greenhouse, Denton; Joseph Schneider, Waco; Pat Smith, Waco; and Ella Bradshaw, Denton.

Sudan Five Tops Abernathy, 39-26

The Sudan Hornets beat a tough west end in the basketball sport.

Tonight the Sudan boys and the Sudan girls will use their hot home court, with the Hornets set for 7:30 o'clock.

Tomorrow night the Hornets will join with St. Stephen's for a double-header game.

Mr. Dan Goldsmith, 3024 Curran Road, Louisville, Ky., owner of Georgia Cut Rate Store at 818 West Broadway, says there just aren't enough words in the English language to praise EADAACOL correctly. He says he knows most folks don't realize what a change EADAACOL can make in their life if their systems are deficient in Vitamins B, B₁₂, Iron and Nicotin.

Here is Mr. Goldsmith's statement: "Before I started taking EADAACOL I was run down and nervous—and had a hard time sleeping nights. With my work at the store I have to spend sometimes 14 hours a day on my feet. Since I am in the retail business I know how many folks were asking for EADAACOL so I decided to try it myself. After the first couple of bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now I have all the pep and energy in the world. My nerves are steady as ever. I really do get a good night's rest. EADAACOL is wonderful—I not only take it, but recommend it to all my customers. I praise the day Senator Dudley J. LeFlore put EADAACOL on the market."

EADAACOL is So Different. Thousands are benefiting from EADAACOL... whose systems lack Vitamins B, B₁₂, Iron and Nicotin. EADAACOL is so wonderful because EADAACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (what iron is needed) to carry these great Vitamins and Minerals to every body organ—in every part of the body.

Give remarkable EADAACOL a chance and if you don't feel better with the first few bottles you take—you get your money back. Only $1.50 for Trial Size; Large Family or Hospital Size, $3.50. If you shipped does not have EADAACOL, order it direct from The LeFlore Corporation, Lakeview, Louisiana.

Wildcats Lose Two to Morton

The Morton high school basketball team edged out Littlefield in a thrilling overtime encounter at the Wildcat gym Tuesday night. Final score was 24 to 22.

In the girls game between the two schools the Morton sextet had little difficulty in winning by a 21 to 11 count.

The Wildcats salvaged a grain of comfort in the B contest, however, when the Littlefield boys turned back the invading Morton B aggregation by a score of 22 to 14.

The New Plymouth Cranbrook Four-Door Sedan

Featuring improvements which produce unprecedented roadability and riding qualities, the beautifully redesigned 1951 line of Plymouth cars have numerous mechanical improvements and have retained their traditional roominess. Shown above is Plymouth's Four-door Cranbrook sedan.

New 1951 Plymouth goes on Display at Local Dealers Saturday, Jan. 13

Spectacular new qualities which produce driving and riding ease, hitherto unknown in automobiles of any price feature the new line of Plymouth cars. Continuing smart new body lines with unprecedented interior luxury, the new Plymouth will go on display Saturday, January 13, in the showrooms of the local dealers, Garland Motor Company and the Littlefield Motor Company at Littlefield.

Designers have given the Plymouth a striking new silhouette, and refinements in the interior fit to coordinate in the lowest price field. The styling improvements retain the traditional roominess of the cars.

Easier to drive and more comfortable, the new cars have greater beauty, more safety features and broader ranges of vision than ever before.

Engineers say the new "Safety-Flow" road takes the bounce and wallop out of bumps. A new application of automatic flow control in the shock absorbers provides a more gradual change of resistance during spring deflections and thus a softer ride when driving on overcast roads. It also exerts extra resistance on rough roads to a degree where driver and passengers are almost completely freed of the discomfort of being jolted around.

The "Safety-Flow" ride is one of the kindest contributions to driving comfort and safety in recent years, according to E. S. Edling, president of Plymouth Corp.

The new Plymouth gives you roadability never before offered in any car. "There is no necessity for steering-wheel fatigue or control of the car on difficult roads. The driver is no longer required to focus full attention on the condition of the road. He may be more watchful of oncoming traffic, pedestrians, curves, cross roads and other potential hazards."

Edling called the new development a major step toward essential motoring. Many qualities are gained by driving a new Plymouth with the "Safety-Flow" ride, and as a result there is no driver and passenger fatigue, he said.

The lines of the new Plymouth have been beautified. An appearance of modernness is established with smart streamlining, as indicated by a new grille, beautifully redesigned front fenders and hood, a wider windshield and a larger rear window. Narrower windshield pillars together with the wider windshield provide additional lateral vision. To utilize fully the greater vision through the new rear window, the rear view mirror is two inches wider. The shaft-height front seat and the new design of hood and front fenders permit the driver to see the road nearer the car.

There are numerous mechanical improvements. Windshield wipers are electrically operated and are of the single-speed, self-parking type.

A unique pressure-vent radiator cap, which has been added as standard equipment, permits the cooling system to be operated at atmospheric pressure during normal driving conditions. Under high-load, high-temperature driving conditions, the new radiator cap provides a pressurized cooling system to allow high coolant temperature without boiling or loss of antifreeze.

All Plymouth engines now have a built-in bypass cooling system permitting water circulation and resulting in more uniform temperature throughout the engine during the warm-up period. The new system consists of a passage in the cylinder head and block providing direct access to the water pump, and a choke-type thermostat to regulate coolant flow to the radiator.

The generator output has been raised to 45 amperes, an increase of five amperes, providing greater electrical capacity for the operation of car accessories. The new hand brake "T" control handle is more accessible and, as on former models, it operates independently of the foot brake as an added safety measure.

In the convertible club coupe, the spare tire is mounted vertically as in other coupe and sedan models, rather than on the trunk floor.

The new Plymouth interiors offer the finest selection of upholstery and trim and the most harmonious color schemes in the company's history. The colors which have been chosen provide throughout the interior a pleasing combination of shades in harmony with the car's exterior color. Designers say the interior is an unparalleled achievement in combining practicality with luxury. Always noted for spaciousness, Plymouth now has even more head room and more room to stretch out in comfort in the rear seat.

To go with the high quality of the upholstery, there is a handsome new instrument panel which features a more convenient grouping of controls, newly shaped instruments and improved coloring and lettering for easier checking while driving.

In the boys division final game, Sandown scored an early lead and stayed off two miles to top Hopewell, 27-20. Bill Waygood netted 23 points for the winners, while Richard Arant had 11 for the ropes quartet.

The Wellman girls team won girls consolation honors, edging Sandown, 24-22, in an overtime game. Burgett had 16 for Wellman, while Van Zandt had the same number for Sandown.

Through blizzard after blizzard my car performed better!"

"I was one of those selected to test new Conoco Super Motor Oil in my own car before it was put on the market. Through blizzard after blizzard, I travelled in Northern Colorado and Wyoming.

BUT THOSE WERE THE TWO BEST WINTERS I EVER HAD ON THE ROAD! New Conoco Super improved the operation of my car. And at the end of the test, with proper drains and regular care, gasoline mileage was virtually as good as at the beginning."

After a total of 386,422 miles, logged by Mr. Hubbard and other winter test drivers, Conoco engineers found no wear of any consequence! Analysis of crankcase drains showed that this great new oil actually stopped the dangerous accumulation of free water and acids, chief causes of winter wear. This test proved that new Conoco Super Motor Oil, with OIL-PLATING, fights off rust, corrosion and sludge. So, change to winter-grade Conoco Super Motor Oil.

Of great importance to Texas was the action of the convention in voting to back Texas' effort to get a law passed by congress recognizing the state's title to the tidelands oil lands, Judge Dent reported.

"A great many of the delegates never knew that the retention of the tidelands by Texas was a part of the treaty of admission to the union signed by the federal government," the judge said.

Facts Won Support
"When the facts about the tidelands were laid before them the delegates voted whole-hearted support of Texas in its fight."

Texas roads set the pattern for about all the other states, the Lamb county official found in discussions of road problems at the convention.

The every-present problems of roads, questions of uniform wife and child support reciprocal laws, and the question of payments in lieu of taxes on federal property within a state were among other leading matter discussed at the convention, Judge Dent said.

uation, Governor Shivers asked the Citizens' Inaugural Committee to abandon plans for the usual elaborate festivity normally scheduled for a governor's inauguration.

"In view of the president's proclamation of a national emergency," Governor Shivers told the committee, "I feel it advisable that the inauguration be limited to a simple oath-taking ceremony. I know that all of you will join with me in the thought that we should devote all of our energy to solution of the grave problems we now face."

The inaugural committee had made detailed plans for a long parade, a reception, six bands and other pageantry in connection with the inauguration. About 20,000 engraved invitations were to have been sent out.

Thus, for the second time, Shivers will take the governor's oath of office without fanfare. On July 16, 1949, he was sworn in as successor to the late Gov. Beauford Jester. That ceremony took place on the Shivers farm near Woodville.

"The seriousness of our situation," the governor told the inaugural committee "is emphasized by the president's action. As we concentrate upon essential elements of an all-out mobilization effort, an elaborate inauguration would be out of place."
