City Parade Draws Large Crowd

CHRISTMAS PARADE WINNER--The Littlefield Girl Scout float won the $50 award for the outstanding float in the Christmas parade Monday. The float was judged the best of the many entered in the giant parade that set the Yuletide season off to a gala start.

Cold, drizzling rain and chilling winds failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the hundreds who lined the route of march to watch the giant Christmas parade in Littlefield Monday.

flags waved, the colorful floats passed by, the bands played and the marchers stepped out briskly as spectators of all ages were thrilled by the spectacle.

The accent was on youth, however, as it was strictly the young ones who took the prizes. The Littlefield Girl Scouts won the $50 award for the best float and the Junior High School Band won the outstanding band award.

The Girl Scouts were presented the award by Bill Turner, publisher of the Leader-News, and the best band trophy was donated by Gene Pratt of Pratt's Jewelry Al Jordan, one of the parade udges, presented the trophy to ance met Monday morning at Sacred Heart Catholic Church for a business session, with Rev. R. B. Hall, president of the organization, presiding for discussions.

Main topic of concern for the group was a "Put Christ Back Into Christmas" project, in which radio station KZZN and The Leader-News were consulted in promoting the project. Alliance members have pledged to place full support toward that goal, and to avoid Littlefield Ministerial Alli- commercialization in Christmas, and what it stands for.

"We feel that Christ has been forgotten at this time of the year--His birthday! and we feel our community needs to be reminded of what Christmas really is', said Rev. Clem Sorley, secretary-treasurer of the Alliance.

Rev. Doug Morton, pastor of First Christian Church, is head of a committee which is working to seek solutions for the "Put Christ Back Into Christmas" project.

Joanie Brantley Feted At Tea

AMHERST--Miss Joanie Brantley, bride-elect of Mike Stafford, was honored with a gift tea, Friday, Nov. 29, in the home of Mrs. James Holland, Guests who called were greeted by the hostess and presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. J. P. Brantley, and the prospective groom's mother, Mrs. D.J. Stafford of Littlefield.

Miss Debbie Landers registered guests, including special guests from out of town; Miss Pam Stafford from Littlefield; Mrs. J.B. Morris of Texas City: Miss Robbie McNeal of Seabrock; Mrs. Verner Woods of Olton; Mrs. Truman Wood and daughters, Deans, Nita, and Sherry, of Albuquerque, N.M.; Mrs. Bobby Hayworth of Levelland; Mrs. Jeff Brantley of Albuquerque; and Misses Donna and Diane Crume of Bula.

Miss Elaine Black presided at the tea service and served spiced tea, coffee, decorated cake squares, and assorted nuts from a table laid with a satin bound white net cloth over white.

A centerpiece of white gladioli, mums, and sweet peas arranged in a silver epergne and accented with be-ribboned bows and bells in peacock blue carried out the bride's chosen colors. White candles in silver holders and white china and silver appointments completed the table decor.

The hostesses' gift, a set of West Bend Country Inn Cookware in the Harvest Gold pattern, was on display along with large array of other gifts.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. Jimmy Cowan, Verdell Burton, Bill Bradley, Keith Tomes, Paul Bennett, Vic Reynolds, Glenn Batson, Don Carter, Charles Mixon, W.P.

What About Indians?

I SEE BY THE NEWSPAPERS and magazines that the Negro Americans are demanding that schools re-do their curricula to present courses in Negro history and of Negro contributions to art, literature, etc., etc.

Well, that's okay by me (if the facts are stuck to) on one condition: that the same is done for the American Indian.

If all of the people of Indian descent will join together, maybe we can get it told like it really was, and that will certainly include the rewriting of every history book I've ever read, to say nothing of the arts, literature, etc. etc.

YOU THINK INDIANS never wrote anything worthy of reading? Ha! I've got a whole shelf full. For instance, here is a little soliloquy that rivals Shakespeare.

It was written by a chief of the Cheyenne, Hiamovi, in the early part of this century, after the white man had done about all the dirt he could do to the red man at that present time

"LONG AGO the Great Mystery caused this land to be, and made the Indians to live in this land. Well has the Indian fulfilled all the intent of the Great Mystery for him.

Once, only Indians lived in this land. Then came strangers from across the Great Water.

No land had they; we gave them of our land.

No food had they; we gave them of

THE STRANGERS are become many and they fill all the country.

They dig gold--from my mountains; they build houses-from the trees of my forests; and they rear cities--of my stones and rocks; they make fine garments-from the hides and wool of animals that eat my grass.

None of the things that make their riches did they bring with them from beyond the Great Water; all comes from my land, the land the Great Mystery gave unto the Indian.

AND WHEN I THINK upon this I know that it is right, even thus. In the heart of the Great Mystery it was meant that stranger-visitors--my friends across the Great Water-should come to my land; that I should bid them welcome; that all men should sit down with me and eat together of my corn. It was meant by the Great Mystery that the Indian should give to all peoples.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆BY LIBBY MUDGETT

But the white man never has known the Indian.

IT IS THUS: there are two roads, the white man's road and the Indian's road. Neither traveler knows the road of the other. Thus ever has it been, from the long ago, even unto today. When I think, I know that it is in the mind of the Great Mystery that white men and Indians who fought together should now be one people.

There are birds of many colors-red, blue, green, yellow-yet it is all one bird.

THERE ARE HORSES of many colors--brown, black, yellow, white-yet it is all one horse.

So cattle, so all living things--animals, flowers, trees.

So men: in this land where once were only Indians are now men of every color-white, black, yellow, red-yet all one people.

That this should come to pass was in the heart of the Great Mystery.

IT IS RIGHT THUS'

And everywhere there should be

Just in case you think that was an isolated accident, in the future sometime I'll quote some other Indian compositions that should make Shelley, Byron and Keats turn over in

IT'S A BLOODY SHAME I can't reproduce Indian paintings and sculpture.

Or show some of the grace and beauty of Indian dances.

Or sing some of the lovely Indian

But maybe the re-doers of our school courses will get the idea.

This Is Littlefield

Despite very uncomfortable weather that popped up at just the wrong time, and a smattering of * communications breakdown, Littlefield had a parade Monday that took a back seat to none.

It satisfied the event's objective. That was to please the youngsters of the area, and bring people to Littlefield.

There were some outstanding entries in the parade that required both effort and enthusiasm. Without either, it would have flopped.

Participation lacked in numbers of bands, only two showed up.

The parade required the get-up-and-go of all who took part. Their contributions could be measured plainly in the eyes of the children who stood on the curbs and watched. They liked it.

A community with more interest than just commerce....This Is Littlefield.

Wasteful Walls

BY BOB W

THERE ARE MANY wasteful walls which separate people unnecessarily. These walls are keeping us from enjoying the happy and useful association which we desire and need. These are the walls of hate, walls of misunderstanding, walls of prejudice. walls of suspicion, walls of greed, walls of envy and other such walls that separate us

SUCH WALLS PREVENT the free and helpful exchange of thoughts, services and feelings.

They hinder our working together for the common good. These wasteful walls are found everywhere. We are not able to destroy all of them, but we can work toward doing so. This is better than nothing.

The bleak, gray wall of concrete separating East and West Berlin is symbolic of all walls of separation,

Some people are finding ways to breach this wall; others are giving their lives in a futile effort to do so; and the majority of people are waiting.

THIS IS NOT TO SAY that all of our differences can be solved, or that we must give up our distinctive cultural qualities, or that all of us must have the same set of doctrines or the same body of opinions.

We do think, however, that some progress can be made in tearing down the walls of hate, misunderstanding, suspicion, greed, prejudice, envy and

THE FACT that we differ is not an insurmountable wall, but if, with our differences, we develop hate, suspicion and other such undesirable and unjustified attitudes and feeling the wall soon becomes a wasteful wa of separation.

WE MUST WORK to tear down to wasteful walls of separation. This do not require the discarding of a distinctive elements of personal social personality.

It does demand the best and t most honest efforts of all people.

THERE MUST BE genuine cond for the welfare of others, and this not the condescending attitude superior position and greater wealt

We must establish, and maintain abiding respect for the rights and the needs of others as a two-way working principle.

A willingness to live and let live-a attitude of justified tolerance essential.

ALL OF THIS must be done will a spirit of practical idealism, and the social climate that this spir creates.

The spirit of humility, the humility of firmness; and wholesome purpor will be important factors, too.

WE MUST never stop trying to fin more satisfactory ways of livin together.

All of us can help tear down thes wasteful walls which prevent free an helpful exchange, because there s many ways in which we actually nee each other.

THE PEACE AND PROSPERIT we desire depend upon how success we are in eliminating the unnecessal and unjustified walls which separate

BUT, IRONICALLY, they are again victims of discrimination. In Liberia, the "come-heres" are resented by the "born-heres."

Liberian President Tubman considers the immigrants "too aggressive."

Further, with the softening of Liberia's economy due to a decline in both rubber and iron exports, that government is deeply in debt, has had to curtail public works and cannot afford to support unemployed.

TWENTY-FIVE of the original transplanted Americans have returned to the United states, other have found jobs elsewhere in Liberia, while about 100 remain in the "colony".

If there is a new Promised Land in our hemisphere, it is Canada, yet that nation is torn and threatened with fragmentation by Canadians of divergent backgrounds, cultures and languages.

There is still greater equality of opportunity in the United States than anywhere else on earth.

YET, WITHIN LESS THAN ONE GENERATION, THESE LIBERIANS WERE SELLING ONE ANOTHER INTO SLAVERY.

There has been a more recent "colonization" of Africa by American Negroes. In 1967, 173 Negroes left the South Side of Chicago, traveled 4,500 miles to Liberia and sank new roots in the steamy bush near the mud-hut village of Gbatala.

An assembly was held in the junior high auditorium last Wednesday. The high school stage band performed several numbers for the students.

Everyone enjoyed the stage band. This band has a quality which every band should acquire; it never loses the attention of its audience.

After hearing the band, Mr. Brawley announced the Court of Honor and the Honor Roll.

Students on the Court of Honor were, from the seventh grade, Carol French and Barbara McBride, from the eighth grade, Terri Birkelbach, Tina Russell and Johnny Wimberly and from the ninth grade Cynthia Adair, Martha Brown, Cathy Giles, Allen Grisham, Annelle Harris, Kerry Nicholas, Mark Rogers, Kathy Turner, Gail Williams and Kathy Wright.

Students on the Honor Roll were from the seventh grade, Gary Brown, Jim Bob Harris, Rita McKinney, Andy Rogers, Janice Ray, Tandy Talburt and Pam Turvaville, from the eighth grade, David Barton, Tommy Crosby, Weldon Culp, Debbie Sorley and Patricia Wedel, and from the ninth grade, Charles Blevins, Timmie Campbell, Bob Grissom, Bridgett Heinen, Dave Jordan and Amy Owens.

Poor Direction Forces Firemen To Hunt Fire

The Littlefield fire department answered a farm fire call at 9:51 a.m. Wednesday that turned into what was described by fire chief Leon Durham as an unnecessary search mission.

The fire was the result of a butane leak under the farmhouse on the Cox estate farm east and south of Bula. Damage was confined to the floor furnace and estimated at $150.

"But it needn't have been that bad," Durham said, "if we had been given the proper directions for reaching the house. We could have gotten to it much sooner and held down the damage if we had been given proper directions," he added.

His point was, and he urges all rural residents turning in a call to be sure to stay on the telephone until they are sure the dispatcher has the proper directions for reaching the fire. "This will get the firemen there faster and cut down on damage, as it could have in this case". Durham concluded.

Hornets Edge 'Hounds, 20-14 Meet Sonora In Quarter Final

BY BOB HAMILTON

It took them a whole year, but here they are again. Those battling Sudan Hornets are back where they left off last year, at the state Class A quarter finals, bound and determined they'll not be stopped short again.

By virtue of Saturday night's freezing, but glorious 20-14 victory over the couragious Gruver ever-powerful Sonora.

Sudan won the right to be home team for the 7:30 p.m. kickoff. Tickets for the contest are on sale now in the Sudan's school superintendent office, or at the field gates. Hornet fans will sit in the west is located, when entering Odessa 6-0, 200. from Andrews, two blocks west of the highway on 27th Street, in the north side of the town.

Sonora, after having won the feating Schulenburg 40-14, lost in the regional play off to Seagraves 21-0. And it was Seagraves that took Sudan out of the tournament 14-0.

The champions of District 8-A have seven offensive and five defensive starters back from last year's 9-2 club. They've lost only two starts this campaign, both to AA schools. One was to Grayhounds, the Hornets clash Big Lake, which continues in the Friday night in Odessa against AA playoffs this weekend, and the other to Ballenger.

Against Rankin in the bi-district, Sonora won 29-13. And last week Sonora knocked tough Coahoma out of the running 7-6.
