Winter's Coldest Blizzard Hits Plains

MERCURY DROPS BELOW ZERO IN LITTLEFIELD

Pipes, Cars Frozen; Cattle Losses Are Reported

During six weeks of springlike weather, a norther hit Littlefield and the Plains Monday evening, passing through Tuesday, Tuesday night and Wednesday noon. The weather began moderating, but a thermometer tumbled Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock to nine below, and according to bureau records and statements of pioneers of this section, this is the coldest weather experienced in this area since Jan. 1900, when very low temperatures were experienced, with a forty mile gale, accompanied by snow, and a number of cattle and other animals died from the extreme cold.

A storm visited this section Tuesday afternoon, and starting about 2 o'clock the temperature dropped to 20 degrees in an hour and a half as indicated by the thermometer at the West Texas Gas company office here. A howling blizzard sweeping down from the north, with the wide open spaces of the plains, swept rain into sleet, and the temperature to sub-zero. As the night became colder, snow fell, accompanied by a northwest wind and at 8:30 p.m. the mercury had dropped to 3 degrees below zero. The cold continued below zero all day, at midnight registering 4 below.

Tuesday at 8 a. m. the thermometer registered 9 below zero, but later moderated, and by noon it was up to 14 degrees above. A large number of citizens awoke Tuesday morning to find water pipes frozen and plumbers spent a busy day repairing broken pipes, while other residents were hurrying to work.

Three Little Gold Fish Swim and Dive, One Little Gold Fish Didn't Survive

Four little gold fish flicked their tails and dived hither and thither. Four little gold fish looked at each other, flattened their tails and commented on the weather.

Four little gold fish got a great chill.

Four little gold fish soon felt the need of pills.

Then four little gold fish couldn't swim very well.

They wondered what in dee du dum was the matter.

The bowl froze over, the bowl froze under, the bowl froze in between.

Mrs. F. E. Beard was in Sulphur Springs.

Mr. F. E. Beard was downtown selling tires.

Miss Margaret Beard was down in Lon's Cafe, functioning in her usual pleasing and efficient manner in the serving of vitals to hungry folks hereabouts.

Margaret went home about two o'clock, the house was cold, the fire wasn't "lit," and four little gold fish had evidently taken their last dip.

Margaret applied a match, the gas flashed, then for the bowl she dashed, for it had flashed across her mind just what to do.

The ice thawed, my gawd, there's hope for the fish.

Into a strong solution of salt and water four gold fish dropped.

Margaret gazed into the water, hoping it would prove a starter in saving four gold fish from the hereafter.

One little gold fish wiggled his tail, another cocked an eye, and the third tickled the water, but for the fourth there was a hereafter.

Three little gold fish didn't survive.

J. P. WHITE TO RESTOCK YELLOW HOUSE RANCH DENIES REPORT THAT HE WILL REBUILD HEADQUARTERS

J. P. White, of Roswell, N. M., who with the late Major George W. Littlefield, owned the Yellow House ranch for many years, was in Littlefield late last week.

Several months ago Mr. White repurchased 14,016 acres of the Yellow House ranch, including the headquarters of this famous old property.

Mr. White was in Littlefield late last week making preparations to restock the property with cattle and sheep from his herds. He stated that only a few hundred head would be placed on the property, and that only minor improvements would be carried out, possibly including the erection of two or three windmills.

Mr. White denied the announcement, which was published in several newspapers that he would rebuild the headquarters which was destroyed by fire.

Time Extended For Paying School Taxes

All taxes due the Littlefield Independent School District may be paid until March 1 without penalty, interest and costs being added, according to an announcement Wednesday by J. S. Hilliard, secretary.

This announcement followed action of the board, which voted to waive the penalty, interest and costs if the school taxes are paid by March 1.

Taxpayers of the Littlefield Independent School District are urged to take advantage of the new ruling of the board, as such action on their part will save them money and will be of immense assistance in the conducting of the Littlefield schools.

Mrs. C. C. Clements, who has been ill with sinus and ear trouble the past few days, has recovered.

DUGGAN IS PRAISED FOR WORK IN SECURING HIGHWAY; WILL SERVE MANY PLAINS CITIES

Places Littlefield on Direct Highway Into Colorado and Northern States; Gives Good Connection With East and West By the Bankhead Highway.

A new state highway from Channing to Brownfield and serving Littlefield, has been designated by the State Highway commission, according to a telephone message received in Littlefield Tuesday.

The action of the Highway commission places Littlefield on two state highways and will route north and south traffic through this city.

With the establishing of the new highway Littlefield will have a direct highway into Colorado and other northern states and a good road connection with the Bankhead Highway, "The Broadway of America," which serves the country east and west from coast to coast.

The designation of the new highway marks an important step in the development of this city and section, and the action of the State highway commission, which was carried out Tuesday at Austin, came as a bright sun out of the clouds as the thermometer registered sub-zero temperatures.

Praise Duggan
Senator Arthur P. Duggan, who was elected president of the North and South Highway association with the organization of that body several months ago, is credited with having a big part in obtaining the designation of the new state highway. Mr. Duggan worked zealously for the new highway long before he was a candidate for the state senate.

Because of weather conditions, it was impossible for a Littlefield and Lamb county delegation to appear before the State Highway commission in connection with obtaining the new highway. County Judge Simon D. Hay wired Representative A. B. Tarwater, and County Commissioner Ellis Foust wired Senator Duggan, asking them to urge the Highway commission to create the new highway. Littlefield and Lamb county are deeply appreciative of everything which was done by Representative Tarwater and Senator Duggan in behalf of obtaining the new north and south route of travel.

First news of the action of Highway commission was received in Littlefield by F. G. Sadler, who has long been an active worker in the interests of good roads for this section. Mr. Sadler immediately took steps to circulate the good news for this city.

LELAND LOWE FUNERAL HELD FRIDAY AFTERNOON

He's Only 24, But He's Mayor of Progressive Plains City

Anton, Littlefield's progressive neighbor on the east, is again in the "spotlight."

This time especial attention is focused on the Hockley county city because of the youth of that municipality's mayor.

Anton's new city dad is only 24 and his name is Paul Whitfield. It is claimed for Mr. Whitfield that he is the youngest mayor in Texas.

If there is any other city as youthful a mayor, that fact is not generally known. Mr. Whitfield has been appointed mayor to succeed E. L. Reese, who resigned to look after personal interests.

In addition to enjoying the distinction of being the youngest mayor in Texas, Mr. Whitfield also is declared to be the manager of one of the youngest bands in Texas--the Anton Gypsy Band, official musical organization of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Whitfield, a business man, is well known throughout West Texas for his advancement activities, not only in his own city but throughout this section. For three years he has been secretary of the Anton Chamber of Commerce.

DIES OF INJURIES RECEIVED IN CAR CRASH LAST WEEK

WAS RESIDENT OF THIS CITY FOR EIGHT YEARS

The entire citizenship of Littlefield was shocked and stirred with grief Thursday afternoon to learn that Richard Leland Lowe, aged 30, son of Mrs. M. E. Lowe of this city, had passed away about 2:15 o'clock at the Lubbock sanitarium, where he was taken about 8:30 Wednesday night.

are charted income tax figures which should be of special interest inasmuch as new rates apply and various incomes are affected in different ways. The above table supplements the outline as published herewith. Personal exemptions have been deducted in the above chart. You may get deductions to further reduce your tax.

Many of New Income Taxpayers

Anton, D. C., Feb. 8--Every man or woman who earned as much as $20 a week last year, 1932, is liable to pay an income tax in this year. Every married woman who is the head of a household and who earned $50 a week in 1932 is also liable for income tax in 1933. There are minor children reported.

officials estimate that more than three and one-half million persons who have never paid income tax to the Federal government are obligated to pay it under the law passed last year. And what is worrying the Treasury is the question: Do these taxpayers realize that they have got to report their last year's income and pay tax or go to jail or be fined?

It's an impossible game to beat, this Federal income tax. With luck, some few may get away with evading it for a while, but when they are caught, they will be fined or imprisoned.

TEXAS INDEPENDENCE DAY

Texans must keep alive the spirit that resulted in the Texas Declaration of Independence of March 2, 1836.

It devolves upon every school, every civic, social, and patriotic organization in every community that has pride in the heroic history of the State, to hold every year on that memorable date such programs and exercises as will appropriately commemorate the heroic deeds of the forefathers that made possible the glorious privileges and opportunities Texans now enjoy.

March 2 is to Texas what July 4th is to the Nation, and its importance as an historic holiday should be especially impressed upon the public mind this year in view of the approaching Centennial of 1936.

The Texas Centennial Committee, Austin, Texas, will be glad to send those who write for it data upon which Texas Independence Day addresses, papers, and exercises may be based.

The Church Bell

The little bell in the steeple
Alone in the village street.
How it straightens out the tangles
In the daily trials we meet.

We hear the sweet chimes whisper,
Like Jesus from above,
We bow our heads in silence
For we know that God is love.

Jesus, how we love Him,
Just to know He's always near,
Just to feel His ever presence,
Just to live without a fear.

So, little bell, keep ringing,
Till you're heard both near and far,
And your echoes will be with us,
When we must cross the bar.

Fifty and Fit

A MAN is as old—or as young—as his organs. At fifty you can be in your prime.

Why go along with "fairly good health" when you might be enjoying vigor you haven't felt for years?

There's a simple little thing anyone can do to keep the vital organs stimulated, and feel fit all the time. People don't realize how sluggish they've grown until they've tried it. The stimulant that will stir your system to new life is Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. It will make a most amazing difference in many ways.

This famous doctor's prescription is a delicious syrup made with fresh herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. It starts its good work with the first spoonful. That's all you need to drive away the dullness and headache of a bilious spell, and rid the system of that slow poison that saps your strength. It's better than a tonic for tired bowels, and unlike habit-forming laxatives you can take it freely or give it to any child. And it isn't expensive.

Get some syrup pepsin today, and take a little tonight. Don't wait until you're sick to give your system this wonderful help. You can avoid those spells of biliousness or constipation. A spoonful every now and then is better than constant worry about the condition of your bowels, or fear of auto-intoxication as you grow older. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin protects the system. All druggists keep this preparation.

BOYS!

Boys! Boys! Boys!
Are they vim, vigor, fuss and noise?
Are they engines, never still Ever toasting with a will?
Do they ever take delight

In leaving dresser drawers a fright?
Do they slovenly bring in mud
Drop their boots with bang and thud?
Do mothers all have pants in store
With seats to mend and buttons galore?

These things are boys, these things are more
They are mirth and gladness in their core.
They are buoyant, filled with joy of life

Bringing sunshine as well as strife.
Many boys are misunderstood,
Kicked about, called no good
When all they need is a little praise,
From a mother who understands their ways.

Ah, selfish parents, be patient with that son,
Guide him, love him, till the task is done

Tho' just a nuisance, they oft may seem,
They are the Nation's assets, little as you dream!

SYNOPSIS: Pauline, sentimental, faithful, sincere and loving love, becomes engaged and marries Dennis in the belief that their bliss-happiness will continue unchanged through all the years. On her wedding morning she awakens with a strange premonition that maybe love is a change, a thought buried in her mind by a letter from her closest friend, Barbara, the night before. Pauline adored Barbara, who had been married, was the mother of a child which died, but now divorced and living a life which some of her friends could not understand. Between Dennis and Barbara is a seeming wall of personal dislike by both, months after Pauline's wedding. Barbara comes for a short stay. During this visit Barbara confesses to Pauline that there is a man she really loves, but she refuses to tell his name. Barbara decides suddenly to go home. Pauline insists Dennis drive her to the station. Irritated, Dennis, reckless and angry, they are in a tussle. Barbara escapes injury but Dennis' leg is broken. As he returns to consciousness he learns who the man is that Barbara loves. It's himself. Dennis spends several weeks in hospital. Barbara returns to stay with Pauline, but on one pretext or another fails to visit Dennis with her at the hospital. Pauline is angry for Dennis' return home. She stays only one day after Dennis' return from the hospital. Against his will Dennis finds a the very devil." Barnes made no reply, but he shut the door behind him with a little slam and came forward. "Have you seen this picture of Evelyn?" Barbara asked. "Not too good, I think—look!" Barnes tore the magazine from her hand and flung it across the room. "What's that fellow doing here?" he demanded. For a moment Barbara sat motionless then she looked up. "My dear Jerry!" "What's that fellow doing here?" Barnes demanded again. "I've suspected him all along. That night in the theatre—every time he's been in your company—" Barbara rose to her feet. "If you're going to be a cad, Jerry, you'd better go," she said. "Oh, yes, go! to make room for him, I suppose," he almost shouted. He caught her arm roughly, swinging her around to him. "Has he been making love to you?" he demanded. "How dare you!" He laughed. "Oh, I dare very well. I know you, Barbara—anything for a new conquest. And you his wife's friend, eh?" Barbara's eyes blazed in her white face. "Let go of my arm," she said in a very still voice. "And when you've done that you can walk out of my flat and never come back." There was a tragic silence, broken only by Barnes' heavy breathing; then suddenly his anger fell from him and he began to plead. "I'm sorry. I was mad. Forgive me."

you really would think he's shy of me!" Pauline's mother smiled. She could not quite make up her mind about her daughter's marriage. Pauline seemed happy enough. "The first year of marriage is always a little difficult," her mother said gently, "and I think my little girl is managing very well from what I can hear." She paused, then asked, "And what is Dennis doing in New York without you?" "Oh, I think he's quite all right," Pauline said. "Dr. Stornaway is up there, you know, and that's nice for Dennis. And then there is Barbara, of course, I think he's seen her once or twice." "Poor Barbara!" said Pauline's mother. The girl looked up quickly. "Why do you say that?" she asked. "Barbara's quite happy—at least I think she is. She's got a nice man she goes about with; his name is Jerry Barnes. He adores her, but I don't think she cares very much for him. But there is someone she loves. She told me so once. I wonder who it is," she added almost to herself. "I don't think Barbara is a very faithful lover," Pauline's mother said, but this Pauline would not allow. "She is! I understand her. Once she really loves anyone nothing would ever change her. Of course she doesn't wear her heart on her sleeve." She said something of the same sort to Peterkin when he arrived to dinner one night, having driven forty miles through the cold and rain to see her. They had dinner alone, as Pauline's mother was still in bed. "It's nice to see you, Peterkin," Pauline said. She hoped he thought she looked well and happy. She had put on one of her prettiest frocks in his honour and she wore the pearl necklace Dennis had given her for a wedding present. "Still as radiantly happy?" Peterkin asked. "Of course. Dennis is a darling," said Dennis' wife. Peterkin emptied his wineglass. "Why isn't he here?" he asked bluntly. Pauline flushed. "He would have come—he wanted to come, only I knew it would be so dull for him with Daddy away. He would have come, only I persuaded him not to." "I see." Pauline was offended. She thought Peterkin was silly to be so old-fashioned. "Is Mrs. Stark looking after him?" Peterkin said suddenly. "I asked her to," Pauline said quickly, and then wondered why she had spoken defensively, and then quite suddenly a wave of sheer homesickness for Dennis swept over her. "A penny for your thoughts," Peterkin said suddenly, and Pauline felt her eyes ridiculously filling with tears as she answered. "Nothing. I was just wondering if Dennis is missing me as much as I miss him." Peterkin winced; he had not yet got used to the fact that Pauline was married, and her love for O'Hara still hurt him. "Of course he is!" he said loyally. "He'll be jolly glad to have you back." And Pauline brightened instantly and flushed and dimpled and talked eagerly of her own little home. Then she broke off and flushed, and Peterkin kept his eyes on his plate. Pauline hurriedly changed the subject. It came to her mind when she was undressing that night, and she sat down on the side of the bed and stared down at the carpet, lost in thought. Would Dennis be pleased if—if there was to be a baby? She had never heard him say he would like to have a son, for of course it would be a son—a son with Dennis' eyes, and his way of laughing. Pauline's simple mind leaped ahead and was lost in a mist of rosy dreams. Barbara could be godmother of course, and perhaps dear old Peterkin would be godfather, and if it was a boy they would call it Dennis Peterkin O'Hara. And then she cried a little because the dream was so beautiful and because she felt she did not deserve to be so happy, and then she kissed Dennis' picture, which stood in its old place beside her bed, and then she knelt down and said her prayers. Dennis always teased her about her prayers. "Such a baby," he said, but she had a kind of feeling that all the same Dennis liked her to pray for him. And she prayed for him now in simple faith and love, and she prayed for Barbara, too, little dreaming that at that very moment those two were for her sake fighting desperately against their passionate love for each other. Pauline slipped into bed and fell asleep almost at once only to waken about two hours later with a fast beating heart and a feeling of fear. "Dennis!" She sat up in bed and spoke his name aloud in the silent room, stretching out her arms. For an instant she was almost sure he had been there close beside her; sure he had come to her in trouble, great trouble, begging something of her—something— "Oh, what is it, darling, darling!" Pauline whispered in an agony of dread.

attraction in Barbara, who plays the same cool and detached role as formerly. A fortnight after Barbara's return to New York, she receives a letter from Pauline that she and Dennis are coming to New York for a vacation. Upon their arrival a mad of gay entertainment gets underway—throwing Dennis and Pauline much into each other's company. Dennis is in love with Barbara. He breaks through all barriers and tells of his love. Pauline is called home the illness of her mother. Dennis stays on. Barbara is happy. Both fight against love—but it's over powering. Dennis declares his love and Barbara admits she loves him.

HOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Then he heard Barbara's voice, a breathless and nervous. "It's Jerry—I made him come in. Give him a drink, will you, Dennis, I'll go and make myself look beautiful."

Dennis turned quickly. Jerry Barnes was already in the room, and Barbara had escaped. "How do! I don't expect to find you here." His eyes were more unfriendly than his voice, and Dennis answered calmly. "I've just been to see my wife off Paddington. Her mother is ill—she's sent for."

"I see."

There was an awkward silence, and Dennis knew that this man must have a story to tell. He looked at Barbara's face. "Have a drink?" he asked with an effort. "No, thanks."

The silence fell once more and remained unbroken till Barbara re-entered. "Richard's himself again!" she said lightly. "I've been unburying my soul in a fit of tears," she cried to Barnes. "Too many late nights and too much to drink, so Dennis has been telling me." She lit a cigarette and pushed the box across to him. "Aren't you going to drink, Jerry?"

"No thanks."

Dennis made a little grimace at his own face. "Well, mix one for me, will you?" he said. "I'll be back in a minute."

Dennis took up his coat. "I'll be back in a minute."

"He was hating Barnes with all his heart, and yet he knew that for Barbara's sake he must show nothing of what he felt."

Go and see him out, will you, Jerry?" Barbara said coolly. She led to Dennis, "Good-bye—ring up some time."

When Barnes returned she was sitting calmly on a big humpy stool by the fire, smoking and turning the pages of a magazine. "We'll have tea when Mellish comes in," she said without looking up. "Does your head ache, Jerry? You won't drink? Mine does, like

I didn't mean it. I was jealous. You drive me mad, Barbara."

"You can go out of my flat and never come back," Barbara said again. "I've done with you."

"No! no!" His distress was pitiable. "You know how much I care for you. Forgive me, Barbara, and I swear it will never happen again."

"No." Her eyes were hard and relentless. He fell back from her, breathing hard.

"Do you—mean this?" he asked thickly.

"I never meant anything so much in all my life," Barbara answered. "So I'm thrown over, am I! After all this time—after all I've done for you. Kicked out like an importunate tramp. Very well! we shall see. I'll make you pay for this—you—"

For a moment she thought he was going to strike her; then his arm fell to his side. "I'll make you pay—my God, I'll make you pay to the last farthing!" he shouted, and was gone.

Pauline stayed with her mother for a week. She was not unhappy, but she was restless and preoccupied. "It's as if someone is walking over my grave," she told her mother once, with a little excited laugh. "Do you believe in premonitions, Mumsie? I never used to, but just lately I've had the sort of feeling that something is going to happen, something—something I shan't like. It's not Dennis—he's written every other day, and he's quite well," she laughed. "Dennis writes such funny letters, Mumsie—"

THIS WOMAN LOST 35 LBS. OF FAT

Miss M. Katner of Brooklyn, N. Y. writes: "Have used Kruschen for the past 4 months and have not only lost 35 pounds but feel so much better in every way. Even for people who don't care to reduce, Kruschen is wonderful to keep the system healthy. I being a nurse should know for I've tried so many things but only Kruschen answered all purposes" (May 12, 1932.)

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—get it at any drugstore in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

SAVINGS . . . in the banks There is more money in the savings banks of the United States than ever before in our national history.

CREDIT . . . and an idea Taking the country as a whole, the banks are full of money, but it is harder than ever for the average person to borrow money from the banks.

It is not shortage of money that is keeping us poor it is shortage of credit. The few who have good credit can borrow money cheaper than ever before.

I don't know how it would work, but it seems to me there is some merit in the suggestion that if the banks would lend everybody enough to pay their debts money would begin to circulate so fast that business would immediately pick up and everybody's credit would be as good as it ever was.

RABBITS . . . they multiply Two adjoining Long Island towns voted a couple of years ago to permit no shooting and to suppress cats, in order to provide a bird refuge.

Now Centre Island and Mill Neck are so full of rabbits that it is almost impossible to drive over the road without running over a few cottontails.

What has happened in these Long Island towns is what happens whenever man interferes to upset the balance of nature.

COINS . . . some valuable Rare old coins still bring high prices. A penny sold at an auction in New York the other day for sixty dollars. It was a copper cent dated 1799.

Among the other rare coins sold at the same time were some copper "hard times" tokens issued from private mints between 1834 and 1841.

Coins are not valuable merely because they are old it is rarity that makes collectors bid for them. The silver dollar of 1804 is so rare that only four or five are known to be in existence, and anyone finding one of those coins can almost name his own price for it.

Last year the United States Mint made more coins than in the previous two years there were more than twenty million of them, worth $68,000,000.

Style and fashion authorities are of the belief that wool dresses for spring will more than duplicate their success of the fall season. Basketweave novelties and sheer textures are also everywhere scheduled to make an early spring appearance.

Dresses with deep belts set into the frock at normal waistline, but extending lower at the hips, are said to be favored.

be much in favor. This means that the exact location of the waistline is as yet undecided.

That sleeve fullness will be modified for spring is the general prediction. Short puffed sleeves with tight cuffs that stop at the elbow are considered potential successes as is the slight puff with deep cuff considered good detail.

Brownfield May Get New Gas Supply

The Terry County Herald, published at Brownfield, says:

"A company has made a proposition to the City of Brownfield to deliver gas to residents here by Nov. 1, this year, for 40c per 1000 cubic feet instead of 67½c as is now being charged by the West Texas Gas Co. It is our understanding that this is the same company that made a proposition to Lubbock, and is known as the Moore Construction Co."

"The city officials ordered several hundred cards printed, and we understand that they are being signed by almost all they are presented to, many stating that the price of gas is now out of line with other commodities. It is our understanding that the gas will be piped in from New Mexico, and as the company has to come through or near Brownfield to reach Lubbock, the proposition was put up to the city council here for action."

"It is believed that if sufficient citizens sign the card agreeing to take a cheaper gas for a term of five years the city council will then grant a franchise to the new gas company, which will be known as the Brownfield Gas Co., to put pipes in our streets and alleys."

Miss Louise McKee of Lubbock arrived Sunday to spend a few days with her sister, Miss Ruth McKee.

Mrs. S. J. Etter left for Roby, Texas, Saturday on a business and pleasure trip.

EDWARD G. ROBISON RETURNS TO PALACE THEATRE IN "TIGER SHARK"

"Tiger Shark," which has for its stars Edward G. Robinson and Richard Arlen, which will show at the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday, is the stirring saga of the tuna fisheries of the Pacific, and the fearless, dare-devil fishermen who risk their lives many times a year on the shark-infested grounds where the schools of roving tuna make their home.

No pains or expense have been spared by First National to make this a memorable production. Weeks were spent by the company, under the general direction of Howard Hawks, at the fishing grounds far off the Mexican coast, to obtain the thrilling action that helps to make "Tiger Shark" the most authentic picture of its kind ever produced.

Other days were devoted to the picturesque fishing villages that line the shores of the Pacific near San Diego, and to every other phase of the strange life that these people lead. With that grasp of the human and dramatic elements of a story that made his direction of such powerful pictures as "The Crowd Roars" and "Scarface" such indisputable hits, Howard Hawks has woven a story of human courage and human emotions around the lives of these hardy fisherfolk that promises to be among the finest pictures of the year.

In the role of Captain Mike Mascarena, the "tiger shark" of the little village and the finest fisherman of his day, Edward G. Robison has the most colorful and dramatic role of his career. Richard Arlen, as Mike's first mate and pal, "Pipes" Boley, gives a performance that is bound to increase his popularity.

As the lovely orphan, Quita, Zita Johann, the young Hungarian stage star, is conspicuously different from the popular leading women of the screen. Her striking brunette beauty and her marked dramatic ability have full scope in a powerful role.

Taken from the original story, "Tuna," by Houston Branch, the screen play of "Tiger Shark" is the work of Wells Root.

the total was 457,511 bales, a difference of 17,213 bales in favor of the 1932 crop.

Lubbock county jumped into second place with a lead of 2,500 bales over Ellis county. Jones county was first, with 98,809 bales; Lubbock second with 90,569; Ellis third with 87,799 bales; Hill fourth with 79,848 bales and Haskell fifth with 78,068 bales.

This gives West Texas first, second and fifth places in the state. Total of the state was 4,166,937 bales as compared with 4,947,977 bales last year at this time.

For The Farmer And Stockman Of The South Plains

CONDITIONS FOR FARM RELIEF; $90,000 LOANED IN 12 DISTRICTS DURING FIRST 90 DAYS OF OPERATION

Fuller
Feb. 8.—In less than a week since the opening of the Agricultural Credit Corporation more than $32,000 has been loaned to farmers under the direct supervision of the Agricultural Finance Corporation.

The statute requires that all loans be "fully and adequately secured". It is not the intention of the Act that the agricultural corporations shall make loans on the security of real estate mortgages as primary collateral or that they make loans for refinancing existing real estate mortgages.

Any individual farmer or stockman, or partnership or corporation engaged in the business of farming, or raising, breeding, fattening or marketing of livestock is eligible to apply for a loan. The application must be made to the regional agricultural credit corporation (either the main office or a branch) in the Federal land bank district in which the applicant is situated. All loans are made through these offices.

Prizes for Best Feeding of Calves From Halsell Ranch

Three cash prizes, amounting to $50, will be given boys who are feeding calves purchased from the Halsell ranch at the annual Lamb County calf, pig and cured meat show, March 21, D. A. Adams, county agent announced. The prize money is the gift of W. Ewing Halsell and is for boys who are feeding out Halsell calves.

Prizes will be: for the best two calves fed by one boy or group of brothers, $25; for the second best two calves, $15; for the third best two calves, $10.

"Mr. Halsell saw quite a number of the calves on a recent visit here and after finishing a trip over the county, decided to offer prizes to the boys and girls doing the best jobs," Mr. Adams said. "Mr. Halsell confined the prize money to the calves which were purchased from his ranch. He made the ruling that where there were two or more brothers or sisters feeding calves from his herd, they could show their best calves in competition for these prizes. Personally, it was explained.

Ninety-two Halsell calves are being fed by 38 boys and girls of the 4-H club of the county. A total of 114 calves are on feed by 43 boys and girls.

Four objectives will be sought in the discussions to be held during the conference. These subjects are to be discussed by speakers and at round table gatherings: soils, production, organization and distribution.

Several Littlefield residents were appointed to committees. They are: R. A. Box, program committee; J. T. Elms, attendance committee; Mrs. A. B. Cole, entertainment committee.

The Conservation of Soil and Water in Texas

BY A. D. JACKSON
Editor Experiment Station Publication

That the interest in farm terracing is more widely spread and in healthier condition in Texas than ever before, is apparent from the reports of extension agents and the current news in local and state papers. Terraces are being constructed more nearly level than ever before and the rows are being run parallel with the terraces.

Terracing Extensively Used

The last annual report of the Texas extension service says: "After 17 years of county agent effort Texas passed the million acre mark in area terraced against soil erosion and for rainfall conservation in 1931 with 1,031,888 acres protected in 174 counties. The grand total terraced or contoured in the State to date is roughly 5,500,000 acres, which is about 20 per cent of the entire acreage in need of protection. Half of the State terraced in 1931 was done under county agent supervision, and about 10 per cent of this was accomplished by 4-H club boys. Individual farmer initiative and aid from other agencies accounted for the balance, but almost the entire terracing job in Texas is directly due to the work of county agents since 1912. The wholesome training of farmers and others to lay out contour lines and build the terraces in special county and community terracing schools is illustrative of the vigorous work of the extension specialist. The use of county road machinery has proven more economical in general than teams and was used in 75 counties last year. Two-horse team construction is becoming a rarity, and four or more horses or mules are commonly used. Terraces add about $5 per acre to the productive value of land, according to the averaged estimates of farmers. Last year's terracing was worth $5,159,440 to Texas."

7,000,000 Acres Terraced

"A survey discloses the fact that Texas contains approximately 7,000,000 terraced acres and the increased earnings of those acres this year over the earnings of the crop season prior to terracing is not less than $10,000,000. This is a bright spot in the Texas depression. Anything which shows increase over pre-depression values must be credited with superior qualities.

Spur Station Experiments

The Experiment Station has for more than five years been carrying on experiments at its water-run-off station at Spur to determine not only what the losses of water and of soil amount to during rains of various types but to determine means of reducing these losses to a minimum. Some of the information brought out in these experiments has been startling. For instance, it was shown that almost one fourth of the rainfall in the Spur region is lost as unnecessary run-off under the ordinary farming practices that have prevailed there.

Also where this loss was avoided by means of level terraces and contour rows, the yields of crops have been increased consistently, amounting to more than 30 per cent in most instances. These experiments have also shown that on land with a 2 per cent slope, where the rows were run up and down the slope, the loss of the soil in a period of 27-inch rainfall amounted to as much as 40 tons per acre.

These astonishing facts have enabled the county agents and other interested in a permanent and successful agricultural program to present the case more effectively than ever before and the farmers are acting on the information more generally than in the past.

In the meantime, Congress became interested in the subject and made, three years ago, an appropriation of $160,000 to institute studies at several points in the United States similar to those being made by the Texas station. Two of those points are in Texas, one in the blackland section near Temple and one in the sandy land section near Tyler. Another is at Guthrie, Oklahoma, and the others located in several other states are expected to serve the important soil areas of the nation. These studies will cover a long period of time and will require constant support at the hands of Congress. These new stations in Texas are being operated in co-operation with the Texas Experiment Station and the findings will be promptly available after passing the required tests. The findings at the Spur station to date have been published as Bulletin No. 411, which is available for free distribution.

EXPECT TO COMPLETE ORGANIZATION OF LAMB COUNTY GROUP OF FARM ASSOCIATION HERE THIS FRIDAY NIGHT

More than 20 members have been obtained for a Lamb county unit of the Agricultural Business Association of America, which is being organized at this time.

It was planned to elect officers and carry out organization details at a meeting last Friday night, but these matters were deferred until this week's meeting, which will be held at City Hall, Littlefield, this Friday. The meeting will open at 7:30.

At last Friday night's meeting, which was held at City Hall, Littlefield, there were two special speakers: T. W. Moss of Levelland, president of the national organization, and Judge L. Gough of Amarillo.

The purpose of the association is to bring about "cost for the products which the farmer produces and a reasonable profit." Such a program includes an effort to abolish trading in futures in so far as it concerns farm products.

Mr. Moss and Judge Gough outlined in detail the objects of the organization, and explained the benefits which would accrue to the farmers through the bringing into operation the program of the association.

There was a large attendance at last Friday night's meeting. The gathering included a large number of ladies.

A special invitation is extended to ladies to attend meetings of the association.

JERSEYS HELP BOY TO COLLEGE

When Esley Hope Forbes, Jr., a North Carolina 4-H club boy living near Gastonia, finishes his education he will not be worrying about what he is going to do. For he has a fine herd of Jersey cattle at home which will give him a good job, and he can be his own boss as well.

For his outstanding record in dairy work Esley won a scholarship this last fall during the state fair. The award was made for a large life insurance company at Raleigh, by the extension leaders at the state college.

It was the highest honor which could be given a club member in the state.

For nine years this boy has been an active club member and deeply interested in dairy work. His first Jerseys were a pair of twin heifers which he bought for $150.00. That was back when dairy cattle were selling for much more than now, but the heifers do not owe him a cent. With that start he has raised 28 purebred Jerseys and has 13 still in the herd. Its value is placed now at $2,300.00, and his winnings at fairs are around $1,000.

During the summer of 1932 the boy was chosen as a delegate to the national 4-H camp held in Washington, D. C. He was with outstanding club members assembled from all over the country to study the functions of the government with relation to agriculture and to see the sights of the nation's capitol.

... but they can't copy Phillips 66 results

WHAT has made Phillips 66 the most talked about gasoline in the industry? Why has Phillips 66 achieved the fastest and most sensational success ever recorded in the history of motor fuels? How has Phillips 66 made tremendous sales gains in the face of strongly entrenched competition, in a period of distinctly unfavorable conditions? What is the Answer? It isn't Phillips advertising... because others have already imitated our claims and even our phrases. It isn't the courteous service of Phillips driveway salesmen... because all service station men are trained to be prompt and helpful. So common sense tells you that the answer lies in something that can't be copied... in the dramatic and outstanding results given by Phillips 66, the greater gasoline.

You actually feel the difference the very first time you step on the starter. Whir-r-r! In a fraction of a second, even a cold cranky engine hums into action. And it is smooth, sputterless action. Touch the gas... and you're away in a flash with a genuine thrill of extra power and response. Improved pick-up and get-away. Yes, sir! No question about it, once you have felt that difference! You get far finer performance from old car or new, with the honest high test of Phillips 66. And is it high? Right now, Phillips 66 gravity ranges from 65.6° to 80.5°, and DOES NOT cost 3¢ extra per gallon. This honest bargain is possible only because Phillips is the world's largest producer of natural high gravity gasoline. So watch your gauge, and the next time you need gas, Phill-up with a trial tankful of genuine Phillips 66 at the Orange and Black 66 shield.

What is CONTROLLING VOLATILITY?

In gasoline, volatility is that quality which makes deliver perfect performance at any temperature. Since weather can't be controlled, the only way to insure perfect performance is by CONTROLLING the VOLATILITY—increasing the volatility as the temperature drops. Phillips 66 is the gasoline with Controlled Volatility. That is why it always gives instant action even below-zero weather... faster warm-up... less acceleration... more miles... less carbon and crank dilution. Phill-up with Phillips and you will feel the difference, because right now—this month—

PHILLIPS 66 HAS 78% MORE VOLATILITY than any other leading gas at a total feed cost of $36.93 or $0.17 per pound. Total return for these boys was $77.10 or a net return of $40.17.

30 killing and curing demonstrations were conducted by the agent, but are reported elsewhere in this report.

Soy Beans Demonstrations
 Twenty-four and two tenths tons cured hay were produced from 33 acres by four demonstrators in Lamb county with a total value of $242.00. Total expense for seed, and gathering was $36.30, leaving a net return for labor and investment of $205.70.

Soy Bean hay is used primarily as a source of legume hay in this country, for we have found that we can produce more and better quality hay from soy beans than any other usual hay legume, due to rainfall conditions.

Cooperators: Fifty-five cooperators produced 299 3-4 tons of cured soy bean hay from 385 acres with a total value of $2887.50. Total cash expenses for seed, harvesting, etc., $423.50 leaving a net return on investment of $2464.00 or $6.40 per acre.

Three method demonstrations were conducted on inoculation of soils with soy bean inoculators.

Miscellaneous Demonstrations
Alfalfa and Sweet Clover
 Five demonstrations in alfalfa for grazing purposes, consisting of 40 acres were conducted this past year. Five method demonstrations in inoculation were given.

One sweet clover demonstration for pasture purpose was conducted on the Earl Miller farm, two miles west of Amherst, consisting of 2 acres.

Grapes and Fruits
 Four pruning demonstrations were conducted during 1932 under the supervision of the county agent, with an attendance of 80 persons.

One grape field day demonstrator produced from 700 bearing vines $327.90 worth of grapes, which were all sold fresh, at a cost of $42.80.

One Cooperator, G. L. Johnson, produced from 160 bearing vines, $75.00 worth of grapes, at a cost of ten dollars and all were sold fresh.

Rodent and Weevil Control
 Six hundred farmers put out poison grain under the supervision of the county agent, covering 30,000 acres, at a cost of $100.00, and we have an estimated saving of $3000.00. This poison grain was used in the control of prairie dogs and ground squirrels, and was made up by the formula furnished by the United States Biological Survey.

One hundred farmers protected 10,000 bushels of stored grain from rodents at a cost of $75.00 and an estimated saving of $250.00.

Ten farmers and ranchers practiced weevil control in stored grains on 18,000 bushels at a cost of $62.50 and had an estimated saving of $900.

Farm Engineering
 Seventeen terracing demonstrators report an increase in yield of 10% in comparison with unterraced or contoured land in the same vicinity. Total acreage in the above mentioned demonstration is 2550 acres.

Forty-five farms were either terraced or contoured during 1932 in Lamb county, comprising 6,750 acres. The trench silos were built as the result of one built by Mr. R. L. May of Amherst, with a tonnage of 260 tons. Three were filled during 1932.

Three farmers, White, of Sudan, L. L. Pool, Amherst, and G. Ramage of Spade practised strip terracing, and report an increase in yield of 10% over unterraced lands.

4-H Club Work
 Seven regularly organized clubs were organized during 1932 with a total membership of 277 boys enrolled of which number 172 completed their demonstrations. Clubs were organized at the following communities;

Olton, Spring Lake, Hart's Camp, Spade, Littlefield, Amherst, Sudan. Seventeen boys carried cotton demonstrations, 141 carried grain sorghum demonstrations, 45 swine demonstrations, 1 beef cattle demonstration, 1 dairy demonstration, with a total value of the 100 completing of $5418.94 and total cost of all demonstrations of $2011.02, leaving a net return for labor and investment of $3407.92.

One Dairy Judging team was trained by the county agent, consisting of three boys of the Amherst 4-H Club, and had the following boys: Jack Bradley, Travis Winters, and Winton Rochelle. This team placed first at the Panhandle Plains Dairy Judging contest during April of 1932, and fifth in the State during the Farmers Short Course in July, 1932.

Seven smut control teams were organized, one in each club. Elmer Johnson, Sudan, was one of the outstanding club boys in Texas for 1931; this award being announced in the fall of 1932, winning this on beef cattle demonstrations.

Aneel Miller, 4-H Club boy of the Amherst club, won a trip in November to the National 4-H Congress, at Chicago, Illinois, and was awarded this trip by the Santa Fe Railroad on his cotton demonstration.

Lonnie Neinast, one of the Hart's Camp Club was champion livestock producer for 1932, winning on his beef cattle demonstrations, and was awarded a gold medal.

Forty-three Lamb County 4-H boys and girls are now marketing feed crops on a cooperative agreement with the Halsell Cattle Company, and have on feed 94 calves.

One Boys Encampment was held at Amherst, with a total attendance of 92 boys, and 4 adult leaders.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon, February 1, at 4:30 o'clock, at the residence in Broad Acres Addition, for Mrs. Lula Hudgens, aged 57 years, wife of Frank Hudgens, who died about 9:30 A. M., Wednesday, following a lengthy illness from cancer. Rev. Joe F. Grizzle, pastor of the First Baptist Church officiated at the burial.

Will Serve Many Cities

The new state highway will connect at Channing with the highway to Colorado, and will serve Vega, Hereford, Dimmitt, Littlefield, Levelland and Brownfield.

The route of the new highway in and out of Littlefield will be the Levelland road and the road extending north to Center, starting at the Farm Bureau and Lowmore & Irvin gins.

The route through Lamb county is now 80 feet from property line to property line, but it is likely that the Highway commission will ask that a right-of-way 100 feet wide be obtained.

The widening of the route to 100 feet through all counties is a matter which will likely be taken up with commissioners courts.

The connection of the new state highway with the Bankhead is made possible by a paved road serving Seagraves, Seminole, Andrews and Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Martin spent the week end with Mr. Martin's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Baxter Buford, at Lubbock.

Mrs. M. E. Lowe, who has been very ill for the past week in a Lubbock hospital, is slightly improved.

Lubbock Boy Scouts Visit Littlefield

Last Friday night troop 8 Boy Scouts from Lubbock came up and met with us. They put on a few demonstrations that was of much interest to many of the scouts and visitors.

Friday night, Feb. 17, is to be observed as parent scout night. It is expected that every boy will be accompanied by his parents. We hope that the parents will take advantage of the opportunity and come with their boys and make it a big night.

Troop 25 entered the contest for the President Hoover award for 1932 and was one of the 14 troops of the South Plains Council Area which met the requirements. The award has already been received by the Scoutmaster and probably will be presented to the troop at the parent scout meeting.

Taxpayers—

caught the penalties are severe, and the accrued tax is a lien that comes ahead of everything else—mortgages, state and local taxes, grocery bills and all. Uncle Sam's Collectors of Internal Revenue have the right to garnish the salary or wages of anyone liable for income tax and who does not pay it. The law gives the Federal courts the right to send to prison anybody who fails to report his 1932 income by the 15th of March, 1933.

The tax is not very high on small incomes. If one is single and earned $1,200 last year, the highest tax possible would be only $8. And there are exemptions from that. The taxpayer can deduct from net income figures such items as money given to charity or church, taxes of any kind paid to the Federal or local government, interest on business debts and certain kinds of business losses.

Treasury Has Record

A married man without children is allowed $2,500 exemption; an unmarried person only $1,000 exemption. Every employer is required to report to the Government how much was paid in salary and commissions to each employee during the year. So the Treasury has a practically complete record, which is sure to be followed up. And when the Treasury agents overtake the individual who has failed to report taxable income, trouble is pretty certain to follow.

"The only safe plan for anyone who wants to avoid trouble," said one of the Treasury officials the other day, "is to send to the Income Tax Unit at the Treasury Department, Washington, for the proper form of report to be filled out and filed. Form 1040-A for incomes below $5,000 a year; form 1040 for income of $5,000 or more." The proper form must be filed with the nearest Collector of Internal Revenue by March 15, and at least one-quarter of the tax paid at that time.

Mrs. C. A. Watson of Wolfe City, sister of Dr. T. B. Duke, is expected Saturday to spend the week end with Dr. and Mrs. Duke. She is at present visiting her sick brother, Claude, in Amarillo, and circumstances permitting, expects to return home the end of this week, when she will visit Littlefield.

Funeral—

suffering from injuries sustained in an automobile crash at Roundup.

With T. W. Rosser, deceased was returning to Littlefield after taking his mother to the West Texas Hospital for treatment, where Mrs. Lowe was lying in a critical condition at the time of the accident.

About a mile west of Roundup, Lowe's Buick roadster struck the curb of a small bridge, and went into the ditch. A truck driven by Bob Nichols of Bula stopped to aid Lowe and Rosser, and it was while Lowe was standing by the truck that he was hit by an automobile driven by a Littlefield man, going towards Lubbock, according to reports.

Red Rosser, a brother of Lowe's companion, and Bob Nichols, took the injured man to the hospital, where he was found to have sustained a severe skull fracture and an injury to his right leg, and was suffering brain hemorrhages.

Funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Baptist Church by Rev. Joe F. Grizzle, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, assisted by Rev. R. C. Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist church of Lubbock, while the Masonic Lodge had charge of the rites at the grave.

Interment took place immediately in the Littlefield Cemetery with Hammons Undertakers in charge.

Deceased had been a member of the Masonic Lodge for a number of years, and was a member of the Baptist church.

He was also an active member of the Fire Department.

He came to Littlefield about eight years ago from Tahoka, where he had lived for four years. He was employed as Service man for the Bell-Gillette Chevrolet Company for about 2 years, and the Ford Garage for three years, previous to carrying on his own general car repair business.

Deceased's mother is suffering from a spinal disease developed from "Flu," which is acting in the form of a sleeping sickness. She was improved at the last report received, though not out of danger.

Besides a host of friends who mourn his passing, he is survived by his wife and two daughters, Velma Lee, aged 10, and Dorothy Jean, aged 5; his mother, Mrs. M. E. Lowe; three sisters, Mrs. W. M. Petcolas, Jr. and Mrs. Thelma Swan of Lubbock, and Miss Onita at home; and one brother, Thomas, also of Littlefield.

OIL TESTS PLANNED

Two oil tests for Cochran county are being contemplated by the Continental Oil company, according to reliable reports.

One test is reported to be west of the Penn well, near Lehman. It was this well that Robert Penn was working on when he met his tragic death by the accidental discharge of a gun in his car at Bledsoe.

The other location will be south and west of Bledsoe, just inside the state line.

No indication is given of when operations will start. The Continental owns the derrick at the Penn well and it is still in place. A man has been guarding it since the closing, early in 1932.

Showings of oil have been had in several Cochran county tests, but not enough for production.

Driftwood Takes
First Place in Trades Day Races

Driftwood, owned by Mr. Robertson of Amherst, took first place in the horse race, the feature attraction of the Trades Day program, held in Littlefield Monday. Second place was won by Joe, owned by Mr. Hutton, also of Amherst.

The race was held near the old Littlefield college property.

A large crowd from this trade territory was in Littlefield for Trades Day. They made purchases at the local stores, attended the auction sale, and witnessed the horse race.

The auction sale was conducted by Col. J. W. Horn and I. S. Jameson, local auctioneers.

Arrest Three on Theft Charges

Three men giving thier names as Ventura Rodriguez, Juan Ruiz and H. R. Lieuallen of Cotton Center, were arrested Monday a. m. and charged with stealing chickens and harness.

Harvey Love, who lives a short distance south of Spade school, discovered that someone was interfering with his chickens at 4:30 Monday morning, and fired several shots at the offenders, holding them prisoners until officers arrived. Mrs. Love telephoned Anton and Littlefield, and it was only a short time before Sheriff Len Irvin and Jack Anders, Deputy Sheriff of Hockley county, arrived on the scene and arrested Rodriguez and Ruiz, the third man making his getaway. He was, however, also arrested about 8:30 that morning at his home three miles southeast of Cotton Center.

According to Sheriff Irvin, Rodriguez and Ruiz had chickens and various pieces of harness in their possession at the time of the arrest. An army overcoat, said to belong to Lieuallen, was picked up at the Love farm.

Preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace B. L. Cogdill was held Wednesday morning, and these men were bound over to Lamb county grand jury.

FOR A LIMITED TIME we can give you the McCalls and the Lamb County Leader, both 1 year, for the small sum of $2.00.

Relieved By Taking Cardui

"I was weak and run-down and suffered quite a bit with pains in my side," writes Mrs. Nick Barranco, of Beaumont, Texas. "I was nervous. I did not rest well at night, and my appetite was poor."

"My mother had used Cardui with beneficial result, so I decided to take it. I surely am glad I did, for it stopped the pain in my side and built up my general health. I took seven bottles in all."

Cardui is sold at all drug stores.
