Philosopher Takes Exception To Claim Farmer Has No Right To Advise President

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his johnson grass farm seems to be standing up for his rights, this week, part of the way at least.

Dear editor:

One thing about newspapers, you can be reading along on one not taking your mind much and enjoying the fact so many people went to so much trouble to round up news from all over for you and deliver it to you in one handy package, without you even stirring of your farm, and then something will jump out of an article at you.

Like what happened to me yesterday, I was reading about an interview some reporters had with Ex-President Harry Truman, and along in the middle of it this jumped at me: "Mr. Truman declined to make specific comment on the conduct of American foreign affairs, saying, 'No retired farmer from Missouri, like myself, has any business telling the President what to do.'"

Thunderation, maybe ex-Presidents haven't got any right to tell the President what to do but if a farmer, retired or active, hasn't got that right, there sure are a lot of them subject to arrest.

Telling the President what he ought to do, and especially telling him what he should have done after it's happened and you've got the advantage of hindsight, is a fundamental right that ought to be written into the Constitution if it's not already there.

If a farmer can't tell a President what he did wrong, this leaves a farmer staring at himself in the mirror, when he has another bad year on his hands, and such a situation is worse than a drought or a plague of insects.

You might as well tell a football fan he hasn't got the right to tell a coach what he ought to do, might as well tell a taxpayer he hasn't got the right to tell a mayor how to run the city, might as well tell a parent he hasn't got the right to tell a teacher how to teach, might as well tell a man he hasn't got the right to tell his wife what to do, might as well . . . wait a minute, let's back up a little, just rub that last one out. No use going hog-wild.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Farmers Are Reminded Of New Trailer Laws

The last regular session of the Texas Legislature amended the Texas Motor Vehicle Registration Law to allow farmers to register their farm trailers and farm semi-trailers for a $5.00 fee providing the gross weight is not less than 4,000 or more than 10,000 pounds. Farm trailers weighing less than 4,000 pounds, gross weight, are still exempt from registration by statute. Those exceeding 10,000 pounds, gross weight, must register as a regular commercial trailer.

This does not change the existing law which requires that all trailers or semi-trailers having a registered or gross weight in excess of 3,000 pounds be equipped with clearance lamps, side marker lamps, and reflectors, as well as a tail light and stop light, if the stop light on the towing vehicle is obscured.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Raines and Tommy accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Bill O Neal and children and Miss Genevieve Raines of Lubbock to Denver City for a week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wright and children. Stanita Wright accompanied her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Raines home for a few days' visit.

Rafe Rodgers and his sisters Mrs. Russell Cotton and Mrs. Robert Strickland returned Monday from McKinney where they visited an uncle, Ben Jackson of Annora, who is in the Veterans Hospital there. Their mother, Mrs. Vera Rodgers, who had been with her brother and a sister at Annora for some time, returned home with them.

Captain J. L. Miller, License and Weight Service of the Department of Public Safety, advised however that any vehicle bearing the $5.00 plate must not: (1) exceed 30 MPH, (2) be operated for hire, (3) have steel or metal wheels in contact with the pavement and it must be equipped with an adequate hitch to remain secured to the towing vehicle and be operated and equipped in conformity with all other provisions of the law. Violation of any of the above sections of the law nullifies the $5.00 registration fee and the trailer will be subject to the regular registration fees and penalties as prescribed by law.

Captain Miller further stated that all machinery type vehicles, other than machinery used solely for the purpose of drilling water wells and road construction machinery, must now be registered with regular license plates and title applied for. This includes windmilling and servicing machinery, regardless of whether such machinery is a unit within itself or is mounted on a conventional vehicle or chassis.

Water well drilling units and road construction maintenance equipment are required to have either the $5.00 registration plate or a regular registration plate, depending upon how the equipment is used.

Whitharral Co-op Gin Has New Equipment

New lint cleaners, over head cleaners, tower dryers, and Crowe seed scales have been installed in the Whitharral Farmers Cooperative Gin Plant, according to Manager J. W. Borders, Jr. The new equipment will enable the gin to handle increased volume and at the same time to turn out better samples than in the past.

The gin now has an individual motor for each major piece of machinery. A total of 73 electric motors with a combined 1343 horsepower drive the gin's machinery. This permits stopping one machine while others operate at full speed.

Again this year, the Gin will offer its patrons marketing service on their cotton through the Plains Cotton Cooperative Association. This farmer-owned organization is aggressively selling Plains cotton to mills in the U. S. and in 22 foreign countries.

The Whitharral Farmers Cooperative Gin charges the ginning rates for ginning, bagging and ties. At the end of the year, any earnings above the cost of doing business are returned as patronage refunds to the farmers who use the gin. Savings for the 1960 season amounted to $90,015.87 on each bale ginned.

Officers and directors of the gin are Ralph Wade, president, Ed Johnson, E. F. Helms, A. E. Roberts, E. E. Pair, D. M. Michel and L. Loverman. Borders has been manager of the cooperative for 11 years.

transferred to Abilene after "Carla's" destructive visit to the island city.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Stagner Dallas, spent the weekend with his brother, Vernon and family. They visited their son, Ellis and family in Levelland earlier in the week.

Directors of the Gin have followed the policy of providing the membership with the most up-to-date ginning facilities to be had. Employees in the gin are experienced and trained to make the equipment do the best possible job on each bale.

The entire plant is flexible, enabling the ginner to use or by-pass any of the cleaning and drying equipment that is not needed to properly clean a particular load of cotton. Damp cotton can be dried to the correct point for best cleaning without over-drying cotton that arrives in good condition.

Wildcats

Williams said the boys "want revenge for the stinging defeat last year at Brownfield and should be up for the game. Brownfield's outstanding player is their quarterback Teddie Howe according to Williams. He explained that they had an open date last week and will probably have a new spread formation for Friday's game. Boets Harker is expected to play most of the offensive game for the Wildcats but will not be used on defense.

Probable starting lineups were released this week by both coaches. For Littlefield: Billy Thompson and Billy Hankston, ends; Keith King and Johnny Bassett at tackles; Buddy Price and Mike Steffey, guards; John Foley at center; Barker at quarterback; Pete Esiradi and Gary Swagins, halfbacks and Tony Esiradi at fullback. For Brownfield: Jim Childress and Leonard George at ends; Eddie Wilder and John Clark, tackles; David McDonald and Charles Britton, guards; Tommy McCulloch at center; Coy Chandler, tailback; David Preston, wingback; Ronnie Fenwick, fullback and Howe at quarterback.

Littlefield's Seventh and Eighth Grade teams will tangle Thursday at Wildcat stadium with teams from Morfon. The Sixth Grade will also play Morfon here Thursday afternoon. The Littlefield "B" team will play the Tom S. Lubbock "B" squad here Thursday evening.

Area schools have a full schedule with the exception of Bula and Whithers, who are idle this Friday.

Whithers is host to Bovina at 8:30 p.m. game. Last year Bovina defeated the Bulldogs 15-14 in a hard fought game.

Antony's Bulldogs will travel to Winton for their game. Antony won this contest last year 25-6. The Mustangs of Olton go to Hale Center for their contest. Olton took the game last year 2-8.

Springlake, with three clear victories, are aiming for their fourth as they travel to New Deal. The Wolverines won a 2-6 game last year from the New Dealers.

Sudan goes to Sundown for its Friday night encounter. The Hornets carried off the victory in last year's game 22-14.

Young

(Continued from Page One) The name "Littlefield Young Farmers Association" has been suggested as an appropriate name according to Hall. A suggestive constitution and by-laws and program of work has also been planned by the Temporary Young Farmers Council to present to the group tonight.

"All farmers and businessmen under 35 years of age who are interested in Agriculture are eligible to become active members of the organization, and are urged to do so," Hall said. "Yes, whether you are a Young Farmer or a young businessman, you should be interested first of all in agriculture, because that is the source of your living," Hall continued. "It is past time, in this town and community, to put first emphasis where it belongs, and that is agriculture, because we all depend upon the agriculture of the community for our living."

The young farmers and businessmen of the community are interested in themselves, their families, and the community, there will be more than 100 present tonight in the Vocational Agriculture Department of Littlefield High School to organize the Littlefield Association of Young Farmers' Hall stated.

"Yes, it is time to stand up and be counted, if interested, please be there. If not interested, come anyway and become informed. Your absence indicates that you are not interested in Agriculture or the Young Farmers of the Community," Hall concluded.

Smart Dogs

(Continued from Page One) human. This comes naturally with these dogs. They are not tricks. We can do many more things because these dogs actually think as humans. Instead of being taught certain actions, they have intricate knowledge of words which many humans do not have, he said. They understand conversations in English, French and German. London, now 10 years 10 months old, has a "vocabulary" of over 4,000 words. While Thorn understands about 1,800 and Toro about 800, he said. They get basic instruction from their understanding of words. "If I were to ask him how I could tell the day of week, he would get a calendar," he said of London.

Also London has his own manner of "speaking" some of the words he knows. His master estimates he "speaks" about 25 words a day. Sounds come from him this morning when his master told him to say "hello". "How are you?" and "I don't want to."

"They are taught manners. London as the eldest is always given top priority if he insists. The last one in a room is supposed to shut the door. The last to lie down at night is responsible for shutting the lights off," they live in the house, he added. "Anything they want is theirs. Each one has a chair which pulls into a bed. The youngest is always given priority from the standpoint of desirability. If London insists, however, he is still the master. Age has its rewards."

In teaching his dogs, he said, "I apply common sense. I think positive rather than negative when I look at a dog. I don't say he is a dumb dog. If I think he has the ability to do something, I expect him to get it done. If it is an alien question to him, I explain it."

"The proper method of bringing up a child," he said, "is the proper method of bringing up a dog."

Concerning punishment, he said "I never hit a dog. I grab them right here," He closed his hand over the dog's muzzle. "He is trapped behind the eye teeth," Eisenmann said.

The punishment isn't painful physically, he explained, but is painful mentally when the dogs know they are being punished.

The three dogs eat food costing about $6.50 daily, and there are other expenses connected with their care. "A flea wouldn't be allowed to rest on them. Eisenmann said. "There are certain sprays used. Their eyes and feet are checked every day. They stand no chance of catching anything."

Their food includes cottage cheese, sardines, milk ground round steak and a kenneledation. They take a vitamin supplement.

the calendar of prayer, telling of incidents in Yugoslavia and requesting prayer for the work in Yugoslavia. Mrs. Arthur Turner led this prayer, also remembering the missionaries listed on the calendar.

Rev. Bill Hindman then took charge and taught conclusion of Mission Study Book, "Christian Sharing of Possessions." He reviewed all old and New Testament views on Stewardship. He then asked questions concerning incidents showing stewardship in the New Testament.

THE INTEREST shown by Littlefield people at the Monday night meeting in the County courtroom of the Community Chest organization will determine whether or not there will be one this year for the city.

Although the last Community Chest was operated on a County basis and was not too successful, I believe that the organization on a city basis would be the answer to eliminating so many solicitations by organizing them into one big drive.

The Chest has proved its worth in other area towns . . . many over subscribe the need each year . . . it will work in Littlefield. Make your plans now to attend the meeting at 8 p.m. There'll be a Chest if enough interest is shown . . . and you can so indicate with your presence.

IT'S TIME for the new 1962 automobiles to make their first appearance and three of them will be showing in Littlefield this week . . . Cadillac, Oldsmobile and Pontiac.

From the preview information I've read on most of the new cars it looks like more horsepower is coming back . . . of course they all have a smaller car which will satisfy the fellow who wants little get-up-and-go, but plenty of economy.

The American public will forsake just about every other convenience or commodity for a good looking automobile. They take a lot of pride in how their car looks and don't mind spending hours telling you how much better it is than their neighbor's competing brand, etc.

Most of us will almost sign our lives away to enjoy driving a new car while trying to maintain the "easy" monthly payments.

One of the things that impressed me most on a trip back into Kentucky and Arkansas one year was the little shacks and each one with a TV antenna and a late model car parked in the front door.

Littlefield has always been a good auto shopping center, so we join with our local automobile dealers in our invitation to see the new '62's.

NOTE TO MARSHALL: Yep, old Penn started editorializing about attending the football games . . . so I'll see you at the game Friday night . . . and in Plainview the next Friday night. How's that for school patriotism and all that?

Flame cultivation results on all crops including sugar beets and vegetables will be reported. Included will be the recent results of field drying of grain sorghum using flame.

Guides for the tour will include county agents, soil conservation personnel, representatives of agricultural firms and members of the Young Farmers organization, Dr. T. C. Longnecker, Director, stated that he expected an even larger attendance than the record of nearly 3,000 in 1960.

"The infested areas should be sprayed," he commented, "but it may be too late already to do any good." "Toxaphene and Parathion should kill the insects," he continued.

Kimbrough stated that this was the first time he has seen the midge in this area as bad as it is and warned farmers to be on the lookout for any signs of infestation.

ment, Mrs. H. Harvey then dismissed in prayer.

Those present were Rev. and Mrs. Hindman, and Mark, Mrs. Donald Caldwell and Kim, Mrs. Inklebarger, Mrs. J. R. Hodges, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Arvin Turner, Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Ernest Savage, Mrs. Robert McCurry, and Jimmy, Mrs. Ada Reed, Mrs. Laura Redell, and Mrs. Doc Vann.

The program committee for the Homecoming program met Monday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ramage. Present were the Ramage, Mrs. John Vrabel and Karen, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Caldwell.

The Parent-Teacher's Association of the Spade School met at 7:30 p.m. Thursday September 14 in the study hall of the school.

Mrs. Kenneth Ramage began the program by leading in a meditation period. Next on the program was a membership list presented by Mrs. Ramage and Mrs. John Vrabel. "I Was A Hobo Kid," a tape recording by Billy Davis was then enjoyed by those present.

A short business meeting was then held with Mrs. Olan Grump in charge. After the business meeting, those present enjoyed refreshments served by Mrs. Frank Smith in the school's lunchroom.

AT OLTON

Mrs. Tommie Burrow and children of Amarillo returned home Monday after spending several days here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rucker, and her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Burrows.

Mrs. W. R. Bush returned home Saturday from Lubbock where she underwent surgery.

Mrs. L. E. Burrow stayed in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conrad at Lubbock Sunday.

Penn Point
By D.H.P.

This old world may be in for some more unpleasantness as the result of the plane crash death of U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. This man, above all others in the U. N., was striving daily to bring about peace throughout the world. He was killed while on one of these missions. At no time in the history of the U. N. has such a period of turbulence been created. Choosing a successor to Hammarskjold will be almost an impossibility. The Russia will never again agree on a single man as the head of the U. N. The world will just not shortly just how long the United Nations really is and whether it will be able to stand now that the strong man is gone. If the free peoples of the world ever needed strength and patience, they will need it now. The next few days or weeks will provide us with the answer. We now have more than just Berlin to worry about, we now have the entire sections of the world who are struggling against each other. Hammarskjold kept peace in many of these nations, who will keep the peace now that he is gone. There is no big secret that Russia hated this man because he was one of only a very few that stood up to Russia and their unkind demands on the rest of the world.

Four sessions of the Texas Legislature every second year is beginning to look like par for the political course. Two years ago the lawmakers battled through a long session, and three shorter sessions before arriving at what they thought was a solution to the state's financial problem. But the problem didn't stay solved -- if it ever was -- and so far this year the legislators have battled through a regular session and two called sessions in another effort to get finances in order. Now the governor says he will call another session this fall to act on four things, loan shark regulation, escheat legislation, juvenile delinquency, and municipal annexation. Unless there is more prospect of worthwhile results from consideration of these four subjects than is apparent at the moment, the third called session could prove considerable less than worth while. In fact, only if there is careful planning that substantially enhances the outlook for good results should the session be called. Regulation of loan sharks in Texas is badly needed, though no more urgently than it has been for a fairly long period of years. But the regular session produced such a mess in dealing with this subject -- finally failing to pass any bill at all -- that no new attempt should be made until the most careful and thorough groundwork has been laid. We have seen no sign that this is being planned. As for the law designed to enable the state to seize so-called abandoned accounts held by banks, public utilities, pipelines and other businesses, this is a subject on which Governor Daniel has been stubbornly insistent for reasons we can not fathom. In the first called session he got half a loaf in the form of a law requiring others to report dormant accounts but exempting banks. What reason is there to think that another special session would be any more successful in bringing banks within the scope of the legislation? Better, it seems to us, to wait and see if the effect of the present law is such as to justify its expansion. Juvenile delinquency and municipal annexation are exceedingly complex problems, and neither is capable of easy solution. Unless something more concrete can be offered than so far has been advanced, the chance of effective legislative action on them seems highly remote. An adequate youth parole system would help to relieve some of the problems of state authorities in handling juvenile charges, but this scarcely would go to the root of the problem. Before a special session is called, there is need for convincing demonstration that the probable results would justify the inconvenience and cost.

of the first things I would do would be to take a sample of my soil over to the research station for an analysis and discuss with the people there various factors of farming. The group heard J. Earl Rudder, Texas A&M College president, review past accomplishments of the station and discuss future objectives in a dedicatory address. "With a combined physical facility and personnel of all agricultural agencies, this area surely is becoming one of the leading centers in the nation for research and education in agriculture," Rudder said. Visitors toured field research plots on tractor drawn trailers during the afternoon and were taken on guided tours of laboratory facilities. Among a host of demonstrations the group saw was one on how radio-active materials are being used in agricultural research in a co-operative project the station is conducting with Tech. The radio active material is being utilized to study the root systems of grasses and to determine the movement of nutrients in grass plants, among other uses. The station was established in Lubbock in 1909 but the city surrounded the station, blocking expansion and prompting the move to the new and improved facilities.

Littlefield's fairweather football fans stayed at home in droves last Friday night as the Wildcats played at Seminole. The opinion of most of these fairweather observers was "We thought you were going to get beat and we didn't want to travel 100 miles to see you lose." Lack of spectator support can defeat the greatest of football teams and certainly plays a most important part in high school games. The amount of vocal support given to the Wildcats will give the boys just that much more incentive to play harder. The Littlefield folks have supported the Wildcat teams in the past and this year should be just the same. The locals are not rated very highly by any of the forecasters but just how many of these giants of the sportsworld have picked the Southwest Conference Champion correctly in the past five years?

The Wildcats have a lot of team spirit and a strong determination to win and I think they are doing just that. One thing I like about the team this year is that they are just trying one game at a time, and not playing a game ahead. We take on Brownfield here Friday night and you don't have another thing planned that should keep you from the game.

We have received a flood of replies to the Sales Tax Form we ran in our paper last week. If you haven't filled one or have lost yours just write on a postcard, saying that you would like to have a one per cent tax on everything sold retail sale.

And speaking about our state legislature and honorable government, I noticed this article in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS

WHEREAS, the State of Texas continues to suffer the tragic loss of more than 2,200 lives each year in traffic crashes, and

WHEREAS, from 20 to 25 percent of the traffic fatalities in Texas during recent years have been young Texans of high school and college ages between 15 and 24 years of age, and

WHEREAS, in 1960, these young Texans held about 18 per cent of all the driver's licenses but were involved in nearly 29 per cent of all the highway traffic crashes, and

WHEREAS, the records of other States and the experiences of many Texas school districts indicate that Driver Education taught in the Public Schools is the quickest and most effective method of halting the yearly flow of untrained, unskilled and inexperienced drivers into the Texas traffic stream, and

WHEREAS, the School Superintendents, Principals, and Classroom Teachers of Texas are being offered various teaching aids through the Governor's Highway Safety Commission, Texas Education Agency, Texas Department of Public Safety and Texas Safety Association in conducting special Highway Safety programs and studies during the week of September 18 - 22, 1961, so that Texas school students may be reminded of the urgent need for personal caution in traffic, for driving in a safe and legal manner and for expanded Driver Education, and so they may take this message of Traffic Safety into their homes and place it before their families;

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of September 18 - 22, 1961, as

TEXAS SCHOOL TRAFFIC SAFETY WEEK and urge all School Superintendents, Principals, Classroom Teachers and Students to conduct a vigorous Traffic Safety Program through assemblies, classroom studies and discussions this week and throughout the remainder of the 1961-62 School Year.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 15th day of July, 1961.

Price Daniel
Governor of Texas.

Hammarsskjold's Death Hits U.N., World Hard

DAG HAMMARSSKJOLD (1900)

Editor's Note: It is seldom that this newspaper delves into the realm of international politics, but the untimely death of Dag Hammarskjold, Secretary-General of the United Nations, prompts this biography. Hammarskjold was indeed a man of courage and action, a man seeking a free world without war or threat of war. The U. N., the U. S. and all the free countries of the world will long remember his great man.

(By the Associated Press) When Dag Hammarskjold became Secretary-General of the United Nations in the spring of 1953, he undertook what his predecessor called "the most responsible job in the world." Tryve Lie had resigned because of hostility by the Russians. He had incurred the Kremlin's wrath by denouncing the Chinese Communists as aggressors in the Korean war. He said that any Secretary-General who tried to carry out his job as envisaged by the U. N. charter was sure to be the target of criticism.

For more than seven years Hammarskjold walked a tightrope and succeeded in surviving the various hazards of his office without incurring the strong animosity of any member nation. He also ran into Soviet attacks that even exceeded the attacks against Lie.

and 1949 -- and other international tasks considered him a master of the art of compromise to gain a point. In addition, he was rated a brilliant speaker.

The U. N. charter makes the Secretary-General the U. N.'s chief administrative officer and boss of its 4,400 employees; requires him to report yearly to the Assembly on the work of the organization, and authorizes him to put before the Security Council any matter he thinks may threaten international peace.

The position pays $55,000 a year, including a $20,000 salary, another $20,000 for entertainment, $10,000 for rent and $5,000 for household maintenance, all tax free.

Hammarskjold had a reputation for handling extremely difficult problems. He was credited with much success in his one man mission to the United States just after World War II to explain Sweden's neutral role during the conflict and to dispel ill feeling.

As Swedish Deputy Foreign Minister, he was known as a fast thinker, an expert trouble shooter, and top administrator. One prominent Swedish politician said of his oral reports to the Cabinet: "His is like a jet plane. When the sound reaches you, the plane already has vanished."

An enthusiastic mountain climber, Hammarskjold said when he took over the U. N. post that climbing the Scandinavian peaks requires "the qualities I feel we all need today." These he described as:

"Perseverance and patience, a firm grip on realities, careful and imaginative planning, a clear awareness of the dangers but also of the fact that fate is what we make it and that the safest climber is he who never questions his ability to overcome all difficulties."

Taking office, he told delegates, "I am the servant of you all." But a series of successes in tough assignments gave him self-confidence and a tendency toward initiative. In December 1954, the Assembly asked him to get U. S.

airmen out of prison in Communist China. He flew there for talks. The men were freed the following summer.

In April 1956, the council sent him to the Middle East to bolster the Arab-Israeli armistice agreements, shaken by border shooting. He got new cease-fire promises from Israel, Egypt, Jordan, Lebanon and Syria.

The following July, Egypt nationalized the Suez Canal, provoking a dispute with the West. In October, Hammarskjold got agreement in private roundtable talks on a set of principles for free use of the canal, and the council approved the principles.

But Israel, and then Britain and France, invaded Egypt shortly afterwards. On instructions from the Assembly, Hammarskjold got a cease-fire and, within 48 hours, planned a U. N. Emergency Force to take over from the withdrawing invaders. He also flew to Cairo and arranged with Egypt for a U. N. team to clear the blocked canal.

Out of these experiences, Hammarskjold developed a theory of "private diplomacy," which he explained Feb. 5, 1958, in a speech at Ohio University in Athens, Ohio. He said:

"The legislative process in the United Nations . . . serves its purpose only when it helps to arrive at agreements between the national states concerned."

"It is diplomacy, not speeches and votes, that continues to have the last word in the process of peacemaking. . . . The Office of the Secretary General by its very nature under the charter, must practice private diplomacy on almost all occasions until results are reached."

Hammarskjold came from a family of statesmen and military men. He traced his family back to a Swedish knight who adopted the name of Peder Hammarskjold when he was given the title by King Charles IX in 1610 for bravery in defending the Baltic island of Oeland against the Danes.

The name is pronounced Hamm-marsh-sheuld, with the

LETTERS to EDITOR

Dear Editor:
A select group of farmers met with John Gregg Field representative of National Cotton Council the other night in Littlefield.

We farmers who were not invited to this meeting are informed through the Littlefield newspaper that research and sales promotion for cotton was discussed.

Intelligent farmers know the cotton they produce must be sold to the consumer if we are to continue in business. Farmers would gladly contribute to any plan or program calculated to improve their position, however they are probably not interested in an unneeded cotton industry in which they do not share in the profits.

Our experience with the National Cotton Council and Farm Bureau, have made the service cotton farmers receive very poor. We are questioning the plan. What method of cotton will be used in raising on the program? Is it a cotton? The questions are being asked in every corner.

This year in October, Sept. 20th - will be an open meeting where we will be able to come to get a look at the problems that have built a meeting was held in the square of Littlefield. We are highly skeptical anything worthwhile.

However, if the meeting is controlled and farmers are required to sit silently in their seats while shown slides and pictures, and brainwashed or indoctrinated on a predetermined course of action in which they have had no part. In this case we had better stay home.

When a speaker who takes an hour to sell you his ideas, then gives you a half minute to ask a question which he in turn takes another ten minutes of your time to explain away the point you had in mind. We have had far too many meetings of this kind the past few years.

We farmers feel the food and fiber we produce is selling high enough over the retail counter. This fact clearly indicates where research is needed.

The first of January, 1956, when Farm Bureau and the National Cotton Council started working together in their campaign to lower the price of cotton, the cotton farmer was only getting twelve cents of the consumer dollar at that time. The price of the cotton has taken since 1949 very little. It has in fact been paid for by the consumer.

Yes, we need research and promotion in the cotton industry. However, emphasis is placed where research is needed.

From Your Chamber Office

By Gene Garrison

The Chamber is looking forward to a large number of citizens attending three vital meetings within the next few days:

First, it is the Retail Council Meeting, tomorrow, Friday, September 22, 10:00 a.m., at the City Hall Courtroom. At this meeting, the Retail Merchants will vote to accept or reject proposals for this year's STUCK IN FESTIVAL Christmas Program.

Second, is the Chamber of Commerce's Monthly General Membership Meeting, Friday, September 22, 12:00 noon, at Thornton's Cafeteria. At this meeting, the Membership will vote to accept or reject proposed amendments to the Chamber's by-laws.

The proposed amendments deal with the method of holding sections for the office of Board of Directors. The Board proposes to use a primary system of nominating candidates, where every member participates in nominating candidates, rather than for the president to appoint a nominating committee to appoint the candidates. The entire membership will then vote on the candidates who receive the most nominations on the ballot.

The third meeting will be next Monday night 7:30 p.m., at the County Court House. The purpose of this meeting will be to determine whether or not the citizens of Littlefield desire to have a United Fund Drive for Littlefield.

Each of these meetings are vital to our immediate future plans. We look forward to a large representative number participating in all three of these meetings.

FACTS FOR YOU, a very fine Farm Bureau publication, which comes to this office regularly, carried a very fine article on the Texas Sales Tax in last week's issue. I quote the article here to make this information available to our businessmen, and you farmers who may not receive the publication:

"A number of county Farm Bureaus have been inquiring as to the exemptions allowed under the limited sales tax act. Very little information is available at this time. The Comptroller has released the following rule No. 13 explaining agricultural exemptions under Article 20.04 (m) of the 1961 Limited Sales Tax Law.

"Limited sales, excise and use tax rules and regulations, rule No. 13, agriculture, animal life, feed, seed, plants, fertilizer references: Article 20.04 (m).

"Persons engaged in the business of selling tangible personal property to those engaged in agricultural pursuits in the State of Texas shall be required to collect the tax imposed by this law. However, there are specifically exempt from the taxes imposed by this law the following when sold to those persons engaged in agricultural pursuits:

"1. The sale of, and the storage, use or other consumption of any form of animal life of the kind which ordinarily constitutes food for human consumption. Examples of this would be: beef, cattle, poultry, swine. An example of animal life, the form of which ordinarily does not constitute food for human consumption would be: horses, mules; dogs, parakeets.

"2. Feed for any form of animal life, the kind of which ordinarily constitutes food for human consumption. An example of feed to be exempt: feed for cattle and chicken feed. An example of feed that would not be exempt under this provision would be: dog food, horse feed and bird seed.

"3. Feed, annual plants, fungicides and insecticides applied thereto, the products of which ordinarily constitute food for human consumption. Examples of items exempt under this provision are: seed corn or crop sprays to be sprayed on a growing food crop. Examples of commodities not exempt under this provision are: trees, bedding plants for landscaping and household insecticides.

"4. Fertilizers to be applied to land, the products of which are to be used as food for human consumption. Examples of commodities exempt under this provision are: fertilizers applied to a growing crop, fertilizers applied to seed for rapid germination. Examples of commodities that are not exempt are: fertilizers for home lawn and household plant food.

"5. Farm machinery or equipment exclusively used or employed on farms or ranches in the production of food for human consumption, feed for any form of animal life or other agricultural products to be sold in the regular courses of business. Parts for farm machinery and equipment will be taxed under this provision. Examples of items exempt are: tractors, plows, cream separators, milking machines, hay balers. Some items that would not be exempt under this provision are: building materials for buildings erected on the farm, fences and fence posts, grain storage bins.

"6. There are specifically exempt from the taxes provided in this law, the sale of any farm product in the hands of the producer. Approved: August 31, 1961, Robert S. Calvert, Comptroller of Public Accounts."

Cadillac Will Show Friday At Jones Motor

Beginning its sixth year in the automobile industry, Cadillac presents for 1962 the most complete and competitive line of new models in the division's history, according to Jerry Jones, local Cadillac dealer.

The 1962 Cadillac will be in the local showroom on September 22.

A tremendously new silhouette, outstanding engineering achievements, 140 important safety features, new heavy-duty air conditioning, and other features are combined in our Anniversary Edition."

"As the records show, safety always is a prime concern to Cadillac each year. This year is an exception. In fact, in 1962 there is even more emphasis on safety with a new dual braking system and significant lighting developments, both in the front and rear of the automobile."

Jones pointed out. In this anniversary year, Cadillac is offering 12 models, the same as last year. Five of the 12 will feature classic new roof design giving an entirely new silhouette to the car and changing the over-all styling personality.

This sleek and low roof design which reflects the leadership of last year's Fleetwood Sixty Special Sedan appears on the Full - Window Sedan de Ville, the Coupe de Ville, and the Coupe de Ville.

Boy Scouts
The local Boy Scouts Council is holding its annual meeting at the local hotel. The meeting will be held on Friday, September 22, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held at the local hotel. The meeting will be held at the local hotel.

and Park Avenue Sedan. Styling and engineering combine to bring exciting new lighting developments to the industry. At the side of the headlamps is a new cornering light, which illuminates the way into a turn at night. The taillight in the rear bumper also is completely new and houses a tail-lamp, stop lamp, turn signal light and back-up light. Yet under normal daytime operations, the exterior lens appears white.

Unquestionably the major contribution to safer driving is the new three-way brake system on the 1962 Cadillac, the first of its kind in the automobile industry. Heart of the system is a dual-type power brake master cylinder with separate piston and brake fluid reservoir for front and rear brakes.

With the parking brake, which again this year can be employed as a true auxiliary brake, the 1962 Cadillac has three separate brake systems in an emergency.

The reliable 390 cubic inch V-8 engine remains unchanged in specifications with 325 horsepower and a 10.5 to 1 compression ratio. However, it is quieter in operation and has still better durability through selective fittings of all main bearings.

The heater will be standard equipment on all 1962 Cadillacs. Air conditioned cars will be quieter due to the use of a newly designed fan clutch and a smaller, lighter yet higher output six-cylinder Freon compressor.

The glamorous Dynamic 88 Holiday Sedan-- with its new styling silhouette featuring a longer, lower, sportier look... Oldsmobile's new styling theme--is one of 17 body styles offered by Oldsmobile Division in its 88 and 98 series for 1962. Although the new cars appear considerably longer than the 1961 models, their actual over-all length is less than two inches greater. An ultra-high compression 280-horsepower Rocket engine, standard as well as increased miles per gallon on premium grade gasolines. A 260-horsepower Rocket engine, with an 8.75 to 1 compression ratio, is available as an option at no extra cost for those who prefer to use regular-grade gasoline.

1962 Oldsmobile Showing Set Friday At Jones Motor

The 1962 Oldsmobile 88's and 98's and Starfires feature a dynamic new styling silhouette with a longer, lower, sportier look... outstanding engine performance and quality and reliability unmatched in Oldsmobile history.

Jeff Jones, local Oldsmobile dealer, said that these new full-size Oldsmobiles, and the 1962 Oldsmobile F-85 models, will be displayed in mobile dealer showrooms Friday, September 22.

The fresh new profile of our 1962 88's and 98's, Jones said, has been achieved through completely different front and rear styling, new tender lines, and new crisp roof designs. The advanced roof styling, Jones said, "is typified in our 98 Holiday Sports Sedan which combines the eye appeal of a Holiday coupe with the convenience and utility of a four-door model."

And, he added, "Oldsmobile's entire line is further enhanced by the exciting Starfire Coupe. Making its appearance for the first time, the Starfire Coupe will incorporate all the features that have made the entire Convertible so popular. Jones emphasized that the new Oldsmobiles are even quieter, more comfortable and smoother operating this year.

Pointing out that Oldsmobile's top performing four-speed Hydra-Matic transmission has been improved again for 1962, he explained that a new "pressure-compensated air pattern" provides a smoother than ever transition between the four speed ranges. And, in the full-size cars, the Hydra-Matic utilizes a new cone-gear counter-phased gear set which virtually eliminates gear noise even in neutral.

New highs in Oldsmobile engine performance for 1962 result from several important design improvements," Jones continued. "A new combustion chamber shape and higher (10.25 to 1) compression ratios in the Rocket engine step up power and performance throughout all driving ranges. These improvements in engine efficiency, coupled with lower rear axle gear ratios, increase fuel economy considerably.

In the case of the Dynamic 88, he continued, "its ultra-high compression 280 horsepower Rocket engine delivers a substantial increase in performance as well as increased miles per gallon on premium-grade gasolines. (A 260-horsepower Rocket engine with an 8.75 to 1 compression ratio is available as an option at no extra cost for those who prefer to use regular-grade gasoline.) Maximum brake horsepower of the 1962 Skyrocket (4-barrel buret) engine, standard on both the Super 88 and 98, is increased to 330. Exhilarating highway performance, provided by its own turbine engine and a precise combination of power train elements continue as the outstanding features of the Oldsmobile Starfires.

Timmins Ends Recruit Tour With Navy

SAN DIEGO (PHNOC) Larry G. Timmins, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Timmins of Route 2, Littlefield, Tex., completed recruit training, at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

Military ceremonies marked the end of nine weeks of "boot camp" and included a full dress parade and review before high ranking officials and civilian dignitaries. In nine weeks of instruction the "raw recruit" is developed into a Navy Bluejacket, ready for duty with the fleet.

satisfaction through greater product reliability.

Along this line Jones explained that Oldsmobile recently appointed a Reliability Director, reporting directly to the general manager. He is charged with the responsibilities of inspection, quality control, and "Whatever it takes to build a car as faultless as it is humanly possible."

Wheelbases on the 1962 Oldsmobiles are unchanged at 123 inches for the 88's and 126 inches for the 98's.

"While the new Oldsmobiles appear considerably longer than the 1961 models, their over-all length has actually been increased less than two inches," Jones stated.

"This is because our 1962 styling accentuates the length of the car and emphasizes its 'big-car' appearance," he added. "The front bumper is fully integrated with our front-end styling. The forward fender design forms a cradle for the grille and headlamp assembly."

Intriguing new roof styling is featured in the Holiday coupes of all three series. Another important change in roof styling for 1962 is apparent in the Dynamic 88 and Super 88 Celebr-ty Sedans.

The roof styling of the 1962 Oldsmobiles helps emphasize the individuality between series, especially in the elegant 98's whose roof is distinctive from the rest of the line. The 98 is equipped with twin sets of tail lamps.

Greater distinction between all series of 1962 Oldsmobiles has also been achieved through the use of different moulding treatment and identifying insignia, while interior trim designs and materials have been developed specifically for each. New instrument panels also carry individual series identification.

Seventeen body styles are offered in the 1962 Dynamic 88's, Super 88's, and 98's.

Fifteen exterior colors, and six harmonizing interior combinations are offered, all of them of durable, high-luster acrylic lacquer.

Details of the expanded line of new 1962 Oldsmobile F-85's will be made public on Tuesday, September 19.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. -- Hurricane Carla had its impact on the State Capital, but not like it did on the coast.

Refugees camped on the Capitol grounds the first night of the storm. They were moved into public buildings as the rains reached Austin. Several giant trees on the Capitol grounds were blown down, and the Board of Control estimated damage to $5,000 to Capitol grounds and buildings.

State officials were busy too. Gov. Price Daniel's on-scene inspectors led several coastal counties being declared disaster areas. Thus they became eligible for Federal aid.

State Insurance Chairman Thomas Ferguson announced that several hundred insurance adjusters had moved into the coastal area to help estimate damages to insured properties.

pay the 2% sales tax on the supplies and materials at his cost.

These and other complications of the huge new tax law led to two proposals for changes.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson recommended that it be changed to an across-the-board 2% with no exemptions.

State AFL-CIO Pres. H. S. Brown called for complete repeal of the sales tax, and substitution of an income tax which he said "you pay all once a year, instead of 15 times a day."

WHA'S A FARM TRAILER? -- The new revision of the law which used to exempt farm trailers from license fees has a lot of people in a tizzy. The law was revised twice during the spring session of the Legislature. Governor Daniel vetoed the first bill by Rep. Grainger McMillen at Wheeler, so it was passed again in modified form.

It now requires larger farm trailers to have "exemption tags" which cost $5. It also requires owners of oil-well servicing and drilling equipment to have license plates if they are to be moved over the highways.

Oilfield servicing companies brought suit to set aside this interpretation of the law. License plates, based on weight, would be staggering, they claim, as they maintain that the legislature did not mean to tax them when it wrote in an exemption for the water well drillers.

Rural legislators report some farmers aren't happy about having to pay $5 to be exempt.

CLUB TAX REVENUE KEY -- Another new act of the Legislature which took effect Sept. 1, revised tax and license requirements on the "private clubs" where mixed drinks are served.

Texas Liquor Control Board had little idea how many such clubs there are, and how many members they had, in the first two weeks, the license - fee receipts at the Liquor Board came to $420,000, and returns are still coming in.

This would indicate private-club membership of about 210,000 since the tax is approximately $2 per member per year. Clubs operated by veterans' organizations and fraternal organizations are exempt from the tax and license requirements.

The new law was pushed by the hotel and restaurant people who wanted to get the private clubs legalized and out of the man's hand where they have been operating for several years. Regulations require them to have food available to serve their members, and guests in order to be eligible for a license.

MORE ELECTIONS -- Special elections will have to be held in Texas, Grayson-Cook-Graves and Potter Counties to fill House vacancies before Governor Daniel can bring the Legislature back into the special session he plans for it this fall. If he sets the special session for late October or early November, as many think he will, the elections will have to be called soon, to have the new lawmakers ready to go to work when the session opens.

Major item for the special session is the enactment of legislation to license lenders and regulate interest rates.

House passed a bill during the regular session in the spring setting up tight regulation with fairly high interest charges, but the Senate could not agree. So the bill died.

As the law now stands it is illegal to charge more than 10 per cent per year in interest. Courts have wiped out all the various subterfuges by which higher rates were being charged. So lenders, who contend they cannot get by on 10 per cent on small loans, are anxious to be legalized in some fashion.

NEW OIL POLICY-MAKER -- Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey became Railroad Commission Commissioner Ramsey in ceremonies Monday, and went right to work at the statewide oil promotion hearing held Tuesday.

Ramsey leaves behind a record that probably will never be broken -- election to six terms as lieutenant governor. Some earlier holders of that office had won as many as three terms, but there had been few of them.

Ramsey's salary goes up from $4,980 a year and an apartment in the Capitol to $17,500 a year, but he will have to pay his own rent.

Senator Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi assumes the duties of lieutenant governor until the special session opens. Then the Senate will choose another senator to preside over its meetings. Choice lies between Senators Calp Krueger of El Comiso, Charles Herring of Austin, and Henry Gonzales of San Antonio. All three came to the Senate on the same day in 1957.

Senators Preston Smith of Lubbock, Crawford Martin of Hillsboro, Robert Baker of Houston, Wardlaw Lane of Center, A. M. Aikin, Jr., of Paris, George Parkhouse of Dallas and Speaker James A. Turman of Geboer are among the office holders considered likely to run for lieutenant governor.

Don Yarbrough of Houston, who gave Ramsey his closest race for the office in 1960, is also expected to run.

Maury Maverick, Jr., of San Antonio is another potential candidate.

STATE DOLLARS -- The year-end report of Comptroller Calvert gives Texans an idea of how big their state government has become.

During the state fiscal year which ended Aug. 31, the state government took in $1,210,107,355 and spent $1,192,569,094. Of the spending, $370,000,000 went for highways, $468,000,000 for education, and $188,000,000 for public welfare.

These three big items total $1,000,000,000, leaving less than $200,000,000 for all other activities of state government, including the executive department, the courts, the legislature, safety, health, state mental hospitals, and the correctional institutions.

The figure on state spending will be substantially larger this year, mainly because of the increases in the school-aid program and the improvements in higher education. Biggest source of state money is Federal grants for highways, education, welfare, game and fish, health and other programs. They add up to $288,000,000 a year. The new retail sales tax will be the third biggest source of money this year. It is estimated to bring in about $150,000,000, which will put it ahead of the oil production tax, the present third-place source of money at $122,000,000 a year, but still behind the motor-fuel sales tax, which brought in $177,000,000.
