EXPERIMENTS TO BE CONDUCTED ON SANDY FARMS

A letter from Representative Grainger McIlhenny, dated June 8, informs the Times that House Bill No. 62 which has passed both the House and the Senate, and has gone to the Governor authorized the establishment of a sandy-land experimental farm in the eastern Panhandle region as it passed the House. However, the Senate amended the House bill to authorize demonstrations in improved methods of farming to be conducted on privately-owned farms rather than on state-owned property.

Under the bill as amended, A. & M. College will set up an office somewhere in the eastern Panhandle and will conduct demonstrations from time-to-time in each of the following counties: Wheeler, Collingsworth, Gray, Donley, Childress, Hall, Motley and Cottle.

The bill was sponsored in the House by Representative Grainger McIlhenny, and was co-authored by Representative A. J. Rogers of Childress. It was sponsored in the Senate by Senator Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo.

NEWS FROM— County Agent's Office

By R. D. Siegmund and Robert Ledbetter

Since it will soon be getting late to plant cotton about the 20th of June, there will be lots of interest in planting the unused cotton acreage to grain sorghums. There has been requested by the US Government that Wheeler County plant at least 80,000 acres of grain sorghums this year to meet the feed demand and to take up the short wheat crop that we had throughout this area this year. The new support price of $2.09 per hundred pounds also makes the production of grain sorghums more profitable than it has been in the past.

Probably the two best varieties for this area are still Plainsman and Martin, but there have been several new varieties that are proving to be very good.

Redbine-60 and Redbine-66 are new red-seeded varieties rather similar except for their maturity dates. Both were selected from a cross between Martin and S.A. 7008, a sister selection of Caprock. Redbine-60 blooms in 60 days, a little earlier than Martin, and Redbine-66 blooms in 66 days, a little earlier than Plainsman. Both have dry headstems and long peduncles which make possible earlier and easier combine harvesting. Both varieties have a long peduncle, better threshability and better exertion than Plainsman; both have a brighter reddish-yellow seed color than Martin. Redbine-60 has awns and the grain tests about 59 pounds per bushel, while Redbine-66 is awnless and tests about 60 pounds per bushel. Redbine-60 is a little surer in production because of its earliness, while Redbine-66 will yield better under favorable conditions because of its longer growing season.

Plainsman is a double-dwarf variety for combining, with a thick stout stalk that produces large heads and blooms in about 72 days. It matures in about 110 days and produces seed of good color and medium hardness.

Martin is also a double-dwarf combine variety that is very resistant to mild disease. Martin is non-tillering and should be planted thicker than other varieties. It does not produce large heads but they dry out soon after seed are mature so they can be harvested sooner than some of the other varieties. The seed is brown to reddish-brown in color and very hard. It is an early variety and while it does not yield as much as the later combine varieties under favorable conditions, it is more likely to make grain consistently under less favorable conditions.

There are other varieties of grain sorghums that can be planted in this area and for information on these, drop by the county agent's office and we will give you what you want to know.

WHEELER DOWNS SHAMROCK 5-4

The Wheeler baseball team took a thrilling 5 to 4 victory from the Shamrock team in an East Panhandle League contest which was played on the American Legion Baseball Diamond here last Sunday afternoon.

The contest was close all the way with neither team enjoying a big lead at any time and the score was tied at 3-3 and 4-4 then the local nine won the contest in the last half of the ninth when Roe Green who was playing right field at the time parked a home run over the right field fence. Green was batting with one man out and hit a 0-3 pitch for the homer.

Proceeding the game winning homer, the Wheeler lads had scored one run in the bottom of the eighth to go ahead 4 to 3, then Shamrock tied the score at 4-4 in the top half of the ninth.

Wheeler Whisperings

By J. C. Howell

Acting Postmaster Virgil Jamison asked us last week to tell the people on route one out of Wheeler that the mail carrier is now leaving the post office here at 10:00 a.m. instead of 10:30 a.m. in the past. In case any of you need to meet the mail carrier for any reason this will let you know that you are going to have to leave thirty minutes sooner.

Arrangements have been worked out with school authorities whereby the lights at the football field are going to be used to play some night softball a couple of nights a week or so and the first game was played Tuesday evening. Probably four teams will be organized here and a sort of a league formed and games will be played two nights each week. A program of this sort will provide a great deal of amusement and recreation for the people of this vicinity and perhaps will induce some of our older citizens to take a little exercise which we wouldn't otherwise get.

We were approached with a new kind of advertisement scheme one afternoon this week. Some concern is selling one of the schools in this vicinity a bunch of library books and the school is supposedly paying for the books by selling advertising which will be placed on sheets which will be inserted throughout the books which are placed in their library. This may be the most practical way for this particular school to get their books, but while they are securing books at the expense of the merchants and business people who support their school they are also picking up enough money off these business people to pay this company a nice profit on the books as well as pay the salary of some person who comes out and helps sell the advertising, and we happen to know that these itinerant advertising peddlers don't work for peanuts either.

Then on top of all we have already said, what value is the advertising to the merchant... no one but the children who read the books will ever see the ads and it isn't the children who do the buying, it's their parents. Then, too, a fiction book probably won't be used by more than 10 to 15 pupils in one school term either.

We don't want to make the people of this community where the library is being helped mad at us but we would like for them to see that they are paying about two prices for the books which they are buying and are calling on the business people to buy advertising which will not do them any good whatsoever. In most cases, we venture to say, the merchants would rather donate outright to a library fund and see the money go directly for books than to pay out their money for that type of advertising.

PRICE CONTROLS

Let us suppose, in an effort to simplify a current public issue, that the average consumer buys ten articles in connection with his regular routine of living.

Every consumer knows that prices have increased sharply since the Korean war began and there is present a fear, on the part of many Americans, that prices will increase much faster than income. Consequently, there is a substantial demand for action by the government to prevent speculation and excessive profits during the emergency.

Accordingly, the Price Administrator of the government takes action to roll back the prices of the various commodities. In general, he has the backing of consumers, but, in particular, he has the enmity of every group of producers that make things to sell.
The result is that when the price of any product is affected by regulations, the producers put up a howl, charging the government and its officials with all manner of desires upon the economic system and the constitutional processes of democracy.

The result will be, if the ten products that the average consumer buys, in this supposition of ours, are affected by regulations, the roar from the producers will frighten timid congressmen out of their wits. Meanwhile, the consumers, as a group, unorganized and without effective expression, will be forgotten and prompt action will be taken to save the producers from "loss."

BOTH ARE VALUABLE

Let's not make the mistake of underestimating intelligence!

Too many people take opportunities to say smart things about the man of book intelligence, suggesting that they believe he has been seduced by a big joke.

No problem of the world, not even the MacArthur-Truman squabble, will be solved by emotions. No great benefit comes to the world except through change. Thousands of experiments would have been valueless without a trained mind to read the message and apply it truthfully.

It is all right for a man to take pride in his experience, garnered through the years.
He has something that is distinctly an asset to him. However, let him not under-estimate the value of so-called book-intelligence, if he has little of it.

Experience and intelligence together will solve many problems that neither alone can handle. The man without either is handicapped. He who pokes fun at intelligence is as foolish as the bookworm who imagines that he can understand life from reading between the covers of book.

In our candid opinion there is as much danger, to the people of the United States, from a fascist government as from a communist coup.

No casualty in Korea represents futility;
the boys fighting in that far-away land may be giving aggression a real lesson as well as a good licking.

Old Apply For Farm Loans
Middle Of June

II veterans planning direct home and farm loans from the Veterans Administration reminded by the VA Direct Loan Program on June 30, 1951. It would scarcely be too late to apply for these loans before the June 30 deadline. Applications are received by Regional Offices after the Act of 1950 authorized direct loans up to four percent interest for II veterans with or without a home, or to purchase a farmhouse. The VA was to make these direct loans in those areas of the country where the regular GI Loans were not available from private lenders. The Law further requires VA to designate the areas as eligible for direct loans.

Since the program got under way last summer, more than 2,600 counties or parts of counties in the United States have been designated as eligible for direct loans. An estimated 5,000,000 World War II veterans live in these designated areas.

As of May 10, about $90,000,000 of the $150,000,000 authorized for the program has been disbursed or reserved under pending applications for direct loans to veterans.

While the Direct Government Loan Program ends June 30, 1951, the regular GI Loan Program does not expire until July 25, 1957. Both programs are subject to the same minimum down payments imposed by the credit controls announced October 12, 1950.

Babe Ruth Awards Promote Better Sportmanship

James Gaines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Gaines, and Maurine Herd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Herd, were chosen by the faculty and students of Wheeler High School to receive the Annual Babe Ruth Foundation awards for sportsmanship. The awards were presented to the popular young members of this year's graduating class by High School Principal Cecil Paddock at the annual graduation exercises which were held at the Wheeler Gym on May 18. This is the second year that the Babe Ruth Awards have been made at Wheeler. Corky Robertson and Ruby Davis were the winners of the first awards which were passed out last year.

Forty of the nation's leading sports editors and writers have voiced a protest against the "win-at-any cost" attitude and the subsidization of sports. They have pledged themselves to fight for higher standards of sportsmanship and fair play among the youth of the nation.

Included among the sports writers, who have completed the formation of an advisory committee for the National Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Program, are the presidents of the Football Writers Association and the Baseball Writers Association, representatives from the Associated Press, United Press, International News Service, feature syndicates, and newspapers across the nation.

Wheeler High School is cooperating in the sportsmanship program named in honor of Babe Ruth and designed to de-emphasize the glamour of mere athletic ability and to provide incentive, for boys and girls alike, for the development of good sportsmanship and fair play in all the students in each school.

The sports writers were unanimous in their feeling that something must be done to emphasize the principles of good sportsmanship—principles which suffered greatly during the past year through disclosures concerning paid amateur athletes and the basketball scandals.

Announcement of the committee was made by Carl Troester, executive secretary of the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation and director of the Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Program.

Troester also announced that 1,000 high schools have been added to the Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Program, which was launched last year. Under the program, individual medals are given to boys and girls who, in the opinion of their fellow students, make the greatest contributions to sportsmanship and fair play during the year. Two thousand students received awards last year, and the figure has now been boosted to 4,000.

The awards are controlled by the National Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Awards Committee, composed of two representatives from the Babe Ruth Foundation, and two representatives each from the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation and the National Association of Secondary-School Principals. The latter two groups are departments of the National Education Association.

In an effort to improve the status of athletics, the sports writers have endorsed the sportsmanship program which was created out of funds from the estate of the late home-run king.

Most of the sports writers felt that the program is an urgent one. Arch Ward, of the Chicago Tribune, said, "I can recall no other time in the history of our country when there was greater need for the basic principles of sportsmanship."

Another writer, Abe Chanin, of the Arizona Daily Star of Tucson, voiced the same feeling: "... it is my belief that athletics in this country now stand at a crossroads. . . . As sports editors we know that reaching athletes on a high school level with the emphasis on encouraging good sportsmanship is the quickest road to a great and respected athletic program in the United States."

Hal Middlesworth of the Washington Times Herald said: "It is especially timely for the sports editors of the country to do something about sportsmanship and fair play. The basketball scandals and the growing distaste for openly subsidized sports are signs of the times—and significant. It's a 'gimme' world, and that is bad. Anything anyone can do to counteract that spirit is valuable."

Whitney Martin of Associated Press, New York City, had this to say: "Teaching our youth there is no substitute for honesty and integrity and a healthy attitude toward life in general will make for a better nation, a better government and a better world."

Participating schools in the Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Program this year are located in 38 states and Hawaii.

In commenting on the program, Troester said: "We know that sportsmanship and good government go hand in hand. In politics, as on athletic fields, interests clash, rights of others must be recognized—defeat and victory must be taken in stride. It is believed that a spirit of sportsmanship developed on our playing field and among the spectators in our grandstands may be transferred, in some degree, to later adult activities in the community, the state,

MODERN

On a building a plaque had been affixed to perpetuate the memory of a famous writer who had lived and died there.

After the ceremony, two "men of letters" went off together. "I say, old boy" said the first, "do you think they will put a plaque outside my house when I die?"

"Why, surely."
"What do you think they'll put on it?"
"Room To Let."

Common sense is the most uncommon thing in the world.

People who live in today's apartment houses have little room to complain.

the nation, and even internationally. The Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Awards were organized to cultivate this spirit.

"Sportsmanship in the program is stressed in its widest educational aspect—in the schoolroom, on the athletic field and playground, in the home, at church, and as part of the local community. All awards are made for sportsmanship—not competitive excellence, popularity, number of athletic letters and such, except as they indicate achievement in the broader sense."

CAMERA TOPICS

By T. T. Holden

Pictures like this prize-winner from the Guffey Photo Contest by Elmer W. Mabe become more treasured every year for they can never be re-taken once the youngsters grow up.

PICTURES HELP YOU REMEMBER—ALWAYS

None of us appreciate the value of a photograph until it is too late to take it. We hear this so often—from people who have lost a loved one, from parents with grown-up children, from soldiers stationed far from home.

It is so easy to put off taking a picture—until it is too late. It is so easy to put off buying a camera. We are too busy. We don't want to get involved in a hobby. There are a thousand excuses we all use at one time or another. Then suddenly something happens that makes us wish more than anything else that we had just one good photograph of some one or something dear to us. And it is too late to do anything about it.

We will gladly waste a half-hour reading a newspaper that will mean nothing to us tomorrow. We'll spend money on dozens of temporary pleasures that are quickly forgotten. But we are so reluctant to take a little time and thought to preserve today's precious events against the day when they will mean even more to us.

No matter what kind of camera you own, make a resolution to take some pictures as soon as possible of your friends and loved ones. Remember, they will never again look the same as they do today—the way you will want to remember them.

If you are not satisfied with the results you get, don't give up in disgust. Show your pictures to your local camera dealer. He'll be glad to discuss them with you and give you some hints to improve future ones. If your camera needs sprucing up or repairs, he is an expert on that too.

If you are getting the best pictures your camera can produce and still aren't satisfied with the results, maybe you should look into equipment better suited to your photographic ability. But don't be in a rush to blame had results on the camera. Much of the trouble may be with you and can be corrected with a little thought and study. While fine photographic equipment is designed to bring out your best photographic ability, it is not a guarantee of good photography in a beginner's hands.

The better your pictures the more you will enjoy them. But you don't have to become a great artist to take photographs you will cherish for many years. So get out and shoot. It is later than you realize.

Baby's Summer Care Is Very Important

"Being a baby is a real hazard in either winter or summer but much can be done to avoid or at least lessen some of these hazards that are associated with hot summer days," declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Summer is the season in which death from intestinal disorders has in the past exacted its greatest toll.

"To guard the infant against such danger, care must be taken that his food, especially milk is pure and kept safe. If there is any uncertainty concerning the water supply, the baby should drink only water which has been boiled and cooled and kept covered. The baby and all his food must be protected against flies.

"Baby himself and all the things which he comes in contact should be kept as clean as possible. Plenty of fresh air and sunshine are essential for the best health of the infant. The baby's body should be gradually exposed to the direct rays of the sun; begin with exposure of only part of the skin surface for three to five minutes and slowly increase the area of skin and time once or twice daily.

NEWS FROM—County Agent's Office

By R. D. Sigmund
and Robert Ledbetter

(Written for last week)
Cotton farmers here in Wheeler County have been hurt a lot the past three weeks by heavy rains. Almost everyone has had to re-plant at least once and many twice already. However, as Robert Ledbetter and I have been driving over the county, we have noticed some excellent stands of cotton and some not quite so good. There are some sound reasons why there are some excellent stands. First they happened to be planted exactly right with regards to the rains—this could be called accidental but there were other reasons too. It was noticed that fields where green crops had been plowed under had good stands because the green manure made the soil looser as well as richer. Most of the new soil had a good stand of cotton as this land doesn't pack so much since there is quite a bit of plant residue and humus in this soil.

Another reason for some good stands is the use of the rotary hoe after a rain when the ground has been packed. This rotary hoe not only breaks the crust on the ground but will control all the small grass that has come up. It won't be long though until there will be a lot of cotton in the four leaf stage and that is when the cotton insect begins his work and also the time to start control measures against the flea hopper. Here in Wheeler County, there has been a 7-step cotton committee set up and they will work with the County Agent's office to put on field days in the different communities of Wheeler County. At these field days, everyone is invited to attend and there will be demonstrations on how to apply insecticides to control flea hopper and other insects and also we will try to show you just what a flea hopper looks like and how you can make insect counts in your cotton field so you can tell when to poison your cotton.

It is planned to put a poster in stores of different communities to announce the time and place of cotton meeting in your community. There will also be announcements over the radio and articles in the papers of Wheeler County.

These meetings are very important and could possibly mean the difference between 1/4 and 3/4 bale or more cotton per acre as it is said that the flea hopper harvests more cotton than the farmer does and the flea hopper gets the early crop, which is the one that you will want to set on the plant because of the short growing season in this section of the state.

If you haven't made plans for early season insect control, you still have time to do so. It will take about a gallon of toxaphene per acre and it would be wise to buy it now. If you don't have a cotton sprayer, maybe your neighbor can help you out, or else

Briscoe Classes Report On Trip To Colorado

(Written for Last Week)
By A Class Member

On Saturday morning, May 19, at four o'clock thirteen juniors and seniors accompanied by two sponsors, David Bumpas and Mrs. Bertha Steen, left for Colorado.

We took our time, going through Amarillo and headed north. We stopped in Dalhart for a short time to look around the town.

We reached Manitou Springs at 8 o'clock. We found cabins at Dillon's Park Motel, enjoyed a short rest, cleaned up and went to Colorado Springs, only 6 miles from Manitou Springs and enjoyed a show.

The next day, Sunday, we visited the Garden of the Gods. It was a very scenic spot and everyone enjoyed it.

We visited Cave of the Winds, a cave located close to Manitou Springs, very colorful and scenic; saw the Seven Falls, after climbing 290 steps to reach the top, and then we took a 2-mile hike to see Helen Hunt Jackson's grave. We lost our way while going there, but we soon got back on the trail. When we got back to the bus everyone was tired and dirty but happy.

We saw the ancient cliff dwellings located in Manitou Springs. We visited the zoo in Colorado Springs. Everyone enjoyed it because many of us had never seen the animals in it. We went to Colorado Springs and saw the Van Briggle Pottery Shop. We saw clay placed on a potter's wheel and shaped into a bowl. We saw the designing room where designs are placed on the pottery, and the room where the color is applied. We saw the baking ovens where the pottery is baked, and then we looked at the pottery for sale in the pottery shop.

We took touring cars to Pike's Peak, a mountain near Manitou Springs that is 14,100 feet above sea level. We didn't get to reach the top because of snow, but we liked less than 1,000 feet. We saw the bottomless pit.

On Tuesday morning about 7:30 we went to Canon City, Colorado. We took the famous Phantom Canyon drive. We reached Canon City about 12:10 o'clock. We ate dinner and went through the Colorado State Prison. We were allowed to buy gifts made by the prisoners in the gift shop. We were all convinced it would be cheaper to try to be good than to spend time in a prison.

After we visited the prison, we went to see Royal Gorge, the world's highest bridge. We rode the incline railway to the bottom of Royal Gorge. We walked across the bridge.

We visited the Colorado College in Colorado Springs, and Shone Memorial Chapel on the College Campus.

On Thursday morning shortly after seven o'clock, everyone was packed and in the bus ready to you may be able to get some one to do some custom work for you. A good sprayer will cost about $160, and you can use it for many things beside spraying cotton. You can even spray cattle for lice with the addition of a hand boom. So the sprayer can be used almost all year around and is a valuable piece of equipment to have on the farm.

leave for Denver. We went through the museum and saw skeletons of dinosaurs and elephants. We saw many other animals that were very interesting. We saw the zoo and then went to the main part of town for dinner. After dinner we located Lakeside Park and found that it would open at six o'clock that afternoon. We found a recreation room and everyone went for a short swim. After our swim we cooped supper out and then went to Lakeside Park. We rode all the rides we wanted to and did everything there was to do and left Denver for home at ten thirty.

We arrived in Briscoe at three o'clock Friday afternoon. Everyone was tired, dirty and sleepy but we all enjoyed the trip and everyone had a good time.

Paula Bledsoe and David Britt Marry in Impressive Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Paula Bledsoe, daughter of the late L. C. Bledsoe of Dallas, and David M. Britt, son of Mrs. Tom Britt of Dallas, was solemnized June 3, at the Church of Fort Worth, officiating.

The fern-banked altar was decorated with tall white floor baskets of white gladioli and wrought iron candelabra bearing cathedral tapers which cast a soft glow of illumination on the setting. Aisles were marked with lighted tapers and bows of white satin ribbon entwined with fern.

Mrs. Frank P. Carvey of Fort Worth, sister of the bridegroom, sang "O, Perfect Love," and "I Love Thee." The organist played the traditional wedding marches.

Miss Ila Carol Bledsoe of Shamrock, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her ballerina-length dress of white taffeta was worn with an aqua organza redingot, fashioned with short sleeves and a high collar. She wore a small plaited Juliet cap and carried a Colonial bouquet of white split carnations and Dutch iris.

Bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Mangum of Cotulla, Miss Mary Chilton Fotts of Edna, and Miss Norma Jean Jones of Dallas. They were gowned in aqua taffeta over which they wore white organza redingotes, designed along identical lines of the dress worn by the maid of honor, with similar caps. They carried Colonial bouquets.

Bill Neal of Monahans, served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Mackey Trickey, Richard Van Court of San Angelo, and Bo Damuth of Abilene. Candles were lighter by the ushers.

The attractive bride entered on the arm of her uncle, Nathan Lummus of Shamrock, who gave her in marriage. She was attired in a ballerina-length dress of white imported lace over satin. It was styled with a fitted bodice, deep scalloped neckline outlined with seed pearls, long sleeves which extended to a petal point at the wrist, and a full gathered skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a matching lace cap.

The bride wore a strand of pearls and carried a blue Bible topped with a white orchid and showered with a satin ribbon and stephanotis.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bledsoe chose a dress of toast linen and lace with matching accessories. She wore a flower-trimmed orchid hat and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Britt, mother of the bridegroom, wore a light blue dress of silk crepe and lace, accented with a black picture hat and black accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held by the mother of the bride at Hubbard Hall on the T.S.C.W. campus.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Bledsoe, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Britt, the bride and bridegroom, and members of the wedding party.

Miss Ila Carol Bledsoe presided at the guest register.

The bride's table was centered with a white wedding bell inscribed with "Paula and Dave", under which stood a miniature bride and bridegroom. Flanking the central arrangement were tall white tapers in crystal candelabra.

Mrs. T. M. Caldwell of Clarendon, sister of the bridegroom, served the three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Perry Mack Scott of Dodson, sister of the bride, poured. Miss Re Lummus of Shamrock, aunt of the bride, assisted with the serving.

Mrs. Britt is a graduate of Kelton High School and received her B.S. Degree with a major in secondary education from Texas State College For Women in February. She was a member of the Panhandle Club, co-author of the class song her freshman year, member of Association For Childhood Education, Counselor, served as secretary of Capps Hall, member of Phiomathia Club, serving as president her junior year, member of Campus League of Women Voters and Round Table. During the past semester she has been a teacher in the schools at Anahuac.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Kelton High School and is a senior student at Texas A. and M. College, and a member of the Panhandle Club. He plans to complete his college work.

Following a wedding trip in Colorado the couple will return to Britt ranch east of Wheeler where they will make their home.

The rehearsal dinner for wedding party was given by the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Britt, at the Worth Hotel in Fort Worth.

Elaborate decoration on the T-shaped table, featured cut flowers in shades of aqua and white arranged in gold containers.

Those attending were: Dr. and Mrs. Johnson, Miss Paula Bledsoe, David Britt, Mrs. Mary Bledsoe, Miss Ila Carol Bledsoe, Barbara Golson, Miss Re Lummus, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carvey, Bill Neal, Miss Norma Jean Jones, Richard Van Court, Miss Mary Chilton, Mackey Trickey, Miss Dorothy Jean Mangum, Bo Damuth, the host and hostess.

Former Wheeler Girl Marries in Missouri

In an impressive, candlelit ceremony performed in the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, Hartville, Mo., Sunday night, June 3rd, Miss Melva Ray Webb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Webb, Route 3, Marshville, Mo. formerly of Wheeler, became the bride of Kenneth Rost, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rost.

Rev. G. W. Simmons, great uncle of the bride, officiated at the 8 o'clock, double ring ceremony, performed before an altar banked with mock orange blossoms and peonies, with seven branch candelabra at each side.

Mr. Ralph Walling played appropriate music before the ceremony and accompanied Mrs. Emmet Murphy who sang "Through the Years" and "I Love You Truly."

The candles were lighted by Misses Dortha and Margaret Mitchell who wore orchid taffeta dresses with waist corsages of sweet peas.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of white chiffon over taffeta. White lilies of the valley secured her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias, with a shower of white satin streamers extending from the center. Her only jewelry was a cameo necklace, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Henry Kollmeyer, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a dress of pink silk shantung and carried a bouquet of shell pink peonies.

Miss Eva Lee Cantrell was the bridesmaid, and her dress was of blue organdy. Her bouquet was of deep pink peonies.

Harold Rost, brother of the groom, and Delbert Dixon, were ushers, and Bill Turner served as best man for Mr. Rost.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home for members of the family and wedding party. After the bride and groom cut the three-tiered wedding cake, it was served by Misses Gloria Mitchell and Kathryn Cantrell.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Elizabeth Stanton of Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Skaggs and family of Bolivar, Mr. W. Jones and Rev. G. W. Simmons, both of Wheeler and possibly others.

Mr. and Mrs. Rost will reside in Springfield at the present, where he is employed.

Let's hope more people get crushed from avoiding hard work, than become bent from too much of it.

IT TAKES MANY SOURCES OF SUPPLY

It takes millions of hens to produce the eggs for the nation's daily needs. And that recalls a well-known piece of advice: "Don't put all your eggs in one basket."

You may not realize how literally United Gas has put that old adage into actual operation. Wells in more than 200 widely separated fields provide the natural gas for the system serving our customers... and new and additional sources are being connected to our pipe lines all the time.

This diversity of "sources of supply" is important to you, for it is assurance of dependable gas service for homes and industries in the more than 400 cities and towns we serve in the Gulf South.

The picture above shows the condition of Highway 83 about 1 1/2 miles north of the city limits early Wednesday morning, June 5, following the 3 1/2 inches of rain which fell in this vicinity on Tuesday night preceding. The heavy rains washed out several local earthen dams and did a great deal of damage to highways and rural roads in this vicinity. The spot pictured above is directly east of the site where the Miller dam washed out and shows the section of paving which caved in after being undermined by water. As of the present water is still flowing across the highway at the point shown above.
