NO SUPPORT; NO CONTROLS

One segment of the farm business that has withstood the pressures of those who favor government intervention is the cattle industry and cattlemen continue to think they choose the right path.

The industry has just gone through a decade of trying times — much fluctuation, involving depression as well as good times.

"We've weathered nearly 10 years of the worst combination of weather and prices in the industry's history, declared Fred H. Dressler of Gardenville, Nev., president of the American National Cattlemen's Assn. at a convention recently in Santa Barbara.

"We've proved to ourselves we can handle a lot of things without running to Washington for supports and controls," he said. "There is no reason to believe that we cannot face successfully anything that comes up in the future."

Dressler who also ranches in California, said that cattlemen in every state are becoming more aware of shifting conditions elsewhere. "We just don't watch our neighbors, we look at trends in every area and govern our operations accordingly," he said.

But Dressler emphasized that successful stockmen gear their operations to feed supplies on their own ranches — not speculating that "tomorrow's rain" will get them out of trouble.

"We're learning — perhaps the hard way — that no statistic ever fed a cow or sold a calf for us," he declared.

Dressler advised association members that "the future is as solid as the men who create it for themselves."

Cattlemen may view their record with deserved pride, but there is one prospect that they'd better be alerted about: The New President has mapped out some plans to further US agriculture, and the stockmen are going to have to be more careful than ever lest they get caught in bureaucrat's net.

Crump Will Be Presiding Judge in The City Election

Filing date in the forth coming city election ends March 4th with absentee voting to begin 20 days before the election. The election will be held April 4 in the city hall.

Two candidates must be elected. The terms of Wayne Edwards and Jake Holcomb expire. Holdover officials include W. D. Mitchell, James Verden and Mayor Thomas Daughtry.

A. B. Crump has been appointed presiding judge and the election will be held between the hours of 8:00 A.M. and 6:00 P.M.

Four Gunmen Fail In Local Robbery Attempt

Police officers in three states today were continuing a search for four masked gunmen who held a Pampa family at gun point for half an hour Saturday night in a waiting game that didn't pay off.

The gunmen were awaiting the return of a Wheeler couple — relatives of the Pampa family — apparently to rob them of the day's receipts from the operation of the Clay Food Store.

They left before the Wheeler couple returned. Why, no one knows.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Laycock of Pampa and their two children, Lynn, 4, and Linda, 2, had come to Wheeler Saturday night to visit with Mrs. Laycock's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Denson.

The Pampa family intended to unlock the Denson home, go in and wait until the Densons returned after closing the grocery store. The Denson home is located a mile east and a mile and a half south of Wheeler.

Laycock gave the following account of the experience: "We got out to my wife's folks about 9:30 p.m. When I got out of the car to unlock the back door, two men came up and put a gun on me.

"We started back to the car, and two more came around the side of the house. I unlocked the house and as far as I know, two of them came in.

"They made us lay down on the bed. One of them sat in a chair and kept a gun on us. They kept us there about 30 or 35 minutes.

"All four of them were masked. Two of them had guns. It was too dark to tell about the other two. They asked what time they (the Densons) would be home. It looked like they were going to hijack them and get the money (from the store.)

"After a while, they left. Mrs. Denson came a few minutes later. We didn't know they had gone until then."

Wheeler Schools
Arling Cordell, Supt.

Your entire School Faculty is continuing their study of the whole school program in order to complete the self-evaluation project begun last year. This is a continuous effort to find our strengths and also our weak areas, decide upon ways to improve them, and to keep our school abreast of the needs of our pupils.

Mr. Noel Higgins, Consultant with the Division of Guidance and Supervision of the Texas Education Agency and Mr. Walter Lay, Mr. Clemon Montgomery, Voc-Ag Supervisors in the Panhandle Area will visit our School on April 5. They will represent the accreditation Division which makes periodic visits to all accredited High Schools in the state and advises us on ways and means of improving ourselves.

Parents and patrons, you have been very cooperative in helping to keep our gym clean and attractive. May I suggest that you can help still more by having your children come in the gym, have a seat, and watch the games with you? I'm afraid some of them may be hurt playing outside while the games are going on. It is impossible for us to patrol the grounds during our games. Very soon we'll be the hosts to our District 11-B Basketball Tournament on February 9-10-11.

MARCH OF DIMES TO BRING NEW HOPE TO MILLIONS

The 1961 New March of Dimes will bring hope for millions of Americans afflicted with one of mankind's oldest enemies—arthritis.

This was the prediction of Mrs. Rena Sivage, County director of the fund raising campaign being held throughout the month of January.

The cause and cure of arthritis & similar diseases are still unknown, but some of the answers may be forthcoming as the result of the March of Dimes supported program of the National Foundation", she said.

"Answers are being searched for at the four arthritis clinical study centers located in New York, Dallas, San Francisco and Rochester, N.Y., which are receiving March of Dimes Funds.

"Valuable new knowledge leading to the prevention of crippling arthritis may even now be just on the horizon at any one of the laboratories where scientists are working on projects supported by March of Dimes research grants," Mrs. Sivage pointed out.

"A number of National Foundation chapter with sufficient funds after meeting their polio obligations are also paying for patient aid to children under 19 who are afflicted with rheumatoid arthritis or with certain crippling birth defects," she said.

"The national Foundation will be able to do even more in its fight to prevent crippling diseases if public contributions to the 1961 New March of Dimes are generous enough to permit further expansion of its programs of research, patient aid and professional education."

LIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS IN YOUR STATE CAPITOL

Tex. — When the Legislature meets in Austin there are sharp differences of opinion, the final legislation is usually a sort of Irish stew of compromises.

Plans for this session's state financing are fast into the pot. Simultaneously, Price Daniel and the Budget Board present for state spending in 1962.

Price Daniel recommended revenue spending of $479, Budget Board recommended $5,172 — a difference of $4,693.

Spending recommended by Governor would include a medical program for the aged, salary hikes for public teachers and other items in education.

Primary source of new money endorsed the proposal recommended by the State Finance Committee. He also approved state college tuition by meter.

Urged lawmakers to handle the deficit that's to be about $65,000,000 of the fiscal year. For 1961 a temporary 3 percent gas tax, a franchise fee and transfer of market road program to general revenue to the fund.

Education Limit Proposed — A headlong expansion of state would be provided in a bill introduced by Rep. W. T. Ollrich of Fort Neches.

Under the bill, cities could annex 25 percent of their surrounding territory each year. Meanwhile, the state would have a measure through "extraterritorial jurisdiction" of a zone from 1/2 mile deep on its perimeter.

State Board of Education, TEA's policy making body, has recommended a raise for teachers, but did not specify how much it felt the raise should be.

development of outlying slums. Many officials feel that some Texas cities have gone overboard in annexing more territory than they are able to digest.

Auto Insurance Change — Sen. Grady Harlow of Amarillo, long time critic of present auto insurance regulations, has outlined a liberalized plan he will ask the Legislature to approve.

Changes recommended by the senator:

1. Use of only that part of a driver's record for the past three years, 1960, date the new spirit system went into effect. As set up, insurance rates are based on driver's record for the past three years.

2. Eliminate from the list of violations causing insurance rate penalties (a) speeding less than 15 miles per hour over the limit (b) stop light violations involving amber, rather than red lights and (c) "creeping" at stop signs.

3. Eliminate from accidents that result in a penalty those where less than $100 damage is caused. Present limit is $25.

School's Portion Down — Texas' public schools' share of state spending has dropped from 35.5 percent in 1950 to 30.6 percent in 1960.

In a report to Governor Daniel, Texas Education noted that while state spending on public schools has doubled in the decade, other states have upped school financing even more.

In the 1950-60 period, the scholastic population increased 34 percent, enrollment 46 percent and average daily attendance 50 percent. State spending on schools rose from $187,000,000 to $356,000,000.

Texas State Board of Education, TEA's policy making body, has recommended a raise for teachers, but did not specify how much it felt the raise should be.

Wealth From The Past — There is money to be made in museums, mansions and missions — if they're kept up and made attractive to tourists.

An improved and increased array of historic spots could increase tourism 10 per cent and thereby state tax revenue is $1,750,000 a year, the State Historical Survey Committee reported to the Legislature.

Committee did not ask for state funds to renovate historic buildings. Instead, it suggested an $52,775 appropriation for leadership and guidance of local groups who want to preserve or improve something in their locale.

Also recommended was a $50,000 a year appropriation for the Civil War Commission to be used in setting up "Texas" part in the centennial observance. Other states in the South, many of whom already have combined scenery and Civil War mementoes to make big "drawing cards" for tourists, have the jump on centennial planning.

Petticoat War — Women's rights advocate: have come to Austin every session, as far back as most legislative observers can remember, to try to get rid of one or more of the Texas laws that treat women differently from men.

Every session, the women are treated with courtesy, viewed with amusement, and their bills are good naturedly buried.

This year the irked women, mostly members of the Federated Business and Professional Women's Club, are going all out. Instead of trying to get one or two individual statutes repealed, they are trying for a constitutional amendment guaranteeing equal rights for women and abolishing — at a stroke — all laws to the contrary.

Rep. Ben Atwell of Hutchins (Dallas County) will introduce the measure in the House.

New GOP CHIEF — Spokesman for the Texas Republican party's "new generation" of leadership is Tab Smith of El Paso.

Smith, a 32-year old attorney, succeeds Thad Hutchison of Houston who resigned.

Republicans are setting their sights on: (1) Getting revisions in the election code which they blame for their loss of Texas in the general election (2) Running a strong race in the April 4 special election to name a new U.S. senator (3) Building up momentum for a serious effort to challenge U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough when he comes up for re-election in 1964.

WHEELER COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Millions of acres of rangeland are critically damaged by fire each year. The cover of native grass is destroyed leaving the soil exposed to wind and water erosion. Fire also destroys the grass seed needed to keep the rangeland in good productive condition.

Fire destroys the cover and food needed by wildlife as well as the livestock feed. The loss of food and cover will force wildlife to move even if they survive the fire itself.

Many farmers and ranchers are reducing the hazard by planning and applying effective fire guards around rangeland. Most fireguards are made by blading off the grass leaving a clean strip. This strip should be a minimum of six feet wide. Many times it is possible to make these strips outside of the fence so that no grazing is lost. These strips will not stop a fire when the wind is high but will provide a place to start a back fire for control.

Carelessness is the chief cause of grass fires. Hunters, motorist, and people burning trash cannot be too careful. This is the most dangerous time of the year. A fire hurts everybody and helps no one.

Millions of families throughout the United States this month have received March of Dimes "mailers."

Donations to the 'New March of Dimes' Will Help Prevent Crippling Diseases

Millions of families throughout the United States this month have received March of Dimes "mailers."

If the millions on the receiving end of this gigantic mailing operation coast-to-coast and in Hawaii and Alaska have not already done so, now is the time to return the familiar envelope with a donation to the county March of Dimes chapter, local leaders urged this week. The world's largest voluntary health organization is seeking to prevent crippling diseases, with its sights set at birth defects and arthritis and at continued work in polio.

These mailers, which reproduce the campaign theme, "Prevent Crippling Diseases—Please Say Yes to the New March of Dimes" were addressed in great part by selfless volunteers who, by combing through telephone and other directories, were able to "spot" just about every family in their county. Addresses of new homes, not included in telephone books, were obtained by these volunteers from real estate boards, tax lists, from other official records, and from chambers of commerce.

Hopefully, each of the 44 million families in the United States will have an opportunity to help prevent crippling diseases by contributing to the March of Dimes between now and Jan. 31.

The blue mailer contains an envelope with a pocket for a March of Dimes contribution by check or cash and with space for the donor's name and address. A brief message addressed to "Dear Neighbor" explains the expanded program of The National Foundation, and elsewhere on the mailer a few health figures are given—for example, that birth defects cripple one out of every 16 babies in the United States; that arthritis and rheumatism afflict 11 million Americans; and that polio can still strike down any one of more than 85 million unvaccinated persons in the country.

County chapter officials say "Mailables, mailables everywhere!" says Linda Breece, of Columbus, Ohio, 1961 March of Dimes National Poster Child, as the "models" one of the contribution envelopes. Mailers are to be returned this month to local chapters of The National Foundation to support expanded health program in birth defects and arthritis, and continued work in polio. Linda is recovering from birth defects of an open spine and excess fluid on the brain.

They "hope our mailer message brings speedy replies in the form of cash, money orders and checks because research and in the training of health workers."

Homemaking Girls Present Program At Kiwanis Meeting

Mrs. Gordon Whitener, homemaking instructor, and a couple of her homemaking students, Dorothy Hall and Carolyn Sims presented the program for the Kiwanians Monday at the noon meeting of the club.

Mrs. Whitener introduced the girls and told of their plans to try for a state degree in Homemaking the highest degree presented in Homemaking work.

Part of the requirements for a state degree include the preparation of a thesis on their philosophy of life.

The following is the text of the article prepared by Carolyn Sims. Carolyn is a 17-year-old senior and she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Sims of Wheeler.

MY PHILOSOPHY

By Carolyn Sims

Since I have been reared in a Christian home and have been taken to Sunday School and Church since I was a mere babe, so my philosophy is based in the teachings of my home and Church.

I feel that at all times we should use the one great commandment, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind; and with all thy strength; therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do even so to them; for this is the law and the prophets." We have a full life of stewardship stewards of our time, talent, and possessions.

There is nothing more important in life than one's religion. It is religion that helps us in failure and keeps us steady to success. It makes this life satisfactory and promises us a life to come. With the right kind of religion, we can discover ourselves, find our place in life, be successfully married, be the right kind of parents or children, do our job in the world, get our satisfaction in the right things and face death with calmness and confidence. There is nothing else in the world that can do all this for us except our religion.

We must remember that God is the Creator and Owner of all things and on Him we are utterly dependent. Since He has given us our time, talent, etc., it is up to us to live our lives in such a way that would have His approval. We should strive to make some worthwhile contribution to the betterment of mankind.

Even though it is easy to say, "I can't", or "I don't have time", get someone else to do it", we should take a part of our time to do things for others. We need to set aside a portion of our time, talents, and possessions for the specific work of the Church and other organizations that may be making a worthwhile contribution to mankind.

I think we should be serious about our life and our bodies. We should not neglect wholesome fun and recreation, but we should care for our bodies, keeping them clean and pure inwardly as well as on the outside. We should try to develop our personality, so that we may be able to meet and talk sensibly with more people. We should be serious about the society we live in, exploit no one, and causing no ill to anyone just to foster ourselves. We should work for a better community, a sounder nation, and a happier world. After all, God must use his people to accomplish His Will.

Through a healthy, outward-pointing life, we enjoy an enchantment of our own personality, as giving, we have more to love; loving, we discover more to love; sacrificing, we find every sacrifice a gain. This is the paradoxical but true law of life. To top it all, such living has no vain regrets. Having intended well, and done our best, we are, despite our mistakes, supremely happy and eager about what the future may hold for us.

The following is the text of the article prepared by Dorothy Hall. Dorothy is the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Hall. She is a senior.

MY PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE

By Dorothy Hall

The immortal Shakespeare once said, "All the world's a stage and all men and women merely players. They have their exits and their entrances and one man in his time plays many parts." When we realize that we are actors and actresses upon the stage of life and are acting our lives before and ever-watching and ever-critical public, then we will be very careful of the role we choose to play. The character we choose to portray must be one with a firm belief in the importance of preserving our democratic heritage by strengthening our homes, schools and churches, the bulwark to our democracy. Our character must be one with deep religious convictions and one who shows these convictions to the world. I believe that this character should have a love and appreciation for the simple and beautiful things in life and should be able, not only to see God's handiwork in all his creation, but also be able to portray this feeling to the audiences. If this character is to win an academy award or is to be able to say with the apostle Paul, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith", then he must have a sense of dedication and sincerity in playing this role and not merely be acting in a superficial manner. He must have confidence in himself and must have a true love for God, his country, and his fellowmen; and must set his sights on the higher and finer things of life if he is to be remembered as an outstanding actor.

In selecting the role we will play in life, we must be particular about our supporting cast, for many times it is the supporting cast which determines the success or failure of the play. The people with whom we work, play, and study must be able to act their roles in an acceptable manner and must have the same high standards as those of the leading actor or actress of the play.

Another point to consider in choosing our role is the setting of the play. We must settle and be content in the one place most suitable to the role we will portray in the play of life. This setting must have the commodities and essentials of the needs of the characters we portray.

My years in Wheeler High School have helped to set the stage for the role I hope to portray in the play. They have given me the background for my character and have taught me the cues to be followed and have given me the proper knowledge to locate my exits and entrances as I strut and fret upon the stage of life in my brief hour and then like a candle am seen nor heard no more.

PCA OBSERVES 27TH ANNIVERSARY

Twenty-seven years of service to ranchers and farmers in the top of Texas Area is being celebrated this month by the Canadian Production Credit Association.

As the group enters its 28th year of providing short-term credit to people engaged in agriculture and ranching, the Canadian PCA can boast both total assets and 1960 loan volume exceeding $3,000,000.

The PCA, one of 36 independently owned and operated in Texas, on January 3 observed its 27th anniversary. It was founded on Jan. 3, 1934, during the nation's longest and most severe economic depression and one of the worst and most widespread droughts on record.

Canadian area farmers and ranchers, like others through the agriculture and cattle belt of the Southwest and Midwest found there was no place they could turn to receive sufficient financial aid to continue operations.

A small group of men met at Canadian to form the organization a few months after the Farm Credit Act of 1933 was passed by Congress.

Although government capital was provided to furnish loan funds for the association, the operation and administration was turned over to local board of directors. In 1949, in the Canadian association, as well as in the others that served all of Texas' 254 counties, all federal funds were retired and each PCA became entirely home-owned and operated.

"At the present time the Canadian Production Credit Association has total assets of $3,508,848," reports Erbin Crowell, general manager of the association. "Loan volume for last year amounted to $3,031,498, and we now have a roll of stockholders that numbers 477."

Crowell, who heads the main office in Canadian, has been on the job since Jan. 1, 1951. "Our aim is the same now as it was in 1934," he points out, "and that is to provide an adequate and dependable source of credit to farmers and ranchers in the Canadian area."

H. H. Keahy of White Deer is president of the association, an office he has held for 14 years. He has been a director for 17 years. Other board members are: Wallace N. Hamker of Booker, vice-president, and C. B. Henderson of Wheeler, M. H. Smith of Canadian, Hugh F. Parsell of Canadian and M. Lawrence Ellzy of Perryton.

The Canadian PCA is composed of Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Roberts, Hemphill, Gray and Wheeler Counties. Central office is in Canadian with field offices in Pampa and Wheeler.

John R. Ball is assistant manager of the Canadian office. Parlee Ellis is assistant treasurer and Elise Krebhiel is stenographer.

The Wheeler field office is managed by James Verden, with Jean DeArment also working there as bookkeeper. Lynn Futch is the manager of the Pampa field office.

When it comes to sheer intrigue, I say dandelions are the world's cleverest weeds. First they hide beneath their yellow blooms, figuring I'll mistake them for flowers. Then when I have spent most of the summer rooting them out, the last cunning survivors always enlist the help of my own youngsters to plant a bumper crop for next year. But there are weeds more serious than dandelions — weeds which like the tares in Christ's parable are planted by an Enemy. These are my real concern when I think about my youngsters. I want no evil to choke or twist the character of my sons and daughters. Nor do I want them to spread the spores of evil that will undermine the character of others. I believe that God meant me to seek truth and moral courage through the teaching, preaching and fellowship His Church provides. Every Sunday I share these blessings with my family.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
