Seventh Annual Rodeo To Begin Next Thursday

PARADE WILL OPEN AFFAIR; BARBECUE SET

Wheeler takes on its annual festive appearance next Thursday afternoon, when the local Riding Club kicks off the seventh rodeo celebration with a parade through town.

Following this traditional event at 4 p.m. featuring riders from here as well as other Panhandle cities and towns—all roads will lead east to the rodeo grounds where serving of the big free barbecue begins at 6 p.m.

John Barr of Wheeler, "barbecue king of the Panhandle," will prepare the barbecue, which is being sponsored by the Riding Club and Chamber of Commerce. Wheeler business people will serve the meal.

Hundreds are expected here for the rodeo and related activities.

Rodeo performances will be held at 8 p.m. on July 12, 13 and 14, and a Kid Pony Show is scheduled for 7 p.m. on the final day of the celebration.

Producer of the rodeo will be Charley Plummer of Elk City, Okla.

6 Events

Included in the rodeo events will be bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, bulldogging, bull riding, calf roping and ladies barrel race.

Contestants will compete in these events each night during the three-day rodeo.

Admission will be $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Wheeler Gin is rodeo headquarters. Entries close at 3 p.m. next Thursday, and persons interested in competing should contact Fat Jones at the gin. The address is Box 296 and the telephone is 4441.

Entry fee for each event is $15. Added prize money will be offered in bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, bulldogging and bull-riding.

During the three-day rodeo celebration the Wheeler American Legion Post will hold a dance from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. nightly at the Legion Hall.

Playing for the dance will be Merl Lindsay and his Jubilee Band.

Lindsay formerly was on the Ozark Jubilee, the Red Foley Show, and he and his band were well known throughout the United States.

Gail Phillips Has Role in LCC Play

Gail Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Phillips of Wheeler, has a lead role in the hilarious, one-act comedy, "Sunday Cost Five Pesos," that will be produced July 6 at 8 p.m. in the main auditorium of Lubbock Christian College in Lubbock.

Miss Phillips, a sophomore at the junior college, has the part of Berta Cantu.

The action is set in a small Mexican village and is based on an old Mexican law that states, "a woman who starts a fight on Sunday must pay five pesos."

While a freshman student at Lubbock Christian College, Miss Phillips was active in music organizations and also had roles in dramatic and musical productions.

IDEAS IN MINIATURE: Selecting her favorite futuristic model car, this attractive young lady is surrounded by some of the hundreds of entries submitted in the 1962 Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car competition. The Napoleonic coach in the foreground was built for the first Fisher Body competition 82 years ago. Created by teenage boys from over the United States, the miniature "dream cars" are now being evaluated by professional judges to determine the winners of cash awards and university scholarships totaling $117,000.

From Higgins to Wheeler

Dr. Hort Planning To Move In August

Dr. G. H. Hort, presently of Higgins, announced here Monday that he plans to move to Wheeler and open medical practice sometime in August.

Dr. Hort, who has been considering the move for several weeks, revealed his decision at the Wheeler Kiwanis Club luncheon Monday noon in the Methodist Church.

Guest speaker at the luncheon Dr. Hort reported that it is his desire to open the hospital here owned by Dr. H. E. Nicholson, and the possibility of purchasing the building and equipment has been discussed with Dr. Nicholson, long-time Wheeler physician.

"I would like to open the present hospital and operate it as such," Dr. Hort said.

The physician and surgeon also announced that he hopes to attract another doctor to Wheeler within a year after he moves here. This, he said, would make it possible to "open the hospital for full operation," if arrangements can be worked out.

Dr. Hort explained that his reason for wanting to move from Higgins to Wheeler is that he has already reached his potential there and feels it is time to begin practice in a larger community.

During his talk, Dr. Hort discussed his medical training, in which he studied many phases of medicine.

He said he had been licensed by the State Medical Board to practice both medicine and surgery. He hopes it will be possible for him to perform minor and light surgery here.

When necessary, however, Dr. Hort said he will be able to summon specialists here to perform surgery, or take patients to larger hospitals.

During his internship and medical practice, Dr. Hort has delivered more than 300 babies.

Gordan Stiles, Kiwanis president, announced Monday that the regular club directors meeting will be held today.

Guest at the luncheon was J. C. Moore, Jr.

Savings bond sales in Texas in May were $11,496,167, with $64,736,807 of this purchased during the period January through May.

Thus 83.6 percent of Texas' Freedom Bond Drive goal of $75 million has been achieved.

The Wheeler Lumber vs. Chapman's Truck Stop game originally set for Friday will be played on Monday, and the Ware Chevrolet vs. Vanpool-Burton Ford game previously set for Monday will be played Friday.

This is the only change announced. Thus, the schedule for the summer baseball and softball program next week will be:

Band Parents Meet

An important meeting of the Wheeler Band Parents is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. today (Thursday) in the Adrain Risner home. All parents of band members are urged to attend.

Wheeler High School's new head coach and his family are due to move here from Vega next Tuesday, Supt. Arling Cordell said this week.

Grady Burnett, a veteran in the coaching field with eight years experience, will succeed Louis Boynton, who has accepted the position of head coach at Lockett.

Mrs. Boynton will teach English and speech in Lockett.

Burnett, his wife and two children are coming to Wheeler after Vega where he served as elementary principal.

Before going to Vega, he was head coach at Canadian for five years and was assistant coach there three years.

In Wheeler Burnett will coach

all high school sports except girls basketball. Thomas Helton will continue to coach the girls.

Cordell reported the football field turf is improving and should be in fine shape by the time the season opens. Severe weather last winter killed much of the grass which had been seeded the summer before.

However, shortly before school dismissed in the spring the field was sprayed to Midland bermuda grass, then overseeded with an improved bermuda.

Plans are being made now to use the American Legion field for football practice, giving the grass at the stadium more time to improve further.

The Wheeler Mustangs will face

REPORT FROM CONGRESS

By REP. WALTER ROGERS

Government By Law, Not Man
There has been much disturbance throughout the land about the decision of the Supreme Court in the New York school prayer case. I think it would be well for all people in this country to read the decision very carefully and to digest it.

Many take the position that it was for the preservation of complete church and state. Others argue that it was encroachment upon the states' rights, that it was anti-religious and that the decision was more unconstitutional than the New York law and practice involved. The familiar cry of "impeach the Supreme Court" has come from many quarters.

This would mean impeachment of the men themselves and not the court. If this suggestion was followed on each occasion that a decision is handed down that was controversial, there would probably be a continuing impeachment proceeding, which would accomplish nothing insofar as correcting any possible defect in the governmental structure of this country.

The fact is that our forefathers recognized the shortcomings of men and established a government of law, as opposed to a government by man. They envisioned a representative form of government in which the will of the governed would be adhered to in accordance with laws adopted under rules of parliamentary procedure designed to protect the rights of all.

The Constitution has withstood many onslaughts through the ages, and in my humble opinion, will continue to support a government of free men in this great country.

I have said before, and I here repeat, that if there is any one major defect in the structure which could be the Achilles' heel, it is in the unlimited power of the Supreme Court on the questions of constitutionality of statutes adopted by the legislative branch of the government.

Several years ago, I wrote a newsletter on this subject in which I related the story that occurred early in our Republic that brought into the focus the problem that could prove to be the major difficulty in our philosophy of political science.

The decision in the case of Marbury vs. Madison, which was rendered by Chief Justice John Marshall at the time Thomas Jefferson was President of the United States, set the precedent that the Supreme Court had the power to declare the acts of Congress unconstitutional.

John Marshall was President Adams' secretary of state. President Adams was defeated by Thomas Jefferson in Dec. 3, 1800, election. As a lame duck administration, attempts were made to fill all open offices with followers of Adams and Marshall before Jefferson took over.

President Adams appointed John Marshall to the No. 1 post, that is, the chief justice of the United States Supreme Court. He appointed many others, including, a man named Marbury to the office of justice of the peace. Marshall in the confusion of closing out the administration, failed to issue a commission to Marbury. Hence, Marbury filed suit against James Madison, who had been appointed secretary of state by Jefferson. The suit was filed in the Supreme Court, although there was serious question about the jurisdiction of the court. The usual procedure would have been to dismiss the case for want of jurisdiction, however, John Marshall resorted to the Judiciary Act of 1789, which was an act to control the procedures in federal courts.

He indicated that, although the Supreme Court could not hear the Marbury case under constitutional restrictions, there were provisions in the Judiciary Act, a statute passed by Congress, that would permit the Supreme Court to hear the case. He then proceeded to hold that because the Judiciary Act was in conflict with the Constitution, such act was unconstitutional and void.

This action on the part of John Marshall has been interpreted as a master stroke of a devoted advocate to centralize government. It created the doctrine that the Supreme Court had the power to declare acts of Congress unconstitutional, a power which was opposed by Jefferson's followers. It is interesting to note that John Marshall served on the court for 35 years, yet never again declared an act of Congress unconstitutional.

All of this simply means that whatever act is passed by the Congress or a state Legislature, the Supreme Court has the power to declare the act unconstitutional. Should a corrective act be passed, the Supreme Court has the power to declare a statute unconstitutional. The question is not as to the probability of the Supreme Court ever doing this, but we must admit the presence of the possibility. Under the circumstances, I have long supported the contention that the Constitution should be amended so that the elected representatives of the people might have the same powers to override a decision of the Supreme Court declaring a statute unconstitutional, the legislative branch has to override the veto of the President.

On Jan. 3, 1961, I introduced H. J. Res. 70 proposing an amendment to the Constitution, the pertinent part of which reads as follows: "Section 1. The Congress shall have power, by statute passed by two-thirds of each House of Congress, to limit the authority of courts of the United States to determine that statute of the United States or of any State are repugnant to the Constitution of the United States."

Should the time come that this amendment is approved, any controversy as to a situation such as the decision in the New York prayer case, could be promptly argued and debated on the floor of Congress, and such action taken as may be warranted by the true facts. It has been my feeling that this would provide a proper means of true representative government.

Visiting Laura Guthrie and Corby, last week was her brother and family, Col. and Mrs. Charles Wimberly, Dan, Laura Lee and Lesley. The family was enroute from Washington, D.C. where Col. Wimberly has been assigned as Assistant to the Chief of the United States Air Force Flying Safety and will live in Redlands, California, Norton Air Force Base.

ARCHITECT-ENGINEER survey team checks on the fallout shelter potential of a church basement auditorium at Independence, Mo., as part of the National Shelter Survey financed and directed by the Defense Department's Office of Civil Defense. Thousands of teams of experts have nearly completed the survey's first phase by locating potential shelter space for an estimated 50-60 million Americans. In the next few months they will be checking the same sites for additional details on existing or possible radiation shielding, ventilation, power needs, and costs of necessary modifications. TH
OF

Man-made accomplishments are far different on this July 4th than they were 186 years ago on our first Independence Day.

But the day still belongs to America — and Americans. For it was 186 years ago that 13 States United took their places as the world's newest nation with a unanimous Declaration of Independence.

It was based on a simple precept — "Governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Space-age rockets don't change principles — YOU are the government's master in this nation — let's keep it that way!

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Austin (Special) — State-owned islands along the coast, and submerged islands in inland waters, now are available for lease for industrial purposes.

Leasing for industry was authorized last year by the legislature. First step in the program was for Gov. Price Daniel to select the men to serve on a committee to advise the School Land Board on leasing procedures.

Daniel now has named J. Chrys Dougherty of Austin, an attorney, and Dr. Armstrong Price of Corpus Christi as the advisors.

Procedure is this—a person who wants to lease state land must first apply to the city government, if the land lies in a city limit, or to the county commissioners court. They publish notices and have public hearings. If they recommend the lease, the three-man School Land Board then can consider it and set the amount of rent to be paid.

First application was from Port Aransas, which wants to lease part of Mustang Island for an airport.

School Bus Bargains—Prices of school buses are falling.

State Board of Control, which buys buses for all the school districts on sealed bids, found that the price of 72-passenger buses has fallen by about $1,200 this spring.

May purchases averaged $5,430, while the 1961 average was $6,618. Same sort of declines were noted in prices of smaller buses.

Leases Go Up—But there was a note on higher prices, too.

For many years, the University of Texas lands in West Texas have been leased for oil and gas with only one-eight royalty reserved for the University of Texas and Texas A&M College, which share in the proceeds.

This year, the royalty was raised to one-sixth, and only 9 of 101 tracts offered for lease were passed over by the oil company bidders who bought them at an auction sale. Cash bonuses averaged $38.64 an acre. This is lower than at some sales in the past. But if they find oil or gas, the University fund will get more of it due to the higher royalties fees.

Impact Still Dry—That long-expected "oasis" in West Texas will stay dry awhile longer.

It is the town of Impact, in the edge of bone dry Abilene, which incorporated and voted itself wet in 1961.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and the City of Abilene brought suit to declare the incorporation invalid. But District Judge J. R. Black held that the incorporation has been validated by the Legislature.

It was done in a validating act passed mainly for the City of Plano, which just happened to apply to Impact, also.

However, State Liquor Administrator Coke Stevenson, Jr., announced that he will not grant a package store permit which has been pending for months. He'll wait to see what a higher court says about Judge Black's ruling since the case will be carried to the Texas Supreme Court.

So there won't be any legal liquor in Taylor County for many more months.

Textbook Storm — The special House of Representatives committee which had some stormy hearings wound up its business with an internal storm.

Rep. W. T. Dungan of McKinney held the final hearing all by himself in Dallas. Other four members boycotted meetings, then voted to expunge it from the record.

Each member will write his own report to the House on the procedures by which textbooks are selected.

During its stormy life, committee heard one member called a "card carrying communist" by a lady in Amarillo. He filed suit against her, and apparently the folks back home didn't believe her because he won re-nomination.

Parks Folder — An attractive new folder describing for tourists the facilities and location of state parks is being made available by State Parks Board.

A fishing scene at Lake Brownwood State Park is the colorful cover for the booklet.

Retiring Judges — The judicial retirement system was designed so judges could leave the bench for a few years of rest before their deaths.

Statistics just worked up on the operation of the system by State Auditor C. H. Cavness reveals that there are 219 districts and appellate judges paying into the retirement fund, and 31 who are on retirement.

During the last state fiscal year, five retired judges died and 11 retired. Of 62 judges who have retired, 31 had died as of the date of the audit.

But the retirement system may even if he got the contract as low bidder on sealed bids.

He told County Atty. John Lawhorn of Denton that Jim George, who won the Democratic nomination for two justice of the peace seats, can't hold them both, and that he vacated the office he held when he became a candidate for the other place. George's name cannot appear on the general election ballot for both jobs.

He told County Atty. Bill F. Griffin, Jr., of Center that trucks owned by a farm corporation and used exclusively for hauling pool-try and farm products are entitled to the half-price farm license fee.

He told County Atty. Mack Walter of Athens that members of the national guard are not exempt from ad valorem taxes levied against their property for road purposes. The exemption for militia members is from the "road tax" of $3 per man which used to be levied against those who did not put in a day's work a year on the county roads.

More Oil Suits—More and more lawsuits are being filed out of the East Texas Field crooked hole investigation.

Latest was a $13,000,000 suit filed by the attorney general against operators of a lease which he contends had been produced through a crooked hole since 1949.

There had been indications that the "deviation" practices whereby wells wound up under someone else's property had been going on quite awhile. But this is the first indication that it was happening that far back.

Efficiency Study — Requests for an efficiency study of the Texas Railroad Commission won approval from the executive committee of the Texas Research League.

So that big agency will be looked into thoroughly.

Oilmen had complained in the past that there was too much red tape about Railroad Commission operations.

Chairman William J. Murray, Jr., had defended his agency on that point, saying that many requirements have had to be added to make sure oil was produced legally and properly.

Anyway, the organizational experts of the Research League will look the Commission over, and advise next spring what legislative changes might be made to make it work better.

Sales Better—Total retail sales in Texas in May rose to 3 percent above the April level, after the UT Bureau of Business Research made its seasonal adjustments.

Durable goods sales were up 7 percent and auto sales were up 16 percent above April and 24 percent above May of 1961.

Furniture and household appliances apparently reflected a bumper crop of weddings. They usually rise about 14 percent in May over April. This year they rose 22 percent.

Farm implements, hardware and building materials all contributed to the May rise of 3 percent.

Nationally, there was a 1 percent decline in retail sales compared to the Texas rise of 3 percent.

Issuance of building permits in urban areas showed a 2 percent increase over May, 1961, and 14 percent over April.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Childress of Allison will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary on Sunday afternoon, July 8. All friends and relatives are invited.

Visiting Mrs. Lela Wilson from last Thursday through Tuesday of this week were her daughters, Mrs. Frances Sellers of Alamogordo, N. M., and Mrs. Doris Badley and daughter Linda of El Paso.

TWITTY NEWS

By J. Lloyd Rice

While talking to Gene Milum in the store at Twitty Monday, July 2, I noticed a stalk of cotton some one had brought in. It was more than knee high, and full of squares. I ask who brought it, and she said,

"Clois Jolly."
How do you do it Clois?
Gene reported that her son Wayne is in the Pampa Hospital with ulcerated stomach. Get well quick Wayne.

Woody Carlton is very busy putting up hay for several different people.

Ernest Lasater will have some Millet hay to put up pretty soon. He changed his cotton patch at Twitty into a luxurious hay meadow.

Heard Viola Carlton and Gene Milum talking about rattle snakes. Some workmen were building fence for Mr. Tindall over west of Twitty and killed a whole bunch, eight or ten one day. One workman said,

"I know we killed six, for I killed one, and two other fellows killed two apiece."

Our friends around Twitty know that we have a little mixed breed dog named Lucky. We offered to give him away. Well, last Saturday morning we were cutting cobbles down on the creek in the pasture and heard Luck barking up on the bank. I climbed out from among the willows to see what was bothering him, and he had a big rattler treed on the ground. He was smart enough to keep out of reach of the deadly fangs. A sharp boy dispatched the snake, and I would not take a hundred dollars for Lucky now.

Scientists Cause Mixup of Sexes

March of Dimes-supported scientists have found that if they dip an egg into the right kind of hormone solution, they can change the sex of the unhatched chick from what it started out to be.

This, of course, is of concern to a chick which is supposed to be a rooster and hatches out with most of the features of a hen, or vice versa.

The research also is of direct concern to people, because the scientists believe they are on the track of what may cause some human beings to be born with mixed-up sex characteristics.

A few cases of sex changes in people have become world famous. But according to Dr. Virginia Apgar, director of the birth defects division of The National Foundation-March of Dimes, "It is a more common and important problem than most people realize. More and more infants and children are being found who are somewhere between pure male and pure female sex."

Such "intersex" is a biologic contradiction and a major mystery. How does it come about? Perhaps if we had the explanation, doctors could devise ways to prevent it or treat it to straighten things out again.

That's why March of Dimes funds have been awarded to support investigations by Dr. Gregory Pincus, an internationally recognized authority on hormones and research director of the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology, Shrewsbury, Mass.

It is known that heredity factors can lead to sex abnormalities. But Dr. Pincus points out, "obviously heredity isn't the whole story." Hormones are undoubtedly involved, too.

Scientists speculate that certain hormones or other substances in a pregnant mother's body may reach the cells of her unborn baby during the critical early days of growth and completely change the direction of the baby's sex development.

Though their project is still in its early stages, Dr. Pincus and his associate, Dr. Alan Erickson, have found that this theory holds water.

If an egg containing a four-day-old chick embryo is dipped for just ten seconds into a solution containing a female sex hormone, a budding rooster can be "feminized."

If such birds are allowed to hatch and mature without any

Dr. Alan Erickson holds rooster hatched with characteristics of a hen. March of Dimes-supported scientists found that in time nature reassorted itself and "hen" began to crow like a rooster.

further hormone treatment, most of them eventually revert to the maleness that nature had intended for them. They grow combs and wattles and crow like any self-respecting rooster. Internally, too, matters are corrected and organs usually appear to be normal.

But once in a while there's an exception. The bird doesn't revert to male, but stays somewhere in-between. As a potential rooster, the bird is sterile. As a potential hen, it does not lay eggs.

When they came to trying the reverse egg-dipping experiment, changing the sex of a female chick to male, the Worcester Foundation researchers ran into a baffling obstacle.

The obvious procedure — dipping the eggs into a solution of male hormone — didn't work.

So they checked a variety of other hormones. When they finally found a hormone that did the trick, it went against all textbook expectations.

Dr. Gregory Pincus holds tray of eggs before dipping them into solution containing a female sex hormone which will "feminize" an embryonic rooster. He is a March of Dimes research grantee.

For the hormone that "masculinized" female chick embryos was progesterone. This isn't a male sex hormone by a long shot. In fact, it is mostly connected with female ovaries and its primary function is to keep things going smoothly during the course of pregnancy.

Just why a "pregnancy hormone" should have such drastic effect on the sex of a female chick is another puzzling element in the birth development riddle that Dr. Pincus and his colleagues are trying to decipher.

Their long-range study, they believe, will help explain some of the mysteries surrounding the earliest stages of human development. Their results have already pinned down one important point beyond contention: heredity is by no means the only factor that determines sex. Whatever comes in contact with embryonic cells may alter them, or even destroy them.

"Certainly the possible influence of hormones needs further investigation," Dr. Apgar states. "We already know, for instance, that excessive hormone treatment of a pregnant woman sometimes 'feminizes' her baby if it is a male, producing changes parallel to those observed by Dr. Pincus in his experiments."

Yellow and black community fallout shelter signs such as this are appearing in parts of the nation and should be up in most communities by the end of 1962.

They identify fallout shelter spaces for 50 or more persons found in cities and towns across the country as a result of the national civil defense program now directed by the Department of Defense. The shelters are or will be stocked with a 14-day supply of food, water and other necessities.

The design and colors were chosen to be easily seen and identified by persons at a distance.

It's the Law in TEXAS

JULY FOURTH DOCUMENT REFLECTS BASIC AMERICAN PRINCIPLE

What do we mean when we say that in the United States we have a "government of law" and not a "government of men"? Basically we mean that we have certain individual rights, guaranteed by our federal and state constitutions and laws which may not be denied by any governing body.

The early American colonists had their fill of government by men, and the Declaration of Independence, signed 186 years ago, set out their complaints against that type of government and revealed their belief in a principle which we now accept as basic to our American way of life.

The indictments set out in the document against King George III of Great Britain charged him with numerous violations of that principle. Among the complaints enumerated are the following:

"He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people."

"He has obstructed the administration of Justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers."

"He has made judges dependent upon his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries."

"He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good."

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation: . . . For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses; . . . For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the form of our governments; . . . For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever."

Our forefathers who subscribed to the principles of the Declaration of Independence were willing to fight for their beliefs. The Revolutionary War followed, dragging through weary years of suffering and suspense. Each of us takes pride in their eventual triumph over gigantic obstacles.

In 1787, when the framers of our Constitution met at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence had been signed 11 years previously, they set to work to create a system of checks and balances in government which was to perpetuate the fundamental theory mentioned in the preamble of the earlier document:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Some five years later, the first ten amendments to our Constitution were adopted at one time, specifically detailing various basic civil rights stemming from the underlying theory of the Declaration of Independence.

Our courts day by day guard these rights for us.

COMPACT

From the dawn of Western thought, men like Socrates have wondered what claims the laws have on us—aside from pure force.

Some thought men had contracted to set up and obey the laws to keep the peace: "You don't hurt me and I won't hurt you. But until 1620 at least, nobody had ever seen men enter such a social contract.

True, Socrates in return for the good Athens had done for him, said that he had entered an implied, unwritten contract to obey her laws even the unjust judgment against him to take the hemlock and die.

Still not until the Mayflower band 20 centuries later, sailed over to settle in the new world did we get a social contract actually signed and sealed.

It comes down to us in 198 vital words, the granddaddy of all written constitutions, as well as a document in the history of liberty under the law.

Its gist:

"We . . . do by these presents solemnly and mutually in the presence of God and one another, covenant and combine ourselves together into a civil body politic, for our better ordering, preservation . . . and by virtue hereof to enact, constitute, and frame such just and equal laws, ordinances, acts, constitutions, and offices from time to time as shall be thought most meet and convenient for the general good of the colony, unto which we promise all due submission and obedience. In witness whereof we have subscribed our names at Cape Cod on the 11 of November . . ."

Much took place in the next 168 years. But in 1788 the new states wrote and ratified the world's first and now oldest and most successful constitution. Why do men obey the laws? It says:

"We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America."

THE AMERICAN WAY

By DON WILLINGHAM
CITIZEN

COMMUNISM . . . COMPOSITE OF ALL CRIME

The Communist world conspiracy enjoyed one of its most strategic victories when, by brainwashing and propaganda, it was able to convince people in positions of prominence that communism is merely a political idea which people have a right to be for or against.

This is a common misunderstanding which has led to much confusion. This hypothesis is totally incorrect. Not only that, it is dangerous.

Such a hypothesis implies that communism might have some good points. In reality, communism has no good points. It is completely bad. Of all the "isms" in the world, it must be rated as the most terrible with nothing worthwhile to offer.

Concerning communism, there can be no argument made in its favor any more than there can be substantial argument offered against any other crime.

I have submitted before that communism is the composite of all crime.

In support of this view I offer several observations.

NUMBER ONE: Communism is murder. 100 million people have been officially slaughtered or starved to death by the Soviet and Red China regimes alone, it has been estimated. Communist sources tell us that there will have to be a mass slaughter of at least 60 million Americans when the Communists take over. To the warped Communist mind this is peace. It is peaceful because it enhances the establishment and maintenance of the Communist Utopia.

NUMBER TWO: Communism is atheism. The idea of God is ridiculed. Christianity is classified as the opiate of the people. It is presented as the means by which the masters keep the workers content with their sad and burdensome lot in the world. The worship of God is outlawed and it would make of our young sons and daughters Christ-hating atheists.

NUMBER THREE: Communism is rape. The Communist lacks a civilized moral code. Territories that are overrun by communism are subjected to the ravages of rape and assault. This was vividly illustrated following World War II when the women and girls of the iron countries were ravaged beyond description.

NUMBER FOUR: Communism is subversive conspiracy. Some years ago there was a law passed known as the Smith Act, branding communism as a criminal conspiracy and subversive in its purposes. The Communists have ignored this law for over 10 years by the employment of legal technicalities. Many thoughtful people have thought that this law was not enforced because of the left-wing nature of the Supreme Court whose weak, watered-down decisions relative to communism are notorious and myriad.

NUMBER FIVE: Communism is smuggling. Any citizen who would smuggle merchandise into the United States would be arrested and adjudged a criminal; but smuggling is common practice among Red agents. These traitors have been caught on numerous occasions smuggling guns and ammunition out of the United States and into the hands of Red agents.

I would challenge you to learn the dangerous doctrines of the enemy in order that you may testify against it. Remember, material forces alone do not determine the destinies of men. The resources of an infinite God can change the balance of material assets. As free men humbly seek God and to do His will—and as they become truly dedicated citizens of the land of the free and the home of the brave—we may well expect that tyranny shall not triumph and freedom shall not perish from the earth.

Will you stand for freedom?

WINGS OF FAITH

WHO does not marvel at the flight of a bird? The soaring jet does not seem such a miracle. It cannot fly with the same grace and beauty and ease.

Every bird must learn to fly. The mother bird pushes her fledgling out of the nest. The young bird falls helplessly until its wings discover the invisible support of the air.

If our lives are to rise beyond frail human nature, we too must learn to fly . . . on wings of faith. We must discover the invisible support of God's presence and power.

Come to Church next Sunday. You can find there the invisible support of God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

ATTENTION: MERCHANTS

We want you to know that we appreciate every opportunity that you have given us.

We were thrilled beyond words to hear that we would have an Inter-League baseball team in our town this summer. We have worked hard on our field, in practice and have tried to cooperate in every way. (There has been boys to come to the games for first time) and play the full game while we sat on the bench and watched.

We want things fair about this—don't you? We want to win too, and we think we can even though we do play—we are ball players too. Help us round this thing out. We are so happy to wear your suits and believe it would make you just as happy, to see that same suit out on the ball diamond some instead of on the bench all of the time.

We think that all of the boys should get to play some in every game.

What do you think?

Six boys that like to play baseball as well as anyone else.

Public to Build Salk Institute

Through their contributions to the Salk Institute Building Fund, the American people—who formed a partnership with science to bring about the Salk polio vaccine—will again share in a great scientific venture to help man make the best of his gift of life.

When there is a job to be done—whether it's a war to be won or a disease to be conquered—the American people have an amazing way of marshaling their efforts to produce maximum results in minimum time.

Such an effort is under way this month in the nationwide campaign—June 1 through 15—for public support for the construction of the Salk Institute for Biological Studies.

Millions of posters in public places, mailers in home letter-boxes, coin collectors and canisters on counters everywhere proclaim, "You Can Build the Salk Institute for Biological Studies . . . for Life, Health and Humanity."

Youngsters who, as "Polio Pioneers" helped prove the effectiveness of the vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas Salk, are expressing their gratitude for their protection from crippling polio with contributions in school envelopes.

People everywhere are proudly wearing tiny microscopes in their lapels, symbolic of their gifts to provide building blocks for a great new laboratory of life.

Millions of Americans, who won a great victory over one dread disease—paralytic polio—in partnership with Dr. Salk and other scientists, welcome this opportunity to become

"...FOR LIFE, HEALTH AND HUMANITY"
YOU CAN BUILD THE SALK INSTITUTE FOR BIOLOGICAL STUDIES

shareholders in a new scientific venture which promises even greater benefits for them and for their children.

As he worked on the polio vaccine, Dr. Salk became more and more aware of the need for a better way to gain greater scientific understanding of the basic processes of life and their relation to health and disease.

In talking with men of science all over the world, he found that others shared his recognition of the need for a place where scientists could work together seeking answers to basic biological questions from many viewpoints, with fullest latitude for research, discussion and exchange of ideas.

Dr. Salk's planning will culminate in 1963 with the opening of the Salk Institute for Biological Studies, which he will direct, in San Diego, Calif. The land has been given by vote of the people of San Diego. The entire nation will contribute to the construction of the Institute through a campaign sponsored by The National Foundation—March of Dimes—just as the American people totally supported Dr. Salk's polio research.

The Institute will serve as an international "crossroads" for new ideas and discoveries. Eminent scholars from such diverse sciences as biology, genetics, chemistry, physics, mathematics and philosophy will join Dr. Salk there as Senior Fellows. Visiting scientists will come from all parts of the world, and promising young men and women will be invited as Student Fellows to work with and learn from the established leaders.

Construction and equipment of the Salk Institute will cost approximately $15 million. Through their generous support of the Salk Institute Building Fund, the American people, who took such a vital part through the March of Dimes in bringing about the momentous medical discovery that was the Salk vaccine, will bring to reality a great international scientific center, dedicated to helping man make the best of his gift of life.

Through the week visitors in the Venson Smith home were: Margie Meadows, Diane Dodd, Opal Hefley, Mildred Treadwell and girls and Mrs. Gilbert Thomas and Debbie from Amarillo.
