New Wheeler Methodist Minister

The new Methodist minister of Wheeler has arrived. He delivered his first sermon in that church Sunday, Jan. 5, and was well received. The son of a Methodist Minister, Mr. Perdue was educated in several Texas schools, at Southern Methodist University and Perkins School of Theology.

He has served at Brooklyn Avenue Methodist Church in Dallas, St. Mark's Methodist Church in Midland, at Texline, Polk Street Methodist in Amarillo and came to Wheeler from the Methodist Church at Coahoma, Texas.

Rev. Perdue has been active in the educational work of the Methodist Church, and has taught in Training School in Texas and New Mexico. He is the author of several articles for youth and adult workers with youth in Methodist Sunday School materials.

Mr. Perdue is a member of the Board of Christian Social Concerns of this conference, and is the Vice-Chairman of the Conference Committee on Christian Vocations.

Mrs. Perdue is the former Nita Haygood of Dallas. They have two children—Elizabeth Ann, aged 5; and Barbara, aged 3.

Upon being interviewed, Rev. Perdue said, "In the few short days here in Wheeler, everyone in the community has made us feel at home. We are grateful for this warm reception. This is a fine community and it is our privilege to be a part of it."

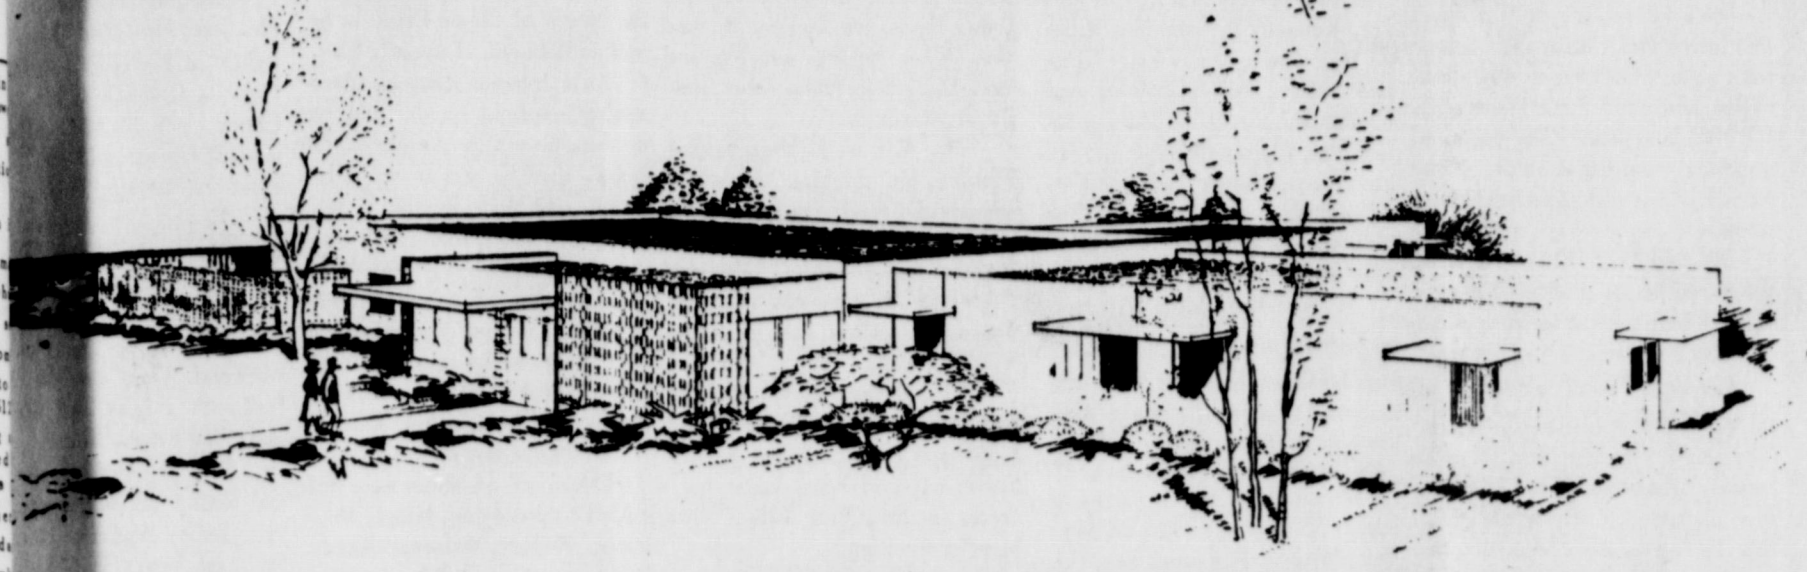

This edition of the Times should bring us up to date with all the material that has been brought to the times office for the past few weeks which we have not been able to publish because a shortage of space. We do appreciate you bringing in your news to us and hope you will continue to bring it in early as you have been doing the past few weeks.

We have heard quite a bit of comment on the small type which we used the past two weeks for the news of the surrounding communities. It was our intention to put as much news before you that we could get in the paper, therefore converted to the smaller type.

Arrangements are being made for a type which will be smaller than that which is being used here, but larger than that used the past two weeks. The new type will be the same size as that used in the Times when we were printing the paper here.

The paper this week is lacking the local personals which Mrs. Bill Topper has been getting for us. As you probably know, she underwent surgery at Shamrock hospital last week and is now recuperating at home. I modern hospital, this area's vitally needed institution, is a reality. After many months of hard work and planning, the voters of the hospital district have called a $250,000 bond election to determine if the voters of the north part of Wheeler County want the proposed hospital.

AL DESIGN FOR THE WHEELER COUNTY HOSPITAL DISTRICT

LET, VOTE

BOND ELECTION FOR HOSPITAL

Following the creation of the steering committee, the project committee from the Chamber of Commerce dissolved and all work regarding the hospital district was handled by the steering committee.

The steering committee made the decision to go ahead with the project and with the help of our State Representative, wrote the legislative bill that eventually was passed in Austin, creating the hospital district. Election was held to ratify the bill and elect one director for each school district. The government of the hospital district now and in the future will be handled by one representative from each community.

Until recently, irrigation has played a very minor role in local agriculture, but new developments in the irrigation industry are finding ever-increasing use here. In the future, irrigation will play a vital part in the economy of almost every farming area. Irrigation must also help supply the world's growing population with adequate food.

"Banks and other lending agencies are becoming more and more lenient about financing irrigation wells and operations", said Davis, "the limiting factor being cost, which is affected by location, depth, capacity, power source and distribution."

Agri. Agent Reports Wheeler Supt.

The 1964 Farmers Tax Guide is just off press and I think that farmers and ranchers will find it to be very helpful and necessary in filing their income tax returns. This guide will be helpful for persons that hire tax consultants to fill out their returns also, since it can be a guide in making management decisions during the year. These guides are available free of charge at the County Agents office.

One important tax matter to keep in mind is the employer-employee social security taxes. If the cash remuneration paid by the employer to the employee in a calendar year amounts to $150.00 or more it must be reported and taxes paid on the total remuneration. If the employee was not paid as much as $159.00 cash wages but worked for the farmer on at least 20 days during a calendar year for cash remuneration and the wages were figured on a time basis, then the employer must report the amount.

The tax rate in 1961 was 3 per cent for the employee and 3 per cent for the employer. In 1962 it was 3 1/8 per cent for the employee and 3 5/8 per cent for the employer. The rate for 1963 and 1964 is 3 5/8 per cent for the employee and 3 5/8 per cent for the employer. This withheld tax of the employee and the equal amount matched by the employer must be filed on form 943 with the District Director of Internal Revenue by January 31 of the year following the year covered by the return. If you are liable for more than $100 of such taxes during the year you must deposit them currently. More information on this matter may be obtained from your social security representative.

contains at least 80 percent pine oil. The pine oil, which does not affect the action of the detergent, may be added to the wash, or rinse water.

2. Liquid chlorine bleach may be used in the first wash water so that the chlorine will be removed in rinsing. Chlorine bleaches are harmful to wool, silk and fabrics which have been treated with resins, so use other disinfectants for these fabrics.

3. Phenolic and quaternary disinfectants are both good, but in most instances must be purchased from stores that have industrial supplies. The phenolic disinfectants may be added in either the wash or rinse water, but the quaternary disinfectant should be added to the rinse, as it is likely to inactivate the detergents when added to wash water.

STORAGE FOR FOLDED GARMENTS!!

A cabinet for folded clothes that is simple to build and easy to use, has been designed by housing specialists at Auburn University.

The cabinet has adjustable, pull-out shelves, and there is a series of wooden cleats extending up and down each side to support the shelves and permit flexibility, says Mrs. Nowlin.

For a master bedroom occupied by two people, the cabinet should stand 3 feet, 3 inches tall. Make the pullout shelves 1 foot, 1 inch deep and about 2 feet in width. Figure two tiers of shelves for 2 persons—with 7 shelves in each tier. Then add doors and finish the cabinet to blend with your other furnishings or paint it the color of your walls, the agent suggests.

The cabinet will provide what researchers call "moderate" storage facilities for two.

CO AGRICULTURAL AGENT by Charles D. Jackson

Managing your farm or ranch business involves many decisions and deals with many activities. Managing your money and net worth is one of the most difficult areas to do a good job. There are many things to think about when planning your money management activities. These will include investments, credit, savings and many forms of taxes. This tax area might be broken down into the following major areas, income tax, federal estate taxes, federal gift taxes and state inheritance taxes.

Certainly there are many decisions that can be made during the year as you transact your business that will determine the taxable income. Income Tax is not a one time a year problem but instead it is something to think about everyday of the year as you are buying, selling, and trading in your normal everyday business activities.

Federal estate tax is another major concern. With the increased note of inflation causing land values to rise, federal estate taxes has become a problem of many. Each estate has a $60,000 exemption before Federal Estate Taxes. This means a man and his wife in Texas together will have an estate valued at $120,000 or more before any Federal Estate Taxes will be due. This sounds like a lot of net worth but it only takes about 800 or 1200 acres of typical Wheeler County farm land to be valued at $120,000. This means there are many people who now have an estate tax problem, or will have an estate tax problem in the future.

For more information about this and other management problems feel free to contact the County Extension office.

International temperatures are just about as unpredictable as weather, these days. The Cold War thaws out a bit, then freezes back over. Despite the test ban treaty, the arms race continues. No one really expects a nuclear war, but it's still a dreadful possibility.

One of the greatest deterrents to sneak enemy attack is our ability to survive. If an enemy ever did strike, YOU the American farmer would be counted on to supply the food and fiber to keep the country going.

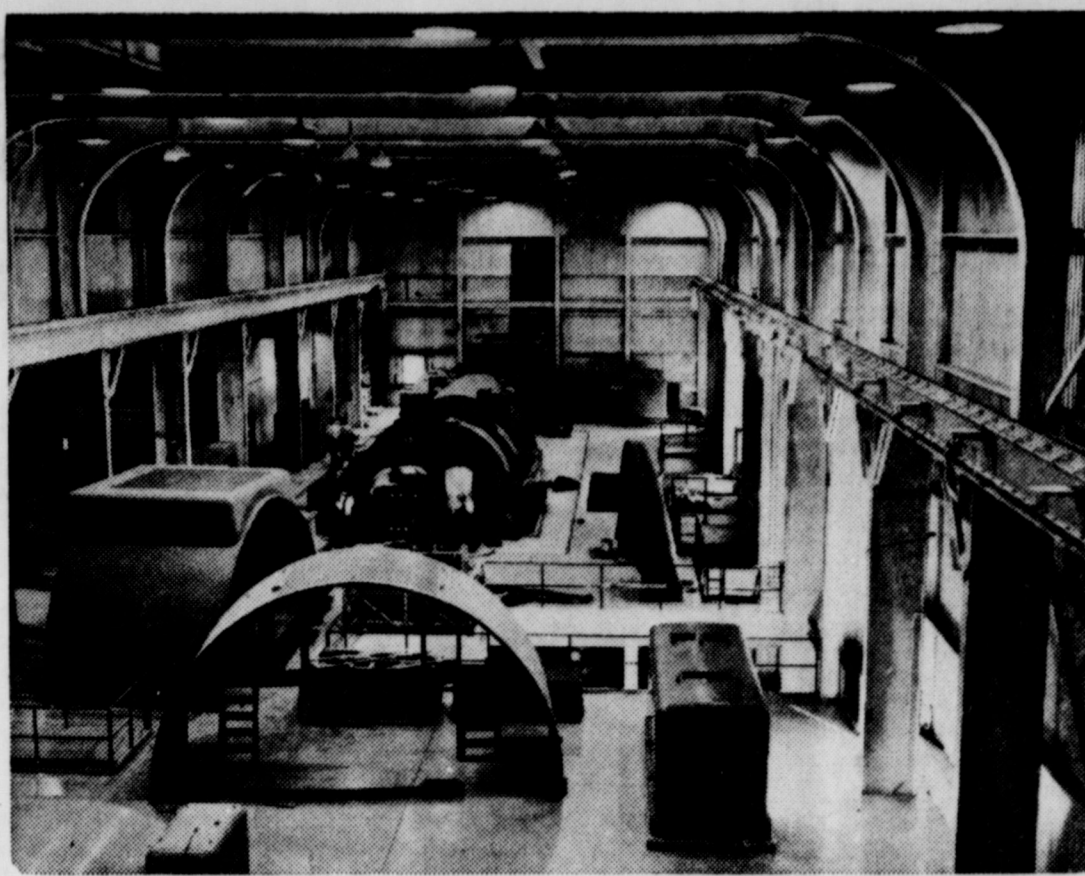

Farmers and other rural people would have a very good chance of surviving an attack if they were prepared. The major threat would be from fallout and fallout protection can be provided. Everyone needs shelter because no one knows how many or what targets an enemy might strike, or where the winds might carry fallout. It could settle anywhere—even in the most remote areas of the country.

Living too far from town to use a community shelter isn't a reason to give up. Survival insurance is a good do-it-yourself project. Although you may never need more shelter than is provided by your existing buildings, you probably prefer to give your family added shelter and fallout insurance.

The best protection is planned and prepared in advance. You should act now to provide the shelter you, your family, and your livestock would need to survive an unexpected nuclear attack. I have copies of "Your Family Survival Plan" and "Your Farm Preparedness Plan" for those who would like to fill them out.

Any farm building or home would give some shielding from fallout. Most farmers have some area that could provide extra protection. There are some locations that provide better cover than others in all buildings. You can pick the best buildings, and the best locations in each building, then add more shielding. Or you can build new shelter areas. It is often very easy to build increased protection into root and storm cellars, basements, and other buildings. A shelter needn't be elegant, only safe. I have a great deal of material on rural preparedness for those who are interested.

Remember, the land will be here after any disaster if there are people to till it. People are still the most important resource America has.

S.W.P.C. Plans for 1964

Southwestern Public Service Company's plans for 1964 call for the largest one year investment in new facilities in its history, it has been announced by A.R. Watson, President and General Manager of the electric light and power company.

Watson revealed today that the company has investment plans for new equipment and construction of $30,222,000 for this year.

"The 1964 improvement and construction budget is nearly 31% higher than our record years for construction, which were 1953 and 1963, and is evidence of our continuing confidence in the growth of this region", Watson said in his announcement.

The major item in the company's 1964 construction program will be an accelerated schedule of work on the second unit of Cunningham Station, located west of Hobbs, New Mexico. Originally scheduled for completion in 1966, the continued growth of the area has resulted in this timetable on this 210,000 kilowatt unit being advanced a full year, and it is now scheduled to be in service in mid-1965.

Still another major generating capability being a little over one million kilowatts, and additions which total 420,000 kilowatts being planned for the next two years, it is apparent that we see our biggest period of growth still ahead of us. This, of course, means that this area must also be looking forward to its greatest growth period, because we install new facilities only because we see they will be needed, and we must be ready in advance of the hour of need", Watson pointed out.

Directly related to the construction of the generation facilities in 1964 is the building of a two hundred thirty thousand volt transmission line linking Plant X and Cunningham Station. This line will be the first constructed by the company to operate at 230,000 volts, although some segments of the present transmission system, which are operating at 115,000 volts have been built for easy adaptation to the higher voltage.

The company's ultimate goal is the operation of a 230,000 volt "backbone" transmission system extending from Borger to the Pecos Valley region of New Mexico. The result of doubling the transmission line voltage is that the line will then carry four times as much power.

The 230,000 volt transmission line construction scheduled for this year also calls for a new 230,000 volt line to Lubbock. This will make it possible for the Lubbock area to receive power at the new higher voltage and guarantee even better service in that area.

In addition to the transmission grid, which ties together all of the company's plants, the generating facilities of the larger stations, Plant X, Cunningham and Nichols Station, near Amarillo, are directly controlled by an automatic dispatching system, which electronically determines the most efficient generating units to be operated. The dispatching system also computes the share of the load which other plants should be carrying, on the basis of costs, and then these loads are assigned to the plants by direct communication from the load dispatching center in Amarillo.

"There are several other important factors which make it impossible for our rates to our customers for electric service to not have to be raised. One of these is the fact that our customers are using more electricity, which makes it possible for us to use larger and more efficient equipment. Our employees are due a measure of credit for these low rates, too, for in 1963, operating expenses and maintenance took a lower percentage of gross revenues than they did the previous year, and it is efforts like this which overcome the rising costs of many of the things necessary to our business, and make it possible to keep our rates low", Watson concluded.

It's the Law In Texas

There is no sorrier person than one who has been victimized by a phony deal. Unfortunately, once the buyer has signed an order or contract, little can be done to get him off the hook. "But I didn't realize..." are words often heard by lawyers who are usually unable to help at that point.

Despite the complete disavowance of "caveat emptor" (let the buyer beware) by ethical merchants, there are still some businesses that thrive on high promotion deals. Buyers are contacted by direct mail, over the telephone, or by "come on" advertisements. These contracts all resort to fancy claims and a high pressure approach.

How can you avoid such tactics? There is no sure way, outside of dealing with reputable established merchants, and using common sense in reading the ads. But there are certain sucker signals that should ring the alarm bell. Here are a few: "Buy now or lose the chance..." "You have been specially selected..." "It's only a legal form..." "You can save up to..." "Yours absolutely free..."

These signals do not necessarily indicate a bad deal, but they are frequently used by shady promoters. So read carefully, think it over, compare prices, and ask for information from a merchant you know, or from a friend.

Remember, in this world of tough business competition, one seldom gets anything for nothing. Once you have signed an order, even the law may not be able to help you, no matter how improvident the deal may be for you. In fact, unless the seller is doing something illegal, the law may wind up helping him to enforce the bad deal that you made. So watch the signals and look before you leap—or sign!

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Sewing Hints by HD Agent

by Cula R. Nowlin
SEWING ON DOUBLE KNIT FABRICS

Knit fabrics are an important part of most women's wardrobes because they are practical for travel, and fashionable to wear. Although jersey fabrics are familiar to most women, double knits for home sewing are relatively new. They are knitted from two or more threads which interlock in each row, making the fabrics nearly identical on both sides. The "hand" of the fabric combines flexibility with firmness, which makes it easy to handle and sew. No special skill is required, but an understanding of the characteristics of a knit fabric applied to the selection of a pattern is important. Some suggestions for patterns, cutting, and sewing are given below.

SELECTION OF PATTERN AND FABRIC
Select a pattern with few seams, a rather easy fit, and, if possible, no buttonholes. Avoid circular skirts and bias cuts. Choose a weight of knit fabric that conforms to the requirements of the design. Even if the pattern does not specify, an underlining should be considered, and interfacing at all faced edges is a "must". Knit fabrics occasionally become slightly "off grain" in processing. This can be corrected by pulling from each side on the true bias. When knit fabric is seriously "off grain" (more than 1"), do not cut it. All knit fabrics should be shrunk before using.

CUTTING AND MARKING
Double knits are made in tubular form and the flattener tube slit along one fold when sold. The grain on both edges of this slit should be straightened before use.

A continuous rib in the fabric is the guide for the straight grain. Cut the full length of each side along a rib. Then along the center fold, make a line of basting which follows a continuous rib. Press out the center fold. In some knits of synthetic fibers, this fold cannot be pressed out. Pin the pattern pieces in place on a long flat surface using sharp pins. If fold can't be pressed out, rearrange pattern pieces. Fabric should be kept flat during cutting to avoid stretching.

Tailor tacks provide the most accurate markings for knits. When fabric is firm, dressmaker's carbon is also satisfactory.

PRESSING
Use a medium hot iron with a damp press cloth, or a steam iron with a press cloth. The press cloth prevents shine and stretch; it also serves as a protection for synthetic fabrics and synthetic threads. Press lightly on lengthwise grain of fabric, placing strips of paper at least 12" long, and 2" wide between seam allowance and garment to prevent seam edges from showing on the right side.

THREADS AND NEEDLES
"TASLAN" Textured Nylon thread is recommended for stitching all knitted fabrics because the elasticity is in keeping with the stretchability of knit fabrics. During wear, the seam and the thread expand simultaneously and as a result seam breakage is prevented. This textured thread has the strength of nylon, but it feels and handles like cotton. For ease in threading, cut end on a slant or use a needle threader. For hand sewing use a short length, not more than 18". When

HELPFUL TECHNIQUES
Basting--Basting will help to minimize stretching. When layers of fabrics are to be stitched together, pin them together before stitching by placing pins perpendicular about every four inches. Basting after pinning is optional.

Staystitching --Directional staystitching must be used on all knits. When underlining the entire garment, use staystitching 1/2" from all raw edges to attach it to the garment fabric.

thread has been chosen to match the knit fabric as closely as possible, the color tends to blend with the knit fabric. The label on spools of this thread states "use warm iron."

If press cloth recommended for pressing knit is used consistently, it is sufficient protection for seams sewn with this textured nylon thread.

For light weight fabrics use a size 11 machine needle (fine) and for heavier fabrics use a size 14 (medium). For hand sewing use a size of needle suitable to weight of fabric.

Stitch Length--Shorter stitches used with knits give greater elasticity. On side seams use 12 stitches per inch, but on seams where strain is great, as at shoulder, underarm, use at least 15 stitches per inch. A fine zig zag stitch may also be used for seams.

Tension and Pressures --Use a loose balance tension and light pressure. Loose tension is practical because the stitching has greater "give", and the texture of the knit absorbs the looser stitch readily. Light pressure is necessary so that the fabric will not be stretched. Test tension and pressure, using mercerized thread in machine first, since the elasticity of textured nylon resists breaking necessary in tension test.

Buttons --Avoid buttonholes, but if they are necessary, make either machinemade or bound. In both cases, use very sheer iron on interfacing around each buttonhole to stabilize fabric before stitching.

Underlining and Interfacing --Although double knit has enough body to be used without underlining, it is well to underline at least the back of the skirt where the greatest strain occurs. Interfacing of proper weight should be used at all faced edges. If knit is washable, interfacing should be also.

Seam Binding --In order to prevent stretching when double knits are not lined, place pre-shrunk seam binding along seam at shoulder and include it in the stitching at the seam.

Seam Finishes --Seam finishes are necessary on knits to prevent the fabric in the seam all from rolling. Stitch and pink, finish with zig zag stitch, or overcast by hand.

Understitching and Topstitching --Understitching the facing ensures a sharp edge that will not roll. Topstitching the facing ensures a sharp edge that will not roll. Topstitching 1/4" to 1/2" at edges that are subject to wear, such as on pockets and at neck, increased the strength of the edge.

BUTTONHOLES

Avoid buttonholes, but if they are necessary, make either machinemade or bound. In both cases, use very sheer iron on interfacing around each buttonhole to stabilize fabric before stitching.

HEMS

If finished garment is unlined, let it hang for 24 hours, to give it an opportunity to stretch normally. Mark hem from floor, Baste and press hem carefully, finish with either tailored hem or seam tape hem. Pre-shrink seam tape and apply loosely; if garment is lined, stitch hem to lining only.

LEATHER-FABRIC COMBINATIONS

Leather trim on garments and leather-fabric combinations are new on the fashion scene, yet they present a cleaning problem. This comment comes from Mrs. Cula R. Nowlin, County Home Demonstration Agent of Wheeler County.

Use special care when choosing and caring for such garments, she suggests.

Garments with piping or trim made of suede, grain or simulated leather require special cleaning techniques. Take the advice of your Home Demonstration Agent and send such garments to a dry cleaner who is properly equipped and trained in leather cleaning and finishing.

A garment of fabric and grain or suede leather is rather expensive, so consider the cost of upkeep before you buy. Read the label on the hang-tag, for most manufacturers will include special instructions on care and drycleaning. Save the hang-tag and pass on the information given by the manufacturer to the drycleaner.

When you buy, find out whether the leather is genuine or imitated. Most items of simulated leather must be wet-cleaned, a though some are labeled as drycleanable.

Other suggestions for care of leather-fabric combinations are: Don't let items become over-soiled before sending them to the cleaner. Inspect the garment before you have it cleaned, and call attention of rips or stains to the cleaner.

Send all pieces of a garment or ensemble for cleaning at the same time, so there will be no variation from one piece to another. Tell your cleaner how long you have had the garment and give him information on care included on the hang-tag. This often saves many wears for the garment and it will take very little of your time.

Emory L. Archer, Sayre, Modern Woodmen District Manager for the local area, has returned from Dallas, Texas, where he joined nearly 50 other leading agents and state managers at a regional sales conference of the life insurance society. The meeting, which was held January 7-8, was also attended by a group of officials from the Modern Woodmen home office in Rock Island, Illinois.

Mr. Archer participated in discussions of life underwriting, persistency, and sales promotion during the two-day meeting. He reported that the fraternal life insurance society's assets are approaching $243 million, ranking Modern Woodmen among the top four per cent of all life insurance organizations.

COUNTY PARSON

This is the first in what we hope to be a continuing bit of wit and wisdom designed to lift broken hearts; challenge lives; give strength for the day and comfort in time of sorrow. A bible passage illustrated by a thought, poem or life story will make up the major portion of this column. We hope you look forward to reading each issue.

"...This one thing I do; forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

Philippians 3:13,14

Perhaps the best thing about the future, is that it comes a day at a time.

A failure establishes only this, that our determination to succeed was not strong enough. Life, like a mirror, never gives back more than we put into it.

Only those who do not know how to work do not love it: To those who do, it is better than to play, it is life.

THE GAVEL CLUB

The Gavel Club met in the home of Jean Lewis, January 6, for their monthly meeting. A business session was held, and the members spent the rest of the evening visiting.

Refreshments of cookies, cakes and coffee was served the following members: Hazel Bowen, Pauline Lowrie, Mildred Porter, Beta Farmer, and Etta Crowder.

The next meeting will be with Pauline Lowrie, Feb. 3rd.

The great highway performer

'64 Jet-smooth Luxury Chevrolet

What does it take to make a car a great highway performer?

If the car happens to be a '64 Chevrolet, one thing only. A highway.

You'll find everything else already neatly packaged for you--on the car exactly as you pick it off the showroom floor.

There's a choice of seven engines--all the way up to a twin-carb high-compression 425-hp V8*--and four transmissions, including a finely honed 4-speed stick shift.*

And underlying it all--a bump-skimming Jet-smooth ride that helps keep the performance great even when the highways aren't so great.
