CHAMBER BANQUET HELD

The annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet was held Thursday February 25 to the newly installed officers for the coming year. The officers had been installed into office at the January meeting at the organization.

Harry Wofford served as Master of ceremonies for the evening with a crowd of 150 people representing Wheeler, Mobeetie, Kellerville, Briscoe, Allison, Kelton, Shamrock and Candaian.

Before the delicious meal of barbecue was served buffet style by Zebbies of Pampa, Rev. Dale Cain, pastor of the First Baptist Church gave the invocation.

Hostesses for the evening were the coleen contestants Linda Weems, Lynda Beaty Ruth Porter and Carol Lamb, and the Top Six F H A girls for 1964. These girls graciously greeted the guests and chamber members. They registered those attending and offered them favors of small fruit baskets containing candy in the shape of fruit. After being introduced by the Master of Ceremonies, these young ladies were excused to go home and prepare for 6-weeks exams.

Guest of the Chamber of Commerce were recognized by James Verden with the list containing members of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce.

Leon Moore was called on to make a few remarks before retiring from the office of President to the duties of director. Leon thanked those who had helped him in the year past. As he introduced Mr. Cordell and called him to the microphone he remarked, "You can have it now".

Mr. Cordell, superintendent of Wheeler schools introduced his set of officers for the year and outlined his plans for a successful year as President. He urged the heads of his committees to use the membership to make up their committee; his idea is to put the members to work.

Correction On Burglary Story

In the Wheeler, Hemphill and Gray County burglary case which was recently solved with the arrest of two young men, a third young man was also arrested and charged with felony burglary, on one count in Gray County.

The third arrest was reported earlier, however it was reported that Jerry Keen, 21 was involved in the Vanpool-Burton burglaries in Wheeler and the Lafayette burglary in Hemphill County. He is not connected with eight of the cases and is charged with only one burglary in Gray County.

Jerry was released on $3500 bond. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harmon moved to Wheeler last Monday from Vega. Mr. Harmon is employed with a drilling company here. He lived here when he was a small boy and they are a niece and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Adams.

Remember, there is still $1,100 to be given away this year.

In outlining his project for the coming year, Mr. Cordell listed Membership as the most important. Second on his list was the project to erect a sign at Elk City with intentions to divert some traffic from 66 thru Wheeler to Amarillo. Third

Election To Be Held for Director

The deadline for filing for director of the North Wheeler County Hospital District is March 9, 1965. Three districts will elect directors this year. They are Allison, Briscoe and Mobeetie. These districts are currently represented by Clyde Dukes, Allison- H J Finsterwald, Briscoe- and Lester Leonard, Mobeetie. This election will be held in conjunction with the school election on April 3rd, 1965. Any qualified taxpayer desiring his or her name to be placed on the ballot as a candidate for director shall file a petition signed by not less than five qualified voters residing in the candidates voting precinct, asking that the said name be printed on the ballot with the secretary of the Board of Directors. Such petitions shall be filed at least twenty five days prior to the date to the election.

There can be only director elected from each school district within precincts one and two. Petitions for filing may be obtained from Hiram Whitner or Tom Puryear.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Odgen of Andrews visited their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. D O Beene last week.

on his list was the Christmas Lighting which has been a project for several years. Mr. Cordell intends to start at the first of the year and get this drive underway, as Wheeler was without lights last year, due to the age and defects in present equipment.

Other project on the list were to encourage farming and ranching growth. Seek small industries to locate in Wheeler, continue with community appreciation banquets, continue with North Wheeler County Hospital project participate in Pampa Livestock show, support Wheeler Free Fair, Sponsor Santa Claus Day, Support Sweetwater Creek Watershed Project.

Mr. Cordell announced that a meeting would be held at Noras Cafe each Wednesday morning for 15 minutes to discuss progress of the committees in their phase of the years work. He urged each of the committee heads to bring a member of their committee to the meetings. At the end of the 15 minutes Mr. Cordell stated that any further discussion could wait. The coffee meetings will get underway at 9:45.

Tom Puryear presented Charles Jackson with an award for his hard work on screwworm eradication program. The three year project started in 1962 with 49,484 confirmed cases of screwworms in the state. In 1965 only 223 cases were reported in the state. The program has been underway in Wheeler County for the past two years.

Clarence Zyback of the Briscoe community was presented a plaque for the outstanding farmer of 1964. Bill Brooks of the Wheeler County Soil Conservation Service, presented the award. Clarence has and is working with the Soil Conservation District and is a leader in trying new methods and techniques.

The speaker for the evening was Jerry Taft of Channel 10 news staff. The speaker was introduced by Charles Jackson. Jack Tompkins of the T V 10 farm news had a conflict in speaking engagements due to the postponement of the banquet previously.

Jerry pointed out that he was often called the Ed Sullivan of T V 10. He explained this by saying that a news caster could not very well smile while giving the happenings in Vietnam. He explained that a facial expression will influence your impression of the news.

Jerry also explained TV 10's philosophy which makes them the no. 1 news organization in a five state area. NO. 1 is to go there and get the story first hand, in that the staff can ask questions can get all the information that they need. This is done by a six man news staff.

In closing for the evening Harry Wofford recognized Juanita Hays and her group for the fine music furnished during the meal. He also gave special recognition for the work of the hospital board. Mrs. Guthrie also received recognition for her efforts and Betty Risner who was unable to be present was given a big hand of recognition for her many years of hard work with the chamber.

COUNTY AGENT'S NEWS

By Charles Jackson
Wheeler County livestock producers should be pleased to know that Wheeler county was recommended for initial certification as a Modified Certified Brucellosis Free Area. This is the first time in history that Wheeler County has been listed as a Modified Certified County. To receive the Certification, 700 herds consisting of 19,458 head of cattle were tested during the initial testing period. A total of 56 herds were found during the initial testing that contained 174 head of reactors. Fifty-seven herds were retested after the initial test and the infection rate was reduced to 22 herds and again 92 head of cows were removed from these herds as reactors. This reduced the infection rate to 3.14 percent of the herds and 0.473 percent of the cattle in the county.

For a county to be certified the infection rate must be reduced to less than five percent of the herds and one percent of the cattle. Remaining infected herds are quarantined and retested until they become clean.

Gray county has not received its certification as of this date, but as soon as more testing is completed they will also be certified.

Roberts and Hemphill counties do not have a program, but all the other panhandle counties either have a program or they are in the process of initial testing or re-testing.

Every three years twenty percent of the herds in the county must be retested in order to maintain our certification.

Dusan Pagan and the Live stock committee are to be commended for all the hours that they spent in development of this program for Wheeler County. It will be every stockman's responsibility to help police the program by keeping a close surveillance for cattle that may enter this county from unclean counties that were not tested. It is unlawful to transport adult breeding cattle from unclean counties to a clean county without an accompanying test chart.

Anyone desiring to purchase oats for prairie dog control must place their order at the County Agents office by March 10th. Individuals must indicate the amount of each type of grain that they desire at the time they place their orders. A check must accompany the order for 25 cents per pound for the poison oats and 24 cents per pound for the poison grain. The grain will be delivered to the county agents office on March 15th where it may be picked up. Orders will be accepted on any week day until March 10.

SCD NEWS

This is about mid-season for some of our most important conservation practices. Grass Seeding is getting under way with good progress. The recent high winds, however have seriously hurt some dead litter cover in which grass is to be seeded. Before you seed your grass be sure that you have adequate litter on the ground to protect the seedling plants when they come up. Most of our grass stands that are lost do not have adequate cover.

Several people have seeded grass and many others are planning to. Some of those whom we know are: V B Hardcastle, Mrs. Willie Ruth Hathaway, C F Collins, James Verden, R C Hawk Jr., Hazel Darrow, T O Bradstreet, E M Rives, J E Smith, Charles Moore, Ona Black and Newton Cox.

This is the season for terracing land to be put in cotton and grain sorghum. If you need a terracer and have not yet made arrangements you should contact your AS CS office or your soil conservation service office in the courthouse or contact one of the soil conservation district supervisors.

Terraces have been built for E F Lasater, Dean Tipps, Albert Zyback, Thurman Horn, Wayne Treadwell, Dale Dyson and C F Collins. George Harris is currently building terraces.

Waterways are a means of conveying water through or off of a field or farm. They are usually used as a last resort, but where diversions will not serve the purpose waterways usually will.

Where the slope is flat enough, alfalfa may be used satisfactorily to vegetate the waterway.

Waterways greatly facilitate the installation of parallel terraces. Almost any field can be terraced with parallel terraces if waterways are properly used.

Cost share assistance is provided under both the Great Plains Conservation Program and the SCP Program.

For additional information see your local soil conservation service office.

March 2, Texas Independence Day

March 2nd marks the anniversary of Texas Independence day. The courage, determination and dedication to duty displayed by the founders of our great state should motivate us to pause, reflect and rededicate ourselves to the principles for which these brave men fought and died. Our state and our nation are confronted today with problems and challenges demanding the same ideals displayed by our forefathers. Give us the courage to meet them with the same faith and perseverance which they exhibited. May we preserve the great heritage left to us and enlarge it, leaving an even greater legacy for the generations of Texans coming after us. God Bless you Texas. And Keep You Brave and Strong That You May Grow in Power and Worth Throughout the Ages Long.

School News

By Arling Coraell
Have your visited your school during this Texas Public Schools Week? If you can answer the foregoing in the affirmative, you have good reason to be proud of yourself as a parent and as a patron of our school.

Sometime this week your children will be bringing their report cards home. Study these carefully, advise with the teachers concerning ways to help them to improve. Perhaps no factor is greater in helping a child than in giving encouragement and assuring them of our continued interest in their welfare.

Dr. Floyd Golden Educational consultant for Rittenberry and Rittenberry architects and engineers of Amarillo is working now to make a complete survey of our existing school facilities.

When this is done, recommendations will be made to our school board for new building. Then a bond issue will be decided upon, and you, the people will be fully informed before being asked to vote upon it. As soon as these preliminaries are finished McMorries and Company will send to each owner a notice inviting you to come in and be fully informed as to your values before final action is taken and before the Board of Equalization passes upon these finally.

Watch your "Wheeler Times" for further information on these important plans for your children's and for your community's future.

Certificate For Charles Jackson

By Tom Puryear
A certificate of appreciation has been presented to Charles D Jackson, Wheeler County Agricultural Agent for his active support of the screwworm eradication program. The presentation was made by Tom Puryear, chairman of the county screwworm eradication committee on February 23 at the Wheeler Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Mr. Puryear commended Charles Jackson for devoting many long hours to the popular eradication project. He noted that the agent has been the key man in the county concerned with screwworm eradication activities, serving as an important link between program officials and local farmers and ranches. Along with keeping stockmen informed on all aspects of the program and cooperating with the eradication workers in carrying out control activities within the county, the agent also served as advisor to the committee which coordinated local participation in the successful drive to raise more than $3 million from the livestock industry to get the campaign started nearly three years ago.

The screwworm eradication program could not have attained its present high level of success if it had not had the wholehearted cooperation and assistance of the local county agricultural agent.

Dolph Briscoe Jr. of Uvalde, president of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation which spearheaded the Southwest fund drive, recently presented a plaque to all the county agents in Texas at the State Conference of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University.

Never before in the history of the livestock industry have the producers of this state been so indebted to such a small group.

23 Minutes to Remember

1:05 p.m. Sunday. An August heat wave smothered Philadelphia with humidity. Young Mrs. Marie Rossi was watching television in her living room while her husband was out. In the bedroom napping under an electric fan was their three year old daughter Rosalie.

1:06 p.m. Mrs. Rossi went quietly upstairs. Little Rosalie was asleep a smile on her lips. Near the child's hand was an empty medicine bottle and one red pill. Sick with sudden panic, Mrs. Rossi saw the pink smear on Rosalie's cheek. She shook the child, no response.

1:07 Mrs. Rossi rushed downstairs to the phone and frantically dialed Dr. Perri. His office said he was away for the weekend, but Dr. Martino, his substitute, could be there in 30 minutes. Rush Rosalie to the hospital. The operator advised the doctor would meet them there.

1:08 Mrs. Rossi Called the police and asked for an emergency car.

1:11 Officers Hendricks and Wilson arrived. Wilson carried the silent unmoving child. He advised Mrs. Rossi to bring the prescription bottle and the remaining pill.

1:19 The police car arrived at the hospital's emergency entrance.

1:20 Rosalie was examined by doctors. Who had she swallowed? What had she swallowed? Mrs. Rossi could not remember what was in the bottle. The prescription was filled at a pharmacy in California; a doctor ordered the pills when she was in Los Angeles two years ago.

1:21 Dr. Howard Getz, an intern called the California Pharmacy long-distance. Meanwhile doctors washed out the child's stomach.

1:23 Los Angeles pharmacist Sameul Bronson picked up his phone at 10:23 a.m. Intern Getz gave him the number on the prescription label.

1:25 After checking his records (they went back 19 years) Pharmacist Bronson said prescription 108,602 was for 25 three quarter grain capsules of secobarbital, a sleeping pill.

1:26 Now that they knew what drug she had taken, physicians began giving Rosalie the treatment necessary to save her life.

1:29 Dr. Martino arrived. Dr. Getz told him what had happened and said that Rosalie was now out of danger. Mrs. Rossi would always remember those 23 minutes. That is how long it took—and only that long before her child's life was safe.

Once again members of a quick-thinking health team had saved a life because they had a system. And part of the system that brings you the best health care in the world is the pharmacist, the man in the white coat at the corner pharmacy who helps dispense the 630 million prescriptions a year that are written by American doctors. But what does the Pharmacist do? What is his system? In the first place, he stocks and must be familiar with some 2500 prescriptions items because pharmacies are scattered throughout the community you need is never far from you.

Secondly, the pharmacist is an authority on drugs. He has a college degree in Pharmacy earned through several years of study on how drugs affect people and is licensed by the state to practice his profession.

When Mrs. Rossi took her prescription to be filled in Los Angeles here's what the pharmacist did:

1. He first made sure he could read the doctor's handwriting items everything the doctor writes means something. The pharmacist can't make a mistake, of course. If there's any doubt in his mind, he telephones the doctor.

2. He dispensed the prescribed capsules. This might seem like an action that anybody could do; but the pharmacist must have a vast technical knowledge of drugs diseases and dosages. If the prescription must be compounded—made up of different medicines—he will measure the ingredients and mix them. Know-how is indispensable: Mrs. Rossi might have received from untrained hands a one and one-half grain instead of three quarter-grain capsule.

3. To be sure the ingredients will be preserved, the pharmacist selects the proper container (some medicines don't hold up unless they are in colored glass bottles; others must be airtight). A plain bottle was used for Mrs. Rossi's capsules.

4. Next the pharmacist transcribed the doctor's instructions to the label, adding a number to identify the prescription in his lifetime file. This number saved little Rosalie's life. The Pharmacist also put the doctor's prescription form in his files.

5. He then entered the prescription with its number in a record book. He first looked in this book when Dr. Getz called from Philadelphia.

6. The pharmacist rechecked every step for absolute accuracy.

7. Finally he naded Mrs. Rossi her prescription and underscored the doctor's instructions: These are sleeping pills Mrs. Rossi. You're to take one before retiring. Only when you need it.

In addition to filling prescriptions the pharmacist today is a kind of community healthworker.

For exam ple, he often acts as a drug consultant to doctors. A recent survey showed that 85 percent of physicians frequently telephone their local pharmacists to ask questions about new products. American Druggist magazine has estimated that the nation's doctors make about 125,000 telephone calls daily to pharmacists for information.

What about the costs of modern pharmaceutical service. Your prescription includes the cost of the ingredients, the pharmacy overhead and the professional fees of the pharmacist. Surveys show that the average retail for the pharmacy runs less than 5 cents for every dollar spent in the store. All in all modern pharmacy gives you high quality on the spot professional services for remarkably little. Because your paying for accuracy and knowledge that can save lives as Mrs. Rossi found out—you might even call it a bargain.

SCHOOL NEWS

More than 30 tenth-grade Wheeler high school students will take the three hour National Educational Development Tests Tuesday March 9, according to Arling Cordell Supt. of Schools.

"The NEDY battery," is a series of tests in English, social studies, mathematics, natural sciences and word usage which have been designed to measure each student's ability to apply basic learning skills rather than his ability to memorize particular facts or specific subject matter.

"They have been used in Wheeler School since 1959 as a help to students, parents and teachers in identifying strengths and weaknesses in each student's educational development and in making a realistic appraisal of his educational and vocational objectives," Cordell said. "In addition to these tests, several Jr. class students will take the National Merit Scholarship Tests on the same day. The NMST are used as a guide for distributing over five million dollars in college scholarships annually to almost 10,000 pupils."
