WHEELER SCHOOLS

Arting Cordell, Supt. My wife and I are so very grateful to our Board of Education who have been kind to us in giving us two weeks vacation beginning June 24 and extending through July 9. We are traveling to Tyler first to the Billy John Martins farm to Lake Charles, La., to the Jim Cordells and after that to someplace on the Gulf for a few days of sunshine and fishing.

Our plans for landscaping seem to have been very slow in coming to pass, but we hope to move quickly once the old buildings have been cleared out. Then grading, filling, moving in top soil, and planting perennial grasses and shrubs can begin. We are especially anxious, due to the ex-students reunion to be held in August, to have our campus beautified.

"Good luck and success to the Wilks family" in their new town of Tullia.

PLANNING PRIORITY GIVEN SWEETWATER WATERSHED

Wheeler--Planning priorities have at last been granted for the Watershed Protection and Water Conservation and Lower Sweetwater Creek in Gray and Wheeler Counties in Texas and Roger Mills and Beckham Counties in Oklahoma, according to information received by Gordon Stiles, Chairman of the Steering Committee for this project.

In a meeting of the Texas State Soil & Water Conservation Board and the Oklahoma State Soil Conservation Board held in Sayre, Okla. on May 5, 1967, an agreement was reached in relation to the planning of the Sweetwater Creek Watershed. The Texas Board agreed to grant planning priorities on the Upper Sweetwater Creek watershed and that part of the Lower Sweetwater Creek watershed in Texas if the Oklahoma Board saw fit to grant a priority on the Lower Sweetwater Creek watershed in Oklahoma.

On May 8, 1967, the Oklahoma State Soil Conservation board did grant a priority on the lower watershed in Oklahoma with the stipulation, however, that actual planning could not begin until previously granted priorities were completed.

We have recently been advised by Mr. Harvey Davis, Executive Director of the Texas State Soil Water Conservation Board, that in accordance with the agreement that was reached with the Oklahoma Board on May 5, 1967, the Texas Board, in a meeting on May 31, 1967, granted a planning priority for the Upper Sweetwater Creek watershed and that portion of the Lower watershed that is in Texas. Mr. Davis further stated that the total watershed must be planned at one time for several reasons. As an example, the hydraulic and economic data on the lower watershed will be needed in developing plans on the upper watershed. For these and other reasons it is necessary to plan the Upper and Lower watersheds as a unit. Therefore, it was agreed that the Texas Board would not request authorization for planning from the Soil Conservation Service until the Oklahoma State Soil Conservation Board advised the Texas Board of the date when planning could be initiated in Oklahoma.

According to the Field Examination Report conducted in 1962, there will be approximately 18 flood control structures located in the Upper watershed and 11 structures in the Lower watershed. Some of these dams will be of considerable size and will impound a large amount of water. When the Sweetwater Creek watershed project is complete, it will mean that hundreds of acres of fertile bottomland that has not been cultivated in the past because of the persistent flooding and sediment damage and other bottomland acres that have been cultivated irregularly and at great risk of being destroyed, will again be back in full production. It also means elimination of major flood damage to county roads and bridges, in addition to major pasture and farm building damages and livestock losses. These flood control dams will be built without cost to the landowner and will not remove one single acre of land from the county tax rolls. Suitable sites are available near Wheeler for municipal water.

For these and other reasons it is necessary to plan the Upper and Lower watersheds as a unit. Therefore, it was agreed that the Texas Board would not request authorization for planning from the Soil Conservation Service until the Oklahoma State Soil Conservation Board advised the Texas Board of the date when planning could be initiated in Oklahoma.

According to the Field Examination Report conducted in 1962, there will be approximately 18 flood control structures located in the Upper watershed and 11 structures in the Lower watershed. Some of these dams will be of considerable size and will impound a large amount of water. When the Sweetwater Creek watershed project is complete, it will mean that hundreds of acres of fertile bottomland that has not been cultivated in the past because of the persistent flooding and sediment damage and other bottomland acres that have been cultivated irregularly and at great risk of being destroyed, will again be back in full production. It also means elimination of major flood damage to county roads and bridges, in addition to major pasture and farm building damages and livestock losses. These flood control dams will be built without cost to the landowner and will not remove one single acre of land from the county tax rolls. Suitable sites are available near Wheeler for municipal water.

Barbecue Recipe

By Vivian C. Warminski
June is National Barbecue Month and with the advent of warm weather, the "outdoor chef" at your house is probably getting ready for this first debut of the season. Why don't you let him try one of these tasty barbecue sauce recipes?

Hot Barbecue Sauce: You'll need one cup tomato juice, 1/4 cup brown sugar, 1/4 cup lemon juice or vinegar, 1-8 teaspoon cayenne pepper, 1-8 teaspoon allspice, 1 bay leaf, 1 tablespoon diced green pepper, 1 teaspoon chili powder, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard and 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves.

Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Use as a marinade or for basting meat during cooking. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

Tart Barbecue Sauce: The recipe calls for 1 cup soy sauce, 1 cup salad oil, 1/2 cup lemon juice and 1 split garlic clove.

Combine soy sauce, salad oil and lemon juice. Mix to blend and add garlic clove. May be brushed on meat during cooking or used as a marinade. Makes 2 1/2 cups.

Barbecue Sauce is no good without the barbecue, so treat the whole family to one of the most favored of beef cuts, steak.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture recommends that you select 1 to 2 inch steaks from the rib, short loin or sirloin. For delicious eating, these cuts should have little connective tissue and some marbling of fat through the meat.

Start the Barbecue charcoal grill, 30 minutes to one hour before placing the steaks on the grill. The coals should be red and burned throughout.

The length of time that the steaks should remain on the grill depends on personal taste as well as how hot the coals are. A general rule would be, 1 inch steak, 10 minutes for a rare steak, 15 minutes for a medium and about 20-25 minutes for well done.

Congratulations to Brenda McCasland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey McCasland for winning a blue ribbon award on her Clothing Demonstration at State 4-H Round-up recently.
