MEMPHIS RALLY SHADES MUSTANGS 12-7

David Britt heavily favored Memphis Cyclones drove 75 yards in 12 minutes for a 12-7 victory over a bunch of Mustangs Friday night in Memphis. Superlatives or words could really describe the effort that the Wheeler Mustangs put forth in their effort to remain undefeated in district competition.

Don Davis capped the 75 yard drive when he plunged the last three yards at right tackle and only 2:49 showed on the clock.

The loss dropped the Mustangs into a tie with the Cyclones for second place in the standings with both trailing the Clarendon Broncos by a game.

The pace for the thrilling game was set right after the kickoff and it didn't slacken until the final seconds ticked off the clock and doomed the Mustangs bid for an upset.

On the first play from scrimmage, Larry Johnson, Memphis halfback, turned what looked like a running play on a reverse into a pass as he chunked the ball downfield to Bobby Hall on the Wheeler 35.

Cutting across the field, Lewis Britt downed Hall at the 27 and the Mustangs stopped the Cyclone surge at the 20.

Britt got a couple at the right side and on the Mustangs second play from scrimmage, Gary Fischer headed to his right on the option and as J.C. Brooks and Rusty Cole cleared the way, he cut inside the containing end and found daylight. Two Cyclones took up pursuit but there was no catching Fischer and 78 yards later the Mustangs had their quick lead.

Dale Stevens booted the extra point that looked like would be the margin until Davis' jaunt in the final period.

Johnson returned the ensuing kickoff 50 yards up the middle with Larry Rives making a touchdown saving tackle at the Wheeler 37.

Three plays just netted the Cyclones 7 yards and on the big fourth down effort, Jim Melton took a pitchout and found a small seam in the Mustangs defense as he hit the sideline around his right end. Melton tight roped the sideline to the end zone, and Memphis was back in the game with 7:06 to play in the first quarter and fans hadn't been in their seats as yet.

The extra point kick was wide to the right and the contest settled down to head knocking brawls with the Mustangs stopping the Cyclones four times in Wheeler's end of the field before giving up the final six points.

Stevens nearly broke the kickoff after the Memphis TD with Johnson hauling him down at the Cyclone 40.

A clipping penalty hurt the Mustangs on this possession and they had to punt from the 43.

The visiting Mustangs had another opportunity with the ball in Memphis territory in the first half when Dale Helton recovered a Melton fumble on the Memphis 47 and they picked up a first down at the 35 but were pushed back to the 38 where they lost the ball on downs.

Memphis drove the ball from their 38 to the Wheeler 25 after taking over but the Mustangs rose up and took over at the 21.

Melton attempted a sweep around his left end from the 22 but Cole, Rives, and Calvin Schreist threw him for a the second semester of this school year. She must possess to an outstanding degree the qualities of citizenship, dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism. This was a hard decision for the faculty to make from the outstanding girls in the 1972-73 Senior Class.

Gayle, along with other girls from high schools in the area, will be honored by the Las Pampas Chapter of DAR at Pampa. She will be eligible for a $100 U.S. Savings Bond and will receive a ribbon, certificate and award pin.

'SHARE YOUR LIFE' KIWANIS CLUB PROGRAM

On October 1 Kiwanis Clubs throughout the U.S. and Canada embarked upon a program called "Share Your Life." Purpose of the program is to encourage Kiwanis members to share their personal experience, knowledge and time with the people around them.

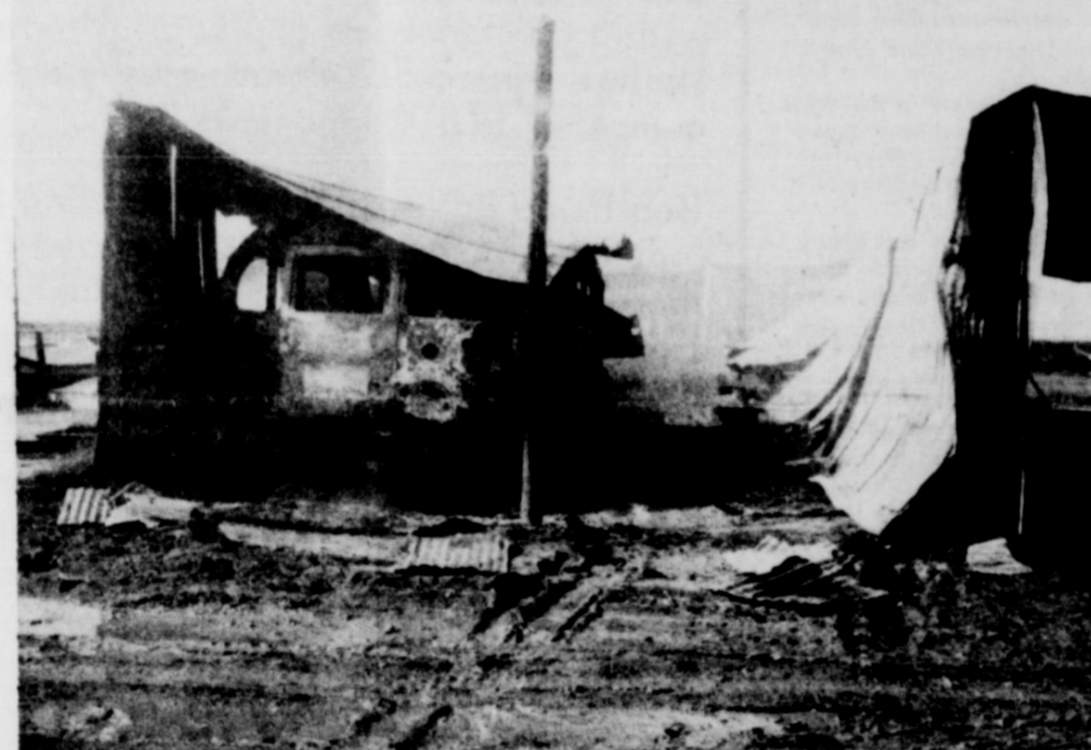

The Share Your Life program is an effort to motivate every Kiwanian to become a real participant in community service.

The Share Your Life program calls, specifically, for personal action by Kiwanians in the fields of service, the home, association with others, recreation, and exploration... aspects of life suggested by the letters composing the word "share," which is a part of the program's name.

In announcing the program, Badskey noted that mutual effort on the part of all segments of society - sharing - is absolutely essential in "a changing world like ours." He said that society's percentage of youth is growing at such a pace that by 1985 some 71.9 per cent of the estimated population of the U.S. will be in the 25 to 34 and the 35 to 44 year age brackets.

"The same is true of Canada," he said. "And," he added, "we must share - share the wisdom and experience of the older people with the enthusiasm and strength of the younger ones - if these two countries are to continue the hope of free men everywhere."

Badskey explained that the Share Your Life concept is not confined to Kiwanians and Kiwanis clubs alone. "Rather," he said, "it is the hope of Kiwanis that the ideal of sharing will extend to everyone... to make life more pleasant and more worthwhile, a dramatic counterbalance to the impersonality and cynicism which is so prevalent today."

ALLISON BUS BARN: A 1967 - 36 passenger bus was burned along with a 1972 station wagon in a fire which destroyed the bus barn at Allison Wednesday morning. The exact cause of the blaze is not known; the bus which burned had been warming up for around 10 minutes before the blaze was discovered. One bus was on its route and was not burned. The station wagon had less than 10,000 miles on it. Lloyd Hammond discovered the blaze as he was getting ready to make his run.

Wheeler and Claude In Battle of Mustangs Friday

Wheeler's Mustangs will be out to keep their championship hopes alive Friday night on Nicholson Field when they play host to the Mustangs of Claude.

This will be the last home contest for Wheeler and a win will keep the Mustangs headed for a showdown battle with Clarendon the last game of the season.

Claude is out of the district chase for all intents and purposes after suffering losses to both Memphis and Clarendon but can play spoilers for any hopes that Wheeler might have just as they did two years ago at the same site.

Claude was picked in pre season to be one of the teams to beat in the district and will put a veteran ball club on the gridiron this week.

The visiting Mustangs use a unique defense in stopping their opponents as they use what is called a stand up defense. All of the linemen are in an upright position and they do a lot of stunting which makes it difficult for the offensive team to block.

Wheeler came out of the heartbreaking loss to Memphis with injuries to two starters. Randy Hanks and J.C. Brooks reinjured an ankle and back respectively and it is unknown just how much they will be able to play in the Claude game. Wayne Wheeler, starting tackle for the Mustangs who missed the Memphis game, is back in good shape for Claude. The Wheeler coaching staff praised the entire Mustang team in their losing effort against Memphis.

"I have never seen a team give more effort than these kids did against Memphis and they deserved a better fate," Coach Jim Bateman said.

"Rick and Rusty were in on about 15 tackles each and Calvin did a great job at defensive end in leading our defense," the coach added.

The head mentor of the Mustangs went on to say, "Memphis had us outweighed about 30 pounds to the man and this hurt us in trying to keep a drive going but Gary and Lewis ran real good for us throughout the game especially since Memphis was keying on our off tackle attack and shut down our inside running."

Even though the Memphis loss was a bitter one, the coaching staff and team knows that it is now history and Claude is next on the agenda.

"Our kids will come back and get with Claude because they want to whip them and keep their chances alive,"

TUESDAY MORNING FIRE: The home and belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Kiker of the Briscoe Community were destroyed in a fire Tuesday morning. The fire was discovered around 4:30. Mr. Kiker was sleeping downstairs when the fire was discovered; it was necessary for him to get a ladder for Mrs. Kiker to climb down from her upstairs bedroom. The house was newly remodeled and a lot of new appliances and furniture had been added in the past year. Both the car and the pickup were lost in the fire. The Kikers had to walk a half mile to a neighbor's to report the fire.

County Commissioners Turn Down Bid For Pay Hike

In a called meeting of the Wheeler County Commissioners a 10% raise and a retirement for county employees was refused. A request for the raise and retirement was prepared by the grievance committee at the meeting Oct. 17.

The grievance committee requested a 10% raise for all county employees and officials and asked for a retirement program prescribed by the Texas Retirement System at the rate of 7%.

In voting down the request, the commissioners felt the committee had the right to request the raise but felt the committee was outside their rights in seeking the retirement. The request was proposed as one package, rather than two - a request for a raise and retirement program.

A new law passed during the last session of the state legislature provided for the creation of a salary grievance committee made up of county officials and three members of the grand jury with the county judge serving as chairman.

Elected officials who are members of the committee include County Clerk, Harry Wafford; Dist. Clerk, Paul Topper; Tax Assessor-Collector, Thurman Rives; Treasurer, P.L. Sivage, County Atty., Thurman Adkins and Sheriff, G.V. (Bus) Dorman.

Three members of the grand jury were selected at random to serve as members of the committee.

Members of the committee have said that, should the commissioners turn the proposals down, they will take their case to district court, seeking to have the commissioners legally forced to deal out the raises.

Band Boosters Sponsor Chili Supper

The Wheeler Band Boosters are sponsoring a Chili Supper prior to Friday evening's game with Claude. The serving will begin at 5:30 p.m. and continue until 7:00 p.m.

The money raised from the supper will go into the fund for the replenishing of band uniforms. With the number of band members increasing each year, the band is in need of additional uniforms.

Come on out and eat with the band and back the Mustangs at the game with Claude Friday, Nov. 3.

The cost of all the chili you can eat with a drink and dessert is a mere $1.00 per person.

ICE DAMAGE TO SHRUBS: This flowering Willow in the front yard of Mrs. Nelson Porter was one of the many trees and shrubs which were damaged by Tuesday's rain and freeze. The branch at the right touches the ground, but does not appear to be broken. A branch at the top is split. An elm in the back yard of Mrs. Porter's yard at 908 South Main broke at 9:00 p.m. and left her only with enough electricity for lights for the night.

Warning Against Animal Dumping

Bus Dorman, Sheriff, has announced that there is a problem with people dumping hogs along the roadside and polluting the area.

If you have a dead hog please take it to the Wheeler Veterinarian clinic and dump it in the area south of the clinic and let Dr. Hennard know. The rendering company will pick it up.

Mustangs came back and with fourth down facing them at their 32 they came up with a little razzle dazzle to keep their hopes alive. Three plays netted only 4 yards and the Mustangs had to relinquish the ball at midfield with 1:03 left.

"CRUSADERS" SAY THANKS

"The Crusaders" would like to express their appreciation to the people of Wheeler for making the bake sale a complete success last Saturday. Also "Thanks" to Warren's Grocery for giving us a place in which to have it.

Memphis JV Roms Mustang JV

The Memphis Junior Varsity handed the Wheeler JV's their sixth consecutive loss last Thursday to the tune of 33-0. Still in the game and trailing by 14 points early in the fourth period, Wheeler's hopes vanished as Memphis racked up two TD's in the space of three minutes.

Wheeler drove from their 41 to the Memphis 5 early in the game but lost the ball on downs. A 26 yard gainer on a pass from Mark Bateman to Van Chapman helped keep the drive going at the Memphis 14.

Memphis broke on the second play after holding Wheeler and the scoring run covered 93 yards with 1:06 to play in the opening quarter. The two point try was good to put the Wheeler JV down by eight.

Memphis killed a Wheeler journey into Cyclone country with a recovery of a Bateman fumble at the 31 and parlayed it into their second touchdown.

Nine plays were needed to put Memphis ahead by 14 and they took this margin to the dressing room for the halftime break of the cold night.

Midway in the third stanza, Memphis intercepted a pass at their 30 and returned it to the Wheeler 41 to set the stage for putting the game out of reach.

A fourth down pass covered 20 yards and it gave Memphis a first down at the Wheeler 3 yard line. It took Memphis a couple of plays to get it in and the lead mounted to 20-0 and remained that way as the kick failed.

A short punt to the Wheeler 49 put Memphis in good field position and they quickly got their fourth touchdown in just four plays, all of them on the ground.

Memphis put their final points on the board after a short drive of 31 yards in three thrusts on the ground.

Colts Lose To Memphis 18-8

The Wheeler Colts won the battle of statistics but lost the scoreboard to the Memphis Whirlwinds last Thursday 18-8 on cold Nicholson Field.

The Colts completely dominated the first two quarters of play but could only show 8 points for their efforts at halftime and the visiting Whirlwinds came back with a touchdown in each of the final quarters to get the win.

The scoreless first quarter saw the Colts get to the Memphis 14 and 7 and lose the ball each time with the ball going over on downs at the 14 and Memphis intercepting a pass in the end zone to quell the other threat.

Running harder than any other game this season, the Colt backs amassed 211 yards on the ground with David Massick lugging the leather a total of 40 times for 167 yards.

Failing to get it across the first two times they had the ball, the Colts finally hooked up a 44 yard scoring drive in the second quarter with Jim Verden getting the six pointer from 5 yards out. Massick rammed home the two points at right guard with 4:24 to play in the half.

Memphis came right back with a quick 7 play drive to paydirt that covered 64 yards but the run for the tying points failed as Frankenberg and Markham downed the ball carrier at the two.

Memphis got the go ahead touchdown after they blocked a punt by Verden and ran it back to the Colt 21. It took the Whirlwinds seven plays to push it across and they carried the four point lead into the fourth period.

Facing fourth and one with six minutes left in the game, the Colts went for the first down and Massick was stopped for no gain to give the Whirlwinds the ball at the Colt 24 and they got their Third TD on the first play for their final margin of victory.

The thermometer is setting in freezing tonight (Tues.) and it is drizzling. Sure a good time to stay at home. Probably by the time the paper is out we will be having sunshine and warm weather. However, "October's bright blue weather" that the poet wrote about has been very scarce this month. May be that weather is just delayed and we will have it in November.

Afterwards from a beautifully appointed table refreshments were served.

Watch for the date of our Christmas Cantata. It is that time of year again and the Methodist and Baptist choirs are beginning to work together for that highlight of the year. Really these Cantatas have proven to be something remarkable for small town choirs, and the friendship and co-operation of the people is wonderful.

Robert I. Patterson of Wheeler will receive an award for 15 years of service and Johnny Miley of Wheeler will receive a five-year award.

William H. Burford, district superintendent of Natural's field booster facilities in the Fritch area, will be master of ceremonies at the dinner.

Natural Gas Pipeline is one of the nation's largest gas transmission firms and is the principal supplier to 48 gas utilities, including the four major gas companies in the greater Chicago area. Natural operates more than 10,000 miles of pipeline and each year delivers nearly 80 per cent of the natural gas used in the Chicago Metropolitan area.

The girls got together as a result of a slumber party where they began singing together. They represent all religions and have been singing at revivals in several different churches in the area. Members of the group include (Back) LaQuinta Boydston, Jackie Donaldson and Shonda Rainey. (Front) Cindy Chandler, Beverly Cornell and Vicki Ralston.

EMERGENCY LOAN BENEFITS

Texas farmers and ranchers who have suffered crop, livestock or property losses from a natural disaster since June 30, 1971, may be eligible for benefits from Public Law 92-385, J. Lynn Futch, State Director of Farmers Home Administration-Texas, announced today.

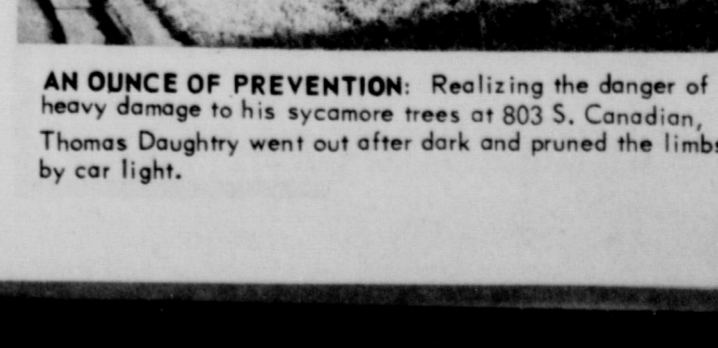

Provisions of this law, signed by President Nixon on August 16, 1972, are now fully operative, Futch said. Benefits are divided into two time frames:

1. Farmers and ranchers who received loans from Farmers Home Administration as the result of losses due to a natural disaster that occurred between June 30 and December 31, 1971, may be eligible for a cancellation of up to $5,000 of the principal of the loan. Interest on the remaining loan would be three percent.

2. Those who received loans as the result of losses from natural disaster that occurred after December 31, 1971, are also eligible for a cancellation of up to $5,000. Interest on the outstanding balance would be charged at one percent.

Futch emphasized that it is not necessary for those who are entitled to benefits to contact the local FHA office. These are blanket provisions applicable to all who have received loans, and each will be contacted and told of the action he should take.

Futch also advises that any farmer or rancher who receives an Emergency loan from Farmers Home Administration between now and June 30, 1973, may have up to the first $5,000 of the loan cancelled, with the balance at a one percent interest rate. The amount of cancellation is limited to the loss or damage not compensated by insurance or otherwise.

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION: Realizing the danger of heavy damage to his sycamore trees at 803 S. Canadian, Thomas Daughtry went out after dark and pruned the limbs by car light.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Mystery Mishap

At 7:13 p.m., in the main dining room of a large hotel, a mirror suddenly fell from the wall and landed on the head of an unsuspecting diner.

No one could figure out exactly why the mirror had fallen. Nevertheless the diner, painfully injured, filed a lawsuit for damages against the hotel.

"He has no case," the management argued in court. "He cannot point to any specific thing we did wrong."

But the court upheld the man's claim. "Mirrors do not ordinarily fall off walls," reasoned the court, "unless someone is negligent."

The court was invoking a famous legal doctrine known as res ipsa loquitur—"the thing speaks for itself." This doctrine is widely used when there is no direct, eyewitness evidence of an act of negligence. Weighing the odds, the law decides that an act of negligence—even though unseen—probably did occur.

Thus:
Using res ipsa loquitur, a court found negligence when a car, parked on a steep slope, started to roll downhill. Chances were good, said the court, that the driver had neglected to set his brakes and cramp his front wheel against the curb.

Also using res ipsa loquitur, another court found negligence when a housewife encountered a piece of glass in a newly opened can of spinach. Chances were good, said the court, that someone in the canning factory had been careless.

But the mere fact that an accident has happened does not necessarily justify the use of the doctrine. Consider this situation: A woman climbing down from a trolley lost her footing and fell to the pavement. Demanding damages later from the trolley company, she said the car had probably moved just as she was getting off.

But the court said there was an equal probability that she herself had simply failed to watch her step. With no odds in her favor, said the court, she could not use res ipsa loquitur to win her case.

PRESEASON HARVESTER PREP PROMOTES POSTSEASON PROFITS

"A preseason overhaul can assure that cotton harvesting machinery will give trouble-free performance—a must to maximize profits from the cotton crop," says Roy Childers, area agricultural engineer-cotton mechanization, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Lubbock.

The first step in preseason preparation is checking out the power unit. The ignition system should be checked to see that all wires, coil, points and spark plugs are in good condition. Any water and/or dirt should be removed from the fuel tank, sediment bowl, filter and carburetor. The cooling system should be checked for proper coolant level and condition of fan belts, hoses and radiator cap.

The transmission needs to be checked to see if it is operating properly, the oil level is correct and the oil is in good condition. The condition and adjustment of the clutch should also be checked. Final drive oil level and condition should be inspected. Check the steering components for excessive end play or binding. Grease all components and check the oil level in the gear box.

The condition of the battery cables and battery water level should be inspected. Also, check the ammeter and voltage regulator for proper operation. The rear safety lights and running lights need to be operating properly.

Tires, tubes, and valve stems need to be examined closely for evidence of dry rot. Look for cuts, excessive tread wear and proper inflation.

The hydraulic systems (power steering, basket dump, head adjustment, etc.) should also receive proper attention. Check the oil level and condition in all reservoirs. The condition of filters, filler caps, hoses and cylinders should also be inspected. All cylinders should operate properly without leaks.

After the power unit is ready, the harvesting unit should be thoroughly inspected. Parts of cotton strippers such as brushes, augers, gates, bearings, belts, bushings, springs, and chains should be checked and replaced if worn. Plant

The Place for Deals

When you see the Capitol of Texas you can feel the power of your government. You can see the heritage of the past. Sometimes you wonder where we're headed today. Because, to many people, this building has become known as the place for deals, for stock scandals and fraud.

It is your responsibility to preserve the traditions of pride and service that the Texas Capitol stands for.

On Tuesdays there will be some Republicans on your ballot. They believe in competition. They want a two-party system that keeps government on its toes.

Republicans are running for local offices, the Legislature, and the state-wide offices. What they are asking is a chance to perform, to serve, to restore this building as a place of pride for Texans.

Texas Republican Election Committee

Why You Should Re-Elect President Richard Nixon Nov. 7

LET'S LOOK At AGRICULTURE And STOCK RAISING

WE HAVE one of the most abundant supplies of food in history. Our exports of livestock, fresh meats, grain sorghums and grain are going to add many dollars to the general economy.

WE'RE SELLING COMMODITIES of which we've had surpluses—and we're helping provide jobs on trucks and ships at the same time.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE REASONS

PRESIDENT NIXON'S AGRICULTURAL ACT OF 1970 gave producers more flexibility and freedom in operations.

PRESIDENT NIXON'S ADMINISTRATION has turned around the farm situation that saw farmers get an increase in income of 6 per cent between 1951 and 1969 while wage rates went up 6 per cent every year.

PRESIDENT NIXON gave agriculture one of the most effective spokesmen in recent history by appointment of Earl Butz as Secretary of Agriculture.

Across the Fence

BY: Max Hatter, CEA

The rain was welcome. Over an inch fell in most areas of the county. It brought milo harvesting to a standstill. Most cotton farmers are ready for a frost that they hope will put them in the fields by Thanksgiving.

We received the forage samples from our grass observation plot last week. The results were as follows:

Ermelo Weeping Lovegrass - 12.2% crude protein, Aug-10.1 and Avg. - 12.1; Morpa Weeping Lovegrass, 15.2% Crude Protein, August - 11.8 and Avg. - 13.5; Klein Grass 75 - 16.7% Crude Protein, August - 15.1 and Avg. - 15.9; Old World Bluestem - 13.8% Crude Protein, August - 7.1 and Avg. - 10.5; Wintergreen Hardinggrass - 23.2% Crude Protein (May) - 17.3 (Oct.) and Avg. - 20.3; and Kentucky 31 Fescue - 20.4% Crude Protein (May) - 15.2 (Oct.) and 17.8 Avg.

This forage analysis goes a long way in showing that keeping the grass tender will result in a high protein forage all during the growing season. Keep this in mind when grazing any of the permanent introduced grasses. Manage those pastures!

Can you imagine grazing 340 head of stocker steers on 40 acres of weeping lovegrass? That's over $55,000 worth of cattle. In planning for a result demonstration program on irrigated lovegrass this spring, these are the numbers we came up with. We'll keep you posted as this demonstration shapes up.

Grady Dodd says feedlot manure helped him produce 6,500 pounds of irrigated milo to the acre. This is the highest yield on irrigated milo that we've heard about. Grady thought enough of it that he's outfitted a truck and spreader for next year's program.

A ton of manure contains about 35 pounds of nitrogen, 25 pounds of phosphorus and 43 pounds of potassium. Ten tons of manure applied per acre would be the equivalent of about 150 pounds of actual nitrogen since it is generally recognized that 50% of the manure will mineralize the first year. We are seriously considering putting down 10 tons of feedlot manure to the acre on the irrigated lovegrass research demonstration planned for this spring.

Don't water the Ivy Leaves! Ivy, found in many Texas homes and also used outdoors as a wall and ground cover, is sometimes damaged by leafspots caused by fungi and bacteria. The plant is not disease-free as some homeowners may think.

Bacterial leafspot and stem canker are more common on English ivy. The spots are light green and water soaked at first but later turn brown or black with reddish margins.

The most common leaf-spot caused by fungus is Amerosporium leafspot. The fungus produces large tan to brown spots on the leaves. The spots may enlarge and cover most of the leaf surface.

To control leafspots on ivy, avoid wetting the foliage when watering the plant. If the infection is light and only a few leaves are spotted, pick the leaves from the plant and destroy them. Other plant parts that are diseased should also be removed and destroyed during the fall.

After all diseased material is removed, make one or two applications of a copper based fungicide. Be sure to follow the rates recommended on the fungicide label. Repeat the spray applications again next spring when new growth appears.

Tom Christian State Representative

TOM CHRISTIAN "stop wasteful spending"

As the parents of four children, Tom and Anne recognize the responsibility of providing a wholesome atmosphere around the home and neighborhood. Food, clothing, medical bills... all must be paid out of take-home pay. Waste in government spending creates an unnecessary tax burden on every family.

TOM CHRISTIAN "more jobs, better wages"

With the knowledge that comes from first-hand experience, Tom knows that new industries are needed to create more jobs. His ability to work with all levels of government to create job opportunities for the Panhandle is proven by his efforts in helping to establish the Texas State Technical Institute.

TOM CHRISTIAN "water is vital to us"

Tom, a Navy veteran, is a man who has earned a living by farming and ranching. He knows the need for water. Conservation and increased supply are two key factors in the program that must be developed to meet future water needs. Tom has earned a reputation in the Texas Legislature as an effective leader in the agriculture industry.

Field Day Is Scheduled For Flail Cotton Shredders

The St. Lawrence Cotton Insect Control Association and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will host a field day on flail-type cotton shredders at St. Lawrence in Glasscock County at 9 a.m. on Nov. 15, 1972, according to Roy Childers, area agricultural engineer-cotton mechanization, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Lubbock.

The field day will be held at the St. Lawrence Community Center, located 10 miles south of Garden City on FM33 and then 5 miles west on FM 2874.

The field day has been scheduled as an effort to demonstrate the use of flail-type shredders on destruction of cotton stalks and of overwintering pink bollworm larvae in seed cotton residue left in the field after harvest.

The flail-type shredders will be on display and then taken to the field for a performance demonstration. The flail-type stalk shredders have been superior to the conventional rotary-type shredders on destruction of overwintering pink bollworms left in the field after harvest.

Cotton producers have not utilized flail shredders in the past because of initial cost, maintenance, and operation cost, time required to shred an acre of stalks, etc. However, implement companies have made many improvements on operation and performance of flail shredders in the past few years.

"We will have several implement companies on hand to demonstrate their flail-type shredders at the field day. The field day program has been arranged so that interested people may come in the morning or in the afternoon or come and spend the day," the specialist added.

Cotton producers in the area will be interested in attending this field day. The field day will be very informative and of great interest to cotton producers who want to destroy pink bollworms this winter, rather than during the 1973 cotton season.

2. Bob Price is our neighbor and owns a ranch. He is a tax payer in our area. He knows our kind of problems.
3. If you vote for Bob Price's opponent you will vote for a man who is bound to take orders from the ten men who pledged $150,000.00 toward his election. WOULD HE REPRESENT YOUR INTERESTS OR THOSE TEN?
4. BOB CAN GET THINGS DONE THAT HIS OPPONENT CANNOT. Bob Price is a close friend of President Nixon and Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz; so his voice will be heard.

Burrell-Honeycutt Vows Are Exchanged

Wedding vows were exchanged by Ladona Kay Burrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Burrell of Twitty and Mr. Michael Honeycutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Honeycutt of Pampa on Oct. 14 in the Kelton First Baptist Church, Kelton.

Miss Elaine Bryant, pianist, played appropriate music while guests were seated. She accompanied Mrs. Jerry Killingsworth as she sang, "For All We Know," and "The Wedding Prayer." The traditional wedding processional and recessional were played by the pianist. The altar setting featured double-branched candelabras entwined with garlands of simlax. White tapers cast an illumination of candlelight around a sunburst arrangement of white mums and pompons.

Pews were marked with yellow satin bows. Miss Teresa Burrell, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Miss Carlinea Smith of Duncan, Oklahoma, cousin of the bride, and Miss Elisha Burrell, sister of the bride, were the bridesmaids. Little Miss Robin Brown, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

The attendants' dresses were made of satin overlaid with chiffon in the brides chosen colors of lavender, yellow and lime green. The A-line style featured an empire waistline with full sheer sleeves. Each attendant carried a double rose tied with matching ribbon to blend with the color of her dress.

The flower girl was attired in a yellow crepe floor length dress with puff sleeves. She carried a basket filled with rose petals. Kelly Burrell, brother of the bride, and Glenda Honeycutt, sister of the bridegroom, were candle lighters.

Michael McCollum of Pampa served as best man. Groomsmen were Wendell Honeycutt, brother of the bridegroom, and Scotty Davis, both of Pampa. Serving as ushers were Mark Burrell, brother of the bride and Curtis Davis, uncle of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white bridal satin featuring a gathered skirt at the waist line and long tapered sleeves. The shirt waist was buttoned with tiny pearl buttons. Wide gathered applique illusion lace formed a stand up collar and accented the sleeves at the shoulder. The illusion lace overlaid the skirt where it joined with the lace encircling the full skirt giving a hooped effect to the carpet length gown.

The bride's veil was of double illusion net held by sheer rose petals sprinkled with sparkle, sequins and seed pearls. The lower veil extended into a chapel-length train. The elbow-length veil was edged with lace matching the gown trim.

The bride carried a nosegay of white feathered carnations set in lily of the valley and surrounded with white miniature roses in net. A shower of white satin streamers tied with love knots cascaded from the bouquet.

Rev. James Conner, pastor, officiated in the double ring ceremony. Following the ceremony, a reception was held by the bride's parents in the fellowship hall of the church.

The bride's table was laid with yellow net cloth over yellow satin and featured an arrangement of orchid roses and greenery. The three-tiered heart-shaped cake was accented with lavender and yellow flowers. A miniature bride and groom atop the cake completed the decorations. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Mrs. Martha Salem served the cake and Mrs. Barbara Brown presided at the punch bowl. Both are aunts of the bride. For travel, Mrs. Honeycutt selected a purple velvet pant suit and a gold blouse with purple dots.

The couple will be at home at 216 N. Wells in Pampa where he is employed at Crall Products, following a short trip. She will continue her schooling at Pampa College of Hairdressing.

The New Testament Church
It's Creed

BY: Marlon McWilliams

The church set forth in the New Testament has a creed, but not of human origin. Our confession is not in a set of rules and dogmas, but in the Divine Sonship of the Lord Jesus Christ. Indeed, OUR CREED IS CHRIST.

We believe that Jesus was a good man, a great teacher, a great philosopher, a great leader and a great ruler. But our belief in Him goes much further. We might believe all of these facts and still be rank infidels. In fact, nearly all infidels do believe in Jesus to this extent. But we believe in Jesus as "the Christ, the Son of the living God." It is upon the confession of this great truth that the church of the Lord Jesus Christ rests (Matt. 16:16-19). This is the confession made by God the Father when Jesus was baptized (Matt. 3:16-17), and again at the time of His transfiguration (Matt. 17:5). It is the same confession made by Jesus Himself which cost Him His earthly life (Matt. 26:63-64, Mk 14:60-65). It is the confession made by the Ethiopian officer (Acts 8:36-38). It is the same confession made by all the early Christians (Rom 10:9-10; Eph. 3:14).

Belief in Jesus Christ as the Son of the living God means that He is much more than a good man, a great teacher, a great philosopher and a great ruler. It means that He is Divine; that He is God incarnate. It means that He was, and is perfect in all His ways—a perfect teacher, a perfect philosopher, a perfect ruler, and a perfect propitiation of our sins. It means that He is our King Supreme. He is supreme in His nature and character; supreme in His wisdom and righteousness; supreme in His authority and power; supreme in His decisions and judgment.

A clear conception of these sublime facts will clear away all of our problems in regard to the Bible. We believe the Bible, not merely because of its antiquity, or some tradition which has grown up around it; we believe the Bible because it is a revelation of the mind of God. Jesus Christ, the only begotten Son of God, stands midway between the Old and New Testament. Looking back upon the Old Testament, He gives His full endorsement to it, including the story of Jonah and the whale; and looking forward to the New Testament, He is the bedrock authority for all of it. We accept all of the Old Testament writings because Jesus, the Son of the living God, placed His stamp of approval upon them. We cannot believe in Him as the Christ of God without believing both the Old and the New Testaments.

We do not go to the Old Testament to learn how to become Christians, how to enter the kingdom of God today, how to worship God when we meet together in our assemblies for worship, or how to serve God in our daily lives. But from the Old Testament we do learn of God's dealings with His people in ages past. His regard for man, for truth and uprightness. From it we can learn to respect God's judgment, what it means to obey or disobey His commands, and the consequences of our obedience or our disobedience to His will.

But if we want to know how to enter the kingdom of God today, how to become God's children, how to worship Him in our public assemblies, how to conduct ourselves as His children at this present time, then we turn to the New Testament. We do not believe in baptism because of any special merit that it carries. We do not believe in partaking of the Lord's supper because of any inherent good which we derive from it. We do not believe in prayer solely because of its psychological value to ourselves. First of all, we believe in Jesus Christ as the Son of the living God. In accepting Him as such we must accept His teachings, His authority, His judgments and His absolute right to direct all of our ways. We cannot substitute our own reasoning, our own conclusions, or our own desires for absolute belief in Christ as God's son and for His authority.

Upon this ground and it alone can all believers in Christ be united. On no other basis can we ever agree. All of the angels and archangels might assemble in council for eons but never could they draw up a constitution for the church of the living God. With the followers of Jesus Christ scattered over the face of the whole earth, all with their own peculiar bits of reasoning, likes and dislikes, they could never be united on any human creed, any set of dogmas, or under any earthly authority. God very well this long before the church was established. Hence He gave us a living creed centered in the Divinity of the living Christ who was raised from the dead to die no more. He is the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. By faith in Him alone can we all unite as a mighty army, against one common enemy—the forces of evil—and with one common goal, the ultimate triumph over the powers of darkness, and an entrance into the eternal Paradise of God, where evil, disputings, parties, strife, and warring factions have no place.
