

Simulated Bomb Mission

Strategic Air Command bomber crews must be kept combat-ready in peacetime in order to fulfill any future wartime missions. To help insure this readiness radar bomb scoring is used to test the effectiveness of all crews.

Radar bomb scoring began in 1946 with 888 bomb releases for the year against a site in San Diego, Calif. SAC bomber crews complete more than 10,000 simulated bomb drops.

During early phases of bomb scoring, crews attempt to drop sand bags or dummy bombs on circles drawn on the ground. Today, highly sophisticated electronic apparatus scores the accuracy of simulated bomb drops by SAC crews. The target can be any object within the eyes of the scanning radar devices.

The electronic equipment is operated & maintained by SAC technicians located at RBS detachments. The detachments consist of several trailer vans and are divided into fixed, mobile, and semi-mobile sites. This electronic equipment is periodically moved to unfamiliar target areas.

Scoring bomb missions with radar gives crews realistic training in the use of radar bombing against all kinds of targets, day or night in all kinds of weather. Navigator bombardiers receive practice in recognizing terrain features, rail centers, factories and other structures used as reference points as they appear on radar scopes.

Using a combination of radio and radar contact between aircraft and the RBS site, the effectiveness of combat crews is scored without having to drop bombs. Bombs are not carried training missions.

RBS radars lock-on the approaching bomber, tracking it automatically on a plotting board. Just before the simulated release of the bomb, the aircraft transmits a tone to the RBS site by radio. The point of simulated bomb release is indicated by stopping the tone. The target and the radar site have been precisely plotted on the tracking board prior to this action.

By using figures of distance, direction of the bomber from its target, the aircraft's ground speed, heading, altitude, wind conditions, bomb fall characteristics and other data, RBS technicians compute the accuracy of the particular bombing mission. They can determine if the target was hit, and if not, by how far and in what direction it was missed.

USAF Radar Site Now Located Near Kokomo

These missions are of value because SAC can train its combat crews in bombing techniques under conditions that closely simulate those of wartime.

Runs against RBS targets are made by SAC B-52s and FB-111s; both aircraft can penetrate defenses from either high or low altitudes. When SAC aircraft fly low altitude missions they remain at least 500 feet above the terrain at all times and fly at subsonic speeds, which cause no sonic booms.

The Federal Aviation Administration agreement with SAC assures maximum safety during low-level flying, since civilian aircraft are informed which planned routes are in use by SAC bombers. During bad weather, no civilian aircraft are cleared along or through the routes while they are being used by the bombers.

AARP To Hold Meet Sept. 26

All members of AARP (American Association of Retired Persons) and other interested parties are invited to a meeting on Sept. 26, at 7:00 p.m. in the Reddy Room. Formation of an Eastland Chapter of the AARP will be discussed under the guidance of Mr. Carlos Val. Smith, Assistant to the State Director.

AARP is a nation-wide, non-profit, non-partisan society of Americans who have reached age 55, whether retired or still working. Total membership has passed 7½ million and is increasing rapidly. In the United States there are more than 2,000 chapters; in Texas alone there are more than 260. Local chapter opens the opportunity to form new friendships and get in closer touch with community services. If you are a member of AARP or wish to inquire about membership, please call 442-2567, Extension 27.

UF Kick-off Oct. 2

Thursday is DECISION DAY for Eastland's United Fund Campaign—that's the day when participating agencies and organizations which want to participate, make their requests known to the local UF officials.

President Norris Starr has asked that directors meet beginning at 9:30 a.m. at the Eastland National Bank Conference Room for a brief meeting prior to the agency appearances beginning at 10 a.m.

Persons representing organizations which are not presently members of the United Fund are requested to appear at the Conference Room at 1:30 p.m. to make presentations. The directors will make up the 1975 budget immediately following the presentations and the Fund Drive will be kicked off with a donut-coffee on Thursday, Oct. 2, at 10 a.m. at the same Conference Room.

The theme for the drive is "A Day's Pay—the Fair Share Way". Jim Wortman is drive chairman, and H.T. Wilson, Advance Gifts Chairman, has already made the initial mailing.

Ron Patton was elected vice president and has named Director Ken Reese as assistant drive chairman. These two will lead the UF effort next year.

Directors also include Tommy Crowder, Margaret DeFord, Sue Watkins, David Martin, Don Martin, Paul Edwards, David Mohon, James Reid, Don Nicholas, H.V. O'Brien, W.L. Simmel, Rodger Terrell, Richard Watson, Ken Reese and Bob Chellette.

Each agency will be given 15 minutes for their presentation and each is asked to present its operating statement from last year and to submit the names of members who will assist with the fund drive this year.

Purpose of United Fund is to establish and maintain one fund drive for all organizations, for operating budgets only. The UF does not contribute for capitol improvements.

USDA Officials Visit Thursday

Eastland's High School Hill and its proposed beautification and conservation project will be the center of interest when top U.S. Department of Agriculture officials visit Eastland County Thursday.

On a tight schedule through the state, the officials picked Eastland as one of only two in this four-county district.

Visiting will be Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Robert Long of Washington, D.C.; Soil Conservation Service Administrator Mel Davis of Washington, D.C.; State Conservationist Edward Thomas of the SCS, of Temple, and others.

District Conservationist Ronald Bailey and School Board President James Reid will meet the delegation and a tour of the high school hill project will be held before the delegation departs for Stephenville by way of Lake Leon where other projects will be viewed.

Thursday night the group will meet with the Executive Council of the Resource Conservation and Development Project in Stephenville. Representing Eastland County on the Executive Council are Sam Powers of Desdemona and H.V. O'Brien of Eastland. County Judge Scott Bailey will also attend the Stephenville meeting.

The RC&D project is a local project, usually covering several counties in which residents work to improve their economy through conservation, development and better utilization of their natural resources.

Attending the dinner were the Board members and their wives: Dr. Thomas Lawrence, Executive Director of ESC/14, Dr. Robert Maniss, Assistant Director, and their wives; and various professional staff members of the regional schools and ESC/14.

The dinner was followed by a brief business meeting for the purpose of reorganizing the Board. The following officers were elected: Elbert E. Hall of Abilene, Chairman; James C. Rominger of Breckenridge, Vice Chairman; and J.L. Browning of Snyder, Secretary.

Board members are elected from the 13 counties served by the Education Service Center for a three year term and may serve a maximum of two terms. Michael Siebert, Eastland, was elected at an earlier meeting to replace the retiring Mr. Perry.

The Harvey Bashams visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Joe Basham and Monica of Austin over the weekend. Lonnie is a teacher at Del Valle just outside of Austin.

PRETTY 1976 automobiles are arriving at Eastland dealers' showrooms and excitement mounts as the new models come in - - and isn't it funny the way your old bus starts acting up just as the new editions come along. The local dealers can handily take care of those problems for you when you visit them.

PORCH SITTING was a topic here recently and we've had all kinds of comments, mostly to the effect that, yes sir, we're all refinding the joy as the season turns from summer to fall. Of course, there's still many who hold it to be a primitive practice, but then you've got to remember that they are probably the same people who have never brushed their teeth with baking soda either. But we've found that there's a real art to pure porch sitting, and a number of calibres of sitters. For instance there's the category that holds that one must be doing something constructive - - shelling peas, crocheting, etc., or at least reading. These are the types who feel you just can't waste a minute, and no doubt they do their thing better in an aluminum lawn chair, or maybe an old rocker from their porch. But you also find that there are dyed-in-the-wool, dedicated-to-the-bone porch sitters, and when they sit, they do nothing else. These even hold that dozing is not permitted: they reason that sleeping is not intended for the porch. The true sitters just sit and gaze; maybe rock slowly, but nothing more. Just sit. This group appears to be in the majority, and you wonder if the practice could date back to this area's practice of uranium sitting of a few years ago. But then that's another story.

BUSY DAY Thursday with the United Fund Screening. That's when the organizations ask for funds and their needs. Eastland over the years has adopted a One Drive Policy to make it easy for all, and the majority apparently appreciate this approach as the United Fund has never registered a failure. There are some agencies who cannot participate, and some who prefer not to, and this in itself causes problems. For instance some want to distribute information as they solicit for their cause, and this is understandable. The local UF rules exclude those who hold their own drives and those who want to use the funds for capitol improvements. The UF money is intended to help as many as possible with operating money. President Norris Starr and Drive Chairman Jim Wortman are to be complimented for accepting their jobs again this year. They were super successful last year, and they and their directors this year have their work cut out for them.

Now's a good time for all of us to be thinking about our own personal business commitment to the UNITED FUND.

Mrs. Ruby Cavanaugh has returned from an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cavanaugh of West Wego, La.

Cisco Educator Dies Suddenly

Carlos J. Turner died enroute to Dallas about 8:00 p.m. Monday night. He was being transferred from E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital to Dallas.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 10:00 at the Cisco Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. C.C. Schultz, pastor, of the First United Methodist Church, officiating.

Burial was in Eastland Cemetery directed by Cisco Funeral Home.

He was born July 23, 1908, in Eastland. He was married to the former Hazel Haynes on Oct. 11, 1935, in Carbon. He was a school teacher and administrator and taught in Cisco High School, Cisco Junior College, and Fort Davis. He was a member of Cisco Lions Club and Phi Delta Kappa and First United Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife of the home; one son, John of Odessa; two brothers, J.W. and Elbert Turner both of Eastland; one sister, Mrs. George McWilliams of San Antonio.

My brother makes a great barbecue sauce. It's not only good on steaks; it's also wonderful for getting the fire started.

FULLEN MOTOR CO. PUNCH LINE OF THE WEEK

Mavs Motor To Albany

This is Albany Week for Eastland football teams. A trio of Albany teams will be in Maverick Stadium Thursday evening, and the Mavericks go to Albany Friday for the next and last in their series of pre-conference duels.

Action Thursday begins at 5 p.m. when the Seventh Grade Teams play, followed at 6 by the Eighth Graders and at 7:30 by the Junior Varsities.

The Maverick kickoff Friday in Albany will be at 8 p.m., and the Eastland squad will be taking a 2-1 record to Albany, having lost only to DeLeon this past Friday. The Mavericks have an open date on Oct. 3, and move into conference play on Oct. 10, at Coleman.

The three lower Eastland teams swept as many victories here last week against DeLeon squads.

Anson downed Albany 56-6 last week, but the Lions are considered tough, so says, "Texas Football".

Coming Events

AN INVITATION

We would like to extend to a special invitation to attend the 1975 Annual County-wide Senior Citizens' Bicentennial Bazaar. The Bazaar will be open to the public with a special opening ceremony of Friday, October 3, at 9:30 a.m. The Bazaar and the special opening program will be held at the Victor Cornelius building, 306 East Main Street, in Eastland.

This is a county-wide project, and we are striving to top last year's record where 78 Senior Citizens of Eastland County exhibited and sold over $1,300 in the two-day sale.

We are anticipating an outstanding Bazaar, and hope it will be convenient for you to join us in recognizing the outstanding abilities of our Eastland County Citizens.

Sincerely, Mrs. Janet Thomas County Extension Agent Eastland County

Olney Savings To Open Branch Office

The Savings and Loan Department has approved the request of Olney Savings Assn. for a branch office at 200 S. Seaman, Eastland.

Savings and Loan Commissioner W. Sale Lewis announced approval of the branch office in a letter to Austin attorney Dudley McCalla, who represented the association in its request. Lewis asked to be advised when the branch opens for business.

The application was set for hearing by the department on Sept. 15, but Lewis dispensed with a hearing after no protest was received.

STATE CAPITAL

Highlights AND Sidelights

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Campaigns for and against the proposed new state constitution already are generating lots of heat.

Texas Press Association, Texas Daily Newspaper Association and Texas Association of Broadcasters got a broad introduction in a day-long pro and con seminar here last week.

A day later, Citizens for the Texas Constitution, leaders of the revision change, held their statewide kick-off meeting launching a six-weeks public information effort before the November 4 election.

The opposition group, Citizens to Preserve the Texas Constitution (the present one, that is), already was doing lots of kicking. Its statewide steering committee broadened steadily, picking up such members as former Gov. Preston Smith and Court of Criminal Appeals Presiding Judge John F. Onion Jr.

Former Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert, head of the revision forces, summarized arguments for the new constitution. Eight proposals on the November 4 ballot modernize Texas' basic laws and "provide benefits for the people which cannot be achieved under the old document."

Further, argued Calvert, the revision submitted by the legislature would "go a long way to stop wasteful spending in state government and provide equity and relief for the individual taxpayer."

Not so, countered Sen. Peyton McKnight of Tyler for the opposition. The new document would "lead to new taxes on an unprecedented scale," contended McKnight. Further, he maintained, it would give the legislature "power to do about anything it wants at the expense of the people."

Much opposition, as anticipated, centered on proposed annual legislative sessions and a commission to pass on legislators' salaries. Tax provisions also came under heavy opposition fire.

Highways Slated

If costs keep going up and income doesn't, the State Highway Department says in another six or seven years it may have barely enough money to maintain the present 71,000-mile road system.

Major new construction could be out of the question if the state hasn't the cash to match federal building funds. Gasoline tax and motor vehicle registration income, which traditionally increased at six or seven per cent a year, is no longer growing much. Meanwhile, construction costs have doubled since 1967.

The Highway Department, as explained here previously, is studying its manpower needs with a view to reduced payrolls. Some districts already have reduced their work forces.

Mowing along highway rights-of-way also has been reduced to save money.

Discount Expiring

Ten percent discounts on auto insurance premiums for 35,000 Texans may be lost this fall unless they re-take defensive driving courses.

Those who passed the National Safety Council course in accident avoiding three years ago can renew their discount eligibility for an additional 36 months by completing another eight-hour course.

New films and visual aids, new information on traffic laws, driving habits, road design and engineering innovations are available, according to State Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie.

More than 400,000 Texans have completed the course during the last three years, and statistics indicate they have 32 per cent fewer accidents, Christie said. The discount is also available to motorcycle operators.

Courts Speak

A federal judge in Washington, D. C. refused to block publication of Census Bureau statistics which will bring Texas under punitive provisions of the federal Voting Rights Act. Further appeals are under consideration.

A Belton man who shot another because he feared a karate chop lost an appeal from a 99-year prison sentence for murder.

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a 199-year murder sentence in a San Antonio robbery-killing. The Court granted a new trial in a controversy over sanity of an Odessa man convicted and sentenced to 10 years for the fatal shooting of his wife. It upheld 99-year sentences of two men in a Dallas murder and rape case.

AG Opinions

An unsuccessful job applicant has no special right of access to personnel-type information about his application under the open records act, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Students who are residents of Mexico are not entitled to reduced tuitions under a new law providing bargain rates for certain neighboring-state commuters.

The Senate and House are ultimate judges of whether a legislator's service on the legislative committee of a private group is consistent with ethical standards set by state law.

System operation grants and incentive grants can be awarded to community libraries where the proper prerequisite circumstances exist.

Temporary taxicab permits issued by a home-rule city are effective only within the jurisdiction of the particular home-rule city. The Library and Historical Commission may reject the initial and any subsequent annual plan submitted by a major resource center and withhold funds until an acceptable plan is drawn.

Appointments

Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe was unanimous choice of the Southern Governor's Conference for its vice chairman. He will succeed Gov. Mills Godwin of Virginia as chairman at the conference next year at Williamsburg, Va.

Dr. Lorene Rogers was appointed president of The University of Texas at Austin amid protests of students and faculty.

Former Gov. Preston Smith will become a special consultant to the Texas Tech University vice president for development and university relations on a parttime basis.

Short Snorts

More than 800 Texas cities received $34.4 million in August city sales tax rebates from the state.

Loans will be available January 1 for medical students who agree to practice in rural areas—through the State Rural Medical Education Board. The program pays $100 a month to approved students.

Former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr urged a U. S. Senate investigation of possible connections between Lee Harvey Oswald and the FBI or Central Intelligence Agency.

A Republican legislator, Rep. Al Koriotoh of Farmers Branch, will offer a resolution in the next legislature urging a national convention to write an anti-busing amendment to the U. S. constitution.

Women's Equity Action League and Texas Civil Liberties Union filed a sex discrimination complaint against Texas Education Agency and "individual school districts of Texas."

Rehab Auction

A big Auction Sale will be held this Monday, Sept. 29, at the Sale Barn in Abilene with all proceeds going to the Rehabilitation Center in Abilene. A livestock roundup is now in process for Eastland County. Anyone wishing to donate livestock for this event may contact Sam Kimmell at 442-1092 or Jimmy Fry at 442-3330 in Cisco. They will arrange to pick up the livestock free of charge.

This is a very worthwhile project as the Rehabilitation Center helps those of Eastland County as well as many other surrounding counties.

WASHINGTON, D.C.--WOMEN IN POLICE WORK ARE NOT EXACTLY NEW. New York City had the first full-time policewoman in 1888. Today, of course, the role of women as police is much different. It has not all come about by reason of the Civil Rights Act which prohibits, among other things, discrimination because of sex.

THE USE OF WOMEN IN LAW ENFORCEMENT HAS BEEN AN UNSTEADY PROCESS. Their employment began noticeably in 1920 when they were divided into two employee classes. At that time they were either matrons or custodians of female prisoners. A few years subsequent to this time, many became youth-clerical specialists. Gradually, the employment of women in police work increased, and, evidently, for a significant reason. It has been pointed out by some that male candidates qualifying as law enforcement officers competed against one another and their qualifications were more obvious. Women, realizing there was a limitation in what they could do or, at least, what was thought they could do, did not attempt to qualify unless they were extraordinarily confident that they could make the grade. As a result, they have proved, by and large, superior in the work assigned to them.

FROM THIS POINT, THEY SEEMINGLY DID NOT WANT ESPECIALLY EASY ASSIGNMENTS but insisted on participating competitively for whatever jobs were available. This was long before the assertive rights of women in other fields. In some respects, it might be comparable to today's Women's Lib.

IN 1972 THE EQUAL OPPORTUNITY ACT INCLUDED PUBLIC EMPLOYEES which meant law enforcement agencies. Employers were permitted to be selective on the basis of sex only if that characteristic was a bona fide qualification for the job. This eliminated what had always been customarily assumed related to the "weaker sex".

IN MANY OF THE LARGE CITY POLICE HEADQUARTERS WOMEN ARE GIVEN THE same physical training as men. They are trained in self defense, search and seizure situations, on foot patrolling as well as in vehicles. Reports indicate that most women going into law enforcement insist that they serve equally with men. In other words, they are willing to be assigned to risk situations.

Many police departments have a system of rotating officers in different precincts. Some areas would be in high crime districts while others might be comparatively slow and safe. Complete statistics do not seem to be available but reports indicate that female officers have been able to exert an influence in a highly sensitive situation, more likely in family squabbles, which the male officer generally may have less patience to bring about non-violent settlements. Dealing with juveniles may also be particularly fitting for women officers but most women insisted they not be assigned to a specific category but do those things the same as their male counterparts. Directing traffic is a visible duty being performed by female officers and from all accounts they do a good job.

EVIDENTLY, THERE ARE PROBLEMS BUT THERE ARE ALSO ENCOURAGEMENTS. Medals of special merit for heroism or exceptional performance have been given to many female officers. Several have been killed in the line of duty, one being in the Nation's Capital in recent months.

IN SOME DEPARTMENTS THERE HAVE BEEN ARGUMENTS AGAINST the use of women for police patrol but from past experience it seems that results generally have been satisfactory enough to lessen these objections.

Do You Remember

BY HERMAN DEMPSEY

In the early part of the century, a stranger drove up to a farmer's home, introduced himself and said he would like to talk to him for a few minutes. The farmer asked the stranger to come in and have a chair which was located on the front porch. After they sat on the porch and passed the time of day, the weather and what the crops would do that season, the stranger appeared eager to talk about why he had come to see the farmer. He told the farmer he had information along with hand-drawn maps showing that a group of Spaniards were passing through that part of the country with a large load of gold bullion. They were about to be attacked by Indians and decided to hide the gold in a small cave under a ledge on a hill. They covered the entrance with rocks and soil and the leader drew up a map so he could come back later for the gold. The stranger offered to give the farmer a fourth of the gold if it was found on his place. The farmer agreed and the stranger brought out the maps with the other information. They went over these together. The farmer said he could direct the stranger to the place that was shown on the maps. The stranger told the farmer he had bought the maps from an old Spaniard in Mexico who claimed he was the only one of the group who escaped the Indians and made his way back to Mexico. He had never been able to get anyone to furnish the money for him to go back and look for the hidden gold and now he was too old to try and go back.

The farmer and stranger walked out on the ledge of the hill where the farmer said was the location represented on the map. The stranger agreed it was as shown on the map and a likely place. He would bring in some help and find the entrance to the small cave. They camped on the base of the ledge and after two months of hand digging and all of the stranger's money was gone, the hope of finding the gold was abandoned.

Mr. & Mrs. Norris Honored With Surprise Party

Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Norris of Carbon, were honored by their children with a surprise party while in Loving, Texas, visiting their daughter, Mrs. Faye Hadderton when Mr. Hadderton planned a fishing trip to Lake Leon near Carbon.

Of course, going that near home they had to go by to get a few extras. Upon arrival there were 26 cars, all great-grandchildren out playing which by that time, they realized what the surprise was all about.

Mrs. Norris said, "My goodness, why didn't we just go on fishing". By that time all 10 children, 41 grandchildren, 76 great-grandchildren and a great-great-granddaughter were in view.

Sandwiches, cake and all varieties of cake (even one a grandson-in-law baked) were served. It was a wonderful day.

Mrs. Norris, 85, told about how wonderful it was to still have all the 10 children which range in age from 45 to 68. And she was so thankful to still be able to be at home and still have their hot biscuits and coffee together each morning.

Of course, Mr. Norris' biggest pleasure is talking about his wolf hunting which he had almost as many as we ten children every since I can remember. He plans on their next visit to go just one more hunting and thinks maybe he can get a good friend, Temp Lee, to go in his camper, and, if he gets tired he can lie down and listen to the hounds run. He will be 90 in December.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris are both members of the Primitive Baptist Church are able to attend often. They had a nice garden this year and their daughter, Lorena Phelps who lives with them, canned a large variety of vegetables. Mr. Norris also has a large berry patch but did not go up on his price saying, "I just can't do people like that."

They are a precious mother and father. I can never remember hearing anything but kind words between them. We all worked hard as Papa was a farmer and we all had our jobs to do, but we managed to find time to play baseball, our favorite sport, and Papa's too."

His eyes are failing and he uses a cane part time, but listens to all the baseball games. Mrs. Norris does not use glasses, and can still thread a needle with no trouble.

Children attending the surprise party were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Norris, Ralls; Mr. and Mrs. A.F. (Letti) Pullig of Sweetwater; Mrs. Lorena - Phelps of Carbon, Mr. and Mrs. George Norris of Ranger, Mr. and Mrs. Davis Hadderton of Loving; Mrs. Louise Dorsey of Eastland, Mr. and Mrs. Obie (Cleo) Duncan, Eastland; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Norris, Carbon; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Broom, Gorman; Mr. and Mrs. Walter (Winnette) Maynard, Eastland. Grandchildren were from Ralls, Plainview, San Antonio, Lake Charles, Memphis, Tenn.; Brownwood, Sweetwater, Fort Worth, Richardson, Midland, Eastland, Kermit, Ranger, Albany, Azle, Plano, Archer City, Antelope, Abilene, Eastland, Weatherford, Carbon, and Gorman.

Pink And Blue Shower Honors Mrs. R.G. McCoy In Brown Home

There was a Pink and Blue Shower Sunday, Sept. 14, 1975, given in honor of Mrs. R.G. McCoy, in the home of Mrs. B.G. Brown, 725 S. Dixie, Eastland. Many friends and neighbors came to give their best wishes and were greeted by the Hostess and Co-Hostess, Miss Marie Jimenez. Refreshments were served from an exquisitely decorated table carrying a lavender and pink theme. A lavender taffeta underlay covered by a lace cloth decorated the main table. A tropical fruit punch was served with individually accented pie-es of cake, from Blue Valencia, Depression Glass by Mrs. Frances Rivers and Miss Margaret Jimenez. The centerpiece coincided with the invitations sent to each guest and was highlighted on each side by unique crystal candelabras. Miss Glenda Carroll of Cisco registered each guest as they arrived. The guest of honor was presented with a corsage made of multi-colored daisy poms with leather leaf and white gyposophila, a corsage was also prepared for each new "grand mother-to-be". In return each hostess was given a lovely corsage with miniature pink and white carnations with purple statice leather leaf and white gyposophila. The out of town guests were Mrs. Lynn Hammett, Mother-in-law, of Ft. Worth, Mrs. Sherman Apple of Ft. Worth, Mrs. I.L. King-Riggs of Dallas, Mrs. D.A. Fernandez of Plano, Mrs. Roy Dennis of Stephenville, and Mrs. Herman Cardwell of Colorado City, Texas.

Qualify for a
$1,500 tax deduction.
Next year... every year.

If you work for yourself, work at a small firm, or work for a large corporation, there's a new law that could save you a lot of money. Here's how: if you're not currently participating in a qualified retirement plan (most Americans aren't), you can set up your own Individual Retirement Annuity. Contributions to your annuity, up to $1,500 a year (or 15% of your earned income, whichever is less) are fully tax deductible. 100% of your I.R.A. is subtracted from your gross income when figuring taxes.
 It's like giving your own money to yourself. And deducting it, instead of paying taxes on it as usual. Some call it a tax shelter.
 Your Southland Agent can answer any questions you may have. Send him this coupon... it'll be to your benefit. Next year, and every year 'til retirement.

Farm Bureau Election Meeting Oct. 6

Farm Bureau policies for next year will be adopted and directors and officers will be elected at the annual meeting of the Eastland County Farm Bureau. The meeting will be held October 6, at 7:30 p.m. at the First Christian Church Annex in Eastland.
 Speakers will be Nelda Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Little, Route 1, Gorman; and Benny Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Butler, Route 3, Gorman.

Adopted resolutions on county matters became County Farm Bureau policies for 1975. Approved resolutions dealing with state and national issues became recommendations for the Texas Farm Bureau convention.
 The state convention will be held in San Antonio, Nov. 30 thru Dec. 3. Approved resolutions dealing with state matters became state policies, and likewise, national resolutions adopted became recommendations to the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which will be held in St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 4-8. National policies adopted there became policies for all Farm Bureaus everywhere.

The county Policy Development Committee will draft tentative resolutions to be voted on at the County Convention. Chairman of this committee is J.R. Grimshaw, Route 1, Desdemona.
 Current officers of the Eastland County Farm Bureau are: President, C.M. Guthery, Desdemona; 1st vice president, J.R. Grimshaw, Desdemona; 2nd vice president, Pete Hatcock, Ranger; and Secretary and Treasurer, Ray A. Norris of Eastland.

Danny Phillips Appointed County Extension Agent

Danny Phillips was appointed County Extension Agent of Eastland County, Monday to fill the vacancy left by Milton Kellner.

Phillips will begin work here October 1. He will be moving here from Stephenville where he has just completed his Masters Degree at Tarleton State University.

Phillips worked as Assistant Extension Agent in Milam County for one and one-half years and as County Extension Agent with responsibility of coordinating the 4-H program in Travis County.

Judge Bailey said Eastland County was fortunate to get an agent as qualified and experienced as Phillips. A native of Knox County, Phillips was an active 4-H and FFA member.

Kellner served as Assistant County Extension Agent for over two years before being transferred to the position of County Extension Agent of Lampasas County on Sept. 16. Phillips' major responsibility will be with the 4-H program and particularly with youth who have agricultural and related projects.

RISING STAR

Homecoming Date Sets

The Rising Star church of Christ has announced plans for their First Annual Homecoming, to be held on Sunday October 5, in conjunction with the High School Homecoming.

All former members of the Rising Star Church of Christ are invited to return for this occasion, especially those previously preachers, elders or deacons of the congregation.

Tentative plans call for at least two former preachers to speak to the church on Sunday morning. No afternoon activity has been scheduled, according to Owen Aikin, local preacher, because many will need to start back home, but arrangements are being made for everyone to have lunch together after the morning service.

Those coming on Saturday for the church's Homecoming on Sunday and who need housing are asked to write: Homecoming Housing - Church of Christ - P.O. Box 207 - Rising Star 76471.

Aikin stated: "We hope to make this a very enjoyable occasion, as former members and friends meet again and exchange memories of years spent in this congregation, one of the oldest churches of Christ in the area."
