Collection of Delinquent Taxes

Former Sen. F. C. Weinert is state tax commissioner. He was a lawyer for many years. He was a chairman of the state finance committee for years. He saw service in many departments of government. His was one of the first names sent to the senate for confirmation by Gov. Moody when the son of Williamson county assumed the reins of administration. In his report to the governor and legislature for the years 1927 and 1928 Tax. Commr. Weinert said:

"It is not to be understood that your state tax commissioner is opposed to a vigorous policy in the collection of delinquent taxes. He does contend, however, that in no small number of instances delinquencies are the result more of exhaustion of ability to pay rather than of disinclination to respond to the public need. Toward such delinquents the state in the majesty of its great wealth and power can better afford to be tolerant than oppressive. Certainly it should refrain from violating its own doctrine. To crush down upon those who are already in distress would neither promote the general welfare nor insure domestic tranquillity.

Another excerpt from the report should have been of informative value to the lawmakers in regular and special sessions. It deals with the recommendation of Tax the fees incidental to the collection of delinquent taxes. This is Commr. Weinert:

"Collection of delinquent taxes should proceed but in a sane, sensible manner. The many fees and charges now permitted against the delinquent should be abolished. In particular that usurious provision in the statute providing that when property is sold for taxes the purchaser thereof may charge 100 per cent profit should be repealed. It has no rightful place in a democracy. The interests of the speculator are in no wise paramount to those of the delinquent citizen. Although the provision of the statute referred to seems to have gotten around the fact somehow still there is more life than money. Delinquents amply able to pay should with a determined mind be ready to pay. Those who due to adversity are unable to pay should be given full opportunity to redeem, and this with no usurious charges attached."

Commr. Weinert has been a successful farmer, a successful banker, a successful lawyer, a constructive maker of statutes, one of the leading builders and developers of his section. If the lawmakers of the 41st read his report what action did they take on his recommendation dealing with the collection of delinquent taxes?

Engaged 74 Years

When Jacob Schwartz, above, left Germany 74 years ago, his fiancée, Freda Schmidt, said she would wait for him until he came back to marry her. Now Schwartz is 91 and she's 90, but she has waited all these years and they are going to be married soon at Kankshin-on-the-Rhein. Schwartz, who lives in Los Angeles, left recently for Germany.

21 Will Be Up for Arraignment in U. S. Court at Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, TEX., Aug. 24.—Twenty-one persons charged with mail fraud will enter preliminary pleas on federal court here Monday. It will be the largest arraignment in federal court since 1923. Most of the indictments were returned by the federal grand jury during the March term. Trial dates of ten others involved in mail conspiracy cases also will be set during the Monday session.

Mother Seeks Elopement

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 24.—A desperate mother was en route to Los Angeles by airplane in an effort to head off her 16-year old daughter and husband of three weeks who eloped Monday. She hopes to meet the pair in the western city armed with annulment action.

The elopers left for Los Angeles Monday after Dorothy Meyer was secretly wed to Robert Frank. Her mother Mrs. Harry Myers, found a note written in dramatic short sentences saying: "Robert and I were married three weeks ago at Edwardsville, Ill. We are going away."

Adopting best recognized police methods, Mrs. Harry Myers sought for a stool pigeon. Finally her brother found a filling station attendant friend of Frank's, who grudgingly admitted the pair might be en route to Los Angeles since they had arranged for the automobile ride with a man who wanted company for the trip.

Mrs. Myers left here by plane and will arrive in Los Angeles at 5:52 p. m. today, making the trip in just under 18 hours. She knows the pair had but $35 when they left and expects to find them at the home of friends of the Myers family.

Negro Is Held In Assault Case

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 24.—Partially identified by the victim, a negro bellhop was held in the Savannah jail today as the man who Thursday evening kidnapped and criminally assaulted the wife of a prominent Savannah man as she walked alone down a principal street here.

Police said finger prints of the negro would be checked today against those, made in the woman's blood, which were found on the windshield of the automobile that was used for the kidnapping.

Firemen Save Lives In $1,000,000 Fire

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 24.—The heroism of firemen and unknown volunteers who dared death to move bed-ridden patients of a hospital and an occupied pullman car from the path of a roaring fire was rewarded today with the knowledge that not a single life was lost in the $1,000,000 fire which laid waste a 10-acre tract of mills, office buildings and a hospital in eastern Spokane last night.

Six persons were trapped in mills by the sudden fire which was whipped over six blocks by a 40-mile gale.

Graf and L. H. Tyson, another agent, bought some liquor from the Mexicans and then sought to place them under arrest. When the Mexicans realized they had been tricked, they took to their heels, firing as they went. Officers from Merced were notified and aided the federal men in cornering the fugitives.

Burkett and Webb Families Celebrate

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Burkett and family, Earl, Elzo and Junata of Sweetwater celebrated Mr. Burkett's birthday and Mrs. Burkett's father's 58th wedding anniversary. Her father is C. T. Webb of Eastland.

Dinner was spread on the lawn under the shade trees and was enjoyed by ten of Mr. Webb's children, thirty of the forty-nine grand children and seven of the sixteen great grand children.

Those present were: C. T. Webb, Miss Ella Webb, John Webb, Mrs. J. C. Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Brawner and family, Aubrey, and Laurine; Mrs. Waldon Freeman and sons, Robert Lee and Carl Dean, Mrs. H. A. Collins and son, H. A. Jr., Mrs. G. C. Kimbrell, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Harbin and family, Hilton and Ouida, Mr. and Mrs. Chesley Davis and son, Doward, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Haskens and all of Eastland.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Webb and son, B. W., Woodrow McIntosh, family, Gladys, Wayland, Blanton, Blanch and Billie Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tidwell and son, Roy Jr., Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Webb and family, Brice, Foy, Lindley and Doris Marie, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Webb and son Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Webb and family, Trudy, M. A. Jr. and Wanda Larene, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Webb and baby, Mavis Marie, all of Colorado, Texas.

Visitors were Misses Pearl Weeks, Cassie Roney, Francis Plaster and Nellie Bess Lipps of Colorado, and E. S. Massey of Crane, Texas.

New Pension Law Eliminates 3,000

AUSTIN, Aug. 24.—Approximately 3,000 legal pensioners under the new Confederate pension law will fail to get quarterly pensions when the warrants are sent out on Aug. 31.

Included in the 3,000 are many who received pensions under the old law. These are cut off because the pension fund is not sufficient to pay all claims of preferred pensioners created by the law. Governor Moody has been requested to call a special session of the state legislature to relieve the situation but has not issued such a call. State comptroller Sam Houston Terrell said today that there is no legal way in which a deficit can be created to meet the new distribution plan and give pensions to all. Overdrafts were possible under the old law but the new law permits payment to secondary pensioners only of a pro rata of what is left after all preferred pensioners are paid.

Bond in Murder Charge $20,000

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 24.—Judge Grover Adams today fixed the bond of Bert McLemore of Irving, charged by indictment with the slaying of Austin E. Ferguson, Irving Grocer, at $20,000.

McLemore is now out on bond approved following his hearing in justice court. Date for his trial has not been set.

Fewer Liquor Cases In U. S. Court, Dallas

DALLAS, Aug. 19.—Vendors of whiskey and gin have had a hard summer in this district, despite the fact that there have been fewer complaints charging violations of the national prohibition act filed in federal court than in any hot weather period since the law went into effect, according to United States Commissioner Lee R. Smith.

The records of the commissioner show practically no beer cases filed this summer, he said, although whiskey cases have been more numerous than usual.

The decreased number of liquor cases filed this summer is, according to Commissioner Smith, due principally to the fact that the sheriff's office has not filed a liquor case in Federal court since last December. Previous to that time, most of the violators of liquor laws arrested by the state were filed in federal court.

"My cases this summer have been made by federal agents and by city authorities. The beer

Mexican Liquor Runners Captured

BROWNVILLE, Tex., Aug. 24.—Mexican run runners who participated in yesterday's guerrilla warfare with federal prohibition agents near Merced were arrested before the federal commissioner here today.

A gun battle which preceded their capture resulted in one of the agents, A. C. Graf, being shot and wounded. He was taken to Merced where hospital authorities said his wounds were not serious.

Graf Zeppelin Is Making Progress

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—The Graf Zeppelin, en route from Japan to Los Angeles on the third leg of its around the world journey, was in constant radio contact with the radio marine corporation station here at 11:30 a. m. Pacific standard time.

Private messages, addressed to all parts of the world, were being received the radio marine reported.

It was estimated that the Zeppelin was more than 2,300 statute miles from Tokio.

A severe storm is passing down the Alaskan coast and probably will cross the path of the Graf Zeppelin, now en route to California from Japan, the east guard cutter Haida reported today.

The Haida is en route from Unimak Pass to the east so it may be of assistance to the Zeppelin if necessary. The ship radioed here that it passed through the storm off the Alaskan coast.

Chinese-Russian Crisis Imminent

By C. D. BESS
United Press Staff Correspondent

PEIPING, Aug. 24.—Great anxiety was felt here today in connection with the heavy troop movement toward the Manchurian border by both the Nanking government and Soviet Russia.

In spite of the full in border fighting, it was felt here that the movements of troops on a large scale presaged the possibility of a major engagement in the near future, even though war has not been formally declared.

The situation along the border continued to be so tense that foreign experts here believed that it would not take many more developments to create a serious situation. Reports continued to sift in of minor raids, with casualties on both sides, and that the Russian commander of the Pacific army was approaching from the interior of Siberia with a large force.

The Soviet commander, General Vasilblicher, was reported advancing toward Manchuria with a trained force of 30,000 soldiers—the pick of the Red army.

Mukden authorities, meanwhile, have ordered the mobilization of their reserves, estimated at 120,000 men, besides the movement of all their available trained forces toward the frontiers.

In some quarters it was still hoped today that a peaceful settlement of the war-charged dispute might be effected. But the number of optimists were decreasing. The great movements and concentrations of troops were interpreted as meaning that the highest authorities in the Mukden, Nanking and Moscow governments had given up hope for a peaceful settlement of the problem which arose when China seized the Russian-controlled Chinese Eastern railway.

Jail Men at Tulsa As Mob Is Feared

TULSA, Ok., Aug. 24.—Fear that incensed farmers might mob the jail at Tahlequah and wreak vengeance on G. Alfred DeMoss, United States deputy marshal, and Deputy Sheriff Willis Thompson, caused the two men, charged with the murder of Charles Jenkins, to be jailed here today.

Aug. 27 was set as the date for their preliminary hearing at arraignment. Both men pleaded not guilty. They were denied bail.

DeMoss killed Jenkins, a liquor suspect last Tuesday when he attempted to escape when two officers started to serve a warrant for liquor violation on him. DeMoss said he fired into the air first but Jenkins continued to run. Jenkins has been sought on a liquor indictment since September 1927.

Woman Flyer Drops Letter at Olden; Another Falls in Ranger. RANGER, Tex., August 25.—Letters from the air, fluttered down when planes of the on-to-Cleveland fliers passed over this section. The messages were from M. F. Peters, formerly of Ranger but now of Midland, and were addressed to Mrs. Peters, who is visiting Mrs. V. V. Cooper, Jr. The letters were addressed "Care of Ranger Times" and finders brought them to the newspaper office. One letter was dropped from a plane Thursday afternoon, flying very low over the business district and was so accurately dropped that it almost landed in the middle of Main street. A strip of cloth was wrapped around the envelope and, as it fell, the cloth unfurled, providing a streamer somewhat like the tail of a kite and, naturally, it attracted attention. This letter landed on the edge of the roof of the Globe and was obtained by J. S. Ballew who brought it to the Times office. The address on the envelop showed that the letter was handled by Aviators J. W. Lynch and Frank Williams.

Mrs. Edith Foltz dropped the other letter Friday morning. She had been forced to spend the night in Abilene while repairs were being made to the plane motor and she passed over this morning en route to Fort Worth to overtake the other racers. Evidently she mistook Olden for Ranger however as she dropped the letter at the town five miles southwest of Ranger.

The letter with its long strip of cloth fluttered down. Within a few minutes, it had been brought to the Times office by Mrs. James Colburn and Miss Ethel Colburn.

B. M. Whiteker Launches Move to Raise $18,000 Needed—A One Man Campaign. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is about $18,000 "in the red."

Believe it or not, one man, an attaché of the regional organization, has started out on a single-handed effort to wipe out the deficit between now and October 24, which is the opening day of the eleventh general convention of the W. T. C. C. at El Paso. He is B. M. Whiteker, agricultural and exhibits manager. The campaign is his own, he originated it and will carry it through without assistance, and he believes in his plan so strongly that he made the first contribution, $200, from his own funds. Abilene Meeting: Resignation of Homer O. Wade as general manager of the West Texas chamber was formally submitted to the executive board meeting at Abilene, June 20. The financial report for the preceding eleven months, submitted at that session, showed that the organization needed about $18,000 to pay its outstanding accounts and so in to the fall in good financial condition. It was explained that $14,000 was overdue from town memberships, but the directors realized that all of that could not be raised. Soon after the selection of A. M. (Andy) Bourland of Vernon, president, as acting manager, Whiteker came forward with his proposal to liquidate the debt. After securing from the president-manager full authority to proceed in any manner deemed advisable, he laid his proposal before the advisory committee of the organization which had been appointed to assist Bourland in temporarily handling the affairs. That committee gave enthusiastic endorsement to his program. Whiteker's plan calls for the raising of 50 units of $200 each, totaling $10,000 or lesser amounts if necessary, pledges to be taken from the membership of the West Texas chamber's vice-presidents, directors, banks and other large institutions in the territory, and wealthy individuals not on the board but having the WTCC's interest at heart. The fund is to be applied only on the debt incurred prior to last June 5, date of Wade's resignation, with all checks or cash received to be held on deposit and not cashed until $12,000 is in hand. If that sum is not secured, all contributions are to be returned. But the goal will be reached, Whiteker confidently predicts. Starting his campaign in Abilene only ten days ago, he already has raised nearly $5,000, with Abilene thus far pledging the largest amount. The larger cities in the territory, including El Paso, Wichita Falls, Amarillo, San Angelo and Lubbock, have not been accounted for; while Fort Worth, with more than 1,000 memberships in the West Texas chamber, is to be reserved for "last call."

Whiteker is the dean of the W. T. C. C. staff. He has been agricultural and exhibits manager for nine years. His achievement in the competitive exhibits field is a story by itself, the high point being the winning of the gold medal for West Texas at the Philadelphia Sesqui-Centennial exposition, over California, Florida and many other states.

the Call that Burnt the Beefsteak

WHEN Phil Allen came home from work he found his wife in the kitchen, regarding the blackened ruins of a steak with tears in her eyes.

"And the company'll be here any minute!" she wailed, looking up at him despairingly.

"Why honey!" Allen sympathized, "how did it happen?"

Carefully, Mrs. Allen lifted the smoking skillet and started toward the sink.

"I can't," she observed bitterly, "I simply can't go clear to the front of the house to answer the telephone, and watch a meal at the same time. I just didn't know I'd left the fire turned up so high!"

Allen hurriedly picked up his hat.

"Tomorrow I'll order an 'extension' telephone put in back here," he said. "And—don't worry, dear. The butcher shop's still open."

Telephones where you need them save time, patience, housewifely strength.

Few know that one or two additional instruments cost considerably less than the single telephone they now have!

By a wisely-placed "extension" or two, and perhaps a re-arrangement of the equipment you already have, an expert telephone man can often double the convenience of your telephone service.

THIS HAS HAPPENED MOLLY BURNHAM, lovely playwright, had an old sweetheart, JACK WELLS. But Jack has sailed for Italy with a middle-aged millionaire named MRS. BULWER-EATON. The papers are full of stories about the pair, and Molly is furious. She refuses to talk of Jack, or discuss the affair with even her best friend, RED FLYNN, a reporter who usually knows the inside story on scandals.

Then along comes BOB NEWTON, with a proposal. Bob is a widower. His first wife was RITA MELNOTTE, with whom Molly roomed at college. After Rita's death, Molly took her baby. And now she loves the child as if it were her own. She is constantly tormented with the fear that something may happen through which she will lose little Rita. That Bob, for instance, may marry and take his daughter away.

But Bob, at the moment, is half way through a rather strange proposal. He is asking Molly to marry him, but his technique is hardly orthodox.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXIX

With her hands on his chest, Molly held him from her. "Go on, Bob," she commanded. "I'd like to know exactly what you're driving at."

"You're different from most girls," he floundered. "You've got more sense. That's what experience does—gives a woman sense."

As he was saying—if you'd been an innocent little kid, Red Flynn would have given you such a thrill you'd have thought he was the only man. But you know better than that. You know enough to discount this thrill business. I don't mean that I think you're anything but the straightest girl that ever lived. If I didn't know that, I wouldn't ask you to marry me. I'm only trying to say . . . well, you know what it's all about, Molly. You're not an ingenuite model, if you know what I mean."

"No," she conceded, "I'm no ingenuite. Go on."

Bob cleared his throat with evident embarrassment.

"I know I don't give you much of a kick," he admitted.

"No," she interrupted coolly. "You don't."

"But that doesn't make any difference," he insisted. "What a girl marries, it's because the man has something she wants. You know, as well as I do, the transitoriness of passionate love. You know it's not worth building on, don't you? I may not have any particular physical attraction for you. But I have something infinitely more important. I have Rita."

Molly stepped back.

"You're not trying to bribe me with Rita, are you?" she asked.

"Why, yes," he admitted, "I suppose I am—if you want to put it like that. You see, I know that you don't love me, Molly. I have to advance some reason to argue my plea."

"But it's ghastly to talk of marriage without love!" she protested.

"No," he contradicted calmly. "I don't think it is. There's a chap named Collins—a doctor—who has written some pretty sensible things about love. He says it's a sort of disease, that lasts about two years. Now, you've seen a lot of life, Molly. What's the use of looking for romantic love, when you know it won't last?"

But I don't know anything of the kind!" she contradicted indignantly. "I'm an incurable romanticist."

He smiled cynically.

"Crying eternally for love, I suppose? No, you can't make me believe that, Molly. Some women are that way, I know. But you're different."

"I'm not," she flashed. "I shall never be loved enough for my happiness."

"But I love you!" he cried.

"Molly, I'm crazy about you! You know that, don't you? I'll love you, dear. I swear it."

She tried to laugh.

"But you're not romantic, Bob—not really. You make beautiful, grand protestations. But you're not a bit of a kind of a sweetheart. You'd never do all the silly, sweet things I'd adore. Why, you'd simply laugh at my adolescent notions!"

"What kind of notions?" he demanded. "What do you mean?"

"Silly things," she floundered. "I'd love a husband who'd write me love notes every day, and pick me nose-gays. And buy me things like lollipops and peanuts, because I like them so. And play the guitar nights, and sing me love songs. And kiss me before and after every meal."

"That sounds like a doctor's prescription."

"I know," she confessed, "it's awfully silly. But there you are! THAT'S the sort of a husband I want. I tell you I'm a born romanticist. You didn't know that, did you? You never guessed I was one of those dreadful sentimentalists who go round simply screeching for love."

"You're a little liar," he told her coolly. "You're cold as ice, and you know it. You sent Jack Wells away, because he couldn't make money enough to satisfy you. You're playing at love now with Red Flynn."

"That's not true!" she defended herself.

But Bob shook his head.

"You're a vain creature, Molly. Love has come to you so often, it's grown a common thing." He was fumbling through his wallet.

"I've something to show you. Clipped it out of a magazine yesterday, because it made me think of you. I was sure I stuck it in here somewhere . . . Oh, here it is."

He held a torn piece of paper to her.

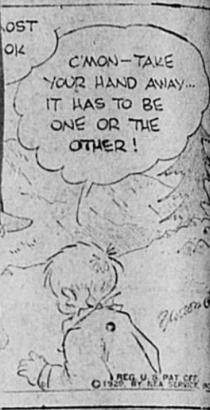

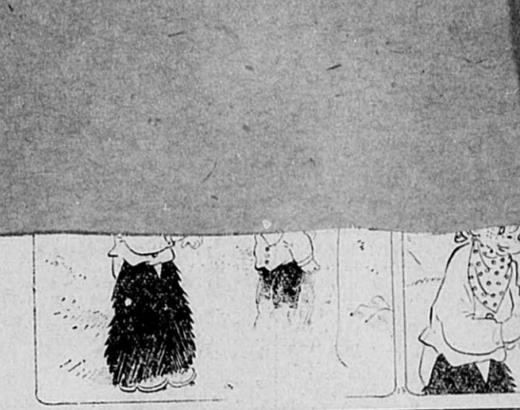

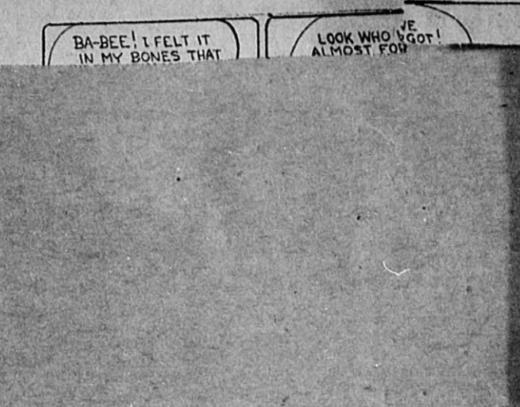

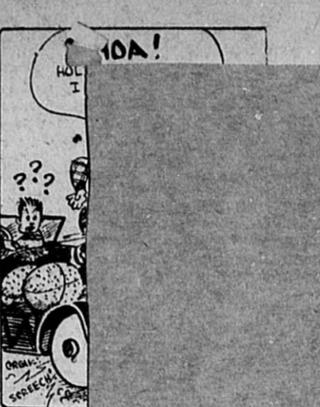

"Read it," he said, "It's prophetic."

She took it curiously, and read aloud:

He held a torn piece of paper to her.

"Read it," he said, "It's prophetic."

She took it curiously, and read aloud:

If marriage with Bob was unthinkable, so was life without Rita. Lots of people marry without love, and are happier than the romanticists. So many romances are failures. Expeditions marriages wear better, and last longer. Sensible people bring to matrimony the same sound reasoning with which they consider any other contract. Well, why not practical? Molly sighed wearily.

"That's the trouble!" she moaned. "I'm not practical. I'm romantic."

If only she could banish Jack from her mind! She had heard from him once since he sailed for England with Mrs. Fulver-Eaton. He had sent her a colored postcard of Ponte Vecchio, where she had bought the Borgia ring. There was no message on it. Only his name. But she had told him about finding his ring there, in the old silversmith's on the corner. And he had probably gone, seeking something for Mrs. Bulwer-Eaton. Something costly, to suit the woman's flamboyant tastes. Molly had torn up the postcard furiously. And then, reasonably, she cried, and dropped the fragments in an envelope, and sealed it, and put it away.

She kept Jack's letters in a secret drawer of her desk. They were tied around with purple ribbon. Once, when she was younger, she had scented the pack with sweet lavender. The little book of Oscar Wilde's love verse he gave her was there, too. She bought another copy, because she could not bear to handle the one in which Jack had marked the passages he loved. Inside the cover she put the verse about love and a career, that she clipped from a newspaper the day of graduation. It was a long time now since she had opened the drawer where her one-time treasures lay. She felt that she could never stand to look at them again.

Red's letters cluttered her bureau drawers. They were witty and entertaining, and she hated to destroy them. She was always meaning to gather them together, and put them away somewhere, so she could laugh over them when she was old.

She wondered what Red would think of Bob's proposal. And she lay on her pretty chaise longue for a long time, meditating.

The trouble with me, she decided, "is I've been idle too long. I ought to be ashamed of myself! I'll get to work on that book—that's what I'll do!"

The thing had been taking shape in her mind for some time. Gradually. Hazily. Like a furtive dream full of vague shapes and shadowy substance. The story of a woman who had loved and lost. A woman who had bartered romance for a career and hated the career, and longed for love.

It must be a beautiful book, beautifully written. The heart cry of a lonely woman. She must find lovely words, and magnificent phrases. And she must blend them exquisitely, so the whole should be perfect. The delineation of a woman's life. A passionate woman, passionately seeking. Seeking the THINGS of existence. The cheap, trumpery, tawdry things. Fame, and money, and thrills. Satisfaction unto satiety.

And—when she was sated—this woman, who had turned her back on love, would be lonely. And, in her desolation, she would cry with the prophet, "All in vanity and vexation of spirit."

For Molly meant, in her book, to show that the things of life are as nothing. And only the white-hot flame of love has power to comfort, and to heal.

It would be a difficult thing to write. Difficult, because it would be the baring of her own innermost existence. No longer should she keep silence to cloak her wounds. She would write her confession of failure, that all who would might read.

Fired with sudden determination

FIRE AT R. R. SECTION HOUSE

RANGER, Tex., August 25.—Fire broke out in the Texas & Pacific railroad section house in the northern part of Ranger Thursday afternoon. The interior of the building was destroyed.

The section house, consisting of seven rooms, was occupied by Mexicans working on the section from Ranger east. The fire started from a flue in a room where no one was at home. The house will be re-built.

Golfers Will Play at Thurber Sunday

RANGER, Tex., August 25.—Ranger golfers will meet Thurber players on the latter's course Sunday afternoon. It is expected that 12 to 14 will represent Thurber. However, as many Ranger players as can go are urged to do so as they can qualify Saturday for the open tournament at Thurber.

Pearl Wright, who has with the Southwest Bell Telephone company as cashier for the year or two, is leaving the year to accept a position as manager for the Texas Air Sport company at Ft. Worth. We are sorry to lose this published business woman, but congratulate her on this advancement.

at this time while changes being made it may be an opportune moment to suggest that Southwest Bell Telephone install a local manager in place of a cashier in charge. It is that District Manager Peters a watchful eye upon the operations of the local office, but because of the fact that as district manager he lives in Cisco and has a large family, Ranger, De and other cities besides Eastland it appears to us impossible for Eastland the attention it deserves.

Southwest Bell Telephone has been very liberal in its treatment of Eastland by erecting its own beautiful two-story fireproof building and installing in our city a modern telephone system with connections throughout the city. It has been stated that more distance calls are handled from the Eastland office than

PERT—HERE
F. Redlich, Minneapolis, nationally famous Rupture Expert, will demonstrate without charge his unequalled method at the Daniels hotel, on Thursday, Aug. 29, and on Friday, Aug. 30, at 10 a. m. at the Nelson hotel from 10 a. m. to 12 m.
Redlich says:
"Perfect Retention Shields" are in the perfect position, no matter how heavy a weight you lift, give instant relief and complete opening in a remarkably short time.
Secret of their success is in simplicity. An expertly designed device seals the opening at discomfort or detention work. It is practically everlasting, sanitary, comfortable and holds ruptures which were considered uncorrectable.

Man Says All His Troubles disappear After Taking Orgatone. He Has Gained Ten Pounds in Weight.
Another Ranger, Tex., resigns his reasons for being was induced to try the reliable bile treatment, Orgatone. Mrs. S. J. Woods of 824 Hill Road, who is the wife of an employee of the Prairie Gas company, said a few days ago:
"When my husband took this medicine he felt so miserable that he was forced to quit his job, and unable to work at all. But his feeling fine and back to work again and I'm obliged to Orgatone as the best medicine ever heard of.
Two years he suffered from a run-down condition from the effects of the 'flu' and I had about all the toughest a body can have with this trouble. He couldn't keep his stomach any more. He was very nervous. Every time he would eat seemed to eat on his stomach and he got so torn up he could not sleep. He would blotter and his kidneys got to bothering so it was necessary for me to get up several times during the night. He had no appetite and couldn't retain and digest what he would eat to his strength. In fact, he was all in and felt unfit for work."
After taking Orgatone a few days he commenced to eat without any trouble and can eat now with- out starting him in the least. He is hungry as a bear all the time. I'm telling him he has to eat everything in sight. All his nervousness is gone and he sleeps like he did when he can work all day and not when night comes and I never seen such great benefit in short a time as Orgatone has for him. He already better than he has since his began and he's improving every day."
Orgatone is manufacturing one of the world's largest and is not a so-called patent remedy but a new reliable treatment and is sold exclusively by the Eastland Corner Drug Stores, 245 and 588.—Adv.

an other city in the county.
Public service corporations occasionally in installing a system of efficiency and economy fail to take into account that too often they get away from personal contact with the public, their customers. Therefore we believe if they would make a change at this time and give us a man as local manager who could keep in touch with their customers having more authority than a mere cashier, this object might be accomplished.

Shacks
To aid in beautifying our city by supporting a movement to remove unsightly and unused shacks, seems to be well within the work of the Chamber of Commerce.

One glaring instance of an unsightly structure which we have started a movement to remove, is that old one-story stucco covered building located on the northeast corner of South Seaman and East Olive streets. This building was erected during the oil boom by Mr. W. B. Munson. For a year or more it has stood vacant without doors or windows and with cracked walls. A lonesome tombstone leans against the south wall, perhaps, indicative of its former use.

Since Mr. Munson's death it appears from the records to be owned by the W. B. Munson estate of Denison, Tex. We have written this estate asking if it would not be possible for them to demolish this unsightly, unhealthy, mosquito breeding fire trap.

The presence of this gloomy object situated on State highway No. 67, only one block from our beautiful new Eastland county courthouse, is a crying shame, especially in view of the fact that the Gulf Refining company is erecting on the corner directly south across the street on property owned by Judge J. R. Stubblefield, one of the most beautiful and expensive filling stations in this city.

No doubt it would be of material aid if some of our prominent business houses would address this estate and back up the demand of the Chamber of Commerce that this nuisance be immediately abated.

Almost Eleven Million Gallons Of Gas for 1928

When the average motorist reads that the automotive industry in 1928 used 10,850,000,000 gallons of gasoline and that thirty-three years ago it was difficult to dispose of gasoline—almost impossible to give it away—he thinks he is reading a fairy tale.
Yet that is exactly the case. Automobiles in this country last year consumed 80 per cent of the entire motor fuel production. How much was used in 1896 can be imagined when you know that there were only four gasoline motor cars in the United States.
It was not until ten years later

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 24.—HOGS: Receipts 800, market steady, top and bulk 170-230 lb 1100; truck top 1040; bulk better grades 180-240 lb truck hogs 1020-1040; packing sows steady, mostly 775-850; average cost 1044, weight 204 lb. Medium to choice: 250-350 lbs 870-1090; 200-250 lbs 1230-1110; 150-200 lbs 960-1119; smooth and rough 775-850.

CATTLE: Receipts 350, market today's trade nominal, for week lower; plainer grades slaughter steers around 25-50c; slaughter steers weak to lower; good grades steady; she stock low cutters and bulls mostly steady; slaughter calves and vealers around 25-50c lower, with week's top slaughter steers 1160; fat yearlings 1375; fat cows 900; practical top heavy slaughter calves up to 1250; top on light vealers 1250; stock steer calves up to 1200; bulk prices, plain and common grass slaughter steers 750-850; few fat grassers up to 950; slaughter yearlings 950-1200; butcher grades 625-675; low cutters 425-500; heavy slaughter calves 950-1100; stock steer calves 1125-1175.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Further violent price movements occurred in representative shares on the stock exchange in today's short session but many traders seized the opportunity to snatch handsome profits in many issues.
The telephone issues again furnished a strong feature, both international telephone and American Telephone selling in record territory while steel again touched virgin territory above the 200-foot level.
However, there was a disposition to take profits in many sections, which caused a somewhat irregular tone after a firm opening. U. S. Industrial alcohol and Republic Iron and Steel were strong spots in the special issues, both selling at new highs but later reacting.

Oils, which were strong in the previous session, were less prominent, although Standard Oil of New York was turned over in large blocks around its previous closing levels.
Coppers closed at around their best levels of the day, under the leadership of American Smelting, which was 3-4 points higher at 118 1-4.
The oils wound up the session in ragged fashion, prices showing narrow and irregular variations.
The close found little change in the leading automotive shares, both General Motors and Chrysler easing off fractionally.
Steels found a strong spot in crucible, which chalked up a net gain of 3 1-2 points.
Chesapeake & Ohio again was conspicuously lower, closing at 265, off 3. Other leading carriers displayed fractional and mixed changes.

Building nearly twice as many tires as any other Company... Goodyear is in position to produce at lowest cost. You get the benefit here of the highest quality tires the world has ever seen, at —History's Lowest Prices!

If you were starting today to drive your automobile from coast to coast would you dodge around through the country knowingly trying to travel cow trails, roads in bad condition or practically unknown highways? We say NO, and so would every other fair-minded man or woman say NO. Yet, thousands of automobile owners today are being led from the main highways of quality merchandise and directed into little known brands through long mileage guarantee and chain store prices where quality does not exist. Don't be confused by price talk. It is possible to make a tire of your size in 20 different grades to sell at 20 different prices. And the cheapest one—to the eye—might look as good as the most expensive. (But what a difference in service).

An outstanding example of the greater values in Goodyear Tires is this husky, tough-treaded Pathfinder... really a first grade tire, superior to many of the highest-priced brands.

GOODYEAR

It's guaranteed for life—no time or mileage limits. Our prices also include mounting and a watchful year-around service to help you get all the extra miles it's built to give.

MOONLIGHT AND MELONS:

Oh, the succulent drip of the juicy watermelon and the crimson heart of the glowing fruit and the great big bites one can take under the cold white gaze of a pale distant moon. Thanks to Mr. Ed Wilman, who played the role of a summer Santa Claus and carried his car full of watermelons out to the City Park one gorgeous moonlight night last week, the Booster class had all the melons they could manage, on top of a jolly evening of fun and games and then some more watermelon before breaking up. Mrs. Gene Andrews was a guest and members present were Mr. and Mrs. Crossley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crowell, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Collier, Mr. and Mrs. E. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. M. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Price, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Parker, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Loventhal, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Britton, Mrs. Lester Foster, Mrs. Ida B. Foster, Miss Minnie Lay, and Mr. Ed Wilman.

A CHARMING LITTLE GATHERING HONORS MRS. FRANCIS JONES

A charming little afternoon was spent by several friends with Mrs. Francis M. Jones at the home of Mrs. Eddie Jones, 905 South Hal-bryan, hostess Friday afternoon from half past three to five o'clock when she entertained most delightfully in her own individual and characteristic fashion. After a real visit the guests were invited to look at a new spread the hostess is making and found instead that there was displayed a gorgeous gift shower for Mrs. Francis Jones, honoring her anniversary. Many lovely treasures were discovered and there was a bright-eyed happy young woman who received them. The hostess served a dainty refreshment of pineapple sherbert and cake to Misses J. B. Steele, Robert Jones, J. C. Stephen, Elmo Hill, and guest Mrs. Roberts; Misses Ed T. Cox Jr., Lester Crossley, Jimmie King, Winifred Thompson, E. W. Simmons, Williamson, Coffman, Mrs. W. G. Bull of Abilene, Miss Adrienne Steele, and the honor guest Mrs. Francis M. Jones.

SPLENDID DEMONSTRATION CHURCH OF CHRIST

The demonstrations of Bible lore in progress at the Church of Christ Thursday afternoon of each week proved unusually interesting this week in the life of David as told by Loraine Chambers, and the demonstration table, illustrating the unique history of God's call heart by Gideon which told him to deliver his people, the Jews, from the Midianites; the discussion of Mrs. Tom Harrell. This table bore a map outline of the country and the various sects and tribes location and also carried the terrain, mountains, water and plains. The story told by Loraine of David was carried on with the description of the country, Judea, and the recital was brought down to the incident of David being summoned to sing before King Saul who was troubled by evil spirits, or, as moderns would say, by a nervous breakdown. The little girl was really very wonderful in her clearness of story and the entire program was delightful. Those present were: Ethel Carlisle, Mildred Thompson, Nelda Woods, Doris Lawrence, Katherine Garrett, Melda Woods, Georgina Thompson, Dorothy Hackett, Eloise Ligon, Billie Wayne McLendon, Elizabeth Ann Harrell, Bernice Garner, Louise Day, Madge Hearn, Emma Sweet, Earline Brawner, Mary Jane Harrell, Hazel Garner, Clara Hackett, Ruby Nell Bean, Loraine Chambers, Virginia Sweet, Minnie Beth Boggs, Billie Don Craig and the die A. Sweet. Teachers who heard the ensemble work were Mmes. Annie Craig, Boggs, McLendon and Tom Harrell.

BALDWIN'S LEAVING:

It is indeed with regret that we chronicle the coming departure from Eastland of Mr. and Mrs. E. Baldwin who have made countless friends during the few brief years which they have lived in Eastland. Friends not only among their own young associates but among the older people as well. Mrs. Baldwin has played an important part in the work and success of the Eastland Music Club since coming and at present is holding the office of director of the juvenile and junior music clubs of the city. She is a talented, graceful and delightful woman with an intuitive knowledge of people and what is still better a most conscientious club woman discharging her duties in consistent and more than satisfying manner.

Mrs. Baldwin has been the greatest assistance to the Music Club of Eastland during the annual music week observance and thru her personality as well as judgment has helped put across several big things for the club. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin will move in about a week for Victoria, Texas, where Mr. Baldwin has been transferred by the Vacuum Oil Company of which he is local representative. Mrs. Baldwin's mother who has been her guest a few weeks leaves at the same time for her home in El Paso.

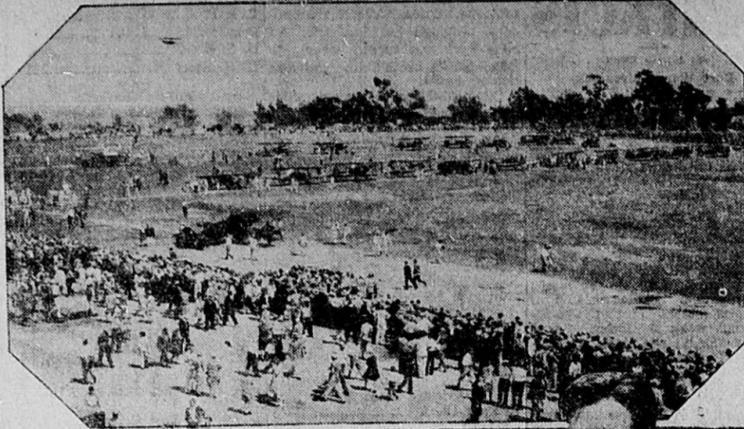

INFORMAL LITTLE LUNCHEON AND CHICKEN BARBECUE

There is a little coterie of friends who meet once a week for an informal luncheon and bridge game and, a couple of days later, for a chicken barbecue out in the woods which is attended by rarely more than six people and sometimes about four. Mrs. Harry Porter had this little group for lunch on Thursday noon and afterwards bridge was enjoyed about the one table the hostess and one guest "sitting out". Those present were Miss Isobel Weaver of Fort Worth, Mrs. O. D. Caldwell, Mrs. J. D. Tomkins, Mrs. Curtis Corzelius, and Mrs. Dan Garrett. Miss Weaver was in town for a few days but returned to Fort Worth yesterday.

YOUNGER SOCIETY SET ENJOYS DELIGHTFUL HOSPITALITY

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth B. Tanner, their son Karl, and daughter Miss Dolores Tanner, received the younger social set at their lovely new home last evening, and provided music, dancing and cards for the happy folk who both danced and played cards whenever the mood seized them. Five tables were prettily covered in pink and appointed tables and score books harmonized with the pretty gallery lights of rose color and the shielded glow of electricity in the patio where the bridge tables were placed. The warm and cordial kindness of the lines of this attractive home thrown open for the first time to a big gathering of youth, harmonized with the gracious hospitality for which every member of the Tanner family is well known.

ten o'clock a delicious breakfast was served of hot rolls, butter, and several kinds of preserves with wonderful coffee to a happy bunch of sleepy-eyed girls. The list for cards included Misses as Jane Rotramel, Elizabeth Day, Mary Cox, Martha Frances Thomas, Ruby Tindall, Faye Crossley, Mrs. Lester Crossley, Mrs. E. T. Cox, Mrs. J. R. King Jr., the hostess and the honoree Miss Margaret Reed; Marshall McCullough, Terrell Coleman, Allen D. Dabney, Petit Castleberry, Joe King, William Key, Lester Crossley, and host J. R. King Jr.

MRS. J. E. BLOODWORTH HONORS MRS. COLEMAN OF GLADWATER

A summery dainty little party arranged for four bridge tables was gathered at the home of Mrs. Hillen Simmons at the invitation of Mrs. J. E. Bloodworth who entertained at her mother's attractive bungalow Friday afternoon in compliment to her house guest Mrs. Coleman of Gladwater, Texas. The graceful bouquets of crepe myrtle and clusters of yellow and white zinnias adorned the rooms. All summery tints were noticed in this lovely affair and in the appointments of green and white of the bridge tables which were supplied with green mints throughout the afternoon. After an interesting game, high score favor, bronze book ends, was awarded Mrs. Jimmie Cheatham. The cut-for-all went to Miss Jane Angstadt who received and emerald-shouldered prettily framed. The honoree was presented a quaint green quilted pillow.

A dainty refreshment was served of pineapple ice in tall green crystal holders, devil's food cake and cream cake. Personnel: Misses Geraldine Dabney, Elizabeth Garrett, Jane Angstadt, Elizabeth Davenport, Allene Williams, Virginia Root, Mrs. Jimmie Cheatham, Mrs. H. P. Brelsford Jr., Mrs. E. B. Baldwin, Mrs. Aubrey Cheatham, Mrs. L. E. Edwards Mrs. E. R. Townsend, Mrs. S. M. Hogan, who is visiting Mrs. A. F. Crossley; Mrs. Tom McManis, Mrs. Biek and the honoree Miss Coleman

ATTRACTIVE CARD PARTY HONORS MISS REED

Mrs. J. R. King Jr. was a delightful hostess at her home Thursday night entertaining with bridge in honor of Miss Margaret Reed of Abilene the guest of Miss Faye Crossley. The bridge table appointments were very clever and the color scheme was carried out in the refreshments served at close of game of pineapple ice cream and cake. High score favor in bridge a very attractive bidior doll was awarded Miss Reed, and Mr. Allen D. Dabney received a pocket toiletrie in a handsome leather case as high score favor for men. The girls remained for an all night visit and enjoyed a midnight lunch of pimento cheese sandwiches, potato flakes and iced lemonade. The next morning at and Mrs. Hillen Simmons and the hostess.

MR. AND MRS. CALDWELL LEAVE SOON FOR CHICAGO
One can hardly think of the State's Oil Corporation without thinking of Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell for these happy young people have made such an impression on the town through their friendly acquaintance and through Mr. Caldwell's cooperation in so many of Eastland's efforts in civic building that it comes with a shock to learn that this popular couple leave shortly for a future home in Chicago. What Mr. Caldwell's plans in business have not been fully divised. But the windy city will be his home town and we hope that he will be as interested in life there as he always was in that little old Eastland. Mr. Caldwell's efforts in the past in building up the American Legion were something too big to ever lose sight of. He has played an important part in the community life of Eastland and for several years was one of the chief workers in every committee working for Eastland's advancement. Mrs. Caldwell is a great social favorite and is a kind and tactful woman. May happiness always be theirs.

PARTY CALLED OFF
Mrs. Joe Stephens was disappointed in the non-arrival of guest Mrs. R. V. Sullenger of whom she was to have entertained with a swim and supper on Friday evening at Lake. When the message was received by Mrs. Stephens that Sullenger could not come all plans were abandoned.

 DEAR FRIENDS IN EASTLAND:

Back home after a pleasant visit to your city and I want to just say this to you—you don't get half the value out of your newspaper if you don't read the advertisements.

Think of the time and money you could save if you look over the advertisements and know before you leave home exactly where to go to buy 20 pounds of sugar for $1.00 instead of just dropping in any place and getting only 15 pounds for your dollar.

THEN REMEMBER THIS:

THE MERCHANT THAT ADVERTISES IS NOT AFRAID OF COMPARISON—that should mean something to you. They are telling the world their quality and their price.

Try it; you will be surprised what it will save for you.

RAINBOW GIRLS HAVE DELIGHTFUL MEETING

The Rainbow Girls had a well attended meeting Friday evening with session conducted by Worthy Advisor, Miss Nell MacKall and drill practice for formation of letters of "O" and "R" under captaincy of Miss Hazel Tilley. Initiation was held for Misses Fannie Wolf, Agnes Odom, Annie Currie, Edith Parabe, and Wayne Copelan. This marks the largest number to be initiated in 1929 in the Rainbow at one session. During the refreshments of iced fruit punch and cake the Order was entertained with piano solos by Miss Ruth Bagley, a celebrated junior musician.

The Eastern Star was represented by Mrs. B. L. Mackall, Mother advisor and Mmes Ora B. Jones and Mrs. C. M. Hardin and the Masonic body by George E. Cross. Rainbow girls present: Misses Gwendolyn Jones, Hazel Tilley, Bessie Taylor, Edith Woods, Blanch Simmons, Faye Brown, Margaret Belle Wynne, Bernice Johnson, Beth Judkins, Ruth Bagley, Jessie Barnett, and Nell MacKall.

Adjoined to September 13th. FORT WORTH NEWSPAPER WOMAN PLEASSED WITH EASTLAND It is always a matter for congratulation when intelligent women who travel about a it, read a bit, and mix a bit, accept Eastland hospitality and leave our city with nothing but words of praise and congratulations and this is especially true when anyone so experienced as a newspaper woman with vagaries of human nature, speaks their mind and in the very appreciative vein in which Miss Bernice Foy of the Fort Worth Star Telegram referred to our city.

Miss Foy's visit here was all too brief and not time enough given several who wished to entertain for her. Following a week of intense hospitality in the way of luncheons and motor trips Miss Foy whisked off to Baird where her relatives entertained to depletion, to such an extent that she was so fed up with appreciation and other good things that she passed through Eastland Friday morn ing on the stage enroute to Fort Worth to go back into harness on Monday.

Navy's New All-Metal Dirigible

Here's the newest thing in dirigibles—the U. S. Navy's all-metal ZMC 2, photographed as the strange airship took the air for its first test flight at Detroit. The test, staged before prominent naval officials, was eminently successful, the big craft rising to 1,000 feet with pilot and four passengers and remaining aloft 49 minutes. Designers say it is no heavier than the ordinary fabric dirigible as the thin metal sheeting does away with the need for interior steel cross beams.

Miss Foy had planned to spend the week end in Eastland and plans were afoot for semi-literary dinner for her to be given by Mrs. W. K. Jackson who wished the journalist to meet Mrs. R. D. Mahon, Eastland poetist, and Mrs. Scott Key, the director of the new ly organized Business and Professional Women's Club. But it is hoped a better time is coming when Miss Foy may have a longer visit and really learn about the literary treasures in Eastland.

EASTLAND GIRL WINS LEAD IN CAMP WALDEMAR FINAL PAGEANT

Miss Jane Connelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Connellee of this city, was chosen by Miss Ora Johnson, director and owner of Camp Waldemar, and her directors of the pageant, to take the leading male role in the final program to be given Aug. 28. "The Pioneers," a picturesque pageant by D'Arcy Mackay, will be given, and the program will be made more spectacular by special water scenes.

The "Pioneer Man" is the part to be taken by Miss Connellee, and she was chosen for this role out of one hundred and fifty girls. The pageant instructors are very much pleased with the work of Miss Connellee, for she really and wholly. Her work in the pageant, together with the support of the rest of the cast, give promise of making the program the most elaborate and the most beautiful of any ever presented in an open-air stage.

Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Pipkin and sons have returned from a motor trip to San Antonio, Corpus Christi and to points in New Mexico and the mountains. They were accompanied by Mrs. Pipkin's sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. Odell of Dallas, who drove their own car. The Pipkins returned home Tuesday.

C. D. Knight Jr., of Abilene is visiting Billie Key. Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Springer of Fort Worth spent Wednesday and Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Springer.

Mrs. Grady Coleman of Gladewater, Texas, who has been visiting Mrs. J. E. Bludworth leaves today for her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom McManus have been home a few days from a two weeks motor trip to the north. When in Chicago Mrs. McManus met W. K. Jackson's son, Wayne P. Jackson. The McManus' trip carried them thru Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City.

Miss Elizabeth Rodgers of Lubbock is spending the week-end with Mrs. T. L. Fagg.

Mrs. O. H. Clark of Tulia is here on a visit to her sister, Mrs. D. J. Jobe.

Judge Scott W. Key is in Austin on legal business. J. G. Daugherty of Plainview is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Sparks.

Mrs. J. Frank Suarks and children are visiting relatives in Austin.

Mrs. H. L. Chesley and daughter, Miss Pauline, are spending the week-end with relatives in Brownwood.
