Protest on Ranger Football Star Not New Nor Aftergame "Stuff" Lobo Coach Chapman Declares

The protest of Lee Hammett, star Ranger football player, was nothing new, nor was it aftergame "stuff" stated Coach W. B. Chapman of the Cisco Lobos whose team was re-instated by action of the district committee in declaring Hammett ineligible and ordering the game between Ranger and Cisco to be played over. Coach Chapman in commenting upon the action of the committee today declared that Cisco High School officials had notified Ranger officials of the question of Hammett's eligibility first came up that Cisco regarded Hammett as ineligible and warned Superintendent Holloway of Ranger that he would be played under protest if played in the Cisco game. Evidence of Hammett's ineligibility was clear according to Chapman who stated that his attention was first attracted to Hammett when Coach B. Cherry, former coach of the Bulldogs, stated last spring that Hammett would be ineligible for competition this year and a statement of the matter was published upon the sport page of the Ranger newspaper at the time. Basis of ineligibility charges against Hammett consisted of records on file in the office of the Interscholastic League at Austin filed at the end of the 1924 season by the superintendent of Desdemona High school to the effect that Hammett had played football at Desdemona in 1924. This record was re-enforced by the reports of Caddo High school and Gorman High school of the games played with Desdemona that season in which both the Caddo and Gorman coaches reported Hammett as having played against them. These reports were all on file at the end of the 1924 season. A copy of the Desdemona High School annual was presented which listed Lee Hammett as having played football for Desdemona during that season and his picture was in the annual showing him wearing his basketball uniform. A story which appeared in the high school newspaper was produced which was published after the Desdemona-Gorman game was played in 1924, and this story specifically stated that Lee Hammett played in that game in October 1924. Telegrams were presented from Roy B. Henderson, director of the Interscholastic League, declaring that the records in the League's office showed that Hammett played in 1924 in Desdemona, which was admitted having played three years since 1924. Hence if he played in 1924 he had completed his period of play allowed under Interscholastic League rules and was not eligible for play at this time.

Chapman expressed deep regret over the necessity for protesting a rival school and pointed out that this is the first time he has ever participated in any protests. He declared that last year he had a player in much the same position as Hammett who declared that he had only played three years, but one record at Austin indicated otherwise. The boy secured a statement from his former coach to the effect that the Austin record was in error; but Chapman refused to use the player and himself ruled the boy out. Several times in the past Cisco was in position to benefit by claim games on technicalities and twice refused to invoke the former rule giving tie games to the team making the most first downs. But Chapman elected to win his games on the field and refused to claim forfeited games. Cisco has never before protested another team, and has never lost a man or a game by protest.

Chapman declared that he protested Hammett for two reasons. First, he felt it his duty to protect his own boys, and regarded it as his duty to them to protect them from elimination by a team he regarded as having used an ineligible man. Secondly, he considered the ruling the League that any district which certified a team to represent that district in bid-trick games would be disqualified from further participation in championship games that year. Chapman felt that if the Hammett matter was not settled within the district, that the team would certainly be challenged if Ranger won the district flag and was certified to represent the district in the play off series.

Chapman made it plain that he did not question the good faith of the Ranger authorities, the boy or anyone else. He stated that he has known of several cases in which high school boys were actually confused as to their age, the number of years of athletic competition, and of the year they entered high school. He declared that he has no objection to the action of the District Committee in refusing to forfeit the games in which Hammett participated, although the Interscholastic League rules specifically state that games in which an ineligible man plays are automatically forfeited by the team which used him. He is willing to play Ranger again, and if the Bulldogs can defeat the Lobos with a team which passes muster under the League rules he declared he would be the first to congratulate the Ranger coach. But Chapman declared he was unwilling to suffer elimination from an ineligible man was played, stating that he this year lost two good men because of eligibility uncertainty and preferred to play his schedule without running the risk of using an ineligible man.

KING OF ENGLAND IS ILL WITH COLD

Brittans Anxiously Await the Outcome of Slight Cold Affecting Popular Monarch.

LONDON, Eng. Nov. 23.—Anxiety gripped millions of Britons in a vast empire today because a gray bearded man lay ill of a cold in a big stone mansion in London.

The man was George V. king. His cold was merely one such as many of the subjects experienced yet since he was monarch, his case seemed different.

Before the stoned mansion—Buckingham palace—scores of citizens lingered. Guards tried to keep them moving. When a fresh guard was mounted at 11 a. m. the music of its band was lacking.

Within the palace, doctors came and went. About noon, Lord Dawson of Penn, physician extraordinary to the king, and Sir Stanley Newcutt, surgeon apothecary to the king issued a bulletin indicating that the king's condition was described as "a slight extension of the mischief in the king's lungs."

JURY WEEPS AS THEY RETURN VERDICT IN SUIT

Aged Millionaire Is Winner In $1,000,000 Breach of Promise Suit Brought By His Cook.

AMARILLO, Texas, Nov. 23.—A verdict for the defendant was returned in district court at Panhandle in Carson county shortly after midnight in the $1,000,000 breach of promise suit of Mrs. Donie Vandever of Electra against J. A. Whittenberg, 71 year old pioneer West Texas multimillionaire.

Members of the jury broke down and cried when the defense counsel in his closing argument described Whittenberg's former wife who died four years ago. The touching argument also affected the millionaire oil and cattle man and he wept with the jury.

Mrs. Vandever, a cook on one of Whittenberg's ranches, sought $1,000,000 damages for alleged breach of promise but the jury decided that no marriage contract had existed between the pair. Whittenberg occupied the stand 10 hours and denied that his relationship with the woman had been anything but as employer and employee.

Whittenberg's wealth is estimated at $20,000,000, made from oil which was found on his large land holdings.

He Is Convinced Someone Wants To Burn His Home

By United Press.
HOUSTON, Texas, Nov. 23.—W. H. Hoist is convinced now that somebody wants to burn his house.

Hoist woke up last midnight and looked out the window. It was un-naturally light outside as from the reflection of a fire. He got up and went out. Under one corner of the house, a pile of newspapers was burning merrily.

Hoist put out the fire and went back to bed. He woke up again at 1:15 a. m. and looked out the window. More light. Out he went again and there was another jolly blaze. This time it was fed by a collection of rags that had been placed where the newspapers had been before.

Hoist extinguished the fire and called police. He gave them the name of a suspect, put them on guard and went back to bed.

Breckenridge Firm To Open Milk Route Through Eastland County

One of the most far-reaching movements for the benefit of the farmers was the People's Dairy Product Co., of Breckenridge announcement of the opening on December 1st of a whole milk route to run through this section. Milk has been a drug on the local markets for the farmers and they have been trying to get something out of it with a sweet and sour cream sale in the past. Most of the farmers have the feed to make the milk and would long ago have been in the market with the milk had they had a way to dispose of it. This gives them the means and is the least possible trouble that could be thought of.

There's is the company's plan. They will start a route out of Breckenridge through Caddo, Ranger, Staff, Desdemona, De Leon, Duster, Gorman, Carbon and Eastland. The truck will make daily round trips and take up the cans and put a new one in its place. Each week the farmer will be mailed a test sheet and a check for the amount of milk he has for sale. The only thing the farmer has to buy now will be a milk can, of either five or ten gallons capacity. These cans will be branded and the milk received in them will be credited to that brand and the farmer receive a check for the milk received. The route will pass in front of a large number of the homes of the county and those who live off the route will only have to bring the milk to a concentration point on the route.

A whole milk route is the best way for a farmer to sell his products. The price is based upon the butter fat but he gets rid of the milk also at a price which justifies his selling. The price will be from twenty to twenty five cents per gallon, depending on the test. The better the cow the more money she will make her owner. This route is coming through this country without solicitation on the part of anyone. The company wants the milk and knows that the only way to get it is to come after it. It is going to prove a boom to the entire country for it will mean for the farmer who tries to make a good thing that he will receive a weekly check the same as a man on salary. It will mean more cows in this section and also will mean a market for the feed products of this section. There is scheduled for this week a meeting called by the local chamber of commerce to talk this very thing over and the establishment of route will be the means of making the meeting of Saturday for more interesting. Be at the meeting and see how it will tie up with this proposition.—Gorman Progress.

Sees Father Once in 7 Years, and Then Only As a Corpse

To see his father for the first time in seven years and then to see him as he lay in a coffin in the Barrow Undertaking Company's parlors here, was the experience of W. D. Morgan, Jr., of St. Petersburg, Pa., who came to Eastland upon receipt of a message that his father, W. D. Morgan, driller, was dead here.

The elder Morgan came to this county with the beginning of the oil field development and had never been back home where he has a wife and daughter and the son who came to Eastland. Young Morgan is deeply appreciative of the many kindnesses shown his father in his final illness and for the many beautiful floral offerings sent by friends. He also appreciates very much the kindnesses shown him by his father's friends to whom he is a rank stranger.

Grass Fire Causes Firemen Make Run

A grass fire at the corner of East Patterson and North Rosswood streets Thursday afternoon, to which the fire department made a run, brought a request from city Manager H. O. Tatum that the chief of the fire department be notified by people before they burn trash on their premises. This would make it unnecessary for the department to make a run and at the same time it would put the department on notice and they would be on the lookout in case the fire should, for any reason, get beyond control.

Judge and Morris told Sheriff "Dug" Barton that they lived in Oklahoma and had just come to Texas, and that they entered the filling station to get something for which they could get enough money to get back home on. Officers said Judge had papers that would indicate that the car the boys were in belonged to him. No charges have as yet been filed against Judge and Morris.

E. S. Morris, 15, and Milo Judge, 18, are being held in the county jail here following their arrest at Olden, four miles east of here, last night by members of the Eastland county sheriff's department on charges of burglary. The boys claim their home is in Oklahoma.

The youths are alleged to have entered the Slay confectionery and filling station at Olden Charley and "Taddy" Slay, sons of the proprietor of the filling station, saw a light in their father's place of business about 10:00 o'clock Thursday night and made an investigation. As they approached the place they saw one of the burglars at a gasoline pump. He fled at the approach of the Slay boys. Going inside the Slay boys found another person in the building. The burglar drew a gun on the boys but one of them slipped out at the front of the building and entering from the rear, took the burglar by surprise and with the assistance of his brother, overpowered him and disarmed him.

After capturing the burglar the Slay boys telephone the sheriff's office here and members of the sheriff's department rushed to the scene and with the Slay boys arrested the other boy who was driving a small roadster which he had stuck in a mudhole before he got very far from the filling station.

A STIFF SENTENCE.

England has courts which are accustomed to deal with lawbreakers with a good deal of severity. There are few suspended sentences over there; and one reason is that England has far less crime than the United States.

One other day a British motorist was brought into a London court for driving while intoxicated. The judge looked up his record, found that he had been fined on the same charge before, and promptly suspended his driver's license—for life!

What was about as drastic a sentence as can be imagined. It should be borne in mind, too, that England's traffic problem is not as serious as ours since England has fewer automobiles. Isn't there a lesson in this for American traffic courts, in which so many reckless drivers get off with a $5 fine and a reprimand?

CHICAGO DOES A GOOD JOB.

Most of us have been talking and thinking so much about the national election result that we have failed to pay much attention to local results—except in our own town. For that reason we want to call your attention to what happened in Chicago on election day.

Chicago, you remember, was ridden by one of the worst political machines in America. The Thompson-Crowe outfit had had the city for 25 years, and had treated it to as brazen, callous a period of misrule as any city ever experienced. Last April the voters rose and rebuked the machine, defeating Crowe, the state's attorney, in his fight for re-nomination, and sinking a number of his party candidates.

The recent election, however, was what put the finishing touch on things. The Crowe-Thompson machine was putting on a last ditch fight. It had candidates for all city and county offices, and it was fighting bitterly against the republican candidate for state's attorney, John A. Swanson. Some of the candidates appeared on the democratic ticket and some on the republican.

But the voters of Chicago arose in their wrath and beat every Thompson-Crowe man decisively. Judge Swanson is the new state's attorney. Some of the machine candidates were snowed under by overwhelming majorities. The defeat was overwhelming, everlasting. Chicago apparently is rid of the dominance of those two bosses forever.

This is excellent news. The second city of America has suffered from gross misrule too long. Now house-cleaning is inevitable. With the alliance between politics and crime shattered Chicago ought to be able to put a few of her gangsters and gunmen in jail.

For is that the only aspect of Chicago's action means that no city can get so deeply in the grasp of an unscrupulous machine but what it can break loose from citizens are once aroused. The final defeat of the Crowe-Thompson outfit could not have occurred if the voters had not made themselves familiar with a long list of candidate. The obstacles were easily hurdled. It proves that our governmental machinery is not too cumbersome to be effective.

Thursday Afternoon Club Presents Original Program: The program of the Thursday Afternoon Club meeting, was enriched by the report of Mrs. Earle Johnson, delegate, who dwelt on the high lights of the Texas Federation of Womens Clubs Convention, of which she spoke as of holding its first convention in a college, an interesting sketch of which was presented including a history of the College of Industrial Arts, and Denton.

Without break, the program subject was introduced by Mrs. Virgil T. Seaberry, who, outlined a series of silhouettes on a large easel six, by eight feet, as Mrs. Johnson, lined in with words, the character sketches, accomplishments, and value to their city, of Mrs. Charles G. Norton, Joseph M. Perkins, W. K. Jackson, Grady Pipkin, and Earle Johnson.

Mrs. Seaberry's work was vigorous, clever and intriguingly interesting, the silhouettes being developed gradually in a group on the surface of the large easel board, under her limble and adept fingers. During the business conducted by Mrs. W. P. Leslie, vice president, plans presiding in the absence of Mrs. Perkins, the president, plans were completed for the annual stant night, dated for this evening, Friday in the high school auditorium.

Committees as announced were read, with Mrs. Norton, and Canton in charge of ticket window. A reception committee was appointed. Mrs. Airey Bendy was unanimously elected to active membership. The club voted to accept the amendment to the constitution, adding an honorary department to club membership.

Mrs. John D. McKee was elected an honorary member of the Thursday club. The president stated that the time had about expired for the payment of club dues. Those present; Mrs. B. B. B. Bickerstaff, J. A. Caton, B. M. Collie, Frank M. Corzelus, Theodore Ferguson, J. M. Ferrell, G. G. Hazel, James Horton, A. H. Johnson, W. P. Leslie, Earle Johnson, Marshall McCullough, Virgil T. Seaberry, Harry Sample, E. Roy Townsend, H. O. Tatum, and Mrs. W. H. Mullings, welcomed by the club as a new member.

The committee on rooms declares that there will be ample room for all who attend the convention, San Angelo citizens having united, regardless of religious sect to make the meeting a success. The Rev. W. D. Groe, chairman of a committee on sight-seeing is arranging trips around the city.

AN INFORMAL PARTY FOR VISITORS: The house guests of Mrs. John D. McKee, who returned home Monday, Mrs. E. B. Prince and Miss Riley B. Ray of Waxahachie, were the honorees during their week end visit, of a pretty "family party" tendered them by Miss Merie Ticer, at her apartment in Conner place. Three tables were daintily appointed for bridge, in color in harmony with the decorations of handsome chrysanthemums.

The honor guests were presented dainty embroidered kerchiefs as favors at close of game, and high score favors of a lovely artificial

CHURCH OF GOD

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Church of God, enjoyed a splendid lesson, given by the evangelist Rev. A. G. Lovell, whose subject was, "Mary and Martha."

Mary brought the precious ointment, and bathed the feet of Christ; the speaker declaring, that by thus helping Christ, Mary helped herself; and that by helping others to plan their work, one's personal plans were bettered.

Two questions were propounded "Do we have any influence Does our light radiate? All have a mission in this world, no one else can fill," stated the speaker.

The need for women is to be of good cheer in the home; in the community and in the world. "The value of a soul was worth more than the whole world." The session was opened by Mrs. D. K. Williamson, president. Hymn, Wonderful Words of Life prayer by Mrs. A. G. Lovell, and hymn, "More About Jesus," introduced the speaker for the afternoon.

Announcement was made, there will be no services in the church of God next Wednesday night, as the congregation will join with the mass meeting of churches that evening in the Methodist church service.

The Auxiliary will have an all day meeting next Thursday, with dinner in the church at noon. Those present; Mmes. E. S. Gano, Wethrell, J. W. Harris and Baughan of Olden, Mmes. Eliza Parsons, J. S. NEW BABY DISTURBS TIRED OFFICE WORKER "When my oldest boy was just a few weeks old he was badly constipated from my milk," says a Nebraska mother. "He kept us awake so much, my husband almost slept over his desk at the office. Then my doctor got us to give Baby some Castoria and the next day he was much better. His stomach and bowels began acting perfectly and he gave us no more trouble." Avoid imitations of Castoria. The Fletcher signature marks the genuine, purely-vegetable, harmless Castoria. Doctors everywhere advise for those ill of babies and children, such as colic, constipation, colds, biliousness, etc.

HYSTERICAL South Carolina Lady Then Tried Cardui and Says She Noticed Remarkable Improvement. Anderson, S. C.—"I suffered a long long time, before I tried Cardui, and my only regret is that I did not know about it sooner," says Mrs. Lillie Fruit, 130 "K" Street, this city. "I was badly run down in health. My nerves 'went to pieces', and I had to go to bed. I was not able to do my house work for many months. I got so bad off, I could not bear to have anybody walk across the floor of my room. The least little thing upset me. Sometimes I became hysterical. I had bad pains in my back and sides, and my head and limbs would take spells of aching, which almost set me wild. One day I was reading and I saw where a woman, who had a trouble like my own, had been relieved by Cardui. I decided at once to try it; so I began on a course of the 'Home Treatment.' It began to help me from the very first. I took Cardui regularly, for several months, and my improvement was so remarkable, that my family and friends were delighted. 'Cardui has no equal, in my opinion. I gladly recommend it to others.' For sale by druggists, everywhere. Get a bottle today! NC-194

a few minutes they were trying... out the new oil stove and finding... it satisfactory. After a hearty... breakfast they set about cleaning... up the living room and arranging... the porch furniture.
 Myrtle noticed that Jerry fre... quently cast her eyes in the di... rection of the highway and as... sumed that she was thinking of... Alester. As a matter of fact she... was thinking of Dan Harvey. The... men who were to repair the plane... hadn't come and Jerry was won... dering if he would be with them... when they did arrive.
 She was impatient with herself... because he had entered her... thoughts. He had no place there... What could he mean to her? He... wasn't half so pleasant as his em... ployer. She couldn't however, fo... get the sensation she had known... when she came to consciousness... in his arms. It had been, for a... brief moment, startlingly agree... able.
 An hour passed. She told Myr... tle that her head was aching and... her friend suggested a swim. The... sun was high now and the buzz... of countless insects was vocal fo... r that the day was running a tem... perature.
 Jerry seemed reluctant to leave... the house, but she gave in after a... little coaxing because she did not... want Myrtle to guess what was on... her mind. And while they were in... the water the man came to repair... the plane. The girls saw their... car enter the grounds but they... could not recognize any of the oc... cupants.
 "Let's go up and get acquaint... ed," Myrtle said, swimming for... shore. Jerry followed, but when... she waded out of the water she... dropped down on the sand and sat... there. She had changed her mind... She wouldn't go up to the house... If Dan Harvey was there she didn't... want to see him. And yet some... thing caused her to watch closely... while the men worked. She did... not see Dan among them.
 "Well, I'm going up and get... dressed," Myrtle announced firmly... after a while. "You'd better come... along and make yourself look like... you need that trip to the doctor's... Your friend might think you're... going just for the ride."
 By three o'clock Jerry was real... ly pale and tired. The men had... gone, though the plane remained... It was not yet ready to be flown... Jerry did not ask so she did not... know that. Maybe they were... leaving it for Dan to fly. The... thought robbed the prospect of... driving with Alester of a little of... its pleasure. What if Dan came... and flew away while she was ab... sent? Well, of course, that would... not mean anything except that she... had rather like to see him take... off.
 Her attitude, when Alester came... surprised him. He'd been telling... himself that she was flattered by... his attentions, a shade too ready... to accept them to suit his taste... But then, that kind of girl would... be easy to handle. If she wasn't... amusing after the first meeting or... two he'd drop her.
 He came in a black roadster... with yellow leather upholstery... and much gleaming nickel. Jerry... thrilled when she climbed into it... and Myrtle stood by, unable to still... a slight pang of envy. It had nev... er crossed her mind to wish she... had fallen in love with anyone... other than George, but she realiz... ed now that Jerry certainly was... getting the break she had wanted... "How's the head?" Alester ask... ed when they were under way... "Much better, thank you." She... said it rather listlessly... He turned to look at her... "Sleep well?"
 "Sleep nodded without looking at... him. He jerked his head around... to sight the road ahead, then... turned back to her. Jerry let him... look, with her eyes straight ahead... She wondered at herself. In her... plans this opportunity with the... "right man" had found her spark... ling, vivacious, alluring. But now... she didn't feel like sparkling. Per... haps something serious had hap... pened to her head.
 Alester was satisfying himself... that she was as pretty as he had... thought last night. Suddenly a...

possible explanation of her new... manner flashed across his mind... Harvey was capable, he told him... self, of interfering.
 "Was Dan Harvey around this... morning?" he asked abruptly. Jer... ry started.
 "No," she said. "Why?"
 "I thought he might have... wanted to look over the plane by... daylight," Alester replied. "Good... pilot, Dan, but a little gruff at... times."
 Jerry could have told him that... Dan could be tender also, but she... wasn't out with Alester Carstairs... to talk about his aviator, she re... minded herself sharply.
 "Don't be long," he begged her... when they reached the doctor's of... fice. "And tell him to send the bill... to me—no, here, it might find its... way on dad's and there'd be a rum... pus. This isn't the first accident... Please take this money and pay... Dr. Belden." He held out a fold... ed bill and after a moment's hesi... tation, Jerry took it.
 A casual glance at the figures... on it brought a protest to her lips... A hundred dollars!
 Why, no doctor would charge... so much. But the protest was... never uttered. Jerry had a second... thought.

AUSTRIAN FLAYS COLONEL HOUSE AS SUPERFICIAL
 Writer on Versailles Treaty De-nounces "Second Rate Intelligence" by United Press.
 LONDON.—"His second-rate in... telligence would never have passed... muster in any position in even a... minor state in Europe," is the es... timate of Colonel House expressed... by an Austrian, Karl Friedrich... Nowak, whose book "Versailles,"... has just been published by Victor... Gollancz, Ltd. The volume is a... bitter and sarcastic treatment of... the peace conference.
 The breach between Colonel... House and President Wilson is at... tributed by Nowak to the Col... onel's "superficiality." The author... states that House forgot to inform... the president that Italy had enter... ed a special proviso regarding the... ninth of the famous 14 points. No... wak also says that it was Colonel... House who agreed, in the name of... the president, that no fixed sum... or period of payment for German... reparations should be made.
 Nowak even goes so far as to... suggest that Colonel House hardly... knew what it—the peace confer... ence—was all about. "Amid the... stern realities of the conference... table this much sought-after and... much-feted man never grasped... what was going on between those... present. He seldom grasped or... appreciated what was said to him... on political topics, never recognized... the core of a subject, never de... tected contradictions. Some times... the open and engaging soldier en... tirely failed to comprehend what... was being discussed with him."
 The Austrian author is particu... larly critical of President Wilson's... qualifications for the position he... held at Versailles. "The presi... dent," he says, "had devoted no at... tention to the origin of the war;... had neglected the origins of the... peace treaty; had not even in...

the farm and Mr. Waterman is... sure that they destroyed more in... sects than they did crops. He... planted peas for them and allow... ed them to harvest a small patch... of peanuts. Of course, he said, it... was necessary to have melons... fenced from them, or they would... have pecked the fruit before it... ripened.
 Mr. Waterman raises enough... hogs for his meat and some to sell... He sold $95 worth of young pigs... during this year. He keeps one or... two good brood sows.
 His wife raises chickens and... helps him with his turkeys. She... sold 350 young chickens this year... and marketed more than $200... worth of eggs. She also sells but... ter to regular customers here and... at Eastland. They have three... good Jersey cows giving milk now... the surplus sweet milk is fed to... the turkeys, chickens and hogs. Sports Matter

By George Kirksey Coaching Rivals for 15 years, Dr. John W. Wilce and Robert Zupke will send their last football teams against each other when Ohio State meets Illinois in the Illinois Stadium at Champaign, Ill., Saturday. Dr. Wilce will retire as Ohio State coach and the Illinois game will serve as his valedictory. During his coaching regime at Ohio State Dr. Wilce has seen the prosperous years along with the lean ones. From 1916 through 1920 Ohio State won three Big Ten championships and Dr. Wilce was acclaimed through the middle west as a coaching genius. Then came a decline in Ohio State's football supremacy and last season Dr. Wilce was the target for bitter criticism from ex-students and alumni. In 1927 Ohio State on two conference games and lost three, besides losing to Princeton in the big inter-sectional game.

Dr. Wilce met the taunts of his critics with the unexpected announcement that he would relinquish his position as head coach of the Ohio State football team at the end of the 1928 season.

Lost to Iowa Ohio State came back this fall with a great team, ranking among the leaders of the Big Ten conference. The Buckeyes beat Michigan, Northwestern and Indiana and tied Princeton before losing their first game to Iowa. A touchdown in the last few minutes of play enabled Iowa to win.

Zupke and Dr. Wilce have much in common. Back in 1913 two young coaches, residents of the same city, Milwaukee, and graduates of the same university, Wisconsin, entered the coaching ranks of the Big Ten as novices to compete against veteran coaches.

Both attended the same high school in Milwaukee, although Zupke was a few years ahead. Both received degrees at Wisconsin, where they played football.

Under these two youngsters who later were to win recognition as two of the country's leading coaches, Ohio State and Illinois prospered on the football field.

Ohio State won the Big Ten championship in 1916, 1917 and 1920 and Illinois was the premier even in 1914, 1918, 1919 and 1927 and a co-champion in 1915 and 1923.

Illinois Has Margin

Often meetings of the Illinois and the Buckeyes decided the championship. Most famous of all games were those in 1919 and 1920 Illinois won in 1919 at Columbus, 9-7, wrestling victory from Chick Harley's great eleven in a thrilling finish. Ohio State played at Illinois the next year and won the game and championship by the last play, a pass, the ball being in the air as the pistol cracked.

Under Zupke Illinois has a margin of three victories over Wilce-coached Ohio State eleven, having won in 1915, 1918, 1919, 1921, 1923, 1924, 1925 and 1927.

Wilce's team won in 1916, 1917, 1920, 1922 and 1926. In 1915 the

How Weak Nervous Women Grow Stronger

Feel Better, Look Younger and Have Steadier Nerves

If you only knew—you rundown, anemic women—who are dragging yourself around on your "nerves"—what a wonderful increase in strength and health Tanlac will give you, you wouldn't hesitate a moment about going to your druggist and getting a big bottle of this splendid medicine.

Mrs. A. M. Owens, of 1716 Taylor St., Rt. 5, Box 34, Little Rock, Ark., says: "I was so weak I couldn't walk across the floor. I had spent a fortune trying to get well and would be in my grave if it weren't for Tanlac. Now I eat and sleep fine and have gained 22 lbs."

Tanlac is as free from harmful drugs as the water you drink—only Nature's own medicinal tonic herbs. Druggists know this and for the past 10 years have recommended it to men and women who need a quick "pick up" that will put them on their feet and give them a new interest in life.

So confident are the makers of Tanlac that if you are not helped by it, you get your money back on request.

teams tied. Strangely enough only one Ohio State team defeated Illinois at Columbus—that was the 1917 Buckeye championship eleven. The other four Ohio State victories were won at Illinois in 1916, 1920, 1922 and 1926.

Wilce and Zupke always have been close friends and their rivalry, keen as it has been, has never affected their regard for each other.

Family Menu

By Sister Mary BREAKFAST—Grapes, cereal, cream, tomato omelet, rye toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Baked rice and mushrooms, hearts of lettuce with French dressing, whole wheat bread, apple fritters, milk, tea.

DINNER—Roast veal, scalloped potatoes, tomatoes with croutons, endive with cheese dressing, steamed carrot pudding with lemon sauce, milk, coffee.

Be sure to choose a quick cooking apple for apple fritters. And keep in mind that the slices of fruit should be cut very thin. Otherwise the fruit will be underdone. The temperature of deep fat used for cooking fritters should be about 360 degrees Fahrenheit when the dough is dropped in and maintained at a temperature of 340 degrees F. while cooking. Allow eight minutes for cooking.

Scalloped Potatoes Four cups thinly sliced peeled potatoes, 1 small onion, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 2 cups milk.

Work flour and butter together until perfectly blended. Peel onion and put in the center of buttered baking dish. Cover with a layer of potatoes. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and dot with bits of butter and flour mixture. Add another layer of potatoes, seasoning and butter. Pour over milk and cover baking dish. Bake one hour in a moderate oven. Remove cover for last fifteen minutes of baking if necessary to brown top.

Only enough onion is used to give an intriguing flavor to the dish.

Abilene Newspaper Thinks the Games Should be Counted

An editorial appeared in the Abilene News as follows: "The Case of Ranger: Rules are rules, and the inter-scholastic league can no more exist without enforceable and enforced rules than the United States government can get along without a constitution. But it is a mighty poor rule that works one way one time, and another way another time.

"We are alluding to the now-famous Lee Hammett case from Ranger, and the decision of the executive committee of District 2, Class A—the seven men who control football affairs in this much-watched Oil Belt district. In its Abilene meeting of Monday night the committee declared Hammett ineligible after twice previously declaring him eligible.

"The serious aspect of the case is that after Hammett had been given a clean bill of health, before which he had been withdrawn from conference competition, the strategy of his team's attack and defense was built around him. Removing him now, after Ranger's victory over Cisco, is to virtually wreck Ranger's championship hopes.

Yellow Jackets In Two Big Battles Ere Season Closes

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 22.—With only non-conference games to occupy their attention between now and Thanksgiving, the Yellow Jackets of Howard Payne college, Brownwood, begun preparations for the two final and most important tilts of the year, these two clashes being with Southwestern University of Georgetown and the Simmons University of Abilene.

Both of these all important grid-iron arguments will be played in Brownwood.

Prior to these two games the Jackets will pastime with weaker non-conference teams, these being Sam Houston State Teachers College of Huntsville and Burleson Junior College of Greenville. The Sam Houston Teachers will be met in Beaumont, Saturday, Nov. 17 and the Burleson College eleven will come to Brownwood, Nov. 21 for the game with Jackets.

With this light opposition in slate, Coach Cheaney and Keaton, of the Brownwood team, will be able to devote most of their time to preparing their charges for the season's finals. In fact the Jacket mentors began that immediately following the game with St. Edwards, Saturday, Nov. 10, which was won easily by the Jackets, 16-0.

Howard Payne has a golden opportunity to win the championship of the Texas Conference this year, an honor that has been denied them twice during the past two years on account of losses to Simmons University in the final game of the year. This season the Jackets have three conference victories to date, and no defeats and are leading all other contenders in the annual scrap for the title.

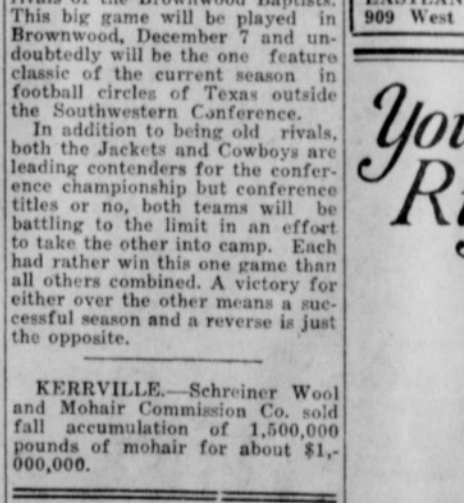

The Southwestern University Pirates come to Brownwood Thanksgiving this year, replacing the Simmons University Cowboys in this annual game. The Pirates annexed the 1927 conference title and have been playing wonderful football this season. That they will be in a fighting mood Thanksgiving is easy to conceive, in view of results of former meetings with the Jackets. Last season the Pirates trampled the Jackets under foot and the Howard-Payne machine is out for revenge. The Pirate-Jacket game here Thanksgiving will be watched with much interest by all fans of the Texas conference, as it will go far in determining the real strength of the Brownwood team.

But the one game of the season that the Jackets are now preparing for is the annual argument with the Cowboys of Simmons University, ancient and traditional rivals of the Brownwood Baptists. This big game will be played in Brownwood, December 7 and undoubtedly will be the one feature classic of the current season in football circles of Texas outside the Southwestern Conference.

In addition to being old rivals, both the Jackets and Cowboys are leading contenders for the conference championship but conference titles or no, both teams will be battling to the limit in an effort to take the other into camp. Each had rather win this one game than all others combined. A victory for either over the other means a successful season and a reverse is just the opposite.

VISCOUNT IS NOW 'MISTER'

By United Press. LONDON.—Viscount Ennismore, undergraduate of Magdalene college, Cambridge university, and son and heir of the Earl of Listowel, in the future, at his own request, will be known as plain W. F. Hare.

His reason for dropping his title and assuming the "Mr." of his family name is, he says, a gesture of revolt against the servitude which he has found mention of a title evokes.

"For years I have been using a courtesy title," he said. "I feel I have been carrying about with me a lie. It placed me at an unfair advantage, because I have been treated as a man of distinction.

"There is servility given to a man of title to which I object. If one is nothing but a plain one's conscience is clear. As who likes to address me as Ennismore is at liberty to do but I prefer to be addressed 'Mr. Hare.'"

Zarafonetis Will Be All Right For Thanksgiving Game

COLLEGE STATION.—Following a two-day period of rest, Coach Dana X. Bible's Texas Aggies have buckled down to the final grind of training that will carry them to their last conflict of the year, the Turkey Day meeting with the Texas Longhorns at Austin.

The first practice of the week found every member of the Aggie squad except Zarafonetis, outstanding defensive back and punter of the eleven, in the peak of condition and ready for the unrelenting training schedule that confronts them in preparation for the Longhorn classic. Zarafonetis is recovering from a mild attack of influenza that put him to bed on the eve of the Aggie-Rice game last Saturday and he is expected to be back in uniform and ready to go within the next few days.

Barring possible injuries from scrimmages this week, Coach Bible expects to have his squad intact for the Thanksgiving day game and present indications are his men will be in the best mental and physical condition they have attained this season. Since the shakeup in the Aggie team three weeks ago, the Aggie coaches have been gradually getting their men in the proper frame of mind for their final game and Coach Bible says he is not worried by any fear that the team will go stale.

The Aggies will go into the Longhorn game rated as the underdogs by virtue of the records of the two teams this year, a fact that should make the more superstitious fans favor the Aggies, for in the past the favorites have lost far more times than they have won in Aggie-Longhorn games. The Longhorns in their five conference games have registered four victories and one loss to S. M. U.
by a single touchdown. The Aggies, however, have only one victory and a tie in four conference contests played. Yet the victory and the tie of the Aggies were

Legislature May Witness Several Interesting Races

By United Press.
AUSTIN, Nov. 22.—Contests for places in the 41st Legislature already are underway. The chief interest now centers in the contest for speaker of the House of Representatives.

The announced candidates for speaker are W. R. Montgomery of Edinburg and W. S. Barron of Ryan. The speaker has the power of naming the 38 House Committees including the all-important Appropriations Committee. The personnel of these committees and especially the chairman have a strong effect on the tone of legislation. Beside naming the committees the Speaker has the power to send proposed legislation to a particular committee, when the matter might come under several topics.

aiding officer of the Senate so there is no similar contest among Senate members. Its officers usually are selected at a caucus at the opening of the session.
Among the officers to be named then is a president pro tem, who acts in case of absence of the Lieutenant Governor. Senator Gus Ruess of Schulenburg and Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman are being suggested for that post.

There will be a lively contest it now seems over selection of a secretary for the Senate. W. V.
Howerton of Austin, who was secretary of all sessions since the 33rd, excepting the 35th, announced early this year that he would not be an applicant. M. C.
Hanking of Robstown, who was assistant secretary of the 38th, 39th and 40th sessions, now seeks to become secretary. Bob Barker of Fort Worth is also reported to be in the race. Barker is a former chief clerk of the Senate finance committee at the last session.

The office of the chief clerk of the House is sought again by Mrs.
Louise Snow Phinney of Austin.
As Miss Snow, she became chief clerk of the 40th legislature, when Carl Phinney of Brownwood resigned to become secretary to Governor Moody. They married last August. Mrs. Phinney won the chief clerkship last time by a vote of 86 to a total of 31 received by four men opponents. So far there has been no announced candidate against her. Former Speaker Lee Satterwhite of Odessa, was once reported as a probable candidate, but inquiry made by forty members of the house show that he has not broached a candidacy to them.

Joe White of San Antonio will again be a candidate for Sergeant at arms of the house. He has held that post uninterruptedly since the 33rd session of the legislature.
As usual, many students of the University of Texas will be aplicants for the appointive positions as clerks of the various committees. As most committee meetings are held at night, the work does not interfere with attendance upon classes at the university.

The election of more than half a new senate will make the contest for places there unsettled.
Among the hardest fought will be those for appointment as pages.

both better decisions than the Longhorns gained over the same opponents. The Aggies defeated the Rice Owls, 19-0 while the Steers were hard pushed to nose out a one touchdown victory, and the Aggies fought the S. M. U.
Mustangs to a 19-19 tie while the Steers lost to the Ponies, 6-2.

Something akin to what happens when the irresistible force meets the immovable object will probably take place when the fast, varied Aggie offense meets the powerful Longhorn defense which is one of the strongest in the conference this year. The Aggie offense has piled up an aggregate score of 295 points this season, just one point less than twice the total score of the Longhorns, while the Texas defense has held its opponents to a much smaller total score. This has been made against the Aggies. The Longhorn team will be the heavier of the two but the Aggies have what some consider probably the fastest combination in the conference at present.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

Washington — Perhaps we are traveling back toward the good old days when election results were sure to be close in a large number of important states.

College professors and newspapermen with mathematical minds have discovered that if Smith could have switched 500,000 additional votes in the right places he would have been elected thanks to the electoral college system, and that 150,000 more properly switched votes for Hoover would have given him every single electoral vote. Yet, in the first instance, Hoover could still have had a popular majority of more than 5,000,000 and lost and, in the second case, Smith would still have had 15,000,000 popular votes without a single electoral vote.

All sorts of funny and seemingly unfair things can happen under the electoral college system. Fortunately for the system, they seldom do.

Until the Harding and Coolidge landslide, however, one election after another showed that a switch of a few thousand votes—sometimes even a few hundred—here and there would have changed the election result. But in 1920 and 1924 Republican pluralities were so huge in so many of the most important states that there was little nourishment in such figuring.

This year the result was so relatively close in so many states that the boys once more got out pencil and paper.

Well, Smith's present yearning for that switch of a half million votes is probably nowhere near as poignant as that of James G. Blaine, who with a change of 608 votes in New York in 1884, would have been elected over Cleveland. Those were the days when the Solid South was good and solid and most of the northern and western states were invariably doubtful.

In that year Cleveland carried Connecticut 67,000 to 65,000, Delaware 16,000 to 12,000, Indiana 241,000 to 238,000, Maryland 96,000 to 85,000, Missouri 235,000 to 202,000, New Jersey 127,000 to 123,000, Tennessee 133,000 to 124,000 and so on. Blaine had California 102,000 to 89,000, Illinois 337,000 to 312,000, Iowa 197,000 to 177,000, Massachusetts 146,000 to 122,000, New Hampshire 43,000 to 39,000, Ohio 400,000 to 368,000 and so on again.

The two Cleveland-Harrison contests show even closer results in some states. In 1888 California was carried by 7,000, Connecticut by 334, Indiana by 2000, Michigan by 13,000. In 1892 Cleveland carried California by 290 votes, Delaware by 500, Indiana by 7,000, Wisconsin by 7,000 and lost Ohio by but 1072.

In 1888 a change of 7200 votes in New York alone would have elected Cleveland over Harrison and in 1892 a switch of 26,000 in seven states would have elected Harrison over Cleveland.

In 1880 Hancock would have been elected if he could have picked up 10,517 Garfield votes in New York or changed 11,452 others in Maine, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Indiana and Oregon.

In 1876 Tilden had more than 250,000 more popular votes and needed no more until the attempt was made to pilfer some of his electoral college votes.

Many more instances would be tedious, but it may be noted that such interesting figures have been consistently announced as something of a sensation for a long way back. A switch of 2200 Pennsylvania votes from Van Buren in 1836, for instance, would have thrown that election into the House.

AVIATOR IN AIR TURNS ON LIGHTS IN AIRPORT

PITTSBURGH.—Demonstration of a siren, sounded on an airplane in flight, turning on flood lights at an airport, was made at Bettis Field here by engineers of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company.

Sound waves from the siren, which is operated by a wind motor and turned on or off at the will of the aviator, are picked up on the ground by an electrical "ear" and transmitted to an apparatus that turns on the flood lights, the engineers explained.

will do you no good. The girl has to come here with you and sign it."

"I know that," replied the man, "but I want to know what I'm signing and I'm going to have my lawyer look the thing over."

Munson advised the "cautious man" to bring his lawyer to the city hall, but the prospective husband never came back.

"Perhaps," mused Munson, "he was too cautious to get married after he thought it over."

Thief Swaps His Bicycle For Car

DALLAS, Nov. 22.—"Fair exchange is no robbery," the old adage goes, but when someone traded W. L. Usry a badly used bicycle for his Cadillac automobile the other afternoon, police were called in.

The other day Usry brought the bicycle to the police station. He told police that some one stole his automobile from the curb where it was parked and left him the wheel. The car was later recovered and returned to Usry. Police are inclined to believe now that the bicycle rider became tired of peddling and got in the car to take a ride on what gasoline remained.

"The Two Ways" Subject of Sermon

Be sure to hear Evangelist Lovell tonight when he speaks on the subject "The Two Ways", in an illustrated sermon, with chart.

Last night's message was sounded forth with power and conviction on "Red Lights of Warning on the Road to Hell"—reading from Ezekiel 33:11.

"As sure as there is a Hell, there is a Road to it," said Rev. Lovell, and the question is "Which Road are you on? It doesn't pay to run the signals and pass up the warnings. When the engineer on a fast express "runs the signals" what follows? Instant disaster and oftentimes death. These red lights are given along the way to keep us from following the wrong road and it is up to us to heed them. Hell is never ending, that is one place from which, if we go, we shall never return.

Some of these warnings we have always with us while others are brought to our attention forcibly, with a sudden shock as if to wake us up. What are some of them? There are many but these are outstanding: conscience—the gospel influence and example of Christian lives lived before us—sudden and sad deaths—we find them on every hand. These and many others if we listen will save us from everlasting regret and give eternal joy. What then, is your answer? Don't forget the time and the place—tonight at 7:30—at the Church of God, corner Valley and Lamar.

CAUTIOUS MAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Grant Muns who has won the name "Cupid" because he hands out wedding permits as head of San Francisco's marriage license bureau, believes he has found a candidate for the "world's most cautious man."

The man in question appeared at the clerk's window and asked for a license. Munson handed him one.

"I want to take this home with me," said the man, turning to leave.

"Hold on," said Munson. "That
